

American Modernism

1	European Imports	1
2	Native Modernists	19
3	Paul Rand	35
4	Conclusion	45

1930'S

European Imports

An influx of European ideas made its way into America through several avenues during the 1930's.

1920'S - 30'S

Many Europeans immigrated to the United States as a result of WWI and approach of WWII

- Walter Gropius
- Mies van der Rohe
- László Moholy-Nagy

1920'S-30'S

Modernism in America gained a foothold in the form of:

- Book design
- Editorial design
- Corporate identity

New typeface designs, including Futura and Kabel, became available in America, spurring the modern movement forward.

- MEGGS

1897–1967

George Salter

- Bremman, Germany
- Emmigrated to U.S. in 1934
- Book Cover designer
- Magazine Cover designer
- American citizen in 1940

Alfred Döblin's Berlin Alexanderplatz launched his career.

1897–1967

George Salter

Salter was the quintessential hybrid modernist whose versatility drew on calligraphy, photomontage, airbrush scenes, panoramic watercolors, and pen-and-ink drawings.

– MEGGS

1897–1967

George Salter

Salter knew that a cover design must entice a potential reader to buy, and to this end his covers from the 1920s and early 1930s awaken visionary images of the works that are typically more suggestive than concrete.

– MEGGS

1898–1971

Alexey Brodovitch

- Russian
- Fought in the czar's cavalry during World War I
- Immigrated to Paris and established himself as a leading contemporary designer
- Immigrated to the United States in 1930
- He was a photographer, graphic designer and instructor
- Most well-known for his art direction of fashion magazine Harper's Bazaar from 1934–1958.

1898–1971

Alexey Brodovitch

- First art director to integrate image and text
- American magazines typically used text and illustration seperately, giving majority attention to the illustration rather than the total layout

1898–1971

Alexey Brodovitch

After being hired he asked several old friends like Man Ray, Jean Cocteau, Raoul Dufy, Marc Chagall and A.M. Cassandre to work for the magazine.

Cassandre created several of the Bazaar covers between 1937 and 1940.

1898–1971

Alexey Brodovitch

With an affinity for white space and sharp type on clear, open pages, he rethought the approach to editorial design.

– MEGGS

New Arrangements for Dinner

• Left: A dinner and dancing dress designed to look particularly alluring across a table top. Its top, a blaze of pearls and gold embroidery; the bodice, white; the cummerbund, a saffron color; the skirt, a dark chocolate—all in Celanese slipper satin. By J. L. F. Originals. About $70. Saks Fifth Avenue; Julius Garfinckel.

• Above: A short evening duster of vanilla moire (the white coat for night is new and delicious). This flows from a high waistline into a circumference huge enough to cover the hugest crinoline. By J. L. F. Originals in Enka moire. About $50. Saks Fifth Avenue; William H. Block. Capezio shoes. The harp, from Lyon and Healy; the bass viol, from G. Schirmer.

DERGUMENT

THE WINNER

*In 1981 our world, granted it is still rotating, will celebrate Picasso's centenary.
Of course, because he has that kind of luck, the great man will be on hand; and available, as usual, to all mediums of* 43

1907–1984

Herbert Matter

- Switzerland
- Photographer and graphic designer known for his pioneering use of photomontage in commercial art.
- United States, 1936
- Hired by legendary art director Alexey Brodovitch
- Work for Harper's Bazaar, Vogue and many others

1907–1984

Herbert Matter

Thoroughly understood modernism's new approaches to visual organization and its techniques

- Collage
- Photomontage
- Composition

1907–1984

Herbert Matter

- 1946
- Spent 22 years as graphic-design and photography consultant to the Knoll Associates
- Worked closely with Charles and Ray Eames and Eero Saarinen
- Eventually worked with Massimo Vignelli

1907–1984

Herbert Matter

- 1946
- Spent 22 years as graphic-design and photography consultant to the Knoll Associates
- Worked closely with Charles and Ray Eames and Eero Saarinen
- Eventually worked with Massimo Vignelli

1907–1984

Herbert Matter

- 1952 to 1976, Professor of photography at Yale University
- 1958 to 1968, design consultant to the Solomon R. Guggenheim Museum in New York and the Museum of Fine Arts in Houston.

1930'S – 1950'S

Native Modernists

A generation of eager forward-thinking individuals galvanize America's presence in the canon of Modernist graphic design.

1880 – 1956

William Addison Dwiggins

- Born in Martinsville, Ohio
- Practiced in Massachusetts
- Type designer, calligrapher, book designer, illustrator and commercial artist
- Prolific writer and critic about commercial arts
- Coined the term “graphic design” in 1922 to describe his various specializations

1880 – 1956

William Addison Dwiggins

- Master puppeteer
- Built a theater in his garage and gave performances, then built another theater in his basement
- The marionettes were donated to the three-room Dwiggins Collection at the Boston Public Library in 1967

1903–1969

Lester Beall

- Kansas City, Missouri
- Bold primary colors
- Illustrative arrows, lines and support graphics
- Beall's posters are taken into the permanent collection of MoMA in 1937

© KEVIN WOODLAND, 2015
(LEFT) LESTER BEALL, WHEN I THINK BACK—RURAL ELECTRIFICATION ADMINISTRATION, 1937; (RIGHT) LESTER BEALL, COVER FOR PM, 1937

1911–1995

Bradbury Thompson

- Topeka, Kansas
- Moved to New York in 1938
- Art director of Mademoiselle magazine for fifteen years beginning in 1945
- Visiting lecturer and professor at Yale
- Designed over 90 stamps for the United States Postal Service
- AIGA Gold Medal, 1975

a B c D e
F g H i j k
L m N o p
Q R S T U
V W X y z

1911–1995

Bradbury Thompson

- Alphabet 26
- Monoalphabet font
- Transitional serif
- Modelled after Baskerville

2-9

1911-1995

Bradbury Thompson

- Westvaco Inspirations
- Transparency, overprint
- Cutout silhouettes
- Solid CMYK coverage

Color, states the scientist, is a wave length. But color is more, says the artist: color is the lighted tree at Christmas, fireworks on the Fourth of July, the Mardi Gras, the Rose Bowl game, New Year's Eve on Times Square, the flower vendor with his pushcart crowded with geraniums, the girl in a striking hat who turns heads in the Easter Parade, the first night at a smash-hit musical show, the midway at a County Fair, the crack drum and bugle corps that swings down the Avenue on parade. Color is everywhere because, as any artist knows, the whole sweep and movement of life vibrates with color. And, as every merchandiser knows, the public responds to these vibrations.

Printed by letterpress on Inspiration English Fields, 25 x 36 in.

Photographer: Seamus

On the retailer's shelf, the fast-moving package is the one with a colorful design that catches the consumer's fancy. The manufacturer accelerates sales by restyling old products in new color. The American home is brightened by exciting hues in everything from percale sheets to linoleum. Commercial design borrows chromatic terms from the animal, vegetable and mineral realms; motor-cars in robin's egg blue; plastic utensils in avocado green; fountain pens in turquoise blue. Advertisers lure reading attention eye-compelling power of illustration and design in color. When the consumer's eye nibbles at an idea in color the odds are heavy that a sale will be landed.

Printed by letterpress on West Virginia Meadow Crested, 25 x 36 in.

Photographer: Newman-Schultz Studio
Art Director: Tom Ross
Advertising: Virginia Corporation
Agency: Ketchum, MacLean & Green, Inc.
Engraving: Hulton-Deutschman, 120 line/cm

516

1920–1996

Saul Bass

- The Bronx, New York
- Logos and identities
- Title sequences
- Film posters
- Worked with: Alfred Hitchcock, Otto Preminger, Billy Wilder, Stanley Kubrick, Martin Scorsese, etc.

1914–1996

Paul Rand

Paul Rand was America's most prolific and influential graphic designer.

1914–1996

Paul Rand

- Brooklyn, New York
- Art director and graphic designer
- Book covers
- Corporate identities

1914-1996

Paul Rand

- Editorial design
- Esquire's art director at age 23
- Direction Magazine, 1939-1943

Conclusion

---

“It is obvious, that the machine is here to stay. Whole armies of William Morris and Tolstoy could not now expel it.... Let us then exploit it to create beauty—a modern beauty, while we are about it.”

—ALDOUS HUXLEY, 1928

