FOREWORD

Blessings on the heads of the Phoenecians or whoever gave us our alphabet.

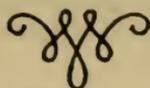

Greater praise be to those who have not only made it useful but also ornamental.

Hand lettering and design will always remain an art; so this book picks up the refrain and carries it on. To professionals and amateurs, here is music for many a battle

LETTERING by W. L. D.

FOR ARTISTS AND ADVERTISERS

Ability

The ability to draw
beautifully is
an accomplishment
IN ~ ITSELF ~ ~

“The ability to draw
plain, simple letters
is an accomplishment also, ~ ~

But of little use
without the skill
to compose them
effectively.”

Good Choice of LETTERING

To a design which
requires lettering.

Hand Lettering
adds a Grace and
beauty that is as attractive as the design itself. ~ ~

Carefully ~
choose a letter to conform with the design ~ ~ ~ ~

It's the truth!

It is more difficult
to design a good
page of lettering
than to fill the same page with a good picture ~ ~ ~ ~

This makes the designers
problem still
more difficult
although not hopeless ~ ~

Lettering

Men that are not familiar with a certain style will not use it, hence the lack of variety

Express your thoughts and ideas in letters through wider channels and obtain variety

Every Individual

letter must have care in the making for it has as much to do with the looks of a finished word as features have to a face.

And more care should be taken in spacing of words

Hand-craft Lettering

does not depend on mechanical perfection
as its basic principle

Criticism consisting
of individual letter
analysis according to
type or the standard
alphabets ~ ~ would obliterate Hand Letter-
craft as an applied art.

It would have no
individuality and its
real value would be lost both from an artistic and commercial
viewpoint ~ ~ ~ ~

However this does not mean that basic principle should be entirely sacrificed ~

LETTERING

Modern Lettering, enlarged upon and ~ perfected through the usages of "Art" and Literature, is based on the theories of Form and Design envolved by Ancient Romans ~ in their monumental Inscriptions. yet! The Form which they attained, is unequalled to date ~ ~ ~ ~ ~

~ Be Original ~

Alphabets are original only so far as individual treatment and technic ~ alters the appearance without change of basic ~ ~ ~ ~

The letters themselves are a development from the Arabic and Greek, and later, the Roman. The letter we call Roman is the most beautiful in existence, and forms the basis for nearly all civilized alphabets. It reached a very high development in inscriptions on tombs and monuments in ancient and mediaeval Rome and Italy. It has been adapted and modified by nearly every type founder or letterer.

The Roman letter used in the English speaking nations has come down to us through the Italians and through the Germans it has grown into the modern German-Gothic, a letter which is very strong and heavy and solid, but lacking in grace or elegance.

The different national temperaments are well expressed in the type of lettering each uses. The graceful, light, and vivacious script came from France.

Roman has been brought to its highest modern development by the Englishman Wm. Caslon, and the heavy blackface type is distinctly German. ❧

The Roman Letter

Is the most difficult to compose into words artistically, spacing of the letter plays a great share in the results. ~

Even color in lettering is obtained by keeping as near the same area of white between each letter as possible. ~ ~ ~

Letters may be widened or condensed to help fill the awkward hole. ~ ~

OLD ROMAN

The letters on this plate were drawn from a photograph of a portion of the inscription at the base of the "Trajan Column" at Rome, dated (114 A.D.)

“ ROMAN ”

This alphabet of Capitals founded on the letters of the inscription on the base of Trajan's Column, Rome, erected between 106 and 110 A.D. The characters not given in the inscription are supplied, together with the Æ, Œ, and &.

This alphabet, though following the Trajan letters closely, has many points of variance. There is more difference in the proportion of the thick and thin strokes than in the original.

ROMAN

These Capitals are based on the inscription on the monument of the Emperor Henry VII (Henry of Luxembourq) in Campo Santo, Pisa by Tino di Camaino, a pupil of Giovanni Pisano, dated 1315. Many of the letters of this inscription are superior in form to those of the Trajan inscription. The round letters are fuller and more smoothly rounded.

ROMAN

These Capitals made for this special alphabet careful parallel studies of the types of Joannes Spira and Nicolas Jenson from the editions of Pliny, printed at Venice, That of Spira in 1469, Jenson's in 1476, And from Cicero's Epistles, printed by Jenson in 1470. The letters as they appear are the best of the essays, and are, different in detail from any existing type.

GOTHIC

We find this capital a valuable one in the designing of monograms and ciphers; for title, motto, or inscription.

The general proportion of the letter is that of many of the illuminated initials found in manuscripts of the fifteenth century. The base of this alphabet comes from the Champfleury of Geofroy Tory, printed at Paris in 1529.

TradeMarks

Some of the best ~ TradeMarks are those which use combinations of letters or abstract symbols with no attempt to strive for illustrative material. It is gratifying to note the remarkable amount of clever study that goes into the designing of the trade-marks today ~ ~

The fact is important that few designers ~ have let their striving for beauty run away with the "utility" thought

No Rolls-Royce has ever worn out

ROLLS - ROYCE

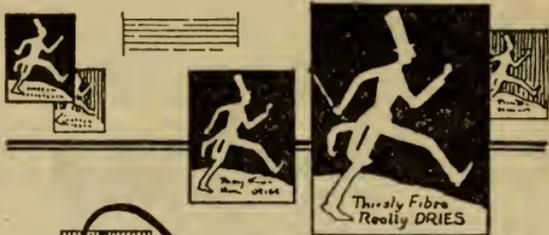

A FIGURETTE THAT TELLS THE "ROLLS-ROYCE" STORY AND CONSEQUENTLY HAS VIRTUALLY BECOME A TRADE MARK

The Rolls-Royce, when it first started business, settled upon a trade mark in the form of the two R's, intertwined.

*Not long ago a beautiful silver figurette was placed on the radiator cap of the car; the poised figure of a woman,
balanced on one foot, body flung far forward and flying draperies indicative of easy, swift flight.*

A single advertisement appeared in which this figure was featured in the pictorial display. It appealed at once.
