yeller. Yellow: illiterate (i.e. sol.) and dial.: C. 19-20. Cf. yellow, q.v.

yelling. The rolling of a ship: nautical coll.: C. 19. Bowen. Ex the resultant noise.

yellow. A variant of yellow-hammer, 2, q.v.: from ca. 1870; ob. H., 5th ed.—2. See yellows.

yellow, v. To make a 'yellow admiral' of: nautical coll.: 1747; ob. O.E.D.—2. Hence, to retire (an officer): nautical coll.: 1820, Lady Granville (O.E.D.).

yellow, adj. Cowardly, though perhaps not app. so; coll.: from ca. 1910. Orig. U.S.; prob. ex yellow as applied to a writer on the yellow press (1898).—2. A New Canting Dict., 1725, asserts that yellow, jealous, was orig. a c. term: this is prob. correct.

yellow, baby's. (Mainly infantine) excrement: nursery coll.: C. 19-20.

yellow admiral. An officer too long ashore to be employed again at sea: naval: C. 20. Bowen. Cf. yellowing.

yellow-back (a cheap, sensational novel) is, by some, classified as s. or coll., but prob. it has always been S.E.

Yellow-Banded Robbers, the. The 13th Foot Regiment, later the Prince Albert's Somersetshire Light Infantry: military: C. 19-20; ob.

Yellow Belly, or y.b. A native of the fens, orig. and esp. the Fens in Lincolnshire; 'also known in Romney Marshes, Kent' (E.D.D.): from the 1790's. Grose, Provincial Glossary, 1790; id., Vulgar Tongue, 2nd ed., 1788. Ex the frogs, which are yellow-bellied, or perhaps, as Grose holds, 'an allusion to the eels caught there'.—2. A half-caste: nautical (— 1867). Smyth. Esp. a Eurasian: Anglo-Indian: from ca. 1860. (George Orwell, Burmese Days, 1935).—3. A knife-grinder: Yorkshire s. (— 1905), not dial. E.D.D. Perhaps ex the yellowish leather apron.

yellow boy. A guinea or, in C. 19-20, a sovereign: from the Restoration: c. >, in C. 18, s. Wilson, The Cheats, 1662 (O.E.D.); Grose; Dickens. Ex its colour: cf. Welsh Gypsy melano, yellow, hence a sovereign (Sampson).

Yellow Cat, the. The Golden Lion, 'a noted brothel in the Strand, so named by the ladies who frequented it', Grose, 1st ed.: low: ca. 1750-80.

yellow fancy. A yellow silk handkerchief, white-spotted: pugilistic: from the 1830's. Brandon.

yellow fever. Gold-fever: Australian jocular coll.: 1861, M'Combie, Australian Sketches.—2. Drunkenness: Greenwich Hospital (— 1867); ob.

Smyth. Sailors there punished for drunkenness used to wear a parti-coloured coat, in which yellow predominated.

yellow gloak. A jealous man, esp. a jealous husband: c. of ca. 1810-70. Vaux, 1812; H., 1st ed. Cf. yellow house; see gloak.

yellow-hammer. A gold coin: ca. 1625-50. Middleton, Shirley. (Cf. yellow boy.) Ex the colour of the bird and the metal.—2. A charity boy in yellow breeches: C. 19-20; slightly ob.

yellow hose or stockings, he wears. He is jealous: coll.: C. 17-18. Dekker; Bailey.

yellow jack (or J.). Yellow fever: nautical: 1836, E. Howard (O.E.D.). Ex the yellow jack or flag displayed at naval hospitals, and from vessels in quarantine to indicate a contagious disease.

yellow-jacket. A wasp: Canadian coll.: mid-C. 19-20. (John Beames.)

yellow-man. A yellow silk handkerchief (cf. yellow fancy, q.v.): pugilistic and sporting: ca. 1820-80. The Sporting Magazine, 1821 (O.E.D.); 'Jon Bee'; H., 2nd-5th edd.

yellow peril or with capitals. A Gold Flake cigarette: from ca. 1910. Ex the yellow packets, with a pun on journalistic y.p., the Chinese menace.

yellow plaster. Alabaster: provincial coll.: from ca. 1870. ? suggested by rhyme.

yellow silk, n. Milk: rhyming s.: late C. 19-20. B. & P.

yellow-stocking. A charity boy: London: C. 19-20.

yellowing. 'The passing over of captains in a promotion to flag rank': naval: C. 20. Bowen. Cf. yellow admiral, q.v.

yellows (or Y.). Pupils at the Blue Coat School: London (— 1887). Baumann. Ex yellow-stocking.

yelper. A town-crier: low: from early 1720's; ob. A New Canting Dict., 1725; 'Jon Bee', 1823.—2. A wild beast: low: from ca. 1820. Egan's Grose.

yen(n)ep. A penny: back s. (— 1859). H., 1st ed. Whence, e.g. yenep-a-time, a penny a time (a term in betting); yenep-flatch, 1½d.: both ibid.

yen(n)ork. A crown (-piece): back s. (— 1859); ob. H., 1st ed.

yeoman of the mouth. An officer attached to His (Her) Majesty's pantry: jocular nickname: late C. 17-early 19. B.E., Grose.

yep! Yes!: 1897, Kipling (O.E.D.): low coll. ex dial. and U.S. The Humorist, Jan. 27, 1934, 'Should Americanisms be banished from the English Language? Yep.' Cf. nope, no!

yer. You; your: sol. and dial.: C. 19-20. Also yah and (for you only) yez.—2. Yes: sol.: C. 19-20.

yerre. See y-.

yerknod; properly yeknod; loosely, jirk-nod. A donkey: back s. (— 1859). H., 1st ed.

yerre they come. See here they come.

yers; yerse. Yes: sol.: C. 19-20. Cf. yurse, q.v. yerself. Yourself: sol., esp. Cockneys': C. 19-20. Baumann.

yes of it, make. See make yes of it.

yes, she gave me. See out ? , does your mother . . .

yes'm; yessir! An illiterate 'collision' of yes, sir! and yes, ma'am! C. 19-20.

yes man, yes-man, yesman. One who cannot say 'no': coll.: from 1933. C.O.D., 3rd ed. Sup, 1934; Margaret Langmaid, The Yes Man, published in Aug., 1935. Ex American yes man, a private secretary, an assistant (film-)director, a parasite.

yes, we have no bananas ! A c.p. of ca. 1924—28. Collinson. Ex the song.

vest. S. abbr. of yesterday: ca. 1720–1870. A New Canting Dict., 1725. Cf.:

vesty. Yesterday: sol.: C. 19–20. Mayhew, 1861.

yez. See yer. Mostly Anglo-Irish, as in Maria Edgeworth.

y'illn. Scoundrel; (affectionately) scamp; often y'illn elkalb, lit. son of a dog: among soldiers in Egypt: C. 20. B. & P. Ex Arabic.

Yid; loosely Yit (ob.). A Jew; orig. (— 1874) and properly, a Jew speaking Yiddish. H., 5th ed., both forms. Also Yiddisher, recorded by Barrère & Leland, 1890: coll. Yiddish + agential-er.

[Yiddish is technically a kind of German, not of Hebrew; but it is often, rather loosely, used as = ordinary spoken Hebrew.]

Yiddisher. See Yid.

Yiddle. A Jew; esp. a Jewish boxer: mainly pugilistic: from ca. 1930. An elaboration of Yid. yimkin. Perhaps: Eastern Fronts' military coll. in G.W. (F. & Gibbons.) Ex Arabic.

vis. Yes: sol. (— 1887). Baumann. Cf. yas, q.v.

Yit. See Yid.

yo, Tommy ! 'Exclamation of condemnation by the small actor [i.e. in minor theatres]. Amongst the lower classes it is a declaration of admiration addressed to the softer sex by the sterner,' Ware, 1909. Perhaps this Tommy is related to that in hell and Tommy (see Tommy, hell and).

yob. A boy: back s. (— 1859). H., 1st ed.—2. Hence, a youth: from ca. 1890. 'Pomes' Marshall, ca. 1897, 'And you bet that each gal, not to mention each yob, | Didn't care how much ooftish it cost 'em per nob.'—3 ? hence, a lout, a stupid fellow (rarely girl or woman): low (orig. East End): C. 20. F. & Gibbons. Perhaps influenced by:

yock. A fool, a simpleton: grafters': C. 20. Philip Allingham, Cheapjack, 1934. Ex Yiddish.—2. An eye: c.: C. 20. James Curtis, The Gilt Kid, 1936. Prob. ex Romany.

yog. A Gentile: East London back s. (on goy): C. 20. Whence yock, q.v.

yokuff. A large box, a chest: c. (— 1812) >, ca. 1850, low. Vaux; H., 1st ed. Prob. a perversion of coffer.

yolly. A post-chaise: ca. 1840–1900 at Winchester College. Ex yellow, a colour frequent in these vehicles: cf. † yellow, yellow.

yonker. See youunker.—yooman. See yuman.

york. 'A look, or observation,' Vaux: c. or low: ca. 1810–80. Ex:

york, v. To stare impertinently at: c. (— 1812); † by 1880. Vaux. Perhaps ex Yorkshire bite, 1, q.v.—2. V.i. and t., to look (at), to examine: low: ca. 1810–50. Ibid.—3. V.i., to rain: Bootham School: C. 20. Anon., Dict. of Bootham Slang, 1925. York is apt to be wet.

York Street is concerned; there is Y.S. concerned. Someone is looking (hard): c. or low: ca. 1810–60. Vaux. Cf. york, n. and v.

Yorks. Shares in the Great Northern Railway: Stock Exchange (— 1895). A. J. Wilson, Stock Exchange Glossary. The line passes through York and is now the L.N.E.R.

Yorkshire¹ orig. implied boorishness, but the connotation of cunning, (business) sharpness, or trickery appears as early as 1650. Variations of the latter senses occur in certain of the ensuing phrases, all of which have, from coll., >, by late C. 19, S.E. (See also north, 1.)

Yorkshire, n. Sharp practice; cajolery: mid-C. 19–20: coll. (> S.E.) and dial.

Yorkshire, v.t. 'To cheat, to take a person in, to prove too wide-awake for him': from ca. 1870. Ex come (or put) Yorkshire on (or over) a person. F. & H.

Yorkshire bite. A very 'cute piece of overreaching: 1795 (O.E.D.).—2. Hence, a particularly sharp and/or overreaching person: 1801 (O.E.D.). See bite and *Yorkshire*¹.

Yorkshire carrier, confident as a. Cocksure: C. 18–20; ob. Ward, 1706. See *Yorkshire*¹.

Yorkshire compliment. 'A gift useless to the giver and not wanted by the receiver,' F. & H.: mid-C. 19–20; ob. H., 5th ed. See *Yorkshire*¹. Also, mainly dial., a North-Country compliment.

Yorkshire estate. Money in prospect, a 'castle in Spain'; esp. in when I come into my Yorkshire estates, when I have the means: mid-C. 19–20; ob. H., 2nd ed. See *Yorkshire*¹ and cf. Yorkshire compliment.

Yorkshire hog. A fat wether: 1772, Bridges, 'A pastry-cook | That made good pigeon-pie of rook, | Cut venison from Yorkshire hogs | And made rare mutton-pies of dogs'; Grose, 1st ed.; extremely ob. Cf. Cotswold lion and see *Yorkshire*¹.

Yorkshire Hunters, the. 'A regiment formed by the gentlemen of Yorkshire during the Civil War': military nickname: 1640's. F. & H. Yorkshire, a famous hunting county.

Yorkshire on (upon), put, C. 18–20; come Yorkshire on (C. 19–20), more gen. c. Y. over, app. first recorded in Grose, 1785. To cheat, dupe, overreach, be too wide-awake for (a person). The antidote is to be Yorkshire too, which phrase, however, is rare outside of dial. (E.D.D.), though Wolcot has it in 1796 (Apperson). See *Yorkshire*¹ and cf. Yorkshire, v.

Yorkshire reckoning. A reckoning, an entertainment, in which each person pays his share: mid-C. 19–20. H., 3rd ed. Cf. dial. go Yorkshire, to do this. See *Yorkshire*¹.

Yorkshire tike or, gen., tyke. A Yorkshireman: coll. nickname: mid-C. 17–20. Howell, 1659; B.E.; Grose. Northern tike (rare) occurs in Deloney ca. 1600 (Apperson). See tike for improving status of this term.

Yorkshire too, be. See Yorkshire upon, put.—Yorkshire upon . . . See Yorkshire on . . .

Yorkshire way-bit. A distance greater than a mile: coll.: ca. 1630–1830. Cleveland, 1640. In the earliest record, Y. wea-bit. Apperson.

you and me. Tea: rhyming s.: C. 20. F. & Gibbons. Prob. suggested by Rosy Lee.

you are another ! ; you're another ! You also are a liar, thief, rogue, fool, or what you will: a c.p. retort (coll., not s.): C. 16 (? earlier)–20. Udall; Fielding; Dickens, "'Sir," said Mr Tupman, "you're a fellow." "Sir," said Mr Pickwick, "you're another"; Sir W. Harcourt, 1888, 'Little urchins in the street have a conclusive argument. They say "You're another".' A variant, late C. 19–20 (? ob.), is so's your father ! In mid-C. 19–20, the orig. phrase is almost meaningless, though slightly contemptuous. F. & H.

you are (or you're) slower than the second coming of Christ ! A drill-sergeants' c.p.: C. 20. B. & P.

you bet. See bet and betcher.

you'd be far better off in a home ! A military c.p. to a man in misfortune : 1915 ; ob. B. & P.

you have grown a big girl since last Christmas ! A non-aristocratic c.p. addressed to girl or woman : C. 20. (R. Blaker, Night-Shift, 1934.)

you'll be a long time dead ! See dead, you'll be a long time.

you'll get yourself disliked. A satirical, proletarian c.p. addressed to anyone behaving objectionably : from ca. 1878 ; now virtually S.E.

you make me tired ! You bore me to tears : a c.p. introduced from U.S.A. in 1898 by the Duchess of Marlborough, 'a then leader of fashion' (Ware).

you may have broke your mother's heart—(but) you (bloodywell) won't break mine ! A military e.p. (C. 20), orig. and mostly drill-sergeants'. B. & P. Cf. you shape . . .

you must. A crust : rhyming s. : late C. 19–20. B. & P.

you pays your money and you takes your choice ! You may choose what you like : c.p. : late C. 19–20. Ex showmen's patter.

you said it. See said.

you shape like a whore at a christening ! A lower classes' and military (esp. drill-sergeants') c.p. to a clumsy person : from the 1890's, if not indeed considerably earlier. B. & P., 3rd ed.

youlie. See yowlie.

you-uns. You : low : late C. 19–20. Ex U.S. Cf. rarer we uns.

you would ! See would !, you.

young. (Of inanimates) small, diminutive, not full-sized : mid-C. 16–20 : S.E. until, after virtually lapsing in C. 17–early 19, it >, ca. 1850, coll. and jocular, as in Hornaday's 'Such a weapon is really a young cannon,' 1885. O.E.D.—2. the night's young yet, it is still early : coll. : C. 20. Often yet is omitted, rarely is day (etc.) substituted for night.

Young Bucks, the. The 14th Foot, now the Prince of Wales's Own West Yorkshire Regiment : 'from 1809, when the battalion, till then known as the Bedfordshire Regiment, exchanged County titles and depôts with the 16th Foot, the hitherto Buckinghamshire Regiment', F. & Gibbons. Opp. Old Bucks, q.v.

Young Buffs, the. The 31st Foot Regiment ; from ca. 1881, the (1st Battalion of the) East Surrey Regiment : military coll. nickname : mid-C. 18–20 ; ob. At the battle of Dettingen, George II, 'through the similarity of the facings, mistook it for the 3rd Foot (or Old Buffs)', F. & H.

young Charley. See charley, n., 6.

Young Cub, the. Charles James Fox (1749–1806). Also Carlo Khan. Dawson.

Young Eyes, the. The 7th (Queen's Own) Hussars : military : mid-C. 19–20.

young fellow (or feller) me lad. A semi-jocular term of address : coll. : mid-C. 19–20.

Young Fusiliers, the. The 20th Foot Regiment (now the Lancashire Fusiliers) : military : 'a Peninsular War nickname', F. & Gibbons. Because then only recently formed.

young gentleman, or man, lady or woman are coll. when addressed in 'reproof or warning to persons of almost any age' : from ca. 1860. O.E.D.

young hopeful. See hopeful.

young kipper. A very poor meal : East End of London : C. 20. Punning the Jewish holy day, Yom Kippur.

young lady. A fiancée : low coll. when not jocular : 1896, George Bernard Shaw (O.E.D.). Cf.

young man and young woman.—2. See young gentleman.

young man. A sweetheart or lover ; a fiancé : coll. (in C. 19, always low ; in C. 20, often jocular) : 1851, Mayhew, 'Treated to an ice by her young man—they seemed as if they were keeping company,' O.E.D. Cf. young woman.—2. See young gentleman.

young one or un (or 'un). A child ; a youth (rarely a girl) : low coll. : C. 19–20 ; Lex. Bal., 1811, 'A familiar expression of contempt for another's ignorance, as "ah ! I see you're a young one"' ; this nuance is ob. As a young person, young one (or 'un) may not precede the 1830's ; the O.E.D. cites Egan at 1838. Opp. an old un, an old man, a father. See un, 'un.

Young Soldier. See soldier, n., 5.

young strop. (Gen. pl.) A newly joined ordinary seaman : nautical : C. 20. Bowen. Perhaps because he does not often need to strop his razor.

young thing. A youth 17–21 years old : masculine women's coll. (—1909). Ware. (The gen. sense is S.E.)

young 'un. See young one.

young woman. A sweetheart ; a fiancée : coll. (see young man) : 1858 (O.E.D.). On young man.—2. See young gentleman.

youngster. A child, esp. a boy ; a young person (gen. male) not of age : coll. : 1732, Berkeley (O.E.D.). By natural extension of orig. sense.

[younger, earlier yonker, may always be S.E., though H., 2nd ed., 'younger, in street language, a lad or a boy', causes one to doubt it.]

your. You're : sol. spelling and pron. : C. 19 (? earlier)—20. Cf. youre, q.v.

your crowd, wasn't it . . . See Emden.

*your nabs ; your nibs ; *your watch. See nabs, nibs and watch, n. Contrast yours truly.

your wheel's going round !, often preceded with hey ! and a pause. C. 20 street-wit c.p. directed at person on bicycle or in motor-car.

youre ; you're. Your : a sol. pronunciation : C. 19–20 ; cf. your. (J. Jefferson Farjeon, Old Man Mystery, 1933, 'Silk stockings . . . like you're young man appreciates'.)—2. you're as = you are is coll. : C. 18–20.

you're another ! See you are another !

you're off the grass ! You haven't a chance : cricketers' : ca. 1900–14. Ware. I.e. outside the field.

you're telling me ! I know that : American c.p. anglicised by 1933 : see indignant letter in The Daily Mirror, Nov. 7 of that year ; an advertisement in the agony column of The Daily Telegraph, Sept. 14, 1934.

you're the top ! A c.p. of approval : 1935. Ex the comedy, Anything Goes.

yourn ; your'n (C. 19–20). Yours : late C. 14–20 : dial. and, C. 19–20, low coll.

your's. Yours : sol. : throughout Mod. E.

yours and hours. Flowers : rhyming s. : late C. 19–20. B. & P.

yours to a cinder. A non-aristocratic c.p. ending to a letter : late C. 19–20. (F. Brett Young, Jim Redlake, 1930.) Prob. orig. in the (coal-)mining centres.

yours truly. See truly, yours.

yourself !, be. Pull yourself together ! : a U.S. c.p., anglicised by 1934. C.O.D., 3rd ed., Sup.

yous ; occ. youse. (Pron. yews.) You : sol. :

late (? mid-) C. 19–20. Lit., you + -s, the sign of the pl. With this illiteracy, cf. you-uns and the nearly as reprehensible your, q.v.

yowlie or -y. A member of the watch; a policeman: Edinburgh s.: C. 19–20; ob. Jamieson, 'A low term' that prob. derives ex 'their youling or calling the hours'. Occ. youlie.

yoxter. 'A convict returned from transportation before his time', H., 3rd ed.: c. of ca. 1860–90. Origin?

y'see. You see: coll. (— 1887). Baumann.

yum. Yes: slovenly coll.: mid-C. 19–20. (A. A. Milne, Two People, 1931.)

Z

[At z, F. & H. has the following ineligible:— S.E.: zany. Dial.: zemmies-haw!; zoty.]

'Z. The 'S of oaths: see 'S. Cf. Zooks and Zounds.

zackly; zactly. Exactly: resp. sol. and low coll. (— 1887). Baumann. But zackly is also dial.

zad; mere zad. A bandy-legged and/or crooked-backed person: ca. 1720–1840. A New Canting Dict., 1725. Cf. zed, crooked as the letter, q.v.—2. Occ. of a thing: same period.

zantho- is incorrect for xantho-: mid-C. 19–20. O.E.D. zarnder. The same as a tubbichon, q.v.: London lower classes': ca. 1863–70. Ware. Owing to its adoption by Princess (later Queen) Alexandra.

zarp; gen. Zarp. A policeman: the Transvaal: 1897, The Cape Argus, weekly ed., Dec. 8; ob. An anagram ex Zuid Afrikaansche Republiek Politie, the South African Republic Police. Pettman.

zat? How's that?: cricketers' coll.: late C. 19–20. K. R. G. Browne, in The Humorist, Jan. 27, 1934, describes cricket as 'a game that consists chiefly of standing about in dégagé attitudes and shouting "Zat?" at intervals'.

'Zbloud, 'Zbud, 'Z'death. See 'Sblood, 'Sbud, 'Sdeath. Likewise 'Zfoot = 'Sfoot.

zeb. Best: back s. (— 1859). H., 1st ed. Modified tseb.

zed, crooked as the letter. Very crooked: coll. (— 1785) >, ca. 1840, dial. Grose, 1st ed. See also zad.

zed (gen. zedding) about. To zigzag, to diverge: society: ca. 1883–1900. Ware. Perhaps punning gad(d)ing about.

Zedland. The South-Western counties of England: s. or perhaps coll.: from 1780's; very ob. Grose, 2nd ed. There, dialectally, s is pronounced as z. (Also Izzard Land, dial.; cf. literary Un-necessarians.)

zep; rarely zepp. (Gen. with capital.) A Zeppelin airship: coll.: 1915, Jessie Pope, Simple Rhymes, 'The night those Zeps bombarded town,' O.E.D.

Zep, v.t. 'To drop bombs on from a Zeppelin': somewhat rare coll.: heard in 1917; 1920, W. J. Locke (O.E.D.).

Zepp in a smoke screen. (Gen. pl.: Zepps . . .) Sausage and mashed potatoes: orig. (1918) military >, by 1920, gen. lower-class s. Margery Allingham, Look to the Lady, 1931. Cf.:

zeppelin(s) in a fog. Sausage(s) and mashed potatoes: naval: from ca. 1917. Bowen. The yum-yum. Excellent; first rate: orig. (— 1904) and mostly low. Ex yum-yum!, an exclamation of animal satisfaction (with, e.g., exquisite or delicious food).

yuman; yooman. Human: sol.: C. 19–20. (G. D. H. and M. Cole, The Murder at Crome House, 1927, 'Shouted at us as if I wasn't a yooman being'.)

yurse. See wurl. Ernest Raymond, The Jestling Army, 1930, '“We're for it, boys, if you arst me. . . . Yurse,” he concluded with rich appreciation, “that means we're for it.”' yus(s). Yes: Cockney: C. 19 (? earlier)—20. Julian Franklyn, This Gutter Life, 1934, passim.

military form (1917 at latest), now ob., is . . . in a cloud (F. & Gibbons).

Zero and zero hour are military j.; but zero, to learn, experimentally, the peculiarities of (one's rifle), is marksmen's and snipers' coll. (now verging on j.): from ca. 1912. B. & P., 3rd ed.—2. A water-closet: Bootham School: from ca. 1916. Anon., Dict. of Bootham Slang, 1925.

ziff. A young thief: c. (— 1864). H., 3rd ed. ? thief perverted.—2. A beard: Australian (— 1926). Jice Doone. Why?

zig, catch the. See catch the zig.

zigzag. Topsy: military: from 1916. F. & Gibbons; B. & P. From Fr. s., ex the zigzag course taken by a tipsy man.

Zionist. A member of the Zion Mule Corps, 'a dreadful smelly lot of cut-throats, collected from Syria or somewhere to act as transport . . . Not bad,' as Ernest Raymond remarks in The Jestling Army, 1930: military in 1915 (Gallipoli campaign) then historical.

zip. An echoic word indicative of the noise made by (say) a bullet or a mosquito in its passage through the air: coll.: 1875, Fogg. O.E.D.—2. Hence, force, impetus, energy, spirit: coll.: from ca. 1914. Cf. vim.—3. Hence, adj., as in zip (lightning) fastener: 1925 (S.O.D.): coll. >, by 1930, S.E. Also zipper, n.: from ca. 1926: coll. >, by 1930, S.E.

zip, v.i. To make a zip sound: coll.: from ca. 1880.

[Ziph. That ancient linguistic aberration which consists in saying, e.g., shagall wege gogo for shall we go. See Slang, p. 278.]

ziphoid. Incorrect for ziphioid: from ca. 1870; likewise ziphoide for ziphoid: C. 19–20. O.E.D.

zipper. See zip, n., 3.

zippy. Lively, bright; energetic, vigorous: coll.: 1923, P. G. Wodehouse (O.E.D. Sup.). Ex zip, n., 2.

Zlead(s), Zlid; Z'life. Minced oaths: coll.: C. 17–18. I.e. God's lids, life. O.E.D.

znees; zneesy. Frost; frosty or frozen: ca. 1780–1840, but perhaps covering a period as great as C. 18–mid-19. Grose, 1st ed. Perhaps a S.W. England coll.; app.—witness E.D.D.—it is not dial. Perhaps ex sneeze, sneezy, which are, however, unrecorded in these senses. Cf.:

znuz. A variant of znees, q.v. Grose, 1st ed.

Zoo; zoo. The Zoological Gardens, London (N.W.1); elsewhere, as already in the O.E.D.'s earliest example: Macaulay, ca. 1847, 'We treated the Clifton Zoo much too contemptuously.' The zoō has been telescoped to one syllable.—2. The Montreal immigration hall for those immigrants who wish to return to their own country; Canadian: from ca. 1929. Ex the variety of dress and language.

Zooks !; Zookers !; Zoodikers ! (rare); 'Zoonters ! Oaths and asseverations: coll.: C. 17-mid-19. (O.E.D.).

zoom. An abrupt hauling-up and forcing-up of an aeroplane when it is flying level: aviation. Also, and slightly earlier, a v.i. Both, 1917: The Daily Mail, July 19 (O.E.D.). Ex zoom, 'to make a continuous low-pitched humming or buzzing sound' (O.E.D.). See also B. & P.

zouave, play the. To show off, to swagger: not very gen. military coll.: 1915; ob. F. & Gibbons. Ex the dashing zouaves' fiercely military bearing.

zouch. A churl; an unmannerly fellow: C. 18. Street Robberies Considered, 1728. Perhaps ex ouch, the exclamation.

'Zounds ! An oath or asseveration: late C. 16-20: coll. until C. 19, then archaic S.E. except when dial. Euphemistic abbr. by God's wounds. Cf. Zooks !

Zulu Express, the. A certain Great Western afternoon express train: railwaymen's at the time of the Zulu War (1879). Ware. Prob. because it ran to 'Zummerzett'.

zylo- is incorrect for terms in xylo-: C. 19-20. O.E.D.

SUPPLEMENT

A

a or 'a. Sense 2 (see Dict.) exists independently as far back as late C. 16. Thus Middleton & Dekker, The Roaring Girl, 1611: 'I love to lye aboth sides ath bed my selfe.'—7. Of: coll.: late C. 16–20. Ibid., 'Why 'twere too great a burden, love, to have them carry things in their minds, and a' ther backs.'

A.A. of the G.G. (see Dict.) is not in gen. use.

A.B. (p. 1) prob. goes back to very early C. 19. It occurs in W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints, 1829, at I, 21, and still earlier in The Night Watch, 1828, at II, 121. (Moe.)

A.B.C.—3. A crib: Rugby Schoolboys': ca. 1880–1910. Ex the letters forming cab, n., 4.

A.B.F. A final 'last drink': since ca. 1915. I.e. an absolutely bloody final drink.

AC-DC or A.C.-D.C. (of a man) both heterosexual and homosexual: adapted, 1959, from U.S.A. A pun on Electricity's 'A.C. or D.C.'—alternating current or direct current.

A/C Plonk. Aircraftman, 2nd Class (A.C.2): R.A.F.: since early 1920's. The New Statesman, Aug. 30, 1941; Jackson. Ex plonk, n., 1 (p. 640).

a cooloo. All; everything: since ca. 1925; R.A.F., esp. regulars with service in the East, whence the term came. Jackson. Probably from Arabic cooloo, all; in Army, since ca. 1914.

A.K. Canadian signallers' s. for the s. arse over kettle (Canadian: C. 20): 1914–18.

à la... In the fashion of; in such-or-such a way or manner: coll.: late C. 19–20. 'He denied that he was trying to bring his entire family into politics à la So-and-So'. Such frequent use of the Fr. locution is certainly eligible; it owes its tardy inclusion here to the prompting of Mr Barry Prentice, my copious, generous, invaluable helper from Rodd Point, New South Wales.

A over T. See arse over tip.

A.P. The right procedure, the correct thing to do: Royal Naval College, Dartmouth: since ca. 1930. Granville. I.e. Admiralty pattern.

aap (or arp). See zol.

aar. See ar.

ab. An Aboriginal: Aus.: ca. 1870–1920; displaced by abo (p. 2). Alexander Macdonald, In the Land of Pearl and Gold, 1907, at p. 249.

Abadan. A 'driver using much oil' (Railway, 3rd, 1966): railwaymen's: since ca. 1960. Abadan, a town in S.W. Iran, is one of the world's chief oil-refining and -shipping centres.

abandonment. Bankruptcy of a railway company: financiers' and brokers': ca. 1880–1905. B. & L.

Abbeville Kids, the. Focke-Wulf pilots (or pilots and 'planes): R.A.F.: 1942; ob. by 1946. Partridge, 1945, 'Our airmen first met them over or near Abbeville and . . . like the Dead End Kids of cinematic fame, they have no very rosy future'.

Abbott's teeth. A ca. 1820–40 variant of Ellenborough's teeth (Dict.). Pierce Egan, Life in London, 1821. Cf. Abbott's Priory (Dict.).

abdabs, don't come—or, give me—the old. Don't tell me the tale: C. 20, esp. in 1939–45. Origin? By itself, abdabs was, in World War II, used occasionally for 'afters'.

abdabs, the screaming. An attack of delirium tremens: since late 1930's. Since ca. 1942, abdabs has been more gen. than hab-dabs.

abdar. A teetotaller: Anglo-Indian: from ca. 1870. B. & L. Ex Hindustani for a water-carrier.

abe, on one's. Indigent, very short of money: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Disguised rhyming s.

Aberdeen booster. See Scotsman's fifth at 'Hauliers' Slang'.

Abergavenny. A penny: rhyming: since ca. 1880. Rather: C. 20 and, by 1960, †.

abfab. 'They then looked real "abfab" (absolutely fabulous), another of our bodgie words' (Dick): Australian teenagers': since ca. 1955.

abishag. Illegitimate child of a mother seduced by a married man: c.: from ca. 1860; slightly ob. B. & L. Ex Hebrew for 'the mother's error'.

abnormality; abnormeth. 'A person of crooked ways, an informer, a deformed or humpbacked person': sol.: resp. from ca. 1880 and ca. 1840–80. B. & L. By confusion of abnormal and enormity.

abominable 'no'-man, the. One who persists in failing to conform: since ca. 1955. A pun on 'the abominable snow-man'.

abortion, as in 'That hat's an abortion'—ludicrous, or very ugly: Australian: since late 1940's. (B.P.)

about as high. See high as three pennyworth . . .

Abraham suit, on the. Engaged in any begging-letter dodge that will arouse sympathy: c.: from ca. 1860; ob. B. & L.

abram, v. To feign sickness: ? ca. 1840–90. Sinks, 1848. Perhaps rhyming s.

abroad.—2 (p. 2). Read: ca. 1810–90. The London Guide, 1818.

absoballylutely; absobloodylutely. Absolutely, utterly: late C. 19–20; C. 20. The former occurs in W. L. George, The Making of an Englishman, 1914 (p. 299), and both were, by 1940, rather ob. (With thanks to Mr R. W. Burchfield.) absolute, an. An absolute certainty: coll.: C. 20; ob. Pugh. Cf. moral.

Aby, Aby, my boy! Chanted, usually with the rest of the song: a Jew-baiting c.p.: ca. 1920-39.

Abyssinia! I'll be seeing you!: since mid-1930's. Michael Harrison, Vernal Equinox, 1939. By a pun.

ac. Accumulator: electricians': C. 20. Part-ridge, 1945.

Academite (p. 3): much earlier in W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints, 1829, at I, 167. Moe.

Academy.—4. A lunatic asylum: ca. 1730-90. Alexander Cruden in a pamphlet of 1754.

acceleration. Starvation; esp. die of acceleration: vagrants' c.; from ca. 1880; ob. B. & L. Also accelerator, a Union relieving officer: id.: id. Ex refusals 'to give food to the dying out-cast'.

accidentally on purpose (p. 3). Often accidentally done . . .

accommodator. One who negotiates a compounding of felonies or other crimes: c.: from ca. 1870: ob. B. & L.

according to Hoyle. Correct; correctly: coll.: late C. 19-20. Ex Edmond Hoyle's The Polite Gamester, 1752; soon titled Mr Hoyle's Games of Whist . . . , 12th edition, 1760; then as Hoyle's Games Improved, 1786; in C. 19, there appeared innumerable re-editions, improvements, enlargements, abridgements. Cf. according to Cocker (p. 3).

ace, n.—3. A flagship or other 'key' vessel: Naval: since ca. 1930. Ex card-games.—4. Thomas Skeats, barrow-boy log. (as reported in the Daily Mail, July 24, 1963), 'One bad peach—we call it an "ace"—turns the whole lot bad. We say, "Get that bleedin' ace out"': barrow boys': since ca. 1920. (Also applied to any other fruit.) A singleton.

ace, adj. Excellent; 'star': coll.: from ca. 1932. The Daily Express, April 20, 1937, speaking of an orchestra: 'London's ace players improvising hot numbers'. John Winton, H.M.S. Leviathan, 1967, of its Naval—esp. its Fleet Air Arm—use, writes, 'The word "ace" meant anything superlative, desirable, well planned or well executed. "Dank" was its antonym and "fat" almost its synonym, meaning satisfied, ready, in a good or advantageous position.'

ace, on one's. Alone: Aus. c.: since ca. 1930. Sidney J. Baker, The Drum, 1959. A single 'spot' on a playing card.

Ace, the. A flagship or other 'key vessel'; the escort guards the ace: Naval: 1939-45. (P-G-R.) ace high. As high as possible: coll.: from ca. 1925. Alice Campbell, Desire to Kill, 1934, 'Ace-high in public esteem'. Ex. Adopted from U.S.

Ace, King, Queen, Jack. A jocular, non-Catholic description of the sign of the Cross: late C. 19-20.—2. A widow's pension: Naval: since ca. 1930. (P-G-R.)

acid. 'Heavy sarcasm; scornful criticism', Granville: Naval: C. 20. Cf. acid, come the (p. 3 end).—2. L.S.D., the psychedelic drug: Canadian: since 1966. (Leechman.) By 1967, also British, as in Alan Diment, The Dolly Dolly Spy, 1967. Whence, acid-head, a user thereof: Diment, 1967. Both of these terms occur also in Peter Fryer's 'A acid, come the.—2. To wax sarcastic: Cockneys': C. 20. The Evening News, March 7, 1938.

Toz of "Zowie" in The Observer colour supplement of Dec. 3, 1967.

acid drop. A rating that's always either arguing or quarrelling or complaining: Naval: since ca. 1900. Granville.

acid (or squeaks) in, put the. See put the acid in, acid on, put the.—2. To ask for a rise in wages: Australian and New Zealand: C. 20. B., 1942.

ack, n. An airman, especially an A.C.1 or an A.C.2: Cranwell (R.A.F. College): ca. 1920-30. (Group-Captain A. Wall, letter of March 3, 1945.

—2. Assistant: Army: 1940+. Ex the initial.)

ack, v. To acknowledge, e.g. a letter: Civil Service and gen. clerical: C. 20.

ack ack. Anti-aircraft (fire) guns: ca. 1939: signalese. Hence, Ack-Ack, A.A. Command: H. & P., 1943. The Reader's Digest, Feb. 1941, 'To avoid the "ack-acks" (anti-aircraft guns)'.

ack adj. Assistant adjutant. Army: 1940+. (P-G-R.)

Ack and Quack. The A. & Q. (Adjutant and Quartermaster) Department: Army: since ca. 1925. (P-G-R.)

ack-Charlie. To arse-crawl; an arse-crawler; Services', esp. Army: since ca. 1939. Ex the signalese for A.C. (P-G-R.) ack emma. Air mechanic: R.F.C. (1912-18), and R.A.F. (April-Dec. 1918). Jackson. The rank became, in Jan. 1919, aircraftman.

ack Willie. Absent without leave: Australian soldiers': 1939-45. (B., 1943.)

ackermaracker. Tea (the beverage): low: since ca. 1920. James Curtis, They Drive by Night, 1938. Origin? The form (acker-mar-acker) suggests tea reversed and distorted from aet to ack; ack elaborated to acker; and, with a swift mar interpolated, acker repeated.

ackers. A variant of akkas, q.v. at akka.

ackle. Esp. in 'It won't ackle': work, function: R.F.C.-R.A.F.: 1917-19. Ex act.

acquire. To steal; to obtain illicitly or deviously: Army euphemistic coll.: 1939-45. (P-G-R.)

acro. An acrobat: circus people's: late C. 19-20.

act, bung on an. See bung on an act below.

act bored, superior, etc. To behave as if bored, superior, etc.: Canadian, originally (ca. 1920) sol., but by 1955, coll. (Leechman.)

act Charley More. To act honestly; to do the fair thing. Naval: C. 19-20. Granville. Charley More was a Maltese publican whose house sign bore the legend 'Charley More, the square thing'.

act the angora. To play the fool: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Elaboration of . . . goat.

act your age! Behave naturally, not as if you were much younger!: since ca. 1920.

acting dicky, 1 (p. 4), goes back to 1806: John Davis, The Post-Captain. (Moe.) acting Jack. An acting sergeant: police: C. 20. (The Free-Lance Writer, April 1948.)

acting scran. 'Food substituted for that promised on the mess menu' (P-G-R.): Naval officers': since ca. 1920.

active tack. Active service: Guardsmen's: 1939+. (Roger Grinstead, They Dug a Hole, 1946.)

ad (p. 4), occurs two years earlier, i.e. in 1852, in Household Words, V, 5/2. (With thanks to Mr R. W. Burchfield, editor of the new O.E.D. Supplement.) Mr Burchfield's team has now traced it back to 1841, when, on May 1 in Britannia, Thackeray used it. Cf. advert below.

ad(-)lib. To speak without a script, or to add extemporaneously to a script; in music, to improvise: coll.: adopted, in early 1930's, ex U.S. (Cf. ad lib: p. 4.)

Adam.—2. In full, Adam and Eve, to leave: rhyming s.: late C. 19–20. The (Birmingham) Evening Despatch, July 19, 1937. Also, to depart (hurriedly): rhyming s. on leave: since ca. 1920. (Franklyn, 2nd.)

Adam, not to know (someone) from. Not to know at all: coll.: mid-C. 18–20. Sessions, Feb. 1784 (p. 400).

Adam and Eve. See Adam, 2, above, and Adam and Eve on a raft.

Adam and Eve Ball. A Cinderella dance: since ca. 1925.

Adam and Eve on a raft (Dict.). Properly two poached eggs on toast, one egg being alone on a raft. In Canada, it is 'firmly entrenched as "short order" restaurant slang'. Leechman (1959).

Adam was an oakum-boy in Chatham Dockyard, when. See when Adam . . . in Dict.

Adamatical. Naked: C. 20. 'This', remarks one of my correspondents, 'is Standard English, but I can find no dictionary giving this definition'; neither can I, but then I classify it as jocularly erudite coll.—probably on the analogy of such words as problematical and sabbatical.

Adamising. A cadet's being lowered naked on to the parade ground at night, he being able to return only by presenting himself to the guard: Sandhurst: ca. 1830–55. Mockler-Ferryman, 1900.

add up, it doesn't. It fails to make sense: coll.: C. 20. An elaboration of add (p. 4). Atkinson.

adept. A pickpocket; a conjuror: c.: C. 18.—2. An alchemist: c.: mid-C. 17–18. B. & L.

adj. (or A.), n. Adjutant; esp. the Adj., one's adjutant: Army officers': C. 20. Blaker. Hence:

adj. (or A.), v. Army officers' s., from ca. 1910 as in Blaker, '“Yes,” said the Colonel. “You're all right. That's why I want you to Adj. for me.”'

Adji, the, is the R.A.F.'s shape of adj. Part-ridge, 1945.

Adjie. An Adjutant: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

adjutant's at. 'A blonde member of the Auxiliary Territorial Service': Army: 1939–45. (P-G-R.)

Admin. Administration; administrative: Services' coll.: 1939 +. (P-G-R.)

Admiral.—2. One's Admiral is one's father: Eton: ca. 1800–50. (Spy, 1825.)

Admiral, the. The Officer-in-charge of R.A.F. Air/Sea Rescue boats. (H. & P.)

Admiral Browning. Human excrement: Naval: ca. C. 20. Personified colour.

admiral of the narrow seas (Dict.) goes back to before 1650: see 'Tavern terms', § 7.

Admiral's broom. 'Used humorously to give the Navy an equivalent of the Field Marshal's baton' (A. B. Petch, Aug. 22, 1946): coll.: C. 20. In March 1967 Mr Ramsey Spencer writes, 'This goes back to the Dutch Admiral Martin Tromp (the elder), who beat the English Fleet under Blake at the Battle of Dungeness in Nov. 1652. The Encyclopedia Britannica says that the statement that he sailed up the Channel with a broom at his masthead in token of his ability to sweep the seas is probably mythical. I think it was Newbolt who wrote a song called "The Admiral's Broom" about the turn of this century.'

Admiral's Mate, the. 'A boastful, know-all rating': Navy: C. 20. Granville. Ironic.

Admiralty brown. Toilet paper: Australian Naval: since ca. 1910. Issue and colour.

Admiralty clown. A Naval physical-training instructor: Naval: since ca. 1945.

Admiralty-made coffin. An Armed Merchant Cruiser; collectively, such ships formed the Suicide Squadron: Naval: late 1939–45. Many were sunk during the first two or three years of World War II. (Granville.)

Adonee. God: c.: ? ca. 1550–1890; B. & L., vaguely classifying as 'old cant'. Ex the Hebrew.

Ados. Assistant Director of Ordnance Services: military, not after 1942. (H. & P.)

adrift (p. 5), in the 'absent without leave' nuance, has, since ca. 1920, been current among R.A.F. regulars.—2. (Of a knot) undone: Navy: C. 20. Granville.

advert (p. 4 at ad) 'was used by J. Blackwood in 1860 (Letters of George Eliot, 1954, III, 244)': R. W. Burchfield in The New Statesman, March 17, 1967.

aerated, esp. as 'Don't get aerated!'—excited or angry: since ca. 1930. (A. B. Petch, April 1966.)

aerial coolies. Those airmen who dropped supplies to the Chindits in Burma: Army and R.A.F.: 1943–5. (P-G-R.)

aerial ping-pong. Australian Rules Football: Sydneysiders': since ca. 1950. Mostly in ref. to the game in Victoria. (B.P.)

aeroplanes. A bow tie: Australian: since ca. 1938. B., 1942.

Ætna. 'A small boiler for "brewing"': Winchester: from ca. 1860; ob. B. & L. affair.—2. Male or female genitals: C. 19–20; if used euphemistically, it is ineligible, but if used lazily the term is s.

affluence of incohol, esp. under the . . . The influence of alcohol: jocularly intentional spoonerism: Australian since late 1950's. (B.P.) But Australia owes it to 'the legion of North Country comedians who have used the phrase in their "drunk" sketches for years': David Holloway in The Daily Telegraph on Feb. 23, 1967.

affluent society, the. In 1958 Professor J. K. Galbraith published his book so titled and almost immediately the phrase became a c.p., both in Britain and in the U.S.A. By some people, the un-thinkers, it has been held to synonymize 'the welfare state'; by many, to be basically optimistic, whereas, in the fact, the book is only mildly so. (William Safire, The New Language of Politics, New York, 1968.)

affygraphy, to an (p. 5). The phrase in an affygraphy, as Dr Leechman has pointed out, may have been influenced by (in) half a jiffy. It occurs much earlier in The Night Watch (II, 85), 1828. (Moe.)

Africa speaks. Strong liquor from South Africa: Australian and New Zealand: C. 20. B., 1941 and 1942. In The Drum, 1959, B. defines it as 'cheap fortified wine'.

African. 'A tailor-made cigarette' (Baker, The Drum, 1959): Aus.: since late 1940.

African harp. See fish-horn.

aft. Afternoon as in 'this aft'. Mostly lower-middle class: C. 20. Also Canadian: since ca. 1910. (Brian Moore, The Luck of Ginger Coffey, 1960.)

aft, carry both sheets. To walk around with both hands in trouser pockets: Navy: C. 20. Granville. By a technical pun.

aft, get. To be promoted from the lower-deck to the rank of officer: Naval coll.: C. 19–20. Granville, 'The officers' quarters are in the after-part of the ship'.

aft through the hawse-hole. (Of an officer) that has gained his commission by promotion from the lower-deck: Navy: mid-C. 19–20. Granville. See hawse-holes . . ., p. 381.

aft, to be taken. To go, as a defaulter, before the Commander: Naval coll.: C. 20. Granville.

after. Afternoon: Aus.: C. 20. (Cf. afio) H. Drake Brockman, The Fatal Days, 1947, 'Did you see Mr Scrown this after, Les?'. A much earlier example occurs in Edward Dyson, *Fact'ry 'And*s, 1906. (With thanks to Mr R. W. Burchfield.)

after Davy. See Alfred Davy (Dict.).

after game, come the. To say, 'I told you so': Australian coll.: since ca. 1925. B., 1942.

after his end (or hole), he is or was, etc. A workmen's c.p., applied to a man 'chasing' a girl: C. 20.

after you, Claude—no, after you, Cecil! A c.p. since ca. 1940; by the end of 1946 slightly ob. Ex the B.B.C. programme 'Itma'. E.P. 'Those Radio Phrases' in the Radio Times, Dec. 6, 1946, an article reprinted in Words at War: Words at Peace, 1948.

after you, Claude. The Canadian version—by May 1959, slightly ob.—is after you, my dear Alphonse—no, after you, Gaston. (Leechman.)

after you with (the thing). A jocular rejoinder to fuck the . . .!: c.p.: C. 20.

after you with the trough! A c.p. addressed to someone who has belched and implying that he is a pig and has eaten too fast: North Country: since ca. 1930. (David Wharton.)

afterbirth. Rhubarb: Australian soldiers': 1939–45. B., 1943.

afto. Afternoon: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942.

Ag and Fish. See Min. of Ag. below.

-age. A beatnik suffix, as in dressage (clothes)—understandage (understanding)—workage (employment): since ca. 1959. (Anderson.)

agent. To act as literary agent for (an author or his work): authors' coll.: since ca. 1930. (E. C. R. Lorac, Death before Dinner, 1942.)

agents, have one's. To be well-informed: Army and Air Force: since ca. 1939. Rohan D. Rivett, Behind Bamboo, 1946; E. P., Forces' Slang (1939–45), 1948. With an allusion to secret agents.

Aggie. Sense 1 occurs earlier in 'Taffrail'.

aggie. A marble made of agate—or of something that, in appearance, resembles agate: children's: since ca. 1880. The Manchester Evening News, March 27, 1939.

Aggie-on-a-horse. H.M.S. Weston-super-Mare: Navy: C. 20. Granville. 'Weston' evokes the 'Aggie' implicit in:—

Aggie Weston's. The Agnes Weston Sailors' Home: nautical: late C. 19–20. Cf.:—

Aggie's. A Sailor's Rest House: Navy: C. 20. 'These Rest Houses were founded by the late Dame Agnes Weston—the "Mother of the Navy"—at Portsmouth and Devonport' (Granville). See Aggie (p. 6) and cf. entry preceding this one.

aggranoy or agronoy; aggrovoke or aggrovoke. To annoy; to irritate: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. The former, however, is also Cockney of ca. 1880+. Blend of aggravate, annoy and provoke.

aggy. 'A grouser': Naval: C. 20. Perhaps ex 'agony column'.

Agincourt. Achicourt, near Arras: 1914–18 military. Blaker.

agreement, three nines. See three nines agreement (Dict.).

agricultural one. See do a rural.

aid of P, what's this (occ. that) in. Esp. of something unexpected or surprising: what does this mean?—why?—a reference to what precisely?: c.p.: since ca. 1916. Originating, I believe, in those Flag Days which began during the war of 1914–18.

aidh. Butter: Shelta: C. 18–20. B. & L.

Ailsa (p. 6). More probably from Ailsa Craig, an island in the Firth of Forth.

ainoch. Thing: Shelta: C. 18–20. Ibid.

ain't ain't grammar. A c.p. used jocularly in correcting someone saying ain't: since ca. 1920.

ain't it a treat. A street: rhyming s.: from ca. 1870. Pugh (2): 'Bits of him all up an' down the ain't-it-a-treat as fur as the old "Glue Pot".'

air, in the. Without support: Army coll.: 1940+. (P-G-R.)

air, lay on. To obtain, to provide, air support: Army, mostly, but also R.A.F.: 1940–45. (P-G-R.)

air, on the. By radio or wireless: since ca. 1935: coll. >, ca. 1955, familiar S.E. 'I heard it on the air.'

air and exercise.—4. A short term in gaol: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Ex 2.

air commode. Air Commodore: R.A.F. s.: since ca. 1925. Jackson. By the 'Hobson-Jobson' process.

air disturber. A telegraphist rating: Navy: since ca. 1930. Granville.

Air House, the. The Air Ministry: R.A.F. officers': since ca. 1919. Jackson. On the analogy of the War House.

air pie and a walk round. A clerk's lunch: from ca. 1880.

Air Works, the. The Royal Air Force: R.A.F.: since ca. 1935. 'Not contemptuous' (Atkinson).

airing, take an. To go out as a highwayman: C. 18. Anon., A Congratulatory Epistle from a Reformed Rake upon Prostitutes, 1728.

airmaids. Crew of the Air/Sea Rescue boats. H. & P.

airmen of the shuffy. Airmen of the Watch (in the Watch Tower on the Station): R.A.F.: since ca. 1938. Jackson. See shuffy.

airs and graces.—2. Braces (for trousers): not very common rhyming s.: C. 20.

Airships, their. The Air Council: R.A.F.: 1947+. 'Peterborough' in The Daily Telegraph, Sept. 11, 1947. A skit on the Navy's their Lordships, the various 'Lords' at the Admiralty.

Airy-fairies. (Large) feet: Cockney: C. 20.

The Evening News, Nov. 20, 1937. Cf. airy-fairy in Dict.

airyard matey. A civilian mechanic in a Naval Air Station: Naval: 1940 +. (P-G-R.)

ajay. An amateur journalist: schools of authorship and journalism: since ca. 1920.

akka (p. 7). Indeed, since 1914-18 and perhaps since late C. 19. In the pl. akkas, it = money, 'cash'; in this sense it reached the regulars in the R.A.F. by 1925 at the latest (Jackson).—2. Hence, a Palestinian piastre: Services: since ca. 1920.

ala kefak, I'm. 'I'm easy' (see easy, adj., 2): Army, in Near and Middle East: since ca. 1940. Arabic.

alarm and despondency. War-time depression: 1940 +. Ex speech by Sir Winston Churchill, K.G. Esp (to) spread a. and d. In reference to early 1942: 'I was pressed to return urgently to the theatre of my operations and to prepare myself to spread "alarm and despondency" (an expression that was just then coming into fashion),' Vladimir Peniakoff, Private Army, 1950: Army, hence the Navy and the R.A.F., mostly among officers; since 1945, reminiscent and usually jocular. 'Popski' records (p. 128) that on May 18, 1942, 'a message came on the wireless for me. It said: "SPREAD ALARM AND DESPONDENCY".'

alarm bird. Kookaburra: Australian. C. 20.

albatross. A hole played in 3 under bogey: golfers', adopted in 1933 ex U.S. (cf. 'birdie', 1 below, and 'eagle', 2 below, bogey). The Evening News, Aug. 13, 1937.

Albert the Great. Albert Chevalier, the London music-halls' brightest male star of ca. 1891-1910: since ca. 1892. Prompted by Albert the Good, Queen Victoria's Consort.

alberts. 'Toe-rags as worn by dead-beats and tramps of low degree', B., 1942: Australian: C. 20. Worn instead of socks; with pun on albert (p. 7).

alc. Alcohol: from ca. 1930. (Not very gen.)

alderman.—6. A prominent belly: ca. 1890-1940. So many aldermen used to have one.

alderman's eyes. (House) flies: rhyming s.: since ca. 1890; by 1960, ob. (Franklyn 2nd.)

Aldershot ladies. A double four at darts: darts players': C. 20.—2. A forty-four (44: two 4's) at tombola—or house (housey-housey), a military version of lotto—or bingo, a social version of house: resp. C. 20; C. 20; since ca. 1950. A double 4, via the rhyming allusion two whores—Aldershot ladies (of easy virtue).

Alec.—2. Hence, a dupe, esp. a swindler's dupe: Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1942. Ironically derived from smart Alec.

alemnoch. Milk: Shelta: C. 18-20. B. & L.

alert! 'Officer or N.C.O. approaching' (H. & P.): Services: since ca. 1939. Ex the air-raid warning.

Alex.—2. Field Marshal Lord Alexander, C.B., D.S.O., M.C. (etc.): 1940 +. This very great general, far less famous than he deserves to be, always commanded the respect and affection of his men.—3. A fool, a dupe: Australian: since ca. 1930. (Margaret Trist, 1946.)

'alf a mo' (p. 8). Extant: cf. B., 1943.

Algy. Seaweed, sludge or refuse in Swan River, Perth: West Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. The pun is on algae.

Ali. Inevitable nickname of men surnamed Barber: C. 20. (L. J. Cunliffe, Having It Away, 1965.) Ex 'Ali Baba and the Forty Thieves'.

alibi.—2. Hence, merely an excuse: since ca. 1935. A slovenliness from the U.S.

Alice (p. 8) comes from 'Alice, where art thou?' because hard to find. (Alexander McQueen.)

Alice.—2. The Alice: Alice Springs: Australian coll.: late C. 19-20. Archer Russell, A Tramp Royal in Wild Australia, 1934.

Alice Springs, via. 'Where have you been all this time? Did you go via Alice Springs?' = by a devious route: Australian since ca. 1945. This town—Nevil Shute's A Town Like Alice, 1950—is, roughly, in the centre of Australia. (B.P.)

Alick. Variant (B., 1943) of Alec, 4.

alive and kicking; all-alive-o. Rather, since ca. 1840, the latter. Mayhew, I, 1851. The former goes back to early C. 19. It occurs in, e.g., W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints, 1829, at II, 22, 'And there she [a ship] is, all alive and kicking.' Moe.

alive or dead. Head: rhyming s.: ? late C. 19-20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

all about, adj. phrase in the predicate. Alert; very efficient: mostly Navy: C. 20. (John Irving, Royal Navalese, 1946.)

all ballsed-up. Bungled; confused; wrong: Australian: adopted, ca. 1944, ex U.S. servicemen. Cf. balls-up below.

all behind, like a fat woman, or like Barney's bull. See Barney's bull and fat woman. But also, in brief, all behind, applied esp. to fat-bottomed charwomen all behind with their work: C. 20.

all behind in Melbourne. 'Broad in the beam': West Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

all bum. A street c.p. applied, ca. 1860-1900, to a woman wearing a large bustle. B. & L.

all callao (or callo), on p. 8, comes perhaps ex alcohol.

all cando (p. 8). Perhaps from all white, rhyming s. for right; by pun on L. candidus, white.

all chiefs and no Indians; occ. elaborated to . . . like the University Regiment. All officers and no Other Ranks: Australian c.p.; the longer, mostly Sydneyites': since ca. 1940. (B.P.) all clear. A c.p. indicating that officers and N.C.O.s have gone: Services: since 1939. H. & P. Cf. alert.

all day, or yes, all day. A c.p. reply to a query about the date: C. 20. 'Is today the 10th?'—'(Yes,) all day'.

all dolled up like a barber's cat. Dressed resplendently: Canadian: C. 20. (Leechman.)

all done by—or with-mirrors, often preceded by it's. A c.p. uttered when something clever has been done: since ca. 1920. It presumably originated among stage magicians.

all dressed up and nowhere to go (p. 8). The American form would, of course, have been . . . no place . . .

all ends up. See ends up, all (Dict.).

all for it, be. To be entirely in favour of it; hence, over-keen. Naval coll.: C. 20; by 1925, at latest, general coll.

all g.y. All awry or askew: since ca. 1942.

all hot and bothered. Very agitated, excited, or nervous: coll.: from ca. 1920. The Times, Feb. 15, 1937, in leader on this dictionary. Ex the physical and emotional manifestations of haste.

all in a pucker. Agitated. See pucker (Dict.).

all jam and Jerusalem. A derogatory c.p., directed at Women's Institutes: since ca. 1925. Ex the combination of refreshments and piety.

'Perhaps not so much "piety", as the fact that Blake's "Jerusalem" is sung at every meeting—probably less from pious intentions than as a signature-tune. And not the refreshments, but the jam-making contests. This is from personal observation; my wife was a member, and I have addressed W.I. meetings a couple of times.' (Ramsey Spencer, March 1967.)

all jelly. See jelly.

all K.F.S. All correct and complete: R.N.A.S.: 1914–18. (S/Ldr. R. Raymond, letter of March 24, 1945.) I.e. knife, fork and spoon.

all kind. All kinds: sol.: C. 19–20. Walking in London, W.C.2, on April 7, 1937, I saw a horse-driven cart bearing the legend, All kind of old iron wanted.

all laired (or mocked) up. Flashily dressed: Australian: late C. 19–20. (Cf. lair and mockered.) Also . . . lared . . .

all languages. Bad language: coll.: ca. 1800–40. Sessions, Dec. 1809.

all manner. All kinds of things, 'things' usually being made specific to suit the context: lower classes' coll.: from ca. 1870. Nevinson, 1895, 'Through its bein' a boy, there didn't seem nothink necessary to call it. So we called it all manner, and out of all its names', etc.

all mouth. See all jaw (Dict.).

all my eye and Betty Martin (p. 9). In The Phoenician Origin of Britons, Scots, and Anglo-Saxons, 1914, Dr L. A. Waddell derives the phrase from o mihi, Brito Martis, 'Oh (bring help) to me, Brito Martis'. She was the tutelary goddess of Crete, and her cult was that of, or associated with, the sun-cult of the Phoenicians, who so early traded with the Britons for Cornish tin. (I owe the reference to Mr Albert B. Petch.)

All Nations. See Bell and Horns.

all-nighter. 'Prostitutes still classify their clients as "short-timers" and "all-nighters"' (John Gosling & Douglas Warner, The Shame of a City, 1960): late C. 19–20.

all of a hough (p. 9). Sense 2 occurs, as all of a hoo, in W. N. Glascock, The Naval Sketch-book, II, 1829, and as all ahoo in The Night Watch (II, 85), 1828. (Moe.)

all of a tiswas (or tizwas). Very much excited; utterly confused in mind; since early 1940's, esp. in R.A.F. Cf. tizzy, n., 2 (below).

All Old Crocks; or Angels of Christ. Army Ordnance Corps: military: 1914–18. An elaboration of the official abbreviation, A.O.C.

all on one's lonesome. See lonesome.

all on the go. Intensified on the go, q.v. in Dict. at go, on the.

all out, 1 (p. 9), goes back to C. 14. (O.E.D.)

all over, be. To be dead: lower-class coll.: 1898, Edwin Pugh, Tony Drum.

all over the auction. 'All over the place': Cockney and Australian: since ca. 1910. (K. S. Prichard, Haxby's Circus, 1930.)

all parts bearing an equal strain. A Naval c.p. = All's well; no complaints: since ca. 1930. Granville.—2. Lying down (comfortably): jocular: since ca. 1945. (Peter Sanders.)

all pills! See pills!, all.

all pissed-up and nothing to show. A working-class c.p. directed at one who has spent all his wages, or winnings, on drink: since ca. 1910.

all plopa. Quite right; correct: pidgin: mid-C. 19–20. B. & L.

all revved-up. See revved-up below.

all right. Virtuous: coll.: late C. 19–20. W. B. Maxwell, Hill Rise, 1908.

all right for you. Ironical to those worse off than oneself: Services: since 1940. H. & P.

all rounder, 2 (p. 9). Also in J. B., Scenes from the Lives of Robson and Redpath, 1857.

all same. All the same; like; equal: pidgin: mid-C. 19–20. B. & L.

all serene. Earlier in Sessions, April 8, 1952: policeman loq., 'He said, "It is all serene"—that means calm, square, beautiful'. 'In Spanish towns, a night-watchman was employed in each street to prevent thieving and to call the hours and the state of the weather, in that climate for much of the year "sereno"—from which familiar call he got his name. His modern counterpart has the house-door keys for his street, so that he can admit residents returning home after the concierge has gone to bed, and who call for his services by clapping their hands.... Could Gibraltar (captured by us in 1704, thanks to the foresight of S. Pepys) be the channel through which "all serene" reached Eng., especially as Eng. night-watchmen of the period were used to calling e.g. "One o' the clock, and all's well"? (Ramsey Spencer, March 1967.)

all(-)shapes. 'Lacking regularity of form. The lino-layer says the room is all-shapes, hence he must cut a lot to waste; the electrician fitting numerous short lengths of conduit at odd angles says the wall is all-shapes' (Julian Franklyn): coll.: late C. 19–20.

all smart. Everything's all right: Army: C. 20; ob. by 1940, virtually † by 1945.

All Souls' Parish Magazine. The Times: University of Oxford: ca. 1920–40. Christopher Hobhouse, Oxford, 1939, says that the Editor and his associates, who were Fellows of the College, often met there in order to discuss policy.

all standing, brought up. Unable to deal with a situation: Naval coll.: C. 19–20. Granville.

all-standing, sleep (or turn-in), is recorded as early as 1818 (sleep) and 1806 (turn in): resp. Alfred Burton and John Davis. (Moe.) The origin is explained in this quotation from Frederick Chamier, The Life of a Sailor, 1832, at II, 296: 'This awoke me . . . As I had my clothes on, having turned in "all standing", like a trooper's horse, I was on deck on a second': a horse can sleep standing up.

all taut. Prepared for anything: Naval: C. 20. Granville. Ex.—2. Everything ready: Naval coll.: late C. 19–20.

all that, not. Mostly with 'bad' or 'good', as in 'Seen a lot of people lately, and my memory isn't all that' (good), E. C. R. Lorac, Death Came Softly, 1943: working-class, esp. Cockney, coll.: since ca. 1910.

all that jazz. All that sort of thing: c.p.: since ca. 1958. Orig., among jazz-lovers.

all the . . . In the game of House, 'double numbers such as "fifty-five", are called thus: "all the fives"', Michael Harrison, Reported Safe Arrival, 1943: late C. 19–20: coll., almost j.

all the better for seeing you! A c.p. reply to 'How are you?': late C. 19–20.

all the go (p. 10) goes back to ca. 1780. Charles Dibdin in The Britannic Magazine (I, No. 3, p. 34), 1793, 'Thus be we sailors all the go'. (Moe.)

all the shoot is an occ. variant of the whole shoot, q.v. at shoot, the whole in Dict.

all the traffic will bear, often preceded by that's, a c.p., relating to fares: Canadian: adopted, ca. 1948, ex U.S.; by 1955, also English. Said to derive from a U.S. magnate's cynicism. (Leechman.)

all the year round. A twelve-months' prison sentence: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)

all there. Also applied to 'one with his whole thought directed to the occasion, totus in illis, as Horace says, and so at his best' (Notes and Queries, April 24, 1937): coll.: from ca. 1885.

all things (or everything) to all men and nothing (or not anything) to one man. A c.p. aimed at prostitutes or at promiscuous women: since ca. 1940.

all tickettyboo. See tickettyboo.

all tits and teeth. (Of a woman) having protrusive breasts and large teeth: a low c.p.: C. 20.—2. (Of a woman) having an artificial smile and considerable skill in mammary display: a low, mostly Cockney, c.p.: since ca. 1910. 'I have sometimes heard this amplified: "... like a third-row chorus girl", i.e. one who can neither sing nor dance, and who depends upon the display of her exceptional physique to keep her on the stage' (Ramsey Spencer, March 1967).

all to cock. Utterly confused, all mixed up. Services': since ca. 1925. (P-G-R.)

all U.P. See U.P. in Dict.

all-upper. 'A punter who bets "all-up" on a number of races': Australian: since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.)

all up with. The nuance 'utterly exhausted, virtually defeated'—e.g. in boxing—occurs in Boxiana, I, 1818. It's all up occurs in vol. III, 1821. The sense 'doomed to die' appears in Sessions, July 3, 1843. The former nuance occurs in, e.g., W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints, 1829, at I, 186, 'Well, you know, 'twas bad enough afore—But 'twas not all up with us.' (Moe.)

all wet. 'Silly, foolish' (S. J. Baker, The Drum, 1959): mostly Aus.: since ca. 1920.

all wind and piss. A contemptuous c.p.: (probably) C. 19–20. Ex the semi-proverbial C. 18–20 like the barber's cat, all . . .

all wool and a yard wide. Utterly good and honest (person): late C. 19–20. Ex drapery.

all ye in: 'Schoolboys' call when school is going in from play or when players in game must gather' (Atkinson): C. 20.

allacompain. Variant of alacompain (p. 7).

allee samee (p. 10). More accurately: 'identical with' or 'similar to' or 'like'. It originated on the China coast.

alleluia. See hallelujah.

alleluia! 'A call to shut the tap when boiler washing' (Railway, 2nd): railwaymen's: since ca. 1920.

alleviator (p. 10) was still extant in Australia during the 1940's. (B., 1943.)

alley.—3. A two-up school: Australian: C. 20. (B., 1943.)

alley, (right) up one's. One's concern, applied to what one knows or can do very well: coll.: since ca. 1905. Deliberate variation of . . . street.—2. Hence, since ca. 1910, applied to something delightful.

alley up. To pay one's share: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Ex the game of marbles.

allez oop! Up with you: C. 20. (Pamela Branch, The Wooden Overcoat, 1951.) 'Also used by acrobats when one of them has to be thrown high. First heard in childhood, ca. 1895' (Leechman).

alligator. See 'Canadian'. 3. Later: rhyming s.: C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming).—4. A horse: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)

alligator bull. 'Nonsense, senseless chatter' (B., 1942): Australian: since ca. 1920. There are no alligators in N. Australia: cf. bull, n., 12 (Dict.).

allo. All; every: pidgin Eng.: mid-C. 19–20. 'O is added to many words in pidgin in an arbitrary manner,' B. & L.

allow me! Allow me to congratulate you: Rugby Schoolboys': from ca. 1880.

all's quiet in the Shipka Pass or on the Western Front. See Western Front.

ally-beg. Comfort of a bed; a comfortable bed: c.: C. 18–20; ob. B. & L. Prob. = 'pleasant little bed'.

Ally Pally. Alexandra Palace, London (was H.Q. of television): 1937+. Earlier is the sense 'Alexandra Park race-course'.

ally slope, do an. To make off: C. 20. Eustace Jarvis, Twenty-Five Years in Six Prisons, 1925. A fusion of ally and Ally Sloper's Cavalry (see p. 10).

Ally Sloper's Cavalry (p. 10). The name Ally Sloper probably contains a pun on Fr. allez!, go, and E. slope, to make off, to go away.

Alma Gray. A threepenny piece: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Rhyming on tray, 2 (p. 908).

almighty. Grand; impressive: proletarian coll. verging on sol.: mid-C. 19–20. Nevins, 1895, makes a Shadwellite describe a picture having 'somethink almighty about it'.

almighty dollar, the (p. 10) occurs earlier in Alfred R. Smith, To China and Back, 1859 (p. 44). (Moe.)

almond. Penis: mostly Cockneys': from ca. 1890. An abbr. of almond rock, rhyming s. for the same since ca. 1880: on cock.

alone on a raft is one poached egg on toast, Adam and Eve on a raft (p. 4) is two: C. 20.

Alphabetical. Nickname for anyone with more than two initials to his surname: Services': since ca. 1930. (P-G-R.)

Alphonse. A 'ponce': rhyming s.: C. 20. Jim Phelan, Letters from the Big House, 1943.

Alps, the. The 'Carlisle to Stranraer line' (Railway, 3rd): railwaymen's: since late 1940's. It has some steep gradients.

altitude, grabbing for.—2. Orig., however, striving for height: R.A.F.: since ca. 1925. In 1939–45 it was used with the connotation 'in order to gain an advantage in an aerial combat': Partridge, 1945.

Altmark, the. 'A ship or a Shore Establishment in which discipline is exceptionally severe': Naval: 1942+. Granville, 'From the German Prison Ship of that name'.

always in trouble like a Drury Lane whore. A late C. 19–20 c.p. 'stigmatising either self-pity or successive misfortunes to an individual' (Atkinson).

am and is used jocularly. 'There are some jocular and ungrammatical uses of these, as "There you is", "There you am" and "That am so"' (A. B. Petch, April 1966): since ca. 1930. Cf. used to was below.

amateur, or enthusiastic amateur. A girl that frequently, promiscuously copulates 'for love': coll.: since ca. 1916.

ambidextrous. Both hetero- and homosexual: since ca. 1935. Cf. AC-DC above.

ambulance chasers. A disreputable firm of solicitors specialising in accident claims: adopted ca. 1940 from U.S.A.

ameche. See 'Canadian'. Adopted from U.S. where current since early 1945. Ex a film in which that actor (pron. am-ee-chee) appeared in 1944-45. The film portrayed the life of Alexander Graham Bell, inventor of the telephone.

ameri-can. An American petrol can: Army: 1942-45. Punning American and formed after jerri-can. (P-G-R.)

American Workhouse, the. The Park Lane Hotel, London: taxi-drivers': since 1917. Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939. Ironical: palatial, it caravanserai's many rich Americans.

ammiral. See admiral (Dict.).

ammunition.—2. A sanitary pad or towel; such pads or towels collectively: feminine: since ca. 1940. Cf. the 1939-45 c.p., adopted from the song, 'Praise the Lord and pass the ammunition'.

Amorous Military Gentlemen on Tour. The personnel of AMGOT: military and political: 1945-7.

amp.—2. An 'amputee': Canadian (medical and hospital): since ca. 1946.—3. An ampère: electricians' coll.: since ca. 1910.

'Ampsteads or 'Ampstids, i.e. Hampsteads. See Hampstead Heath (p. 370). 'Ampstids' is the 'deep Cockney' form. (Michael Harrison, letter of Jan. 4, 1947.)

ampster or amster or Amsterdam. A confidence trickster's confederate: Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1942. Short for some rhyming s. term? Perhaps, however, in ref. to Amsterdam as a market for stolen jewellery and for precious stones.—No! It rhymes on ram, 3, as Franklyn, Rhyming, has noted.

amput. See 'Prisoner-of-War slang', 12.

amscray. To depart, make off: Australian: adopted, ca. 1944, ex U.S. servicemen. (Ruth Park, A Power of Roses, 1953.) American centre s. on scram.

an cetera. Et cetera: sol.: late C. 19-20. Blaker. Cf. et cet, q.v.

analken. To wash: Shelta: C. 18-20. B. & L.

analt. To sweep (with broom): id.: id. Ibid.

anarchists. 'Matches, especially wax vestas' (B., 1942): Australian: C. 20. Apt to 'blow up'.

anarchists.—2. (As the anarchists.) Battalion or brigade or divisional bombers (mortar-throwers): Army: 1915-18. Ian Hay, Carrying On, 1917.

anarf = an'arf = a half, i.e. ten shillings, the half of £1: London's East End: since ca. 1945. Likewise, arfundred = £50. (Richard Herd in The Evening News, Nov. 12, 1957).—2. 'Also a half-penny. I was told of it in London while at home on leave in 1917. Somebody was told the bus fare was "one anarf"—that is, three ha'pence' (Leechman).

anca. A man; a husband or sweetheart: low: C. 19. Price Warung, Tales, 1897 (p. 58). Ex Greek anēr.

anchor. 'A parachutist who waits overlong before jumping' (Jackson): R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. As though he were anchor-prevented from sailing the empyrean.—2. Also old anchor. A pick: Navy: 1868, Tom Taylor, The Ticket of Leave Man. Ex shape.—3. See 'Hauliers' slang'. Has, since ca. 1950, been gen. s. in Australia—and always in plural. (B.P.) anchor, drop the. To apply the brakes: busmen's: from ca. 1930. The Regional wireless programme, Nov. 23, 1936. See also anchors in the Dict.

anchor one's stern. To sit down: Naval: C. 20. Granville. See stern, p. 828.

anchors!, soon commoner than the orig. whoa, anchors!, a request to the driver of a vehicle to stop; hence to a speaker to stop, so that a point may be dealt with: R.A.F.: since late 1940's.

ancient and modern. A hymn-book, as in 'Lend me your ancient and modern': coll.: C. 20. Ex Hymns, Ancient and Modern.

Ancient and Tattered Airmen. The Air Transport Auxiliary pilots' name for themselves: 1939+.

ancient mariners.—2. 'Seagulls, said to possess the souls of dead mariners' (P-G-R.): Naval: late C. 19-20.

Ancient Military Gentlemen on Tour. Variant of Amorous Military Gentlemen on Tour.

and omitted. A post-W.W.II colloquialism. Dr Douglas Leechman, in April 1967, comments thus: 'An Americanism that has spread deep into Canada. "Go feather your nest." "Come see Jimmy swim." "Go tell him hello." "Come have a drink."' and all that (p. 12) seems, ca. 1810-30 (if not for a much longer period), to have been coll., to judge by its use in Boziana, IV, 1824, at p. 74.

and like it! 'A naval expression anticipating a grouse and added to any instruction for an awkward and unwanted job,' H. & P.: since ca. 1930.

and no flies. And no doubt about it: low c.p. tag: ca. 1840-60. Mayhew, I, 1851.

and no messing about. A low intensive: since ca. 1930. 'You can lose half a stretch remission and no messing about' (Norman). Cf. and no error, q.v. at mistake, and no, on p. 524.

and no mogue (p. 13). Probably mogue represents the Fr. moquerie: cf. the synonymous Fr. moque (C. 15-16). More prob., as Mr H. R. Spencer of Camberley, Surrey, has proposed, ex the German underworld and Gypsies' mogeln (long o, which would phonetically explain the -ue) —coming into Eng. via Yiddish.

and one, or simply one, for the road. A C. 20 (orig. commercial travellers') c.p., applied to the last of several drinks i.e. to keep one warm on the journey.

and then some. See some, and then in the Dict.

and you too! A C. 20 c.p. addressed to a person suspected of silent recrimination, insult unexpressed. In the Forces it has, since ca. 1915, presupposed an unvoiced fuck you! Sometimes shortened to and you!

Andrew. Sense 4. not always the Andrew: 'Taffrail' has 'Terms . . . heard every day in "Andrew", as the bluejacket calls the Navy.'—1. (p. 13). In the original Greek, it signifies 'man'.

Andrew, the. The Royal Navy: Naval: since ca. 1860. (P-G-R.) Cf. Andrew, 2, on p. 13.

Andrew Mack. The frigate Andromache: Naval, 1834, W. N. Glascock, Sketch-Book, 2nd Series, II, 62. (Moe.) A good example of 'Hobson-Jobson'.

Andrew Millar (or -er), 2 (p. 13). 'A notorious Press-gang "tough" who shanghaied so many victims into the Navy that the sailors of the period thought it belonged to him' (Granville).

Andy McNish. Fish: C. 20. Franklyn, Rhyming, 'Either raw or fried'.

angel. Sense 3 is earlier than I had supposed: it occurs in 'Taffrail' (Feb. 1916).—5. (Also angie.)

Cocaine: Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1942.

angel suit. A variant of angel's suit (Dict.).

Angelica (p. 13). Slightly earlier in Sinks, 1848.

angels as used by the R.A.F., in ref. to height, is j., not unconventional: and angel upward, 'to gain height' (The Reader's Digest, Feb. 1941), if ever (1940-1) current, soon gave way to S.E. climb and s. to go (or come) upstairs.

Angels of Christ. See All Old Crocks.

angle. Cocaine: Australian c.: from ca. 1925. Why?—2. See angel, 5.

angler.—3. See lens louse.

Anglo-Indian back, have an. (Of a girl) to have dead leaves adhering to the back of her dress as she returns from a stroll: Canadian: since ca. 1908.

angora. See act the angora.

angry man; up with the angry men or where the angry men are; see an angry bullet. A serviceman, esp. a soldier, in a battle area; in the battle area; to do service in one: among Australian servicemen in New Guinea: 1942-5. (B., 1953.) This could form the source of the angry young men of whom, since ca. 1957, one has heard far too much.

anguish, be. To be objectionable or deplorable or extremely boring: smart set and B.B.C. 'types': ca. 1946-57. Prompted by 'a pain in the neck'?

animal. A policeman: low: from ca. 1919.

[Animals. In early C. 18 s. and coll., the following terms occur in Ned Ward and are duly listed in Dr W. Matthews's valuable article: Horses were hobbies (1709), scrubs (1709) and tits (1703), all these perhaps always S.E.; a dog was nicknamed Towzer (1703), a rabbit Puss (1722). A flea, we may note, was called a gentleman's companion (1709).]

Annie.—2. An Anson aircraft, 'now used as a Trainer' (H. & P., 1943). Sgt-Pilot Rhodes, letter of Sept. 1942, 'The Anson is "limping Annie" from the uneven engine note, or just "Annie" for short.' Jackson, 1943, 'Annie, Old Annie, the A. V. Roe "Anson" Bomber and Trainer, now obsolescent. Sometimes called "Old Faithful".' (The name Anson constitutes a pun on the latter part of 'A. V. Roe and Son'.)—3. H.M.S. Anson: Naval: since ca. 1940. Granville.

Annie Laurie. See whistler, 8-2.

Annie Laurie. A three-ton lorry: ca. 1914-20. Franklyn, Rhyming.—2. See whistles, 8.

annual.—2. A bath (the immersion): Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Ironie.

anonski; esp. in 'I'll see you anonski': Australian c.p. of ca. 1930-60. After cheerioski above. (B.P.)

another clean shirt oughta (or ought to) see ya (or you) out. You look as if you might die at any time: New Zealand c.p.: since ca. 1930. Gordon Slatter, A Gun in My Hand, 1959.

another county heard from! 'A c.p. used when one of a company breaks wind or interjects something': Canadian: since ca. 1930. 'Ex the receiving of election results from various counties' (Leechman).

another fellow's. A c.p. applied to anything new, not by the possessor but by some wag: ca. 1880-1910. B. & L.

another good man gone! A c.p. referring to a male engaged to be married: late C. 19-20.

another little drink won't do us any harm. Since ca. 1920, a c.p. Ex a popular song.

another one for the van! Someone else has gone mad: Cockney c.p.: since ca. 1920. The van being the ambulance.

another pair of sleeves, that's. That's another matter: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)

another push and you'd have been a Chink (or Nigger). A c.p. used by workmen in a slanging match or by youths bullying boys in a factory: C. 20. Imputing a colour-no-objection promiscuity in the addressee's mother.

answer is a lemon, the. It prob. had its origin in an improper story.

answer the bugle. To fall in with the defaulters: Naval coll.: late C. 19-20. (John Irving, Royal Navalese, 1946.)

answer to a maiden's prayer. An eligible young bachelor: jocular coll.: C. 20.

Anthony Eden. A black felt hat in the upper Civil Service style: coll.: since ca. 1936. Of the kind favoured by the Rt Hon. Anthony Eden.

anti-wank, adj. Anti-tank: Army rhyming s.: 1940-5. (P-G-R.)

antipodes. Backside: since ca. 1840; but ob. by 1920, very rare by 1960. (Francis Francis, Newton Dogvane, 1859.)

ants in one's (male or female) pants, have. To be excited, restless: an Americanism adopted in England in 1938, but not gen. until 1942.

anxious (or inquirers) meeting. A meeting, after a revivalist address, of those who are anxious for salvation. Such a person occupies the 'anxious seat'. Ca. 1880-1910. Of U.S. origin. B. & L.

any.—2. Not any, nothing; none: Naval: C. 20. Ex the abbreviation N.E., not eligible for pay. (Communicated by Captain R. J. B. Kenderdine, R.N.)

any amount. Much; a large amount: coll.: C. 20. 'Have you any sugar?' 'Any amount.'

any God's quantity. Many; very many; coll.: late C. 19-20. 'Any God's quantity of cocked hats and boleros and trunkhose': James Joyce, Ulysses, 1922.

any more for any more? Anyone want more food?: Services', esp. Army, c.p. (indeed, a consecrated and deeply revered phrase): late C. 19-20. (P-G-R.)

any more for the Skylark? A jocular c.p.: C. 20. Ex the invitation of pleasure-boat owners at the seaside.

any plum? See plum pied.

any Wee Georgie? Any good?: Australian rhyming s.: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. On 'Wee Georgie Wood', the popular comedian.

anything, like (p. 15). Esp., vigorously. The phrase like anything has prob. existed since mid-C. 18: it occurs in, e.g. Sessions, July 1766 (trial of Joseph Turner).

anything on two legs, he'll fuck or shag. An admiring tribute to a reputedly spectacular potency: mostly a Services' c.p.: late C. 19-20.

Anzac picket, be on (the). To be 'dodging the column' at the Anzac Hostel, El Kantara, Egypt. Australian soldiers': 1940-2. B., 1942.

Anzac tile. An Army biscuit: military: 1915-18.—2. Hence, any very hard biscuit: since 1919; by 1967, ob. (TV Times, May 27, 1967.) Cf. Anzac wafer on p. 15.

Anzac wafer (p. 15). Also Australian soldiers'. B., 1942.

ape.—2. £50; also £500: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Suggested by monkey, 2 (Dict.).

'apenny dip. A ship: rhyming s.: since ca. 1860. 'Obsolescent, but heard occasionally in Dockland' (Franklyn, 2nd).

(Aphæresis; Aphesis. The former is the suppression or removal of a letter or a syllable from the beginning of a word; the latter, 'the gradual and unintentional loss of a short unaccented vowel at the beginning of a word' (O.E.D.), being therefore a special class of word within the class determined by aphæresis. The process is common in all unconventional speech, as, indeed, it is also in dial. E.g. 'lo! for hullo!, 'less for unless, 'cept for except: frequently it results, almost imperceptibly, from hurried or slovenly speech. Occ. the process is carried still further, as in the 'Loo for Woolloomooloo, but, in such instances, it cannot be described as either unintentional or imperceptible. Aphæresis is opp. to abridgement, in which the first syllable (as in et cet for et cetera) or the first two syllables (as, esp., in rhyming s.) are retained. Both aphæresis and abbr. may usefully be contrasted with blends or portmanteau words, with 'telescopes' (reductions from single words), and with anagrammatic words.)

app. Apparatus: chemists' (not druggists') and chemical students': from ca. 1860.

apple, adj. used predicatively. Agreeable, pleasant; eminently suitable; 'all right': Australian: since early 1950's. Noted by Nino Culotta in Aussie English, 1965. Short for, and derived from, English rhyming s. apples and rice, nice—esp., very nice.

apple and pip. To urinate: late C. 19–20. Rhyming on sip, back-s. for piss. (Franklyn, 2nd.)

apple daddy. 'Merchant Navy s. for dried apple rings soaked and cooked in a pastry case, and issued as a pudding on Tuesdays and Thursdays to the apprentices, bosun, etc. Considered a great delicacy, they were liable to be stolen from the galley by ordinary seamen, if they were left unattended while soaking': nautical: C. 20. (Ramsey Spencer.)

apple fritter. A bitter (ale): rhyming s.: late C. 19–20.

apple pie. Sky: since ca. 1940; rare since 1946. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

apple-pips. Lips: rhyming s., mostly theatrical: C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

apple-polishing. Toadying: Canadian: C. 20. Before giving the apple to teacher, a pupil—sometimes ostentatiously—polishes it.

apple-sauce. Impudence: mostly lower middle class: late C. 19–20. An elaboration of sauce, n., 1 (Dict.).

apples, 2 (p. 15), doesn't predominate over the full term; yet fairly common. (Witness Lester.)

apples a pound pears. A c.p., derisive of barrow boys, who often use strange cries, thought by some customers to be misleading: since ca. 1930.

apples and rice. 'Oh ve-ry nice, oh ve-ry apples and rice,' Michael Harrison, Reported Safe Arrival, 1943: rhyming s.: late C. 19–20.

apples swim (pp. 15–16). Not unsolved: see how we apples swim! on p. 411. The phrase has been known in Germany since C. 16, both in the Latin Nos poma natamus and in the German Da schwimmen wir Apfel, sagte der Rossapfel und schwamm mit den echten, Look at us apples swimming, said the ball of horse-dung, swimming with the genuine apples. (Communicated by Dr K. Spalding, M.A., Ph.D.)

application. A name: Anglo-Irish sol.: from ca. 1870. B. & L. appointment. In boxing: see keep one's appointment.

'Appy Day. A pessimistic and inveterate 'grouser': Naval: C. 20. Granville. Ironic. See happy (p. 374).

apricock (-) water. Apricock, i.e. apricot, ale: 1728, Anon., The Quaker's Opera.

April fools. Tools: rhyming s.: late C. 19–20.—2. Stools: mostly public-house rhyming s.: since ca. 1910.—3. (Football) pools: rhyming s.: since ca. 1930. (All: Franklyn, Rhyming.)

April Showers. Flowers: rhyming 2.: C. 20. (Franklyn, ibid.)

apron. The tarmac surround of a hangar: R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. Jackson.—2. 'The neck fold of a merino ram' (B., The Drum, 1959): Aus. sheepfarmers': C. 20.

aqua fluminis filtrata (lit., 'filtered river-water'): an Australian pharmaceutical chemists' variant of aqua pompaginis (p. 16). B.P.

Aqui, the. The Aquitania: seamen's coll.: 1914–50, then reminiscent.

ar (or aar) is a Cockney form of the ou (ow) sound: C. 19–20. E.g. Sarf, South.

Arba Rifles, the. 'A force of Pioneers, pressed into service as front-line troops, at the time of the German break-through near Kasserine (in Tunisia)': Army in North Africa: W.W.II. Ex the Souk el Arba. (P-G-R.)

arch is a variant of ark (boat).—2. archbishop: clerical: late C. 19–20.—3. As for 2, always the A. Headmaster: Tonbridge School: late C. 19–20.

Arch Tiffy, the. The Warrant Engineer: Naval: since ca. 1920. Granville. See tiffy, 1 (Dict.).

archbeak or archbeako. Headmaster: some English preparatory schools: C. 20. See, e.g., the novels of Anthony Buckeridge.

Archbishop Laud, often shortened to Archbishop. Fraud: rhyming: since ca. 1945—by 1965, also low s. Robin Cook, The Crust on Its Uppers, 1962.

Archbishop of Cant, the. Any Anglican archbishop: not necessarily Canterbury: since the late 1930's.

Archie.—2. A young station hand, learning his job: Australian rural: C. 20. B., 1942. Cf. the Archibald entries in the Dict.—3. Field Marshal Earl (Archibald) Wavell, strategist, statesman and writer: Army: 1940 +.

are there any more at home like you? A c.p., addressed to a pretty girl: since ca. 1910. Ex a musical comedy: the song is 'Tell me, pretty maiden, are there . . . ?'—from Floradora, 1900.

are there no doors in your house? A c.p. to one who fails to close the door: C. 20.

are you happy in your work? Ironic c.p. to someone engaged in a dangerous, difficult or dirty job: Services, esp. R.A.F.: since ca. 1940. H. & P.

are you keeping it for the worms? A c.p. addressed to a female rejecting sexual advances: Canadian: since ca. 1945. Here, 'it's the hymen.

are you kidding? Are you joking?—or derisively and ironically exclamatory; Surely you're not serious?: c.p.: since ca. 1945. Suggested by the American c.p., no kidding? Probably the origin of you must be joking, I find it difficult to believe you: since ca. 1960.

arena rat. A 'fan' or an habitué or an idler hanging about ice-hockey arenas: Canadian sporting circles': since 1957. (Leechman.)

arf-a-mo. A cigarette: 1914-15, esp. in the Army.

arfundred. See anarf.

argufy. Earlier: 1726, trial of Hester Jennings in Select Trials, from 1724 to 1732, pub. in 1735. In Hodgson's National Songster, 1832, is an old song entitled 'What Argufies Pride and Ambition?'

Ari. Short for Aristotle (Dict.), which, by the way, occurs in The (Sydney) Bulletin, Aug. 7, 1897.

Aris. A curtailed form of Aristotle (p. 17), a bottle: C. 20. (Lester.)

arisings. Left-overs (as of food): Naval: C. 20. 'Bartimeus.' Ex official arisings, residues proving proper use of expendable stores.

arith. Arithmetic: schoolboys': mid-C. 19-20.

Arithmetician. See 'Tavern terms', § 3, d.

arm, having a good. See having a good arm.

arm, on the. See not off below.

arm, under the, 2 (p. 17). By 1940, low s. (Norman.) Implication: it stinks.

Armies. 'Name given generically to Armament ratings': Naval: since ca. 1920. Granville.

Armstick or Armitist, the. A sol., mostly Cockney, for the Armistice (Nov. 11, 1918): late 1918 +.

army!, thank God we have an. See thank God . . .

Army, the. The Salvation Army: coll.: C. 20.

Army and Navy. Gravy: rhyming s.: C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

Army Form blank. Toilet paper: Army officers': 1939-45. (P-G-R.)

Army left (or right)! Drill-instructors' c.p. to one who took the wrong turning: Army: since ca. 1925. (P-G-R.)

Army Tank, usually in pl. An American serviceman: Australian prisoners-of-war in the Far East: 1942-5. (The (Sydney) Sun, Sept. 22, 1945; B., 1953.) Rhyming on Yank.

aromatic bomb. Atomic bomb: Army officers': late 1945-6, then decidedly ob. The People, Sept. 2, 1945. By a pun.

aroo! Good-bye!; so long: Australian: late C. 19-20. B., 1942. Ex au revoir.

*arp. See zol.

arrever is a low Cockney pronunciation of however. Clarence Rook, The Hooligan Nights, 1899.

arrival. 'The safe landing of an aircraft,' H. & P., 1943; more accurately, 'a poor landing, likely to have been troublesome. Thus "Bill's made an arrival",' Jackson, rather later in the same year.

arrow, in good. In good form: dart-players' s. verging on coll.: from ca. 1880. Peter Chamberlain. Punning dart.

'Arry. The familiar form of Aristotle (p. 17): C. 20 (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

'Arry's gators. Thank you: Australian: since ca. 1943. A 'Hobson-Jobson' of Japanese arrigato. (Edwin Morrisby, Aug. 30, 1958.)

arse, n.—2. Impudence: Aus.: since ca. 1940. Nino Culotta, Cop This Lot, 1960, 'He laughs and says . . . a man would need plenty of arse to pinch another man's book.' I think so too.

arse, v.—3. 'One of the blokes said, "Arse her"—a lorry—"up here". I backed her up against one of the Railway arches' (John Gosling, The Ghost Squad, 1959): low: C. 20.

arse!, my; my foot! Expressions of marked incredulity; intense negatives: low: since ca. 1880, ca. 1860, resp. "'More like ten past (eight o'clock)." "Ten past, my arse",' Ernest Raymond, A Song of the Tide, 1940. Cf. like fuck!, s.v. fuck.

arse, pain in the. See you give me . . .

arse about face, often preceded by it's or you've got it. Back to front; all wrong: low coll.: late C. 19-20.

arse a-peak or arse about face. Topsy-turvy: resp. Army and Navy: C. 20.

arse bandit. Synonym of arse king: low: C. 20.

arse brigand. Another synonym of arse king: low: C. 20.

arse-crawl. V.i., to toady: low coll.: late C. 19-20. Gerald Kersh, The Nine Lives of Bill Nelson, 1942. Cf. arse crawl (p. 18).

arse-end Charlie 'is the man who weaves backwards and forwards above and behind the Squadron to protect them from attack from the rear,' Richard Hillary, The Last Enemy, 1942: R.A.F.: 1939 +. Synonymous with tail-end Charlie, 2.

arse for dust, unable to see (someone's). A low c.p., applied to a swift departure: late C. 19-20.

arse from a hole in the ground, (he) doesn't know his. He's extremely ignorant: Canadian: C. 20. Cf. arse from . . . (p. 18).

arse-hole. Anus: a coll. vulgarity: C. 19 (? 18)-20.

arse-hole, v. To dismiss from a job; to discard (someone) as too old: low Australian: since ca. 1920. 'When yuh get a bit old and yuh can't keep up . . . , they'll arseole yuh' (Dick).

arse-hole, I (or he, etc.) don't (or doesn't) give an or a cat's. A Naval c.p. assertion, either of bravado or of imperturbability: C. 20.

arse-hole bandit. A variant of arse bandit: low: C. 20.

arse-hole crawler; often simply crawler. A sycophant: low: late C. 19-20.

arse-hole is bored or punched, he doesn't know if his. He's a complete fool: c.p.: since ca. 1910. Presumably it originated in the engineering workshops. The original form seems to have been (often, it still is) ' . . . bored, punched or counter-sunk'. Among Canadian Army officers, 1939-45, it ran: 'That guy don't know if his ass-hole was drilled, dug, seamed, bored or naturally evaginated.' Now usually . . . punched or bored.

arse-hole of the world. See you know . . . The Persian Gulf and Lower Iraq; hence, Baghdad is said to be up the . . .

arse-hole set fire! A c.p. exclamation: low: since ca. 1920.

Arse-hole Square. Boyish and youthful wit in parroted reply to 'Where?': mostly Cockneys': late C. 19-20.

arse-hole to breakfast time, from. All the way; all the time: low: late C. 19-20.

arse-holes has, since ca. 1940, been short for pissed as arse-holes, extremely drunk: low: late C. 19-20.

arse-holes to breakfast time. Upside down; utterly confused: most unsatisfactory: Cockney: late C. 19–20. Thus 'Them ahses built all . . .' or 'Take no notice of him—he's always . . .'

arse-holey. Obsequious: low: C. 20.

arse in a sling, get one's. See eye in a sling . . . below.

arse king. A notorious sodomite: low: since ca. 1910.

arse of the ship, the. The stern: Naval: mid-C. 19–20. Granville.

arse or one's elbow, not to know whether one's on one's. To be utterly incompetent or bewildered: coll.: C. 20.

arse over ballocks. A low Cockney synonym (C. 20) of arse over tip.

arse over kettle. A Canadian form (C. 20) of:—

arse over tip. Head over heels: C. 20. In military circles, often in the form A over T. (Correct, therefore, the supposition at end of arse over turkey in Dict.) arse over tit. The Australian form of the preceding: since ca. 1910. Cf. tit, 9, below, and:

arse over tits; arse over tock (or tuck). Variants of arse over tip: since ca. 1920, perhaps earlier.

arse party, the. Those who, in any ship, are known to be homosexuals: Naval: since ca. 1920.

arse-perisher. See bum-freezer, 2.

arse-polishing. An office job: R.A.F.: 1939 +. (P-G-R.)

arse up with care. Applied, as adj. or as adv., to a thorough mess, a real bungle, chaos: low: C. 20.

arse upwards (p. 18). Cockneys pronounce it arsuppards, whence the punning Mr R. Suppards, a very lucky fellow: C. 19–20 pronunciation; C. 20 pun.

arse-wiper. A workman that toadies to the boss; a servant to the mistress: low coll.: C. 20.

arse-wise, adj. or adv. Inept; preposterous: awry: low coll.: C. 20.

arsey. (Very) lucky: Australian, since ca. 1935 (B., 1953.) Ex tin-arsed, q.v. at tinny, adj., 2 (p. 888).

arso. Armament Supply Officer: Naval: 1939 +. (P-G-R.)

art of memory. See 'Tavern terms', § 3, d. artful fox (p. 18). Not a wooden case, but a theatrical box.

Arthur. Arsine gas. H. & P.—2. A simpleton, a dupe: mock-auction promoters': since ca. 1946. Perhaps ex Arthur regarded, by the ignorant, as a 'sissy' name.

artic (p. 18), for arctic, goes back to C. 14. Yet perhaps it isn't an error at all, but a true variant pronunciation, common in Old and Medieval French and even in Late and Medieval Latin.—2. See Queen Mary.

artichoke.—2. A dissolute, debauched old woman: Australian low: C. 20. B., 1942.

article, 2 (p. 18). Examples heard by me during the 1950's: nosey article, inquisitive; sloppy article; toffee-nosed article.—3. A woman exported to the Argentine to become a prostitute: white-slavers' c.: C. 20. A. Londres, The Road to Buenos Ayres, 1928.—4. A chamber-pot: domestic coll.: mid-C. 19–20. It probably arose, as a euphemism, from 'article of furniture'. Note the story of that bishop, who, to another, complained that his house contained forty bedrooms, to which his guest replied, 'Very awkward, for you have only Thirty-Nine Articles'.

artificial, n. Usually in pl., artificial manures: gardening coll.: C. 20.

artillery, one's. One's revolver: Army officers': 1939–45. Ex U.S.? (P-G-R.)

artist.—3. (Specialisation of sense 1.) A specialist, an expert: since ca. 1918.—4. 'One who indulges in excesses, e.g., "bilge a.", "booze a.", "bull a."' (B., 1942): esp. in Australia: since ca. 1920.

arty, n. Artillery: Australian soldiers': 1939 +. Lawson Glassop, We Were the Rats, 1944.

Arty Bishops, the. See Bishops, the.

arty roller. A collar: Australian rhyming s.: since ca. 1910. (Baker, The Australian Language, 1945.)

arvo. Afternoon: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Cf. afto. Notably in s'arvo, this afternoon: C. 20. (B., The Drum, 1959.)

Aryan; non-Aryan. Non-Jewish; Jewish: catachreses (of Hitlerite origin) dating, in England, from 1936. This is a particularly crass and barbarous misuse of a useful pair of complementaries.

as easy as shaking the drops off your John, often preceded by it's. It's dead easy: an essentially masculine c.p.: since ca. 1945. Not susceptible to the ludicrous ineptitude of ignorant girls saying 'It gets on my wick', occasionally affected by provocative girls pretending to be innocent.

as ever is (p. 18). Rather is it mid-C. 19–20. Edward Lear (d. 1888) once wrote, ca. 1873, 'I shall go either to Sardinia, or India, or Jumsibob-jigglequack this next winter as ever is.'

as-is. Feminine knickers: since ca. 1920; ob. Joan Lowell, Child of the Deep, 1929.

as large as life and twice as natural. A c.p.: C. 20. Ex waxworks?

as much use as my arse, often preceded by you're. A low abusive c.p.: late C. 19–20.

as muck. See muck, as.

as per use. See use, as per.

as rotten. (The score) as written: Australian musicians': C. 20. B., 1942.

as the actress said to the bishop or as the bishop said to the actress. A c.p. of innuendo, added to an entirely innocuous remark to render it scabrous, as in 'It's too stiff for me to manage it—as the actress said to the bishop': certainly in use in the R.A.F., ca. 1944–47, and probably of earlier date; by 1967, slightly ob., but likely to survive for some years. Whence:—

as the girl (or the soldier) said: especially, as the girl said to the sailor. An end-c.p., to soften a double (esp. if sexual) meaning: since ca. 1919. Cf. the C. 20 as the monkey said, ending a smoke-room story. Based upon a prototypical story about someone coming into money. See the preceding.

as what. See what, as.

ash beans and long oats. A thrashing: London streets': C. 19. Augustus Mayhew, Paved with Gold, 1857, 'Give him with all my might a good feed of "long oats" and "ash beans".'

Ash Wednesday. The day G.H.Q. Cairo was filled with burning documents on the approach of Rommel.

ashcan. That's no good, that shot: cinema: since ca. 1925. The Evening News, Nov. 7, 1939.

—2. Hence, wasted time: Services: since ca. 1939. H. & P.—3. A depth charge: orig. its container (ex its appearance): Naval: 1939+. Granville.
—4. See put a jelly on the ashcan.

ashcat; usually in pl. An engineer, mostly on destroyers: Naval: since ca. 1935. Less gen. than plumber.

Ashes, the. To Dict. entry add, from Mr Basil de Sélincourt's review of the first ed. of this work—in The Manchester Guardian, Feb. 19, 1937: 'I hoped to find that the victorious Australian team had burned their stumps after the last game of the rubber, and kept the proceeds in an urn in their committee-room.'

Ashmogger, the. The Ashmolean Museum: Oxford undergraduates' (—1920); little used after 1940. Marples, 2.

Ashtip, Mrs. See Greenfields.

ask. 'A jockey is said to "ask" . . . a horse when rousing him to greater exertion': turf: from ca. 1860. B. & L.

ask me (or my) behind is a mid-C. 19–20 variant of ask my (or me) arse, as on p. 19.

ask me foot (occasionally elbow)! An Anglo-Irish euphemism (C. 20) for ask me arse!

ask silly questions and you'll get silly answers; since ca. 1950, often simply ask silly questions; occ., ask a silly question and you'll get a silly answer (very rarely shortened). A c.p. form, current in late C. 19–20, of the old proverb, 'Ask no questions and you'll be told no lies'.

ask yourself! Be reasonable! Australian c.p.: since ca. 1925. B., 1942.

askew (p. 19). Perhaps rather from Old-Medieval–Early Modern Fr. escuelle, a cup.

asparagus bed. A kind of anti-tank obstacle; military: since ca. 1939. H. & P. aspect. Aspic: sol.: late C. 19–20. Pugh (2): 'Truffle in aspect'.

aspi or aspy. An aspidistra: non-aristocratic, non-cultured: C. 20. A modern wit has summarized his life of toil, ending in straitened circumstances, in the epigram: Per ardua ad aspidistra.

Aspro. A vocalising of S.P.R.O., Services Public Relations Officer: Army: 1941+. (P-G-R.)

aspro. A professional male homosexual: low: since ca. 1940. A correspondent suggests derivation from arse 'pro'.

ass, 3 (p. 19). Hence also Canadian.—4. Female pudend: low Canadian: late C. 19–20.

ass about. A post-1918 variant of arse about (p. 18). American influence.

Assistance, the. National Assistance: poorer classes' coll.: since ca. 1945.

astern of station. 'Behindhand with a programme or ignorant of the latest intelligence' (Granville): Naval coll.: since ca. 1920.

astronomer.—2. See 'Tavern terms', § 3, d.

astronomical. (Esp. in statistics and in sums of money) huge, immense: cultured coll.: since ca. 1938. In ref. to stellar distances and times, and owing much to the vogue of the popular works on astronomy by Eddington and Jeans.

asty! Go slowly! take your time! take it easily!: Army and R.A.F.: C. 20. Jackson. Ex Hindustani, the opposite of 'jildy' (see jildy, p. 439).

At. A member of the Ats or Auxiliary Territorial Service: orig. (1939) military. H. & P. Cf. Waff.

[at the Inn of the Morning Star. (Sleeping) in the open air: coll., rather literary, verging on S.E.: from ca. 1880; ob. Suggested by Fr. à la belle étoile.]

Ath, the. The Athenaeum Club: the world of learning, and that of clubs: C. 20.

atom-bombo. Cheap but very potent wine: Australian: since 1945. (B., 1953.) A pun on S.E. atom bomb and s. bombo, 2. atomaniac; usually atomaniacs. People that would like to use the atom bomb on those they dislike: 1945+.

atramentarius. See 'Stoneyhurst Slang'. Lit. the 'Latin' word = filler of ink-stands.

Ats, the. See At.

Atsie (or -sy). An affectionate variant of At: Army: 1939+. (P-G-R.)

Attaboy. An Air Transport Auxiliary 'plane or member: 1940+, Jackson. Suggested by the initials and punning attaboy (p. 20).

atterise or -ize. To staff with A.T.S. or a proportion of A.T.S.; 'to man static gun sites with mixed batteries', H. & P., 1943: military (orig. jocular). Cf. waafferise and:—

Attery. Living quarters occupied by Ats: since 1941. H. & P. See At.

Attorney General. See 'Tavern terms', § 4.

Augis. Incorrect for Augeas (of the Augean stable); e.g. in Carlyle, Latter-Day Pamphlets.

Auguste. A minor circus-clown, a 'feed' to the Joey or Chief Clown: circus: late C. 19–20. Prob. from one so named.

Auk, the. General Sir Claude Auchinleck, G.C.B., G.C.I.E., D.S.O.: Army: since ca. 1938.

aunt, the. The women's lavatory: upper-class feminine: since ca. 1920. Ex aunt, go to see one's (p. 20).

Aunt Fanny, (e.g. my or his). Indicates either disbelief or negation: since ca. 1930. Monica Dickens, Thursday Afternoons, 1945, 'She's got no more idea how to run this house than my Aunt Fanny.' A euphemistic elaboration of fanny, n., 9.

Aunt Fanny, (you're) like. A disparaging c.p., addressed to someone either clumsy or inexperienced with tools: workmen's: C. 20.

Aunt Maria.—2. A fire: rhyming s.: very late C. 19–20. Variant of Anna Maria (p. 14). Franklyn 2nd.

aunt Mary Ann. An occ. variation of san fairy ann (Dict.): military: ca. 1915–19.

Auntie or Aunty. The British Broadcasting Corporation: since ca. 1945; by 1965, slightly ob. Short for Auntie B.B.C. Ex its respectability.—2. A mature man kindly—but from suspect tendencies—disposed towards younger men and boys: since ca. 1950 (? much earlier). In e.g., Laurence Little, The Dear Boys, a novel, 1958.

Auntie!, don't be. Don't be silly: Aus.: since ca. 1920. Prompted by 'Don't be Uncle Willie!' (B., The Drum, 1959.) Cf. Uncle Willie, 1, in Dict.

Auntie (or auntie) Ella. An umbrella: rhyming s., 'used almost exclusively by women, at the suburban Cockney level' (Franklyn 2nd): since ca. 1946.

Auntie Flo. The Foreign Office: Civil Service, esp. the Diplomatic: C. 20. Shane Martin, Twelve Girls in the Garden, 1957.

Auntie (or auntie) Nellie. Belly: rhymings.: C. 20. Franklyn 2nd.

Aussie rules. Australian football: Australian coll.: late C. 19–20. B., 1942. Played under Australian rules.

Austin Seven. A 'Class B Midland freight locomotive' (Railway, 3rd): since ca. 1950 (?). Ex appearance.

Australian cigs. During the cigarette shortage of late 1939–45, cigarettes kept under the counter: ca. 1940–45, then historical. By a pun on down under.

Australian grip (p. 21) may, as B., 1953 (p. 250), suggests, be a ghost-word: he has seen no record, outside dictionaries, nor heard it used; come to that, neither have I.

Australian surfing slang and colloquialism. The terms cited in the Supplement come notably from four sources: J. R. Westerway ('The Surfies') in The (Sydney) Bulletin of March 30, 1963; a brief, unsigned article ('Language of Their Own') in the Sun-Herald of Sept. 22, 1963; Dick Dennison, 'The World of the Surfies'—a valuable article, with a glossary, containing, however, much that is sheer jargon (technicalities); and the comments, and several additions, made by Mr Barry Prentice, who sent me the articles.

As a sport, surf-board riding became extremely popular soon after World War II; it erupted as a passion, a rage, a cult, almost a way of life, among teenagers, in 1960–61. All its jargon and some of its slang have been imported from Hawaii.

Australorp. The Australian 'utility type of Black Orpington fowl' (B., The Drum, 1959): Aus. coll.: since ca. 1930. A blend of Australian Orpington.

autem, a church (p. 21). Perhaps essentially 'altar': cf. Old Fr.—MF.—modern Fr. autel: with -em substituted for -el. In c. of C. 16–18, -am and -em and -om and -um are common suffixes. (Developed from a suggestion made by Alexander McQueen.)

auto.—2. An automatic revolver: from ca. 1915. The Pawnshop Murder.

'ave a Jew boy's. Weight: jocular Cockney: from ca. 1910. Punning avoirduois and often directed at a fat man.

Ave Maria. A fire: rhyming s.: late C. 19–20. More usually Anna Maria.

aviate. To fly, esp. to fly showily, ostentatiously: R.A.F.: since 1938 or 1939 in the latter nuance, since ca. 1936 in the former; jocular and resp. mildly or intensely contemptuous. Jackson. Ex aviator.

[avile is Randle Holme's misprint (or error?) for a vile or a ville, q.v. at vile in Dict.] avit. See 'Prisoner-of-War Slang', 12.

aw for ar (or a with Continental value) is a mark of Cockney speech. E.g. pawst for past, pawse for pass, claws for class.

aw shucks! 'The conventional U.S. and American expression of yokel embarrassment. "Aw shucks! I couldn't say that to a lady!": since ca. 1910—and, as used by others than yokels, often jocular and always a c.p. (Leechman.)

away for slates or away like a mad dog. (Adj. and adv.) Departing hastily: Liverpool: C. 20.

away racing. Absent at a race-course: coll., in London's East End: since ca. 1945. (Richard Herd, Nov. 12, 1957.)

away with the mixer! Let's go ahead; now we're going ahead: c.p.: since ca. 1946. A concrete-mixer?

away the trip. Pregnant: Scottish working-classes': C. 20.

awful people, the; Mr Cochran's young ladies in blue. The police, as in 'Then the awful people arrived': cultured: since ca. 1945, by 1960, the latter slightly ob.

'Awkins (p. 21). Read: 'Sir Henry Hawkins'.

awkward as a Chow on a bike. 'Extremely awkward in behaviour. Chow denotes Chinaman' (B., The Drum, 1959): Aus.: since ca. 1925.

awri (pron. aw-ri). All right: sol.: C. 19–20.

axe my arse, you can. A verbal snook-cocking: low: mid C. 18–20; by 1967, slight ob.

axle-grease. Money: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)—2. Thick hair-oil; Brilliantine: mostly Australian schoolchildren's and teenagers': since late 1930. (B.P.)

'ay is for 'orses. A variant of hay is . . . below.

Ayrab, a genoowine Bedoowine. 'A Bedouin Arab. A jocular elaboration of the American pronunciation of Arab' (Peter Sanders, 'Beddo, Blue and Gaberdine Swine' in the coloured supplement of The Sunday Times, Sept. 10, 1967): British servicemen's, esp. soldiers', in North Africa, 1940–43.

B

b.—4. See bee—S. A euphemism for bastard, n. and adj., and also for bloody, adj.: Australian: since ca. 1920. 'You'd think the b. lion'd sleep sometimes': H. Drake Brockman, 'Life Saver' (1939) in Sydney of the Bush, 1948.

B.A. See sweet B.A.

b. and m. A mixture of brown ale and mild bitter: spivs': since late 1940's. (Picture Post, Jan. 2, 1954, article on young spivs.)

B.B.—3. A 'bum boy', q.v.: low: C. 20.—4. A bust bodice: feminine coll.: since ca. 1920.—5. A bitter and Burton: public houses': late C. 19–20. The Fortnightly Review, Aug. 1937.

B.B.C., talk. To talk politely, to speak in a clear, precise and cultured manner: coll.: since ca. 1930. Berkeley Gray, Mr Ball of Fire, 1946.

b.d.v. or B.D.V. A picked-up stump of a cigarette: tramps' c.: from ca. 1920. Lit., a bend-down Virginia; punning B.D.V., a brand of tobacco. Also called a stooper.

B-flat homey; B-flat polone (or poloney). A fat man, a fat woman, esp. in a side-show: partly parlay, wholly fair-ground: late C. 19–20. (Sydney Lester.)

B.H. 'Bung-hole', i.e. cheese: Army: since ca. 1918.

B.O.! Run away (and stop bothering me)! since ca. 1955. Abbreviation of bugger off.

B.O.L.T.O.P. Put at the end of a letter with 'kisses': coll.: C. 20. Better on lips than on paper. Cf. S.W.A.K.

B.Q. Before queues: since 1944. Fred Bason's Second Diary, 1952.

b.s. (p. 22) 'goes back at least to 1908 in British Columbia' (Leechman).

B.Y.T. 'Bright Young Things' or the younger set: ca. 1946–51.

baa-lamb.—3. a tram: C. 20. Rhyming.—4. A euphemism for bastard: since ca. 1918.

bab. See baba (Dict.).

babbling brook.—2. A criminal: Australian rhyming s. (on S.E. crook): C. 20.—3. As adj., unwell: Australian rhyming s. on synonymous Australian s. crook: since ca. 1920.

Babes, the. Charlton Athletic Association Football Club: sporting: from ca. 1925. It is the youngest London club.

baby, 2, was not unknown in English fast, sporting circles of ca. 1895–1910: witness Binstead's More Gals' Gossip, 1901.

baby, burying the. See burying the baby.

baby, hand over the. See hand over the baby.

baby, have a. To be much shocked or non-plussed or flabbergasted: middle-class: since ca. 1930. Cf. have kittens (see kittens, having).

baby, hold the. See holding the baby (Dict.).

baby bonus. A maternity allowance: Australian coll.: since ca. 1945. (B.P.) 'Common in Canada also; Family Allowance Act passed in 1944' (Leechman).

baby couldn't help it. Minced meat and brown sauce: Marlborough College: since ca. 1920.

baby-pulling. Obstetrics: medical students': since ca. 1880.

baby's bottom, like a. Smooth, esp. of face after shaving: coll.: C. 20.—2. Hence, expressionless; characterless: since ca. 1930. (Atkinson.)

baby's head (p. 23). Specifically a steak-and-kidney pudding—and not confined to sailors.

baby's leg. Meat roll; marmalade roll; roly-poly pudding: Regular Army: late C. 19–20. Michael Harrison, Reported Safe Arrival, 1943. Cf. baby's head (Dict.). Also at girls' schools: teste Berta Ruck, 1935.

baby's pap. A cap: rhyming s.: mid-C. 19–20; but rare since ca. 1920. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

bacca, bacco, backy (p. 23), should all be dated much earlier: bacco, for instance, is recorded in bacco-box as early as 1793 in 'The Token', a poem by Charles Dibdin, on p. 249 of The Britannic Magazine, I, No. 8. (Moe.) Bacca occurs in John Wight's Mornings at Bow Street, 1824, and the form back(e)y in Wight's More Mornings at Bow Street, 1827.

Both backy and backey occur in The Night Watch (II, 131 and 159) of 1828. (Moe.)

baccy (p. 23 at bacca) occurs in Fredk Marryat, The King's Own, 1830 (p. 135 of the 1896 edition). Moe.

bacca- or bacco-chew. A chewing tobacco: coll.: prob. late C. 18–20. Ex an unidentified British source, The Port Folio of Aug. 28, 1805, quotes an anonymous song, Dustman Bill, thus:

Cries he, 'My Wenches, ever dear, Whate'er be your opinions,
I love ye better both, d'ye hear,
Than bacco-chew or onions.'

(Moe.)

bach.—2. (Cf. sense 1: p. 23.) 'Camelford's residence was not in a boarding-house, but what is generally known in the Antipodes as a "bach" (or a "batch", if you prefer to maintain fiercely that the word is derived, not from the first syllable of the word "bachelor", but from the idea of a number of similar things being grouped together)'—Frank Arthur, The Suva Harbour Mystery, 1941: Australian, New Zealand, Fijian: C. 20.

bach, v. (p. 23). An early Australian example occurs in Edward Dyson, The Gold Stealers, 1901, 'Here he "batched", perfectly content with his lot.'

Bachelor: Bachelor of Law. See 'Tavern terms', § 3, b.

Bachelor Creek. See Dodd's Sound.

bacher. Variant of batcher below.

back, n. A water-closet: domestic: late C. 19–20. From the days of backyard privies.

back, get on (someone's). To bully; to urge on: Aus.: since ca. 1925. (B., The Drum, 1959.)

back!, that's what gets up my. That's what angers me: c.p.: since ca. 1930.

back about, be on (someone's). To reprimand concerning, speak sternly to about (something): Australian: since ca. 1910. "“You know bloody well you're supposed to re-stock as soon as you run low on anything,” said Billy. “The doc was on your back about this before”” (Jon Cleary, Back of Sunset, 1959).

back board. A distant signal: railwaymen's: C. 20. (Railway, 3rd, 1966.) Cf. back stick below.

back double. A back street: Cockney: late C. 19–20. Gerald Kersh, Night and the City, 1938. Ex double, n., 4 (Dict.).

back duck (usually in pl.). A piece of fried bread: Naval (lower-deck): C. 20. Granville. Ironic.

back garden. ‘The end pages of a magazine, devoted to advertisements inserted between columns of “spill over” from articles and stories in the front of the “book”’ (Leechman): Canadian publishers' and journalists': since ca. 1910.

back-hander.—4. A tip or bribe made surreptitiously: since ca. 1915. Back-handedly.

back-handing. See back-hand (Dict.) and contrast backhanding (ibid.).

back in circulation is applied to a female jilted or divorced or widowed and therefore free from a male tie: col.: since ca. 1945.

back o' me hand to ye!, the. An Anglo-Irish retort: c.p.: late C. 19–20. Euphemistic?

back of one's arse, on the. Australian variant of ‘on one's back’ (p. 23).

back-room boy. Usually pl., . . . boys, inventors and theoretical technicians, working for one of the combatant Services: journalistic j. (1941)>, in 1943, a gen. coll.—in 1943–5, mostly Services'. They worked out of the limelight and often literally in back-rooms or back-washes.

back scratched, have one's. To be flogged: c.: from ca. 1870. Orig. of the cat o' nine tails.

back-scuttle.—2. Hence, v. and n.: (to commit) sodomy: low: late C. 19–20.

back shift. Late turn (of duty): railwaymen's coll.: C. 20. Railway, 3rd.

back slang. The earliest reference I've seen occurs in G. W. M. Reynolds's Pickwick Abroad, 1839, p. 587 (footnote).

back stick (G.W.R.); back 'un; brown one or 'un; ginger one. A distant signal: railwaymen's: C. 20. (Harvey Sheppard, Dictionary of Railway Slang, 1964.)

back-swap, n. and v. To cry off a bargain; the crying-off: coll. verging on s.: 1888, Fothergill, Leverhouse, ““Then it's agreed?” . . . “Yes, no back-swaps.”” E.D.D. Lit., to go back on a ‘swap’.

back teeth are afloat, one's; or . . . are floating. A c.p., implying a strong desire to urinate: C. 20; by 1960, slightly ob.

back to it, it's got a. I'm lending it to you, but you must return it: Londoners' c.p.: C. 20.

back to the cactus. Back to duty after leave: Australian Naval c.p., dating from the 1930's. This reference to the prickly pear of the Australian outback occurs, for instance, in a story written in 1944 by Dal Stevens and included in his The Courtship of Uncle Henry, 1946.

back to the war. Used by Tommies returning to the Line after a spell in back areas: c.p.: W.W. I. (A. B. Petch, April 1966.)

back-up. A ‘chain’ copulation with one girl: Australian teenage gangsters': adopted, ca. 1945, ex U.S. (Dick.)—2. A second helping of food: Australian, esp. W.A.: C. 20. Ex back up, v. (p. 24). Tom Ronan, Only a Short Walk, 1961.

back-up, or horn, pills. Aphrodisiacs: low: since ca. 1910.

backblock, adj. Of the backblocks or ‘The bush’: Australian coll.: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.)

backblocker or backblockser. One who lives in a remote rural area: Australian coll.: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.) Also (backblocker) New Zealand coll., as in Jean Deranne, Dawn Beloved, 1928.

backer-up; backing-up. ‘The accomplice of a woman who works a ginger on a client—i.e. robs him—is a backer-up, and the practice is called backing-up’ (B., 1943): Australian c.: since ca. 1920.

backhouse flush. A very poor hand: Canadian poker players': since ca. 1955. ‘Fit only for the privy’ (backhouse, American and Canadian). Leechman.

backing dog. ‘A sheepdog that will run across the backs of sheep to aid mustering or droving’ (B., The Drum, 1959): Aus. rural coll.: late C. 19–20.

backward in coming forward (p. 25) is much earlier: it occurs, for instance, in Francis Francis, Newton Dogvane, 1859.

backwards—the way Molly went to church; or with backwards omitted. Backwards; not having gone: Anglo-Irish: C. 20.

backyard, adj. Small; insignificant; ‘operating on a shoe-string’: Australian coll.: since ca. 1925. ‘A backyard publishing company.’ (B.P.)

bacon and eggs. Legs: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Rhyming s.: cf. ham and eggs (Dict.).

bacon bonce. ‘A dull fellow, one whose reactions are slow like those of a country yokel’ (The Rev. P. M. Berry, as reported in The Daily Telegraph of June 4, 1958): Borstal, but also gen.: C. 20.

bacon-hole. Mouth: mostly R.A.F.: since ca. 1940. Cf. cake-hole.

bacon-tree. A pig: Lancashire jocular coll.: 1867, Brierley, Marlocks; slightly ob. Because a pig is ‘growing bacon’, E.D.D.

bad, taken (p. 25). Rather, since ca. 1840. Sessions, April 1851.

bad dog. An unpaid debt: Australian: since ca. 1945. (B., 1953.)

bad manners to speak when one's (more often your) arse is full, it's. A proletarian c.p. addressed to one who noisily breaks wind in company: C. 20.

bad mixer. See mixer (Dict.).

bad patchville. A period of bad luck: racing: since ca. 1960. Dick Francis, Nerve, 1964, ““Pay no attention,” he said. “. . . It's bad-patchville, that's all.” The -ville, a very popular suffix in the U.S., was adopted in the late 1950's. Ibid., ““Strictly doomsville, us.”” bad shilling.—2. A remittance man: Australian coll.: late C. 19–20. Cf. bad halfpenny (Dict.).

bad show. See show, bad.

bad trot. A run of bad luck: Australian: since ca. 1925. (Jon Cleary, You Can't See round Corners, 1949.)—2. A ‘rough spin’ or ‘raw deal’: Australian: C. 20. Ex the game of two-up. (B.P.)

bad types. Service personnel not keen on their work; also objectionables: R.A.F. H. & P., 1943. See types, 2.

bad 'un (p. 25) occurs in W. N. Glascock's The Naval Sketch-book, II, 1826. (Moe.)

bad week, one's. The week of one's period: feminine coll.: late C. 19–20. 'It's my bad week, darling—as if you didn't know!': any wife to any husband, or, so far as that goes, any mistress to any lover. Not necessarily euphemistic.

bad with, get in. To get into bad odour with (e.g. the police): coll.: C. 20. Edgar Wallace, Elegant Edward, 1928.

baddy. A bad, an evil, person: mostly school-children's: since late 1950's.

badger, v. (p. 26), occurs in Grose, 1785.

badger-bag (p. 26) occurs in W. N. Glascock, The Naval Sketch-Book, I, 1825, as 'old Badger-bag's track', glossed by Glascock thus: 'A name given by Jack [=sailors] to Neptune, when playing tricks on travellers upon first crossing the Line'. (Moe.)

badger-game. A form of blackmail, based upon timely arrival of 'injured husband'; Canadian c.: adopted, ca. 1910, ex U.S. (See Underworld.)

badster. A bad one (any living thing): Australian coll.: since ca. 1925. Jean Devanney, By Tropic Sea, 1944, 'He'—a mate—'was a badster, a soul killer.' After youngster, oldster, etc.

Baedeker is a coll. shortening of Baedeker raid, a raid on a place of historic interest rather than of military importance: 1942–4. Jackson. See esp. my Name into Word, 1949.

Baedeker Invasion, the. The invasion of Sicily during World War II: Army coll. Ex the booklets issued, beforehand, to the troops. (P-G-R.) Cf. the preceding entry.

bafile. Elaborate Field Security measure(s): military, esp. Royal Corps of Signals: since 1939. H. & P.

bag, n.—4. A parachute: orig. (ca. 1930) R.A.F.; by 1944 also military. H. & P. Pejorative? Ex its shape while it is unopened.—5. A woman, esp. a middle-aged or elderly slattern ('that old bag'); in certain contexts, a slatternly prostitute or part-time prostitute. I don't recall my having heard it before ca. 1924, but suspect that it goes back to the 1890's or even to the 1880's.

bag, v.—4. To dismiss or discharge (a person): 1848, Chaplain's Report of Preston House of Correction; 1895, W. Westall, Sons of Belial; rather ob. Cf. sack.—5. To shoot down (a 'plane): R.A.F.: 1939+. Jackson. I.e., to add to one's game bag.

bag, come the. To 'try it on'; to attempt something irregular; to bluff: Army: since ca. 1935. Ex horse's nose-bag.

bag!, get a. An Australian and New Zealand cricket spectators' c.p. to a fielder missing an easy catch: late C. 19–20.

bag, hold the. See hold the bag.

bag, in the. (Of a situation, a plan, etc.) well in hand; fully arranged; a virtual certainty; Services: since ca. 1925. H. & P. Ex game shooting.—2. Hence, easy: Army: since ca. 1935.—3. Be in the bag, to be taken prisoner: Army: 1941+.—4. (Of a horse) not intended to run: Australian: racing: C. 20. B., 1942.

bag, pull one out of the. See pull one out of the bag.

bag, put in the. Taken prisoner (cf. bag, in the, 3): 1914–18, 1939–45: Army officers' > gen. Army. John Buchan, Mr Standfast, 1918.

bag, the. Money: Scottish, esp. Glasgow lower classes': late C. 19–20. MacArthur & Long.

bag, well, that's the. A publishers' representatives' c.p., addressed to the bookseller as they leave his office: C. 20. Stephen Mogridge, Talking Shop (bookshop), 1950.

bag of bones.—2. A 'bush pilot' aeroplane: Canadian: since ca. 1942. (Leechman.)

bag of coke. Australian (C. 20) for bushel of coke.

bag of nails, a. A state of confusion: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Higgle-dy-piggle-dy.

bag of snakes.—2. A pendulous breast: Australian ca. 1910–60. Perhaps the origin of sense 1, q.v. at snakes, bag of, below.

bag on the bowline (p. 26) occurs in Glascock's The Naval Sketch-book, 1825–26.

bag shanty. A brothel: Naval (lowerdeck): C. 20. Cf. bag, n., 5.

bag-swing. A bookmaker: Australian: since ca. 1930. B., 1943.—2. See swing a bag.

baggage man. He who, in a team of purse-snatchers, runs off with the booty: c.: C. 18. James Dalton, A Narrative, 1728.

bagged, adj. Imprisoned: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)

bagged, have one's wind. To be winded: Public Schools': from ca. 1880. E. H. Hornung, Raffles, 1899, 'Bunny, you've had your wind bagged at footer, I daresay; you know what that's like?'. Ex bag, v., 2: q.v. in Dict.

baggies. 'Oversize boxer trunks, long in leg' (Pix, Sept. 28, 1963): Australian surfers': since ca. 1955.

bagman.—3. A tramp: Australian coll.: late C. 19–20.

Bagman's Gazette, The, or The Drover's Guide. An imaginary periodical quoted as the source of a rumour: Aus.: since ca. 1920. (Baker, The Drum, 1959.)

bago, the. Lumbago: Naval, but also gen.: C. 19–20. In, e.g., W. N. Glascock, Sketch-Book, 2nd Series, 1834, at II, 71. Moe.

bags, rough as (p. 27): also, since ca. 1918, New Zealand. (Gordon Slater, 1959.)

bags of brace. 'Drill bombardier's exhortation to his squad,' H. & P.: Royal Artillery: since ca. 1920. Ex the idea of bracing oneself to make a special effort.

bags of bull; bags of panic. Excessive spit and polish and/or parading; very pronounced nervousness: R.A.F.: since ca. 1938. Partridge, 1945. See bags of (Dict).

bahut atcha. Very good; also as exclamation: Anglo-Indian: mid-C. 19–20. Direct ex Hindustani.

baijan. See bejan (Dict).

Bailey, the. The Old Bailey (the Central Criminal Court, London): police coll.: mid-C. 19–20.

bail-up. The n. of the v.: see p. 27.

bail up, v.—2. To corner or accost (a person): Australian: C. 20. (B., 1943.)

bails, the. The milking shed: Australian coll., esp. dairy-farmers': late C. 19–20. 'John is not in the house; he must be down at the bails.' Ex the bail that holds the head of a cow that is being milked. (B.P.)

baist (properly baste) a snarl. To work up a quarrel: tailors': from ca. 1860. B. & L.

bait.—4. A sexually very attractive girl: teenagers': since late 1950's. Variants: bedbait, jail-bait, johnnybait. (The Sunday Times, Sept. 8, 1963.)

bait-layer. A station cook: rural Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)

Bajan (pron. Baýjun). A Barbadian: B.W.I. coll.: late C. 19-20. For 'Badian, aphetic for Barbadian. Dr Leechman compares Cajun, a person of French-Canadian descent living in south-east U.S., esp. Louisiana.

bake.—3. Hence (?), a bore, a nuisance: R.A.F. in India, ca. 1925-35. (Group-Captain Arnold Wall, letter of March 5, 1945.) Cf. the R.A.F. bind, n. and v.—4. A disappointment: Naval: since ca. 1920. Granville.

bake up, v.; bake-up, n. See stove up.

baked and mashed. Baked—mashed—potatoes: domestic and (cheap) restaurants' coll.: late C. 19-20. (Julian Symons, The Gigantic Shadow, 1958.)

baker's dozen.—4. A cousin: rhyming s.: late C. 19-20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

Bakespeare, as in 'It was written by Bakespeare.' A literary or near-literary c.p., used to settle a tedious argument: since ca. 1930. A blend of Bacon + Shakespeare.

bakester. See bake, v., in Dict.

bakey or bakie. A baked potato: low coll.: late C. 19-20. Jim Phelan, 1943.

baking-spittle. The human tongue: Yorkshire and Lancashire s., not dial.: from ca. 1890. Ex b.-s., 'a thin spade-shaped board with a handle, used in baking cakes', E.D.D.

balance. (Of a bookmaker) to cheat (v.i.): Australian: C. 20. Hence balancer, balancing. B., 1942.

Balbo. 'A large formation of aircraft, so called after the famous flight, Dec. 1930, of the Italian Air Armada from Italy to South America, led by the late Marshal of that name,' H. & P., 1943. See esp. my Name into Word, and cf. Immelmann (Dict.).

balcony. Female breasts, esp. when displayed as a bulging ridge: Australian since late 1940's. Perhaps suggested by the Fr. elle a du monde au balcon.

bald.—2. Bad: itinerant entertainers': C. 20. Sydney Lester has 'Bad, Bald; coteva'.

bald as a bandicoot. Utterly bald: Australian coll.: since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.)

bald-headed. (See Dict.) It is perhaps worth noting that the popularly ascribed origin of the phrase go bald-headed at it is the Marquess of Granby's dashing charge at Warburg (1759), 'when his wig fell off and his squadron followed the bald but undaunted head of their noble leader' (The Army Quarterly, July 1937).

bald-headed prairie. Great treeless and shrubless plains: Canadian coll.: since ca. 1880. (Leechman.)

balderdash, poppycock and piffle! Nonsense: Australian cultured c.p.: since ca. 1955. A euphemism for balls!

baldover or baldower (p. 28). Better: baldover, as pronounced. German c. has, presumably via Yiddish, taken it ex Hebrew compound of bal (= baal, master, lord, owner) + dovor (word). Dr L. Stein.

Baldy. Nickname for a bald-headed man: coll.: C. 19-20. Cf. curly.

baldy. See boxer.—2. Usually in pl. baldies, white Hereford cattle: Australian rural: C. 20. (Jean Devanney, By Tropic Sea, 1944.)—3. An artist's model denuded of pubic hair: painters' and sculptors': since ca. 1950.

baldy! I refuse (cf. English schoolboy's 'fain I'): N.Z. juvenile: late C. 19-20. B., 1941. No hairs on one's head: nothing to offer.

bale out. To make a parachute descent from a 'plane: R.A.F. coll. (—1939) > j. by 1942. Jackson. Prob. an intransitive development of 'to bale out (a boat)': as a boat is emptied of water, so is an aircraft of its crew.—2. Hence, to depart hurriedly from a tank or a self-propelled gun: Army: since ca. 1940. (P-G-R.)—3. To 'ditch' the weight-belt and rise to the surface as quickly as possible: skin divers': since ca. 1950. Ex sense 1.

Bales, a little drive with. Imprisonment, or the going there: London streets': ca. 1880-1900. Ex that policeman who at one time superintended 'the Black Maria'. B. & L.

Balkan tap. 'A man suffering from Balkan Tap was easily recognized: he was gentle, foolish, indifferent, usually smiling, with a Lotus eater's philosophy, and he was almost incapable of performing the most ordinary duties' (C. E. Vulliamy in his delightful autobiography, Calico Pie, 1940): Macedonian campaigners', W.W. I.—On the analogy of the much older, better-known doolally tap (see Dict.).

ball.—2. See ball o'chalk, 2.

ball, have a. To have a thoroughly good time: Canadian, Australian, English; adopted ca. 1935, 1950, 1955, resp., ex U.S.

ball, have got the. To have the advantage: tailors': from ca. 1860. B. & L. Ex ball games.

ball, on the. Alert; esp., ready to grasp an opportunity: coll.: since ca. 1925. Ex ball games.

ball, real gone. A superlatively good party or dance or reception: bodgies': since ca. 1950. (Dick.)

ball and chain. A wife: Canadian: C. 20. From U.S. Ex convicts' gyves.—2. One's girl friend: S. Africa: c. and low s.: since ca. 1920.

ball-bearing mousetrap. An ungelded male cat: Australian jocular: since ca. 1950. (B.P.)

ball-bearings in one's feet, have. To be habitually restless. Since ca. 1930: R.A.F.; by 1942, also Naval.

ball-dozed. Drunk; fuddled or muddled: Australian: since ca. 1942. (B., 1943.) Prompted by bull-dozed.

ball (o'chalk). To talk: rhyming s.: C. 20. The Evening News, Nov. 13, 1936.—2. See penn'orth of chalk.

ball of fire (p. 28). Slightly earlier in J. Burrowes, Life in St George's Fields, 1821.—2. As the Ball of Fire: the 2nd New Zealand Division: Army in North Africa: 1941-3.—3. A notably energetic and effectual person (usually male); often sarcastically in negative: Canadian: adopted, ca. 1930, ex U.S. (Leechman.)

ball of muscle (, be a). Energetic: very lively. Australian: since ca. 1930. (B., 1943.)

ball of spirit, be a. (Esp. of a horse) to be very high-spirited: Australian: since ca. 1918. (K. S. Prichard, Working Bullocks, 1926.)

ball(-)off, n. and v. (To commit) masturbation: men's low: C. 20.

ball-trap. An at times unexpectedly collapsible seat, esp. in an aircraft: R.A.F.: since ca. 1940. Also, since ca. 1945, Australian civilian for tractor seats, etc. (B.P.)

Ballarat lantern. Candle set in bottle neck: Australian: late C. 19–20. Ex mining days.

ballast, carry. See carry . . .

ballock. To reprimand, reprove, scold: c.: from ca. 1910; by 1920, low s. Ballocking, vbl n. With pun on balls and bawl. Hence:—

ballock, drop a. See drop a . . .

ballock drill. Custard and rhubarb: Naval (lower-deck): C. 20. See rhubarb.

ballock-naked. (Of both men and women) stark-naked: low: C. 20.

ballocker. A radar testing-device that resembled an ordinary light-bulb at the end of a long stick: R.A.F.: ca. 1941–5. If you don't 'see' the origin, I can't very well explain it.

ballocks.—Sense 1, parson, may be at least a century older, for in 1684 the Officer Commanding the Straits Fleet always referred to his chaplain as Ballocks. (Arthur Bryant, The Saviour of the Navy, 1938.)—3. (Usually ballocks.) Muddle, confusion; an instance thereof: Army: since ca. 1915.

ballocks, v. To spoil or ruin (a thing or plan): Australian: C. 20. (Sidney J. Baker, letter.)

ballocks about. To play the fool, esp. in horse-play; to be indecisive: low: C. 20.

ballocks in brackets. A low term of address to a bow-legged man: C. 20. W. L. Gibson Cowan, Loud Report, 1937.

ballocks'd. Thwarted; in a dilemma: low: C. 20. Cf. ballocks, v.

ballocky, adj. Naked: c., and low: from ca. 1905. Compare Ballocky Bill the Sailor.

balloon.—2. A high and easy catch: cricketers': from ca. 1925. J. C. Masterman, Fate Cannot Harm Me, 1935, 'And then like an ass I missed a balloon this afternoon—just in front of the pavilion too.'

balloon car, usually balloon. A saloon bar: C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

balloonic.—2. Hence, 'anyone on the strength of a Balloon Command unit or squadron', Jackson: R.A.F.: 1940+. Partridge, 1945. The term was also, during W.W.I., applied—usually in the plural—to the free-balloonists. (Mr William Phillips of the Inner Temple, himself a free-balloonist.)

balls, have (got) someone by the. To have utterly in one's power, esp. of women over men: low: late C. 19–20. (G. Kersh, 1944.)

balls-ache. See you give me . . . A balls-aching talk is a tedious disquisition: since ca. 1918.

balls, bees and buggery! A synonym—and probably the origin—of balls, picnics . . . c.p.: late C. 19–20.

balls chewed off, have one's. To be (severely) reprimanded or taken to task: low: C. 20.

balls in an uproar, get one's. To become unduly excited: Canadian Army: 1914–18.

balls on him like a scoutmaster (, he has). A low New Zealand c.p., dating from ca. 1930 and based upon the scurrilous ideas, popular among the ignorant, that scoutmasters are active homosexuals. Canadian also.

balls, picnics and parties! A c.p. exclamation, from ca. 1925. A punning elaboration of balls! (Dict.).

balls to that lark! Nothing doing: New Zealand c.p.: since ca. 1920. (Slatter.) An elaboration of balls to that!, common to all the Commonwealth countries and current since late C. 19. Cf. balls to you! on p. 29.

balls to you, love. A variant of balls to you: C. 20. Influenced by working-men's contempt of the white-collar class and by their ignorance of the arduous of lawn tennis.

balls-up. A 'mess', a bungling, confusion: low: since ca. 1910. (Angus Wilson, A Bit off the Map, 1957.)

ballum rancum (p. 29). Earlier in Dryden's Kind Keeper, 1677–8. Cf. ballers in Pepys's Diary, May 30, 1668.

bally (p. 29). Rather, since ca. 1840. Sessions, April 1851.

Bally Ruffian, the. H.M.S. Bellerophon: Naval: mid-C. 19–20. (Neil Bell, Crocus, 1936.)

ballyhoo of blazes (p. 29). Dating since ca. 1880, it occurs in Rudyard Kipling's Captains Courageous, 1897.

Balmainiacs. Balmain footballers: Sydney-siders: C. 20. (B., 1943.)

balmy breeze. Cheese: (not very common) rhyming s.: C. 20. (Franklyn 2nd.)

balmy stick dates back to ca. 1880. (B. & L.)

Balt. 'This was the most common term for New Australians from about 1946 to 1952 and will be found in the Australian literature of the period. It was based on the mistaken belief that they came mainly from the Baltic countries' (B.P., 1963).

Balt and Mary. A Baltimore—a Maryland—aircraft: airmen's: World War II.

bamboo. Inside information; a rumour: Army: 1940+. Ex makeshift aerals. Cf. jungle wire-less.

bamboo, three-piece. See three-piece bamboo (Dict.).

bamboo present. See 'Prisoner-of-War Slang', 15.

bambora. 'The spot of light reflected by a mirror held in the hand' (Dr H. W. Dalton): Anglo-Irish: C. 20. Origin?

ban.—2. (Mostly in pl. bans.) A banana: greengrocers': since ca. 1910.

banana. A £1 note: Australian: since ca. 1945. (B., Australia Speaks, 1953.) Sweet and acceptable.—2. A surf board with a raised front: Australian surfers': since late 1950's. (B.P.)

banana balancer. An officer's steward: a Wardroom waiter: Naval: C. 20. Granville.

banana boat. An invasion barge: military: 1943+. H. & P. Humorous.—2. An aircraft carrier: R.A.F.: 1941+. Partridge, 1945.

banana van. A 'bogie carriage on wooden frame sagging in the middle' (Railway, 3rd): railwaymen's: since ca. 1950.

bananas and cream?, do you like. A c.p. addressed to girls by dirty-minded youths and = Do you 'do it?': since ca. 1920.

banchoot (or barnshoot); beteechoot. In Hindustani, choad is a male copulator; ban, pron. bahn (barn), is 'sister'; bete, 'daughter'. Hence banchoad: beteechoat = copulator with sister, daughter; hence, a deadly insult.

band. A prostitute: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942.

Band of Hope. Lemon syrup: Australian: C. 20. Baker. Ex name of the Temperance Society.—2. Soap: rhyming s.: late C. 19–20. (Len Ortzen, Down Donkey Row, 1938.)

bandabust. A variant (especially among R.A.F. regulars) of bundabust (Dict.). Jackson.

bander. Soap: Australian: C. 20. Baker. Truncated rhyming s.

bandicoot, poor as a. Extremely poor: Australian coll.: late C. 19–20. In The Drum, 1959, S. J. Baker lists also the foll. self-explanatory phrases: bald as a bandicoot, bandy as a . . ., barmy as a . . ., lousy . . ., miserable . . ., and not the brains of . . .

bandicooting. 'The practice of stealing tuberos vegetables, especially potatoes, out of the soil without removing the tops' (B., 1943), i.e. with the tops left: Australian: since ca. 1920. As bandicoots do.

bandit. Elliptical for one-armed bandit (below): Australian: since late 1950's. (B.P.)

[bandit. An enemy aircraft: orig. a code word, then j.—not s. Jackson.]

bandmaster, the. A pig's head: Naval (lower-deck): C. 20. Granville.

bandstand. A cruet: R.A.F. since ca. 1920: adopted from the Army (C. 20). Ex the 'iron-work' surrounding one.—2. 'In Ack Ack the Command post of a gun position,' H. & P.: since 1939.—3. 'The circular gun platform in small escort vessels' (Granville): Naval: 1939+.

bandwagon, hop—or, in Britain, mostly jump—on the. To join a majority, once it's known to be a majority; to favour someone only after the public has made him or her a favourite: adopted, ca. 1960, ex U.S.; by 1966, coll. (The Sunday Times, colour section, July 8, 1962, article by Wallace Reyburn.) In his excellent The Changing English Language, 1968, Brian Foster cites The Sunday Times, Feb. 13, 1955, and The Times Educational Supplement of a few days later. Perhaps, therefore, it would be better to back-date the adoption to ca. 1955. See, too, William Safire, The New Language of Politics, 1968.

bandy, n.—2. A bandicoot: Australian: since ca. 1910. (B., 1953.)

bandy chair. A Banbury chair, i.e. a seat formed by two persons' crossing of hands: Cockneys': from ca. 1880.

bane, the. Brandy: low: late C. 19–20; ob. Pugh (2), "'You give me a drop o' the bane," said Marketer; "an' don't be so 'andy wi' your tongue.'" Suggested by ruin, 1 (Dict.).

bang, an intensive, as in 'the whole bang lot': mostly Australian: late C. 19–20. (B., 1943.)

bang, n.—6. A brothel: low Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942.—7. (Ex 2.) A stir or considerable movement in stocks and shares, esp. downward: Stock Exchange: ca. 1810–70. Spy, II, 1826.

bang, v., 3 (p. 31): very common, esp. among manual workers, in Australia, where also used intransitively. (B.P.) Also common still in Canada. (Leechman.)

bang, adv. Noisily and suddenly; suddenly; immediately;—also, entirely, utterly: coll.: late C. 18–late 19. The Night Watch, 1828, at II, 117. (Moe.)

bang, have a. To make an attempt (at): Services': since ca. 1939. (P-G-R.)

bang like a hammer on a nail or like a rattle-snake or like a shit-house door; go pop like a paper bag; ride like a town bike. To copulate vigorously; bang referring to men, and pop and ride to women: low Australian, esp. Sydney: bang, C. 20; ride since ca. 1925; pop since ca. 1950.

bang alley (p. 31); bangalay actually is Aboriginal.

bang-bag. A case for cordite: Australian Naval: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)

bang, bang, you're dead! A children's c.p., since ca. 1960. Ex overmuch televising of 'Westerns'.

bang-box. The turret of a 6-inch gun: Australian Naval: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)

bang(-)on. Everything is all right: correct: R.A.F. bomber crews': since 1940. H. & P. I.e. bang on the target. As 'dead accurate, strikingly apposite', it was adopted by civilians in 1945. (Nicholas Blake, Head of a Traveller, 1948.)

bang-seat. 'A crew member's seat in a jet aircraft (but recently developed for helicopters)—which, for emergency escape, is blown from the aircraft by an explosive charge (which, incidentally, the seat occupant does not hear)'—as a flight lieutenant informs me, late in 1961. Since the mid-1950's: orig., Fleet Air Arm, hence gen. aeronautical.

bang-stick. A rifle: partly marksmen's, partly Services': since ca. 1925. Cf. shooting-iron.

bang-tail. See 'Harlots'.—2. Usually pl. bang-tails, cattle, 'whence bang tail muster, a periodical counting of herds' (B., The Drum, 1959): Aus. rural: since ca. 1930. Contrast the American bangtail, a horse, esp. a racehorse. Now mostly written as one word.

bang to rights. Applied, predicatively, to a 'fair cop', a justified charge, a perfect case against somebody: underworld, London's East End, police: since ca. 1930, at latest. (Richard Herd, Nov. 12, 1957; Frank Norman, Bang to Rights, 1958.) An elaboration, an intensive, of '(caught) to rights' or in flagrante delicto.—2. 'An expression of satisfaction, as in "Now we've got everything bang to rights, we can lay off for a bit and have a smoke"' (Julian Franklyn, in a letter, 1962): since the late 1940's.

bang-up.—4. To lock up, esp. of a warder a cell: prisons': C. 20. (Norman.)—5. 'A frieze overcoat with high collar and long cape' (P. W. Joyce, English As We Speak It in Ireland, 1910): Anglo-Irish: late C. 19–20.

bang water. Petrol: Canadian (also firewater): since ca. 1920. H. & P.

banger.—4. A sausage: nautical, esp. Naval: C. 20. ('Taffrail', Mystery at Milford Haven, 1936.)—5. Elliptical for cattle-banger. (B., 1943.)—6. A bomb: R.F.C.—R.A.F.: 1917–18. V. M. Yeates, Winged Victory, a novel, 1934.—7. (Also cracker and fog.) A detonator: railwaymen's: C. 20. (Railway).—8. A motorcar that 'bangs' (is noisy): motorists': since ca. 1930.—9. A derelict car: motorists': since ca. 1955.

Sense 4 occurs earlier in 'Bartimeus', A Tall Ship, 1915.

banger, drop a. See drop a ballock.

bangers and red lead. Tinned sausages-and-tomato-sauce: mostly the Services': since ca. 1925.

bangotcher (strictly bang-gotcher). A Wild West film: Australian juvenile: since ca. 1946. (B., 1953.) 'Bang! Got you!'

Bangkok bowler. See 'Prisoner-of-War Slang', 15.

bangs banagher, it. That beats everything: Anglo-Irish c.p.: mid-C. 19–20. Rolf Boldrewood, My Run Home, 1897 (p. 190), in a passage dealing with a period ca. 1860. Cf. banagher (p. 37) and P. W. Joyce, English As We Speak It in Ireland, 1910, p. 192.

bangtail. See bang-tail, 2, above.

banián or banyan, 2 (p. 31): much earlier in The Night Watch, 1828 (II, 57). (Moe.)

banjax. To ruin, to defeat, to destroy: Anglo-Irish: C. 20. (Desmond O'Neill, Life Has No Price, 1959.) Cf.:

banjaxed. Broken, smashed, out of order: Anglo-Irish intensive: since ca. 1920. Blend of 'banged about' + 'smashed'?

banjo.—2 (p. 31). Also English builders'. (Communication from a master builder: Dec. 5, 1953.)—4. A sandwich: c., and low: from ca. 1919.—5. A shoulder of mutton: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942.—6. A fireman's shovel: railwaymen's: since ca. 1945. (Railway, 3rd.) Cf. sense 2 on p. 31; orig. an American tramps' term.—7. A 'disc signal repeater with black line and white background' (Railway, 3rd): railwaymen's: since ca. 1955. Ex the musical instrument.—8. A frying pan: Aus.: since 1959.

banjo box. A wooden box for washing alluvial metal: Australian miners': late C. 19–20. Sarah Campion. Bonanza, 1942. Ex shape.

bank, n.—3. The issuing of pocket money: Public Schools: late C. 19–20. (Ernest Raymond, Tell England, 1922.)

bank, on the. Subsisting on bank loans: Aus. coll.: C. 20. F. B. Vickers, First Place to the Stranger, 1955. 'Chris Cotter came over to Jingly on train days and saw the farmers who were "on the bank" then, instead of as before touring round the farms.'

banker.—3. An 'assisting locomotive' (Railway, 3rd): railwaymen's coll.: C. 20.—4. 'The man who holds a stock of forged notes for those who give them out or try to do so' (A. B. Petch, April 1966): fringe-of-underworld: C. 20.

banker, come down a. '(Of a river) to become flooded' (B., The Drum, 1959): Aus. coll.: late C. 19–20. Cf. banker, 1, on p. 32.

banks. Rag shops: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Cf. rag shop, 3 (Dict.), the origin.

banshee wail. An air-raid warning: coll.: 1940+.

banter is described by Swift in A Tale of a Tub, 1704, as an 'Alsatia phrase'.

bapper. A baker: Scottish coll.: mid-C. 19–20; ob. E.D.D. Pejoratively ex bap, a bread-cake.

Bappo. A Baptist: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1953.) B., The Drum, 1959, compares Congo, Metho, Presbo—qq.v. below.

baptized. Drowned: Australian: since ca. 1830. Brian Penton's novels, passim. Ironical.

bar, n., 2. Earlier in J. W. Horsley, I Remember, 1912.—3. An excuse, a yarn, a 'tale': Regular Army, but esp. in the Guards: since ca. 1910. Gerald Kersh, Bill Nelson, 1942, 'He had a good bar though, it was on his pass. He'd been trying to get some geezer out of a shelter'; Roger Grinstead, 1943 and 1946, records soft bar (a persuasive story), cakey bar (a downright lie) and to spin the bar. Ex debar(ring)?—4. See:

Bar Abbas and Bar Jonas. The two coffee-bars, in the Vatican, for the immured Cardinals and their subordinates: the English-speaking Cardinals': since ca. 1950.

bar (or bar on), have a. To have an erection: low: C. 20. Ex hardness.

bar, over the. Half-drunk; fuddled: nautical: ca. 1810–70. Sessions, April 6, 1843.

bar of (person or thing), unable to stand a. To detest: Australian: since ca. 1920. (Margaret Trist, Now That We're Laughing, 1945; Ruth Park, Poor Man's Orange, 1950.)

bar of chocolate, get a. See chocolate . . .

bar steward. A bastard: jocular, mostly Londoners': from ca. 1929. Euphemistic or polite.

barbary. Difficult in a tough way: Army in N. Africa and N.W. Europe: 1942–5. A barbary bugger was a tough and bloody-minded officer or non-com; (of the enemy) 'They're a bit barbary tonight' (harassing fire, etc.). Perhaps ex 'the Barbary Coast', influenced by barbarous; but cf. next.

Barbary (or bobbery) wallah. An ill-tempered person: Army and R.A.F. regulars': late C. 19–20. Jackson. Prob. from bobbery (p. 73), influenced by Barbary pirates. 'Used esp. by and to English-speaking Iraklis' (Atkinson).

barbed-wire blues (or fever). Prisoner-of-war camp despondency or disgust: prisoner-of-war: 1941–5. The former is an adaptation of George Gershwin's famous title Rhapsody in Blue.

barber.—2. See barber a joint.—3. A hotel-keeper: Australian: since ca. 1925. A gossip.—4. A tramp: Australian: since ca. 1930. (B., 1943.)

barber, she couldn't cook hot water for a. See she couldn't . . .

barber?, who robbed the. See he's a poet.

barber a joint. To rob a bedroom while the occupant sleeps: c.: C. 20. Also barber, one who does this.

barber-shop harmony. 'Said derisively of male quartettes. From at least 1909' (Leechman): Canadian coll. By 1962, Standard English. (Professor F. E. L. Priestley, letter of Oct. 12, 1965.)

barber's cat, 2 (p. 32). Often like a barber's cat, all wind and piss: late C. 19–20.

barbly. Babble; noise: pidgin: from ca. 1860. B. & L. Cf. bobbery (Dict.).

Barcoo buster. 'A westerly gale in mid or south Queensland' (B., The Drum, 1959): C. 20.

Barcoo challenge. Either of two methods of indicating that one is challenging for the day's tally at sheepshearing: Aus. rural: ca. 1890–1940. (The Drum.)

Barcoo rot. Gallipoli sores: Australian soldiers': 1915. Ex the literal Australianism.

Barcoo vomit. 'Barcoo rot: Land scurvy. Barcoo vomit, another old bush sickness' (The Drum): Aus. rural: C. 20.

Bardia Bill. The 6-inch gun that, in 1941, bombarded Tobruk pretty regularly: Services: 1941, then ob. Granville. Cf. Asiatic Annie.

bardies. See starve the bardies.

bare-belly. 'A sheep without wool on its belly or inner portions of its hind legs' (B., The Drum, 1959): Aus. rural coll.: mid C. 19–20.

bareback riding; or roughriding. Coition without contraceptive: male: C. 20.

bared, be. To be shaved: low: ca. 1860–1910. B. & L.

barge, n.—6. Hence, the crowd in a R.A.F. mess: since ca. 1916. Duncan Grinwell Milne, Wings of Wrath.—7. A straw hat: Cranbrook School: C. 20. Cf. the S.E. boater.

barge, v., 1, survives as barge at, to argue roughly with: Cockneys': late C. 19–20.

barge the point. To 'argue the toss': C. 20. (The Pawnshop Murder.) Cf. barge, v., 1 (Dict.).

bargeman (p. 32) goes back to ca. 1800. (W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints, 1829.) (Moe.)

bark, n.—4. An objectionable fellow; a very severe one: Cockneys': from ca. 1910. Ex bastard with allusion to dog's bark or snarl.

bark and growl. A trowel: rhyming s.: since ca. 1870. (D. W. Barrett, Navvies, 1880.)

bark up the wrong creek. An occ. C. 20 variant of bark up the wrong tree (Dict.).

barkey, 2 (p. 34). Also barky, as in W. N. Glascock, The Naval Sketch-Book, II, 1826: which obliges us to date the term back to ca. 1810 or even earlier and to derive sense 1 from sense 2; there it is glossed as 'Jack's fancy phrase for a favourite ship'. Clearly a diminutive of Naval bark or barque.

barking, adj. Raving mad: since ca. 1965. John Welcome, Hell Is Where You Find It, 1968, 'She had something, that girl. She's mad, that's the worst of it. Bonkers, barking, round the bend.' Ex dogs suffering from rabies?

barking belly. A 4-inch anti-aircraft gun: Australian naval: 1939-45. (B., 1943.)

barmaid. A C. 20 Harrow term, thus in Lunn: 'He put on the double collar popularly known as the "barmaid", the monopoly of three-yearers.'

barmaid's blush. 'A drink of port and lemonade, or rum and raspberry' (B., 1942): Australian: C. 20. Ex its vivid colour.—2. That special shade of pink paint which, used on invasion craft, was suggested by Lord Louis Mountbatten and therefore known, semi-officially, as Mountbatten pink: Services': ca. 1943-5. (P-G-R.)

barmpot. A person slightly deranged: since ca. 1950. The Sunday Times, July 14, 1963 (competition). A blend of barmy + potty.

barmy (p. 34). Perhaps its popularity was assisted by the County of Kent lunatic asylum at Barming.

Barn dance, the; also the scramble. Pedestrians scurrying across a street diagonally as soon as the indicator says 'Go' or 'Cross': at crossings where all traffic halts. Australian and New Zealand: since ca. 1950. The former was named after Commissioner Barnes—Traffic Commissioner of New York City—the inventor of the buzz crossing; origin of latter, obvious.

barn-stormer.—3. One who, ca. 1919-22, did acrobatics, wing-walking, etc., on aeroplanes; also, any pilot who put on a show for the small-town people of the country: Canadian. (Leechman.)

Barnaby Rudge. A judge: rhyming s.: C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

Barnet. This abbr. of Barnet Fair (q.v. in Dict.) prob. dates from ca. 1880. See the quotation at Sir Garnet (Dict.).

barney, n., 4 (p. 35, top). Also common in Australia and New Zealand: late C. 19-20. B., 1941. Much earlier in Sessions, July 1877, and orig. Cockney.

barney, v. To argue (about something): Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

barney, bit of. A scuffle, fight or heated argument; esp. rowdiness in a public-house: late C. 19-20. An elaboration of barney, n., 6 (Dict.).

barney, do a. To prevent a horse from winning: turf: from ca. 1870. B. & L. See barney, n., 4 (p. 35).

Barney Moke. A pocket: rhyming s. (on poke): originally (—1941), c.; by 1950, low s.

barney over (something). To quarrel about it: Aus.: C. 20. (The Drum, 1959.) Cf. barney, v., above.

Barney's bull, like.—2. All behind like Barney's bull: late; delayed: Australian: since ca. 1920. Baker. Cf. sense 1 (p. 35).

barns. Shorts; trousers: Marlborough College: since ca. 1920.

barnshoot (Dict.). See banchoot.

Baron.—2. 'Anything free in the Navy is said to be "on the Baron" or "Harry Freemans"', Granville: C. 20. Jocular.

baron.—2. A recognised businessman, or boss, among the prisoners: prison c.: since ca. 1930. (Norman.)—3. One who has money: beatniks': since late 1950's. (Anderson.)

Baron, the. Lord Hawke: cricketers': since the late 1880's: ob. by 1940. Major Martin Blades Hawke (1860-1938), captain of Yorkshire in 1883-1910; succeeded to the title in 1887.

barrack, n. A piece of 'barracking': Australian: C. 20. (Vance Palmer, The Passage, 1930.)

barrack ranger. A seaman, that in R.N. Barracks is awaiting draft to a ship: Navy: since ca. 1920. Granville.

barrack-rat. (Gen. pl.) Indian Army, non-officers', from ca. 1880, as in Richards, 'Children born in Barracks were referred to as "barrack-rats": it was always a wonder to me how the poor kids survived the heat, and they were washed-out little things.'

barrack-room lawyer. A soldier professing to know military law: Army coll.: late C. 19-20.—2. Hence, a confirmed 'grouser': Army: since ca. 1910. (P-G-R.)

Barrack (or Barrick) Stove, the. Aden: Services': since ca. 1950. A very hot station. (Peter Sanders.)

barracking (p. 35). Note, however, that the very able journalist, Guy Innes, says, in a private letter of March 1, 1944, 'I have always understood, and indeed believe, that this word originated from the widespread description in Melbourne of the rough teams that used to play football on the vacant land near the Victoria Barracks on the St Kilda Road as barrackers.'

barracks (p. 35) occurs in W. N. Glascock, The Naval Sketch-Book, II, 32, 1826, and therefore goes back to very early C. 19. (Moe.)

barrage, get a. On the drill-ground or square, to obtain a very smart response to an order; have a barrage taken off, to be 'put through it' on the parade ground: Army: since ca. 1919. The sound-effect resembles that of a gun barrage.

barrel, back to the. See barrel of butter below.

barrel, have (someone) over a. To have him at a grave disadvantage: adopted, ca. 1950—earlier in Canada—ex U.S.

barrel, right into (or right up) one's. Decidedly one's interest, concern, business: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

barrel-fever.—2. Hence, delirium tremens: Australian: C. 20. (B., 1943.)

barrel of butter. A small rock just awash in the middle of Scapa Flow; hence, back to the barrel, back to the anchorage in the Flow: Naval: since ca. 1910. (Granville, Aug. 10, 1962.)

barrel of fat. A hat: Australian rhyming s.: C. 20. (Franklyn 2nd.)

barren Joey. A prostitute: N.S.W., low: C. 20. B., 1942.

barrister. See 'Tavern terms', § 3, d.

barrow. A 'Black Maria': Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.—2. 'To the bus conductor your ticket is a "brief" and his vehicle a "tub", "kite" or "barrow"' (The Evening News, April 27, 1954).—3. (Mostly in the Cockney pron., barrer.) A motor car: esp. in the secondhand-car business: since ca. 1955. Prob. ex sense 2—which, by the way, goes back to ca. 1945.

barrow, into one's. Occ. variant of barrel, right into one's.

barrow, right up one's. Synonymous with barrell, right . . ., above. (B., 1959.)

bars. Handlebars: cyclists' coll.: late C. 19–20.

bart. A girl: Australian: since ca. 1920; 'now practically obsolete', says Baker in 1943. Origin obscure, unless—as Julian Franklyn has suggested—it rhymes on tart.

base over apex is a refined version of arse over tip: from ca. 1925.

bash, n. Brutality: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., Australia Speaks, 1953).—2. A long—esp. if fast and arduous—ride: cyclists': since ca. 1930. 'The Brighton bash' = London to Brighton and back.—3. An attempt; esp. in have a bash (at something): since ca. 1935.—4. A lively visit or experience or time: Canadian: since ca. 1955. Daily Colonist, April 2, 1967. 'The party of 48 chartered a bus for a night on the town including a bash at the Old Forge.' (Leechman).—5. A copulation: low: since ca. 1930. Mervyn Jones, The New Town, 1953.

bash, v.—2. To flog: since ca. 1860. B. & L.—3. V.i., to ply as a prostitute: C. 20: c. >, by 1930, low s. Gerald Kersh, 1938. Ex bash, go on the (Dict.).—4. To sell (personal possessions or Red Cross gifts): prisoners-of-war: 1939–45. (Guy Morgan, Only Ghosts Can Live, 1945.) Prompted by the synonymous flog, 3 (p. 288).—See bash it.

bash; bash it; give it a bash. 'To indulge in a bout of heavy drinking' (B., 1953): Australian: since ca. 1935. Gavin Casey, The Wits Are Out, 1947, 'A man's gotta drink. . . . But you can't bash it all the time, the way he does, if you want to get anywhere.'—2. To live gaily, have a good time: general: since ca. 1940. (Jack Trevor Story, Mix Me a Person, 1959, has 'bash it around'.)

bash, go on the. To indulge in a drinking-bout: New Zealand: since ca. 1930. (Slatter.) Cf. bash it at bash; bash it above.

bash, have a. To make an attempt; to help; to take part: since ca. 1925.

bash, the. Smash and grab: c.: from ca. 1920.

bash it up you! Run away and stop bothering me: Australian (esp. in the Services): since ca. 1940. (B., Australia Speaks, 1953.)

bash on. To 'carry on', bravely and doggedly: originally, soldiers' (1940); then, by 1946, general. Hence, by 1942, attribute, as in 'the bash-on spirit', as in Leader Magazine, March 4, 1950.

bash the bishop. See bishop, flog the.

bash up. To 'beat up', to assault, someone: Australian since ca. 1945. (B.P.)

Basher. The nickname of any pugilist who is a slugger rather than a skilled boxer: mostly sporting: late C. 19–20. Cf. basher, 1 (p. 36).

basher.—3. Also, 1925 +, at Rugby.—4. A Physical Training Instructor: Services: since ca. 1920. H. & P.—5. See gravel-basher and square basher. Echoic.—6. Buster or basher is very common for mechanics, as in compass basher, instrument basher, Sgt-Pilot F. Rhodes, letter of Sept. 20, 1942: R.A.F.: since ca. 1930.—7. Indeed basher has often, since 1941, meant little more than 'fellow', 'chap'. Partridge, 1945. Ex the accumulated influence of senses 4–6.—8. A fornicator: R.A.F.: since ca. 1935. Yet another sexual sadism.—9. A bamboo hut: Army (mostly S.E. Asia): 1942 +. Ex bamboo used as a weapon.—10. A hoodlum: Australian: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.) bashing, n. See next entry.—2. The loud, vigorous, cheerful playing of dance music: an engagement at which such music is demanded: dance bands': since ca. 1930.—3. Prostitution: low: C. 20. Gerald Kersh, Night and the City, 1938. See bash it.—4. Short for bashing the bishop: low: since ca. 1920. The full phrase may have arisen as an alliterative variant of box the Jesuit (p. 87).—5. In get, or take, a bashing, to suffer heavy losses: Services': 1939–45, and after. (P-G-R.) bashing-in; bashing-out. A flogging at the beginning (-in) or at the end (-out) of a 'ruffian's term of imprisonment': c.: from ca. 1870. B. & L. Ex bash, v., 2. Moreover, bashing exists independently.

basic English. 'Plain' English, esp. as used by workmen not averse from vulgarity and obscenity: since ca. 1935. (A. B. Petch, March 1966.)

Basil. A fat man: Liverpool: from before 1952.

Basil dress. Ensa uniform: since ca. 1940. Ensa's director: Basil Dean.

basin of gravy. A baby: rhyming s.: C. 20.

basinful, a. Of trouble, hardship, labour, etc.: C. 20. Hence, get one's basinful, to receive a severe—esp., a fatal—wound: mostly Army: 1914–18; 1939–45. Gerald Kersh, Clean, Bright and Slightly Oiled, 1946, 'Poor old Pete got his basinful somewhere near Hell-fire.'

basinful, have a. To make an attempt; to agree to do so, as 'I'll have a basinful, if you like': Services': since ca. 1939. (P-G-R.)

basinful of that, I'll have a. A c.p. aimed at anyone using a long or a learned word: since ca. 1910.

basis. The woman a pimp intends to marry when he retires from business: white-slavers' c.: C. 20. (A. Londres, 1928.)

basket, 4 (p. 36): also otherwise than in vocative, as 'That basket So-and-So'.

basket, with a kid in the. Pregnant: c.: C. 19. B. & L.

bastard brig. See schooner orgy.

bastard from the bush. The C. 20 Australian equivalent of Ballocky Bill the Sailor (p. 29). Ex a poem by Henry Lawson (1867–1922). (B.P.)

baste a snarl. See baist a snarl.

baster. A house thief: Australian low: C. 20. B., 1942.

Basutes. Native troops from Basutoland: Army: 1940 +. (P-G-R.)

bat, n.—7. Hence, a sale: grafters': Aug. 28, 1938, News of the World.—8. 'A whip carried by a horse-rider. Also mop and stick' (B., The Drum, 1959): Aus.: since ca. 1930.

bat, v. Military, mostly officers', from late 1914, as in Blaker, "'That fellow Jackman that Reynolds has produced from his section to 'bat' for you is rather an object, isn't he?'" Ex bat (Dict.), n., 4: q.v. Contrast bloke, v.

bat an eyelid, doesn't or don't. (She, etc.) show(s) no emotion at something either startling or shocking: coll.: C. 20. Cf. the S.E. bat the eyes.

bat for. To make one's price at (such or such a sum): showmen's: C. 20. Night and Day, July 22, 1937. 'Most crocus bat for a dena . . . or . . . a two ender . . . but to "bat 'em for a straight tosh" is something to be proud about,' Phillip Allingham in a letter, 1937.

bat house. A brothel: Australian low: C. 20. Baker.

bat on a (very) sticky wicket. To contend with great difficulties: coll.: since ca. 1948. (National News Letter, Jan. 24, 1952.) Ex cricket.

bat out of hell, go like a. As a civilian coll., it is at least as early as 1908. (Leechman.)

bat the breeze. To chatter, to talk: Australian soldiers': since ca. 1939. (B., 1943.)

batch, n.—2. A small cottage; a shack; Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. Ex bach, v. (Dict.).

batcher. One who lives alone: Australian: C. 20. Baker.

batchy (p. 37). Also, since ca. 1910, Naval.—2. 'The nickname for anyone surnamed Payne' (Granville): esp. Naval: since ca. 1910. Proleptic.

bate up. A sexual copulation: low: C. 20. Origin obscure.

Bath bun. A son: rhyming s.: late C. 19–20. bath-tub. Nacelle of the F.E. aeroplane: R.F.C.—R.A.F.: World War I, then historical. (Frederick Oughton, The Aces, 1961.)

bath-tub cabbage. 'Cabbage boiled until it is tasteless and almost colourless, as served in schools and boarding-houses' (Peter Sanders): since ca. 1920.

bathers. A bathing costume: Australian coll.: C. 20. Baker.

bathing beauty. Blancmange: Naval (lower-deck): since ca. 1930. Granville.

Bats. Deck-landing officer in an aircraft carrier: Navy: since ca. 1938. Granville, 'From the bats he carries.'

Bats. British American Tobacco Company shares: Stock Exchange: since ca. 1930.

batter. To practise copulation: low: since ca. 1920. Gerald Kersh, Night and the City, 1938. Ex batter, go on the (p. 37).

Battersea'd. (Of the male member) treated medically for venereal disease: ca. 1715–90. Select Trials at the Old Bailey, 1743 (Dublin, vol. 2), trial of George White in 1726, 'Mine is best, yours has been Battersea'd.' The semantic clue is afforded by simples (p. 770).

battling and bowling, adj. and n. Participating in both hetero- and homosexual acts: very British: since ca. 1950. Cf. ambidextrous above.

battle, v.i. To 'get by' on one's wits: v.t., to obtain, esp. if deviously, the use of: Australian c. (since ca. 1919) > by 1940, low s. Hence, battler, one who 'gets by' on odd jobs and alone; a tramp; a hawker; both v. and n. occur in Kylie Tennant's fine novel, The Battlers, 1941. The v. occurs earlier in Ion M. Idriess, The Yellow Joss, 1934. Ex the influence of the war of 1914–18. A battler is also 'a hard-up horse trainer . . . a broken-down punter' (Baker).

battle, on the. An Australian synonym of 'on the batter', engaged in prostitution: low: since ca. 1920. Lawson Glassop, We Were the Rats, 1944.

battle-axe. See old battle-axe.

battle blouse. A battledress tunic: Army: 1939+. (P-G-R.)

battle buggy. A jeep: Army: 1943+; by 1950, slightly ob.

battle cruiser. A public-house: rhyming s. (on booz): since ca. 1940. Franklyn, Rhyming.

battle dress. Pyjamas: R.A.F.: 1940+. Sgt. Gerald Emmanuel, letter of March 29, 1945. Ex amorous 'combat'.

battle of the bulge, the. The struggle against 'middle-aged spread': since 1945. Ex the World War II battle so named.

Battle of Waterloo. A stew: rhyming: mid-C. 19–20.

battle the rattler. To travel on a railway without paying: Australian c.: since ca. 1920.

battle the subs. To hawk goods in the suburbs: since ca. 1920: Australian c. > by 1940, low s. Baker.

battle wag(g)on. A battleship: Navy since ca. 1925, R.A.F. since ca. 1930. H. & P.—2. An expensive motor-car: Army since ca. 1940. H. & P.

battler. A gangster handy with his fists and fond of using them: Glasgow c. and low s.: late C. 19–20. MacArthur & Long. Cf. the S.E. sense.—2. See battle.—3. A prostitute working independently of brothel or ponce: Australian c.: since ca. 1925. (B., 1953.)—4. A variant of battle waggon, 1: Naval: since ca. 1930. (P-G-R.)

[battlin(g) finch is j.—unrecorded by O.E.D.—not s. nor coll. See B. & L.]

batty, n.—2. A batman or batwoman: Services: since ca. 1925. H. & P.

batty-fagging. A thrashing: smugglers': C 19. John Davidson, Baptist Lake, 1896. Cf. batty-fang in Dict.

baulk at (p. 38) goes further back by a hundred years; it occurs in W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints, 1829. 'Such . . . was the redoubted wight . . . As he never baulked at anything, he assumed a familiarity of manner and tone . . .' (Moe.)

bawl out. To upbraid vigorously: Canadian coll.: adopted from U.S. ca. 1910. (Leechman.) Hence a bawling-out.

Bay, the.—2. The orig. form of Babsky (Dict.) was the Bay of Biscay, often abbr. to the Bay.—3. Long Bay Gaol, Sydney: Australian coll.: C. 20. B., 1942.—4. The Hudson's Bay Company; its stores; a specific store: Canadian coll.: since ca. 1860 (?). Leechman.—5. Botany Bay: Aus. coll.: early and mid C. 19. (B., 1959.)

bay, the. The sick-bay: Naval coll.: mid-C. 19–20. Hence, bay man, a sick-bay attendant: Naval coll.: late C. 19–20.

bay-window, adj. Smart, fashionable: lower-middle class: since ca. 1910. (S. P. B. Mais, Caper Sauce, 1948.)

Bays, or Baze, the. The Bayswater Road (London, W.2): low s., and c.: C. 20. Norman.

bazaar.—2. a public-house bar: rhyming s.: late C. 19–20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

bazooka. See high, adj., 5, below.

be a devil! or Oh, come on, be a devil! A merry invitation to be generous or mildly audacious, as in 'Oh, come on, Billy! Be a devil and buy yourself a beer' or 'Be a devil—or a real devil—Joe, and kiss the girl': since ca. 1945. This expresses a thought pattern; cf. the idea in "'Come on, have another tomato juice," Ron invited. "Live it up": Lilian Jackson Braun, The Cat Who Could Read Backwards, 1966.

be a good girl and have a good time! A c.p. addressed to someone—not necessarily female—leaving for a party: Canadian: since ca. 1930. The c.p. answer is 'Well, make up your mind!'

be-damned. See also like a in these Addenda.

be good! (p. 39). The longer form has, since ca. 1945, been often extended to and, if you can't be careful, buy a pram.

be-in. A rally: coll.: since ca. 1966. Daily Colonist (Victoria, B.C.), March 28, 1967, 'In Vancouver, some 1,000 "hippies" turned out over the week-end in what they called the first be-in in Canada.'

be my guest. A c.p. addressed to someone wishing to borrow something not valuable enough to be worth returning: since ca. 1950.

be on. To watch; to look at (someone) and see, or understand, what he is doing: Aus.: since ca. 1930. Nino Culotta, Cop This Lot, 1960, 'The barman . . . pointed to us. "Be on 'im," Joe said. "Dobbin' us in."'

be your age! Stop being childish!; Use your intelligence!: a c.p. adopted from U.S. in ca. 1936.

beach, take the. To go ashore: Naval: late C. 19–20: 'Taffrail', The Sub, 1917.

beach, the. Land as opposed to sea: Services: since ca. 1939: H. & P.

beach-bash, whence the n. beach-bashing. To lie on the sand, esp. nocturnally and amorously: Australian servicemen's: 1939–45. (B., Australia Speaks, 1953.)

beach bunny. A usually non-surfing girl addicted to watching the surfers surfing: Australian surfers', esp. teenagers': since ca. 1960. Also called a femlin, a female gremlin. Regarded as a hanger-on. (B.P.)

beachcomber. See beach-comber (Dict.), of which it is the usual C. 20 form and of which an earlier record is E. J. Wakefield, Adventure, 1845. —5. A white man living with an Eskimo woman: Canadian Arctic: heard, there, by Dr Douglas Leechman in 1913; by 1960, slightly ob.

beacher. A quick 'run ashore': Naval: since ca. 1920. (P-G-R.)

beacon. A red nose: mostly Cockneys': from ca. 1890. Cf. danger light and strawberry, 2.

beagle. A steward: Australian Naval: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)

beak, n., 2. Also at Harrow and Rugby.

Beaky, n. Nickname for any person, esp. a man, with a big, sharp nose: Cockney: mid-C. 19–20. A. Neil Lyons, Arthur's, 1908.

beam, off the; on the beam. Failing to understand; fully understanding: R.A.F.: since ca. 1938; by 1943 also civilian. Ex that wireless beam which, in bad visibility, guided one to the airfield.

beam-ends (p. 39) occurs esp. in on his beam-ends and as early as in John Davis, The Post-Captain, 1806. (Moe.)

beamer. A fast, esp. a very fast, ball so delivered by the intimidatory bowler that it bounces head-high and causes, or should cause, the batsman to duck: cricketers': since ca. 1956. 'Right on the beam'; form suggested by seamer.

bean, n.—5. The penis: low: late C. 19–20. Ex the glans penis?

bean, v. To hit (someone) on the head: since ca. 1916. Vernon Loder, Choose your Weapons, 1937. Ex bean, n., 2 (Dict.).

beanie. 'A tight-fitting cap, often made from the crown of an old felt hat. The edge is cut, by the exhibitionists, into a zig-zag. Worn by adolescents' (Leechman): Canadian: since ca. 1946(?). Perhaps because it fits as snug as a bean-pod does the beans; also, there is a reference to s. bean, the head.

beano.—3. Communion: Cheltenham: since ca. 1915. Marples.—4. A bayonet: Shrewsbury: 1938+. Marples.

beans, give (p. 39). Prob. from the phrase cited as ash beans.

bear a fist. To bear a hand, to help: nautical coll. (—1806); † by 1890. John Davis, The Post-Captain, 1806. (Moe.)

bear fight. A rough and tumble in good part: Society coll.: from ca. 1880. B. & L.

bear pit; beerage; brickyard. Steerage: ships' stewards': C. 20. Dave Marlowe, Coming Sirl, 1937.

bearded lady, the. A searchlight with diffused beams: since 1939. Berrey, 1940.

beardie. Any man with beard or long hair: Australian coll.: C. 20.—2. A ling: Aus. fishermen's: C. 20. Nino Culotta, Gone Fishin', 1963.

beardy. A male beatnik: since ca. 1959. (Anderson.)

bearings. The stomach: Australian: C. 20. (B., 1943.)

beast. A girl; a young lady: beatniks': since ca. 1960. (Anderson.)

beast with two backs, make the (p. 40), was originally, it would seem, a translation of Rabelais's faire la bête à deux dos.

beastly (p. 40) prob. goes back to very early C. 19. It occurs in, e.g., W. N. Glascock, Sketch-Book, 2nd Series, 1834, at II, 183, ' . . . beastly bad Buccalow [salt-fish]'. Moe.

beastly, the. The time: Public Schools' and Universities': ca. 1880–1918. (Ernest Raymond, Tell England, 1922.)

beat, n.—4. A shortening of Beatnik: since late 1950's. Rachel & Verily Anderson, 'Square's Guide to the Beats'—in The Housewife, May 1961.

beat, the. The musical rhythms of jazz: Canadian jazz-musicians' and -lovers' coll.: adopted, ca. 1950, ex U.S. The (Victoria) Daily Colonist, April 16, 1959, article 'Basic Beatnik', speaks of 'the Beat fraternity'. (Cf. Norman D. Hinton, article 'Language of Jazz Musicians', in The American Dialect Society, Nov. 1958.) The term is a specialisation of the conventional musical sense of beat. Cf. Beatnik.

beat daddy-mammy (p. 41). 'This is still used in U.S. among people learning to play the drum. They actually say these words while they practise with small drumsticks on a pillow' (Alexander McQueen, July 3, 1953).

beat it (p. 41) has, in Canadian usage and since the late 1950's, sometimes been elaborated as put an egg in your hat and beat it! (Douglas Leechman records having heard it on Dec. 25, 1961.)

beat it upon the hoof. To walk; to tramp: c.:

ca. 1680–1760. Anon., The Post Boy robbed . . ., 1706.

beat on, have a. To have an erection: low: C. 20. Cf. bar, have a.

beat one's gums. To be loquacious: Canadian: adopted, ca. 1945, ex U.S.

beat-out. Exhausted: coll.: 1860, H., 2nd ed.; † by 1910.

beat the bag, or pants, off. To defeat ignominiously: since ca. 1920.

beat the clock; occ., beat the gong. To cease duty before the prescribed time; Services, esp. the R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. Cf. clock in, etc., on p. 160.

beat the gun. Of a female: to have intercourse with one's fiancé, esp. if she becomes pregnant by him: Australian: since late 1940's. Ex athletics. (B.P.)

beat the tracks. To walk, esp. a long way and over rough ground: Australian coll.: C. 20. Archer Russell, A Tramp Royal in Wild Australia, 1934.

beat-up, n. Ground strafing; hence a lively visit to 'the local' or a good party in the Mess: R.A.F.: since 1940. H. & P. From U.S.; imm. ex:—

beat up, v. 'To stunt-fly, at low level, about (a place)': Partridge, 1945. R.A.F.: since 1940. Adopted from American fliers.

beat up for one's brass-hat. (Of a Lieutenant-Commander, R.N.) to seek promotion to Commander: Naval: C. 20. (P.G.R.)

beat up one's chops. See Jive.

beaten at the post. 'Men going on leave would get down to Boulogne [or Calais] and even across the Channel when word would come that all leave had been cancelled and that they were to return to units' (A. B. Petch, April 1966): coll. and s., resp.: W.W. I. Prompted by racing's beaten, or pipped, at the post. Not, by the way, unheard in W.W. II. See also pipped on (or at) the post, below.

beater.—2. Earlier: prob. from ca. 1860. Abbr. dew-beaters (Dict.).

beating, or lashing, up. 'A Lieutenant-Commander is thought to be beating-up for his "brass-hat" (promotion to Commander) when he becomes particularly "taut-handed" and pays great attention to his job,' Granville: Navy: C. 20. Ex beating up against the wind?

Beatnik. 'Generic term coined by the San Francisco press for members of the Beat fraternity living in North Beach area and abhorred by all Beatniks': article 'Basic Beatnik' (or language of the Beatniks), sub-titled 'A Square's Guide to Hip Talk', in The (Victoria) Daily Colonist, April 16, 1959. Apparently the term arose in 1957 or perhaps in 1956. Ex beat, the, as above + -nik, a pejorative suffix adopted from Yiddish.

beats, the.—4. A debt-shirker: Australian coll.: C. 20.

Beattie and Babs. Body lice: since ca. 1930. Rhyming on crabs. (One of the penalties of a wide and deserved popularity.)

Beatty tilt is a variant of Beatty angle, that at which a cap is worn with a slight tilt to starboard: Naval: since ca. 1915. A characteristic of Earl Beatty.

Beau. A Beaufighter aircraft: R.A.F.: since 1940. Jackson.

beaut. A beauty: Australian: C. 20. (K. S. Prichard, The Black Opal, 1921.) Hence, since

ca. 1920, also an adj., as in 'It's a beaut day'. Cf. the entry on p. 41. Perhaps does not, after all, come from the U.S., but rather, esp. as an Australianism, from Cockney, as in Marjory Hardcastle, Halfpenny Alley, 1913, concerning a young child, "'Ain't 'e a bute!" answered Tilda proudly'.

beautiful and . . . ; or, lovely and . . . A C. 19–20 Cockney synonym of nice and (p. 559) in the sense of 'very'; they also = 'satisfactorily'. Julian Franklyn, in a communication of early 1939, adduces the examples, 'E 'ad 'is barf beautiful an' quick; and so 'e should 'a done, the wa'er was lovely an' 'ot'; 'My neighbour's baby is lovely an' quiet, since I hit it beautiful and hard.'

beautiful but dumb is a Canadian (ex U.S.) c.p., foisted, since ca. 1943, on far too many 'dizzy blondes' less stupid than they seem. (Leechman.)

'I suggest a date rather earlier than 1943, since I remember in early 1940, about the time I was commissioned, a Services' security poster showing a very luscious blonde, surrounded by attentive officers of all three Services; the caption was: "She's not so dumb; careless talk costs lives."

'Regarding "dumb" (p. 248), the queried revival in U.S. as slang is probably a transfusion from S. Ger. "dumm"—stupid. It has been estimated that there are 15 million Ger. immigrants in the Mid-West of the U.S.' (Ramsey Spencer, March 1967.)

beautifuls. In address, Beautiful: feminine: since ca. 1920. Cf. ducks, 2 (Dict.).

beauty! Thank you! = non-cultured Australian, esp. Sydneysiders': since late 1940's. Perhaps beautiful. (B.P.)

beaver, 2 (p. 41), perhaps existed as early as 1907 in England.

Beaver, the. Lord Beaverbrook: journalistic: since ca. 1918. (Sydney Moseley, God Help America!, 1952.)

beaverette. 'A light armoured-car,' H. & P., 1943: military.

beazel. A girl: since ca. 1930 (P. H. Wodehouse). An arbitrary formation—prob. euphemistic for bitch.

becall. To reprimand; abuse; slander: Cockney coll.: from ca. 1880. Clarence Rook, passim.

because the higher the fewer! See 'Cockney catch-phrases . . .'

because why? Why?: illiterate coll.: C. 19–20 (? earlier).

beckets, pockets (cf. p. 41), occurs in John Davis's The Post-Captain, 1806. (Moe.)

bed and breakfast; half a crown; Southend. 26; darts players': C. 20. Resp. ex tariff; '2/6'; fare from London. (The Evening News, July 2, 1937.)—2. bed and breakfast only. A cardboard box container for a parachuted pigeon: R.A.F.: mid-1944–45.

bed and breakfast, take (or get) more than. To share the bed as well as the board of one's landlady or her daughter: Australian: since ca. 1930. (B.P.)

bed-down, n.; bed down, v. A going to bed; to go to bed: Services coll.: since ca. 1920. H. & P. Horses are 'bedded down' for the night.

bed-filling. 'Lying down after dinner to rest and digest': Regular Army's: ca. 1880–1914. B. & L.

bed-house. A house of assignation: low: ca. 1880–1910. Ibid.

bed-launching, n. 'Overturning the bed on the sleeping occupant': Sandhurst coll.: from ca. 1830. Ferryman-Mockler, 1900.

bed-post, in the twinkling of a, goes back rather earlier. (Glascock, Sketch-Book, II, 1826.)

bed-rollers. Youths, or young men, travelling the country during summer and sleeping rough: since ca. 1950. Ex the bed-rolls they carry.

bed-springs. See fish-horn.

bed-tick. The American national flag, the Stars and Stripes: nautical: mid-C. 19-20. Pejorative of the colour-scheme and allusive to the coverings of mattresses. (H. L. Mencken, in The Saturday Review of Literature, April 10, 1937.)

bedbait. See bait, 4, above.

Beddo. A Bedouin: Services' (North Africa): 1940+. (P.G.R.)

beddy-byes. Sleep; beddy-byes!, go to sleep!: nursery: C. 19-20.

Bedford = Bedfordshire (as in Dict.): see wooden hill.

Bedourie shower. See shower, 5, below.

bedworthy. (Of a woman) sexually desirable: upper- and middle-class coll.: since ca. 1925.

bee. A slangy euphemism for bugger: since ca. 1920. (Ngaio Marsh, Swing, Brother, Swing, 1949, 'The old bee'.) But also for bastard.

beech. 'A railway (or station) marked down for closure is said to be "due for beeching"'. A railway (or station) closed is "beeched"; and axed personnel are described as "on the beech" (a pun on on the beach): Sean Fielding, letter to Press, some date in Feb. 1964. Current in late 1963-65, but already ob. so soon as by the end of 1965.

Beecham. A bill (list of performers): theatrical: late C. 19-20. Cf. Beecham's on p. 42.

Beecham's pill. A simpleton; a dupe: Australian c.: since ca. 1920. (B., 1953.) On synonymous dil(l).

Beecham's pills: often shortened to Beechams. Rhyming s. for 'testicles', mispronounced testikills: late C. 19-20. Probably suggested by the synonymous s. pills.

beef. 'An alternative term for the famous "bind" [Dict.], but only applicable to the crime itself, of boring one's colleagues by retailing shop-news and stale information,' H. & P., 1943; Services. Adopted from U.S.—As 'a complaint', beef has been common in Canada since early C. 20.

beef, v. (p. 42). Hence in general use since ca. 1942; in Canada, since ca. 1920.

beef-bag. A shirt: Australian: since ca. 1860; by 1940, ob. 'Tom Collins', Such is Life, 1903.

beef-chit. The Wardroom menu: Navy: since ca. 1920. Granville.

beef-heart.—2. Hence, a breaking of wind: low rhyming s.: C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

beef-screen, the. The meat stores: Navy: since ca. 1920. (Wilfred Granville, letter of Jan. 7, 1947.) Ex the screen to keep the flies off?

beef to the heels. 'A derisive description of a girl's thick ankles, which run from calf to heel in one sad, straight line' (Leechman): Canadian: since ca. 1910. Cf. Mullingar heifer (Dict.).

beefcake. See cheesecake.

beefment, on the. It dates from ca. 1880. B. & L.

beefsteak. A harlot in the service of a pimp: white-slavers' c.: C. 20. A. Londres, 1928.

beehive. A fighter-escorted close formation of bombers: R.A.F.: since 1940. H. & P. The box-like formation of bombers is the hive, and the fighters buzz around it.—2. Five; esp., £5: since ca. 1920: c. >, by 1940, s. Rhyming. (Robin Cook, The Crust on Its Uppers, 1962.)

been robbing a bank? A c.p., addressed jocularly to a person in funds: C. 20.

beer, v. (p. 43). Current in Australia ca. 1860-1900. Sidney J. Baker, in letter of 1946.

beer barrel. A Brewster 'Buffalo' aircraft: R.A.F.: ca. 1941-45. Jackson.

beer-beer. A balloon barrage: since 1939. H. & P. Ex signalese: cf. ack ack.

beer-bottle label or simply beer label. Coat-of-arms on Warrant-Officer's sleeve: R.A.F.: since ca. 1930, ob. by 1950.

beer, bum and bacca. The reputed pleasures of a sailor's life: c.p.: C. 20. Clearly bum = normal sexual intercourse: cf. bot, work one's, below.

beer is best is a c.p. arising in 1936 ex the brewers' slogan. The Pawnshop Murder: 'Sterling blokes these, all of whom agreed . . . with Mr Pennington that, in moments of relaxation, Beer is Best.'

beer-lever. 'Part of the controls of an aircraft,' H. & P.: R.A.F.: since 1930. Cf. synonymous joy stick (Dict.).

beer-off. A public-house off-licence department: coll.: C. 20. The Nottingham Journal, March 15, 1939, 'Children and beer-off' (caption).

beer to-day, gone to-morrow. A c.p. of 1941+. Parody of 'here to-day (and) gone to-morrow'.

beer-up. A drinking bout: Australian coll.: C. 20. B., 1942.

beverage. See bear-pit.

bees. Money: late C. 19-20. Short for bees and honey (Dict.).

beetle, n. A Volkswagen car: Australian: since ca. 1955. Ex shape. (B.P.)

beetle, v. Togo; to fly: R.A.F.: since ca. 1939. Jackson: 'So we beetled back to base' or 'Let's beetle off to the coast': Wodehousian term.

beetle bait. Treacle: Australian soldiers': 1914+. Baker.

beetle juice. Betelgeux—a star used in astral observation: R.A.F. aircrews': since 1938. Jackson. By folk etymology.

beezee.—2. 'Chap'; fellow: Public Schoolboys': from ca. 1920. Nicholas Blake, A Question of Proof, 1935. Prob. ex bugger + geezer.—3. (Capital B.) B.S.A. motor-car: since ca. 1920, esp. at Cambridge.

beezee, adj. Excellent: most attractive: since ca. 1935. Ex bonzee?

before breakfast. See breakfast . . .

before-time. Formerly, previously, of old: pidgin: from ca. 1860. B. & L.

beg yer pardon. A garden: rhyming s.: late C. 19-20.

beg your pudding (or pudden)! I beg your pardon: lower-middle-class jocular: from ca. 1890.

beg yours! I beg your pardon: Australian coll.: since ca. 1920. (B.P.)

Begats, the (or italicised or 'quoted'). The Book of Genesis: middle-class: since ca. 1870.

beggar boy's ass.—2. Money: rhyming s. (on brass): late C. 19-20. Franklyn, Rhyming.

beggar for work, a. A constant hard worker: coll.: late C. 19-20. Also he (or she) deserves a medal: c.p.: since ca. 1915.

beggar my neighbour, on the. On the Labour (Exchange)—drawing unemployment benefit therefrom: rhyming s.: since ca. 1925. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

beggar on the coals. A small damper: New Zealand and Australian: ca. 1850–1900. B., 1941. Also bugger . . .

beggar (or, more often bugger) one's contract. To spoil something: render it useless or nugatory: Army, 1914–18.

begnet. A Scottish shape of bagonet (p. 26). Regular Army: C. 19–20.

begum. A rich widow: Anglo-Indian: mid-C. 19–20; ob. B. & L. A derivation from the S.E. sense, a lady of royal or other high rank in Hindustan.

behave is short and coll. for behave yourself (p. 45): since ca. 1870. Mostly nursery ('Behave, miss, or I'll smack you') and lower-class.

behind like Barney's bull, all. See Barney's bull.

behind the behind. A semi-coll., semi-c.p., reference to sodomy: since ca. 1930.

behind the eight-ball. In an extremely difficult position; at a grave disadvantage: Canadian: adopted, ca. 1945, from U.S. Ex snooker. By 1960, also English. (Wallace Reyburn, article in colour section of The Sunday Times, July 8, 1962.)

bejan (p. 45). An early form of Fr. bec jaune, an ignorant person, was béjaune.

belay.—3. To cancel, as in 'Belay that last order!': Naval: C. 20. Granville. Ex sense 2.

belcher, 1 (p. 45) occurs earlier in The Port Folio, May 16, 1807, at p. 310, and Oct. 17, 1807, at p. 247. (Moe.)

belfa. See 'Harlots'. Origin?

believe. Belief: sol.: late C. 19–20. Henry Wade, Heir Presumptive, 1935. 'T's my believe that she's looking for a shop.'

believe (you) me! A conventional, vaguely emphatic c.p.: C. 20.

Belinda. 'A frequent nickname for barrage balloons' (P-G-R.): Services' (esp. Army): 1940–45.

bell, warm the. To put the clock on or relieve the watch early: Naval: C. 20. 'Taffrail', The Sub, 1917; Granville.

Bell and Horns. 'Brompton Road cab-shelter is the "Bell and Horns" and Kensington High Street shelter "All Nations" . . . I think named after forgotten pubs,' Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939: taxicab drivers': since ca. 1920.

bell-topper. Current in New Zealand as early as 1853 (B., 1941).

bellier. A punch to the belly: pugilistic coll.: ca. 1810–1930. Boxiana, III, 1821.

bellowdrama. Melodrama: jocular coll.: late C. 19–20. Rhyming.

bellows.—2; belt, n.—2; belt tinker. A very roughly made garment: tailors': from ca. 1870.

bells. Bell-bottomed trousers: Naval (lower-deck) coll.: C. 20. (P-G-R.)

belly. Underside of the fuselage of an aircraft: R.A.F.: since ca. 1925; by 1940, coll. and by 1945, j. Here the 'plane is soft, least protected, most vulnerable.—2. 'Wool shorn from a sheep's belly' (B., 1959): Aus. rural coll.: late C. 19–20.

belly-bumper (p. 46). 'In an old collection of dances and tunes in my library, printed about 1703, one of the dances is entitled The Maiden's Blush, or Bump her Belly. It is to be danced "long way, for as many as will". A sort of Roger de Coverley affair, with a romping lilt,' Alexander McQueen, July 3, 1953.

belly button. Navel: lowish: mid-C. 19–20.

belly-button is playing hell with my backbone, my I'm damned hungry: c.p., mostly lower-middle class: since ca. 1910.

belly-buster. A bad fall = a clumsy dive into water: Australian coll.: late C. 19–20.—2. Specifically, a dive in which the entire front of the body hits the water at the same time: late C. 19–20.

belly flop (or flopper or flapper, a dive wherein one falls on one's belly: coll.: since ca. 1870) is, 2, the still-slang variant (since ca. 1930) of belly landing. Partridge, 1945.

belly-flopping. Sense 1 was used at Bisley before 1914–18 'to indicate the manœuvre of taking running aim at a target and "bellyflopping" for the purpose of cover as one draws nearer one's objective' (The Sunday Times, Johannesburg, May 23, 1937). These nuances drive ex belly-flopping, bad diving: swimming coll.: from ca. 1880.

belly-go-round. A belt: St Bees: 1915+. Marples, 'Suggested by merry-go-round'.

belly-grunting. A severe stomach-ache: Australian: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.)

belly landing. 'A landing with the under-carriage up, when it is impossible to get the wheels of the 'plane down,' H. & P.: R.A.F.: since ca. 1918; by 1945, official j. Ex belly-flopping.

belly like a poisoned pup's, have a. To be pot-bellied: C. 20. (T. Washington-Metcalf, 1932.)

belly muster. Medical inspection: Royal Naval College, Dartmouth: C. 20. Granville.

belly-up (Dict.) is still extant, though ob.

belly up! belly up to the bar, boys! 'Drinks on the house!' Canadian c.p.: C. 20. (Leechman.)

Belsen. An army camp, if discipline were strict: Army: 1943–45. (P-G-R.) 'May I cast doubt on the date 1943? It was not until this notorious camp was overrun in 1945 that the name became current. I doubt if many Britons had heard of the place before then, and so the famous news-reels of its horrors made a tremendous impression.' (Ramsey Spencer, 1967.)

belt, n.—2. A copulation: low: late C. 19–20.—3. A prostitute: low Aus.: since ca. 1925. (B., The Drum, 1959.) Cf. endless belt and belt, v.

belt, v. (Of the male) to coit with: low: mid-C. 19–20. Cf. synonymous bang (Dict.). Hence n.

belt, get the. To be jilted: low: since ca. 1925. Complementary to belt, give the (p. 46).

belt, give a. To thrash; to overcome, to defeat: Australian: since ca. 1910. Dymphna Cusack, Southern Steel, 1953, 'Must have given eighty a belt' (be past his eightieth year). Cf. the n. belt (p. 46).

belt, (have) under the. To have one's credit: Australian: since ca. 1930. Ex a good meal eaten. (B.P.)

belt along. To rush along; to travel very fast: mostly teenagers': since ca. 1945. Perhaps cf. belting, 2 (p. 46).

belt one's batter. To coit with a woman: low: C. 20. But also, to masturbate, with synonym pull one's pad.

belt up! Shut up!: R.A.F.: since ca. 1937. After ca. 1950, also office- and shop-girls'. (Gilderdale.) Ex tightening one's belt. By 1960 a fairly, and by late 1966 an entirely, general phrase.—2. To thrash with a belt; hence, to 'beat up' (someone): Australian: since ca. 1925. (Dick.)

Belvedere. A handsome fellow: Londoners': ca. 1880–1905. B. & L. Ex Apollo Belvedere.

Belyando spew. 'A rural sickness' (B. 1959): Aus.: late C. 19–early 20.

bembow. Variant of bumbo, 2 (Dict.). 'A Swaker of Bembow a piece,' Sessions, June 28–July 1, 1738, trial of Alice Gibson.

Bems, the. The B.E.M.s, or bug-eyed monsters of science-fiction writers: since ca. 1960. Patrick Moore, Survey of the Moon, 1965.

ben, n.—5. 'The "bens" or lockers' (W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints, 1829): Naval: ca. 1805–50. (Moe). Ex S.E. ben, an inner room.

Ben Flake (p. 47). Obsolete since ca. 1910.

bencher.—2. See 'Tavern terms', § 3, d.

bend, n. An appointment: a rendezvous: Anglo-Irish: C. 20. 'He has a bend with a filly'; 'I must make a bend with the doctor.' Ex the slight bow made at the meeting.—2. A drunken bout: C. 20. James Joyce, Ulysses, 'I was with Bob Doran, he's on one of his periodical bends.'

bend, v.—2. To deflect a result from the straight by deliberately losing a match: Association footballers': since ca. 1950. In the English popular newspapers of October 1960 there was much talk of players 'bending matches' and of 'matches being bent'.

bend an ear! Listen to this!; pay attention: Air Force: 1939+. Punning on lend an ear.

bend down for. To submit to effeminatio: euphemistic coll.: late C. 19–20.

bend one's back. To work hard: Australian coll.: C. 20. (Vance Palmer, Separate Lives, 1931.)

bend one's (or the) elbow too much. To drink to excess: since ca. 1905: coll., by 1940, familiar S.E.

bend over backwards. To try very hard, as in 'You needn't bend over backwards to please the children': since the late 1920's.

bend to. See bend (Dict.).

bended knees. Cheese: rhyming s., mainly theatrical: C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

bender.—8. A lazy tramp: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.—9. A cigarette: R.A.F.: since ca. 1938. Ex the frequently crumpled packets.—10. Such a squad instructor as gave his squad a hard time: Army: since ca. 1939. (P-G-R.)

bender, spin a. To tell a tall story: Naval: late C. 19–20. Granville. See bender, 7 (p. 47).

benders, on one's. 'Weary, not picking one's feet up' (Jackson): R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. Lit., on one's knees: cf. senses 2, 3 of bender (p. 47).

bending drill. 'Defecation in the open': Army in North Africa: 1940–43. (Peter Sanders in The Sunday Times magazine, Sept. 10, 1967.) 'Also "going for a walk with a spade".'

bends, the.—2. 'The "bends" and acute alcoholism are very much alike in effect . . . [The former comes] from working in a tunnel under terrific air pressure. "Bends" are one of the snags compressed air workers—or "sand hogs"—encounter,' Answers, Feb. 10, 1940.

bene flake in B. & L. is an error for bene feaker (Dict.).

Bengal Lancers. Toughs armed with razor-blades and addicted to assault with robbery:

Australian: since ca. 1930. B., 1942. (See Underworld.)

Benghazi cooker; occ. duke's stove. Sand saturated with oil, a paste of sand and oil, within a tin or can or metal drum; used as a field cooker in North Africa: 1940–3.

Benghazi Handicap, the. 'The confusion that was the retreat to Tobruk in 1941—we always called it the Benghazi Handicap—has rarely been equalled,' Lawson Glassop, We Were the Rats, 1944: 7th Aus. Inf. Division's name for it: 1941+. Back from Benghazi, Glassop refers, ibid., to it as also The Benghazi Derby. The forward movements were known as Benghazi Stakes, (P-G-R.)

bengo. See 'Prisoner-of-War Slang', 7.

benny. Benzedrine, esp. when taken as a drug: mostly teenagers': adopted, ca. 1950, ex U.S. It is a mild stimulant and comparatively cheap. Also see 'Minor Drugs'.

benny, have a. (Unwittingly) to wet one's bed at night: military (not officers)': from ca. 1890. Richards. Origin? Perhaps benny = Benjamin, a little one; the minor contrasted with the major physical need.

bent, n. A male pervert: low: since ca. 1945. (Angus Wilson, A Bit off the Map, 1957.)

bent.—2. (Of a person) crooked, criminal; (of a thing) stolen: c.: from ca. 1905.—3. Suffering from 'the bends' (see bends, the, 1, on p. 47): divers' (pearl or skin or other): since ca. 1945. 'He is bent, poor bugger!'—4. See flatter.

bent, go. To turn criminal; (of things) to get stolen: c.: since ca. 1910.—2. Hence, (esp. of a girl) to become faithless: prison c.: since ca. 1920. (Norman.)

ber-lud; ber-luddy. Jocular intensives of blood, bloody: late C. 19–20. Ex mock horror.

berge. A spy-glass or telescope: Naval: ca. 1810–60. Captain Glascock, Land Sharks and Sea Gulls, 1838. Ex a proper name?

bergoo. See burgoo (Dict.).

berk. Short (—1939) for:—

Berkeley.—3. (Ex 1.) A fool: low: since ca. 1930. Axel Bracey, Flower on Loyalty, 1940. Cf. cunt, silly (p. 198).

berker. A brothel: Army in North Africa (1939–45). Ex the ill-famed street of Cairo: the Sharia el Berker. (P-G-R.)

Berkshire Hunt. The female pudend: rhyming s.: ? mid-C. 19–20. Franklyn, Rhyming, believes it to form the original of the synonymous Berkeley Hunt (p. 48) and the Berkeley form to be accidental.

berley. Variant spelling of burley. (B., 1943.)

Bernardo. Bernard Darwin (b. 1876), golfer and delightful writer: golfers' and cricketers': C. 20. Sir Home Gordon, The Background of Cricket, 1939. With a pun on Dr Bernardo's Homes.

besom, drunk as a. See drunk as a besom.

best burned (or burnt) pea. Coffee: Naval officers': 1834, W. N. Glascock, Sketch-Book, 2nd Series 1834, at II, 175. (Moe.) Ex a coffee-bean's resemblance to a burnt pea.

best, give in. See give in best.

best of British luck to you!, the. An ironic c.p., meaning exactly the opposite: since ca. 1944: orig. Army, but by 1955 fairly, and by 1960 quite, general.

bester.—2. A fraudulent bookmaker: Australian: since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.)

bet a pound . . . See I wouldn't bet . . .

bet both ways. To back a horse for a win, also for a place in the first three: C. 20: turf s. >, by 1920, coll.; now verging on j. Hence both ways is used as adj. and adv. of such a bet.

bet like the Watsons. To bet heavily on horses: Australian racing coll.: since ca. 1925. (Lawson Glassop, 1949.) Ex some famous investors of that name.

bet on the blue, with rhyming variant bet on the Mary Lou. To bet 'on the nod', i.e. on credit: Australian racing: since ca. 1920 and ca. 1930. (Lawson Glassop, Lucky Palmer, 1949.) Ex 'in the blue ink' as opposed to 'in the red ink'.

bet on the coat. To lodge a dummy bet with a bookmaker as an inducement for others to bet: Australian sporting: since ca. 1925. (Lawson Glassop, Lucky Palmer, 1949.)

bet one's eyes. To watch a contest without laying a wager: Australian sporting: C. 20. B., 1942.

beteeshoot. See banchoot.

better, v.—2. To re-lock (a door): c. of ca. 1810–50. Egan's Grose, 1823. Ex betty, a pick-lock.

better for your asking, no or none the; or never the better for you. A c.p.: the 1st, late C. 19–20; the 2nd, late C. 18–20, but slightly ob. by 1960; the 3rd, late C. 17–18, occurring in, e.g., Swift, Polite Conversation, 1738.

better pickers than fighters, often preceded by they're. 'Used in reference to the type of soldier who frequented the French brothels whenever he had money' (A. B. Petch, March 1966): W.W. I.

better than a dig in the eye . . . (Dict.). Also and preferably, better than a poke in the eye with a sharp stick.

better than a drowned policeman (Dict.). Also and—at least at Cambridge—earlier, better than sleeping with a dead policeman.

better than a kick in the ass with a frozen boot. A Canadian c.p.: C. 20. Cf. the entries immediately preceding and following this one.

better than a slap in the belly with a wet fish. A naval c.p. of the same sense as better than a dig . . .: from ca. 1890.

bettors-off. 'Our betters': the well-to-do: coll.: since ca. 1925. Berta Ruck, Pennies from Heaven, 1940.

betting on the black. See black-marketeer.

Betty Lea (or Lee). Tea: rhyming s.: a C. 20 variant of (Rosie or) Rosy Lea (or Lee) on p. 707. First (?) recorded by the late John Lardner in Newsweek, Nov. 21, 1949.

between-agers. Children aged 10–12: coll.: since ca. 1962. After teenagers.

between the flags is a coll. phrase applied to steeplechase riding: sporting: from ca. 1860.

between the two W's. See W's.

bev. A shortening of bevy (p. 50); cf. bevali below. All three occur on p. 8 of Sydney Lester's Vardi the Palarey, (?) 1937.

bevali is an occ. variant (from ca. 1885) of bevie, n., 2 (Dict.). B. & L.

Beveridge. The social-insurance scheme of Sir William Beveridge: coll.: 1945 +.

bevie (or bevy) casey. A public-house: mid-C. 19–20. News of the World, Aug. 28, 1938. Lit., a beer-house; therefore cf. bevie (p. 56) and casa (p. 130).

bevie-homey (p. 50). Sense 2 is the earlier: probably mid-C. 19–20.

bevor. A wedge of bread obtainable between dinner and supper: Charterhouse (school): late C. 17–19. Probably cf. bever, 1 (p. 49).

bewer (Dict.) derives, says Leland, ex Shelta.

Bexley Heath. Teeth: rhyming s.: late C. 19–20. (Sydney Lester.) Sometimes shortened to Bexleys.

beyonek. An occ. C. 20 form of bianc (p. 50).

bi. Biology; also attributively, as in bi lab: medical students': C. 20.

biargered. A C. 20 variant of beargered (p. 40)—and still widely used in 1937 (Sydney Lester).

bib in, push or put or stick one's. To busybody, to interfere: Aus.: since late 1940's. The Drum, 1959.

Bible, the. A Service Manual: Naval: C. 20. Granville.—2. Hence (?), 'the "book of words" about any particular subject' (Granville): Naval: since ca. 1925. Also the Child's Guide.—3. The Railway Rule Book: railwaymen's: since ca. 1920. (Railway.)

Bible bosun, the. A ship's chaplain, or even the Chaplain of the Fleet: Naval: since ca. 1910. (John Winton, H.M.S. Leviathan, 1967.) Cf. sin bosun below.

Bible-puncher. A chaplain: Army and Navy (C. 20) >, ca. 1935, also R.A.F. Cf. Bible-pounder (p. 50).—2. Hence, a pious airman: R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. Jackson. Cf. Bible-thumper (p. 50).

bibler.—2. One's Bible oath: low: ca. 1815–1900. History of George Godfrey, 1828.

Biblical neckline. A low neckline: Australian raffish: since ca. 1946; by 1965, ob. 'Lo and behold!' (B.P.)

biblio. A bibliographical note (usually on the reverse of the title-page) in a book: book-world coll.: since ca. 1920.

bicarb. Bicarbonate of soda: coll.: late C. 19–20.

bickey or bikky. Biscuit: nursery and domestic coll.: from ca. 1870. Blaker.

bice or byce. £2: c., and low: C. 20. Cf. Fr. bis, twice.

bicycle. A prostitute: low, esp. teenagers': since ca. 1940. Something often 'ridden': cf. town bike below.

bicycle bum. A seasonal worker that cycles from job to job: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942.

bicycle(-)face. A strained expression caused by nervous tension in traffic: coll., esp. among motorists and cyclists: since ca. 1942. Cycling, Sept. 11, 1946.

biddy, n.—5. A (female) schoolteacher: Australian children's: since ca. 1925. Baker.

bidgee. Good: Australian pidgin: C. 19–20. John Lang, The Forger's Wife, 1855.

Bidgee, the. Murrumbidgee River—or region: Australian coll.: since ca. 1860.—2. Hence (?), bidgee, a drink consisting mainly of methylated spirits: Australian low: since ca. 1920. Baker.

bif. A Bristol Fighter ('plane used in 1916–18): ca. 1916–20, then ob. Jackson.

Biff. A frequent nickname for a Smith: C. 20. It rhymes with the Cockney pronunciation: Smiff.

biff, v., 3. Also biff off, go off, depart. E.g. in Ian Hay, Housemaster, 1934. n. and v.—4. Short for biffin (Dict.), friend, mate: since ca. 1945.

biff-up. Smartness on parade: Services', esp. Army: since ca. 1925. (P-G-R.)

biffer. A signal-exercise in morse or semaphore: Naval: since ca. 1910. (Granville.)

biffs. A caning or a strapping: Australian schoolboys': since ca. 1920. B., 1942. Ex biff, 1 (Dict.).

biffy, n. A water-closet, esp. if a backyard privy: Canadian: C. 20.

biffy, 1, adj. Drunk. C. 20. Perhaps a perverted blend of tipsy + squiffy, or of bosky + squiffy.

big bad wolf. A threatening or sinister person: coll.: since ca. 1935. Ex a popular song.

big(-)ballocks. A self-important man: low (-1954).

Big Ben (p. 51). As the 'clock' the term is a loose derivative: originally and still strictly, the bell there.—2. Ten: rhymings: C. 20.—3. Hence, esp. the sum of ten pounds. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

Big Bertha.—2. 'Banking engine at Lickey Incline. Now withdrawn' (Railway, 3rd): railwaymen's: ? ca. 1950-64.

big blow. A hurricane: Australian fishermen's and sailors' coll.: C. 20. (Jean Devanney, By Tropic Sea and Jungle, 1944.)

big cats, the. See cat, n., 12.

big cheese, the. 'The boss': Canadian: C. 20; by 1959, slightly ob. (Leechman.)

Big City, the. Berlin: R.A.F.'s Bomber Command: 1941+. Ex the coll. English sense 'London'.

big conk, big cock (or cunt). A c.p. that—verging upon the status of a proverb—implies that the possession of a large nose entails also that of a large sexual member or part: low. late (? mid-) C. 19-20.

big deal! A contemptuous c.p., applied to a plan or a deal worthy only of contempt: Canadian: since ca. 1945. (Leechman.) Also, since middle 1940's, Australian, with variant (since ca. 1950) big thrill!, applied rather to a personal service than to a commercial proposition. (B.P.)

big dig.—2. The Big Dig is the cutting of the Panama Canal, ca. 1904-13; engineers' (and Americans'): since ca. 1905; since ca. 1915, merely historical in Britain. Cf. dig, n., 5.

big dish, the. A big win: Australian race-tracks' and two-up players': since ca. 1930. (Lawson Glassop, Lucky Palmer, 1949.)

big dog with a brass collar, the. The most important person in a business: ca. 1880-1910. B. & L.

big drink.—3. A heavy fall of rain: Australian: since ca. 1910. Baker.

big eats. A good meal: Services: since ca. 1925. H. & P.—2. See 'Prisoner-of-War Slang', para 1.

big end; big-end bearing. The human posterior: Australian: esp. mechanics': since ca. 1930. (B.P.)

big fellow. Big, large; much: Australian pidgin: mid-C. 19-20. E.g. 'big fellow water'. B. & L.

big front. (A fellow with) new or good clothes: Canadian carnivals: since ca. 1910.

big gates, the. Prison (generic); a prison: c.: late C. 19-20.

big gun (Dict.) seems to have been anglicised before 1897.—2. A large surf-board, for use in heavy surf: Australian surfers': since ca. 1960. (B.P.)

big head.—2. A conceited fellow: since ca. 1940. Cf. the U.S. coll. sense, 'conceit; egotism'.

big hit. To defecate: Australian rhyming s. (on shit): since ca. 1920. Franklyn, Rhyming.

big house, the.—2. Penitentiary or prison: Canadian: since ca. 1925; also in Britain since ca. 1935. Ex U.S.

Big Lizzie is recorded by 'Taffrail'. Also Lizzie.

big man, big prick—little man, all prick. A tribute to virility, in lit. sense; fig, 'apostrophizing dolts, dupes or dunderheads' (Laurie Atkinson, Sept. 11, 1967): c.p.: C. 20.

big noise.—2. Hence, a 4,000-lb. bomb: R.A.F.: late 1941-42. Cf. block-buster.—3. As an extension of sense 1 (p. 51), the big noise = 'the boss': Canadian (-1910), hence English (-1918). Leechman.

big-note. To speak highly of; to exaggerate the worth of: Australian: since ca. 1935. (Cf. the quotation at bust below.)

Big O, the. H.M.C.S. Ontario (scrapped in 1959): Canadian Naval: since ca. 1939 (?). Leechman.

big on, esp. very . . . (Very) keen on; Australian: since ca. 1940. (B.P.)

big shit. A c.p. of derision, directed at someone called 'a big shot': since ca. 1910.

big shot has, since 1935 in England, been, as from much earlier in U.S., applied also to a person successful in any big way.

big side (p. 51)—now mostly written bigside—derives rather ex 'the fact that early games of Rugby football were played with sides of any numbers, often the whole school participating': D. F. Wharton, who left Rugby School in 1965 and who adds 'The term is still in use' and, concerning big-side run, notes that 'These are no longer run'.

Big Smoke, the.—2. Sydney: Australian, esp. N.S.W.: since ca. 1919. (D'Arcy Niland, The Big Smoke, 1959.) Ex smoke, 2, on pp. 788-9.

Big Snarl (or Stoush), the. The War of 1914-18. Australian soldiers': 1919+. B., 1942.

big stuff.—2. Heavy vehicles, e.g. tanks: Army: since ca. 1930. (P-G-R.)—3. In the Navy, a battleship or an aircraft carrier; or collectively: since ca. 1939 (ibid.)—4. In the Air Force, heavy bombs: since ca. 1941 (ibid.)—5. In all three Services, Very Important Persons: since ca. 1944 (ibid.).

big time, in the. Operating on a large scale: Australian, adopted, ca. 1945, ex U.S. (B.P.) 'In the old days of vaudeville, "big time" meant the more important circuits . . . Others, less important, were "small time"' (Leechman): Canadian and U.S.

big truck. A nickname for a man generously sexed: Liverpool: C. 20.

big twist. 'An outstanding success, an occasion for the expression of pleasure' (B., The Drum, 1959). Cf. curl the mo below.

big un. See big one (Dict.).

big way, in a. Very much: coll.: since ca. 1935. 'I've had him in a big way'—I can no longer stand him, I've no more use for him. (P-G-R.)

big wig.—2. Esp., a head of a College: Oxford: ca. 1818-60. Spy, 1825.

bigger and better (p. 51) is, in Australia, usually bigger, better and brighter. (B.P.)

bigger the fire, the bigger the fool, the. The more noise, the less sense: Australian c.p.: C. 20. Orig. bushwhackers'. (B.P.)

bigger they are, the harder they fall, the; occasionally the taller they are, the further they fall. A c.p. of defiance and fearlessness towards one's superiors: late C. 19–20; very common in Army of 1914–18. It probably originated in the boxing-booths. (Julian Franklyn.) Usually attributed to Bob Fitzsimmons (1862–1917) before his fight with James J. Jeffries, a much heavier man, on July 25, 1902.

biggy, as in 'Biggy Smith' (Smith major), is a C. 20 Christ's Hospital term. Marples.

bight job. An unpopular officer or N.C.O.: Australian: soldiers': 1919+. B., 1942, 'Might become "shark bait" when the transport is crossing the Great Australian Bight?'

bightie. An Australian spelling of bitey below.

bike, n.—2. Short for town bike below. (B., 1959.) Variant: office bike.

bike or bike it. To cycle: coll.: C. 20. (Miles Franklin, Old Blastres, 1931.)

bike, get off one's. To become annoyed; angry: Australian: since ca. 1930. B., 1942; Lawson Glassop, 1944.

bile yer can! (p. 52) is, in full, awa' an' bile yer can!

bilge. V.i., to talk nonsense: from ca. 1921; very slightly ob. The Pawnshop Murder.

bilge artist. A pointless chatterer or airy-nothinger: Australian: since ca. 1920. Baker.

bilingual. A jocular coll., used since ca. 1944, thus: 'He's bilingual—speaks both English and American.'

bilk, n., 3 (p. 52): earlier, Anon., A Congratulatory Epistle from a Reformed Rake, 1728, at p. 30.

Bill.—2. Inevitable nickname, esp. in the Services, of men surnamed Sikes, Sykes. Ex the character in Dickens's Oliver Twist.

bill, the. "'The Bill" is the Metropolitan Police cab-driver's licence, as distinct from the ordinary County Council driving licence. . . . It is also called the "brief" and the "kite"; but the "bill" is the more common name. It is a large red piece of foolscap (hence "the kite"), well bespattered with legal phrases (hence, I suppose, "the brief")': Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939: taxi-drivers': since 1910.

Bill Arline. See s'elp me . . .

Bill Bailey (Dict.). Ex the late C. 19–early 20 popular song, 'Won't You Come Home, Bill Bailey?'. The cross-ref. on p. 52 should be won't you.

bill fish. 'A waterman who attends the youngest boys in their excursions,' Spy, 1825: Eton: ca. 1815–60.

Bill Jim (p. 52). Current since ca. 1880, as Sidney J. Baker tells me.

bill-o! A note of warning, whether physical or moral: Cockney schoolboys': C. 20. 'Probably a perversion of below!, a cry of warning used in the Navy (and the rigging yards) when men aloft were about to drop something onto the deck—sometimes below, there!' (Julian Franklyn, letter, 1962.)

billabonger. A tramp keeping to the outback, esp. the Northern Territory: Australian coll.: C. 20. (Tom Ronan, Vision Splendid, 1954.)

billed, ppl. adj. Detailed (esp. in orders) for a piece of work; briefed: R.A.F.: 1939+. Jackson. Ex the theatrical billed (to appear).

billy, 3 (see p. 53), is, says Baker, 1941, 'from the Australian aboriginal billa, water',—7. Sense of 'billy-goat' prob. goes back to ca. 1890 or even a decade earlier. It occurs in, e.g., Edward Dyson, The Gold Stealers, 1901.

Billy, the. The Royal William, flag-ship at Spithead: Naval: ca. 1815–30, then historical only. Alfred Barton, The Adventures of Johnny Newcome, 1818. (Moe.)

Billy Blue, 1 (p. 53). Both this and Coachee occur in Captain Glascock's Land Sharks and Sea Gulls, 1838.

Billy Browns, the. The Grenadier Guards: Regular Army: C. 20. Why?

Billy Bunter. See 'Hauliers' Slang'.

billy-bunting, recorded by E.D.D. for 1851, is prob. an error for billy-hunting (Dict.).

Billy Button (p. 53), sense 2. Obsolete since before 1940.

Billy Ducker. A shag cormorant: Welsh coast, esp. fishermen's: late C. 19–20. A ducking bird. (Wilfred Granville.)

Billy Gorman. A foreman; rhyming s.: since ca. 1870. (D. W. Barrett, Navvies, 1880.) Cf. the later—in C. 20, predominant—Joe O'Gorman.

Billy Muggins. A mainly Australian elaboration of muggins, 1 (Dict.): C. 20. B., 1942.

Billy Noodle. A fellow that imagines all the girls to be in love with him: Australian: since ca. 1920. Baker.

billy-o!, go to. Go to the devil!: Australian coll.: C. 20.

billy-o, I will—like. A mild synonym for like hell I will, I certainly won't: since ca. 1910.

Billy Prescott. A C. 20 variant of Charley Prescott (p. 141). Franklyn 2nd.

Billy Ricky. The casual ward at Billericay in Essex: tramps' c.: C. 20. See esp. W. A. Gape, Half a Million Tramps, 1936, pp. 134–5.

Billy Ruffian (p. 53). The Bellerophon of the Napoleonic Wars was, by the seamen, called the Billyruffin: Glascock, Sketch-Book, I, 1825.

Billy Stink. 'A native fire-water which we called Billy Stink. One could get it cheap in the bazaars, and it was a sort of wood-alcohol, I believe, though I never cared to sample it myself. Its effect on most drinkers was terrible': Indian Army: from ca. 1880. Richards.

billycock gang, the. The clergy: navvies': ca. 1870–1910. (D. W. Barrett, 1880.) Ex their hats.

bim. The posteriors: Scottish Public Schools coll.: C. 20. Ian Miller, School Tie, 1935. A thinning of bum.—2. Hence, bottom of the class or in an examination: Scottish schools': since ca. 1910. Bruce Marshall, Prayer for the Living, 1934.

bim, v. To cane, properly on the bottom: English preparatory schools': since ca. 1920. (Ramsey Spencer, March 1967.) Cf. sense 1 of preceding.

bimbo. A fellow, chap, 'guy': adopted by 1938 (witness James Curtis, They Ride by Night) from U.S. as c.; by 1945, low s. Ex It. bimbo, short for bambino, 'a child': cf. kid, n., 2 (Dict.).—2. The female posterior: since ca. 1950. Ex bim (above).

bimph. Toilet paper: Public Schools': late C. 19–20; but since 1920, bumph much commoner, Marples. Cf. bim and bumf (p. 107).

bin.—2. 'Living quarters in which the rooms are very small,' H. & P.: Services: since 1920.—3. 'In a Naval mess, a space curtained off' (P-G-R.): Naval: C. 20.

Bin, the. The Headmaster: Rossall: C. 20. Marples.

binco. A light; a paraffin flare; hence, occ., a magnesium flare: nuances 1, 2 (Edward Seago, Sons of Sawdust, 1934), late C. 19-20; nuance 3, since ca. 1920. A corruption of It. bianco, white: from the whiteness of the illumination they afford: cf., therefore, bianc (p. 50), which, by the way, should be dated mid-C. 19-20.

bind (n. and v.: Dict.) 'must be the most used of all Air Force slang expressions', H. & P., 1943; see esp. Partridge, 1945. Whence bind (someone) rigid: since before 1939; also, though little used after 1940, bind stiff. Perhaps ex the ill temper arising from being bound or constipated, but prob. ex garage 'It's binding somewhere'—as applied to an engine vaguely out of order.—2. Hence, of persons or things: to be tedious, to be a nuisance; to complain and grumble overmuch ('He binds all day'): since ca. 1925.—3. (Ex 1 and 2.) (Of a person) to be, with sickening frequency, 'in the know': since ca. 1930. Partridge, 1945.—4. To work; esp., hard at one's studies: R.A.F. (mostly officers'): since, ca. 1935. Hence, as n., a tour of duty.

binder, 3. Also a drink, as in A. Binstead, Gal's Gossip, 1899; cf. swing o' the door. I.e. binder as at titley and binder (Dict.).—5. One who grumbles and moans more than is held permissible: R.A.F.: since ca. 1925. Partridge, 1945.—6. A last drink at a party: Naval: since ca. 1920: Granville. Cf. one for the gangway.

binder, have a. See toe-biter.

binders. Brakes: R.A.F.: since ca. 1925. Jackson.—2. 'Fibres that grow from one staple to another and hold a sheep's fleece together' (B., 1959): Aus. rural coll.: late C. 19-20.

bindi- (or bindy-) eye. 'One of the burr-like flower-heads of the Bogan Flea (Calotis hispidula) and other varieties of Calotis' (B.P.): Australian, mostly children's, late C. 19-20. Cf. jo-jo below.

binding, adj. Given to 'moaning': R.A.F.: since 1925. Partridge, 1945. Ex bind, 2, above.—2. Boring; tedious: R.A.F.: since ca. 1920. Ex bind, v., 1 (p. 54).

bindle.—2. A blanket-roll or swag: Canadian; adopted, ca. 1890, ex U.S. (Niven.) A thinning of S.E. bundle—cf. jingles below.

bindle stiff. A hobo: Canadian c.: since ca. 1910. Ex U.S.

bines. Spectacles: c.: since ca. 1930. 'Clocking me over the top of his bines' (Norman).

[bing, n. A liquor shop: c.: C. 19. What is B. & L.'s authority for this?]

bing up. To brighten, to polish (furniture, metal, etc.): furniture and curio-dealers': C. 20. H. A. Vachell, Quinney's, 1914.

binge up. To enliven (a person): C. 20; ob. H. A. Vachell, Quinney's, 1914.

binged. Very eccentric; mad: Charterhouse School: since ca. 1920. Ex binged, drunk.

bingey or bingy (hard g). Penis: Anglo-Irish nursery: late C. 19-20. Origin?

bingo, like. Very quickly: low: C. 20. Margery Allingham, Sweet Danger, 1933. Ex like billy-o, confused with like winking.

bingo'd or bingoad. Drunk: Society and undergraduates': since late 1920's. Ex bingo (Dict.).

binjey. Variant of bingy (or bingey) on p. 54. The Drum, 1959.

binni; binni soobli. Small; a boy (lit., little man): Shelta: C. 18-20. B. & L.

Binnie Hale. A tale: rhyming s.: since ca. 1940; by 1959, slightly ob. Ex the famous entertainer. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

binns. Glasses = spectacles; dark binns, dark glasses: C. 20: c. >, by ca. 1930, s. (Robin Cook, 1962.) Perhaps ex binoculars influenced by binnacles.

binocs. Binoculars: New Zealand and elsewhere: since ca. 1945. (Fiona Murray, Invitation to Danger, 1965.)

bint.—3. One's girl friend; (e.g. lush bint, a very attractive girl) (H. & P.): since ca. 1920; but esp. 1939-45, among Servicemen. The New Statesman, Aug. 30, 1941. An elevation of bint, 1 (p. 54). Nevertheless, even in 1939-45 it was often pejorative: witness, e.g., Jackson.

bint, v. Mostly in go binting, to seek a female companion, esp. as a bedmate: Regular Army in Egypt: C. 20. Ex bint, n. (p. 54).

bio. The cinema: South African: since late 1940's. Shirley Milne, Stiff Silk, 1962, 'My sister has gone to bio'—to the cinema. Short for bioscope used as a deliberate archaism: bioscope was a very early synonym of 'cinematograph'.

bionc. A shilling; parlary: mid-C. 19-20. (Sydney Lester, 1937.) A variant of bianc (p. 50).

Bip, the. The Bishop: aristocratic and upper-middle class: since ca. 1920. (Margery Allingham, The Beckoning Lady, 1955.) By conflation.

birch, n. A room: 1893, P. H. Emerson's Signor Lippo. Short for birch room (Dict.).

birch broom (p. 54) has, since ca. 1920, been little used. Such brooms are now rare. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

Birch Island. The Abbey Ground: Westminster School: ca. 1720-1850. Spy, II, 1826.

Birchington Hunt. An occasional variant of Berkshire (or Berkeley) Hunt.

bird, n., 7: earlier in 'Taffrail'.—Sense 3 is short for bird-lime.—8, sweetheart (girl), had, by 1920, become fairly general, although still uncultured.—10. A turkey, as in 'We're going to have a bird for Christmas': domestic coll., mostly lower-middle class: late C. 19-20.—11. A certainty, esp. (make a dead bird of, a complete certainty, make quite sure of something: Australian: since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.)—12. 'I did not want my "bird" (crook who is not known but suspected) to get any idea that the police were on his track' (A. F. Neil, Forty Years of Man-hunting, 1932): police s.: C. 20.

Sense 3 (p. 54); since ca. 1940, generic for a prison-sentence.—7 (p. 54): much earlier in W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints, 1829. (Moe.)

bird, go like a. Of, e.g., a motor car: to 'fly along': coll.; mostly Australian: since ca. 1945. (B.P.)

bird, have the. See have the bird.

bird-cage.—7. The position and situation of the huntsmen when they find themselves encircled by wired fences and hedges and can escape only by retreat or by crowding the gateways: hunting: C. 20. (Sir William Beach Thomas, Hunting England, 1936.)—8. The Wrens' quarters at a Naval establishment: Naval: since ca. 1939. (P-G-R.)—9. A 'signal box built up in girders or gantry'; also, a 'wire-trellised road vehicle' (Railway): railwaymen's: C. 20.

bird-dog on the trail, like a. In relentless pursuit of a person or a thing. ““Oh, Jack will find one. He’s like a . . .”” (Leechman): Canadian coll.: since ca. 1930.

bird of, make a (dead). To make sure of: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

Bird Sanctuary, the. The Wren Headquarters: Naval: 1939 +. Formerly they occupied Sanctuary Buildings.

bird-watcher and -watching. One given to the practice—the practice itself—of watching the girls, orig. in a park: jocular: since late 1940’s. Ex bird, n., 8, on p. 54.

birdie.—2. Time: C. 20. Ex bird-lime (Dict.). —3. An aircraft: Australian soldiers’ (in Korea): ca. 1951–53. (A. M. Harris, The Tall Man, 1958.)

bird’s-eye (p. 55) prob. goes back to ca. 1810; and its original, bird’s-eye wipe, to ca. 1800.

bird’s nest. A Wren’s cabin in the Wrennery at a Naval establishment: Naval: since ca. 1940.

birdseed; birdsong. See ‘Prisoner-of-War Slang’, 4.

Birdy. General Birdwood: Australian soldiers’: in 1914–18. (C. E. McGill, ‘Those Medical Officers’ in The Bakara Bulletin, 1919.)—2. The nickname given in Nov. 1936 by Australians to R. W. V. Robins, the brilliant Middlesex and England all-round cricketer. Also Birdie.

bird. A variant of burl. D’Arcy Niland, The Shiralee, 1955, ‘I’m going to give Eucla a birl.’ Perhaps suggested by whirl rather than by hurl: cf. the Canadian take a whirl at (something), to attempt it, current since ca. 1925. A blend of bash (attempt) + whirl?

Birmingham, the; esp. going up the Birmingham, travelling up the M.1: motorists’: since ca. 1960. (I.T.V., Aug. 13, 1963.)

Birmingham Fusiliers. ‘About this time [1902] the Cockneys and Welsh [in the Royal Welch Fusiliers] grew fewer, and the Midlanders more numerous, until in 1914, the Battalion was sometimes jokingly known as the Birmingham Fusiliers,’ Richards: military.

birp. A variant spelling of burp below.

Birrelling, n. Writing chatty, pleasant, app. shallow essays: literary?: from ca. 1890; ob. Cf. Birreligion in Dict.

birthday occurs in the late C. 19–20 fair-ground or Sunday-market patter, ‘Look here, it’s my birthday, I’ll give you a treat and sell it cheap.’

birthday, give (something) a. To clean thoroughly, e.g. a room: London women’s: C. 20.

birthday suit (p. 55) has, in Canada, remained far more general than in the altogether. (Leechman.) Still very common in Australia also. (B.P.) bis. Pron. bice, q.v.

biscuit, take the. See take the biscuit (p. 862).

biscuits and cheese. Knees: rhyming s.: C. 20; esp. in R.A.F., 1939–40, and as biscuits. Franklyn 2nd.

bish.—3. (Ex sense 1; cf. bishop). A chaplain: Naval: since ca. 1930. Granville.

bish, v. To throw: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. Cf. biff.—2. To officiate in the absence of the chaplain: Services: since ca. 1939. (P-G-R.)

bishop, n.—6. A chaplain: Services: since ca. 1925. Jackson. Mainly jocular. n.—7. A broken-down sign-post: mostly East Anglian: (?) mid-C. 19–20. Because—cf. parson, n., 2 (p. 607)—it neither points the way nor travels it.

bishop, flog the. (Of men) to masturbate: low: late C. 19–20. Also bash the bishop (esp. Army). Ex resemblance of glans penis either to episcopal mitre or, more probably, to chess bishop.

Bishop of Fleet Street, the. Mr Hannen Swaffer: journalists’: since ca. 1935. On him has descended the mantle of the late James Douglas, self-appointed regulator of the public morals. Cf. Pope.

Bishops, the; also the Arty Bishops. Archbishop’s Park. Lambeth Road, London: Cockney’s: C. 20.

Bishopgate — Cripplegate — the Workhouse. Three London clubs: The Athenæum—the Senior Services—the Union: taxicab drivers’: since the 1920’s. (‘Peterborough’ in The Daily Telegraph, Dec. 13, 1949.) The first has many bishops; the second, many aged Service dignitaries; the third puns on modern union for workhouse.

bisom. An unruly child: Australian: C. 20. (B., 1943.) Ex fig. S.E. besom.

bit, n., 8 (p. 56). The coll. a bit of a(n) . . ., rather or . . ., prob. goes back at least seventy years earlier and may have been adopted ex American usage. Colonel Moe quotes from The Port Folio of Nov. 28, 1807 (p. 342):

‘Thou, as a bit of a philosopher,
Art friendly, CURTIS, to the slackened rein
Of speculation.’

It appears in W. N. Glascock, The Naval Sketch-Book, II, 307, 1826, as ‘a bit of a boy’—a mere boy. n.—11. A jemmy: Australian c.: C. 20. B., 1942. n.—12. The sum of 12½ cents: Canadian coll.: mid-C. 19–20. Adopted from U.S. (Leechman.)

bit, have a. (Of a male, whether human or other animal) to copulate: lower-classes: late C. 19–20. Cf. do a bit, 2, in the Dict.

bit-and-bit, n. and v. The practice whereby each rider in a bunch or a breakaway takes a turn at the front, so sheltering and setting the pace to those behind: racing cyclists: since about 1920.

bit by a barn weasel. See ‘Tavern terms’, § 8.

bit hot, that’s a. That’s unreasonable, unfair, unjust: Australian: since ca. 1910. Baker.

bit lit, a. Slightly drunk: since ca. 1925. A catchy elaboration of lit or lit up on p. 486.

bit of . . . occurs frequently in s. terms for ‘girl, woman’ regarded sexually, hence for ‘copulation’: cf. bit of crumb or cuff or fluff or jam or muslin or raspberry or skirt or soap or stuff, all recorded on p. 56, and several entries here. Add: bit of cunt or homework or share or tickle or tit: the 2nd and 3rd, Services’, since mid-1890’s; 1st, low, since 1870 at latest; the 4th low, since ca. 1925; the 5th, since ca. 1920.

bit of a brama. See brama . . .

bit of all right, a (p. 56). It occurs, e.g., in Alexander Macdonald, In the Land of Pearl and Gold, 1907, ““That’s a bit of all right,” said the guard, cutting off a piece of the stem and putting it into his mouth.”

bit of barney. See barney, bit of.

bit of black velvet. See black velvet.

bit of Braille. A racing tip: Australian sporting: since ca. 1930. (B., 1953.)—2. Hence, a tip-off: Australian c.: since ca. 1935. After ca. 1945, usually simply Braille. (B., 1953.)—3. A synonym of the 2nd F in ‘the four F method’ (below); low Australian: since the late 1930’s. (B.P.)

bit of cush. A light, or an easy, job or duty: Army: since ca. 1925. Ex cushy (p. 200). P-G-R.

bit of hollow. See hollow, n.

bit of muslim (p. 56). Earlier in 'The Cadger's Ball' (Labern's Popular Comic Song Book, 1852) and in T. W. Moncrieff, Tom and Jerry, 1821.

bit of nifty; bit of under. See nifty and under.

bit of no good, do a. To do harm: jocular coll.: since ca. 1910.

bit of nonsense. A (temporary) mistress: Society: C. 20. Alec Waugh, Jill Somerset, 1936.—2. "'A nice bit of nonsense,'" commented Louis, meaning a piece of villainy that had all the makings of a walk-over' (James Barlow, The Burden of Proof, 1968): c.: since ca. 1950.

bit of parchment. A convict's certificate of freedom: Australian policemen's: ca. 1825-70. John Lang, Botany Bay, 1859.

bit of Spanish. A natural wig (i.e. one made of human hair): c.: C. 18. James Dalton, A Narrative, 1728 (p. 13).

bit of string with a hole in it, I've (or I've got) a. A facetious c.p., in reply to a request for something else: C. 20.

bit of stuff, 1 (p. 56): much earlier, as 'a very smartly dressed man', in George R. Gleig, The Subaltern's Log-Book, 1828 (II, 164). Moe.—3. A boxer: pugilistic: ca. 1810-50. Boxiana, I, 1818.

bit of the other, a. Sexual intercourse: low: since ca. 1930. Contrast the other, q.v. at other, the, on p. 592.

bit off, to have a. To copulate with; also absolutely: Cockney: C. 20. Cf. bit, have a.

bit on the cuff, a. Rather 'thick'—rather excessive, severe, etc.: Australian and New Zealand: since ca. 1930.

bit (-) player. A stage actor with a part in pictures: theatrical and cinematic coll.: since ca. 1930.

bit tight under the arms, a. A jocular c.p., applied to a pair of trousers much too big: C. 20.

bitch; bitching-up. A toady, toadying, to a master; one who makes up to another boy, and the corresponding vbl. n.: Charterhouse: from ca. 1910. Cf. the underworld sense of bitch, n., in the Dict.

bitch, v.—4. To complain in a bitchy manner: Canadian: since ca. 1925 (?). Leechman.

bitch up. An intensive of bitch, v., 3 (p. 57): late C. 19-20.

bitching, adj. A violent pejorative: Australian: mid-C. 19-20. Tom Ronan, Moleskin Midas, 1956, "'Wouldn't that be a bitchin' joke?'" Perhaps orig. a euphemism.

bitching, adv. Another violent pejorative: Australian: mid-C. 19-20. Tom Ronan, ibid., 'But he'd manage it somehow. He bitchin' well had to.'

bitchy. (Properly of women.) Spiteful; slanderous: coll.: since ca. 1910. (Angus Wilson, A Bit off the Map, 1957.)

bite, n. With sense of 1, cf. Ger. Bitz, also the compound Weiberbitz.—8. A loan of money: Australian low: C. 20. B., 1942. n.—9. A confidence trick; any easy-money racket: Australian c.: since ca. 1920. (B., 1953.) Cf. sense 2 on p. 57.—10. A simpleton; a dupe: Australian c.: since ca. 1930. (B., 1953.)

bite, I'll; I'll buy it. See I'll bite.

bite (someone's) name. See name, bite.

bite one off. To take, have, a drink of strong liquor: public-houses': since ca. 1910.

bite one's grannam (Dict.) goes back to 1650: see 'Tavern terms', § 8.

bitey, often spelt bightie. Anything that either bites or stings, e.g. a mosquito or even a chicken, or cuts or otherwise injures, e.g. broken glass or electricity. Australian nursery coll.: since ca. 1910 (? earlier). 'Keep away from that plug. Bitey!' (B.P.)

bits. Pleasant or pretty 'pieces' of scenery: photographers' and artists' coll.: C. 20.

bits and bats. Knick-knacks; rhyming s.: C. 20. Perhaps suggested by 'bits and pieces'.—2. Hence, esp. in the underworld, small pieces of jewellery: since ca. 1910.

bitser. Anything made of 'bits and pieces': hence a mongrel (e.g. dog): Australian: since ca. 1910. B., 1942.

bitter-gatter. Beer and gin mixed: Cockney and military (not officers)': from ca. 1870. Richards.

bitter weed. 'An acidulous, grumbling type,' Granville: Naval: since ca. 1925.

bitty, adj. In bits and pieces; not in flowing narrative, but in imperfectly connected incidents: coll.: since ca. 1935.

bitumen blonde. 'An aboriginal girl or woman' (B., 1943): Australian: since ca. 1930.

bivvy, n.—4. A small, i.e. a one- or a two-man, tent: Army officers': 1940 +. (P-G-R.) Cf. bivvy, n., 2 (p. 58).

biyeghin. Stealing; theft: Shelta: C. 18-20. B. & L.

biz, the. The 'profession'; theatrical or film business: late C. 19-20.

bizzo. Business: Australian teenagers', esp. surfers': since ca. 1950. (B.P.) Ordinary s. bizz + the ubiquitous Australian suffix -o (adopted ex Cockneys).

blabber-mouth (or one word). One who cannot keep a secret; but also, one who talks too much: coll.: adopted ca. 1944 (earlier in Canada) ex U.S.

black.—3. 'A black mark for doing something badly,' H. & P.: Services': since ca. 1935. 'A glaring error is a "black", "I have put up a black" they will say,' Hector Bolitho in The English Digest, Feb. 1941. The phrase put up a black is R.A.F. officers', the R.A.F. other ranks saying, 'I've boobed' (Jackson, 1943).—4. A black-currant: fruit-growers' coll.: mid-C. 19-20.—5. A blackguard: fast life: ca. 1805-50. Spy, II, 1826. n.—6. As the black it also means 'the black market': since ca. 1942. Whence on the black, engaged in black-market activities: since ca. 1943.

black, in the. See red, in the, 2.

black and white duck. A magpie: Australian jocular: C. 20. (B., 1943.)

black art.—3. (the b.a.) The printers' trade: printers' jocular: ? mid-C. 19-20.

black as a cunt. Badly in need of a wash, esp. after coal fatigue: military in 1914-18.

black as the ace of spades, as. Utterly black or dark: coll.: late C. 19-20.

black as Toby's arse. Pitch-black, usually of a dark night: Canadian: since ca. 1910.

black-beetle. In Thames-side s., from ca. 1860; thus in Nevins, 1895, 'At last a perlice boat with two black-beetles and a water-rat, as we calls the Thames perlice and a sergeant, they pick me up.'—2. A priest: lower classes': C. 20. Ex black clothes.

black bourse. 'In the Service it covers the out-of-hours' sale of cigarettes for example,' H. & P.: since 1939. Lit., black-market.

black box.—2. Instrument that enables navigator to see through or in the dark: R.A.F.: since ca. 1942. (Radar.) Partridge, 1945.—3. (Prob. ex sense 1.) A hocus-pocus apparatus or piece of an apparatus: since ca. 1945.

black boy (p. 58). Rather until ca. 1860. Sinks, 1848.

Black Button Mob, the. Any Rifle Regiment: Army: C. 20.

black cap. See white sheep.

black chums. African native troops: Army: 1940–45. Also old black man.

black coat.—2. A waiter: Australian: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.)

black-coated workers. Prunes: Dalton Hall, Manchester: since ca. 1945. The Daltonian, Dec. 1946. With a pun on work. Rather, gen. Midlands s.—and it goes back to ca. 1910.

black draught, give (someone) the. To administer the coup-de-grâce to a sailor dangerously ill: nautical: since ca. 1870. Visualised as a black medicine given as a purge. See also Irwin and Underworld.

black five. Class V of a certain type of locomotive: railwaymen's coll.: ? ca. 1930–50. (Railway.)

Black Friday, in Labour Party circles, is the day on which the General Strike of 1926 broke up.

black gang, the. 'The "black gang"—that small army of "slags" and "mobsmen" who prey particularly on the grafter [one who 'works a line' at fair or market: a cheapjack, fortune-teller, and so forth] and the bookmaker. It was the first of the hurdles I had to overcome,' Captain R. Marleigh-Ludlow in News of the World, Aug. 28, 1938: c.: since ca. 1910. Ex black (mail): they levy it, or, on its not being paid, beat up the refuser.—2. Stokers': Australian sailors': since ca. 1920. (Dymphna Cusack, Southern Steel, 1953.)

Black Hole, the, as 'punishment cell', occurs in Nathaniel Fanning, The Adventures of an American Navy Officer, 1806 (p. 23), in reference to the year 1778. (Moe.)

Sense 2 on p. 59 occurs slightly earlier in George R. Gleig, The Chelsea Pensioners, 1829, at I, 52. (Moe.)

black jack.—6. (B—J—.) The ace of spades: coll.: from ca. 1860.—7. (Cf sense 1.) A tin pot for boiling tea: Australian: C. 19–20; ob. B., 1942.—8. Treacle: Australian: C. 20. Baker.

black joke (p. 59). A scholarly wit has pertinently asked, 'Something to be cracked?' The term occurs earlier in The Harlot Unmasked, a song, ca. 1735.

Black Josephs, the. The Sisters of St Joseph: Australian Catholics' coll.: C. 20. Ex their habit. (B.P.)

black-legged, adj. Swindling: c. of ca. 1790–1850. (Anon. ballad, The Rolling Blossom, ca. 1800.) Moe.

black magic. The original form of black box, 2. (P-G-R.)

black man kissed her. Sister: rhyming s.: C. 20. But not at all general. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

black marketeer. An illegal bookmaker quoting his own prices: Australian sportsmen's: since ca. 1946. (B., 1953.) His customer is said to be betting on the black.

Black Michael. Sir Michael Hicks-Beach (later, Lord St Aldwyn), sometime Chief Unionist Whip: Parliamentary: ca. 1879–1906. (D. 1916, aged 79.)

black ointment. 'Pieces of raw meat' (B. & L.): c.: from ca. 1870. Perhaps ex idea of meat poultice for a black eye. (Alexander McQueen.)

black-out, n., and black out, v. (To experience) 'a temporary loss of consciousness before pulling out of a power dive', H. & P.: R.A.F. coll. > by 1943, j. Ex the blackness that affects one's sight and that into which the pilot lapses.—2. A coffee without milk: Cape Town University: 1940+; ob. Prof. W. S. Mackie in The Cape Argus, July 17, 1946.

Sense 1 has, since the late 1940's, widened to mean simply 'to faint' and been extended far beyond the fighting Services.

black-out gong, the. The Defence Medal: since 1945.

black-outs. A Waaf's winter-weight knickers: W.A.A.F.: 1940+. Jackson. Of Navy blue: cf. twilights.—2. In the Navy, a Wren's ditto: since ca. 1918. Granville.

black peter. A solitary-detention cell: Australian c.: since ca. 1920. Cf. peter, n., 4, on p. 620. Hence, to black-peter, to put into one. (Kylie Tennant, The Joyful Condemned, 1953.)

black princes. 'Locomotive cleaners' (Railway, 3rd): railwaymen's: since ca. 1950 (?). They get so dirty that they look like the Black Prince in his armour—or like Negro princes—or, as likely as not, like both.

black show. An 'unfortunate business', a 'discreditable performance', R.A.F. officers': since ca. 1936. Jackson.

black stump, back—or this side—of the. In the country: Australian: since ca. 1930 (? earlier). 'Probably ex the bushman's habit of giving such directions' (B.P.). Cf. back of Bourke or Booiligal—cf. mulga (p. 542) and mulga madness (below)—the sticks (below) and woop woop (p. 964).

black Sukey. See black Sal (Dict.).

Black Troops. Dominions Air Forces personnel: self-named: 1940–45. Ironical. (P-G-R.)

black varnish. Canteen stout: Naval: since 1920. Granville.

black velvet, a bit of. Coitus with a coloured woman: military: late C. 19–20. Hence, black velvet, such a coloured woman: general: C. 20.

Black Watch, the.—2. Hence, stokers: Naval: C. 20. Granville. Ironical.

black, white, or brindle. Lit., 'of no matter what colour', but = 'of any kind whatsoever': Australian coll.: late C. 19–20. (B.P.) blackbird and thrush (p. 58). Barrett's book appeared in 1880.

blackers. 'He opened bottles and began mixing stout and champagne in a deep jug. "Blackers"? They had always drunk this sour and invigorating draught,' Evelyn Waugh, Put Out More Flags, 1942: originally, University of Oxford: since ca. 1910. Ex its colour; by process of 'the Oxford'. Cf. the synonymous black velvet (p. 60.)

blacketeer. A black-market racketeer: journalists' coll.: 1945+.

blackfellows', or the dog, act. A government order that can, by publicans, be invoked against drunkards: Australian public-house 'society': since ca. 1920. (B., 1953.)

blackfellow's delight. Rum: Aus.: C. 20. (B., 1959.)

Blackie is, in late C. 19–20, the inseparable nickname of men surnamed Bird. Ex the songster that is the blackbird.—2. And of men surnamed Ramsey. Why?—3. Blackies: see blacky.

blacksmith. 'An incompetent station cook' (B., 1941): New Zealand and Australian rural: late C. 19–20.

blackwash. To blacken (someone's character): since ca. 1925. Prompted by S.W. whitewash.

blacky (or -ie). A blacksmith: Naval coll.: since ca. 1925. Granville.—2. a blackbird: coll.: mid-C. 19–20.—3. A black duck: Australian: C. 20. (Dal Stevens, The Gambling Ghost, 1953.)

bladder of fat (p. 61) 'does not seem to have survived the 1914–18 war' (Franklyn, Rhyming).

bladder of lard.—A playing card: rhyming s.: C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

Bladder of Lard, the; often shortened to Bladder. New Scotland Yard: since ca. 1925: orig. c.; by ca. 1935, gen. Cockney rhyming s. (John Gosling, The Ghost Squad, 1959.)

Blades, the (p. 61). That entry needs amplification and modification. Sheffield Wednesday, in late C. 19 and early C. 20, 'used to be called "The Blades" and their rivals . . . Sheffield United . . . "The Cutlers"'. Both were very appropriate. Now, however, Wednesday are known as "The Owls". . . . The district in which the Wednesday ground is situated is divided into localities known as Hillsborough and Owlerton. In 1907 there was first published in the city the Sports Special and the cartoonist fastened on the first three letters of Owlerton and in his sketches depicted Wednesday as an Owl. His cartoons appeared regularly year after year . . . until the crowd cried, "Play up the Owls." Further, Sheffield United have been nicknamed "The Blades" and "The Cutlers" has died out,' R. A. Sparling 'Football Teams' Nicknames'. (? in Answers), Feb. 16, 1946.

bladhunk. Prison: Shelta: C. 18–20. B. & L.

blag, n. A watch-, or a bag-snatching: c.: since ca. 1920. (Norman).—2. A North Country grammar schools' term of abuse: since ca. 1955. New Society, Aug. 22, 1963. (Ex black-guard, pron. blaggard?)—3. A piece of bluff; a tall story: since ca. 1945: c. >, by 1960, s. Ex the Fr. blague, as in sans blague. Hence, v., to bluff, to 'con'. Both n. and v. occur in, e.g., Robin Cook, The Crust on Its Uppers, 1962.

blag, blog, blug. A manservant: Rugby: late C. 19–20. Marples. Ex blackguard?

blagger. 'It is the job of the Blagger to invite, persuade or trap people into the [Bingo] parlour' (John Holliday's article 'Bingo!' in the Sunday Telegraph, Aug. 18, 1963): bingo organizers', hence players': since ca. 1954. Ex the underworld sense, 'he who, in a "team", does the talking', a thieves' 'con man', dating since ca. 1930. Bournemouth Evening Echo, April 20, 1966. Cf. the Fr. blagueur.

blah, n. (p. 61). Or, of course, merely echoic.

blah, adj.—2. Blind drunk: since ca. 1930. (Somerset Maugham, Up at the Villa, 1941—pron. bläs, as if French.)

blame. Fault, responsibility: proletarian coll.:

mid-C. 19–20. Gerorgette Heyer, A Blunt Instrument, 1938, 'It isn't my blame'.

Blamey's Mob. The A.I.F.: Australian soldiers': 1940–June 1941. B., 1942. Ex the name of their C.-in-C.

blanchies or blonchies. Females employed in French laundries: Tommies': W.W. I. Ex Fr. blanchisseuses. (A. B. Petch, April 1966.)

blankard. Bastard: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

blanket drill. Sleep, esp. 'get in some blanket drill', to sleep: R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. Jackson.—2. Hence, copulation; masturbation: since ca. 1935.

blanket show, the. Bed. Esp. to children, 'You're for the blanket show': domestic: late C. 19–20.

blankety blank. The Company or the Battalion C.O.'s language: Army: 1914–18. See blankety (p. 61).

blankety-blank verse. Blank verse: jocular coll.: since ca. 1925.

Blanks. 'A rare word used for whites or Europeans by themselves' (B. & L.): Anglo-Indian; † by 1920. Ex Fr. blanc. Also South African: C. 20.

blarney, tip the. To 'blarney' (v.i.): ca. 1810–90. Alfred Burton, Johnny Newcome, 1818. (Moe.)

blast, n.—2. 'To receive a blast is much the same as "stopping a bottle", a good "ticking-off"', Granville: Naval: C. 20.—3. A party: teenagers': since ca. 1961; by 1966, ob. (The Sunday Times, Sept. 8, 1963, correspondence columns.)

blast, v., 1 (p. 62): recorded, ex an English source, in The Port Folio, May 16, 1807 (p. 313), 'Mrs Bassett . . . insisted upon some liquor, would not quit the house without it, and began to blow up the hostess and blast the rose (sign of the Rose)'. (Moe.)—2. To go raving mad: beatniks': since ca. 1959. (Anderson.)

blast off, v.i. (Of a car, esp. if a racing car) to start: Australian: since ca. 1960. (B.P.) 'Ex the launching of a space rocket' (Leechman).

blasted pack-mules, the. Tommies carrying heavy loads referred thus to themselves: 1914–18; occasionally revived in 1939–45.

blatherskite (see p. 63) has been current in Australia since ca. 1870. Sidney J. Baker, private letter.

blatty. See Blighty (Dict.).

blazes, like (p. 62), goes back to 1818: Alfred Burton, Johnny Newcome. Moreover, as blazes—as an intensive—prob. goes back to very early C. 19 or even to late C. 18. It occurs in, e.g., W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints, 1829 (p. 184), '. . . as black as blazes'. (Moe.)

bleacher.—2. A cad: Tonbridge: late C. 19–20. Marples. Euphemism?—3. A (reprehensible) girl or woman: ? ca. 1790–1860. The Night Watch, 1828 (II, 99), 'That she-devil, Sophy, though as worthless a bleacher as ever stepped in shoe-leather . . . and, on p. 104, 'The next was an old bleacher of a woman'. (Moe.) Origin?

bleachers, the. The cheap covered seats at a stadium: Australian: since ca. 1945. (B.P.) Adapted ex U.S. sense, 'the cheap uncovered seats at a baseball stadium'.

blear. When lost, to fly about in search of a landmark: Australian airmen's: ca. 1940–5. B., 1943.—2. (Prob. the source of sense 1.) To stroll; to wander slowly yet purposefully: Cambridge undergraduates': 1920's. 'Let's blear down to the Festival.' Perhaps cf. Yorkshire dial. blear, to go about in the cold.

bleat, n.—2. A feeble grumble; also v.: Army: since ca. 1930.

bleater.—3. A Cockney variant of bleeder, 4. (Dict.): late C. 19–20. In e.g., A. Neil Lyons, Clara, 1912.

bleacher. See bleacher, 3, above.

bleed, n.—2. A 'blood', a 'swell': Tonbridge: since ca. 1870. Marples. I.e. blood, n., 2 (p. 66), thinned.

bleed, v.—6. (Probably ex sense 4: p. 63.) 'To apply blow-lamps to resinous knots to cause resin to flow. This helps to prevent blistering' (a master builder, Dec. 5, 1953): builders': late C. 19–20.

bleed like a (stuck) pig. See pig, bleed . . . on p. 627. The longer form is still current—and the more usual—in Australia. (B.P.) bleed one's turkey; drain one's radiator. (Of men) to urinate: Canadian: resp. since ca. 1925 and since ca. 1940. Neither is very common.

bleeder. 4 is earlier in Sessions, April 26, 1887.—6. 'There are numerous instances where veins enter and run distinctly through reefs . . . in cases of this sort veins are called "bleeders"; Tom Kelly, Life in Victoria, 1859: Australian gold-miners': mid-C. 19–20.

bleeding, adv. (From the adj., p. 63.) Intensive: approximately 'much' or 'very': since ca. 1870. Sessions, Jan. 8, 1884, 'If you don't bleeding well let me go.'

Blenburgher. A Blenheim bomber aircraft: R.A.F.: 1940+; ob. Jackson. A blend of Blenheim and (ex the resemblance to a gigantic sausage) hamburger.

Blenheim Pippin, the (p. 63). The notion of the victim's shortness was caused entirely by caricaturists; actually he was 5 ft 9½ in. (Winston Churchill, Thoughts and Adventures, 1932, p. 28.)

bless 'em all! A Services (esp. Army) c.p., used derisively when one was particularly annoyed by, or 'fed up' with, one's superiors: since ca. 1917. Ex a famous song of the British Army in 1914–18. (P-G-R.)

bless your (little) cotton socks! Thank you!: a middle-class c.p., dating from ca. 1910; by 1960, archaic. Also in the form bless your little heart and cotton socks. Moreover, the two phrases often express no more than affection.

blew, v.—3. A variant of blue, v., 6:c.: mid-C. 19–20. B. & L.

blimey Charley! A c.p. used to blow off pent-up emotions: New Zealand and Australian: C. 20. B., 1941. In Australian, also blimey Teddy!

Blimey O'Reilly! Synonymous with, and presumably deriving ex, Blind O'Reilly below: since ca. 1920.

blimp (p. 64). Shortt prob. 'telescoped' it ex 'B-type airship limp'. Whence:—2. Blimp, a retrograde, moronic Army officer (hence, civilian), pompous and inelastic: since ca. 1938. Aided and imm. generated by David Low's cartoon-type, Colonel Blimp.

blind, n.—6. 'A grenade that did not explode and had to be disposed of by other means' (P-G-R.): Army coll.: 1939–45. 'Prob. a direct borrowing from Standard military Ger. Blindganger—a "dud" shell' (H. R. Spencer).

blind, adj.—4. Pejorative (C. 20), as in '“I don't want a blind word out of either of you”', James Curtis, They Ride by Night, 1938.—5. (Cf. preceding sense.) Complete; utter: Anglo-Irish coll.: late C. 19–20. Desmond O'Neill, Life Has No Price, 1959, '“I never thought to see the day when a blind stranger wud turn a gun on me in me own mountains . . .”'.

blind, move in the. See move in the blind.

blind along, v.i. To drive (very) fast: since ca. 1925. Ex blind, v. 2 (p. 64).

blind as Chloe. See Chloe.

blind baggage. On a train it is a baggage car, as in the quotation: Canadian tramps': C. 20. 'At each end of the coach,' says W. A. Gape, in Half a Million Tramps, 1936, 'is a curtained-off part which is used for passing from one coach to another on a corridor train. This is known as the "Blind". The "Blind" facing the back end of the engine is unused, and so provides a small space which affords a good foothold and good protection from the wind.' See esp. Underworld.

blind bit of notice, not to take a. To be oblivious: C. 20.

blind country. 'Closed-in country of colourless type and of little worth' (B., 1959). Aus. coll.: C. 20.

blind date. An arrangement to meet an unknown member of the opposite sex: adopted, ca. 1942, ex U.S.: by 1960, coll.

blind drunk (p. 64) goes back to late C. 18: see quotation at nab the bib below. Also in The Night Watch, 1828.

blind fart. A noiseless but particularly noisome breaking of wind: low: late C. 19–20.

blind Freddie would see it or even blind Freddie wouldn't miss it. Australian c.p., imputing the obvious: since ca. 1930. (B., Australia Speaks, 1953.)

Blind Half Hundred, the.—2. By some of the troops in 1914–18 it was applied to anti-aircraft batteries: they seemed to be firing 'blind' and at random.

blind hookey (p. 64) prob. goes back much further, to judge by The Night Watch, 1828 (II, 147), ' . . . the blind-hookey system' (reckless gambling).

Blind O'Reilly! A coll. expletive: mostly Army: C. 20. Gerald Kersh, Bill Nelson, 1942. 'The moment the place opens, in they dash. Blind O'Reilly! it's like a gold rush.' Ex some legendary figure, some obscure piece of folklore. 'He was, they say, a Liverpool docker trade-unionist ca. 1910' (Frank Shaw).

blind out. To obliterate with paint or distemper: builders' coll.: C. 20. Hence, bug-blinding, a rough distempering of cellars or slum property: builders': C. 20. (A master builder: Dec. 5, 1953.)

blind pig. A speakeasy: Canadian (from U.S.A.): since ca. 1921: c. until ca. 1929, then s.—as in G. H. Westbury, Misadventures in Canada, 1930. In Australian, 'a house or shop where liquor may be bought after hours' (B., 1942).

blind stabbing. Blind flying: Australian air-men's: since ca. 1940. (B., 1943.) Cf. stab, n. 2.

blind staggers. Excessive tipsiness: Australian: C. 20. Baker.

blind with science. To explain away an offence, etc., by talking at length and very technically, in the hope that one's interlocutor may be so bemused that he will not pursue the matter: Army: 1940+. Cf. blinded with science (p. 64).

blinded with science (p. 64) comes ex boxing: 'it arose when the científico boxers began, ca. 1880, to defeat the old bruisers' (Julian Franklyn).

blinder.—3. (Mostly in pl.) A bad cigar; a rank cigarette: Cockneys': C. 20.

blinders, adj. and n. Blind drunk; a being very drunk indeed: Oxford undergraduates': since ca. 1930. Marples, 2.

blindy-eyes and goat-heads. Large thorns: Australian juvenile: since ca. 1925. (B., 1953.)

blink, 3 (p. 64). Also, since ca. 1918, Australian.

blink, on the. Out of order; esp. applied to mechanism: R.A.F.: 1942+. Adopted from U.S.—2. Acting as a look-out man in e.g., a burglary: Australian c.: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.)

Sense 1 was adopted, ca. 1944, in Australia, where, by 1950, it was gen. s. usage. (Culotta.)

blind-pickings. Cigarette butts picked up from gutter or pavement: Australian low: C. 20. B., 1942. Cf. blink, 3 (Dict.).

blinks.—3. Eyes: Cockneys': from ca. 1870. Graham Seton, Pelican Row, 1935.

blip.—2. 'The projection of light seen in a cathode-ray tube' (John Bebbington): electricians' (since ca. 1930), hence R.A.F. (since ca. 1939). Related to the echoic bleep, the sound made by Asdic; both senses were, by 1960, common among civilian flying personnel.—3. A snub: schools', esp. girls': 1930's. (Angela Thirkell, Summer Half, 1937.) Echoic?

blister, n.—3. Flat protuberance which, on an aircraft, lies above and below the fuselage and encloses a gun position: R.A.F.: since ca. 1925: coll. >, by 1942, j. H. & P. n.—4. A police-court summons: c. (—1903) >, by 1944, low s. It stings a professional's pride. (See Underworld.) —5. A mortgage: Australian: C. 20. Vance Palmer, Legend for Sanderson, 1937.—6. Sister: Australian rhyming s.: since ca. 1920. 'Not very common' (B.P.); a rare form of rhyming s.

blithered. Topsy: Australian: since ca. 1910. (K. S. Prichard, The Black Opal, 1921.)

blitz. A bombing by aircraft; hence, v., to aircraft-bomb (a place): 1940, esp. in the London blitz (Sept. 1940–May 1941). 'The word that has received the greatest currency at home and abroad is blitz, as noun and verb,' Lester V. Berrey ('English War Slang') in The Nation, Nov. 9, 1940. Ex Ger. Blitz, lightning, and Blitzkrieg, that lightning warfare which Germany conducted in April–June 1940.—2. Derivatively, a severe reprimand, to reprimand severely: 1941, orig. military: cf. strafe, n., 3, and v., 3, in Dict.—3. 'The spring-clean which takes place when important officials are expected,' H. & P.: Services: since late 1941.—4. Hence, the brief, thorough, intensive campaign, as by the police, to enforce a law or a regulation: since ca. 1945.

blitz, solid lump of. 'A large close-flying formation of enemy aircraft' (Partridge, 1945): R.A.F.: since 1940. See prec.

blitz buggy. An ambulance; but also any fast transport vehicle: orig. R.A.F.: 1941. H. & P. By 1944 its 'ambulance' sense was, in the R.A.F., almost official.—2. See 'Canadian'.

Sense 1, as 'a fast utility truck or lorry', reached Australia ca. 1944. Jock Marshall & Russell Drysdale, Journey among Men, 1962 (p. 81), 'The drivers often found it hard to get their big blitz-buggies between the trees and the termite-hills.'

blitz flu. Influenza caused by, or arising, during 'the Blitz': 1940. Berrey. See blitz.

blitz it. To 'get a move on': Cape Town University: 1940+; ob. The Cape Argus, July 4, 1946.

blitz-ridden. 'Damaged beyond repair,' H. & P.: since 1941: ob. by 1946. See blitz.

blitz wag(g)on. An Australian variant of blitz buggy in its secondary sense: since ca. 1941. Kylie Tennant, The Honey Flow, 1956, where also in elliptical form blitz (since ca. 1945).

bloater.—2. A torpedo: Naval: since ca. 1915.—3. A person, usu. male, both gross and unfair: South African: since ca. 1940. (James Tregay, letter of April 23, 1963.)

bloater, my. Also as vocative to a man's male friend: Cockneys': from ca. 1880. B. & L.

bloats, the. Bloated plutocrats: since ca. 1890; obs. by 1930 and † by 1950. (Maxwell Gray, The Great Refusal, 1906.)

blob, n.—4. Also as term of abuse; e.g. 'You ugly blob!': late C. 19–20. n.—5. A fool: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)—6. (Usually in pl.) A mine-net float: Naval: 1939+. (P-G-R.)—7. A gonorrhœal ulcer: low and Forces': C. 20.—8. The indicative v., esp. as used in advertising: since ca. 1930.—9. An incompetent: Australian: since ca. 1910. Tom Ronan, Only a Short Walk, 1961. A cypher, a 'nothing': a nonentity.

blob, be on; be blotty. (Of men) to be much excited, sexually: low: C. 20.

blob-stick. 'A stick with paper- or cloth-covered end used by the instructor to show where shots fell on the ground during miniature-range practice. The practice itself' (P-G-R.): Royal Artillery coll.: C. 20.

block, v.—5. To stand (someone) a drink: low, ca. 1830–90. Sessions, Aug. 1864.—6. To get the better of; to fool: Aus.: since ca. 1930. Mary Durack, Keep Him My Country, 1955. "'Take this boy Job—look at his features, and smart—you can't block him! Smartest race in the world, the Jews.'" block, do one's (p. 65), to become angry: since ca. 1918, also New Zealand. (Slatter.)

block-buster. A heavy bomb of great flattening power: R.A.F. and journalistic coll.: 1942+. Jackson.

block of ice. (Of a bookmaker) to abscond: low rhyming s.: C. 20. Franklyn, Rhyming. On s. shice, to abscond. Hence:—

block of ice mob. Welshers: c.: C. 20. F. D. Sharpe, 1938. Rhyming shice mob: see shice, the.

block on, put the; the block goes on. To put a stop to (something); something is stopped, or comes to an end: low: since ca. 1920. (Norman.) blocked. Much-exhilarated by drugs: drug addicts', esp. teenagers': since ca. 1950.

blocker-man. A foreman: Liverpool, esp. dockers': C. 20. Ex blocker, 1, on p. 65. (Frank Shaw.)

blocks. "'I'm just about two-blocks, Jack" is as much as to say, "I'm fed up to the teeth." When two blocks of a purchase are drawn together, they cannot move any further,' Granville: Naval: since ca. 1930. Cf. chocker.

blog. A servant-boy in one of the houses: Rugby Schoolboys': from ca. 1860. A perversion of bloke—2. Hence, a common boy of the town: id.: C. 20. Cf.:—

blog, v. To defeat: Rugby Schoolboys': C. 20.

bloke, n. (p. 66). The nuance 'a cabman's customer' occurs in Sessions, Oct. 1848. The word bloke is a common term among cabmen—5. 'The commander—the second in command—is "the bloke"': Naval: C. 20. 'Taffrail.'

bloke, v. To be that officer whom a specified batman tends: military: from ca. 1910. Blaker, 'The Major was to "bloke" permanently for Riding.' Ex bloke, a batman's word for the officer he tends. Contrast bat, v.: q.v.

blokeery. 'The male sex in general and bachelors in particular,' B., 1941: N.Z. and Australian: C. 20. See bloke in Dict.

blokey. A familiar form of bloke, 1 (p. 66): ca. 1835–90. A Comic English Grammar, 1841. (Dr Niels Haislund.)

blonchies. See blanchies above.

blonde job. 'A fair-haired member of the W.A.A.F.' (H. & P.): R.A.F.: since 1940.

Blondie or Blondy. The inseparable nickname of any fair-haired man: Naval: since ca. 1925. (P-G-R.)

blonk on, have a. To be wearing a dull, stupid look: since ca. 1930. Perhaps ex blonked, a variant of blanked (p. 61).

blood, v.—2. To cause to bleed: Australian: C. 20. Leonard Mann, Mountain Flat, 1939, 'He heard the elder Galton boy say to Willy Sigbi, "I'll blood yer snout" . . .'

blood alley. A white, or whitish, marble streaked with red: Australian and New Zealand children's: late C. 19–20. Adopted ex common English dialect.

Blood and Guts. General Patton of the U.S. Army: 1944 (d. 1945). A real warrior!—2. As the . . ., it means the Red Ensign of the Merchant Navy: nautical: C. 20. (P-G-R.)

blood back, get one's. To avenge a relative, a friend, by shooting down the enemy aircraft responsible for his death: R.A.F.: since 1940. H. & P.

blood (-) bath. A big battle with heavy casualties: since ca. 1917. Copied from the Germans, who called the Battle of the Somme (1916), 'The Blood Bath'.

blood brothers. Two pals that have been on active service together: coll.: 1940 +.

blood chit. 'A ransom note supplied to pilots flying over possibly hostile territory in the East . . . Sometimes called "gooly chit"' (Jackson): R.A.F.: since ca. 1920, by 1944, j.—2. Hence, since ca. 1925, 'any written authorisation supplied to any individual to cover him' (Jackson). Lit., a chit or note that saves his blood or life.

blood hound. A Bow Street officer: ca. 1815–40. Sessions, Dec. 1819 (p. 75).

blood in their boots. See boots, blood in their.

blood nose. "'Blood nose" is Australian for bleeding nose' (S. H. Courtier, Gently Dust the Corpse, 1960): coll.: dating from ca. 1930.

blood-stained angels (or niggers). Essendon footballers: Melbourneites': since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.) Ex the colour of their jerseys?

blood-sucker (p. 66) goes back to ca. 1810 or earlier: it occurs in The Night Watch, 1828, II, 121, 'Every bloodsucker and skulker caught toko'. (Moe.)

blood ticket. That 'chit' from a (usually civilian) doctor which testifies to a rating's illness that has caused him to overstay his leave: Naval: since ca. 1930. (P-G-R.)

blood-tub. A theatre 'specialising in the worst forms of blood-and-thunder melodrama, and generally gives two shows a night': Londoners': from ca. 1885; extant. Applied orig. to a popular theatre in N.W. London.—2. A variant (R.A.F.) cited by Jackson ('flying or earthbound'), of:— blood wag(g)on. An ambulance: originally and mainly R.A.F.: since ca. 1939. H. & P.

bloodhouse. A public-house notorious for brawls: Australian: since ca. 1910. (Dymphna Cusack, Southern Steel, 1953; Kylie Tennant, The Honey Flow, 1956.)

blood's worth bottling, yer (your) or his, etc. See yer blood's . . . below.

bloody, adj. (p. 66), must be dated to ca. 1780, at least. Sessions, May 1785 (p. 772), 'The prisoner, Fennell, swore an oath if he had a knife he would cut his bloody fingers off.'

bloody, adv.—3. Elliptical for bloody well, itself eligible as an intensive stop-gap adv. dating from late (? mid-) C. 19: lower-middle and lower classes': C. 20. 'I don't care what you think! I won't bloody do it!'—'If he doesn't want a ride, he can bloody walk!'

Bloody Mary.—2. Tomato juice and vodka: pubs and clubs': since ca. 1944.

bloody-minded. Obstructive, deliberately 'difficult', pig-headed, vindictive: coll. since 1930.—2. Hence (?) 'rebellious in consequence of some injustice,' Granville: Naval: since ca. 1930. The noun, bloody-mindedness, has existed since the early 1930's.

bloodying, n. Cursing and swearing: mostly Services: since ca. 1937. (P-G-R.)

bloomer.—2. A town where business is (very) poor: circusmen's: C. 20. 'It's a "bloomer" to be there.'—3. A 'McConnell 2-2-2 locomotive with 7 ft. driving wheels (LNWR)': railwaymen's: since ca. 1950 (?). Railway, 3rd.

blossom. A 'poetic' variant of either bloss (p. 67) or blowen (p. 68). It occurs in the anon. ballad, The Rolling Blossom, ca. 1800: low: ca. 1790–1850. (Moe.)

blot, the. The anus: low Australian: since ca. 1930. 'He gave me a kick up the blot' (Dick.)

blotch. Blotting-paper: Scottish Public Schools': late C. 19–20. Ian Miller, School Tie, 1935. Also in Yorkshire dial.—2. A term of abuse: from ca. 1925. Ian Hay, Housemaster, 1936.—3. Food: Anglo-Irish: since ca. 1945. Nigel Fitzgerald, The Student Body, 1958, 'Let's all go out and eat. You know even the smell of a cork makes me woozy and I must have blotch.'

blots. See 'Colston's'.

blotto. Strong liquor: Army: 1914–18. Ex the adj.

blouse or blousy suit. A singleton: card-players': C. 20. 'He holds only a blouse (or a blousy suit).' Perhaps blouse derives from the other, and that other = bloody louse suit.

blouse suit. See green suit.

bloused. 'I had only the King (or any other card) bloused' = I had only a singleton King: Australian card-players': C. 20. (Dr J. W. Sutherland, Jan. 21, 1941.) Ex prec.

blousy suit. See blouse.

blow, n.—10. A stroke with the hand shears: Australian shearers': since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.)—11. A crater caused by demolition charges in a road; the corresponding v. blow = 'to blow up': Army coll.: since ca. 1940. (P-G-R.)

blow, v., 3 (p. 67): earlier in W. N. Glascock, The Naval Sketch-Book, I (p. 113), 1825. Moe.—7. Esp., to abscond on bail. Since ca. 1943, blow, to depart, has been ordinary s.—10. To smoke (a pipe): since ca. 1840; ob. Sessions, March 1848. 'I could . . . blow my "bacca"': Henry Mayhew, The Great World of London, 1856. Short for blow a cloud (Dict.).—11. To supercharge (car or aero engine); ppl. adj., blown: since ca. 1925. Cf. blower, 7.

blow, get a. See blow, n., 4 (Dict.).

blow a reed. To have (too) much to say: Army: C. 20.

blow cold; usually be blowing cold, to be cooling off in sexual ardour: coll.: since ca. 1910.

blow-down (someone's) ear. To whisper to him: low: C. 20. F. D. Sharpe, The Flying Squad, 1938.

blow great guns (p. 67) must be back-dated to very early C. 19, to judge by what is either the orig. form or an elaboration, blow great guns and muskets, which occurs in Fredk Chamier, The Life of a Sailor, 1832, at II, 33. Also blow blunderbusses, as in W. N. Glascock, The Naval Sketch-Book, 2nd Series, 1834, at II, 175. Moc.

blow-hole. A very talkative person: Australian: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.)

blow-in, n. A newcomer, esp. as still unaccepted: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Ex the v. (see Dict.).—2. A chance, or a casual, visitor: Australian: C. 20. (B., 1943; Vince Kelly, The Shadow, 1955.) One who has 'blown in'.

blow job. The woman of a pair engaged in 'soixante-neuf' would be 'doing a blow job': low: C. 20.—2. A jet aircraft, as opposed to a piston job: R.A.F.: since ca. 1960.

blow me down! An expletive, orig. nautical: C. 19–20.

blow off. To break wind: ? mostly Naval: C. 20. Common also as a euphemism among women.

blow one's bags. To boast: Australian, ? mostly W.A.: C. 20. (Tom Ronan, Only a Short Walk, 1961.) Ex bagpipes. Cf. S.E. blow one's own trumpet.

blow one's cap. A beatnik variant of blow one's top: since ca. 1959. Also blow one's lump.

blow one's top. To explode with anger: adopted, ca. 1943, ex U.S. servicemen.

blow one's wig. See jive.

blow-out.—3. A lengthening of the odds: Australian racing: since ca. 1925. (B., 1953.)—4. A puncture: 'cyclists' coll.: adopted, ca. 1930, from U.S.

blow the bloody ballet! A philistine c.p. addressed to amateurs of ballet as shown on TV: since early 1950's. (A. B. Petch, March 1968.)

blow three horns and a bugle. 'It's going to blow three horns and a bugle to-night, if I'm any judge of weather, and we may have to beat out to sea for shelter': Australian nautical: C. 20. 'Rann Daly' (Vance Palmer), The Enchanted Island, 1923.

blow-through, n.—2. A waggon that, lacking brakes, has pipes to ensure a braking system: railwaymen's: C. 20. (Railway.)

blow through. (Of a man) to copulate: low: late C. 19–20. Cf. the derivative n. on p. 68.—2. To depart, esp. if hurriedly: Australian since blow-up, n., 4. A quarrel, 'row' or trouble: earlier in Sessions, June 1837.

ca. 1920. 'It's six o'clock. I'll blow through.' Dick and B.P. Cf. shoot through below.

blow up, v. 2 (p. 68) occurs earlier in Sir George Simpson's Journal of Occurrences in the Athabasca Department, 1820 and 1821, 'Mr Clarke gave him what is vulgarly called "a good blowing up"': p. 17 of Hudson's Bay Record Society Publication, No. 1, issued in 1938. (Dr Douglas Leechman.)—v., 3. Earlier in passage cited at blast, v., 1, above.—6. v.i., 'to call the men to work; used by foremen and gangers' (B. & L.): coll.: from ca. 1870.—7. V. (Of a 'plane) to crash-land and catch fire: R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. Sgt-Pilot F. Rhodes, letter of Sept. 20, 1942.

blowbag. A boastful windbag: Aus.: since ca. 1925. Xavier Herbert, Capricornia, 1939. A blend of blow hard and windbag. Cf. blow one's bags above.

blowed, be (p. 68). Earlier in 'I am blowed if I appear ageenst him unless I am dregged in': Sessions, 1827. Still earlier in James Henry Lewis, Lectures on the Art of Writing, 7th ed., 1816, 'It'll be all dickey wee me, I'm blowed if it won't!' (Moe.)

blower, 5 (p. 68). Hence in gen. Forces' use by 1939 (H. & P.) and in general civilian use by 1936 at latest. In 1939–45, applied also to a broadcast system, e.g. the Tannoy.—7. An aircraft supercharger. R.A.F.: since ca. 1935. Jackson. Current since ca. 1925 in motor-garage s.—8. An air-raid siren: mostly A.R.P. workers': 1940+. The New Statesman, Aug. 30, 1941.—9. A deserter from the Armed Forces: since ca. 1941. The (London) Star, Jan. 25, 1945. Ex blow, v.—10. Hence, as in 'When Lord Hewart asked, "What is a blower?"', he was told he was a man who "blew money back to the course" and saved bookmakers from heavy losses': The Evening News, July 12, 1939: racecourse s.: since ca. 1930.—11. A broken-winded horse: Australian coll.: late C. 19–20. (B., Australia Speaks, 1953.) blowie or blowly. A blowfly: Australian: since ca. 1910. Gaven Casey, Downhill is Easier, 1945, "'What d'y mean, the flies found it?' . . . "There was clouds o' blowies." blowing (p. 68): 1871, Knocking about, by C. J. Money. (B., 1941.)—2. A variant of blowen (p. 68).

blowing bubbles, n. The curses uttered by the victims of wildcat schemes and shady company-promotions: since ca. 1930. In short, frothing at the mouth with rage.

blown. See blowie.

blown, adj. Of a motor, esp. a racing car: supercharged: (racing) motorists': since early 1950's.

blown out. See left sucking the mop.

blowpiped, adj. Sent to another job: London docks: since ca. 1945. The New Statesman, Dec. 31, 1965, article by R. C. Hall.

blubber-boiler. A variant (from ca. 1860) of blubber-hunter (Dict.). B. & L. blubberation. Weeping: coll.: 1912, Rejected Addresses; ob. by 1890, † by 1920.

bludgasite. A 'bludger': Australian: 1939–45. (B., 1943.) A blend of bludger + parasite.

bludge, n. An easy job: Australian: since ca. 1920. John Cleary, The Long Shadow, 1949, 'He was happy in his job, it was a good bludge.' Ex senses 3 and 4 of the n.—2. See come the bludge on.

—3. (Ex sense 1.) An easy life: a period of loafing: Australian: since ca. 1920. (Dick.)

bludge.—2. To be a harlot's bully: Australian: Leonard Mann, A Murder in Sydney, 1937. Ex sense 1.—3. Hence, to ask for, to 'scrounge': Australian low: since ca. 1910. Lawson Glassop, We Were the Rats, 1944, 'Probably a Free Frenchman bludging a lift.'—4. (Ex 2.) To bludge on, to impose or sponge on: Australian: since ca. 1910. B., 1942.—5. To have an easy life: to loaf for a while: Australian: since ca. 1920. (Dick.) Cf. preceding.

bludger.—3. A sponger: Australian low s.: C. 20. B., 1942. Ex bludge, v., 4.

bludget. A female thief that lures her victims: Australian ephemeral: ca. 1925–39. (B., 1943.)

bludging. The vbl n. of bludge, v., esp. in senses 3 and 4.

blue, n.—8. Maltese beer: Services?: since ca. 1935. Ex the blue label of the most general make.

—9. A summons: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Ex colour of paper.—10. Hence (?), a mistake; a loss: Australian: since ca. 1920.—11. Variant of bluey, 3 (Dict.): C. 20.—12. A brawl: Australian low: C. 20. Lawson Glassop, We Were the Rats, 1944.—13. As the blue, it = the desert; esp. in the blue: Army in North Africa: 1940–3. (P-G-R.)

Sense 7 (p. 69) goes back to ca. 1805 or even a decade or two earlier; it occurs in W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints, 1829. (Moe.)

blue, v.—7. To fight or attack (someone): Australian since ca. 1925. B., 1942.

blue, bet on the. See bet on . . . above.

blue, bit of. 'An obscene or libidinous anecdote' (B. & L.): from ca. 1870.

blue, by all that's (p. 69): earlier in W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints, 1829. (Moe.)

blue, drive. To drive 'all out': motor-racers': from ca. 1920. Peter Chamberlain. Cf. till all is blue, q.v. in Dict., at blue, till all is.

blue, get into a; turn on a blue. To become involved in, to start, a fight: Australian: since ca. 1920. (Culotta.)

blue, in the.—4. Out of control: Australian: since late 1920's. B., 1942. Cf. senses 1, 3 (p. 69).

blue, into the. With no horizon whatsoever: Mediterranean skin divers': since ca. 1955. (Wilfred Granville, letter of March 11, 1964.)

blue, till all is, 2 (p. 69): earlier in John L. Gardner, The Military Sketch-Book, II (p. 28), 1831. Moe.

blue, till the ground looks. See 'Tavern terms', § 2; cf. blue, till all is, p. 69.

blue, true (Dict.): cf. end of § 2 in 'Tavern terms'.

Blue at the Main, the. The Port Admiral: Naval coll.: C. 19. In, e.g., W. N. Glascock, Sketch-Book, 2nd Series, 1834, at II, 40. Moe.

Blue Bags, the. Newtown footballers: Sydney-ites': since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.)

Blue Bits. The blue-backed periodical Chemistry and Industry: since ca. 1946. Pun on 'Tit Bits'.

blue blazes. Hell: from ca. 1870. B. & L. Ex blue flames from brimstone.—2. Spirituous liquors: non-aristocratic: from ca. 1875. Ibid.

blue bottle, 2 (p. 69). Revived ca. 1840. G. W. M. Reynolds, The Mysteries of London, 1846.

blue-caps, the. Service police: since ca. 1930. H. & P.

blue-chin. An actor: Australian: C. 20.

B., 1942. As he shaves towards evening, so, during the day, he's unshaven.

blue chips. Coal: proletarian: mid-C. 19–20: ob. by 1940. James Bent, Criminal Life, 1891.

blue-domer. An officer that absents himself from church parade: military: ca. 1890–1910. H. A. Vachell, Phæbe's Guest House, 1939, 'God could be worshipped best under the blue dome of his own heaven.'

blue duck.—2. A failure; a frustration, a disappointment: Australian: since ca. 1930. (B., 1942.)

blue-eye. A favourite of authority: R.A.F.: since ca. 1935. Ex blue-eyed boy (p. 70).

blue fever—a ring of roses—Spanish football. Lower-deck names, since ca. 1945, for V.D.

blue flash. A '25,000 volt A.C. electric locomotive' (Railway 2nd): railwaymen's: since ca. 1955.

Blue Flue Boats. Ships of the Blue Funnel Line: H.M.S. Conway: C. 20. (Granville.)

blue job. A policeman; also the Navy: R.A.F.: since ca. 1939. H. & P. Cf. brown job.

blue light. Sense 2 derives ex the fact that, in the Indian Army, a blue light is the symbol of temperance. Kipling, in 'Bobs', a poem on Lord Roberts (appearing in The Pall Mall Gazette in Dec. 1893), speaks of him as 'Bluelight Bobs'.—3. A Warrant Gunner: Naval: since ca. 1920.—4. A wild rumour: Army in North Africa: 1940–3. Keith Douglas, Alamein to Zem Zem, 1947, 'Fantastic rumours, called blue lights, began to circulate.'

blue light, 2 (p. 70): earlier in W. N. Glascock, The Naval Sketch-Book, II (p. 152), 1826. Moe.

blue-light clinic. A V.D. clinic: Australian coll.: C. 20.

blue-light outfit. Anti-V.D. kit supplied to armed services: Australian coll., since ca. 1930. (B.P.)

blue lights, shit. To feel exceedingly afraid: Services: 1940 +. Cf. blue funk (p. 70).

blue moon (p. 70). Nearly forty years earlier in J. Burrowes, Life in St George's Fields, 1821.—2. A spoon: rhyming s.: late C. 19–20.—3. To 'spoon': ca. 1890–1930.

blue-nose certificate. That entry on a rating's Service Certificate which states that he has served north of the Arctic Circle: Naval: 1939–45. (P-G-R.) blue one. A green signal light: railwaymen's: C. 20. (Railway.)

Blue Orchids. See College Boys.

blue pencil. Used to take the place of an unprintable word or phrase: coll.: since ca. 1920. Ex editors' use of blue pencil for corrections and deletions.

Blue Peter.—3. Long Service and Good Conduct Medal: Naval: C. 20. Granville.

blue pill, 2 (p. 70): earlier in W. N. Glascock, The Naval Sketch-Book, I (p. 173), 1825. Moe.

blue ruin.—2. A volume of Bohn's series of translations from the Greek and Latin classics: Universities' and Public Schools': ca. 1880–1914. Jocularly ex the 'gin' sense. (Marples, 2.)

blue-shirt. An owner; a manager: Australian rural: since ca. 1920.—2. Hence, a slacker: since 1925. (B., Australia Speaks, 1953.)

Blue Sisters, the. Members of the Little Company of St Mary: Australian Catholics' coll.: C. 20. (B.P.)

blue streak. 'Blue Pullman de luxe' (Railway 2nd): railwaymen's: since ca. 1920.

blue-tongue. A station roustabout: Australian: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.)

Blue Train, the. 'The train from "Alex" into the desert, eventually . . . as far as Tobruk. There was probably a greater concentration of hangovers on this train than anywhere else on earth' (Peter Sanders in The Sunday Times magazine, Sept. 10, 1967): Army in North Africa: 1940-43. Ex blue, n., 13, above.

Bluebell or, rather, bluebell. 'Metal polish, regardless of any brand name' (Granville): Naval coll.: since ca. 1910. Ex the brand name Bluebell.

Bluebell Line, the. That part of the Lewes-East Grinstead line, Southern Railway, which is noted for the bluebells visible from the trains: railwaymen's and users' coll.: C. 20. (Railway, 3rd.)

bluebird. A (pretty) 'Waaf': R.A.F.: since ca. 1941. Partridge. Ex Maeterlinck's The Bluebird of happiness.—2. A wave that has not broken (a 'greenie'): Australian surfers': since ca. 1960. (B.P.)

bluebottle. See blue bottle (Dict.).

blued.—2. Despondent; in low spirits: ca. 1850-1900. Conway Edwardes, in Act I of his comedy, Heroes, 1876, 'What's the matter? Feel blued?' (Moe.)

blues.—6. A coll. variant of best blues or walking-out uniform of blue serge: Naval: late C. 19-20. (P-G-R.)

Bluey. The Near East—Egypt, Palestine, etc.: Army: 1940-45. Ex 'the blue Mediterranean'.

bluey, 2 (p. 71), is also, since ca. 1920, Australian. (Vince Kelly, The Greedy Ones, 1958.)—6. A man that drinks methylated spirit: c., esp. tramps': C. 20.

blueys (or blueies). See 'Minor Drugs'.

blug. See blag.

buggy occurs earlier in American Habberton's Helen's Babies, 1876.

blunderbuss.—3. A baby-carriage: Canadian: since ca. 1925 (?). A pun on blunder and bus. (Leechman.)

blunt end, the. 'Landlubber's term for the stern of the ship. See sharp end,' Granville: C. 20.

blunted (p. 71) survived until ca. 1910.

blurb was invented by Frank Gelett Burgess, the American humorist: A. H. Holt, Phrase Origins, 1936. 'I have always, subconsciously, related [it] to blab and burble' (Leechman).

bly-hunker is also spelt bly-hunka and is prob. of Shelta origin.

bo (p. 72). Perhaps, as Leechman suggests, ex bor, q.v. at p. 81.—2. In Australia, since ca. 1930, used occ. for any tramp. (Alan Marshall, These Are My People, 1946, 'I pulled up a bo.'—3. 'Wardroom mode of address for the Bosun' (Granville): Naval: since ca. 1910.

Perhaps not orig. U.S., after all, for it seems to have been a common vocative among British seamen of the Napoleonic Wars. It occurs frequently in W. N. Glascock's works, notably The Naval Sketch-Book, I, 1825, and Sailors and Saints, 1829; e.g. in the latter: "'You may say that, bo," said a third' (I, 210) and "'Never mind that, bo," cried Cheerly, the captain's coxswain, (II, 183) and with preceding 'my' at least three times. (Moe.) Therefore not ex hobo; Dr Douglas Leechman's conjecture may well be the best, bo-chuffed. See chuffed.

Bo Joe. A variant of bo, 2 (above): since early 1930's. Either by elaboration of bo or by rhyming s. on hobo (p. 394). B.P. Also bo-jo, and prob. a corruption of bozo below, as B.P. tells me on Jan 26, 1966.

bo-peep (p. 72). Fifty years earlier in D. W. Barrett, Navvies, 1880-3.—3. The stocks: ca. 1760-1850. One's head peeps out.—4. A look: Australian: since ca. 1920. (Lawson Glassop, Lucky Palmer, 1949.)

boab. A baobab tree: Australian: C. 20. Jack Marshall & Russell Drysdale, Journey among Men, 1962, p. 116, 'We camped in a clump of young boabs.'

board, n.—4. 'The use of board for the floor of a shearing shed is also slang, whence comes a full board and boss-over-the-board,' B., 1941: New Zealand and Australian rural: since ca. 1880; by 1910, coll. Over the board occurs in Archer Russell, Gone Nomad, 1936.—5. As in 'The board's against me' (the signal is 'No'): Canadian railwaymen's coll.: C. 20. But also, by ca. 1945, British. (Railway, 3rd.)

Board of Trade. A 'bench seat in Hyde Park, from the amorous activity for which the locality is notorious. (Noted July 26, 1960)': since the 1940's. Cf. trade, n., 6, below.

board shorts. Shorts descending almost to knees: Australian surfers' coll.: since ca. 1955. (The Bulletin, March 30, 1963.)

board the beef in the smoke. To eat dinner: nautical, esp. Naval: ca. 1790-1860. Moe has found it in 1806.

board you! Pass the bottle on: nautical (—1890); ob.

boarding-house reach is that implied in reaching!, excuse me (p. 690): Canadian jocular coll.: C. 20. (Leechman.)

boat.—2. A motor-car used for races: motor-racers': from ca. 1928. Peter Chamberlain. Punning motor-boat.—3. A submarine (usually pl.): Naval: since ca. 1920. Granville.—4. A builder's cradle: builders' jocular: C. 20. n.—5. Short for boat race.

boat, be on the. To have been drafted overseas (but not yet on the troopship): Forces', esp. R.A.F., coll.: 1939-45.

boat-happy. Excited—often so as to become distract—at the idea of going back home on a demobilisation ship: Army: 1945-6.

boathook. An 8-foot pole with spitted end, used by the London Fire Brigade: C. 20.

boat race. Face: rhyming s.: since ca. 1946. Often shortened to boat. (Both are in Norman.)

Boats. The Boats Officer: Naval (ward-room) coll.: C. 20. (P-G-R.)

boats. Boots, esp. if they are (very) large: non-U jocular: C. 20.

boat's left, the. You've 'had it': Naval c.p.: since ca. 1910. (P-G-R.) The boat taking men ashore.

Boatsville. The Admiralty building in Whitehall, London: orig., and mainly, Fleet Air Arm: since ca. 1930.

boatswell. An Admiral: Naval lowerdeck: since ca. 1930. (Wilfred Granville, April 22, 1962.) Boat 'swell'?

bob. To strike, slap, push sharply, punch: C. 20. Gerald Kersh, Bill Nelson, 1942, 'I bob him in the stomach and he fell flat.' Cf. bonk, bob, n.,—2 (a shilling), goes back more than twenty years earlier than the authority cited on p. 72; it occurs in Sessions, June 1789.

bob, v.,—2. To be subservient to authority; to be punctilious (and often a shade anxious) in observation of the regulations; hence bobber, one who is this or who does this, and bob on, to be very respectful towards one's superior: Army, esp. in the Guards regiments. See, e.g., Roger Grinstead, Some Talk of Alexander, 1943, and They Dug a Hole, 1946. Ex S.E. bob, to curtsy.—3. Hence, esp. to dither: since ca. 1939. (P-G-R.)

Bob, old blind. Penis: Lambeth Cockneys': C. 20. Personification.

bob, shift one's. To exchange places: Naval: ca. 1805–50. In W. N. Glascock, The Naval Sketch-Book, II, 1826. (Moe.)

bob a nob,—2. Hence, hair-cutting: since ca. 1930; † by 1947.

bob and sock, the game of. Boxing: boxing journalists': since the 1930's. Ex bob, to duck one's head, and sock to punch hard.

bob down—you're spotted! A e.p. (from ca. 1920): 'Your argument (excuse, etc.) is so very weak that you need not go on!'

bob(-)hole door. A 'wagon door constructed to half open' (Railway, 3rd): railwaymen's: C. 20. So that an employee may 'bob in or out?'

Bob Hope. A flying bomb: July–Oct. 1944. Daily Express, Aug. 14, 1944, "When you hear them coming," I was told, "you bob, hope for the best." A pun on the name of the famous American comedian.

bob-in. A voluntary subscription: Australian coll.: late C. 19–20. (B., 1943.) A shilling a head into the kitty.

bob it! See bob! in Dict.

bob, line and sinker,—lock, stock and barrel. See lock, stock and barrel, bob, line and sinker.

bob on. See bob, v., 2.

Bob Short; Dumb Dick; Fat Jack. 'And here the unprofessional reader is apprised of "Jack's" propensity to designate people by appellations totally opposite to their characteristics and personal appearance'—footnoted, 'Thus a tall tar is frequently designated "Bob Short"—a lean one "Fat Jack"—a talkative topman, "Dumb Dick"' (Wm Nugent Glascock, The Naval Sketch-Book, 2nd Series, 1834, at I, 58): Naval ratings': C. 19. Moe.

Bob Squash. A wash, to wash (oneself): rhyming s.: C. 20.—2. Hence, the lavatory division of a public convenience: since ca. 1930. 'A pickpocket is said to be "working the Bob" when he specializes in removing wallets from the jackets of people washing their hands' (Franklyn 2nd).

bob tail: bob-tail. See bobtail (Dict.).

bob to a gussie. 'To ingratiate oneself with an officer' (Jackson): Services: since ca. 1930. See bobbing.

bob under. To sing small: Services': C. 20. (P-G-R.)

bobber,—4. A filleter of fish: fishing trade s.: C. 20. It now verges on coll. (The Regional wireless programme of Nov. 23, 1936.) Ex S.E. bob, to tap.

bobbers. A fringe of pieces of cork or wood worn on a hat to keep the flies away: Australian: late C. 19–20. B., 1942.—2. Female breasts: North Country: since ca. 1945. John Wainwright, Edge of Destruction, 1968.

bobbery (p. 73) is, however, current in C. 20 Australia. (Vance Palmer's novels, passim.)

bobbin!, that's the end of the. That's the end of it!; that's finished!: non-aristocratic coll. e.p. verging on proverbial S.E.: mid-C. 19–20; ob. B. & L., '... When all the thread is wound off a bobbin or spool. . . . It rose from the refrain of a song which was popular in 1850.'

bobbing. An attempt to curry favour with a superior: Services, since ca. 1930. H. & P. Ex curtseying.—2. See dry bobbing.

bobby, 1 (p. 73). My earliest record for it is Sessions (Surrey cases), June 1844.—3. A 'poddie' calf: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. By corruption.—4. A signalman: railwaymen's: C. 20 (Railway). Ex sense 1 on p. 73.

bobby, v. To serve, to be, to be occupied as, a policeman: police force coll.: since the 1930's. Hence the n., bobbying. Both occur in John Wainwright, The Worms Must Wait, 1967. Ex bobby, a policeman.

bobby, swallow. See swallow bobby.

bobby dazzler (p. 73), a dazzling person: by 1890, s. in Britain; by 1900, s. in Australia, where usually a real bobby dazzler. (B.P.)

'In the heyday of Cycling Clubs the police would lie in wait for their dusk return. Those without lights got in the middle, those with the new-fangled very bright acetylene lamps rode on the outside, their lamps were the Bobby Dazzlers' (John A. Yates, letter of Sept. 8, 1966): a pun on Bobby, bobby, a policeman. Se non è vero è ben trovato.

bobby peeler. A policeman: ca. 1850–70. B. & L. See bobby (Dict.).

bobby-soxer. A teenage girl rigidly adhering to teenage conventions: adopted, ca. 1959, ex U.S.: by 1965, coll. Ex bobby socks, white cotton socks. Cf. quotation at greatest, the, above.

bobby's job. An easy job: coll.: C. 20. Ex a common misapprehension.

Bob's-a-dying. Idling; idling and dozing: nautical: ? ca. 1790–1850. Wm N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints, 1829 (I, 179), 'Nothing but dining, and dancing, and Bobs-a-dying on deck from daylight till dark'. (Moe.)

Bob's your uncle. Everything is perfect: e.p.: from ca. 1890; slightly ob. 'You go and ask for the job—and he remembers your name—and Bob's your uncle.' 'Still going strong in Australia' (B.P., 1965).

Bocker. See Bokker.

bockety. Distorted or deformed: Anglo-Irish, esp. Dubliners': C. 20. (Dr H. W. Dalton.)

bod. A body, i.e. a real person, a person actually available: R.A.F.: since ca. 1935. Jackson. Note odd bod, unattached or 'spare' man: orig. Services', then gen. s.

Bod, the. The Bodleian Library: Oxford undergraduates': C. 20. (Marples, 2.) Cf. Bodder (p. 74).

bodge. Paper: Christ's Hospital: C. 20. Marples. Ex bumf?—2. A bodgie: Australian non-bodgies': since early 1950's. (Dick.)

bodger. See sense 2 of bodgie.—2. As Mr Bodger, it means a confused or inefficient man: Australian: the 1950's. (B., 1953.)

Bodger or Bidge, the. The Headmaster: Rugby: late C. 19–20. Marples. Bodger corrupts boss, and bidge thins and shortens bodger. 'First applied to Dr James, headmaster 1895-1909.' (Marples.) 'The latter is no longer used' (D. F. Wharton, letter of Oct. 24, 1965).

bodgie or -gy. 'Boy with crew-cut and zoot-suit, playing juke-box in milk-bar' (The Sunday Chronicle, Jan. 6, 1952): Australian: ca. 1950-60. Cf. widgie.—2. 'Anything worthless, such as a fake receipt' (B., 1953): Australian c.: since ca. 1950. Also bodger.—3. Hence also, misfits or unclassifiables: since ca. 1952. (B., 1953.)

Sense 1 is still current, as in Dick, but slightly ob. The word app. comes from U.S. teenage s. for a young male jitterbug wearing his hair long and curly, and a sports jacket too large for him: W. & F. record it for 1952 and say that it was, by 1960, archaic, but they don't essay an etymology. My guess is that it doesn't come from Eng. Lakeland dial. bodgy, fat, puffy, but is a back-formation from bodgies, itself a distortion of 'the boys' or, more prob., boysies (cf. boysie on p. 87). Another guess: widgie (below) ex widgies, an analogous distortion of 'the wimmen' (women)—prompted by bodgies.

bodier (p. 74). A little earlier in Boriana, II, 1818.

bodies, the (p. 74) occurs earlier in Major John André's poem, The Cow Chase, New York, 1780, London, 1781, with the Bodies footnoted thus: 'A cant'—here, fashionable slang—'appellation given amongst the soldiery to the corps that had the honour to guard his Majesty's person'.

body, v. To punch (one's opponent) on the body—i.e. the trunk: pugilistic coll.: ca. 1805-70. Boriana, II, 1818.

[Body, the. 'Ward frequently uses a number of slang terms, some of them vulgar, for various parts of the body. The following . . . occur fairly often in his works': esp. in London: 1700-25. The head was noddle (1703); eyes were peepers (1722); breasts, bubbies (1703) and dumplings (1709); feet, pettitoes (1709) and the rare pedestals (1703); a hand was a paw (1700); the nose, beak (1715) or handle of one's face (1703); tongue, clapper (1700); the behind, bum-fiddle (1709), scut (1709), tail (1703) or toby (1703); a face, fiz (1700); teeth were stumps (1709—but is this correct?); entrails, puddings (1703). Matthews.]

body (-) and (-) soul lashing. 'A piece of rope tied belt-wise round an oilskin which a messmate can grab if a man is in danger of falling overboard,' Granville: Naval: C. 20. But also, in the old sailing-ship days, to keep water out of legs and sleeves of oilskins.

body-bag. A shirt: low: ca. 1820-70. Sinks.

body-basher or panel-beater. A garage owner, or the garage itself: Australian motorists': since ca. 1950. (B.P.)

body-binder. A 'waistcoat' or perhaps a 'broad belt': ca. 1810-40, esp. in boxing circles. The Plymouth Telegraph, (? March) 1822, 'Bartlett entered first, and doffed the castor from his nob, his blue bird's-eye from his squeeze, and his body-binder from his bread-basket'.

body-snatcher, 8. Also R.A.F.: since ca. 1939 H. & P.—10. A surgeon addicted to operating on seamen: Australian Naval: 1939-45. (B., 1943.)

body(-)strike. See fly(-)strike below.

boff, have a. To hit out: cricketers': since ca. 1955. The Sunday Times, July 9, 1961, Ian Peebles, 'May, with a raincloud at his back and victory just round the corner, had a boff'. Echoic; cf. biff on p. 51.

boffer. See boffing.

boffin. Usually the boffins, the inventors working for the advancement of aviation: R.A.F. Dating since before the war of 1939-45, it > gen. in the Services only in 1944 (W/Cdr Robin P. McDouall, letter of March 27, 1945). A fanciful name of the Lewis Carroll type, yet with a glance at 'baffle' (the bafflings = the baffling fellows = those who baffle the enemy) and perhaps at 'The Boffin Books'—a delightful series for children.—2. In the Navy, any officer over 40 years of age: since ca. 1940. Granville.

boffing, vbl n.; boffer. Masturbation; one who indulges in a specific instance: low: since ca. 1930.

bog, n., 1 (p. 74). Earlier in Spy, 1825; orig., Oxford University.—3. (Short for bog-wheel) a bicycle: Marlborough College: C. 20.

bog, v.—2. To work hard at a manual job: Australian: since ca. 1925. Gavin Casey, The Wits are Out, 1947, 'Bogging underground on the goldfields'.

bog(-)gang. A party of convicts detailed for the work defined at bog, 2 (Dict.): same period. B. & L.

bog-in, n. A hearty meal: Australian: C. 20. (Jon Cleary, The Climate of Courage, 1954.) Ex the v.

bog in, v.i. To eat (heartily): to work energetically: Australian: late C. 19-20. B., 1942.—2. To get started: Australian: since ca. 1910. (Culotta.)

bog man. A term of abuse in the Army, esp. in the Guards: since ca. 1930. Cf. shit, n., 2 (Dict.).

bog off. To depart; to take off: Air Force: since ca. 1937. Charles Graves, Seven Pilots, 1943.

Bog-Trotter, 3 (p. 74): the entry in B.E., however, clearly indicates that, as 'any Irishman whatsoever', the term had existed since late C. 17.

bog up. To make a mess of; to do incompetently; hence the n. bog-up: Services: 1939+ (P-G-R.)

bog(-)wheel. A bicycle: Cambridge undergraduates': ca. 1924-40. Its wheels are—like the gap in a water-closet seat—round. Cf. bog, n., 1 (p. 74).

bogey.—An aircraft suspected to be hostile: R.A.F.: 1939-45. (P-G-R.)

Bogey, Colonel. See Colonel Bogey.

boggart, be off at, with Meredith occ. added. To be, or go, off at full tilt or, fig., impetuously: Midlands: late C. 19-20. Ex Midlands dial. (of a horse) take (the) boggart, take fright. A boggart is, of course, a bogey or hobgoblin or ghost. (Richard Merry.)

boggi (pron. bog-eye). 'Handpiece of a shearing machine' (B., 1959): Aus. rural: C. 20. Origin?

bogh. To get; hold; make (esp. a person) work: Shelta: C. 18-20. B. & L.

bogie. A bathe: Australian: since ca. 1815. Alex. Harris, The Emigrant Family, 1849. Ex Aboriginal.—2. Hence, a swimming-hole; a bath: Australian: late C. 19-20. (B., 1943.)

Sense 1, † by 1950; sense 2, now usually bogie-hole. (B.P.)

bogies. Dissatisfied customers: mock-auction s. See bogy, n., 8, on p. 75.

bogs. See bog, n., in Dict.

bogus, n. One who is detected in a pretence, a bluff, a sham: Services: since ca. 1935. H. & P. Ex the adj. (p. 75).

bogy, 7. See bogie.—9. An aircraft suspected to be hostile: R.A.F.: 1939 +.—10. See last sense of sweep, n., in Dict.

bogy, make a. To make a mistake: Regular Army: late C. 19–20; ob. by 1946. See bogy, n. 5 (p. 75).

Bohunk (or b-). 'As a Polish or Slavic labourer [it] was a familiar to me in 1910 in British Columbia' (Leechman): Canadian: C. 20. Probably adopted from U.S.: Mitford M. Mathews records it for 1903 and explains it as a modified blend of Bohemian + Hungarian.

boil, n. A teenager whose sex is not immediately discernible, because of long hair and clothing so much alike: since ca. 1962. Ex 'boy and girl'—with a pun on 'pain in the neck'.

boil-over. A series of horse-races in which the favourite loses: Australian sporting: ca. 1870–1910.

boil up, n. An argument: a quarrel: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

boiled, adj. Topsy: Australian: since ca. 1918.

boiled dog (p. 75) is also, since ca. 1918, Australian.

Boiled Rabbit. St Clement's Church, Oxford: Oxford undergraduates': ca. 1830–90. Because of its peculiar architecture. (Geoffrey Faber, Oxford Apostles, 1953.)

boiled rag. A stiff shirt: Australian: since ca. 1910. Baker.

boiler.—3. A hat: Public Schools': ca. 1880–1915. Talbot Baines Reed, The Fifth Form at St Dominic's, 1907—4. 'A well-used woman of forty or over' (Robin Cook, 1962): since ca. 1925: c. >, by 1960, low s.

boiler-buster. A boiler-maker: Naval: C. 20.

boiler-clean. A boiler-cleaning: Naval coll.: C. 20.

boiler-creepers. Dungarees: Naval: C. 20. Worn by engineers and stokers in the engine-room.

boiler-maker. A mixture, half of draught mild and half of bottled brown ale: public-houses': since ca. 1920.

boiler-plate. Matter already set, on stereotyped plates, for filling up pages of a newspaper: Canadian printers': C. 20.

boiling.—2. Short for boiling, the whole (p. 75): coll.: since ca. 1930. Jackson.

boiling, the whole (p. 75). Earlier in 'A Real Paddy', Real Life in Ireland, 1822.

boils, heads on 'em (or them) like. An Australian two-up players' c.p. that, dating from before 1914, is applied to a run of heads. (Lawson Glassop, Lucky Palmer, 1949.)

boing! This imitation of the noise made by a suddenly released spring, became, ca. 1955, a Canadian c.p., used on any occasion, no matter how inappropriate. (Leechman.) By 1950, also British, with variant boink. Cf. doing and ker-doying, both below.

Bojer or Boojer. A Boer; esp. a Boer soldier: English soldiers': in the South African War.

bok. A girl. South African c.: C. 20. The Cape Times, May 23, 1946. Afrikaans.

bokker or bocker. A bowler hat: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. Ex boxer, 2 (Dict.).

boko, adj. Blind in one eye: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

Boley or Boly. A Bolingbroke aircraft:

R.C.A.F.: 1940–5. Canadian form of the Blenheim.

bollicks or bollocks. See ballocks.

bolo. "What's Bolo?" "Cock-eyed; anything not correct in the Coldstream Guards is Bolo", Gerald Kersh, They Die with Their Boots Clean, 1941. Prob. ex bow-legged.

Bolshie.—2. Hence, since ca. 1930 and usually small b'd, a synonym of bloody-minded; pig-headed; obstructive and deliberately difficult; esp. in the Forces: 1939 +. Without political significance.

bolt, n.—3. (Or Bolt.) A non-Latin European: Australian, esp. teenagers': since late 1940's. 'Our boys hated these dagoes and bolts that were coming out here' (Dick). Perhaps 'those who bolt from their own country'.—But Mr Barry Prentice (April 1, 1967) thinks this to be 'almost certainly a misprint for Balt' above.

bolt upright. An emphasis-tag: mostly Cockneys': from ca. 1880. E.g. 'I'll be damned, bolt upright.' Mr Ramsey Spencer reminds me, in March 1967, that this occurs in The Canterbury Tales (The Reeve's Tale):

'... I have thries as, in this short night swived the millers daughter bolt-upright'.

bolted. See mill, been through the.

bolters, have not the. Of person or racehorse, to have no chance of winning the race or the contest: Australian sporting: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. Ex bolt, to run away. Better written bolter's, i.e. a bolting horse's chance; B., 1959, compares Buckley's chance, q.v. both below and on p. 101.

Boly. See Boley.

bomb. In address, a bombardier: military (esp. R.A.): since ca. 1920. H. & P. n.—2. 'An old car or motorcycle' (B., 1953): Australian: since ca. 1945. Noisy. In The Drum, 1959, B. defines it as 'any old car, but esp. a car made in the 1930's'.

bomb, v. To dope (a horse): Australian sporting: since ca. 1945. (B., 1953.)

bomb, go like a, esp. in 'It has gone, or it went, like a bomb', as in "'A sort of Grand tour, wasn't it, with Robbie?"—"Sort of. Seeing the world and brushing up my Arabic . . . Oh, it all went like a bomb"' (Mary Stewart, The Gabriel Hounds, 1967). It began, in the late 1950's, for cars with a fine turn of speed and a very rapid acceleration; by early in the 1960's it was being applied to expeditions, visits, parties, love affairs, what have you. Ex the explosion of (large) bombs.

bomb, make a. To make 'a packet' or become rich: low: since ca. 1945. (Norman.)

Bomb Alley. The Straits of Messina: Naval and Merchant Naval from mid-1940 to mid-1943, then only historical.—2. The enemy-held strip of coast between Tobruk and the British lines in Egypt: 1941–3.

bomb-happy. With nerves gone, through exposure to bombing: Army: 1940 +. (Lawson Glassop, We Were the Rats, 1944; W/Cdr Robin P. McDouall, letter of April 12, 1945.) Contrast the R.A.F. flak-happy. Also as n., a person with bomb-shattered nerves.

bomb-sight buglet. A bright-eyed gremlin, addicted to dazzling the bomb-aimer: R.A.F.: 1940–5. (P-G-R.) bomb-up. 'To load an aircraft with bombs' (Jackson): R.A.F. coll.: since 1939; at latest by 1944, j.

Bombay bowler. A service-issue topee: R.A.F.: since ca. 1925. (Sgt Gerald Emanuel, letter of March 29, 1945.) Alliterative—and, well, Bombay is hot. The Sergeant, however, says, 'Because usually jettisoned at Bombay, port of entry into India, by reason of its uncomfortable weight.'

Bombay fizzer. 'A small tumbler of water with a teaspoonful of sherbet in it,' Richards: Indian-Army coll.: from ca. 1880.

Bombay fornicator. A type of chair (capacious and comfortable): R.A.F.: since ca. 1925; slightly ob. by 1950.

Bombay runner. A large cockroach often encountered in the lands and islands of the Indian Ocean: nautical, esp. Naval: late C. 19–20. (Granville.) bomber. A newspaper: journalistic: since ca. 1930.

bomber boy. Any member (though esp. the pilot) of a bomber crew: R.A.F. coll.: since 1939. Jackson.

bombie. See bommie below.

bombo.—2. Wine: Australian: since ca. 1930. (B.P.) Cf. bumbo, 2, on p. 107.—3. Whisky: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Ex bumbo, 2 (Dict.).—4. Cheap wine, esp. if much fortified: Australian: since ca. 1919. (B., 1943.)

bommie, orig. bombie. A bombora, i.e. a 'submerged reef beyond the beach breakers' (The Bulletin, March 30, 1963): Australian surfers': since late 1950's.

bomper. The 'stamp' on dockers' Dock Labour Board cards, with corresponding v. bomp on: Merseyside: since middle 1940's. (Picture Post, Dec. 3, 1949.) Ex a dial. variant of bump and bumper.

bona, adj.—2. Beautiful: prostitutes', esp. London: C. 20. Ex sense 1 on p. 77.

bona, adv. Very: parlyaree: since ca. 1860. (P. H. Emerson, Signor Lippo, 1893.) Ex the ad. —see p. 77.

bond-hook or bondhook. A variant of bundhook (p. 104).

Bondi (tram), go through—or travel—like a. To travel very fast; hence, to decamp hastily; hence, 'to leave a task or obligation on a sudden whim' (B., The Drum, 1959): Aus., esp. N.S.W.: C. 20. Cf. go through and shoot through below.

bone, n.—3. The bone is the penis erectus: Cockneys': mid-C. 19–20.—4. A dollar: C. 20. Nourishing.

bone, v.—2. To interrogate (a suspect): police and fringe-of-underworld: C. 20. Evening Echo (Bournemouth), April 20, 1966. Ex sense 1 on p. 77.—3. To bring bad luck to, to jinx: Aus.: C. 20. Ex S. E. point a bone, an Aboriginal practice. B., 1959.

bone boots. To get a patent-leather finish on one's Service boots: Regular Army coll.: C. 20.

bone dome. A crash helmet: esp. in aviation: since ca. 1935.

bone-head (or one word). A boxer: R.A.F. since ca. 1935. Jackson. He needs it or he would not be one.

bone in the mouth, carry a (p. 77). But perhaps the predominant form is have—occ., have got—a (or the) bone in her mouth, as in Wm Maginn, Tales of Military Life, 1829, at I, 327, "'Bless you, Ma'am, she has only got the bone in her mouth—she is spanking away like a young whale, at nine or ten knots an hour"''. (Moe.)

bone in the throat (etc.). These phrases occur also in the form in one's throat (etc.).

bone out. To survey (a stretch of rail) in order to adjust the level; hence, boning rods, survey (or siting) boards: railwaymen's: C. 20. (Railway.)

bone-shaker.—2. Hence, 'any old vehicle which passengers find uncomfortable,' H. J. Oliver (see Bovril): coll.: C. 20.

bone up on. To study (a subject) because the information will soon be needed: Canadian (ex U.S.): since ca. 1910. Either ex bone used for polishing shoes or ex the Bohn translations of the Classics.

bone with, have a. To have a quarrel with, a grudge against, someone: Australian coll.: C. 20. D'Arcy Niland, 1958. For have a bone to pick with.

Bone Yard, the. Neuve Chapelle, after the bloody battle fought there in 1915: Tommies': 1915–18. (A. B. Petch, 'It was hardly possible to dig anywhere without disinterring bones.') bone-yard.—2. 'White water in front of a wave' (Pix, Sept. 28, 1963): Australian surfers': since ca. 1960.

boned. Topsy: Society (since ca. 1937) and Services officers' (1939+). Mary Fitt, The Banquet Ceases, 1949. Wits boned (stolen) away.

boner. 2 (p. 78), occurs esp. in pull a boner, to commit one.

bones and hair. Buenos Aires: mostly nautical: late C. 19–20.

bonng.—2. Dead: Australian pidgin: from ca. 1860. B. & L. Ex Aborigine.

bonng.—3. See Quego.

bonk, n.—2. The n.—from 1920—corresponding to bonk, v.—2. Hence, to hit (v.t.) resoundingly: mostly Public Schools': from 1919.

Bonk! Bang!: coll., mostly Cockneys': C. 20. Echoic. Whence bonk, v., in Dict. and Addenda.

bonk, the; bonked. (The state of being) devoid of energy: cyclists': since ca. 1945. Cf. (hunger) knock, sag, sags.—Hence bonk-bag, a small food bag, slung from the cyclist's shoulder.

bonker, stone-wall. A 'stone' (= absolute) certainty: since ca. 1930.

bonkers. Slightly drunk, light-headed: Naval: since ca. 1920. Granville. Perhaps cf. bonk, v.i. (Dict.).—2. Hence, eccentric; crazy: Naval: since ca. 1925; by ca. 1946, fairly general. Often in the intensive form, stone fucking bonkers. 'Since "that speech" by Mr Quintin Hogg, in Oct. 1964, now usually "stark staring bonkers" = "quite mad"'': Peter Sanders, mid-1965. bonny Dundee. A flea: theatrical rhyming s.: C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

bono (h)omee (or ommy). Husband: parlary: mid-C. 19–20. (John o' London's Weekly, Feb. 4, 1949.) For the elements, see bono, good (p. 78), and omee (p. 587): cf. archaic S.E. goodman, husband.

bontoger, bontogero, bonzerino, bonzoriorie. Elaborations of bonza (Dict.): C. 20. B., 1942. Add: bontoser (Dal Stevens, 1955).

bonny. Good: Christ's Hospital: late C. 18–20. Marples: ex Latin O bone!, Oh, good man!

bonzer (Dict.). 'Formerly widely used. The word is now rare': B., The Drum, 1959.

boo-boo. The human bottom: children's: late 19-20. Nicholas Blake, The Sad Variety, 1964, 'No use sitting around on your boo-boo, brooding'. Reduplication of bottom.—2. See booboo below.

booi or booiy (pron. boo-eye). Remote rural districts: New Zealand: C. 20. 'Corruption of Puhoi, the name of a settlement' (Keith Sinclair, 1959); but perhaps a pejorative from Maori puhoi, slow, dull, phlegmatic. Also, since ca. 1910, Australian for 'the open bush', as in D'Arcy Niland, The Shiralee, 1955, where it is written boo-eye.

Of the N.Z. use, Harold Griffiths says, 'Heard very frequently out here in such expressions as "(way) out in the boo-ay" (far from the towns—in the backblocks) and also "(all) up the boo-ay" (completely off the track—especially with knowledge, an opinion, etc.):' letter of March 19, 1959.

The fig. up the booi, lost, utterly wrong, has been common since the late 1940's. (Slatter.)

boob, n.—Sense 2, on p. 79: also, by 1920, gen. Australian. (Jock Marshall & Russell Drysdale, Journey among Men, 1962, at p. 132.)—3. A blunder; a faux-pas: since ca. 1935. Ex the corresponding v.

boob. To blunder. Army and Air Force: since ca. 1930. R. M. Davison, letter of Sept. 26, 1942; H. & P.: cf.—and see—black, n., 2. Usually v.i., but occ. v.t., as in the R.A.F. boob a landing, to land clumsily.

boobies. A woman's breasts: since ca. 1920. In, e.g., Henry Miller, Tropic of Cancer, 1934. Ex bubbies, q.v. at bubby on p. 99.

booboo (or boo-boo); esp. in make a booboo. A blunder: mostly Australian: adopted, ca. 1959, ex U.S. Perhaps ex boob, v., above—or ex a baby's cry of pain or frustration. (B.P.) 'About 1950 there was a (briefly) very popular song "Knees up, pat him on the po-po", on the subject of baby-care, but this may be more closely related to Ger. s. "Popo"—the backside. In baby-French, "popo" expresses the need to use a chamber-pot, just as "dodo" refers to sleep and "bobo" to pain or hurt.' (Ramsey Spencer, 1967.) The term occurs in Hugh Atkinson, Low Company, 1961.

boobs, the or one's. The female breasts: predominantly feminine: since ca. 1960. 'The Observer' of Feb. 11, 1968, interviewing a girl emerging from Fortnum's, on the subject of "see-through blouses", quoted her as saying that she wouldn't put her boobs on show for anyone' (communicated by Ramsey Spencer). As bubbies > boobies (see below), so bubs > boobs.

booby hatch. A lunatic asylum: Canadian (ex U.S.): C. 20.

booby-hutch, 3 (p. 79). Earlier in Reed's Weekly Journal, June 4, 1720.

bood. A bedroom; a sleeping-cubicle: girls' Public Schools': C. 20. (R. C. Hutchinson, The Answering Glory, 1932.) Ex boudoir.

boodgerie! All right; good: Australian: since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.) Ex Aborigine: cf. budgerie, on p. 101.

boodler. A man, esp. a politician, on the make: Australian: since ca. 1920. (Vance Palmer, 1948.) body. A snake: Australian: C. 20. (B., 1943.) Ex Aborigine.

booe or bouie. A piece of nasal mucus: non-cultured Australian domestic: since ca. 1920. Ex Fr. boue, mud, filth. (B.P.)

boofhead. A fool; a very gullible person: Australian: since ca. 1930. (B., 1943.) Ex buffle-head (p. 102). The corresponding adj. is boofheaded, as in L. W. Lower, Lennie Lower's Sidesplitters, 1945.

book, n.—5. A newspaper, a magazine: illiterate coll.: since ca. 1880.—6. But, since ca. 1920, it has been a Canadian publishers' and printers' coll. for an issue, as in: 'My July book is still only half-finished.' (Leechman.)

book, be with. (To be) engaged in writing a book: authors': since ca. 1930. On (be) with child, pregnant.

book, on the. In the prompt corner; on duty as prompter: theatrical coll.: C. 20. (Dulcie Gray, No Quarter for a Star, 1964.) The 'book of words'—the text of the play.

book, put in the. To enter a man's name in the charge book: Army coll.: since ca. 1910. (P-G-R.)

book all right but doesn't know what page he's on, He's in the. He's right but he doesn't know why: Australian, c.p.: since ca. 1925. B., 1942.

'book!' he says; and can't read a paper yet. A c.p. of ca. 1890-1914, addressed to one who has explosively broken wind.

book of (the) words. A catalogue: jocular coll.: from ca. 1880.—2. A libretto: id.: from ca. 1890.—3. A set of printed or typewritten instructions: C. 20. (Warwick Deeping, Mr Gurney . . ., 1944.)

book one's seat. To pad one's trousers with newspapers or a book before going to be caned: schoolboys': since ca. 1945.

booked for kingdom come. Facing certain death; on one's death-bed: coll.: C. 20; orig. railwaymen's.

bookie (or -ky) boy (or bhoy). A bookmaker: Australian: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.)

bookmaker's pocket. See book-maker (Dict.).

bookra (a better spelling). See bukra in Dict.

books, the. Works of reference: coll.: C. 20. 'Oh, look it up in the books.'

Boom. Lord Trenchard: since ca. 1918. Ex his booming voice.

boom, n.—2. 'Pushing, by vigorous publicity, a person, game, or book': from ca. 1890: coll. till ca. 1905, then S.E. There was, e.g., a Trilby boom in 1896-97.

boom-boom. A soldier: children's, esp. Cockneys': from ca. 1916. Echoic. Moreover, 2, boom boom is a Pidgin term (Pacific Islanders', Thailanders', Koreans' and what have you) for rifle fire, cannon fire; a rifle, a cannon; fighting or to fight, war. For instance in prisoner-of-war camps in the Far East, 1942-5, boom boom yashe means 'a rifle rest'—see 'prisoner-of-war Slang'. 7. So widely is boom boom accepted as echoically precise that little children all over the world use it.

boom off. To fight off; scare away: Naval: 1934-5. Echoic of heavy gunfire.

boom off, top one's (p. 80): prob. from fifty years earlier, to judge by the synonymous top one's boom in Alfred Burton, The Adventures of Johnny Newcome, 1818. Moe.

boom or bust is a Canadian c.p. (late C. 19-20)—applied to 'western towns, mines and other such enterprises as are subject to varying fortunes' (Leechman.)

boomer.—4. Hence, anything extraordinary: Australian: C. 20. (Authority as for Bovril).—5. An itinerant worker on the railways, usually a 'brakie' or a 'brass-pounder': Canadian railwaymen's: since ca. 1910. (Leechman.)—6. A (very) large wave: Australian coll.: since ca. 1910. (Culotta.)

boomerang. 'Something, esp. a book, that one would like to receive back' (B.P.): Australian: since ca. 1930.

booming. Large: Australian: from ca. 1860; ob. B. & L. Perhaps ex boomer, 2 (Dict.).

booms-a-daisy! Domestic and nursery c.p. to a child that has knocked its head or falls over: late C. 19–20. Suggested by ups-a-daisy!

boon companion (Dict.): cf. § 2 of 'Tavern terms'.

boong. See Quego.—2. Hence, 'any dark-skinned person': B., The Drum, 1959.

boong-moll. A coloured, esp. a Negro, pathic: Australian low or c.: since ca. 1930. (Dymphna Cusack and Florence James, Come in Spinner, 1951).—2. A prostitute favouring dark-skinned men: Australian c.: since ca. 1935. (B., 1953.)

boop, v.; usually as vbl n., booping, making a fuss about a trifle: Services: since ca. 1935. H. & P. A blend of echoic boo + weep.

boost, n.—3. A supercharging; additional pressure: R.A.F. coll.: since ca. 1925. Jackson, 'I gave her [an aircraft] all the boost I had'; he cites the corresponding v. Ex sense 1.

boost, be in high or low. (Of persons) to be in good or bad form: Coastal Forces' (Naval): 1940–5. In ref. to engines.

boot-faced. Wearing a miserable or downhearted or thwarted expression: R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. Ex the appearance of an old boot with sole parting from upper. (R.A.F. officer, April 10, 1962.) Whence, by 'the Oxford-er', the variant booters, with elaboration Harry Booters.

Boot Hill. A graveyard: Canadian miners': C. 20. Adopted from U.S.

boot in, put the (p. 80). Note the comment made at buturakie.

booters. See boot-faced above.

bootie (or -y). Beautiful: Society girls': ca. 1840–80. Diprose's Book about London, 1872. Cf. nursery bootiful or booful.

bootlace. Thin twist tobacco: C. 20: orig., c.; by 1940, s. (L. W. Merrow Smith & J. Harris, Prison Screw, 1962.)

bootlaced. Branded. N. Queensland cattle-men's: since ca. 1910. (Jean Devanney, Travels, 1951.)

bootlaces. 'The narrow strips of flesh carved off a sheep especially when opening up the neck of a fleece by a rough shearer are bootlaces.' B., 1941: Australian and New Zealand rural: late C. 19–20.

boots, blood in the (or their); more often sand in the(ir) boots. 'Used derisively of Desert types who threw their weight about in non-combat areas or, more gallingly, in non-desert operational areas' (Colonel A. L. Gadd, letter of April 20, 1949): Army: 1943 onwards; after 1945, only historical. The reference—made mostly by officers about officers—is to 'veterans' of North Africa.

boots, it (or that) didn't (or doesn't) go into his (or my or your, etc.). There is (or was) an effect, certain though not obvious: c.p., mostly Cockneys': C. 20. I.e. did go elsewhere.

boots and all. Thoroughly, utterly: Australian coll.: C. 20. Vance Palmer, Let the Birds Fly, 1955, 'It's boots and all. . . Boots and all for both of us.'

boots up, hang one's. To give up playing football, either at end of season or finally: footballers' coll.: C. 20. (Atkinson.)

bootsy. A 'boots' at a large, the porter at a small, hotel: since ca. 1950. (A. B. Petch, March 1966.)

booze artist. A heavy drinker; a drunkard: Australian: since ca. 1920. H. Drake Brockman, Hot Gold, 1940. Perhaps adopted ex Canada, where current since ca. 1905. (Leechman.)

booze Naffy. Such a N.A.A.F.I. issue as included beer and spirits: Army: 1939–45.

booze the jib (p. 81). The variant booze up one's jib-stay occurs in W. N. Glascock, The Naval Sketch-Book, I, 1825. (Moe.)

booze-out. A meal, esp. a good 'feed': Naval: from ca. 1870; ob. B. & L.

booze-up. A drinking bout: low: late C. 19–20. Sessions, Oct. 26, 1897.

boozed up (p. 81). Recorded in Australia in 1891. (Sidney J. Baker, letter.)

Boozelier. A Fusilier: Regular Army: C. 20. A blend of booze (p. 81) and Fusilier.

boozician. Synonymous with and prompted by boozington (p. 81); Australian: ca. 1890–1940. (B., 1943.) A blend of booze and magician.

boozing school. A military coll., dating from ca. 1880. 'A boozing school generally consisted of three or four men who pooled their pay, one of them acting as treasurer. They allowed themselves so much for tobacco or cigarettes and so much for a monthly visit to the women in the Bazaar: the remainder was spent on beer. Only one basin was used between a school; it held a quart and each man took a drink in his turn from it, and each in turn walked to the bar with it when it wanted refilling. When money ran short they would borrow money right and left and sell any kit they did not want and also some that they did. Genuine boozing schools always paid their debts. . . . After they had paid their debts they would decide among themselves whether they would continue with the boozing school or not. After being on the tact'—teetotal—'for about six months they would start boozing again with a capital of two hundred rupees.' This passage, in Richards, refers to the Indian Army of the first decade of the C. 20: but the practice, though now less usual, applies elsewhere, with an equivalent of a corresponding capital sum.

boozle. Sexual intercourse: since ca. 1945. Noel Coward, Pomp and Circumstance, 1960.

bop. A blow, a punch: Aus.: adopted ex U.S. ca. 1945. Nino Culotta, Cop This Lot, 1960.

borachio (p. 81). Influenced perhaps by Borrachio's speech, 'I will, like a true drunkard, utter all to thee': Shakespeare's Much Ado.

boracic. "'You boracic?" she asked.—She meant boracic lint—skint' (Hank Hobson, Mission House Murder, 1959)—that is, very short of money: rhyming s.: since ca. 1945. Often pron. brassic.

borax.—2. Cheap furniture: Canadian salesmen's: since ca. 1920. (Leechman.)

bore, n., 2 (p. 82), prob. dates from ca. 1750; seems to have, orig., been University of Oxford s.; and occurs in 'A Familiar Epistle' on p. 366 of The Gentleman's Magazine, May 1784:

'No books but magazines we read,
At barbarous Latin shook our head,
And voted Greek a boar' (sic).

There is, however, some evidence for finding the origin of bore in boar: R. B. Sheridan, letter of Sept. 1772 (Sotheby's catalogue, H. Y. Thompson library sale): Sir William Weller Pepys, letter of 1774: with thanks to Derek Pepys Whiteley, Esqre. If this be correct, boar connotes uncouthness and ignorance in speech or action.

bore war, the. Concerning Nov. 1939, Dudley Clarke, in Seven Assignments, 1948, writes: 'The "phoney war" was giving way to the "bore war"', and at the War Office we started to resign ourselves to a long winter at our desks': Nov. 1939–April 1940, then merely historical. Punning on boring, tedious, and the Boer War. Also the Great Bore War, as in Evelyn Waugh's Put Out More Flags, 1942.

Borehole. See 'Prisoner-of-War Slang'.

boretto-man. See 'Rogues'.

born in a barn?, were you. A c.p.—notably Canadian—directed at someone who leaves the door open: late C. 19–20. Of the same order as the semi-proverbial was your father a glazier?

born with a pack of cards in one hand, a bottle of booze in the other, and a fag in his (or her) mouth. A c.p. directed, since ca. 1955, at a not uncommon type of man or woman. (Petch.)

born with the horn. A coarse c.p., applied to a lecher: late C. 19–20. A rhyme on horn, 4 (p. 405).

born yesterday, not. Esp. 'I wasn't born yesterday' (not a fool): c.p. late C. 19–20.

borrow, v.—2. See chopper, 9, below: since ca. 1950.

borrow and beg. An egg: rhyming s.: late C. 19–20. Franklyn, Rhyming.

bos-eyed. See boss-eyed (Dict.).

bose, boatswain, on p. 82, goes back to early C. 19, to judge by W. N. Glascock, The Naval Sketch-Book, 2nd Series, 1834, at II, 65. Moe.

bosh, n.—6. Such a game between two houses as does not count towards a cup: Rugby School: C. 20. 'They are usually of low quality' (D. F. Wharton): cf. sense 1 on p. 82.

Sense 3 (p. 82) is also fairground and circus s., as is bosh-faker. Witness, Sydney Lester.

bosh lines, the. (The) marionettes: showmen's: from ca. 1855. B. & L. Lit., violin strings.

bosie.—2. A single bomb dropped from the air: Australian airmen's: ca. 1940–5. (B., 1943.) Cf. sense 1: p. 82.

bosom. A bosom friend: C. 20. A. Neil Lyons, Simple Simon, 1914.

bosom clasper. A very emotional cinematic film: since ca. 1935. (James Agate in the Daily Express, Aug. 14, 1943.)

boss, n.—6. As the boss, jocular for one's wife: Australian: since ca. 1920. 'I was hoping that you would ring. The boss has been on my back about it.' (B.P.) boss-cockie.—2. Hence, 'top dog': since ca. 1920.

boss(-)crusher. One who organises a group seeking to 'cash in' on 'crush' betting: since ca. 1920. (B., 1953.) See crush (bet).

boss-hostler. Superintendent of livestock: circusmen's: C. 20.

boss one's own shoes. To manage one's affairs by oneself or personally: U.S., anglicised ca. 1880; ob. B. & L. See boss, v., 1 (Dict.).

boss over the board. See board, n., 4.

boss up. App. ex South Africa. Francis E. Brett Young, Pilgrim's Rest, 1936, 'She was always breaking in on their trivialities, getting things done, "bossing them up", as they called it on the Reef' on the Rand.—2. Hence, v.i., to work hard: South African: C. 20. Brett Young, op. cit.

bossaroo. A 'boss kangaroo': Australian coll.: from ca. 1870. B. & L.

bossooks, I'll give him, them, etc. A minatory c.p.—a threat to settle a score, to exact vengeance, etc.: late C. 19–early 20. (Laurie Atkinson.) Perhaps of dial. origin.

Fossy. A common Canadian name for a cow: (?) late C. 19–20. Ex boss-eyed?

bostruchizer (p. 83). Also 'to bostruchize'. (Article by Sir A. West in The Nineteenth Century, April 1897.)

bosun. See comment at sin bosun.

bosun's nightmare, the. The experimental sweep used against magnetic mines: Naval: late 1939–early 1940. (P-G-R.)

bot, n.—4. A man ever on the move and, like the rolling stone, unable to gather moss: Australian: since ca. 1920. Ex sense 1 (p. 83).—5. (One's) bottom: mostly domestic: late C. 19–20.—6. A sponger: Australian: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.) Ex, sense 2.

bot, v. To borrow money; (usually bot on) to sponge or impose on (others): Australian and New Zealand: since ca. 1925. B., 1941. Ex sense 1 of the n.—see p. 83.

bot, have the. To feel unwell: to be moody: querulous: New Zealand: since ca. 1930. B., 1941. Also Australian: B., 1943. Ex bot, n., 2 (Dict.).

bot, work one's. To coit: low: C. 20. "'Is she working?"—"Yes, her bot." I.e. bottom.

bot about, v.i. To move restlessly from one place to another: Australian: since 1920.

bot-fly.—2. A sponger or a scrounger: since ca. 1920. B., 1942.

botanise, v.i. To go to Botany Bay as a convict: 1819, Scott, in a letter; † by 1890.

Botany Bay.—5. To run away: Australian rhyming s. (–1945). Baker, The Australian Language.

Botany Bay coat-of-arms. Broken nose and black eye: Australian convicts': ca. 1820–55. (B., 1943.)

both ways; bet both ways. See bet both ways.

Botherams. A nuance of sense 1, 'a noisy party': Nov. 15, 1836, The Individual; † by 1890.

botheration, 2—botherment (p. 83)—occurs in C. P. Clinch, The Spy, 1822 (II, vii): an American source, but prob. implying an earlier British source. (Moe.)

bottle, n. A share of money: showmen's: 1893, P. H. Emerson.—2. A reprimand, a dressing-down; especially, get a bottle, to be reprimanded: Navy: since ca. 1920. H. & P. Short for 'a bottle of acid': Granville.—3. A wireless valve, cathode-ray tube: R.A.F.: since ca. 1935. (Sgt Gerald Emanuel, March 29, 1945.) Ex shape.—4. The bottle, the hip pocket: 1938, E. D. Sharpe, The Flying Squad Mostly in off the bottle, pickpockets' c. for '(removed) from a rear trouser pocket': Franklyn 2nd. Cf. bottle, the, below.—5. Short for bottle and glass, arse: low: C. 20. (Robin Cook, 1962).—6. 'Spirits, guts, courage . . . It's the worst that could be said about you, that you'd lost your bottle' (Tony Park, The Plough Boy, 1965): Teddy boys' and teenage gangsters': since late 1940's.

Sense 1 rather = money taken, after a 'turn', by showmen and other entertainers, as in "What's the bottle, cull?" . . . "How much have we taken, pal?": Sydney Lester, Vardi the Palarey, 1937.

bottle, v.—3. See rim.—4. To coit with (a woman); to impregnate: low: C. 20.

Sense 1 (p. 83) means, among showmen and other entertainers, 'to approach (someone) for a contribution'. (Sydney Lester, 1937.)

bottle, no. No good; not 'classy': since ca. 1920. Short for no bottle and glass, no 'class', itself current throughout C. 20. (John Gosling, The Ghost Squad, 1959.)

bottle, on the.—2. Engaged in pocket-picking: c.: C. 20. (The Yorkshire Post, latish May 1937.)

bottle, the*. Pickpocketing: c.: C. 20. Cf. the shake. F. D. Sharpe, The Flying Squad, 1938.

bottle and glass. See bottle, no, and bottle, n., 4, both above; C. 20: rhyming on arse.

bottle-arsed. Printing type 'so long used that the base is no longer a solid rectangle, and so the type will not stand in a galley without being tied' (Leechman): Canadian printers': C. 20.

bottle fallen out; e.g., has your . . ., Are you afraid?: low: since ca. 1940. Cf., bundle, drop one's, on p. 108.

bottle-holder, 2 (p. 84) occurs earlier in Walter Scott's The Antiquary, 1816. (O.E.D.)

bottle-o. A dealer in, collector of, empty bottles; hence, bottle-o's rouseabout (or roustabout), a person of no account: Australian: resp. since ca. 1910, 1920. Baker. In bottle-collectors' street cries, botto = bottle.—2. In games of marbles, a green taw: New Zealand children's: C. 20. (Ruth Park, The Witch's Thorn, 1952).—3. A glass sphere taken from a soft-drink bottle and used as a marble: Australian children's: ca. 1910–50. (B.P.) bottle o(f) beer. Ear: rhyming s.: C. 20. (Franklyn 2nd.)

bottle of cola. A bowler hat: rhyming: C. 20; by 1950, ob.

bottle of fizz, the. Rhymes whiz, n., 2 (p. 953).

bottle of sauce. A horse: rhyming: late C. 19–20.

bottle of Scotch. A watch: rhyming: since ca. 1910.

Bottle of Whisky, the. The Polish destroyer Blyskawika: Naval 'Hobson-Jobson': ca. 1940–2.

bottle-oh's (or o's) rouseabout. A nobody: Aus.: since ca. 1920. (The Drum, 1959.) Ex bottle-o, 1, above.

bottle the field. Odds of 2 to 1: racing, esp. bookmakers': C. 20. (The Sunday Telegraph, May 7, 1967.)

bottle the tot. To pour one's daily tot of rum into a bottle and save it up for special occasions: Naval coll.: 1939–45.

Bottle-Trekker, 'ex Voor-trekker, was a usual name for a Dutchman, owing to their habit of taking a bottle of water to the latrine with them instead of toilet paper' (R. H. Panting): cf.

'Prisoner-of-War Slang' (below), para. 9, where, strictly, it belongs.

bottled.—2. Topsy: Society: since ca. 1930. Peter Traill, Half Mast, 1936.

bottled sunshine. 'Scottish service (esp. Army) name for beer,' H. & P.: since ca. 1930.

bottler.—2. Expression of high praise or deep delight: New Zealand juvenile: C. 20. B., 1941. But also Australian (—1943): witness B., 3rd edition, with variant bottling.—3. A sodomite: low: since ca. 1930. Cf. bottle, v., 4.—4. A non-seller (motor car): secondhand-car dealers': since ca. 1950. Anthony Cowdy in the coloured supplement of The Sunday Times, Oct. 24, 1965.—5. Esp., bloody bottler, a 'real hard case': New Zealand: since ca. 1945. Cf. sense 2. bottler, adj.; also bottling. Superlatively good: Aus.: since ca. 1920. (B., 1959.) Ex bottler, 2, above.

botto. See bottle-o.

bottom-drawer. There is an earlier reference in S. P. B. Mais, A Schoolmaster's Diary, 1918.

bottom road, the*. A road leading (esp. from London) to the South Coast of England: tramps' c.: C. 20. W. A. Gape, Half a Million Tramps, 1936.

bottom-scratchers. A break-off group from a diving club: skin divers': since the late 1950's. 'Interested only in spear fishing (crabs, lobsters, etc.), they scratch the sea's bottom' (Wilfred Granville, letter of March 11, 1964).

botts, the. See bots (Dict.).

bouie. See booe above.

boulder(-)holder, occ. preceded by over-shoulder. A brassière: Australian raffish: since ca. 1955. 'Used by the same people who use flopper stopper, q.v.' (B.P.)

bounce, v. 1.—6. (Of a cheque) to be returned, as worthless, by the bank on which it has been drawn: adopted ca. 1938 from U.S.—7. To attack (suddenly, unexpectedly): Air Force: 1939+. Brickhill & Norton, Escape to Danger, 1946, 'About 12,000 feet they were bounced from above by three 109's'.—8. To dismiss (a person), reject (a play): adopted, ca. 1940, from U.S.

bounce, put (someone) in the. To accost, esp. for a loan of money. Australian: since ca. 1930. (D'Arcy Niland, The Shiralee, 1955.)

bounce, the grand. Dismissal (from a job); rejection (of a manuscript): adopted, ca. 1940, from U.S.

bounce the ball. To test public opinion or sentiment; test the stock market: New Zealand political coll.: since ca. 1920. B., 1941. Ex the preliminaries usual among footballers.

bound rigid. Bored stiff: see bind.

bounce; bong. See bung, n., 3 (Dict.).

bouquet*. A payment in pesos: white-slavers' c. (Argentine): C. 20. Albert Londres, The Road to Buenos Ayres, 1928, 'A "bouquet" always means pesos.'

bovine heart. A human heart that has, through disease, grown as large as that of an ox: medical coll. (from ca. 1860) >, by 1910, j. B. & L. bovine puncher. A bullock driver: jocular Australian: ca. 1925–50. (B., 1943.)

Bovril. 'A few years ago most young men here [in Sydney] said "Bovril" whenever they found anything unimpressive, and University students certainly made good use of the song, "It all sounds like Bovril to me",' H. J. Oliver in The Bulletin of the Australian English Association, July 1937. Prob. a euphemism for ballocks or balls used exclamatorily; prompted by bull shit.—2. 'I'm not having my house turned into a Bovril' (the house being a 'public'): since ca. 1930. S. P. B. Mais, Caper Sauce, 1948.

bovrilise. To omit all inessential matter from an advertisement: copywriters' coll.: since ca. 1935. Ex bovril, 'the best of the meat'.

Bovvy. Bovington Camp, depot of the Royal Armoured Corps: ca. 1939–45.

bow, on the. 'I got in on the bow'—without paying: C. 20: c. >, by 1945, low s. F. D. Sharpe, 1938.

Bow and Arrow War, the. See Farmers' Strike below.

bow and quiver. Liver (the bodily organ): rhyming: C. 20. Cf. cheerful giver below.

bow catcher (p. 86) occurs in The Saturday Evening Post, Dec. 21, 1822—quoting a British source. (Moe.)

bow the crumpet or duck the scone or nod the nut. To plead guilty in a law-court: Aus. c.: since ca. 1930. The Drum, 1959.

bow wave. A tyro sailor: Canadian Naval: since ca. 1920. H. & P.—2. In the R.N., a cap with a bow-wave effect; esp. at the R.N.C. Dartmouth: C. 20. Granville.

bow-wow.—3. The Bow-wow = the Brigade Warrant Officer (B.W.O)—the R.A.O.C. representative at a Brigade H.Q.: Army: since 1939.

bow-wow, on the. Australian shape of bow, on the.

bower. A prison: C. 20: Australian c. >, by 1940, low s. B., 1942. Ironic.

bower bird. A petty thief: Australian: C. 20. Ex preceding. (B., 1943.) Cf.:

bower-birdin(g). Picking up odds-and-ends for one's own camp or use: N.T., Australia: since ca. 1925. (B., 1953.)

bowl. A period of bowling: cricketers' coll.: C. 20. Ex ob. S.E. bowl: a delivery of the ball.

bowl off. To die: 1837, Dickens; † by 1900. E.D.D.

bowl-over, n. A brawl; a fight: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Cf. the v.: p. 86.

bowler hat, get a, is the Navy's shape of b.h., be given a (p. 86). Granville.

bowler hat, get—or be given—a golden. To accept an offer of retirement: Army officers': since late 1950's. Such retirement = take a golden bowler. Ex the very favourable terms offered by the War Office at the time when it drastically reduced the number of its officers. Cf. a retiring Company Director's golden handshake. (Peter Sanders.)

bowler(-)hat boys, the. 'They were always very well dressed and visited houses of old people living alone and by posing as officials from banks, rating authorities, police departments and so on, gained access. They worked in teams of three or four' (Bournemouth Evening Echo, April 20, 1966): c. and police s.: since ca. 1963. Cf. prop game below.

bowler-hatted, be. To be returned to civil life: Services: since ca. 1918. H. & P. See bowler hat (Dict.); vbl n., bowler-hatting.

bowler's double. 100 wickets + 100 runs in a season: cricketers': since ca. 1930. Humorous, on S.E. cricketer's double, 100 wickets + 1,000 runs in a season.

bowling green. A fast line: railwaymen's:

since ca. 1920 (?). Railway, 3rd. The 'going' is smooth.

bows down. Be quiet; esp. stop talking: Naval: since ca. 1925. H. & P.

bows under, be. To be extremely busy: Naval: C. 20. (P-G-R.)

bowser king. An N.C.O. in charge of a bowser (towed petrol tanker): R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. Jackson.

bowsprit.—2. Penis: low nautical: ca. 1820–80. Cosgrave, Irish Highwayman, 1889.

bowsy. A low guttersnipe: Anglo-Irish: C. 20. Probably ex the adj. boozy (p. 81).

bowyang or boyang; by corruption, boang. A labourer; workman: Australian: C. 20. Kylie Tennant, The Battlers, 1941. Ex bowyangs, bands worn about the trousers—above the knee.

box, n.—6. An abdominal protector: Marlborough College (and elsewhere): C. 20.—7. A man's room: Dalton Hall, Manchester: since ca. 1919. The Daltonian, Dec. 1946.—8. As the box, it is short for black-box, 2, q.v.—9. A 'mess' (make a box of): Australian: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.)—10. Female genitals: low English and Australian: C. 20.

box, v., 6. Earlier in 'Tom Collins', Such is Life, 1903. It is also New Zealand usage: teste G. B. Lanchester, Sons o' Men, 1904.—7. Also box on, box along: to get along with a person on give-and-take terms: since ca. 1920.—8. Elliptical for box clever: since ca. 1930. (Atkinson.) Cf. box on (p. 87).

box, be in a.—2. Hence, to be in a state of confusion: New Zealand: C. 20. B., 1941.

box, bring to, is the active form of box, be in a (p. 87). In W. N. Glascock, The Naval Sketch-Book, I, 1825. (Moe.)

box, on the.—2. Hence, drawing Friendly Society benefits: go on the box, to have recourse to them: C. 20. Francis Brett Young, Dr Bradley Remembers, 1938. I.e. the box containing the Society's funds.—3. Appearing on the television screen, as in 'Wilson was on the box last night': since late 1950's.

box, out of the. Unusual: Australian, mostly rural: since ca. 1920. Jean Devanney, Travels, 1951, "But you mustn't run away with the notion that I'm anything out of the box in back-country conditions."—2. Hence, very special; exceptional; unusually favourable: Australian: since ca. 1920. (S. H. Courtier, A Corpse Won't Sing, 1964.) Also New Zealand, since ca. 1930. (Slatter.)

box clever. To use one's head, be a 'shrewdy': since ca. 1925. James Curtis, The Gilt Kid, 1936.

box egg. A 'bad egg'; one who doesn't amount to much: since ca. 1930.

box kippers, unable to. See kippers.

box-lobby puppy. A 'cheap' would-be man of fashion, a step above an upper-box Jackadandy, who is usually an apprentice or a shop-assistant: described by The London Chronicle of Nov. 20–23, 1783: apparently ca. 1770–1800.

box of, make a. To muddle: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

box of birds, a. Fighting-fit: New Zealand troops': 1939–45. J. H. Fullarton, Troop Target, 1943. Singing with health and happiness.—2. Hence, general as box of birds and in nuance 'fit and very happy': 1945+. (Ngaio Marsh, Swing Brother, Swing, 1949.) In Australia, feel like a box of birds, very happy. (B., 1953.)

box of dominoes (p. 87) is much older. It occurs in The New Monthly Magazine at some date before Feb. 1822, as 'A blow in the mouth is a mugger; and if in addition to this, an injury should be done to the teeth, it is called a rattling of the box of dominoes'. (Moe.)

box of sharks, the. A phrase 'indicative of vast surprise. "She nearly gave birth of the box of sharks!" Cf. baby, have a and having kittens' (Leechman); Canadian: since ca. 1955.

box of toys. Noise: rhyming: late C. 19–20. Len Ortzen, 1938.

box of tricks. A tool box—or any similar receptacle: Australian: C. 20. (B.P.)

Box of Tricks. Euston Station: taxi-drivers': Sept. 13, 1941, The Weekly Telegraph. Ex its shape.

box off. To fight with one's fists: Naval: ca. 1805–50. Glascock, Sketch-Book, I, 1825. (Moe.)

box office. (Of an actor) a success: theatrical and cinematic coll.: since ca. 1925. 'Now, at last, she's box office.'

box on with. To punch; to fight with: Australian: since ca. 1920. (D'Arcy Niland, Call Me . . ., 1958.) Cf. box on: p. 87.

box open. A 1939–45 shortening of box open, box shut (see p. 87).

box the wine bin. To leave the table after drinking but little: fast life: ca. 1815–40. Spy, II, 1826.

box-up, v. To muddle, confuse: Australian: C. 20. Baker.—Hence also n. (P-G-R.)

boxa. Variant spelling of boxer, 1 (Dict.): B., 1942.

boxed in, be. To have entered a house, esp. if single-handed: c.: from ca. 1860. B. & L.

boxed-up, adj. In prison; gaoled: New Zealand: C. 20.—2. Thoroughly confused: Australian: since ca. 1930. (B.P.)

boxer, 1 (p. 87). In two-up, the boxer looks after the apparatus and the guts or money staked by the two principal betters; ringie takes care of operations inside the ring of side-betters: since ca. 1910. George Baker, article '“Two-Up” Down Under' in The Strand Magazine, Dec. 1949. He adds that the pennies used are bun pennies (early Victorian), veiled queens (late Victorian), baldies (Edward VII); notes that the laying of a stake on one result opens the guts. If both pennies come down heads or tails, the assembly cries 'He's headed them' or 'He's tailed them'. The spinner must now spin successfully thrice before he can drag or take any winnings from the guts; uses grouter bit or a run of successes; defines caser as 'sum of five shillings', flag as 'pound', spin as 'five pounds' and brick as 'ten pounds'.—Cf. the entries bun, 2 (p. 108)—caser (p. 130)—grouter (p. 357)—guts, 6 (p. 363)—ringie (p. 706)—spin (below). The best description ever written of a two-up session is that made by Lawson Glassop in Lucky Palmer, 1949, at pp. 167–176.

boy, 3. Binstead, in the 1890's, asserted that 'the boy' was incorrect; nevertheless, it does occur.

boy, on. See on boy. Cf. cut boy, to fail to attend to one's duties 'on boy': Harrow School: from ca. 1890. Lunn.

boy friend, the; the girl friend. Orig. and still used to imply an illicit sex relationship (whether hetero or not); mostly Londoners': from ca. 1920. Ex U.S. (Cf. S.E. gentleman friend and lady friend).—2. Hence, without any pejorative implication: orig. and mainly Londoners': from ca. 1925.

boy in a (or the) boat. Clitoris: low: late C. 19–20.

Boy Scout's leave. A brief shore-leave: Australian Naval: 1939–45. (B., 1943.)

boys, the (p. 87): earlier in The Night Watch (II, 113), 1828. (Moe).—3. ' . . . The boys, as all stage hands are called, regardless of age' (Dulcie Gray, No Quarter for a Star, 1964): theatrical coll.: C. 20.

boys, white-bearded. The Army's technological 'bright boys': 1939–45. (P-G-R.)

boys on ice. Lice: rhyming s.: late C. 19–20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

bozo. A fellow: Australian: adapted, ca. 1935, ex U.S. (Jean Devaney, By Tropic Sea and Jungle, 1944.) Of unknown origin.

bozzimacoo! Kiss my —!: low Yorkshire: ca. 1850–1910. (Oliver Onions, Good Boy Seldom.) A corruption of baise mon cul.

bra. A brassière: feminine: common since ca. 1934 and, ca. 1940, superseding bras. Since ca. 1950, coll.

bra is a girl's best friend, a; occ. preceded by square shape or pear shape: Australian feminine c.p.: since early 1950's.

Brab. A Brabazon aircraft: aircraft industry: 1945 +; general public, 1949 +.

brace and bits. Nipples; loosely, breasts: low rhyming s., little used in Britain: C. 20. Mostly American. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

brace of shakes, in a (p. 87). Earlier in Boziana, III, 1821.

braced. Hearty; in excellent spirits: Marlborough College coll.: since ca. 1920.

braces, talk through one's. To talk nonsense: Australian: since ca. 1920. Baker.

Braddles. Don (properly Donald George) Bradman, born Aug. 27, 1908: Australian: since 1927 when he first played for N.S.W. Probably the greatest batsman the world has ever seen. Also called The Don. (Much more fully on p. 1047 of 2nd edition.)

brag rags. Medal ribbons: Naval: since ca. 1920. Granville.

brahn. Brown ale: Cockney coll.: mid-C. 19–20.

brahn, hawk one's, is the correct form of brawn, hawk one's, on p. 89; it is pure Cockney, and valid only in the latter sense.

brain basil (or Basil). A clever boy: Oxford schoolboys': C. 20. (James Morris, Oxford, 1965.)

brain child. A new idea one's proud of; one's own invention: since ca. 1945: s. >, by 1960, coll.

brain-fever. The bird known as the Pallid Cuckoo: Australian: since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.)

brains.—2. As the brains, 'the boss', it was Canadian: ca. 1905–40. (Leechman.) Since ca. 1935, the brain.—3. Traffic Control: railwaymen's: since ca. 1930. (Railway.)

Brains Trust, the. The Central Trades Test Board: R.A.F.: since ca. 1938. E. P., in The New Statesman, Sept. 19, 1942. Unlike the B.B.C's Brains Trust they ask, not answer, questions.—2. Such specialists as rangefinders and surveyors: Royal Artillery: 1939 +.

brainstains. 'Oxford to Cambridge via Bletchley line' (Railway, 3rd): railwaymen's: since late 1940's.

brakey. A brakesman: Canadian railwaymen's: C. 20. W. A. Gape, Half a Million Tramps, 1936. Ex U.S. (1887: O.E.D., Sup.). Recorded earlier in Niven and prob. dating back to ca. 1890.

brama, a bit of a. A 'good chap', though a trifle wild and unintelligent: Army: 1940+. Cf. brama (Dict.).

branch. A branch pilot Diploma: nautical: since ca. 1820. Captain Glascock, Land Sharks and Sea Gulls, 1838.

branch cag(g). See cag.

branch out. To become very fat: Australian: since ca. 1925. (Ruth Park, A Power of Roses, 1953.) branches everywhere. Jam containing string (or twigs) and, on the tin, the manufacturers' confession, branches everywhere: jocular, mostly domestic: since ca. 1930.

brandy; brandy coatee. A cloak; raincoat: Anglo-Indian: C. 19-20; ob. B. & L. A hybrid.

brandy-snap. A scab (on nose or cheek or chin), from a blow or punch: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)

brandy ticket, be sent with a. To be sent to hospital with one's bad character set forth on the ticket that accompanies one thither. Naval: ca. 1800-60. Captain Glascock, 1838. I.e. branded ticket.

bras. A brassière: feminine: since ca. 1910. W. B. M. Ferguson, Somewhere off Borneo, 1936. By 1950, †. (Always, of course, pronounced brah.) brass, n.—5. 'Brass: the Officers, also Gold Braid,' Granville: Naval (lower-deck): C. 20. Cf. brass-hat (p. 89). n. A Canadian (ex U.S.) variant, 1939+, is top brass.

brass, v. Corresponding to brass, n., 3 (p. 89): Australian: since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.)—2. Hence, to defraud: since ca. 1920. (Lawson Glassop, 1949.)

brass, adj. Fashionable; smart: raffish London: since ca. 1950. 'Some of them were speaking in French because it was the brass thing to do' (James Barlow, The Burden of Proof, 1968). Ex 'the brass', the 'heads'.

brass, carry. To have an important rank: Army: 1939-45. (P.-G.-R.)

brass band. An occ. rhyming term for hand: C. 20. Cf. German bands (p. 322).

brass candlestick, (his) face has been rubbed with a. A c.p. applied to an impudent person: from ca. 1870. In elaboration of brass, 2 (Dict.).

brass man. A confidence trickster: Australian c.: since ca. 1930. (B., 1953.)

brass-monkey weather. Bitterly cold weather: Australian: since ca. 1920. Ex cold enough to freeze the balls off a brass monkey, q.v. at monkey, cold enough . . ., on p. 528. (B.P.)

brass off.—2. To reprimand severely: Services: since ca. 1939. H. & P.

brass-pounder. A telegrapher-agent: Canadian railwaymen's: since ca. 1925. (Leechman.)

brass up occurs earlier in Pugh (2).

brassed has, since 1944, often been used in abbreviation of the next, as cheesed can be used for cheesed off. But one cannot use browned for browned off.

brassed off. Disgruntled, fed up: Services, orig. (?): Royal Naval since ca. 1927; general since ca. 1939. The Observer, Oct. 14, 1942; H. & P. Sometimes a synonym of browned off; sometimes regarded as a shade milder. Cf. brass off (p. 89): perhaps from brass-polishing in ships. For brassed off, browned off and cheesed off, see esp. Partridge, 1945, or Forces' Slang, ed. Partridge, 1948.

brassic. See boracic above.

brassy. A friend or close companion: Naval: since ca. 1920. H. & P. Cf. part brass rags in Dict.

brasted. Blasted: sol.: mid-C. 19-20. Pugh (2): 'I'll do as I brasted well like.'

brats. Collective for a deep-sea trawler's crew below skipper and mate: deep-sea trawlers: C. 20. (L. Luard, All Hands, 1933, and Conquering Seas, 1935.)

Braunhaus. 'British Rail Headquarters' (Railway, 3rd): railwaymen's: since ca. 1955 (?). A pun on 'Brown' and 'brown'?

brawny-buttock. See 'Epithets'.

bread. Money: mostly Teddy boys', drug-addicts', teenagers': as such, adopted ca. 1955, ex U.S.; but, basically, the shortening of bread and honey, and therefore, orig., English, not U.S. (Ian M. Ball in the Sunday Telegraph, Jan. 21, 1962.) Also used by hippies and Flower People: Peter Fryer in The Observer colour supplement of Dec. 3, 1967.

bread and cheese.—3. A, or to, sneeze: rhyming: late C. 19-20. Len Ortzen, Down Donkey Lane, 1938.

bread and honey. Money: rhyming s.: C. 20. Much less common than bees and honey (p. 43). Franklyn 2nd.

bread and lard, adj. Hard: rhyming s.: C. 20. Franklyn 2nd adduces 'Gorblimey! ain't that bread an' lard, eh?'

bread and solitary confinement: prisoners' coll.: late C. 19-20. Jim Phelan, The Big House, 1943. I.e. bread and water.

bread-bag, stomach, is an occ. variant of bread-basket (Dict.): 1834, W. N. Glascock, Sketch-Book, 2nd Series, at I, 33. Moe.

bread barge.—2. 'A wooden keg fitted with brass bands and a circular wooden lid, in which the mess ration of bread was kept' (Daily Colonist, Victoria, B.C., June 19, 1960): Canadian Navy: ca. 1900-25.

bread-snapper. A child: Glasgow lower classes' from ca. 1880. MacArthur & Long. Suggested by S.E. bread-winner.

Breadfruit. Nickname of Admiral William Bligh (1754-1817) of H.M.S. Bounty. (The D.N.B.)

break, n.—4. Esp. in give (someone) a break, to give him a chance, an opportunity, a slight advantage: Canadian (ex U.S.) coll.: since the late 1920's. (Leechman.)

break, v.—3. (Usually in the present perfect tense; applied only to events that are exciting or important.) To happen: journalists' coll.; adopted ca. 1930 ex U.S. Christopher Bush, The Monday Murder, 1936, "'Anything broken?" Tuke said. "Nothing much," Ribbold told him. "Everything still slack as hell."—4. V.i., to cost: v.t., break for, to cost someone so much: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.—5. V.t., to change a coin or a bank or currency note: since ca. 1920.

break a bit off. To defecate: Public Schools' jocular: since ca. 1920. The reference is to a hard stool.

break into pictures. To get on the cinematic screen: coll.: since ca. 1925.

break it big. To win a lot of money, esp. at gambling: Australian: C. 20. (Tom Ronan, Vision Splendid, 1954.)

break it down! Stop talking like that! stop talking! change the subject!: Australian: since ca. 1920. Lawson Glassop, We Were the Rats, 1944.—2. Hence 'to break it down', to cease: since ca. 1920. (Jon Cleary, The Sundowners, 1952.) Also, since ca. 1935, New Zealand. (Slatter.)

break it up! Disperse! Or Get moving and keep moving: Canadian official c.p. (adopted ex U.S.): since ca. 1930. (Leechman.)—2. 'A couple embracing may be told to "break it up"' (A. B. Petch, April 1966): jocular rather than minatory: since ca. 1935.

break loose. 'When the show breaks loose' = when the battle begins: Army: 1940+. (P-G-R.)

break-o'-day drum. 'A tavern which is open all night' (B. & L.): low: from ca. 1860.

break one's egg; crack one's egg. Variants (ca. 1870-1905) of break one's duck (Dict.). B. & L.

break one's neck. To long to make water: coll.: since ca. 1918. 'Don't know about you, but I'm breaking my neck!' Not orig. euphemistic; it shortens be breaking one's neck for a piss: C. 20.

break-out, n. A spree: Australian: C. 20. Baker.

break surface. To wake from sleep: Naval: since ca. 1925. Granville, 'From the submarine service'.

break the sound barrier. To break wind: orig. (ca. 1960) and mostly Canadian. 'Neat and almost inevitable' (Leechman).

break the tea-pot. 'He has broken the tea-pot' = he has abandoned abstinence in favour of the wet canteen: mostly Army (—1900); ob. by 1940, † by 1960. (The Regiment, vol. viii, p. 288, year 1900.)

break-up, 1 (p. 91) may be very old: cf. 'That the School Master shall before the accustomed time of breaking-up of the school (as they call it) twice a year . . .': Popeson's Rules for Bungay Grammar School, Suffolk, ca. 1600.

break(-)up.—3. A person, thing, situation extremely amusing: Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1942.

break van. A van (Naafi or Y.M.C.A.) driven around a Station at 'break' or recess period of a quarter of an hour, morning and afternoon: R.A.F. (hence also W.A.A.F.) coll.: since ca. 1935. Jackson.

breakaway, the. Those competitors who have established a substantial lead: racing cyclists' coll.: since ca. 1925. Contrast bunch, n., 2.—2. A person broken up, whether physically or mentally: Australian coll.: since ca. 1910. (K. S. Prichard, Tornado, 1929.)

breakfast, I could do it (or that) before. That's easy: c.p. (? orig. and mainly Australian): C. 20.

breast, v. To approach, to accost: Australian: since ca. 1930. (B., 1943.)

breast-pocket kind of place. A small shop: tailors' coll.: mid-C. 19-20. B & L. breath that would knock you down. Fetid breath: coll.: late C. 19-20.

breathe down (someone's) neck. To be very close to someone, as in 'The cops were breathing down my neck': jocular coll.: since ca. 1930.

(Cf. the allusive title of John Pudney's delightful collection of short stories titled It Breathed Down My Neck, 1946.)—2. Hence, to 'keep after' someone for, e.g., the completion of a job: since late 1940's.

breathed on. (Of a car or its engine), 'converted, often by professionals, to give greater power and speed' (David Mann, Jan. 10, 1963): since middle 1950's. Cf. souped up below.

breed. A half-breed: Canadian coll.: mid-C. 19-20. Bod Dyker, Get Your Man, 1934.

breeding-wagon. A caravan: Midlands (s., not dial.): since ca. 1930.

breeze, three-man. See three-man breeze (Dict.).

breeze through (a task). To do it quickly and unfalteringly: Australian: since the late 1940's. (B.P.)

brek. Breakfast: certain Public Schools: late C. 19-20.

brew, n., 3 (p. 92). Hence, in the Army and Navy of late C. 19-20: tea. Cf. the Royal Australian Navy's the brew's wet or she's wet, the tea has been made. (Senior Commissioned Bo'sun L. D. M. Roberts, M.B.E., letter of June 27, 1951.)

brew-can. Army tin used for making tea: Army: since ca. 1925. Ex brew, n. and v. in Dict.

brew-up, n. Corresponding to next.

brew up, v.i. To make tea: Army: since ca. 1925.—2. Hence, to catch fire: Army: 1940-5. 'Tank brewed up and his driver's killed,' Keith Douglas, Alamein to Zem Zem, 1947.

brewer's asthma; brewer's goitre. Shortness of breath; a large paunch: Australian drinking s.: since ca. 1925. (B., 1953.)

brewer's horse (Dict.): cf. the phrase in 'Tavern terms', § 2.

brewer's jockey. A brewer's van-driver's self-appointed assistant: Australian: C. 20. Baker.

Brian O'Flynn has, in C. 20, ousted Brian O'Linn (p. 92). Often Brian, sometimes even Bri. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

brick, n., 3 (p. 92). As 'a loaf of bread': 1848, Sinks: but that was low s., † by 1900.—5. A shell: Navy and Army: 1939-45. (P-G-R.) 'That gun throws a pretty hefty brick.'—6. The sum of £10: Australian sporting: since ca. 1920. (Glassop, 1949.)

brick, drop a. I am credibly informed that this phrase arose among a group of third-year undergraduates of Trinity College, Cambridge, in the May term, 1905; that it soon > University s.; and that it spread very rapidly. The guarantor's account of the origin of the phrase is this: H. S. was Sergeant-Major of the Trinity College Company of the University Volunteers—a pre-Territorial force renowned neither for discipline nor for efficiency. Whilst leading his company—small in numbers—along Trumpington Road on a route march, H. S. had to give an order, the road being under repair and building operations in progress on one or both sides. This H. S. did, in his best form and voice. Result: (1) on the troops, nil; (2) on the builders, some in alarm dropped their bricks. The order was repeated with the same result. H. S. told us that after that he felt that each time he gave an order he too was going to drop a brick—hence the phrase meaning to 'make a mistake'. In a few days the phrase was all over Cambridge and in a few months had gone round the world and returned to us.

brick in the hat, have a. To be intoxicated: non-aristocracy: from ca. 1870. B. & L. Semantics: top-heavy.

Bricks. See Bricks and Mortar.

bricks.—3. 'Projectiles, usually of heavy metal,' Granville: Naval: since ca. 1924. In the Army, any shell: since ca. 1930. By meiosis. So, too, at Woolwich Arsenal: The Daily Mail, Aug. 16, 1939.

bricks, shit; usually shitting bricks, considerably frightened, (very) much afraid: Army: 1940+. Cf. drop one's guts.

Bricks and Mortar; often simply Bricks. The Air Ministry Works and Buildings Department: R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. H. & P.

bricks and mortar (p. 92): prob. since the 1890's. Leonard Merrick, The Position of Peggy Harper, 1911, has bricks and mortar manager.—2. A daughter: rhyming: C. 20.

Bricky. The Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill: mostly workmen's: since ca. 1920. Ex his brick-laying hobby. See bricky, n., 1 (p. 92).

bricky (p. 94) occurs earlier in D. W. Barrett, Navvies, 1880.

brickyard. See bear-pit.

Brid. Bridlington, a Yorkshire holiday-resort: C. 20.

bride. A girl; esp., one's best girl or one's mistress: C. 20: c. until ca. 1930, then Cockney s. (G. Ingram, Cockney Cavalcade, 1935) and, by 1940, Forces' s. Cf. wife. 3.

bride and groom.—2. A room: rhyming s.: C. 20. Franklyn 2nd declares both sense 1 (p. 92) and sense 2 to be † by 1960.

bridge, n.—4. An introduction, a form of approach: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.) It bridges a gap.—5. Hence, a plausible excuse or story: Aus.: since ca. 1930. (B., 1959.)

Bridge of Sighs, the. St John's Bridge, Cambridge: University of Cambridge: late C. 19–20. Ex its resemblance to the famous bridge in Venice. Hence, in C. 19, also Bridge of Grunts and, derivatively, Pig Bridge. (Marples, 2.)

bridge widow; bridge widower. A wife, or a husband, often left alone by a bridge-fiendish partner: since early 1920's. On analogy of golf-widow.

bridger. A bridge player: mostly Society: since ca. 1925.

bridle-string; hence bridle. Fraenum: low: late C. 19–20.

brief.—9. (Ex sense 1.) See bill, the brief, hand in one's. To give notice to an employer: domestic servants': C. 20. (Eric Horne, What the Butler Winked At, 1923.)

briefs, 2 (p. 93) has, since ca. 1950, been applied also to men's underpants.

briffin. Bread and dripping: tramps' c.: C. 20. (By telescoping.) W. L. Gibson Cown, Loud Report, 1937.—2. Hence, a girl: likewise tramps' c.: from ca. 1920. Ibid. Regarded as 'a necessity of life'.

Brigg's (or Briggs's) Rest; esp., Brig's rest. A vest: rhyming s., esp. among convicts: C. 20. (Franklyn 2nd.) Perhaps a pun on brig, the (p. 93).

brighful. A pocketful: c.: from ca. 1880. Pugh (2). Ex brigh (Dict.).

bright bastard. A 'smart Alec': Australian: since ca. 1910.

bright boy is an Army variant (1945+) of wide boy.

bright eyes (or bright-eyed) and bushy-tailed. A Canadian c.p., signifying 'alert and active—and ready for anything': since ca. 1955. In May 1959, Dr Douglas Leechman writes, 'Incorporated in a current popular song, but I first heard it about 1956.' Probably ex the habitual aspect of such creatures as squirrels. Colonel Albert Moe tells me that he first heard it in 1933, and frequently since.

bright in the eye is recorded much earlier by B. & L.

brighten one's outlook. To have one's windows cleaned; to clean the lenses of one's glasses: jocular coll.: since ca. 1920.

brightener. A dash of gin or brandy added to a soft drink: public-houses': C. 20. George Robey, An Honest Living, 1922.

Brighton Pier. Strange; ill: rhyming (on queer): mid-C. 19–20.—2. Hence, since ca. 1940, homosexual.

Brighton sands. Hands: rhyming s.: C. 20. 'Seldom heard': Franklyn 2nd.

brights, clean the. To clean and polish the brass and copper accessories and ornaments, and the silver ornaments: domestic coll.: mid-C. 19–20.

brilliant is short for the next: 1821, Boziana, III, 'Full of heavy wet and Booth's brilliant'.

brilliant stark-naked. See stark-naked (Dict.).

brindle. A half-caste: Australian: C. 20. (Vance Palmer, Legend for Sanderson, 1937.)

bring anything with you? or, in full, did you . . . A Canadian c.p. of ca. 1950–60. Meaning, 'Have you any narcotics on you?' (Leechman.)

bring-'em-back-alive (So-and-So). A big-game hunter that caters for zoos: C. 20.

bring it away. To effect an abortion: coll.: C. 20.

bring-me-back-alive. 'A member of an Australian anti-aircraft unit,' B., 1942: Diggers: 1940+.

bring off. (Of a girl) to induce an orgasm in (a man); less often, (of a man) in a girl: coll.: probably since C. 16. In C. 20, to be classified as (familiar) S.E., even though the expression is completely ignored by the standard dictionaries: cf. the next, which it complements.—One of the most remarkable lacunae of lexicography is exhibited by the failure of the accredited dictionaries to include such terms. One readily admits that the reason for these omissions is excellent and that a very difficult problem has thereby been posed. The result is that students of Standard English (British and American) are obliged to seek the definitions of Standard words either in dictionaries of slang, such as, for the U.S., Berrey & Van den Bark's Thesaurus and, for Britain and its Dominions, Farmer & Henley's Slang and Its Analogues (meagre for the Dominions, and out of print since ca. 1910) and this dictionary of mine, or in encyclopedias and specialist glossaries of sex—where, probably, they won't find many of the words they seek.

bring on. To excite sexually: coll.: probably since C. 16. (In C. 20, familiar S.E.—yet unrecorded by the standard dictionaries.)—2. Hence, to delight, to please (someone) very much: Korean front: ca. 1954–55. Cf. bring off.

bring on the dancing girls! Let's watch, or do, something more exciting, this is a crashing bore: c.p.: since ca. 1930. Ex Eastern potentates, bored with their guests, ordering the dancers to appear.

bring one's heart up. To spew: coll.: late C. 18-20. Cf. quotation at heart up . . . below.

bring the house down. See bring down the house (Dict.).

brinkmanship. The practice of seeing just how far one can go in a situation already hazardous: adopted, ca. 1961, ex U.S.: coll. >, by 1964, S.E. On the very brink of the precipice.

brinny. A stone: Aus.: C. 20. (B., 1959.) Ex an Aboriginal word?

Bris. Brisbane: Australian coll.: C. 20. (Cecil Mann, The River, 1945.)

Brisfit. A Bristol fighter: R.F.C. and early R.A.F.: ca. 1915-19. Jackson.

Brish. British: Australian (esp. Sydney): since ca. 1943. Ex a drunken pronunciation of British. (Elisabeth Lambert, 1951.)

Brissie. Brisbane: Australian coll.: C. 20.

Bristol hog. A (male) native of Bristol: late C. 18-mid 19. The Night Watch (I, 314), 1829. Moe.

Bristols. The female breasts: C. 20. Rhyming: Bristol Cities on titties.

britch. (Gen. the britch.) The C. 20 form of brigh (Dict.), but specifically a side trousers-pocket. Cf. outer.

Britcom, adj. British Commonwealth of Nations: among the United Nations forces in Korea: ca. 1951-55. It hovers between j. and coll.

British was, at Oxford, in ca. 1910-14, the pejorative adj. corresponding to hearty (p. 383).

British Ass, the. The British Association for the Advancement of Science; scientific coll.: from ca. 1870.

British Brainwashing Corporation. The. The British Broadcasting Corporation: since the late 1950's. A reference to veiled-propaganda programmes.

British warm. A short, thick overcoat worn by (senior) officers: Army coll.: C. 20.

Britons never shall be slaves—not willingly; . . . wage slaves. These are c.p. adaptations of 'Britons never, never shall be slaves'; since ca. 1925.

Brits. British Israelites: C. 20.

brits up, have the. To be alarmed, afraid: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Rhymings.

Brixton shuffle, the. 'Old lags . . . walk with a curious clipped gait . . . known as "The Brixton shuffle"'. It is a product of the prison exercise yard, where prisoners . . . had to avoid treading on the heels of the man in front' (John Gosling, The Ghost Squad, 1959): police s.: since ca. 1920.

broach, on the. 'Stocking the bars with wines, spirits, and barrels of beer,' Dave Marlowe, Coming, Sir!, 1937: ships' stewards': C. 20. Ex the broaching of casks.

broad, n.—3. A girl, esp. one readily available: Canadian: adopted, ca. 1925, ex U.S. (Perhaps ex 'broad in the beam'.)—4. Backside: Australian: since ca. 1940. (A. M. Harris The Tall Man, 1958: 'What about the blokes sitting on their broads in Seoul?') broad, hit (or hot) that. "'Hit that broad" and "hot that broad" are orders to light up and to focus a floodlight,' The Evening News, Nov. 7, 1939: cinema: since ca. 1930. For broad, see 'Moving-Picture Slang', para. 3.

Broad Fourteens, the. Part of the North Sea off Ymuiden: nautical coll.: mid-C. 19-20.

broadsman.—2. An exponent of the three-card trick: c.: since ca. 1920. Stanley Jackson, An Indiscreet Guide to Soho, 1946.

Brock's benefit (p. 95). Hence, in the Navy since 1939, 'any pyrotechnic display of gunfire' (Granville); esp. 1939-45. 'Bomber slang for a particularly large display of enemy searchlights, flares, and ack-ack fire' (H. & P., 1943); in 1940-1, the spectacular aspect of a heavy German air raid: E. P., 'Air Warfare' in The New Statesman, Sept. 19, 1942.

broke.—2. Dismissed from the Service: Naval officers' coll.: late C. 19-20.

broke for. In need of, esp. broke for a feed, hungry: Australian coll.: C. 20. B., 1942.

broke to the wide. Penniless: coll.: since ca. 1910. A variant of broke to the world (p. 95)—prompted by the S.E. the wide, wide world.

Broken Hill. A silver coin: Australian: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.) Ex a famous silver-lead-mining centre.

broken knees, have. (Of a woman) to have been seduced or devirginated: lower classes': C. 19-20; ob. B. & L. Cf. broken-kneed (Dict.).

broken-mouth. An old sheep: Aus. rural coll.: late C. 19-20. (B., 1959.)

broken-square. See fusilier.

brokko. A lower-deck name or nickname for a spotty-faced messmate: Naval: since ca. 1920. (P.-G.-R.)

broolley.—2. A parachute: R.A.F., esp. pilots': since ca. 1930. Sgt.-Pilot John Beard, D.F.M., in Michie & Graebner's Their Finest Hour, 1940. Derivatively, broley hop, a parachute jump from an aircraft: H. & P.

bromide (p. 95) was 'coined' by Gelett Burgess, who did truly coin blurb.

bronchittics. Bronchitis: sol.: from ca. 1870. Nevins, 1895.

bronza or bronzor is the predominant post-1950 form of bronzza, s.—2. Hence, backside: low Australian: since ca. 1925. (D'Arcy Niland, The Big Smoke, 1959.)

bronze.—3. Impudence: 1821, Pierce Egan, Life in London: app. † by 1850. Cf. synonymous brass.—4. A penny: Australian: since ca. 1920. Baker. Cf. copper.—5. Anus: Australian: since ca. 1920. Hence the variant bronzoz, since ca. 1935. (B., 1953.)

bronzor. See bronza.

bronzewing. See copper-tail.

bronzie; usually in pl. See 'Prisoner-of-War Slang', 8.

bronzoz. See bronze, 5.

broom squires. See esp. Eden Philpotts, The Broom Squires, 1932.

broom-tail; hence often broomie. A mustang (esp. a mare) with a short bushy tail: Canadian coll.: adopted, ca. 1920, ex U.S.

broomie. A boy that keeps his shearing floor swept clean: Australian rural coll.: C. 20. Baker. The N.Z. sheep-shearer's definition is 'the sweeper on the shearing board'. Straight Furrow (the official organ of the Federated Farmers of New Zealand), Feb. 21, 1968. (Thanks to Mr Harold Griffiths.)

broseley (p. 96) should rather be dated 'ca. 1815-90'. (The Virginia Literary Museum, June 17, 1829, p. 7, col. 2.) Moe.

brothel(-)creepers. Suède shoes: Army (mostly officers') and Navy: 1939+. Cf. creepers (Dict.).—2. Hence, since 1940 in Army and R.A.F., those short, suède, desert boots made with rubber soles made from old 'run-flat' tyres and manufactured in Egypt for use in the desert. (Peter Sanders, who adds 'Completely silent'.)

Brothels. Brussels: Army: late 1944-5. (John Prebble, The Edge of Darkness, 1947.)

brother! A mild exclamation, esp. of surprise: Australian: adopted, ca. 1943, ex U.S. (B.P.) brother on one's back, have a (or one's). To be round-shouldered: R.A.F.: since ca. 1925. (Sgt Gerald Emanuel, letter of March 29, 1945.) brought up all standing. See all standing.

brought up with a round turn. To be suddenly or unexpectedly checked: Naval coll.: C. 19-20. (P-G-R.)

brow, the. The gangway: Naval: C. 20. (P-G-R.)

brown, n.—4. An error or blunder: R.A.F.: since ca. 1935. Partridge, 1945. Also brown show. Less discreditable than a black.—5. Often a bit of brown, an act of sodomy, brown or the brown being generic: ? mid-C. 19-20. Ex:—6. The anus: low: mid-C. 19-20. With senses 5 and 6, cf. good old Brown: a C. 20 Canadian c.p. implying sodomy: with a pun on the surname as well as on the common noun.

brown do. Earlier in Boziana, IV, 1824, 'He is then said to be "cooked" or "done brown" and "dished".'

brown, do a. To commit sodomy: low: late C. 19-20.

brown, into the, 2 (p. 96), goes back a further thirty years or so: cf. John Mayer, The Sportsman's Directory, 7th edition, 1845, 'Always aim at one particular bird, not firing at random at the whole covey, or into the brown of them.' (Dr D. Pechtold.)

brown-back. A ten-shilling currency note: C. 20. Contrast green-back, 3.

brown bag, n.; brown-bag, v., whence brown-bagger. Hard work, with no social or sporting life; to live this sort of life; one who does it: Imperial College, London (—1940). Ex the little brown bags these students are reputed to carry. (Marples, 2.)

brown Bessie (C. 17) is a variant of brown Bess, 1 (Dict.). B. & L.

brown bomber. A car warden: Australian: since ca. 1935. 'They wear a brown uniform. I believe that Joe Louis—"the Brown Bomber"—was top boxer at the time these policemen were introduced' (B.P.).

brown food. Beer: Services', but rarely R.A.F. and mostly in the Navy: since ca. 1925. H. & P. Ex colour and (former) substantiality of beer.

brown-hatter. A male homosexual: Naval: since ca. 1910. (Walter Baxter, Look Down in Mercy, 1951.) By 1945, at latest, common in the other Services and, by 1950, among civilians. Also brownie.

Brown Job, the. The Army; a brown job, a soldier: R.A.F. since ca. 1920 (H. & P.) and Naval since 1939 (Granville). From the colour of the uniform; see job, n., 8.

brown Joe.—2. To know: Australian rhyming s. (—1945). Baker, The Australian Language.

Brown Josephs (coll.), or Brown Joeys (s.), the. The Sisters of St Joseph (a group different from the Black Josephs): Australian Catholics' coll.: C. 20. (B.P.)

brown(-)nose; brown(-)tongue. A sycophant: C. 20. Cf. bum sucker (Dict.).

Brown Nurses, the. Our Lady's Nurses: Australian Catholics' coll.: C. 20. (B.P.)

brown off. To cause a man to be browned off: Army since 1920; R.A.F. since ca. 1928. H. & P.—2. To treat brusquely, send about one's business; to warn for a duty ('I'm browned off for guard duty to-night'): former nuance (Army) since ca. 1930; latter (Army and Naval) since ca. 1938 (Granville). James Curtis, You're in the Racket Too, 1937; a Service example occurs in Gerald Kersh, 1941. Wrongly posed by Berrey thus 'to brown off, to be bored, fed up': in this sense it is always to be browned off.

brown one. See back stick above.

brown-out Romeo. A man given to molesting females in darkened streets: Australian: 1941-45. (B., 1943.) Ex brown-out, a partial black-out.

brown shell; gen. pl. An onion: proletarian: mid-C. 19-20. B. & L.

brown show. See brown, n., 4.

brown Titus; brown typhus. Bronchitis: sol.: mid-C. 19-20. B. & L.

brown(-)tongue. See brown(-)nose.

brown type. An Army officer; R.A.F.: since ca. 1938. H. & P. Cf. brown job and see type, 2.

brown Windsor. Soap—any soap whatsoever: R.A.F.: since ca. 1935. Jackson. Windsor soap issued to R.A.F. is brown. The Daily Mail, Sept. 7, 1940; Hector Bolitho, The Listener, late 1941; Michie & Graebner, Lights of Freedom, 1941.

browned off. (Extremely) disgruntled: depressed: disgusted: Regular Army since ca. 1915; adopted by the R.A.F. ca. 1929. H. & P., 1943. Prob. ex cookery: see Partridge, 1945, or Forces' Slang, ed. Partridge, 1948. Cf. brassed off and cheesed off, q.v., and note Ronald Bottrall, Farewell and Hail, 1945, 'Girls browned off in Roedean' (the first appearance in true literature). But browned off could have been suggested by brassed off. A well-known, extremely well-informed R.A.F. officer writes: 'I rather think the references are to brass buttons, which, if left uncleaned, first develop a harsh yellow or brassy effect and later go brown. I remember hearing a Regular R.A.F. N.C.O. complain that an airman's buttons were "brassed off". It was obvious that for him this was the not juste and far from being a joke' (letter of 1949). Nevertheless, the predominant Army opinion, from at least as early as 1940, is that the phrase was originally sodomitic.

browned up. Despondent: Cockney: C. 20. Naomi Jacobs, The Lenient God, 1937. Cf. prec. entry.

brownie, 3, a copper coin, is extant in Australia. (Cusack.)—8. See brown-hatter.—9. A cake or other confection: Canadian coll. (adopted ex U.S.): C. 20.—10. A bad mark: C.P.R.: since ca. 1908. Introduced by one Brown. (Leechman.)

brownie box. A superintendent's carriage: Canadian railroadmen's: C. 20. So called because that's where 'brownies' are issued: see preceding, sense 10. (Leechman.)

browning, n. Sodomy: low: late C. 19-20.

browsing and sluicing. Eating and drinking: ca. 1920-40. (P. G. Wodehouse.)

bruiser, 1 (p. 97). In Sport in England, 1949, Norman Wymer records (p. 131) an example occurring in May 1742.

brumbie.—2. A poor hand about which its holder tries to bluff: Australian card-players': since ca. 1920. (B., 1953.)

Brummagem button. A self-nickname affected by natives of Birmingham: mid-C. 19–20. Cf. the Brum and Brummagem entries in the Dict.

Brummagem screwdriver. A hammer: Midlands: C. 20. (Richard Merry.)

Brummie (or -my). A familiar form of Brum (see brum, n., 5: p. 97).

Brummy boy. A youth or man from Birmingham: esp. Regular Army. C. 20. Gerald Kersh, They Die with Their Boots Clean, 1941. Cf. Brums, 3 (Dict.) brunch (p. 98) 'was first suggested by Guy Beringer in 1895 in the pages of the long since defunct Hunter's Weekly. My authority for this is Punch . . . 1st August 1896' (William Phillips, letter of Dec. 17, 1963): therefore the term has to be back-dated to 1895. Moreover, it > coll., not ca. 1930 but ca. 1905.

brung. Brought: sol.: C. 19–20. E.g. E. W. Hornung, 1899, 'We don't sweat to know 'ow you brung it orf.'

brush, n., 5 (p. 98). Also, a bit of brush, coition—hence, a girl: low: since late 1930's. (Dick.) brush, three-out. See three-out brush (Dict.).

brush-off. A snub; give (someone) the brush-off, to snub: adopted, ca. 1943, ex U.S. As if brushing dust from one's clothes.

brusher, give (p. 98). Since ca. 1930, usually give a brusher: B., 1942.

Brussel sprout. A Boy Scout: rhyming s.: since ca. 1910. (Franklyn, Rhyming).—2. (Often simply Brussel.) A racecourse tout (a watcher of horses in training): racing rhyming s.: C. 20. The famous Racing Correspondent known as 'The Scout' is, in racing circles, called 'The Brussel': Franklyn 2nd.

brutal and licentious soldiery. An Army officers' c.p. dating from the Boer War (1899–1901). Prob. ex some politician's speech.

'No; earlier! Dating certainly from 1891: Kipling, Life's Handicap. Put ironically into the mouth of Private Mulvaney, satirising a Victorian civilian attitude to the Regular Army not yet extinct in 1967' (Ramsey Spencer).

bruvver. With the song quoted on p. 98, Mr Jack Lindsay compares Martial, xi, 66:

Et delator es et calmuniator, et fraudator es et negotiator, et fellator es et lanista. Miror quare non habeas, Vacerra, nummos; which he suggests might be translated somewhat after this fashion:

You're a pimp, you deal in slander,
You're a cheat, a pervert, pander,
And gladiator-trainer. Funny, Vacerra, that you have no money!

There is, too, an interesting adumbration in the anon. ballad or song. The Joviall Crew, 1670:

A Craver my Father,
A Maunder my Mother,
A Filer my Sister,
A Filcher my Brother,
A Canter my Uncle,
That car'd not for Pelfe;

A Lifter my Aunt, a Beggar my self;
In white wheaten straw, when their bellies were full,
Then I was begot, between Trinker and Trull.
*And therefore a Beggar, a Beggar I'le be,
For none hath a spirit so jocond as he.*

An even closer adumbration, as Professor A. W. Stewart once reminded me, occurs in Goethe's Faust, Part I (published in 1808), in Marguerite's song in the course of the Prison Scene:

Meine Mutter, die Hur' Die mich umgebracht hat!
Mein Vater, der Schelm, Der mich gessen hat!
Mein Schwesterlein klein Hub' auf die Bein'
An einem kühlen Ort;
Da ward ich ein schönes Waldvögelein; Fliege fort, fliege fort!

Postscript. On Aug. 31, 1968, Mr Robert Clairborne of N.Y.C. writes 'Re the charming song "Why Should We Be Pore", you may be interested in a U.S. parallel (prob. of student origin; from internal evidence, c. 1925–30). To the tune of "My Bonny Lies Over the Ocean":

My mother she works in a cat-house,
My father makes counterfeit gin,
My brother sells hop narcotics on the corner,
My God, how the money rolls in!'

Bryant and May. (Mostly in pl.) A light ale: public-houses': from ca. 1920. Via light from Bryant & May's matches.

Brylcreem Boys, the. The R.A.F.: Army (since ca. 1939: H. & P.) and Naval lower-deck (since ca. 1940). Granville, 'From the advertisement which depicts an airman with immaculately Brylcreemed hair.'

B's, three. See three B's (Dict.).

bubbery (p. 98). Earlier in The London Guide, 1818.

bubble, n.—2. Short for bubble and squeak, n., 2, below: C. 20. (Robin Cook, 1962.)

bubble, v.—2. To blub: Edinburgh undergraduates' (since ca. 1920) and Sherborne School (since ca. 1915).

bubble and squeak, n.—2. A Greek: rhyming s.: from ca. 1870.—3. A magistrate: rhyming s. (on beak): late C. 19–20.

bubble and squeak, v.—2. To inform to the police: underworld rhyming s. on the synonymous 'to squeak' (p. 819): C. 20. Franklyn 2nd.

bubble(-)dancing. 'Pot washing in the cook-house,' H. & P.: Services: since ca. 1920.—2. Hence, washing one's irons and, at some stations, also one's plate: R.A.F.: 1939–45.

bubble in, put the. To give the game away, esp. to expose a racket: dockers' rhyming s.: C. 20. Ex bubble and squeak, 4, as above. Also put in the bubble.—2. Hence, to cause trouble: since ca. 1920. As trouble rhymes with bubble, and sneak with squeak, so bubble and squeak prob. combines both of these sounds and both of these senses.

bubblr. A drinking fountain: Australian coll.: since ca. 1945.

Bubbles and Squeaks. Greeks and Cypriots collectively: Teddy boys': since ca. 1949. (The Observer, March 1, 1959.) So many of them own or manage or man restaurants. Cf. bubble and squeak, 2, above—the immediate source.

bubbly. 'Taffrail' defines sense 2 as 'rum'.

bubbly bosun. 'That rating who serves the mess tots of rum from the "fanny" [see fanny, n., 2, on p. 266], usually a different member of the mess every day' (Granville): Naval: since ca. 1910. Cf. bubbly, 2 (p. 99, and above).

Buck appears earlier in 'Taffrail'.

buck, n.—14. A dollar: Canadian: late C. 19–20; adopted ex U.S.—15. A rough fellow: Liverpool: since the 1920's. Cf. the U.S. buck mate.

buck, v.—5. To boast: C. 20 (ob. by 1940), esp. in the Services 1914–18.

buck, give it a; have a buck at (something). To make an attempt: Australian: since ca. 1920. Baker. Ex the language of the rodeo. Cf. trick at below.

buck against the tiger. To be up against too great odds: C. 20. Contrast buck the tiger (Dict.).

buck as if he had a belly full of bed-springs. (Of a horse) to buck violently and repeatedly: Australian rural: since ca. 1930. (Baker.)

buck at is the New Zealand version of buck against (p. 100): C. 20. Jean Devanney, Bushman Burke, 1930, 'Terrible shacks . . . a decent dog would "buck at".'

Buck Guard. Guard duty at Buckingham Palace: Army. C. 20. Cf. Jimmy guard.

Buck House. Buckingham Palace: Society: C. 20. (The Listener, March 10, 1937.)

buck jumper. A 'Great Eastern Tank Engine. Six-wheel coupled' (Railway, 3rd): railwaymen's: (?) ca. 1945–60.

buck-passing. The 1946-and-after form of passing the buck. Ex pass the buck, 2.

buck private. An ordinary private with no stripes at all: Canadian soldiers': 1914–18.

buck sergeant. A full sergeant: Army: 1939 +. (P-G-R.)

buck the tiger (p. 100). Both American Speech, 1943, and C. E. Funk, A Hog on Ice, 1950, mention that a colour print of a Bengal tiger indicates that faro is played on the premises.

bucket, n. (p. 100). Also cheapjacks': C. Hindley, The Life of a Cheapjack, 1876.

bucket and pail. A gaol (jail): rhyming s.: C. 20. Mostly London's dockland: Franklyn 2nd.

bucketing. A hard task enforced on one: lower class: C. 20 (W. L. George, 1914.)

buckets. Boots: fast life: ca. 1820–50. Pierce Egan, Finish, 1828. One 'pours' one's feet into them.

buckets, (simply) throwing up. See throwing up buckets.

buckle, n.—3. Condition, state; mood; Australian: ca. 1850–1910. Rolf Boldrewood, Robbery under Arms. By confusion of fettle with fetter?—see sense 1 of buckle (Dict., p. 100).—4. (Also buckle me.) Figure 2 in House: late C. 19–20. Michael Harrison, 1943. Truncated form of rhyming s. buckle-me (or my)-shoe.

buckle, v., 2 (p. 101), has been current in Australia throughout C. 20. (Hugh Atkinson, Low Company, 1961.)

Buckley's chance (p. 101). William Buckley died in 1856, therefore prob. since 1856. See esp. Marcus Clarke, 'Buckley, the Escaped Convict' in Stories of Australia in the Early Days, 1897. In 1959, Sidney J. Baker records the variant two chances—mine and Buckley's.

bucko mate. A Merchant Navy first mate given to enforcing discipline with his fists: nautical: since ca. 1905. Cf. bucko on p. 101.

bucks. Short for buckshee (Dict.): mostly Army: since before 1929.

Bucks hussar. A cigar: rhyming s., mainly theatrical: late C. 19–20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

buckshee bombardier. An N.C.O. with rank, carrying no additional pay: Diggers': 1939 +, B., 1942.

budge, n.—4. A promotion: Sherborne School: mid-C. 19–20. Alec Waugh, The Loom of Youth, 1917, 'I think I had better get a "budge" this term.' Also at Harrow School: Lunn.

budge, the sneaking. See sneaking budge, 2 (Dict.).

budgets (rare in singular). Bottled commodities, esp. toilet articles and patent medicines: fairgrounds': C. 20. (W. Buchanan-Taylor, Shake It Again, 1943.)

budgie (or -y). A budgerigar: Australian and British coll.: late C. 19–20. Baker.

budgy (p. 101) goes back to—at least—the 1830's. The American Spirit of the Times, June 20, 1840 (p. 192, col. 3), app. refers to an English source in the quotation, 'What budgy brutes you all are'.

budli-budli, or -ly. Sodomy: low, esp. in India: C. 20. Ex Urdu badli (usually pron. budly), 'change'.

buff, n.—5. A buffalo: big-game hunters': since ca. 1870. Also, in C. 20, Australian.—6. A corporal: R.A.F.: since ca. 1919. Jackson. Adopted from the Army, where, however, orderly buff used to mean Orderly Sergeant: in the R.A.F. orderly buff = Orderly Corporal.—7. A stoker; esp. a second-class buff, second-class stoker: Naval: C. 20: Granville.—8. One who, protesting that he has been swindled, threatens to go to the police: Canadian carnivals': C. 20. Ex buff, v., 2 (Dict.). n.—9. An anal escape of wind: Oundle School: C. 20. Echoic. 'Has now reached Rugby School' (D. F. Wharton, 1965).—10. An enthusiast of, or for, e.g. football or fires or Ned Kelly: Australian, adopted, ca. 1944, ex U.S.; also Canadian since ca. 1940.

buff, v., 1 (p. 102), occurs also in buff well, to appear to advantage when (almost) stripped: sporting, esp. boxing: prob. since ca. 1810 or even 1800.

buff up. See shroff up.

buffalo. To out-bluff or out-wit, to circumvent; to overawe: Canadian: since ca. 1920; by ca. 1945, coll. Ex U.S., where it originally denoted 'to hunt buffalo'.

buffalo navigator. A bullock driver: Australian jocular: ca. 1930–50. (B., 1943.)

buffar. Dog-like: c. (—1688). Randle Holme. See bufe (Dict.).

buffer, 1 (p. 102). In late C. 19–20 circus s., it denotes a performing dog, as in:

Risley kids and slanging buffers, Lord alone knows how they suffers.

'Risley (? Riscley) kids' are the children used in foot juggling. (With thanks to David Creswell.)—9. A petty officer: Naval: C. 20. Weekly Telegraph, Oct. 25, 1941. He acts as a buffer between officers and men.—10. A boatswain, whence buffer's mate and chief buffer's mate: Naval: late C. 19–20. Ex sense 6 (Dict.).

buffers. Female breasts: low: late C. 19–20.

Bufs!, steady the. See steady the Bufs!

buffy (or -ey). 'Old Buffy' . . . does not mean anything offensive, just the same as 'Old fellow': Sessions, Oct. 30, 1845: low s.: ca. 1825–70. Ex buffer, 3 (Dict.)?

buffy, v. To polish (esp. one's buttons): R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. (P-G-R.)

Bug. A Bugatti car: since ca. 1920 among motorists.

bug.—7. An old car, rebuilt and remodelled, race-car fashion: Canadian: ca. 1919–39. (Leechman.)—8. An imperfection in a mechanical device or invention: Canadian: adopted, ca. 1945, ex U.S. (Leechman.)—9. A key operated from side to side: Canadian and Australian telegraphists': since ca. 1910.—10. A fault, or a delay, on a new enterprise: Australian: since late 1940's. (B.P.)—11. An inciter, esp. to homosexuality: c.: C. 18. James Dalton, A Narrative, 1778, 'A Man who was what they called a Bug to the Mollies, . . . picking 'em up, as if to commit . . . Sodomy.'

bug, v.—5. To fit a building or a room with hidden microphones or transistors: adopted, 1962, ex U.S.—6. To get on (someone's) nerves: adopted, in late 1950's, ex U.S. (Nicholas Blake, The Sad Variety, 1964.)

Bug, the. The Natural History Museum: Rugby Schoolboys': ca. 1880–1910. 'Now any library, e.g. the Temple Bug = the Temple Reading Room' (D. F. Wharton, Oct. 24, 1965).

bug and flea. Tea: rhymings s., esp. in Army of 1914–18: C. 20; by 1940, †. Franklyn 2nd.

bug-blinding. See blind out.

bug box. A 'small four-wheeled passenger carriage' (Railway, 3rd): railwaymen's: C. 20.

bug(-)dust. Small coal: railwaymen's: since ca. 1920. (Railway.)

bug house. A second-rate cinema: South Africa: since ca. 1920. Cyrus A. Smith, in letter of July 17, 1946. Cf. flea pit, 3.

bug-house. Mad; very eccentric: Anglicised, as rather low s., by late 1936. For its usage in U.S., see Irwin. Adopted by Canada in early C. 20. (Niven.)

bug nest: A hat: Guards Depot at Caterham: 1914–18. John o' London, Nov. 3, 1939.

bug-out. See swan.

bug over. See bug, v., 3 (Dict.).

bug-rake. A hair comb: Australian juvenile: since ca. 1930.

bug-rum. Bay rum: Naval (lower-deck): C. 20. (P-G-R.) Cognate: bug-run, the parting in a man's hair: id.: id.

bug-trap. A Naval Auxiliary vessel, or any tramp steamer: Naval: 1939–45. (P-G-R.)

bug-walk.—2. A hair-parting: low: ca. 1890–1914.

bug wash. Hair oil: Felsted School (and elsewhere): since ca. 1925. Marples. Cf. bug walk (p. 103) and bug nest (above).

bug(-)whiskers. 'The result of an abortive attempt to grow a "set";' Granville: Naval: since ca. 1925. Ex Cockney s. of C. 20.

bugger, n.—3. A person (usually male) very energetic or very skilful; esp. in a bugger to work—drive—drink—what have you: Canadian: since ca. 1925. (Leechman.) Cf. the Eng. beggar to work above.

bugger, v., 1, and bugger! as in Dict. The expletive use is recorded at a very much earlier date: Sessions, Dec. 1793, p. 86, 'She said, bst and b-gg-r your eyes, I have got none of your money.'

bugger in the coals. 'A thinnish cake speckled [sic] with currants and baked hastily on the glowing embers,' William Kelly, Life in Victoria, 1859: Australian: ca. 1830–90.

bugger it. A variant of bugger! (Dict.).

bugger me dead! An Australian expression of surprise: since ca. 1940.

bugger off. To depart, to decamp: low: late C. 19–20. Cf. fuck off and piss off in Dict. By late 1950's—see, e.g., Nancy Mitford, Don't Tell Alfred, 1960—no longer low.

bugger on the coals. See beggar on the coals.

bugger one's contract. See beggar and cf. contract, mess up the (Dict. and Addenda).

buggered if I know! Sorry, I just don't know: Australian: C. 20.

buggerizing (or conniving) about. Aimlessly wandering or pottering: Australian: since ca. 1935. (B., 1953.)

buggeranto. See 'Rogues'.

buggerlugs (p. 103). Not—in Liverpool, at least—necessarily offensive; so a Liverpudlian assured me in 1952.—2. Those little tufts of hair which are sometimes seen on men's cheekbones: Naval: C. 20.

buggeroo. An admiring description of a 'card' or 'character': non-aristocratic: since ca. 1945. The U.S. suffix -eroo has been blended with bugger.

bugger's grips. The short whiskers on the cheeks of Old Salts: Naval (lower-deck): C. 20. Also bugger grips. In H.M.S. Leviathan, 1967, John Winton writes, 'Tufts of biscuit-coloured hair grew on his cheeks in what were called in the Service "bugger's grips"'. buggers-in-the-coals is the late C. 19–20 form of bugger in the coals. (B., 1943.)

buggery, adj. A strong pejorative, subjective epithet: low: from ca. 1870; ob.

buggie. A bugbear; a bogey: jocular when not merely illiterate: since ca. 1925.

buggy. 'Caboose; passenger car; box car' (a magazine article, 1931): Canadian and U.S. railroadmen's: C. 20.—2. A motor-car: since ca. 1945. (John Creasey, Battle for Inspector West, 1949.) Cf. blood-waggon.

bugle. Nose. Canadian: C. 20. Perhaps ex 'blow the bugle'.

bugle, on the. Malodorous: Australian: since ca. 1930. Cf. bugle above.

Bugs. Synonym of Bats: Naval: since ca. 1939. (Granville.) With a pun on bats, adj. (p. 37).

bugs, n.—3. Biology: schools': since ca. 1935. (New Society, Aug. 22, 1963.) Cf. sense 2 on p. 103.

bugs, adj. A 'conflation' of bug-house (above): Canadian (ex U.S.): C. 20. (Niven.)

build. See milk, v., 6.

build up, n. & v. 'To describe most favourably in advance of an appearance. "He gave her a terrific build-up." Movie personalities are "built-up" for their audiences in many and strange ways.' (Leechman.) Since ca. 1925: a coll. that, by 1955 at latest, was familiar S.E.

built for comfort. (Of a man) stout; (of a woman) agreeably plump: C. 20.

built like a brick shit-house, he's. Very well made: low Canadian: C. 20.

bukra (p. 103). It had been a Regular Army word since ca. 1880. In 1939-45 it was revived by troops in Egypt: see, e.g., Lawson Glassop, We Were the Rats, 1944.

bulge on, have (got) the. An earlier example is in E. H. Hornung, Raffles, 1899: 'We had the bulge before; he has it now: it's perfectly fair.'

bulk-monger. A prostitute consorting with male thieves, esp. pickpockets: C. 18. A Congratulatory Epistle from a Reformed Rake . . . upon Prostitutes, 1728.

bull, n.—15. (Cf. sense 6, p. 104.) 'Washings of a sugar bag,' Peter Cunningham, Two Years in New South Wales, 1827: Australian: ca. 1815-70. Ex bull the cask (Dict.).—16. A South Seas Islander; esp., a Torres Islander: Australian: C. 20. Vance Palmer, Legend for Sanderson, 1937.—17. An elephant: circusmen's: C. 20. Short for 'bull elephant'.—18. A policeman: Canadian (ex U.S.): C. 20. Niven.

bull, v.—6. To brag; talk nonsense: Australian: since ca. 1925. Baker. Ex the noun. Hence, bull artist.—7. To put something across (one's superior officer): Army: 1939-45. Cf. sense 2, p. 104.

bull, peddle the; hence bull-peddler. To talk nonsense or 'hot air'; one who does this: Canadian: since ca. 1945. Cf. bull-shit on p. 105.

bull, shoot the; bull-session. One does the former at the latter: Canadian: since ca. 1919. See bull-shit (p. 105).

bull, sweat like a. To perspire freely: coll., mostly Cockneys': from ca. 1880. Perhaps ex cattle, apt to sweat profusely when confined in a market pen.

Bull, the. General Allenby, famous on the Eastern Front 1914-18: military: C. 20. Ex physique and voice. (C. S. Forester plays on this nickname by transferring it, in his masterly novel, The General, 1937, to a Western Front army-commander and changing it to the Buffalo.)

bull and boloney. Idle talk; hot air: Guards Division: since ca. 1938. See the clements.—2. Hence, spit and polish plus window dressing: Army: 1939+.

bull ants. Trousers: Australian rhyming s. (on pants): since ca. 1930. Franklyn 2nd.

bull-ants, to feel as if (or though) one will (or would) give birth to. To feel much out of sorts, ill: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

bull artist, bullshit artist. Synonyms of bull-shitter, than which, by 1960, they were commoner; since ca. 1916. All three, Australian; the 1st, also New Zealand, also with derivative sense, a smooth talker, esp. of a travelling salesman, as in Slatter.

bull chilo. See cow chilo.

bull dance (p. 104) should be back-dated to early C. 19; it occurs in, e.g., Fredk Chamier, The Life of a Sailor, 1832, at II, 38. (Moe.)

bull-dogging. See steer-decorating.

Bull Dogs, the. Footscurry footballers: Melbourne: C. 20. (B., 1943.)

bull-dozed. Muddled; tipsy: Australian: since ca. 1935. B., 1942. Ex bull-doze (Dict.).

bull-dust or -fodder. Nonsense: Australian: since ca. 1919. (B., 1943.) By ca. 1940, also English.

bull-dust, v. To talk nonsense; esp., to 'kid': Australian: since ca. 1920. "'Fairdinkum?'" said Ritchie. "Or are yuh bull-dustin'?"' (Dick.) Ex the n.

bull fiddle. A bass viol: Canadian: C. 20. (Leechman.) bull-fuck. Custard: Canadian railroad-construction crews': since ca. 1910.

bull it through. To accomplish something—esp. an outdoor task—by sheer strength rather than by skill and planning: Canadian coll.: C. 20. (Leechman.)

bull-juice. Condensed milk: mostly nautical: since ca. 1920. Robert Harbinson, Up Spake the Cabin-Boy, 1961.

bull-moose. See moose.

bull of the woods. A foreman: Canadian railwaymen's and lumbermen's: since ca. 1910. (Leechman.)

bull-session. See, bull, shoot the.

bull-shit.—2. Hence (also in forms bulsh and esp. bull), 'excessive spit and polish' or attention to detail; regimentalism: Services: since ca. 1916. Hence, bull-shit morning, that morning on which the C.O.'s inspection takes place: Services: since ca. 1920.

bull-shitter. A boaster; one addicted to empty talk: since ca. 1915, esp. among Australians. Ex bullshit, 1 (p. 105).

bull the tea. To put soda into it to make it more potent: New Zealand rural: C. 20. B., 1941.

bull trap. A crook impersonating a policeman in order to extort money from amorous couples: Australian c.: since ca. 1930. B., 1942.

Bullabananka; also Bullamakanka and Willamakanka; esp. in phrase back of Bullabananka (etc.), 'back of beyond': Australian coll.: since ca. 1935. Cf. black stump . . . above and woop woop (p. 964). B.P. bullamakau. Bully beef: Australian soldiers': 1939-45. (B., 1943.) By a pun.

bulldoze. To ride roughshod over (someone); to force; to cow, to bully: adopted, ca. 1959, ex U.S. bulldozer. A 'locomotive for shunting coaches and taking them to termini for outgoing trains' (Railway): railwaymen's: since ca. 1945.

bulldozing around. An aimless wandering or prowling around: Australian (at first, soldiers'): since ca. 1940. (B., 1953.)

bulled, adj. 'It was decided to give the camels and horses "bulled" water, brackish and pure water mixed' (K. S. Prichard, Kiss on the Lips p. 232), 1932): Australian: C. 20. Perhaps ex bull the cash (p. 105).

bulled(-)up, adj. Dressed as if for parade: Army: since ca. 1943. Leslie Thomas, The Virgin Soldiers, 1966. Ex bull, spit-and-polish: see bull-shit, 2, below.—2. Hence, 'tarted up' or ostentatiously embellished: since ca. 1945. Len Deighton, Only When I Larf, 1968.

buller.—2. A cow on heat, the adj. being bulling: Australian rural coll.: C. 20. (B., Australia Speaks, 1953.)

bullet.—2. (Gen. pl.) A hard, round, sweet: school-children's coll.: C. 20. From dial. and ex hardness.—3. An ace: Australian poker-players': since ca. 1918. (B., 1953.)

bullet fever, the. Self-inflicted wound(s): military: ca. 1770-1830. The Diary of a British Soldier. May 5th, 1793 to Nov. 4th, 1795, in the California State Library. (Communicated by S. H. Ward.)

bullet-proof. See cast iron.

bullets. Peas: Army and lower-deck Navy: C. 20. (P-G-R.)

bullgine is preferred by 'Taffrail' to bulgine or bull-jine, qq.v. in Dict.

bullivant. A large, clumsy person: Cockney: since ca. 1880: by 1940, slightly ob. A blend of bull + elephant. (L. H. Perraton, letter of May 28, 1938.)

bullo. Nonsense; airy or empty talk: Aus.: since late 1940's. (B., 1959.) Bull, n., 12 ('bullshit') + the ubiquitous Aus. suffix -o.

bullock, n. Sense 3 occurs earlier in 'Taffrail'.

bullock, v.—3. To do (very) heavy manual work: Australian coll.: late C. 19–20. Like a 'bullocky' (p. 105). Kylie Tennant, Lost Haven, 1947.—4. To force (one's way): Australian coll.: C. 20. Vance Palmer, The Passage, 1930.

bullock puncher (p. 105). App. since ca. 1840. In, e.g., Tom Kelly, Life in Victoria, 1859.

bullock-waggon. Cheap, empty talk: Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1942. Punning bull, nonsense. Archer Russell, 1934.

bullocker. A bullock-team driver: Australian coll.: C. 20.—2. Hence, a gang foreman: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)

bullock's (or bullocks') blood. 'Strong ale and rum—extremely costive' (Michael Gilbert, The Doors Open, 1949): public-house: since ca. 1920. He-man stuff.

bullocky (p. 105). Also a New Zealand usage. Both in New Zealand and in Australia, prob. since ca. 1840 or 1850.

bullocky's joy. Treacle; golden syrup: Australian: C. 20. (B., 1943.)

bulls.—2. The bulls, the police: Australian, adopted, ca. 1944, ex U.S. (Dick.)

bull's eye.—7. 'Glass used in old Lancashire and Yorkshire [Railway] hand lamp' (Railway 2nd): railwaymen's: ca. 1890–1925.

bull's wool.—3. Nonsense; meaningless talk; ballyhoo: New Zealand and Australia: since ca. 1920. (Niall Alexander, letter of Oct. 22, 1939; B., 1942.) Prob. ex sense 1 (p. 105).—4. The coarse wool used in Army socks: soldiers': since ca. 1880. (Kipling, Plain Tales from the Hills, 1888, and passim.)

bullshit is the more usual post-1920 way of writing bull shit (Add. and on p. 105).

bullshit, v. To 'kid' (someone) in such a way that an argument ensues: esp. Forces: since ca. 1925.

bullshit and bang-me-arse. 'Bullshit' + a little Patton-like showmanship: Army in N.W. Europe: 1944–5.

bullshit baffles brains. An Army officers' c.p.: 1939–45. Others' bullshit, the speaker's brains.

Bullshit Castle. Air Force H.Q.: New Zealand airmen's: 1939–45. (Slatter.)

Bully, The. The (Sydney) Bulletin: Australian coll.: C. 20. (B., 1943; Jean Devanney, 1944.)

bully-beef.—2. A chief (esp. warder): low rhyming s., esp. in prisons: since ca. 1919. (Norman.)—3. adj. Deaf: Scottish rhyming s. (on pron. deef): since ca. 1945. Franklyn 2nd.—4. Sec corned beef below.

bully for you! (p. 106): very common in Australia in C. 20. (B.P.)

Bully Ruffian—Eggs and Bacon—Polly Infamous. The warships Bellerophon—Agamemnon—Polyphemus: Naval 'Hobson-Jobson': late C. 18–early 19. (The Gentleman's Magazine, Feb. 1796; quoted by Carola Oman in her Nelson, 1947.)

bully-splog. 'A desert dish—a ragoût of bully beef and crushed biscuits' (Peter Sanders in The Sunday Times magazine, Sept. 10, 1967): Army in North Africa: 1940–43.

bulsh. See bullshit above.

bum, v.—2. (p. 106): but later in Renton Nicholson, An Autobiography, 1860, at p. 226.—Sense 4 should be renumbered 5.—6. To come: to go: Aus.: since ca. 1920. Norman Lindsay, Saturdee, 1933, "'Know what you are?" he said sternly. "A stinkin' youngskite. Come bummin' in here skitin' about knockin' girls you get a hidin'."—4. (Ex sense 2: p. 206.) To cadge: since ca. 1944. 'Can I bum a cigarette off you?'—example given by Wallace Reyburn in The Sunday Times, July 8, 1962.

bum, adj., was used in the fast and sporting sets of London, ca. 1885–1905, in the sense of disreputable.

bum, have a bit of. To coît with a woman: lower class: late C. 19–20.

bum, on the. See on the fritz.

bum-bags.—2. Men's bathing trunks; since ca. 1910.

bum-boy.—2. One who gets the dirty jobs to do: C. 20.

bum-brusher.—2. A batman: Australian Army: 1939+. Baker.

bum-creeper.—2. A toady: since ca. 1918.

bum-fluff. That unsightly hair which disfigures the faces of pubescent boys; these unfortunate youths are often advised to smear it with butter and get the cat to lick it off: Cockneys': late C. 19–20.

—2. Hence (?), empty talk: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

bum-fodder (p. 107): prob. since ca. 1650. In 1660 an anon. (? Alexander Brome's?) verse satire on the Rump Parliament bears this arresting title: 'Bumm-Fodder; or, Waste-Paper proper to wipe the nation's rump with, or your own'.

bum freezer.—2. Hence a Midshipman's round jacket: Naval: C. 20. Granville records the variant arse-perisher.—3. The short white jacket worn by doctors in hospitals: medical: C. 20.

bum-fuck. Digital massage of prostate via anus and rectum, as diagnostic and therapeutic procedure in treatment of gonorrhœa: low: C. 20.

bum-fucker; corn-holer; gooser. A pederast: low Canadian: C. 20.

bum-licker. A toady: low coll.: C. 20.

bum (one's) load. To boast: Anglo-Irish, and Guardsmen's: since ca. 1930. Also, in R.A.F., bum one's chat (Atkinson): 1939+.

bum numb, adj. With posteriors partially paralysed from sitting on a hard seat or too long in one position: Public Schoolboys': C. 20.

bum-starver. A short coat: from ca. 1920. Oliver Onions, The Open Secret, 1930.

bum steer; esp. give (someone) a bum steer, to give bad advice or information or directions: Canadian: since ca. 1925. Also Australian, since ca. 1944.

bum-sucking; arse-crawling, q.v. Mid-C. 19–20.

bum-tags. Synonymous with clinkers, 2 (p. 160): low: C. 20.—2. Hence, synonymous with bum-sucker (Dict.): low: since ca. 1910.

bumble jar. By 1930, however, the predominant Naval sense was gramophone. Granville.

bumble someone's rumble. See rumble someone's bumble.

bumblebug. An early (? the original) nickname for the flying bomb; soon superseded by doodlebug: mid-1944.

Bumblebus. Wildcat Aircraft of the Fleet Air Arm: Naval: World War II.

bumbo, 2 (p. 107). Earlier in Sessions, 1738, where it is spelled bumbow.

bumf (p. 107).—2. Hence, any collection of papers in which one is not interested: since ca. 1945.—3. At Rugby School, any piece of paper, e.g. a test paper (cf. topos bumf): late C. 19–20. The bumfs = the daily Press. (D. F. Wharton, 1965.)

bumf, v.—3. (Ex sense 3 of the n.) To give a test: Rugby School: C. 20. (D. F. Wharton, 1965.)

bumf, pink. A Confidential Signal pad: Naval: since ca. 1920. Granville. See bumf, n. (p. 107).

bumfiteer. See bumphleteer.

bummer.—6. A sodomite: low: C. 20. A graffito noted on May 1967, a correspondent tells me.

bump, n. An uneven landing; bumpy flying: R.A.F. coll.: since ca. 1919; by 1940, almost j. (H. & P.).—2. Hence any landing of an aircraft: coll.: since ca. 1930. Jackson. See three months' bumps.

bump, v.—5. To fight successfully: Australian: 1940+. B., 1942.—6. To polish (a wooden floor) with a 'bumper': Services: since ca. 1925. (P-G-R.)

bump across. To meet by chance: Australian: C. 20. Baker.

bump off.—2. Hence to dismiss (someone) from employment: since ca. 1940.

bumped or pipped, get. To be torpedoed by U-boat or even by E-boat: Naval: 1939–45.—2. Of N.C.O.s: to get reduced in rank: Army: 1939+.

bumper.—5. A cigarette end: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. Ex 'butt' + 'stump' + er.—6. An amateur rider in steeplechases: racing: since ca. 1930. His hindquarters tend to bump.

bumper, adj. Excellent: coll.: C. 20. Ex bumper, n., 3 (p. 108).

bumper, not worth a. Utterly worthless: Australian: since ca. 1930. Ex bumper, n., 5, above.

bumper-shooter. A picker-up of cigarette-ends: Australian: since ca. 1940. (B., Australia Speaks, 1953.)

bumper-sniping. The task of picking up cigarette butts: Australian soldiers': 1939–45. (B., 1943.)

bumper-up. A dockyard labourer: C. 20.—2. A pickpocket's assistant: Australian c.: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.)—A prostitute's handyman: Australian c.: since ca. 1925. Also bumper-upper or candy-bag. (B., 1953.)

bumpers. Female breasts: Australian motorists': since ca. 1950. Cf. buffers above.

bumpers, ride. To ride in steeplechases: racing: since ca. 1925. (John Welcome, Wanted for Killing, 1965.) Cf. bumper, n., 6.

bumph is an occ. variant of bumf (Dict.).

bumph hunt. Variant of bumf hunt. See bumf, n. (p. 107).

bumphleteer. An aircraft (or its crew or a member thereof) engaged in pamphlet-dropping: R.A.F.: Sept. 1939–April 1940, and then the scene was changed, the war ceasing to be either 'phoney' or funny. (Jackson.)

bumping, n. Delaying or obstructing a bill: Parliamentary: since ca. 1920. Sir Alan Herbert, Mild and Bitter, 1936.

bumping-off. A murder: c.: from ca. 1932. The Pawnshop Murder. From U.S. and ex bump-off (Dict.).

bumps. See three months' bumps.

bum's rush (p. 108) is, more precisely, that method of forcible ejection which consists in the application of one hand to the seat (often a grasping of trouser-slack), the other to the neck, and the ensuing propulsion. Common to bar-tenders and police. It occurs in Liam O'Flaherty, The Informer, 1925.

bun, 5, is recorded by B. & L., 1889, as 'the latest synonym for tart', and not as specifically Glaswegian.—6. A bowler hat: New Zealand: C. 20. B., 1941. Ex the shape.—7. See boxer.

bun in the oven, have a. To be pregnant: low: C. 19–20.

bun on, get a. To become intoxicated: lower class: C. 20; ob. W. L. George, The Making of an Englishman, 1914.

bun penny. An early Queen Victoria penny showing her with hair in a bun: coll.: late C. 19–20.

bun rush. Tea (the meal): Royal Naval College, Dartmouth: C. 20. Granville.

bun shop. A Lyons Corner House: London taxi-drivers': since ca. 1910. Herbert Hodge, 1939.

bun(-)trap. The mouth: low—or, at any rate, strictly non-U: C. 20. Cf. cake-hole below.

bun-worry.—2. (Ex sense 1: p. 108).—A jollification; a hilarious occasion; a fooling about: New Zealand and Australian: late C. 19–20. It occurs, e.g., in G. B. Lancaster's novels.

bunce. For an additional sense, see kelp.—4. Sheer, or almost sheer, profit; something for nothing: since ca. 1920. Ex sense 1 in its C. 20 nuances. Common, after ca. 1930, in Australia. (B., 1953.)

bunch, n.—2. The main group in a race, apart from the breakaway: racing cyclists' coll.: since ca. 1925.

bunch, v. (p. 108). Dr Leechman doubts its authenticity.

bunch of bastards. A tangled rope: Naval lowerdeck: since ca. 1946.

bunch of dog's meat. 'A squalling child in arms' (Sinks, 1848): low: ca. 1825–70.

bunch of fives (p. 108). Earlier in Boziana, III, 1821. It has the Australian, esp. Sydney, variant bunch of five. (B.P.)

buncle or buncle. A carbuncle: (dial. and) semi-literate coll.: late C. 19–20.

bund.—3 (prob. ex 1). A wall or barbed-wire fence marking the perimeter of a Station: R.A.F.: since ca. 1925. Jackson. From Persia and India.

bundle, n. See job, v., 4.

bundle, v.i. To fight with one's fists: low: C. 20. Brendan Behan, Borstal Boy, 1958, '“Oh, so you want to bundle, you Irish bastard?” said Hanson. “Come on, then.”' Cf. bundle up below. Also as n.—also in Behan.

bundle, drop one's or the (p. 108).—2. Hence, in New Zealand, to give birth: low: since ca. 1920.

bundle, go a. In solo whist, to bid abundance: ? esp. Merseyside: late C. 19–20.

bundle of socks. The head: Australian rhyming s. (on 'think-box'): late C. 19–20. Baker, The Australian Language.

bundle on, go a. See 'Jazz Slang'.

bundle on, go the. See go the bundle on.

bundle up. To attack (someone) in force: low: 1824, J. Wight, Morning at Bow Street, 'He was bundled up or enveloped, as it were, in a posse of charleys'; † by 1900.

bundo. Arrangement (whether singular or collective), as in 'What's the bundo?' or 'I've made a bundo for this evening': Regular Army, esp. in India: late C. 19–20; by 1960, slightly ob. Hindustani bandobast.

bundook (p. 109) has, since ca. 1920, been much in use by the R.A.F. (Jackson.)

Bundy, punch the. To register one's arrival or departure on a time-recording clock: Australian workmen's coll.: since ca. 1935. Ex the clocks formerly made by Messrs. W. H. Bundy. (B.P.)

bung, n.—7. A poke, blow, punch: low: late C. 19–20. A. Neil Lyons, Hockey, 1902, 'Only yesterday, said he, I got another bung in the eye'. Echoic: cf. sense 3 of the v.—8. A bungalow: since ca. 1920.—9. A bribe, esp. to the police: low: since ca. 1930. (Norman.)

bung, v.—5. To pay protection money to (someone): low: since ca. 1925. 'Sergeant Connor. He's one of them slime-sniffers [the Vice Squad]. Every girl in Bayswater bungs to him if she wants to stay on the game.' Bill Turner, Sex Trap, 1968.

bung, adj.—2. Ruined; bankrupt; go bung, to fail, to go bankrupt, to die: Australian: since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.)—2. Hence, spurious, illegal; grossly inadequate: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)

bung, flog the. See flog . . .

bung (someone) a toffee. To do him a favour, esp. if considerable: London's East End: since ca. 1947. (The Evening News, Nov. 12, 1957, article by Richard Herd.)

bung-eye. An ocular inflammation caused by flies: Australian coll.: late C. 19–20. (Sarah Campion, Bonanza, 1942.)

bung(-)hole. See bung, n., 6 (p. 109). Both bung and bung hole are also Naval of C. 20: Granville.—2. Hence (via bread and cheese), bread; military since ca. 1925. (H. & P.) Constipating.

bung it! Stow it!: low: late C. 19–20. Pugh (2).

bung it in; often shortened to bung it. Gin (the drink): rhyming s.: since ca. 1920. Michael Harrison, letter of Jan. 4, 1947.

bung it on. To spend lavishly in, e.g., catering; to 'put on a good show' (party, reception, etc.): Australian since ca. 1918. (B.P.) Ex bung on side.

bung on an act. 'To swear luridly, give way to temper, complain at length' (B., 1959): Aus.: since ca. 1920.

bung on side. To put on 'side', to show off: low Australian coll.: since ca. 1910. (Kylie Tennant, 1953.)

bung-ons. Gifts: mock-auctions': since ca. 1930. Cf. bung, v., 2, on p. 109, and bung it on above.

bung up and bilge free. By 1920, sense 1 (p.

109) was coll.; by 1930, j.—2. Hence, of a sailor enjoying a rest or sleep: Naval: since ca. 1910. Granville.—3. A Naval c.p. (late C. 19–20) for femina in coitu. Ex the description of the correct position for a rum cask.

Bungay!, go to (p. 109). In C. 19 in Suffolk there was the phrase go to Bungay for a bottom—or to get new-bottomed, applied to repairs for wherries.

bungdung. A large cracker; a firework: Australian: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.) Echoic. 'Formed on bundook?' (Leechman.)

bunged. Tipsy: South Africa: since ca. 1935. Prof. W. S. Mackie in The Cape Argus, July 4, 1946. Cf. bung-eyed (Dict.).

bunged up. Damaged, stove-in, clogged: coll.: late C. 19–20.

bunger. Ponga (a New Zealand plant): New Zealand: since ca. 1860; slightly ob. by 1926. B., 1941. By 'Hobson-Jobson'.

bungie (p. 109). Also and orig. ingie-bungie, the ingie referring to ink.

Bungs. See 'Prisoner-of-War Slang', 8.

Bungy. Naval nickname for anyone named Williams: C. 20. Granville. Also a fairly common nickname of men surnamed Edwards or Edwardes: C. 20. Why?

bungy.—2. Pungy, plant and flower: New Zealand coll.: late C. 19–20. (Jean Devanney, 1928.)

bungy-eye. A variant of bung-eye.

bungy (or -ie) man (p. 109). After ca. 1925, often shortened to bungy (or -je). Granville.

bunk, n.—3. Hence 'a small Corporals' Barrack Room usually just outside the Men's Barrack Room. It contains their bunks or beds; the Corporals bunk down (or "kip" or sleep) there,' Partridge, 1945: R.A.F. coll. (since ca. 1925) >, by 1944, j.—4. 'Freight or passenger train on Wallingford or Abingdon branches' (Railway 2nd): railwaymen's: ? ca. 1920–50.—5. A Canadian term of disapproval for anything disliked or unwanted: since ca. 1920. Ex sense 1.

bunk, v.—5. A synonym of double-dink below. (B., 1959.)

bunk off. Australian variant of bunk, v., 1 (Dict.): C. 20. B., 1942.

bunk over, v.i. To cross: coll.: C. 20. E.g., 'bunk over to see a person'.

bunk-up, n.; less gen. bunk up, v.t. Assistance, to assist, in climbing: Cockneys': C. 20. "'Can you give us a bunk-up?' "Yus, I'll bunk you up, Bill."—2. To have a bunk-up, to have casual sexual intercourse: Forces': 1939+.

bunk-wife. A landlady: St Andrews University students': C. 20.

Bunker. A fairly common nickname of men surnamed Lewis or Lewes: C. 20. Why?

bunkle. See buncle.

bunny.—5. A dupe: Australian c. and low s.: C. 20. Ex senses 1, 2. n.—6. One who stupidly talks too much: Teddy boys': since ca. 1954. (Gilderdale, 2.)—7. A talk, a chat: low: since ca. 1945. (Norman.) Ex the verb.—8. Someone not fully alert (not 'with it'): Australian: since ca. 1925. Hence, the bunny, 'Mr Muggins' or the willing horse. (B.P.)—9. A sanitary towel: women's: since ca. 1920. Perhaps cf. sense 4 (p. 110).—10. A pilotman: railwaymen's: since ca. 1945. Railway, 3rd.—11. A waitress at a Playboy Club: raffish: since late 1950's. She is costumed like a rabbit.

bunny, v. To talk, to chat: low: since ca. 1945. (Norman.) Ex rabbit, v., 3.

Buns. C. T. Thornton (1850–1929), famous Eton and, in 1869–72, Cambridge cricketer: cricketers': Sir Home Gordon, The Background of Cricket, 1939.

bunter's tea. Strong liquor (? gin): ca. 1715–60. Anon., The Quaker's Opera, 1728. 'Quaker. . . What hast thou got? Poorlean. Sir, you may have what you please, Wind or right Nanty or South-Sea, or Cock-my-Cap, or Kill-Grief, or Comfort, or White Tape, or Poverty, or Bunter's Tea, or Apricock-Water, or Roll-me-in-the-Kennel, or Diddle or Meat Drink-Washing-and-Lodging, or Kill-Cobler, or in plain English, Geneva.'

bunts (see bunting-tosser, p. 110) is far from being ob.: Weekly Telegraph, Oct. 25, 1941.

bunyip. A humbug, an imposter: Australian: since ca. 1860. Tom Collins, Such is Life, 1903. The bunyip is a fabulous Australian animal.

bupper (Dict.) occurs also as buppie, bups, bupsie, both as bread and butter in gen. and as a slice thereof in particular.

burble (p. 110) occurs in H. C. Bailey, Rimingtons, 1904.

Burdett Coutts, often shortened to Burdetts. Boots: rhyming s.: since ca. 1925. Ex the name of the well-known bankers.

burg(h)er. A Hamburg(h)er: adopted in 1942 from the U.S.

[Burglars' tools in late C. 17–18 are: bess (q.v.) or betty (q.v.), crow (prob. always S.E.) and jack (ditto); the first two are in B.E., the last three in Ned Ward (1714, 1703, 1703). Matthews.]

burk. To avoid work: New Zealand: ca. 1880–1920. (G. B. Lancaster, Sons o' Men, 1904, 'I'll exchange. . . But I won't burk, see?') Rhyming with shirk?

burk(e). A misspelling of berk. (Gerald Kersh, Faces in a Dusty Picture, 1944: burke.)

Burke. Burke's Peerage: bookmen's and librarians' coll.: mid-C. 19–20.

burke, v., 1. It occurs in Sessions, 1832, or nearly forty years earlier than the Dict. recording.

Burker. A body-snatcher: ca. 1830–50. In, e.g., W. Chadwick, Reminiscences of a Chief Constable, 1900. See burke (p. 111).

burking. Vbl n. of burke (Dict.).

burly; esp. in give it a burly. To give something a chance; make an attempt: low Australian: C. 20. Kylie Tennant, Foveaux, 1939. Perversion of hurl? By 1950, no longer low—if, indeed, it ever was! (B.P.) Cf. the Canadian and English give it a whirl.

burley. Nonsense, humbug: Australian: C. 20. Baker. Origin? B.P. thinks that the orig. form was berley; so does Webster's 3rd edition—which defines the term as 'ground bait'. Therefore burly above, as in 'give it a burly', is prob. a variant of berl, itself short for berley. If a fisherman uses berley, he is, after all, trying to catch a fish.

Burlington Bertie. A fop, a dude: since ca. 1909; ob. by 1940, † by 1960. Ex Vesta Tilley's famous song, Burlington Bertie from Bow, ca. 1908.—2. Hence, since ca. 1912, any young fellow who dresses up in his leisure or even at work; by 1960, †.

Burlington Hunt. A faulty, not very common, deformation of Berkshire (or Berkeley) Hunt. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

Burma Road. Rice: Army in the Far East: 1942+. Rice is the staple Burmese food.—2. Hence, in 1943–5, in Service messes in Irak and Persia, 'as an exclamation at frequent rice' (Atkinson).

Burmese stocking. In Indian Army s., from ca. 1886, as in Richards, concerning the natives of Upper Burma: 'At a very early age the males were tattooed around the legs with rings of what looked like grinning devils. This was called "the Burmese stocking" and was supposed to avert illness and enchantment.'

burn, n. A 'showing-off' burst of fast driving: Australian motorists': since late 1940's. A motorist 'burns' his tyres. (B.P.) Cf. burn off below.—2. A thrill, as in 'We came up by car for a burn' (Dick): Australian teenagers'; since ca. 1950.

burn, v.—2. To smoke (tobacco): late C. 19–20. Hence also n., as in:— burn, have a. To have a smoke: Naval: C. 20. Granville. By 1950, also fairly general low s. (Norman.)

burn, twist a. To roll a cigarette: Australian Naval: since ca. 1918. (B., 1943.) Cf. preceding.

burn off, v.i. To drive very fast, esp. if 'showing-off': Australian motorists': since late 1940's. (B.P.) burn the grass. See grass.

burn-up, n. esp. have a burn-up, to race in a car or on a motor cycle: mostly teenagers': since ca. 1955. They 'burn up' the road.—2. A marked blush: Rugby School: since late 1950's. (David Wharton.)

burn up, v. To blush; to become very much embarrassed: Rugby School: since late 1950's. (David Wharton.)

burn-up, the. 'One of the most ingenious of confidence tricks' (John Gosling, The Ghost Squad, 1959), involving a gang of three or four: adopted, ca. 1946, ex U.S.

burnt.—3. Short for burnt cinder (p. 111).

buro, on the. Out of work and drawing the dole: Glasgow coll.: from ca. 1921. MacArthur & Long. I.e. bureau. Or perhaps on the Borough.

burp. Esp. of a baby, to eructate; also v.t., to cause (a baby) to belch: late C. 19–20 (? very much earlier): coll. >, by 1920 at latest, S.E. Hence, burp at both ends, to pass wind from throat and anus simultaneously: Australian s.: since ca. 1930. (B.P.) Oddly, this word didn't reach the dictionaries until the 1930's. Echoic—cf. gurk (p. 362).

Also, derivatively, n.: C. 20. Both v. and n. have alternative spelling birp. Early in 1967, Dr R. L. Mackay, M.D., resident there for some forty years, remarks that, 'in Wolverhampton, birp is used in the conversation of the uppermost classes, rifi by the middle class, and belch by the remainder, which may include some public school-boys'. Note that whereas belch is, of course, S.E., rifi was—and is—a very widespread Northern and Midland dial. term.

Burrifs. The. The Burma Rifles: war of 1939–45. Cf. Rajrifs, Rajputana Rifles.

burry. An Aboriginal: Australian: since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.) Ex the burrs in his beard?

Burse, the. The Bursar: colleges' and schools': late C. 19–20.

burst, n.—5. A succession of bullets fired by a machine-gun: C. 20.: coll. >, by 1941, j. Jackson.

burst, v.—3. To close (v.i.): see gaff street.

burst into flames. See what do you expect me to do?

burster, 1 (p. 112). Earlier in Sinks, 1848, as a loaf of bread. See twopenny burster.

Burton, gone for a. See gone for a Burton.

bury it. See dip one's wick.

burying the baby. A c.p. indicative of profit made out of the knowledge of a discreditable or even a guilty secret: from ca. 1910. Ex 'A knows where B buried the baby' and profits accordingly. (The Times Literary Supplement, March 20, 1937.)

bus, n., 5 (p. 112). 'Used now very rarely,' Jackson, 1943: indeed it was, by flying officers, rather frowned upon in 1917–18, its vogue having ended for them.—7. (Ex sense 2.) An omnibus volume: book-world: since ca. 1940. E.g., the Birmingham bus—a book of stories by George A. Birmingham; orig., jocular.

bus-boy. 'One whose duty it is to clear tables in a restaurant' (Leechman): Canadian: adopted, ca. 1935, ex U.S. Perhaps ex French s. omnibus, a kind of apprentice in the restaurant business.

bus-conductor. A sub-conductor, R.A.O.C. (a technical W.O.1): Army: since ca. 1947.

bus(-)driver. A bomber pilot: R.A.F.: since early 1940. 'So called because he is usually on a well-beaten route,' H. & P. See bus, n., 5 (Dict. and prec. entry).

bush, n.—3. Pubic hair: low (mid-C. 19–20) after being a literary euphemism. Whence, by facetious derivation, Bushy Park (Dict.).—4. Hence, a girl or young woman: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942.—5. (Also cf. 3.) A moustache: Australian: since ca. 1925. Baker. Ex bushy moustache?—6. The suburbs: Australian urban: since ca. 1930. (B., 1943.) Ex the Australian sense of S.E. bush.

bush, adj. Rough and ready: inferior: Australian coll.: late C. 19–20. Esp. in bush lawyer (Dict.). In New Zealand also; esp., bush carpenter (or carpentry): since ca. 1910. (Niall Alexander, letter of Oct. 22, 1939).—2. Hiding in 'the bush': Australian: since 1910. Ion M. Idriess, Man Tracks, 1935, 'Paddy and Yankee were still "bush" on their pinki [walkabout], staying bush for a long long time.'

bush, go.—2. Hence, to escape from gaol and disappear: Australian c.: since ca. 1910. B., 1942. Also take to the bush. Ex Aborigines that revert to the savage state.—3. To seek the peace—the solitude—of the bush: Australian coll.: C. 20. (K. S. Prichard, Working Bullocks, 1926.)

bush, up the. Out in the country: Australian coll.: C. 20. B., 1942.

bush ape. Usually in the pl. A worker in the country. Australian coll.: C. 20. B., 1942.—2. A fruit picker: South Australian: C. 20. Baker.

bush artillery. Men not normally considered as fighting men (cooks, clerks, etc.) who manned all sorts of guns during the siege of Tobruk. (Australian).—2. 'Captured Italian guns manned by odds and sods in the siege of Tobruk' (Peter Sanders, The Sunday Times magazine, Sept. 10, 1967): Army in North Africa: W.W. II.

bush Baptist. A person of either dubious or no religious denomination: Aus.: late C. 19–20. I remember hearing it during W.W. I; B., 1959.

bush bunny. A simpleton; a dupe: Australian c.: since ca. 1920. (B., 1953.)

bush carpenter. A rough-and-ready carpenter: Aus. coll.: C. 20. (B., 1959.)

bush dinner; bushman's hot dinner. Resp., 'mutton, damper and tea' and 'damper and mustard': Australian coll.: late C. 19–20. B., 1942.

bush fire, full of. (Very) energetic; high spirited; (very) plucky: Australian: C. 20. Baker.

bush(-)league, adj. Second-rate: Canadian, adopted, ca. 1930, ex U.S. Ex the leagues of minor baseball teams. (Leechman.)

bush radio or bush wireless are post-1930 forms of bush telegraph. (B., 1943.)

bush scrubber.—2. a rural prostitute: Australian: C. 20. Baker.

bush-tail, adj. Cunning: Australian coll.: C. 20. Baker.

bush telegram or telegraph. Unfounded report or rumour: Australian coll.: C. 20. Baker. An early Australian occurs in Ion M. Idriess, Man Tracks, 1935.

bush up. To confuse or baffle: Australian: C. 20. Baker. Cf. bush, v., 2 (Dict.).

Bush Week; esp. in What do you think this is—Bush Week?, 'a c.p. used when someone has proposed something very "fishy"' (B.P.): Australian: since ca. 1945. (It occurs in, e.g., Lawson Glassop, Lucky Palmer, 1949.) Sometimes or Christmas is added. The time of the local agricultural and pastoral show, when the 'city slickers', esp. the 'con men', fleece the rustics. There is, by the way, no such thing as a Bush Week. (B.P.)

bushed.—2. Amazed: Marlborough College: since late 1920's.—3. 'Suffering from mild or serious mental derangement caused by long solitude in the bush. Once a very common and serious trouble, especially among trappers and prairie farmers' wives. Now much mitigated by the wireless which provides human contact even if only mechanically. "Harry's been alone for a couple of years now. He must be pretty well bushed."—A Canadian coll.: (?) late C. 19–20. (Leechman.)

bushed, be (cf. bush, v., 2, on p. 112, and bushed, 3, above): since ca. 1920, the predominant Australian sense has been 'to have lost one's bearings'. (B.P.) bushel bubbly (p. 112). Cf. the witty Fr. c.p.: 'Elle a du monde au balcon'.

bushel of coke. A 'bloke': rhyming s.: C. 20. Franklyn, Rhyming.

bushfire blonde. A red-head: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)

bushies. People living in the outback or 'bush': Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1953.)

bushman's clock. A kookaburra: Australian coll.: late C. 19–20. The laughing jackass.

bushman's hot dinner. See bush dinner.

bushranger.—2. Hence, a petty swindler; an unethical opportunist: Australian: since ca. 1910. Baker.

bushwa. A polite Canadian variant of bull-shit: since ca. 1916.

bushwhackers. Commandos that went to Rangoon, just before its fall, to do salvage work: Australian: 1942. (O. D. Gallagher, Retreat in the East, 1942.)

business.—6. Defecation, faeces; esp. in do one's business: nursery coll.: mid-C. 19–20. Cf., semantically, do a job for oneself.

business, on the. See business girl, a. business, quite a. Something unexpectedly difficult to do, obtain, etc.: coll.: late C. 19–20. See business (p. 112).

business, three-stride. See three-stride business (Dict.).

business as usual, despite difficulty and danger, was a c.p. of W.W. I; in the 1930's it became ironic; in W.W. II, if used at all, mostly literal; since then, a condemnation of complacency. (William Safire, The New Language of Politics, 1968—an entertaining and valuable book.)

business end, the. For sense 2, an earlier example is in E. H. Hornung, Raffles, 1899: 'The business ends of the spoons'.

business girl, a. Prostitutes' favourite description of themselves: i.e. harlots' c.p.: from ca. 1921. Likewise, on the business is favourable, whereas on the bash, batter, game, are pejorative for 'engaged in prostitution, esp. at the moment'.

busk, 2, dates (esp. as vbl n. busking) back to the 1850's in the sense, to play, sing, dance in public-houses.

busker. As a nuance of sense 1: among tramps, in C. 20, a busker is a man that plays an instrument in the street.

busnapper. A policeman: Australian c.: C. 20. Baker. A napper or capturer of those who are engaged in 'the buzz' (see buzz, n. 2: p. 116).

buso, go. See 'Prisoner-of-War Slang', 6.

buss, adv. Only: Regular Army: C. 20, virtually † by 1946. Thus, 'He had his coat on buss'—he was wearing only his coat.

bussie or bussy. A bus-worker: coll.: since ca. 1940. Reynolds, Nov. 18, 1945.

bust, n., 2 (a burglary), survives in Australian c., a sin "'Mortman the bustman!'" Rene sneered. "Listen to him big-note himself. He's going to do a bust"; Kylie Tennant, The Joyful Condemned, 1953.—3. A police search or raid: drug addicts', hippies', Flower People's: adopted, in late 1950's, ex U.S. (The Observer colour supplement, Dec. 3, 1967.)

bust a frog! 'Well, I'm damned!': Cockneys': mid-C. 19–20; by 1940, ob.

bust (a policeman's) beat. To commit a crime on it: police: since ca. 1910. (The Free-Lance Writer, April 1948.)

bust the rut. To blaze a trail: Northern Territory, Australia: since ca. 1925. (Ernestine Hill, The Territory, 1951.) Baker, 1959, prefers bust a rut.

Buster. 'A name for anybody whose real name may or may not be known to the speaker. Usually but not necessarily pejorative. "'Now listen here, Buster, this means trouble!'" (Leechman): Canadian: adopted, ca. 1920, ex U.S. buster, go in a. To spend regardless of expense: mostly Cockneys': from ca. 1885; ob. Anstey, Voces Populi, vol. II, 1892.

bustle, on the. Cadging; engaged in the sly acquisition of small objects: Australian c.: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.)

bustman. See bust above.

busy as a one-armed paper-hanger, as. Bustlingly, or excessively, busy: New Zealand: since ca. 1939. (Slatter.) 'Common in Canada also,' says Dr Leechman, who cites the lengthened . . . with the itch.

busy foot, have a. (Of a horse) to be speedy: Australian: since ca. 1920. Baker.

but, conj. at end of sentence, precisely as however is often thus used in informal speech: Aus.: since ca. 1935. Nino Culotta's novel, Cop This Lot, 1960, contains many examples, as "'Yer gettin' enough to eat, ain't yer?"—"Gettin' enough, matey. Dunno the bloody names, but."' butch, n. An obviously active, as opposed to a passive, male homosexual: American, adopted, ca. 1950, by English-speaking homosexuals everywhere. It occurs in, e.g., Evelyn Waugh, The Ordeal of Gilbert Pinfold, 1957.—2. Hence, a Lesbian; loosely, a masculine sort of woman: homosexuals' (both sexes): since ca. 1945. Cf. dike below.

Butch. A nickname given to boys by fathers proud of their own muscles and virility and desirous of the same qualities in their offspring: Canadian coll.: adopted, ca. 1920, ex U.S. Ex S.E. butcher. (Leechman.)

butcher, n., 1 (p. 114), is extant among Australian poker-players.—5. A (careless) barber: Australian, esp. Sydney: since ca. 1945. (B.P.)—6. A medical student: University of Sydney undergraduates': C. 20. (B.P.)—7. 'A small glass of beer'—a South Australian term, equivalent to the pony or lady's waist of N.S.W.

Butcher, the. William Augustus, Duke of Cumberland (1721–65): from 1746. On account of his severity towards the fugitives of the Young Pretender. The taunt was not wholly merited.

butcher's. Noon: low (parlyaree): 1893, R. H. Emerson, Signor Lippo.

butcher's apron. A blue-and-white striped blazer; at a certain Scottish Public School: late C. 19–20. Ian Miller, School Tie, 1935. Ex the colouring.—2. The ribbon of the United Nations medal for active service in Korea. Ex the narrow vertical white stripes and the washed-out blue. (The Sunday Times, Feb. 20, 1955.)

butcher's bill (p. 114) occurs 'way back in 1829, as a Naval term: Fredk Marryat, Frank Mildmay (p. 68 of the 1897 edition), 'Having delivered his "butcher's bill", i.e., the list of killed and wounded . . . ' Moc.

butcher's canary. A blowfly: Australian: since ca. 1925. Baker. It infests butchers' shops and buzzes loudly.

butcher's daughter, like the. A c.p. used as an elaboration of dripping for it (below): perhaps esp., but far from being only, Australian: since ca. 1910.

butcher's shop, the. The execution shed: prison officers': late C. 19–20. Ernest Raymond, We the Accused, 1935.

butt.—2. A buttery: Oxford and Cambridge undergraduates': mid-C. 19–20. (Marples, 2.) Also at certain schools, e.g. Dulwich.

butter-basher. A taxi-cabman employed during the 1913 taxicab strike: taxicab drivers': 1913. Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939. 'These new drivers, it was rumoured, were mostly unemployed shop assistants drawn mainly from the "grocery and provision" trade.'

butter boy.—2. (Usually in pl.) A sailor: Army: since ca. 1945.

butter in one's eyes, have no. To be clear-sighted, hence alert and shrewd: coll.: ca. 1810–70. Alfred Burton, Johnny Newcome, 1818. (Moe.)

Butter-Nut (p. 115). 'The Confederate soldiers' clothes were often dyed with butternut bark' (Leechman).

butter-patter. A grocery or dairy shop assistant: C. 20. Often contemptuous. Cf. butter basher.

butter-slide (p. 115). Prob. ex the sense current ca. 1850–90, 'a mischievous trick of Victorian small boys who put a lump of butter down where their elders would tread on it and take a fall', Andrew Haggard, letter of Jan. 28, 1947.

butter-snout. 'An epithet hurled at people cursed with a nose oily in appearance': ca. 1890–1920. (Leechman, 'I first heard it at Gravesend in 1905'.)

butterboy; butter(-)boy. A novice taxi-driver: taxi-drivers': 'coined during the 1913 cab strike'. (Herbert Hodge, 1939.) Cf. butter-fingers (Dict.).

buttered eggs in one's breeches, make. To defecate through fear: mid-C. 17–18.

butterfly.—3. A coin that, when tossed, fails to spin: Australian two-up players': late C. 19–20. Baker.

butterfly, v., corresponds to butterfly, n., 3.

butterfly cabman. A taxi-driver working only in the summer: taxi-drivers': since ca. 1910. Herbert Hodge, 1939.

butinski (or -sky). 'The one-piece telephone used by P.M.G. linesmen' (B.P.): since ca. 1930. Ex sense 1 (p. 115).

buttock (p. 115) is, by James Dalton, in A Narrative, 1728, defined as 'One that dispenses her Favours without Advantage'—free of charge.

button.—4. Clitoris: low: C. 19–20.

button, off the. See start off the button.

button, win the. See win the button.

button B. Penniless; very short of money: since ca. 1938. I.e. pushed for money as Button B is in a telephone-booth when you want your money back.

button lurk, the. The 'dodge' whereby a plausible man removes from his coat a button to serve as a contraceptive pessary when a girl insists on protected coition: Australian since ca. 1915. Prob., as a correspondent has suggested, a Serviceman's trick.

button-tosser. A radio telegraphist: Australian Naval: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)

button (up) your lip! Stop talking (now)!: say nothing (later)!: Canadian c.p.: adopted, ca. 1935, ex U.S.

button your flap! Be quiet!—stop talking!: Naval: since ca. 1920. H. & P. In ref. to fly of male trousers: cf. keep one's lip buttoned.

buttoned has, since ca. 1940, often been used for:—

buttoned up. (Of a situation, a plan, a job) well in hand, all prepared: Services: since ca. 1935. The English Digest, Feb. 1941, Hector Bolitho. Admitting neither wind nor water. Cf. laid on and teed up.

buttons, damn (one's)! A (? mostly Naval) expletive: 1834, W. N. Glascock, The Naval Sketch-Book, II, 186, 'The slop-sellers d—n their buttons, and laugh in their sleeve'. (Moe.) Cf. dash one's buttons on p. 116.

buttons, get one's. To be promoted from Leading Hand to Petty Officer: Wrens' coll.: since ca. 1939. Granville, 'Given a set of brass buttons to replace the black ones on her uniform.'

butty (p. 116). Perhaps cf. the U.S. buddy.—2. Buttered bread: Liverpool: late C. 19–20.

butty-boat. A boat working in company with another; esp. a boat towed by a motor-boat: canal-men's: C. 20. L.T.C. Rolt, Narrow Boat, 1944. See butty (p. 116).

buturakie. To jump on a person and either rob him or beat him up: 'used in Fiji and understood in Auckland and Sydney along the waterfront where it was picked up from Fijian or part-Fijian sailors. The equivalent of the Australian put the boot in. From Fijian buturaka' (Edwin Morrisby, letter of Aug. 30, 1958).

buxed. 'Hard up'; without money: London schools': ca. 1870–95. A perversion of busted: cf. broke and smashed up.

Buxton bloaters. Fat men and women wheeled in bath-chairs, at Buxton: late C. 19—early 20. (R. G. Heapes, 1948.)

buy, as in 'a good buy'. A purchase: coll.: adopted, ca. 1956, ex U.S.

buy, v., 1 (p. 116) goes back to ca. 1800. It occurs in W. N. Glascock, The Naval Sketch-Book, I (p. 27), 1825. (Moe.)

buy a prop! Buy some stock!: stockbrokers' c.p.: from ca. 1885. B. & L. 'The market is flat and there is nobody to support it.'

buy and sell (someone), able to. To be much superior (orig., financially) to: coll.: since ca. 1920.

buy it. Usually He bought it (or He bought a packet), he was shot down: R.A.F.: 1939+. H. & P., both forms: Brickhill & Norton, Escape to Danger, 1946, the shorter. Ex I'll buy it, q.v. at buy it, p. 116, and I'll bite.—2. In the other Services: to become a casualty: 1940+. Both of these senses were, however, current during World War I; more in the Navy and the R.F.C.—R.A.F. than in the Army.—3. "'Oh, no! I won't buy that!" I'll not accept that as an excuse or an argument' (Leechman): since ca. 1930. Cf. buy it, I'll, on p. 116.

buzz, n., 3. Adopted, ca. 1937, by the R.A.F. (H. & P.)—4. Hence, news: Naval (—1940). Michie & Graebner, Their Finest Hour, 1940, p. 118.

buzz, n.—5. The n. corresponding to sense 1 of the v. (p. 116): mid-C. 19–20. 'It's your buzz' = It's time you filled your glass. (Marples, 2.)—6. A pickpocket: c.: C. 18—early 19. James Dalton, A Narrative, 1728, 'They might defy all the Buzzes in London to haul the Cly'—i.e. to steal their purses.

buzz, v., 1 (p. 116): much earlier in Anon., Tyburn's Worthies, 1722.

buzz about, or around, like a blue-arsed fly. To be—or appear to be—excessively or officiously busy: late C. 19–20.

buzz-merchant. A constant spreader of rumours: Australian Naval: 1939–45. (B., 1943.)

buzzard.—2. See old buzzard.

buzz-box (p. 116): esp., a noisy taxicab: 1939, Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?

buzzer.—6. A telephone, esp. on a house telephone system: Services: since ca. 1939. H. & P.—7. That workman who 'puts wet yarn or cloth under hydro-extracting machines' (The Evening News, Sept. 28, 1955): industrial: C. 20. Also coll. slinger or swisser or whizzer or wuzzer. All are echoic; all, originally, were s. (or dial. > s.); ever since ca. 1940, they have been semi- or entirely official.

buzzing. Law-copyists' s., dating from ca. 1870, as in Edwin Pugh, Harry the Cockney, 1912, 'They were both writing swiftly and beautifully the words that McGuffney dictated, this arrangement being known as "buzzing" from the use of the word "buzz" to indicate the end of a line.'

buzzing about like a blue-arsed fly. Ostentatiously active: Cockney (C. 20) and Army and R.A.F. (1939-45).

by Christchurch, hooya? Juvenile c.p.: New Zealand: C. 20. B., 1941. Euphemistic and Maorified form of 'By crikey, who are you?'

by hand, adj. (in the predicate), as in church by hand, improvised: Naval: since ca. 1910.

by the (bloody) centre or left! Military oaths, slightly euphemistic: C. 20. Ex the Manual of Instructions.

by the great god Bingo! A c.p. sort of asseveration: since ca. 1962. Satirical of the craze for the game.

byce. See bice.

bye-bye for just now!, frequently preceded by well—. Blaker, referring to the latter half of 1916, though it was still used early in 1917: 'An infantry phrase of the moment.'

by(e)-lo. A bed; to sleep: children's: C. 20. A variant of by(e)-bye(s) (Dict.).

byoke. See 'Prisoner-of-War Slang', 7.

C

C or K or M or O. One's, or the, C.B.E.—Knighthood—M.B.E.—O.B.E.: Civil Servants' hence clubmen's; C. 20.

C. and E. Such Church of England (C. of E.) members as go to church only at Christmas and Easter: jocular since ca. 1945. (A. B. Petch, April 1966.)

C.B.—2. Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman (1836–1908), who was Prime Minister during the last three years of his life: mostly political and journalistic: from ca. 1895; ob.

C.D.F. Common sense: Naval lower deck: since ca. 1930. For Naval 'common dry fuck', common sense.

C.G.I. or Corticene-Grabber's itch. A strong desire to throw oneself upon the ship's deck during a dive-bombing attack: Australian Naval: 1940–5. (B., 1943.) A cork floor-covering.

C.O. bloke. A Public Carriage Officer: taxi-drivers': since ca. 1918. Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939.

C.P.R. strawberries. Prunes: Canadian railwaymen's: since ca. 1918–40. (Priestley.)

cab, n.—6. A cabbage: Shelta: C. 18–20. B. & L.—7. A motor-car: Naval: since ca. 1920. (P-G-R.)—8. A lavatory: Felixstowe Ladies' College: since ca. 1925. Perhaps ex sense 4 of caboose.

cab-moll.—2. 'A prostitute in a brothel': low: ca. 1840–1910. Ibid.

cab-rank. 'A destroyer "trot" or a line of motor launches, motor torpedo boats, etc.' (P-G-R.): Naval: since ca. 1925.

cab-rank technique. 'A number of aircraft raiding in line, one after the other' (P-G-R.): Air Force coll., verging on j.: 1940 +.

cab-ranker. A cheap cigar: C. 20. Gilbert Frankau, Peter Jackson, Cigar Merchant, 1920. Prompted by cabbagio profumo and punning on rank, evil-smelling.

cab-talk. Taxi-cabmen's cab-shelter gossip, sometimes contemptuously called cabology: taxi-drivers' coll.: resp., since ca. 1910, 1925. Herbert Hodge uses both terms in, Cab, Sir?, 1939.

cabbage, n.—9. A bomb: R.A.F.: since 1939. Jackson, 'Thus, "And then we sowed our cabbages"'. (See "egg", "cookies", "groceries".) —10. Lettuce: Cranbrook School: C. 20.—For additional information on sense 1 of the n. and the v. (p. 118) see kibosh below.—11. Paper money: Canadian c. (C. 20) >, ca. 1950, (low) Canadian s.

Cabbage Gardens, the (p. 118). Also Cabbage Garden Patch, whence cabbage-gardener or -patcher, a Victorian. (B., 1943.) In 1959 B. notes the derivative The Cabbage Patch.

cabbage-leaf.—2. The tiny bronze oak-leaf worn on medal ribbon, to indicate a mention in despatches: Services': 1914–18, and decreasingly since. (V. M. Yeates, Winged Victory, 1934, at p. 259.)

cabbage leaves. See who's smoking cabbage leaves?

Cabbage-Stalks, the. See Ox-Tails, the.

cabbage tree!, my. An Australian exclamation: ? ca. 1920–50. (B., 1943.)

cabbagio profumo; flor di cabbagio. A cheap, rank cigar; jocular: late C. 19–20. Ex cabbage + the Sp. suffix -o.

Cabby. A fairly common nickname of men surnamed Harris: C. 20. Why?

cabin-boy's breeches, the. Southern nautical, esp. around Chatham and Rochester, from ca. 1870, as in Neil Bell, Crocus, 1936, "'Dog's nose [q.v.] with a squirt of rum," Delfontaine replied; "called round here, the cabin boy's breeches and up in the north Devil's rot-gut."

cabology. See cab-talk.

caboose.—4. An office; a small cabin or compartment: Naval: C. 20. Cf. caboose, 1 (p. 119).—5. 'Brake van. Used especially of uncomfortable box tacked on back of liner train for ornamental purposes only (W R)': railwaymen's: since late 1940's. Railway, 3rd.

cache. A private store or reserve, esp. of under-the-counter goods: coll.: since ca. 1910; by 1950, S.E.

cackle-berry (p. 119). Also, since ca. 1943 (ex U.S. servicemen), Australian. D'Arcy Niland, The Shiralee, 1945.

cackle one's fat. 'To brag; to express self-opinionated, esp. if contradictory, point of view' (Laurie Atkinson, noting its use on April 29, 1960): low: since late 1940's.

cackler's ken. See cackler, 3 (Dict.).

cacky. Human excrement: mostly children's and, domestically, women's coll.: since ca. 1880. Ex cack (p. 119).

cacky, adj. Of or like excrement, hence yellowish-brown; hence, filthy, malodorous: coll., mostly children's: late C. 19–20. Ex cack on p. 119.

cacto. Cactoblastus (an insect): Australian coll.: C. 20. B., 1942.

cactus, in the. In an awkward situation: Australian and New Zealand: since ca. 1925.

cad, 2 (p. 119): rather, since ca. 1820, for it occurs in Wm Maginn, Whitehall, 1827.—8. A private tutor: Eton: ca. 1810–60. Spy, 1825. Cf. sense 1 (p. 119).

[cadaver!], by my. A Cockney oath: from ca. 1880; ob. Pugh (2).]

Cadborosaurus (affectionately, Caddie) is 'a mythical (?) sea monster . . . often reported near Victoria, B.C. Named after a local bay—Cadboro Bay, where it was first reported. Cf. Ogopogo' (Leechman): Canadian: C. 20.

caddee (or caddy). To the entry on p. 119, add:—Baumann is prob. right. Note that in Jon Bee, A Living Picture of London, 1828, we have these two senses: (1) a fellow that hangs about the yards of an inn and, for a shilling or two, procures, for the landlords, 'customers from other inns': inns' and taverns': ca. 1820-60; (2) such a hanger-on, who permits himself to pass counterfeit money: c.: ca. 1820-80.

Caddie. See Cadborosaurus.

cadee smasher. A professed tout to inn-keepers, but one who occ. acts as a 'smasher' (sense 4): c.: ca. 1810-70. Here cadee = cadet, inferior.

cademy. Academy: lower-class coll.: late C. 19-20. W. L. George, The Making of an Englishman, 1914.

cadger.—3. 'Slangily applied to cabmen when they are off the rank soliciting fares, or to waiters who hang about and fawn for a gratuity': ca. 1870-1910. B. & L.

Cadogan Light Horse, the. 'The Special Constables mounted on the horses from Smith's riding school in Cadogan Square, London, during the general strike of 1926. Ex a cavalry officer on leave from India at that time who was specially enrolled for this "force"' (Peter Sanders): 1926; then historical.

Cads' Bar. The junior officers' corner in any favourite 'pub': Naval: since ca. 1914. (P.G.R.) Cf.:—

Cads' Corner. That corner of the Ward Room in which the junior officers gather: Naval: since ca. 1914. (P.G.R.)

cad's (or cads') crawlers. Suède shoes: since ca. 1930. Cf. brothel creepers.

Caesar. A Caesarian section or operation: medical coll.: C. 20.

café, occasionally written kayf. A café, a small restaurant: low, esp. London: since ca. 1920. Simply café without the accent.

café au lait, adj. or n. (A half-caste) with a touch of colour: since ca. 1920.

caff (p. 120). Recorded earlier in Desmond Morse-Boycott, We Do See Life!, 1931.

caffy avec. Coffee and rum; coffee-and-chicory mixture with a little cognac: coll.: late C. 19-20, the former; 1914-18, the latter. Ex the Fr. coll. café avec, short for café avec du rhum (or du cognac).

cafshio. See Creolo.

cag (see p. 120) is by Granville spelt kagg and defined as 'a naval argument in which everybody speaks and nobody listens. A "branch-kagg" means talking shop.—Kagg, to. To "argue the toss."

cake.—6. A caboose: Canadian railroadmen's: C. 20.—7. Goal-net: ice-hockey players': since ca. 1938.

cage of ivories. See ivories, box of (Dict.).

cagey. 'Up-stage'; conceited: since ca. 1935; ob. Recorded in Addenda of 2nd ed., 1938.—2. Much more usual, since 1940, has been the sense 'cautious; suspicious of others; unforthcoming, reserved', a sense that, ca. 1946, > coll. Ex animals in cages.

cahootchy. Indiarubber: Glasgow: C. 20. Ex caoutchouc.

Cain. Short for Cain and Abel: C. 20.

cake.—4. A pile of currency or bank-notes: (low) Cockney: C. 20. Cf. wad, 2 (Dict.).—5. A gold nugget: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.—6. A prostitute: low Australian: since ca. 1910. Baker, 'Whence "cake shop", a brothel'. Euphemism for cat, etc.—6. But probably suggested by tart, 1 (p. 866).

cake, take the. 'I seem to remember, in 1882 or 1883, a lyric which told us that, "For rudeness to the Grand Old Man, Lord Randolph takes the cake"' [Lord Randolph Churchill]: Professor Ernest Weekley, in The Observer, Feb. 21, 1937.

cake-hole. The mouth: R.A.F.: since ca. 1936. H. & P. Adopted ex Yorkshire s., where current at least as early as 1914.

cake is getting thin, the. One's money is running short: (low) Cockney: C. 20. See cake, 4 (Supplement).

cake-shop. See cake, n., 6.

caked up. Well provided with money: low: since ca. 1940. (Norman.)

cakey bar. See bar, n., 3.

calaboose (p. 120) has, since ca. 1895, been occasionally used in Australia. (Sarah Campion, Bonanza, 1942.)

Calathumpian. One who claims an imaginary religion: jocular: since ca. 1920. Perhaps cf. the U.S. callithump, a boisterous, or a burlesque, parade or serenade, hence callithumpian, a practitioner, or a supporter, of such goings-on.

Calendar, The. The Racing Calendar: from ca. 1820: turf coll. >, by 1900, S.E. Established in 1773.

calf-dozer. A small bull-dozer: since ca. 1940.

calf-licked. (Of human hair) hanging in a quiff: North Country coll.: C. 20. Bernard Hesling, Little and Orphan, 1954.

calf's head.—2. 'A white-faced man with a large head': lower classes': from ca. 1860. B. & L.

Calies, the. The Caledonian Association Football Club: sporting: C. 20. The Daily Telegraph, Nov. 24, 1937. More usually spelt Callies.

California.—2. A 'spot in Barnsbury, which rarely yields a fare,' Clarkson & Richardson, Police!, 1889: cabmen's: ca. 1860-1905. Irony upon the Californian gold-fields. California 'is often pronounced Californi-ay in five syllables; facetious' (Leechman): mostly Canadian: since ca. 1945.

call a cab. 'A jockey is said to "call a cab" when he waves one arm to balance himself crossing a fence' (John Lawrence in The Sunday Telegraph, Aug. 13, 1961): racing: since late 1940's.

call a go (at call it a day: p. 121) is also, in C. 20, usually call it a go.

call-bird. In The Observer, Jan. 5, 1958, the writer of 'Call-Bird at the Sales' explains the term as the name shopkeepers 'give to extraordinary bargains as lures for the sale-minded': East-End Londoners': late C. 19-20. Ex Ger. Lockvogel, a decoy-bird, probably via Yiddish. (Atkinson.)

call for a damper. To break wind: Naval: C. 20.

call-girl. A prostitute, esp. one who advertises by shop-window announcement of services as so-called model: since ca. 1945. Adopted from the American—hence, by 1944 at latest, also Australian—call-girl, a prostitute available only by telephone-call; a use that, by 1950, is coll.

call me—or you can call me—anything (you like), so (or as) long as you don't call me late for breakfast. A c.p. used by one who has been addressed by the wrong name: mostly Australian: C. 20. (B.P.)

call-out. A summons: coll., esp. Londoners': late C. 19-20. (Jane Brown, I Had a Pitch, 1946.)

call-party. A party 'given in hall by students called to the bar in the Middle Temple': law coll.: from ca. 1860. B. & L.

call the game in (p. 121): also Australian. B., 1942.

Callao ship. 'One in which the discipline is free and easy,' Granville: Naval: C. 20. At Callao, the principal seaport of Peru, things seem, to a naval rating, to be free and easy. Hence, Callao routine, one that is free and easy. (P-G-R.)

callee. Curry: pidgin: mid-C. 19-20. B. & L.

calliante-stroke, the. A rather clumsy method of boat-pulling that, adopted from the Italian Navy, results in many broken oars: Naval: since ca. 1918. (P-G-R.)

callibisters. See male-mules.

calligraphy is frequently misused, i.e. it is a catachresis, for 'handwriting': C. 20. E.g., n. David Frome, Mr Simpson Finds a Body, 1933, 'The calligraphy expert'.

Cally, the: Cally Market. The Caledonian Market: Londoners': late C. 19-20.

calonkus. A stupid person: Irish-Australian: late C. 19-20. (Ruth Park, Poor Man's Orange, 1950.) Arbitrary.

cambra. A dog: Shelta: C. 18-20. B. & L.
Camcreek. Cambridge: undergraduates': since ca. 1920.

Camden Town (p. 122). Also a penny. Since ca. 1920, used mostly by buskers. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

came over with the onion boat. Often said with the usual British insularity and contempt for foreigners. From the Breton onion-vendors. Sometimes used as: 'You don't think that I came over with the onion boat, do you?' Sometimes 'cattle boat' is used, ex the boats from German ports. Of Italians it is sometimes said: 'Come over with an ice-cream barrow.' Other similar expressions, used facetiously, are, 'Come over with the Mormons', or 'Come over with the morons' (Albert B. Petch, letter of Sept. 5, 1946): coll.: C. 20; morons, not before 1930.

came up with the rations, it or they. An Army c.p. that, both in 1914-18 and in 1939-45, was applied to medals easily won. (P-G-R.)

Camel to Consumer. 'C. to C.' (Cape to Cairo) cigarettes, sent to the troops in North Africa by kindly South Africans: ca. 1940-3. (P-G-R.)

camelies! Muster the camels!: Australian pidgin: late C. 19-20. Archer Russell, A Tramp-Royal in Wild Australia, 1934. Cf. the Australian camaleer, a camel-driver: not 'unconventional', but S.E., on analogy of muleteer.

Camerer Cuss. A bus: London: since ca. 1925. Arthur Gardner, Tinker's Kitchen, 1932. Rhyming. Ex the name of a well-known London firm.

camp, adj.—4. Homosexual; Lesbian: theatrical: since ca. 1920; by 1945, fairly general. Ex sense 3 (p. 123).—5. Hence, characteristic of homosexuals, as in 'camp words, phraseology, signs, greetings'.

camp. A Station with or without an airfield—a unit's or a detachment's location—a training school—a depot—a landing ground; even if it (any of them) is situated in a town: R.A.F. coll. (since ca. 1920) >, by 1943, j. Jackson. The ubiquity of Camp Commandant and the versatility of camp commandants have been operative.

camp, n.—2. Whether in reference or in address,

Camp Commandant: Army coll. late C. 19-20. 'Oh, you had better ask Camp; he deals with such things.'—3. A short sleep, a rest, a sleep for the purpose of rest: Australian coll.: since ca. 1890 (Vance Palmer, Golconda, 1948.)—4. Effeminate esp. homosexual mannerisms of speech and gesture: mostly Society: since ca. 1945. 'The momentary absence of the customary "camp" once again calmed Elizabeth's hostility' (Angus Wilson, Hemlock and After, 1952).

camp, v.—4. To be a male, or a female, homosexual: theatrical: since ca. 1945. Ex the adj., senses 3 and 4.—5. (Of a shearer) to go slow, in order to leave a difficult sheep for another shearer: Australian shearers': since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.) Ex camp, v., 2: p. 122.—6. To act in a characteristically (male or female) homosexual manner, esp. if showily: since the late 1930's. Cf. senses 3 and 4 of the adj. (The Lavender Lexicon, 1965.)

camp, look for a. To seek a room, esp. a bedroom: Australian coll.: late C. 19-20. (B., 1943.)

camp about. 'To pirouette and gesture eloquently' (Robin Cook, 1962): since ca. 1945. Cf. camp it up, 1, below.

camp as a row of tents, as. Extremely homosexual; also, very histrionic and affected in speech and gesture, manners and movements: c.p.: since ca. 1960. John Gardner, Madrigal, 1967, at p. 155.

camp comedian. A Camp Commandant: Army & R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. Jackson.

camp it up. To render unnecessarily effeminate the part one is playing: theatrical: since ca. 1935. Ex camp, adj., 3, on p. 123.—2. To have a homosexual affair; to spend a 'queer' week-end together: homosexuals': since ca. 1945. Cf. camp, v., 4, above.

camp-master. See 'Tavern terms', § 6.

Camp of the Tartars, the. 'From the rapacity of the shop-keepers in the wooden galleries, this part of the Palais Royal has been nicknamed the "Camp of the Tartars",' David Carey, Life in Paris, 1822: Anglo-French: ca. 1815-40. Ex the late-medieval armies of victorious Tartars.

Campo (or c.), the. The country, i.e. all that part of the Argentine which is not Buenos Aires: white-slavers' c.: from the 1890's. (A. Londres, 1928.) Direct ex Sp.

can, n.—4. A simpleton: military: ca. 1890-1930. Prompted by mug, 5 (Dict.).—5. Esp. in the can, in lock-up or prison: Australian: adopted ca. 1944, ex U.S. (Dick).—6. Always the can, the w.c., esp. and orig. 'an outdoor privy with a can or other receptacle under the seat' (Leechman): Canadian: C. 20.—7. Mostly in pl. cans, 'the ear-phones used by technicians in radio and television' (Leechman): Canadian: since ca. 1950.

can, v. To decide not to use an article or pamphlet: Public Relations Directorate, the Air Ministry: since ca. 1943. I.e. to put into the swill-can.—2. Usually be canned, to be taken out of service: Canadian railroadmen's (—1931). But can, to discharge (an employee), existed in British Columbia at least as early as 1910. (Leechman.)

can back, carry the (Dict.), is usually a vbl n., carrying . . ., 'accepting the blame for your own or another's error' (H. & P.), and common to all three Fighting Services. Hence, the can-back king, one who is very good at it: Feb. 1941, Hector Bolitho in The English Digest.

can I do you now, sir? A c.p., adopted from 'Itma' and dating since 1940. In that B.B.C. radio programme, the 'gag' was spoken by 'Mrs Mopp' (Dorothy Summers) to Tommy Handley. Cf. it's that man again, q.v.

can of oil. A boil: rhyming s.: late C. 19–20.

can-opener. A tank-busting aircraft (e.g. Hurricane): R.A.F.: 1940–5.

Canadian Adolescents' Slang in 1946. 'Mother! Do you want to be able to converse easily with your teenagers? Here is the glossary: Ameche, telephone: alligator, swing fan: blitz-buggy, automobile: bone-box, mouth: crumb-hunting, house work: dazzle dust, face powder: dig the drape, buy a new dress: droolin with schoolin, a grind: fag hag, a girl who smokes: give with the goo, explain in detail: in a gazelle, I'm feeling good: junior wolf, kid brother: make like a boid, go away: pucker paint, lipstick: Red Mike, a woman hater: riffs, music: slab, sandwich: slide your jive, talk freely: square, a person who doesn't dance: snazzy, smooth: ticks, moments: twister to the turner, a door key: watch works, brains: whing ding, head covering: you shred it, Wheat, you said it: zoon bat, funny looking.' (A Toronto newspaper, Oct. 24, 1946.) Teenagers = teen-agers = those in their teens.

'Practically all this is now obsolescent or obsolete' (Leechman, May 1959).

canagger. A Canadian canoe: Oxford undergraduates: since the 1880's; rare after 1940. (Marples, 2.) Cf. canadar on p. 123.

canal boat, the. The 'tote' (totalisator): rhyming: C. 20.

canaries. Bananas: since ca. 1930. Ex Canary Island bananas.—2. Squeaks in the bodywork of one's motorcar: motorists': since ca. 1950. Cf. flatter below.

canary.—11. A girl singer with an orchestra: Canadian (and U.S.): since ca. 1945. Cf. sense 8 (p. 123).—12. 'A mouse is a young lady. (So is a slick chick, duck, canary, pig, beast, head, sun or sunflower, or doll.)' Beatnik s., dating from the late 1950's. Anderson. But also Australian—since ca. 1930. (Lawson Glassop, Lucky Palmer, 1949.)

canary ward, the. The V.D. ward in a Naval hospital: lower-deck: C. 20. Ex its predominant colour. (P-G-R.)

candle. Short for candle-sconce below. Franklyn 2nd.

candle-basher. A spinster: low: late C. 19–20. Outmoded by 1967. The connotation is of masturbation.

candle money. Fire-insurance paid out: police and underworld: C. 20. (Maurice Proctor, Man in Ambush, 1958.) Ex candle purposely left burning.

candle-sconce. A prostitute's protector: low rhyming s. (on ponce): since ca. 1920. Jim Phelan, 1943.

candy boy. See bumper-up, 2.

cane, v.—4. To coit with (a woman): C. 20. Cf. bang, v., 3 (p. 31).—5. To defeat, esp. as vbl n., caning: 'a beating, a defeat': since ca. 1918.

cane nigger. A happy-go-lucky fellow: West Indian coll.: from ca. 1870. B. & L.

caner. A young woman carrying a cane: Society: 1886, then only historical, there having been a vogue lasting only that summer. Ibid.

canfinfero. See Créolo.

caning. See cane, v., 4 (above).

canke is Randle Holme's spelling (1688) of cank (Dict.).

canker. See kanker.

canned. Topsy: since ca. 1910 in Britain and ca. 1938 in South Africa. (Prof. W. G. Mackie in The Cape Argus, July 4, 1946.) Adopted from U.S.: cf. tanked (p. 864).

canned music. Music from phonograph or gramophone: adopted, ca. 1925, from U.S.

cannon.—2. A pickpocket: c.: from ca. 1920. (The Evening News, Dec. 9, 1936.) Prob. suggested by gun, n., 4 (q.v. in Dict.).

cannon fodder. 'Those soldiers whose destiny was to do or die, not to reason why. A newspaper or political agitator's phrase occasionally used by the troops' (P-G-R.): derivative: 1939–45. 'Cf. the Ger. coll. Kanonenfutter' (Ramsey Spencer).

canny Newcassel. Newcastle-upon-Tyne: North Country: late C. 19–20. Newcastleonians also call it 'The Pride of the North'.

canoe inspection. Service women's weekly V.D. inspection: Canadian Army: 1939–45.

canov. Short for can of oil above. Franklyn 2nd quotes 'E's gotta lovely canov on 'e's nick, ain' 'e'?

can't claim (a) halfpenny. A c.p. indicative of 'a complete alibi which is carefully concocted when one is about to face a charge,' H. & P.: Services, esp. Army: since ca. 1930.

can't-keep-still. A treadmill: rhyming s.: ca. 1850–90. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

canteen cowboy. A ladies' man: R.A.F.: since 1940. Jackson, 'The origin is in the American expression, "drug-store cowboy" . . . (See "Naafi Romeo" and "Poodle-faker").'—2. Hence, orderly corporal on duty in a Station Institute: 1941 +. Atkinson.

canteen damager. See damager, 3.

canteen medal, 1 (p. 125): also, since ca. 1919, R.A.F. (Jackson).—3. A fly-button undone: Army: since ca. 1917.

canteen open—mind yer fingers!—canteen closed. A Naval c.p. spoken by a seaman offering cigarettes to a group of messmates: since ca. 1920. Wilfred Granville, A Dictionary of Sailors' Slang, 1962.

Canterbury Bell(e). An 'unmarried wife' receiving an allowance from a Fighting Service. 'When conscription was introduced in April 1939, it was decided that such women could qualify for a wife's allowance. The story goes that the Archbishop of Canterbury objected to "unmarried wife" and so it was changed to "unmarried dependant living as wife" or popularly "Canterbury Belle"' (Peter Sanders): Forces': mid-1939 †. A pun on the flower named Canterbury bell and (Archbishop of) Canterbury, as well as on belle, a pretty girl, and Belle, a girl's name.

cantilever bust. Large female breasts seeming to defy the laws of gravity: Australian: since ca. 1950. They do so, but only with the help of structural engineering, q.v. below.

canty. (Of persons) disagreeable; irritable: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942, 'From cantankerous'.

canvas or canvass. Human skin, pelt: pugilistic: ca. 1810–70. Boxiana, III, 1821.

cap at, set one's (p. 125). Variant: cock one's cap at, as in W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints, 1829, II, 145. Moe.

cap badge; flit gun. A 25-pounder; a 3.7 gun: medium gunners' (Army): 1940 +. Both are satirical.

cap on three hairs. 'A sailor's cap worn flat-a-back' (Granville): Naval: since ca. 1910.

cap one's lucky. See lucky . . .

cap-struck. Besotted with a girl or a woman: Naval: C. 19; † by 1890. Cap, a woman's cap, was, in Naval circles, often used fig. of a (desirable) female: see Wm Nugent Glascock, The Naval Sketch-Book, 2nd Series, 1934, at II, 73 and 74.

cap-tally. A sailor's cap-ribbon bearing the name of his ship: Naval coll.: C. 20.

cap-tally drink and collar-band pint. A short measure pint: C. 20: resp. Naval and civilian. (P-G-R.)

capabarre (p. 125) occurs in 1818: Alfred Burton, Johnny Newcome. (Moe). Variant cap-bar in W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints, 1829. (Moe.)

cape. See 'Guard-Room in Army Slang'.

Cape. Short for Cape of Good Hope (p. 126). Franklyn 2nd.

caper, n.—3. (Ex sense 1: p. 126.) 'Game' or trick, as in 'You can shove that caper' (Slatter): New Zealand and elsewhere: since ca. 1920.

capite. See 'Tavern terms', § 9.

Cappo. A Capstan cigarette: Australian: since ca. 1918. B., 1942.

captain.—5. See 'Nicknames'.—6. The 'leader' of a drinking group, esp. if he buys the drinks: Australian jocular: since ca. 1945. (B., 1953.)

Captain Cook; occ. shortened to Cook (or cook) (p. 126). Also Captain Cooker. B., 1941.—3. A cook: Australian rhyming s.: C. 20. B., 1942.—4. A look: Australian rhyming s.: since ca. 1948. (B.P.) Cf. give a cook below. It occurs in Nino Culotta, Cop This Lot, 1960, "'Let's have a Captain Cook'".

Captain Criterion. A racing sharp; mostly London theatrical and smart Society: ? ca. 1880–1905. Ex a music-hall song:

'I'm Captain Criterion of London,
Dashing and never afraid.
If ever you find a mug's been well done,
Be sure that it's by our brigade.'

The Criterion Theatre and Restaurant (founded in 1874) obtained an injunction against the singer, and the song was suppressed.

captain is at home, the (p. 127), probably lasted throughout C. 19.

Captain Kettle. To settle (vigorously), v.t.: rhyming s. of ca. 1899–1950. Ex the famous character of fiction: Cutcliffe Hyne's stories were published over the years 1893–1938. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

captain of a foot company. See 'Tavern terms', § 6.

Captain of the Heads. See Heads, the, 2.

captain's blue-eyed boy. 'The officer most in favour at the moment,' Granville: Naval coll.: C. 20.

captain's tiger. A boy that waits upon the captain (and him alone) at table: nautical, esp. on ocean-liners: late C. 19–20. Cf. tiger, 3 (p. 885).

capture the pickled biscuit. 'Take the biscuit': Australian: ca. 1925–50. B., 1942.

car knock, car toad, car tonk, car whack or whacker. A car repairman: Canadian railroad-men's (— 1931).

Carab. An occasional form of Carib. (P-G-R.)

carb. See bicarb.—2. Carburettor: motorists' coll.: since ca. 1910.

carbie or carby. A carburettor: Australian: since ca. 1920. (B.P.)

carbolic naked is a punning, not very common, C. 20 variant of starbolic naked.

cardboard foc'sle. 'The peak on the cap worn by officers and petty officers (and "men not dressed as seamen")': Naval lowerdeck: since ca. 1930. 'Just because you wear a cardboard foc'sle, don't think you can come it with the troops!' (Wilfred Granville, letter of July 24, 1963.)

Cardiganise. To destroy (a cannon): ca. 1855–1900. Surtees, Plain or Ringlets, 1860, 'Talk of the courage of facing an enemy, or Cardigan-ising a cannon.' D.N.B., Epitome: 'The seventh Earl of Cardigan commanded the light cavalry brigade in the Crimea, and destroyed it in the famous "charge", 1854.' (I.e., The Russian guns.)

care a pin . . . a fig, not to (p. 128): rather, since ca. 1820 or even earlier. (Wm Maginn, Whitehall, 1827.)

careen is, in Canada (imitating the U.S.), misused for 'to career', to go wildly and rapidly, esp. of a motor-car: in Canada, frequent only since ca. 1935.

career boy. One who, in a combatant Service, puts self-success before the public, esp. the nation's, welfare: R.A.F. s. (1942) >, by 1944, all three Services' coll. Cf. back-room boy.

careless talk. (A stick of) chalk: mostly darts-players': since ca. 1945. Ex a famous war-slogan. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

Careys. A coll. ellipsis of Mother Carey's chickens: 1829, W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (I, 179). Moe.

Carib (or c-). A member of the Carabinieri: prisoners-of-war in Italy: 1942–44, then historical. (Michael Gilbert, Death in Captivity, 1952.) Influenced (C-) by Carib, one of a Caribbean tribe and (c-) by cannibal. Cf. Carab.

carmes or carnes. Flattery; blandishments: rather low: ca. 1860–1910. Ex Romany. B. & L.

carn. A carnation: flower-sellers': late C. 19–20. Richard Llewellyn, None But the Lonely Heart, 1943.

Carney. A hypocrite: Naval: C. 20. Ex a certain captain friendly ashore, devil aboard: Granville.

carney, n. (p. 128). Earliest (?) in The London Guide, 1818.—2. A lizard: Australian: C. 20. (Dal Stevens, The Gambling Ghost, 1953).—3. A carnival show; hence, a man employed there: Canadian: adopted, ca. 1930, ex U.S.

carni (pron. carnee) guy. Any fellow connected with a carnival: Canadian s.: C. 20. Adopted ex U.S.

carob. To cut: Shelta: C. 18–20. B. & L.

carol singer. Police car with loud-speaker: Brisbane, Australia: since ca. 1930. B., 1942.

carpet, n. This term (see p. 128) is an abbr. of carpet bag, rhyming s. on drag in same sense.—2. A carpet snake: Australian coll.: late C. 19–20. Archer Russell, In Wild Australia, 1934.—3. The sum of £3: spivs' c.: since ca. 1942. (Picture Post, Jan. 1954).—4. But in Australia, according to B., 1943, a £1 note: ? since ca. 1925.—5. Odds of 3 to 1: racing: esp. bookmakers': C. 20. (The Sunday Telegraph, May 7, 1967.) Ex sense 1 on p. 128: a prison sentence of three months. Cf. double carpet below.

carpet-biter; carpet-biting. One (usually male) who gets into a fearful rage, a visibly very angry man; a distressing exhibition of uncontrollable rage: coll. since ca. 1940. Ex the stories of Hitler biting carpets in his insane rages.

carpet tom-cat. An officer often with and very attentive to the ladies: military: ca. 1875–1910. B. & L.

carpet-trade. See carpet-man (Dict.).

carpurtle esp. in 'It won't carpurtle', work, function, act: R.A.F.: ca. 1940–4. Arbitrary.

carra or carrer. A motor caravan: Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1942. Cf. chara (p. 140).

carrier.—2. A Bren-gun carrier: Army coll.: 1940 +. (P-G-G.)

carriou.—3. Draught cattle: Australian: since ca. 1860. 'Tom Collins', Such is Life, 1903. By humorous depreciation, but with a ref. to the grim potentialities of severe and widespread drought.

carriou-case (p. 129). In, e.g., Sinks, 1848.

carrot. 'Tobacco, done up in a similar but larger shape than salt's pricker, q.v. below, was an important trade item in the fur-trading days of Canada, and was called a carrot' (Leechman): mid C. 18–19.

carry, v. At cricket, to continue to bat: Australian schoolboys': since ca. 1930. 'Last man doesn't carry.' Short for carry on, to continue. (B.P.)

carry (someone) around or, usually, round. 'To do a man's job for him until he knows the routine' (P-G-R.): Services' coll.: since ca. 1910.

carry ballast. To hold one's drinks well: Naval: C. 20. Granville.

carry both ends of the log. To do all the work, esp. in a complementary pair: Australian coll.: C. 20. 'Rann Daly' in 1924.

carry both sheets aft. See aft . . .

carry (someone) in one's heart. 'If the "sky blue", languishing in prison, considers that he has been framed by one of his previous cronies (variously known as chummies, pallie blues, or beans) he will "carry him in his heart" until he can . . . get his revenge,' The Cape Times, May 23, 1946: S. African c.: C. 20.

carry milk-pails. 'Presently a gentleman, "carrying milk-pails", as the [London street] boys called it—that is, with a lady on each arm—advanced up the colonnade,' Augustus Mayhew, Paved With Gold, 1857: ca. 1830–80. Cf. milk-shop in Dict.

carry on, London. A public-spirited c.p., used in 'the London blitz' of Aug. 1940–May 1941 and again in the V.2 blitz of July–Dec. 1944.

'This was the "sign-off" of a B.B.C. radio weekly magazine programme, "In Town To-night", which ran for many years.

'In the interests of historical accuracy, may I amend the phrase "again in the V.2 blitz of July–Dec. 1944"? The V.1 (flying bomb) blitz on London was from 13 June–6 Sept 1944, thereafter reduced to a sporadic trickle as the launching sites were overrun. The V.2 (rocket) blitz started on 8 Sept 1944 and lasted until March 1945 (Churchill, "The Second World War"). I was personally in charge of a special Intelligence Reporting team set up at Headquarters, Air Defence of Great Britain (better, and more proudly, known by its 1939–43 name Fighter Command) in June 1944 to record hour by hour the launchings and fall, or successful interception by our defences, of the V. weapons. Having then been posted to London in Aug 1944, I witnessed (at varying distances) a great number of the V.2's, including the original "flying gas main" (p. 1125) on 8 Sept.' (Ramsey Spencer, 1967.)

carry-over, n. A 'hang-over' in which one is still slightly tipsy: coll.: since ca. 1912. (J. B. Priestley, Three Men in New Suits, 1945.)

carry the banner. 'To support or praise some movement, often one of the not so popular type' (Petch): coll.: since ca. 1950. Ex banner-carrying at protest meetings or on protest matches.

carry the can has, since ca. 1945, been the usual form of carry the can back (see can back, carry the, above, and cf. take the can back on p. 863).

carry the can back. See can back, above.

carry the knot. To 'hump a bluey' or go on tramp: Australian: since ca. 1930. (B., 1943.)

carry the mail. To stand drinks: Australian: C. 20. Baker.

carry the stockwhip. (Of a domineering wife) to be 'the boss': N.T., Australia: since ca. 1930. (Ernestine Hill, The Territory, 1951.)

carry the torch for (somebody; hence for a cause). To be amorous of; to be devoted to: Canadian: adopted, ca. 1945, ex U.S. Perhaps ex U.S. torchlight processions in honour of a political, or a local-government, candidate. (Leechman.)

carrying all before her. (Of girl or woman) having a well-developed bust, or being obviously pregnant: raffish jocular: since ca. 1920.

carrying weight. 'Loaded with depression' (Anderson): beatniks': since ca. 1959. A burden.

carser is an occ. variant of casa, 2 (Dict.).

carsey.—3. A w.c.: low Cockney: from ca. 1870. Cf. case, n., 9 (Dict.).—4. A public-house: parlyarce: since ca. 1860. (P. H. Emerson, Signor Lippo, 1893.)

cart, traverse the. See traverse the cart.

cart off or out. See cart away (Dict.).

cart out with. As 'He's carting out with Liz' = he's courting her: Cockneys': since ca. 1880. Ex, not 'he's carting her out', but 'he's carting himself out with her.'

cartload of blancmange. Carte blanche: facetious: since ca. 1950.

cartload of monkeys and the wheel won't turn! A children's c.p., 'shouted after a crowd of people cycling, or riding, slowly past, or sitting in a bus, or a coach, awaiting departure' (Peter Ibbotson, letter of Feb. 9, 1963): since late C. 19; by 1960, slightly ob.

carve. To slash (a person) with a razor: c., and low (esp. Cockneys'): C. 20.

carve oneself a slice is a Cockney synonym of have a cut . . ., q.v. at cut off the joint below.

carve up, v.—4. (Cf. 1). To spoil the chances of (a person), in business: London commercial and taxi-drivers': from ca. 1910.—5. A carve-up is also a fight or even a war: mostly Cockney: since ca. 1905.

carv d out of wood. See cedar, 3.

carsey (p. 129). Sydney Lester, 1937. A variant spelling and pronunciation of carzey.

Cas, the. The Chief of Air Staff: Air Ministry, and the higher R.A.F. formations: since ca. 1930. Jackson.

casa.—4. A ladies' man, a masher: Australian Naval: 1939–45. (B., 1943.)

cascade, v. (p. 130). It dates rather from the early 1660's. Pepys once 'cascaded' at the theatre.

case, n., 6 (a love-affair) is actively extant in S. Africa: Prof. W. S. Mackie in The Cape Argus, July 4, 1946.—14. 'A Bandy-house' (James Dalton, A Narrative, 1728): c.: C. 18 and prob. C. 19 also.

case, v.—3. To weep: Marlborough College: since ca. 1920.

case, v.—4. To reconnoitre (a building to be robbed): Australian police: adopted, ca. 1918, ex U.S. (Vince Kelly, 1955.)

case a joint. To make a reconnaissance of, before robbing, a house or other building: Canadian, since ca. 1925; English by 1930, as in Nicholas Blake, The Whisper in the Gloom, 1954.

cased-up, be. To be in a brothel: low: C. 20. Herbert Hodge, 1939. Cf. cased-up with (p. 130).

caseo.—2. A full night in bed with a prostitute: low: since ca. 1930. (The New Statesman, May 10, 1947.)

caser (p. 130). Also low Australian: late C. 19–20.—2. A careless variant of casa, 2 (p. 130).—3. One who 'cases' buildings, houses, etc., for burglars: c.: since ca. 1950. Ex U.S.

cases. Boots: military (esp. the Guards): C. 20; ob. by 1945. John o' London's Weekly, Nov. 3, 1939. Cf. trotter-cases (Dict.).

casey.—2. A variant of carsey, 1 (p. 129).

cash and carried. Married: rhyming s.: late C. 19–20. Cf. cut or dot, and carried.

cash on the knocker. Cash down: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B.P.) Paid at the door?

cash-up.—2. To earn or make money; often as get cashed up, to earn and save money: Australian coll.: C. 20. D'Arcy Niland, 'But I thought the idea would be to work on here for a bit longer . . . Get cashed up a bit, then move' (Call Me When the Cross Turns Over, 1958).

casher. 'A "good casher" is a driver whose average taximeter-money is high; a "bad casher", one whose average is low,' Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939: taxicab owners' and drivers' coll.: since ca. 1910.

caso. A prostitute that takes a man for the night: c.: C. 20. Ex case, n., 8.—2. A brothel: since ca. 1910. Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939. Variant of caseo (p. 130), itself dissyllabic.

caso, go. See go caso.

cassie. 'Wrinkled, stained, or outside sheets of paper': printers': mid-C. 19–20. B. & L. Cognate with Fr. cassé, broken.

cast-iron or bullet-proof. Irrefutable: Services, resp. coll. and s.: since the 1920's. H. & P.

cast off. To unbind; to set free: nautical: C. 19. The Dublin University Magazine, March 1834 (p. 252), "'Cast him off!'" * * Unbind him.' (Moe.)

cast one's skin. To strip oneself to the buff: low: ca. 1815–80. Sinks, 1848. See also cap one's skin (p. 125).

castle, the. The stumps: cricketers': since ca. 1925. (Ian Peebles in The Sunday Times, May 31, 1959.) The batsman defends them from the bowler.

castor.—2. (Always pl.) A bicycle: see cad on castors (Dict.).

castor, adj. and exclamation. All right: excellent: Australian: from ca. 1905. Suggested by 'dinkum oil'.

castor with, be on the. To be popular with or well regarded by: low Australian: since ca. 1930. (Kylie Tennant, The Joyful Condemned, 1953.)

casual. 'A casual payment of "something on account" to an officer or a rating whose pay documents are still in his last ship' (Granville): Naval coll.: C. 20.

Cat.—2. A Catalina aircraft: 1943. H. & P.

cat, n. Sense 1 survived until ca. 1910 as 'a drunken, fighting prostitute' (B. & L.).—11. A gossiping woman: upper-middle class: since ca. 1927. (Angus Wilson, Such Darling Dodos, 1950.) A back-formation from S.E. catty, spiteful.—12. (Usually in pl.) A lion or a tiger or a leopard: circusmen's: C. 20. Also, the big cats, all of these collectively.—13. A catamaran: boating coll.: since ca. 1955.—14. A caterpillar tractor: orig., Canadian: since early 1930's.—15. An hydraulic catapult on an aircraft carrier: Fleet Air Arm: since late 1930's. John Winton, H.M.S. Leviathan, 1967.

cat, not room enough to swing a (p. 132). The reference is to the cat-o'-nine-tails.

cat, pinch the; gen. be pinching . . . This proletarian phrase has, from ca. 1880, been applied to a man that, hand in pocket, palps his genitals.

cat, shoot the.—2. 'To sound the bugle for defaulters' drill': infantrymen's: from ca. 1880. B. & L.

cat, whip the.—4. See cat, shoot the in the Dict.

cat cuff. A sly punch: Australian sporting: C. 20. B., 1942.

cat-heads. Female breasts: Naval, mostly lowerdeck: late C. 18–mid-19. The Night Watch (II, 89), 1828, but also, much earlier, in John Davis, The Post Captain. Ex nautical j. In W. N. Glascock, The Naval Sketch-Book, II, 1826, it seems to mean 'falsies'.

cat house. A brothel: Canadian: adopted, ca. 1925, ex U.S. (Cf. cat, n., 1: p. 131.)

cat in hell's chance. Only a very slight chance; not a . . ., not even that: c.p.: since ca. 1930. (Laurie Atkinson, Sept. 11, 1967.)

cat-lap is applied also to milk: C. 19–20.

cat-lick (and a promise) is a contemporaneous variant of lick and a promise (Dict.).

cat-skinner. Driver of a caterpillar tractor: Canadian lumbermen's: since ca. 1930. A blend of caterpillar + mule-skinner. 'No longer restricted to lumbering. Any man who drives a "cat"' (Leechman, April 1947).

cat-walk.—2. See cat's walk.

cat-whipper. One who 'cries over spilt milk': Australian: since ca. 1930. (B., Australia Speaks, 1953.)

catastrophe (p. 133) survives in Anglo-Irish: witness James Joyce, Ulysses, 1922, the Falstaffian phrase.

catch, n., 1 (p. 133) occurs in, e.g., W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (II, 145), 1829. Moe.—3. 'A sheep taken by a shearer from his catching pen' (B., 1959): Aus. rural coll.: C. 20.

catch a cold. 'To get oneself into trouble by being too impetuous.' H. & P.: Services: since ca. 1930. Cf. catch cold; prob. ex the earlier:—2. To 'get the wind up' (become or feel afraid): Army: 1914–18. Ex that chilly feeling.

catch a horse; or, go and catch . . . To urinate:

Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Cf. water one's nag (at nag, p. 549).

catch afire. To set fire to: Cockney coll.: mid-C. 19-20. Edwin Pugh, A Street in Suburbia, 1895, 'It blazed up in the pan an' caught the chimley afire almost.'

catch (bang to) rights. See rights, catch (bang) to.

catch cold. 'I told her if she did not give it me again she would catch cold, meaning she would repent of it' (rather, get into trouble, be 'for it'): 1775.

catch hand. A 'casual workman who moves from job to job, esp. at commencement of new jobs, to get more favourable rate and conditions, and who has no intention of staying on one job until the end' (Laurie Atkinson, Sept. 11, 1967): urban labourers' coll.: since ca. 1950.

catch on the fly. To board a train while it is moving: Canadian, orig. hoboos': C. 20. (Frederick Niven, Wild Honey, 1927.)

catch one's death. To catch a very bad cold: coll.: late C. 19-20. Elliptical. (G. B. Lancaster, Sons o' Men, 1904.)

catch the boat up. To get V.D.: Naval: since ca. 1930.

catch under the pinny. See pinny . . .

catch (someone) with his trousers down. See caught with . . .

catchee (p. 134) means also 'to get or obtain; to find out; to hold, to win'.

catching flies, n. or predicative adj. Gaping: coll.: C. 19-20.

catching the bird, ppl. and n. Cruising in one's car, persuading a girl to go for a drive, finally inter-coursing with her: Australian raffish: since ca. 1930. Cf. bird, n., 8, on p. 54.

catchpole rapparee. See 'Constables'.

Caten (or c-) wheel. A Catherine wheel; a fig. cartwheel: London streets' illiteracy: mid-C. 19-20. Augustus Mayhew, Paved with Gold, 1857.

caterpillar.—4. Habitual drunkard: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. A caterpillar crawls; so does a pub-crawler.

catheter. See piss out of, take the.

Cat's (p. 134). The Cambridge seat of learning has long been St Catharine's College.

cats, fight like Kilkenny (p. 134). 'The origin of this expression as I have heard is this. Cromwell's soldiers in Ireland used to amuse themselves by tying two cats together by their tails and hanging them over a clothes line. Of course the wretched animals clawed each other to death.' (Andrew Haggard, letter of Jan. 28, 1947.)

Cats, the. The Canadian Auxiliary Territorial Service: mostly Canadian: 1939-45.

cat's breakfast. A very common Scottish and North Country variant since ca. 1920—of dog's breakfast (p. 231).

cat's eyes. Usually in pl., cats' eyes, 'the pilots to our night-fighter squadrons', H. & P., 1943. Orig. a journalistic term, it was jocularly adopted by R.A.F. flying-crews; by Jan. 1945, however, it was already ob.—2. (Or hyphenated). Marbles thus coloured: children's coll.: late C. 19-20.

cat's head cut open. Pudendum muliebre: low: C. 20.

cat's mother, 'She' is a. See 'She' is a cat's mother (Dict.).

Cat's nouns! See 'Ejaculations'.

cat's pyjamas; cat's whiskers (p. 134): still, in 1965 anyway, 'far from dead in Australia' (B.P.).

cat's walk; occ., cat-walk. 'The long plank on bomber aircraft stretching between cockpit and tail,' H. & P.: R.A.F.: since ca. 1938. Cf. cat-walk (Dict.), its imm. origin. This form has, since late 1950's, been far less common than cat-walk, itself >, by 1960 at latest, S.E. Soon after World War II, cat-walk came to mean a gangway in a building and at theatrical and mannequin shows.

This goes back to World War I, not in connection with bombers, but with zeppelins and later with our own large rigid dirigibles. In "The Wonder Book of Aircraft" (1919), a work full of illustrations now of almost historic value, are two photographs showing inside the envelope of a zeppelin the "cat-walk" (vide caption) whereby the crew could move from one gondola to another.' (Ramsey Spencer, March 1967.)

cattie or catty, n. A catapult: schoolchildren's: late C. 19-20.

cattle, v. To coit with: low Cockney: C. 20. Cf. bull, v., 1 (p. 104).

cattle(-)banger. A cattle-station hand; a milker: Australian: since ca. 1910. B., 1942. Cf. stockbanger.

cattle-boat, came over with the. See came over . . .

cattle truck; since ca. 1945, always shortened to cattle. To copulate with, also fig.: (esp. racing): rhyming, s.: C. 20. Franklyn 2nd. On fuck. 'The favourite was well cattled when he fell at the last fence.'

cattley man. A cattleman: Australian coll.: since ca. 1880. Archer Russell, A Tramp Royal in Wild Australia, 1934.

Catts or Catt's is a mere variant of Cat's (Dick.).

caught short. Experiencing the onset of menstruation when no pads are available: feminine coll., esp. in Australia: since middle 1930's. On analogy of taken short below.

caught with one's trousers down. Taken un-awares; unready; Services: since ca. 1920; gen. since 1940. H. & P. Cf. stand on one leg, q.v.

Cauldron, the. That part of the Knightsbridge battlefield (North Africa) where the movement of numerous tanks raised clouds of dust and helped to create the effect of a seething cauldron: Army (and Air Force) in North Africa in World War II.

'No! This is a notorious journalistic mistranslation of standard military Ger. "Kesselschlacht", a battle of encirclement; although by itself "Kessel" does mean a cauldron, in hunting "Kessel-treiben" means driving game into an enclosed killing-ground. Cf. driving wild elephants into the Keddah enclosure where they are captured and tamed. At Knightsbridge our armour suffered severe losses in just this way (v. "The Second World War", by Sir Winston Churchill). In Normandy, Falaise was a not-quite-successful "Kesselschlacht", with the Allies as the hunters.' (Ramsey Spencer, March 1967.)

cauli (p. 135). Recorded earlier in W. L. George, A Bed of Roses, 1911.

cauliflower.—8. A locomotive with a crested front: railwaymen's: since ca. 1910. (Railway.)

Cauliflower Alley; Tin-Ear Alley. The boxing world: boxing journalists': since ca. 1935.

cauliflower and mashed. A c.p. description of a boxer's face: since the 1930's. Cauliflower ears and mashed nose.

cauliflower top. An upper deck full of passengers: busmen's (esp. London): since ca. 1935.

caulk, n., 1 (p. 135): prob. since very early C. 19. It occurs in, e.g., The Night Watch (II, 117), 1828, thus, 'Wrapped up in a pea-jacket for a caulk in the waist' (of the ship). Moe.

caulk, v., 1 (p. 135). 'Caulking—napping on the deck', Captain Glascock, Land Sharks, 1838. And even earlier in Alfred Burton, Johnny Newcome, 1818. (Moe.)

caulk a few seams is a C. 20 elaboration of the preceding. (P-G-R.)

caulk off. A variant—mostly Canadian—of caulk, v., 1 (p. 135): C. 20. (Leechman.)

caulker, 1 (p. 135), has, in C. 20 Australia, the nuance 'a stiff brandy to end an evening's potatoes' (B., 1943).

caulker.—3. 'A stranger, a novice' (Spy, 1825): Eton: ca. 1815–60. Spy spells it cawker.

—4. 'A greatcoat or blanket for sleeping on deck during a "make and mend"', Granville: Naval: late C. 19–20. Ex caulk, n., 1, and v., 1 (p. 135).

caulks to (someone), put the. See logger's small-pox.

causey, causy; cawsey, cawsy. Latrines: low: late C. 19–20. Brendan Behan, Borstal Boy, 1958 (cawsy). Ex one or other of the secondary meanings of dial. causey, causeway, highway, street, perhaps influenced by c. carsey.

caustic. An acoustic mine: Naval: 1939 +.

caustic, old; or capitals. 'Nickname for a surly or querulous type of man' (Granville): Naval: C. 20.

caution.—3. (Ex sense 1.) A person mildly bad: from ca. 1880. E.g. 'Dad's a bit of a caution when he's had too much to drink.'

cavalry. See dirty face.

cavalry are coming, or are here, the. Help is coming, or has arrived: c.p.: late C. 19–20. Ex the lit. military sense.—Cf. the American c.p., the marines have landed, occasionally completed with and the situation is well in hand: C. 20.

cave-board. A creaky board or stair-step: Public Schools': since ca. 1880. Ronald Knox, Double Cross Purposes, 1937. One that cries 'Cave!'

cavity gremlin. A mole-like gremlin that digs large holes just before and where the pilot is about to land: R.A.F.: 1940–5. (P-G-R.)

cavy.—2. A caged rabbit; rabbit fanciers': mid-C. 19–20. Josephine Bell, Death on the Borough Council, 1937. A corruption of cag(e)y.

The corruption may have been in part due to S.E. cavy, a kind of guinea-pig, as Mr Ramsey Spencer has (1967) suggested.

cawbawn or cobbon. Big, large: Australian (mostly Queensland) coll.: from ca. 1860; ob. B. & L. Ex Aborigine.

cawsey or cawsy. See causey above.

caz.—2. An easy dupe: c. mid-C. 19–20; very ob. Ibid.

cazo. A Service casualty: Australian servicemen's: 1939–45. (B., 1943.) That is, casualty + the Australian -o.

cedar.—A simpleton, a dupe: Australian: since ca. 1930. B., 1953, adduces the synonymous log and mahogany and (someone) carved out of wood.

cellar-flap (p. 136). Prob. short for 'tap dance': therefore rhyming s. Cf.:—2. To borrow: C. 20. Rhyming on tap, and often shortened to cellar.

cement. 'A very frequent U.S. and Canadian sol. for concrete. "Cement sidewalks", "cement piers" and so forth' (Leechman): since ca. 1920 (?).

cement-mixer; esp., have a cement-mixer, 'to have a ball or dance' (Anderson): beatniks': since ca. 1959.

cements. Stock Exchange shares: since ca. 1935. 'Often jocularly, as "Cements are hardening"' (A. B. Petch, Sept. 1946). Stock Exchange j. 'to harden' originated the term.

ensor. A blue-pencilled comma that should be a semi-colon: journalists' and printers' since ca. 1915.

[Centre, the. Orig. half j., half c., it has, since ca. 1925, been j. for the organisation that sends girls and women out to the Argentine to become courtesans or prostitutes. Albert Londres, 1928.]

centre man, the. A synonym of boxer, the organizer and arbitrator of a two-up game: Aus.: C. 20. (B., 1959). See boxer, 1, above.

century. With sense 1 (p. 136) cf. the Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931): a 100-dollar bill: a sense adopted from U.S. c. See esp. Underworld.

certified. Certified as insane: C. 20: coll. rather than euphemistic. Ironically as a virtual c.p., time you were certified, to a person acting the fool or having been exceptionally stupid.

Ces, the. The Cesarewitch, run in mid-October: sporting coll.: late C. 19–20.

cess. 'Extreme rails of track' (Railway, 3rd): railwaymen's: since ca. 1930 (?). Origin? Perhaps excess.

Chad. 'The British Services' counterpart of Kilroy . . . is known variously as Chad, Flywheel, Clem, Private Snoops, the Jeep, or just Phoo. His chalked-up picture is always accompanied by the theme song: "What no . . . ?": a newspaper cutting of Nov. 17, 1945. The same cutting informs us that 'Kilroy was here, chalked up by American pilots and air crews all over the world, originated in the fact that a friend of Sergeant Francis Kilroy thought him a wonderful guy and scrawled on the bulletin board of a Florida air base: "Kilroy will be here next week." The phrase took the fancy of army fliers and it spread across the world'—often in the form, What, no Kilroy? But see Kilroy was here below.

Chad is mostly R.A.F., whereas Private Snoops is Army; in the Navy he is The Watcher.

chaff, n.—3. Money: low Australian: C. 20. Kylie Tennant, Foveaux, 1939, 'He'—a barrowman—'gave money its rightful designation of "chaff", "sugar" or "hay"'. chaff, v., 1 (p. 137) occurs in Boxiana, III, 1821, rather in the sense 'to rebuke': 'Wood . . . was severely chaffing Randall for interference'. Perhaps by confusion with S.E. chide.

chaff-cutter. A typewriter: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. Ex the noise it makes.

chaffer, 2 (p. 137). In Boxiana, III, 1821, the nuance is 'throat'; thus, 'Cool their chaffer with a drop of heavy wet'; sense 1, by the way, occurs in the same work, some thirty years earlier than the Dict. recording.

chaffy.—3. ' . . . Slang current sixty years ago when I was a boy at Christ's Hospital: a slap on the face was a fotch, bread a krug and butter flab. A fag was a swab. Chaffy meant pleased—"I'm awfully chaffy" (A.B.S. in correspondence columns of The Sunday Times, Sept. 8, 1963). Cf. chuffed below.

chai. See thy.

chain and crank. A bank: rhyming s.: C. 20. (Cf. rattle and crank.) chain-breaker (p. 137). And, of course, shorts.

chain-gang.—3. Those waiters who, not on saloon duty, perform the odd jobs: passenger ships: Dave Marlowe, 1937.

Chain Gang, the. Aircrafthands, General Duties: R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. Partridge, 1945, 'The R.A.F.'s maids of all work.' Perhaps imm. ex chain-gang, 2 (p. 137).

chain gang, the.—4. A bus-running inspector: busmen's, esp. in London: since ca. 1930.

chain up a pup. See tie up a dog.

chair-borne divisions, the. Those members of the Force who work in offices: Air Force (mostly R.A.F.): since 1942. Ironically ex Airborne Divisions.—Also called chair-borne types.

chair-marking (p. 137) is, among taxi-drivers, an illicit marking of their licences by their employers: Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939.

chal droch. A knife: Shelta: C. 18-20. B. & L.

chalk, adj. To the Dict. entry add F. & H.'s explanation: 'From the practice at race-meetings of keeping blank slides at the telegraph board on which the names of new jockeys can be inscribed in chalk, while the names of well-known men are usually painted or printed in permanent characters . . . The public argued that [the latter] were incompetent, being unknown.'

chalk! Silence!: tailors': mid-C. 19-20. B. & L.

chalk and talk; also chalk-and-talker. A school-teacher: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. He or she uses much chalk, more talk.

Chalk Farm (p. 138) was, by the late 1920's, ob. and by 1960, virtually †.

chalk jockey. 'One who rides too seldom to have his name printed on the notice board' (it's chalked up, instead): racing: since ca. 1935. (John Lawrence, 1963.)

chalkie. A schoolteacher: Australian: since ca. 1930. (B., 1953.)

chalks. Legs: low: ca. 1825-70. Sinks, 1848.

chalks, do the. To write the score at darts, esp. in match-games: dart-players': since ca. 1945. With chalk on a board.

chamber-music. The sound made by a chamber-pot being used: jocular domestic: late C. 19-20.

chamfer up. To tidy up, make things tidy: Naval: C. 20: Granville. Ex the stonemasonry and carpentry senses.

chammy. See cham (Dict.).

Champagne Charley. Any noted drinker of champagne; hence, any dissipated man: mostly Londoners': from 1868; ob. B. & L., 'The name of a song which appeared in 1868. . . . The original Charley was a wine-merchant that was very generous with presents of champagne to his friends.'

champagne-glass.—A Hampden (or less frequently a Hereford) aircraft in the plan view: R.A.F.: ca. 1940-3, then ob. Partridge, 1945. Resemblance.

Champaigne Country. Dining and wining; champagne drinking: Oxford and buckish: ca. 1810-40. Pierce Egan, Life in London, 1821.

champers. Champagne: since ca. 1920. Oxford undergraduates' ('the Oxford-er'); hence, since ca. 1950, also among the smart young set. (Gilderdalc, 2.)

chance, v. (p. 139). 'Some would "chance" everything to be transported,' Anon., A History of Van Diemen's Land, 1835.

chance one's mitt. To make an attempt; to risk it, take a chance: Army: 1914-18. Cf. chance your arm on p. 139.

chancer.—2. 'One who tries it on by telling the tale; or one who just takes chances' (H. & P.): Services: since the 1920's. See chance your arm in the Dict.—3. Hence, one not too smart in appearance or at drill: Army: since ca. 1930.—4. An expensive motor-car, oldish and of unusual make: motor trade: since ca. 1920. The dealer 'takes a chance' when he buys it.—5. A bluffer: Anglo-Irish: C. 20. (Desmond O'Neill, Life Has No Price, 1959.) chancery, v. To put 'in chancery': pugilistic: ca. 1815-50. Boxiana, III, 1821. Ex chancery, in (Dict.).

chancery (or C-) practice. Habit of putting opponent's head 'in chancery': pugilistic: ca. 1815-60. Boxiana, II, 1818.

change the record! See record!, change the, below.

changes, ring the.—4. To muddle a tradesman over the correct change to be received: c.: from ca. 1880.

Channel crossing. Bread-and-butter pudding: Marlborough College: since ca. 1920.

Channel fever (p. 139). Laurie Atkinson, in a note dated Sept. 11, 1967, defines it as 'the nervous state that overcomes some sailors as their ship nears home after long absence or relatively long abstinence'.

Channel fleet. A street: Irish rhyming s.: C. 20. Franklyn, Rhyming.

Channel (or channel)-groper; cf., on p. 139, Channel-groping, which, occurring in Smyth, 1867, prob. goes back to early C. 19. 'In the course of time, the ship and her convoy arrived safe and sound in Portsmouth harbour, and we became one of the "channel-groppers" (as they dignified ships on the home station)': Fredk Chamier, The Life of a Sailor, at II, 66. Colonel Moe records its use by Marryat in The King's Own, 1830 (p. 88 of the 1896 edition).

Channel swimmers, the. The fighting man's self-description, March-April 1918, as a result of Haig's famous order, during the Spring retreat, 'to fight it out with our backs to the wall': British troops', not Dominion troops'. Those who couldn't swim called themselves 'the non-Channel swimmers'. (A. B. Petch.)

chant the poker!, don't. See sing it!, don't.

chanticleer. Penis: literary and cultured: mid-C. 19-20; ob. Punning cock.

chanting slum. A music-hall: fast life: ca. 1830. Anon., The New Swell's Guide to Night Life, 1846. Cf. chanting ken.

character.—2. A character part: theatrical coll.: late C. 19-20. Leonard Merrick, Peggy Harper, 1911.—3. Whereas the R.A.F. speaks of types and the Navy and the Army imitate, the Royal Navy speaks of characters and the other two services imitate: since ca. 1925.

'So widely was this Swordfish known That characters could not be found To drive it. It remained unknown—Un-airborne, wholly hangar-bound,'

Commander Justin Richardson,
The Phoney Phleet, 1946.

Indeed, since ca. 1945, the term has become increasingly popular everywhere and now means simply 'fellows' or 'guys'.

characters. One's references, as regards employment: Midland and North Country coll.: C. 20. (F. B. Vickers, First Place to the Stranger, 1955.)

charge, n.—2. Marijuana: c.: since ca. 1943. It contains a 'charge'—produces a 'kick'.—3. In hospitals, the charge is a Charge Nurse (esp. if male), i.e. one in charge of a ward or set of wards: coll.: C. 20.

charge. To run at full speed: Winchester College coll.: from ca. 1860. B. & L.

chariot.—2. A caboose; occ. a passenger car: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931). Derisive.—3. (Also wanking chariot.) A bed: Army: since ca. 1940.—4. A motor car: jocular: since ca. 1945. Cf. sense 1 on p. 141.

charity dame or for-free. A prostitute undercutting the prices; an 'enthusiastic amateur': Australian c., esp. prostitutes': resp. since ca. 1930 and ca. 1944 (U.S. influence). B., 1953.

Charles his friend. The young man serving as foil to the jeune premier: theatrical: from ca. 1870. B. & L. Ex description in the dramatis personae.

Charles James.—2. A fox: hunting slang: late C. 19–20. Same origin as sense 1.

charley.—9. A gold watch: c. from ca. 1830. By pun ex sense 1.—10. Reveille: Naval: C. 20. Granville, 'The bugle call, to which the Navy has given these words:—

"Charley! Charley! get up and wash yourself!
Charley! Charley! lash up and stow!"

—11. Short for Charley Ronce(?): mid-C. 19–20. New Statesman, Nov. 29, 1941.

charley (or -lie).—12. Esp. in 'your Charlie', your girl: Australian, esp. Sydney: since ca. 1945. (Lawson Glassop, Lucky Palmer, 1949.)—13. A male homosexual: since ca. 1945.—14. Afraid; 'windy': low: since ca. 1930. 'I was dead charlie' (Norman).—15. (A specialisation of 12.) A prostitute: low Australian: since ca. 1946. (B., 1953.)

charley or charlie—or C.—16. A fool: C. 20 among Cockneys, but only since late 1940's at all general; esp. in a proper charley, a thorough fool. Short for Charley Hunt below.

Charley, hop the. See hop the Charley.

charley, turn. To turn coward or become frightened: low London: since ca. 1930.

Charley, turn. See turn . . .

Charley Brady. A hat: rhyming s. (on cady): late C. 19–20; by 1950, ob. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

Charley Dilke. Milk: ca. 1880–1940. Franklyn, Rhyming.

Charley Fox. A politically minded seaman tending to harangue: Naval: ca. 1790–1815.

W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (II, 186), 1829. Moe.

Charley Frisky. Whisky: navvies' rhyming s.: ca. 1860–1910. (D. W. Barrett, 1880.)

Charley Howard. A coward: rhyming: C. 20. James Curtis, 1936.

Charley (or Charlie) Hunt; often in C. 20 shortened to Charley (Charlie). The female pudend: rhyming s.: since ca. 1890. A variant of Joe Hunt (below)—cf. Berkeley (Hunt), q.v. on p. 48.—2. Hence, a 'softy', a fool: C. 20; in gen. use only since the late 1940's and increasingly in the shortened form.

Charley Lancaster (p. 141) fell into disuse ca. 1930.

Charley Mason. A basin: rhyming s.: since ca. 1880.

Charley More. See act . . .

Charley Noble is recorded earlier in 'Taffrail'.

Charley (or Charlie) Orange. Often merely Charley (etc.). The Commanding Officer: R.A.F.: 1939 +. W/Cdr Robin P. McDouall, April 12, 1945, 'From the phonetic alphabet'.

Charley Randy. Brandy: navvies' rhyming s.: ca. 1860–1910. (D. W. Barrett, 1880.)

Charley (or -ie) Ronce. A souteneur or prostitute's bully: late C. 19–20: rhyming s. on ponce (Dict.). Often shortened to Charley which, derivatively, = very smart, 'one of the boys'.

Charley Skinner. Dinner: navvies' rhyming s.: ca. 1860–1910. (Barrett.)

Charley Wheeler. A girl: Australian: C. 20. (S. J. Baker, The Australian Language, 1945; Dal Stevens, Jimmy Brockett, 1951.) Rhyming on Sheila.

Charley Wiggins. Lodgings: mainly theatrical rhyming s. (on diggings pronounced diggins): late C. 19–20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

charleys.—3. Testicles: low: C. 20. Perhaps ex sense 1 (p. 141).—4. (Mostly Charlies.) Sailors in general: Australian Naval: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943).—5. Shoulders: North Country, esp. Yorkshire: C. 20. 'Straighten your charleys, lad' is said to a stooping boy.

Charley's coat. A Carley float: Australian rhyming s., mostly Navy and Air Force: 1942 +. (B., 1943.)

charley's fiddle. A watchman's rattle: fast life: ca. 1815–40. W. T. Moncrieff, Tom and Jerry, 1821. See charley, p. 141.

charmer. One's girl friend: Services': since ca. 1935. H. & P. charming mottle. A bottle: Australian rhyming s.: ca. 1880–1910. The (Sydney) Bulletin, Jan. 18, 1902—cited by Baker, 1945.

charp. A bed: Regular Army and, since ca. 1920, R.A.F. regulars': late C. 19–20. Jackson, 'From the Hindustani, charpoy'.

charperer; or charpering ome (or omer). A policeman: parlyaree: since ca. 1860. P. H. Emerson, Signor Lippo, 1893. The shorter prob. derives from the longer term. Cf.:—

charpering carsey. A police station: parlyaree: since ca. 1870. In, e.g., P. H. Emerson, 1893. Cf. the prec. entry, where omee = a man; here, carsey = casa = a house. The dominant element, charpering = 'searching': ex It. cercare, 'to search (for)'.

charpoy-bashing. Sleeping; sleep: R.A.F. regulars' since ca. 1920. Gerald Emanuel, letter of March 29, 1945. See charp and cf. square-bashing. charrshom or chershom. A crown (coin): Shelta: C. 18–20; very ob. B. & L.

Chart and Evans. Knees: Naval: C. 20. (Granville.) A rationalized form of chart an' 'eavens, itself incorrect for chart in 'eavens. The semantic key is supplied by s. benders, knees—what you get down upon to say the Lord's Prayer, 'Our Father, which art in Heaven'—and strengthened by the second verb in the predominant construction and usage, 'Get down on your chart 'n eavens and holystone the deck.'

charver (p. 142). Also spelt charva, as in bona palone for a charva, a good-time girl. (John o'London's Weekly, Feb. 4, 1949.)

charwallah.—2. 'In India this is a native servant who brings the early morning tea. In Gibraltar, a dining-hall waiter,' H. & P.: Services: since ca. 1930. (Gerald Emanuel, March 29, 1945.) Also used as an adj.; e.g. charwallah squadron, an Air Force squadron consisting of Indian personnel.

chase. 'To stand over and keep urging (someone) to do and get on with a piece of work': Services' coll.: since ca. 1920. H. & P.—2. To court (a girl): S. Africa: since ca. 1935. Prof. W. S. Mackie in The Cape Argus, July 4, 1946. But also Cockney since late C. 19.

chase-me-Charley. 'A radio-controlled glider-bomb used by the Germans': Naval: ca. 1940–5. Granville.

chase the hares; usually as n. or participle, chasing the hares. To run after women: C. 20. A pun on hairs.

chase the nimble pennyweight. To pick gold from a dish: Australian miners': C. 20, B., 1942. Journalistic in origin?

chase-up. A race; a speedy driving: since late 1940's. Peter Crookston, Villain, 1967, 'There were ten of us and we each stole a car from a car-park to have a bit of a chase-up.'

chaser.—2. A woman-chaser: Canadian coll.: adopted, ca. 1935, ex U.S. Cf. chase, v., 2.

chasing the red. (Of a flagman) going back with a red flag or a red light to protect a train: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931).

chass. To chase; to harry: Naval cadets': since ca. 1880. 'Taffrail', The Sub, 1917. Cf. chasse (p. 142) and chase, 1 (above).

chasse. A drink after coffee: 1860, Surtees, Plain or Ringlets; † by 1920. Cf. chaser in Dict.

chat, n., 5 (see Dict.) is occ. extended to mean enterprise, esp. a criminal job: from ca. 1870. Pugh (2): 'The chat we're on is called The Observatory, an' it's got a sort of tower stickin' out o' the roof.'—10. (Usually in pl. chats.) A person: circusmen's: late C. 19–20. 'Fake the chats' = talk to the crowd to keep them quiet.—11. 'The gift of the gab': low: since late 1940's. James Barlow, The Burden of Proof, 1968.—12. Language; way of speaking or writing; terminology: since ca. 1950. Laurence Henderson, With Intent, 1968, "'Says he's a nice fellow, likes hurting people, knocks girls about, sticks knives in people. An emotional pauper.'—"How much?"—"That's college chat for a right bastard." chat, v.—3. Hence (?), to talk to or with (someone): since ca. 1920. 'Chatting a boggy', James Curtis, The Gilt Kid, 1936.—4. See chat up, 2, below.

chat marks. Quotation marks: mostly authors': C. 20. (Berta Ruck, A Story-Teller Tells the Truth, 1935.)

chat-up. The n. that corresponds to chat-up, v. (p. 142).

chat (someone) up. To bluff; to 'con': since ca. 1925. Robin Cook, The Crust on Its Uppers, 1962.—2. (Of a male) to talk to a girl, a woman, persistently and persuasively, esp. with a view to sexual dalliance: since ca. 1936. Also to chat (a girl). Ronald Harwood, The Lads, a television play shown on Aug. 15, 1963. (Laurie Atkinson.)

Chatham Dockyard . . . See when Adam . . . in Dict.

Chats. Sense 1 (p. 142) has, in the Navy, > 'the Chatham R.N. Barracks' (Granville): late C. 19–20.—2. Earlier in 'Taffrail'.

chatsby (p. 142): also in R.A.F. (G. Emanuel, March 29, 1945.)

chatterbox. A machine-gun: R.A.F. air-crews': adopted in mid-1940 from the American Eagle Squadron; ob. by 1946. The Reader's Digest, Feb. 1941. Also among Australians: B., 1942. The genuinely English form is chatter-gun (or one word), as in Brickhill & Norton, Escape to Danger, 1946, 'The chatter-guns opened up'.

chatterer. Slightly earlier in Boxiana, IV, 1824.

chatterers (p. 142). Slightly earlier in Boxiana, III, 1821.

chatty, n.—5. A louse: New Zealand: since ca. 1915. B., 1941. See chat, n., 7, and esp. chati (p. 142).

chatty feeder. A variant of chattry feeder (Dict.).

chauff. To act as chauffeur to: since ca. 1925. Gavin Holt, The Murder Train, 1936, 'Sorry, I'm chauffing Cynthia'.—2. To drive: since ca. 1925. Herbert Adams, The Crooked Life, 1931, 'Not fit to chauff a dust-cart'.

chauvering donna (or moll). See chauvering (Dict.).

chaw one's fat. A variant of chew one's or the, fat.

cheap and nasty. A pasty: Australian rhyming s.: C. 20. (A. A. Martin, letter, 1937.)

cheap at half the price! 'That's a very reasonable price': a c.p. used when one is satisfied with a price either asked or charged: since ca. 1920 (? much earlier).

cheat (p. 143) is probably related to 'chattel'.

cheated the starter, they. A c.p., applied to a married couple whose first child arrives before it is formally due: since ca. 1910.

cheaters. See draughters. Dating from ca. 1910. (Esp. if with elastic leg-bands.)—2. Spectacles (glasses): Canadian: C. 20; originally, underworld; by 1935, s.—3. Foam-plastic bust-forms ('falsies'): Australian: since ca. 1945. Lawson Glassop, Lucky Palmer, 1949, "'Cheaters," said Mrs Shendon, as if instructing a class of dull children, "make mountains out of molehills." Cf. falsies below.

Sense 2 prob. went to Canada ex U.S., where it may or may not have orig. been c.: see, e.g., my Underworld. In Canada, moreover, it prob. > gen. s. by 1930 at latest; in U.S., it was certainly gen. s. by ca. 1920. (With indirect thanks to Mr R. W. Burchfield.)

check. 'To reprimand, to take to task, during the exercise of one's duty,' Partridge, 1945. Proleptic: it should check the recipient's evil ways.—2. The Artillery's Check! (As you were) came, in the Army and then in the other Services, to serve for 'I have checked', all is now well, all right, O.K.: coll.: since 1940. By 1950, check!, O.K., had become fairly common, and by 1955 very common, among civilians; but this civilian use was aided by adoption of American check!, O.K.

check up on. To eye amorously: since ca. 1936. To assess a woman's sexual charms.—2. A synonym of keep tabs on below: adopted, ca. 1960, ex Canada, where current since ca. 1920.

checker.—2. A homing pigeon: C. 20. H. U. Triston, Men in Cages, 1938.

checkerboard, a type of Fokker, and red-nose, another German fighter aircraft: airmen's: 1916–18. (Guy Fowler, The Dawn Patrol, 1930.)

chee, adj. Long: pidgin: from ca. 1870. B. & L. Abbr. muchee.

cheechako. A tenderfoot: Canadian (Yukon and N.W.): late C. 19–20; by 1949, ob. Note Robert W. Service, Ballads of a Cheechako, 1909. A Chinook jargon word, lit. 'new-comer': chee, new; chako, to come. (Leechman.) cheek, n., 1: earlier in Sessions, June 1835.

cheeks (p. 144). Sense 1, 1. 5: for 'dresses' read 'skirts'.—3. 'Cheeks, an imaginary person; nobody; as in "Who does that belong to? Cheeks!"' (Sinks, 1848): low: ca. 1780–1870. Sessions, Feb. 1791 (p. 203).

cheeky possum. Cheeky fellow: esp., cheeky child (mostly boy): Australian juvenile: since ca. 1935. (B., 1953.)

cheer!, what. See what cheer!

cheer-chaser, -chasing; chase cheers. The agent, the verbal noun, the verb, for 'curry favour with the mob': Australian coll.: since ca. 1930. (B., 1943.)

cheer up (, cully), you'll soon be dead! A c.p. of C. 20. E.g. in W. L. George, The Making of an Englishman, 1914. It either comes from or, at the least, occurs in an early C. 20 music-hall song: 'I've got a motter "Always be merry and bright"'—rendered, Julian Franklyn tells me 'in a painfully miserable tone'.

cheerful giver. Liver (bodily organ): rhyming s.: C. 20. An allusion, not a designation; the designation is bow and quiver. See esp. Franklyn 2nd.

cheeri! Cheerio!: New Zealand: since ca. 1930. (Slatter.)

Cheeribye!, Good-bye, or au revoir: 1942 +. A blend of cheerio + goodbye. Cf. cheerioski. cheerio.—3. Hence, tipsy: S. Africa: since ca. 1936. Prof. W. S. Mackie in The Cape Argus, June (? 29), 1946.

cheerioski. 'Cheerio!' ca. 1925–38. Phillip Macdonald, The Rynox Mystery, 1930.

cheers! A toast that, arising ca. 1945, became very popular ca. 1950—and has remained so. Not s., of course, but a coll.

chees and chaws. The Italianate pronunciation of ecclesiastical Latin: British Catholics': ca. 1850–1900. See, e.g., Bernard Ward, The Sequel to Catholic Emancipation, 1915, and F. Brittain, Latin in Church, 1934. Ex c > ch, long o > aw, etc.

cheese, n.—3. Smegma: low: mid-C. 19–20.

cheese, v.—2, 3, 4 Morris Marples, in his excellent Public School Slang, 1940, records these senses: to study hard (Bradfield, since ca. 1917); to smile (esp. broadly), at Oundle since ca. 1918, prob. ex grin like a Cheshire cat (see Cheshire cat, p. 145); to hurry, to stride out (Lancing since mid-1930's), perhaps ex 'go flat out, like a flat cheese'.

cheese and kisses. Wife: late C. 19–20. Rhyming on missus.

cheese-cutter, 4 (p. 144). Rather: since ca. 1840. Sinks, 1848.—5. A sword: Army: C. 20. H. & P.—6. A bicycle seat: Australian, esp. Sydney motor mechanics': since ca. 1950. (B.P.)

cheese down. 'To coil rope into neat spirals for a harbour stow' (P-G-R.): Naval coll.: late C. 19–20; by 1940, perhaps rather j. So to coil the rope that it assumes the shape of a large cheese.

cheese-eye (phonetic spelling); also cheese-eyed (inferior form). A pejorative intensive, as in 'that cheese-eye pusser': Naval, esp. on China-side: late C. 19–20. Ex Chinese? Not necessarily pejorative. 'Bartimeus' in his A Tall Ship, 1915, uses it neutrally when a character refers thus to his Captain's children—and he's speaking to their parents!

cheese-toaster (p. 144) occurs, as 'bayonet', in Fredk Chamier, The Life of a Sailor, 1832, at II, 104, as a Naval, esp. a Royal Marine, term. (Moe.)

cheesecake. A display, esp. in a smart magazine, of feminine beauty and physical charm: adopted, ca. 1944, ex U.S. Hence the complementary beefcake, a display of masculine muscle and good looks: adopted, ca. 1950, ex U.S. The display is of as much anatomy as the law will allow.

cheesed. Has, since 1941, been often used for the next. Jackson, 1943.

cheesed(-)off. Disgruntled: Liverpool boys' (— 1914); Liverpool troops' (1914–18); common in all Services since ca. 1935; but since 1940, esp. R.A.F.; and, since ca. 1950, general. Grenfell Finn-Smith, in list communicated in April 1942; H. & P., 1943; Partridge, 1945. Perhaps suggested by browned off, q.v., via the brown rind of cheese. Professor Douglas Hamer derives it ex the Liverpool boys' cheese off!, run away and don't be a nuisance, itself current since ca. 1890.

cheesy.—2. Smelly: (low) coll.: late C. 19–20. Ex the smell of strong cheese. B. & L.

Cheesy Gordons, the. The Gordon Highlanders: late C. 19–20. Perhaps ex cheesy, 1 (p. 145).

Chelt. A resident or frequenter of Cheltenham: sporting and fast life: ca. 1820–60. Spy, II, 1826. An abbr. of Cheltonian.

Cheltenham (Cold). Cold: rhyming: late C. 19–20. This is an intensive variant of Cheltenham bold. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

chem, n. and adj. Chemistry, esp. as a subject of study; in or of chemistry: Australian students': since ca. 1910. (B.P.)

Chemist, the. Also, since ca. 1918, used by the Navy: Granville.

cherpin (Dict.) is a loose, almost sol., abbr. of cherpin llowyer, Shelta for a book: B. & L.

Cherries, the. Boscombe Association Football Club: sporting: since ca. 1950.

cherries, the. See cherry hog and cherry oggs, 2.

cherry.—2. A young man's virginity (physical): Canadian: C. 20.—3. The hymen: late C. 19–20. The origin of sense 2, as also of:—4. A girl's virginity: C. 20.

cherry, take the. To take the new ball: Australian cricketers'; since ca. 1950. (The Observer, June 21, 1953.) Ex the ball's redness.

cherry ace. A face: rhyming s.: only ca. 1940-55. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

cherry-bounce. A charabanc: late C. 19-20. By perversion ex char à banc.

cherry-hog. A dog: mid-C. 19-20. Rhyming: In greyhound racing, the cherries = the dogs.

cherry(-)nose. Sherry: S. African low (? c.). C. 20. The Cape Times, June 3, 1946, article by Alan Nash.

cherry oggs. A game played with cherry-stones on the pavement: London children's: since ca. 1880.—2. Greyhound racing: rhyming s. (on dogs): since ca. 1920. Often shortened to the cherries.

cherry-picker. A pathic: Naval: C. 20.

Cherry Ripe. Centuripe, in Sicily: Army: 1944-5. By the process of 'Hobson-Jobson'. (P-G-R.)

Cherry Trees, the. H.M.S. Rodney and H.M.S. Nelson, because erroneously supposed to have been truncated by the Washington Treaty: Naval (ward-room): 1930's—very early 1940's.

chershom. See charrshom.

Chesby or c-. A good-natured fellow: R.A.F.: 1940 +; by 1960, ob. (P-G-R.)

chest, cock a. See cock a chest.

chest stooge. A junior detailed to keep a Cadet Captain's sea-chest tidy for him: R.N.C., Dartmouth: since 1939. Granville.

chesty or a bit chesty.—2. (Of a patient) coughing: hospital nurses' coll.: late C. 19-20. Ex sense 1 (p. 146).

Chev.—2. A Chevrolet truck: Army: 1939-45. (P-G-R.)

chew, n. (p. 146): rather, since ca. 1820. It occurs in The Dublin University Magazine, Dec. 1835 (p. 616). Moe.—2. Food: South African schools': C. 20.—3. A 'camp' term: C. 20.

chew, v. To talk: New Zealand: since ca. 1920. Jean Devanney, Kiven, 1929, 'Chewing about homely women and chasing the gay birds.' Ex chew the fat (as under).

chew (someone's) ballocks off. To rebuke or reprimand severely: Services', esp. the Army: C. 20. Cf. the synonym on p. 146.

chew (someone's) ear is a C. 20 Australian variant of bite one's ear (Dict.). B., 1942.

chew (someone) out. To reprimand severely: Canadian: C. 20. (Leechman.)

chew the fat. 'Taffrail', however, has chew one's fat, to argue.

chew the rag (cf. the entry at chew the fat, p. 146) has, since ca. 1920, predominantly signified 'to talk, to chat, to yarn'—with no undertone of grumbling.

chew up.—2. To savage; to mangle (the body of): C. 20. (Jean Devanney's Travels, 1951.)

chewies. Chewing gum: Australian, esp. juvenile: since mid-1940's. (Dick.)

chew(e)y. Chewing gum: Australian juvenile: since ca. 1944. (B., 1953.) Ex the habit rendered even more popular by the multiple and ubiquitous presence of U.S. servicemen in Australia in late 1942-5.

chi-chi, n. and adj. Half-caste (girl, rarely boy): Indian Army and Anglo-Indian coll.: C. 19-20. Ex Hindustani.

chi-chi, n. Unnecessary fuss; affected protests or manners: Society coll.: C. 20. Adopted ex Fr. coll. Perhaps ex preceding term, but prob. an arbitrary formation.—2. Hence, excessive red-tape: Army officers': since ca. 1939. (P-G-R.)

chiack is the predominant Aus. and N.Z. C. 20 form of chiiike.

chib. A low Cockney corruption of the mainly dial. jib, mouth, lower part of the face: 1899, Clarence Rook, The Hooligan Nights, 'He slings a rope . . . round her chib, and fastens it to a hook in the wall. Then [she] can stand, but can no longer argue.'

Chicago-piano. A multiple pom-pom: Royal and Merchant Navy: since 1940. 'A rating . . . was crouched by the "Chicago-piano" (battery of A.A. pom-poms) amidships,' Major W. S. Murdock, in Allan Michie & Walter Graebner, Lights of Freedom, 1941.

Chicargot. Americanism: Naval officers': since ca. 1940. Granville. A blend of 'Chicago' and 'argot'. Mostly in 'to talk Chicargot', to use the argot of Chicago—American expressions.

chice a ma trice. Slightly earlier in Boziana, III, 1821.

chick.—3. One's girl friend: dance-fanatics' and Teddy boys': adopted, ca. 1940, ex U.S. This is a specialisation of U.S. s. chick, a girl; cf. sense 1 on p. 146.—4. A male prostitute: prostitutes' and homosexuals': since ca. 1945.

chickaleary cove (p. 146): anticipated by chickle-a-leary chap in chorus of underworld song quoted by W. A. Miles, Poverty, 1839; more prob. has its origin in cheeky (impudent) and leary (see p. 474).

chickee. See chickey, 2, below.

chicken.—5. A boy homosexual: c., and low: C. 20. Cf. senses 1 and 2.

chicken! Coward!: 'a derisive cry hurled at one who shows signs of cowardice, or even of commendable prudence': Canadian teenagers': since ca. 1950. (Leechman.) Cf. chicken, on p. 146, and Michael Innes's novel, Appleby Plays Chicken, 1956.

chicken, adj. Cowardly: adopted, ex Canada, ca. 1946 in Britain. Cf. chicken!—2. Petty, insignificant; pettily cheating: Canadian: ca. 1910-40. The origin of sense 1. (Priestley.)

chicken-berries. Hen's eggs: Naval (lower-deck): C. 20. (P-G-R.)

chicken-feed (p. 146). By 1937, also English.—2. Hence, a pittance (financial) or a bare minimum (of food): 1941 +.

chicken(-)fruit. Eggs: Naval: C. 20. Granville.

chicken out. To retire from fight, risk, adventure: Australian: adopted, ca. 1943, ex U.S. Cf. chicken! above. (B.P.) Current in R.A.F. since ca. 1950, and general Eng. s. since late 1950's. The R.A.F. usage has variant go chicken.

chicken-picker. A one-fingertypist: Australian jocular: since ca. 1930. Ex plucking a chicken.

chicken-shit. Information from a superior: Canadian: since ca. 1920. But Canadian have chicken-shit in one's blood (since ca. 1930) = to be a coward.—2. Adj. Petty, insignificant; pettily cheating: Canadian: ca. 1910-30. The origin of chicken, adj., 2 (above).

chickey.—2. (Often spelt chickee or chickie.) Any young girl: Australian teenagers': since ca. 1945. (Dick.) chickster. Variant spelling of shickster (Dict.): 1848, Sinks.

chicky. A serviceman's girl friend or sweetheart: Australian soldiers': 1939-45. (B., 1943.) Cf. the U.S. chick, a girl.

chico. Used on R.A.F. Iraq stations, ca. 1925-45, for 1, a bearer, a personal servant (esp. bungalow chico); 2, a child, a baby. Prob. ex. Sp. chico, 'small boy: lad: dear fellow'. (Atkinson.)

chief. A chief inspector: police coll.: late C. 19-20.

chief pricker. See pricker.

chief scribe, the. Chief Petty Officer, Writer: Naval: since ca. 1910. Granville.

chief stoker. 'A seagull said to be the incarnation of one' (Granville): Naval: late C. 19-20.

chieffe. A Flight-Sergeant: R.A.F.: since April 1918. Sgt-Pilot Rhodes, letter of Sept. 20, 1942. Ex the days when in the Royal Naval Air Service the corresponding man held the rank of Chief Petty Officer (3rd Class).

chiike (p. 147). Prob. etymology: a perverse reduplication of hi (as a call).

chiike, chiack, v. Sense 2—'to chaff (mercilessly)'—has been current in New Zealand since ca. 1890. (G. B. Lancaster, Sons o' Men, 1904, 'Feared o' the boys chiackin' yer?') In Australia, chiack has, in C. 20, predominantly meant 'to tease'—cf. sense 3 (p. 147)—and is sometimes used intransitively.

Childe Harold. Any male having the given-name Harold tends, in Australia, to be nicknamed Childe Harold: C. 20. Ex Byron's famous poem so titled. (B.P.) children in the wood, the. 'Dice in the box' (Renton Nicholson, An Autobiography, 1860, at p. 64): gambling: ca. 1850-1900. Perhaps a pun on the Babes in the Wood.

Child's Guide, the. See Bible, the.

chiller. A 'thriller' that chills the blood: book world: since late 1950's. On the back of the jacket of Alistair Maclean's Fear Is the Key, 1961, his Night without End is described as 'A "chiller" by Alistair Maclean'. Elliptical for spine-chiller.

chilo. Child: pidgin: mid-C. 19-20. B. & L.

chime in with (p. 147), rather, since ca. 1800, to judge by a passage in The Port Folio of Nov. 1805. (Moe.)

chiming. (See chime in Dict.) 'Praising a person or thing that is unworthy, for the purpose of getting off a bad bargain' (ibid.): c.: C. 19-20: ob.

Chimleyco. Pimlico: Londoners': from ca. 1860. Ibid.

chimmel; chimmes. Resp., a stick; wood, or a stick: Shelta: C. 18-20. Ibid.

chimney smoke, make the. See make the chimney smoke.

chimp (p. 147). Edward Lear, Laughable Lyrics, 1877, 'The wail of the Chimp and Snipe'.

chin, n. (p. 147). No! Prob. a shortening of chin-wag 2. (p. 148)—and current since late C. 19.—2. An actor: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942, 'Cf. "blue-chin"'.

chin, take it on the. To 'take it hard', whether misfortune or disappointment: coll.: since ca. 1930. Ex boxing.

chin-food. A bore's conversation: Army and R.A.F.: since the 1920's. H. & P.—2. In the Navy: idle prattle (Granville): since ca. 1920.

chin-prop. A brooch: ca. 1820-80. Renton Nicholson, An Autobiography, 1860, at p. 256.

chin-strap. The buttocks: low Cockney: from ca. 1918. Derivative.

chin-straps, be on one's. To be utterly exhausted: Army: since ca. 1920. Ex come in on one's chin-strap (p. 147, foot).

china is also applied to a friend of the other sex.

China. This Cockney coll. dates from ca. 1870 and is defined by Mr Julian Franklyn as 'The whole world other than Europe and English-speaking lands. The place rich folk go to for their holidays. The place any person not wearing European dress comes from. Also distant-local, as in "Yeh sends that boy aht fer a errind an' 'e goes orf teh bleed'n Choina!"' china, bring on one's (or the). To effect the orgasm: low: C. 20.

China bird (p. 148). Esp., 'one whose conversation is interlarded with "Chop Chops" and "Can do's"'. Granville.

china plate (see china, p. 148); apparently since ca. 1870—witness D. W. Barrett, Navvies, 1880.—2. With the, the First Mate: Merchant Navy: C. 20. (Franklyn 2nd.)

China-side. The China station: Naval coll.: C. 20. Granville.

Chinaman.—2. An Irishman: English, esp. Londoners': late C. 19-20. Brendan Behan, Borstal Boy, 1958.—3. 'An unshorn lock on the sheep's rump, like the pigtail of Orientals' (Straight Furrow, Feb. 21, 1968): N.Z. shearers': C. 20.

Chinaman, I must have killed a. An Australian c.p. referring to a run of bad luck: since ca. 1905. (B.P.)

China's cow. The soya bean, abounding in the Far East: C. 20.

Chinese attack. 'A lot of noise and activity to delude the enemy that an attack was brewing in that spot, and to distract his attention from the real one' (P-G-R): Army, mostly officers', coll.: 1940 +.

Chinese burn. 'Cruelty perpetrated by grabbing someone's arm with both fists close together and twisting in opposite directions' (B.P.): Australian schoolchildren's: since ca. 1930. (B.P.) Variant: Chinese burner, as in Dick.

Chinese consumption. The possession of only one effective lung; hence also the so-called 'smokers' cough': Australian: since ca. 1935. A pun on Wun Bung Lung, one defective lung. (B.P.)

Chinese dominoes; Chinese Cement. See 'Hauliers' Slang'.

Chinese drive. See French drive below.

Chinese fashion. The sexual act performed with the partners lying on their side: Forces in the Far East, 1939-45. 'The Chinese fashion of writing at right angles to ours led the Far Eastern troops to assume that other things were at right angles to normal. Hence the female pudend was assumed to be transverse externally': thus a valued correspondent writing late in 1961.

Chinese fours. 'B.R. standard 4 freight locomotives' (Railway, 3rd): railwaymen's: since ca. 1945.

Chinese landing. A landing made with one wing lower than it should be: Canadian airmen's: since ca. 1917. A pun on Wun Wing Low. Dr Leechman heard it in W.W. I.

Chinese National Anthem. A loud expectoration: Naval: C. 20. Granville.

Chinese wedding-cake. Rice pudding: Naval:

C. 20. Sunday Chronicle, March 1, 1942. Ex rice as the staple food of China.

Chinkie (p. 148). 'Not ob.': Sidney J. Baker, letter of 1946.

Chinky. 'A rating who is always reminiscing about the good old days on China-side' (Granville): Naval: C. 20. Ex Chinkie (Dict.).

Chinky-toe-rot. A foot-complaint prevalent in the East (and in other tropics): Naval: C. 20. Granville. Unpleasant to see—or to smell.

chintz, bed-bug (p. 148). Far more probably ex Sp. chinche.

chip, n.—8. A quarrel: Australian: C. 20. 'We had a bit of a chip over one thing and another' (Kylie Tennant, Lost Haven, 1947).

chip, v.—3. To reprove: criticise adversely: Australian: C. 20. Baker.

chip back. To rebate, to discount; to reduce (a price) by a stated sum, as in 'I'd want some change out of that. Can't you chip me a tenner back?': secondhand-car dealers', esp. in London: since ca. 1945. (Anthony Cowdy in coloured supplement of The Sunday Times, Oct. 24, 1965.)

chip off the old block. The Australian form of chip of . . ., q.v. at block, a chip of the old (p. 65). B.P.

chip on one's shoulder, have a. To bear a grudge against the world: coll.: U.S., since ca. 1880; Canadian since ca. 1890; English, only since 1942, Australian and New Zealand since 1943 or 1944, all introduced by U.S. servicemen. Originally, lumbermen's, from chips falling on to the shoulders of men working beneath or very near a tree that is being felled. But Professor F. E. L. Priestly, in letter of Oct. 12, 1965, tells me that it 'comes from the American boy's method of challenge to a fight—putting a chip on his shoulder and daring the other to knock it off. . . . There are chips in the yard of every American farm where they burn wood. To go round with a chip on your shoulder is to be looking for a fight, constantly challenging all comers, and this is what the expression means in America.' This is the origin accepted by Craigie & Hulbert and by Mitford M. Mathews.

chip one off. To salute a superior officer: Naval: since ca. 1930. Granville.

chipper. A lively young fellow: 1821, Pierce Egan, Life in London; † by 1870. Cf. the adj. in the Dict.—2. A crisp blow or punch: pugilistic: ca. 1840–90. Augustus Mayhew, Paved with Gold, 1857.

chippery. 'Chipping'; (an exchange of) banter: Cockneys': C. 20. Pugh, 'She hadn't 'alf got over that bit of chippery with the rozzar in the station.'

chipping.—3. See chowing.

Chippy.—2. A. G. Chipperfield, the N.S.W. and Australian general utility man, cool and classic batsman, guileful spinner of leg breaks, and magnificent fielder in the slips: cricketers' and Australian cricket-enthusiasts': from 1934. C. B. Fry in The Evening Standard, Nov. 21, 1936, 'If "Chippy", why not "Birdy" [on this responsive wicket]?' (See Birdy, 2.)

chippy, n. A variant of chips, 1 (Dict.), 'carpenter': Services: since ca. 1918. H. & P. But also builders' s., C. 20, for either a carpenter or a joiner.—2. A fish-and-chips shop: Merseyside: C. 20.—3. A semi-professional prostitute: Australian and Canadian: adopted, ca. 1942, ex chippy, adj. Cheap: Canadian (— 1949).

U.S. (B., 1943.)—4. Hence, since ca. 1950, any girl: Australian. (B., 1953.)

chippy chap (q.v. in Dict.) occurs earlier in 'Taffrail'; see also wood-spoiler in these Adenda.

chippy rigger. A Carpenter Rigger: R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. Jackson. Cf. chippy.

chips.—6. Kneecs; esp. on one's chips, exhausted: R.A.F.: since ca. 1930.—7. Cipollata sausages, the very small sausages flavoured with herbs: lower and lower-middle classes: since ca. 1950. (Anthony Burgess, Nov. 15, 1967.) Via the careless English pronunciation chip-oh-lah-ta.

chips, cash—or throw in—one's. To die: Canadian: adopted, ca. 1880, ex U.S. Ex the S.E. sense, to stop gambling, esp. at cards, notably poker.

chips, give (someone) full; (his) chips are high. Both expressions signify approval: Royal Indian Navy: ca. 1939–45. Here, a chip is a rupee: cf. chip, n., 7 (p. 148). P-G-R.

chips, have had (sometimes got) one's. To have died, to be dead: since ca. 1917. Adapted from U.S. pass in one's chips, itself from the game of poker.

Chips, the. A train that takes office workers in Sydney to the towns in the Blue Mountains: Australian, esp. N.S.W.: since late 1940's. Prompted by 'the Fish' below. (B.P.)

chirrup and titter. A bitter (beer): mostly theatrical rhyming s.: late C. 19–20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

chise.—2. A variant of chice (p. 146): Boxiana, IV, 1824.

chisel-mouth. A sheep with teeth in good condition: Australian: C. 20. (B., 1943.) Contrast gummy, n., 7.

chisler (loose but usual for chiseller). A young fellow: Anglo-Irish (— 1951). Rarely offensive.

chit.—4. A pill: showmen's: late C. 19–20. Night and Day, July 22, 1937. Hence, chitworker, a fellow who sells pills on the markets. 'A "crocus" would say, "I'm grafting chits"' (Phillip Allingham, in letter, 1937).—5. See have a good chit.

chit, give (someone) a good—a bad. To speak well, or badly, of someone: Army: C. 20. See chit, 1 (Dict.).

chit-up. To seek (someone) through the head of his department: Naval officers': since ca. 1940. (P-G-R.) Ex chit, 1 (p. 149).

chitty.—2. A chit: Naval: since ca. 1935. (P-G-R.) Hence, also an Army term, since at least as early as 1945.

chiv, n., 1, is, in C. 20, applied esp. to a razor-blade set in a piece of wood and used as a weapon in the underworld.

chiv-man. A criminal that is a professional knifer: c.: C. 20. (The Pawnshop Murder.) See chive-fencer in Dict.

chive, v. 'To cut with a knife' (James Dalton, A Narrative, 1728): c.: C. 18–20. Cf. chiv, v., on p. 149, and also at p. 8, "'I'll chive him.'" chivey; chivvy. (Gen. as ppl. adj., chiv(v)ied.) To slash (a person) with a knife: c.: C. 20. Ex chivey, n., 1 (Dict.).

chivoo or chiveau. See shevoo.

chivver. A variant—since ca. 1920—of chiv-man above. (John Gosling, 1959.)

chivvy, 3 (p. 149): esp. among Cockneys, as, e.g., in A. Neil Lyons, Clara, 1912: late C. 19–20. n.—5. A moustache: London, mostly low but not c.: since ca. 1940. (Hank Hobson, Mission House Murder, 1959.) Ex sense 4 on p. 149.

chivvy, v.—6. To keep (someone) up to the mark by word and gesture: Army: late C. 19–20. Ex sense 2 of the v. on p. 149.

chizz. To cheat or swindle: Public and Grammar Schools': since ca. 1880; by 1950 at latest, archaic. From 'to chisel'.—2. Hence n., as in 'What a chizz!' (What a nuisance): C. 20.

chizzer. A 'chiseller': (preparatory) school-boys': C. 20. Nicholas Blake, A Question of Proof, 1935. Cf. swiz (Dict.).

chizzle (see chisel, p. 149): 1848, Sinks.

chizzy wag. A charity boy: Christ's Hospital: late C. 18–19. The reference in Leigh Hunt's Autobiography is valid for 1795 (Marples).

Chloe, blind as; drunk as Chloe. Utterly drunk. The former, ca. 1780–1860, occurs in The New Vocal Enchantress, 1791; the latter dates from ca. 1850 and, though (1948) slightly ob., is very far from †. The origin is lost in the mists of topicality.

Chloe, do a. See do a Chloe below.

chlorhin. To hear: Shelta: C. 18–20. B. & L.

chobey shop. A second-hand shop: circus hands': late C. 19–20. Perhaps cf. chovey (p. 151).

choc.—2. A militiaman (also choco and chocolate soldier): Australian: 1939–45. (B., 1943.)

choc-absorber. 'A girl or woman who can consume all the chocolates some fool of a man can supply her with. Derived from S. E. shock-absorber' (A. B. Petch, April 1966): since ca. 1955.

chock-a-block. Crammed full; as full as may be: coll., orig. nautical, esp. Naval: C. 19–20. In, e.g., Fredk Chamier, The Life of a Sailor, 1832, at I, 23, 'I was ushered into the larboard berth thus:—"Here, my lads, is another messmate . . ." —"What another!" roared a ruddy-faced midshipman of about eighteen; "he must stow himself away, for we are chock-a-block here."' Ex the lit. S.E. Sense. (Moe.) chocka. A variant of chocker.

chockablock with. Full of: Australian coll.: since ca. 1880. Brian Penton, Inheritors, 1936, "'Chockablock with skite," he growled.' Cf.:—

chocker, adj. Disgruntled, 'fed up': Naval lower-deck: since ca. 1920. H. & P. Ex chockful; corresponding to the Army's browned off. A 1939–45 Naval variant was at chocker stations. (Mr H. R. Spencer.) The simple chocker reached the R.A.F. by 1943 at latest.

chocks away! Get on with it!: R.A.F.: since ca. 1935. H. & P., 'Remove the wooden chocks and let the 'planes get off the ground'. Short for pull the chocks away.

choco. A conscientious objector: Australian: 1939 +. Lawson Glassop, We Were the Rats, 1944.—2. See choc, 2.

chocolate occurs in certain arbitrarily varied phrases implying sycophancy: Services (esp. R.A.F.): since ca. 1930. The semantic clue lies in brown-nose and brown-tongue.

chocolate, get a bar of. To receive praise from a senior officer: Naval: since ca. 1941. Granville.

chocolate gale. A strong wind blowing from the N.W. of the Spanish main: Naval coll.: mid-C. 19–20. (Bowen's Sea Slang.) chocolate soldier. See choc, 2.

Chocolate Staircase, the. A road with forty hairpin bends, N. of Tiddim, Burma: Army: 1941–5. (P-G-R.)

choke, n.—2. Usually in pl.: chokes, Jerusalem artichokes: greengrocers': late C. 19–20.—3. A garotting: Australian c.: since ca. 1920. (B., 1953.)—4. A nervous shock; something grievous: low: since ca. 1945. (L. J. Cunliffe, Having It Away, 1965.) Ex sense 2 of:—

choke, v. A synonym of strangle, 2, below: racing: since ca. 1920. Dick Francis, Dead Cert, 1962, 'He said if I wanted a lesson in how to choke a horse I'd better watch him on Bolingbroke.'—2. To jolt or shock; to disgust: since ca. 1930.

choke-jade. 'A dip in the course at Newmarket a few hundred yards on the Cambridge side of the running gap in the Ditch,' B. & L.; turf: from ca. 1860. It 'chokes off' inferior horses.

choke-off, n. An admonishment: military (ex choke off, v., 2) and prison officers': since ca. 1914. (L. W. Merrow-Smith & J. Harris, Prison Screw, 1962.)

choke off.—2. To reprimand or 'tell off' or retort successfully upon: military coll.: late C. 19–20.

choke one's luff. To assuage (someone's) hunger; to keep (him) quiet (cf. choke your luff on p. 150): nautical: 1818, Alfred Burton, Johnny Newcome. (Moe.)

choke your luff! (p. 150) goes back to ca. 1810 or a decade earlier. It is implied in The Night Watch, II, 301, 1828.

choked, adj., predicative only, as in 'I was, or I felt, real or proper choked'—disgusted; 'fed-up' or 'browned off', disgruntled: since ca. 1945. Cf. double-choked, below.

chokey, 1 (p. 150). Recorded in Australia ca. 1840. (Sidney J. Baker, letter of 1946.)

choki or chokie. A variant of chokey, 1 and 3 (Dict.). Sense 3, by the way, dates back to ca. 1870.

chokker. Variant spelling of chocker, adj.

chooch hat. A Naval and Army variant (esp. in India) of funny hat: since 1920's; by 1960, ob. Urdu chut.

chook. A chicken; collectively, chickens: Australian and New Zealand coll.: mid-C. 19–20. Ex E. and Irish dialect.—2. A woman, esp. if an older one: Australian pejorative: since ca. 1935. (Culotta.)

chookie. 'A girl friend, a young woman' (B., 1942): Australian: since ca. 1925. Cf. chuck, n., 1 (p. 152).

choom (p. 150).—2. Cf. Chooms, Englishmen in general; the C., a team of English cricketers or footballers: Australian: late C. 19–20; not very general before ca. 1919.

chop, n.—2. Wood-chopping contest: Australian and New Zealand coll.: late C. 19–20. B., 1942. It occurs in, e.g., K. S. Prichard, Working Bullocks, 1926.—3. A share: Australian: C. 20. (B., 1953.)—4. A swoop and the ensuing kill: N.E. Australian coll.: since ca. 1910. Jean Devanney, Travels in North Queensland, 1951, 'A school of large trevally in process of making what was known as a "chop".'

chop, v., 5. In nuance 'to move, come, go quickly, hurriedly, flurriedly': Sessions, Sept. 3, 1740.—6. To beat in a race: turf: from ca. 1860. Ex hunting j. (to seize prey before it clears cover). v.—7. To hit (a horse) on the thigh with the whip:

coach-drivers': C. 19. (W. O. Tristram, Coaching Days . . ., 1888. This author notes fan, to whip (a horse), towel, to flog it, and the nn. chopping, fanning, tovelling.)

chop, get the. To 'go for a Burton' (see gone for . . .), esp. in 'die' sense: R.A.F. aircrews' (incl. pilots): 1940+. (W/Cdr R. P. McDouall, April 12, 1945.) Applied to aircraft, it = to lose them on a raid.

chop, not much. Worthless: late C. 19-20. Cf. chop, no, on p. 150.

chop-chop.—3. A meal: United Nations troops during the Korean War of the 1950's. Ex chop-chop, 1 (p. 150), influenced by chop suey, a favourite Chinese dish.—4. 'The green top [of sugar cane] isn't trash. That's chop-chop—horse feed—when it's chopped up' (Jean Devanney, By Tropic Sea and Jungle, 1944): Australian cane-cutters': since ca. 1910.

chop-chop! (p. 150) is recorded earlier in The Chinese Repository, IV (Jan. 1836) at p. 434, in the article headed 'Jargon spoken at Canton'. Moe.

chop to pieces. In fisticuffs or boxing, to defeat severely: Australian sporting coll.: late C. 19-20. (B., 1943.)

chop-up. A division of plunder: Australian c.: C. 20. Baker.

Chopburg. Hamburg: R.A.F. (operational): 1941. (W/Cdr R. P. McDouall, April 12, 1945.) Obviously ham prompted chop. Another operational officer writes, in late 1961, thus, 'I always felt that Chopburg referred to the possibility of "getting the chop" over Hamburg rather than to any link between ham and a pork chop.' Both of these 'causes' were, I suspect, at work.

chopped. Killed, esp. by machine-gun fire: Army and Air Force: 1939-45. Perhaps cf. the U.S. underworld chopper, a machine-gun.

chopper.—3. A blow given from behind, esp. on the nape of the neck: Australian: since ca. 1915. (B., 1943.)—4. A sailor's broad-brimmed hat: Naval: ca. 1805-40. W. N. Glascock, The Naval Sketch-Book (II), 1826, 'I powders my pate, and claps on a broad-brimm'd chopper over all'. (Moe.)—5. A tail: mostly Cockney: late C. 19-20. 'Pleased as a dog with two choppers, 'e was, silly little bleeder,' Alexander Baron, There's No Home, 1950.—6. Penis: low: C. 20.—7. Usually in the pl. choppers, teeth, and china choppers, false teeth: Canadian (—1949).—8. A helicopter: Fleet Air Arm: since ca. 1955. Ex a blade that could chop off your head.—9. A car taken in part exchange: secondhand-car dealers': since ca. 1955. (Anthony Cowdy in the coloured supplement of The Sunday Times, Oct. 24, 1965.) Cf. S.E. chop and change.

Sense 7 has also, since ca. 1950, been English, esp. in National choppers, provided by the National Health Service.

chopper, v. To convey by helicopter: orig. and mainly flying s.: since ca. 1960. (David Walker, Devil's Plunge, 1968.) Ex chopper, n., 8, above.

Chopping. Chopin, as in 'Oh, just something by Chopin'—'Um! Thought it was chopping.' Lower-middle and lower class jocularity: late C. 19-20.

chopping sticks. In the game of House, it = 6: rhyming s.: late C. 19-20. Michael Harrison, Reported Safe Arrival, 1943.

choppy, n. A choppy wave: Australian surfers' coll.: since ca. 1950. (B.P.)

choppy. (Of a temperature chart) uneven, esp. of a fever patient: hospital nurses': since the 1920's. If even, it is flat.

chopsticks. Probably the original form of chopping sticks. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

choss up. To wreck, esp. a vehicle: Army: since ca. 1946. Ex chaos?

chots. Potatoes: Cotton College: C. 20. In C. 19, the form was chotties: ex teotties, the latter being a deliberate (?) variant of taties or taters; cf. totties. Frank Roberts, in The Cottonian, Autumn, 1938.

chounter (p. 151): prob. ex Yorkshire dial. chunter, 'to grumble; mutter bitterly'.

chow, n.—4. A term of contempt for a person: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Due to association with cow?—5. Cabbage: Australian: since ca. 1920. (B., 1953.)

chow! Phonetic spelling of ciao.

chow-chow. From Colonel Albert F. Moe, U.S.M.C., Ret., of Arlington, Virginia comes the following summary of the English use of this term and its compounds. I give it verbatim.

chow-chow (food), on p. 151.

FANNING, Edmund, Voyages Round the World, N.Y.: 1832, p. 253. August 5th 1798 . . . At day-break, when the cable was hove in, their [Chinese fishermen's] net was found so entangled and wound around, that we were obliged to cut it into several pieces before it was cleared, (but it could not be avoided,) for now they could not procure any chow-chow (victuals) until the net was first taken on shore and mended.

W. W. Wood, Sketches of China, Philadelphia: 1830, p. 216.

Chow-chow.* This, in the slang of Canton [pidgin-English], means either food, or a collection of various trifling articles.

ROBERTS, Edmund, Embassy to the Eastern Courts. N.Y.: 1837, p. 65. (October, 1832) . . . Having stepped on board, the first words they uttered, were "Capetan me peloto—you wanty peloto?" . . . The "celestial" . . . not forgetting to ask, as is usual, for a bottle of samsheew, (rum) which he snugly stowed away in his bosom. Scarcely had he taken half a dozen strides up and down the deck, and pointed to steer more to port, before he asked for chow, chow, meaning something to eat, which, to his astonished eyes, was furnished forthwith, in a lordly dish, on the quarter-deck.

chow-chow [food, general; pickles; preserves]

DOWNING, Charles Toogood, The Fan-Qui in China in 1836-7. London: 1848, I, p. 99.

(1838) Chow-chow is another favourite word with the Chinese. When applied to little dogs and tender rats, and other delicato articles of food, it is spoken with great gusto. . . . while a mixture of different pickles or preserves bear the same alluring title of chow-chow.

chow-chow (v. to eat). Charles de Montigny, Manuel de Négociant Français en Chine, 1846. Paris: 1846, p. 321.

chow-chow. Mixed, miscellaneous, mixed meats, to eat food.

chow-chow account [food account] Canton, November 2, 1830.

chow-chow amah [wet nurse] Hong Kong, 1886.

chow-chow basket [so-named from being divided into compartments, not from carrying an assortment, miscellany or medley of knick-knacks or odds-and-ends].

DOWNING, op. cit., I, p. 99.

Baskets, which are procured in Canton, with many compartments, are called chow-chow baskets. . . .

chow-chow cargo [assorted cargo], 1882.

chow-chow chop [chop = licensed lighter, chow-chow = odds-and-ends comprising the last lighter-load of cargo to complete the loading of the ship] [James Bannerman, ed.] Dialogues and Detached Sentences in the Chinese Language. Macao, 1816, p. 85. E[u]ropean]. That will do. Has the Country Ship sent down her Chow-chow Chop yet? MORRISON, Robert, A Dictionary of the Chinese Language. Macao, 1819. Part II, Volume I, p. 698/2.

. . . to send down the last boat load of goods to a ship, locally called the Chow chow chop.

chow-chow Joss [to place food offerings as a part of religious worship] 1886.

chow-chow man [dealer in all kinds of goods] 1878.

chow-chow water. DOWNING, op. cit., I, p. 99.

[1838] Where the river is troubled in particular parts near the shore by small eddies, that part of it is called chow-chow water.

chowline, the. A food queue in Naval Barracks: lower-deck: since ca. 1925. (P-G-R.)

chow miaow. 'A generic term (punning) for Chinese food': Australian: since ca. 1945. (Edwin Morrisby, Aug. 30, 1958.) Cf. chow, 1 (p. 151).

chowing or chipping is theatrical (from ca. 1870) for grumbling or incessant talking. B. & L.

Chowringhee star. See Firpo star.

chrissie. See chryssie.

Christ Almighty wonder. One who thinks very highly of himself; one who 'really has something', an exceedingly able person, some thing or event that is astounding or extremely surprising: late C. 19-20. 'He's a C.A.w. with cars'; 'It's a C.A.w. he's not run over twice nightly.'

christen.—6. To soil, chip, damage (something new or hitherto unmarked): late C. 19-20.

Christian poney or pony. A handcart man: Canadian, esp. in East: ? ca. 1860-1905. Canadian History Department's Bulletin, Dec. 1953. (Leechman).—2. A sedan-chairman: late C. 18-early 19. (W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (II, 89), 1829. Moe.) This makes better sense than Grose's (see p. 152).

Christmas, v.—2. Short for Christmas Eve. (Dict.)

Christmas card. A guard: mostly theatrical rhyming s.: C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

Christmas comes but once a year—thank goodness (or God)! A c.p. dating from ca. 1945 and used by those who detest what Christmas has been turned into by the profiteers.

Christmas tree.—2. 'R.A.F. Intruder pilots' slang [1940-45] for the Luftwaffe's airfield lighting system: flare-paths, boundary-lights and, in particular, the "visual Lorenz" approach-path lights, which from the air looked like a stylised pine-tree.' (Ramsey Spencer, March 1967).—3. 'The complex arrangement of pipes and valves at the head of an oil well to control the flow of oil' (Leechman): Canadian oilmen's: since ca. 1950. It occurs in, e.g., William Haggard, The Telemann Touch, 1958.—4. 'Colour [?] coloured] light multiple aspect gantry' (Railway, 3rd); railwaymen's: since ca. 1950.

chro. Short for chromo, 2: since 1930. (B.P.)

chromo.—2. A prostitute: Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1942. Ex gay dresses.

chronic, n. 'Those pathetic figures called "chronics"—middle-aged men [students] who haunted medical schools for ten years on end and yet, somehow, never managed to become qualified,' Francis Brett Young, Dr Bradley Remembers, 1938: medical: since ca. 1870.

chryssie (loosely chrissie). A chrysanthemum: Australian: since ca. 1920. (B., 1953.)

chu-shung! You little beast (or, animal)!: pidgin: from ca. 1860. B. & L. I.e. Chinese sheon-chu-shang. 'Often used jestingly in conversation with flower-boat girls.'

Chuck. Charles: Canadian (and U.S.): mid-C. 19-20.

chuck, v.—8. 'We chucked everything we had at them' (shelled them heavily): Army: 1939-45. (P-G-R.)

chuck a charley. To have a fit: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

chuck a fit. To pretend to have a fit: (low) coll.: mid-C. 19-20. B. & L.

chuck a seven. To die: Australian: C. 20. Baker.

chuck a sixer. To have a figurative fit: Australian: late C. 19-20. Baker.

chuck a willy. See willy.

chuck and chance it is an anglers' descriptive c.p. applied to rough-and-ready, artless fishermen: late C. 19-20. (H. A. Vachell, 1924.)

chuck and toss. Tossing for halfpence: proletarian coll.: mid-C. 19-20: ob. B. & L.

chuck-in. A voluntary subscription: Australian: late C. 19-20. Baker.

chuck one's hand in (p. 152) is, in the Navy, 'to refuse duty in order to state a "case" at the defaulters table' (Granville).

chuck-out. A dismissal, esp. from a job: New Zealand coll.: late C. 19-20. (G. B. Lancaster, The Tracks We Tread, 1907).—2. Closing-time at a public house: since ca. 1920. Ex chuck out, 1, on p. 153. Tommy Steele in a cinema interview, early Dec. 1963.

chuck the gab. See gab.

chuck-up.—2. Timely encouragement: a cheer (occ. ironical): Naval: since ca. 1920. Granville.

chuck up, v. To vomit. Australian: late C. 19-20. (B.P.)

chuck-wag(g)on. A cowboys' cook-wagon: Western prairies of Canada: since ca. 1910. Cf. chuck, n., 2 (p. 152).

chucking cabbage. (A bunch of) paper currency of low denomination: Australian journalists': adopted in 1942 or 1943 from U.S. Ex the predominant green of the notes or bills.

chucklehead. A stupid fellow: Newfoundland coll., adopted—ca. 1920—from U.S. Either American dial. chuckle, clumsy, stupid + head, or a pun n. The American chucklehead, the popular name of the woolly-headed clover. (L. E. F. English, Historic Newfoundland, 1955.)

chucks (a bosun) (p. 153): rather since ca. 1820: cf. Mr Chucks in Marryat's Midshipman Easy, 1836.

chuff, n. Food: Services, esp. Army: since ca. 1930. H. & P. Ex chow, n., 1 (Dict.): chow > chough > chuff.—2. Stimulation of male member by lumbar thrust in coition: low: late C. 19–20. In Durham dial., chuff = to cuff.—3. Hence, chuff chums, male homosexual associates, a chuff being a catamite; and chuff-box, pudendum muliebre; C. 20.—4. Anus: Australian: C. 20. Also, since ca. 1945, English.—5. Bottom, backside: New Zealand: C. 20. Hence, sit on one's chuff, to sit back and do nothing, as used by 'P.M.' Holyoake on July 30, 1967 (The Christchurch Star, the next day).

chuff, adj. Earlier in A. Neil Lyons, Arthur's, 1908.

chuff chum. A companion or 'pal': Services: since ca. 1930. Ex chuff, n.

chuff-nuts; dingle berries. Faecal nodules on anal hair: Naval: C. 20. Cf. chuff, 4.

chuffed. Pleased, delighted; but also, displeased, disgruntled: Army: C. 20. If one needed to distinguish, one used chuffed to fuck or chuffed to arseholes or chuffed pink or bo-chuffed, in the former, dead chuffed in the latter sense. Cf. chuff, adj. (p. 153 and this page).—2. Flattered: teenagers', esp. jazz-lovers': since ca. 1955. 'Janet Murray says: "I'd be chuffed" (current "Cat" word for flattered). It's nice to think someone fancies you": Woman's Own, 1959. Both of the main senses derive ex English dialect chuff, which perhaps has two entirely different origins.—3. Hence, real chuffed, excited: since late 1950's.

chum, n.—6. One of the Old Contemptibles: Army: 1915 +; but ob. by 1947.

chummy, n., 1 (p. 154), has, since ca. 1870, signified an ordinary sweep. See napper, 7.—5. A prisoner: jocularly euphemistic police term: since ca. 1925. (The Free-Lance Writer, April 1948.)

Sense 2 (p. 154) prob. goes back to at least twenty-five years earlier. Charles Clewearing, Simon Solus, a one-act farce played and published in New York in 1843, contains this passage: '... Nicer fellows, stouter hearts, freer souls, than some of my chummies just paid off.' As Colonel Albert Moe, U.S.M.C., Ret., has remarked, 'As American naval speech of that period was taken almost entirely and directly from British naval speech, I suggest that [this passage] represents a British expression appearing in an American publication': with so great an authority on American naval speech, I gladly agree.

chummy, v. To 'go partners' (with someone); work along with: Australian: since ca. 1870. 'Tom Collins', Such is Life, 1903, 'He chummied for a few weeks with a squatter'.

chummy ship. 'A ship's next-door-neighbour in an anchorage' (Granville): Naval: C. 20. See chummy ships in Dict.

chunder. To vomit: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B.P.) Cf. English dial. chunder, to grumble, an echoic word.

chunk, 3, appears in Thor Fredur, Sketches from Shady Places, 1879.

chunka or chunker. A boss or 'head': Australian rhyming s.: C. 20. B., 1942. Short for chunk of beef (late C. 19–20), rhyming on chief.

chup. Silence; mostly in keep chup, to keep quiet: Army: late C. 19–20. Ex Hindustani. (P-G-R.)

church, n. An endearment; esp. my church, my dear: non-aristocratic: ca. 1870–1910. B. & L.

church (or court or jail), I'll see you in. A c.p. used on departure: mostly Australian: since ca. 1910. (B.P.)

Church of Turkey. A non-existent religious denomination: Naval: C. 20.

churcher. A threepenny piece: Cockneys': late C. 19–20. J. W. Horsley, I Remember, 1912.

Churchill. A meal: taxi-drivers': late 1920's. Winston Churchill gave the taximan the right to refuse a fare whilst he is having a meal (newspaper cutting, June 11, 1945).

chury (p. 155). No; Vaux was right. The word comes from Welsh Romany chury (čuri); cf. Hindi chhuri, itself of Sanskrit origin.

chut. See chutty.—2, 3. A variant of chuff, n., 2, 3.

chute. A parachute: Air Force coll.: since ca. 1930. Partridge, 1945.

chute, v. To throw away: Australian Naval: since ca. 1930. (B., 1943.)

chute, up the. See up the chute.

chutney. See Navy cake.

chutty. Chewing gum: Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1942. 'Whence "chutto", masticate easily and pleasantly.' Ex chew it.

chy is merely a variant of chai, Romany for a girl: a term heard occ. among tramps in mid-C. 19–20.

ciào!—pron. chow. Common in the Espresso bars of Britain, Australia and elsewhere. My friend Nicolas Bentley, in a letter dated Oct. 13, 1961, writes, 'The Italian slang ciaou!—i.e. ciào—seems to be coming more and more into popular use, particularly among teenagers, as a form both of salutation and good-bye. I hear it frequently among young friends of mine . . . and fairly freely at the Royal College of Art.' It arose in the late 1950's.

cigar. A Woodbine or Player's Weight or any other similar cigarette, small but wholesome: from ca. 1930 and mostly Cockneys'.

cigar-box. See fish-horn.

cigarette card, talk like the back of a. See talk like . . .

cigarette swag. 'A small swag carried by a tramp when he comes into a city' (B., 1943): Australian: since ca. 1930. Ex shape and relative size.

cig(g)aboo. A cigarette: Australian, esp. Sydney-siders': since ca. 1948. (Edwin Morrisby, Aug. 30, 1958.)

Cigs. Chief of the Imperial General Staff: Service officers': 1939–45. Ex the initials C.I.G.S. (P-G-R.)

cinch (p. 155). But, since ca. 1910, the c has, all over the world, been soft. Since ca. 1930, the predominant sense, esp. in Australia, has been 'something (very) easy to do', as in 'Can you swim the length of the pool?'—'Yes, it's a cinch.' (B.P.)

cinder cruncher. A switchman: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931). Cf.:

cinder shifter. A speedway rider: Australian: 1924 +. B., 1942. Ex cinder track.

Cinderella's coach; glass coach. A District Engineer's coach; railwaymen's: since ca. 1920. (Railway.)

cipher queen. See Cypher Queen.

circuit, the. 'The worn track round the compound . . . which kriegies "pounded" or "bashed" (walked) . . . to get away from their own thoughts,' Paul Brickhill & Conrad Norton, Escape to Danger, 1946: prisoners of war in Germany, 1940-5.

circuit and bumps. 'Exercise flights consisting of repeated take-offs and landings,' E. P., 'Air Warfare and Its Slang' in The New Statesman, Sept. 19, 1942: since ca. 1925.

circuit-and-bumps boy; usually in pl. A flying pupil: R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. Jackson. Ex the prec. entry.

circumference. See radius.

circus, it's a or was a . . . ; or . . . real circus. It is, or was, very comical: soldiers': 1914-18.

Ciren (pron. as S.E. syren). Cirencester: local and railwaymen's coll.: late C. 19-20.

city bull-dog. See 'Constables'.

city slicker. A smart, smooth fellow from the city: Australian; adopted, ca. 1944, ex U.S. servicemen.—2. Hence, loosely, any city chap: since ca. 1950. (Jon Cleary, Back of Sunset, 1959.)

civil, do the. To do the civil—the polite—thing: coll.: C. 19-20; by 1960, slightly ob. (A. Trollope, Barchester Towers, 1857.)

civilian.—2. See 'Tavern terms', § 3, d.—3. 'The surgeon, purser, and chaplain, are commonly designated . . . civilians' (W. N. Glascock, The Naval Sketch-Book (I, 12), 1925): Naval: ca. 1800-60. Moe.

civvies (p. 156). Also in the Navy: C. 20. Granville, 'The term "mufti" is never used in the Royal Navy.'

civvy.—3. Hence, a recruit waiting to be issued with a uniform: Services: since ca. 1920. H. & P.

Civvy Street. The condition and status of a civilian; 'What did you do in Civvy Street?' was often heard, 1939-45, in the Services, where its use persists. H. & P. On the analogy of Easy Street, it was first used in ca. 1917 by the Army. See civvy in Dict.

cla. See 'Colston's'.

clacker.—2. Pie crust: Naval: C. 20. Granville, "'Any gash clacker loafing?" means "Any more pie?"' Echoic.

clackers; or jam clacker (cf. clacker, 2, above). 'Pastry, "duff", spread over with currants (or jam), prepared by men on small dish and which would be cooked by galley' (Laurie Atkinson, Sept. 11, 1967): Naval: C. 20. Cf. clagger in Dict.

clag. Cloud; a cloud: R.A.F.: since ca. 1935 (?). Ex dial, clag, clay.

claim, v., 2 (p. 156), is much earlier in sense 'catch hold of, seize, grasp (a person)': Sessions, Nov. 19, 1902, 'Tyler jumped out at the window—I claimed him and tustled [sic] with him.'

clamp down on (e.g. delinquents or malefactors). To apply the full severity of the law or the regulations: since mid-1940's: coll. >, by ca. 1960, S.E.

clamped down is an Air Force brevity for 'The cloud is now very low, or visibility bad': Flying-Officer Robert Hinde, letter of March 17, 1945: since ca. 1925. Cf. clamp down, v.i. to become foggy: Air Force: since ca. 1930. Cecil Lewis, Pathfinders, 1943.

clampers, often elaborated to Harry Clampers 'It's (Harry) Clampers' = It's non-flying weather: R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. Prob. ex clamped down (above).

clampy. A flat-footed person: Naval: since ca. 1925. Granville. Echoic; app. reminiscent both of clatter and stamp (about).

clanger. See drop a ballock.—2. A coward Australian: since ca. 1940. (B., 1953.)—3. Diminutive of double clanger.

clanger, drop a. See drop a ballock.

clangeroo. A memorably bad misjudgement: mainly theatrical: since late 1940's. Terence Rattigan, in Introduction to Mander & Mitchenson's Theatrical Companion to Coward, 1957, '... Not just a floater but a real old-fashioned clangeroo'. Ex clanger, 1, q.v. at drop a ballock below. The -oo comes from the American suffix -eroo.

clap hands Charley (or Charlie), do a. To fly an aircraft in such a way as to cause the wings—or the rotor blades of a helicopter—to meet overhead: R.A.F.: since ca. 1945. (With thanks to an operational R.A.F. officer.)

clap-trap. Much talk: Londoners': C. 20. Perhaps ex S.E. sense of 'language designed to win applause'.—2. ? hence, mouth: low, esp. Londoners': from ca. 1910.

clapped out. (Of aircraft) unserviceable, worn out: R.A.F., esp. in Far East: 1942 +. I.e. the roof has been clamped down.—2. Hence, (of persons) exhausted: since ca. 1946; esp. among teenagers since ca. 1955. (Gilderdale.)

Sense 1 is—esp. among racing drivers—derivatively applied to a car engine: since ca. 1946.

clapper.—4. (Ex 2.) A sandwich-board man: street s.: since ca. 1910. Desmond Morse-Boycott, We Do See Life!, 1931.

clappers. Testicles: mostly servicemen's: since ca. 1930. John Winton, We Joined the Navy, 1959, 'Don't let me hear you making another report like that again or I'll have your clappers for a necktie'. Cf. clanger at drop a ballock, below.

clappers, like the. 'Very fast, or very hard (e.g. "run like the clappers"; or "the clappers of hell").' Gerald Emanuel, letter of March 29, 1945: C. 20; since ca. 1925, much used by the R.A.F. As clapper suggests bell, so hell rhymes on bell: and go like hell is to run very hard indeed.

clappy. Strictly, infected with 'clap'; loosely, with either gonorrhoea or syphilis: Anglo-Irish: C. 20. Nicholas Blake, The Private Wound, 1968, "'You son of a clappy whore.'"

Clara and Mona. 'Mona and Clara, the air-raid and all-clear signals . . . the moaning of the warning sirens and a contraction of the welcome "all-clear",' Berrey, 1940: since 1940.

claret, v. (Usually in passive.) To draw blood from, to cause to be covered with blood. 'Purcell's mug was clareted,' Boxiana, II, 1818. Ex claret, n.,—p. 157.

clash. A set battle, planned and announced, between two gangs of hooligans and/or near-criminals: Glasgow c. and lower-class s.: from ca. 1920. MacArthur & Long. It differs from a rammy, which is unarranged and may take place between two quite small groups.

clashy (p. 157). The Urdu khlasy has thus been corrupted.

class, do a bit of. To commit a crime that is, by criminals, considered notable or, at the least, not below one's abilities: c.: from ca. 1880. Clarence Rook, The Hooligan Nights, 1899.

classy, n.—2. A variant of clashy (Dict.).

clatter. 'He has just finished a "clatter", fourteen days in the compound,' R. Grinstead, They Dug a Hole, 1946: Guardsmen's: since ca. 1925. Echoic.

clayey or clayie. A home-made marble of sun-baked clay: Australian children's: ca. 1890-1945. (B.P.)

clean, v.—2. To scold severely: to chastise: (low) Cockney: late C. 19-20. 'I won' 'alf clean yer when I gits yer 'ome!' Ex the lit. sense of that threat.

clean, adv. (p. 157), in sense 'completely', is archaic S.E. rather than coll.: cf. '...until all the people were passed clean over Jordan' (Joshua, iii, 17).

clean job of it, make a. See job of it...

clean potato.—2. 'A person of unblemished character' (B., 1943): Australian: ca. 1850-1910.

clean round the bend. See round the bend.

Clean-Shirt Day. Sunday: lower-classes' coll.: since ca. 1820; † by 1900. Sinks, 1848.

clean-skin. A person without a police record: Australian police: since ca. 1910. (B., 1943; Vince Kelly, The Shadow, 1955). Ex sheep-farming: cf. clean-skins (p. 158).

Clean-Skins.—2. (Often in singular.) Persons of (esp. political) integrity: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

clean the slate. To pay all debts: non-aristocratic coll.: from ca. 1860. B. & L. (The slate on which, in public-houses, drinking debts are noted.)

clean up, v.—2. (Prob. ex sense 1: p. 158.) To defeat: Australian since ca. 1915, New Zealand since ca. 1916. Slatter.

clean-up. A victory; a rout: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. Ex the v.

clear one's yard-arm. See yard-arm, clear one's on p. 969.

clear-skin. An Australian variant of clean-skin(s) in all three senses: C. 20. (B., 1943.)

cleat. Glans penis: low: late C. 19-20.

cleek. 'A wet blanket (at a party)': beatniks': since ca. 1959. (Anderson.) Adopted ex American jazz s. for 'a sad or melancholy person' (Wentworth & Flexner).

Clem. See Chad.

Clem-Manny-Nye. Clement Attlee, Emanuel Shinwell, Aneurin Bevan: Labour familiarities of the 1930's-1950's; affected by the self-important.

clenchprop (see clinchprop on p. 158) seems to have gone underground for two or three centuries and then to have come again to the surface. Mr Spencer heard it applied, in July 1967, by a Mod to 'some typically repulsive Rockers' in the High Street, Camberley, Surrey.

Clerk of the Kitchen. See 'Tavern terms', § 5.

clever.—6. In good health; not too clever, ill: Aus.: C. 20. Baker, 1959.—7. Proficient: Aus.: C. 20. Ibid. Ex sense 1 on p. 158.

clever boys, the. Servicemen (or others) with only theoretical knowledge: Services: since 1940. Derisively: the really clever boys, 'people with positively academic knowledge' (H. & P.).

clever chaps these Chinese; sometimes damned (or dead) clever these Chinese! A Naval c.p., heard occasionally in the other Services: C. 20; by late 1940's, also fairly gen. among 'U' rather than 'non-U' civilians; used as a comment upon an explanation given about some device, especially if it hasn't been understood. A back-handed tribute to Chinese ingenuity. It occurs in, e.g., John Winton, We Saw the Sea, 1960, on p. 154.

clever Mike. A bicycle: C. 20. Rhyming on bike.

cleversides; clever Dick. Schoolchildren's (the former mainly North Country) coll.: synonym, often ironical, of clever person: late C. 19-20.

clew to ear-ring, (esp. know) from. In every detail, thoroughly: Naval coll.: late C. 19-20.

clew-up, v.i. To join another ship; Naval: since ca. 1895. H. & P., 'To fix one's hammock by the clew system.'—2. To finish a job: Naval: since ca. 1920. Granville, 'The original meaning was to draw the clews of the sail to the yard-arm for furling.'—3. To meet an old messmate: Naval: since ca. 1930. Granville, 'I clewed up with old Dusty Miller in the Smoke.'

cleymans. A rare variant of cleyme (Dict.).

click, n.—5. (Cf. 2: p. 139.) A set, a group; somewhat pejorative: since ca. 1925.

click, v., 4 (p. 159), seems to have arisen before 1914; on the evidence of several dependables, I'd put it at ca. 1910.—5. (Of a cow) to become pregnant: Australian rural: since ca. 1919. (B., Australia Speaks, 1953.)

click, in the. See crook, in the.

Click, the. The Clique: booksellers' illiteracy: hence, educated booksellers' jocular coll.: C. 20.

clickety click (Dict.) is used also by darts players.

clicket(ty)-clicks. Rhyming s. on knicks = (female) knickers: C. 20. It occurs in one of Neil Bell's short stories—? A Proper Beano.

clicky. Cliquey: coll.: C. 20. Cf. click, n., 2 (Dict.).

cliffhanger. 'A (silent) film shown in weekly serials; from the precarious predicaments in which the heroine'—so often played by Pearl White—'was left at the end of each part. Dates probably from before 1914 but has been revived to describe similar T.V. serials and extended to anything exciting and drawn out, e.g. a suspense novel' (Peter Sanders, in note of mid-1965.)

clifty, to steal; cliftying, stealing, act(s) of theft: New Zealand: C. 20. (Iddiwah, July 1953.) Apparently an extension of the moribund clift (p. 159).

clifty wallah. A smart fellow, esp. a too smart man: Army: 1939-45. (P-G-R.). This clifty derives ex Arabic klefti, a thief—whence also, presumably, clifty, to steal.

climb the rigging. Earlier in 'Taffrail'.

climbing Mary. See whistler, 9.

climbing trees to get away from it! See getting any? below.

clinch.—2. A prolonged and passionate embrace: adopted, ca. 1945, ex U.S.

clinched. Imprisoned: C. 20: Australian c. >, by 1940, low s. See clinch (p. 159).

cliner (p. 159): 'Practically obsolete,' says Baker, 1942. Ultimately ex Ger. klein, small.

clinic. A public-house: office- and shop-girls': ca. 1955-60. (Gilderdale.) There one finds exactly what the doctor prescribed.

clinker link. A lower-grade employee, engaged in furnace-cleaning: railwaymen's: since ca. 1920. (Railway.)

clip-joint. A night-club, or a restaurant, where the prices are high and the patrons are fleeced: Canadian: adopted, ca. 1930, ex U.S. Ex sheep-shearing.

clip-nit. See 'Rogues'.

clip-up, v.i. A Cockney coll. that, dating from ca. 1890 (or earlier), has no synonym in S.E. and should therefore, by this time, have been considered S.E. It is a schoolboys' method of casting lots by approaching each other from opposite kerbs, with a heel-to-toe step'. He who finds that the last gap is too small for the length of his foot is the loser.

clipped corner, the. The mark, on a discharge-paper, of a thoroughly bad character: Naval coll.: C. 20. Also called a blanker (see p. 61).

clipper.—3. '... "clippers"', the police term for the professional store thieves' (Godfrey Winn, in Woman, Dec. 11, 1965): C. 20. Ex clip, to rob.

clippy. A girl conductor on bus or tram: since 1939. The New Statesman, Aug. 30, 1941. H. & P. Ex clipping tickets.—2. (Usually written clippie.) An employee checking and clipping tickets at railway stations: Australian: since ca. 1940. (B., 1953.)

Sense 1 was 'perhaps influenced by Messrs Lyons's waitresses, advertised by their employers in the 1920's and 1930's as "Nippies"' (Ramsey Spencer, March 1967).

clishpen. To break (a thing) by letting it fall: Shelta: C. 18-20. B. & L. Cf. Shelta clisp, to fall or to let fall.

cloak. To place (hat, coat, etc.) in a cloak-room: Australian: since ca. 1945. (B., Australia Speaks, 1953.) Rather, since ca. 1920, to judge by its use in Tom Ronan, Only a Short Walk, 1961.

cloak and dagger club, in the. See 'Prisoner-of-War Slang', 4. The phrase cloak and dagger was also, in 1939-45, used by Service officers for 'secret service' (work, etc.).

clob lout. A man very heavy on his feet: Army: C. 20. Clob is echoic.

cllobber, v.—2. To re-decorate a (usually plain) piece of china to enhance its value; whence cllobbered china: antique dealers': late C. 19-20.—3. To punch or strike; to assault: since ca. 1910: orig., low; by ca. 1945, fairly general. Echoic.

cllobber with or for. To remember (someone) with or for, e.g. an onerous duty or an unwelcome burden.

cllobbering. A heavy bombing: Air Force: 1941+. Echoic. Ex cllobber, v., 3.

clock, n., sense 4 (p. 160), continued. 'Then comes the "clock" in the taximeter. It has other names: the "ticker", the "kettle", "Mary Ann", and the "hickory". "Hickory" seems abstruse until you remember the nursery rhyme and add "dickory dock",' Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939. 5. Hence, an air-raid indicator: R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. Jackson.—6. (Also round the clock) A year's prison sentence: Australian c.: C. 20. B., 1942. As 12 hours, so 12 months.—7. A speedometer: coll.: since ca. 1920.

clock, v.—2. To punch, to strike (with one's fist): Australian: since ca. 1925. Baker. Cf. dong (p. 223).—3. To watch (someone) patiently: since ca. 1930. (Norman.) Ex sense 1, on p. 160.—4. To register on the speedometer; to attain a speed of (so many m.p.h.): since ca. 1925. Ex sense 7 of the n.—5. (A specialization of sense 3.) 'To "clock" someone is to follow someone and see what he backs. This is sometimes expressed as "Get on his daily"' (The Sunday Telegraph, May 7, 1967, anon. article on bookies' s.): racing: since ca. 1930.

Sense 2: also, since ca. 1930, English, as in 'I could have clocked him' or 'clocked him one'.

clock(-)basher or watch(-)basher. An instrument maker, instrument repairer, as an R.A.F.

'trade': R.A.F.: since ca. 1937. Jackson. See basher, 6.

clock captain. A captain that alters the bowling, not by a tactical but by a chronological calculation: cricketers' coll.: C. 20.

clock-in a beef. To make a 'regulation' complaint or a big fuss: Wrens': since ca. 1939. Cf. S.E. put in a complaint and clocking-in (punching the 'clock') at a factory.

clocky. A watchman: ca. 1820-70. Sinks, 1848. He makes his rounds at regular intervals.

clod, n.m 1 (p. 160). Rare in the singular, clods = clod-hoppers, rhyming s. on coppers, copper coins, dating from ca. 1870. Sydney Lester, Vardi the Palarey, (?) 1937.—2. Any non-Etonian: Eton: ca. 1800-60. Spy, 1825. De haut en bas!—3. At certain Scottish schools, a pupil: mid-C. 19-20.

clodhoppers. See clod above.

clod-skulled. See 'Epithets'.

Cloe. See drunk as Chloe, inadvertently omitted from the Dict.

clog. A clog-dancer: coll.: since ca. 1880. Josiah Flynt & F. Walton, The Powers that Prey, 1900 (p. 251).

Clog and Knocker (Railway), the. The old Great Central Railway running from Marylebone to Manchester: railwaymen's: C. 20; after ca. 1950, merely historical. (Railway.) Ex the clogs formerly much worn by Lancashire women. The Knocker element prob. derives ex 'that other Lancashire institution the knocker-up, who in pre-alarm-clock days used to do the rounds of the mill-hands' homes, waking them in time for work by knocking on bedroom windows with the pole which he carried' (Ramsey Spencer).

cloi. A cloister. Christ's Hospital: late C. 19-20. Marples.

close; more gen. clo'es. Clothes: sol.: C. 19-20. (Nevinson, 1895.)

close hangar, or the hangar, doors! Stop talking shop!: R.A.F.: since ca. 1936. H. & P. (shorter phrase); Jackson (longer).

close-poling. Two (trolley) buses running very close together: busmen's: since ca. 1935. Ex punting on the river? Perhaps rather ex the trolley-pole, as Ramsey Spencer suggests.

close stick; open stick. 'A stick of bombs dropped to explode in a small—a large—area': R.A.F.; j. rather than s. or coll. H. & P.

close your eyes and guess what God has sent—or brought—you! Often heard, in C. 20, as a jocular c.p.

clot. A fool, a 'stupid'; an incompetent: since ca. 1920: at the first, upper-middle class. Peter Chamberlain, 'The man's a bigger clot than I took him for.' By a pun on equivalent S.E. clod.

cloth-ears, he has (got) or he's-got. A c.p. applied to one who doesn't wish to hear: Cockneys': C. 20. Ex caps with ear-flaps.

cloth in the wind (p. 161) goes back to ca. 1810 or earlier. 'I'd too many cloths in the wind'—glossed as 'drunk, in nautical slang': W. N. Glascock, The Naval Sketch-Book (II, 136), 1828. Moe.

clothes(-)peg. An egg: rhyming: C. 20.

cloud on the deck. 'A cloud base coincident with a sea or land surface,' E. P. in The New Statesman, Sept. 19, 1942. See deck (Dict).

cloud-creep, mostly be cloud-creeping. To keep under cloud cover: R.F.C.-R.A.F.: 1916-18. 'Trying to get into position to attack some Huns that were cloud-creeping' (V. M. Yeates, Winged Victory, 1934, p. 92).

Cloudy Joe. Nickname for a Meteorological Officer: R.A.F.: 1940 +.

clout, v., 3: also Australian (with variant clout on): B., 1942. Prob. from U.S. See Underworld.—4. To palm cards dishonestly; often as n. clouting: Australian card-players': since ca. 1940. (B., 1953.)

clower. A basket: c.: ? C. 18—mid-19. B. & L. derive it ex Gaelic cliah (a basket). Open to suspicion, this entry!

clown; clown wagon. A switchman, a yard brakeman; a caboose: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931). Humorously pejorative.

club, n.—6. A propeller: R.A.F.: since ca. 1925. H. & P. Ex shape.—7. A heavy cricket bat or lawn-tennis racket: Cranbrook School: C. 20.

club, put in the. Short, for pudden club, put in the (Dict.). Michael Harrison, Reported Safe Arrival, 1943.

club run, the. A routine convoy trip in wartime: Naval: 1939–45. Mostly officers'.

club-winder. A switchman, a brakeman: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931). Rather, ca. 1880–1910. Ex a club used to 'wind' the brake. (Leechman.)

Clubs. Nickname for physical training instructor: Naval (lower-deck): since ca. 1910. Ex Indian clubs.

clucky. Pregnant: Australian low: C. 20. B., 1942. Ex hens.

clue. A girl, or young woman: Australian: since ca. 1930. Baker.—2. See:— clue, have no; have you a clue? To be ignorant, have no information; have you heard anything, do you know anything?: mostly Army: 1942 +. Ex clueless.

clue up. To 'put (someone) in the picture', to brief, inform, instruct: since the middle 1940's. Cf. gen up below.

clued(-)up. Well-informed; alert: mostly Australian: since ca. 1941. (B.P.) Cf. clue up above and contrast clueless below.

clueless. Ignorant; esp. in clueless type (opposite of gen wallah) and, in answer to a question, 'I'm clueless': R.A.F., since ca. 1939; hence Army, since ca. 1941. Jackson. Ex crime-detection. Also, since ca. 1941, New Zealand airmen's and soldiers'. (Slatter.)

cluey, adj. and n. (One who is) well-informed or alert: Australian: since ca. 1945. Ex clued-up above. B.P. quotes 'He should be on T.V.; he's a real cluey' and 'Ask Bert, he's pretty cluey'.

clumsy as a cub-bear handling his prick. Very clumsy indeed: a low Canadian c.p.: C. 26.

clunk. A man; a chap: Australian low, esp. Sydney: C. 20. Ruth Park, The Harp in the South, 1948. Echoic.—2. Hence, since ca. 1950, predominantly a simple fellow, or even a fool. (B., 1953.)—3. An ill-bred or ill-mannered person: Canadian: since late 1950's. (Leechman.) Perhaps semantically 'a lump': cf. the clunk, clunk, words in the E.D.D.

clunk!: intensively ker-lunk! Echoic of sounds deeper than those expressed by boink (above) and doink (below): late C. 19–20, but perhaps going back for centuries.

clunky. Ill-bred or ill-mannered: Canadian: since late 1950's. (Leechman.) Ex sense 3 of clunk, n., 3.

cly. To haunt; molest: c. (— 1688). Randle Holme. Cf. cloy, v., on p. 162.

co, 2 (p. 162), is recorded in 1818. (Moe.)—Sense, 4. The phrase in co, 'in league with': earlier in The New Monthly Magazine, 1817 (article by Jon Bee).—6. Call-over: Rugby Schoolboys': from ca. 1880. Printed C.O. in the call-over lists.

co, join; co, part. To join (the) company; to part company: since ca. 1810—therefore co, 2, on p. 162, should be considerably back-dated. In Sailors and Saints, 2 vols., 1829, W. N. Glascock has 'Joining Co.' as title of Chapter 2 in Vol. I, and 'Parting Co.' as title of ch. 22 in II; earlier The Port Folio, Nov. 2, 1805 (p. 341), quotes ex a British song the words 'one King and Co' (the King of England and his subjects). Moe.

Co-Joe. The second pilot of a two-pilot aircraft: R.A.F.: since ca. 1945. Cf. second dicky, 2, below.

co-re. A co-respondent: Society: since ca. 1921. Cyril Burt, The Case of the Fast Young Lady, 1942.

co-respondent's shoes. Brown-and-white sports shoes: since ca. 1925.

coach-horses. The crew of the State or Royal Barge: late C. 18–19. John Davis, The Post-Captain, 1806. (Moe.)

coachers. Tame cattle as decoys to wild: Australian coll.: C. 20. Ion Idriess, Men of the Jungle, 1932.

coachman on the box. Syphilis: rhyming s. (on pox): from ca. 1870. In C. 20, the coachman.

coal, 2. Earlier in J. H. Horsley, I Remember, 1912. Prob. ex lost rhyming s. coal-heaver, a 'stever' (q.v. in Dict. at stiver).—3. Petrol: Army drivers': 1939–45. (P-G-R.)

coal, pour on the. The Canadian 'shape', adopted by all vehicle-drivers, of coals on... below: since ca. 1950. (Leechman.)

coal-box, 1 (p. 163): earlier in W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (II, 119), 1829, "Now, my boys, regular coal-box." Earlier in his Sketch-Book, II, 1826. (Moe.) It derives ex the din made by a coal-box being vigorously shaken.

coal-heaver (p. 163) probably rhymes on stiver (p. 833). Often shortened to coal; occasionally to heaver—cf. heaver, 4, below.

coal-scuttle (p. 163). The shorter form occurs in Sinks, 1848.—2. A Japanese heavy-mortar bomb: Army in Far East: 1942–5. (P-G-R.) Ex the heavy smoke.

Coalies, the.—2. The Coldstream Guards: Army: C. 20.

coals (and coke). Penniless: late C. 19–20. Rhyming on broke, it is a variant of coal and coke (Dict.).

coals on, put the. To increase speed: London busmen's: since ca. 1935.

coaly (p. 163). Rather, C. 19–20. Boxiana, II, 1818.

coast, v., 2. Esp. as vbl n. 'Coasting. Walking near people in crowds,' Duncan Webb in Daily Express, Sept. 11, 1945: Black Market: 1943 +.

Coast, the.—2. The coast of British Columbia: Canadian coll., except, naturally, in the Eastern maritime provinces: C. 20. (Leechman.)

coast about. A synonym of coast, v. (p. 163): C. 20. (B., 1943.)

coast-crawling. Cruising along the coast of North Africa: Naval: 1940–5. (P-G-R.)

coat.—2. To arrest (a person): c.: from ca. 1910. Gen. as ppl adj., coated.

coat, on the. (Of person) in—sent to—Coventry: Australian: since ca. 1930. B., 1942. Ex coat, v., 1 (Dict.)?

coat and badge (p. 163) is also gen. Cockney s. Len Orten, Down Donkey Row, 1938.

coat of arms. The rank badge of Warrant Officers, Class 1: Army: since ca. 1920. H. & P., 'When a man is promoted to this majestic rank he is said to "have his coat of arms up".' Humorous.

Coathanger, the. The Sydney Harbour Bridge: Melbourne, Australia: from 1932, when the bridge reached completion, until ca. 1940. (B.P.) coating.—2. Hence (?), a thrashing: Army (esp. in the Guards): 1939 +. Gerald Kersh, They Die with Their Boots Clean, 1941, and The Nine Lives of Bill Nelson, 1942.

Cob or Cobb. 'Inevitable' nickname for man surnamed Webb: C. 20. A pun on S.E. cobweb. (A. B. Petch, March 1966.)

cob.—4. A roll of bread: prison c.: since ca. 1925. (Norman.)—5. A testicle: low: late C. 19–20. Brendan Behan, Borstal Boy, 1958. 'Now, no knee and nut stuff and no catching by the cobs.'

cob o' coal (p. 163): by 1960, †.

cob on, have a (p. 163), has, since ca. 1939, also been Naval. More probably ex dial. cob, a piece, esp. a large piece.

Cobar shower. A dust storm: Australian: C. 20. Baker, 'Other inland place-names are often used instead of Cobar'; Cobar is an inland town in N.S.W.

Cobb, by (p. 163). These coaches ceased to run in Aug. 1924.

cobber, 2 (p. 164). The Yiddish word itself comes from Hebrew.

cobber-dobber. 'One who betrays a friend' (B., 1959): Aus.: since early 1930's. Cf. dob-in below.

cobber-up. To become friends (with someone): Aus.: since ca. 1920. (B., 1959.)

cobbler, 2 (p. 164): also New Zealand sheep-shearers': C. 20. Straight Furrow, Feb. 21, 1968.

cobbler's awls. Testicles: low rhyming s. (on balls): late C. 19–20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.) The effective origin of cobblers on p. 164. Cf. the variant cobblers' stalls.

cobbler's curls. See cobbler, 3 (Dict.).

cobblers' stalls. Human testicles: low rhyming: C. 20. Cf. orchestra stalls, q.v. in Dict.

cobbo is a familiar form of cobber, 2 (p. 164): since ca. 1920. B., 1942.

cobbon. See cawbawn.

cobweb rig, the. Some form of swindling: late C. 18–mid-19. In the anon. ballad (published ca. 1800) The Rolling Blossom, we find:

'The cobweb and the robbing rigs,
I practise every day, sir.'

Cock. Cockfosters: London Transport Board employees': since ca. 1930.

cock, penis, appears earlier in N. Field, 1618. See quotation at standing...—7. Recorded by B. & L.; mid-C. 19–20.—13. Short for poppycock, nonsense: since ca. 1938. R. C. Hutchinson, Interim, 1945.—14. Cheek, impudence: Oundle: since late 1920's. Marples. Ex cocky.—15. A cockle: mostly Welsh fishermen's: C. 20. (Wilfred Granville, March 17, 1967.)

cock, adj. Male: beatniks': since late 1950's. (Anderson.) Contrast hen, adj., below.

cock, all to. Awry; (of a statement) inaccurate; (of work) bungled: coll.: C. 20.

cock, hoist a. 'To win a regatta and display a silver or tin cut-out of a cock in the rigging of a winning ship' (Wilfred Granville, Aug. 10, 1962): Naval coll.: C. 20.

cock, hot; a lot of cock. (Utter) nonsense: Aus.: since ca. 1940. (B., 1959.)

cock-a-brass. App. this c. term belongs to C. 18–19. B. & L., 'A confederate of card-sharpers who remains outside the public-house where they are operating. When they have left, cock-a-brass protects their retreat by misleading statements to the victim on the direction taken by them.'

cock a chest. To preen oneself; to put on 'side'; to brag: Naval: C. 20. Granville. Cf. chuck a chest, 2 and 3 (Dict.).

cock-a-wax, 2 (p. 164): dates from ca. 1820 or earlier. It occurs in Wm Maginn, Whitehall (p. 87), 1827, thus, 'What will you drink, my cock-of-wax, my Trojan, true as ever whistled'. Moe.

cock and hen. A man and wife (together): taxi-drivers': since ca. 1910.—Herbert Hodge, 1939.—4. Odds of 10 to 1: racing, esp. bookmakers': C. 20. (The Daily Telegraph, May 7, 1967.) Ex sense 2 on p. 164: ten.

cock-broth. Nutritious soup: tramps' c.: C. 20. Esp. at the Brighton casual ward: see W. A. Gape, Half a Million Tramps, 1936.

cock-cheese. Smegma: low: late C. 19–20.

cock-eye, n. See cocky Bob.

cock-my-cap. Some kind of strong liquor fashionable in the 1720's. Anon., The Quaker's Opera, 1728.

cock on; usually as cock it on. To charge excessively; to exaggerate: since ca. 1910; by 1960, slightly ob. Perhaps ex haymaking.

Cock Robin(son). See 'Nicknames'.

cock-tail, 4 (p. 165): recorded in Australia in 1867. (Sidney J. Baker, letter.)

cock-tails, the. Diarrhoea: Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1942.

cock-tax. Alimony: Australian: since ca. 1850. Ian Fleming, You Only Live Twice, 1964.

cock-tease, v.t. To excite sexually: low coll.: C. 20. (Angus Wilson, A Bit off the Map, 1957.)

cock up, v. To cane (a boy): Charterhouse (ca. 1870–1925) and St Bees (1915 +). Marples.—2. To make a mess of; hence, also n., as in 'He made a complete cock-up of his orders': Army: since ca. 1925. (P-G-R.)

cockatoo, 1 (p. 166) derives rather ex the fact that a farmer trying to live off a small piece of land resembles, in this, a cockatoo. (B.P.) cockatoo, v.—2. (Ex the n., 2: p. 166). To act as look-out for a gang of crooks: Australian c.: since ca. 1910. Baker.

cockatoo's weather. Weather that is fine by day and wet at night; also, fine on weekdays but wet on Sunday: Australian coll.: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)

cocked-hat. An error in reckoning: Naval: C. 20: Granville, 'When pencilling a course on a chart, instead of the lines meeting, they cross and form a "cocked-hat"'.—2. A Lord Mayor; a State Governor: Australian: C. 20. Baker. Ex hat worn on official occasions.

cocker. A cockroach: Australian: late C. 19–20. (Ruth Park, A Power of Roses, 1953.) But also widespread nautical, as in Elleston Trevor, Gale Force, 1956.—2. Also me old cocker. Matey: a vocative between Cockney males: C. 20.

cockle. Short for:— cockle-and-hen. A deformation (conscious?) of cock-and-hen, 1–3, on pp. 164–5.

cockle to a penny, a. 10 to 1 the field: racing: since ca. 1920. Cockle = cock (and hen), 10; and penny = penny bun, 1. Rhyming s.

Cockney. 'WR staff name for MR lines and trains, in South Wales. Also ER term for North London train crews' (Railway, 3rd): railwaymen's: C. 20.

[Cockney catch-phrases of derisory and/or provocative interrogation: Do they have ponies down a pit?; what was the name of the engine-driver?; what does a mouse do when it spins? These C. 20 c.pp. are used either to express boredom or to start a discussion or a 'row'. The second derives ex the trick of asking numerous questions concerning speed, times, etc., etc. The third has the e.p. answer, because the higher the fewer! And, by the way, the third occurs perhaps more frequently in the form, Why is a mouse when it spins?, with the c.p. answer as given: so Mr Ramsey Spencer tells me.]

[Cockney speech:—Edwin Pugh, one of the best of all writers on Cockney life, wrote at the beginning of Harry the Cockney, 1912: 'There is no such being... as a typical Cockney. But there are approximations to a type. There are men and women, the sons and daughters of Cockneys, born and bred within sound of Bow bells, and subject to all the common influences of circumstance and training and environment that London brings into play upon their personalities, who may be said to be... typical. The average Cockney is not articulate. He is often witty; he is sometimes eloquent; he has a notable gift of phrase-making and nicknaming. Every day he is enriching the English tongue with new forms of speech, new clichés, new slang, new catch-words. The new thing and the new word to describe the new thing are never very far apart in London. But the spirit, the soul, of the Londoner is usually dumb.'

Considerable space is given in this work—both in the Dict. proper and in the Addenda—to peculiarities of Cockney speech, because it is in itself important; it is important, too, for the influence it has exercised on the everyday language of Colonials—and, it must not be forgotten, that of Americans. (See also the Dict.) Moreover, back slang and rhyming slang were invented by Cockneys; they are still used widely by costermongers. In 1908 Clarence Rook, in London Side Lights, could say: 'I will back the costermonger... to... talk to a Regius Professor of English for half an hour, tell him the most amusing stories, and leave that Professor aghast in darkest ignorance.'

One of the best-informed aperçus on the Cockney is that on pp. 42–3 of Michael Harrison's Reported Safe Arrival, 1943—a book containing many vivid, and accurate, transcripts of the Cockney speech of the 20th century.

But the best and most comprehensive study of the Cockney and his speech is Julian Franklyn's The Cockney, 1953, 2nd edition—revised—1954; Andre Deutsch, London; the Macmillan Company, New York.]

Cockney's luxury. Breakfast in bed and defecation in a chamber-pot; in the truly Cockney idiom, breakfast in bed and a shit in the pot, which is often added to—indeed, constitutes the original form of—the c.p.: late C. 19–20. Dating from the days of backyard privies.

cocko. In address, a variant of cock, n., 11 (p. 164): Cockney and Army: since ca. 1920. Gerald Kersh, The Nine Lives of Bill Nelson, 1942.

cockroach.—1. (p. 166), occurs in Alex. MacDonald's In the Land of Pearl and Gold, 1907, at p. 290.—2. A motor coach: rhyming s.: since ca. 1946. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

cockroach-crusher. A variant of crusher, 1 and 4 (Dict.).

cock's eggs. A cock's droppings: poultry-keepers': C. 20.

cocksy fuss. 'Billing and cooing,' Sinks: ca. 1825–80. In Sinks it is spelt cozy. cocktail route, be on the. To be drinking excessively: Society: ca. 1934–40. Horace Annesley Vachell, Quinney's for Quality, 1938.

cocky, 3 (p. 166), is very much earlier than I had thought. Sessions, 8th session of 1735, '“Never fear, Cocky,” says the prisoner'; and as a nickname in Sessions, 1736.—5. Earlier in A. Bathgate, Colonial Experiences, 1874. (B., 1942.)—6. Variant of cockatoo, n., 2 (Dict.): Australian c.: C. 20. B., 1942.

cocky, n.—7. Also, of course, the bird cockatoo itself. Australian coll.: mid-C. 19–20.—8. 'A sheep which has lost some of its wool' (B., 1959): C. 20. Cf. parrot and rosella below.

cocky, v. To farm: Australian: C. 20. Kylie Tennant, The Battlers, 1941, 'A job “cockying” for one of her uncles.' Ex sense 5 of the n.: p. 167.

Cocky Bob (Jon Cleary, 1954) or Cock-eye Bob or cock-eye bob (Ion M. Idriess, Forty Fathoms Deep, 1937). A coastal gale, a violent thunderstorm, in N.W. Australia: C. 20. Also in the short form 'another cock-eye brewing': Idriess, 1937.

cockyolly bird.—2. An Australian trooper: during the South African War. Ex the feathers in his hat.

cocky's clip. Close-shearing: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.—2. A (sheep) dip: Australian rhyming s.: since ca. 1920. (B., 1945.)

cocky's coal. 'Corncocks used as fuel for a fire' (B., 1959): Aus.: C. 20. By 1959, rare.

cocky's crow. Dawn: Australian: C. 20. Baker. As in 'We have to be up at cocky's crow'. Ex S.E. cock's crow.

cocky's string. Fencing wire: Australian: C. 20. (B., 1943.) 'Because, on farms, fencing wire is used to repair things' (B.P.)

cocoa.—3. (Also coco.) The head: 1828, George Godfrey, History of George Godfrey. Ex coco-nut (p. 167).

cocoa (p. 167): by 1945, no longer c.; by 1965, very common, esp. in the derisive 'I should cocoa!'

Cocoa Press, the. The Daily News, and other newspapers owned by Messrs Cadbury (chocolate manufacturers): journalists': early C. 20. (Maisie Ward, G. K. Chesterton, 1944.)

cod, n., 4 (p. 167). Sinks, 1848, defines it as 'haughty meddling fool'.—8. A foreman: builders': late C. 19–20. Cf. coddy.

cod, adj. Burlesque; esp. cod acting, as in acting a Victorian melodrama as though it were a post-1918 farce or burlesque: actors': from ca. 1890.

cod(-)piece. 'In the latter half of the First World War it became a common practice with the front-line infantry to wear the entrenching tool in the leather cover across the front of the body, so as to protect the private parts. . . . Some of us called it the "cod piece", from the ornamental piece of clothing worn thus when men wore very tight hose' (A. B. Petch, April 1966).

codd. See cod, n., 6, in Dict.

coddy.—2. A builder's foreman: builders': C. 20. Cf. cod, n., 8.

codging job. A garment to repair: tailors': from ca. 1870. B. & L.

Codi. A codeine tablet: since late 1950's. (Roderic Jeffries, A Traitor's Crime, 1968.)

codology. The practice of chaffing and humbugging: Anglo-Irish: since ca. 1910. Alan Smith, letter of June 7, 1939.

cod's(-)wallop. 'Drivel, utter nonsense: C. 20; orig. low, but by 1930 general. With the phrase a load of (old) cod's wallop, a lot of nonsense, compare the synonymous a load of (old) cobblers, a lot of utter nonsense (balls). The testicular parallel of cods and balls may, of course, be accidental: but is it? Note also that there is a derivative variant, as in 'It's all cods' wallops', as if it were euphemistic for cod's ballocks. In S.E. cod = scrotum, and, loosely, cods = testicles: cods therefore may have suggested ballocks, with cods-wallops a tautologism, hence cod's (or cods') wallop.

coffee and cocoa; often reduced to cocoa. To say so: rhyming s.: C. 20. The longer form is occasionally varied to tea and cocoa. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

coffee-bar Casanova. A dashing frequenter of coffee bars, one who seeks stimulation in coffee, dialectic, amour: since ca. 1955. Nina Epton, Love and the English, 1960.

coffee-grinder. A pedestal winch: Australian: since ca. 1945. Ex appearance. (B.P.)

coffee-pot.—2. 'That part of a barrage balloon winch from which the cable emerges,' Jackson: Balloon Barrage s.: 1939 +. Jackson. Ex its shape.

coffee-shop.—2. A coffin: proletarian: from ca. 1880; ob. B. & L.

coffee stall. A landing-craft kitchen, supplying meals to small craft off the Normandy beaches: nautical: 1944.

coffee stalls. Testicles: C. 20. Rhyming on balls and much less used than orchestra stalls or orchestras. (Franklyn 2nd.)

coffin is Randle Holme's variant of cuffin (Dict).—2. A serviceable but unreliable 'plane: R.A.F.: since ca. 1915. Jackson.—3. That posture in surf-board riding which consists in the surfer's lying flat on his back, with arms folded on chest: Australian surfers': since ca. 1960. (Pix, Sept. 28, 1963.) Like a corpse in its coffin.

coffin, put a nail in (a person's). See put a nail . . .

Coffin Company, the. A certain English insurance society: Cockneys': from ca. 1920. Ex the very large number of assurance policies taken out with it to ensure decent burial.

cog, v. 2 (p. 168). Extant, at least as late as 1930, among Liverpool undergraduates for any form of cheating. (Marples, 2).—5. To understand: Australian low: C. 20. B., 1942. Ex sense 3 (p. 168).—6. To copy (another's composition or exercise): Cotton College: C. 20. The Cottonian, Autumn 1938. Cf. sense 2 (p. 168).

coggish. A variant of coggage (or coggidge) noted on p. 168.

coiler. A dead-beat that sleeps in parks and on wharves: low Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. He just coils up and goes off to sleep.

coiny cove. A man in funds: Australian low: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. Cf.:—

coiny-moneyed. Well-off: since ca. 1920. Cf. prec.

coke, n.,—2. (A drink of) Coca-Cola: adopted, ca. 1930, ex U.S.: s. until ca. 1950, then coll.—3. Hence any soft drink: soft drinks in gen.: Canadian: since ca. 1935. The Evening News, Jan. 9, 1940. Ex 'coca cola'?

cokes.—2. An eating-house: Liverpool: late C. 19–20. Ex cocoa. (Frank Shaw.)

cold, in the. Imprisoned, in gaol: Australian: since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.)

cold biting. 'A straight-out request by a tramp or dead-beat for money,' B., 1941: Australian and New Zealand c.: since ca. 1920.

Cold Blow, the. See Rat's Hole, the.

cold botting. See botting.

cold enough to make a Jew drop his bundle. An Army variant (C. 20; ob. by 1945) of a ruder phrase for 'very cold'.

cold-meat box (p. 169). E. Sue, The Mysteries of Paris, vol. I, anon., translation, 1845.

cold-meat job. A case involving a corpse: police: late C. 19–20. (The Free-Lance Writer, April 1948.)

cold-meat train. The special carriage was also named the larky subaltern's coach.

cold pigging. 'The practice of hawking goods from door to door' (B., 1942): New Zealand and Australian: C. 20. In this phrase and in cold biting, cold = cool = cheeky.

cold potato (pronounced potater). A waiter: theatrical rhymings s.: C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

cold steel. A bayonet, Army: since ca. 1930. H. & P. With ironic humour ex journalistic to use cold steel, make a bayonet charge.

cold turkey. Door-to-door selling: travelling salesmen's, mostly Canadian: since ca. 1930. Ex a probably apocryphal story. (Leechman.) Cf. cold-pigging.

cole.—2. Incorrect spelling of coal, 2 (Dict.); cf. coal, 2, in these Addenda.

coll, 3 (p. 170), is also undergraduates'. Prob. mid-C. 19–20. As undergraduate s., it is prob. mid-C. 18–20; it occurs in The Gentleman's Magazine, May 1784 (p. 366), in 'A Familiar Epistle, paraphrased from Horace'. (Moe.)

collar and tie. A lie: rhyming s.: C. 20. Not very common. (Franklyn, Rhyming.) collar-band pint. See cap-tally drink.

collar felt, get one's. To get, become, be arrested: low (but also police s.): C. 20. By a pun.

collared on, be. To be in love with: Australian: ca. 1860–1914. 'Tom Collins', Such Is Life, 1903.

collect, v.—5. 'To shoot down an aircraft. Thus "He was a sitting bird, I gave him a burst and collected",' Jackson: R.A.F.: 1939 +. Ex senses 1, 2, 4. collect a gong. To be awarded a decoration: Army and Air Force officers': since ca. 1925. Partridge, 1945.

Colleen Bawn. An erection: rhyming s. (on horn): since ca. 1862. (Franklyn, Rhyming.) college.—4. See 'Tavern terms', § 3.

college, v. To hit (a ball) high into the air: Cotton College: mid-C. 19–20. 'The height of the High House from the sloping Bounds [at Sedgley Park] was probably the origin,' Frank Roberts in The Cottonian, Autumn 1938.

college, go to. To go to prison: low: ca. 1720–1850. B. & L.

College Boys, the. 'With the departure of the R.A.F. from South Africa, it is now nearly forgotten that they were christened "The Blue Orchids" (1941) and "The College Boys" (1942),' Prof. W. S. Mackie in The Cape Argus, July 4, 1946: blue uniform; orchids: good looks; College: so many had recently left University or Public School.

college chum. An old acquaintance or companion: workers' facetious coll.: late C. 19–20.

college telegraph; often shortened to telegraph. A college servant given to telling tales: Oxford: 1815–60. Spy, 1825.

colley or colly. Columbine: theatrical: from ca. 1860. B. & L.

Colley thumper. A thumping good hand at cards: card-players': since 1881. In 1881, General Sir George Pomeroy Colley was defeated, and killed, by the Boers in the battle of Majuba Hill.

collie shangle (p. 170) should be collieshangie; but being Scottish dialectal, it has no business to be in this dictionary.

Collins.—2. A 'strong' drink; esp. Tom C., made with gin, and John C., made with rye whisky: since ca. 1860; by 1900, coll. See John Collins on p. 442.

colly. A written variant of cauli (p. 135).

colney. A match: mostly Cockney: C. 20. James Curtis, You're in the Racket Too, 1937. Short for Colney Hatch (Dict.).

Colney Hatch for you! You're crazy: a c.p. of ca. 1890–1914. Cf. Winnick (p. 961).

colo. Cold: pidgin: mid-C. 19–20. B. & L.

Colonel. A jocular form of address: Australian: since ca. 1945. (B.P.)

Colonel Barker; Colonel Barker's Own. A woman masquerading as a man; the Middlesex Regiment (a fighting term, so 'watch it'): since early 1930's. Ex the assumed name of a woman masquerader once prominent in the news.

Colonel Bogey; the Colonel. 'The number of strokes a good player may be reckoned to need for the course or for a hole' (O.E.D., Sup.): resp. golfers' s. (1893) >, by 1920, coll. >, by 1935, j.; and, hence, golfers' s. (1900) >, by 1925, coll. The former term is a personification of bogey, bugbear (of golfers).

colonel of a regiment. See 'Tavern terms', § 6.

Colonel Prescott; often shortened to Colonel. A waistcoat: rhyming s.: since ca. 1930. Cf. Charley Prescott (p. 141). The Colonel is a well-known sporting character.

colonel's cure, the. Cockney term of ca. 1870–1905, thus: 'I sent my yard-boy round for six-penn'orth o' physic, an' I took it all standing—one gulp, you know: what we useder call "the colonel's cure",' A. Neil Lyons, Arthur's, 1908.

colonial!, my. Short for my colonial oath!: 1895, Eric Gibbs, Stirring Incidents in Australasia; 1903, 'Tom Collins', Such Is Life, "'My bloody colonial!'" Ob. by 1940; † by 1960. (B.P.)

Colonial duck. 'A boned shoulder of mutton . . . stuffed with sage and onions' (B., 1942): Australian: C. 20. Contrast Colonial goose (p. 170). Rare, says B. in 1959.

colonial livery. A bloody nose and a black eye: Australian: C. 19. (B., 1943.) Cf. Botany Bay coat-of-arms.

colonist. A louse: ca. 1810–70. David Carey, Life in Paris, 1822. A neat pun.

colour.—2. Any oil paint: builders' coll.: since ca. 1870.—3. A colour-sergeant: Army coll.: late C. 19–20. (Patrick MacGill, The Amateur Army, 1915.)

coloured clothes. Civilian clothes: military coll. of ca. 1860–1914. B. & L.

Colston's School, Bristol, had in 1887–1922, and certainly for some years before 1887 and probably for some years since 1922, 'two popular types' of abbreviation, one in -s: e.g. blots (blotting paper), detens (detention), impots, paps (paper), swifs (soap); the other by omission of s.: e.g. cla (class), gra (grass). Marples.

column of lumps is the Canadian form, 1915 +, of:— column of muck-up (or fuck-up). Column of route: Army: C. 20. Lewis Hastings, Dragons Are Extra, 1947. On a long march it tends to tangle.

column snake. Single file: Army in Burma: 1942–5. 'An old Standard Ger. word (C. 16, perhaps earlier) for an army on the march was "das Heerwurm"—lit., army-worm (or snake)': Ramsey Spencer, March 1967.

colundrum. A conundrum: music-halls': ca. 1885–90. Facetious.

colyum, ellum, fillum, are common Canadian solecisms (spoken only) for column, elm, film: C. 20, and probably much earlier. Nor are they unknown elsewhere—especially the 3rd, often the 2nd, occasionally the 1st.

com.—5. Commission: commercial: from ca. 1880. H. A. Vachell, Quinney's, 1914.—6. (Also Com.) A Communist: Australian: since ca. 1925. (Leonard Mann, The Go-Getter, 1942.)

comb down. To ill-treat; thrash: Australian coll.: from ca. 1860. B. & L.

comb out. 'To sweep over in formation, attacking ground targets with gun-fire. Thus, "We're combing out the North of France this afternoon,"' Jackson: R.A.F. coll. (1939) >, by 1944, j. Ex the military sense.

combine harvester. 'Class 9 goods locomotive' (Railway, 3rd): railwaymen's: since late 1940's.

combined operations. Marriage, with especial reference to sexual aspect: Services': since ca. 1942. Cf. coöperation below.

combined ops. Combined operations: Services' coll.: 1940 +. (P.-G.-R.)—2. Hence, a variant of the preceding entry.

combo. Short for comboman (p. 171): Australian: since ca. 1925. (K. S. Prichard, Working Bullocks, 1926; B., 1943; Sidney H. Courtier, The Glass Spear, 1951.) Hence, go combo, to cohabit—to live—with a gin, as in H. Drake Brockman, Men Without Wives, 1938.—2. A small jazz band: adopted, in late 1950's, ex U.S. Ex combination.

combo, v. (Of a white man) to live with an Aboriginal woman: Aus.: since ca. 1930. (B., 1959.) Ex sense 1 of the n.

come a clover. To tumble over: rhyming s.: ca. 1910-30. (Franklyn 2nd.)

come all over (someone). To thrash; defeat utterly: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

come-all-ye. Irish folk-songs and music; 'an old country song': Anglo-Irish: since ca. 1890. (P. W. Joyce, English . . . in Ireland, 1910.) Ex 'Come all ye faithful' and other such beginnings.

come aloft. To have an erection: coll.: ca. 1550-1840. Spenser, The Faerie Queene, 1590-96; Dryden, The Maiden Queen, 1668, 'I cannot come aloft to an old woman.'

come and get it. The cooks', or the orderlies', cry, amounting almost to a c.p., 'The meal is ready'; mainly Army: late C. 19-20. Since ca. 1945, general in Australia. (B.P.)

come at. To agree to (something); to agree to do (it): Australian: C. 20: s. >, by 1950, coll.: (H. Drake-Brockman, 1938; Gavin Casey, 1947; D'Arcy Niland, 1958.)—2. To try (to do) something: Australian: since ca. 1930; by 1960, coll. 'I wouldn't come at that if I were you'; 'I wouldn't come at eating frogs' legs'; 'I couldn't come at a prostitute'. (B.P.)

come-back, n. See come-back, make a (p. 172).—2. Redress; compensation: Australian coll.: since ca. 1930.—3. 'The progeny of a merino ram and a cross-bred ewe' (B., 1959): Aus.: C. 20.

come back.—2. To take back: Australian: since ca. 1920. Vance Palmer, Seedtime, 1957, 'Now I've put my foot in it—skin deep. Come back all I said.'

come back, make a (p. 172), occurs in Punch, April 11, 1934. (Dr D. Pechtold.)

come back to the field. See field . . .

come clean (p. 172). By 1939, it was s.

come Cripple-gate (p. 172): W. N. Glascock, Sketch-Book (I, 209), 1825. Moe.

come-down, be on a. To be suffering from the diminishing effects of a drug: mostly teenagers': since ca. 1955. Cf. come-down on p. 172.

come down on a jump. (Of a docker) to turn up at a job on the chance of taking an absentee's place: Australian ports', esp. dockers': since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.) Perhaps cf. jump the gun.

come-from. Place of birth: lower-middle class: since ca. 1920.

come good. To make money; be in credit or in form; to be succeeding: Australian: since ca. 1930. (Jean Devanney, By Tropic Sea and Jungle, 1944; D'Arcy Niland, The Shiralee, 1955.)—2. Also, to 'turn up trumps', as in Jon Cleary, The Climate of Courage, 1954, 'I did a bit of smoodging to the wife of the pub owner in town, and she came good.'—3. Hence, to accede to a request for, e.g., a loan: Australian: since ca. 1940. (B.P.) come-hither girl; come-hither look. A 'good time', money-seeking type of girl, a 'gold-digger'; a girl's inviting glance: resp., s., since ca. 1920; and coll. of C. 20.

come inside. 'A man who supplants another in any pursuit or design is said to "come inside him"' (P. W. Joyce, English . . . in Ireland, 1910): Anglo-Irish coll.: late (? mid) C. 19-20. To get on the inside track?

come it.—9. To be quiet, esp. in imperative: c.: from ca. 1880; ob. B. & L.

come it at the box—the broads. To dice; to play cards: c.: from ca. 1860. Ibid.

come it over (p. 172) goes back to ca. 1820 or even earlier. John L. Gardner, The Military Sketch-Book (II, 30), 1829. Moe.

come-love tea. Weak tea; esp., tea made with leaves already used: Australian: since ca. 1930. (B., 1943.) Ex the mildness of 'Come, love'.

come on. Swindler's 'bait' to dupe: Australian c.: since ca. 1925. B., 1942. Adopted from U.S. See Underworld. Usually hyphenated—and by 1945 no longer c.

come on, v. An extension—since ca. 1945—of come, v., 1 (p. 171); esp. among teenagers.

come on in out of the war! Take shelter!—during a bombing raid: civilians': a W.W. II c.p. A pun on 'come on in out of the rain'.

come on tally plonk (or taller candle)? How are you?: Army in France and Belgium: 1914-18. Hobson-Jobson for Fr. comment allez-vous?

come one's cocoa. (Of men) to experience an orgasm: low: C. 20. By alliteration. See come, v., 1, in Dict.

come one's guts. To 'spill' information: low Australian: since ca. 1920. (Kylie Tennant, 1953.)

come one's mutton or turkey. To masturbate: low: late C. 19-20.

come-out, adj. 'Execrable' (Sinks, 1848): low: ca. 1830-80.

come-out, n. Exodus of the audience after the show: circusmen's coll.: C. 20.

come out in the wash, it'll all. See wash . . .

come out of that hat—I can't see yer feet! A boys' c.p. cry to a man wearing a topper: ca. 1875-1900. (Mostly London.)

come right on the night, it will all. This—dating from ca. 1880—is perhaps the commonest c.p. of the theatre. Ex mishaps and mistakes that, happening at a—esp. at the dress—rehearsal, will probably not recur. (See esp. Wilfred Granville, A Dictionary of Theatrical Slang.) Since ca. 1920, often used in the world outside—when small things go wrong.

come round on the paint. (Of a racehorse) to take the turn on the inside: Australian sporting: since ca. 1935. (B., 1953.)

come the bag. See bag, come the.

come (the) blarney over (someone). To be very sweet to; to flatter: since ca. 1810 or a decade earlier. The shorter phrase occurs in W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (I, 185), 1928. Moe.

come the bludge on. To sponge upon (someone): Australian: since ca. 1925. D'Arcy Niland, Call Me . . ., 1958, 'What's the big idea, coming the bludge on us?' Cf. bludge, n.

come the double (p. 172). Ex the sense recorded at double, come the.

come the gammon (over). To wheedle (someone): a C. 19 variant of gammon, v., on p. 314: cf. gammon, n., 1.

come the old soldier over (p. 173) occurs in 1818: Alfred Burton, Johnny Newcome. (Moe.)

come the old tin-man. To bluff: to flannel; make oneself a nuisance: Naval: C. 20. Granville.

come the raw prawn over. To swindle: Australian: since ca. 1935. (Cusack & James, Come in Spinner, 1951.)

come this side. Arrived here: pidgin: mid-C. 19-20. B. & L.

come to a sticky end. See sticky, adj., 4 (p. 831). To die murdered; to go to gaol: since ca. 1916.—2. To masturbate: low Australian: C. 20.

come to bat for. Tautological variant of bat for.
come to cues! Come to the point!: theatrical: late C. 19–20. Ex rehearsal practice of giving a hesitant actor the cue line only. (Wilfrid Granville, letter of April 12, 1948.)

come to grass; usually coming... To come up to the surface of a mine: Cornish miners': mid-C. 19–20. (R. M. Ballantyne, Deep Down, 1869.)

come unbuttoned. See unbuttoned, come.

come-up, n. No. 11 punishment: Naval: since ca. 1930. The sufferers come up on deck to eat their meals.

come up! A variation of get a number: R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. Partridge, 1945.

come up for air! Take a rest!: Australian c.p.: since late 1940's. (B.P.) Ex pearl-diving?—2. 'To terminate a prolonged kiss' (Leechman): since ca. 1930.

Comedian, or Camp Comedian, the. The Camp Commandant: R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. H. & P.

comfort.—2. A sort of strong liquor in vogue ca. 1725–30. Anon., The Quaker's Opera, 1728. Cf. the liqueur known as Southern Comfort: C. 20. (Leechman.) comfort for the troops. A catamite: Services': since ca. 1925.

comfortable, esp. in Are you comfortable? Have you been to the w.c.?: domestic (mostly feminine) euphemistic coll.: late C. 19–20.

comic cuts.—2. A comical fellow, esp. one who overdoes the funny stuff: since ca. 1920.

Comic Cuts. The confidential reports written on ratings' ability and conduct by Divisional Officers: Naval: since ca. 1945. (Wilfred Granville, A Dict. of Naval Slang, 1962.)

coming and going. (Of an aircraft) fitted with wireless: R.A.F.: since ca. 1938. H. & P.

coming on, be. To be learning the ways of the world, e.g. of women: coll.: mid-C. 19–20. Ex S.E. coming on, growing (up).

coming to town, they're. Enemy 'planes approaching: R.A.F. c.p.: 1940 +.

coming up on a lorry; often preceded by it's. A jocular c.p., dating since ca. 1910. in ref. to something small—a packet, a letter—that has not arrived when expected.

comings. Seminal fluid: low coll.: mid-C. 19–20. Ex the relevant sense of come, v., in Dict.

Commando tickle. A pinching of the thigh between thumb and forefinger: Forces': 1941 +.

commercial traveller. A person with bags under his eyes: from ca. 1930. Ex a music-hall joke. Cf. bagman, 1 (Dict.).—2. A swagman: Australian jocular: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.)

commie. A Communist: since ca. 1943. Perhaps adopted from U.S.

commissionaire. A better-class harlot in the Argentine white-slavers' c.: C. 20. (A. Londres.)

commo. A Communist: since ca. 1918. B., 1942; Daily Express, Dec. 20, 1946.

Commo. The Combined Officer of Merchant Navy Operators: nautical: 1940 +.—2. A Communist: Australian: since ca. 1925. (Dick.) A variant of Commie.

common as cat-shit and twice as nasty, as. A cockney c.p., applied either to a person regarded as 'beneath' one or, less often, to an inferior article: since ca. 1920. Communicated by Julian Franklyn, Jan. 3, 1968.) Cf. soft as shit and twice as nasty, as, below.

common bouncer. Australian form (1897) of common bounce (p. 174). Sidney J. Baker, letter.

common John. A species of marble (in the game of marbles): children's: late C. 19–20. The Manchester Evening News, March 27, 1939.

commoner, 2 (p. 174). Rather, an inexperienced boxer; an amateur. Boxiana, I–IV passim: 1818–24.

commono. A cheap marble: Australian children's: C. 20. (B.P.) Cf. commoney on p. 174.

commons, house of (p. 174). For origin, cf., however, parliament, 2.

commoray. A jocular 'French' pronunciation of commadore: Naval: since ca. 1925.

commugger. Communion: St Bees and Up-pingham: since ca. 1905. Marples. By the Oxford -er?

communion bloke. A religious hypocrite: prison c.: from ca. 1870. B. & L.

communism. A Communist: jocular: since ca. 1919; by 1950, ob.; by 1960, †.

Communist (p. 174) returned to 'favour' ca. 1941, and Bolshie (p. 76) was, by 1943, archaic.

comp.—2. A newspaper competition: since ca. 1925.

comp list. Complimentary list (for free tickets): Australian: since ca. 1905. (Dal Stivens, 1951.)

comp number. See compo, 6.

[Comparative and superlative in illiterate speech. These consist mainly in the use of -er, -est, where literacy demands more or most. Thus, Nevinson, 1895, 'There ain't no skilleder sweep nor what I am this side eternity.'] compass-buster. See basher, 6.

compassionate. Compassionate leave: Services' (perhaps esp. Army) coll.: 1939–45. (P-G-R.)

comped. Matter set up or composed: printers': from ca. 1870. B. & L.

comping, n. Type-setting: printers' coll.: late C. 19–20. Ex composing. Cf. comp (p. 174).

complete and utter, n. Elliptical for 'complete and utter bastard': Australian: since late 1940's. 'You'll have trouble with him. He's a complete and utter.' (B.P.)

compo.—3. Compounding (e.g. an annuity for a cash payment): insurance: C. 20.—4. A busman holding a licence both as conductor and as driver: busmen's: since ca. 1920.—5. Compensation: Australian workers': since the 1920's. (Dymphna Cusack, Southern Steel, 1953.)—6. Compensation allowance—in lieu of rations—to men ashore: Naval: C. 20. Such a job is a comp number.—7. See compo rations.

compo, on the. (Of workmen) in receipt of compensation: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.) Cf. compo, 6. Since ca. 1950, usually on compo. (B.P.)

compo king. One who, to get workers' compensation, injures himself or malingers: New Zealand and Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1941.

compo rations. A composition pack of one day's rations for fourteen men: Services' (mostly Army) coll.: 1939–45. (P-G-R.)

compound, v. (Of a horse) to fail, esp. to maintain speed or strength: racing: since ca. 1860.

The O.E.D. Sup. records it for 1876. Ex compound, to compromise.

compty. Deficient, as in 'What are you compty?': Army: late C. 19-20. (Ex Hindustani?)—2. Hence, mentally deficient: Army: since ca. 1920.

compul. Compulsory: Harrow School: mid-C. 19-20. Marples.

con, n.—5. A lavatory attendant: c., and low.: C. 20. ? abbr. confidential. Sense 1: at Eton = a friend. Spy, 1825.—6. A consultation; a conference: lawyers': late C. 19-20. (Collin Brooks, The Swimming Frog, 1951.)—7. As the con, it = confidence-trickery: Canadian: C. 20. Niven. 'I ain't a shark ... trying to throw the con into you fellows'.

con course. A conversion course: R.A.F.: since ca. 1935. H. & P. For men remustering from one trade to another.—2. Hence, substitution of one type of armament for another on an aircraft: since ca. 1940. Partridge, 1945.

con depot. A convalescent (i.e., convalescence) depot: Army: 1940 +. Cf. the World War II con camp (p. 175).

con man (p. 175). The English locus classicus is Percy J. Smith, Con Man, 1938.

Conan (Doyle). A boil: rhyming s.: C. 20.

concentric bird. See oozlum bird. With pun on concentric circles and eccentric flight.

concertina.—2. A side of mutton: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)—3. 'A sheep that is hard to shear because of the wrinkles in its skin' (B., 1959): Aus. rural: since ca. 1930.

concrete, the. The track: racing motorists' coll.: since ca. 1910. Hence, take the concrete, to go on to the racing track, whether in a race or for a practice run.

condenseritis. Leaking condensers (esp. in old destroyers): Naval officers': since ca. 1925. Granville. Caused by old age. 'You get salt water in the closed feed system: Condenseritis, it's called. Keeps Senior Engineers awake at nights': John Winton, We Joined the Navy, 1959.

condom (p. 175) and cundum (p. 197): by 1910, at latest, S.E.

condumble. See your humble c.

condys, the. Advice: Australian: since ca. 1920. Lawson Glassop, We Were the Rats, 1944. Ex the curative Condy's fluid.

confeck is Randle Holme's spelling of confect (Dict.).

conference, in. Engaged, busy: jocular coll.: since ca. 1945. Running on the pretentious use of conference for any discussion or meeting, however trivial.

confetti. Machine-gun bullets: adopted in 1940 ex American airmen. The Reader's Digest, Feb. 1941.

confidence buck. A confidence trick: from ca. 1885; ob. B. & L.

confo. A conference: Australian: since ca. 1939. - (B., 1953.)

Confucius he say. This c.p. introductory 'gag' is followed by the 'words of wisdom'—mostly of genuine or cynical homespun philosophy—couched in 'Chinese' grammar: since ca. 1920.

confused operations. Combined Operations: Naval officers': ca. 1941-3. Granville. Ex the viewpoint of the more conservative, the 100 per cent. service-minded officers: yet even they relented.

Cong. A Congregational chapel; (usually in pl.) a Congregationalist: C. 20.

Congo. A Congregationalist: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1953.)

Conk. A lower-middle class nickname for a large-nosed person: late C. 19-20.

conk, n., 1: gen. of a big nose.—6. The head: Australian, esp. Sydney: since ca. 1920. (B.P.)

conk, v.—2. To hit: Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1942. Echoic. Imm. ex:—. To punch (someone) on the nose: pugilistic: since ca. 1810; ob. Boxiana, III, 1821.

conk, go. To fail; to cease gradually, to peter out: Australian: since ca. 1920. Baker. Cf. conk, v., 1 (Dict.).

conker (p. 176): 1821: Boxiana, III.—2. 'Internal user motor. Motor not licensed for road' (Railway): railwaymen's: since ca. 1910. Used for a pleasant, domestic sort of 'game'.

conkey, 1 (p. 167). Wellington was called Conkey at least a decade before 1815; Old Conkey, after 1815. Alternatively Atty Conkey, lit. 'Arthur the Long-Nosed'. During his campaigning years in Europe, his staff called him The Peer, from his aloofness. See esp. C. S. Forester's Death to the French, 1932.—3. Worthless; useless: Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1942. Ex conk, go.

Connaught!, go to hell or. See go to hell or Connaught in Dict.

Connaught, the. 66 in the game of House: C. 20. Michael Harrison, 1943.

connect.—2. 'To make a buy' (Hearings, 1955) of narcotics: drug traffic: since ca. 1920. Cf. connection, one's contact.

conner.—2. Tinned food: Army: since late 1939. H. & P. Ex Maconochie (Dict.), the manufacturer's name, rather than an extension of sense 1.

Connie. A Constellation aircraft: since early 1950's. (Nino Culotta, Cop This Lot, 1960.)

connie or conny. A tram conductor: Melbourne: C. 20. (B., 1943.) As if a pet-form of Constance.—2. A cornelian marble: Australian children's: C. 20. (B.P.)—3. A convict: Aus. juvenile: C. 20. Ross Campbell, Mummy, Who Is Your Husband?, 1964.

conning, n. Generic for the confidence trick: C. 20: c. >, by 1930, also police s. Ex con, v., 2 (p. 175).

conniving about. See buggerizing about. Perhaps ex S.E. connive + s. bugger about.

conny-onny. Condensed milk: Merseyside: since ca. 1920. A reduplication.

conque is a rare variant of conk, n., 1: Boxiana, III, 1821.

conrod. Connecting rod to piston: engineers' and mechanics': C. 20.

conservatory. Enclosed portion of an aircraft; sometimes the cockpit: R.A.F. since ca. 1935. H. & P., 'So called because of the "glass-roofing".'

consoo. Consul: pidgin: from ca. 1860.

constable, the. An unwanted companion; a burr that will stick: Services': since ca. 1930. H. & P.

[Constables. In the first quarter of the C. 18, the following terms occur in Ned Ward: catchpole rap[p]aree (1709), city bull-dog (1703; gen. in pl.), cony-fumble (1703), and trap (1703) or town-trap (1709); the watchmen are hour-grunters (1703) and bailiffs are bums (1703); lawyers are tongue-padders (1703).]

Constant. Constantinople (Istanbul): among Britons in E. Mediterranean and Near East: late C. 19–20; ob. by 1945, virtually † by 1960.

constant screamer (p. 177) is perhaps, as Franklyn suggests, rhyming s.; by 1950, †.

constitutional.—2. Gin and bitters: Australian: since ca. 1930. B., 1942.

contract. A hard task undertaken: Australian coll.: since ca. 1930. (In several of Vance Palmer's novels, e.g. Golconda, 1948.) Should be dated back to ca. 1910. It occurs also in Tom Ronan, Vision Splendid, 1954.

contract, mess up the (p. 177). More usually bigger the contract.

control. See everything under control.

conundrum.—3. Female pudend: ca. 1640–1830. App. earliest in R. W., A Pill to Purge Melancholy, 1652.

convalescent home. A place of work where conditions are 'good'—i.e. easy: jocular coll.: since ca. 1905.

convincing ground. 'The site for a grudge fight' (B., 1942): Australian: C. 20.

cony-wabble. See 'Dupes'.

coooo (p. 178), line 1. But the oo sound is onger; the ee, though long, is sharper.

cook, n. See Captain Cook above and give a cook below.

cook hot water for a barber, she couldn't. See she couldn't... cook-off, n., and cook off, v. (To effect) a premature or accidental discharge of a firearm or a cannon: common during World War II, esp. in the Army. Ex the too-high temperature of the barrel. In, e.g., Gerald Pawle, The Secret War, 1956.

cook-shop. A kitchen on a station: rural Australian: C. 20, but not common. (B., 1943.)

cook up. To falsify (e.g. accounts): late C. 19–20. Variant of cook, 1 (p. 178).

cooked (p. 178). Rather, since ca. 1820. Sessions, 1825.

cookem fry. Hell: Naval: since ca. 1870. Granville. Presumably ex 'to cook and fry (in hell)'.
cookery. 'Many modern painters affect to despise the technique of their art, and deprecate attention to what they irreverently term "cookery",' Thomas Bodkin, The Approach to Painting, revised ed., 1945: artists': since ca. 1920.

cookery nook. A ship's galley; a shore station cookhouse: Naval: since ca. 1926. H. & P. cookie. A heavy bomb: R.A.F.: 1940 +. Jackson. Cf. groceries. 'In 1943–45, the 4,000 and then the 8,000 lb. bomb,' Partridge, 1945.

cook's last hope. 'A heavy steamed duff' (B., 1943): Australian Naval: 1939–45.

cook's tormentors, a cook's gig-forks (? big forks)—see tormentors, 2, on p. 901—occurs in The Night Watch (II, 88), 1828, and earlier in W. N. Glascock's Sketch-Book, 1825–26. Moe.

Cool and Kal. Coolgardie and Kalgoorlie: Australian (esp. Western Australia): late C. 19–20.

cool, adj.—4. (Of jazz) good and modern: jazz-lovers': since ca. 1945. (The Observer, Sept. 16, 1956.)—5. (Of a singer) slow and husky: since ca. 1948. (Ibid.)—6. Very pleasing or attractive or satisfactory: Canadian (esp. teenagers): adopted, ca. 1955, from U.S. All these senses came from U.S.: 4 and 5 were adopted at least five, perhaps ten, years earlier in Canada than in Britain. 'Cool became a word of praise when hot ceased to be one; that is, when hot jazz went out of fashion, to be displaced by bop or bebop, a later—a "progressive" or "modern jazz"' (F. E. L. Priestley, in letter of Dec. 20, 1959.)—7. Self-possessed; real cool, devilishly self-possessed: jazz, beatnik, teenage: since ca. 1950. Cf.—in S.E.—'a cool hand' and 'cool-headed'.—8. 'Not carrying illegal drugs' (Peter Fryer in The Observer colour supplement, Dec. 3, 1967): addicts': since early 1960's.

cool, play it. To take things calmly, or cautiously and moderately: since ca. 1955.

cool cat. An addict of modern jazz: jazz-lovers': since ca. 1945. (The Observer, Sept. 16, 1956.)—2. A rock-and-roller: adopted, 1956, from U.S.—3. (Ex. 1.) A fine fellow: Canadian: since ca. 1956.

coolaman. A drinking vessel: Australian coll.: from ca. 1870. B. & L. Ex Aborigine.

cooler.—5. A chilly glance: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

Coolgardie safe. A makeshift safe for keeping food cool in country districts: Aus.: since ca. 1920. Baker, 1959, 'The stress is on cool rather than on the place-name, Coolgardie' (in Western Australia).

coolie, 1 (p. 179). Ex Tamil for 'day labourer.'

cooloo, the whole. 'The whole lot' of whatever it is: since ca. 1935. Perhaps ex Am. the whole caboodle. But probably from Arabic cooloo, all: cf. a cooloo.

coon.—3. An aboriginal: Australian: since ca. 1920. (Jean Devanney, 1944.) Ex sense 2 (p. 179).

coop, a prison (p. 179), is very much earlier: Sessions, Sept. 1785.

cooper.—4. A bungling, or something bungled; a mistake: on borders between tramps' and Romany s.: C. 20. (Robert M. Dawson.) Cf. sense 3 on p. 179.

coöperation. Sexual play and intercourse with no implication of marriage: searchlight crews': 1939–early 40; in short, during 'the phoney war'—'before Combined Operations had become a Staff concept' (H. R. Spencer). Contrast combined operations above.

Cooper's Snoopers. Social-survey investigators: 1940, then ob. Investigators proposed by the Rt Hon. Duff Cooper.

coosh. Good, comfortable, easy: Australian: since ca. 1919. Baker. Ex cushy.

cop, n., 2 (p. 179). 'What do you want to search me for, you have a good cop,' Sessions, Aug. 1886.

cop, v.—7. To catch on to; to notice, to detect: Australian: since ca. 1930. (Cusack & James, Come in Spinner, 1951.)

cop, be on a soft or sweet. To have an easy job; be on a 'good thing': Australian: since ca. 1925. (B.P.)

cop a chice (loosely chise). Variant of catch a chice (see chice, n., 4). News of the World, Aug. 28, 1938.

cop a coronation. See coronation below.

cop a deaf 'un. To pretend not to hear or not to have heard: (c. and) low: since ca. 1920.

cop bung! 'A warning cry when the police make their appearance': c.: from ca. 1875. B. & L. See cop, n., 1 (Dict.).

cop it.—2. To become pregnant: Australian feminine (low): since ca. 1920. (Margaret Trist, Now That We're Laughing, 1944.)

cop on is the Northern equivalent of Southern get off (with a member of the other sex): late C. 19–20.

cop-out man. He who, in a crooked game, takes the winnings: Australian two-up players': since ca. 1920. (B., 1953.)

cop-shop. Police station: Australian c.: C. 20. B., 1942.

cop that lot! Just look at those people or that scene or display or incident; with an implication of admiration or astonishment or derision: Aus. c.p.: since ca. 1930. Nino Culotta, Cop This Lot, 1960.

cop the drop. (Of a policeman.) To accept bribes: c.: from ca. 1910. Cf. drop, n., 4, and dropsy, both in Dict.

cop the tale. To swallow a confidence-trick story: c.: from ca. 1919.

cop this, young Harry! A c.p. used during horse-play (e.g. pie-throwing): Australian: since ca. 1950. (B.P.)

copasetic. All safe, wholly safe; all clear; excellent, most attractive: Canadian adaptation, ca. 1925, of U.S. copasettic (Berry & Van den Bark). For lack of an authenticated etymology, I provisionally accept the origin proposed by a witty and learned friend: 'able to cope and antiseptic' Amerindian?

copbusy. 'A thief handing over plunder to a confederate to escape the law' (B., 1942): Australian c.: C. 20. Ex the v.—see Dict.

cope. 'To do one's duty satisfactorily,' Grenfell Finn-Smith in list communicated in April 1942: Services (esp. Army officers') coll.: since 1935; adopted from Society s. (from ca. 1933), as in D. du Maurier, Rebecca, 1938. Short for cope with things, cope with it, etc. 'Can you cope?' is perhaps the most frequent form.

copman. A policeman: Australian c.: C. 20. B., 1942. Ex copper-man (Dict.)?

copper, n., 1 (p. 179): earlier in Sessions, May 16, 1846.—4. (Ex 3.) A prison informer: c.: C. 20. (H. U. Triston, 1938.)

copper, sky a. See sky, v., 1, and skying a copper, both on p. 777.

copper-arse. 'A cabman who works long hours, that is, one who is able to sit on his cab longer than most. It is also applied to a man who is always cruising,' Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939. Cf. the nautical S.E. copper-bottomed.

copper(-)belly. A fat man: Cockneys': late C. 19–20. The copper being that used on washing day.

copper bolts. Excrement: low (? orig. artisans'): C. 20.

copper-bottom. 'A lorry driver who breaks the law by driving more than 11 hours in 24 to undercut other drivers. Also day-and-night merchant' (Peter Sanders): since late 1940's. In, e.g., The Daily Telegraph, Jan. 26, 1964.

copper Johns. See 'Money'.

Copper Knob. Nickname for red-headed person, esp. man: since ca. 1860; by 1960, slightly ob. (D. W. Barrett, Navvies, 1860.)

copper(-)knocker. A metal worker; in pl., the metal-workers' shop on an airfield: R.A.F.: since ca. 1925. H. & P.

copper-shop. A police station: police: since ca. 1910. Cf. copper-house (p. 180).

copper-tail (p. 180). Extant. Synonym: bronzewing: C. 20. B., 1942.

Coppers in Disguise. Members of the Criminal Investigation Department: jocular: C. 20.

coppers wore high hats, when. See when coppers...

coppist. A boy—or even a man—that, at level crossings, takes the plate numbers of railway engines: since ca. 1930. The Daily Mirror, Sept. 19, 1946. Ex cop, 'to catch; to take'.

copter. Helicopter: aviation: 1944 +.

copy-holder. See 'Tavern terms', § 9 (near end).

cor! chase me, winger, round the wash-(h)ouse. A c.p., expressing incredulity: Naval lower-deck: ca. 1947–57.

cor lummie (or -y)! A Cockney expletive: mid-C. 19–20. I.e. God love me: see cor (p. 180) and cf. gorblimey (Dict.).

coral. Money: 1841, W. Leman Rede, Sixteen String Jack; † by 1900.

'cordion or c. An accordion: coll., esp. Cockneys': from ca. 1890. Pugh. Cf. 'tina.

cordite jaunty. 'Chief Gunner's Mate responsible for regulating duties at a Naval Gunnery School,' Granville: Naval: since ca. 1920.

cords. A pair of corduroy trousers; clothes of corduroy: from ca. 1880: lower classes' s., now verging on coll. (W. A. Gape, Half a Million Tramps, 1936.)

corduroy brigade. The workmen, plumbers, bricklayers employed by Bricks: since ca. 1930. H. & P.

corella. 'A sheep with patches of wool hanging loose' (B., 1959): Aus. rural: since ca. 1915. A corella is a kind of cockatoo: cf., therefore, rosella 2 below.

corey or corie. Penis: circus hands' and Cockney (and Kentish dial.): C. 20. Perhaps sadistic: cf. coring mush in Dict. More prob. ex Romany kori, a thorn, the penis.

cork. New bread: Cotton College: C. 19–20. Anecdotal—but almost certainly correct—origin (boys asking for cork received bread), The Cottonian, Autumn 1939, article by Frank Roberts.

cork, v. See uncork!

cork! Shut up!: St Bees: since ca. 1914. Marples. I.e. cork the bottle.

cork, draw (p. 180). Usually draw the cork of, make an opponent's nose bleed. Boxiana, II, 1818.

cork eye (at someone), have a. To look hard and disapprovingly: Aus.: since ca. 1930. F. B. Vickers, First Place to the Stranger, 1955.

corkscrewed(-)up. Having Dutch courage after resort to the whisky or brandy bottle: applied to officers by Tommies: 1914–18. (A. B. Petch, April 1966.)

corn, earn or be worth one's. To be worth one's wages—one's keep: coll., orig. farmers': mid-C. 19–20.

corn fake; corn fake worker. A corn cure; a market-place or fair-ground chiropodist: showmen's: since ca. 1880. Cf. nob fake. Mostly a corn-plaster.

corn-holer. A pederast: low Canadian: C. 20.

corn off the cob, as in 'Don't give me that—it's corn off the cob'—i.e. 'corny' (see corny, 2, below): Australian: adopted, ca. 1944, ex U.S. (B.P.) corn-snorter. The nose: low: ca. 1825–70. Sinks, 1848.

corn-yak. Corned beef: Merseyside: since ca. 1930.

Corneurer. H.M.S. Conqueror: Naval: C. 20. corned.—2. Pleased; well content: tailors': from ca. 1870. B. & L.

corned beef. A thief: rhyming s.; C. 20. Hence the variant bully beef.—2. A Chief Officer in a British prison: rhyming s., orig. and still esp. in prisons. (Paul Tempest, Lag's Lexicon, 1950.)

Cornel Wilder. A hair-fashion (hair worn long) among Australian urban, esp. Sydney, youths: Australian: ca. 1950–9. (B., 1953.) Ex the American film star, Cornel Wilde (hair not excessively long).

corner, n., 4 (a share): by 1925, Australian low s.: Lawson Glassop, 1944. Prob. from U.S. rather than from England. (See Underworld.)

corner, go round the. To visit the lavatory: euphemistic coll.: from ca. 1890.

corner, on the. Out of work; on the dole: coll.: since late 1920's. F. D. Ommanny, North Cape, 1939, 'When he gets too old for job, he is "on the corner", one of a sad little crowd.'

Corner, the. See corner, n., 3 (p. 181).—2. The junction of the boundaries of Queensland, N.S.W., South Australia: Australian coll.: C. 20.—3. The Garden Island Naval Prison, Sydney: Australian Naval: since ca. 1930. (Senses 2 and 3: B., 1943.)

corner cove.—2. Earlier, hanger-on: pugilistic: ca. 1815–60. See quot'n at Q-in-the-corner-cove.

corner-ender (mostly in pl.). A loafer: since late 1920's. Cf. euphemistic free, 'out of a job'.

corner of the round table, on the. A c.p. reply to an inquiry where something may be found: lower-middle and upper working classes': from ca. 1890.

corner-shop. See 'Guard-Room in Army Slang'.

cornfield meet. A head-on meeting of two trains that are trying to use the same main line: Canadian railroadmen's (—1931). Ex animal fights.

cornie or corny. A cornelian marble: Australian children's: C. 20. (B., 1943.)

Cornstalk (p. 181): ob. by 1945. 'Utterly unknown by people under the age of forty' (B.P., 1963). True also of Sandgroper (p. 726).

corny. Trivial: unimportant: Services': since ca. 1941. H. & P. Ex American corny, hackneyed, out of fashion.—2. Old-fashioned, hackneyed; sentimental, esp. in an outmoded way: adopted, ca. 1942, ex U.S. It was current among Canadian musicians as early as 1930. 'It implied old-fashioned and rural; belonging to the Corn Belt [of the U.S.] rather than to the city; also applied to jokes and humour' (Priestley).

coronation. A caning; esp., cop a c., to receive a caning: Australian schoolboys': ca. 1910–40. Donald McLean, Nature's Second Son, 1954. Cf. crown, v., 4, below.

Corporal Cookie. The larger bomb mentioned at cookie: R.A.F.: 1944–5. (P-G-R.)

corporal of the field. See 'Tavern terms', § 6. corpse.—2. Corporal—but not in his hearing: Tommies': ca. 1916–18. Applies esp. to an inferior type. (A. B. Petch, March 1966.)

corpse, v.i. To forget one's lines: drama school (since ca. 1950), hence smart young set (1956 +). Gilderdale, 2.

Corpse, the. A party of Marines: Naval: C. 20. Granville. By a pun on the Royal Marine Corps.

corpser. A contretemps as at corpse, v., 1 (Dict.): from ca. 1860. B. & L.

corpus (p. 182). An early record: Sinks, 1848.

Corpy. Belonging to, or concerning, the Corporation of the City: Liverpool: C. 20.

corral; round up. To get hold of, to acquire, as in 'I'll try to corral (or round up) a few drinks': Canadian, esp. in mid-West: since ca. 1920. (Leechman.) Ex cattle-herding.

Corridor, the. The '2 p.m. train from Euston, pioneer of corridor trains' (Railway, 3rd): railwaymen's: ? late C. 19—early 20.

corroboree, n. Sense 2—'a drunken spree'—is perhaps (Franklyn)—in part, at least—rhyming s.—4. (Ex 1, 3.) A discussion: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

corroboree, v.—2. To hold a discussion about something: Australian: C. 20. Baker.

corroboree water. Cheap wine: Australian: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.) Perhaps ex corroboree, n., 4.

corsets. A soldier's bandolier: Australian military: 1939 +. B., 1942.

Corticene-Grabber's itch. See C.G.I.

corvette, a. A Wren addicted to Sub-Lieutenants. As the corvette (ship) chases 'subs', so does the 'corvette' (Wren).

cosh, n., 1. In the war of 1914–18 an 'offensive' stick carried by a man on night patrol: applied to the nape of a Teutonic neck, it made very little noise.

cosh, under the. (To have) at one's mercy: prisoners': since ca. 1945. Norman.

cosh-me-gosh. Sliced beef and vegetables: Naval (lower-deck): C. 20. (P-G-R.)

cosmography. See 'Tavern terms', § 3. d. cossie (p. 182) is pron. cozzie—derives from costume—and was, by 1960, rare in speech, although still widely known. (B.P.)

Costly Farces. 'Self description of "Coastal Forces"', Granville: 1939–45.

cosy. All very snug and profitable; remarkably convenient: coll.: since ca. 1940. It attains its peak in the catch-word cosy!, that's very pleasant, that promises some very pleasant opportunities; esp., since ca. 1950, in Canada.

cotiva. A variant (Sydney Lester) of catever on p. 134.

Cottony, n. and adj. (A) Cockney: Cockneys': late C. 19–20 cough, v. i., as in 'Did he cough?' To confess: policemen's: since ca. 1910. (Lawrence Henderson, With Intent, 1968.) Ex gen. s. cough it up, to admit to something, to confess. Also cf. cough it below.

cough(-)and(-)sneeze. Cheesc: rhyming 2.: since ca. 1880.

cough-drop.—2. An attractive girl: South Africa: 1942 +. Prof. W. S. Mackie in The Cape Argus, July 4, 1946.

cough it. To confess: c.: adopted, ca. 1945, ex U.S. Bournemouth Evening Echo, April 20, 1966, a crook loquitur, 'They have told me that the others have coughed it. That is their pigeon.'

cough-to-coffin. A 'cough-to-coffin cigarette', familiar to the Forces serving in the Near, the Middle, the Far East in World War II. Cf. Camel to Consumer above.

could eat the hind leg off a donkey. I am, you are, he is, etc., very hungry: coll.: C. 20. The Canadian version (C. 20) is could eat a horse, if you took his shoes off. Leechman.

couldn't care fewer. An occ. variant of the next: ca. 1959-64.

couldn't care less, I or he, etc. A c.p. ('I'm quite indifferent') dating from 1940 and rampant ever since early 1948: originally, upper-middle class, but, by 1945, fairly general. On the pattern of I couldn't agree (with you) more, which, current ca. 1938-49, started in Society and was, by 1940, common among Service officers, but never so widely used as in the 'care less' inanity. (P-G-R.) In his God Help America! (1952), Sydney Moseley has 'Ordinary citizens "couldn't have cared less!"—to use a cant post-war phrase current in England.'

couldn't care less if the cow calves or breaks a leg, I or he, etc. A New Zealand extension, since ca. 1950, of the preceding. (Slatter.)

couldn't do it in the time, you. 'A sarcastic comment addressed to a person who threatens to fight' (B., 1942): Australian: since ca. 1910.

couldn't hit the inside of a barn (polite); couldn't hit a bull in the arse with a scoop-shovel. A Canadian c.p., directed at a bad marksman: C. 20.

couldn't organize a fuck in a brothel; occasionally . . . a piss-up (drinking-bout) in a brewery. A derivative c.p., directed at an inefficient superior: low, esp. Services': C. 20.

Count No-Account. 'A facetious title for one who, lacking funds, claims an aristocratic background' (Leechman): Canadian: ca. 1895-1914.

counter.—2. An occasion of sexual intercourse (from the angle of the prostitute): prostitutes' and white-slavers' c.: C. 20. A. Londres, The Road to Buenos Ayres, 1928.

counter-skipper. See counter-jumper (Dict.).

country(-)boat. See country-ship (Dict.).

country chub; c. cokes; c. hick. See 'Dupes'.

coup (pron. coop). A coupon, e.g. for clothes: mostly women's: ca. 1940-5, then historical. (Monica Dickens, 1946.)

coupla.—2. Two coins that, tossed, fall 'heads': Australian: late C. 19-20. Baker.—3. 'A generality for several drinks, not necessarily two' (B., 1943): Australian: C. 20.

couple of bob. A damp swab: darts-players' rhyming s.: since ca. 1945. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

couple of ducks. Synonymous with two little ducks or duck in the or on a pond, qq.v.

coupling bat. A slunter's pole: Kent and East Sussex railwaymen's: C. 20. (Railway 2nd.) couranne. A crown piece: theatrical: from ca. 1860. B. & L. Via Fr. couronne. course.—3. Because: Cockney coll.: C. 20. George Ingram, Cockney Cavalcade, 1935, "'It's course he's got a 'cuddle' on for them.'" court, I'll see you in. (The law courts.) See church, I'll . . . above.

court a cat. To take a girl out: Naval: since ca. 1925. H. & P. (By 1940 also R.A.F.—via the Fleet Air Arm.) Not in the least uncomplimentary.

court martial, n. A tossing in a blanket: school-boys': from ca. 1870. B. & L.

court(-)short. A police-court paragraph (i.e. short news item): journalistic coll.: since ca. 1920.

Courtesy Cops. That section of the mobile police which on April 2, 1938, began, in England, to remonstrate politely with inconsiderate and to instruct ignorant motorists: motorists': 1938, The Observer, April 3; The Times, April 4.

Courts, the. Steamers of the Ropner Line: nautical coll.: since ca. 1920. The ships bear such names as Errington or Wellington Court.

cousin Jack. A Cornishman: Canadian coll., esp. among miners: late C. 19-20. (Leechman.) Cf. cousin Jon (p. 184).

Cousin Sis, go on the. To drink heavily: low, since ca. 1925. Gerald Kersh, The Nine Lives of Bill Nelson, 1942. Rhyming on go on the piss.

covee. 'A variant spelling of covey, a man': Boxiana, IV, 1824. The term was ca. 1815-30 much applied to landlords of public-houses (Egan, 1821).

cover for, v. "'Will you cover for me tonight?'" meaning "Will you take my turn of duty?" Hospital internes and resident doctors' (Leechman): Canadian (ex U.S.): since ca. 1945; adopted, ca. 1950, in Britain.

cover(-)me(-)decent. A greatcoat: low: ca. 1825-70. Sinks. Cf. decently (Dict.) and:— cover(-)me(-)properly. Fashionable clothes: low: ca. 1830-70. Sinks. Contrast:— cover(-)me(-)queerly. Ragged clothes: low: ca. 1830-70. Sinks. Cf. prec. two entries.

coving. 'Theft of jewellery by palming it as a conjuror does': c.: from ca. 1860. B. & L.

cow, 4. milk (p. 185). Also, since ca. 1920, common in Navy (lower-deck).

cow, three acres and a. See three acres and a cow in the Dict.

cow and calf.—2. A half: rhyming s., mostly racing men's: C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

cow banger. A dairy-farm hand: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Cf. cattle-banger.

cow cage. A car or van for livestock: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931).

Cow Cart Brigade, the. 'The Ossewa Brandwag (lit.: Ox-Wagon Sentinel), the Afrikaans Nationalist organization against whose activities British troops were warned' in World War II: 1940-45. (Peter Sanders.) cow chilo; bull chilo. A girl child; a boy child; pidgin: mid-C. 19-20; ob. by 1890, † by 1920. B. & L.

cow cocky (p. 185): since ca. 1910, also New Zealand (Niall Alexander, letter of Oct. 22, 1939).

cow conductor. A bullock driver: Australian jocular: ca. 1925-50. (B., 1943.)

cow confetti. 'Bullshit': Australian: since ca. 1930. (Kylie Tennant, The Honey Flow, 1956.) B., 1942, has the less usual cowyard confetti.

cow-gun.—2. 'A 1½ pounder automatic gun fitted to the bows of a large R.A.F. flying boat, from ca. 1935' (Peter Sanders).

cow lick (p. 185). It looks as though a cow has licked it into shape.

Cow-shed, the. A certain ladies' club: London taxi-drivers': since ca. 1920. Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939.

cowspank; cow-spanker. To run a dairy farm; a dairy farmer: Australian: C. 20. Baker.

Cow Street or Rue des Bitches. The Rue des Chats, noted for its brothels: 'Tommies': W.W.I. Cf. numbers, the, below. (A. B. Petch, April 1966.)

cowabunga! 'Shouted as one makes down the face of a king wave' (Pix, Sept. 28, 1963): Australian surfers': since ca. 1961. Cf. yabbadabba below.

cowardy (occ. cowardly) custard. A child's taunt: coll.: C. 19-20. A custard quivers.

cowboy. A bow-legged man: since ca. 1950. Ex so much riding.

cowboys. Baked beans: Naval: since ca. 1920. Cf. prairie rush.—2. Policemen, the police: Teddy boys' and youthful gangsters': since ca. 1955. The Observer, May 15, 1960.

cowhide. Aware ('I'm cowhide to it'): Irish rhyming s.: C. 20. On wide. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

cowie. A Western film: cinema-goers': since ca. 1955. Ex 'cowboy film'.

cows. Short for cow's calf (Dict.): C. 20. The New Statesman, Nov. 29, 1941.

cow's breakfast. A farmer's large straw hat: Canadian: C. 20.

cow's udder. 'PVC sleeve for twin connections' (Railway, 3rd): railwaymen's: since ca. 1920 (?).

cowyard cake. A cake, or a bun, containing a few sultanas: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1953.)

cowyard confetti. Empty talk; nonsense: Aus.: since ca. 1920. (B., 1959.) Cf. bull-dust above.

Coxey's army (p. 186) originated in 'General' J. S. Coxey's march, in April 1894, at the head of an 'Industrial Army' of the unemployed to Washington. The 'troops' deserted on the way to Washington, and Coxey himself entered the grounds of the Capitol—there to be arrested for walking on the grass! (With thanks to Mr I. O. Evans, editor of the 1967 British edition of Jack London's The Road; Jack London joined the Oakland contingent.)

coxon of the pram. A seaman's first-born: Naval (lower-deck) jocular: C. 20.

coze. An intimate talk; a comfortable friendly time together: 1814, Jane Austen, Mansfield Park, 'Proposed their going up into her room, where they might have a comfortable coze': ca. 1790-1860. Perhaps originally from Fr. causerie.

cozza (p. 186). Origin: Heb. chazar, a pig, hence pork and bacon. Cf. next.

cozzier, a policeman; the cozzier, the police, the Law: barrow-boys': since ca. 1930. Ex Hebrew chazar, a pig. Semantically cf. pig, n., 3 (p. 626) and phonetically and semantically cozza (p. 186).

crab, n., 6 (p. 186). Strictly a junior Midshipman. An earlier authority: 'Taffrail', 1910.—8. A police informer: Australian c.: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)—9. A telegraphist's badge: Australian Air Force: since ca. 1939. (B., 1943.)—10. A horse very unlikely to win a race: Australian: since late 1940's. (Culotta.) Ex tendency to run sideways—off the course? Cf. goat, n., 7, below.

crab, v.—2. (Usually as vbl n., crabbing.) 'Flying close to the ground or water' (Jackson), R.A.F.: since ca. 1925. Ex the habits of a crab: cf. also crab, n., 7 (p. 186). Robert Hinde, March 17; 1945, 'Orig., to fly with a large amount of drift; hence, to fly low because drift is more apparent near the ground—aircraft appear to fly diagonally'.

crab, adj. Perverse: C. 20. Short for crabby, ill-tempered. Atkinson.

crab along. To fly near the ground: R.A.F. since ca. 1920. H. & P. Cf. prec. entry.

Crab and Winkle Railway. 'Halesworth to Southwold. Former branch line of Great Eastern Railway' (Railway, 3rd): railwaymen's: C. 20; by 1960.

crab-bat. (See its elements: crab, n., 4; bat, n. 3.) An Indian Army term, dating from the early 1890's; as in Richards, 'The Prayer-wallah spent his time in learning the "crab-bat" . . . , which was all the swear-words in the Hindoostani language and a few more from the other Indian dialects to help these out. He had picked up a fair knowledge of the crab-bat at Meerut but he now studied it seriously and used to curse the natives, whenever they deserved it, to such order that they looked upon him with veneration and praised him as the oldest of old soldiers.' But crab here perhaps = Hindustani karob, evil.

crab fat. Admiralty grey paint: Naval: since ca. 1910. Granville.—2. An airman: Army (mildly contemptuous): since ca. 1930. 'Ex Air Force blue uniform and the use of blue unction against "crabs"' (Atkinson).

crab on the rocks. Itching testicles: low: late C. 19-20.

crab station. A verminous station: R.A.F.: since ca. 1925. Atkinson. See crab, n., 2 (p. 186).

crab the act is the Canadian approximation to cruel the pitch (p. 194): adopted, ca. 1930, ex U.S. theatre. (Leechman.)

crabs, 1 (p. 186). Still current for 'boots' in Australia as late as 1898.—3. A certain type (Fowler 5 M.T.) of tender-engines: railwaymen's: since ca. 1920. (Railway.)

crabs, move one's. To run away: c.: mid-C. 19-20; virtually †. B. & L.

crack, n., 9. Cf. Shelta crack, a stick.—13. Esp., have a crack at it. An attempt: since ca. 1925. App. it was orig. a Service term. H. & P. Cf. 'have a shot at something'.—14. Short for wise-crack, a witticism: coll.: since late 1920's.

crack, v, 7 (p. 187): since ca. 1810. (W. N. Glascock, Sketch-Book, I, 1825.) Moe.—11. To change (money): used, by seamen, of cashing advance notes: mostly a Liverpool word: C. 20.

crack, cry a. To cry 'quits': Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Perhaps cf. crack up, to yield to strain.

crack, good on the. See star, good on the.

crack down. To shoot down (an enemy 'plane'): R.A.F.: since 1940. H. & P.

crack down on. To suppress (lawless persons or acts); to reprimand: Services: since ca. 1935. H. & P.—2. Seize or make off with (something): Australian: C. 20.

crack down on the deck. To force-land on airfield or elsewhere on the ground: R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. H. & P. crack it. (Of a male) to succeed, amorously: Australian: since ca. 1920. Baker.

crack mugs. "'Oh! I been crackin' mugs, Missisabella." "'Crackin' mugs?" "'Hitchin'-on to mugs at the races, miss, and tippin' winners at a bob a time'" (K. S. Prichard, Kiss on the Lips, 1932): low Australian: since ca. 1910.

crack one's egg. See break one's egg.

crack one's face. To smile broadly; to laugh: since ca. 1945. Mostly of a very serious person. (A. B. Petch, March 1966.)

crack up. 'An accident causing damage that can be repaired,' Jackson: R.A.F. coll.: since ca. 1925. Ex crack up, v., 2 (Dict.).

cracked.—5. See wilderness, be in the.

cracked up to be, (it's) not what it's. Falling short of its reputation: c.p.: since ca. 1910. Cf. crack-up on p. 187.

cracker.—11. (Nearly always pl.) A hair-curler: Cockneys': C. 20. Esp. of one's hair in crackers.—12. Karaka: New Zealand: since ca. 1860; by 1926, ob. B., 1941. By 'Hobson-Jobson'.—13. A £1 note: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942.—14. A heavy punch: see rammer (?), 2. Cf. sense 5.—15. See banger, 6, above, and cf. sense 10 of cracker on p. 188.

cracker, not to have a. To be penniless: Australian: from ca. 1920. W. S. Howard, You're Telling Me!, 1934, 'What about money? . . . We haven't got a cracker.' crackerjack. Synonym of cracker-hash (p. 188). Granville.

cracking, get. See get cracking.

crackling, n. See crackle (Dict.).—2. Usually bit of crackling, a girl, since ca. 1890. Cf. bit of skirt, tart (Dict.) and crumpet, 3.

cracky.—2. Crazy; senseless: Australian: since ca. 1925. (D'Arcy Niland, Call Me . . ., 1958.)

crafty. Skilful, clever, well judged, well planned, well timed, sly ('Just time for a crafty one'—a drink): R.A.F. coll.: since ca. 1920. Partridge, 1945.

crammer, 2. Earlier in Sinks, 1848.

crammer's pup (p. 188). Since ca. 1870. In, e.g., Rudyard Kipling's Stalky and Co., 1899.

cramp in the kick, have. To be (very) short of money: from ca. 1880. Here, kick is one's pocket.

crank, n., 1. It survived until at least 1848 (Sinks).

crank file. Inventions department: mainly journalistic: C. 20. Office file kept for cranks' suggestions.

cranky, 1 (p. 189). Recorded by the O.E.D. for 1821.

cranky Fan. The bird known as the Grey Fantail: Australian: late C. 19–20. (B., 1943.)

crap. Rubbish; esp. 'It's crap', it's worthless: low: from ca. 1910. Cf. crap, n., 4 (Dict.).

crap barge. See shit barge below.

crap on, get the. See get the crap on.

Crappo. The French, collectively, esp. seamen or warships: late C. 18–mid-19. (W. N. Glascock, Sketch-Book, I—published in 1825—at pp. 25, 27, 33. Moe.) Ex Fr. crapaud, a frog.

crappy. Afraid: low Glasgow: from ca. 1920. MacArthur & Long. Ex preceding.—2. Hence, of very poor quality: Sc.: since ca. 1925. Barry England, Figures in a Landscape, 1963.

crash, n.—4. A failure, a fiasco: policemen's and warders': late C. 19–20. Ernest Raymond, We, The Accused, 1935.

crash, v., 1 (p. 189). In The English Digest, Feb. 1941, Hector Bolitho says, 'It was first used by Paymaster Lieutenant Lidderdale in 1914.'—3. To sleep: Australian airmen's: 1939–45. (B., 1943.)

crash a party. To join one, uninvited, by guile or by force: coll.: since ca. 1928. Perhaps a back-formation ex gate-crasher (p. 318).

crash-box. A non-synchromesh gear box: Australian motorists': since ca. 1950. (B.P.)

crash down the swede. See swede, crash . . .

crash-draft. A sudden posting to another ship or station: Naval (? only Australian) coll.: since ca. 1930.

crash-hot. Very good; 'marvellous': Australian: since ca. 1950. Cf. shit-hot below.

crash into print. (Of a tyro writer) to get something published: since ca. 1920.

crash landing. A forced landing; a landing with undercarriage up: R.A.F. coll. (since ca. 1915) >, by 1940, j. Cf. crash dive and see crash, v., 1, both in Dict.

crash-lob; force-lob, v.i. To make a forced landing: R.A.F. s. and coll., resp.: since ca. 1930. Both occur in Paul Brickhill & Conrad Norton, Escape to Danger, 1946. Here, lob (ex cricket) = to arrive, to land.

crash-o! A Cockney term expressive of surprise, or wondering disgust, at a long bill to pay; used after the event: from ca. 1918. E.g. 'I had to pay a deaner; blimey, crash-o!' Cf. thump!, q.v. in Dict.

crash one's or the swede. To get one's head down on the pillow: Naval (lower-deck): since ca. 1920. Weekly Telegraph, Oct. 25, 1944.

crash (occasionally flash) the ash; or lob the snout. To offer a cigarette or, in a group, cigarettes: R.A.F. in Malta: ca. 1955–65. (Laurie Atkinson.)

crasher.—3. A crashing bore: since ca. 1945. (Noel Coward, Pomp and Circumstance, 1960.) 'The Oxford -er'.

crassing cheats is a misprint for crashing-cheats.

crat; usually in pl. A bureaucrat; since ca. 1939.

crate.—2. Hence, an obsolescent aircraft: R.A.F.: since late 1917. Jackson. See kite.—3. A motor-car: 1937, F. E. Bailey, Treat Them Gently; slightly ob. Ex sense 1.

crawfords. 'Holding up one end of the mess table were the crawfords—steel, U-shaped supports forming legs' (Daily Colonist, June 19, 1960): Canadian Navy coll.: ca. 1910–25. Ex the manufacturer's name?

crawl, v. To cringe; Australian: since early C. 20. Ex do a crawl (p. 226)?

crawler.—4. A sheep; a shepherd: Australian: since ca. 1915. B., 1942.—5. A peaceable bullock or cow or calf: Australian rural: since ca. 1920. Baker.

crawling. Rotten: coll.: mid-C. 19–20. Short for crawling with maggots.—2. Verminous: Army and working-class coll.: since ca. 1915. Short for crawling with lice.

crawling with it. Very rich: mostly Cockney: since ca. 1918. Cf. lousy with on p. 497.

crayfish, v. To act the coward or the low schemer: Australian: C. 20. (K. S. Prichard, Hazby's Circus, 1930.) Cf. crayfish, n., on p. 190.

crazy.—2. Good; esp., very good: dance-fanatics': adopted, 1956, ex U.S. 'It's crazy—the most' = It's good—the best; 'the real crazy crew' = the really good musicians.—3. Hence, extraordinarily interesting; fascinating: Canadian dance-fanatics': since 1957. (The Victoria Daily Colonist, April 16, 1959, article 'Basic Beatnik'.)—4. Alert; progressive; 'with it': esp. among beatniks: since late 1950's. (Anderson.)

Sense 2 had, by 1960, > gen. s. among drug addicts, hippies, Flower People. (The Observer colour supplement, Dec. 3, 1967, article by Peter Fryer.)

crazy mixed-up kid. A youth with psychological problems, esp. if unable to distinguish the good from the bad: adopted, in late 1940's, ex U.S.

Crazyman's Creek, the; often simply the Creek. The Straits of Messina: Naval: 1941-4.

cream.—2. Whiskey: mostly Australian: since ca. 1925. (B.P.)

cream in, v.i. 'To enter harbour "at the rate of knots";' Granville: Naval coll.: C. 20. Ex the creamy backwash.

creamy. A quarter-caste aboriginal, esp. a girl: Australian: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.)—2. A palomino: Australian coll.: since ca. 1925. Jean Devanney, Travels in North Queensland, 1951, 'The breeding of Palominos—otherwise "yellow roses" or "creamies"—for show purposes . . .' (A south-western U.S. breed; palomino—American Sp. word.)

creamy do. A very special piece of luck: since ca. 1950. Cf. creamy on p. 190. (Laurie Atkinson).

crease. (Rare in singular.) Cress: sol., mostly Cockneys': mid-C. 19-20. Nevinson, 1895, 'E carrid 'is groun'sel or creases or whatever green stuff it might be in an old sack slung over 'is shoulder.'

creased (p. 190). Prob. ex S.E. crease, to stun (a horse) by shooting it in ridge of neck.—2. Hence, exhausted: Services: since ca. 1930.—3. Hence, disgruntled, 'fed up': since ca. 1938. H. & P.

Creek, The. See Crazyman's Creek.

creep, n. An objectionable or unpleasant person; a dull, insignificant, unwanted person: adopted, ca. 1944, ex U.S. Cf. creeper, 1 (p. 190). In Canadian universities, a girl not voted into a sorority: ca. 1945-60.—2. Hence, a 'square': Canadian: 1957 +.

creep.—2. The coll. v. corresponding to creeper, 1 (p. 190). Sense 1, by the way, is often modified to = 'to be fined, not imprisoned'—as in James Curtis, They Ride by Night, 1938.—3. Only in creep!, go away: office- and shop-girls': ca. 1956-9. (Gilderdale.)—4. To rob 'on the creep': c.: since ca. 1920. (Norman.)—5. To dance, as in 'Come creeping with me': beatniks': since ca. 1959. (Anderson.) Ex the very slow types of dancing.

Sense 4: 'Creep means to burgle when there's someone in the house': Peter Crookston, Villain, 1967.

creep, on the. A variant (Norman) of at . . ., q.v. at creep, at the (p. 190).

creep into favour with oneself. To become self-conceited: ca. 1810-50. Boxiana, II, 1818.

creeper, 3 (p. 190), has become more general in sense and in distribution. In, e.g., Henri Fauconnier's The Soul of Malaya, 1931, it means any young (comparatively), inexperienced planter, and is thus used by many Far East planters.

creepers.—2. 'Gym' shoes: Naval: since ca. 1920.—3. 'Boots with thick rubber soles, worn by night-patrols in the desert': Army in North Africa: 1940-3. (P-G-R.)

creeping and weeping. The recovery of an errant torpedo during trials: Naval: since ca. 1910. Ship's boats 'creep' over—laboriously search—the potential area; if unsuccessful, the boats pull back—'weep'—and start again. (Wilfred Granville, letter of Jan. 7, 1947.)

Creeping Copulator, the. A variant of the Flying Fornicator below.

creeping Jesus (p. 190). Also, in Australia, an exclamation. (Sidney J. Baker, letter.)—2. In billards, a long losing hazard played slowly: since ca. 1920.

creepy-crawly. An insect; a spider: mostly domestic and juvenile: mid-C. 19-20.

crenk. To offend; to irritate or annoy, as in 'It really crenked me!': mostly teenagers': since ca. 1950. Ex Yiddish crenk, to hurt; perhaps ultimately ex German krank, sick, ill. Mr Ramsey Spencer modifies my etymology thus: Ex Ger. kränken (pron. krenken), to hurt someone's feelings. 'Which is, of course, the same root as krank, ill.'

Créolo. An Argentine that is a professional pimp: c. of the white-slavers: C. 20. Albert Londres, The Road to Buenos Ayres, 1928. He is also canfinflero (more familiarly cafishio); also, among the French, le compadre.

crew-cut hair, hence 'a crew-cut'. A man's hair cut short and en brosse, popular especially among athletes and the would-be manly: Canadian: adopted, ca. 1951, ex U.S. (Leechman.) By 1952, fairly common, and already coll., in Britain and Australia. Recorded by Berrey & Van den Bark in The American Thesaurus of Slang, 2nd edition, 1952, and by B., 1953. Perhaps because originally affected by 'rowing types' at Harvard and Yale Universities.

crew up, v.i. and v.t. To form, put into, a crew: R.A.F. coll.: 1939 +.

crib, n. Sense 1 ('food') is extant, as s., in Australia and New Zealand, esp. as 'prepared food, sandwiches for lunch, a lunch'. (K. S. Prichard, Working Bullocks, 1926; Jean Devanney, Bushman Burke, 1930; Dymphna Cusack, Southern Steel, 1953.)—8. Stomach: c.:? C. 17-mid-19. B. & L.—9. A grumble; a cause for grumbling: Services: since ca. 1920. H. & P. Ex crib, v., 8 (p. 191).—10. A caboose: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931).—11. A brothel: low Australian: since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.) Perhaps cf. senses 3 and 4 (p. 190).

crib, v., 8. Also R.A.F.: 1919 +. The v.t. form is crib at, 'grumble or complain about' (something)—also crib about.—9. To eat, esp., to take a meal: Australian: late C. 19-20. K. S. Prichard, Working Bullocks, 1926, 'Be boiling the billy presently. Better come and crib with us, Red.' Ex the n., sense 1.

Cribby Islands (p. 191). Earlier in Sessions, 1774, 2nd session of E. Bull's mayoralty, 'Yes; there are many cribby islands about it', the ref. being to the thoroughfare from Cursitor Street to White's Alley.

cricket; usually in pl. A German night-fighter 'plane': R.A.F.: 1940-4. H. & P. Lively at night.—2. Both the cricket and the football, cricket news and football news, are coll.: C. 20.

cricket team. A (very) sparse moustache: Australian: since late 1940's. Eleven a side: eleven hairs on each side of the mid-lip dimple. (B.P.)

Cricklewood. Crich el Oued, Tunisia: Army in North Africa: World War II. (P-G-R.)

Crier of the Court. See 'Tavern terms', § 4.

crim. A criminal: Australian: since ca. 1925. (Kylie Tennant, The Joyful Condemned, 1953; Vince Kelly, The Greedy Ones, 1958.) A professional criminal: Australian: since ca. 1945. (Dick.)

Crimea. Beer: rhyming s.: ca. 1860-1910. (Franklyn 2nd.)

crimp. A swindler, a blackguard: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Ex lit. S.E. sense.

crimum. Sheep: Shelta: C. 18–20. B. & L. crinkle. Paper money: spivs' c.: since ca. 1942. (Picture Post, Jan. 1954.) It easily creases.
Crippen. See 'Ephemeral General Nicknames'. cripple.—5. A defective car: Canadian railroad-men's (— 1931).

Cripplegate. See Bishopsgate.

Crisch. See 'Imperial'.

criss-cross. A cross-word puzzle; cross-words in general: 'since ca. 1935.

crit.—2. N. and v. To make an oral or a written critical report upon a fellow-student's work: training colleges': C. 20. In, e.g., Josephine Tey, Miss Pym Disposes, 1946.

crit sheet. That printed form which is attached to a report and on which the reader indicates the accuracy and value of the report: Services' and Civil service coll.: since ca. 1945. Cf. the preceding.

Criterion. See Captain Criterion.

critical. Dangerously ill or injured: coll., orig. and still mainly journalists': since ca. 1930. Ex 'be in a critical state'.

cro. A prostitute: low Australian: since the 1920's. (Kylie Tennant, The Joyful Condemned, 1953.) Origin? Loose for chro above.—2. A c.r.o. or cathode-ray oscilloscope: esp. in Australia: since ca. 1940. (B.P.)

cro or cros (pron. cro). A professional gambler: buckish s. of ca. 1810–40. In, e.g., J. J. Stockdale, The Greeks, 1817. Ex Fr. escroc, a sharper.

cro'-eyed. Cross-eyed: prob. mid-C. 18–19. A cro'-eyed Jack is a cross-eyed fellow, but often in the form cro'-Jack (-eyed), as in Wm Nugent Glascock, The Naval Sketch-Book, 2nd Series, 1834; the dating of cro'-Jack eyed on p. 121 should therefore be altered. Cf. cross-jack below.

croaker.—7. A newspaper: Australian low: since ca. 1910. B., 1942. Cf. sense 3 (p. 192).

Croc. 'Short for Crocodile, a British flame-throwing tank': Army: ca. 1941–5. (P-G-R.)
croc, 2 (p. 192): in, e.g., Alexander Macdonald, In the Land of Pearl and Gold, 1907, on p. 205.

croci is used, occ., for crocuses by those who possess a smattering of Latin.

crock.—5. Earth they mar: navvies': ca. 1870–1910. (D. W. Barrett, 1880.)

Crocket(t)'s Folly. The Olympia cab-rank: London taxi-drivers': since ca. 1910. Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939.

crocus, variant of crocus (Dict.).

crocky, n. A crocodile: Australian (mostly juvenile): C. 20. (B., 1943.)

crocky, adj. Shaky and weak; groggy: Australian coll.: late C. 19–20; by 1900's ob. (K. S. Prichard, The Black Opal, 1921.)

crocodile.—3. (Both n. and v.) Applied to 'paint which has contracted during drying. . . . Resembling a crocodile's skin' (a master builder, Dec. 5, 1953): builders' and house-painters': C. 20.—4. A horse: Australian: since ca. 1930. (B., 1943.)

crocus, v. See crocussing below.—2. Hence, neutrally and widely, to sell medicines and toilet preparations to (the gathered customers): fairgrounds': C. 20. (W. Buchanan-Taylor, Shake It Again, 1943.) Cf. crocus metallorum on p. 192.
crocussing is the predominant form, in C. 20, of crocussing rig (p. 192).

Crombo. A. C. M. Croome, cricket correspondent of The Times: cricketers' and cricket journalists':

C. 20. Sir Home Gordon, The Background of Cricket, 1939.

cronk.—3. Hence, ill: C. 20.

cronker. A foreman: tailors': from ca. 1860. B. & L. Ex dial. cronk, either 'to croak; hence, grumble' or 'to sit; esp. sit huddled up' (E.D.D.). cronky. 'Wonky' or unsound; inferior; not well: since ca. 1920. Cf. cronk (p. 192).

crook, adj.—3. (Ex 1.) Spurious: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.—4. (Of, e.g., eggs) bad, rotten; Australian: ca. 1905. Gavin Casey, It's Harder for Girls, 1942.—5. (Of persons) objectionable: Australian: since ca. 1910. Gavin Casey, Downhill is Easier, 1945.—6. (Of land) poor, infertile: Australian: since ca. 1910. (Dal Stevens, The Gambling Ghost, 1953.)—7. Inferior: Australian: since early C. 20. A generalization of senses 1 (p. 192) and 3, 4. Culotta instances 'crook beer'. crook, n., 2 (p. 192), goes back, in U.S., to the 1870's.

crook (or click), in the. In the act of cutting: tailors' coll.: from ca. 1860. B. & L.

crook and butcher. Cook & Butcher (a 'trade'): R.A.F.: since ca. 1935. Jackson, 'It is commonly believed that his sins go so often unpunished.'

crook up. To fall, to become, ill: Australian: since ca. 1910. (D'Arcy Niland, Call Me When the Cross Turns Over, 1958.) Ex crook, adj., 1, on p. 192.

crooked, adj.—2. Variation of crook, adj., 2 (p. 192), 'angry, annoyed': Australian: since ca. 1918. Lawson Glassop, We Were the Rats, 1944.—3. Esp., crooked on, as in "'That work," he said, "I'm crooked on that"' (Lawson Glassop, Lucky Palmer, 1949): Australian: since ca. 1930. This sense of crooked is pronounced as one syllable, not like the S.E. crooked, dishonest, criminal.

crooked as George Street West, as. Extremely crooked: Sydneysiders': late C. 19–20; by 1960 ob.—this street being now called Broadway. (B.P.)

crooked straight-edge or the round square, go and fetch the. C.pp. April Fool 'catches': carpenters': C. 19–20. Among warehousemen, it is go and fetch the wall-stretcher; in engineers' shops, the rubber hammer: both from ca. 1860.

croop. Stomach: lower-classes': mid-C. 19–20. B. & L. I.e. crop.

crople on. To take hold of, to seize: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.) Ex grapple?

cropper, come a. Already in H., 2nd edition, 1860.

cros. See cro.

cross, n.—4. The tail of a two-up penny: Australian: since ca. 1920. (B., 1953.) Ex black cross painted on it to facilitate recognition.

Cross, the. The King's Cross district of Sydney: Sydney coll.: since ca. 1910. (Dymphna Cusack, 1951.)

cross (someone's) bows. To offend a senior officer: Naval: C. 20. Granville, 'It is a flagrant breach of manners for a junior ship to cross the bows of a senior ship.'

cross-buttock (p. 193) occurs earlier—1860—in H., 2nd ed. By 1920, this metaphor was virtually extinct.

cross-chopping. Argument: 1831, Sessions, 'There was a good deal of cross-chopping at the office as to whether it was on a Sunday': coll.: C. 19.

cross-cut. A Jewess: low: late C. 19–20. Ex the Gentile lower-class myth that she has to undergo an operation similar to her brother's.

cross-jack, adj. Squinting: C. 19. Fredk Chamier, The Life of a Sailor, 1832, at II, 230, 'He had a great advantage in both eyes and tongue, for he squinted so abominably, that you could not escape his cross-jack glance; and he had "a tongue to wheedle with the devil".' (Moe.)

cross-jack-eyed. Squint-eyed: ca. 1800–1870. The Night Watch (II, 88), 1828. Cf. look Cro'Jack eyed on p. 493. (Moe.)

cross-kid, n. 'Kidding', blarney; deception, imposition; irony: low: 1893, P. H. Emerson; † by 1920.

cross killicks. A Petty Officer's badge (crossed anchors): Naval (lower-deck): C. 20. (P-G-R.)

cross my heart! A c.p. of declaration that one is telling the truth: mid-C. 19–20.

cross (someone) off one's visiting list; usually to have crossed . . . 'This is sometimes used jocularly, mainly by working-class people who do not keep Books of Engagements' (A. B. Petch, March 1966): since ca. 1930.

Crosse and Blackwell's Regiment. The General Service Corps: Army; since late 1930's. Ex the similarity of its cap badge to Messrs Crosse & Blackwell's trademark. (Evelyn Waugh, Put out More Flags, 1942.)

crossers. Crossword puzzles in general, or one in particular: since ca. 1930. Ex crossword by 'the Oxford -er'.

Crosso, the. King's Cross, Sydney: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

crossword spanner. A pencil: Naval engineers': since ca. 1950. (Wilfred Granville, letter of April 22, 1962.)

crotch(-)rot. 'A form of skin fungus that attacks the area between the buttocks and around the groin. Extremely common affliction. One doctor told me "Everybody and his dog has it"' (Leechman): coll., mostly Canadian: C. 20.

crow, n.—4. A professional gambler: ca. 1805–40. (J. J. Stockwell, 1817.) Pun on S.E. rook.—5. A rating that's always getting into trouble: Naval: since ca. 1920. Granville. Prompted by bird, n., 7 (Dict.).

crow, draw the. To experience (an outstanding piece of) bad luck: Australian: since ca. 1910. Lawson Glassop, We Were the Rats, 1944.

crow, not to know (someone) from a. Not to know at all: C. 20. Variation of . . . from Adam.

crow-bait.—2. An aboriginal: Australian, coll. rather than s.: since ca. 1830. In, e.g., Brian Penton, Landtakers, 1934.

Sense 1 (p. 194): 'also used in Canada' (Leechman).

crow in working rig. A seagull: Naval: since ca. 1930. (P-G-R.)

crow-pee, at. At dawn: British Army in North Africa: 1941–3. 'English imitation of Australian slang, Western Desert' (Peter Sanders).

crowd, v. To verge on: Canadian coll.: adopted, ca. 1935, ex U.S. 'He must be crowding forty.' (Leechman.)

crowded space. Suitcase: since ca. 1930.: orig. c.; by 1940, low s. (Franklyn 2nd.)

crowder. A string: Shelta: C. 18–20. B. & L.

crown, v.—4. To cane: Australian school-boys': ca. 1910–40. Donald McLean, Nature's Second Son, 1954. Cf. coronation above.

crown, adj. Very large: Australian coll.: since ca. 1920. Vance Palmer, Let the Birds Fly, 1955, 'If it's a crown fire we're gone a million'. Prompted by the crowning of, e.g., 'crowning glory'.

crown, to have got one's. To have been promoted to Flight-Sergeant: R.A.F. coll.: since ca. 1920. Partridge, 1945. See also got his crown up and the entry next but one.

[Crown and Anchor:—For the s. terms, see puff and dart; for a very clear description of the game, —a favourite of soldiers and sailors—see Richards, pp. 65–7.]

crown up, put one's. To be promoted to Company (or Battery) Sergeant-Major: Army coll.: since ca. 1905. H. & P. crownie. 'A tram or bus inspector' (B., 1935): Australian: since ca. 1935. Ex the crown that indicates his rank.

crowning. A blow on the crown of the head: low: from ca. 1905. Ex crown, v., 3 (Dict.).

crowning him. Coupling a caboose to a train already made up: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931).

crud. 'Equals turd as an expression of contempt for another person. "What a silly little crud Harry is!"' (Leechman): Canadian: since ca. 1930. Ex Canadian (and U.S.) dial., itself ex English dial., crud, a survival from late Middle English crudde. Also, since late 1930's, common in Australia. (B.P.)

crudget. The head: Australian: since ca. 1920. Prob. a corruption of crumpet, 1 [Dict.] (the head).

cruel. To spoil or ruin (e.g. a person's chances): Australian: since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.) Ex cruel the pitch (p. 194).

cruiser.—4. 'A taxi-cab that cruises the streets in search of fares' (Leechman): Canadian coll.: since ca. 1935; by 1960, S.E. Cf. the U.S. cruiser, a squad, or prow, car.

cruity. A recruit: military: ca. 1850–1914. Robert Blatchford, My Life in the Army, 1910. Cf. rooky (Dict.), which superseded it.

cruise. To slip into the kitchen in order to cadge, or remove, food: Sedgley Park School and St. Wilfred's College: C. 19. I.e. to cruise. Its C. 20 derivative is goose, which in the 1920's = 'to happen to get lost (in, say, the course of a general walk)'; and, in the 1930's, = 'to fail to report (to the Prefect of Discipline)'. Frank Roberts, in The Cottonian, Autumn 1938.

crumb act, put on the. 'To impose on another person' (B., 1959): Aus. low: C. 20.

crumb-hunting. See 'Canadian'.

crumbs.—2. Small change: mostly teenagers': since ca. 1950. Cf. bread above.

crummy, n. A caboose: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931). Pejorative.

crummy, adj.—5. (Ex sense 4: p. 195.) Inferior; dull, as a crummy joint or dull night club: since ca. 1946.

crummy, the. Fat: sporting: ca. 1818–40. Tom Moore, Tom Crib's Memorial, 1819, 'To train down the crummy.' Ex sense 1 of the adj. (p. 195).

Crump Dump, the. The Ruhr: R.A.F.: late 1940–early 1945. The New Statesman, Sept. 19, 1942, E. P., 'Air Warfare and its Slang'. Ex the numerous bombs the R.A.F. dumped there; and see crump, n., 3 in Dict.

crump(-)hole. A bomb-caused crater: 1940, Berrey. Cf. preceding.

crumper.—3. A heavy crash, as in 'The Wimpey came a proper crumper' (Jackson): R.A.F.: since ca. 1925. Ex 1.

crumpet. Sense 2 follows ex:—3. Woman as sex; women viewed collectively as instruments of sexual pleasure: low: from ca. 1880. (James Curtis, The Gilt Kid, 1936.) Cf. battered bun, 1, 2 (Dict.) and crackling, 2.—4. A 'softy' or a 'mug'; a dupe; a fool: Australian: since ca. 1920. Lawson Glassop, 1944. A crumpet is soft.—5. A female undergraduate: Durham male undergraduates' (— 1940). Marples, 2. Perhaps cf. sense 2 (p. 195).

crumpet, not worth a. (Utterly) worthless: Australian: since late 1940's. Ex sense 3 of crumpet. (B.P.)

crunch, the. The most severe—'the real'—test (of, e.g., strength, courage, nerve, skill, etc.): since ca. 1960. 'The crunch'll come when you have to go out and earn your living' (any irate father to teenage son); 'When it came to the crunch, his courage failed'; Bournemouth's Evening Echo, April 3, 1966. Of sporting origin, I think: prob. Rugby; perhaps boxing or all-in wrestling.

crupper, ride below the. To copulate with a woman: literary: mid-C. 17–18.

crush, n., 4 (p. 195). Read: U.S. (— 1903), anglicised in mid-1920's. Sylva Clapin, Americanisms, 1903, "In college slang, a liking for a person."—6. A narrow gateway in a mustering yard or paddock: Australian rural coll. (— 1938). (Dal Stevens, The Courtship of Uncle Henry, 1946.)

crush (bet). A bet that ensures one against loss: Australian sporting: C. 20. B., 1942, 'Whence, "crusher" (agent), "crushing" (action).'

crusher, l. By extension, a Regulating Petty officer (equivalent to a Warrant Officer in Military or Service Police): Naval: since ca. 1920. H. & P.—See crush (bet).—6. A schoolmaster: Clifton College: C. 20. (J. Judfield Willis, letter.)

Crusoe, or Robinson Crusoe. R. C. Robertson-Glasgow, the Oxford and Somerset cricketer and, since ca. 1935, writer on cricket, brilliant wit and delightful stylist: cricketers': since ca. 1925. In, e.g., E. W. Swanton's report in The Daily Telegraph, May 16, 1948, and in 'Crusoe's autobiography, 46 Not Out, June 19, 1948. Ex his initials and ex the approximation of Robertson-Glasgow to Robinson Crusoe (Defoe's famous novel, 1719).

crust.—3. A vagrancy charge: Australian c. (and police s.): since ca. 1935. (B., 1953.) A reference to 'lack of means of subsistence'.—4. Insolence: Canadian: since ca. 1910. 'Well, you've got a crust, I must say!' (Leechman.) Cf. sense 2 on p. 195.

crust of bread. The head: rhyming s.: C. 20. Usually shortened to crust: cf. crust, 1 on p. 195. (Franklyn, Rhyming.) crusty or -ie. A crust: Cockneys': from ca. 1870. Pugh.

Crutch. Nickname of the school carpenter: Winchester: from ca. 1870. B. & L.

crutch. An experienced skater supporting a learner: skating rinks': since ca. 1935.

crutch, stiff as a. Penniless: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

crutch and toothpick parade, the. The old and dodderly (usually, male): coll.: C. 20.

cry all the way to the bank, e.g. 'I'll cry . . .' or 'He cried . . .' A c.p., adopted in late 1950's ex U.S. and used by, or of, someone whose work is adversely criticized on literary or artistic or musical grounds, but who makes a lot of money by it.

cry (occasionally say) Uncle. To admit defeat; cry for mercy: Canadian: since ca. 1925. (Leechman.)

crying out loud!, for. A London phrase, from ca. 1930, used in the place of—and with more effect than—for Christ's sake. Prob. ex U.S., where euphemistic.

crypto. A 'secret' Communist; a sympathiser with Communism: Parliamentary: 1945 +. Tom Driberg in Reynolds, March 10, 1946. Gr. kryptos, hidden.

C's, the three. The Central Criminal Court: prison c.: from ca. 1880. B. & L. cu.—2. Cumulus cloud(s): R.A.F. (orig. meteorological) coll.: since ca. 1925. H. & P. Also, via R.A.F. Met. Officers on Divisional, Corps, and Army H.Q. Staffs, among Army officers since at least as early as 1940. Ex the official abbreviation.

cubby, short for cubby-house. A child's playhouse in the backyard: Australian coll.: since ca. 1925. (B.P.) cube.—2. One who is squarest of the square: since ca. 1960. (Correspondence columns in The Sunday Times, Sept. 8, 1963.) Ex square, n., 7, below.

cube of three!, the. See three!, the cube of, in Dict.

cubic type. A non-existent type-face that green apprentices are sent to find: printers': late C. 19–20.

cuckoo.—6. (Usually in pl.) A German bomber: 1940, Berrey. 'In allusion to the cuckoo's habit of laying its eggs in another bird's nest'; but not very gen. and never used by the Services. Cf. sense 5 (p. 196).

Cuckoo Line. 'Eridge to Polegate section (SR)': railwaymen's: C. 20. Railway, 3rd. These are two Sussex villages, the latter near Eastbourne.

cuddle, n. A rendezvous of boy and girl: low London: since ca. 1920. George Ingram, Cockney Cavalcade, 1935. Ex the v.; cf.—

cuddle and kiss. A girl: Cockneys': C. 20. Len Ortzen, Down Donkey Row, 1938. Rhyming on miss.

cuddle-pup. An over-dressed young officer: Waacs': 1915–18. (Anon., W.A.A.C., 1930.)

cuddle-seat. One of the double seats provided in some cinemas for courting (or amorous) couples: Australian coll.: since ca. 1955. Perhaps ex the cuddleseat—a sling devised for baby-carrying. (B.P.)

cuddy, n.—3. The cuddy is the Captain's cabin: Naval: late C. 19–20. Granville. 'Taffrail', 1916.

cuds, in the. In the hills: R.A.F. in N.W. India: since ca. 1925. Jackson. Ex Hindustani khud, a steep hill-side.—4. A small, general-purpose horse: Australian: late C. 19–20. (B., 1943.) Ex sense 1 (p. 196).

Cud's bobs! See 'Ejaculations'.

cue-despiser. An actor that, careless in observing his cues, endangers the performance: theatrical coll.: from ca. 1870. B. & L.

cuff, on the. On credit: since ca. 1925: low >, ca. 1940, pretty respectable. In, e.g., F. D. Sharpe, The Flying Squad, 1938. Ex pencilling the debt on one's cuff.

cuffer, pitch the. To 'tell the tale': late C. 19-20. See cuffer, 1 (p. 197).

cufuffle. See the variant gefuffle below.—2. An amorous embrace: Anglo-Irish: late C. 19-20.—3. A row, a brawl, a disturbance: Canadian: since ca. 1930. (Leechman.)

cuke. A cucumber: Canadian greengrocers': since ca. 1910. (Leechman.) Cf. cu (p. 196).

culch. Inferior meat: odds and ends of meat: low, mostly London: ca. 1815-80. Sinks, 1848. Ex S.E. and S.W. English dial. culch or culsh, both in Dict.

culio. Curio: pidgin: from ca. 1880. B. & L.

cull.—4. A friend; a work companion: mid-C. 19-20. (Sydney Lester, 1937.) Cf. rum cull, 3 (p. 717).

culls, cullions (p. 197). Ex Fr. couillons, testicles.

cully, v. To dupe; to cheat or swindle: c. of ca. 1670-1800. Thomas Dangerfield, Don Tomazo, 1680; B.E., 1690. Ex the n.

culture vulture. A person avid for culture; esp., one who haunts exhibitions and lectures: adopted, in late 1950's, ex U.S. Of the same sort of American rhyming s. as eager beaver.

cumshaw (p. 197) prob. dates from thirty or forty years earlier than I suggested. It occurs in, e.g., John McLeod, Voyage of His Majesty's Ship, Alceste, 1818. Moe.

cundy. A small stone: Australian: late C. 19-20. (B., 1943.) Ex E. dial. cundy, a conduit, e.g. a small conduit made of stone-work.

Cunnamulla cartwheel. 'A big, broad-rimmed hat' (B., 1942): Aus., mostly Queensland and N.S.W.: ca. 1920-50. Cunnamulla is an out-west Queensland town.

cunnel. A potato: Shelta: C. 18-20. B. & L.

cunning as a Maori dog, as. Very cunning indeed: New Zealand: since ca. 1925. (Slatter.)

cunny.—2. As the cunny, it = the countryside: Merseyside: C. 20. Ex country.

cunt (p. 198) cannot be from the L. word but is certainly cognate with O.E. cwithe, 'the womb' (with a Gothic parallel); cf. mod. English come, ex O.E. cweman. The -nt, which is difficult to explain, was already present in O.E. kunte. The radical would seem to be cu (in O.E. cwe), which app. = quintessential physical femineity (cf. sense 2 of cunt) and partly explains why, in India, the cow is a sacred animal.—3. Anybody one dislikes: late C. 19-20. An objectionable fellow or an awkward thing: since ca. 1918. Perhaps influenced by cunt!, silly (p. 198). As a correspondent notes in 1963: 'Cunt tends to mean "knave" rather than "fool". Prick tends to mean "fool" rather than "knave".' Cf. cunt and a half, below.

cunt, drunk as a. Extremely drunk: low: late C. 19-20. Prob. the commonest of all the cunt similes.

cunt and a half, he's a. A c.p. applied to an extremely objectionable youth or man: since the late 1950's. Cf. sense 3 of cunt.

cunt face is a low term of address to an ugly person: late C. 19-20. More insulting than the synonymous shit face.

cunt hat. See fanny hat.—2. (Also cunt cap.) A forage cap: Army: since ca. 1915.

cunt hooks. Fingers: low: C. 20. 'Keep your cunt hooks off my belongings!'

Cunts in Velvet (Dict.) was orig.—i.e. in the South African War—applied to the C.I.V.'s or City Imperial Volunteers. (The Sunday Times, Johannesburg, May 23, 1937.)

cup. Short for cup of tea, 2 (p. 198): since the late 1930's. Angus Wilson, Hemlock and After, 1952, 'Anyway, none of it would be your cup, darling.'

Cup, the. The Melbourne Cup (meeting or race): Australian coll.: late C. 19-20. B., 1942.

cup of tea. Sense 2 dates from ca. 1910 and is usually in the negative.—3. Ironically to a person (slightly) in the wrong—Cockneys', from ca. 1920—as in 'You're a nice ol' cup o' tea, now ain't yer?'

cupboard, adj. (Of the prospects of a house) no good, close-fisted: tramps' and Romanies' s.: C. 20. (Robert M. Dawson.) The inmates keep the food there.

cuppa. A cup of tea; esp., a nice cuppa: Australian: since ca. 1905; by 1940, coll. By abbreviation and ex the Australian addiction to 'nice cups of tea'.

Cupper (p. 199) has, since ca. 1920, been also a University of Cambridge word. The competition is the Cuppers.

curate.—2. A bar-tender: Anglo-Irish: late C. 19-20. James Joyce, The Dubliners, 1914. Ironic.—3. A grocer's assistant: Anglo-Irish: late C. 19-20. (P. W. Joyce, English . . . in Ireland, 1910.)

curate's egg, the. See good in parts (Dict.).

curbstone jockey. A street, or other unreliable, tipster: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

curdles one's milk, it. A c.p. directed at one who sours the milk of human kindness: since ca. 1925. Atkinson.

cure, the. A Canadian term of (?) ca. 1840-1900. Harry Guillod's 'Journal of a trip to Cariboo', 1862, in the British Columbia Historical Quarterly, July-Oct. 1965: 'It was good fun bathing here; the mosquitoes attacked us as soon as we undressed, and we had to bolt into the water, and when out again, to put our things on in no time, dancing "the Cure" without any exertion' (supplied by Dr Douglas Leechman).

curl-a-mo; curl the mo. See kurl.

curler. A sweater of gold coins: Australian c.: late C. 19-20. B., 1942. Cf. curle (Dict.).

curly.—3. Since ca. 1910, Curly has been predominantly used ironically for men almost entirely bald. Cf. Tiny (Dict.).—4. A story, an account: Cockney: since ca. 1910. Margery Allingham, Coroner's Pidgin, 1945.

curly, adj. Difficult, as in 'That's a curly one'—a question hard to answer: (?) mostly Australian: since ca. 1950. (The Sydney Sunday Mirror, Oct. 27, 1963.) Perhaps ex googly bowling in cricket, or, less prob., ex 'throwing a curve' in baseball.—2. But in New Zealand, e.g. as 'That was extra curly' (Slatter), it seems to mean 'excellent' or 'attractive' and to date since ca. 1935.

curly, chuck a. See chuck a curly (Dict.).

Curly Navy, the. The Royal Canadian Naval Reserve: Naval: since ca. 1939. H. & P., 'Variant of Wavy Navy.'

currant bun. The sun: Cockneys': late C. 19-20. Len Ortzen, Down Donkey Row, 1938. Rhyming.—2. On the currant bun, on the run from the police: since ca. 1920: rhyming s.—orig. underworld >, by ca. 1945, also police s. Often shortened to on the currant. John Gosling, The Ghost Squad, 1959.

current. In good health, esp. as in 'He is not current': Anglo-Irish, esp. Cork: late C. 19–20. (P. W. Joyce, 1910.)

curry, give (someone). To reprimand; reprove vigorously; vituperate: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

Curry, the. 'Cloncurry, generally called "The Curry", is the western Queensland base of the incomparable Flying Doctor Service' (Jock Marshall & Russell Drysdale, Journey among Men, 1962, at p. 21): Australian: C. 20.

curry and rice navy (p. 199). Botter with capitals; since ca. 1930 the Royal Indian Navy.

curse, n. One's swag or 'bluey': Australian swagman's: C. 20. (Ion M. Idriess, 1934.)

curse, the. The menses: feminine euphemistic or jocular coll.: late C. 19–20.—2. A tramp's swag: Australian C. 20. B., 1942. Whence 'hump the curse', go on the tramp? Variant: carry the curse: B., 1959.

curse of Eve, the. The menses: domestic coll.: C. 19–20. (C. S. Forester, Brown on Resolution, 1929.) The origin of the preceding.

curse of the drinking classes, the. Work: c.p.: since late 1940's. A pun on the cliché, the curse of the working classes is drink. (A. B. Petch, March 1966.)

curse rag. A sanitary towel: Wrens': 1939 +. See curse, the.

cursed with (something), (I) wish I was. A Cockney formula, virtually a c.p. = I wish I were blessed with, I wish I had it: C. 20.

curtains. 'Paint running down surface and setting in drape-like pattern' (master builder, 1953): builders' and house-painters': C. 20.—2. Mostly in 'It's curtains for him', implying death or dismissal or 'the end': adopted, ca. 1944, from U.S. servicemen. Of theatrical origin.

cush, n.—2. Something easy to do or to endure: regular Army: since ca. 1918. Gerald Kersh, They Die with Their Boots Clean, 1941. Ex cushy (Dict.).—3. Female genitalia: among servicemen with Near East experience: C. 20. Ex Arabic.

cush, adj. Fair: honest, honourable: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. Cf. coosh.

custard bosun. A Warrant Cook: Naval: since ca. 1925. Granville. Jocular.

custards. Pimples: Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1942. Ex colour.

customer. An enemy 'planc: R.A.F.: World War II. (Guy Gibson, Enemy Coast Ahead, 1946.)—2. (Usually in pl.) 'Do-gooders who visit patients in hospitals or elderly people in their homes, sometimes call them "customers"' (A. B. Petch, March 1966): since ca. 1950.

cut, n.—8. Hence (?), as in get a cut (at a station), a sheep-shearing job: Australian coll.: C. 20. B., 1942.—9. (Ex 7, 8.) 'Completion of a job,' Baker: Australian: since ca. 1910.

cut, v. 4 (p. 201) dates rather from ca. 1780. Charles Dibdin, 'Jack in His Element'—The Britannic Magazine, 1793 (I, No. 3), at p. 34—has 'She cut—I chac'd'. Moe.

cut, adj., dates back to before 1650: see 'Tavern terms', § 8.—2. Hence, stupid, silly; esp., half-cut: late C. 19–20. (B., 1943.) Cf. half-cut on p. 368 and here.

cut! Stop cameras and action: cinematic s., since ca. 1910; by 1930, coll.—Hence, esp. in Canada, 'used on other occasions and in other occupations' (Leechman): since ca. 1945.

cut, have one's. See have one's cut.

cut a rug. To 'jive' or 'jitterbug': dance addicts': adopted from U.S. soldiers in 1943. John Bull, Feb. 2, 1946.

cut about. To move smartly: Guardsmen's: since ca. 1930. Roger Grinstead, They Dug a Hole, 1946. Cf. get cracking—get mobile—get weaving.

cut and carried. (Of a woman) married: rhyming s.: C. 20. Franklyn, Rhyming.

cut and run (p. 201) prob. goes back to ca. 1810. It occurs in, e.g., The Night Watch (II, 99), 1828, 'I was sick of the ship and the sea and I again cut and run', and earlier still in Glascock's Sketch-Book, 1825–26, as cut one's cable and cut cable and run, and in his Sailors and Saints (I, 154), 1829, and seems to have had a nautical origin. Moe.

cut at, have a. To attempt: Australian coll.: late C. 19–20. (Vance Palmer, Daybreak, 1932.)

cut caper sauce. See caper upon nothing (Dict.).

cut down to size. To bring (someone) sharply back to earth in his estimate of his own worth; to reduce to a realistic opinion of (himself): coll.: adopted, ca. 1960, ex U.S. Woman's Own, Sept. 4, 1965, an advice-to-wives article headed 'Never Cut Him Down to Size . . . You may find there is nothing left but the pieces.' Elliptical for cut down to true size.

cut in; cut out. 'An automatic switch, such as a thermostat, is said to cut in when it makes a contact and cut out when it breaks it' (Leechman): electricians' coll.: since late 1940's.

cut of one's jib (p. 201): W. N. Glascock, Sketch-Book, I, 1825. Moe.

cut off a slice of cake. Synonymous with chip one off: Naval: since ca. 1930. Granville.

cut (him) off one. To salute one's superior: police: since ca. 1919. (The Free-Lance Writer, April 1948.)

cut off the joint, a. (From the male angle) copulation; esp., have a . . .: C. 20. Cf. join, 3. (Dict.).

cut off the nut, a. 'Used jocularly with regard to vegetarian menu, or to the lack of meat when dining out, as "I'll have a cut off the nut"', Albert B. Petch (Sept. 1946): since ca. 1942 for the latter, since ca. 1930 for the former nuance.

cut one's finger. To break wind: mostly lower-middle class: C. 20.

cut out, v. 3, is also Canadian: late C. 19–20. (Leechman.)—5. (Ex 3.) See cut outs.—6. Hence, to complete any job: Australian: since ca. 1905. Baker.—7. To depart: Canadian dance-fanatics': adopted, 1957, ex U.S. (The Victoria Daily Colonist, May 1958, 'Basic Beatnik'; American Dialect Society, April 16, 1959, 'Language of Jazz Musicians' by Norman D. Hinton.)—8. To cease; come to an end: Australian miners' coll.: late C. 19–20. Ion M. Idriess, The Yellow Joss, 1934, 'The gold was finished. It had "cut out".' This sense soon > widespread Australian coll.: cf. Tom Ronan, Vision Splendid, 1954, 'I'll hang around until this job cuts out.'

cut out to be a gentleman. Circumcised: C. 20. A neat, if inexact, pun.

cut out(s). 'The completion of shearing at a station'; cut out, v., to finish shearing: Australian coll.: C. 20. Baker. Specialized sense of cut out, v., 6.

cut saucy. 'To cut a garment in the height of fashion': tailors' coll.: from ca. 1860. B. & L.

cut snake . . . See mad as a cut snake.

cut the rough (stuff)! 'Stop it': Australian: c. 20. Baker.

cut-throat.—4. A 'cut-throat', or open-bladed, razor: coll.: late C. 19–20.

cut to waste. 'To cut up sheets of paper in such a way that some is wasted, either inevitably or intentionally' (Leechman): a widespread printers' coll.: C. 20.

cut-up, n. 'A share-out of spoils': Australian c.: since ca. 1920. B., 1942.

cut up, v.—8. (Prob. ex 4.) See cut and carve.

Cutlery, the. See Blades.

cuts, 4, occurs earlier in 'Taffrail'.—6. A beating or caning: R.N.C. Dartmouth coll.: since ca.

1925. Also, since ca. 1910, Australian school-boys'. (B.P.) cuts and scratches. Matches (ignition): rhyming: late C. 19–20.

cutsom. Custom: pidgin: mid-C. 19–20. B. & L.

cutting the job up. Working too hard, making it bad for the other people: Services: since ca. 1930. H. & P.

cutting the wind. Sword-drill: military: ca. 1850–1914. B. & L.

cuz.—2. A defecation; the cuzzes, the latrines: Cotton College: mid-C. 19–20. Said to derive ex Heb. cuz, a large metal refuse-container outside the temple at Jerusalem.

cylinder. Vagina: Australian, esp. mechanics': since ca. 1930.

Cyp. A Cypriot: mostly London: since late 1940's. Bill Turner, Sex Trap, 1968.

Cypher Queen. A Wren officer engaged in cypher duties ashore in wartime: Naval: 1940 +. Granville.

cysto. Cystoscopy: medical coll.: 1958 + (Leechman.)

D

D. Short for Captain D, officer commanding a Destroyer flotilla: Naval coll.: 1920 +. Granville.

'd.—3. Did: coll.: late C. 19–20. C. Bush, The Monday Murders, 1936, 'What'd Pole tell you?' Cf.:—

d'. Do: coll.: C. 19–20. E.g. 'What d'you know about it?'—2. Did: coll.: mid-C. 19–20. E.g. 'D'you know that?'

d.—5. Decent: girls' Public Schools': C. 20. (Nancy Spain, Poison for Teacher, 1949, 'I say, that's jolly d of you!')

D.A.L. 'Dog at large'—a humorous notation put on letters that cannot be delivered: postmen's: since ca. 1920.

D.C.D. A 'don't-care-a-damn' or torpedo-boat destroyer: Naval: 1914–18.

D.C.M. 'Don't come Monday. One day's suspension' (Railway, 3rd): railwaymen's: C. 20.

D-Day Dodgers, the. The Army in Italy: mostly among men of that Army: June 1944–5. (D-Day, June 6; Rome captured, June 4.) Ex a widespread rumour that Lady Astor had called them that in a speech; subsequently denied, but not before a song had been composed, to the tune of Lili Marlene. One stanza goes:—

'We fought 'em on the mountains, we fought 'em on the plain.

We fought 'em in the sunshine, we fought 'em in the rain.

We didn't want to go and fight

In all the mud and all the shite,

We are the D-Day Dodgers, out here in Italy.'

D.F.s. Duty-free goods: Naval coll.: C. 20. (Granville.)

d.f.m. Short for dog-fucked mutton, scraps of food, mutton hash: mostly Forces': since ca. 1920.

d.h.f. (or capitals). A stupid fellow: cyclists': ca. 1885–1910. B. & L. Ex a cycling gadget knows as a double hollow fork.

D.S.O. Dick shot off: a smutty c.p. of 1914–18; rare in 1939–45.

D.X. (or DX) hound. A 'dial-twister'; a 'station-hunter'; i.e. one who, in a restless, senseless manner, tries station after station on the radio: wireless (radio) s.: since ca. 1927. J. J. Connington, The Sweepstake Murders, 1931. 'The essential point about D.X. is that it is the radio hound's abbreviation for "distance". In the early days of radio, hams tried for the most distant stations, at the antipodes if possible, and confirmed their triumphs by postcards to the sending stations' (Leechman, 1967).

D.Y.F.s. Officers under the age of thirty: Naval: since ca. 1914. Also B.Y.F.s. Damned and bloody young fools.

dab, adj., 2 (p. 203). Rather: since ca. 1845. See doing dab.

dab, says Daniel. A nautical c.p., applied to 'lying bread and butter fashion' in bed or bunk: ca. 1810–60. 'A Real Paddy', Real Life in Ireland, 1822.

dab(-)dab; dab(-)toe. A seaman: (Naval) stokers': C. 20. Granville. The seamen have so often to 'dab' about the deck in their bare feet.

dab out, v.t. To wash: lower classes': from ca. 1860. Perhaps ex dabbing the clothes out on the scrubbing-board.

dabblers and lubbers are black-marketeers in furniture: furniture trade: April 1, 1944, John Bull.

dabheno (p. 204). Earlier in Mayhew, I, 1851.

dabs, 2 (p. 204). By 1940, also police s.—Hence, Dabs (without the), the Finger-print Department of New Scotland Yard. (Ngaio Marsh, Death at the Bar, 1940.)

dacey (p. 204). The correct spelling of the Hindu word is desi. (Professor K. Appasamy.) dachsie (or -sy). A dachshund: domestic coll.: C. 20.

dad.—4. A term of address to anyone ten-or-so years older than oneself, esp. in Australia: coll.: since ca. 1945. (B.P.)

Dad and Dave. To shave; a shave: Australian rhyming s.: since ca. 1930, when, approximately, the radio serial 'Dad and Dave' began to pleasure Australians. (Julian Franklyn, A Dictionary of Rhyming Slang, 1959.)

daddio. A teenagers' variant of dad, 4, above: Australian: since ca. 1950. (B.P.)—2. 'One of the most frequent words in early beatnik'—the 1950's. 'A title often conferred on the leader of a little beatnik coterie' (Leechman, April 1967).

daddle, v. See dadle.

daddler, 1. J. Horsley, I Remember, 1912, as dadla.—2. (Gen. pl.) A hand; low: from ca. 1870; ob. Pugh: 'If you put your daddlers on her again, I'll set such a mark on you.' Ex daddle (Dict.).

daddy.—6. (Cf. sense 2.) 'The comic old man of a company': theatrical: ca. 1860–1910. B. & L.

daddy, buy me one of those. An Australian variant of oh, mummy . . . (below): since ca. 1945. An allusion to sugar daddy (p. 846).

daddy of them all, the. The most notable; (of things) the largest: Australian coll.: C. 20. B., 1942.

dadla. See daddler, 1.

dadle; prob. more properly daddle, v.i. 'Cunnum contra sedem aut pueri aut puellae atterere; quod plus inter puellas quam inter feminas fieri solet': low: C. 19–20.

daff, v. (Ex daffy, n., 1: p. 204.) To wash: taxi-drivers': since ca. 1910. 'Furtively "daffing" the wheels with a mixture of water and paraffin ("Willy", he calls it)': Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939.

daffier. A gin-drinker: ca. 1820, 1820-60. Boxiana, III, 1821. Ex daffy.

daffodil. An effeminate and precious young man: since ca. 1945. Fred Bason's Second Diary, 1952.

Daffy. A Defiant fighter: 1941; by 1944, ob. Jackson. By 'Hobson-Jobson'. Also Deffy.

daffy; daffy it. To drink gin: ca. 1820-60. Boxiana, III, 1821. Ex the n.

daffydowndilly.—2. Silly: rhyming s., mainly theatrical: C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

daft as a brush, as. Extremely stupid; very very silly: rural (mostly North Country):? mid-C. 19-20.

Dag, a shortening of Dagger (variant Dugger), the. The Dean: Oxford undergraduates': since the 1880's. Marples, 2.

dag, adj. Excellent: Australian: since ca. 1905. (B., 1943.) Ex dag at . . . (p. 204).

Dage (a hard-g'd monosyllable). A Dago: Australian: since ca. 1910. (Vince Kelly, The Shadow, 1955.)

dagga rooker. A scoundrel; a wastrel: South African low s.; since ca. 1910. Lit., a smoker of dagga (Cannabis indica); rooker is Afrikaans.

dagger. A jockey's general helper: Australian sporting: since ca. 1925. (B., 1953.) Perhaps ex dag, 1 (p. 204).

Dagger Div, the. The 14th Indian Division: Army: 1939-45. Ex its divisional sign. (P-G-R.)

dagger E; dagger G; dagger N. An officer with high specialist qualifications in engineering—gunnery—navigation: Naval Officers': since ca. 1925. Granville, 'In the Navy List a dagger appears against the names of such officers'; E, G, N are traditional abbreviations. Also a dagger gunner, a Gunner (W.O.) that has passed the advanced course in Gunnery.

dagmar (mostly in plural). A drachma (Greek currency unit): since ca. 1945. Ex drachma influenced by the female given-name Dagmar.

Dago (p. 204). 'Specifically an Italian, but loosely used by many Australians to refer to anyone from Europe, especially if dark-skinned' (Culotta, 1957).

dags, on the (p. 204). Since ca. 1925 it has usually been on dags. (P-G-R.)

daily.—3. Daily bread: coll.: since ca. 1925. 'Well, I must go and earn the daily.'

daily body. A daily help (servant): coll.: since ca. 1918. Phillip MacDonald, Rope to Spare, 1932.

daily-breader. A C. 20 variation of daily bread (p. 204): coll.: Ole Luk-Oie, The Green Curve, 1909, and Berta Ruck, Pennies from Heaven, 1940.

Daily Exaggerator or Daily Suppress. Daily Express: jocular: since ca. 1912.

Daily Mail, 1 (p. 205) was, by 1950, ob., as also the 2, 'ale' sense.—3. A, the, tale: C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

Sense 2, also ob. by 1950.—4. Bail (legal): underworld, hence also police, rhyming s.: since ca. 1920. "'What about Daily Mail?" (bail)' occurs in John Gosling, The Ghost Squad, 1959.—5. A nail: carpenters' and joiners' rhyming s.: C. 20. (Franklyn 2nd.)

Daily-Tell-the-Tale. Daily Mail: jocular rhyming s.: since ca. 1920.

dainty digger. See whistler, 9.

Dairy Dot. See whistler, 9.

daisies, kick up. See kick up daisies.

Daisy is the inevitable nickname of men surnamed Bell: late C. 19-20. Ex a famous music-hall song. Cf. Dolly Gray in Dict.

daisy.—2. A chamber-pot: Midlands, esp. nursery: late C. 19-20. Probably ex floral design on the inner base.

daisy beat. To cheat; a cheat or swindle or minor crime: rhyming s.: late C. 19-20. Franklyn.

daisy-beaters (p. 205). Franklyn 2nd suggests that it 'rhymes' with s. creepers, feet. By 1960, †.

daisy chain. 'We used a device christened the "daisy chain", made from gun-cotton primers threaded on a five-foot length of prima cord. . . . Five primers went to each daisy chain spaced out and held in place by knots in the cord' (Vladimir Peniakoff, Private Army, 1950): military (North Africa): 1941-3, and afterwards elsewhere. Ex its appearance.—2. A circle of homosexuals engaged in collective sodomy: widespread homosexual term: since ca. 1950.

daisy-cutter.—5. A perfect landing: R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. Jackson. Ex cricket sense.—6. Sense 1 (p. 205) is extant in Australia in a modified nuance: 'Jim and Morgan were both "daisy-cutters", the bushman's term for those horses who drag their back hooves on the roadway in a scraping jog.' (Alan Marshall, 1940.)

Daisy Dormer. Warmer (adj.): theatrical rhyming s.: C. 20. Ex the famous music-hall artist. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

daisy-picker. 'One who accompanies an engaged couple on a country walk. 'Brought to keep off gossip' (P. W. Joyce, English . . . in Ireland, 1910): Anglo-Irish: late C. 19-20. Cf. gooseberry, 2, on p. 344.

daiture. Ten: parlary: mid-C. 19-20. Cf. the quotation at dewey below.

Dak. A Dakota transport aircraft: Air Force: 1943 +.

dakes. Marbles: Australian schoolchildren's: C. 20. B., 1942. Corruption of dukes?

Dalmation pudding. That kind of boiled currant-pudding which is known as spotted-dog (p. 815): Naval: C. 20. Granville. A Dalmatian dog has black or blackish-brown spots on its coat.

dam, be on the. (Of a policeman) to be in trouble: police: since ca. 1920. (The Free-Lance Writer, April 1948.)

damager, 1 (p. 205). Perhaps originally rhyming s., as Julian Franklyn proposes.—2. A damaging punch: pugilistic coll.: since ca. 1815; ob. Boxiana, IV, 1824.—3. Manager of a N.A.A.F.I. canteen: Navy (lower-deck): ca. 1925. Weekly Telegraph, Oct. 25, 1941; Granville.

Dame's Delight. See Parson's Pleasure.

damfool or damful, v. To deceive: Army: 1914-18. Ex the n.: see p. 205.

Damnation Corner. A 'very sharp turn in the High Street', Windsor: Eton College: ca. 1840-1900. B. & L.

damnation take it! A coll. curse: C. 19 (? 18)-20.

damned!, I'll be; you be damned! A coll. exclamation and a coll. imprecation: C. 17-20.

damned clever these Chinese! See clever chaps these Chinese above.

damp.—3. An umbrella: jocular and not very common: since ca. 1950. A pun on the synonymous gamp. (A. B. Petch, March 1966.)

damp one's mug (p. 206). Rather: since ca. 1835. Sinks, 1848.

Dan.—2. A man in charge of a male public convenience: since ca. 1920. In, e.g., Neil Bell, Many Waters, 1954.

Dan Tucker (p. 206) was † by 1950, at latest.

dance a haka. To exhibit joy, 'dance with pleasure': New Zealand coll.: since ca. 1890. B., 1941. The haka is a Maori ceremonial dance, wild and impressive. Cf. the Australian corroboree, n. and v. (p. 182).

dance at your funeral, I'll or occ. he'll, she'll. 'An old slanging-match catchphrase' (Petch): late C. 19–20.

dancing on the carpet. Summoned to the superintendent's office for investigation or reprimand: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931).

dander, have a. A malediction of gander, 2.

dandy.—7. Homosexual (male), adj. and n.: mid-C. 19–20; since ca. 1900, mainly rural. Cf. The Dandy Man, a country song noted, in 1904, by Cecil Sharp. (James Reeves.)—8. 'A small tumbler; commonly used for drinking punch' (P. W. Joyce, English . . . in Ireland, 1910): Anglo-Irish: mid C. 19–20. Ex sense 2 on p. 207.

dandysette. A female dandy: fast life: ca. 1820–35. Spy, II, 1826. Also dandizette or dandissette.

dang, v. (p. 207), perhaps blends 'damn' and 'hang', as Dr Niels Haislund proposes.

danger light; danger signal. A red nose: mostly Cockneys': C. 20. Cf. beacon and strawberry, 2.

dangle from. A variation of hang out of: since ca. 1910.

dangler, 2, or pup. See 'Hauliers' Slang'.

danglers.—3. Medals: since ca. 1915.

Daniel, take one's. To depart or decamp: low: ca. 1860–1900. Sessions, Jan. 9, 1872.

dank, adj. See ace, adj., above. Since ca. 1945. Perhaps prompted by wet, adj., 7, on p. 945.

danner. A dan-laying vessel: nautical coll.: late C. 19–20. A dan is a small spar-buoy carrying a flag. (P-G-R.)

dannet is illiterate for Daniel in slang one's Daniel.

dap. To go; to potter: R.A.F., esp. in Irak: since ca. 1935. Esp. in dap about—across—over. (Atkinson.) Perhaps cf. Persian dav, 'a stroke at play; a wager'.

dapper was, at Eton ca. 1815–40, a gen. approbatory adj.: Spy, 1825.

darbs. (Playing) cards: rhyming s.: late C. 19–20. Ernest Raymond, The Marsh, 1937.

Darby or Derby (pron. Darby). A common nickname of men surnamed Kelly: C. 20. Ex the rhyming s. Darby Kelly, belly, as Julian Franklyn tells me this spring morning (5 April 1966).

Darby and Joan. A telephone: rhyming s.: very late C. 19–20.

Darby and Joan, on one's. Alone: rhyming s.: C. 20. Gerald Kersh, Bill Nelson, 1942.

dark as the inside of a cow (p. 208) has, in Canada (where the phrase is not merely nautical), the C. 20 extension, tail down and eyes shut. (Leechman.)

dark engineer. See 'Rogues'.

dark it (Dict.) goes back at least as far as 1880. B. & L.

dark 'un. See dark horse (Dict.).

darkened (p. 208). Cf. 'I threatened him, that, if he was severe upon them, we would darken him' (give him a black eye), D. Haggart, Life, 1821.

darkey. See darkey (Dict.).

Darkey. 'Inevitable' nickname of men surnamed Knight: C. 20. A pun on 'dark night'.

darky.—7. (Usually as darkie.) A night shift: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1953.)

darky (or darkey), the, noted on p. 208, is extant in itinerant entertainment. In composition, bona darky! = goodnight!; 'I left the rub-a-dub last darky'. (Sydney Lester.)

Darkey Cox. A box: rhyming: C. 20. A theatrical box. 'Rarely used' (Franklyn 2nd).

darl. (Only in address and endearment.) Darling: Australian coll.: C. 20, but not general before ca. 1920. (K. S. Prichard, Hazby's Circus, 1930; Jon Cleary, The Sundowners, 1952.)

darling. Charming: 'sweet': feminine coll.: since ca. 1930. Monica Dickens, The Happy Prisoner, 1946, "'Isn't that darling of you!'" she exclaimed.

darlings, the. The prostitutes of the King's Cross (Sydney) area: taxi-drivers', and the local residents': since ca. 1930. (B.P.)

dart.—3 'Dart is stuff (soil, sand, etc.) worth washing,' Wm Kelly, Life in Victoria, 1859.—4. 'A very quick try or last-minute effort,' H. & P.: Services': since ca. 1930. Cf. stab at (Dict.).—5. (Ex sense 2: p. 208.) An illicit activity, a racket: Australian: since ca. 1870. Sidney J. Baker, letter in The Observer, Nov. 13, 1938.

Darts. Naval officers trained at Dartmouth: Naval: C. 20.

dash, n.—5. Dash-board of a motor-car: motorists' coll.: since ca. 1910.

dash of the tar-brush. See tar-brush . . .

dash up the channel. A coition: English coastal fishermen's: C. 20. Mostly in the south, the English Channel being implied.

data is the L. pl.—not singular—of datum.

date, n., 1, occurs in W. L. George, The Making of an Englishman, 1914.—2. Delete the faulty entry on p. 208 and substitute:—The anus: Australian: low: late C. 19–20. This affords the origin of sense 2 of the v.—3. Ex sense 1: the person with whom one has a 'date': adopted, ca. 1944, ex U.S. Charles Franklin, She'll Love You Dead, 1950, "'You soppy date," she said. "You're nuts."

dateless. (Of a girl) silly; foolish; 'slow': since ca. 1938. I.e. without 'dates' with boys.

David!, send it down (p. 209). To semantics, add: Wales is 'the Land of Leeks' (leaks): cf. Urinal of the Planets (p. 928).

Davy Crockett. A pocket: theatrical rhyming s.: since ca. 1956. (Franklyn.)

Davy Jones's locker (p. 209) occurs earlier in The Journal of Richard Cresswell, 1774–77 (pub. 1924; at p. 12), "'D-m my eyes," says he, "they are gone to Davy Jones's locker.'" This is a common saying when anything goes overboard.' Moe.

Davy Jones's shocker. Not a torpedo, as defined by H. & P., but (Granville) a depth charge. Punning his locker.

Davy Large. A barge: rhyming s.: late C. 19–20.

dawn hopper. An enemy raider 'plane using the uncertain light at dawn to slip away and get home: R.A.F.: 1940-5, then merely historical. H. & P.

day, that'll be the; or, that'll be the bloody day, boy! It is not very likely to occur or be done: c.p.: from late 1918. Prob. satirical on der Tag.

day and night. Light ale: late C. 19-20. Rhyming on light.

day-and-night merchant. See copper-bottom above.

day-mates (p. 209) should be back-dated to very early C. 19. The singular is common, as in Wm Nugent Glascock, The Naval Sketch-Book, 2nd Series, 1834, at I, 39 and 46. (Moe.)

day-on. 'Duty Boy' or officer-of-the-day: Naval: since ca. 1925.

day-opener. An eye; usually in pl.: pugilistic: ca. 1840-90. Augustus Mayhew, Paved with Gold, 1857. Cf. the much more gen. daylights (Dict.).

day the omelette hit the fan, the. The day everything went wrong. From U.S. c. 1966. Cf. shit hits the fan, when; above.

daymen. A synonym of idlers. Granville.

day's dawning. Morning: rhyming: C. 20. Superior form: day's a-dawning. (Franklyn.) dazzle(-)dust. See Canadian.

deacon. A chimneysweep's scraper: chimney-sweeps: C. 19. George Elson, The Last of the Climbing Boys, 1900. Perhaps ex degen, a sword.

dead, n.—2. the dead, horses as dead certainties: turf: from ca. 1870; ob. B. & L.

dead, adj. Among tailors, it is applied to work that has been already paid for with a 'sub' in bad times and is being done in better times: from ca. 1870. Ex dead horse, q.v. in Dict.—2. (Of a horse) that is to be prevented from winning: low Australian: C. 20. (Dal Stivens, Jimmy Brockett 1951.)—3. Intensively: (as) dead as mutton: B., 1953.—4. 'Type matter that has been run off but is still standing; copy that has been set; hence, anything that may now be discarded' (Leechman): printers' coll.: late C. 19-20.

dead, adv. (p. 210), has, since ca. 1940, been increasingly popular, esp. among teenagers, in the nuances 'extremely', e.g. 'He's dead nice', and 'completely', e.g. 'Don't be dead stupid'. These usages apparently spring immediately ex such phrases as 'dead tired' and 'to stop dead', as a very intelligent teenager has suggested in a letter dated March 25, 1965.

dead, making. Making a garment already paid for: tailors': late C. 19-20. Cf. dead, adj., 1.

dead, on the (p. 210).—2. Yet, ca. 1890-1910, it seems to have been applied to one who has actively ceased to be a teetotaller.

dead air-gunner. Spam: R.A.F.: 1940+. Atkinson.

dead as dado, as. Completely, or long, dead: Australian: since ca. 1930; orig. a solecism for S.E. as dead as the dodo, but soon > coll. (B.P.)

dead as small beer. Quite dead; ancient: coll.: mid-C. 19-20; ob. B. & L. Cf. the dead as a door-nail entry in Dict.

dead beat, 2 (p. 210), goes back to ca. 1870. (The Detectives' Handbook, ca. 1880.)

dead-broker. A dead-bcat: Australian: since ca. 1890. B., 1942.

deadcentre. Acemetry: jocular: since ca. 1940.

dead chocker; dead chuffed. Utterly bored; delighted: coffee-bar set of teenagers: ca. 1955-9. (Gilderdale.)

dead clever these Chinese! See clever chaps these Chinese; above.

dead cop. A sure way to win, or to make money: sporting: from ca. 1870; ob. B. & L. Cf. cop, v., 5 (Dict.), which should be put back to ca. 1860.

dead-copper. An informer to the police: low Australian: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.)

dead, dead, and (s)he never called me mother! (p. 210). It dates from the 1880's-90's, the heyday of the melodrama of the Surrey-side, the so-called transpontine drama.

dead easy is a C. 20 Cockneys' coll. phrase to describe any such woman (other than a prostitute) as is ready to go home and sleep with a man.

Dead End Kids. Self-description of R.N.V.R. Lieutenants despairful of becoming Lieutenant-Commanders: 1942-5: Granville. Cf. Abbeville Kids, q.v.

dead-end street. The female pudend: Canadian: since ca. 1930.

dead fall. A Western stunt rider in motion pictures: cinematic: since ca. 1925.

dead from the neck up. Brainless; habitually tongue-tied: since ca. 1920. It occurs in, e.g., S. P. B. Mais, Caper Sauce, 1948.

dead hand. An expert: Australian: since ca. 1925. Baker.

dead handsome. 'Said of a circumstance that is fortunate and that turns, by whatever means, to one's advantage' (Laurie Atkinson, who first heard it on Nov. 10, 1959): since ca. 1955.

dead-head.—2. A locomotive that, not under power, is being hauled back in another train: Canadian railwaymen's: C. 20.—3. 'Railway personnel riding back without working. Also as verb' (Priestly): Canadian railwaymen's: since ca. 1910.

dead heat (p. 210). From at least as early as 1820. (Bee, 1823.)

dead horse. An Australian variant of ride the dead horse: A. Harris, Settlers and Convicts, 1847.—3. Sauce: Australian rhyming s.: C. 20. Baker.

deadlair. See lair.

dead loss. A person, place or thing that is decidedly 'dud' (dull; inefficient; without amenities): R.A.F.: 1940+. (W/Cdr R. P. McDouall, letter of March 27, 1945.) Ex a 'plane no longer serviceable.

dead loss.—2. (Of a job, or a course of action) lacking prospects; unpromising: since ca. 1946.

dead low.—2. A very low barometer reading: Canadian scientific coll.: since ca. 1910. (Leechman.)

dead man.—4. A scarecrow; non-aristocratic coll.: from ca. 1870; ob. B. & L.—5. 'Why don't they tuck-in those dead-men out of sight'—glossed as 'the platted reef-points of the sails when carelessly hanging beneath the yard, when the sail is furled' (Glascock, Sketch-Book, I, 11, pub. in 1825): Naval: ca. 1790-1850. Moe.

dead man's effects. False teeth: Services': since ca. 1939. H. & P. Often the only thing he has to leave.

dead matter. Type that has been run and could now be 'dissed': Canadian printers' coll.: C. 20.—2. Hence, anything that, used or finished, can now be either returned to its place or discarded: Canadian coll.: since ca. 1920. (Leechman.) dead-meat.—2. (Also frozen meat.) A prostitute, as opposed to fresh meat, a non-prostitute: ow: late C. 19-20.

dead nail. See nail, n., 1 (Dict.).

dead nuts on. See nuts on, be, on p. 575.

dead on. See dead steady.—2. Absolutely right: since ca. 1945. Ex the R.A.F. sense 'right on the target'. Brendan Behan, Borstal Boy, 1958.

dead-pan (expression). Expressionless; impassive: adopted, ca. 1944, ex U.S. servicemen. Ex U.S. s. dead pan, an expressionless 'pan' or face (cf. the Eng. s. dial)—orig., theatrical.

dead pony gaff. A bad site: showmen's, esp. grafters': C. 20.

dead ring—or spit—of, the. Exactly, or almost, like: Australian: C. 20. (B., 1943.)

dead ringer. A spitting image: esp. Canadian: C. 20. Cf. the preceding.

dead set (p. 211). Cf. 'I have a dead set upon the Rogues,' Anon., The Prison Breakers, 1725.

dead spit and image, the. The exact facsimile: Canadian coll.: since ca. 1910. (Leechman.)

dead spotted ling of. Very much like, strikingly similar to: Australian: since ca. 1910. B., 1942. Rhyming on dead ring of, above.

dead steady or dead on. Applies to 'a good fellow': Guardsmen's: since ca. 1920. In, e.g., Roger Grinstead, They Dug a Hole, 1946.

dead stick is applied to the controls of an engine that has stopped: R.A.F.: since ca. 1925. Jackson.—2. See sticking.

dead thick. Wide-awake and cunning (or clever): low Glasgow: late C. 19-20. MacArthur & Long.

dead un.—5. A supernumerary that plays for nothing: theatrical: from ca. 1860; ob. B. & L.

dead uns, make. To charge not only for loaves delivered but also for loaves not delivered: bakers': mid-C. 19-20. B. & L.

deadener. A bully; one who, strong and quarrelsome, tends to resort to his fists: Australian: C. 20. Archer Russell, Gone Nomad, 1936.

deadhead. A brakeman: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931).

deadly nightshade. See nightshade.

deado. See dead oh! (Dict.).

deads. Dead drunk; fast asleep (dead to the world): Naval: since ca. 1920. (P-G-R.)

Deaf and Dumb, the. The Ministry of Information: taxi-drivers': ca. 1940-5. The Weekly Telegraph, Sept. 13, 1941.

deaf as the mainmast (p. 211): W. N. Glascock, The Naval Sketch-Book, I, 1825. Moe.

deal, a.—3. (Always thus.) "I had a deal last night"—a successful crime: c.: C. 20. F. D. Sharpe, The Flying Squad, 1938.

Dean. A fairly common nickname of men surnamed Swift: late C. 19-20. Ex that Dean Swift who wrote Gulliver's Travels.

Dean and Dawson was Stalag Luft III's prisoner-of-war-in-Germany s. for their forgery department: 1942-5: Brickhill & Norton, Escape to Danger, 1946. Ex the fact that it handled passports, identity cards and other 'papers'; in short, a compliment to the well-known firm of travel agents.

deanseville in B. & L. is an error. See deuseville (Dict.).

dear John. A girl's letter telling a man in the Armed Forces she no longer loves him: American (1942-5) >, by 1945, Canadian >, by 1960, British.—2. Hence, a very friendly letter, beginning with his first name and telling an officer that his services were no longer required, owing to the reunification of the Armed Forces: Canadian forces': 1965 +. (Leechman.)

dear Mother, it's a bugger! A military c.p., expressive of disgust with Service life: since ca. 1910. Atkinson.

dear old pals! 'A derisive chanted cat-call or song when boxers funk action or are in a clinch' (Petch): boxing spectators'; C. 20. Ex the song 'Dear old pals, jolly old pals'.

dear-stalker. A wealthy idler addicted to ogling and following pretty shop or office girls: C. 20; slightly ob. by 1940. H. A. Vachell, Quinney's, 1914. Pun on dear, deer.

death, in the. Finally; at last: since ca. 1945. (Norman.) Perhaps ex S.E. in at the death.

death adder. Machine gun: Australian soldiers': 1940 +. B., 1942.—2. (Mostly in pl.) A gossip; a cynic, esp. if old: Northern Territory (Australia): since ca. 1930. Ernestine Hill, The Territory, 1951.

death adder man. An eccentric solitary, more often called a hatter: mostly northern Australian: since ca. 1920. 'Some of them go under the name of death adder men, for it is reckoned they will bite your head off if spoken to before noon': Jock Marshall & Russell Drysdale, Journey among Men, 1962, at p. 56. (Cf. sense 2 of preceding entry.)

death adders in one's pocket, have. To be extremely mean with money: Australian: since ca. 1920. Baker.

death-hunting, n. The selling of 'last dying speeches': street vendors': ca. 1840-1900. Mayhew, I, 1851.

death or glory lads, the. The Commandos: Army: 1942-5.

death seat, the. The front seat, next to the driver: Australian motorists' coll.: since ca. 1945. The occupant is the most likely to be killed in an accident. (B.P.)

death-tally. An identity disc: Naval: C. 20. (P-G-R.)

death warmed up. See feel like . . .

death-warrant is out!, my (or his or your). A police c.p., dating from the late C. 19. Clarence Rook, London Side-Lights, 1908, 'When a constable is transferred against his will from one division to another, the process is alluded to in the force in the phrase, "His death-warrant is out." For this is a form of punishment for offences which do not demand dismissal.'

death watch. Attendance upon a man condemned to death: prison officers': C. 20. (L. W. Merrow-Smith & J. Harris, Prison Screw, 1962.)

deathy. A death adder: Australian coll.: late C. 19-20. (Sidney H. Courtier, The Glass Spear, 1951.)

deb.—2. A bed: back s.: since ca. 1845. Mayhew, I.

deb chick. A debutante beatnik: mostly beatniks': since late 1950's. (Anderson.) debagged. Struck off the rolls: since ca. 1920. 'Sapper' uses it in Bulldog Drummond at Bay, 1935. Ex de-bag in p. 212.

debollicker. A small British mine that, trodden upon, fired a bullet upwards: Army: 1941 +. (P-G-R.) The de-connotes 'removal'; for the main element, cf. ballock (p. 29).

debuggerable. Disreputable: since ca. 1930.

Decanterbury pilgrims. Those who, during the shortages in 1915-16, made the rounds in search of whisky: 1915-16, then historical (Reginald Pound, The Lost Generation, 1964). A pun on Chaucer's The Canterbury Pilgrims and on 'to decant'.

decarb. To decarbonise: motorists' coll.: since ca. 1915. See decoke below.

decimal bosun. A Warrant Schoolmaster: Navy: since ca. 1930. Granville. Ex mathematics.

deck, 1 (p. 212): by 1945, common in England and Australia—and no longer low.—4. Also, since ca. 1925, the deck = the ground: R.A.F. (Jackson.) By 1945, general s.

decker.—4. A hat: Australian: C. 20. Baker. Ex 'top deck'.—5. A peaked cap: Liverpool: ca. 1900-50.—6. A glance, a look: Australian variant of dekko: C. 20. (Dal Stevens, Jimmy Brockett, 1951.)—7. A double-decker bus: Australian omnibus employers': since ca. 1935. (B. P.) decoke has, since ca. 1945, everywhere superseded decarb.

decorate. To ride on top of a freight car: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931).

decorate the mahogany. To put down—on the bar—money for drinks: Canadian: since ca. 1905: by 1959, ob. (Leechman.) This sort of jocularly verbose and pompous slang belongs chiefly to the years ca. 1890-1914 (July).—2. (Of a man) to lay the housekeeping money on the table: mostly lower-middle class: since ca. 1930.

decorators in, have the. A variant of have the painters in, q.v. at rags on, have the.

dedigitate. See take your finger out.

deed-pollers. Deed poll: since ca. 1930. (Nancy Mitford, Don't Tell Alfred, 1960.) The Oxford -er.

deep-noser. A pot of beer: Australian: since ca. 1920. (Arthur W. Upfield, Murder Down Under, 1937.) As the beer sinks, so does the drinker's nose into the pot.

deep-sea beef. Haddock: Naval (lower-deck): C. 20. (P-G-R.)

deep-sea tot. A short measure of rum, the shortness (supposedly) caused by the roll of the ship: Naval: C. 20. (P-G-R.) defect. A prefect: Cranbrook School: C. 20.

defective. A detective (not the fictional detective): jocular: since ca. 1925.

Deffy. See Daffy.

deft and dumb. A c.p. denoting the ideal wife or mistress: since ca. 1940. Parodying deaf and dumb. ('A Girl in a Million', an English film of 1946, wasn't deaf, and only physically was she dumb.)

degen (p. 213). Sense 1 derives ex C. 17 Dutch degen, 'sword'. Prob., as Mr L. W. Forster has suggested to me, introduced into England by returned soldiers. Sense 2 follows from sense 1: cf. Middle High German ein sneller Degen, 'a brave knight', and the C. 17-18 Dutch degen, 'a brave soldier; an "old soldier"'.

degger, n. Disgrace: Harrow School: late C. 19-20. Lunn. By 'the Oxford -er' ex degradation. degommy (p. 213). Also, in 1939-45, Naval. Granville.

degra. Degradation; disgrace: Winchester: late C. 19-20. Marples. Cf. degger.

dehydrate. "Let's have a drink, all this talking dries me—dehydrates me, to use the modern slang,"' Manning Coles, The Fifth Man, 1946: since 1942, when dehydrated foods became fairly common.

dekkoscope was, among soldiers in India in World War II, a variant of shaftiscope. The short, thick variety (dekkoscope, mark one) was also known as a pile-driver; the long, thin variety as dekkoscope, mark two.

delible, n. A non-commissioned officer: Army, mostly officers', occ. men's, ever N.C.O.s': 1916-18. Ex the adj.: see p. 213.

delivered dodge. A trick whereby one secures possession, without payment, of goods delivered to one's rooms: c.: mid-C. 19-20. B. & L.

delouse. 'His squadron was "delousing" Fortresses as they came back home out of Holland . . . liquidating such enemy fighters as still persisted in pestering the bombers,' Paul Brickhill & Conrad Norton, Escape to Danger, 1946: Air Force: 1940 +.—2. To remove mines and booby traps from (a terrain): Army; since ca. 1941.

Delphos. Incorrect for Delphi: mid-C. 16-20. Prob., as Mr G. G. Loane suggests, an accusative pl. taken as a nominative singular.

Deluge. A Delage car: Cambridge: since ca. 1925; by 1945, ob. By a pun.

delushious or delushus. (Esp. of a fruit dish) delicious: since the late 1940's. Delicious + lushious.

dem.—2. To demonstrate: fairgrounds': since ca. 1930. "If you want to see this tool demmed," says Mr Pearson, meaning demonstrated' (W. Buchanan-Taylor, Shake It Again, 1943).

dem keb. A hansom: 'mashers': ca. 1874-90. B. & L. Ex W. S. Gilbert's Wedding March, first played on Nov. 15, 1873.

demi-rep (p. 213) occurs earlier in A Congratulatory Epistle from a Reformed Rake . . . upon Prostitutes, 1728, at p. 8.

demnick. A soldier on the sick list; an article become unserviceable: Army: C. 20. H. & P., 'The derivation is probably "epi-demic-ked"'; probably.

demmy. A demonstrator: University of Leeds undergraduates': since ca. 1930. (Marples, 2.) Ex the official abbreviation, dem.

demo (p. 214). Also, since middle 1930's Army: how something is to be done.—2. A lowering of one's place in class; also as v.t., esp. in passive Charterhouse: from ca. 1919. Cf. promo.

demob, n. Demobilisation; hence demob leave, leave awarded on, and immediately following, demobilisation: Services': 1945 +. Cf. the v., noted on p. 214.

demobitis. See funnel fever.

demon.—5. A shilling: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

demon chandler. A chandler supplying ship's stores that are very inferior: nautical coll.: from ca. 1871. R. & L.

demon vino. Cheap Italian wine: Army in Italy: 1944-5. (P-G-R.) A pun on S.E. (re-vivalists) the demon rum.

Demons, the. Melbourne Club footballers: Melbourneites': since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.)

Dempsey Press, the. The Kemsley Press: jocular: since ca. 1935. Ex its purchase of local newspapers and Jack Dempsey's heavyweight-boxing fame.

dempstered, ppl. adj. Hanged: Scottish c.:

mid-C. 17-18. B. & L. Ex dempster, that official whose duty it was, until 1773, to 'repeat the sentence to the prisoner in open court'.

dems. 'All Naval personnel connected with "Defensively equipped merchant ships": Navy: 1939-45. Granville. Also Army, because the Army had sometimes to supply the ammunition.

demur upon the plaintiff. See 'Tavern terms', § 4.

demure as a(n old) whore at a christening, as (p. 214) should be back-dated to ca. 1700, for it occurs in Captain Alexander Smith, The Life of Jonathan Wild, 1726, at p. 116, in the shorter form.

Den, the. The same as Upper Tartary: Spy, II, 1826.

denari. An occ. form of denarly (Dict.). Pugh. Denari has, since ca. 1910, been the predominant form: the only form adduced by Sydney Lester in Vardi the Palarey, (?) 1937.

Denim Light Infantry, the. The 2nd Corps Reinforcement Unit in Tunisia: Army in North Africa: 1943. (P-G-R.) A pun on the Durham Light Infantry, fighting in Tunisia at the same time.

dep.—4. A department (e.g. Physics): Imperial College, London: since ca. 1930. (Marples, 2.)

depending on what school you went to. 'A c.p. used by cowards who give two pronunciations of a rare, or a foreign, word' (B.P.): Australian: since ca. 1950.

depot stanchion. 'A rating who has been an unconscionable time in barracks or Shore Establishment,' Granville: Naval: since ca. 1930. Sarcastic.

depressed area. The abdomen: jocular: since ca. 1930. Claude Houghton, Transformation Scene, 1946. Ex the sociological sense.

depth charge; but nearly always in pl., depth charges, figs: Naval: since 1939. (H. & P.) By ca. 1941, R.A.F. for prunes: Jackson. Both are mild laxatives. (P-G-R.)—2. Emissio in coitu: low jocular: since ca. 1942, originally—like combined operations—a Services' witticism.—3. 'Prison "duff" . . . Anything heavy or stodgy, such as dumplings' (Paul Tempest, Lag's Lexicon): since ca. 1941; orig., prison c.; by ca. 1955, also (low) s.

derby, n.—5. Short for Derby Kelly (p. 214). Jackson.

Derby. See Darby above.—2. A railwaymen's colloquialism for the Midland Region: since ca. 1950. Railway, 3rd.

Derby, be in the. To be competing in the race for promotion, whether in the Wardroom or on the lower deck: Naval: since ca. 1940. (P-G-R.)

dermo. A New Guinea skin disease: Australian Army: 1942-5. (Jon Cleary, The Climate of Courage, 1954.)—2. Any skin affection: Services' and general: since ca. 1939. Ex dermatitis.

derrick. A nuance of sense 2 is: a casual ward: tramps' c.: late C. 19-20.

derriwag. Paper used for parsing: Harrow School (since ca. 1875) and Eton College (C. 20). 'Said to be a distortion of derivation,' as Marples records.

Derry and Tom. A bomb: rhyming s. (esp. Londoners'): 1940 +.

Derry-Down-Derry (or d.-d.-d.). Sherry: theatrical rhyming s.: C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

dersie or -y. A variant—a loose—pron. of derzy (p. 214).

derv. Oil for Diesel engines: Army: 1940 +. From 'Diesel-engined road vehicle (fuel)'.—2. Hence, a Diesel-engined road vehicle: since ca. 1950.

desert chicken. Bully beef: Army in North Africa: 1940-3. (P-G-R.)

desert drivers. 'Sand and water men' (Railway, 3rd): railwaymen's: since middle 1940's. An allusion to W.W. II service in North Africa.

desert lily. A circular or box-shaped funnel, adjustable—according to direction of wind—to a urine receptacle: R.A.F., esp. in North Africa: 1940 +. Atkinson.

desertloneliness. Horseplay, or suggestive chaffing, in the desert: coll. R.A.F. in North Africa: 1940-4. Atkinson.

Desert Rats, the. The Seventh Armoured Division in North Africa: self-bestowed 1941-3. Ex Mussolini's 'despicable desert rats'. (P-G-R.) The divisional flash worn on shoulder and shown on vehicles was the jerboa or desert rat.

desert rose. A urination—can let into the sand: Army in North Africa: 1940 +. Ironic. Cf. desert lily.

deserves a medal. See beggar for work.

desink. To de-synchronise (one's motors): R.A.F. aircrews': since ca. 1938. Michie & Graebner, Their Finest Hour, 1940 (p. 63).

destat. To get rid of the statutory tenants from (a property): since ca. 1954. Cf. the quotation at schwarz below.

destroying. Serving, or a serving, in destroyers: Naval coll.: since ca. 1939.

det. A detonator: Combatant Services' coll.: since ca. 1910.

detec. A detective: ca. 1875-95. Capt. —, Eighteen Months' Imprisonment, 1884. Superseded by tec (Dict.).

detens. See 'Colston's . . . '.

deuce.—4. The sum of two pounds (£2): London's East End: since ca. 1947. (Richard Herd, Nov. 12, 1957.)

Deuce, the. See Musso.

deucer. A double shift; double time: Australian (industrial) workers': since ca. 1910. Dymphna Cusack, Southern Steel, 1953.

Dev. De Valera: Anglo-Irish: since ca. 1930.

Deviation Dick. A compass-adjustor: R.A.F.: ca. 1940-5. Robert Hinde, letter of March 17, 1945. By personification, by alliteration and by ref. to the correction of compass deviation.

deviator; deviation. A crook; a crime: since ca. 1950: c. >, by 1965, s. (Robin Cook, 1962.) Ex euphemistic S.E. devious, 'shady' or crooked.

devil.—11. A coal brazier: railwaymen's: C. 20. Railway, 3rd.

devil, a or the (p. 125), prob. goes back to ca. 1800, to judge by a passage cited—in The Port Folio, Nov. 1809—from Nolens Volens, a play by Everard Hall. (Moe.) devil-devil. 'Rough country broken up into holes and hillocks' (B., 1943): Australian s. (since ca. 1890) by 1930, coll. Ex Aboriginal pidgin.

devil-dodger, 1, is in C. 20 used, esp. in the Navy, for 'chaplain'.

devil's own (p. 217): W. N. Glascock, Sketch-Book, II (29), 1826, 'He led the boatswain the devil's own life'. Moe.

devil's rot-gut. See cabin-boy's breeches.

dew bit (p. 217). 'The harvesters' between-meals snacks were dew-bit, elevenses, fourses, and morn-bit,' Andrew Haggard, letter of Jan. 28, 1947.

dew-drop. 'I am going to knock off that "dew-drop", meaning the lock of the gas meter,' Sessions, Oct. 17, 1910: low: C. 20.—2. 'Right in the nose of a rigid airship is a large metal coupling known as the "dewdrop", for making fast to the mooring mast, when on the landing ground' (The Airship, III, No. 10, published in 1936): aviation coll.: since ca. 1933; by 1946, merely historical.

dewey. Two: parlary: mid-C. 19-20. (Cf. dooce on p. 234.) Sydney Lester, Vardi the Palarey (?) 1937, "'What's the bottle, cull?'"—"Dewey funt, tray bionk, daiture soldi medza, so the divvi is otta bionk nobba peroon, and tray medzas back in the aris (Aristotle)", which in plain English would read: "How much have we taken, pal?"—"Two pounds, three shillings and tenpence half-penny, so we get eight shillings and ninepence each and put three-halfpence back in the box (bottle)".

Dexies. See 'Minor Drugs'.

dexo. A dexamphetamine sulphate tablet: since ca. 1945, esp. in Australia. (B.P.)

dhobey day. Washing day: Naval: late C. 19-20. H. & P. See dhob in Dict.

dhobey (or dhobi) dust. Any washing-powder; any of the advertised detergents: Naval lower-deck: since the late 1940's.

dhob(e)ying firm. A partnership of ratings who—quite unofficially—do their messmates' laundry: Naval: C. 20. Granville. Also dhobey firm.

dhobi, etc.—3. One's laundry: Army: since ca. 1945. Ex senses 1 and 2 on p. 217.

di-da, di-da, di-da. 'Mocking burden to drawn-out explanation or, esp., complaint. Frequent in Geoffrey Cotterell, Then a Soldier, 1941' (Laurie Atkinson): since ca. 1930. Cf. didah below.

Dials, the.—2. In prison c. of C. 19-20 (but now almost †), 'members of the criminal class who live about the Seven Dials', B. & L. diameter. See radius.

diamond-cracker. A fireman: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931). Pun on black diamonds (coal).

Diana dip. A swim naked: girls' schools': late C. 19-20; by 1950, ob. Berta Ruck, A Storyteller Tells the Truth, 1935.

diary, the. See 'Prisoner-of-War Slang', 12.

dib. 'A portion or share': non-aristocratic: from ca. 1860; ob. B. & L. Prob. ex S.E. dib, a counter used in playing card-games for money.—2. Hence (?), a marble: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.—3. In pl. dibs: the game of knuckle-bones: schoolchildren's: late C. 19-20.

dib(b)s, money (p. 218), occurs in The Port Folio of June 6, 1807, reporting a British source. (Moe.)

dibs, dics (Rugby) or dicks, digs (Shrewsbury), dix (Tonbridge); to dick. Prayers; to pray: Public Schools': late C. 19-20. Marples. Ex L. dictare, to say repeatedly, or dictata, lessons rather than precepts.

dibs and dabs. Body lice: rhyming s. on crabs: C. 20. (Franklyn 2nd.)

dice. To ride strenuously: Army mechanical transport: 1939 +. Cf. dicing.—2. To get rid of: Australian: since ca. 1920. Lawson Glassop, We Were the Rats, 1944, 'It's me name, but it's too cissy, so I dices it and picks up "Mick".' Ex discard.

dicer. A hat: ca. 1800-40. Frequently in novels of Jeffrey Farnol.—2. A pilot undertaking a 'dicey' operation: R.A.F.: ca. 1940-5.—3. The sortie itself: R.A.F. 1941-5. Ex dicing, 1, below. (Peter Sanders.)

dicey. Risky; dangerous: R.A.F.: 1940 +; by 1946, common among civilians: cf. next entry.—2. Hence, esp. in 'It's a bit dicey', chancy and tricky: since early 1950's. (L.A. records hearing it on April 27, 1960.) dicey on the ubble. 'Going thin on the top': Teddy boys': ca. 1955-60. (Gilderdale, 2.)

dicing, n. Flying; properly, operational flying: R.A.F.: 1940 +. Cynically and refreshingly jocular, in derision of the journalistic dicing with death (so often heard in Aug.-Oct. 1940). 'In a letter to The Daily Telegraph of 22 June '68, Mr W. A. H. Watts of Sunbury says that "dicing with death" was commonly used by motor racing enthusiasts long before 1939 and attributes it to the motor racing correspondent of one of the motoring journals of that era.' (Ramsey Spencer.)—2. Hence, a 'duel' between two drivers: car racing 'drivers' and the commentators': since ca. 1955.

Dick, man, is specifically pejorative; witness 'a dick' in The English Rogue and 'a desperate Dick' in The Verney Memoirs.

dick, n.—1. on p. 218. No! The British usage prob. antecedes the American. The sense occurs in Wm Nugent Glascock, The Naval Sketch-Book, 2nd Series, 1834, at I, 206, and prob. goes back to early C. 19. (Moe.)—5. A perambulator: C. 20. A. Neil Lyon, Moly Lane 1916.—6. A detective: C. 20. Owes something to the 'Deadwood Dick' stories and to the 'Dick Tracy' comic strip?

Dick (or dick), have had the. To be 'all washed-up' or finished, esp. financially or in one's career: Australian: since ca. 1920. Cf. Richard, have had the, below. (B.P.)

Dick Dunn. Sun: rhyming s.: C. 20. Sydney Lester derives it ex 'a famous bookmaker'.

Dick Turpin. 13: darts players': C. 20. Rhyming s. (The Evening News, July 2, 1937.)

dicken on that! Go easy!; Nothing doing. New Zealand: C. 20. (Slatter.)

Dick(e)y. Lord Louis Mountbatten: Naval (ward-room): 1939-45. (P-G-R.)

dick(e)y, n., 6 (p. 218): prob. goes back to ca. 1810 or earlier. (W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints, 1829, p. 23.) Moe.—10. A detachable name-plate (the name being false) on a van: low London: from ca. 1860. Ex sense 2.—11. (Cf. 9.) Word: C. 20.—12. The sailor's blue 'jean' collar: Naval: C. 20. Short for dick(e)y birds.

dick(e)y, adj.—3. Of plans or things: tricky, risky; C. 20.

dick(e)y birds.—5. (Often dickey.) Words: rhyming s.: late C. 19-20. Michael Harrison, Reported Safe Arrival, 1943, "'I give yer me dicky"'"; Mark Benny, Low Company, 1936—the term in full.—6. See 'Prisoner-of-War Slang', 4.

Dick(e)y diddle. To urinate: Cockney juvenile rhyming s. variant of Jimmy Riddle (p. 439): C. 20. Franklyn, Rhyming.

dick(e)y dido.—2. The female pudend: low Canadian: C. 20; by 1960, slightly ob.

dickey pilot. A pilot flying with an experienced pilot for instructional purposes: Air Force: since ca. 1930. He occupied the dickey seat.

Dickie (or -y) Bird. See 'Nicknames'.

Dickie's. Dr Barnardo's Home at Kingston, Surrey: boys' and old boys': since ca. 1950. (Woman's Own, Oct. 2, 1965.)

dickory dock. A clock: rhyming s.: from ca. 1870. Ex the nursery rhyme.—2. Penis: rhyming s. on cock: C. 20. (Franklyn 2nd.)

dicky run. A quick dash ashore: Naval: C. 20. (P-G-R.)

dics. See dibs.

did I buggery—or fuck—or hell! See fuck, like.

did it hurt? 'This is heard in jocular use in several ways, as "Did it hurt?" when a chap has said that he had been thinking' (A. B. Petch, May 1966): c.p.: C. 20. The variant tense does it hurt? is less often heard.

did she fall or was she pushed? A c.p. applied to a girl 'in trouble' or shouted at an old-style actress in melodrama: C. 20. The late Thorne Smith used it as a punning title. See also pushed?, did she . . ., (Dict. and Supplement.)

didah. A radio telegraphist: Australian Naval: since ca. 1930. (B., 1943.)

didden. Didn't: sol.: C. 19–20. Very common in Australia—see, passim, Lawson Glassop, We Were the Rats, 1944.

diddle, n. 1. Earlier record: 1728, Anon., The Quaker's Opera (see quot'n at bunter's tea).

diddle, v.—6. To digitate sexually and successfully: Canadian: C. 20. Cf. senses 1, 3, 4, on p. 219.

diddle-diddle. See 'Miscellanea'.

diddleums. Delirium tremens: Australian jocular: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)

diddly pout (p. 219) perhaps derives rather—from elaboration—from pouter (p. 655); the latter could well be literal.

diddy.—2. A familiar diminutive of didekei, which strictly means a half-bred gypsy: among the folk of the road: late C. 19–20.

didn't ought. Port (wine): rhyming s.: late C. 19–20; ob. by 1950. (Franklyn, Rhyming.) Ex 'Oo! I didn't ought to.'

didn't oughter. Water: rhyming s.: ca. 1890–1920. (Franklyn 2nd.)

Dido. 'A girl who makes herself ridiculous with fantastic finery' (P. W. Joyce, 1910): Anglo-Irish: late C. 19–20. Ex Dido, the tragic queen.

dido, v. 'To steal from carts in the street' (B., 1942): Australian c.: C. 20. Cf.:—

dido, act. To play the fool: Naval: C. 20. Granville. A variant of cut a dido (Dict.).

die is a rare variant spelling of dee, 2 (Dict.).—2. See die the death.

[die, to. Boxing synonyms of ca. 1810–60, recorded by Anon., Every Night Book, 1827, are: go to see one's friends, mizzle, morris, muff it, not to be at home, snuff and toddle, step below, take it in.] die on it. To fail to keep a promise, or in an undertaking. Australian: since ca. 1918. Baker.

die the death. (Of a performer) to meet with a complete lack of response from the audience: theatrical, but esp. Variety, chiefly among comedians: since ca. 1940. Since ca. 1950, usually shortened to die, as in 'My gags didn't mean a thing (to the audience). I died!' (Richard Merry.)

diener is a mainly Afrikaans-speakers' c. term for a policeman: C. 20. The Cape Times, May 23, 1946. Derisive of the fact that he is a public servant: cf. Ger. Diener, a male servant.

diet sheet. A Mess menu: Service officers' (esp. R.A.F.): since 1941. Jackson.

Dieu et mon droit (p. 219) often serves for the full c.p.; therefore, partly, rhyming s. (Franklyn.)

diff. A differential: since ca. 1920. It occurs in, e.g. Gavin Casey, It's Harder for Girls, 1942.

differ. Difference: New Zealand: late C. 19–20. (G. B. Lancaster, Sons o' Men, 1904.) Cf. Differs.

different ships, different cap-tallies. Synonymous with the entry on p. 219: C. 20.

differs. Difference: Anglo-Irish: C. 20. Desmond O'Neill, Life Has No Price, 1959, "I don't suppose it'll make any differs, but," he said . . . Perhaps via 'difference'.

diffs (p. 220) occurs earlier in Renton Nicholson, An Autobiography, 1860, at p. 52, 'Soon after 1832, he got into "diffs", and his residence was divided between the King's Bench and the Fleet Prison.'

dify. Deficient, as in 'He was diffy a hussif at the inspection yesterday': Army: since ca. 1939.—2. Difficult: Society: since ca. 1945; by 1960, almost †. Ngaio Marsh, Swing, Brother, Swing, 1949.

dig, n.—5. An (expedition for purposes of) excavation: (an expedition's) work on an excavation: archaeologists' coll.: from ca. 1890. E.g. in Agatha Christie, Murder in Mesopotamia, 1936, 'He's the head of a large American dig' and 'Most of them were up on the dig.' Cf. big dig, 2.—6. Loss of privileges: Guards': since ca. 1930.—7. A reprimand: R.A.F.: since ca. 1925. Cf. sense 1 on p. 220.—8. (Ex sense 2: p. 220.) A New Zealand soldier in World War II: 1939+. Also an Australian soldier therein: Australian: 1939–45, then historically. More used in address than in reference.—9. An injection: medical: since ca. 1910. (Warwick Deeping, Mr Gurney and Mr Slade, 1944.)—10. A loss of privileges: Army N.C.O.s: since ca. 1925. Perhaps ex 'a nasty dig' at one's self-esteem. (P-G-R.)—11. In cricket, a turn at batting: Australian schoolboys': since ca. 1930. (B.P.) An opportunity to 'dig in'?—12. A fisherman's stretch of water or other definite 'area': Aus. fishers' and anglers': since ca. 1920. Nino Culotta, Gone Fishin', 1963. Perhaps ex sense 5.

dig, v.—2. To irritate or annoy: Australian: since ca. 1920. 'The man was taken aback. "What's digging you?" he blustered,' D'Arcy Niland, Call the . . ., 1958. Semantically cf. 'What's got into you?'—3. To become aware of; look at and enjoy; to enjoy; to look at and understand; to understand and enjoy: jazz-musicians', hence also dance-fanatics': adopted, in Britain ca. 1945, in Canada ca. 1938, ex U.S. (The Observer, Sept. 16, 1956.) 'To get into and under the melody' (F. E. L. Priestley); ultimately from S.E. dig into, to investigate, to examine very closely. Cf. Norman D. Hinton's excellent 'Language of Jazz Musicians' in The American Dialect Society, Nov. 1958. 'Now [among teenagers] means only "to enjoy or appreciate": Miss Dinah Greenwood, March 25, 1965. As a schoolboys' word, it had, by mid-1963, reached the 7–10 age group: New Society, Aug. 22, 1963.—4. Among beatniks, 'to dig is to like, admire, understand or be at one with' (Anderson): since ca. 1957. Ex sense 3.

dig, full. See full dig.

dig in, v.i. To eat heartily: since ca. 1870 (?). Cf.:—

dig in (and) fill your boots! Eat as much as you like!: Naval: C. 20. Granville. Not only your belly but also your boots.

dig out. 'To work with a will' (Granville): Naval: C. 20. 'If anyone can do any better, let him ruddy well dig out, I'm chocker with the job' (quoted by Granville). Ex mining?—2. To tidy (a hut, etc.): Army in France, 1915–18, and Army since—as in Gerald Kersh, Boots Clean, 1941.

dig the drape. See 'Canadian'.

Digby chicken (q.v. at Taunton turkey) may well be B. & L.'s error for Digby duck (q.v. on p. 220). Smoked herring: Canadian: since the 1880's. Ex Digby in Nova Scotia. (Priestley.) More precisely, 'a small, smoke-cured herring'—not in error for Digby duck, but of independent origin. (Leechman.) digger, 1 (p. 220). See also 'Guard-Room in Army Slang'.

diggers.—4. (Often D . . .) 'Idealist hippies undermining capitalist economies by giving away free clothes, washing machines to needy' (Peter Fryer, Dec. 3, 1967): hippies': since 1967.

digging a grave or digging for worms, he is or they are. A cricketers' c.p. for the spectacular process known as 'gardening' (q.v. in the Dict.): from ca. 1905.

digging one's grave with a (or one's) knife and fork. Gluttony: jocular coll.: late C. 19–20.

digit, remove the. See take your finger out.

dignity. A ball given by natives (among themselves): West Indies Europeans': mid-C. 19–20. B. & L. Ex the pompous formality there rife.

dike or dyke.—2. (Usually dyke.) A Lesbian: since ca. 1935; adopted ex U.S. Origin? Hardly ex sense 1 (p. 220).

dikey or dykey, adj. Lesbian: since the late 1930's. Ex preceding.

dikk.—2. A variant of dick v. (Dict.).

dil or dill. A simpleton; a trickster's dupe: Australian c.: C. 20. B., 1942. Ex dilly, adj., 2 (Dict.). By 1948, low s. (Gwen Robyns in The Evening News, Feb. 16, 1949.) By ca. 1955, no longer low. 'Popularly believed to be an ellipsis of dill-pickle, which also is used as a general term of abuse' (B.P.): C. 20.

dildo. A candle: Australian girls' boarding-schools': C. 20. Cf. their c.p., lights out at nine, candles out at ten (o'clock).

dill-pot; dillpot; also dillypot. A fool: Australian: C. 20. Ex the original sense, 'female pudend', itself rhyming s. for twat (p. 919), as Franklyn has suggested. The 'fool' sense may, however, rhyme on S.E. pot.

dillo namo (p. 220). Earlier in Mayhew, I, 1851 (dillo nemo).

Dilly, the. Piccadilly; as, among prostitutes, on the Dilly, working that area of London: C. 20. dillybags of is an Australian elaboration of bags of (p. 27): B., Australia Speaks, 1953.

dillypot. See dill-pot.

dim as a Toc-H lamp. (Of a person) very dull: Services': since ca. 1925; by 1960, ob. Cf. dim, 2 (p. 221). Common in R.A.F. until past 1960.

dim bulb. A very dull person; adj. very dull: Canadian: ca. 1918–40. (Priestley.)

dim(-)liggies. A police van: 'Wikkell, dim-liggies ([lit.] wobble, dim lights)': Alan Nash, in dim type. A stupid fellow (or girl): R.A.F. (hence, W.A.A.F.): since ca. 1936. Jackson. See type.

The Cape Times, June 3, 1946: South African c.: C. 20. Ex Afrikaans.

Dim Sim. A reduplicating variant of Sim, 3, below: Australian c. and low: since ca. 1950. Via pseudo-Chinese. (B.P.)

dim view. See take a dim view.

dimmer. See nicker, 4.

Dimmo or Dimo. (Only in the vocative.) A Greek: Cockney: C. 20. Ex Demo, short for Demosthenes, a very common given-name among the Greeks. Usually pronounced Jimmo. (Franklyn.)

dimmocking bag. A bag for the collection of subscriptions in cash; an individual's 'savings bank' for the hoarding of money for, e.g., Christmas cheer: lower classes': mid-C. 19–20; ob. B. & L.

dimp. A cigarette-end: Army: 1939 +. The Daily Mail, Sept. 7, 1940.

dimple. A hole, esp. a small hole, made—by a torpedo—in the side of a ship: Australian Naval: 1939–45. (B., 1943.)

di'n or even din. Didn't: Cockney sol.: C. 19–20. (Pamela Branch, The Wooden Overcoat, 1951.)

din-dins. A meal, as in 'The din-dins were fab': teenagers': since ca. 1964. Ex din-din (p. 221).

Dinah (p. 221). Also, in early C. 20, Australian. dine. Spite; malice: c. (— 1688); † by 1820. Randle Holme. Origin?

Ding. An Italian: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. Perhaps from Dings, 2.

ding, n. 'A hole in the fibreglass sheath of the board' (Pix, Sept. 28, 1963): Australian surfers': since late 1950's. Perhaps cf. ding, v., 1 (p. 221). —2. The bottom of anything, esp. either the buttocks or a surf-board's base: Australian: since late 1950's. (B.P.)

Ding-Dong. Inseparable nickname—perhaps esp. in Australia—for men surnamed Bell: late C. 19–20. (S. H. Courtier, Gently Dust the Corpse, 1960.)

ding-dong, 2. No; actively current in other circles—witness, e.g., Charles Prior, So I Wrote It, 1937.—3. A party: music-hall and theatrical: C. 20. Ex. sense 2.

ding dong bell. Hell, as in 'What the ding dong bell does he think he's playing at?': rhyming s.: esp. in the R.A.F. of World War II: C. 20. (Franklyn 2nd.)

dingbat.—3. A thingummy: Canadian: since ca. 1920. (Leechman.)—4. A Chinese: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)—5. A crank; an eccentric: Australian since ca. 1930. (Culotta.) Ex dingbats, 1 (p. 221).

dingbat, go like a. To travel very fast: R.A.F.: since ca. 1920.

dingbats (p. 221): since ca. 1925, gen. and common. (B.P.)

dinge, n.—3. The dinge, the black-out: R.A.F. bombing crews': 1939 +.—4. A Negro: low s., adopted ca. 1944 ex U.S. (Robin Cook, 1962.) The American term derives ex S.E. dingy. With this sense, cf. sense 2 in Dict.

dinger.—2. A dingo: Australian coll.: since ca. 1830. Brian Penton, Landtakers, 1934.—3. (Pron. dhing-er.) A telephone; a bell-system: Services: since early 1930's. H. & P. Echoic.—4. Short for humdinger, 'anything excellent': Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942.—5. Anus: (low) Australian: since ca. 1935. 'Don't forget that he'll get more than a gentle tap up the dinger if something really goes wrong': A. M. Harris, The Tall Man, 1958, but dealing with Australians in Korea, 1953. Origin? Perhaps a pun on sense 4 ('humdinger') and on hum, v., 4, on p. 413, as Ramsey Spencer has (1967) suggested.

dinger, do a. To dodge work: Naval (lower-deck): C. 20.

dinghy, 1 (p. 222), occurs in Alfred Burton's narrative poem, Johnny Newcome, 1818. (Moe.)

dingo, n. An armoured scout car: Army: 1940–5. The term soon > coll. and then, by 1945, j.—2. A coward; a mean-spirited person; a human jackal: Australian (rather allusive coll. than s.): C. 20. (Vance Palmer, Golconda, 1948.) —3. Hence, a treacherous person: since ca. 1900. (B., Australia Speaks, 1953.) Ex dingo on.—4. A batman: Australian soldiers' (esp. in New Guinea): 1942–5. Cf. dingbat (p. 221).

dingo, v. To shirk; to quit, back out of: Australian coll.: since ca. 1910. Jon Cleary, The Sundowners, 1952, 'I don't think he's dingoing the race'.

dingo on, v. To betray (someone); to fail (him): Australian: since ca. 1910. V., 1942.

dingus (see dinges, p. 222). By 1930 at latest, English too. K. R. G. Brown, As We Lie, 1937.

Dink, A Chinese: Australian: since ca. 1920. Baker in The Observer, Nov. 13, 1938. Perversion of Chink on dinge. Franklyn 2nd holds it to be rhyming s. on Chink.

dink, n. and v. See double-dink.—2, n. and adj. See true dinkum.—3. See hammer, 4.

dinker. Something (very) good: Australian: since ca. 1925. Baker. Cf. dinkum and dinky die (in Dict.).

dinkum (p. 222) prob. dates from ca. 1890: cf. S. B. Lancaster, Jim of the Ranges, 1940, "Straight dinkum?" It was the old touchword of their boyhood.' Hence, 'Are you fair dinkum?' = Are you telling me the truth? (Culotta.)

dinkum, the; the dinkum article. The genuine thing, the right person: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. See dinkum (p. 222).

dinkum Aussie. A native Australian: Australian: late C. 19–20. (B., 1943.)

dinky, adj.—2. True; genuine: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.) Ex:—

dinky, the. The truth: Australian: since ca. 1920. Baker. Short for dinky die (p. 222).

dinner for tea, be. To be easy, 'money for jam'; extremely pleasant or profitable: Cockney coll.: from ca. 1890. Pugh.

dinner pail, pass in one's. See pass in one's dinner pail and cf. pass in one's checks (Dict.).

dinnyhayser is the usual post-1930 form of Dinny Hayes-er (p. 222).—2. Hence, something notable: Australian: since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.)

dinting. 'Digging out old ballast (SR)': railwaymen's: C. 20. Railway, 3rd. Ex North Country dial. dinting, 'the taking up of the bottom of a colliery road, in order to enlarge the road' (E.D.D.).

Dinty. 'Inevitable' nickname for a male Moore: esp. in Services: C. 20. Cf. Pony (Dict.).

dip, n.—7. Diphtheria; a patient suffering from diphtheria; a case of diphtheria: medical, esp. nurses': C. 20. 'We had three dips in this morning'; 'It's dip, you know.'—8. A sort of doughnut: Australian: since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.)—9. A simpleton: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)

Sense 1, on p. 223, may have, at first, been 'a pocket', for it is so defined by Renton Nicholson in his Autobiography, 1860, at p. 19. Sense 6, on p. 222, has a derivative nuance: 'melted bacon fat, usually a favourite with children when poured from frying-pan onto plate' (Peter Ibbotson, Feb. 9, 1963): late C. 19–20; in C. 20, no longer low.

dip, v.—6. (Ex sense 5: p. 222). Also be dipped: to be reduced in rank, for some misdemeanour: Naval: C. 20.—7. To fail, as in 'I dipped by five marks': Naval: since ca. 1930.

dip (or D.), the. The assistant purser: nautical, esp. ship's stewards': C. 20. Dave Marlowe, Coming, Sir!, 1937.

dip chick. A diver: Naval: C. 20. Granville, 'Corruption of Dabchick, or Little Grebe, a small diving bird'.

dip one's killick. (Of a Leading Hand) to be disgraced: Naval: C. 20. Granville, '[Killick is] the anchor which symbolised his rate'—cf. the R.A.F. props.

dip one's wick; bury it. (Of the male) to have sexual intercourse: low: from ca. 1880, 1860 resp.

dip south. See south, dip.

dip the clutch. To de-clutch at the wrong moment: Army Mechanical Transport: 1939 +. (Peter Chamberlain, letter of Sept. 22, 1942.)

dipper!, in your. A New Zealand defiant c.p. of ca. 1920–40. R. G. C. McNab in The Press (Christchurch, N.Z.), April 2, 1938.

Dippy Street. Dieppe Street, West Kensington, London, W.14: locals': late C. 19–20.

dire. Unpleasant; objectionable; inferior: middle-class: since ca. 1930.

directly minute. Immediately; forthwith; this very minute: lower-class, esp. Cockney, coll.: from ca. 1870. W. Pett Ridge, Minor Dialogues, 1895, "Oist me up on this seat, Robert, dreckly minute, there's a good soul."

dirt.—5. Anti-aircraft fire: R.A.F.: since late 1939. H. & P. Cf. shit.—6. Bad weather: Coastal Command, R.A.F.: 1940 +. Flying-Officer Robert Hinde, letter of March 17, 1945.—7. Scandal: adopted ca. 1932 from the U.S.A. Cf. sense 4 and see dirt?, what's the (p. 223).—8. A mean or evil spirit or temper, in, e.g., a horse: Australian coll.: since ca. 1910. (K. S. Prichard, Working Bullocks, 1926.)—9. A trump card, esp. if unexpected ('He's put a bit of dirt on it'): card-players': since ca. 1945.

dirt, in the. In trouble: mostly R.A.F.: since ca. 1925. (P-G-R.)—2. adv. and adj. Derailed: railwaymen's: C. 20. (Railway 2nd.)

dirt, put in the; do dirt on. To act unfairly (towards someone): Australian: since ca. 1905, 1920, resp. B., 1942.

dirt and grease. Marine indications of a gathering storm: nautical: ? ca. 1800–50. (W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (I, 184), 1829.) Cf. greasy, 1, on p. 351. Moe.

dirt (on), have the. To know some scandal (about someone): since ca. 1930. Cf. What's the dirt?, q.v. at dirt... on p. 223.

dirt on your tapes!, get some. Get some experience as an N.C.O.: Services: since ca. 1925. H. & P.

dirt-shoot. See giggy.

dirty's coming out, the. Now we're getting the truth: c.p., often with implication in vino veritas: since the late 1930's.

dirty, adj. Is—in low, and in semi-literate, English—often used as a mere intensive, not in the least pejorative: since ca. 1910 (perhaps from a decade earlier). 'He [Dante] meets another geezer down there called Virgil or something, and they make dirty great speeches at each other' (Norman). Cf. dirty big and dirty great.

dirty, do the.—2. Esp. do the dirty on a girl, to seduce her and then abandon her: since ca. 1913.

dirty barrel, have a. To have V.D.: Naval: late C. 19–20. Ex 'gun-barrel'.

dirty big. A variant of dirty great: mostly Services': since ca. 1910. Among Australians, it has, since ca. 1920, tended to synonymise bloody: B., 1943.

dirty daughter. Water: rhyming s.: C. 20. (Franklyn 2nd.) Perhaps suggested by the words of a popular song: '... water, / In which you wash(ed) your dirty daughter'.

Dirty Dick's (or Dicks). The venereal ward in a military or other Service hospital: mostly Canadian: C. 20. A pun on s. dick, penis, and on a once-famous low London resort.

dirty dog. A lecher: coll., often jocular: since ca. 1880.

dirty dogs smell their own stuff first. A low Glasgow c.p.: C. 20. Cf. foxes.

dirty end, get—or be handed—the. To come off the worse in a deal or an encounter: coll. C. 20. ('Sapper', The Third Round, 1924, has the second form.)

dirty face?, who're you (or who yer) calling. Concerning the latter half of 1916, Richard Blaker, in his memorable War-novel (written from the viewpoint of the Artillery officer), Medal without Bar, 1930, remarks: "'Oo yer calling dirty-face?" became a standardised pleasantry in the light of a lantern held to a cigarette-stump, from drivers turned muleteer ("the cavalry", as the gunners called them).'

dirty great. A strong pejorative: Services: since ca. 1910. E.g. 'That dirty great bastard'.

Dirty Half-Mile, the. King's Cross Road, Sydney: mostly N.S.W.: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.) Rough and tough.

Dirty Little Imps, the. The Durham Light Infantry: military: late C. 19–20. Punning on D.L.I.

dirty look. A look of contempt or strong dislike, as in 'He gave me a dirty look': coll.: late C. 19–20.

dirty money. Extra pay for very dirty work: labour coll.: C. 20.

dirty night at sea. 'A nocturnal drinking bout' (Baker): Australian: C. 20.

dirty old Jew. In the game of House, it means 'two': rhyming s.: C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

dirty old man. A c.p., descriptive of or addressed to a middle-aged womanizer: C. 20.

dirty one. A bad wound: hence, a misfortune: Army: 1914–18, then ob. At first, of a wound that turns septic.

dirty ore. In House, thirty-four: rhyming s.: C. 20. (Franklyn, ibid.) dirty sacks. Bedding: London Fire Brigade: C. 20. Ex sleeping bags?

dirty thing. Adolescent girls' term to, or for, a boy that becomes amorous: coll.: late (? mid) C. 19–20.

dirty water off one's chest, get the. (Of men) to obtain sexual relief by emission: low: C. 20.

dirty week-end. A week-end spent with one's mistress; jocularly, with one's wife but without the children: mostly (? orig.) Australian: since ca. 1930. (B.P.)

dis or diss, v.—3. Mostly as ppl. adj., dissed, disconnected: wireless s.: from ca. 1930. The Wireless World, Feb. 26, 1937, 'There's no warning whistle to tell [the wireless listener] the speaker is "dissed".'

Disappointments Board, the. The University Appointments Board: undergraduates' (esp. Oxford and Cambridge): since ca. 1950.

disaster (p. 223). Renewed by the Army in North Africa: 1940–43.

disc (or disk) jockey. A radio man whose job it is to play records and comment on them: adopted, ca. 1955, ex U.S.; by 1965, coll.

discip sergeant. A disciplinary sergeant: R.A.F. coll.: 1940 +.

disco. A repository for gramophone discs, i.e. a discothèque: music-lovers': since ca. 1955.—2. Hence, 'a club where music is provided by disc or tape as apart from a live = performing group' (Woman's Own, July 31, 1965): since ca. 1960.

discuss. A discussion: girls' Public Schools': since ca. 1925. (Nancy Spain, Poison for Teacher, 1949.)

disease. Weather erosion or chemical-fumes deterioration of statues or buildings: since ca. 1940. Ex the leprous appearance they assume.

disembark. Disembarkation leave: Services', esp. Army: 1939–45.

disguddy blusting. A transposition of bloody disgusting: schoolgirls': ca. 1935–50.

disgustigating. A playful deformation of disgusting: since ca. 1910.

dish, n.—2. A girl; (young) woman: adopted since ca. 1936 from U.S. James Curtis, They Ride by Night, 1938. For semantics, cf. crackling, crumpet, and—in Dict.—tart. Shakespeare adumbrates the term.—3. Hence, among Teddy boys, an attractive girl: since ca. 1953. Also doll or tart.—4. Buttocks, posterior: homosexual: since ca. 1954. Ex senses 2 and 3.—5. Any attractive person, of either sex: since ca. 1955. Ex senses 2 and 3. 'Screen dishes can be dark, fair, tall or tiny, but never tubby': Woman, Oct. 23, 1965. Of senses 2, 3, Ramsey Spencer writes on July 10, 1968, 'Since the early 1960's also applied by girls to men, in my hearing.'

dish, v.—2. To assault, to 'beat up', with variant dish up: Australian, mostly juvenile and teenage: since ca. 1945. (B.P.)

dish-down. A disappointment: C. 20. Logan Pearsall Smith, Words and Idioms, 1925. Cf. dish, n. and v. (p. 224).

dish it out. To be either physically or verbally severe towards others: since ca. 1925. Cf. the c.p. 'he can dish it out, but he can't take it' and dish out on p. 224.—2. To hand out punishment, information or, indeed, anything else, with ease and rapidity: Canadian, since ca. 1926; English, since ca. 1940. (Leechman.)

dish-lick. See scissors-grinder.

dish up. To wash up: Naval (cook's galley): since ca. 1920. (P-G-R.)—2. See dish v., 2.

dished.—2. Of a car's steering wheel: having its hub lower than its rim: Australian motorists': since ca. 1940. (B.P.)

dished up, look. To look 'washed up': Australian: since ca. 1930. (Margaret Trist, 1944.)

dishy. Attractive: since ca. 1960. Julian Rathbone, Hand Out, 1968, 'Dishy, I call him': Ramsey Spencer, letter of July 10, 1968. Ex dish, n., s. dispense, n. A dispensary: since ca. 1910.

dispense with. To dispose of: catachrestic: C. 20. 'The moment he had dispensed with all the formalities . . . , he was not long in starting,' writes an able young novelist in 1935.

displace. See replace.

distance, go or last the full. See go the full distance.

district of sappers, the. 'Those who sap at [study hard] their quarto and folio volumes,' Spy, 1825: Oxford: ca. 1815–50.

dit.—2. A story, a yarn: Australian Naval: since ca. 1930. (B., 1943.) Ex nautical ditties.

ditch (last entry on p. 224). Strictly, to throw overboard: Granville.—2. To land (an aircraft) on the sea: R.A.F.: since ca. 1939.—3. (Ex sense 1.) To discard (something no longer useful): since ca. 1942: originally, R.A.F.

Ditch, the. Post-1920, also Houndsditch, London.—4. The Fleet Street taxicab rank: taxi-drivers': since ca. 1910. Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939. Ex that brook, the Fleet Ditch, which formerly ran, above ground, to join the River Thames south of Fleet Street.—5. The English Channel: Air Force: 1939–45. A specialisation of sense 2 (p. 225).

ditched, be or get. To come down into the sea: R.A.F.: since ca. 1938; by 1943, j. Either ex 'to be ditched' or, more probably, ex 'the Ditch' (sense 2, Dict.). After 1940 usually v.i.; as, e.g., in 'We had to ditch soon after we left the French coast'.

dithered. Tipsy: Australian: since ca. 1925. Baker.

ditto, smut. A variant (to a woman) of ditto, brother smut!, q.v. in Dict. at brother smut.

ditty box. 'A small wooden box . . . issued to seamen; displaced by the more convenient attaché case. . . . Believed to be a shortened form of "commodity box",' Granville: Naval: ca. 1890–1930.

div, n.—2. Division (military): Army: C. 20. Cf. divvy (p. 225).

dive, take a. To lose a boxing match—for a (considerable) bribe: sporting world: since ca. 1920. To the canvas.

Divi. Divinity as school or university subject: late C. 19–20.

diving suit. A condom: industrial Australia, esp. N.S.W.: since ca. 1945. A raffish pun.

divorced, be. To lose one's girl; (of a girl) to lose one's boy: Australian jocular, esp. teenagers': since ca. 1950. 'You'd better take her out more often, or you'll be divorced.' (B.P.)

divoteer. A golfer: Australian: ca. 1925–45; not very general. (B., 1943.)

divvi. Variant of divvy, 2 (p. 225); cf. quotation at dewey above.

divvy-hunter. One who joins a co-operative society merely to share in the dividends: since ca. 1910.

dix. See dibs.

dixie.—4. An ice-cream carton: Australian: since ca. 1919. Baker. Ex 2.

dizzy, adj.—2. Rather tipsy: 1791, The New Vocal Enchantress (p. 33); † by 1890.—3. Scatter-brained; wild; foolish: since ca. 1930.

dizzy blonde. 'A highly conspicuous blonde, both in appearance and in behaviour' (Leechman): Canadian: adopted, ca. 1935, ex U.S.; by 1956, fairly common in England. Cf. preceding, sense 3.

dizzy limit, the (p. 226) is, since ca. 1930, predominantly 'the final touch, the last straw' (B., 1943).

dlinkie. 'Facetious and pseudo-juvenile and pidgin for drink' (Leechman): Canadian: since ca. 1920.

do, n. Senses 2 and 4 are merged in the following quot'n from Boxiana, IV, 1824, 'How this particular course of lectures succeeded we do not find . . . ; but the spec failed, as a generally profitable do.'—6. A gang fight: teenage gangsters': since ca. 1955. Cf. senses 4 and 5 on p. 266.

do, v., 1 (p. 226): occurs, in nuance 'to deceive', in W. N. Glascock, Sketch-Book, I (208), 1825. (Moe.)—11. To coit (with a girl): low: C. 20. Cf. senses 3 and 4 (p. 226).—12. To perpetrate sodomy upon: low: C. 20.

do a bitter; do a wet. See do a beer (Dict.).

do a Chloe. To appear in the nude: Australian, esp. Melbourne: late C. 19–20. A pre-1900 Melbourne Art Gallery reject of a nude painting of Chloe hangs in a well-known Australian hotel. (B.P.) do a four-o-six (406). To make a routine inspection of vehicles: Army: 1939–45. Ex the relevant Army 'book'.

do a good turn to. To afford (a woman) sexual satisfaction: male coll., mostly jocular: C. 20.

do a job, 1. Orig., and still mostly, to commit a burglary; and English at first: Sessions, March 12, 1878.—2. To defecate: Australian, mainly: C. 20. B., 1942.—3. To render a woman pregnant: Australian: C. 20. Baker.

do a job for oneself. To defecate: C. 20. Cf. sense 2 of preceding.

do a knock—or do a knock line—with. To be amorously interested in—and involved with—a member of the opposite sex: Australian: low: C. 20. Baker. Cf. knocking-shop (Dict.).

do a line with. To walk out with (a girl): originally and mostly Anglo-Irish: C. 20.

do a man over. See do over, 4.

do a Nelson. To withstand danger, or extreme difficulty, in a confident spirit: mostly Cockney: late C. 19–20. 'Knowing that whatever may befall, as upon Nelson on his column in Trafalgar Square, one will, like him, "be there" to-morrow' (Laurie Atkinson, July 1, 1948).—2. Hence, to be in irrepressibly good spirits: a 'London Blitz' word among Civil Defence on duty: late 1940–mid-1941, then at intervals until 1945.

do a never. See never.

do a Penang. To run away; to retreat ingloriously: Australian airmen's: 1942–5. (B., 1943.) Ex the British and Australian retreat down Malaya.

do a perish. Almost to die for lack of a drink: Australian: since ca. 1920. Baker.

do a rural (p. 226). Also do an agricultural one: C. 20.

do a rush. See rush, do a (Dict.).

do a tumble. See do a spread (Dict.).

do as you like. A bicycle: rhyming s. (on bike): late C. 19–20.

do-badder. An actively bad person: coll.: since ca. 1960. Prompted by do-gooder, 2, below.

do-do (pron. doo-doo). To excrete; excreta: school-children's: late C. 19–20. Hence, do-do noise, a fart.

do for, 3 (to kill), occurs so early as 1740. Sessions, July 1740, trial of Stephen Saunders.

do-gooder. An inveterate busybody, intent on reforming everybody's soul but his own: Canadian coll.: since ca. 1946. (Leechman.)—2. Hence, do-gooders, people who interest themselves in social work: English coll., became at all general only ca. 1957. (The Bournemouth Evening Echo, July 7, 1959.) Hence, since ca. 1960, the occ. do-goodery.

do hickey. See hickey.

do I ducks! 'Do I hell!'; I do not!: Cockney c.p.: C. 20. Euphemistic for do I fuck!

do I owe you anything? or what do I owe you? A c.p. addressed to someone staring rudely or reasonlessly at the speaker: late C. 19–20.

do in.—7. To steal: low: late C. 19–20. Sessions, July 1, 1905: A. Neil Lyons, Sixpenny Pieces, 1909.

do in the eye. To cheat: late C. 19–20. Ex idea of a nasty punch in the eye. Cf. do, v, 1.

do it. To coit: when not merely euphemistic, it is coll.: C. 18–20.

do it again, Ikey, I saw diamonds. Say it again, for it's a bit too good to be true: proletarian c.p.: ca. 1900–14. W. L. George, The Making of an Englishman, 1914.

do it now! (p. 227): still common in Australia. (B.P., 1965.)

do it on (someone). To swindle (v.t.), impose on: low: since ca. 1890. Sessions, Dec. 19, 1901.—2. Hence (?), to forestall, anticipate; get the better of, outdo, be too good for; since ca. 1905.

do it on the d.h. (damned head) is a variant of do on one's head (Dict.).

do it the hard way. A derisive c.p., shouted at an awkward workman struggling at his job; mostly preceded by that's right! and occasionally rounded off with standing up in a hammock: Canadian: since ca. 1910 (?). Leechman.

do-it-yourself. Masturbation: since ca. 1950. (Nicholas Monsarrat, The Nylon Pirates, 1960.)

do it yourself kit. 'Steam locomotives' (Railway, 3rd): railwaymen's: since ca. 1950. Ironic.

do(-)me(-)dag; usually pl., do-me-dags. A cigarette: low rhyming s.: late C. 19–20. Rhyming on fag.

do me good. A Woodbine cigarette: rhyming: late C. 19–20.—2. Timber: carpenters' and other workmen's rhyming s. on wood: late C. 19–20. (Franklyn 2nd.)

do one for the King. To be on a 24-hour guard: Army: 1902 +.

do one's cash. To spend, to lose one's money: Australian: C. 20. Baker.

do one's dags. Cigarettes: rhyming s. on fags: ca. 1890–1920. Franklyn 2nd.

do one's dough. To lose one's money: mostly Australian: since ca. 1925.

do one's fealty. See 'Tavern terms', § 9.

do one's luck. To be out of luck: Australian: C. 20. Baker.

do one's nut.—2. To explode with anger: since ca. 1945. Cf. blow one's top above.

do one's pegs is Australian and synonymous with do one's block, q.v. at block, lose the (p. 65). B., 1943.

do one's stuff (p. 227) is coll., rather than s.; is English, rather than American; and is very much older than I had supposed. George Fox, the Quaker, in his Journal for the year 1663 wrote: 'A while after, when the priest had done his stuff, they came to the friends again.' (With thanks to Alexander McQueen, letter of 1953.)

do others before they do you! A post-1920 c.p. variation of do unto others as you would be done by.

do over.—4. To do the rank over is to take position in a taxicab park other than one's usual; taxi-drivers': since ca. 1912. Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939. Prob. ex sense 3. But do a man over is to take a fare rightfully another driver's: Hodge.

do polly. See polly, do.

do-re-mi (pron. dough-ray-me). Money, esp. cash: Australian, adopted—ca. 1945—ex U.S.; but since late 1930's in Canada. An elaboration of dough, 2 (p. 237) and a pun on the tonic sol-fa.

do some good for oneself. (Of the male) to be amorously successful: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

do tell! Really?; you don't mean it: Canadian c.p., often ironic or sarcastic: since ca. 1950. (Leechman.) Adopted ex (the American) New England, where current since ca. 1920.

do the lot. To lose all one's money: coll.: C. 20.

do the spin. At two-up, to toss the coins: Australian: late C. 19–20. Baker.

do the tap. To win a game of cards; mostly as vbl n., doing the tap: Army: C. 20.

do they have ponies down a pit? See 'Cockney catch phrases...'

do things by penny numbers, i.e. by instalments or spasms: mid-C. 19–20; since ca. 1914, slightly ob. Ex novels so published ca. 1840–80.

do things to. See make go all unnecessary.

do what the steer did. To, at the least, try: Canadian: since ca. 1920. 'From the observed efforts of these underprivileged animals to lead a normal love-life' (Leechman).

do you know any other funny stories? A c.p., meaning 'Do you think I'm green?' or implying 'You're a leg-puller, or a liar': since ca. 1935.

do you spit much with that cough? A Canadian c.p. (of ca. 1910–30), addressed to one who has just broken wind.

do you think you'll know me again? or you'll know me again, won't you! A c.p. addressed to someone staring, esp. to a person one knows: C. 20.

do you want—or simply an abrupt want—to buy a battleship? A c.p., equivalent to 'Do you want to make water?'—often addressed to a man that one (what humour! what wit!) has playfully awakened: R.A.F.: 1940 +. Partridge, 1945. Elaboration of pump ship, 1 (p. 667), with an ironic veiled reference to flag days.

dob in. To inform on (someone): Australian, esp. teenage gangsters': since ca. 1930. 'He wouldn't dob me in, I knew that' (Dick). Ex the widespread English dial. dob, to put down heavily, to throw down.

dobash. A girl friend: Naval (lower-deck): since ca. 1925. (P-G-R.) She may—or may not—do a ‘bash’.

dobbin.—3. A rum-container: Army in the East: 1942–5. (C. J. Rolo, Wingate's Raiders, 1944.) Ex the S.E. dobbin, a small drinking-vessel.

dobeying (see dhobi, 2, in Dict.): earlier recorded in ‘Taffrail’.

dobs. The Sherborne shape of dibs (prayers): see above.

doby is a loose spelling of dhob(e)y: see dhobi (p. 217).

doc, 1. In Naval Wardrooms, the usual C. 20 address to the ship's surgeon. Granville. But, on the lower deck, doc always, in address, means a sick-berth attendant, the doctor himself being, in reference, the quack. Also, in Army from at least as early as 1939, a medical orderly.

dock, in. (Of motor cars) being serviced or repaired: motorists': since ca. 1920.

docker.—3. A large sum of money; go a docker, spend much money: Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1942. Origin?

dockers' ABC, the. Ale, baccy, cunt: British docksides, mostly dockers' (esp. Liverpool): late C. 19–20.

dockie (or -y). A dock labourer: coll.: since ca. 1880. (Ernest Raymond, The Marsh, 1937.)

dockyard matey. A dockyard worker: Naval coll.: prob. since ca. 1810. Occurs in Kipling, A Fleet in Being, 1898; Captain Sherard Osborn, Arctic Journal, 1852, as Rear-Admiral P. W. Brock, D.S.O., tells me; and, very much earlier, in W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (II, 115), 1829. Moe.

dockyarder. Earlier in Sinks, 1848.

docs. Documents, in the sense of a soldier's, sailor's, airman's official papers (attestation form, medical rating, classification, etc., etc., etc.): Services' coll.: C. 20. Jackson.

Doctor. See ‘Tavern terms’, § 3, b.

doctor, n.—14. See magic doctors, which it occ. shortens: rare after 1943.—15. A journeyman in collar and tie: tailors': C. 20.

doctor, v.—9. To dock (lambs): Australian: late C. 19–20. Archer Russell, Gone Nomad, 1936. Cf. senses 6–8 (p. 229).

Doctor Cotton. See Johnny Cotton.

Doctor Crippen. Dripping (the culinary n.): rhyming s.: C. 20.

Doctor Jim (p. 229). The derivative forms are obviously of the same origin as cunt cap.

Doctor Livingstone, I presume. This c.p., adopted from H. M. Stanley's greeting, 1871, in the African jungle, was originally (ca. 1900) a skit on Englishmen's proverbial punctiliousness, no matter what the circumstances; but, by ca. 1920, it was extended to almost any chance, or unexpected, meeting, whether between strangers or even between friends.

doctor's orders. 9 in the game of House; Army: C. 20. Michael Harrison. Ex the inevitable ‘No. 9 pill’. Also doctor's favourite.

doddering Dick. A Maxim gun; hence, any machine-gun: Naval: 1939–45. (P-G-R.)

doddle (p. 229). By 1940, fairly general, but low. (Norman.)—2. A ‘walk-over’: racing: since ca. 1920. Ex dawdle? or ex toddle?—3. Esp. in ‘It's a doddle’—easy, simple: R.A.F., since ca. 1945; by 1955, widespread. Ex sense 1 (p. 229) ?

Sense 2 was also, by the middle 1940's, gen. s., as in ‘Pity you didn't come last night. It was a doddle’ (Zoe Progl, Woman of the Underworld, 1964).

doddle, v. To ‘walk it’ or win very easily: racing: since ca. 1925. John Winton, Never Go to Sea, 1963, (of a filly) ‘I think she started at even money but anyway she doddled it.’ Ex sense 2 of the n.—unless it was the other way about.

Dodd's Sound. ‘Where the candidate will have to acknowledge the receipt of a certificate empowering him to float down Bachelor Creek’ (i.e. to become a B.A.), Spy, 1825: Oxford University: ca. 1815–50. Ex a Vice-Chancellor's name?

dodge, v. To track (a person) stealthily: c.: from ca. 1830: ob. Dickens, Oliver Twist.

dodge the draft. See draft-dodger.

Dodger.—2. A fairly common nickname for men surnamed Brown: C. 20. Contrast sense 6 of dodger on p. 229.

dodger, 2. Earlier in J. Wright, Mornings at Bow Street, 1824.—10. Bread; food: Australian: since ca. 1918. Baker. (Ex sense 8.) n.—11. A leaflet: Canadian printers' and journalists': C. 20. (Leechman.)—12. ‘A canvas screen on the bridge of small craft as protection against the weather.’ (Naval colloquialism): C. 20. (P-G-R).—13. A shunting truck: railwaymen's, mostly Western: C. 20. (Railway.) It ‘dodges about’, all over the yard.

Sense 11 is, more precisely, ‘a printed sheet, usually on coloured paper, and on one side only, for distribution from door to door advertising something or other’ (Leechman, April 1967): since ca. 1910.

dodger, adj. First-class, excellent, fine: Australian: since late 1930's. (B., 1943; Dal Stevens, The Gambling Ghost, 1953.)

dodger, a hunk of. A slice of bread: Australian: since ca. 1920. (Culotta.) Cf. dodger, 10, above.

dodgy. 2. Hence, ingenious or neat: school-boys': late C. 19–20. Atkinson.—3. Difficult or complicated or tricky; risky; likely to become dangerous, esp. of a situation, a transaction, a concerted action: since ca. 1943. In, e.g., the film Seven Days to Noon, 1950; Norman. But foreshadowed in G. B. Shaw, Mrs Warren's Profession, 1894.—4. Hence, stolen; esp. in dodgy gear, stolen property: since ca. 1955.

Doe. A Dornier 'plane: R.A.F.: 1939 +. Partridge, 1945. Ex the official abbr., Do.

doe. See ‘Harlots’.—2. A girl, a woman: mostly University of Oxford: late C. 19–early 20. Compton Mackenzie, Thin Ice, 1956.

doesn't care what he (or she) spends when he (or she) has nothing, he (or she). A c.p. applied to one who, pockets empty of money, talks as if he had much: since ca. 1925.

doesn't know enough to pee down wind. ‘A c.p. directed against a very stupid fellow’ (Leechman): mostly Canadian: since ca. 1920.

dog, n.—9. A plain-clothes railway detective: Australian c.: C. 20. B., 1942.—10. A police ‘shadow’: Australian police: since the 1920's. (Vince Kelly, The Shadow, 1955.)—11. See Malta dog.—12. Food: Aus. rural: C. 20. (B., 1959.) Cf. dogs, 1, in Dict.—13. A drinking debt: Aus. urban: C. 20. Ibid.

dog, v.—3. See wild-dog below.

dog, tie up a. To book drinks in a bar, esp. at hotel: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)

dog, turn. See turn dog below.

dog act, the. See blackfellows' act.—2. Any such Act, or part of an Act, of Parliament as enables people to follow a profession even though they are not academically qualified to do so: Australian: since ca. 1955. (B.P.)

dog and bone. Telephone (mostly n.): rhyming s.: since ca. 1945. Franklyn 2nd.

dog-biscuit.—2. The staple biscuit issued to troops on active service: Army: 1914-18. Unsalted, unflavoured—and damned hard!

dog-box. A passenger carriage on rural railway services: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. 'Refers only to carriages without corridors. Each compartment has its own door to the platform and its own w.c.' (B.P.)

dog-cart. A police car: Australian: since ca. 1920. Jocular. (Dick.) dog-catchers. A train crew sent to relieve a crew that has become outlawed: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931).

dog clutch. 'A disconnectable coupling,' H. & P.: R.A.F.: since ca. 1930.

dog-collar.—2. 'Broad necklace usually of small pearls worn tightly round the neck': Society: C. 20. Raymond Mortimer, in The Listener, March 10, 1937.—3. A tunic with collar hooking together at front (no shirt-collar or tie being worn): R.A.F.: ca. 1918-37, the present style being introduced ca. 1937.

Dog Collar Act, the. The Transport Workers' Act: Australian: B., 1942.

dog(-)dancing. 'Useless and exaggerated activity, such as a dog indulges in, capering with glee at the return of his master' (Douglas Leechman, July 31, 1967): orig. and mostly Canadian: since late 1966 or early 1967.

dog-end (q.v. in Dict.) is also low Cockney of C. 20: witness The Evening News, Dec. 21, 1936. It is prob. a corruption of docked end; a cigarette that is kept for another smoke has first been quenched or docked. The term has, since ca. 1927, been fairly gen., though it is still low.

dog-fashion, have it. To coit à posteriori: low coll.: C. 20. Cf. dogways.

dog-fight.—2. A regimental sergeant major's badge: Army: since ca. 1930. Cf. fighting cats.

dog-fight buttons. The buttons on a General Service overcoat: Army: since ca. 1930.

dog(-)house. A caboose: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931).—2. See fish-horn.

dog-house, in the. In disgrace or bad odour: since ca. 1954. A man fallen out with his wife may say, 'I'm in the dog-house.' Ex dogs banished from house to kennel.

dog in a blanket (p. 230). No; prob. at least a decade earlier, for the term occurs in Edward Stirling's one-act play, Mrs Coudle's Curtain Lecture, 1845. (Moe.)

dog(-)leg. A good-conduct stripe: Services: since ca. 1925. H. & P., 'Shaped like a pair of legs'.

dog licence. 'A Certificate of Exemption to allow an aboriginal to buy a drink in a hotel' (B., 1959): since late 1940's.

dog list, be on the. To be debarred from drinking: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942.

dog-napping. (The practice of) stealing pets: low: C. 20.

dog out. To keep watch: low: since ca. 1945. Maurice Procter, His Weight in Gold, 1966, "'You can have Harry to dog out for you'" and 'Higgs left Wayman dogging out at the corner'.

dog-robbers. Civilian clothes (usually tweeds) worn by officers on shore leave: Naval: since ca. 1900. Granville. In, e.g., John Winton, We Saw the Sea, 1960 (p. 156).

dog-rough. Very unpleasant, hard: Services': since ca. 1920. (P-G-R.) Rough—even for a dog.

dog see the rabbit, let the. A c.p. in reference to one who wishes to do or see something: mostly in Services: C. 20. Atkinson.

dog-stiffener. A professional dingo-killer: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.—2. Usually in pl., dog-stiffeners, leather leggings: Australian: since ca. 1910. Baker.

dog-tag. An identity disc: since ca. 1941, and after 1950 the commonest of all the Australian synonyms. (B.P.)

dog-walloper. A stick; a cudgel; a policeman's baton: Australian: C. 20. Baker.

dog-walloping. Picking up the ends of cigars and cigarettes: theatrical: ca. 1810-50.

dog(-)watch; esp. on the dog-watch, on night duty: Services: since ca. 1920. H. & P. Ex nautical j.—2. 'To say of a man that he hasn't been in the Service "half a dog-watch" is to imply that he is still in the green New Entry stage,' Granville: C. 20.

dog-whipper. 'Superintends work of pony drivers and leaders in metal mines' (Evening News, Sept. 28, 1953): industrial: C. 20.

dogger, 3; dogging. A dogger is one who practises dogging, the collecting, cleaning and selling of dog-end tobacco (cf. dog-walloping): 1941 +.

Dogger Bank Dragoons, the. The Royal Marines, esp. the commandos: Naval: since ca. 1914; slightly ob. (James Spenser, The Awkward Marine, 1948.)

doggers. 'Multi-coloured swim shorts' (Pix, Sept. 28, 1963): Australian surfers': since ca. 1960. Ex 'putting on dog' or 'side'.

doggerly.—2. Nonsense: proletarian: mid-C. 19-20; ob. B. & L.

Dogget coat and badge. A variant of coat and badge (p. 163). Franklyn (Rhyming).

Doggie (or -y) Day. New Year's Day: Post Office officials': C. 20. Ex the dog-licences renewable then.

doggie, doggy, 5. For the second nuance, an earlier record is afforded by 'Taffrail'.

doggin (mostly in pl.). A cigarette-butt: New Zealanders': since ca. 1930. An adaptation—? rather a slovening—of dog-end. (J. H. Henderson, Inglorious Gunner, 1945.)

dogging. See dogger above.

Doggo. Nickname for a plain-featured person: Naval: C. 20. Granville.

doggy, n.—6. A 'hot dog': Australian: since ca. 1944. Ruth Park, Poor Man's Orange, 1950.—

7. 'Platelayer. (ER)': railwaymen's: C. 20. (Railway, 3rd.) Possibly of mining origin, but more likely humorous.

dogman. That workman who travels with the load of a crane: Australian: since ca. 1930, (Robert Clark, The Dogman and Other Poems, 1962).

dogs, 1. Post-1925, it tends to mean 'hot cooked sausages'. Short for hot dogs. E. C. Vivian, Ladies in the Case, 1933.—4. Feet: adopted, ca. 1935, from U.S. But dogs that bite seems to be an English elaboration, since ca. 1944, for sore feet.—5. In the Navy, the dogs are the Dog Watches: since ca. 1910. (P-G-R.)—6. As the Dogs, Footscray footballers: Melbourneites: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.)—7. The position achieved in mine-sweeping when two ships open out and finish stern to stern: Australian Naval: since ca. 1939. Ex two dogs breaking off relations.

dogs are barking it in the street, the. 'A c.p. used about something that is supposedly secret but is very widely known, an open secret' (B.P.): Australian: since ca. 1920.

dog's ballocks. The typographical colon-dash (:—): C. 20. Cf. dog's prick.

dog's body, 1 (p. 231), occurs rather earlier: Alfred Burton, Johnny Newcome, 1818. (Moe.)

dog's bottom?, is he (or it, etc.) any. Is he any good?: Australian: since ca. 1930. B., 1942.

dog's bird leg. Lance corporal's stripe: Australian soldiers': 1915 +.

dog's breakfast.—2. Confusion; turmoil: Australian: since ca. 1935. (B., 1943.)

dog's chance, not to have a. To have no chance at all: coll.: late C. 19–20.

dog's dinner. A shilling: Australian rhyming s.: C. 20. (B., 1945.) On deaner (p. 211).—2. See dressed up like . . . below.—3. Pejorative, as in 'Something-or-other was a dog's dinner'—bungled, no good: since ca. 1945.

dog's disease. Influenza: Australian: since ca. 1930. (B.P.) dog's home, the. See 'Guard-Room in Army Slang'.

dog's licence. Seven shillings and sixpence: from ca. 1930. Ex the cost of that licence.

dog's nose.—2. Hence, from ca. 1850, a man addicted to whisky. B. & L.

dog's prick. An exclamation mark: authors' and journalists': C. 20.

dog's vomit.—2. Inferior food: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Ex sense 1 (p. 232).

dogun (p. 232). Since at least as early as 1920 the predominant Canadian form has been dogan. (Leechman.)

dogways, adv. and adj. (Of coition) like a dog, à retro: workmen's coll.: late C. 19–20.

dohickey. 'Now becoming common here [in New Zealand] as an alternative to "doings", [which is] now losing some of its novelty,' Niall Alexander, letter of Oct. 22, 1939.

doing! and doink! Variants of boing and boink above.

doing dab. Doing badly (in business): London low: since ca. 1845. Mayhew, I, 1851. Here dab is back s. for bad.

doing of, be. To be doing: illiterate coll.: C. 19–20. In, e.g., An Old Etonian, Cavendo Tutus; or, Hints upon Slip-Slop, forming the second part of his The Alphabet Annotated, 1853.

doings, the. (Ex sense 1: p. 232.) One's possessions or equipment: Australian: since ca. 1919. (Jean Devaney, By Tropic Sea, 1944.)

doldrums (p. 232). Perhaps, however, the more obvious derivation ex nautical doldrums is correct.

dole, the. Food handed out at a station to a tramp: Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1942.

doley or dolee. A person on the dole: Australian coll.: since ca. 1930. Caddie, A Sydney Barmaid, 1953.—2. A soldier in an employment platoon: Australian: since ca. 1940. (B., 1943.)

doll, n. (p. 232). Augustus Mayhew, Paved with Gold, 1858, records that among London crossing-sweepers (of the 1850's–1860's) 'the insulting epithet of "doll" was applied to every aged female'—precisely as 'the rather degrading appellation of "toff" was given to all persons of the male gender'. n. But in Anon., The New Swell's Guide to Night Life, 1846, at p. 29, doll occurs, twice in sense 'a girl': 'soldiers and their Dolls' followed by 'another resort for soldiers and their girls'—a clear anticipation of U.S. 'guys and dolls'.—2. See dish, n., 3.—3. See napper, 7.—4. Any very attractive person of either sex: Canadian juveniles': adopted, ca. 1935, ex U.S. (Leechman.)—5. As in a doll of a . . ., an attractive (e.g. house, gown): since mid-1950's. Cf. sense 4.

dollar bosun. See ledger bosun.

dolled up like a barber's cat; usually all . . . Extravagantly fashionable in dress: Canadian: late C. 19–20; by 1950, slightly ob.

dollop, 2 (p. 232): but, after ca. 1935, coll. and widespread and respectable.

dolly, n.—11. A candle: tramps' c.: C. 20. Perhaps a corruption of tolly, n., 1 (see Dict.). Cf. sense 4 (p. 232).—12. A servant girl: chimney-sweepers': C. 19. (George Elson, 1900.) Cf. senses 1–3 on p. 232.—13. A girl, esp. an attractive girl: since ca. 1955. Cf. senses 1 and 3 on p. 232.—14. A small shunting engine: railwaymen's: since ca. 1920. (Railway).—15. 'Dwarf Ground Signal (LMR)': railwaymen's: since ca. 1930. (Railway, 3rd.)

dolly, adj. Excellent: very attractive; very pleasant, as in 'Isn't that dolly?'; 'darling': an article published in The Daily Telegraph, coloured supplement, March 10, 1967; note the title of Alan Diment's novel, The Dolly Dolly Spy, 1967. Cf. dolly, n., 13, above.

Dolly Cotton. See Johnny Cotton.

dolly up, v.i. To heat water or tea with a candle: tramps' c.: from ca. 1905. Ex preceding.

dolly up, dolly down, dolly sick,—to play. (Of the male) to masturbate: low: C. 20. Cf. dolly, n., 6, on p. 232.

Dolly (Varden). A garden: rhyming s.: late C. 19–20.

dollypot. A simpleton: Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1942. Cf. dillypot.

Domain cocktail (or special). Petrol and pepper; methylated spirits, boot-polish and Flytox: Sydney beggars' and dead-beats': ca. 1910–30. B., 1942.

Domain dossier. A beggar or a dead-beat frequenting the Sydney Domain: Australian: C. 20. Baker.

dome.—2; doom. The Sherborne shape of dorm (p. 235): since ca. 1880. Marples.

domino.—4. A false note played by the orchestra: theatrical: since ca. 1910. Ex dominoes, 2 (p. 233).

domino-walloper superseded domino-thumper (p. 233) ca. 1930.

Doms, the. Members of the Order of Preachers (Dominicans): Australian Catholics': C. 20. (B.P.)

Don, the. See Braddles.

don, n.—4. A master: Winchester coll.: C. 19–20. Ex sense 2.

Don Freddie (or Freddy). See Dutch fuck below.

Don R. A dispatch rider: Services: since the 1920's. H. & P. In signalese, don = d.

dona (p. 233). The c.p. comes from a London Cockney song (? Gus Elen's), 'Never introduce your donah to a pal, for the odds is ten to one he sneaks your gal'; and the Australian use of dona (h) dates from ca. 1880.

dona Highland-finger (p. 233): by 1940, †. (Franklyn.)

done thing, the. (See done, it isn't: p. 233.) Referring to July 1914, Wilfred Ewart wrote, in The Way of Revelation, 1921. 'Very young ladies were fond of calling young gentlemen by their christian names—it was rather "done" in their current idiotic phrase.'

done-up.—3. Beaten up; terribly manhandled: c.: from ca. 1920.

done-up, 1 (p. 233): to be back-dated to ca. 1820. See the quotation at tub, n., 3, below; it occurs also in Wm Maginn, Whitehall, 1827. (Moe.)

doner (p. 233): much earlier: as one fated to die shortly, it occurs in Sessions, Jan. 1838.

dong, n. A blow, a punch: Australian: C. 20. Ex the verb.—2. See hammer, 4.

donk.—2. Hence, a simpleton: mostly Australian: since ca. 1910. B., 1942.—3. See double-dink.

donkey.—5. A regular donkey, anything very long and big (as, e.g., a carrot).—6. And a donkey's = a large penis: low: late C. 19–20.—7. A transport mule: military: C. 20. Ex sense 4 (p. 233).—8. A '350 h.p. shunting locomotive' (Railway 2nd): railwaymen's: since ca. 1955. It does the 'donkey work'.

donkey?, who stole the. 'Current as late as 1885 and probably much later too': Prof. Arnold Wall, letter of Aug. 1939.

donkey-drops and custard. Prunes and custard. Marlborough College: since early 1920's.

donkey-lick. Treacle; golden syrup: Australian rural: C. 20. (B., Australia Speaks, 1953.)

donkey-lick, v. To defeat easily, esp. in a horse race: Australian sporting: since ca. 1920. (B., 1953.)

donkey-rigged. Endowed with a large penis: low: late C. 19–20. Cf. donkey, 6.

donkey's breakfast, 3. Also, since ca. 1925, R.A.F.—via the old R.N.A.S. men. Jackson.

donkey's ears, 1. Earlier in Sinks, 1848, as 'a false collar'.

donk's dingbat. 'A soldier detailed to look after the mules' (Baker): Australian: soldiers': 1939 +. Ex dingbat, 1 (Dict.).

donner. 'I'll donner you' = give you a hiding: South African schools' esp. Milton Junior School, Bulawayo: since ca. 1925. Worth recording for its derivation ex the Dutch word for 'thunder'—via Afrikaans.

donny is a variant of dona (Dict.).

Donny John. Don Juan: jocular: late C. 19–20.

donnybrook. A fracas: Australian (esp. among soldiers): since ca. 1920. Ex Donnybrook Fair, famous for its free-for-alls.

donovan (p. 234): app. current since ca. 1830, at latest. It occurs in, e.g., Alex Harris, The Emigrant Family, 1849, and in Sinks, 1848.

don't act so daft or I'll buy you a coalyard. A jocular c.p.: since ca. 1956.

don't be auntie! Don't be silly; don't be a spoilsport: Australian: since ca. 1935. (B., 1943.)

don't be funny! Don't be ridiculous; I'd never do such a thing: Canadian c.p.: since ca. 1930. (Leechman.)

don't be that way! Don't behave in that objectionable or unpleasant way: c.p.: adopted, ca. 1948, ex U.S.

don't do anything I wouldn't (do)! A c.p. of jocular advice: English and Australian since ca. 1910. Cf. be good! on p. 39.

don't do anything you couldn't eat! Don't take on anything you can't do: Australian c.p.: since ca. 1930. B., 1942. Via bite off more than one can chew.

don't excite. See excite!, don't: both in Dict. and in Addenda.

don't get your arse (or bowels or balls) in an uproar! don't get your shit hot! Simmer down! Keep cool! low c.pp.: C. 20; the former, general; the latter, Canadian.

don't give me that! Tell that to the Marines: c.p.: since ca. 1920.

don't go down the mine, daddy. A fragment from a famous old sentimental song—in World War I a soldiers' chant—since ca. 1920, a c.p.

don't just stand there—do something! This exhortation has been so frequently employed that, ca. 1940, it became a c.p., both British and American, with either an allusive or a humorous connotation, as in the title of Charles Williams's delightful and exciting novel, Don't Just Stand There, 1966. It has even been reversed, thus, don't do anything—just stand there!

don't know which side his (or my) arse hangs, he or I. A low c.p., implying that the speaker is either bewildered or in a state of hopeless indecision: C. 20.

don't let your braces dangle in the shit! A workmen's and Servicemen's c.p., sometimes chanted: late C. 19–20.

don't look now, but I think we're being followed or somebody's following us. Since ca. 1933, a c.p.

don't make a fuss. A bus: rhyming: C. 20.

don't make a production of it!, often preceded by all right! 'Said to one making a big show of a simple affair' (Leechman, 1967): since late 1930's; common among servicemen in W.W. II; still (1969) often used. Ex movie makers' 'productions'; cf. evolution below.

don't make me laugh, I've got a split lip. A c.p.: C. 20; ob. by 1940. Leonard Merrick, Peggy Harper, 1911. Since ca. 1920, usually shortened to don't make me laugh, hence, since ca. 1925, don't make me smile. A jocular variant—since ca. 1930—is don't make I laugh.

don't shit the troops! See you wouldn't shit . . .

don't shoot the pianist!, with he's doing his best understood: c.p.: adopted, ca. 1918, ex U.S., where current—originally as a Wild West saloon-notice—prob. from ca. 1860. Another form of the plea is don't shoot the piano-player; he's doing the best he can. The original, according to Burton Stevenson's Proverbs, Maxims and Familiar Phrases, was please do not shoot the pianist. He is doing his best: and the gloss runs, 'Oscar Wilde, telling of a notice seen by him in a Western bar-room during his American tour, in a lecture delivered in 1883.'

don't spend it all at one shop. See here's a ha'penny.

don't take any wooden nickels! Don't allow yourself to be cheated: Canadian: 'a c.p. of the last fifty years, and still heard occasionally' (Leechman: May 1959).

don't take it out, Chiefie: I'll walk off. A sailor's conciliatory jocularity to the Chief Petty Officer after a reprimand: Naval c.p.: since ca. 1930.

don't take me up till I fall! An Anglo-Irish, late C. 19-20, c.p., used 'when a person attempts to correct you when you are not in error' (P. W. Joyce, English in Ireland, 1910).

don't tell me. See no, don't tell me.

don't tell more than six! Don't tell anyone: Londonders' c.p.: June 1937-Aug. 1939.

don't wake it up! Don't talk about it!: Australian c.p.: since ca. 1920. Baker. 'Let sleeping dogs lie.'

(don't worry—) it may never happen. A c.p. addressed to the worried or the merely thoughtful: since ca. 1916.

don't worry your fat! Advice to someone who is worrying: c.p.: since ca. 1910.

doob. Penis: Australian schoolboys': since ca. 1950. Perhaps ex dood, 2, below, or ex doodle, n., 2 (p. 234).

dooby. Dowdy; old-fashioned: Aus., mostly feminine: since ca. 1950. (Ross Campbell, Mummy, Who Is Your Husband?, 1964.) Either a distortion of dowdy or an imperfect blend of dowdy + booby.

dood.—2. A pipe: Australian: since ca. 1910. B., 1942. Ex Aborigine?

doodad. A thingummy: Canadian: adopted, ca. 1930, ex U.S.—A word of fanciful formation.

doodah. A thingummy: since ca. 1910. 'Pass me the doodah.' Ex ooja-ka-piv (Dict.).—2. An air-raid siren: 1939-45.—3. A duodenal ulcer: since ca. 1945. Partly ex sense 1 and partly ex duodenal.—4. 'This has some use as a euphemism, in such ways as "Where's the doodah?" when somebody wants to know where the w.c. is' (A. B. Petch, March 1966): since late 1940's.

doodle, n.—3. Short for doodlebug, 3: since Aug. or Sept. 1944.—4. Corresponding to, and deriving from, sense 2 of the v.

doodle, v.—2. To write or draw aimlessly while one is listening to others at, e.g., a conference: since ca. 1930: coll. >, by 1950, S.E. Perhaps an arbitrary formation, but prob. ex dial. doodle, to waste time, to trifle. (E.D.D.) doodle, adj. See 'Epithets'.

doodle-ally. Mentally deficient: since ca. 1940. Apparently a blend of doodle + doolally-tap.

doodlebug.—2. Hence, 'utility truck, or light motor-van, as used by the Army. [Cf. jeep]': H. & P., 1943. The semantic ref. is to the 'squiggly bits' one doodles or absent-mindedly draws on a pad, etc.—3. A German flying-bomb (V.1): since mid-June 1944. Ex 1 or 2—or both.—4. A gremlin: Fleet Air Arm: ca. 1940-5.—5. A new-style locomotive: railwaymen's: ca. 1945-60 (Railway). Ex sense 2 rather than sense 3.

doofah. Variant of doofer, 3, below. (John Winton, We Joined the Navy, 1959.)

doofer. A humorist, a wag: since ca. 1944. James Dunn in World's Press News, Nov. 21, 1946. Ex 'You'll do for me!'—i.e. I'll die laughing at you.—3. (Cf. sense 1, p. 234.) A gadget; anything not specifically named, any 'box of tricks': Forces', esp. R.A.F.: since ca. 1936.

Something that will 'do for the time being'. Cf. gubbins, 4.—4. A partly smoked cigarette, extinguished so as to do for another smoke. Services': since ca. 1939.

'In the sense "humorist", might it derive from German s. doof, meaning "daft" or "crazy"?': H. R. Spencer. Yes, perhaps.

dooghene (p. 234). Earlier in Mayhew, I, 1851.

dookey. Any mechanical device you can't find a name for: Services, esp. Navy: adopted, ca. 1940, ex Canada, which adopted it, ca. 1930, ex U.S.

dook, v. To give: Australian: since ca. 1910. D'Arcy Niland, The Shiralee, 1955.

dook on it, have one's. To seal a bargain with a hand-shake: Australian: C. 20. Baker.

dookering. See dookin (Dict.).

doolally. See doolally tap in Dict.—2. Hence, exceedingly drunk: Army: since ca. 1930. H. & P.

Doolally tap. The Dict. entry is rendered more correct, precise, and significant by the following passage from Richards: 'The trooping season began in October and finished in March, so that time-expired men sent to Deolalie from their different units might have to wait for months before a troop-ship fetched them home. . . . The time-expired men at Deolalie had no arms or equipment; they showed kit now and again and occasionally went on a route-march, but time hung heavily on their hands and in some cases men who had been exemplary soldiers got into serious trouble and were awarded terms of imprisonment before they were sent home. Others contracted venereal and had to go to hospital. The well-known saying among soldiers when speaking of a man who does queer things, "Oh, he's got the Doo-lally tap," originated, I think, in the peculiar way men behaved owing to the boredom of that camp. Before I was time-expired myself [in 1909] the custom of sending time-expired men to Deolalie was abolished: they were sent direct to the ports of embarkation, which in some cases meant weeks of travelling, but they got on the troop-ship the day they arrived at the port.' (This author's knowledge of s. in the Army ranks of the early C. 20 is prob. unrivalled.) doolally-tapped. Knocked silly: low: from 1918.

doolan. A policeman: Australian: C. 20. (D'Arcy Niland, The Big Smoke, 1959.) Probably ex the Irish surname Doolan, there being so many Irishmen in the police force.

doom. See dome, 2.

Doomie. The R.A.F.'s nickname for the character adorning the 'Wot No——?' drawings: 1944 +.

doomie. 'Bodgie or widgie with criminal tendencies' (The Sunday Chronicle, Feb. 6, 1952): Australian: ca. 1950-60. All three terms are urban, raffish and confined mostly to Sydney.

door; usually in pl. 'Doors. The lock gates on a canal,' Wilfred Granville, Sea Slang of the 20th Century, 1949. By humorous meiosis.

door, work a. To ply prostitution by sitting or standing at the door of one's premises: Australian c.: since ca. 1920. (B., 1953.) Hence, loosely, door, a brothel.

door-knob (p. 235). By 1940, †. (Franklyn 2nd.)

door-knock. A door-to-door appeal for funds. Australian: since late 1950's. (B.P.) door-knocker.—3. A feminine hair-style, two long thick plaits bunched at the top: domestic: late C. 19—early C. 20.

door to door. Four; occasionally, where the context is clear, 24 or 34 or 44 or . . . : rhyming s.: C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

dooser (or D.), the. The Second Steward: ships' stewards': C. 20. Dave Marlowe, 1937. I.e. deucer!

doover. Anything—any object whatsoever: Australian soldiers': 1939+. Baker. Ex doodah above.—2. See 'Prisoner-of-War-Slang', 10.

dooverlackey; occ. dooverwock(e)y. An elaboration—since ca. 1945—of preceding. (B.P.)

dop down. See 'Verbs'.

dope, n.—9. In the South African underworld, it = dagga (Cannabis Indica): C. 20. (J. B. Fisher, letter of May 22, 1946.) A specialisation of sense 1 (p. 235).—10. Petrol (esp., if specially treated): since ca. 1930.

dope, n.—11. One's work: copywriters': since ca. 1930.

dope, v.—3. To smear: garage hands': since ca. 1905. Herbert Hodge, It's Draughty in Front, 1928, 'I soon acquired the knack, learning to "dope" the cylinders with petrol.'

dope up. To check (an aircraft's engines): R.A.F.: since ca. 1938. (P-G-R.)

dopey, n. A very dull or slow fellow; a fool: Army (1914–18), then general. Ex the adj.

doption. An adopted child: low, verging on c.: from ca. 1870. B. & L. I.e. adoption.

Dora (Gray). A threepenny piece: Australian rhyming s.: C. 20. On tray, 2 (Dict.).

Dorchester. See gin palace.

dork. A 'doorstep' (p. 235): lower classes': since ca. 1895. By 'telescoping' or conflation.

dorkum. A dumper (food): Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)

dose, v.—2. To shell: Army: 1939–45. Hence, dosing, a shelling. (P-G-R.)

dose of salts, like a. Canada affords us, since ca. 1930, the very picturesque elaboration . . . through a serpent girl.

doser. A severe blow or punch: pugilistic: ca. 1840–90. Augustus Mayhew, Paved with Gold, 1857.

dosh. Money, esp. cash: Australian juvenile: since ca. 1944. (B., 1953.) Perhaps a blend of dollars + cash.—2. 'I dig dosh. Can you lend me a fiver?' is the Andersons' very free paraphrase: beatniks': since ca. 1950. I suspect that dosh, as in Eng. dialect, is a variant of doss and that the speaker is hinting that he needs money for bed and lodging.

doshed!, I'm. A variant, ca. 1870–1910, of I'm dashed. B. & L.

doss, running. See running doss.

doss(-)bag. A hammock: Australian Naval: 1939–45. (B., 1943.)

doss in the pure. To sleep in the open air: (mostly London) vagrants' c.: from ca. 1890; ob. Pugh.

dosser. A C. 20 tramps' nuance of sense 2 is: a regular old tramp.—4. The 50 ring, which counts as a double, there being no 25-ring double: darts players': since ca. 1930.

dossy.—2. Soft; daft: low: C. 20. "Don't know what she ever saw in that dossy bastard": Brendan Behan, Borstal Boy, 1958. Perhaps cf. North Country dial. dossy, soft, dull.

dot, n.—2. Anus: low Australian: C. 20. (D'Arcy Niland, The Big Smoke, 1959, 'Shove it up your black dot'—said to a Negro.) dot, off one's. Recorded earlier by B. & L.

dot, on the.—2. At exactly the right time: coll. (English and Canadian): since ca. 1920. 'On the dot of nine.'

dot and carried. Married: rhyming s.: since ca. 1880. Cf. cut and carried. By 1925, †. (Franklyn 2nd.)

dot(-)and(-)dash. Cash: rhyming s.: C. 20. (Robin Cook, 1962.)

dot-drag. See dot, n., in Dict.

dottima; dottissima. Both are n. and adj. (An) eccentric (person), (a person) only slightly mad; dottissima, (one who is) completely mad: jocular medical: from ca. 1910. Ex dotty (Dict.) by mock Latin.

doub, occ. written dubb. A double, e.g. two crows with one shot: Australian: since ca. 1920. (Jean Devanney, 1951.)

doubite (p. 236) is, I suspect, a misprint in 'Matsell' and therefore a ghost-word: ? for double.

double, n.—6. A pimp's second woman: white-slavers' c.: from ca. 1902. Cf.—7. A pornographic picture of a man's and a woman's genitals: raffish coll.: since ca. 1920.

double, v.—4. (Of a pimp) to take a second woman: white-slavers' c.: C. 20. Albert Londres, 1928. (Gen., v.t.)

double, come the. To exercise trickery: Australian: since ca. 1880. (Sidney J. Baker, letter.)

double, make a. To repeat a line or a sentence: composers' coll.: C. 19–20. B. & L.

double-bank, n. and v. See double-banking.—2. See double-dink.

double-banking, n. (The fact of) two lines of vehicles going in the same direction: Army coll. (1940) >, by 1945, j. double carpet. Odds of 33 to 1: racing, esp. bookmakers': C. 20. (The Sunday Telegraph, May 7, 1967.) Ex carpet, n., 5, above.

double changer. The double chainwheel on a (racing) bicycle: cyclists: since ca. 1920. Ex 'the noise made by the chain shifting from one wheel to the other'. (W. Woodman.)

double-choked. Extremely disappointed or disgruntled; utterly disgusted: since ca. 1950. L. J. Cunliffe, Having It Away, 1965, 'The bogies knew he had had it away but just couldn't pin the job on him. Which meant he was laughing and they were double-choked.' Cf. choked above.

double-dink, v. and derivative n. 'To carry a second person on the top bar of a bicycle. It is also a noun. Exchangeable terms are "dink", "donk", and "double-bank", both as verbs and nouns,' B., 1942: Australian: since ca. 1925. Prob. the originating term is double-bank, and dink and donk are echoic variations.

double-distilled (p. 237). In Australia, 1840. (Sidney J. Baker, letter.)

double Dutch coiled against the sun (p. 237) occurs in Alfred Burton, Johnny Newcome, 1818. (Moe.)

double event.—3. Simultaneous defloration and impregnation: low: since ca. 1875. Cf. sense 1 (p. 237).

double fair! Goes one better than fair enough!: since ca. 1950. (Laurie Atkinson.)

double home turn. 'Train crew lodging overnight at terminus and returning next day' (Railway, 3rd): railwaymen's coll.: since ca. 1945 (?).

Double Hunts, the. 'New type of Hunt-Class Destroyers, twice the size of the old type,' Granville: Naval: since ca. 1940.

double-take; esp. do a . . . A second look, taken because one doesn't credit the first: since ca. 1948. Originally, film-producers' j.

double talk. Such speech, hence such writing, as deliberately misleads, orig. with the interpolation of meaningless syllables; hence, deliberately ambiguous and tendentious political matter: adopted, ca. 1959, ex U.S.: coll. >, by 1966, S.E.

double u. Variant of w (p. 934).

doubled over like a dog fucking a football. Doubled right over: Canadian soldiers': 1939-45.

doubt, toss it out,—when, occ. if, in. A pharmaceutical, esp. Australian, c.p.: C. 20. (B.P.)

Douche Can Alley. Palmer Street, Sydney, Australia, formerly a brothel district: Sydneyites': ca. 1910-60. A douche can is, in Australia, popularly supposed to be used only—or, at the least, mainly—by prostitutes.

dough, 2 (p. 237): also Canadian: since ca. 1870. (Niven.)

Dough or Die Boys, the. The American 'dough-boys' (see Doughboy on p. 237): late 1917-19, then merely historical. The dough (money) reflects the 'Tommies' very natural reaction to comparative wealth. A pun on do or die.

Doughboy, 1 (p. 237). The 'large globular button' theory is perhaps correct, but, after exhaustive research, Colonel Moe has found no supporting evidence. The theory was originated by Mrs George A. Custer. The term is recorded as early as 1846.

doughy, adj.—2. Dull, stupid: Australian: C. 20. Kylie Tennant, Lost Haven, 1947.

Douglas. An axe: Australian: since ca. 1930 (?). (B., 1943.) Ex a famous axeman?

doul. A fag (boy): Shrewsbury: C. 19-20. Marples. Ex Gr. doulos, a slave.

dove is a common Canadian and U.S. sol. for 'dived': late C. 19-20.

dover. A re-heated dish: hotels': from ca. 1870. B. & L. I.e. 'do over again'.—2. A clasp knife: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. Ex doover? In 1959, B. declares it rare.

dovey, n. See lovey-dovey.

dovey or dovy, adj. Pretty; attractive; 'sweet': domestic, esp. feminine, coll.: from ca. 1890. Barry Pain, Stories in Grey, 1912, 'The very doviest white silk nightgown you ever saw.' Ex lov(e)y-dov(e)y.

Dowb, take care of. See take care of dowb in Dict. and take care . . . in Addenda.

down, n.—6. A move to open the game: Australian dominoes-players': C. 20. (B., 1953.) down as a nail. A synonym of down as a hammer (p. 238): 1817, J. J. Stockdale, The Greeks.

down-haul. See downhaul below.

down in. Lacking in; short of: proletarian coll.: mid-C. 19-20. B. & L. E.g. 'down in cash'.

down in the forest something stirred. A c.p., referring to a consummated coition: domestic: since 1915, when Sir Landon Ronald's very famous song was published.

down in the forest something's turd. A Cockney c.p., dating from ca. 1920: evoked when a bird's dropping lands on someone; uttered by either the victim or an onlooker. A pun on the preceding.

down on, get. To remove; appropriate; steal: Australian low s.: C. 20. B., 1942. Cf. down on, be, 2 (p. 238).

down the chute. In prison: Australian: since ca. 1920. Baker.

down the drain. See drain, down the.

down the drains. Brains: rhyming: late C. 19-20.

down the hatch! 'Bung ho! (Pause.) Down the hatch!': a drinking, esp. a toasting, c.p.: mid-C. 19-20; orig., nautical.

down the nick. See nick, down the below.

down the pan. See pan, down the.

down the plug. See plug, down the below.

down the slot. See slot, down the below.

downer.—5. A small unofficial strike: workmen's: since the early 1960's. Sunday Citizen, July 4, 1965: a news feature, 'He defends "downers"', Ex 'to down tools'.

downhaul. A greatcoat; a surtout: Naval ratings': C. 19; † by 1890. Wm Nugent Glascock, The Naval Sketch-Book, 2nd Series, 1834, at I, 51 (greatcoat) and 278 (surtout). Moe.

Downing Street. 10 in the game of House: C. 20. Michael Harrison, 1943. Ex No. 10, Downing Street—the Prime Minister's metropolitan residence.

downstairs, adv. See upstairs.

downy as a hammer. A variant of down as a hammer (p. 238); Boxiana, III, 1821.

downy (or D.) Bible. Douay Bible: tailors': from ca. 1860. Used as reference, like according to Cocker. B. & L.

dowsing. See douser (Dict.).

Dox, the. The Headmaster: Tonbridge: since ca. 1860. Marples. Ex doctor on L. dux.

doxy, 3 (p. 239). Augustus Mayhew, Paved with Gold, 1857, notes that among London crossing-sweepers—prob. it holds good for ca. 1840-80—doxy is a girl, a young woman, however respectable.

'dozer or dozer. A bulldozer: Australian: since late 1950's; orig., construction workers', but soon in gen. use. (B.P.)

dozy. Lazy; inefficient: Guards' Regiments' coll.: Lit., 'sleepy'. Cf. idle.—2. As a general coll., it means '(mentally) somnolent': C. 20.

drabs. 'A summer outfit of clothes' (B., 1943): Australian airmen's: 1939-45.

drack, n. A very plain female, esp. if lacking in personality: Australian: since ca. 1950. Perhaps ex the adj. and certainly at least influenced by it, but prob. = Drac(ula): cf. Dracula, 3, below.

drack, adj. Inferior; (of person) uninteresting, plain-looking: low Australian: since ca. 1930. (Ruth Park, 1950.) Yiddish? Cf. the Ger. Dreck, dung, muck (lit. and fig.). A drack sort is an unattractive person, opposite to good (superlative extra sort).

Dracula.—2. A pathologist: hospitals': since ca. 1920. Ex the blood samples he takes. (Peter Sanders.)—3. A plain, esp. if uninteresting, girl: Australian: since ca. 1950. Ex the legend of Dracula. (B.P.) draft-dodger is he who 'dodges the draft'—avoids being sent overseas: Services: 1939-45. (P-G-R.) Contrast the U.S. sense 'one who avoids conscription'.

drag, n.—13. A motor-car: c.: from ca. 1920.

An extension of sense 2.—14. A quick draw at a cigarette: Cockneys' and Services since ca. 1920. H. & P.—15. A long up-grade: Canadian lorry-drivers': since ca. 1915. Cf. sense 9.—16. A train; esp. a heavy freight train: Canadian railroadmen's (—1931). With senses 1, 2, 13, 16, cf. 'The East Ender calls . . . all vehicles drags' (Richard Herd, Nov. 12, 1957): London: since ca. 1945.—17. 'Pull'—influence with the right people: Canadian: since ca. 1910.—18. (Ex sense 14.) A cigarette: mostly Services: since ca. 1925.—19. Anything boring or tedious: Canadian dance-lovers' (jazzmen's): since ca. 1950. (The Victoria Daily Colonist, April 16, 1959, 'Basic Beatnik'.) Also any person who is a bore: since ca. 1950, and English.—20. A marijuana cigarette: Australian: since ca. 1955. Ex sense 18. (B.P.)—21. Any act that requires a special effort: coll.: C. 20.—22. A dance or ball: Canadian: ca. 1925–30. Also Australian teenagers': since ca. 1950. (B.P.)—23. A particular kind of dance, as in the number entitled 'Doin' the Varsity Drag': Canadian: since ca. 1930. (Priestley.)—24. A casual female companion, as opposed to one's girl friend: Australian teenagers': since late 1950's.—25. That portion of winnings which one reserves for further play: Australian, esp. two-up, gamblers': C. 20. Ex drag, v., 3, on p. 240. (Tom Ronan, Vision Splendid, 1954, 'By the time I gave you the kip I had a few quid out of drags and showers'.)

Sense 10 has, since ca. 1910, predominantly signified 'female clothing as worn by men', esp. among homosexuals.

drag, v.—4. To challenge to, or to oppose in, a speed duel with cars: Australian teenagers' (esp. surfers'): since late 1950's. Cf. drag strip below.

drag, be in the. See 'dragged or dragged out' (Dict.).

drag, flash the; go on the drag. See drag, n., 5, in the Dict.

drag on. (Of a man) drag on a woman, to marry her: Australian: since ca. 1910. B., 1942.—2. To undertake (a task): Australian coll.: since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.)

drag queen. A male homosexual addicted to transvestitism: since ca. 1930.

drag slicks. Racing-car wheels: Australian, esp. Sydney, motor mechanics': since ca. 1950. (B.P.)

drag strip. A short stretch (say a mile) of road on which teenagers try out or, esp., race their motorcycles or cars: Australian teenagers': since late 1950's. J. R. Westerway, 'The Rockers' in The (Sydney) Bulletin, April 6, 1963. Cf. drag, n., 13.

drag the chain. To be at the rear in a race or in a game (of, e.g., cribbage): New Zealand: C. 20. Niall Alexander, letter of Oct. 22, 1939, 'The ploughman's term to designate his slow horse that does not keep its chains tight'. Also Australian: B., 1943. Often of a slow drinker. (Slatter.)

dragging one's arse along the ground (so's you could cut washers off it). Utterly exhausted: Canadian soldiers': 1914 +.

dragon.—3. An old prostitute: since ca. 1959. Cf. sense 2 on p. 240.

Dragon, the. Robert Harley (1661–1724), 1st Earl of Oxford. Ca. 1700–40. See, e.g., Swift's Letters, ed. by F. E. Ball. Cf. the Squire.

Dragon-Slayers, hence Dragons, the. St George footballers: Sydneyites': since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.)

dragon's teeth. A form of anti-tank obstacle: 1939–45, then merely reminiscent. H. & P.

drags on (someone), put the. To ask for a loan: Australian: since ca. 1910. Baker.

drain.—4. A melancholy, affectionate cadger of bed and board: beatniks': since ca. 1958. (Anderson.) A drain on one's provender and patience.

drain, down the. Lost; wasted: coll.: from ca. 1870.

Drain, the. The 'Waterloo & City Underground Railway under the Thames (SR)': railwaymen's: since ca. 1920. (Railway, 3rd.) drain one's radiator. See bleed one's turkey.

drain one's snake. (Of men) to urinate: since ca. 1920. Not very common.

Drain Pipe or Snakey. Naval nickname for an excessively thin man: C. 20. Granville.

drain the bilge. To be extremely seasick: Australian Naval: since ca. 1915. (B., 1943.)

drammer. A partly sol., partly jocular, form of drama: late C. 19–20.

draped. Somewhat tipsy: Services officers': since 1939. H. & P. Draped about a friend or a lamp-post.

drapes; set of drapes. A man's suit of clothes: beatniks': since ca. 1958. (Anderson.) Adopted—and adapted—ex synonymous American drape.

draughts. Close-fitting, undivided knickers, the female counterpart of the male cheaters: since ca. 1920? They keep out the draught.

draw?, do you. Do you take your daily tot of rum?: Naval coll.: C. 20. Granville.

draw off. (Mostly of males) to make water: euphemistic coll.: C. 20.

draw pig on pork. See pig on pork.

draw the crow. See crow, draw the.

draw water. To weep: coll.: ca. 1820–90. Emily Brontë, Wuthering Heights, 1847.—2. In the late C. 19–20 Navy, it is used, as a coll., thus: 'He draws too much water for me'—outranks me.

drawback, the. Deliberate inhalation of cigarette smoke: smokers' coll.: since ca. 1930. In part, a pun.

drawing. A picture in water-colour: artists': from ca. 1870. B. & L.

drawing a pint. Using the controls of an aircraft: R.A.F.: since ca. 1939. H. & P., 'An action similar to that employed behind the public bars.' Cf. beer-lever.

drawing up the verbals. 'Det. Williams said it meant completely misinterpreting what a person said' (Evening Standard, Jan. 30, 1962): police: since ca. 1930. Ex the preparation of 'verbal reports'?

dreadnoughts (p. 241): but also, 1940 +, an A.T.S. and Q.A.I.M.N.S. synonym of the Wrens' E.T.B.s. below.

Dreado. Earlier in 'Taffrail'. Because nought = 0.

dream.—3. Six months in prison: Australian c.: since ca. 1920. B., 1942.

dreg. One of the lowest of the low: Cranbrook School: C. 20. By back-formation ex S.E. dregs.

dress in, v.i. To dress ready to play in a game: Winchester: from ca. 1850. See dress, n., in Dict.

dress lodger (p. 241). 'The West End name for prostitutes,' T. Archer, The Pauper, the Thief, and the Convict, 1865.

dress the nuts off. To reprimand (someone) severely: ? orig. Army: since ca. 1910. Cf. chew the balls off (p. 146).

dressed up like a dog's dinner. Wearing one's best uniform: Services, esp. Army: since ca. 1925. (P-G-R.)

dresser. Dress-circle: Oxford undergraduates' (— 1940). Marples, 2.

drift, on the. On tramp. Australian coll.: C. 20. B., 1942.

drill, v.—2. (Perhaps ex sense 1: p. 242.) Subagitare feminam: C. 18–20.

drill, the; occ., the right drill. The correct way to do anything: Army—by 1942, also R.A.F.—coll. (mostly officers): since ca. 1910. H. & P.; Jackson. A man that knows his drill must be good.

drill pig. A drill sergeant. Guards' Regiments': since ca. 1910. Gerald Kersh, Boots Clean, 1941.

drink, v.—2. To take water for the locomotive: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931). Humorous.

Drink, the. The English Channel: R.A.F.: since ca. 1925. H. & P.

drink, the. Water: London Fire Brigade: C. 20. Cf. prec. entry.—2. The sea: mostly Air Force: 1939 +. (P-G-R.) Cf. (the) Ditch.

drink out of a nigger's clog. To be intemperate: Liverpool: since ca. 1945.

drinkite. Thirst: 1864, Surtees, Mr Romford's Hounds; † by 1900. Cf. drinkite in Dict.

drip (p. 242). Senses 1 and 2 have, throughout C. 20 and perhaps from as early as 1890, been current at the Public Schools; sense 2 (see wet dream, 2) esp. in the nuances 'to be stupid; to be a terrible bore'.—3. Hence, a simpleton, a 'stupid', a bore: since ca. 1920.—4. To complain, to 'grouse': Naval: since ca. 1910. Granville.—5. 'Sloppy' sentiment; a person 'sloppily' sentimental: since ca. 1930. Berkeley Gray, Mr. Ball of Fire, 1946. Ex sense 1.

Answering to the v. of sense 4 is the n. drip, a complaint: since ca. 1910. (John Winton, H.M.S. Leviathan, 1967.)

drip-pan is a Naval variant (Granville) of dripper, 2. Ex prec.

dripper, a.—2. A bore or an inveterate 'grouser': Naval: since ca. 1930. H. & P.

dripping for it. (Of a woman) inflamed with lust: low: since ca. 1910.

drive, 1 (a blow or punch). Earlier in Sessions, May 1839.—3. See:—

drive, v. To irritate (someone) intensely: Australian teenagers': since ca. 1950. (Dick.) Perhaps elliptical for 'drive mad' or 'drive crazy' or 'drive up the wall'.

drive, do a. To be (nearly) late for roll-call: Felsted School: since ca. 1880. Also simply drive. Marples.

drive blue. See blue, drive.

drive into. (Of the male) to coït with: low coll.: C. 19–20.

drive the train. 'To lead a number of squadrons,' Jackson: R.A.F.: since ca. 1938. Cf. train driver.

drive them home is the predominant C. 20 variation of drive pigs to market, to snore.

drive turkeys to market. See turkeys to market (Dict.).

drive (someone) up the wall. To send him mad (well, almost): since the mid-1940's.

driver.—3. A pilot: R.A.F.: since ca. 1929. Sgt-Pilot Rhodes, letter of Sept. 20, 1942; Partridge, 1945, 'Taken over from the R.N.A.S.': Jackson points out that it is an old Navy custom to refer to the captain of a ship as the Driver, and as W/Cdr R. P. McDouall tells me (March 17, 1945), "'Drivers, airframe" is what pilots are called by navigators.'

driver op. A wireless operator, capable also of driving: Royal Artillery: 1939–45. (P-G-R.)

droddum. Buttocks; breech: low: from ca. 1860. B. & L.

droggy, a hydrographic officer; Droggy, the Hydrographer of the Royal Navy; also as a nickname: Naval: since ca. 1910. The 2nd occurs in John Winton, We Saw the Sea, 1960. A conflation of 'hydrographer'.

dromestoners. 'The men who clear the aerodromes before runways are laid down,' H. & P. R.A.F.: since ca. 1930.

drone. A rear-gunner: R.A.F.: 1939 +. Jackson. Except (what an except) during an attack he sits and sits.

drong. A shortening of drongo, 2.: Australian: since the late 1930's. (B.P.)

drongo. A new recruit: Australian airmen's (— 1943). Aboriginal? Immediately ex:—2. An ugly fellow; a 'bastard': low Australian, esp. Sydneyites': since ca. 1925. (Ruth Park, Poor Man's Orange, 1950.) Sydney's Sunday Herald, June 28, 1953, defined him as 'a lazy and usually undesirable human being'. 'Perhaps from a racehorse called Drongo, whose performances on the track were disappointing' (Sidney J. Baker); the horse got its name from the Australian bird called the drongo. Since ca. 1950, a widely used term of dislike. 'In Australian slang a drongo is a bit of a galah, a goat or a no-hoper . . . Drongo . . . raced on Melbourne tracks from 1924 to 1926. Drongo was a good galloper, but . . . second-rate. . . . Any who arouses the contemptuous disapproval of an Australian is apt to be described as a bloody drongo': Jock Marshall & Russell Drysdale, Journey among Men, 1962, at p. 91.

droob. A dull person: low Australian: since ca. 1944. (Ruth Park, 1950.) A blend of drip + boob.

drool, v. Often as vbl n., drooling. To loiter; to waste time: Australian: since ca. 1930. B., 1942. Ex S.E. drool, 'to dribble at the mouth'.

droolin' with schoolin'. See 'Canadian'.

droop-snoot, the. In March 1967 Mr Ramsey Spencer sent me the following note: 'There was in the late 1950's an experimental delta-wing supersonic aircraft flying at R.A.F. Farnborough, which, because its nose could be lowered at an angle to improve the pilot's field of view when landing, was known as "the droop-snoot"—and very odd it looked.'

drooper. A drooping moustache: Cockney coll.: from ca. 1880. (Pugh.)

droopers. Sagging breasts: Australian: since ca. 1930. Cf. the preceding.

drop, v., 4. Also Australian. By 1940, s. in both countries.—5. To get into trouble: Army: 1939–45. Short for Drop in(to) the shit.—6. To leave (a competitor) far behind: racing cyclists': since ca. 1945.—7. To knock (someone) down: coll., esp. in Australia: since ca. 1945. (Culotta.)—8. To give illicitly, to get rid of surreptitiously, e.g. a stolen cheque: since late 1940's. Cf. senses 1 and 4 on p. 242.

drop, a fabulous. A very attractive girl: Australian: since the late 1940's. (Culotta.) Cf. lay, n., 10, below.

drop, cop the. See cop the drop.

drop, not a bad. A good alcoholic drink: Australian: since ca. 1940. (B.P.)

drop, take the. To accept a bribe: C. 20: c. >, by 1930, taxi-drivers' s., as in Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939.

drop a ballock—banger—clanger—gooley. To blunder badly: Services: since ca. 1930. G. Kersh, Bill Nelson, 1942; H. & P. (goolie only). See goolies (Dict.).

drop a ballock for (someone). To let someone down; to fail him: Army: since ca. 1935. Gerald Kersh, 1942.

drop (one's) anchor in the Levant. To abscond: ca. 1815–60. David Carey, Life in Paris, 1822. A pun on synonymous S.E. Levant.

drop dead! Go away: adopted, esp. by English teenagers, ca. 1949, ex U.S. films. (Gilderdale.) General in Canada by ca. 1946.

drop heavy. 'To tip well is to "drop heavy",' Herbert Hodge, 1939: taxi-drivers': since ca. 1915.

drop it! Earlier in Sessions: May 1847, 'I told them several times to drop it.'

drop lullaby. A hanging: Australian low: C. 20. B., 1942.

drop of good. A glass—or even a bottle—of liquor: mostly workmen's: late C. 19–20.

drop of wet and warm, a. (a cup of) weak tea: lower-middle class domestic coll.: ? since ca. 1880.

drop off is coll. for drop off to sleep: late C. 19–20.

drop on, 2 (p. 243). In nuance 'to reprimand, to reprove': Sessions, April 1857.

drop on, have the. To have an advantage over (someone): Australian: adopted, ca. 1944, ex U.S. (B.P.) Semantically cf. be quicker on the draw.

drop on (also shit on) from a great height. To reprimand very severely: Army: 1939–45. Cf. shit upon . . .

drop one's, or the bundle. See bundle, drop one's on p. 108 and above.

drop one's flag (p. 243): W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (I, 24), 1829, has drop one's peak. Moe.

drop one's guts. To break wind: low: C. 20. Cf. shit bricks (s.v. bricks . . .).

drop one's wax. To defecate: low: mid-C. 19–20.

drop-out. 'One who opts out of society' (Peter Fryer in The Observer colour supplement, Dec. 3, 1967): drug addicts', hippies', Flower People's: since ca. 1960.

drop the anchor. See anchor, drop the.

drop the bucket (on). 'To throw responsibility for an offence on to someone else' (B., 1959): Aus. c.: C. 20.

drop your tailboard. A 'camp' c.p. of late C. 19–20.

dropped. Born: Australian rural coll.: mid-C. 19–20. Brian Penton 1934, "'We weren't dropped yesterday, eh?'" Ex calving and lambing.

dropped magnets. Flat feet (? rather fallen arches): London busmen's: since ca. 1940.

dropper.—3. A passer of counterfeit, esp. paper money: c.: C. 20. H. T. F. Rhodes.

dropperman. A police informer: Australian c.: since ca. 1940. (B., 1945.)

dropping the anchor. Holding back a horse or merely not flogging it: turf: mid-C. 19–20. B. & L.

droppings. Porter; beer: low: ca. 1820–70. Sinks, 1848. Ex colour.

drops. Dropped handlebars, the two parts being below the rest: cyclists': since ca. 1930 Hence, to ride on the Drops.

dropsy, 3, is also c.: esp. as = hush-money. —4. (Prob. ex 2.) 'Tips are dropsy,' Herbert Hodge, 1939: taxi-drivers': since ca. 1910. A pun.—5. The habit of dropping things, of being butter-fingered: Australian: since ca. 1950. (B.P.)

Drover's Guide, The. See Bagman's Gazette above.

drown. To put too much water into whisky or brandy: jocular coll.: C. 20. 'Don't drown it!' drozel. See 'Women'.

drube. A variant spelling of droob: B., 1953.

drug-store cowboy. Any lout that hangs about a corner drug-store, talks tough, gives the girls 'the glad eye': Canadian coll.: adopted, ca. 1935, ex U.S. (Leechman.) Cf. Naffy Romeo.

druid. A priest: Anglo-Irish: late C. 19–20. (Brendan Behan, Borstal Boy, 1958.)

drum, n., 6, is not † in hump one's drum: 1946. Sidney J. Baker, letter.—8. A tin for making tea, etc.: tramps' c.: from ca. 1890.—9. A racecourse tip: Australian sporting: C. 20. B., 1942. Also: any tip or warning.—10. Hence, information; 'the score' or true state of things: Australian: since ca. 1912. D'Arcy Niland, The Shiralee, 1955, 'If it's a fair question, what's the drum?' See esp. Sidney J. Baker's provocative, immensely readable The Drum, 1959.

drum, v.—3. To inform, tell: to 'put wise', to warn, tip off: low Australian: since ca. 1910. Lawson Glassop, We Were the Rats, 1944. Ex the n., 9. Note esp. Sidney G. Baker, The Drum, 1960.

drum, run a. In a race, esp of horses or dogs: to win a place: Australian sporting: since ca. 1945. (Culotta.)

drum, stamp one's. See stamp one's drum.

drum and fife. A wife: rhyming s., esp. in the Army: late C. 19–20.—2. A knife: Army rhyming s.: C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

drum around. To prowl, as a thief does: police: since ca. 1910. Cf. drum, v., 2 (p. 243).

drum major. See 'Tavern terms', § 6.

drum up, n. (p. 243). Earlier in the Army (1914–18).

drum up, v., 2 (p. 243). Also, by 1920, gen. for 'to collect (a crowd, a quorum, etc.)'. B.P.

drummer.—6. A tramp: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Ex drum, n., 6.—7. A commercial traveller: adopted in Australia, ca. 1920, from U.S. Baker.—8. Slowest shearer in a shed: New Zealand shearers': since ca. 1890. Niall Alexander, letter of Oct. 22, 1939. Perhaps ex sense 1.—9. A yard conductor: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931).—10. Anyone notorious for borrowing from his companions: Army: since ca. 1946.—11. (Ex sense 5, q.v. at drum, v., 2, on p. 243.) 'He chose the screwsman'—burglar—

'best fitted for the particular job. He sent with him a "drummer"—a man who had to make sure the coast was clear and help the screwsman with unskilled jobs, such as carrying the ladder' (John Gosling, The Ghost Squad, 1959): c.: since ca. 1910.

Drummond and Roce. (M. Harrison, Reported Safe Arrival, 1943.) Drummond = drum and = drum and fife, as above, sense 2; Roce = roce = roast = roast pork, a fork. (With thanks, for elucidation, to Michael Harrison.)

drunk and Irish. Fighting-drunk: military: ca. 1860–1920. Robert Blatchford, My Life in the Army, 1910.

drunk as a besom. Exceedingly drunk: coll.: ca. 1830–90. Cuthbert Bede in Verdant Green, 1853. Cf. mops and brooms in the Dict.

drunk as a fowl. Very tipsy: Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1942, 'A variant of "drunk as an owl"'. drunk as a newt. See newt.

drunk as a piss ant. Extremely drunk: Aus.: since ca. 1930. (B., 1959.) Cf. the terms immediately preceding and following this one.

drunk as a rolling fart. Very drunk: low coll.: from ca. 1860. Richards, 'In my old days it was a common sight by stop-tap to see every man in the Canteen as drunk as rolling fts.'

drunk as Chloe (loosely Cloe). Exceedingly drunk: from ca. 1815. Moore, 1819, has like Cloe, vigorously: a s. phrase † by 1890. It owes much of its Australian popularity to the painting mentioned at do a Chloe above. (B.P.)

drunk-up. A drinking bout: Australian coll.: C. 20. Baker. Cf. beer-up.

drunken sailor. A leaning type of chimney cowl, used to cure a smoking chimney: late C. 19–20.

drunok. Tipsy: from ca. 1930. A perversion of drunk.

druthers. 'One's choice or preference, from "I'd rather"'. Thus, "I'd rather go than stay"—I druther go than stay. Hence, "If I had my druthers, I'd go". Quite common in Canada and U.S.; mostly teen-agers and younger' (Leechman). Since ca. 1945.

dry, n. A 'drying-up' or being at a complete loss for one's lines: theatrical: C. 20. Hence, dries, instances of such loss. Ex 'to dry up' or forget one's lines. (Gavin Holt, No Curtain for Cora, 1950.)

dry, adj. is, in Australia, used with the low nn. of coition for rape and for homosexual intercourse: since ca. 1950.

dry, the. Desert; semi-desert; waterless country: Australian coll.: late C. 19–20. Boyd Cable in The Observer, Oct. 30, 1938. Cf. English dial. dry, a long period of rainless weather.—2. The dry season (winter) in N. and N.W. Australia: coll.: late C. 19–20. (B., 1942; Jean Devanney, 1944.)

dry as a sun-struck bone, extremely dry; dry up like a sun-struck billalong, to become so. 'Both similes are also used figuratively; "dry" suggesting irony, and "dry up" meaning to become silent or run out of words' (B., The Drum, 1959): Aus. coll.: C. 20.

dry bobbing; wet bobbing. Sport(s) on land; aquatics: Eton College: mid-C. 19–20: s. >, by 1875, coll. >, by 1900, S.E. B. & L. See bob, dry and wet in Dict.

dry dock (or hyphenated or one word); esp. go into dry dock, to stay for a long time in hospital: Services: since ca. 1925. See dock, n., 2 (Dict.).

dry glasses without using a cloth. To 'booze': jocular: C. 20.

dry hash, 1, is used esp. as = one who will not 'shout' drinks: ca. 1870–1910. B. & L.

dry holy-stoning. A flogging: nautical: ca. 1800–70. Boxiana, II, 1818. Ex S.E. holy-stones (with which one cleans the deck).

dry list and wet list. Officers listed for shore service only, as opposed to the w.l., listed for sea appointments: Naval: C. 20. (Wilfred Granville, Sept. 23, 1967.)

dry number, esp. in to have dried one's number, to have served for several weeks: Services': C. 20. See the before you came up entry in Dict.

dry old stick. An elderly person (esp. male) either boring or possessed of a very dry sense of humour: coll.: late C. 19–20. (Not only Aus. as B., 1959, seems to imply.)

dry run is the Canadian coll. equivalent, since ca. 1925, of dummy run (p. 248), but with the much wider connotation of 'experimental rehearsal'. (Leechman.)

dry-shave.—2. To annoy (a person) by vigorously rubbing his chin with one's fingers: lower classes' coll.: from ca. 1860. B. & L.

dry ship is the opposite of a wet ship: C. 20.

dry swim is synonymous with grope: R.A.F.: since ca. 1936.

dry up, v.—3. 'To slacken pace through exhaustion': turf: from ca. 1870. B. & L. Ex sense 1.—4. To cease work at lunch-time or at night; hence, leave a situation: printers': from ca. 1870. Ibid. Ex sense 1.

dry up and blow away! Go away: teenagers' (esp. the coffee-bar set): ca. 1957–59. (Gilderdale.) Cf. dry up, 1 (p. 244), and blow, v., 7.

dryknacking or drynacking, as in 'a spot of dryknacking', a little music-copying: Guards' Regiment musicians': since ca. 1920. It's dry work but rapidity therein is a knack.

dry-wipe. To win two legs straight off from (an opponent): darts players': since ca. 1930. Cf. whitewash, v., 3, below.

dual is coll. for 'dual-flying instruction': R.A.F.: since 1939 +. Jackson.

Dub. Dublin: Anglo-Irish: late C. 19–20. James Joyce, Ulysses, 1922.

dub, v.—2. To make (e.g.) British nationals speak (e.g.) French in films being shown in (e.g.) France: cinematic: since ca. 1935: by 1946, j.

dub, go upon the. 'To go upon a housebreaking expedition; to open or pick the lock or fastenings of a door': c.: late C. 17–mid-19. B. & L.

dub-dub. A complete failure: Army: C. 20; ob. dub-snouted. See 'Epithets'. Prob., snub-nosed.

dub up, 2 (p. 245), apparently 'went underground'—existed without being recorded—for it is extant. 'Everybody in the nick had already been dubbed up'—locked in his cell—for the night' (Norman). It occurs also in, e.g., John Gosling, The Ghost Squad, 1959.

dubb. See doub.

dubby, the. The water-closet: children's: C. 20—perhaps late C. 19–20. Ex 'double-u cee': W.C. (John A. Yates.)

Dublin tricks. (Rare in singular.) Bricks: rhyming s.: since ca. 1860; by 1940, ob. (D. W. Barrett, Navvies, 1880.)

dubs, n.—3. Marbles played in a ring: Australian school-children's: C. 20. B., 1942.—4. Hence (?), nipples of a girl's breasts: Australian: C. 20. Godfrey Blunden, No More Reality, 1935. Current among Southampton schoolboys before 1920, occ. in the form dubbies which suggests a deformation of bubbies (p. 99). On the other hand, dubs may have been influenced by S.E. dugs (in its 'nipples' sense).

duc. Ink-ductor or fountain regulating the amount of ink supplied for each impression on a machine: printers': from ca. 1860. B. & L.

duchess.—3. See:—

Duchess of Fife. Wife: rhyming s.: mid-C. 19–20; but by 1880, 'invariably reduced to Dutch ("my old Dutch")'. It served as inspiration for Albert Chevalier's song of that title—My Old Dutch—'and is by that immortalized': Franklyn 2nd.

Duchess of Teck. A cheque: rhyming s.: late C. 19–20. Often shortened to duchess.

duchesses. Female counter clerks in post-offices: mostly lower-middle class: since ca. 1948. Ex the airs so many of them give themselves.

duck, n.—9. An awkward-looking Japanese aircraft: Australian soldiers': December 1941–February 1942. (P-G-R.)—10. An amphibious vehicle: Services (esp. Army): 1942+; by 1944, at least semi-official. Ex the factory serial initials DUKW. (P-G-R.)—11. A young lady; a girl: beatniks': since ca. 1959. Cf. list at canary, 12, above.

duck and dive. To hide: rhyming s.: C. 20.

duck (or goose) bumps. Gooseflesh; goose pimples: mostly Canadian, the latter sense jocular: C. 20. (Leechman.)

duck eggs. Coal ovoids: railwaymen's: since ca. 1945. (Railway.)

duck-house, v. To baffle, outwit, overcome (someone): Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1942. Ex:—

duck-house, up against (someone's). (Something) that baffles, outwits, defeats, delays: Australian: since ca. 1910. 'I admit that this is one up against my duck-house.' Ex a game-score chalked on a duck-house wall or roof.

duck-house, upset one's. To upset someone's plan or calculations: Australian: since ca. 1920. (Miles Franklin, Old Blastus of Bandicoot, 1931.) Cf. mind one's own duck-house, to mind one's own business: ibid.

duck in the green curtains. To 'sleep on the slopes of Table Mountain' (The Cape Times, May 23, 1946): South African c.: C. 20.

duck it. To 'waddle out as a lame duck', George Godfrey, History of George Godfrey, 1828: Stock Exchange: ca. 1815–70. Cf. Duckery, q.v.

duck-pot is a late C. 19–20 (ob. by 1940) variant of duck, n., 3. In, e.g., A. Neil Lyons, Clara, 1912.

duck-shovelling. 'Passing the buck': R.A.F.: since ca. 1960. (Sgt R. Farley, Feb. 16, 1967.) Origin?

duck-shover, -shoving.—3. (Ex 1.) One who is over-sharp in business; unfair business methods: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

duck the scone. See how the crumpet above.

duck weather. Very wet weather: Australian: since ca. 1920. Ex fine weather for ducks (p. 276 and below). B.P.

ducker, 2 (p. 246). Already by 1878, current for some years. Before ca. 1860, the swimming pool had been known as the duck-paddle (Sir Sydney King-Farlow, letter to The Times).

Duckery, the. The disciplinary court of the Stock Exchange: Stock Exchange: ca. 1815–60. George Godfrey, 1828. Cf. duck it and lame duck.

duckets. Hat checks: Canadian railroadmen's (—1931). Ex Ducket (p. 246).

Duckites; duckite. Girdlestone's 'house'; a member thereof: Charterhouse: C. 20. Ex Mr Girdlestone's duck-like walk. (Peter Sanders.) ducks!, do I. See do I ducks!

ducks and doyleys. Pekin duck: among Britons on the China coast: C. 20. (The Listener, Dec. 8, 1949.) duck's dinner. A drink of water, with nothing to eat: Australian: C. 20. Baker. Compare duck's breakfast (p. 246).

ducks in the pond (p. 246). Also ducks on a pond and a couple of ducks, usually pronounced coupler ducks, and:—

ducks on the water. 22 in the game of House: mostly military: C. 20. 'The two figures 2 are similar to a pair of ducks swimming side by side' (Lieutenant-General Sir J. R. E. Charles). Cf. ducks in the pond (Dict.).

ducky (p. 246): often, in Australia, used either sarcastically or jocularly by men: since early C. 20. 'She was wearing a ducky little pair of shorts.' (B.P.) dud (p. 246). The adj. dates from mid-1890's in the nuance 'worthless': Sessions, Feb. 1898, 'I have it, it is a dud lot' (watch and chain).

dud up. To arrange (things) illicitly: serve short measure to (someone): Australian c.: since ca. 1925. Kylie Tennant, Foveaux, 1939. See dud (p. 246). Also 'Deliberately to misinform or mislead (someone). Whence, dudder and dudder-upper' (B. 1959).

dud weather. Weather unsuitable for flying: R.A.F. coll.: since ca. 1918. H. & P. dudder(-upper).—3. See dud-up.

dudes is Randle Holme's (and others') spelling of duds, clothes.

Dudley. A water bottle: railwaymen's (E.R.): since ca. 1950 (?). Railway, 3rd.

duds.—4. Female knickers: late C. 19–20. A specialisation of sense 1 (p. 246).—5. In Australia—since ca. 1940, only trousers. (B.P.)

dufer. An occasional variant (Australian) of doofer, 1 (p. 234): B., 1943. Perhaps rather 'do for after'.

duff, n.—3. Hence (?), a tin in which pudding is served; prison s. (not c.): C. 20. H. U. Triston, Men in Cages, 1938.

duff, v.—5. To render unusable; to ruin; to destroy: R.A.F.: since ca. 1935. Jackson. Cf. sense 3.

duff, adj. (p. 246), was, in 1939–45, applied by the Air Force to weather unsuitable to flying.

duff, a piece of. See piece of dough.

duff, up the. (Of a woman) pregnant: low Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Cf. pudden club (Dict.), which prob. suggested it.

duff-bag. 'Formed in the sailor's black "silk" when the bight is tied in by the tapes of his jumper forming a loop just wide enough to hold two fingers,' Granville: Naval: since ca. 1910.

duff gen. Unconfirmed and improbable report; unreliable news: R.A.F. since ca. 1930. See duff, v., 1 in Dict. and gen in these Addenda. Partridge, 1945.

duffer, 1, has nuance 'a maker of spurious goods esp. sham jewelry'; jewellers': ca. 1820-90, Sessions, Oct. 1840 (p. 1037).—4. Occurs with nuance 'an article of sham jewelry' in Sessions, Oct. 1840 (pp. 1042-3).

duffie. A duffel jacket or coat: Australian teenagers', esp. surfers': since the late 1950's. (Pix, Sept. 28, 1963.)

duffman. Sick: rhyming s.: late C. 19-20. In full: Duffman Dick. (W. Buchanan-Taylor, Shake the Bottle, 1942.)

Duffoes. Ratings of the Plymouth Division: Naval: C. 20. (P-G-R.) Perhaps ex duff, n., 2 (p. 246): cf. Guzzle (p. 364).

duffy, n., 2 (p. 247). No! duffy is valid: witness duffy bottle, a bottle of gin, occurring in The Port Folio of May 16, 1807, reporting, at p. 247, col. 1, a British source. (Moe.)—3. Esp. have a duffy, to have a look: R.A.F. regulars': since ca. 1920. Ex dekkko (Dict.).—4. But have a duffy at is also general Services for 'have a try at': since ca. 1935. (P-G-R.)

duffy, v. To polish (e.g. one's buttons): R.A.F.: since ca. 1930.

dug-in job. A safe job; a privileged job: Army: since ca. 1917.

Duggie. Field-Marshal Douglas Haig: Army: 1916-18.

Duke. Cf. Duke of Kent below.—2. Inevitable nickname for all males named Kent: since ca. 1930.—3. A navvies' nickname (ca. 1850-1910) for a man with a large nose. 'Out of compliment to the Great Duke' (of Wellington): D. W. Barrett, Navvies, 1880.

duke.—7. A clay marble: New Zealand children's: C. 20. (Ruth Park, The Witch's Thorn, 1952.)

Duke of Kent (p. 247): often shortened to Duke (or duke).

Duke of Teck. A cheque: rhyming s., mostly theatrical: late C. 19-20. Cf. Duchess. . . above. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

Duke of York.—1 (p. 247), is also n.: a walk. (D. W. Barrett, Navvies, 1880.)—4. Chalk: Cockneys' rhyming: C. 20. Len Orten, Down Donkey Row, 1938.

dukes (p. 247). In line 2, read 'Ex Duke of Yorks, 2'. Another theory: 'Ex the rules of the Duke of Queensberry'.

dukes, put up the (p. 247).—2. 'A variation of meaning here is to hide something under one's jersey, perhaps with arms folded. Glasgow, 19th Century': Dr R. L. Mackay, M.D. (Confirmatory evidence welcomed.)

duke's stove. See Benghazi cooker.

dukess. Duchess: sol.: C. 19-20.

Dumb Dick. See Bob Short above.

dumb squint. See dumb glutton (Dict.).

dummy (p. 248). Earlier in Boxiana, II, 1818.

dumfogged is an erroneous form of dumb-fogged (Dict.).

dummestic dreamer. Domestic drama: proletarian sol.: C. 19. Mayhew I, 1851.

dummy. Sense 3 has in C. 20 the specific sense, 'wallet'.—9. A disc ground: railwaymen's: C. 20. (Railway.)

dummy, v. To take up (land), nominally for oneself, really for another: Australian: since ca.

1860. 'Tom Collins', Such is Life, 1903, 'Bob and Bat dummed for ole McGregor'.

dummy chucker. A goods shunter: railwaymen's: since ca. 1945. (Railway, 3rd.)

dummy engineer. An engineer Midshipman: Naval: since ca. 1920. (P-G-R.)

dummy run.—2. Hence, a rehearsal: Navy and Air Force: 1943 +. By 1950, fairly gen. civilian; by 1955, coll.; by 1960, among technicians and scientists, j.

The Naval usage goes back to ca. 1910. "'Bar-timeus" uses it, à propos preparations for a marriage service, in Naval Occasions (1914)': Ramsey Spencer, 1967.

dummy week. Non-payment week: Naval: C. 20. The ratings are paid fortnightly. It is often called also blank week: Naval coll.: since ca. 1939. (Granville, Nov. 22, 1962.)

dump, n., 5 (see p. 248). Also Australian. B., 1942.

dump, v., 2 (p. 248). In, e.g., W. L. George, A Bed of Roses, 1911.—4. To press (wool) closely: Australian: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.) Perhaps ex sense 2 (p. 248)—influenced by S.E. tamp.—5. (Ex sense 2.) To abandon (e.g., stores): Services: 1940 +; by 1945, civilian.

dumper. A heavy wave on a surfing beach: Australian coll.: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. It picks one up and dumps one down.—2. A cigarette-end: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.) An object one 'dumps'. Hence a dumper-dasher, one who picks up cigarette-ends off the street and smokes them (B.).

dumplings. See 'Body' and cf. dumpling-shop (Dict.).

dumps. Dumplings: cooks' and domestics': C. 20.

Dun Territory. Like Codrington's (and Mostyn's) Manors, Dynasty of Venus, Fields of Temptation, Land of Sheepishness, Plains of Betteris, Point Nonplus, Province of Bacchus, Pupil's Straits, River Tick and salt-pits, it occurs in Egan's Goose, 1823, and is thus recorded in the Dict. Egan himself used all these terms two years earlier in his Life in London.

Dunbar wether. A red herring: Scottish: C. 19-20; ob. B. & L. (at trout). Cf. Yarmouth capon.

dung, 3 (p. 249). Earlier in Sessions, April 17-20 (trial of Wm Milbourn et al.), 1765. Blood, a journeyman tailor, says, 'They that were agreeable to our rules we called Flints and those that were not were called Dungs.'

dung it; esp. as vbl n., dunging it. To be a traitor to the trade: tailors': mid-C. 19-20. B. & L. Cf. the n. in Dict.

dunhead. An undesirable character: Australian: since ca. 1930. (D'Arcy Niland, The Shiralee, 1955.)

dunk. To dip: Cockney-ex-Yiddish: mid-C. 19-20. (Julian Franklyn, communication of Dec. 16, 1959.) For etymology, see tunk. Current in Australia, 'but only for the practice of dipping biscuits, etc., in tea' (B.P.). By 1945, coll.

dunker. One who habitually 'dunks': mostly Australian: since ca. 1930: s. >, by 1950, coll. (B.P.)

Dunlop tyre (often shortened to Dunlop). A liar: since ca. 1905. Rhyming: cf. the synonymous holy friar.

dunnaken. 'Used as an adj. at the R.M.A. Woolwich, 60 years ago to denote one's oldest uniform, in contradistinction to "spange" referring to one's best uniform,' as an eminent soldier writes in a private letter of April 3, 1937.

dunno. Don't know: Australian semi-literate: mid-C. 19-20.

dunnocker. See dunaker.

dunnovan. A variant of donovan (Dict.).

Dunn's three-and-ninepenny. See Lincoln and Bennett.

dunny. A privy: Australian: since ca. 1880. Ex dunnaken (p. 249). John Cleary, The Sun-downers, 1959. Mostly juvenile, it occurs in Norman Lindsay, Saturday, 1933.

Dunsterforce. Synonymous and contemporaneous with Noperforce (Dict.).

[Dupes and fools receive many names in s.: here are those which Matthew lists as appearing in Ned Ward during the years 1700-24: cod's head (1703), country chub (1709), golden chub (1714), gudgeon (1703, prob. always S.E.); bubble (1703; but see Dict.), coniwobble (i.e. coney-wobble; 1703), looby (1703), ninny-hammer (1703; prob. always S.E.), nisey (1703), Tom-doodle (1703), zany (1709; prob. always S.E.); country fools being battered bun (1715), country cokes (1709) or c. hick (1722) or c. put (1700). Those who resort to courtesans are cullies (1703), rum cullies (1709), rum culls (1709). Of debauchees, we hear of old snufflers (1709), young fumblers (1703) and town-stallions (1703).]

durry. A cigarette butt: low Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Ex durie (Dict.)?—2. A cigarette: low Australian: since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.)

dussent or dursn't. A sol., mostly Cockney, form of daren't: C. 19-20. (Edwin Pugh, Tony Drum, 1898.)

dust.—3. Gunpowder: Australian coll.: mid-C. 19-20. Baker.—4. Flour: Australian: since ca. 1860. 'Tom Collins', Such Is Life, 1903.—5. Portland cement: builders': C. 20.

dust, v.—3. See:—

dust, get a. To receive severe disciplinary treatment; to dust (someone), to discipline severely: Army, esp. the Guards: since ca. 1920. (P-G-R.)

dust bin.—2. Gun position on the underside: R.A.F.: since ca. 1939. H. & P. It receives the dirt; also, pre-war bombers had belly turret-shaped like a dust-bin. Robert Hinde, letter of March 17, 1945.—3. Bridge in a motor torpedo (or gun) boat: Naval: since ca. 1938.

dust-bin lids. Children: rhyming s. on kids: C. 20. (Franklyn 2nd.)

dust-bin totting. Unauthorized removal of refuse from dust-bins: C. 20. The Times, April 25, 1940. See tot, n., 5 (p. 902). Also d-b tatting.

dust hole. See 'Guard-Room in Army Slang'.

dust of the Burma road. Bread: Royal Canadian Navy: 1942-5. (P-G-R.)

dust (someone's) pants. To spank: coll.: late C. 19-20. Cf. dust one's cassock (p. 250).

dust parade. 'Morning fatigue party for cleaning up,' H. & P.: Army: since ca. 1920.

dust-up.—2. A fall from a horse: Australian coll.: late C. 19-20. Archer Russell, Gone Nomad, 1936.

dust whapper (or whopper). A carpet beater: ca. 1815-70. George Smeeton, Doings in London, 1828.

dustbin seven. An old, cheap car: ca. 1925-55. Apparently suggested by Austin Seven.

dusted, adj. Beaten; worn out: Australian: since ca. 1930. (Dymphna Cusack, Southern Steel, 1953.)

dusters. Testicles: Army: C. 20; ob. by 1948. But extant in Navy and among Cockneys. Perhaps jocular, ex dust accumulated by shorts-wearers, esp. in India or in desert country.

dustie or -y. Sense 1: much earlier in Mayhew, II, 1851. To sense 3, add: Also Dusty Rhodes: late C. 19-20. Ex the phrase 'dusty roads'. Cf. Knobby. ('Taffrail' seems to constitute the earliest record for Dusty Miller.)

dustman, 2 (p. 250). In Life in London (1821) Pierce Egan cites the variant to have met with the dustman, to feel sleepy.

dusty, 3 (p. 250). But also for all men surnamed Rhodes: late C. 19-20.

dusty or gritty. Penniless: lower classes': from ca. 1870; ob. B. & L.

Dusty Miller. A coal-mine worker: miners' jocular: C. 20.

dut. See dutt.

Dutch. See 'Tavern terms', § 3, c.

Dutch, in. In trouble; under suspicion: Australian: adopted ca. 1935 from U.S. B., 1942. Also adopted (ca. 1925) in Canada, with the additional nuance 'in disfavour' (Leechman).

Dutch auction (p. 252) occurs in Ruskin, Unto This Last, lectures delivered in 1859.

Dutch by injection. See injection . . .

Dutch cap. A type of female pessary: Londoners' and Forces': since ca. 1925. Ex the shape.

Dutch cheese.—2. The divisional sign of the 4th British Infantry Division: Army: 1939-45. (P-G-R.)

Dutch fuck. Lighting one cigarette from another: Forces': 1940+. Prob. ex Territorial Army, where current from or before 1938. Also called Don Freddie, the Signalese for D.F.

Dutch kiss, n.; Dutch-kiss, v.i. Low coll. of C. 20, as in Auden & Isherwood, The Dog under the Skin, 1935, 'The boots and the slavey dutch-kissing on the stairs', it seems to mean indulgence, or to indulge, in sexual intimacies.

Dutch oven. The olfactory state of the bed-clothes after one has broken wind in bed: low: since ca. 1910, esp. in the Army.

Dutch pennants. Untidy ropes: nautical (Naval) coll.: mid-C. 19-20. Merely another of these little national amenities.

Dutch street, eat (or lunch or dine) in. To eat with someone, each paying his own bill: late C. 19-20. A Belfast newspaper, May 31, 1939. Rhyming Dutch treat (p. 251)?

Dutch uncle (p. 251). I have over-emphasized the severity: rather is the connotation that of 'didactic and heavy-handed, yet kindly'.

Dutchie.—2. In Australia, any Central European: coll.: C. 20. Baker.

Dutchman.—5. An irregular hard lump in brown sugar: late C. 19-20.

Dutchman's anchor (p. 251) occurs esp. in alongside the Dutchman's anchor, left behind: Naval: C. 20.

duties. Duty-free goods, esp. cigarettes: Naval: since ca. 1940. Short for duty-frees, itself a C. 20 coll.

dutt (or dut). A hat: North Country: C. 20. Ex a hatter named Dutton?

duty beauty. A W.R.N.S. duty officer: Naval (mostly ward-room): 1939-45.

duty boy. The officer of the Day or of the Watch: Naval officers': since ca. 1920. (P-G-R.)

duty dog. Duty Officer; loosely, Orderly Officer: Services: since ca. 1920. H. & P. Cf. dog-watch.

duty stooge. A Duty Corporal or Duty Airman: R.A.F.: 1938 +. Gerald Emanuel, letter of March 29, 1945.

duty-sub, the. 'The duty sub-division of the watch, to be called upon to relieve pressure when needed' (Granville): Naval coll.: C. 20.

dwarf. A signal: railwaymen's: C. 20. (Railway.) dwel on. To like very much, to long for (someone): Australian coll.: since ca. 1930. (Sarah Campion.)—2. 'Eagerly to await another's decision of action' (B., 1959): Aus.: since ca. 1930.

dwel the box. To be patient; to wait: low: since ca. 1930. (Norman.)

dyke; dykey. See dike, dikey, above.

dynamite, n.—2. Baking powder: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. It causes cakes, scones, etc., to rise—to 'blow up'.

dynamiter.—2. A car with a defective air-mechanism that inopportunately puts the brakes full on: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931).

d'you know something? 'copied in Britain from American speech, may well be a Germanism . . . derived from Weisst du 'was: The point is that in conversational German was is used as a shortened form of etwas, meaning something, though its true meaning, as a word in its own right, is what. One assumes that German immigrants did not realize the existence of the traditional "D'you know what?" and quite unconsciously evolved "D'you know something?" on the strength of their native expression' (Brian Foster, The Changing English Language, 1968): in U.S. since ca. 1930, in Britain since ca. 1945. D'you know what? itself probably goes back to well before 1900—perhaps so far as 1850.

E

E-Boat Alley. 'Quite a sizable fleet . . . entered the Wold Channel, to which the war had given the name E-Boat Alley,' Humfrey Jordan, Landfall and Departure, 1946: nautical: 1939-45. (Off the Yorkshire Coast.)—2. Granville defines it as 'the stretch of coast between Great Yarmouth and Cromer and The Wash'.

'e dunno where 'e are! (p. 252) is from a music-hall song: 'Since Jack Jones come into a 'arf a nounce o' snuff, 'E dunno where 'e are. 'E's got the cheek and impudence To call 'ee's muvver Ma.' (Julian Franklyn, 1962.)

E.T.B.s. A Wren's knickers: Naval (Wrens): since ca. 1940. I.e. elastic top and bottom. Granville.

eager beaver. 'One who pitches right in, sometimes to the dismay of less highly geared colleagues, and sometimes none too intelligently' (Leechman): Canadian: adopted, ca. 1940, ex U.S. By imperfect reduplication: perhaps suggested by the U.S. (as) busy, or industrious, as a beaver.

eagle. A hole done in two strokes under bogey: golfers' s., adopted ca. 1922 ex U.S.; by 1930, it had > j. Prob. suggested by golfers' birdie.—2. A Stuka dive-bomber: Australian airmen's: ca. 1940-5. (B., 1943.)

eagle-eye. Locomotive engineer: Canadian railroadmen's (—1931). He needs it. 'Ironical, and mostly used by non-drivers' (Priestley).

ear, on one's.—2. Topsy: Australian: since ca. 1910. (K. S. Prichard, Haxby's Circus, 1930.)—3. Hence, get on one's ear, to get drunk, as in K. S. Prichard, The Black Opal, 1921 (p. 17).—4. On one's ear also means '(Of a task or undertaking) easily accomplished' (B., 1959). Aus.: since ca. 1920.

ear, pull down one's. To get money from (a person), esp. as a tip: Cockneys': from ca. 1870. Clarence Rook, The Hooligan Nights, 1899, 'Well, we couldn't pull down their ear for more'n 'alf a dollar.' Cf. bite one's ear.

ear, put on one's. To set on: low coll.: from ca. 1890. Pugh (2): "'An' I s'pose," said Deuce, looking puzzled, "that it wouldn't be quite the thing, would it, to put a tiggys"—detective—"on his ear?"

ear-bash, n. A talk: Australian: since ca. 1925. Cf. next entry. (Jon Cleary, The Sundowners, 1952.)

ear-basher. One who is a bore: Australian: since ca. 1945. (The Times, Dec. 27, 1963.) Cf. ear-bash above and:—

ear-bashing, n., v., and occ. as adj. Conversation; talking, esp. fluently and at length: Australian soldiers': 1939+. Lawson Glassop, We Were the Rats, 1944, "'You musta thought me a queer sorta feller with me French plays and me Bach fugues—ya know them things he's often ear-bashing about.'" ear-flip. A sketchy salute: Services: since ca. 1930. H. & P. ear-guards. Small side-whiskers: Australian: C. 20. Baker.

ear-hole, v. To take a corner at an acute angle: motor-cyclists': since ca. 1925.—2. To eavesdrop, to listen in to someone's conversation: low: since ca. 1930. (Norman.)

ear-hole, on the. Also, by 1919, low s.—as in James Curtis, You're in the Racket Too, 1937.

ear-lugger. A persistent borrower; a 'scrounger': Australian: C. 20. Baker.

ear-mad. 'The thickened ear (in its upper portion) found in some cases of insanity': medical: from ca. 1870. B. & L. But is this not a misprint for ear, mad, the term surely being mad ear, which would be not s. but coll.; moreover, † by 1930. Dr M. Clement confirms me in this view and states that it is a lay, not a medical term; the medical term is 'degenerate ear'; mad ear refers, moreover, to the external ear. See, e.g., W. S. Dawson, Aids to Psychiatry, 1924; 3rd ed., 1934. Cf. mad nurse.

ear phones. Women's hair-style, with hair drawn to the side and clamped over the ears: since ca. 1930.

ear-wiggling. A variant—? the original form—of wiggling, n., on p. 958: C. 19. Wm Maginn, Tales of Military Life, 1829 (at II, 299), 'The effect of Sir Edward's petty tyranny, and the ear-wiggling—as it is expressively termed in military life—were now apparent.' Moe.

earlies, the. The early days—old times—in Australia: Australian coll.: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.) Or in Africa: since ca. 1910.

early bird. A word: rhyming s.: late C. 19-20. (Sydney Lester.) Cf. dick(e)y birds, 5, above.

early door. A whore: rhyming s.: late C. 19-20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

early doors. A pair of (female) drawers: rhyming: since ca. 1870.

early hour. A flower: rhyming: since ca. 1880.

early on; late on. Early in the morning; late at night: coll.: mainly North Country: late (? mid-) C. 19-20.—2. Hence (?), early—or late—in the proceedings; soon: coll.: C. 20.

Early Pullman. 'An imaginary architectural style marked by over-elaborate decoration like the first Pullman cars on North American railways' (Leechman): Canadian (ex U.S.): since ca. 1945. Cf. North Oxford Gothic and Stockbrokers' Tudor below.

early riser.—3. Blanket carried by a tramp: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

earn one's oats. To earn one's food; pull one's weight: Australian coll.: C. 20. (B., 1943.) Ex the upkeep of horses.

ears apart, I didn't ask what keeps your. A counter to the rejoinder or comment balls! or ballocks!: low c.p.: since ca. 1940.

ears flapping, have—or keep—one's. To listen, esp. if closely: since ca. 1950.

ears from one's elbows, know one's. To be sensible or shrewd: coll.: mid-C. 19–20. Blaker. See quotation at nor an 'un. Perhaps a refined version of arse from one's elbow . . . (p. 18). Also, in the mid-1940's, 'He doesn't know his brass (or bass) from his oboe'.

earth-chasers. The Torpedo Officer's electric-light party; seamen torpedomen: Naval: since ca. 1920. Granville. Earth in its electricity sense.

earth stoppers (p. 252). Slightly earlier in W. T. Moncrieff, Tom and Jerry, 1821.

earwig, n.—3. 'A crony, or close friend' (Sinks, 1848): ca. 1830–70. Ex the mutual whispering.—4. An inquisitive person: from ca. 1880.

earwig, v. To detect; to understand: rhyming s. (on twig): C. 20.—2. Hence (?), to listen in on a radio telephone at sea: trawlers' and drifters': since ca. 1930. Cf. sense 2 of the n. (Granville.) earwigger. An eavesdropper; a conversational interloper: Services: adopted, in 1940, from U.S. H. & P.—2. In pl. headphones: Services: since ca. 1941. H. & P.

ease one's arm; gen. imperative. To go steady: Cockneys': from ca. 1885; ob. Pugh (2): "'Ease your arm," growled Marketer. "You know me an' I know you, I reckon. If we can't couple up wi'out jibbin', I pass—that's all.'" ease oneself (p. 253). Prob. suggested by the S.E. sense, 'to defecate'.

East Enders, the. The Sussex County Cricket Club: cricketers': ca. 1885–1914. Sir Home Gordon, The Background of Cricket, 1939.

easy, n. A spell, a rest, as in 'I'll take an easy as soon as I can': coll.: late C. 19–20.

easy, adj. (Of a girl) easily picked up: coll.: from ca. 1890. (W. L. George, The Making of an Englishman, 1914.)—2. Esp. in 'I'm easy'—I don't mind one way or the other: R.A.F. coll.: since ca. 1938. Ex the R.A.F. c.p. of self-protecting acceptance: since ca. 1936.—3. Easily imposed upon: Canadian coll.: C. 20. (Leechman.)

easy as apple-pie, as. Very easy indeed: Australian coll.: since ca. 1920. (B.P.)

easy as taking money (or toffee) from a child; gen. preceded by as. Very easy (to do): coll.: late C. 19–20. The Canadian (and U.S.) version is . . . candy from a kid. (Leechman.)

easy as tea-drinking. Australian variant of prec.; coll.: C. 20. B., 1942.

easy mark. A girl easy to persuade into sexual intercourse: since ca. 1920. See mark, n., 3, 4, 5 (Dict.).

easy-meat. 'She's easy meat'—of a not invincible chastity: since ca. 1920.—2. (Of a thing) easy to obtain; (of a plan) easy to effect: since ca. 1925. 'Oh, that's easy meat!' easy on! Steady!: Australian coll.: C. 20. B., 1942. Short for go easy on it!

easy to look at; easy on the eye. (Esp. of women) good-looking: the former, Anglicised, ex U.S., by 1930; the latter, derivatively ex the earlier, first heard by the editor in 1936. By meiosis.

eat, 1 (p. 253). Read: C. 20. Leonard Merrick, Peggy Harper, 1911, 'They ate the piece.'

eat one's toot. 'To eat toot was the pioneer way of describing the period during which new immigrants settled down to the cold facts of New Zealand life. More correctly the expression was to eat tutu, for it was from the poisonous plant of that Maori name that the phrase was taken,' B., 1941: New Zealand coll. of ca. 1830–90. Baker records R. B. Paul, Letters from Canterbury, 1857, ' . . . Which old settlers call eating their tutu.' Note: the correct pron. of the Maori word is 'toot', much as that of Lake Wakatipu is Wakkatip.

eat oneself stiff. To eat a hearty meal; to gorge: schoolboys': C. 20. Anthony Weymouth, Temp Me Not, 1937.

eat (someone) out. To reprimand severely: Canadian: since ca. 1930. (Leechman.) A variant of chew out above.

eat the wind out of a ship (p. 253) occurs much earlier in The Dublin University Magazine, Oct. 1834 (p. 400). Moe.

eating irons. Knife, fork, and spoon: Services coll.: since ca. 1920. H. & P. Weapons (cf. shooting irons) with which to attack the meal.

eau-de-Cologne, often shortened to eau(-)de. Telephone: rhyming s.: C. 20. 'Give me a blow on the eau de.' (Franklyn 2nd.)—2. A girl, a woman: itinerant entertainers' rhyming s. on the parlary polone, q.v. at palone below: late C. 19–20. (Sydney Lester.) Sometimes shortened to eau-de.

ebenezer. The Rev. A. K. Chignell writes: 'Ebenczer = stone of help (Hebrew). Was there at Winchester some particular stone in the wall of fives' court that sent a ball heavenwards? This is the sheerest guess, but yet seems possible.' Mr F. W. Thomas settles it thus: 'Title of Nonconformist hymn, "Here I'll raise My Ebenezer." Hence the stone that makes a fives ball rise.'

eccer.—2. School homework: Australian schoolchildren's: C. 20. B., 1942. Ex the exercises forming so large a part of homework.—3. In the 1880's–1890's, Oxford undergraduates' s. for Association football. The Times, Oct. 12, 1938. Ex sense 1; cf. soccer (Dict.).

[Echoism in slang. Many of the most vivid slangy neologisms originate as echoic words, seen at their most immediate as nouns of impact, more or less synonymous with such exclamations as smash!—crash!—bang!—whack! Some of those nouns become or, at the least, give rise to nouns of enthusiastic approval. A long essay or even a monograph could very easily be written on the subject. This Supplement, however, is not in any sense, nor to any degree, a collection of essays, large or small.

The point can be illustrated, briefly yet perhaps adequately, with three passages from William Golding's masterpiece, Lord of the Flies, published in 1954 and dealing with a miscellaneous group of boys aged 6–13. (The edition used is the Faber paperback, 1962.)

'The great rock . . . leapt droning through the air and smashed a deep hole in the canopy of the forest. Echoes and birds flew, white and pink dust floated, the forest further down shook as with the passage of an enraged monster: and then the island was still.

"Wacco!"

"Like a bomb!"

"Whce-aa-oo!" (p. 37)

'Jack was on his feet.

"We'll have rules!" he cried excitedly. "Lots of rules! Then when anyone breaks 'em—"

"Whee-oh!"

"Wacco!"

"Bong!"

"Doink!" (p. 44)

'Immured in these tangles, at perhaps their most difficult moment, Ralph turned with shining eyes to the others.

"Wacco."

"Wizard."

"Smashing."

The cause of their pleasure was not obvious.' (p. 35)

'Again came the solemn communion of shining eyes in the gloom.

"Wacco."

"Wizard." (p. 36)

Strictly, no comments are necessary. Yet perhaps one should note that wacco is better written whacko and that the echoic bong has the same root as bonkers, crazy, and that doink occurs, with its intensively echoic prefix ger or ker, in gerdoying, kerdoying, qq.v. at kerdoying below.]

Ecks. See Ekes.

ecnop. A prostitute's bully: low: C. 20. A back-s. synonym of ponce (p. 647).

edention. See eclogue (Dict.).

edge, n. Adjutant: Army: C. 20. Ex Cockney pron. of adje.—2. See 'Mock-Auction Slang' below.

edge, over the. Unreasonable; excessive; improper: Australian coll.: since ca. 1910. B., 1942.

edge against, have an. To dislike a person: Australian: since ca. 1910. Baker. 'Earlier as in 'Tom Collins', Such Is Life, 1903, 'Magomery's got an edge on you, Thompson, for . . . leavin' some gates open.'

edge it! Be quiet! Stop it!: Aus.: C. 20. Xavier Herbert, Capricornia, 1939. "'Hey—edge it, Mum!'" edgy. Irritable; nervous: coll.: C. 20. Ex nerves on edge.

Edie. A cheap prostitute: Londoners', esp. police: since ca. 1945. 'From the point of view of the police, the best of the street-walkers, or "Toms" as they were called, was the Mayfair professional, and the worst the Edies of the East End, Piccadilly and the railway stations': John Gosling & Douglas Warner, The Shame of a City, 1960.

edjercation or ejercation. Education: sol.: mid-C. 19–20. (Nevinson, 1895.) Cf. edication (Dict.).

Edna May, on (my, your, etc.). On one's way: rhyming s.: C. 20; since ca. 1930, predominantly theatrical. Ex the famous music-hall entertainer. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

education has been sadly neglected, my or your or . . . A jocular c.p., esp. if the matter is unimportant: C. 20.

Edwardian. A Teddy boy: jocular; ca. 1956–64. Cf. Teddy boy below.

Edwards. King Edward potatoes (a very popular kind): growers' and sellers' coll.: since ca. 1910.

eejit. Idiot: Anglo-Irish sol.: C. 18–20.

eelerspee. A confidence trickster: Australian c.: since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.) Via eeler sp(ee), centre-s. of speeler or spieler, 1 (p. 808).

eff, v.; effing, vbl n. and ppl adj. To say fuck; foul-mouthed (swearing): C. 20. Michael Harrison, Reported Safe Arrival, 1943, "'They'd eff and blind till your ear-oles started to frizzle.'" At first euphemistic, it soon > jocularly allusive also.

effing and blinding, be. To be using bad language: C. 20. Cf. the preceding entry.

efforts. See 'Prisoner-of-War Slang', 10.

Egee Pete. Egypt: mostly Army: ca. 1880–1914.

Egg, or Skating Rink. Nickname for a bald-headed messmate: Naval: C. 20. Granville.

egg.—5. Head: C. 20. (Caradoc Evans, Wasps, 1933.)

egg, break or crack one's. See break one's egg.

egg-boiler. A bowler hat: Australian: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.) Not because one could boil eggs in it but because, in torrid weather, one's own 'egg' (head) boils in it.

egg-bound. Slow-witted: Naval: C. 20. Eggs are very constipating; constipation renders 'heavy'.

egg-head. A scholar; an erudite person; anyone interested in intellectual matters: Canadian: adopted, ca. 1953, ex U.S.; by 1958, beginning to be used in Britain. Ex the high brow and the general shape of the scholar's head—in the popular misconception.

egg-laying. Dropping the second ball just behind the serving line when the first service has actually been 'in': lawn tennis: since ca. 1930. The Daily Telegraph, Aug. 7, 1937.

egg on, mostly in imperative. To get a move on, to hurry: low Australian: since the 1920's. (Kylie Tennant, The Joyful Condemned, 1953.) Probably ex S.E. egg on, to incite.

egg-shell blonde. Any bald person: Australian: since ca. 1945. (B., Australia Speaks, 1953.)

egg(-)whisk. An autogyro: R.A.F.: since ca. 1938. H. & P. Ex its rotatory motion. Cf. windmill.—2. A helicopter: Naval: since ca. 1948. Ex its appearance.

Egg Wiped. Egypt: Army: 1940–5. A rudimentary pun on Egypt. (P-G-R.)

egged. A bus: Army in Palestine: ca. 1942–5. Ex the name of a Palestinian proprietor of a fleet of buses. (P-G-R.)

eggs, lay. See lay eggs.

eggs, off one's. Straying; hence, wide of the mark: Midlands: C. 20. (Dr R. L. Mackay, M.D., early 1967.)

eggy. Irritated; excited: Liverpool: C. 20. Ex dial egg, to tease, to irritate.

Egyptian Hall (p. 255). In sense 'dance'; † since ca. 1920 at the latest.

Egyptian medal, show an; esp. as c.p., you're showing an E.m. To have one's trouser-fly undone, to show a fly-button (or more than one): from ca. 1884; orig. military; slightly ob. Whence Abyssinian medal (Dict.).

Egyptian P.T. Synonymous with studying for Staff College: Army officers': since ca. 1925. Also, since ca. 1945, Naval. (Granville, Nov. 22, 1962.)

eh? to me! (why) you'll be saying 'arseholes' to the C.O. next! 'A c.p. of jocularly dignified reproof' (Atkinson): R.A.F.: since ca. 1930.

eighteen. Short for eighteenpence (Dict.).

eighteen bob in the pound, often preceded by only. (Of persons) not very bright: Aus.: since ca. 1920. Nino Culotta, Gone Fishin', 1963.

Eighteen Imperturbables, the. A formation of eighteen Desert Air Force planes; Eighth Army officers': 1942-3.

Eighth, the. The Eighth Army: coll. (mostly Army): 1942-5, then historical.

eighty-eight, the. See fish-horn.

Eiley Mavourneen (p. 255). More usually Kathleen Mavourneen, which is the correct title of the song—written, not by Crouch but by Louisa Macartney Crawford. Cf. Kathleen Mavourneen system (p. 449).

Eine (dissyllabic). London: showmen's: since ca. 1870. P. H. Emerson, Signor Lippo, 1893. A parlyaree word: corruption of It. Londra.

Eisenhower Platz. Grosvenor Square (London), while it contained the American H.Q.: 1942-5.

either. Also, 4, it is used for 'any', 'any one': sol.: rare before C. 20. E.g. in Henry Holt, Murder at the Bookstall, 1934: "'Did you notice anything peculiar about the manner of either of these three?'" either piss or get off the pot! Either do the job or let someone else have a shot at it!: proletarian c.p.: C. 20. The chamber pot.

[Ejaculations of 1700-25, so far as they appear in Ned Ward, are these:—Ads-bleed (1703) or -flesh (1709) or -heart, -heart's-wounds, both in 1703; Cat's nouns (God's wounds; 1703); Cud's bobs (1714); Ud's bobs (1714) or bodkins (1714) or lidikins (1714) or niggers noggers (1714) or wountlikins (1714); the shortenings, bloody wounds (1709), nouns (1706), and wounds (1703), all with 'Ads or Ud's understood; 'zooks (1706); non-God ejaculations are: i'facks (1703), or i'fackins or i'facks (ifacks)—both in 1714 and all = in faith; and sure as a gun, 1715. Matthews.]

ekal. Equal: Cockneys' pronunciation (coll., not s.): C. 19-20. Edwin Pugh, A Street in Suburbia, 1895, "'It's no good!" he said at length, very huskily. "I ain't ekal to it."' ekat a torrac. See torrac in Dict.

Ekes (or Ecks), School of. London School of Economics: C. 20.

elbow in the hawse (p. 255) goes back to ca. 1810 or a decade earlier; it occurs in W. N. Glascock, Sketch-Book, I (16), 1825. Moe.

elbow-lifting. The n.-form of lift one's elbow (p. 481): C. 19-20.

elders. A woman's breasts; Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. Either in ref. to an elder tree in full growth and leaf, or with an allusion to the story of Susanna and the Elders.

electric cow. A machine for the conversion of milk-powder and water into 'milk': Naval: since ca. 1940. Granville.

Electric Whiskers. Bergonzoli, an Italian general in N. Africa: Army: ca. 1941-3. Ex It. Barba Elettrica. (P-G-R.)

elementary, my dear Watson! An educated c.p. dating from ca. 1900. Ex Sherlock Holmes's frequent remark to touchstone Watson. Cf. Sherlock Holmes!, q.v.

elements embrocation. (Exposure to) rough weather that makes one's face red: since ca. 1925. With a pun on Elliman's Embrocation.

Elephant and Castle.—2. The anus: rhyming s. (on illiterate ars'le): late C. 19-20. Franklyn.—3. A parcel: rhyming s.: since ca. 1920. Often shortened to Elephant. John Gosling, The Ghost Squad, 1959.

elephant houses. Old forts at Dunkirk: Services: 1940: ob. H. & P. elephant hut. A nissen hut: Services: since ca. 1919. H. & P. Appearance; cf. elephant in Dict.

elephant pistol or gun. An 'outsize weapon for firing parachute flares': P.B.I. coll.: 1914-18. (A. B. Petch, March 1966.)

elevenes occurs rather earlier in P. G. Wodehouse.

'Ell of a Mess. The London Midland and Scottish Railway: railwaymen's jocular: C. 20. (Railway 2nd.)

Ellen Terry. A chamberpot: rhyming s. (on jerry): rhyming s., mostly theatrical: C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

ellum. See colyum.

Elsan Eddy (loosely Eddie). A latrine-cleaner ('sanitary wallah'); R.A.F.: since ca. 1940; ob. by 1950, † by 1955. A blend of Elsan, a proprietary name, and, by a pun, Nelson Eddy, the famous singer.

Elsan gen. Unreliable news: R.A.F.: since 1939. H. & P. Ex the excellent make of chemical lavatories on bombers.

Elswick (p. 256). Better Elswicks. Ex Elswick, a suburb of Newcastle-upon-Tyne.

Elsie.—2. 'A special searchlight adapted for use in the Maunsell Forts in the Thames Estuary': Londoners' (Services and Port of London Authority): 1939(?)—45. Ex L.C., Light Control. (P-G-R.)

embark; usually in combination, as in 'go on embark leave': Services (esp. R.A.F.) coll.: 1939+. Jackson.

Emma. Emmanuel College: Cambridge undergraduates': since ca. 1860.

emoh ruo. Suburbia; esp. in its smugness: Australian journalists' and publicists', hence others': since ca. 1950. The back-s. form of our home. Its use as a house-name—cf. our home itself and chez nous—led to its becoming generalized. (B.P.)

emote. To be or become emotional; to show excessive emotion: adopted, ca. 1950, ex U.S., where orig. theatrical: s. >, by 1960, coll. 'He is incapable of rational behaviour. He just reacts and emotes.' A back-formation ex emotion. (B.P.)

Emperor Augustus, the. See Druriolanus in the Dict.

empire. 'A large, esp. if unnecessarily large, department run with a view to obtaining promotion for those in charge, who thus become empire-builders. (Air Force)': 1944-5. (P-G-R.)

empty I can feel my (or me) backbone touching my (or me) belly-button, I'm so. A low c.p.: C. 20. Alexander Baron, There's No Home, 1950.

Emu. A member of the ground staff: R.A.A.F.: 1939-45. (B., 1943.) Cf. penguin, 1.

emu-bobbing, n. Picking up cigarette-ends: Australian soldiers': 1939-45. (B., 1943.) To do it, one bobs one's head as an emu does. Hence also emuing.

En Zed. New Zealand: N.Z., hence also Australian, troops: 1939-45. Common among N.Z. civilians since ca. 1910.

encore, get an; gen. as vbl n., getting an encore. To have to rectify a mistake in one's job: tailors': from ca. 1870. B. & L.—2. To have a second erection at one 'session' of love-making: raffish: C. 20.

end.—2. Glans penis; mostly in compounds: bell-end, blunt end, red end: esp. in Armed Forces: C. 20.—3. A net practice at cricket: Rugby School coll.: (?) late C. 19–20. 'The nets are situated at the ends of the field' (D. F. Wharton).

end, it's not my. It's no affair of mine: Naval: since ca. 1925. Granville. Ex Am. c.: see Underworld.

end-bit dobber. A tramp, or a beggar, collecting cigarette ends from gutters: Cambridge Town (not University): from ca. 1910.

end is (or end's) a-wagging, the. The end of a job is in sight: Naval: mid-C. 19–20. Granville, 'From sailing days when, after much "pulley-haulley", the end of a rope was in sight.'

end of the bobbin!, that's the. See bobbin!, that's . . .

Endacott, v.i. 'To act like a constable of that name who arrested a woman whom he thought to be a prostitute': journalistic coll.: ca. 1880–1900. B. & L.

ender. 'A dan buoy with a flag indicating a line of fishing nets or pots' (Granville): deep-sea fishermen's coll.: C. 20.

endless belt. A prostitute: Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1942. Cf. belt.

enemy ships. The opposite of chummy ships (p. 154): Naval: late C. 19–20. (P-G-R.)

engineering pie. A special sort of pie served at lunch in the R.N. Engineering Shop at Dartmouth: Naval: since ca. 1930.

engineer's spanner. Sixpence: apparently at first, and perhaps still mainly, nautical, esp. Naval: since ca. 1920. Rhyming s. on tanner, sixpence.

Engines. Engineering (or Technical) Officer: R.A.F. coll.: since ca. 1925. Jackson.

English. See 'Tavern terms', § 3, c.

english. Spin on a ball, whether, as orig. and usually, in billiards or in baseball: Canadian: since ca. 1918. Mr D. S. Cameron, Librarian to the University of Alberta, has, in a private letter of Aug. 23, 1937, explained the stages of the origination thus:—'1. Language ekes out its own deficiency by gesture, hence, gesture equals "body English".'

'2. By direct transference, any gesture or contortion (as in trying to do a difficult physical task becomes "body English").

'3. In a game (e.g. billiards), effect of effort on the ball becomes "body English" on the ball.

'4. By natural contraction, this becomes "English" on the ball or "spin". . . . Can be written with little "e".'

Mr Cameron adds that those who say side English, instead of english or spin, are merely being anti-English.

English, side. Whereas english >, ca. 1945, a technicality and part of the Standard language, side English has remained s., but was, by 1945, ob. See prec. entry. Then there's bottom-english, back spin plus side spin.

English as she is spoke (derivatively, occ. broke or broken). The broken English spoken by many foreigners: coll., virtually a c.p.: lato C. 19–20. Cf. J. Y. T. Greig's Breaking Priscian's Head; or, English as She Will Be Wrote and Spoke, 1928.

enigmae is a catachrestic pl. (C. 19–20) of enigma, as though it were of L. origin. (Notes and Queries, April 24, 1937.)

enin (p. 257). Earlier in Mayhew, I, 1851 (as enina).

Enoch Arden. A garden: ? originally (1942) among prisoners-of-war in the Far East; hence, since (but ? earlier), among civilians. B., 1953, quotes from The (Sydney) Sun of Sept. 22, 1945.

enough on one's plate, have. To have as much work as one can manage, or as much as one can do: Forces': 1939 +. Ex lit. domestic sense.

enough to give you a fit on the mat. Very amusing or laughable: non-aristocratic: C. 20; very ob. W. L. George, The Making of an Englishman, 1914. Cf. enough to make a cat laugh, the prob. origin.

ensign-bearer (Dict.) goes back to 1650: see 'Tavern terms', § 6. enthusiastic amateur. See amateur.

entjies. Cigarette-ends: South African c. (late C. 19–20) >, by 1940, low s. The Cape Times, June 3, 1946. Afrikaans in origin, entjie being the diminutive of ent, end.—2. Hence, short persons: S. African c.: since ca. 1920. (C. P. Wittstock, letter of May 23, 1946.) envelope, n. A condom: coll.: late C. 19–20.

[Ephemeral General Nicknames. The names of the latest murderer (or murderess) and of certain film stars are, by children in the (esp. London) streets, shouted at persons having some sort of resemblance to the notoriety: prob. immemorial. A very few names—e.g. Crippen—have lasted more than a year or two; Crippen, indeed, is still to be heard frequently among Cockney children.]

[Epithets and adverbial phrases. Ned Ward, in 1700–25, has the following eligibles among epithets (mostly abusive):—baker-legged (1714), brawny-buttock (jades; 1714), case-hardened (1703), clod-skulled (1703), cock-sure (1712), doodle (foolish; 1708), dub-snouted (1709), goggle-eyed (1703), jibber-nolling (? nodding; 1715); loobily (1709; with caution), lousie-look'd (1703), maggot-brained (1703), nitty (lousy; 1703), pat (opposite; 1722), peery (suspicious-looking; 1703), perdu (hidden; 1709; more prob. S.E.), sap-head (sot; 1703), smug-faced (1703), snotty (1703), swanking (1709), thumping (great; 1703), topping (1703), two-handed (vigorous; 1714), and tut-mouthed (? dumb; 1714).

Adverbial phrases:—hugger-mugger (secretly; 1714; prob. always S.E.); mutton fists (1709; more prob. S.E.); upon the tittup (galloping; 1703; prob. always S.E.); within an ambs-ace (very nearly; 1703).]

Epsom. Inseparable nickname of men sur-named Salt. Ex 'Epsom(s) salt'.

equator. Waist: joecular: late C. 19–20; by 1960, slightly ob. In A. S. M. Hutchinson's best-seller If Winter Comes, 1921, we read, 'He'd make about four of me round the equator.'

er for e is a minor characteristic of Cockney speech: ? immemorial. E.g. ernough for enough.

Eras. Erasmus (as applied to certain divisions of the school): Christ's Hospital: late C. 19–20. Marples. Cf. Grec.

erg. 'In the R.N.A.S. at Mudros [in 1915] we called any member of a working party an "erg", i.e. the lowest unit of work.' S/Ldr. R. Raymond, letter of March 24, 1945. Ex Gr. ergon, work.

Eric, or Little by Little. A c.p. directed at shy or sexually-slow youths: since ca. 1860. Ex the phenomenal popularity of Dean F. W. Farrar's novel of school-life, Eric; or Little by Little, 1858, the story of Eric, a boy that, little by little, went to the dogs and a pathetic end.

erk, 1 (p. 258). Perhaps ex 'a lower-deck rating'—the most probable explanation.—2. Hence (?), a recruit, an A.C.2 (the lowest of the low: I was one for 2 years 9 months, so experto credet!); oec. applied (Jackson, 1943) also to, but much resented by, an A.C.1: R.A.F.: since 1918. Prob. ex 'aircraftmen'. See esp. Partridge, 1945, both in introduction and in glossary; earlier in, e.g., E.P. in The New Statesman, Sept. 19, 1942, and H. & P., 1943. On March 9, 1945, W/Cdr F. J. H. Heading wrote to say, 'The term "Erk" was first used in the R.A.F. Depot, Uxbridge, in 1920. The origination . . . was brought about when I wrote the song "One of the Aires", Aires being an abbreviation of aircraftmen. Through frequent use the term came to be pronounced Erk and I have no knowledge of the term being used in the R.F.C., R.N.A.S. or R.A.F. before the year 1920'; then on the 20th March, 'To me Air Mechanics of the R.A.F. were always known as Aek Emmas'. The weight of the evidence, however, shows that the song reinforced and hastened the growth of a term that was, in fact, already current.

Ermy One. H.M.S. Hermione: Naval (lower-deck): C. 20. Granville.

Ernie, the electronic brain that selects the numbers of the winners of Premium Savings Bonds, was never lower than coll. and very soon became the accepted name: since Oct. 1956, the month before the first bonds were issued. Ex the initials of the full technical and official name of the instrument.

Ernie Marsh. Grass: rhyming s.: C. 20.

Erroll Flynn; esp. on the . . . , on the chin: rhyming s.: ca. 1938-60. Franklyn 2nd.

erth. Three: back s.: since ca. 1845. A.W.S. in The Evening News, March 7, 1938, 'The inverted numbers, eno, owt, erth, and so on are sometimes used by card-players in the East End [of London].' Mayhew, I, 1851 has erth; 'threepence'.

erth pu. The game of Three-up: back s.: 1851, Mayhew, I.

ertia. The opposite of S.E. inertia: Australian jocular: since late 1950's. (B.P.) esclop (p. 258). Earlier in Mayhew, I, 1851.

Eskimo Nell is an imaginary Naval heroine—the central figure in a ballad almost as long as it is bawdy. Late C. 19-20. Cf. Ballocky Bill (p. 29).

Essedartus. See 'Occupational names'.

essence of pig-shit, the. A luscious girl: Naval lower-deck: since ca. 1925, but never very general. Satirical of names for scents; but also allusive to as happy as pigs in shit.

estam. See stam.

estamint. The 'Hobson-Jobson' of estaminet: Army: 1914-18. (Ian Hay, Carrying on, 1917.)

et cet. Et cetera: trivial coll., mostly Australian: C. 20. C. E. McGill, 'With bags an' bottles, bones, et-cet, a bloke can make his pile, | An' knock about at ricees then in real old Sydney style,' in 'Me Donah What's at Home', a poem (in The Bakara Bulletin, 1919) showing how strong is the Cockney influence on certain sections of Australian English. Cf. rabbo, q.v.

Eten Halen. See 'Prisoner-of-War Slang', 9.

eternal.—2. In C. 18 it oec. signified 'thorough; thorough-going', as in Sessions, 6th session of 1733, "'Kempton swore at me, God damn your Blood and Liver, you eternal Bitch'": cf. sense 1, on p. 258.

etsi-ketsi is a 1946 + variant of—and rather more disparaging (connotation 'wet') than—allah keefik ('couldn't care less'), whether comment or description. 'An allahkeefik—no! an etsi-ketsi—type, he was.' Perhaps from Modern Greek.

ettie or etty. A girl: low London: since ca. 1950. John Gloag, Unlawful Justice, 1962, "Jimmy's no good to etties, see? Can't give what they take" and 'Leader Lad going for this cute ettie'. Ex Ettie, Etty, a girl's name.

Europe morning, have a. To rise late from bed: Anglo-Indian coll.: from ca. 1870; ob. B. & L. In India one has to rise early in order to get a good day's work done, work being unhealthy in the middle of the day.

Evans, Mrs. See Mrs Evans.

evaporate (p. 259) goes back to ca. 1820 or perhaps a decade earlier still. William Maginn, Tales of Military Life, 1829 (at II, 257), "'By the powers, Major," exclaimed Miles . . . ; "the Missus o' the house has frightened away that poor fellow; I suppose she put him in mind of his wife, that he evaporated with such alacrity." (Moe.)

evasive action, take. 'To keep away from trouble' (Jackson, 1943): see take evasive action.

even blind Freddie. . . . See blind Freddie . . .

even Stephen (or Steven). Share and share alike: Canada and Australia: C. 20. B., 1942. Adopted from U.S. with ref. to Stephen (Dict.). By reduplication of even.

even terms. (To work) merely for one's keep: Australian coll.: since ca. 1910. Baker.

evening. See Sunday.

Evening, The. The Evening News: coll.: C. 20.

ever. An intensive coll. usage, adopted by non-cultured Canadians ca. 1940 ex U.S. 'In the Yukon, ca. 1950, I heard "Well, did Hard-Rock MacDonald ever tie one on!"' (Leechman.) Hence the Canadian teenagers' and (older) children's c.p., was it ever!, as in 'Was it a good dance, darling?'—'Was it ever!' Also as in 'Was he nice?'—'Was he ever!'

ever?, did you (p. 259) occurs in An Old Etonian, The Alphabet Annotated, 1853:

'Some exclaim, and think themselves so clever!
Did you ever? (answer) no, I never!'

everlastings. Bare feet: Australian: ca. 1910-50. Ex everlasting shoes (p. 259).

ever-loving. One's wife: Australian: since ca. 1935. Elliptical. (B.P.)

every man Jack (p. 259) prob. goes back to ca. 1810 or perhaps even to late C. 18: it occurs in The Night Watch (II, 115), 1828. Moe.

every night about this time. An Australian c.p. referring to coition: since ca. 1955. Ex radio announcements. (B.P.)

every time! A c.p. of enthusiastic assent: since ca. 1935.

everybody's doing it, doing it, doing it. A c.p. of ca. 1912-14. (Robert Keable, Simon Called Peter, 1921.) Ex a very popular song, the reference being to the Turkey Trot, 'the rage' in 1912-13.

everything but the kitchen sink; esp. throw in . . ., applied notably to a bombardment: 1939-45; hence, since 1945, to an intense collective effort.

everything in the garden's lovely! An early record: G. B. Lancaster, Jim of the Ranges, 1910, p. 110.

everything is George. All is well, esp. for me: beatnik c.p.: since ca. 1959. (Anderson.)

everything that opens and shuts. Everything needed to make life comfortable: Australian c.p.: since ca. 1950. Ex household gadgets. (B.P.)

everything (or everything's) under control. A Services c.p., applied to a situation where things are 'ticking over' nicely: since ca. 1930. H. & P.; Granville.

everything's hunkey-dory. See hunks.

evo. Evening: Australian: C. 20. Baker. Cf. afto.

evolution, make an. 'To do anything with the maximum of fuss' (P-G-R): Naval officers': since ca. 1918.

ewif, five. Mayhew, I, 1851; where also ewif yen(n)ep, fivepence, and ewif-gen, five shillings (a crown).

ex.—2. Ex-wife or ex-husband: Society: since ca. 1920. Agatha Christie, Towards Zero, 1944, 'Leonard's new wife and his Ex'.

ex, v. To excise by crossing out: Australian coll.: since ca. 1930. (D'Arcy Niland, 1958.) To put a X through.

Ex, His. Also New Zealand, as is the G.G (B., 1941.)

exchange spits. To kiss: low: late C. 19-20.—2. Hence (?), to coit: workmen's. C. 20.

excite!, don't. A much earlier reference is this: E. H. Hornung, Raffles, 1899, "'All right, guv'nor," drawled Raffles: "don't excite. It's a fair cop," Excitement (or e.), the. 'There were, in British Columbia, a number of gold rushes before the great strike in the Yukon in 1896. These events, of which the Fraser River gold rush of 1858 was the first, are still referred to as "the excitement". "Harry stayed on after the excitement" and so on' (Lcechman, 1962): Canadian coll.: since ca. 1859.

excrementum cerebellum vincit. A jocularly erudite wartime c.p., 'translating' bullshit baffles brains (above): Army officers': 1939-45. Cf. illegitimis non carborundum below.

excuse me, the. The w.c.: rhyming s.: since ca. 1930.

excuse my abbrev; it's a hab. (I.e. abbreviation; habit.) A c.p. uttered by, or directed at, a person given to trivial abridgements: ca. 1910-12. Such abbr. were much more frequent ca. 1890-1912 than before—or since.

excuse the French! See French!, pardon the.

exec, esp. in exec meeting, an executive meeting: since late 1950's.

execution. A very large crowd drawn by a 'grafter': grafters': C. 20. News of the World, Aug. 28, 1938.—2. Hence, a large crowd around a market man: street market vendors': since ca. 1930. (Julian Franklyn, note of 1962.)

exercise P.U. A drinking-session: Naval officers': 1939-45. (P-G-R.)

Exhibitish, the. Any notable Exhibition: Naval: C. 20.

exis, 1 (p. 260). Earlier in Mayhew, I, 1851; where also exis yen(n)ep, sixpence.

expat. An expatriate; applied esp. to a white man electing to earn his living in an Asian or East Indian or African state: since the late 1940's. In, e.g., John Slimming, The Pepper Garden (a novel about modern Sarawak), 1968.

expectations, not up to her. This innocent phrase has, among music-hall comedians and the lewd of the baser sort, come to have, since ca. 1927, an erotic implication.

expensive. Excellent; esp. in ref. to a very good party: Services (esp. Army) officers': since ca. 1938. (Communicated in April 1942, by Grenfell Finn-Smith.) Cf. American ritzy.

export trade, the. The procuring of women and shipping them to the Argentine: white-slavers' c.: from ca. 1890. Albert Londres, The Road to Buenos Ayres, 1928.

express (train). In W.W. I 'we called large enemy shells this as we heard them passing overhead to the back areas. They made a noise like express trains' (A. B. Petch, March 1966): Army term.

extern. An external examiner: University: late C. 19-20.

extra-curricular activities. Adulterous sexual play and intercourse: cultured coll.: since late 1940's.

extra ducks. Additional waiters employed to serve at banquets: caterers': since ca. 1920. Ex their waddling gait.

extra early. First rate, very good, excellent: New Zealand: since ca. 1945.

extra grouse. Exceptionally well or attractive or meritorious: Aus.: C. 20. (B., 1959.) Cf. grouse, the, below.

extra sort (superlative to the positive good sort) is a person exceedingly attractive to the opposite sex; contrast drack sort: Australian: since ca. 1945. (B., 1953.)

extra two inches you're supposed to get after you're forty. A c.p. referring to an imaginary phallic compensation for the years that the locusts have eaten: Forces': 1939-45.

extract the urine from. To 'take the piss out of': Services' jocular euphemism: 1939 +. (P-G-R.)

extraordinar'. Extraordinary; extraordinarily: lower classes', resp. coll. and sol.: mid-C. 19-20. Nevins, 1895, 'I've mostly been 'appy enough all my time . . . and at times I've been extraordinar' happy.' Common, too, in Scottish.

etry. Additional: sol. for extra: mid-C. 19-20. Ibid. (Also in dial.)

eye. A look-out man: c.: from ca. 1925. The Pawnshop Murder.

eye, have in one's. To have in mind: coll.: ca. 1790-1860. 'To some true girl I'll be steering, / I've got one in my eye'—from an unidentified British poem antedating 1806 and quoted in an American magazine, The Port Folio, May 17, 1806, p. 304. (Moe.)

eye-hole.—2. Introitus urethrae: low: late C. 19-20.

eye—or arse—in a sling, get one's. To get into trouble: eye, C. 20; arse, since ca. 1930. The less respectable arse occurs in, e.g., Elleston Trevor, The Freebooters, 1967.

eye(-)lotion. Wine in small quantity: Services officers' since ca. 1925. H. & P. Cf. lotion and gargle in the Dict.

eyel, my.—2. But also as a simple exclamation, as in Wm Maginn, Whitehall, 1827 (p. 46), "'Bless us, there's the Dover coach again. My eye, she's setting down all her passengers at Holmes's'' Moe.

eye opened, have one's. To be robbed: ca. 1820-80. (Alexander Somerville, Autobiography of a Working Man, 1848.) Hence the n. eye-opening.

eye-opener.—2. A drink taken before going on early-morning patrol: R.F.C.—R.A.F. officers': since ca. 1916. (Guy Fowler, The Dawn Patrol, 1930.)

eye-picker. 'One who "picks the eyes out" of a grazing district by taking up the best land' (B., 1943): Australian: C. 20.

eyeful. An attractive girl or young woman: Australian: since ca. 1918. Baker. She takes the eye.—2. An accidental but fortunate glimpse of even the partial nakedness of a member of the opposite sex: C. 20. Cf. the next.

eyeful?, got your. Have you had a good look?: low: from ca. 1910. Cf. eyeful phrase in Dict.

eyes!, my (p. 261). Rather: ca. 1780-1910. In an English song (? Charles Dibdin's ?) reprinted in The Port Folio of Nov. 1, 1806 (p. 268), we find these lines:

'To Thompson let the bumbo pass, Grey, Parker, Walgrave, Calder,
Nelson, who took St. Nicholas,
My eyes, why how he mauled her!'

(With thanks to Colonel Albert F. Moe.)

eyes and ears of the world, the. An Australian c.p., applied ironically to one who has all the latest information: since ca. 1950. Ex the motto of Gaumont British News. (B.P.)

eyes chalked!, get your. To one not looking where he is going, or to a clumsy person: North Country: late C. 19-20.

eyes for, have. To crave (a thing), be amorous (of a person): orig. (ca. 1955) and still mainly beatnik. 'What's the matter, man? You got eyes for Mary?'—'John's sure got eyes for that bottle!' (Leechman.)

eyes like cod's ballocks, have. To be pop-eyed: low: C. 20.

eyes like piss-holes in the snow. Deeply sunken yellow eyes: low coll.: C. 20. The Canadian form is . . . two piss-holes . . .

eyes of the ship, the. The bows of the ship; well forward therein. Naval coll.: C. 19-20. Granville, 'Chinese ships used to have eyes painted on the bows.'

eyes out, go. To make every effort: work exceedingly hard: Australian: since ca. 1820. B., 1942. On cry one's eyes out.

eyes stick out like chapel hat-pegs or like organ stops, e.g. his; the tense is adjustable. His eyes are (fig.) protuberant: coll.: since ca. 1910. These phrases could be classified as catch-phrases.

eyesight good, it does or will do your (or my, etc.). A c.p. applied to something well worth seeing: late C. 19-20.

eyesight in it, there's. That's evident or obvious: c.p.: since ca. 1935.

Eyetie. An Italian aircraft: R.A.F.: 1940 +. Jackson. See Eyeties (p. 261).

Eyeto. An Italian: Australian: 1940 +. B., 1942. Ex prec. on Italiano.

eyewash parade. A C.O.'s inspection: Army: 1914-18, and after. See eyewash (p. 261).

F

'f. Pron. rather as v and slurred into the preceding syllable, 'f is a slovenly coll. (rare before C. 20) for of. E.g. Dornford Yates, As Other Men Are, 1930, in dialogue: 'About a quarter 'f a mile—that way.'

f for th. This process (see Dict.) is carried still further in the tendency observable since ca. 1920 for th to > ff, as in broffer (pron. bruffer) for brother.

F.H.B. occurs, e.g., in Ian Hay's Safety Match, 1911.

F.I.F.A.S. or F.Y.F.A.S. See fyfas below.

f.t.b. or F.T.B. A c.p. reply (lower-middle class) to 'Have you had enough to eat?': C. 20. I.e. full to bursting.

F.U. A 'fuck-up' or grave muddle: low (C. 20) and Forces' (1939 +). See e.g., M.F.U.

F.U.J. Fuck you, Jack! Also predicative, as in 'Oh, he's F.U.J.': indifferent to others' misfortunes: Forces': 1939–45.

fa. Father: upper classes' coll.: C. 20. Nancy Mitford, The Pursuit of Love, 1945.

fab, adj. Very good; successful; teenagers' (esp. the coffee-bar set): 1957–8. An ephemerid of 1958 was fantabulous, a blend of fantastic + fabulous.

fabulous. A verbal counter, meaning 'very—or merely—agrecable' or 'unusual' or '(very) interesting' or '(very) large' or 'distinguished' or . . . : coll.: since ca. 1945. After being theatrical s. of ca. 1945–50, it > gen. s. and, by 1962, something of a vogue word. Cf. fab, above, and fantabulous below.

face, n.—5. Personal appearance: Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1942. Cf. American front.

face, v. To punch in the face: pugilistic: ca. 1815–50. Boxiana, III, 1821. Cf. bellier and jawer.

face, put on a. To change one's expression, usually to severity: coll.: C. 19–20. Cf. what a face: how severe or disapproving you look!: coll.: mid-C. 19–20.

face at half-past eight, with one's. Mournful; wry-mouthed: C. 20.

face at the window, the. A c.p. applied to someone looking through or even merely appearing at a window: late C. 19–20; little used since 1939. Originally, a 'thriller' or a melodrama—or both.

face-fins. Moustaches: orig. nautical: late C. 19–20. Frank Richardson.

face-fittings. A beard and/or moustache: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Cf.:—

face-fungus. Earlier in works of the late Frank Richardson (1870–1917).

face in a knot, get (or tie) one's. To become angry—or agitated—or bewilderingly excited: Australian: C. 20. Baker.

face-lifter. An uppercut to the jaw: pugilistic: since ca. 1925. Ex beauty-parlour treatment.

face like a coastguard station, have a. To look stony and grim: since ca. 1940. (Lauric Atkinson, Sept. 11, 1967.)

face like a mountain goat(s), have a. To be an Irish, Scottish or Welsh dupe: c.: C. 20. With pun on mug, n., 1.

face like a scrubbed hammock, (have) a. To have) a pale sour-looking face: Naval: since ca. 1920. Granville. Contrast face like a sea-boot (p. 261), which Granville defines as 'a long-drawn "fathom of misery"'. face like a sea-boot (p. 261). Since ca. 1930, however, it has predominantly denoted 'a long-drawn "fathom of misery"' (P-G-R).

face like a yard of pump-water. A 'long'—i.e. miserable or glum—face: coll.: C. 20.

face like the back of a bus, have a; occ. face that would stop a bus or like the side of a house. Of girls or women: to be very plain-looking: since late 1940's. A more brutal variant is . . . like the rear end of a cow.

face on the cutting room floor, the. An actor or actress cut out of a picture because, after the picture has been completed, it is found that the rôle is superfluous: film-land: since ca. 1920. See esp. Cameron McCabe's clever novel so titled, 1937.

face red?, is—or was—my. Am, or was, I embarrassed, or ashamed!—a c.p. dating from ca. 1954; by 1966, just slightly ob.

face-ticket is very ob. in its British Museum sense.—2. A season ticket: among those who travel by train or 'tube': coll.: from ca. 1920.

facer, 3 and 4 (p. 262). Cf. the earlier 'At the first facer Hume or Voltaire is grassed and gives in' (J. Wilson, Noctes Ambrosianae, I, 162, i.e. in 1822: O.E.D.).

facie is a mere variant of facey (Dict.).

facility is occ. misused for faculty. Thus, 'He had a remarkable facility for motor-racing.' The mistake (rare before C. 20) seems to be caused by confusing such locutions as 'There were, he found, excellent facilities for motor-racing' and 'He had a remarkable facility in motor-racing'; cf. too such a possibility as 'He had a facile faculty for motor-racing' and the implications of the Fr. arrêt facultatif, which is one of the municipal facilities.

factory, the (p. 262).—2. Hence, the factory, the police station: late C. 19–20. F. D. Sharpe, Sharpe of the Flying Squad, 1938.—3. 'The model agricultural colony at Carroceto (Anzio bridgehead), a prominent landmark': Army: latter part of World War II. (P-G-R.)

fade, do a; take a powder. To disappear without paying rent: Canadian carnival workers': C. 20. The latter was adopted from U.S. and has, since ca. 1940, been general Canadian s. Ex the 'moving' powers of a laxative powder.

fade, on the, adj. and adv. (By, in) evading justice, dodging the police: Australian c.: since ca. 1920. B., 1942.

faded, have got (someone). To have someone at a disadvantage: Canadian: since ca. 1940. Esp. in relation to the dice game of craps—and perhaps from it. Dr Douglas Leechman has pertinently asked, 'Can this be ex fated?' I rather think it might. On the other hand, the Canadian sense derives ex the American: and the American is 'to have him matched or equalled'; the U.S. 'I've got him faded' = 'I can match any trick or threat of his with one just as potent', esp. at craps, as Mr Robert Clairborne of New York tells me.

fadger.—2. A farthing: Cockneys': late C. 19–20. J. W. Horsley, I Remember, 1912. By corruption.

fag, n.—6. (Ex 2.) A lawyer's clerk: Australian: C. 20. B. 1942. Jocular.—7. A bore, as in 'It's a bit of a fag', rather boring, rather a nuisance: C. 20. Perhaps cf. sense 3 of the v.

fag, v., 3 (p. 262), prob. derives ex the more gen. sense, 'to work hard, whether mentally or physically'—a sense app. current since ca. 1770 and almost certainly deriving ex Southern Scottish and Northern English dialect. The Port Folio, 30 May 1801, p. 175; The Dublin Magazine, March 1834, p. 246. (Moe.)

[fag-end. See 'Miscellanea'. But it has always, I think, been S.E.]

fag-end at Marlborough and Tonbridge = interruption; fag-ends! at Marlborough and fag-end off! at Durham = stop listening in!; at Durham fag-ends = eavesdropping; fag-end, v.t., and pick up fag-ends at Oundle = to overhear, or to interrupt: C. 20. Marples.—2. 'To have only a partial or muddled understanding of something that has been said' (Nicolas Bentley, 1961): since ca. 1955.

fag-hag. See 'Canadian'.

fag-hole. The mouth: contemptuous: since ca. 1945. Semantically cf. cake-hole above.

fagger.—2. A day with work periods in the afternoon: Marlborough College: since ca. 1880. Ex official fag-day.

fagging.—3. An exhausting experience or bout of work: late C. 18–20. Cf. fag, v., 3, above.

fain I. Prob. ex † feign, to shirk or get out of.

faintest, the. The least idea; as in 'I haven't the faintest': coll.: since ca. 1910. I.e. the faintest (remotest) idea.

fair, intensive adj. and adv. ('That's a fair ol' coat'), characteristic of office- and shop-girls' of ca. 1956–9. (Gilderdale.)

fair crack of the whip, give (someone) a. To deal fairly with someone: Aus.: C. 20. (B., 1959.)

fair doo's (p. 263). Throughout C. 20, and earlier. Origin: fair dues, as in C. T. Clarkson & J. Hall Richardson, Police, 1889, 'Now then, fair dues; let everybody be searched, I have no money about me.' Since ca. 1930, more usually fair doo's all round.

fair enough. As a question it = 'Satisfied? Convinced? Agreeable to you?'; as a comment it = 'That sounds plausible enough' or 'I'll accept your statement'. Services (esp. R.A.F.) coll.: since the 1920's. R. M. Davison, Sept. 26, 1942 (letter). H. & P. point out that it is often used by instructors. Common in Australia by ca. 1940: Baker.

fair, fat and farty is a vulgar perversion—since ca. 1930—of the c.p. fair, fat and forty, itself current since ca. 1820. The c.p. occurs in, e.g., Anon., The New Swell's Night Guide, 1846.

fair few, a. A considerable number: Australian coll.: late C. 19–20. 'I have a fair few sheep in this paddock.' (B.P.)

fair go. A fight, esp. between two persons: Australian: late C. 19–20. Baker. As an interjection it = 'Be reasonable!'

fair meat. An easy dupe: c.: from ca. 1910.

fair skint. Very short of money or even entirely 'broke': mainly North Country: C. 20.

fair to middling. A jocular c.p. reply to 'How are you?': mostly Australian: since ca. 1945. (B.P.) fairy glen. A lavatory: railwaymen's: since ca. 1945 (?). Railway, 3rd.

fairy powder. A mixture of potassium chlorate and sulphur: Australian schoolboys': since ca. 1930. 'Struck with a hammer, it makes a noise quite unlike a fairy (lucus a non lucendo)': B.P.

fairyland. A synonym of Christmas tree, 4, above.

fake, n.—5. (Ex sense 2, p. 263). Stuff used in patent medicines, a patent medicine; a (so-called) cure: showmen's: since ca. 1870. Wm Newton, Secrets of Tramp Life, 1886. Ex corn fake, corn cure, and nob fake, hair-restorer.—6. Make-up: theatrical: since ca. 1875. (B. & L.) Cf. fake up (Dict.).

fake, v. (Cf. sense 1 on p. 263.) To improvise; to play by ear: Canadian dance-bands': ca. 1920–36.

fake the marks. 'They're faking the marks'—footnoted 'the shares were changing hands at fictitious prices' (C. H. B. Kitchin, The Cornish Fox, 1949): stockbrokers': C. 20.

fakement.—5. Paint for the face: theatrical: from ca. 1870. B. & L.—6. Any letter; a note: 1826, Spy, II; † by 1910. Ex sense 1.

falderals, 'silly ideas' (p. 264), is very much older than I had suspected, for it occurs in a Charles Dibdin song quoted by The Port Folio, an American magazine, on Nov. 30, 1805 (p. 376, col. 2): 'He runs, while listening to their fal de rals, / Bump ashore on the Scilly Isles.' Moe.

fall down the sink. A, to, drink: rhyming s.: late C. 19–20. Since ca. 1930, usually tumble . . . (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

fall in the shit. See shit.

fall into a cart (or dump or heap or load or pile) of shit and come out with a gold watch (or with a new suit on). A C. 20 Cockney c.p., applied to an habitually lucky person, or to one who has been extraordinarily lucky on a specific occasion.

fall into (the) shit and come up smelling of violets. See he could fall . . .

fall off a Christmas tree, I didn't. A c.p., rejecting imputation of credulity: C. 20. (Atkinson.)

fall-out. 'Jocularly used regarding the danger of pieces falling out of an old car' (B.P.): Australian: since ca. 1955. Ex atomic fall-out.—2. The risk of breasts falling out of a scanty bra or a bikini swimsuit: Australian: since ca. 1960.

fall out of the boat. To become unpopular in a Naval mess: Naval: C. 20. (P-G-R.)

fall over backwards. To go beyond the normal and the expected in order to show how honourably disinterested or how honest or upright one is: since ca. 1945. 'He'll fall over backwards, just to prove that his friendship in no way influences him in your favour.' Cf. two inches beyond up-right.

In Britain, however, much commoner is lean over backwards.

fall to pieces. (Of a woman) to be confined; to give birth to a child: Australian lower-middle class: C. 20. B., 1942.

fallen angel. A defaulter, a bankrupt: Stock Exchange: ca. 1810-70. Spy, II, 1826.

fallers. Windfall apples, pears, etc.: rural coll.: late C. 19-20. Perhaps on the S.E. keepers.

falling over oneself (to do something). Very eager: coll.: since ca. 1920.

falls, over the. Applied to a surfer 'trying to pull out of a wave too late' (Pix, Sept. 28, 1963): Australian surfers': since ca. 1961.

false, v. To tell dishonest lies: (orig. low) Australian: since ca. 1930. Lawson Glassop, Lucky Palmer, 1949, "'Perce," said "Lucky" earnestly. "You knew me well in Sydney. Have you ever caught me falsin'?"

false flap. A bad cheque: N.T., Australia: since ca. 1930. Ernestine Hill, The Territory, 1951.

falsies. Imitation breasts, breasts artificially aggrandized: adopted, ca. 1944, from U.S. servicemen.

family, hold off. See f.h.o. in the Dict.

family prayers. See prayers . . .

family tree, the. The lavatory: mostly Services': since ca. 1930. (P-G-R.) Rhyming s. By 1960, †. (Franklyn 2nd.)

Famishing Fifty. See Sinbad.

famous crimes is a Naval synonym (since 1920) of drip-pan. Granville.

famous last words. 'A catch-phrase rejoinder to such fatuous statements as "Flak's not really dangerous". (Air Force)': 1939+. (P-G-R.) Hence in the other Services and, since ca. 1945, among civilians. A jocular reference to History's 'famous last words'.

fan, n.—4. An aircraft propeller: R.A.F.: since ca. 1916. H. & P.—5. (also whizzer.) A ship's propeller: Naval: since ca. 1918.—6. Short for fanny, female pudend, as in 'her old fan': low: since ca. 1950.

fan-mail. Letters received from unknown admirers, esp. by a film star: adopted ca. 1925, ex U.S.; by 1936, it had > coll. Ex fan, n., 2 (Dict).

fanad. None, nothing: Army: since the 1920's. H. & P. Short for 'Sweet Fanny Adams'.

fancy.—3. 'His father took a great deal to the fancy . . . it meant dealing in birds, and dogs, and rabbits,' J. Greenwood, The Little Ragamuffins, 1884: poor Londoners' coll.: from ca. 1860. B. & L.—Sense 1 appears earlier in one of Scott's letters, 1815.

fancy house. A brothel: prostitutes' c.: from ca. 1860. B. & L.

fancy man, 1 (p. 265), occurs earlier in Alfred Burton, Johnny Newcome, 1818. (Moe.)

fancy pants. Any male, esp. a child, 'dressed to the nines': Canadian: since ca. 1925. (Leechman.)

fancy piece (p. 265). An interesting sidelight is afforded by a slightly earlier recording: 1821, Pierce Egan, Life in London, 'Fancy piece . . . a sporting phrase for a "bit of nice game", kept in a preserve in the suburbs. A sort of bird of Paradise.'

fancy sash. A punch: Australian rhyming s.

(on bash or smash): ca. 1880-1920. B., 1945, cites The (Sydney) Bulletin of Jan. 18, 1902.

Fancy Tart, the. H.M.S. Vansittart: Naval (lower-deck): 1920's and 1930's. A 'Hobson-Jobson'.

fancy waistcoats, speak. To speak with the utmost accuracy: Naval: C. 20. Granville.

fancy work. Genitals, including the pubic hair, usually of the male parts: feminine euphemistic s.: C. 20. 'He must be a sexual maniac, he persists in showing his fancy work.'

fang or tooth, good on the. Applied to one who is a good trencherman: Australian: since ca. 1945. (Culotta.)

fang bo'sun; pill bo'sun. Dentist; doctor: Australian Naval: since ca. 1910.

fang(-)carpenter. Australian variant of:—

fang(-)farrier. A dentist: Army: C. 20. H. & P. See fang-chovey in Dict.

fangs in, put the; v.t., info. To borrow money: Australian: C. 20. Baker.

Fanny.—8. Also the inevitable nickname of men surnamed Adams: late C. 19-20. Ex Fanny Adams, q.v., in Dict.

fanny, n. Sense 2: earlier in 'Taffrail'.—8. A large mess-kettle: Naval: since ca. 1925.—9. The backside: adopted, ca., 1930, from U.S. Noel Coward's Private Lives, 1930. Cf. sense 1 (p. 265, end).—10. A story: Guards regiments': since ca. 1935. Gerald Kersh, Bill Nelson, 1942. Ex senses 6, 7.—11. The knuckle-duster dagger used by Commandos: Army: 1942-5.

fanny, park one's. To sit down. Adopted from U.S. ca. 1939. See fanny, n., 9.

fanny a pitch. To 'spiel'—talk glibly—until enough people have gathered: showmen's: late C. 19-20. (John o' London's Weekly, March 4, 1949.) Cf. fanny, v., on p. 266.

Fanny Adams, 1, is predominantly, in the post-1910 Navy: stew. (Granville.) fanny hat; cunt hat. A trilby: since ca. 1930. Ex the dent in the crown. (See fanny, n. 1: p. 265.) The latter term is regarded as low even in frank 'circles'.

fanny rag. A sanitary pad: low Australian: since ca. 1945. Cf. fanny, n., 1, on p. 265.

fantabulous. A blend of fantastic and fabulous: ca. 1961-4. It occurs in, e.g., John Winton, Never Go to Sea, 1963.

fantastic. Very good, or even merely good; excellent or almost so; attractive, unusual, esp. unusual and either good or attractive or both: since late 1940's. On a par with fabulous above; Anthony Lejeune indicted the pair in his witty 'Disc jockeys don't talk so good' in The Daily Telegraph, coloured supplement, March 10, 1967. Closely paralleled—and perhaps prompted by—marvellous on p. 511.

fantod, 2. 'The groggybber is our highest authority on headaches, fantods, and bankruptcy,' 'Tom Collins', Such is Life (in Australia), 1903.

far and near. Beer: rhyming s.: late C. 19-20. Little used. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

far away (p. 266). The origin of sense 1 is the hymn, 'There is a happy land, far, far away'.

far better off in a home, usually preceded by you'd be. A vague c.p.: since ca. 1920. The home is presumably institutional.

fardy. A farthing: (mostly London) street-vendors': C. 19-20; ob. Mayhew, I, 1851. Cf. farden (Dict.).

farewell do. A leaving of paybook, watch, rings, with someone not going into action when one is oneself going in: Tommies': W.W. I. (A. B. Petch.)

Farewell Jetty. 'Officially they call it South Railway Jetty, but all Portsmouth and the Navy's nearest and dearest have known it for decades as Farewell Jetty. It is down at the seaward end of the dockyard where warships lie their last night or two before leaving for abroad' (A Correspondent's article—'Outward Bound from Farewell Jetty'—in The Times, June 15, 1964): coll.: late C. 19-20.

farm.—3. Hence, the farm is also loosely applied to the prison itself: c.: from ca. 1910.

farm, at the. In prison: Australian c.: since ca. 1910. (K. S. Prichard, Kiss on the Lips, 1932.) Cf. preceding entry.

Farm, the. Warwick Farm racecourse and motor track: Sydneyites' coll.: since late 1940's. (B.P.)

Farmer Giles. Haemorrhoids: Aus. rhyming s. (on piles): C. 20. Mary Durack, Keep Him My Country, 1955, p. 351, 'This form of rhyming slang is . . . commonly used in the outback.'

Farmers, the. The Tank Corps: Australian soldiers': 1940 +. B., 1942.

Farmer's Bible, the. The mail-order catalogue of the T. Eaton Co.: Canadian: since ca. 1918.

Farmers' Strike, the. 'The Boer War was referred to as this, when comparing it to the 1914-18 War': W.W. I, esp. among soldiers. The latter war was, in turn, called the Bow and Arrow War when W.W. II got under way—of course, only by those who had had no experience of the first one': ca. 1940-45. (A. B. Petch, March 1966.) farmyard nuggets. Eggs: Naval (lower-deck): C. 20. Granville.

Farrington Hotel. 'The Fleet Prison which is in Farrington Street,' G. W. M. Reynolds, Pickwick Abroad, 1839: ca. 1825-70.

fat-arsed mechanic. A clumsy person: Londoners': from ca. 1925.

fat(-)catcher. A homosexual: low: since ca. 1930. John Gardner, Madrigal, 1967, "'Oh, bleeding hell . . . manager's a flaming pouve. A fat catcher.'" fat in a bottle, or colander, like a. See pea in a colander.

fat in a gale, like a. Utterly helpless: (West) Canadian: C. 20. Cf.:—

fat in a wind-storm, as much chance as a. No chance at all: Canadian c.p.: since ca. 1910. But like a f. in a w.s. is English for 'puny; ineffective; incommensurate': low: C. 20. (Laurie Atkinson, Sept. 11, 1967.)

fartarsing about or around. 'Moving (in a motor vehicle) without definite knowledge of one's exact location. Army from ca. 1940. There is a subtle difference between this and swanning around (below). If one was swanning around the blue (above: sense 13) one still thought one knew where one was.' (Peter Sanders.)

farthing dip. A piece of bread dipped in hot fat and sold by pork butchers: coll.: ca. 1820-80. Ex the candle so named.

farting, adj. A pejorative: low: C. 20. Angus Wilson, Anglo-Saxon Attitudes, 1956, 'Or some other farting nonsense.'

farting(-)clapper. The podex: mostly workmen's: late C. 19-20.

Farting Fanny. A German heavy gun operating in the Arras sector; its shell: military, esp. artillerymen's: 1915-16, then mostly historical. Blaker, 'The War was trundling on quite peaceably as they walked and jogged eastwards towards it, with the occasional clang of Farting-Fanny's arrival in cavernous Arras.'

farting shot. A vulgar way of showing contempt for the company (whether singular or plural) one is leaving, esp. after a quarrel: since ca. 1940.

fart's the cry of an imprisoned turd, a. This coarsely poetical c.p. satirizes the behaviour of one who, having just broken wind, might well, for more reasons than one, go to the water-closet. Apparently it dates from the 1930's; an allusion to 'a bird imprisoned in a cage'.

fast, adj.—5. (Mostly of animals.) Engaged in coition: C. 20. 'She would blush if she saw two dogs fast.' Cf. S.E. fast colours.

fast one. 'A remark giving rise for thought,' H. & P.: Services: since ca. 1935; ob. by 1946. H. & P. Ex Larwood fast-bowling at cricket.—2. Hence (or independently ex same origin), esp. in pull a fast one, to 'do the dirty', to malingering, to wangle something one is not entitled to, to evade a duty: Services: since ca. 1938. H. & P.

fat, n.—7. (Esp. of cattle, but also of sheep) a fat beast: Australian coll.: mid-C. 19-20. 'Tom Collins', Such Is Life, 1903.—8. Good luck: Regular Army: late C. 19-20. Cf. senses 4, 5. By ca. 1930, general lower-class s.: as in Pamela Branch, The Wooden Overcoat, 1951.

fat, adj.—4. See ace, adj., above: since ca. 1940. Cf. sense 3 on p. 267.

fat, fret one's. See fret one's fat.

fat-arse around. To waste time; to dawdle: New Zealand: C. 20. An elaboration of fart about (p. 267).

fat as a match. (Esp. of a person) very thin indeed: Aus.: since late 1940's. (B., 1959.)

fat as a porker, as; often corrupted to . . . porcupine. As fat as a pig: coll.: mid-C. 19-20.

fat as mud. See mud-fat.

fat-boy. 'Greases wagon axles and does odd jobs in a quarry' (The Evening News, Sept. 28, 1955): quarrymen's: late C. 19-20.

fat cake.—2. A small fried (in fat) cake made of flour: Australian coll.: late C. 19-20; by 1940, Standard. (B., 1943.) Cf. fatty, 2.

Fat Jack. See Bob Short above.

fat-pated, -skulled, -thoughted, -witted. See fat-headed (Dict.).

fat show. No possible chance: New Zealand: since ca. 1930. Cf. the ironical fat chance and see fat, adj., 2 (p. 267).

fat woman, all behind like a. A c.p. in ref. to lateness or delay: C. 20. The Australian shape is . . . like Barney's bull.

father.—4. That boy who acts as guardian and instructor to a new boy during the latter's first fortnight at school: Charterhouse: mid-C. 19-20. In C. 20, rather j. than s.—5. Head of a common lodging house: low: since ca. 1840. Sessions, Dec. 1852.—6. The captain: Naval: since ca. 1954. 'Seems to be used mainly by pussers, but is coming into general use very fast': Wilfred Granville, letter of Nov. 22, 1962.

father and mother of a hiding (thrashing, beating, etc.) or, esp., of a row, a tremendous or extremely vigorous thrashing or quarrel: Anglo-Irish coll.: C. 20. An elaboration of father of a (p. 268).

Father Bunloaf. A Catholic priest: Belfast: C. 20. Pejorative.

Father Christmas. A venerable old man: coll.: C. 20.

father keeps on doing it! A c.p. in ref. to a man with a large family: since ca. 1920. Ex a popular song.

father (something) on (someone). To blame someone for something he did not do; to impute responsibility where it does not rest: coll.: since ca. 1910. Ex fathering an illegitimate child upon the wrong man.

father's backbone, I was (e.g. playing snooker) when you were running up and down your. A variant of before you came up!, q.v. in Dict.: Services, esp. Army: C. 20. H. & P.

father's brother (p. 268) goes back to very early C. 19; it occurs in, e.g., W. N. Glascock, The Naval Sketch-Book, 2nd Series, 1834, at II, 34. (Moe.)

Fatso. Common nickname for any fat person, esp. a fat youth: Canadian: adopted, ca. 1945, ex U.S. (Leechman.)

fattened up, be. The v.-form of fattening for the slaughter (p. 268). Ian Hay, Carrying On, 1917.

fatty.—2. A damper-like cake: Australian: late C. 19–20. B., 1942. Ex the fat used.

favour, I could do that a (real). 'A c.p. tribute to the charms of an attractive woman, or a picture of one' (Laurie Atkinson): since ca. 1945.

favourite. Excellent; the best; esp. in This is (or That's) favourite: Services: since ca. 1930. H. & P. favvers is an Army shape of 'favours': Sept. 7, 1940, The Daily Mail.

fe. Meat: chimneysweepers': C. 19–20; by 1930, ob.; by 1960, †. Adopted from Shelta fe, itself ex Irish feoil.

fear God and tip the crusher! is a Naval motto (lower-deck): C. 20. Cf. crusher, 1 and 3. (P-G-R.)

fear(-)not. A greatcoat: ca. 1810–50. Wm Maginn, Tales of Military Life, 1829, at I, 158. (Moe.)

fearnought.—2. A male pessary: Naval: C. 20. Cf. dreadnought, 1 (Dict.).

feather, in full, sense 2 (p. 269), prob. goes back to early C. 19, to judge by W. N. Glascock's Naval Sketch-Book, 2nd Series, 1834, at I, 149, 278—see quotation at flying light below.

In high feather often = 'in good form'. A still earlier reference occurs in Wm Maginn, Tales of Military Life, 1829, at II, 282. (Moe.) feather, show the white (p. 269). But it arose probably fifty years earlier, for in Grose, 1785, we find, at white feather, 'He has a white feather, he is a coward. . . . An allusion to a game-cock, where having a white feather, is a proof that he is not of the true game breed.' Has variant show a feather, as in Fredk Marryat, Frank Mildmay, 1829 (at p. 334 of the 1897 edition). Moe.

feather and flip. A bed; sleep: late C. 19–20. Rhyming kip (Dict.). Often shortened to feather.

feather-bedding, n. The practice of making things very easy for an elderly or indisposed member of a gang of, e.g., dockers: industrial: C. 20: s. >, by 1940, coll.

feather me! A mild Aus. oath: since ca. 1930. Nino Culotta, Cop That Lot, 1960.

feather-plucker. An objectionable fellow: City of London businessmen's euphemism, sometimes only mildly pejorative: since ca. 1945. Rhyming on fucker.

feathers.—3. Head-hair; beard and/or moustache: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

feathers, grow one's. See grow one's feathers.

February. A brigadier: Australian soldiers': 1939–45. (B., 1943: 'Seeing him always means 28 days' C.B.') fed. Short for fed-up (Dict.): Australian: since ca. 1919. Baker.

fed at both ends . . . (Of a slim bride) 'She should get a bit fatter, fed at both ends, as they say': a low c.p. (— 1958).

Federal case, esp. in 'Don't make a Federal case out of it!'—Don't exaggerate the urgency or desperateness—or, the importance—of the matter: a c.p., adopted ca. 1952, ex U.S., where prob. legal s. at first.

federating, vbl n. Love-making: Australian: C. 20. Baker.

feed a cold and starve a fever. A misuse (C. 19–20) of the proverbial feed a cold and you'll starve a fever.

feed of jeelyreek. A whiff of gelignite fumes: Scottish miners': C. 20.

feed one's face. To eat: contemptuous or, at least, depreciatory: C. 20.

feed the brute! always remember, or all you have to do or the great (or main) thing or the secret is, to feed the brute. A feminine c.p., used either by wives, esp. if young, or by mother to daughters about to marry: late C. 19–20. There is often a connotation of 'That'll keep him happy—and you too'. This is one of the best known of all c.pp., and it arose in Punch (LXXXIX, p. 206) in 1886: witness The Oxford Book of Quotations. It lies, therefore, on the borderline between c.p. and famous quotation.

feel, have a. To take liberties with a member of the opposite sex: low coll.: mid-C. 19–20.

feel an awful heel, I. A c.p., uttered to the accompaniment of a hand placed on the hearer's back: Australian juvenile: since ca. 1930. (B.P.)

feel for (someone's) knowledge box. To aim a blow at an opponent's head: pugilistic: ca. 1810–60. Anon., Every Night Book, 1827.

feel (something) in one's water; often preceded by be able to or can. To have a premonition: coll.: late C. 19–20.

feel like an ounce of uranium. See uranium . . .

feel like death warmed up. To feel very ill—half dead, in fact: (until ca. 1940 proletarian) coll.: C. 20. 'For hours and hours he had to stick to the controls [of his aircraft], feeling like death warmed up,' Paul Brickhill & Conrad Norton, Escape to Danger, 1946. The earliest recording I've seen occurs in the anonymous little The Soldiers' War Slang Dictionary, published on Nov. 28, 1939. Cf. S.E. to look like a living corpse.

feel no pain. To be (very) drunk: since ca. 1945, esp. in Canada. 'How did Harry make out last night?'—'Well, he was certainly feeling no pain!' (Leechman.)

feel of. To feel, in nuance 'to touch': an American sol. that, by ca. 1945, was common also in Canada. 'He felt of his teeth'—to ascertain whether any had been dislodged. (Leechman.)

feel rough. To feel unwell, indisposed, esp. after 'the night before': rather low: from ca. 1917.

feeler, 2 (p. 270), was, by 1890, low s.: witness, e.g., A. St. John Adcock, East End Idylls, 1897.

feelies, the. A cinema: Australian: since ca. 1945. On the analogies of movies and talkies; ex mutual petting.

But the Australian usage came from the England of the 1930's; the expression occurs in Aldous Huxley's satirical Brave New World, 1932, as Mr Ramsey Spencer has reminded me.

feelthy pictures (or pitchers). Pornographic post-cards, etc.: jocular and allusive: since ca. 1920. Ex the pictures offered by native vendors to troops and tourists in the Near and Middle East.

feet, off its. (Of typewriting) by a machine out of adjustment, one side of typewritten letters showing a faint or, at least, a light impression, the other side (of, e.g., a w) showing a strong impression: typists': since ca. 1910. J. J. Connington, The Sweepstake Murders, 1931. Ex:—2. Of type not standing square: printers': since ca. 1850. B. & L.

feet (or F.), the. The infantry; artillerymen's from ca. 1890, cavalry's from ca. 1840. Blaker.—2. The Royal Marine Light Infantry: Naval: late C. 19—early 20. The R.M.L.I. ceased, as a separate force, ca. 1920. (Wilfred Granville, Sept. 23, 1967.)—3. The Police Force: Naval: since ca. 1925. (W.G.)

feetesick walah or Gunga wallah. A male prostitute: Services' (esp. Army): C. 20. The former, ex Arabic; the latter, ex Hindustani.

feke.—2. A feke or gimmick is a conjurer's trick: magicians': the former since ca. 1890; the latter adopted, ca. 1930, from U.S. (feke ex fake.)

felican. A little boy: showmen's: since ca. 1870; by 1955, ob. Cf. mosiqui for sense and feele (p. 270) for form; a diminutive.

fellow-feeling (p. 270): † by 1960. Franklyn 2nd.

fellow P. 'A designation applied to each other by apprentices that have been bound to the same master or firm, whether in the past or in the present': printers' coll.: mid-C. 19–20. B. & L. I.e. fellow printers.

felon swell. A gentleman convict: Australian police and other officials': ca. 1810–60. J. W., Perils, Pastimes and Pleasures, 1849.

feloosh (p. 270) is also spelt felooss or felous.

Felstead School has a considerable body of slang. In The Felstedian of December 1947, there appeared an excellent glossary of current slang, arranged by subject. I have re-arranged the material in alphabetical order, shortened the definitions, and omitted certain terms belonging to the main body of slang.

arge. A sergeant, e.g. a Gym Instructor. Amputated sarge.—Hence argery, mostly the gym.

bang-on or bash-on. Terms of approval, 'recent importations, but rapidly passing into common speech', as in 'It's absolutely bang-on'. From the Forces: bang on the target.

Billy boy; Billy man. A House boy, man.

blitch or blotch. Blotting-paper. The former is a thinning of the latter, and the later is proleptic.

bog. A bicycle. By a conflation (cf. bike) subjected to humorous perversion.

bumming. A caning, a beating. Ex bum (Dict.).

butch. A sturdy fellow; also in address. Cinematic influence.

cheery. Excellent; e.g. 'a cheery pudding'. By humorous transference.

cheese off. To annoy. Cf. cheesed off.

chigger. To cheat; chigger notes, notes used in cheating, or a crib; chiggerer, a cheat (person). By 'the Oxford -er'.

clothers. Clothes-room (?).

coffins. A particular set of deep and ancient baths in the main block.

Confirmaggers. Confirmation; Confirmagger pragger (prayers), a Confirmation class. By 'the Oxford -er'.

debaggers. A debate. By same process.

dip. A light; an electric bulb. Hence, dips, lights in general or 'Lights out!'

Div (not Divvers). A Divinity period.

dockets. Cigarettes. By humorous euphemism.

drive, esp. in 'Am I driving?'—Must I hurry, and in Drive in!, Get a move on! Ex drive, energy.

Duck. Matron; Under-Duck, Under-Matron.

ex. Exercise, games. See vol ex.

fugs. A radiator; also fug-pipes; under-fugs, underpants.

grass. Lettuce; water-cress; any green salad.

Headman. Headmaster.

hook. To take—not necessarily to filch.

hot, as in half-hot, halfpenny; six hots, sixpence; hots, pennies, cash; trav. hots, travelling expenses; hot ice, an ice-cream costing a penny.

ipe. A rifle. Ex Army (hipe).

jack. As v.i. to cease; as v.t., to shirk.

knockers. Cigarettes.

Ma (e.g. Smith). A master's wife; a lady on the staff.

mooners. A man-servant that cleans classrooms. Ex moon about.

new nip. A new nip or small boy, a new boy.

quagger-pragger. Choir practice. By 'the Oxford -er'.

razz up. To reprimand severely.

rollers. Roll-call. By 'the Oxford -er'.

shants. Lavatories.

Siggers. The J.T.C. Signals Hut. Oxford -er.

skiv. A maidservant. Short for skivvy (Dict.).

smut. A person one happens to dislike.

snitch. To take—not necessarily to filch.

stodge. A steamed pudding.

stooge. A School steward. Ex the Armed Forces' senses.

stub. To kick (a ball), esp. at Rugby.

swipe. To take—not necessarily to filch; cf. hook and snitch.

swot. A lesson period.

tabby. A bedside cupboard. The Felstedian proposes derivation ex tabernacle.

tolly mug. A tooth mug or glass.

tonk. To hit (a ball) with a stick, e.g. at hockey.

tough, a fight; toughing, fighting, fisticuffs.

toys. Desks with bookcase attached. Adopted from Winchester.

trav tie. A (too) smart tie, not worn in School. I.e. for travelling.

Tuckers. The tuck-shop. By 'the Oxford -er'.

Underling. Nickname for the under-butler. By pun on Ling, the butler.

uni (pron. unny). A uniform.

vic! A warning cry, in Lower school only and gradually going out of use.

Vill. Felsted village.

vol. 'An afternoon free from prescribed games'; vol ex, an afternoon when exercise—of one's own choice—must be taken.

wagger-pagger. A waste-paper basket. Short for wagger pager bagger (Dict.).

Washes. The ablution rooms.

wasses. Lavatories. Ex Ger. Wasser, water.

wonker. A kipper.

The prevalence of 'the Oxford -er' is noteworthy.

fem.—2. A woman: Soho, London: late C. 19–20. (E. J. Oliver, 1948.) Ex Fr. femme: cf. feme on p. 270.

femlin. See beach bunny above.

fence, over the (p. 271). Since ca. 1910, also Australian. B., 1942.

fend off.—2. Hence, to steal: N.Z. c.: since ca. 1932. R. G. C. McNab, in The Press (Christchurch, N.Z.), April 2, 1938.

Ferdinand. Nickname for a German self-propelled assault gun: adopted, ca. 1942, by the British Army from the Russians. (P-G.R.)—2. A bull: mostly Australian: since ca. 1938. Ex a famous book, Munro Leaf's delightful Ferdinand the Bull, brilliantly illustrated by Robert Lawson; New York, 1936, and London, 1937.

ferret, n.—4. 'German security guard, usually in blue overalls,' Paul Brickhill & Conrad Norton, Escape to Danger, 1946: prisoners-of-war in Germany: 1940–5. Ex his sharp eyes and the colour of his overalls.

ferry, n. A prostitute: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. She carries numerous men.—2. (The Ferry.) The Atlantic Ocean: nautical: C. 20. (Gibbard Jackson, Sea Yarns, 1931.)

ferv, n. and v. Divinity, as subject of study; chaplain;—to be religious: Cranbrook School: C. 20. Ex 'religious feravour'.

festering, adj. and adv. An intensive, as in 'You festering toe-rag' and 'It's festering hot': Glasgow: since ca. 1920. Euphemistic.

fetch.—Also n., 3: seminal fluid; and v., 6: to experience a seminal emission: coll.: late C. 19–20.—4. N., also v. (To commit) a haymaking stroke at cricket: cricketers' (and commentators'): since ca. 1950. (B.B.C.'s TV test-match commentary, July 27, 1963.) Perhaps ex sense 2 of the v. on p. 271.

fetch up, v.i. 'To recruit one's strength, to recover from some illness': coll.: mid-C. 19–20. B. & L. Ex S.E. sense, v.t., to make up (time, leeway).

fetch your bed and we'll keep you. A c.p. addressed to a too frequent visitor: C. 20. 'Sometimes among working-men to one who is always hungry and who can eat up any spare bait that is going around' (Albert B. Fetch, Sept. 1946).

fetichist (or -shist). A person unable to resist the temptation to do a certain thing: psycho-analytical (verging on j.): since ca. 1920.

fettle. (Of a man) to coït with: North Country workmen's: late C. 19–20. Ex dial. fettle, to chastise, itself from a term in weaving.

fetus, tap the. See foetus, tap the in the Dict.

fever time. 'The time when superannuated college prefects go for a fortnight into a sick-room in order . . . to give themselves up to hard study': Winchester: mid-C. 19–20. B. & L.

fez. A House cap; a boy entitled to one: Harrow School: from ca. 1890 (?). Lunn.

ff for th. See 'f for th' at the head of this letter in this Supplement.

fi-fa (p. 272). Hence, as v., to issue this writ against someone: 1818, The London Guide (p. 202).

fibre. South African c. > by 1945, low s.: C. 20. C. P. Wittstock, letter of May 23, 1946, 'Pass the fibre . . . Pass the match-box'. (Wood fibre.)

fickle Johnny Crow. A man that does not know his own mind: West Indies coll.: mid-C. 19–20. B. & L.

fiddle, n.—10. A special commission paid by a jobber to a broker on important transactions involving no risk: Stock Exchange: ca. 1810–90. The broker fiddles one finger across another on these occasions. Also as v.: to pay such commissions.—11. A swindle: low (since ca. 1920) > by 1939, Services.—12. A maize-grater: Australian: C. 20. (B., 1943.) Ex shape.

fiddle, v.—7. To be a petty thief: c.: late C. 19–20. Ex senses 2, 3.—8. 'To purloin or obtain by a wangle. Thus fiddler, one who is expert in fiddling,' H. & P.: Services: since ca. 1910. Cf. senses 2, 3.—9. See fiddle, n., 10.—10. V.i. and v.t., to cheat, swindle, be a swindler; to sell secretly or illicitly: low (since ca. 1912) >, by 1925, Services, and then, by 1945, common civilian s., esp. among 'spivs'.

fiddle, fine as a. (See fiddle, fit as a, p. 272.) Not merely dial. but coll. of late C. 16–19. In Haughton's Englishmen for My Money, acted in 1598. See:—

fiddle, fit as a—fine as a. Mr G. H. Hatchman has admirably summarised the evidence thus, in a private letter of Nov. 25, 1946, his researches completely superseding the entry on p. 272: Fiddle, fit as a. Excellent, most fitting or opportune: coll.: since ca. 1590: 1598, Wm Haughton; 1620, John Fletcher.—2. In good health, condition, form: coll. since ca. 1870: 1882, M. E. Braddon; 1883, R. L. S.; 1887, James Payn; 1922, E. V. Lucas.

Fiddle, fine as a. Excellent: coll. since ca. 1590: 1598, Wm Haughton. Very fine: U.S.: recorded for 1811–27.

fiddle and flute. A suit one wears: rhyming s.: late C. 19–20. (Lester.)

fiddle-arse about. To 'mess about'; to waste time: low Australian: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.)

fiddled stick. A flag-staff: nautical, esp. Naval: ca. 1805–60. In, e.g., W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (I, 21), 1829. Moe.

fiddler, 7. By 1939, at latest, also Services s.—as in fiddle, v., 8. In Labour s. (since ca. 1925), thus "'Fiddler" (earns money on the quiet without telling labour exchange)': Hugh Massingham, I Took Off My Tie, 1936.

fiddler, fit as a. A mainly Australian (B., 1942), wholly C. 20, and not very gen. variant of fit as a fiddle (see fiddle, fit as a).

Fiddler's Green (p. 273) occurs in W. N. Glascock, Sketch-Book (II, 169), 1826, and prob. goes back to ca. 1800 or even 1790. (Moe.)

fiddle. A £1 note: Australian: since ca. 1920. Baker. In the pl. (?) fiddleys or fiddlies, it is generic for money. Lawson Glossop, 1944. Apparently short for fiddle did, Australian rhyming s. on quid. (B., 1945.)

field, v.i. To back the field: turf coll.: from ca. 1870. B. & L.—2. To be a bookmaker operating on the course: Australian racing: since ca. 1910. Lawson Glossop, Lucky Palmer, 1949. “Well, boys,” he said. “On Thursday I’ll be fielding at Nerridale. I’m a licensed bookmaker now.”

field, come back to the. To return to earth: to cease being fanciful or romantic: Australian: since ca. 1910. Lawson Glossop, We Were the Rats, 1944. Ex straying animals.

Fiend, the. See Terror, the.

fierce, 1 (p. 273), was, however, current in South Africa at least as early as 1903 and perhaps late C. 19.

fiery snorter (p. 274). Rather; since ca. 1840. Sinks, 1848.

fiyas or FIFAS. See fyfas below.

fiye and drum. The buttocks: rhyming s. (on bum): C. 20. Franklyn, Rhyming.

fifteen-two. A Jew: an English adaptation, ca. 1945, of the American fifteen-and-two; cf. five by two.

fifty-one A.R. A liar: schoolchildren’s. London: C. 20. I.e. LI + ar.

fig, n.—5. A numerical figure: lower-middle class: late C. 19–20. (Neil Bell, Alpha and Omega, 1946.)

fig, in full (p. 274) dates rather from ca. 1830. The Dublin University Magazine, April 1835 (p. 388), ‘It was alleged by his shipmates that he was rather fond of arraying himself in “full fig”.’ Moe.

fig and post. Toast (bread): Army rhyming s.: 1939–45. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

figgy-duff; figgy-dowdy. Suet pudding with (or even without) figs: Naval, general and (dowdy) West Country personnel: C. 20. Granville.

fight at the leg. ‘To turn every event to good account,’ Pierce Egan, The Life of Hayward, 1822: low: ca. 1810–50. Ex fencing or cross-stick?

fight cunning. To ‘box clever’ (see above): coll.: mid-C. 18–early 20. James Woodforde, Diary, Oct. 6, 1781.

fight for love. Sessions, 5th session, 1734, ‘Agreed to fight for Love, as they call it’: pugilistic s. >, by 1800, coll. >, by 1830, S.E.

fight like a threshing machine. To fight, esp. with the fists, very vigorously: Aus.: since ca. 1925. (B., 1959.)

fighter boy. Any operational member—but esp. a pilot—of Fighter Command: R.A.F. coll.: 1939 +. Jackson.

fighter type. Synonym of prec. entry: R.A.F.: since ca. 1940. John Brophy, Target Island, 1944.

fighting cats (Army) or galloping horses (R.A.F.). The coat of arms on a Warrant Officer’s lower sleeve: since ca. 1920. H. & P.—2. Hence, a Warrant Officer: Army and R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. Sgt-Pilot F. Rhodes, letter of Sept. 20, 1942.

Fighting Eighth, the. The Navy’s coll. for ‘The 8th Destroyer Flotilla, which deservedly earned the sobriquet in the war of 1939–45’ (Granville).

Fighting Mac.—2. General Sir Hector MacDonald: ca. 1883–1902. Now a legendary hero.

figlia. A child: figlia homey, a male child; figlia polone (or poloney), a female child: parlary: late C. 19–20. (Lester.) In the older parlary, figlia is strictly a girl: cf. feelee on p. 270. In Italian, the m. form is figlio.

figure, take a. See take a figure.

figure man. ‘The principal figure in a picture. In French artists’ language, le bonhomme’: studios’: from ca. 1860; ob. B. & L.

figurehead. See figure-head (Dict.).

file lay, the. Pickpocketry: c.: C. 18–early 19. Captain Alexander Smith, The Life of Jonathan Wild, 1726. See file, n., 1, and v., on p. 275.

fill, n. An artificial pneumo-thorax (‘A.P.’): medical coll.: since the 1930’s. (Dymphna Cusack, Say No to Death, 1951.)

fill in. To render (a woman) pregnant: Australian Naval: C. 20. But also gen. low Australian s. (Tom Ronan, Moleskin Midas, 1956.)—2. To thrash (lit.): Naval (lower-deck): since ca. 1925. ‘Next time he says that to me, I’ll fill him in.’ (P-G-R.)—3. To inform or instruct (someone) in detail: since early 1940’s. ‘I’ve been away for a week now. Somebody had better fill me in.’ (Leechman.)

fill one’s pipe and leave others to enjoy it. To make a large fortune, which one’s heirs or other relatives dissipate: ‘a vulgar phrase,’ says Pierce Egan in Life in London, 1821: coll.: ca. 1805–60.

fillers. Fill-up matter: journalistic: since ca. 1920. By ‘the Oxford -er’. But Douglas Leechman tells me that the word goes back to early C. 20.

fillet of veal, a prison, on p. 275, rhymes on steel, q.v. at Steel, the.

filum. See colyum.

filly, 1 (p. 275), has, since ca. 1820, been, among the upper classes, a coll. and an entirely inoffensive word for a girl, a young unmarried woman. Pierce Egan the Elder, a very close observer of the speech of his day, glosses, in Finish to Tom, Jerry, and Logic, 1828, the phrase ‘fillies of all ages’, thus: ‘This phrase is now so commonly used in a sporting point of view, without meaning any offence to the fair sex, that it would be almost fastidious to make any objections to it in this instance’ (a race-meeting).

filth, the. The police, members of the police force: o. (among the bosses of crime) and low s.: since ca. 1950. James Barlow, The Burden of Proof, 1968.

filthy fellow. A mild endearment: coll.: C. 18. (H. C. K. Wyld in The Spectator, April 22, 1938.)

filthy lucre (p. 276) occurs in Mrs Gaskell, Cranford, 1853.

fin. ‘A fin is a five-dollar bill, ex the large V (five) which marks it and looks like a fin. A ten-dollar bill is a sawbuck, from the X it bears.’ (Leechman.) Also see jive.

final. 2. See swing o’ the door.

find; on find. For both, see on find.

find, v., 2. Add: ‘To “pick up” something which is needed by your section. Finding is generally less selfish than fiddling, and more silent than scrounging,’ H. & P., Service Slang, 1943.

find fag. See find, n., 1 (Dict.).

find something. To obtain a job: coll.: mid-C. 19–20. ‘Found anything yet?’

fine as a fiddle. See fiddle, fine as a and fiddle, fit as a.

fine as frog's hair. Fine, whether of dimension or of physical well-being: Canadian: since ca. 1910. (Leechman.)

fine fellow but his muck (or shit) stinks, (he's) a. He's only human after all: proletarian c.p.: C. 20.

fine Scot. A variant of Scot, 1, and, like it, current ca. 1800-50.

fine weather for ducks (p. 276) has, in Australia, the variants great, or nice, weather . . . (B.P.)

finger, n., 2 (p. 276): 'Possibly a mispronunciation of figure (a figure of fun)': Julian Franklyn, 1962.

finger and thumb, 2 (p. 277). Earlier in Mayhew, I, 1851.—3. A companion or 'mate': rhyming s.: since ca. 1930. On chum.

finger bowl. An outdoor cinema: Canadian: since ca. 1960. 'Ex U.S. sports arenas, the Rose Bowl, the Orange Bowl, etc.' (Leechman.)

finger-fuck. To caress (a woman) sexually: low: C. 20. Cf. finger, v., on p. 277.

finger on, put the. To point (a wanted man) out to the police: c.: C. 20. Adopted from U.S.

finger out! A frequent shortening of take your finger out!

finger-tight, adj. and adv., as in 'Just make the nuts finger-tight and I'll follow you around with the spanner': Australian coll.: since ca. 1930. As tightly as possible with the fingers. (B.P.)

finger trouble; esp. in 'He has'—or 'He's suffering from'—'finger trouble': He's lazy; he is given to procrastination: R.A.F.: since ca. 1935. Gerald Emanuel, letter of March 29, 1945. Ex take your finger out!

finger up (or well in), have the. Synonym of prec.: mostly Army: 1940 +.

fingerer. One who, from sexual irritation, is constantly fingering him(her)self: coll.: late C. 19-20.

Fingers. Nickname for a pickpocket: c.: C. 20; by 1930, at latest, also police s. John Gosling, The Ghost Squad, 1959.

fingers crossed, keep one's. See keep . . . below.

Fingo. J. H. Fingleton, the New South Wales and Australian Test Cricketer: from ca. 1934. The Evening News, Sept. 30, 1936.

fings ain't wot they used ter (or to) be. A c.p., orig. Cockney, current since Frank Norman's Fings Ain't Wot They Used t'Be (lyrics by Lionel Bart), 1960.

finick. A finicky person: Australian coll.: since ca. 1925. (B.P.) Ex synonymous English dial. fin(n)ick.

finickerty. Finicky: Australian: since ca. 1935. (B.P.) A blend of finicky + pernickety.

finicky Dick. A finicky person: Australian: since late 1930's. (B.P.) Perhaps orig. finick Dick, found too awkward to pronounce.

fink. An unpleasant, esp. if felt to be untrustworthy, person: Canadian: adopted, ca. 1965, ex U.S. (Leechman.) See fink in Underworld.

finkydiddle. Synonymous with—and prob. a variant of—firkytoodle (p. 278): late C. 19-20, but seldom heard after 1945.

finnie (or -y) haddock. Finnan haddock: Cockney coll. or sol.: C. 19. Mayhew, I, 1851.

Finsbury Park, often shortened to Finsbury. An arc light: cinematic technicians' rhyming s.: since ca. 1945. 'Cut the Finsburies!' (Communicated by Dallas Bower in 1956.)

fire, there's been a. A c.p. addressed to someone wearing a new suit: Londoners': late C. 19-20. Implying salvage.

fire a gun.—2. To take a (strong) drink: late C. 18-mid-19. George R. Gleig, The Subaltern's Log-Book (I, 208), 1828. (Moe.) Cf. fire a slug on p. 277.

fire-proof. Invulnerable; esp. in fuck you, Jack, I'm fire-proof, R.A.F. c.p.: since ca. 1930. Cf. the R.A.F. pun on the R.A.F. motto (Per ardua ad astra): 'Per ardua asbestos'. Partridge, 1945. An adaptation of the century-old Naval fuck you, Jack, I'm all right.—2. Hence, unimpeachable when trouble threatens: since ca. 1937.

fire-siders. Men that 'keep the home fires burning' (don't enlist): military: 1915-18.

fire-watcher. One who hugs the fire, the stove, etc., when duty calls him into the cold and the wet: Services, esp. Army: since ca. 1910. H. & P. Cf. fire-spaniel, which it superseded, and 'home-guard' as used by American tramps (see Underworld).

fire(-)water, p. 278, was perhaps so called because if one applied a match, the drink caught fire. 'The more sophisticated Indian tribes would not accept firewater that would not ignite with a match. 1800 on to ca. 1875.' (Leechman.)—2. See bang-water.

fireboy. A locomotive fireman: Canadian railroadworkers' (— 1931).

fire's gone out, the. The engine has stopped: Fleet Air Arm: 1940 +. (P-G-R.)

fireworks.—4. Hence, severe anti-aircraft fire: R.A.F., esp. among bomber crews: since 1939. Berrey, 1940; H. & P.—5. (Also ex 3.) A copious dropping of flares: R.A.F.: since 1940. Partridge, 1945.

firing line. See in the firing line.

firkin. A thingummy: R.A.F.: since ca. 1925. (Gerald Emanuel, March 29, 1945.) Ex the frequency with which one hears 'the fucking thing!' or, euphemistically, 'the firking thing!'

firm, n.—2. A criminal gang, of, e.g., burglars: c.: since ca. 1950. Peter Crookston, Villain, 'I blew a couple of peters for our firm.'

Firm, the. Messrs J. C. Williamson, who own and operate theatres in Australia and New Zealand; coll., mostly there; and there in the world of entertainment: since ca. 1920. (B.P.) firmed, well. See well firmed.

Firpo—or Chowringhee—Star. The 1939-45 Star: servicemen's (esp. R.A.F.), mostly among those with long service in India: 1945 +. 'Chowringhee is Calcutta's Regent Street, Piccadilly and Leicester Square; it houses Firpo's Restaurant' (R.A.F. correspondent).

first, n.—2. A First Lieutenant: Naval coll.: C. 19-20. Wm Nugent Glascock, The Naval Sketch-Book, 2nd Series, 1834, at I, 91, and 268. (Moe.)

first and first. First Class for leave and for conduct: Naval coll.: since ca. 1920. (P-G-R.)

first-chop, first-rate (see chop, n.: p. 150), occurs, e.g., in John Davis's The Post-Captain, 1806.

first-class rock. Naval Boy, 1st Class: Naval: since ca. 1920. (Granville.) first fleeter (p. 278). Rather, a convict in the fleet of 1789: ca. 1789-1840, then historical. Marcus Clarke, 1874.

first of May (p. 278) is, as Julian Franklyn has shown, extant in its strict sense 'say' (firm speech, declaration) and is, of course, rhyming s.

first on the taxi-rank, be. To be the prime suspect: Australian: since ca. 1950. Ex the first taxi on a rank.

first on the top-sail (p. 278). The correct form is: first at the topsail, last at the beef kid; the kid is a wooden container for carrying beef from galley to mess-deck.

first pop. At the first attempt; on the first occasion: late C. 19–20. For at the first pop: cf. pop, give it a: cf. pop, give a.

first reader. Conductor's train book: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931). With pun on school-children's first reader (or reading book).

first term too early, second term too cold, third term too late. Australian, esp. Sydney, undergraduates' c.p.: since ca. 1925. Cf. their freshers work first term, nobody works second term, everybody works third term. (B.P.)

first thing. Early in the morning or the day: coll.: mid-C. 19–20. 'The boss wasn't here first thing.'

first turn of the screw cancels all debts! 'Catchphrase used when someone is worried about his dues ashore. A cheer-up from a messmate' (Wilfred Granville, Nov. 22, 1962): Naval: since late 1940's. The ship's screw, of course.

first up, adv. First time; at the first attempt: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Ex the game of two-up.

irty-free-fevvers on a frush's froat, occ. preceded by free fahsand free 'undred and. 'The two-way dialect speech classic chaffing formula of and by Cockneys' (Laurie Atkinson): c.p.: since at least as early as 1930.

fish in names of P.O.W. dishes: see 'Prisoners-of-War Slang', 10.

fish, 7. Here 'fish' is euphemistic for 'flesh'.—8. One who plays a game where he has no chance of winning: Canadian carnival s.: since ca. 1920. Ex U.S. c. for 'newcomer' (in a prison): see Underworld.—9. Short for tin fish (p. 887): Naval: since ca. 1918. Robert Harling, The Steep Atlantic Stream, 1946.

fish, clean (or feed) the. To 'skin' (or lead on) the victim: Canadian carnival s., since ca. 1920. See fish, 8.

Fish, the. This, the best-known train in Australia, serves the commuters between Sydney and the towns and townships of the Blue Mountains: Australian: since the early 1920's. Two or three of the first crew had 'fish' surnames. (B.P.)

fish-and-chip van. An old Sentinel steam coach: railwaymen's: ca. 1890–1940. Railway 2nd.

fish-eyes (p. 278) has the C. 20 variant fishes' eyes (Granville).

fish-fag (p. 278) should be dated ca. 1810–1910. Alfred Burton, Johnny Newcome, 1818. (Moe.)

Fish-Head Hall. At the R.N. Engineering College, at Manadon, Plymouth, a wing in which officers specialising in Marine Engineering are accommodated: Naval: since ca. 1946. (Granville.)

fish-heads. 'Salthorse' officers—'those who go down to the sea in ships as opposed to going up in the air in jets' (Granville): Fleet Air Arm: since ca. 1945.

Fish-Hooks. Ficoeux, a village in Northern France: military Hobson-Jobson: 1914–18. (Siegfried Sassoon.)

fish-horn. A soprano clarinet: Canadian musicians': since late 1930's. To the same group, place, period, belong African harp, a banjo; bed springs or git-box, a guitar; cigar-box, a violin; dog-house, a bass viol; gob-stick, a clarinet; great-horn, bass horn, or tuba—coll., rather than s.; horn, trumpet or cornet—not s. but coll.; the ivories or the 88, the piano; slip-horn or slush-pump or tram, a trombone; wood-pile, a xylophone. Professor Priestley, to whom (in 1949) I owe the list, adds: 'All these are current in a limited and jocular way among musicians in jazz bands; originally used by U.S. musicians ca. 1925; revised, extended and popularised in late 1930's, when swing became popular'.

On Oct. 12, 1965, Professor Priestley amends that passage (the errors were mine, not his) thus: 'The fish-horn is a soprano saxophone, not a clarinet. The wind bass is a grunt-horn, not a great horn.' Horn includes saxophones as well as trumpet and cornet. 'Among modern jazz players, "blow" means to play any instrument, as "He blows nice piano".'

fisherman. 'A trawler, drifter or other fishing craft' (Granville): Naval coll.: C. 20.

fisherman's daughter (p. 279) occurs in D. W. Barrett, Navvies, 1880.

Fisher's flimsies. Australian currency notes: Australian: ca. 1910–30, then historical. Ex Andrew Fisher (1862–1928)—Prime Minister and, esp., the founder of the Commonwealth Bank of Australia. (B.P.) Cf. flimsy, n., 1, on p. 287.

fishing? what shall we do, or go; or, which shall we do, or go fishing? What would you like to do?: c.p. since ca. 1920.

fishing expedition; esp. on a . . . Applied to one who is spying or 'pumping' others for information: jocular coll.: since ca. 1930. Ex Japanese fishing boats going into foreign waters in order to obtain information. This English nuance may well be independent of the American senses, even though the latter precede it.

fishing fleet, the.—2. Hence, 'women who frequent the Ladies' Lounge at the Union Club, Malta' (Granville): Naval: since ca. 1920. On the look-out for eligible Navy men.

fishmonger. A bawd: mid-C. 16–early 17. Barnaby Rich; Shakespeare, Hamlet, II, ii, 174. (J. Dover Wilson, Hamlet, 1934, pp. 170–1.) Prob. a corruption of fleshmonger. Hence:

fishmonger's daughter. A whore: late C. 16–early 17. Ben Jonson; Middleton. (J. Dover Wilson, Hamlet, 1934, p. 171.)

fisho, often written fish-o. A fisherman by trade; a fish-hawker: Australian: since ca. 1920. (K. S. Prichard, Intimate Strangers, 1937.) Fisherman + the ubiquitous Australian suffix -o.

fisno (p. 279), a warning. Just possibly back-s. (with alteration) for 'the office', as Dr Leechman proposes.

fission chips. 'According to some, what survivors will live on if there is ever a nuclear war' (A. B. Petch): since ca. 1955. A pun on fish and chips, that 'eternal' stand-by.

fist, make a good . . . (p. 279). Anglicized very much earlier than I had thought, and perhaps orig. British, for it occurs in W. N. Glascock, Naval Sketch Book, 2nd Series, 1834, at I, 280. "'Now, Ned, d'ye know, I doesn't think you'd make a bad fist yourself at a speech.'" (Moe.)

fist it out. To fight it out: coll.: (?) ca. 1800–

60. In W. N. Glascock's Naval Sketch Book, 2nd Series, 1834. (Moe.)

fit, v., corresponds to fit, n., 1 (p. 279): New Zealand and Australian c.: since ca. 1930. B., 1942, records both v. and n. as Australian.

fit?, are you. Are you ready?: R.A.F. coll.: since ca. 1915. Partridge, 1945. Perhaps elliptical for 'Are you ready and fit?'

fit, chuck a. See chuck a fit.

fit as a buck rat (, as). Very fit and well: New Zealand: C. 20. (Slatter.)

fit as a fiddle. See fiddle, above.

fit like a purser's shirt on, or upon, a handspike goes back to 1806 (John Davis, The Post-Captain). Moe.

fit on the mat, a. See enough to give you . . .

fit the head, not. A C. 19 tailors' phrase, meaning that a garment, although faultless, is said by a customer to have some fault or other, the tailor then keeping it a while and sending it, untouched, back to the customer, who is thereupon delighted with it. The Saturday Evening Post, Sept. 28, 1922 (p. 4, col. 1)—reporting a trial held in London. (Moe.)

fit to be tied. 'Hopping mad'—furiously angry: Canadian: adopted, ca. 1908, ex U.S. (Leechman.) Cf. the Australian ropeable.

fit to go foreign. Ready for any and every undertaking: Canadian Naval: since ca. 1940. (Leechman.)

fit-up towns (p. 279). In Showman Looks On, 1945, C. B. Cochran uses fit-ups in same sense.

fit where they (e.g. trousers) touch, they; (of jacket, etc.) it fits where it touches. A jocular c.p., applied to loose, ill-fitting clothes: late C. 19-20. (Jack Lawson, A Man's Life, 1932.)

fitting. (Of a patient) having a fit: hospital nurses': since ca. 1935.

Fitzbilly, the. The Fitzwilliam Museum: Cambridge undergraduates': late C. 19-20.—2. Fitzwilliam House: Cambridge undergraduates': C. 20.

Fitzroy cocktail. An improvised drink with basis of methylated spirits: Australian: since ca. 1925. Baker. Ironie.

Fitzroy Yank is the Melbournites' equivalent of Wooloomooloo Yank: since ca. 1942. (B. 1953.)

five, n.—5. A Jew: since ca. 1930. Gerald Kersh, They Die with their Boots Clean, 1941. Ex from five by two.—6. A five-years' prison sentence: police and criminal coll.: late C. 19-20. (Norman.)—7. A sum of five pounds sterling: coll.: late C. 19-20.

five, v. To tout: drapery trade: C. 20. Origin? Perhaps ex five-to-two's (below), via Jewish shoe-shops; a Jew being, in rhyming s., a five-to-two: Julian Franklyn's suggestion, 1962.

five by five; often Mr Five by Five. A very short, fat man: Canadian: since ca. 1930. Leechman, 'Presumably 5 feet tall and 5 feet wide.'

five by two. A Jew: rhyming s. variant of four by two: since ca. 1925. Gerald Kersh, 1941.

five-acre farm. The arm: rhyming s. (London streets'): 1857, Augustus Mayhew, Paved with Gold; † by 1900. Cf. Chalk Farm (Dict.).

five-mile sniper. A gunner in the heavy artillery: infantrymen's: 1914-18.

five-letter woman, A 'bitch': since ca. 1925. Prompted by four-letter-man (Dict.).

five to two. A not very gen. rhyming s. term for 'Jew'. C. 20. Cf. five by two. Contrast:— five-to-two's. Shoes: Cockney rhyming: C. 20. Len Ortzen, 1938.

fiver.—1 (p. 280), early occurs also in Renton Nicholson, An Autobiography, 1860 (at p. 63), for £5.—3. A fifth-columnist: since late 1939; by 1948, ob. Warren Stuart, The Sword and the Net, 1942.—4. (Cf. sense 1: p. 280.) Five thousand pounds, as in 'This house is worth a fiver': since ca. 1930.

fix, v.—4. To dog (very) cunningly an enemy aircraft: R.A.F. s. (1940) >, by 1944, coll. Partridge, 1945. Cf. next sense.—5. To 'settle a person's hash': coll.: since ca. 1920. 'I'll fix him!' is a frequent threat.—6. To bribe (someone): adopted, ca. 1939, from U.S.: c. > by 1946, low s. Hence fizer, a lawyer that bribes, e.g., officials: still c.—7. To prepare or plan; to arrange: Canadian (ex U.S.) coll.: since ca. 1910. 'I'm leery of Bill. He's fixing to shoot me!' (Leechman.)

The fizer of sense 6 need not be a lawyer; he may be, e.g., a political 'boss'.

fix, get a. To obtain the ship's or the aircraft's position: Naval and R.A.F.: since ca. 1939; by 1945, j. Granville.

fix (someone's) clock. To settle his hash: Canadian: since ca. 1940. (Leechman.) Here, clock perhaps = face.

fix (someone's) duff. Synonymous with the 'prompter', settle his hash: Army: since ca. 1930. (P-G-R.) fix flint. See flint.

fix (someone's) little red fire-engine. To settle someone's hash: adopted in 1965 or, at latest, 1966 ex U.S. (Ramsey Spencer.)

fix the old gum tree. (Of a 'rolling stone') to settle down at last: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

fixer. An agent, esp. one who makes arrangements for 'pop' musicians: since ca. 1950.

fizz, n.—7. Synonymous with its source: fizz-gig, 2 (p. 280): Australian c. and police s.: since ca. 1953. (B., 1943.)—8. An erratic yet rapid movement; such motion: N.T., Australian: since ca. 1910. Ernestine Hill, The Territory, 1951.

fizz, v. A variant of fizz out. (H. Drake-Brockman, Hot Gold, 1940, 'Fizzed on you, didn't she? They're all the same.') fizz-bang. An occasional variant of whizz-bang, 1 (p. 955): Army: 1914-18.

fizz out, n.; fizz out on, v. (To be) a thoroughly unreliable person (in respect of someone): Australian: since ca. 1919. Baker.

fizza is an Army variant (1914-18) of fizzer. Anon., The Soldier's War Slang Dictionary, 1939, defines it as barrack-room s. for 'parade ground'. Therefore fizzer, 3 (see next entry) may derive ex defaulters on fizza, doing pack-drill on the parade ground.

fizzer, 3. Esp. in put on a (or the) fizzer, to put someone's name on to a charge-sheet; loosely, fizzer may = guard-room, detention cell: Army since ca. 1920 and R.A.F. since ca. 1925. Daily Mail, Sept. 7, 1940; H. & P.; Partridge, 1945, 'Perhaps to (cause to) fizz with anger and resentment'.—5. A wild scrub bull or bullock: Australian: late C. 19-20. Cf. sense 1, 2 (p. 280).—6. An adverse report against an employee:

busmen's: since ca. 1925. Ex sense 3.—7. A failure, esp. in it's a fizzer, 'the traditional c.p. when a mechanical device being demonstrated fails to work' (B.P.): Australian: since ca. 1920. Perhaps a slovening of fizzler, something that 'fizzles out'.

flab. Dripping (ca. 1840–1900); (also flib) butter (C. 20): Christ's Hospital. Marples. Ex its 'flabbiness'.

flabber is gasted. In, e.g., 'My flabber is gasted'—I'm flabbergasted: a jocular intensive: since ca. 1945.

fladge fiend. A masochist: low: from ca. 1920. flag, n.—6. A bank-note: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. A blend of fim + rag?—7. In two-up, £1, whether sum or currency note. See boxer.

flag, v. To work under an assumed name: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931), adopted from U.S. Ex sail under a false flag.

flag, the. The colour sergeant: military: ca. 1845–1914. Robert Blatchford, My Life in the Army, 1910.

flag-flapper. A signaller: Navy: late C. 19–20. H. & P. Cf. flag-wagging in Dict.

flag-flier is the agent in flag-flying, 3 (Dict): 1927, The Observer, May 25 (O.E.D., Sup.).

flagg is Randle Holme's spelling of flag, a goad.

flags, between the. See between the flags.

flags flying, she has—or she's got—the. A variant of fly the flag, 2 (p. 292): low: late C. 19–20.

flak. 'German anti-aircraft fire': 1939 +: prob. always j.; certainly j. by 1942. Ex the initials of the three-elemented compound name in German.

flak-happy. Not caring; reckless: R.A.F.: 1941 +. (W/Cdr R. McDouall, letter of April 12, 1945.) Cf. punch-drunk, but prob. an analogy of slap-happy. Contrast the Army's bomb-happy.

flake; flake out. (In full.) To go to bed, or merely to take a nap: Canadian: since ca. 1940. (Leechman.)—2. To fall asleep from exhaustion, or from ethyl alcohol: Australian: since ca. 1945. (B.P.) Cf. next.—3. To faint: since ca. 1940. "I'm terribly sorry," he says, "but your shore leave is cancelled until further notice." I all but flaked out': L. J. Cunliffe, Having It Away, 1965.

flaked out. Tired; listless; useless from drunkenness: Forces': 1939 +. Cf. worn to a frazzle.

Flakers. See Harry Flakers.—2. (Always flakers.) Half-drunk; mildly tipsy: Australian: since ca. 1945. (Elizabeth Lambert, The Sleeping House Party, 1951.) Ex Harry Flakers.

flame! or flaming hell! Expletive hell: C. 20, the latter; since ca. 1925, the former.

flamer. A target—esp. an aircraft or a vehicle—set on fire by the Air Force: R.A.F.: 1940 +. (P-G-R.) Ex sense 3 (p. 281).

flaming, 1 (p. 281): prob. from ten or twenty years earlier. 'The first time I saw the flaming mot/Was at the sign of the Porter Pot'—from a popular ballad titled Fal de Ral Tit, ca. 1800 or earlier.

flaming arsehole. A large red circle painted on side of Japanese aircraft: Australian airmen's: 1942–5. (B., 1943.)

flaming coffin. The D.H.4 aircraft: since ca. 1943.

flaming onions (p. 281). Add:—In 1939–45, 'tracer fire from the ground' (H. & P., 1943). Not all tracer fire, but only such as justifies this pertinently descriptive term.

flamp. To flatter; to wheedle: R.A.F.: since ca. 1937. (Atkinson.) Perhaps flam + flannel.

flange. Corona glandis: C. 20. Ex S.E. sense.

flanker, play a. See play . . . Also work or pull a flanker, to pass an unpleasant task to another: Army: 1939–45.

flannel, n. and v. (To speak or make) sweet things or small gifts to one's superiors in order to ask favours later on; to flatter, flattery: Services, esp. R.A.F.: since ca. 1935. The New Statesman, Aug. 30, 1941; H. & P. Cf. flannel-mouth.

flannel hammer or left-handed spanner. Imaginary tools, which an apprentice is sent to fetch: workmen's coll.: late C. 19–20.

flannel jacket. 'Merchant Navy Class 4–6–2 S.R.' (Railway 2nd): railwaymen's, esp. on the Southern Railway: C. 20. Perhaps rhyming s. 'for the first locomotive of the class "Channel Packet"' (ibid.).

flannel-mouth, in Dict. Hence, flanneller and flannelling, the corresponding agential and verbal nouns.

flannel through, v.i. 'To bluff one's way through an awkward situation': Naval: since ca. 1920. Granville. Ex flannel.

flannelette. 'The sailor's soft answer which occasionally succeeds in turning away wrath' (Granville): Naval: since ca. 1936. See flannel.

flap, n.—7. A cheque: c.: C. 20. (Ex 5 and 6.)—8. Great excitement; panic: Services: since ca. 1918. Berrey, 1940. Also, since ca. 1930, flap on (H. & P.). Whence flapping, undue or uncontrolled excitement: H. & P.

Flap, the. 'That great retreat from the battle of Sidi Rezegh (Western Desert) which ended at Alamein' (F-G-R): Army: middle of World War II. The apotheosis of flap, n., 8.

flap around. To rush about aimlessly: Services (esp. Naval): since ca. 1920. Granville. Cf. prec.

flap-dragon. See flapdragon (Dict).—flap-sauce. See flapdoodle (Dict).

flare-path. A petrol lighter: R.A.F.: since ca. 1935. The New Statesman, Aug. 30, 1941.

flare-up (p. 283). As 'spree', it occurs earlier in Sessions, March 7, 1842.

flash, n.—9. (Adj.) Fashionably smart: New Zealand and Australian: late C. 19–20. Jean Devanney, Bushman Burke, 1930, 'They [girls] think it's flash' to take strong drink; K. S. Prichard, 1932, 'Flash dame'.—10. One's personal appearance: low Australian: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.) Cf. sense 6 on p. 283.—11. The Electrical Officer: Naval: since ca. 1940. (Granville.) Cf. sense 8 on p. 283.

flash, a show of. A slight, an affront, to a gang's tenets of proper behaviour: 'Teddy boys': since ca. 1950. (Clancy Sigal in The Observer, March 1, 1959.)

flash, cut the. To show off, make a display: Australian low: C. 20. B., 1942. Cf. cut a dash (or splash), p. 201.

flash as a Chinky's horse, as. (Very) high-spirited: Aus.: since ca. 1930. Baker, 1959.

flash gear. See 'Mock-Auction Slang' below.

flash Jack. A showy fellow; boaster: Australian: C. 20. Archer Russell, A Tramp Royal in Australia, 1934.

flash lot. A smart new taxicab: taxi-drivers': since ca. 1920. Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939.

flash-man, 1 (p. 284), should rather be dated 'late C. 18-19'. It occurs in the song Fal de Ral Tit, reprinted, from an unidentified British source, in an American magazine, The Port Folio, Jan. 9, 1808 (p. 31), 'I was a flashman of St Giles'. Also in the ballad The Rolling Blossom: see quotation at nob the bib below.

flash of light (p. 284) is rhyming s. on sight in nuance 'sorry sight'. Franklyn, Rhyming.

flash side, the. The 'knowing ones' or self-constituted judges: pugilistic: ca. 1810-50. Boxiana, I, 1818. See flash, adj., 2 (Dict.).

flash the dicky. To show one's shirt-front: c.: from ca. 1820. B. & L.

flasher.—4. A stall-holder at a fair. C. 20. Ex flash, n., 6 (p. 283).

flashes, curse. See curse flashes (Dict.).

flashing, n. Signalling; also flash, v.i., to signal: Naval coll.: C. 20.

flat, n.—5. A prefect: Monkton Combe School, near Bath: ? ca. 1850-1914. The Sunday Times, correspondence columns, Sept. 8, 1963.—6. 'Worn part on wheel tyre due to skidding, or, in London Transport, due to excessive braking' (Railway, 3rd): transport workers' coll.: since late 1940's.

flat, adj. Penniless; short of money: low: from ca. 1925.—2. See choppy.

flat, adv.; flat out. At top speed; 'all out': motor-racers': resp. s., from ca. 1928, an abbr. of the second term; from ca. 1910, s. >, by 1930, coll. and now verging on S.E.; prob. ex a horse's pose at the gallop.

flat-aback. 'Cap worn on the back of the head to give a déagagé appearance' (Granville). Naval: C. 20.

flat-cap. See 'Women'.

flat-catcher.—2. Hence, 'an article to dupe the public', Sinks, 1848; ob.—3. Also applied to a horse that looks well and performs badly: ca. 1840-1930.

flat feet, go on one's or its, own. 'A man walking or a tank moving invariably went "on their own flat feet"' (P-G-R): Army: 1939-45.

Flat Feet, the.—3. (flat feet.) Naval seamen: bluejackets': late C. 19-20. 'Taffrail.' flat-footer. See frog-footed.

flat-fuck. 'Fricatio mutua coniunctorum genitalium muliebrium': Lesbian coll.: C. 19-20. Also a v.

flat head or flat-head or flathead. A simpleton: Australian: since ca. 1910. B., 1942. Elaboration of flat, n., 1.

flat-iron.—2. A Monitor: Naval: ca. 1850-90.—3. A river gunboat: Naval: late C. 19-20. Cf. flatiron gunboat (p. 285).—4. Any large warship, esp. a battleship: Naval (mostly ward-room): C. 20.

flat out. See flat, adv.

flat out for. Strongly in favour of: R.A.F.: since ca. 1938. Jackson, Thus, 'I'm flat out for him having some leave.' Ex prec.

flat out like a lizard (1) drinking or (2) on a log. To lie on one's belly; but also, to work at great speed: Aus.: (C. 20. B., 1959.)

flat spin. See go into a flat spin.

flat to the boards. Synonymous with, and prob. the origin of, flat (out) above: since early C. 20. 'From the early days of motoring, when cars had wooden floor-boards. The car was at its maximum performance when the accelerator was pressed flat against the floor-boards' (B.P.).—2. Hence, fully extended; extremely busy: Australian: since ca. 1925. 'Can't you see that I'm flat to the boards?' (B.P.)

flat top. An aircraft carrier: Naval since ca. 1935. Granville.—2. Hence, a haircut similar to the crew cut but flat on the top: Australian: since ca. 1945. (B.P.)

flatch, 3. Earlier in Mayhew, I, 1851: therefore sense 1 is likewise earlier.

flatch enore, is a variant of flatch yenork (Dict.).

flathead. See flat head.

flatite. A dweller in a flat: Aus. coll.: since ca. 1925. (B., 1959.)

flats, 3, on p. 285, should be dated back to ca. 1780, for it occurs in Patrick Colquhoun, A Treatise on the Police of the Metropolis, 1796, at p. 120, and again in Maria & Richard Edgeworth, Practical Education, 1798.

flats yad. A day's jollification: tailors' back s.: from ca. 1865. B. & L.

flatter, n. 'The private motorist . . . knows that the squeaks in his bodywork are caused by "canaries" and that the tremendous speed he attains is due to "flatter" in his speedometer. When he "runs out of road", he gets severely "bent"' (Nigel Dennis, review 'Fancy Lingo', in The Sunday Telegraph, July 9, 1961): motorists' terms: resp. since ca. 1950, ca. 1950, ca. 1945, ca. 1930.

flatterback. The wearing of cap on back of head: Australian Naval: 1939-45. (B., 1943.)

flatters. A calm sea: Naval (mostly ward-room): since ca. 1920. By 'the Oxford -er'.

flattie, 2 (p. 285). Current well into C. 20, esp. among showmen, who (cf. sense 3) used bobbin flattie for a dupe, a simple fellow. John o' London's Weekly, March 4, 1949.

flatties. Flat heeled shoes: since ca. 1945. (John Boswell, Lost Girl, 1959.)

flatty.—8. A jam tart: St Bees: since ca. 1914. Marples.

flawed (Dict.) dates back to before 1650: see 'Tavern terms', § 8.

flaxies. Workers in a flax-mill: New Zealanders': C. 20. (Jean Devanny, Old Savage and Other Stories, 1927.)

flea. See hot-plater.

flea-and-louse (p. 285) has been † since ca. 1920. It went to the U.S.

flea-bag.—3. A dog; less gen., a cat: Australian: since ca. 1910. B., 1942.—4. (Ex 1 and 2: p. 285.) A seaman's hammock: Naval (lower-deck): since ca. 1920.

flea-chariot. A flea-ridden palliasse: Anglo-Irish: since ca. 1920. (Patrick Doncaster, A Sigh for a Drum-Beat, 1947.)

flea-circus. A cheap cinema: Australian: since ca. 1925. Baker. Cf.:—

flea-pit.—2. A studio notorious for its low wages: glass-painters': from ca. 1880. The (Johannesburg) Sunday Times, May 23, 1937.—3. A second-rate, dirty cinema: since ca. 1918; by ca. 1939, also S. African. Cf. bug-house, n.—4. A sleeping-bag: Army (esp. officers): since ca. 1915. Cf. sense 2 of flea-bag (p. 285).

fleas(-)and(-)itchers, the. The cinema: Australian rhyming s. (on pictures): since ca. 1946. (B., 1953.) Probably influenced by flea-pit, 3.

fleeco. An Australian and New Zealand variant of the next term: C. 20. (Jean Devanney, The Butcher Shop, 1926.)

fleecy. That shearing-shed hand who picks up the shorn fleeces: New Zealand and Australian rural coll.: late C. 19–20. G. B. Lancaster, Sons o' Men, 1904; Baker.

Fleet Air Arm wallah. See matlow, 2.

Flemington confetti. Rubbish, nonsense, 'tripe', 'bulsh': Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. Ex the appearance of Flemington race-course at the close of a big meeting: paper everywhere. Cf. Flemo. 'More likely to be from the Flemington Saleyards in Sydney or Melbourne' (B.P.).

Flemish horse. 'A rope under the yard, on which the man at the extreme end of it stands to support himself in reefing or furling the topsail' (W. N. Glascock, Sketch-Book (I, 10), 1825). Moe.

Flemo. Flemington district (a north-west suburb of Melbourne) and race-course: Australian: C. 20. Baker.

fleshy, n.—2. A flesh wound: Australian soldiers': 1940 +. Lawson Glassop, We Were the Rats, 1944, "'Just a couple of fleshies. Be back again in a few weeks, dealing it out to old Jerry again.'"

fib. See flab.

flick. A bioscope: Stellenbosch University, S. Africa: C. 20. Cf. Dutch flikkeren, to flicker. flicking.—2. A corruption (from ca. 1910), orig. perhaps euphemistic, of fricking.

flicks.—3. Searchlights: Air Force: 1939 +. Jackson. Ex sense 2.

flicks, the, 1 (p. 286): still, in 1966, very common in Australia. (B.P.)

Flidget Sergeant. A Flight-Sergeant: R.A.F.: since ca. 1933. (Atkinson.) Prob. flight + flidget.

flies, up in the. Prosperous: theatrical: C. 20. W. L. George, The Making of an Englishman, 1914. Ex the flies of theatrical j.: the space over the proscenium.

flies' skating-rink. See skating-rink below.

Flight. In address (rarely otherwise): Flight-Sergeant: R.A.F. coll.: since ca. 1919. Jackson. It has never—at least by the Other Ranks—been so widely used as chiefie.

flight Louie. A Flight-Lieutenant: R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. Jackson. Ex lootenant for 'lieutenant'.

flight magician. A flight-mechanic: Air Force since ca. 1925. Jackson. Humorous.

flights. Hangars: Air Force: since ca. 1937. Jackson, 'Thus, "Down in the flights": from the hangars the aircraft are moved preparatory to flying.

flim, 2 (p. 286). Also, since ca. 1942, common among spivs. (Picture Post, Jan. 2, 1954.)

flimping.—2. A 'rigging' of the weights on a pair of scales: barrow-boys': since ca. 1920. Cf. sense 1 (p. 287).

fimsy.—5. (Cf. sense 2.) An important message written on rice paper, which, if one is captured, can be swallowed without ill effects: Services: since 1939. H. & P.—6. A cheque: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Ex 1.—7. A train order: Canadian railroadmen's (—1931).—8. 'Petrol-can, of the original British type, very easily broken': Army: ca. 1940–3. (P-G-R.) But Peter Sanders modifies my entry thus: 'More accurately a four-gallon petrol can of tinplate (later ternplate) made in Egypt and used throughout the "Middle East". Egyptian industry was not capable of making a more substantial can. The ordinary British two-gallon can was an engineering marvel by comparison.'

fling for. See rap, v., 2, below. This is c. of C. 18–early 19.

fling one up is a variant (R.A.F.: since ca. 1930) of throw one up. Jackson.

finking. Employed by youths to impress their friends that they are still 'he-men', not 'cissies', usually if women or strangers might overhear them: since ca. 1940. Ex S.W.-English dial. flink, 'to fling or toss', whence finker, 'a proud woman'.

flint (p. 287). See dung (p. 249). I.e. one who is true as steel.

flint for, fix one's. To put a spoke in someone's wheel; to 'settle his hash': ca. 1850–1910. H., 2nd ed., 1860.

flint it out. To insist on full wages: workmen's: C. 19. B. & L.

flip, n., 3. Also in a motor-car: since ca. 1935. H. & P.—4. Earlier in A. Neil Lyons, Clara, 1912.—5. Short for flip side below: since late 1950's.—6. A chap, a fellow: Australian pejorative: C. 20. Ex sense 5 of v.

flip, v.—3. To approve wildly, to become deliriously elated: Canadian dance-lovers' and jazz musicians': adopted, 1957, ex U.S. (where originally flip one's wig).—4. To go literally mad: Canadian jazz musicians' and lovers': since 1956 or 1957. Cf. the U.S. blow one's top.—5. To masturbate: Australian male: late C. 19–20. Also flip oneself off.—6. To arouse enthusiasm: drug addicts', hippies', Flower People's: since ca. 1966. (Peter Fryer in The Observer colour supplement, Dec. 3, 1967.) flip, adj. Flippant: American s., adopted ca. 1918 in Canada, ca. 1945 in Australia (Ruth Park, The Good-Looking Women, 1961); late 1940's in New Zealand; ca. 1950 in Britain.

flip-flaps or flops. Bouncing breasts: Australian: since ca. 1920.—2. Hence, girls with bouncing breasts, as in 'standing in Martin Place [Sydney] and watching the flip-flops go by': Australian: since early 1920's.

flip side. The reverse side of a record: teenagers', ex disc jockeys': since late 1950's.

flip (one's) top. To become extremely angry or excited, almost crazy: Australian: adopted, ca. 1950, ex U.S. (B.P.)

flip-wreck. Vaguely pejorative for a man: Australian: since ca. 1910. Cf. flip, n., 6, and v., 5, above.

flipped. Crazy: Australian: since early 1950's. Ex preceding. (B.P.)

flipper, 1 (p. 287). A year earlier in 'A Real Paddy', Real Life in Ireland, 1822.—4. A variant form of flapper, 5 (young harlot).—5. The controls of an aircraft: R.F.C.—R.A.F.: ca. 1916–25. (Guy Fowler, The Dawn Patrol, 1930.)—6. 'A top-spinner delivered by the bowler with an extra flip of the fingers' (Peter Sanders): cricketers': since ca. 1920.

flipping. A pejorative, usually intensive, adjective and adverb: proletarian: since ca. 1920. 'I sha'n't do the flipping thing'—'I don't flipping well know.' (The film, Seven Days to Noon, 1950.) Originally a euphemism. In S. P. B. Mais, Caper Sauce, 1948, we find: "'No flipping Bovril about the Barley Mow, Aggie," said Lomax. "And I'll trouble you not to swear, Mr Lomax. There's ladies present.'" Since ca. 1940 the commonest of all euphemisms for flipping, adj.

flit commode. A flight commander (not a rank but a function): R.A.F.: since ca. 1935. Jackson. Cf. air commode.

flit gun. See cap badge.

float, n.—3. That cash in the till which is there for ordinary trading: coll.: since the 1930's. Stephen Mogridge, Talking Shop, 1950. Perhaps ex sense 2 (p. 287).

float, v., 2 (p. 287): common, since before 1919, at Eton—where it is also a noun (= faux pas). Marples.—3. To go: from ca. 1910. Cf. float up (Dict.).

float around. To fly near by 'in a leisurely fashion for the fun of it or to kill time' (Jackson): R.A.F.: since ca. 1930.

floater, a faux pas, was in use at Oxford at least as early as 1913: witness Lunn (p. 78). Its essence is that it recurs.—7. Esp. in floaters and mash, sausages and mashed potatoes: R.A.F.: since ca. 1920. Jackson. Ex sense 1?—8. An employee always on the move: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931). Also known as a boomer.—9. A departmental file that circulates for the information of the branch: Army officers': since ca. 1920.

floaters in the snow. Sausages and mashed potatoes: Naval (lower-deck): since ca. 1920. Cf. floater, 7.

floating one, vbl n. Passing a worthless cheque or arranging a loan without definite security: Services, esp. among officers: since ca. 1930. H. & P.

flock. A bed: tramps' c.: C. 20. Ex the flock in a mattress.

flog.—2. (p. 288): but extant in Anglo-Irish until much later than 1910. (P. W. Joyce).—7. (Ex 3.) 'To offer for sale (especially when financially embarrassed . . .)', H. & P.: Services: since ca. 1935.—8. To borrow without permission: Services: ca. 1937. H. & P. (Cf. sense 5).—9. To masturbate: low Australian: C. 20.

flog one's donkey. (Of a male) to masturbate: low (? orig. Cockney): late C. 19–20. Also flog one's mutton—a variant of jerk . . . Also flog the bishop (see bishop . . .).

flog the bung. To use a mallet instead of the regulation 'pricker' to draw the bung of a cask: Naval: mid-C. 19–20; † by 1930. Granville.

flog the cat.—2. To vent one's bad temper on someone: Naval: since ca. 1925. Granville.

flogging, adj.—2. (Also adv.) Objectionable; vaguely, yet strongly, pejorative: Australian: since ca. 1920. Ex flog, v., 9, above; semantically cf. the equivalent flipping above. It occurs in, e.g., Hugh Atkinson, Low Company, 1961, "'Down they come like the floggin' wool prices'" and 'They might land in the floggin' desert'".

flogging, be. To be saving up one's money very carefully: proletarian: mid-C. 19–20; ob. B. & L.

floor, v., 1 (p. 288), occurs slightly earlier in W. N. Glascock's Naval Sketch Book, 2nd Series, 1834, at I, 207. (Moe.)

floor, on the (p. 288). By 1939, low s. Cf. familiar S.E. down and out.—2. Adj. and adv. Derailed: railwaymen's: C. 20. (Railway 2nd.) Cf. dirt, on the, above.

floor fuck. Copulation on the carpet: low Australian: since ca. 1910.

floor-polish. To prove (someone) to be utterly wrong; a severe defeat, in argument or in a contest: since ca. 1942. John Bull, Dec. 2, 1944. Ex 'to wipe the floor with someone'.

floorman, the; the top man. Drawing upon Messrs William Hill Ltd's diary for 1953, The Sunday Dispatch of Dec. 14, 1952 writes: 'Tic-tac is used chiefly to liaise between the big operators and the little bookmakers in the minor ring. The liaison man is usually to be found perched precariously in the main stand, and for that reason is called "The Top Man". He relays information to his partner, "The Floor Man", who stands down below on the rails.' The latter passes it on to the small bookmakers themselves. These terms go back at least as far as 1930.

floorman pitch-getter. One of those assistants at a mock or rigged auction who entice crowds into the auction room: mock-auction world: since ca. 1945. (Sunday Chronicle, June 28, 1953.) Strictly, only pitch-getter is slang and, in this 'world', very much commoner than the full expression.

floosie (or -y). A girl (as companion): Naval: since ca. 1940. Granville; John Bull, April 6, 1946. Adopted from U.S. s. For origin, cf. Flossie.

flop, n.—5. A bed: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931). Adopted from U.S.: see Underworld.

flop, do a (p. 288).—3. To faint: current, esp. among V.A.D.'s, in 1914–18; extant.

floppe-stopper. A brassière: Australian teenagers': since ca. 1955. Cf. flip-flops above.

flopperoo. A spectacular 'flop' or failure: adopted, ca. 1960, ex U.S. Cf. flop, n., 3 (p. 288).

flor de cabbagio. A c.p. directed, ca. 1890–1914, at someone smoking a cheap cigar: cf. cabbage, n., 4 (p. 118) and who's smoking . . . below.

floricus is B. & L.'s error for foricus, q.v. in Dict. at forakers.

florid. Half-drunk; fuddled: ca. 1770–1830. See quot'n at mops and brooms. I.e. flushed with drink.

Florrie. Inseparable nickname of all Ford(e)s: C. 20. Cf. Florrie Ford (p. 289).

Flossie. A prostitute: South Africa: C. 20.

flossy or flossy up. To dress up (oneself); to furbish: Australian: since ca. 1935. (B., 1953.) Ex the S.E. adj.

flounder, n.—2. Short for flounder and dab—since ca. 1905, of a taxicab.

flounder-spearing. See spearing flounders.

flour-mixer. A Gentile girl: esp. Jewish Cockneys': C. 20. Rhyming s. on Yiddish shiksa, q.v. at shickster on p. 755. Franklyn 2nd.

Floury. The inseparable nickname of all Bakers: late C. 19–20.

flow, n. A 'travelling the bees' sojourn at a place where blossoms abound: Australian coll.: since ca. 1945. Kylie Tennant, The Honey Flow, 1956, 'You say nothing of what you did to get your honey, but tell wild lies of the flows you have been on, and how you took seven tins to the hive.'

Flower pot, the. Covent Garden (Market). London taxi-drivers': since ca. 1905. Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939. Ex the Flower Market there.

Flower power. 'Revolutionary philosophy akin to ideas of Young Liberals, e.g. Make Love Not War' (Peter Fryer in The Observer colour supplement, Dec. 3, 1967): hippies', Flower People's: since early 1967. Ex 'the Flower (or Beautiful) People'.

flowers.—2. Orders, decorations, honours or degrees, indicated by letters after name: Forces': 1939 +. They look pretty. (Atkinson.)

flowers and frolics; fun and frolics. Testicles: Anglo-Irish rhyming s.: late C. 19–20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

flowery.—3. A cubicle: low: since ca. 1920. Ex flowery (dell), a prison cell. Brendan Behan, Borstal Boy, 1958.

fluey. Characteristic of, or characterized by, influenza, as 'fluey weather': coll.: since ca. 1930. (A. B. Petch, March 1966.)

fluff, n., 5 (p. 289): esp. railwaymen's: late C. 19–20. (Railway 2nd.)—7. Nonsense, esp. 'That's all fluff': Australian: ca. 1935–40 (source as for Bovril).—8. A railway ticket: Australian low: since ca. 1920. B., 1942.—B., 1943.—9. 'A spoonerism or other vocal misadventure on the radio (wireless)': Canadian: since ca. 1945. (Leechman.)

fluff, v.—7. (Cf. sense 3 in Dict.) To 'foozle' a shot by hitting the ground just behind the ball instead of the ball: golfers': C. 20.—8, which should, chronologically, be sense 1. To disguise the defects of (a horse): 1822, David Carey, Life in Paris, 'He knew . . . when a roarer had been fluffed for the purpose of sale.'—9. To suspect; to understand; to guess or detect: Army, esp. the Guards: since ca. 1910. Gerald Kersh, They Die with their Boots Clean, 1941. Also fluff to (someone): to 'tumble to' him. Prob. ex sense 2.—10. Break wind: Australian: since ca. 1919. B., 1942. Prob. ex sense 6.

fluffing, 2, or quilling. The selection, by off-duty employees, of rich passengers' luggage: railwaymen's: C. 20. (Railway.) Contrast and cf. fluffing(s) on p. 290.

fluffy ruffles. A girl in rustling petticoats and a feather boa: 1890's. Ex U.S. (and never very gen.), via the American illustrated periodicals.

flumdoodle. To humbug (someone): Australian C. 20. Baker. Cf. flumiddle (p. 290).

flunk. A term of contempt for, usually, a male: Australian: since ca. 1910. Baker. Ex flunkey.

flunk, v.t. and v.i. To fail in an examination: Canadian universities: late C. 19–20. Adopted from U.S.; of hotly disputed—in short, of unknown—origin.

fluo tube. A fluorescent-lighting tube: Australian coll.: since ca. 1955. (B.P.)

flush, n. 'Those [convicts] with Army and Navy experience use the Maltese word for money, i.e. "flush",' H. Wicks, The Prisoner Speaks, 1938.—2. A fellow with plenty of money, esp. if a free spender: Canadian carnival s.: since ca. 1910. Ex the adj.

flush of all four (aces). See 'Tavern terms', § 2.

flute.—4. See 'Tavern Terms', § 7 (near end).—5. A, to, whistle: police and prison warders': C. 20. The n. in Axel Bracey, School for Scoundrels, 1934; n. and v. in Jim Phelan, Murder by Numbers, 1941.—6. A jockey's whip: Australian sporting s.: since ca. 1910. B., 1942.

fly, n.—9. (Ex 3.) Esp. give (it) a fly, have a fly (at it), to try it; to make an attempt: Australian: C. 20. Baker. K. S. Prichard, Working Bullocks, 1926, "'Might give him a fly," Red admitted.'—10. A shunting truck; hence fly shunt, 'uncoupled wagons diverted after engine has passed the points'. (Railway): railwaymen's: C. 20.

fly, do a (or its). Of a horse: to do a gallop: Australian: C. 20. (K. S. Prichard, 'Dark Horse'—in Kiss on the Lips, 1932.)

fly, give it a; have a fly (at). To attempt something: Aus.: since mid-1940's. (B., 1959.)

fly a desk. Of an aircrew member: to be grounded and doing an office job: R.A.F.: 1940–5. Paul Brickhill, The Dam Busters, 1951.

fly a kite.—7. 'To tell a tall story' (Baker): Australian: C. 20.

fly-blow.—2. A flying-boat: R.A.F.: since ca. 1935. Jackson. By a pun on S.E. by-blow.

fly-blow, v. To separate (someone) from his money: Australian: C. 20. Baker. Ex fly-blown, 2 (Dict.).

fly-blown, 2. Also New Zealand. (B., 1941.)

fly-bog. Jam: Australian: ca. 1930–50, but never very general. (B., 1943.)—2. More general is the sense occurring in 'Sometimes you take a tin of fly-bog (treacle) with you as a luxury' (Jean Devaney, By Tropic Sea and Jungle, 1944): since ca. 1920.

fly boy. A Fleet Air Arm pilot or observer: among other branches of the Royal Navy and mostly officers': since ca. 1950; after 1965, only historical. (Wilfred Granville, A Dictionary of Sailors' Slang, 1962.) A pun on fly, adj., 1 (p. 291) and on S.E. 'flying', adj.

fly-by-night. A transient boarder bilking his landlady: landladies' coll.: late C. 19–20.—2. Topsy: rhyming s.: C. 20, but † by 1960. On synonymous tight. (Franklyn 2nd.)

fly by the seat of one's pants. To fly by instinct rather than by instruments: R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. Berrey: Brickhill & Norton, Escape to Danger, 1946, 'Only the line-shoot flying epics turned out by Hollywood could have produced the legend of the pilot who flew "by the seat of his pants"'.—2. Hence, to essay a task (not necessarily aeronautical) and, although one is unfamiliar with it, to improve as one continues: originally (1942) and still (1960) mainly Air Force. (Atkinson.) fly cemetery. A currant pudding: certain schools': since ca. 1945. (New Society, Aug. 22, 1963.)

fly-dusters. Fists: ca. 1880–1920. Arthur Binstead, Mop Fair, 1905.

fly flat.—2. A know-all; a 'smart Alec': low Australian: since ca. 1910. Cf.:

fly-gatherer. That workman who 'sweeps up and bags waste and "fly" (fibre dust) in spinning rooms' (The Evening News, Sept. 28, 1955): textile employees': late C. 19–20.

fly gay. Intelligent dupe of a confidence trickster: Australian c.: since ca. 1920. Baker. On analogy of fly flat (p. 292). See gay.

fly jerks. 'Small pieces of cork suspended from the brim of a tramp's hat to ward off flies,' B., 1942: Australian: late C. 19–20.

fly my kite (p. 292): † since ca. 1920, at latest.

fly off the handle (p. 292). Probably ex the head of a tool coming loose and falling off.

fly-pitch (p. 292): esp. of 'a casual spot' (W. Buchanan-Taylor, Shake It Again, 1943).

Fly Speck, the. Tasmania: continental Australians': C. 20. (B., 1943.) Cf. Speck, the, on p. 806.

fly-swisher stew. Oxtail stew: Aus. rural: since ca. 1910. (B., 1959.) Cattle swish their tails to keep the flies away.

fly the blue pigeon.—2. To use the sounding-lead: nautical: from ca. 1870. Kipling, Captains Courageous, 1897.

fly-walk, the. The ridge on a loaf of bread: domestic: C. 20.

Fly Wheel. See Chad.

flyer.—10. A very fast start in a foot race: athletics coll.: C. 20.

Flying Angel (Club), the. The Mission to Seamen's (Club): seamen's: C. 20. 'From the flying angel on the blue ground of the Mission's flag, from Rev., xiv, 6, "And I saw another angel fly in the midst of heaven . . ." (Laurie Atkinson, Sept. 11, 1967).

flying arsehole.—2. Observer on a 'plane: R.A.A.F.: 1939-45. (B., 1943.)

Flying Cigar—Flying Pencil—Flying Suitcase—Flying Tin-opener (all preceded by the). Resp., the Wellington bomber (viewed laterally)—the Dornier (laterally)—the Hampden and the short-lived Hereford bombers (side view, forward section)—and the Hurricane tank-buster: R.A.F.: since 1940 (first three) and 1941 (the fourth). H. & P., 1943.

Flying Coffin, the. The Vengeance dive-bomber: R.A.F.: 1944-5. Cf. preceding entry.

flying cove. One who gets money by pretending to be able to supply robbed persons with such information as will lead to the recovery of the lost goods: c.: ca. 1860-1940. B. & L.

flying dhobey. A native washerman giving quick service: Army in India: late C. 19-20; ob. by 1950. Also 'the mysterious Arab who would turn up at every camp, . . . however far from civilisation, to provide a one-day laundry service' (Peter Sanders, 1967): Army in North Africa: 1940-43.

flying duck. A section insulator: railwaymen's: since ca. 1950. (Railway, 3rd.)

flying dustbin. A heavy mortar-bomb fired from a tank: Army: 1940-5. (P-G-R.) Ex its appearances. Peter Sanders again rescues me, thus: 'More accurately, the bomb thrown by an A.V.R.E. (Armoured Vehicle, Royal Engineers) for demolishing defences. ". . . a 12" spigot mortar, the Petard, which could throw a 25 lb H.E. charge (known as the 'Flying Dustbin') up to a distance of eighty yards . . ." From The Tanks, by B. H. Liddell Hart, 1959, vol. II, p. 324. Probably not widely used until 1944, as these vehicles were a secret weapon for the landings in Normandy.'

flying dustman. 'The defendant was what is termed a Flying Dustman, who . . . paying nothing to anyone, goes round the parish collecting all the ashes he can, to the great injury of the contractor,' says a witness in a trial of 1812 in The New Newgate Calendar, V, 519; J. Wight, More Mornings at Bow Street, 1827, for a most informative account: coll.: ca. 1805-70.

flying elephant; usually in pl. A barrage balloon: since 1939. Berrey, 1940.

flying-fish. A fish-shaped mortar shell: Army: 1915-18.

Flying Fornicator, the. The last express train home from London: in many English provincial towns, esp. Oxford and Cambridge: C. 20. Also the Fornicator.

flying gas-main. A V.2 rocket: 1944-5. Jane Gordon, Married to Charles, 1950. An early report: 'A gas-main has exploded.'

flying handicap, the. An attack of diarrhoea: Australian sporting: C. 20. B., 1942. Cf. Sheffield handicap, 2.

Flying Horse; usually in pl. A Gloster Gladiator aircraft of the Fleet Air Arm: Naval: since ca. 1940. Granville.

flying kite (p. 292) is recorded in 1818: Alfred Burton, Johnny Newcome. (Moe.)

flying knacker. A horse-flesh butcher in a small way: Londoners': ca. 1860-1900. James Greenwood, Odd People in Odd Places, 1883.

flying light.—2. An earlier coll. nautical sense occurs in W. N. Glascock's Naval Sketch Book, 2nd Series, 1834, at I, 278, thus: 'Fell in with a full-feathered hearse—five mourning coaches—and a long line of carriages "flying light"' (with either no or only one passenger). Moe.

Flying Pencil. See Flying Cigar.

flying pig.—2. An aerial torpedo: 1940, Berrey. Ex appearance in the air.—3. A Vickers Vulcan aircraft of Imperial Airways: 1920's. (Wing Commander R. H. McIntosh, D.F.C., A.F.C., Autobiography, 1963.) Ex its pig-like appearance.

flying plumber. 'A Naval Engineering Officer borne for duty with the Fleet Air Arm' (P-G-R.): 1940 +.

flying sixty-six. A variant of sixty-niner below.

Flying Suitcase. See Flying Cigar. Also called a Flying Tadpole: Jackson.

Flying Tin-opener. See Flying Cigar.

fo-yok. Gunpowder: pidgin: from ca. 1860. B. & L. Lit., fire physie.

foaming at the mouth. See ready to spit.

fob-diver. A pickpocket: c.: from ca. 1880; slightly ob. (Binstead.)

fob-worker. A pickpocket specialising in the contents (esp. watches) of fobs: c.: from ca. 1890. (The Evening News, Dec. 9, 1936.) See fob, n., 2, in the Dict. Cf. patch-worker, q.v.

fog, n.—2. See Scotch Mist, 2.—3. Steam: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931).—4. See banger, 6, above. Hence fogging, fog-signal duty: railwaymen's: since ca. 1930. (Railway.)

fog factory. 'A locality where fogs are plentiful,' Berrey: R.A.F.: since 1939.

fogles. A prize-fighter's colours: boxing: mid-C. 19-20. Ex fogle, 1 (p. 293).

fokesel (p. 294) has yet another variant: folksel, which occurs in W. N. Glascock, Sketch-Book (II, 30), 1826; and in Glascock's Saints and Sinners (I, 196), 1829, we find folksle. Moe.

fold, v. Elliptical for sense 2 of next.

fold up, v.i. (Of an aircraft) to crash: (of a person) to go sick unexpectedly or without warning: Services, esp. R.A.F.: since 1939. H. & P. Ex the 'to collapse' sense of the S.E. term; adopted from U.S.; perhaps, semantically, ex the 'action' of a defective parachute.—2. Hence, of a policy or a plan, of a business or a periodical: to fail, to collapse; to cease: since ca. 1945. Usually shortened to fold, as in 'This magazine is expected to fold before long'.

folding lettuce. Currency notes: beatniks': adopted, ca. 1958, ex U.S. (Anderson.)

follow the waterworks. To travel about the country on reservoir jobs: navvies': since ca. 1920.

foo. A favourite gremlin: R.A.A.F.: 1941 +. Arbitrary, though perhaps with a pun on F.O.O., a Forward Observation Officer. Baker, 1943, less precisely writes: 'A fictitious person to whom all lapses and bungling are attributed' and classifies it as general war slang: whence fooism, a saying, or an exploit, attributed to Foo. Perhaps ex a popular American cartoon strip called 'Smokey Storer': there, the 'hero' used it as a stop-gap name for anything for which he couldn't be bothered to find the correct word.

foo-foo. Talcum powder: pejorative: since ca. 1920. Perhaps ex foo-foo barge.

foo-foo band. A C. 20 synonym of squeegee band (p. 819). Cf.:—

foo-foo barge. A sewage boat on the Yangste River: Naval: C. 20. Granville, 'From "Phew, Phew!" perhaps?'; certainly with ref. to Foo, a common element in Chinese place-names.

foo-foo powder. 'Talcum powder, used a great deal by sailors in the tropics' (Granville): Naval lowerdeck: since ca. 1930. Cf. the preceding.

foo-foo valve. 'A mythical "gadget" that's always blamed for any mechanical break-down,' Wilfred Granville, letter of Jan. 7, 1947: Naval: since ca. 1910.

Foo was here! The Australian equivalent of Kilroy was here: since ca. 1940. Cf. foo above. (B.P.)

[Food in s. and coll. of early C. 18, as represented by Ned Ward, receives the following names: In gen., belly-timber. Trotters were bullocks' pettitoes (1703); sheep's heads, nappers' nolls (nolls), 1703; 'pigs' faces or the like' were grunters' muns (1703); butter-milk, bonniclabber (1709).]

food inspector. A tramp: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. He goes about the country sampling food wherever he can get a 'hand-out'. By 1959, †: teste B., The Drum.

fool-rogue. 'Some officers . . . were what the men called "fool-rogues"—petty, stupid, spiteful martinets,' Robert Blatchford, My Life in the Army, 1910: Regular Army coll.: ca. 1860–1910.

foosch. See Imperial.

foot-back it. To go on foot, carrying one's pack: Australian coll.: Archer Russell, 1934. And see footback.

foot for thought. 'A kick in the pants, as a warning not to do it again' (A. B. Petch, April 1966): jocular: since ca. 1950. A pun on 'food for thought'.

foot it, (p. 295) goes back to ca. 1820 or even to very early C. 19. It occurs in Wm Maginn, Tales of Military Life, 1829, at III, 229. (Moe.)—3. To dance: coll.: late C. 18–19. W. N. Glascock, Sketch-Book (II, 135), 1826; and earlier in The Port Folio of May 23, 1805 (p. 158, col. 2) quoting a Charles Dibdin song. (Moe.)

foot on the floor, put one's; with one's. To accelerate; by accelerating: motorists': since ca. 1920.

foot-rotting, n. 'Kicking one's heels in idleness' (B., 1943): Australian: since ca. 1930.

foot scamper, the. Robbery on foot, esp. of coaches; 'footpaddery': c.: C. 18. James Dalton, A Narrative, 1728.

footback or on footback. On foot: Australian: since ca. 1920. Archer Russell, A Tramp Royal, 1934 (footback); B., 1943 (on f.). Punning horse-back.

football.—2. See cricket, 2.

football feet, have. (Of an aircraft pilot) to make excessive use of the rudder: R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. H. & P.

footie. Football: Australian: since ca. 1920. (B., 1953.)

footie around, usually as vbl n., footling around, 'continuously circling over an area in search of a target or a landing-ground': E. P. in The New Statesman, Sept. 19, 1942. See footie (p. 295).

footprints, pair of. A pipe-wrench: Australian: since ca. 1930. 'Apparently so named because, when open, they are wide at the ends and narrow in the middle like a [human] footprint' (B.P.). footsack! See voetsak! in Dict.

Footscray Alps, the. The higher parts of Footscray: Melbourne ironies: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.)

footslogger. See foot-slogger (Dict.) footy.—2. Futile: Society: since ca. 1934; ob. Margery Allingham, The Fashion in Shrouds, 1938.—3. As in 'footy match', football match: Australian: since ca. 1920. (A. E. Farrell, The Vengeance, 1963.)

footy, play. To play feet: (mainly lower) middle-class coll.: late C. 19–20. Also playfooties.

fop's alley (p. 295). Earlier fop's corner (nearest-the-stage corner of the pit): Wycherley, The Country Wife, 1675, in form fop corner. (With thanks to John Cannon, Esq.)

[Fops and gallants receive in the works of Ned Ward in the first quarter of C. 18 such various s. names as these: butter-box (1703), crack (1703), Jack of Dandy (1703), pilgarlic (1724), skip-Jack (1703), sprag (1709), Tom Essence (1703). Matthews, who notes that these terms are all pejorative: I doubt, however, this sense of pilgarlic.]

for "Brighton" read "tight 'un". A c.p. directed at a drunk: R.A.F.: since ca. 1920.

for crying out loud! See crying out loud!, for.

for free. See charity dame.

for free. Free: coll.: adopted, ca. 1954, ex U.S. 'I got it for free'. Tautology.

for king and cunt. A c.p. reply to 'What are you fighting for?': C. 20.

for the widows and orphans, it's; or as c.p., all the money I take goes to the widows and orphans of (such and such a group or class or profession): cheapjacks' and market grafters': C. 20; since ca. 1960, slightly ob. (A. B. Petch, April 1966.)

for what we are about to receive. A naval c.p.: C. 18–20. C. S. Forester, The Happy Return, 1937, "'For what we are about to receive—," said Bush, repeating the hackneyed blasphemy quoted in every ship awaiting a broadside.' Ex the Grace, 'For what we are about to receive, the Lord make us truly thankful.'

for you the war is over. A c.p. used by prisoners-of-war captured by the Italians (who thus addressed them on their arrival in Italy): 1940–4. (P-G-R.)

force, n. 'The ability of a sheepdog to control a mob of sheep, esp. without legging, i.e. leg-biting. A good dog is said to have a lot of force. Whence, forcing dog' (B., 1959): Aus. rural coll.: C. 20.

fore-and-aft, n. 'Field service cap, as distinct from dress service or peaked cap' (Jackson): R.A.F.: since ca. 1925.

fore and aft, adj. 'Descriptive of a sailor's clothes, cut on the generous lines known to all,' H. & P.: Services, esp. Navy: C. 20. See fore and aft rig (Dict.). I.e. with plenty of freedom both in front and behind. Also free and blowing: H. & P.

fore-and-after, 2 (p. 296) is extant as Naval s. for 'officer's cocked hat with the peak in front' (Granville).

fore coach-wheel. See coach-wheel (Dict.).

forecourt, forehatch, forewoman. See forecastle (Dict.).

Foreign Legion, the. 'Men on loan' (Railway, 3rd): railwaymen's: since late 1940's.

foreign order. An Australian synonym of foreigner below: since early 1940's. (B.P.)

foreigner. An article—e.g. the model of an aircraft—made in the Service's time and with its materials: R.A.F.: since ca. 1941. H. & P. Adopted from civilian workers, who had used the term since at least as early as 1939.

forelo(o)per is a variant of forlo(o)per, q.v. in Dict.

foreman, near the door,—near the. See near the foreman . . .

foreman of the jury (Dict.) goes back to before 1650: see 'Tavern terms', § 4. foretopman's lock. A quiff: Naval: late C. 19–20. 'Taffrail', The Sub, 1917.

Forever Amber or f— a—. A fixed distant signal: railwaymen's: since late 1940's. (Railway, 3rd.) Ex the title of Kathleen Winsor's famous popular novel, published in Britain in 1945—and the film two years later.

forget! . . . See you'd forget . . .

fork, n.—5. A jockey: Australian sporting: C. 20. B., 1942. He uses his fork so much.

fork, v.—5. To ride (a horse): Australian: C. 20. (D'Arcy Niland, Call Me . . ., 1958.) Cf. the preceding. (Occurs earlier in Tom Ronan, Moleskin Midas, 1956.)

fork and knife.—2. A wife: rhyming s.: C. 20. (Lester.) Far less common than trouble and strife (p. 912).

fork lifts. The two striped cushions placed in the rear window of a car: Australian raffish: since late 1950's. 'This is a status symbol, in that people with small cars or old cars with a small rear window have no room for the cushions' (B.P.) These cushions are reputed to facilitate rear-seat copulation, and there is a pun on the fork of the human body. In S.E., a fork-lift is 'a kind of industrial carrier that lifts goods by inserting a fork beneath a pallet stacked with goods'.

fork out (p. 297). Rather, since ca. 1815–20. W. T. Moncrieff, The Collegians, 1820, has fork over.

forks down, put one's. See put one's forks down.

form.—6. A reformatory: South African c.: lato C. 19–20. The Cape Times, May 23, 1946.—7. A prison record, esp. if serious or recidivist: since ca. 1925. Norman, 'You can get at least a five and maybe even a neves for getting captured with a shooter especially if you've got a bit of form behind you.'—8. Situation, position, as in 'What's the form?' or 'It took me a couple of days to find out the form at H.Q.'—to ascertain how things were done and what the people were like: Services officers': since ca. 1930. (P-G-R.)

form, with. Having a police record: c. (and police s.): since ca. 1925. Peter Crookston, Villain, 1967, 'They [the police] might check on everyone with form living within easy reach of the crime.'

form up (about it). To make a formal request or complaint to a superior officer: Army, mostly officers': 1939–45. (P-G-R.)

Formy. H.M.S. Formidable: Naval: since ca. 1930. Granville.

fornicating, adj. Lying; humbugging ('You fornicating sod!'): C. 20.

fornicating the poodle. See fucking the dog.

fornicator. 'He that passeth backward': trucks players': ca. 1650–1720. Charles Cotton, The Compleat Gamester, 1674.

Fornicator, The. See Flying Fornicator.

Fort. A Flying Fortress: coll. (R.A.F. and journalists'): 1941 +. Partridge, 1945.

Fort Bushy. The female pudend: Canadian: C. 20. Imaginary topography.

fortie. Variant (B., 1942) of forty, 2 (Dict.).

forty-acre field with her (or him) or in her (his) hat (coat, etc.), (I, etc.) wouldn't be seen crossing (or dead in) a. A c.p. of contempt or derision: mostly Cockneys': late C. 19–20. To a Cockney, 40 acres are a considerable area; forty is generic for a largish number.

forty-eight. A 48-hours' pass or leave: Services coll.: since ca. 1914.

forty-foot pole. See wouldn't touch . . .

forty-four. Door to door: rhyming s.: C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

forty pounds of steam behind him, sometimes preceded by with. A Naval c.p. applied to someone who has received an immediate draft: since ca. 1900. Granville. At one time in the Navy's history, safety valves 'went off' at forty pounds pressure.

forty(-)rod; red(-)eye. Of illicit whisky going from Montana into Canada in 1889, Captain Burton Deane, Mounted Police Life in Canada, 1916, writes, 'The stuff itself was known as "Forty Rod", "Red Eye", "Rot Gut" and other similarly expressive names, and it was invariably of over-proof strength, so that it might be doctored by the retail vendors. In most cases it was little other than coloured alcohol': Canadian s.: since ca. 1885. In C. 20, rot-gut = bad beer. In 1914–18, the Army applied red-eye to rum. Mr Robert Clairborne reminds me that Mark Twain used it in Huckleberry Finn, 1884, and that the story is laid ca. 1850.

foss.—3. Generic for patent medicines and toilet preparations: fair-grounds': C. 20. (W. Buchanan-Taylor, Shake It Again, 1943.) Perhaps on phosphorus?

fotch. See the quotation at chaffy above. Perhaps cf. the North Country fotch, Sc. foutch, to challenge.

foul.—2. 'If the rank is full, and he "puts on" the tail end in the hope that the first cab will "get off" before a policeman catches him, he "puts on foul". When he has done so, he is "foul"', Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939: taxi-drivers': since ca. 1910. Ex the foul of sport, as in 'to play foul'.

Foul Weather Jack.—2. Hence, any person supposed to bring bad luck to a ship while he is on it: nautical coll.: late C. 18–20. B. & L.

found a nail. Round the tail: New Zealand sheep-shearers' rhyming s.: C. 20. B., 1941.

Foundling, the; pron. fahnlin. The Harmsworth Memorial Playground at Coram Fields: Cockneys': from ca. 1930 (?).

four-by-two, 2 (p. 298): but, by 1920, fairly common among users of rhyming s.

For sense 1 (p. 298), note that, strictly, this is the piece of flannelette within the loop at the end of the cord.

four F method, the. This is the lower-deck's allusive synonym (C. 20) of its sexual motto, Find, feel, fuck and forget, itself current since ca. 1890.

four(-)foot. '4 ft. 8½ in. gauge' (Railway, 3rd): railwaymen's coll.: C. 20.

four Johnny boys or ladies or monarchs of the glen. Quatorzes in picquet: C. 20. (Alan S. C. Ross.)

four-letter word. A 'rude word' of four letters: since 1929 (1st edition of Lady Chatterley's Lover: 1928): coll. >, by late 1950's, S.E. Usually reckoned as two or three, but there are at least ten of them: arse, ball(s), cock, cunt, fart, fuck, piss, quim, shit, twat.

four o'clock. A friar bird: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. It's so diabolically matutinal!

four-ringed captain. 'A Captain R.N. as distinct from the captain of a ship who holds a junior rank' (Granville): Naval coll.: late C. 19-20.

four-stand flogger. '... As the ordinary whip made by an amateur is called' (Jean Devanney, Travels in North Queensland, 1951): Australian cattlemen's: C. 20.

fourble, adj. and—mostly in pl.—n. Quadruple: Australian juvenile: since ca. 1930. (B., 1953.)

fourpenny. An old ill-favoured whore: low London: ca. 1870-1910. Ex her tariff.

fourpenny one, get a. To be shot down: Air Force: 1940 +.—2. To receive a thrashing, get a hiding: since ca. 1910—the origin of sense 1.

fourteen penn'orth. An award of fourteen days in the cells: Naval: C. 20. Granville. Contrast the Dict. entry.

fourth, keep a. To the explanations at fourth, add this one: 1, Chapel; 2, breakfast; 3, pipe; 4, defecation. (This Cambridge interpretation dates back to at least as early as 1886.)

fourth, on one's. Very drunk: non-aristocratic: ca. 1870-1910. B. & L.

fowl-house, up against one's. A variant of duck-house . . . , q.v. Baker.

fowl-roost, start a. To assume a hyphenated surname: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

fowlo. A fowl: pidgin: mid-C. 19-20. B. & L.

fox.—7. To puzzle (a person)—e.g. with a flow of technicalities or of other erudition: Services' coll.: since 1939. H. & P. Ex sense 2.—8. (Ex sense 3.) 'To follow an enemy aircraft cunningly' (Jackson): R.A.F.: 1939 +.—9. To field (a cricket ball): Australian: since ca. 1925. Leonard Mann, The Go-Getter, 1942, 'You bowled it, you fox it.' To run to earth.

foxer. An apparatus used for foxing the gnat (German acoustic torpedo): Naval: ca. 1941-5.

foxes always smell their own hole first. A c.p. (ca. 1890-1914) uttered by the culprit in an endeavour (often serious) to shift the blame of a flatus on to the first complainant.

fox's paw (p. 299). Perhaps commoner is fox's pass as a lower-middle-class sol. for faux pas: late C. 19-20. fox paw (p. 299) 'has been brought back to life in Australia. Not low here, but used mostly by university students' (B.P.)

frack. A noisy quarrel; an assault: Soho, London: since ca. 1920. (E. J. Oliver, Not Long to Wait, 1948.) Ex fracas.

fragile. (Of girls) exported under age to the Argentine: white-slavers' e.: C. 20. A. Londres, 1928.

fragment. A boy not good enough to play in the Peripatetics, the Etceteras or the Yearlings: Charterhouse: from 1926.

frail.—2. A courtesan: fast life: ca. 1830-70. Anon., The New Swell's Guide to Night Life, 1846. Cf. sense 1 on p. 299.

frames. Draught cattle: Australian coll.: late C. 19-20. B., 1942. Ex their large frames.

franchucha. A French prostitute in the Argentine: white-slave c.: late C. 19-20. (A. Londres, 1928.) In Argentine, a Franchucha was orig. 'Frenchwoman'.

Franklin teeth. Projecting teeth: Canadian: adopted, ca. 1920, ex U.S.; by 1935, †. Projecting, hence 'air-cooled': ex 'the air-cooled engine of the Franklin car. Became obsolete with the disappearance of the car in the Depression' (Priestley).

Frans, the. Members of the Friars Minor (Franciscans): Australian Catholics': C. 20. (B.P.)

frantic.—3. (Of a party) gay, lively: smart young set (esp. girls'): ca. 1955-60. Gilderdale, 2. Perhaps ex sense 2 (p. 300). Also (as in 'It's frantic' or good fun or exciting) Australian surfers', esp. teenagers': since late 1950's; by 1966, slightly ob. (Pix, Sept. 28, 1963.) Proleptic.

framy (or F-). Rain: taxi-drivers': since ca. 1915. See instalment mixture. A very rare type of shortening from rhyming s.: France and Spain. Influenced by parny (see parnee, p. 606).

frat, n. Same as fratter in next entry: since late 1945. John Bull, June 8, 1946.

frat, v. To fraternise: Armed Forces': since May 1945. By back formation. Hence, fratter, a fraterniser. (North of the Brenner, the Allied Forces in 1945 referred to Austrian girls as frats.)

fraught. Risky or dangerous: smart set: since early 1960's. Andrew Garve, The Long Short Cut, 1968, "'Almost [no risks] in the early stages . . . The end could be a bit fraught.'" Elliptical for 'fraught with danger'.

frazzle, v. To rob: Australian c.: C. 20. B., 1942 Ex. done (or worn) to a frazzle.

freak.—2. 'Trying to ring in a freak. . . A double-header' (Vance Palmer, Golconda, 1948): Australian two-up players': since ca. 1910.

freak, v. To 'arouse or share collective enthusiasm (freak-out)': hippies' and then Flower People's: since late 1966 or very early 1967. Peter Fryer in The Observer colour supplement, Dec. 3, 1967. Cf. the next two entries.

freak-out, n. '... These curious way-out events, simulating drug ecstasies, which are known as "freak-outs", in which girls writhe and shriek and young men roll themselves naked in paint or jelly': Robert Pitman in the Daily Express of March 2, 1967—the day on which Anthony Burgess's review of D.S.U.E., 6th edition, appeared in The Listener and he animadverted upon my omission of the term; Peter Fryer in The Observer colour supplement, Dec. 3, 1967: since late 1966. Ex:—

freak out, v. To become a decided 'freak'— temporarily crazy (hallucinated): Canadian drug addicts', since ca. 1965; > British, ca. 1966. Daily Colonist, March 29, 1967, 'Fred Sabine, 19, "freaked out" after taking the hallucinatory drug L.S.D., and said he encountered people who tried to bite his head off.' (Leechman.) Perhaps ex the S.E. adj. freaked, 'vivid with contrasting streaks of color occurring capriciously' (Webster); cf. preceding entry.

Fred Karno. 'A train made up of goods and passenger stock. In use among the L.M.S. employees ca. 1930. (As Fred Karno has not appeared on the halls for many years it is probably earlier): J. A. Boycott, letter of Dec. 1938.

Fred Karno's Air Force. The British Air Force of World War I: ca. 1915-18. Prompted by his Army (p. 300).

Fred Karno's Army.—2. Hence, in the war of 1939-45, 'the Army on Home Service, and particularly the specialist branches regarded with a satirical eye' (H. & P.).

Fred Karno's Navy. 'Or Harry Tate's Light Horse. The auxiliary Patrol; terms . . . resuscitated in the Hitler War' (Granville): Naval: 1914 +.

Freddies. Orange Free State gold stocks and shares: Stock Exchange: C. 20.

Fred's. Fortnum & Mason's: Londoners': since ca. 1945. Cf. Rod's.

free and blowing. See fore-and-aft. Strictly worn by Petty Officers, E.R.A.'s, Accounts and Sick Berth ratings.

free chewing-gum. A chin-strap: Australian soldiers': 1939 +. B., 1942.

free expenses. A free dispensary: South African low s.: since ca. 1930. (C. P. Wittstock, letter of May 23, 1946.) A pun.

free gangway, a (p. 300), occurs in The Navy and Army Illustrated, Dec. 25, 1896. (Moe.)

free, gracious, (and) for nothing. A c.p. variant (only ca. 1885-1900) of free, gratis and for nothing (p. 300).

free gratis (p. 300) is to be dated from mid-C. 18. Thomas Bridges, A Translation of Homer, 1770, says, concerning free gratis, that 'the common people' always put these two words together. The longer free, gratis and for nothing occurs in W. L. Rede, Sixteen String Jack, 1841.

free-holder, 2, is recorded as early as 1650; see 'Tavern terms', § 9.

free issue. See Froggie, 3.

free object. A non-convict settler: Australian: ca. 1810-70. A. Harris, Settlers and Convicts, 1847. Punning 'free subject'.

free of sense as a frog of feathers, as; or . . . from . . . from. Complete fool: Australian: C. 20. Baker.

free school. See 'Tavern terms', § 3.

Freedom Corner. Marble Arch (but inside Hyde Park)—a spot famous for its orators: C. 20.

freeloader. 'One who crashes in on cocktail parties, luncheons, and other such affairs that are part of a publicity campaign, or otherwise accessible. The sin he commits is "freeloading"' (Leechman); the v., to freeload, is less common. Canadian: adopted, ca. 1955, ex U.S.

Freeman, Hardy and Willis. A synonym of, though much less used than, Pip, Squeak and Wilfred (p. 633): mostly R.A.F.: since ca. 1921. Jackson. Prompted by the older term and approximately equi-vocal with it.

Freemans is an Army shortening (C. 20) of Harry Freeman's (see Freeman's . . . , p. 300).

freeze, v.—2. To send (someone) to Coventry: Service officers': since ca. 1925. H. & P.—3. To stand stock still, e.g. when an enemy flare lights up the surroundings: coll.: C. 20. Ion M. Idriess, The Desert Column, 1932: Diary entry of May 30, 1915, 'When a blasted shell comes screaming . . . I don't move at all, just lie perfectly still and "freeze", waiting.'—3. (Usually of the wife.) To confine one's spouse to 'the dog-house': Australian: since ca. 1925. (B.P.) freeze, do a.—2. Hence, to be ignored, neglected, overlooked: Australian: since ca. 1910. B., 1942.

freeze, the. A wife's deliberate withholding of sexual intercourse: Australian: since ca. 1930. 'Wives know that "the freeze" is their most potent weapon.' (B.P.) Cf. freeze, v., 3.

freezer.—4 A C. 20 Salvation Army term. 'General Bramwell Booth was in the habit of putting too energetic officers into what was called the "freezer"—that is, sending them to remote and unexciting posts where their ardour would soon cool': footnote on p. 177 of Malcolm Mugeridge, The Thirties, 1940. William Bramwell Booth became the Salvation Army's chief organiser at the age of 26, in 1882; in 1912, he became its General.—5. A prison: Australian low: C. 20. B., 1942.

Fremantle doctor. A refreshing sea-breeze that, esp. in the evening, blows in to Fremantle and Perth: West Australian: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.)

French, v. To perform an act of fellation upon: low: C. 20. 'She thought he was asleep, and Frenched him' (in a novel published ca. 1965). Cf. French tricks below.

French!, pardon (or excuse) the. Please excuse the strong language: non-aristocratic c.p.: from ca. 1916. Michael Harrison, All the Trees were Green, 1936, 'A bloody sight better (pardon the French!) than most.'

French by injection. See injection . . .

French Consular Guard, the. French prostitutes (Franchuchas) plying around the French Consulate at Buenos Aires: c., esp. white-slavers': C. 20. (A. Londres, 1928.)

French drive and Chinese Drive. A snick through the slips: cricket s., the former English, the latter Australian: since late 1940's. The former exemplifies 'the British tendency to ascribe anything irregular to the French' (Peter Sanders), the latter the Australian tendency to attribute anything odd to the Chinese.

French king, to have seen the. See 'Tavern terms', § 8.

French kiss (Dict.): lingual.

French letter.—2. A wind indicator: R.A.F.: since ca. 1925. Formerly, often called a 'wind-sock'. Ex shape.

French safe. A synonym of French letter (familiar S.E. for a condom): Canadian: since ca. 1910. (Leechman.)

French seventy-five (written 75). A 'Tom Collins' mixed with champagne: since ca. 1918; ob. Alec Waugh, Jill Somerset, 1936. Ex its potency.

French tricks. Cunnilingism, penilingism: coll.: mid-C. 19-20.

Frenchman.—2. 'An Anglo-French printing machine': printers': from ca. 1870; ob. B. & L.

Frenchy.—2. (Also Frenchie.) A condom: Australian: since ca. 1910. Ex 'French letter'.

fresh, 3 (p. 301). One year earlier in Sessions, 1828.—5. Uninitiated: c.: mid-C. 19–20. B. & L.

fresh and blood. 'Brandy and port wine, half and half,' Spy, 1825: Oxford University: ca. 1815–60.

fresh out of. Being short of; having no: Canadian coll., esp. among shopkeepers: adopted, ca. 1910, ex U.S. 'Sorry, sir, but we're fresh out of bacon.' (Leechman.)

freshen one's nip. To take a much-needed drink: nautical: C. 19. (W. N. Glascock's Naval Sketch Book, 2nd Series, 1834, at I, 283. Moe.)

freshen the hawse (p. 301) occurs earlier as freshen hawse, and bearing the sense 'to have an incidental drink', in The Night Watch (II, 117), 1828, 'After we had been mustered at quarters, and the hammocks down, I went and freshened hawse with a nip of Tom's grog.' Moe.

freshier.—2. A refreshment room, or a set of r. rooms: railwaymen's: C. 20. (Railway.) freshers. Fresh air: Naval: C. 20. By 'the Oxford -er'.

freshers work first term . . . See first term too early . . . above.

freshgo, all. Al fresco: a sol. dating from ca. 1890. Esp. as in Edwin Pugh, A Street in Suburbia, 1895, 'It's nice ter be able ter take yer tea like this—all freshgo, ez the saying is.'

freshie (or -ly). A fresh-water crocodile: N. Queensland coll.: C. 20. (Jean Devanney, 1951.) Cf. saltie.

freshish. Verging on drunkenness, nearly tipsy: County s.: ca. 1819–60. P. Egan, London, 1821.

freshman's river. 'The Cam above Newnham Mill': Cambridge undergraduates': from ca. 1860. B. & L.

fret one's fat. To worry: low: from ca. 1880. Pugh (2). Cf. fret one's giblets in the Dict.

frey, v.i.: esp. as vbln., freying, courting, courtship: South African: 1938 +. Professor W. S. Mackie in The Cape Argus, July 4, 1946, 'Simply an Anglicising of Africaans "vry" in its sense of "to court"—itself ex Dutch vrijen, "to court"—s. "To pet, to spoon."'

Friar Tuck. To coit; coition; an expletive: low rhyming s. (on fuck): late C. 19–20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

friar's balls. Friar's Balsam: Australian low jocular: since ca. 1930.

fricking. A s. euphemism for fucking, adj.: C. 20. On or ex frigging, adj.

Friday while (p. 302). Lieutenant Wilfred Granville, R.N.V.R., has neatly solved the origin: 'Leave from Friday noon to Monday. . . . The North Country while: "until". That is, "Friday until Monday."' A short weekend Saturday while.

fridge (p. 302) has, since ca. 1938 at latest, been the predominant form in Britain, Canada, Australia and elsewhere.—2. Prison: Australian low: since ca. 1910. Cf. freezer, 5.

fried. See honkers.

fried egg. A company sergeant-major's badge: Army: since ca. 1930.

fried eggs. Legs: Australian rhyming s.: C. 20. (A. A. Martin, letter, 1937.)—2. Underdeveloped female breasts: Australian male: since ca. 1930.

friend. The man who keeps a harlot as his mistress: (better-class) whores' euphemistic coll.: from ca. 1870. 'Oh yes, I have a friend.'—2. The ball-valve union one uses in blowing up a football: since ca. 1920. Ex advertisements?

friend, boy; girl friend. See boy friend.

friendies. A friend: Christ's Hospital: mid-C. 19–20. Marples.

friendly hostile. An enemy aircraft that doesn't attack: Naval: 1939–45. (P-G-R.) friendly lead.—2. (Ex sense 1 on p. 302.) A 'passing the hat', a collection for someone in distress: C. 20.: coll.; by 1940, S.E.

frig, n.—3. 'Any military operation, from an exercise to a battle. "What time does the frig start?"' (P-G-R): Army: 1939–45. Perhaps ex 'a *frigg*ing nuisance or bore'.

frig, v.—3. Hence, in R.A.F. (since ca. 1935), to fix; e.g. fuses could be so 'frigg'd' that they would never blow.

frig around. Variant of frig about (p. 302): C. 20.

frig-up. A muddle, confusion: Australian: C. 20. Baker.

frighten the shit out of. To scare badly: low: late C. 19–20.

frightener. A scare: since ca. 1930. 'I'd been terrified . . ., but once I'd got over the first frightener I sort of liked it': L. J. Cunliffe, Having It Away, 1965. Cf.:—

frighteners on, put the. To scare (someone): low: since ca. 1930. (Norman.) frightening powder. A stern warning: police: since ca. 1930. Robert Fabian, London after Dark, 1954, describes it as 'private police slang'. Cf. preceding entry.

frightfully (p. 302) dates rather from late C. 18, to judge by a passage (from La Belle Assemblée) in The Port Folio of June 1809. (Moe.)

frill, v. 'Partly to ring-bark a tree' (B., 1959): Aus. rural: C. 20.

frilled lizard. 'A man with a whisker-framed face' (B., 1942): Australian: C. 20. Family likeness.

fringer. One who wears side-whiskers only, or moustache and side-whiskers: beatniks': since ca. 1959. (Anderson.)

frippence. Threepence: sol., esp. Cockney: C. 19–20.

frippet; usually a bit of frippet. A young lady: military (officers'): from ca. 1933. Origin? Also among Leeds undergraduates for a townsman (or -woman): since ca. 1940. (Marples, 2.)

'Might this be a conflation of Lancashire frip ["anything worthless or trifling": E.D.D.]—cf. fripping below—and snippet below?': Ramsey Spencer. At the least, an influencing, I'd say.

fripping. Bickering; a more or less continuous irritation, petty quarrelling, esp. between husband and wife: Society and middle-class: since ca. 1919. In, e.g., W. Somerset Maugham, The Circle, 1921. Perhaps 'tearing things to tatters': Cf. C. 16–17 Fr. fripon, a rag, and Lancashire frip, something worthless.

'Frisco. San Francisco: a coll. condemned by the cultured: from ca. 1880.

frisk, v., 1 (p. 303), has, in Australia (late C. 19–20), the narrow sense, 'to examine (a person) by feeling through the clothing without searching pockets, etc.': B.P.

frisk and frolic. Carbo-lic: rhyming s.: ca. 1880-1920. Franklyn 2nd.

frisk for. To take from (the person): c.: C. 20. W. L. Gibson Cowan, Loud Report, 1937, 'You have to keep your eye open for some cop who'll frisk you for a quid or threaten to take you up.' Ex frisk, v., 2.

frisking, n. Preliminary petting: Australian: since ca. 1930. Ex frisk, v., 1, above.

fritter. Bacon-rind and/or bacon-fat wrapped up in rag to serve as a fire-lighter: tramps' c.: C. 20.

fritz, on the. See on the fritz.

Fritzkrieg. 'Facetious for a German bombardment,' Berrey: Sept. 1940-May 1941; thereafter hardly ever used, the strain on the air-raid victims causing facetiousness to wear thin. See Fritz (Dict.) and blitz (Addenda): Ger. Krieg, warfare.

frivols. Frivolities: since ca. 1920.

friz or frizz.—3. A female member of a show or carnival: Canadian carnival s.: since ca. 1920. Ex frizzed hair.—4. (Always frizz.) A 'flap', a panic: mostly theatrical: since ca. 1930. Noel Coward, Pomp and Circumstance, 1960.

fro (or froe) file. A female pickpocket: C. 18. James Dalton, A Narrative, 1728, 'Fro Files, Women Pick-Pockets.' See Dict. for the separate terms.

frock and frill. A minor ill, esp. a chill: rhyming s.: late C. 19-20.

frock-hitcher. A milliner, esp. one in a small way: urban: ca. 1880-1915. Arthur Binstead, Mop Fair, 1905.

frockier. A frock coat: C. 20. By 'the Oxford-er'.

frog.—7. A £1 note: Australian: since ca. 1910. Vance Palmer, Separate Lives, 1931; B., 1942. A shortening of Australian rhyming s. frog-skin = sovrin = £1: late C. 19-20.—8. A condom: Australian: since ca. 1925. Prompted by Frenchy, 2 (above).

Sense 2 (p. 303): much earlier in The Night Watch (II, 299), 1828, and prob. going back to ca. 1790. Moe.

Frog-Eater (p. 303) should prob. be back-dated to late C. 18; it occurs in The Night Watch (II, 93), 1828. Moe. Moreover, the term is not ob. in Australia. (B.P.)

frog-footed; flat-footer. Resp. adj. and n. for a person going on foot: ca. 1870-1910. B. & L.

frog from (or of) feathers, as free of (or from) sense as a. See free of sense . . .

frog in the throat, have a. To have phlegm in the throat; hoarseness: coll.: (?) mid-C. 19-20.

frog it (p. 303). The military usage was adopted from the language of showmen, who used it before—and after—P. H. Emerson, Signor Lippo, 1893. The origin is prob. frog and toad (p. 303).

frog-skin. See frog, 7.—2. A condom: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)

frog-spawn. Tapioca pudding: Public School-boys': since ca. 1890. (F. Spencer Chapman, The Jungle Is Neutral, 1949.)

Froggie (or -gy).—3. A 'French letter': Naval: since ca. 1910. Also Naval: free issue and froth bugle: since ca. 1920.

frog's eyes. Boiled sago: Australian: since ca. 1910. (B., 1953.)

from clew to ear-ring. See clew to . . .

from here to breakfast-time. A polite variant, since ca. 1920, of from arse-holes to breakfast-time, q.v. at arse-holes to . . . above.

from over yonder. From Ireland: tailors' coll.: mid-C. 19-20. B. & L.

from there on in. From this, or that, point forward: coll., perhaps mostly Canadian, but not unknown elsewhere: since ca. 1925. 'I'll get the thing set up for you, and you can play it from there on in.' (Leechman.)

fromage! Hard cheese!: ca. 1890-1905 at the Royal Military Academy. B. & L. The pun being on Fr. fromage, cheese.

front, n., 1: since ca. 1930, also Australian. B., 1942.—2. The scene of a thief's operations: c.: anglicised ca. 1929 from U.S. Julian Franklyn, This Gutter Life, 1934. Ex shop-fronts.—3. As the front, it = the main road or street of a Teddy-boy gang's district: Teddy boys': since ca. 1947. (The Observer, March 1, 1959.)—4. A large diamond tie-pin or ring (usually genuine) worn by vaudevillians to indicate prosperity: Canadian: since ca. 1930.

front, v., 1, is not ob. in Australia. Sidney J. Baker, letter, 1946.—3. To go in front of (someone), to be reprimanded (by him): Australian coll.: since ca. 1930. Kylie Tennant, The Joyful Condemned, 1953.—4. (V.i.) To appear in public, esp. if conspicuously; to turn up: Australian teenagers': since late 1940's. (Pix, Sept. 28, 1963.)—5. To front a band, esp. in the big-band era of the 1930's, is—'often with little skill, but with a winning personality'—to be, or to be made, leader of a band: Canadian jazz-men's: since the late 1920's. (Priestley.) front, adj. Angry; vexed: Winchester (the school): from ca. 1860. B. & L. Ex affronted.

front, show a. To turn out in haste, and as best one can, for a short-notice parade: military: from ca. 1870; ob. Ibid.

Front, the. Piccadilly: male prostitutes' & homosexuals': since ca. 1945. (See, e.g., Anne Sharpley's 'London's Hidden Problem' series in the Evening Standard, July 20-24, 1964. Cf. (the) Dilly above.

front man or psyche man. He who lures the victim into a crooked game of cards: Australian c.: since ca. 1935. (B., 1953.) Also, by ca. 1940, English c. and, by 1950, police s. (John Gosling, The Ghost Squad, 1959.)

front stuff. A smart appearance designed esp. to impress either prospective dupes or one's companions: low: since ca. 1930. See 'front' in Underworld.

front suspension. A brassière: Australian, esp. mechanics': since ca. 1930.

front the bull. To face a charge: Australian soldiers': 1939-45. (B., 1943.) Cf. front, v., 3.

front up. 'Mr Rudling said part of his duty'—at a mock-auction—'was to front up at the "hinting gear" table for the purpose of getting people into the shop'; hinting gear occurs thus, 'The selling was done by gathering an audience. There was a table put inside the shop on which was what was called "hinting gear". To passers-by it was said that alarm clocks were going at a shilling each or even sixpence. Among the "hinting gear" were such things as electric shavers and musical boxes'; 'articles sold for sixpence or a shilling were called "nailers" and were such things as after-shave lotions and ornamental poodle dogs' (the Bournemouth Evening Echo, Feb. 18, 1960): mock-auctioneers': since the late 1940's.

front-wheel skid. A Jew: rhyming s. (not very general): since ca. 1920. Franklyn, Rhyming.

frontsman. See 'Mock-Auction Slang'.

froom or frume, adv. In an orthodox (religious) manner: Jewish coll., almost sol.: late C. 19–20. Ex the adj., q.v. in Dict.

frosty face.—2. 'Harsh, white hairs covering the face of a sheep: Aus. rural: C. 20. B., 1959.

frosty Friday. 'A most unusual day. "What? Go out with him? That'll be a frosty Friday!"' (Leechman): Canadian: since ca. 1940.

froth bugle. See Froggie, 3.

frothblower. A certain type (Fowler Class 5 M.T.) of tender-engine: railwaymen's: since ca. 1925 (?). Railway.

froust, n.—4. An armchair: Universities' and Public Schools': C. 20. (John Galsworthy, Caravan, 1927, and On Forsyte 'Change, 1930.)

frouster or frowster. A wearer of warm clothes in the summer: Naval cadets': since ca. 1880. 'Taffrail', The Sub, 1917. See frousty, n. and v., in Dict.

frozen on the stick. Stricken with fear: R.A.F.: since ca. 1925. Jackson. See stick, n. 13.

fruit. A 'pouf': c.: anglicised, ex U.S., in 1937. (See esp. Underworld.)—2. A term of address among Teddy boys: since ca. 1954. Gilderdale, 2: 'Anyone may be a fruit, though it often denotes class. One Ted told me: "To a City chap—all stuck with his umbrella—we call out 'ello, me ol' lemon."' fruit machine. An anti-aircraft predictor: A.A. crews': since ca. 1939. H. & P. Ex its appearance.—2. See gooseberries, 3.—3. An electrical calculator used in radar: mostly R.A.F.: ca. 1942–6.—4. In the Royal Navy, esp. among submariners, it designated, in World War II, any prediction device, esp. (Geoffrey Jenkins, A Twist of Sand, 1959.)

fruit salad. 'A large collection of medal ribbons which runs to three or more rows,' H. & P.: Services, esp. the R.A.F.: since ca. 1919. As worn on the left breast, where they made a colourful display.

fry, v.—2. 'If the "mike" should begin "frying" or picking up camera noises, "Sound" in his "ice box" (so called because it is usually very hot inside the glass-fronted booth) would soon protest to the "slinger" (or microphone operator)': The Evening News, Nov. 7, 1939: cinema: since ca. 1930.

fuck (p. 305). Certainly not ex the Gr. or L. word mentioned in the Dict.; almost certainly cognate with the Latin v. pungere and n. pugil, both ex a radical meaning 'to strike'; semantically, therefore, fuck links with prick, 3 (p. 659).

fuck, create. In protesting, to display annoyance or anger: low: since ca. 1920. Cf. create (Dict.).

fuck!, like. Expressive of extreme scepticism or aversion; 'certainly not!': low: late C. 19–20. Synonyms: like buggery! and like hell! Also in form did (or will) I (etc.) buggery or fuck or hell!, I certainly didn't or won't.

fuck, to. A low intensive, as in 'Get to fuck out of it!': late C. 19–20. Here, fuck is apparently n.

fuck a day, a. See shit a day . . . below.

fuck about. To play the fool: low: mid-C. 19–20. Brendan Behan, Borstal Boy, 1958.

fuck all. A low variant of damn all: nothing: late C. 19–20.

fuck anything with a hole in it, he'd, I'd, etc.; fuck anything on two legs, he'd, I'd, etc. A low c.p. of satyriasis or of extreme randiness: C. 20.

fuck arse. A low term of contempt: C. 20.

fuck 'em all! A c.p. expressive of (usually cheerful) defiance: since ca. 1920. In the song Bless 'Em All the orig. words were fuck 'em all.

fuck like a rattlesnake. (Of the male) to coit vigorously: low Australian: from ca. 1895. As there are no rattlesnakes in Australia, the phrase would seem to be of North American origin, as Robert Clairborne has rightly mentioned. Cf. mad as a cut snake, q.v.

fuck me gently or pink! Exclamations of surprise or wonderment: since ca. 1920, 1910, resp.

fuck me! said the Duchess more in hope than in anger. A c.p., current since ca. 1910. Cf. 'hell!' said the Duchess.

fuck my or your luck! Oh, what a pity: Forces': since ca. 1940.

fuck my old boots! A c.p. connoting astonishment: Londoners' (C. 20), hence R.A.F. (1918 onwards). A humorously euphemistic variant is seduce my ancient footwear!

fuck-pig. A thoroughly unpleasant man: low Cockney: from ca. 1870.

fuck-up of, make a. To fail miserably at; to spoil utterly: low coll.: C. 20.

fuck you, Jack, I'm fire-proof! See fire-proof.

fucked, adj. Extremely weary; (utterly) exhausted: late C. 19–20. Ex fuck, v. (p. 305). Here, the German origin—ficken, 'to strike'—is clear. Compare the low-American-slang terms recorded by Henry Leverage in Flynn's, Jan. 24, 1925:—'fick, v. To fight; to beat. ficked, adj. Beaten; exhausted. ficker, n. A fighter; a rough.'

fucked!, go and get; go and fuck yourself. Run away and stop bothering me!: low: mid-C. 19–20. Cf. get joined! and get stuffed!

fucked by the fickle finger of fate. Down on one's luck; done for: Canadian Army officers': 1939–45.

fucked more times than she's had hot dinners, she's been. A low c.p. of late C. 19–20.

fucked-up and far from home is a variant, prob. the orig. (for it dates from 1899), of fucked and far from home, q.v. in Dict.

fucker soldiers. 'From Pukka Soldiers, who were the men of the Regular Army and who had a poor opinion of Kitchener's Army. From what we saw of them, they seemed to be more interested in women and wine than in anything else' (A. B. Petch, March 1966): 1915–18.

fuckin' the dog; occ. elaborated to fornicating the poodle. Irritating and senseless occupation: Canadian soldiers': C. 20. Cf. picking gooseberries (p. 625).—2. Hence, the avoidance of work by appearing to be busy at a useless task: Canadian: since ca. 1920.

fuck like a mink, she. She is amorous and promiscuous: Canadian c.p.: since ca. 1920.

fuddle, on the. Engaged in drinking; on a drinking bout: coll.: C. 19. Sessions, May 1845 (Surrey cases).

fuddle, out on the. Out on a day's drinking: (low), coll.: mid-C. 19-20. B. & L. See fuddle, n., 3 (Dict.).

fuddy-duddy, esp. 'an old . . .'; fuddy-dud. A fussy, old-fashioned, narrow-minded person; an 'old woman': coll.: adopted, ca. 1944, ex U.S.—The latter term, mostly Australian, arose derivatively ca. 1955. Fuddy-duddy may blend fussy + fogey, influenced by s. dud, an insufficient person; or it may be an altered reduplication of that dud.

fudge, n.—4. 'Late News' column: journalists': since ca. 1920. David Hume, Requiem for Rogues, 1942. Often the type is blurred, the ink not having had time to dry.

fug, n.—3. (Prob. ex sense 1; cf. sense 2.) A prefect: Marlborough College: mid-C. 19-20. (Communication, Feb. 13, 1939, from Mr Peter Bomford, to whom I owe all Addenda terms from the College.)

fug-footer. An informal game played with a small ball: Harrovians': from ca. 1880. Lunn.

fug out. To clean or tidy (a room): Rugby School: since ca. 1880. To take the fug out of it: see fug, n., 1 (p. 305).

fug pants. Thick winter underwear: Naval: since ca. 1925. Granville.

fug trap. A ventilator above a study door: Marlborough College: since ca. 1870. See fug, n., 1 (p. 305).

fugger. A waste-paper basket: Tonbridge: late C. 19-20. Marples. Smell, musty.

fugleman. The strong-arm man of a gang or of a racket; a petty gangster: Australian c.: since ca. 1945. (B., 1953.) Ex S.E. fugleman, that soldier from whom the others take their time in drill movements. (Ramsey Spencer.)

Fuhrer's boys, the. The German armed forces: Naval officers': 1939-45.

full as a boot. Dead-drunk: Australian: since ca. 1925. (D'Arcy Niland, The Shiralee, 1955.)

full as a bull (, as). Very drunk: New Zealand: C. 20. (Slatter.)

full as an egg.—2. In Britain it also applies to food: C. 20: coll. rather than s.

full as a goog. Completely drunk: Australian: since ca. 1925. Baker.

full as a tick, 2 (p. 306): also British and, as in James Joyce's Ulysses, 1922, Anglo-Irish.

full bore. At full speed: R.A.F. coll.: since ca. 1925. Jackson, 'Thus, "I went after him full bore"': Brickhill & Norton, Escape to Danger, 1946 (passim). Ex motoring coll. (dating from ca. 1918).

full dig. 'Full allowance of pay' (B. & L.): low classes': from ca. 1870; very ob.

full distance. See go the full distance.

full frame, have a. To have obtained regular employment after being a temporary hand: printers': from ca. 1860. B. & L.

full hand, a. Syphilis and gonorrhoea simultaneously: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.—2. A life sentence: low Australian: since ca. 1920. (Kylie Tennant, The Joyful Condemned, 1953.)

full house.—2. A mixed grill: Naval: since ca. 1930. Granville.

full jerry. To understand completely—in every detail and implication: Australian low: C. 20. B., 1942. See jerry, v., 1, in Dict.

full(-)mouth. An eight-teeth sheep: Aus. rural coll.: C. 20. (B., 1959.)

full of piss and vinegar. Robust in health, and full of energy: low Canadian: C. 20. In Canada, as in U.S., vinegar has a sexual connotation.

full on.—3. A bookmaker that is 'full on' a horse is one who has so many bets placed on that horse that he risks losing much money to the betters: 1868, All the Year Round, June 13.

full private. An ordinary Tommy: Army: since ca. 1910.

full quid. Having all one's faculties: Aus.: since ca. 1920. B., 1959, adds: 'A person . . . ten bob in the quid or any smaller sum down to tuppence in the quid, is held to be stupid.' Also, since ca. 1925, N.Z., esp. in 'He's not the full quid', mentally defective. (Harold Griffiths.)

full to the guards. Dead drunk: nautical: C. 20. (W. McFee, North of Suez, 1930.) Ex nautical j.: lit., full to the top of a vessel. Cf. full to the bung in the Dict.

full togs. Full dress, esp. of uniform: Naval: C. 19. In, e.g., W. N. Glascock's Naval Sketch Book, 2nd Series, 1834, at I, 229. 'Sam. Our captains also appeared in full uniform. . . Ned. The skippers seldom wear full togs for nothing.' (Moe.)

fuller's earth (p. 307).—3. Hence, a Fuller's = a vaudeville show: New Zealand coll.: ca. 1910-30. (Ruth Park, Pink Flannel, 1955.)

fumbles. Gloves: c.: mid-C. 19-20. B. & L. A suspect term. Almost certainly an error for famblers, q.v. in Dict.

Fuming Freddie. Fiumefreddo, a Sicilian township, a Calabrian village: Army in Sicily and Italy: 1943-5.

fumtu. Frigged up (= messed about) more than usual: Army: 1940-5. (P-G-R.)

fun, have; mostly as vbl n., having fun, (a being engaged in) a raid, an attack: Army officers': 1941+. Suggested by party, 2.

fun and frolics. See flowers and frolics.

fun and games. A (very) agreeable time: middle-class coll.: since ca. 1921.—2. Hence, 'any sort of brush with the enemy at sea' (P-G-R): Naval officers': 1939-45. Cf. preceding entry.—3. Love-making, esp. intercourse: since ca. 1925. A special application of sense 1.

fun of Cork, the. A very 'good time': Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Adopted from Irish immigrants.

funnel fever is the demobitis (1945 +)—or restlessness—of soldiers overseas: Army: perhaps not before 1946. The funnels of the homebound troopship.

funnies, the. The comic strips in a newspaper: since ca. 1946.—2. But, in the Army of ca. 1942-5, funnies were 'armoured vehicles used for purposes which had hitherto been unorthodox' (P-G-R).

funniment. A tasty dish made up from bits and pieces: Cockneys': C. 20.

funny, n. (p. 308). 'The origin is probably Japanese funé, a boat. Purchas, 1625, "The funnies or toe-boats came out to meet us,"' E. V. Gatenby, letter of Oct. 16, 1938.—2. In filmland, the comic man is called the funny: since ca. 1910. Cameron McCabe, The Face on the Cutting Room Floor, 1937.—3. A comic (magazine or newspaper): Canadian: since ca. 1920. The Evening News, Jan. 9, 1940. Usually as the funnies. Cf. sense 1 above.—4. A joke; a funny story: mostly Aus.: since ca. 1950. Ian Hamilton, The Man with the funny, get or turn. To feel—esp. to show that one feels—offended: coll.: C. 20. See funny, 1 (Dict.).

Brown Paper Face, 1967, "What makes you say that?" "Nothing. Just trying to make a funny."

funny-face. A jocular term of address: coll.: late C. 19–20. Cf. face-ache (Dict.).

funny fellows (or -ers). Policemen, esp. the College-trained ones: London, esp. children's: since ca. 1935. (Mrs C. H. Langford, letter of July 29, 1941.)

funny-looking article, a. A c.p. applied to an odd-looking person: C. 20. Originally, shop-keepers'.

funny peculiar or funny ha-ha? A c.p. comment upon, e.g., 'Something funny happened today': since ca. 1924. Aspic-in-amber'd by Ian Hay Beith in Housemaster (Act III), 1938.

funny thing happened on the, my, way to the . . . , a. as in John D. Macdonald, One Fearful Yellow Eye, 1966, 'A funny thing happened to me on my way to the hotel room.' Since ca. 1960 and ex the film, A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum, 1966, itself an elaboration of the very much older 'A funny thing happened (when or while) . . .'; and 'Funny, odd'—not 'Funny, ha ha!'

funt. A pound sterling (£1): a Yiddish word incorporated into parlary: mid-C. 19–20. (Sydney Lester, Vardi the Palarey, ? 1937.) Ex German Pfund.

Furibox. The aircraft carrier Furious: Naval: 1939–45. Granville.

furph. A shortened form of furphy: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)

furphy (p. 308). Perhaps rather ex the tall stories told by Joseph Furphy (1843–1913), the 'Tom Collins' who wrote Such Is Life, 1903.

fusilier. Dating from ca. 1860, it is, in the main, an Army term and is now ob.; Crimea, by the way, had > † before the end of the G.W. Thus in Richards, writing of the beginning of C. 20: 'A good deal of rhyming-slang was used in those days . . . Beer was "pig's ear" or "Crimea" or "Fusilier", but if a Welshman went into a pub where a Highland soldier was, of the regiment whose square was once broken by the Mahdi's dervishes in the Sudan, he would sometimes ask for a "pint of 'broken-square'". Then he would have his bellyfull of scrapping.'

Fusilier, you're a. A contemptuous c.p. from one Rifleman to another: Regular Army: ca. 1890–1920.

fuss-arse. A fussy person: rural coll.: from ca. 1880. Cf. fuss-pot (Dict.).

fuss-up. A fuss: Australian coll.: since ca. 1920. (H. Drake-Brockman, 1938.)

fussy, not. Not particularly keen: Canadian coll.: since ca. 1920. 'Wear your evening things to-night, Harry.'—'All right. But I'm not fussy about it.' (Leechman.)

fusters! A claim to 'have first go' in a game: Cockney school-children's: from ca. 1870.

future at all, no; no future in it or in that. Of these catch-phrases (Services', esp. R.A.F.), the former implies danger in the sortie concerned, whereas the latter either does the same or merely hints that the job concerned is a thankless one: since 1939. The Observer, Oct. 4, 1942 (both phrases); H. & P., no future in it ('particularly hazardous'); Jackson, no future in that ('Implies a thankless job') and no future at all ('Implies a dangerous job'). Ex civilian pre-September-1939 familiar English There's no future in it—or in it at all—as applied to love affairs.

fuzz, n.—2. Collective for 'policemen': Canadian jazz-lovers': since ca. 1956. (The Victoria Daily Colonist, April 16, 1959, 'Basic Beatnik'.) By 1966, common among British hippies and, by early 1967, among the Flower People. Peter Fryer in The Observer colour supplement, Dec. 3, 1967.

Fuzzgug, Mr or Mrs. John or Jane Doe: Australian: since ca. 1930. (B.P.) Arbitrary.

Fuzzy-Wuzzy.—2. A Papuan: Australian: since ca. 1918. Ex sense 1 on p. 309; cf. the next.

Fuzzy-Wuzzy Angels. New Guinea natives carrying Allied wounded to safety over the Owen Stanley Mountains: mostly Australian: 1942–5.

fyfias, often written ffas; or with capital letters. Fuck yourself for a start (or starter): a certain British unit, during the latter half of W.W. II. (Communicated to me, on Dec. 26, 1967, by Edmund Wilson, who got it from Philip Merivale, the actor.) Mostly, of course, in conversation—esp., to open one.

G

g for x is a mark of illiteracy, esp. among Cockneys: C. 19–20 and prob. from much earlier. Seen best in eg(g)spec(t), expect. This is merely one aspect of that dulling of sharp consonants which characterises illiterate speech.

g'. Good; esp. in g'day, g'morning, g'night as greetings: coll., mostly proletarian: C. 19–20, and prob. longer.

G five. 'A beard cut to resemble that of King George V' (Granville): Naval: since very soon after date (1910) of his accession to the throne; by 1960, slightly ob.

G.G., the. The Governor-General: New Zealand and Australian coll.: late C. 19–20. B., 1941.

g.i. or G.I. A birthday, a 'beano', apprentice's attaining journeymanhood: tailors': mid-C. 19–20. B. & L. Not, as is sometimes stated, 'great independence' but 'general indulgence'.—2. An American soldier (not an officer): adopted in 1943 from U.S. Ex 'general issue' as applied to clothes and equipment.—3. A variant of geographically impossible below.

G.I.B. See good-oh (adj.) below.

G.O.F. Good Old Friday: schoolteachers' c.p.: C. 20.

G.O.K. God only knows, for a doubtful diagnosis: Canadian Army doctors': 1914–18. (Leechman.)

G.O.M., the. This is the nicknominal form of the Grand Old Man, q.v. (Dict.). To his political intimates, Gladstone was known as Mr G.; but Mr G is ineligible.

G.P.I. Eccentricity; (extreme) folly: medical students': C. 20. Ex its lit. sense, General Paralysis of the Insane.

g.p. on, have a. To be much in love with (someone): ca. 1905–15. I.e. grande passion.

G.R. navy. See navvy, 2.

G.S. Keen; esp., excessively keen: Army: 1939 +; by 1960, slightly ob. Lit., General Service.

G-string. See 'Prisoner-of-War Slang', 13.—2. Frenulum preputii: low: C. 20.

gab, n.—3. Gaberdine; London clothes-dealers': C. 20. Mark McShane, The Straight and Crooked, 1960.

gab, chuck the. To talk fluently or well; to 'tell the tale': low: C. 20. Frank Jennings, Tramping with Tramps, 1932. Ex gab, n., 2 (Dict.).

gabby, n. Water: Australian: mid-C. 19–20. B., 1942. Aboriginal.

gaberdine! Excellent!: Londoners': since ca. 1918. It is prob. a pun on Fr. très bien!

gaberdine swine. 'Staff officers in Cairo, so christened by forward troops in the Western Desert' (P-G-R): ca. 1941–3. With a pun on Biblical Gadarene swine.

gadabout (p. 310) appears, in American usage, in

The Port Folio, March 2, 1805 (p. 60, col. 1), thus 'The pert and flippant gad-a-bouts [sic], whose chief employment is to parade the streets': females. Moe.

gadgy. A man: c.: from ca. 1910. Of North Country origin.

gaff, n.—13. Synonymous with gaffer, 12. Canadian carnival s.: C. 20.—14. A concert: Regular Army: late C. 19–20; by 1950, slightly ob. (Chambers's Journal, July 1949.) Ex senses 5 and 6 (p. 310).—15. A brothel: o. and low s.: since ca. 1920. (The New Statesman, May 10, 1947.)—16. Home: c.: since ca. 1920. "'Come to my gaff (home) at three o'clock, pinch him and get him out of the way'" (John Gosling, The Ghost Squad, 1959). Cf. sense 10 on p. 310.

gaff, one's. One's place of abode: c.: C. 20. Cf. gaff, n., 10 (Dict.).

gaff joint. A game of chance where there is no chance of winning: Canadian carnival: C. 20.

Gaff Street Theatreland; more generally, the West End: London taxi-drivers': since ca. 1920. Herbert Hodge, It's Draughty in Front, 1938, where also: 'Before the theatres broke—or, as we say: the "gaffs burst".'

gaffer.—11. The man who runs a gambling game or device: Canadian carnival s.: C. 20.—12. Hence, the brake with which he stops the wheel, etc., at any desired number: id.: id.—13. (As the gaffer.) The officer commanding an H.M. ship: since the 1920's. Cf. sense 4 on p. 310.—14. 'A boy, a young chap' (P. W. Joyce, English . . . in Ireland, 1910): Anglo-Irish: mid C. 19–20. Ex senses 2 and 3 on p. 310.

gag, n.—8. (Cf. 3.) A handbill: sporting: ca. 1810–60. Boxiana, III, 1821.

gag, v., 3 (p. 310). As 'to gird, to nag, (gag at) to scold': earlier in Sessions, Sept. 1837.

gaga (Dict.), according to a French scholar, came into use, ca. 1875, in the theatrical world, and it is derived ex Fr. s. gâteux, an old man feeble-minded and no longer able to control his body, itself ex Standard Fr. gâter, to impair, damage, spoil.

gagarino, n. 'A melodrama performed by professional actors, usually of the lower ranks, in which the general outline of the plot is so familiar that it is not necessary to write a concrete play at all, everything being "gagged" impromptu. Before C. 20.

'I first encountered this in the Yukon in about 1950. A professional old-time one-man-show man told me he had often played in them as a boy in a strolling group of players in the north of England. His name was Crowhurst or something like that, and he had come to the Yukon to see the land of Robert Service.' (Douglas Leechman, note of 1962.) Ex gag, n., 4 (p. 311) + comic suffix -arino.

gage, 1 (p. 311), is, in C. 20, often 'a drink of beer'—esp. among tramps and Romanies. (Robert M. Dawson.)—6. A C. 18 variant of gager (Dict.).

gaggle. A number of aircraft; 'a gaggle of Jerries': Naval: 1939–45. Ex 'a gaggle of geese'.

gain. To obtain deviously or questionably: Leeds undergraduates' (—1940). Cf. win (p. 959). Marples, 2.

gajit is a rare (mainly C. 20) spelling of gadget. gal, 1 (p. 312) app. began rather lower in the scale: J. Wight, Bow Street, 1824, 'Gal—cockney for girl'.

gal, I'll have your. See I'll have your gal!

gal nymph. A housemaid: Winchester College: from ca. 1880; very ob.

galah. A chap, fellow, 'bird': Australian: C. 20. H. Drake-Brockman, Hot Gold, 1940. Lawson Glassop, We Were the Rats, 1944. An Australian cockatoo.—2. A simpleton, a fool: Australian: since ca. 1930. (B., Australia Speaks, 1953.) It prob. derives 'from the old bush saying, "As mad as a treeful of galahs"': Jock Marshall & Russell Drysdale, Journey among Men, 1962, fn. on p. 91. A galah is 'a big pink-and-grey cockatoo' (ibid.).

galee. Bad language: Anglo-Indian: from ca. 1860. B. & L. Ex Hindustani gali.

galinipper. See galinipper (Dict.).

gall (p. 312) occurs, however, in W. N. Glascock, Sketch-Book (II, 244), 1826, and should, therefore, be back-dated to ca. 1810 or even earlier. (Moe.)

gallant show. See galanty show (Dict.).

galley growler (p. 312) follows naturally ex galley politician, as in W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (II, 185), 1829: a term app. existing ca. 1790–1850 or so. (Moe.)

galley packet. A Naval rumour: Naval: ca. 1790–1860. W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (I, 190), 1829, '... Unauthenticated rumour; or, as sailors term it, "a galley packet"'. Moe. See galley-yarn (p. 312), sense 2: 1818, Alfred Burton, Johnny Newcome. (Moe.) Also galley-yarn below.

galley slang. A landsman's attempts at Naval jargon and slang: Naval: since ca. 1925.

galley-slave.—2. A proof-reader: C. 20. Mostly jocular.

galley slaves. 'Cockroaches in the Sunday plum-duff; they turn white when cooked, and are not unpalatable' (Ramsey Spencer, July 10, 1967): Merchant Navy: C. 20.

galley-yarn, 2 (p. 312). The galley-packet variant occurs in W. N. Glascock, Sketch Book (I, 22), 1825, and therefore goes back to ca. 1810 or a decade earlier. On I, 19, there is the further variant, galley-story, but in sense 1 of galley-yarn. Moe.

Gallipoli gallop (other ranks'); G. riot (officers'). Dysentery, entailing frequent running to the latrines: military: 1915. John Hargrave, The Swila Bay Landing, 1964.

galoot, 2, on p. 313, occurs slightly earlier in W. N. Glascock's Naval Sketch Book, 2nd Series, 1834, at II, 58, where it is footnoted as 'new recruit'. (Moe.)

gallop, raise a; esp. unable to. To have—esp. to be unable to have—an erection: mostly workmen's: since ca. 1930. Ex horses.

gallop one's antelope or one's maggot; jerk one's mutton; pull one's pudding. Synonyms of pull one's wire (Dict.): low: resp. C. 20 Cockneys', mid-C. 19–20; gen., from ca. 1870; gen., from ca. 1890. The second seems to have been prompted by get cockroaches (Dict.); the fourth may have originated pull one's wire; the first occurs in J. Curtis, They Ride by Night, 1938.

gallopers. A variant of goon bag.

galloping horses. See fighting cats.

galloping irons. Spurs for riding: Canadian jocular: since ca. 1930.

Galloping Jack. Brigadier-General J. R. Royston: military: late C. 19–20. He served dashingly in the South African War; his reminiscences were published, under that title, in 1937.

galloping knob-rot, a touch of the. A phallic itch; a phrase often used 'in palliation of attempted alleviation' (correspondent, 1967): R.A.F., Malta: ca. 1955–67.

gallows, adv. (p. 313), goes back to late C. 18. On Aug. 24, 1805 (p. 261, col. 3), The Port Folio quotes an anon. English song, Dustman Bill:

'Why, jealous girls, 'tis all my eye, Besides 'tis gallows silly'. (Moe.) gallowses. Braces: Sedgley Park School: ca. 1800–60. The Cottonian, Autumn, 1938. With a pun on hanging. Cf. the synonymous U.S. galluses.

gallumph. See galumph (Dict.).

galloptious is a variant spelling of galloptious (Dict.).

galoot (p. 313), an inexperienced seaman, occurs as early as 1818. (Moe.)

gam, n.—5. A sanitary tampon or pad: Australian girls': since ca. 1950. Because applied between the 'gams' or legs? Cf. gam, n., 2, on p. 313.

gam, v. To have a yarn, esp. with one's opposite number on another ship: nautical: late C. 19–20; by 1945 slightly ob. Ex gamenon, v., 1 (p. 314).

gam on, as in 'He's gammin' on dumb' (he's pretending to be dumb), is a C. 20 corruption of gammon, v., 2 (Dict.).

gamahoosh. Variant of gamaroosh (p. 313).

gamaliel. There is some confusion here; obviously Acts xviii. 12–17, refers to Gallio.

gamble, go the. To make a bet: sporting: from ca. 1880. B. & L.

game, n.—7. Gameness; courage: pugilistic: ca. 1810–50. Boxiana, I, 1818 (concerning Tom Crib), '... is game or gluttony exhibited in every one of his conquests'.—8. One's work or occupation: mostly Australian: since ca. 1920. (B.P.) Cf. sense 5 on p. 314.

game as Ned Kelly, as. Extremely brave; willing to tackle heavy odds: Australian: late C. 19–20. B., 1942. Ex the famous bushranger (1854–80), who held out against the police for two years. In 1959, B. notes the synonymous game as a pebble or game as a piss ant.

game ball, adj. (predicatively). In good health or spirits or form: Anglo-Irish: since ca. 1940.

game sewn up, have the. To be in a position where one cannot lose; to have a monopoly; to be on a 'good thing': mostly Australian: since ca. 1925. Ex games in which one side can hardly lose. 'Anyone who does not know this one is not an Australian' (B.P.).

gammon the draper. 'When a man is without a shirt, and is buttoned up close to his neck, to make an appearance of cleanliness, it is termed "gammoning the draper"; Pierce Egan, Life in London, 1821: ca. 1810-50.

gammy, adj. lazy; idle; navvies': ca. 1860-1900. (D. W. Barrett, 1880.)

gammy arm; gammy-eyed; gammy leg. See gammy, adj., 4 (Dict.).—gammy ville. See gammy, adj., 3 (Dict.).

gamo or, phonetically, gammo. 'Gamaroosh' (see p. 313): since ca. 1915.

gander, n.—2. (Also v.) A—to—look through the mail or over another's shoulder at a letter or a newspaper: Services, esp. R.A.F.: since 1941. H. & P. Adopted ex U.S. (cf. Am. rubberneck); the gander is a long-necked bird.

Gandhi's revenge. Matches that, made in India, would, when struck, either ignite explosively or lose their heads: R.A.F.: ca. 1935-48. The Mahatma Gandhi (1869-1948) preached a passive resistance.

gandy dancer. 'A section hand on the railway; the "gandy dance" is the vigorous exercise indulged in when tamping ties—that is tamping ballast under the sleepers with a spade or shovel. U.S. and Canadian railwaymen's; 1908 +.' (Leechman.) Ex U.S. c., of unknown origin.

gandy month. A proletarian form of gander-month (Dict.).

gang-bang or -shag; pig-party. One girl serving many males in succession: British (1st and 3rd) and Australian (all three): mostly teenage gangsters' and mentally retarded's: since ca. 1950. The 1st and 3rd occur in an article published by New Society, July 2, 1963; the 2nd was adopted ex U.S.

Also gang-fuck: ?mostly Canadian: since ca. 1920. Cf. back-up, 1, above.

gaol, there are worse in. See worse in gaol (Dict.).

gaol-bait; usually jail. A girl under 16 (the age of consent): Canadian: adopted, ca. 1940, ex U.S.

gap, n.—3. The gap between the female breasts: Australian motor mechanics' and car fanatics': since ca. 1945. Ex the gap of a spark plug.

gap. To make gaps in (wire obstacles): Army coll. (since ca. 1939) >, by 1945, j. (P-G-R.)

gapeseed. See gape-seed (Dict.).

garbage cans. Metal containers for the keeping or despatch of spools or reels of motion pictures: cinematic: since ca. 1955. A scathing reference to 'rubbish'.

garbo. A garbage man: Australian: since ca. 1930. (B., 1953.)

Garbo, do a. To avoid Press reporters and photographers and other publicity: journalists' and publicity men's, also film-world's: since ca. 1925. Ex Greta Garbo's often-expressed wish 'to be alone'.

garden, n.—2. A freight yard: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931). Ironic.

garden!, I beg your. I beg your pardon: modified rhyming s., not at all general: since ca. 1920. Michael Harrison, Reported Safe Arrival, 1943.

garden gate.—3. A First Officer: Merchant Navy occasional rhyming s. (on mate): C. 20. Franklyn 2nd.—4. Eight: (mostly underworld) rhyming s.: C. 20. (Ibid.)

garden gates. Rates (and taxes): rhyming s.: C. 20. Franklyn, Rhyming.

gardening.—2. Mine-dropping from aircraft: Bomber Command: 1940-5.

gardie (or -y) is a phonetic variant of guardy (p. 359).

gargle, n.—2. Strong drink: 1872, Edward Lear, More Nonsense,

'There was an old man of the Dargle Who purchased six barrels of Gargle'; extant. Ex sense 1.—3. Hence, beer: Australian: C. 20. (B.P.)

gargler. Throat: Cockneys': from ca. 1890. Clarence Rook, The Hooligan Nights, 1899, 'There was the little bleeder gettin' black in the face froo its night-dress bein' tied too tight round its gargler.' Cf. gargle, liquor.

garotte; garotting. See garrotte, garrotting in the Dict.

garters.—2. 'The streamers jumped by the lady rider,' Edward Seago, Sons of Sawdust, 1934: circus: late C. 19-20.

gas, n.—4. Fun, amusement, a good time: Anglo-Irish: since ca. 1935. Ex 'laughing gas'?—5. Hence, a joke, a jest; a very amusing situation: since ca. 1945. Nicholas Blake, The Sad Variety, 1964, 'That's spy stuff, isn't it? What a gas!'

gas, adj. Wonderful: Australian: since ca. 1955. (B.P.) Ex gas, n., 4.

gas!, or out goes the. See or out . . .

gas, taking the. (Of a patient) having a pneumothorax treatment: hospital nurses': since ca. 1935. Nursing Mirror, May 7, 1949.

gas (or G.), the. A person representing the Gas Company: coll.: C. 20. E.g. in David Frome, Mr Simpson Finds a Body, 1933.

Gas and Water Socialists, the. The Fabian Society: political: since ca. 1910. Ex their obsession with the social services.

gas boat.—2. Any small craft driven by gasoline: Canadian coll.: since ca. 1920. (Leechman.)

gas-cape stew. See 'Prisoner-of-War Slang', 10.

gas(-)face. A synonym of gas-bag, 3 (p. 317); but not before 1939: Services. H. & P.

gas man, the. 'Used jocularly in reference to insurance men and canvassers who waste the time of housewives. From the gas-meter reader or collector' (A. B. Petch, May 1966): c.p.: since 1940's.

gas-pipe. See gaspipe (Dict.).

gas-pipe cavalry (p. 317). Current in 1914-18, esp. among the Regulars.

gas round.—2. To chat idly with anyone available: Canadian: C. 20. (Leechman.)

gash, n.—3. "'Is there any gash around?" Are there any willing girls in the vicinity? Early C. 20 and current' (Leechman, April 1967). Ex sense 2 on p. 317.

gash, adj. A shortening of gashion (p. 317); often—'spare' or 'available': Naval: since ca. 1915. Robert Harling, The Steep Atlantick Stream, 1946. Cf.:

gash, the. Waste food; an over-issue; anything surplus: Services (mostly Naval): since ca. 1910. H. & P. Cf. gash, 1 (Dict.), but imm. ex gashion (ibid). Hence also, since ca. 1939, Australian: B., 1943.

gash-boat; -hand; -shoot. A stand-by duty boat; a rating temporarily idle; refuse chute: Naval: since ca. 1920. Granville. All three, so named because 'over' or 'spare': See prec. pair of entries.

As 'waste', gash occurs in such other combinations as gash-berge, -bin, -bucket, the 1st of which is recorded by John Winton in We Joined the Navy, 1959.

gashions. Extra rations: Naval: since ca. 1920. Granville. See gash and, in Dict., gashion. gasp and grunt. A variant of grumble and grunt below. (Franklyn 2nd.)

gasser. A cigarette: Australian, esp. Sydney: since ca. 1945. Perhaps a slovening of the synonymous gasper.—2. Something wonderful, very exceptional, extraordinarily successful: Australian: adopted, ca. 1955, ex U.S.; adopted, slightly earlier, in Canada. Perhaps ex American gasser, a gas-propelled oil-well that needs no pumping. (B.P.)—3. See 'Jazz Slang'.

gassy, n. A gas-meter: Midlands and Northern: since ca. 1950.

gastro. Gastro-enteritis: medical coll. (C. 20) > gen. ca. 1940. Throughout the British Commonwealth; it is recorded by, e.g., B., Australia Speaks, 1953.

gat.—3. (Ex 2.) Hence, a machine-gun: R.A.F.: since ca. 1936. Jackson.

gate, n.—5. A switch: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931). Jocular.—6. See 'Jazz Slang'.

gate, go through the. To open the throttle—hence, fly at full speed: R.A.F.: since ca. 1925. H. & P. Not quite synonymous with turn up the wick, for go through the gate is to open the throttle in an emergency, whereas in the other there is no implication of urgency. See also go through the gate.

gate, on the. (See the Dict.) Perhaps the explanation of the last sense is that the names of persons on the danger-list are left with the porter at the gate.

gate and gaiters. Naval allusion to 'severe discipline': C. 20. Granville, 'Originated at Whale Island, the Naval Gunnery School and hot-bed of discipline. Gunners instructors are noted for the resonance of their voices, and the gaiters they wear are symbolic of much squad-drill.'

gate(-)fever. That restlessness which affects long-term prisoners due to be released fairly soon: prisons': since ca. 1920. (Norman.) gates of Rome. Home: rhyming: C. 20. An off-shoot from the obsolescent Pope of Rome (p. 649). Franklyn, Rhyming.

gate's shut, e.g. my or his. I'll say no more: Australian coll., verging on c.p.: since ca. 1920. D'Arcy Niland, Call Me . . ., 1958, "'No," she insisted. "I want to know."—"No good prodding me. My gate's shut."

gathering the mush, n. Potato-picking: tramps' and Romanies': C. 20. (Robert M. Dawson.)

'gator (usually without the apostrophe). A crocodile: Australian coll.: late C. 19–20. Cf. sense 1 on p. 318. 'Ex the belief, now fading, that our crocodiles are alligators' (B.P., mid-1963).

gats. See gat (Dict.).

gaucho; usually in pl. 'When the Ashkenazim (Jews from North and Central Europe) are discussing the Sephardim (Jews from Spain and Portugal) they sometimes refer to them as the Gauchos,' Julian Franklyn, letter of Sept. 13, 1946: since ca. 1936. Gaucha, a cowboy of the pampas and a notable horseman, is of mixed Spanish and Indian descent; the Spaniards used to be notable horsemen (caballeros); gaucha prob. derives ex Araucan caucha, 'wanderer' (Webster's); the Sephardim came from Sepharad, credibly identified with Spain (O.E.D.).

Gaw (or Gawd) cast me, don't ask me! 'An expression by a racing chap, such as "Gaw-cast-me-don't-ask-me" means blood pressure soaring. It usually denotes a fancied horse has fell over or something—says Danny' (Anon. article in The Sunday Telegraph, May 7, 1967): a racing c.p.: since the late 1940's.

Gawd Aggie! and Gawd love-a-duck! Australian elaborations of exclamatory use of Gawd (cf. Gawd on p. 319): C. 20. (B.P.)

gawdelpus. A helpless person: Cockney: late C. 19–20. A. Niel Lyons, Clara, 1912. I.e. a God-help-us.—2. 'I have also heard it with the meaning of sad, or woebegone, distressed, "What's the matter with you? You look like two-penn'orth of gawdelpus!" Before 1908.' Leechman.

gawdfer. A corrupted shortening of God forbid (Dict.): C. 20.

Gawdsaker. 'Marjorie cried: "What is a Gawdsaker?" "Oh," said Trafford, "haven't you heard that before? He's the person who gets excited by an deliberate discussion and gets up . . . screaming, "For Gawd's sake, let's do something now!" I think they used it first for Pethick Lawrence.'" Thus H. G. Wells, in Marriage, 1912. Arising ca. 1905, it was, by 1945, ob.; by 1960, virtually †.

gay, n. A dupe: Australian c. (esp. prostitutes' and confidence-tricksters'): C. 20. Kylie Tennant, Foveaux, 1939. Cf. gay, adj., 1 (p. 319).

gay, adj., 1 (p. 319) occurs in John Davis, The Post-Captain, 1806. (Moe.)—4. Homosexual: C. 20. Homosexuals 'use an argot and a phraseology meaningless to the heterosexual but fraught with significance for the fellow homosexual. For instance . . . "Are you married?" Other words in the language are "camp" and "gay" (both synonyms for "homosexual"), and "rent", the slang for a male prostitute [for men]: homosexuals': since ca. 1930—if not much earlier. John Gosling & Douglas Warner, The Shame of a City, 1960. The anon. Lavender Lexicon, 1965, says that the word 'must be defined as belonging to or characteristic of that element of society, predominately homosexually oriented, who make up a "night life" or a society of some continuity based on common acceptance of each other's sexual expressions'.

gay!, that's all. A Cockney c.p. of agreement: ca. 1900–15. Pugh, "'There, that's all gay," he broke off, pacifically.' Ex all gay (Dict.).

gay, turn. To become a prostitute: since ca. 1870. (A. Neil Lyons, Clara, 1912.)

gay and hearty. A party: rhyming s.: since ca. 1920.

gay as a goose in a gutter (, as). Very gay indeed: coll.: late C. 18–mid-19. (W. N. Glascock, Sketch-Book, 1826, at II, 30.) Moc.

gay boy. A homosexual: Australian: since ca. 1925. (Elisabeth Lambert, The Sleeping House Party, 1951.) Cf. gay, 1 (p. 316).

gay-cat (p. 319). Also Canadian: C. 20. (Niven.)

gay deceivers. 'Falsies' or foam-plastic bust-forms: Australian raffish: since ca. 1950.

gay girl; gay woman. A prostitute: non-aristocratic: mid-C. 19-20; ob. B. & L. See gay, 1 (Dict.).

gazebo; gazook. A foolish fellow: Australian: mid-C. 19-20. Brian Penton, Landtakers, 1934 (the former); Brian Penton, Inheritors, 1936 (the latter). Cf. gazob (Dict.). Also cf. the American s. gazebo, a gawky or awkward fellow—the prob. origin of the Australian, sense. Mitford M. Mathews derives it ex Spanish gazapo, a shrewd fellow; I'd derive it ex 'to gaze' or 'gazer' (gawper) + the comic suffix -ebo.

gazelle, in a. See 'Canadian'.

gazinta. A division sum in arithmetic: Elementary schoolchildren's: C. 20. Ex a slovenly pronunciation of goes into. Cf. guzunder below.

gazoomphing. Swindling: mock-auctions': C. 20. A variant of:— gazumph (and derivatives). Variant of gezumph (p. 326). News of the World, Aug. 28, 1938.

gear, n.—3. Any narcotic, but esp. marijuana: (mostly teenage) drug addicts': since the late 1940's. Euphemistic?—4. "Got a load of gear (stolen property) for you, John," he'd say' (John Gosling, The Ghost Squad, 1959): c.: since ca. 1930.

gear, adj. Homosexual: rhyming s. (on queer): only since ca. 1930. Franklyn, Rhyming.—2. Excellent: teenagers': 1961-64, then ob. (D. F. Wharton, Oct. 24, 1965.) Ex:—

gear, the. (Always predicatively; e.g. 'That's the gear', q.v. in Dict.) Very good: low, but also Liverpool ordinary: late C. 19-20. Popularized by the Beatles, to mean 'something that is unique and extra good' (News of the World, Nov. 19, 1963).

gee, n., 1, a horse (p. 319), occurs earlier in the Major-General's song in Gilbert & Sullivan's The Pirates of Penzance, 1879, 'They'll say a finer Major-General has never sat a gee.' With thanks to Mr Leonard Goldstein, letter of March 27, 1967.—2 (p. 319): cf. 'A gee is a rick (stooge) who stands among the audience (hedge) and slings gees—praising the goods and saying audibly how satisfied he is' (W. Buchanan-Taylor, Shake It Again, 1943). Cf. 'Mock-Auction Slang' below. For rick, see p. 696.—4. Derived from and synonymous with gen box, a complicated instrument used, operationally, by the R.A.F.: since ca. 1942. W/Cdr R. P. McDouall, letter of March 27, 1945. See gen, the.

gee, v. 3 (p. 320): esp. as a grafter's assistant: showmen's: See gee-men.

gee, adj.; esp. a gee fight, a catchpenny bout that is not a true contest: boxing: since ca. 1930. Cf. gee, put in the, on p. 320.

gee-gee dodge, the. Earlier in James Greenwood, Odd People in Odd Places, 1883: esp. butchers': app. since ca. 1860.

gee, lookit! A Canadian children's c.p. of astonishment or great interest: adopted, ca. 1950. ex U.S. (Leechman, who, in May 1959, adds, 'I read recently the next step: "Oh, lookit at that!"') gee-man or micky finn. Australian showmen's variant and synonym of gee, n., 2. (Dict.): C. 20. Kylie Tennant, The Batilers, 1941, 'In the show world a "gee-man" or "micky finn" was socially on the level of a duck's feet.'

gee(-)up. A sprce; a jollification: Australian, esp. Sydney: since ca. 1920. Ruth Park, The Harp in the South, 1948.

gee up, v.—3. To pull someone's leg: c.: since ca. 1940. (Norman.) A variant of gee, v., 3.

gee whiz!; occ. variant, gee whillikens! Juvenile exclamations, orig. euphemistic for Jesus Christ!: C. 20.

geebung. An old settler: Australian: since ca. 1870. B., 1942. Aboriginal word.

geek. A (long) look: Australian: since ca. 1920. 'Gis'—give us—'a geek at that book.' Barry Prentice derives it ex German gucken, to peep or peek; perhaps influenced by Cornish dial. geek, to look intently at.

geezer (p. 320). Note, however, that Wellington's soldiers may, ca. 1811, have picked up Basque giza, man, fellow, and changed it to geezer. (Hugh Morrison, Perth, W.A.)—3. A fellow prisoner: c.: since ca. 1930. (Norman.)

gefuffle. A to-do, a fuss; a 'flap': R.A.F.: since ca. 1939. (W/Cdr Robin P. McDouall, letter of April 12, 1945.) Partly echoic and prob. reminiscent of such terms as fluster and waffle (v., 5); the ge perhaps implies stammering.

As for cufuffle above and kerfuffle below, the immediate origin lies in Scots curfuffle, n., ex curfuffle, v., based on Sc. fuffle, to throw into disorder, whence the n. fuffle, violent effort, fuss. The cur- may, as The O.E.D. suggests, be Gaelic car, to bend or twist or turn about. (With thanks to Mr R. W. Burchfield.) The modern s. usage arises, naturally enough, in the dialectal, and the cu(r)-, ge(r)-, ke(r)- element has been influenced—perhaps even superseded—by the echoic ge- or ke(r)- indicative of effort or noise (cf. kerplunk below).

geggie. A 'penny gaff'; a cheap vaudeville show: Glasgow: C. 20. Ex gag? Also spelt geggy. Not restricted to Glasgow: fairly common among showmen. Cf. gagger, 3, on p. 311.

gelly. An occ. variant of jelly, 3, below.

geloptious is an occ. variant of goloptious (Dict.).

gelt (p. 320). Rather ex Dutch gelt, 'money'.

gemman. An early recording: 1828, P. Egan, Finish to Tom, Jerry and Logic.

gen, 'genuine': not ex genuine but either ex the n. or, more prob., ex the combination pukka gen. Not very general: since ca. 1941. Partridge, 1945.

gen, the. Information: whether pukka gen, trustworthy, or duff gen, incorrect, or phoney gen, doubtful or unreliable: R.A.F.: since ca. 1929, but widely used only since 1939. Recorded by, e.g., an R.A.F. Flight Sergeant, article 'I bombed the Ruhr', in Michie & Graebner, Their Finest Hour, 1940, 'Operations room where I got my Gen (R.A.F. slang for information, instruction)'; myself in article in The New Statesman, Sept. 19, 1942; H. & P., 1943; and esp. Partridge, 1945. Ex the consecrated phrase 'for the general information of all ranks' or '... of all concerned'. Pukka is Hindustani, whereas duff and phoney are from the underworld: see Dict. and, for fuller information, Underworld.—2. Hence, notes on procedure; notes for a test; notes taken during a course: R.A.F.: since 1938. Partridge, 1945.

gen book. A note-book (for useful scraps of information): R.A.F.: since early 1930's. Jackson. See prec.

gen box. See gee, n., 4.

gen file. A general file (general to a particular department: policy, procedure, etc.): R.A.F. clerical: since ca. 1939. Partridge, 1945.

gen king. One who is well supplied with trustworthy information: R.A.F.: since ca. 1939. H. & P.

gen man has, since 1938, been rather more usual than its synonym, gen wallah. In, e.g., R. M. Davison, letter of Sept. 26, 1942, and in Brickhill & Norton, Escape to Danger, 1946.—2. An Intelligence Officer: R.A.F.: 1939 +. (P-G-R.)

gen up, v.i. and v.t. To learn (esp., quickly), to swot, to study: R.A.F.: since ca. 1933. Jackson. Ex gen, the.

gen(-)wallah. Anyone conversant with Service procedure or with Service 'occurrences' (postings, promotions), esp. an Orderly Room Sergeant or Corporal: R.A.F.: since ca. 1935. Jackson. See gen, the.

General, the. A general post-office: coll.: C. 20.—2. The yardmaster: Canadian railroadmen's (—1931). Humorous.

General Schools. General School Leaving Examination: schools' coll.: from ca. 1920. W. L. Gibson Cowan, Loud Report, 1937.

General Weatherall (or Wetherall, etc.) in command. See Wetherall . . .

genned(-)up. Well supplied with information: R.A.F.: since ca. 1934. Partridge, 1945. Ex gen up.

gens.—2. 'Also used for General Quarters' (Granville): Naval: C. 20.

Gentleman Jackson (p. 321) was a native, not of Australia but of the West Indies.

gentleman of a company. 'Tavern terms', § 6.

gentleman outer. See 'Rogues'. Perhaps a c. term, as prob. is gentleman of the nig ('Rogues').

gentlemen, the. Members of the Royal Australian Air Force: Australian: 1940 +. B., 1942.

gentlemen present, ladies!, usually preceded by there're. A jocular, yet satirical, variation (1945 +) of (there are) ladies present, gentlemen!

gents', the. A men's convenience: coll.: C. 20.

genuffel, v.i. To flirt: South Africa: 1938 +. Professor W. S. Mackie in The Cape Argus, July 4, 1946, 'Though it has a German or Dutch appearance, its origin is unknown.' Mr Ramsey Spencer asks, 'Could this be a case of back-slang? "A form of loving", in fact?' Not impossibly.

genuwine. A jocular intensive of genuine, via the mispron. genu-ine: since ca. 1918.

geo-graphy (p. 322) occurs, as ge-ography, in W. N. Glascock, Sketch-Book, 1825-26, and therefore goes back to ca. 1810 or earlier. (Moe.)

geog (pron. jog). Geography: Public Schools': mid-C. 19-20. Marples.

geographically impossible. A girl rendered, by the distance of her home from Sydney, inconvenient to see for long, esp. in the evening and, above all, to take home: Sydneysiders': since ca. 1945. (B.P.)

geography. Female genitals: cultured: from ca. 1920. C. Isherwood, in New Country, 1933, 'He'll get a bit of geography with luck. She's only a teaser.' I.e. to the exploring hand.

Geological Survey, the. A stony stare: Naval officers': since ca. 1930. Granville.

Geometer. A Jesuit: ca. 1660-1720. Jane Lane, England for Sale, 1943, in ref. to the 1680's. Perhaps because, the Society of Jesus being a predominantly missionary order, its members may not be inaptly described as 'earth measurers'.

geometrician. See 'Tavern terms', § 3, d.

Geordie or geordie.—5. (Ex sense 1: p. 322.) A townsman, esp. a working-man: Durham University and School: late C. 19-20. (Marples, 2.)—6. A N.E. Railway employee: railwaymen's: C. 20, after ca. 1950, any employee in that region. (Railway.) Ex sense 1 on p. 322.

George.—10. An automatic pilot: since 1928. Jackson; H. & P., 'The saying "Let George do it" may well have suggested the name.' In ref. to sense 9 (p. 322), Joe has, since ca. 1920, been gradually superseding it: Jackson.—11. A common vocative to a Negro whose name is unknown: Canadian: since ca. 1920; by 1960, slightly ob.—12. Defecation: Naval: C. 20. John Winton, We Joined the Navy, 1859. "Bowles, I'm going to have my Morning George now. . . . Bowles, always have your George in the morning" (Captain to midshipman). Personification.

George Bohee. Tea (the beverage): rhyming s.: C. 20; by 1945, ob.—by 1960, †. Ex the name of 'a famous Banjoist', says Sydney Lester; but obviously influenced by the Chinese tea named Bohea (pron. Bohee) tea.

George Gerrard. A gross exaggeration: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Ex an Australian 'character'.

George Robey; esp. on the George Robey. The road, or tramping; on the road, or a tramping: tramps' rhyming c. (on toby): from ca. 1910.

George the Third. A variant of Richard the Third (p. 696): C. 20. Franklyn 2nd.

George's wrecks. See gorgeous wrecks.

ger along or on! Get on or, as is gen., Get out!; i.e. don't be silly!: illiterate coll.: C. 19-20. Nevins, 1895, has both.

geranium.—2. A brigadier-general: Army officers': late C. 19-20. (Gilbert Frankau, Peter Jackson, 1920.)

gerbera. A Yarborough (in the game of bridge): Australian: since ca. 1930. B., 1942. Merely Yarborough in an Aboriginal shape. B.P., however, thinks that gerbera has been chosen because it is the name of a plant that, although imported, is extremely common in Australia.

gerdoying. See kerdoying.

Gerines (p. 322) has long been †. Perhaps ex 'the jolly marines' (Colonel Albert F. Moe, formerly of the U.S. Marine Corps); perhaps ex margarines, 'substitutes' for sailors + soldiers (E.P.). If the term did not arise until ca. 1870, the latter origin is the more plausible, for Mège-Mouriés, the inventor and namer of margarine, patented his invention, for France, in 1867 or 1868, and, for Britain, in 1869.

German bands (p. 322) was occasionally used in the singular, but has been † since ca. 1920.

German by injection. See injection . . .

Germs. German soldiers: 1914 +, but never common. Boyd Cable, Between the Lines, 1915.

gerswinty or geswinty. Hurried; engaged on an urgent job: Jewish Cockney tailors': C. 19-20. 'He can't stay for another pint—having been late this morning, he's a bit gerswinty.' Ex Yiddish. (Julian Franklyn.)

Gert and Daisy. Two Messerschmitts familiar to troops in the Green Hill area of Tunisia: ca. 1942-3. Ex the music-hall comedienne, 'Gert and Daisy' (Doris and Elsie Waters). P-G-R.

gertcha! Don't pull my leg!: Cockneys': late C. 19-20. "'Gertcha!" said Jimmy, "I ain't interested in women.'" A corruption of get out with yer!

Gertie. See whistler.

Gertie Gitana. Banana: rhyming: C. 20. Ex a music-hall star of Edwardian days; by 1950, ob. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

Gestapo, the. The Service (later R.A.F.) Police: R.A.F.: since ca. 1938. Sgt-Pilot F. Rhodes, letter of Sept. 20, 1942, 'Service police are "Gestapo" much more often than "snoops".' But also Army: witness Gerald Kersh, They Die with their Boots Clean, 1941. Humorous on the name of the German Secret Police of the Third Reich.

get, v., 12 (p. 323). Read: mid-C. 18-20. Sessions, mid-September 1759 (trial of John Mayland), 'The prisoner got jumping about, telling him he had won the twopence'.—14. To get the mastery of: pugilistic: ca. 1810-60. Boxiana, III, 1821.

get, n.—5. A chump, a fool: Army: since ca. 1930. The Daily Mail, Sept. 7, 1940. Ex the S.E. sense, 'bastard'.

get a bag! A cricket spectators' e.p., addressed to a fielder missing an easy catch: esp. in Australia and New Zealand: late C. 19-20. The implication is that he would do better as twelfth man, who carries the bag, but also that, if he held a bag open, he might succeed.

get a barrage. See barrage, get a.

get a blow. See blow, n., 4 (Dict.).

get a bottle. See bottle.

get a broom! Cancel it!: R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. Jackson. Cf. scrub, 4. I.e. 'sweep it away!': cf. familiar S.E. wash out, 'to cancel'.

get a bun on. See bun on . . .

get a capture. To be arrested (c. and) low: since ca. 1945. (Norman.)

get a fair crack of the whip, not to. To receive a disproportionately heavy share of duties: R.A.F.: since ca. 1936. (Atkinson.)

get a hand on. See hand on, get a in Dict.

get a hat. See hat, get a in Dict.

get a heave on (someone). To treat severely or unpleasantly: Army: since ca. 1930. (P-G-R.)

get a knob. To catch a venereal disease: low, ? esp. Army: C. 20. (Leslie Thomas, The Virgin Soldiers, 1966.) Cf. knob, n., 6, below.

get a load of that! Just look at that: since ca. 1944. Cf:

get a load of this! Listen to this!: adopted, ca. 1942, from U.S.

get a load on. To become tipsy: Australian: C. 20. Vance Palmer, Golconda, 1948. The load comes ex Canada, where current since late C. 19. (Niven.)

get a marked tray. To catch a venereal disease: Canadian hospitals' (perhaps orig. a euphemism): since ca. 1910. (To avoid infection.)

get a number! is a variant of before you came up!, q.v. at p. 44: since ca. 1925. H. & P.—2. Synonymous with get joined.

get a set on. To make a dead set against (a person): Australian: ca. 1880-1920. B. & L. Cf. get a pick on (Dict.).

get a squeak. (Of police) to become suspicious: police: since ca. 1910. (The Free-Lance Writer, April 1948.) Cf. squeak, n., 2 (p. 819).

get a wiggle on. (Mostly in imperative.) To get a move on; to look lively: Naval: C. 20. (P-G-R) get (food) about (one). To 'get outside of', to eat: Aus.: since ca. 1920.

get among it. To be making a lot of money: Australian: since ca. 1910.—2. To 'have a woman' from time to time: Australian: since ca. 1915. (Dal Stivens, Jimmy Brockett, 1951.)

get an encore. See encore, get an.

get at, 4 (p. 324): should rather be dated late C. 19-20. The American David Belasco was prob. borrowing it when he used it in Naughty Anthony (II, i), 1849. (Moe.)

get (someone) at—intensively, right at—it. To make fun of; to jeer at; to make a fool of: low: since ca. 1940. (Norman.)

get back to taws. Ex the technical or S.E. sense, 'to go back to the base-line' in the game of marbles, comes the sense, 'to (have or prefer to) start again', of which B.P. remarks, 'I believe that this is the best known c.p. of Australian origin.'

get bumbled. See bumped.

get cracking—get mobile—get skates on—get stuck into it—get weaving. To respond (immediately) to an order; to get a move on: Services (the 2nd, 3rd, 4th, general; the 1st, orig. Army and then gen.; the 5th, R.A.F.—see separately at weaving): since ca. 1925, except stuck (ca. 1916) and the last, q.v. All usually in the imperative. Origins: whip-cracking at the mustering of cattle; mobile and skates, obvious refs. to speed (cf. a mobile column); stuck, perhaps ex dough-kneading but prob. ex ditch-digging, road-making, mining; see weaving.—2. Hence, to think or plan seriously; to take the steps necessary to achieve an end: since 1940. Cf. organised, get.

get dizzy: earlier in 'Taffrail'. Cf. dizzy, n. (in Dict.).

get down. To depress mentally; to exasperate or irritate: coll.: late C. 19-20.

get down in (Dict.). Also Australian: B., 1942.

get down on (p. 324) is also Australian: B., 1943.

get down to it. To coit: coll.: C. 20.

get fell in! Fall in: c.p. among N.C.O.s: C. 20. Originally, Army, then the other Services. (P-G-R.) A sol. that became consecrated.

get (one's) fingers nipped. To get into trouble for some misdeed: coll.: late C. 19-20. Perhaps suggested by S.E. get one's fingers burnt.

get his. To receive a wound, an injury, esp. a fatal one: Army: since ca. 1914. Ronald Knox, Double Cross Purposes, 1937; Gerald Kersh, The Nine Lives of Bill Nelson, 1942. Cf. get it (p. 324) and cop, v., 3 (p. 179).

get (someone) in. To put a story over on, to deceive with a story: Australian: since ca. 1925. D'Arcy Niland, Call Me . . ., 1958, 'Old Ted Proctor . . . the greatest liar God ever put breath in—even he could get you in.'

get in bad with. See bad with.

get in, knob, you're posted. See knob, n., 6, below.—2. Hence, a c.p. uttered when, having been posted to another district, one is determined to have a final fling, usually sexual: R.A.F.: 1939-45, then mainly historical.

get it, as in 'He's got it': Much less usual than get his (above).

get it in the neck (p. 324) was orig. American. It occurs in J. Flynt & F. Walton, The Powers that Prey, 1900.

get it on the whisper. 'To buy on hire purchase (because at one time you didn't tell the neighbours you couldn't afford to pay cash)': lower and lower-middle class: since ca. 1920. (John Gosling, 1959.)

get joined or knotted! Go and 'play trains'!: Services: since 1930. Coitional.

get knackered or knotted 'have come to mean, innocently enough, "go to hell"' (New Society, Aug. 22, 1963, article 'From the Blackboard Jungle'): cf. knackered below.

get knocked. To be punched, or knocked out: Australian sporting coll.: late C. 19-20. Baker.—2. Hence, to suffer a set-back: Australian coll.: since ca. 1930.

get knotted! See get joined!

get Laurence. See Laurence.

get lost! Oh, run away!: adopted, ex U.S., ca. 1950 in Britain, ca. 1944 in Australia.

get marched. See marched.

get me, Steve? See got me, Steve?

get mobile. See get cracking.

get off, v., 3 (p. 325). Much earlier in George Godfrey, History, 1828.—9. (Of a taxicabman) to pick up a fare: taxicabmen's: from ca. 1919. Ex sense 5.

get off my back! Leave me alone! or Stop being a nuisance!: Australian e.p.: since ca. 1940. (B., 1953.)

get off my neck (p. 325). Orig. form (ca. 1905): Oh, Gertie, get off my neck.

get off one's bike. See bike . . .

get off with.—2. (Ex sense 1 on p. 325.) To have a good time together, including sexual play and intercourse: since the late 1930's, esp. among teenagers.

get off your knees! A Services c.p. addressed to one whose job seems to be too much for him or who is lazy: Sgt-Pilot F. Rhodes, letter of Sept. 20, 1942: since ca. 1920. H. & P., 1943, 'You're not beaten to your knees.' A rare R.A.F. variant, ca. 1940-5, was get off your cap-badge.

get on (someone's) daily. See clock, v., 5, above.

get on it; n., getting on it. To go on a drinking-bout; such a bout: Australian: since ca. 1920. (Dymphna Cusack, Say No to Death, 1951.)

get on one's wick. To exasperate someone: low: since ca. 1920. Here, wick = Hampton Wick (p. 370).

get on (someone's) tit. To annoy or irritate: low: Aus.: C. 20. (B., 1959.)

get on to.—2. To question: coll.: C. 20.—3. To reprimand: coll., mostly North Country: C. 20.

get on toast. See toast, get on.

get on (someone's) tripe. To get on his nerves: Aus.: since ca. 1930. (F. B. Vickers, First Place to the Stranger, 1955.)

get on (someone's) works. To annoy—even to infuriate: Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1942. Adaptation of get on one's wick above?

get one's arse, or eye, in a sling. See eye in a sling above.

get one's blood back. See blood back.

get one's end in. (Of the male) to achieve copulation, to copulate: low: since ca. 1910. Leslie Thomas, The Virgin Soldiers, 1966, 'It was the place in the town for getting one's end in, they said, and it was naturally very crowded.' See end, 2., above.

get one's feet under the table. To establish friendly relations; esp., of servicemen in homes of residents local to barracks or camp: coll.: since ca. 1925. (Atkinson.)

get one's head down. To lie down and sleep:

Services (esp. R.A.F.) coll.: since ca. 1920. (Gerald Emanuel, March 29, 1945.)

get one's head sharpened. See I'm going to get . . . below.

get one's leg across. To achieve mastery of (a woman): low coll.: late C. 19-20.

get one's monkey up (p. 529) should be back-dated to ca. 1810.

get one's one. See one, get one's.

get organised! See organised, get.

get-out. (See Dict.) An earlier example, though in the nuance 'an escape from a difficult or dangerous position', occurs in E. H. Hornung, Raffles, 1899. The term now verges on S.E.

get out and push! A derisive c.p. directed at a motorist whose car keeps on stopping: since ca. 1925.

get out and walk. To use one's parachute: aviators' and Airborne Divisions': 1939 +.

get out of the shine! Get out of the light!: since ca. 1925.

get out one's mad. To become (very) angry: Australian: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.)

get past oneself. See past oneself, get.

get pipped. See bumped.

get rooted! or go and . . .! (Go and) get fucked!: low Australian: late C. 19-20. (B., 1953.)

get roused on is a variant (B., 1943) of rouse on, q.v. at rouse, 2 (p. 709): since ca. 1920.

get scrubbed. See scrubbed.

get set.—2. To 'get someone set' is to bear him a grudge: Australian: since ca. 1880. B., 1942. Ex have a set against.

get shit of. See shit of . . .

get slopped out. To empty one's slops: prison coll.: late C. 19-20. (Norman.) get some flying hours in. 'To get some sleep' (Jackson): R.A.F.: since ca. 1935.

get some service in! Synonymous with get a number!: since ca. 1925. H. & P. Also get some time in; often simply get some in!: Partridge, 1945.

get some straight and level in. To obtain some sleep: R.A.F.: since ca. 1939. Robert Hinde, letter of March 17, 1945.

get some time in! See get some service in!

get stuck into. See get cracking.—2. To 'get stuck into someone' is to fight someone with one's fists: Australian: C. 20. Baker.—3. To coit with a woman: workman's: C. 20.—4. To abuse verbally: Aus.: C. 20. (B., 1959.) Ex sense 2.

get stuff on the mace. See mace . . .

get stuffed! Oh, run away and 'play trains'!: low: late C. 19-20. Cf. get joined!

get that across your chest! Eat that: C. 20.

get the bird. See bird, n., 5, and bird, get the, both on p. 54. Mr S. H. Ward, in letter dated May 8, 1967, tells me of a letter written by John Fabian—contained in the Lansdowne MSS, vol. 22—and dated by the British Museum as ca. 1576. Of the sentence 'Some after deride me and demaunde, what I have p[ro]fited thereby, saying that I have spounde a faire thread, have beaten the bushe, but after have gotten the birde . . .', Mr Ward says, 'The tone of the whole letter is one in which the modern sense of "getting the bird" would suit very well. Bewailing that his work has not brought the reward to which he believed himself entitled.'

get the cat to lick it off! or try a piece of sand-paper! A piece of c.p. advice (C. 20) to youths with down on cheeks or upper lip.

get the chop. See chop, get the.

get the crap on. To be afraid, 'get the wind up': low Glasgow: from ca. 1919. MacArthur & Long. Ex that loosening of the bowels which often results from fear.

get the gate. See gate, get the.

get the go. The complement of give the go. (G. B. Lancaster, 1910.)

get the hoof. See hoof, get the.

get the lead out. A variant of take. . . : mostly Canadian: since ca. 1940.

get the length of one's foot. See foot, know the length of one's in Dict.

get the message. See 'Jazz Slang' (at message, get the).

get the needle. See needle, cop the in both Dict. and Addenda.

get the picture. To understand: mostly Australian: since ca. 1945. Cf. put in the picture below. (B.P.)

get the run. See run, get the.

get the shits up. To panic: low: C. 20. Elleston Trevor, The Freebooters, 1967, 'If it's a false alarm they'll know I've just got the shits up'. Cf. get the wind up, q.v. at wind up both in Dict. and below.

get the spear. To be dismissed from a job: Australian: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.)

get the stick. See stick, get the, below.

get the white ants. See white ants.

get them.—3. He's got them, he's mad: since ca. 1910.

get through.—4. To copulate with (a woman): low: late C. 19–20. But orig. and strictly, to take a girl's virginity.

get to. To begin to (do something): coll.: from ca. 1870. Nevinson, 1895.

get to wind'ard of. See wind'ard of, get to.

get-together. A (usually informal) meeting or assembly: coll.: since ca. 1925. Sydney Moseley, God Help America!, 1952.

get tonked. To be punched; to be defeated: Australian: since ca. 1920. Baker. Ex tonk, 1 (Dict.).

get tore! Get a move on!: Services: since ca. 1930. (P-G-R.)

get tossed. To lose money on a horse-race: Australian sporting: C. 20. (Lawson Glassop, 1949.)

get under (someone's) neck. To beat or outwit or circumvent (someone): Australian: since ca. 1930. (B., 1953.) Lit., to get in front of him; ex horse-racing.

get up, n.—4. A 'framing', a 'frame-up' (a trumped-up case): c.: since mid 1940's. Peter Crookston, Villain, 1967, "'I can't really get annoyed when the police have a get-up against Harry.'" Ex coll. get up a case, to prepare one.

get up, 5 (p. 326). This coll. goes, as v.t., much further back: in John Aubrey's Brief Lives, written in 1679–96, we hear of Sir Walter Raleigh 'getting up one of the mayds of honour'.—6. (Of a horse) to win: Australian racing: C. 20. Lawson Glassop, Lucky Palmer, 1949.

get up and go, n. A person's energy, initiative, courage; a car's acceleration, a lawn mower's reliability, etc.: Australian: since ca. 1930. (B.P.)

get up them stairs! A c.p. to a man (esp. if married) going on leave: Services (perhaps mostly R.A.F.): since ca. 1940. Before the phrase gained widespread and broadcast renown, i.e. before 1942, it used often to be preceded or, more often, followed by Blossom, generic for a woman's name.

get up to, as in 'What's he getting up to?'—What mischief is he doing or planning?: coll.: late C. 19–20.

get weaving. See weaving.

get weighed off. See weighed off.

get worked! A low Australian expletive: C. 20. (Dal Stivens, Jimmy Brockett, 1951.)

get you (emphatic yew) or he's got ten bob each way on himself. Female teenagers' c.p. directed at a conceited young man: ca. 1957–9. (Gilderdale.)

get—or go and get—your brain(s) examined! A disparaging, or a derisive, c.p.: since ca. 1920.

get your ears dropped! Your hair needs cutting: facetious Canadian c.p.: since ca. 1955. (Leechman.)

get your knees brown! See knees.

get your knickers untwisted! often preceded by you want to. Among men: Clarify your ideas!; elude an impasse: since ca. 1950.

get your steel helmets (or tin hats)! The Army's (1940–5) 'answer' to the R.A.F.'s line! 'Often accompanied by the gesture of handle-turning, like that of a street organist, to the tune of da-di-da' (Bebbington).

getaway. See get away (Dict.).

getaway, make a. The invariable v. form of getaway (n.) on p. 324.

getaway man (coll., become semi-official); or lucky Charlie (s.). On a patrol, that man who, keeping in the rear, was detailed, in an emergency, to escape and report: Army coll.: 1940–5.

getting any?; also getting any lately? and getting enough? A c.p. used by men, mostly manual workers and esp. at meeting: Australian: since ca. 1930. Either ex angling, as B.P. proposes, or ex sex, as he fears; the latter is the more prob., as getting enough? seems to indicate. It does indeed imply 'Have you been amorously successful lately?': B., 1959. Baker records these 'formulas of reply': climbing trees to get away from it!—got to swim under water to dodge it!—so busy I've had to put a man on (to help me)!

Gezira Box, the. Base troops at Cairo: Army in North Africa: 1941–3. (P-G-R.) Ex the 'boxes' that formed the defence plan in the desert fighting. Cf. Groppi's Light Horse.

gezumph; loosely gezump.—2. To give (someone) short change: barrow-boys': since ca. 1935. Ex sense 1 (p. 326).

Ghan, the. 'The fortnightly train running from Adelaide to Alice Springs,' B., 1942: Australian: since ca. 1930. Aboriginal shaping of go on? No; short for Afghan: from those camel-trains which are so often conducted by the Afghan cameleers, as in, 'One old Ghan cameleer . . . had ridden from Alice Springs to Oodnadatta . . . 355 miles away without undue fatigue' (Archer Russell, A Tamp Royal in Australia, 1934): there, Ghan is a coll., dating since ca. 1890.

Ghardimaou Yeomanry, the. The 2nd Corps Reinforcement Unit, mobilised as infantry at the time of the German threat at Kasserine: Army in North Africa: World War II. This unit was stationed at Ghardimaou in Tunisia. (P-G-R.)

ghee factory. See Rice Corps.

ghost, n.—4. A Radio Officer: Services: since ca. 1939. H. & P.—5. An intrusive secondary image on a T.V. screen: since ca. 1950: television coll. >, by 1965, S.E.

ghost gun. A machine-gun operated from a distance by cable: Army in Italy: 1943–4.

ghost in goloshes, the. The B.B.C. time-signal: since ca. 1938.

ghoster. A full night's work preceded by a full day's work: builders': C. 20. (A master builder: Dec. 5, 1953.)

giant.—2. Dynamite: (esp. Canadian) miners': C. 20. A small stick has tremendous power. 'Giant was a trade mark for one brand of dynamite, and may still be' (Leechman, 1967).

giant-killer, the; tigers' milk. Whisky: Army officers': resp. from ca. 1910 and ca. 1890. Both occur in Blaker.—2. The latter occurs also as 'gin': 1850 (O.E.D.); † by 1890.—3. The latter, also as in George R. Gleig, The Subaltern's Log-Book, 1828, "Will you take a glass of tiger's milk" (a pet name for brandy and water), I asked.' Moe.

Gib. An early record: 1869, A Merchant, Six Years in the Prisons of England.

gib, 3, is recorded as early as in B. & L. gibber (p. 327) is pronounced ghibber. See, e.g., e.g., A. G. Mitchell, The Pronunciation of English in Australia, 1946.

gibbey is that variant of gibby (Dict.) which 'Taffrail' prefers.

gibby.—2. 'Naval word for a cap,' H. & P.: since ca. 1930. Granville precisions it, thus, 'A round cap worn by new entries in a training ship.'

giddy giddy gout. A child whose shirt's hanging out: Australian schoolchildren's: C. 20. Ex a schoolchildren's chant. (B.P.)

giddy goat. 'The tote' or totalisator: Australian rhyming s.: since ca. 1925. (B., 1945.)

giddy kipper, etc., survives in the Cockney c.p. giddy little kipper (or whelk) approvingly directed at one's get-up, esp. on some festive occasion.

giddy limit, the. The original form—English, esp. Cockney—of 'the dizzy limit' (p. 226 and above): since the 1890's. Julian Franklyn, letter of 1962, instances 'It is—you are—they are—the giddy limit'.

Gideon Force. Wingate's gallant little force in Abyssinia (1941). Biblical Gideon smote his enemies hip and thigh.

giever. A life-saving jacket sold by Messrs. Gieves, the Naval outfitters: Naval (ward-room): since ca. 1946.

gifted, adj. (Usually of men) homosexual, as in 'Is he gifted?': ? orig. Canadian: since ca. 1925. 'Presumably because so many of them are' (Leechman).

gig, n.—7. An engagement to play at a party for one evening: dance bands': since ca. 1935. In, e.g., Stanley Jackson, An Indiscreet Guide to Soho, 1946. Ex S.E. gig, a dance.—8. A young lady: Australian: since the 1920's. Perhaps ex giggle. (Kylie Tennant, 1953.)—9. A simpleton, a dupe: Australian: since ca. 1930. (B., 1953.) Whence 'to gig' or lure simpletons: B., 1953.—10. A shortened form of fizz-gig, 2 (p. 280): Australian c.: since ca. 1935. Hence the rhyming Moreton Bay fig, itself often shortened to Moreton Bay. (B., 1953.) 11. A detective: Aus.: since ca. 1935. (B., 1959.)—Sense 7 was, ca. 1966, adopted by hippies and, in 1967, by the Flower People: Peter gig, v.—2. To tease, make fun of (someone): Australian: since ca. 1945. B., Australia Speaks, 1953.—3. So to toss a coin that it does not spin: Australian two-up players': since ca. 1910. Also 'to butterfly' or 'to float'. (B., 1953.)—4. To stare (at someone): Aus.: since late 1930's. (B., 1959.)

Fryer in The Observer colour supplement, Dec. 3, 1967.

gig!, it's a. See it's a gig!

giggle, n. A group or 'bunch', or crowd of girls: originating as a noun of assembly, it had, by ca. 1935, become a cultured coll. Berta Ruck, Pennies from Heaven, 1940, 'Picked her out of a giggle of society debutantes.' Ex giggling, as in 'a lot of giggling girls'.—2. 'When the show or party is fun—it's a giggle, or it's a screech' (Gilderdale, 2): smart young set (esp. girls'): ca. 1955–60. But also low s.: since ca. 1945, as in Norman. Cf. giggle, no, on p. 328.

giggle and titter. A bitter (beer): rhyming s., mainly theatrical: C. 20. Franklyn, Rhyming.

giggle-hat. Worn with a 'giggle-suit': Australian soldiers': 1939–45. (B., 1943.)

giggle-house. A lunatic asylum: Australian: since ca. 1925. D'Arcy Niland, Call Me . . ., 1958, 'Unless something's done he'll end up in the giggle-house. And that'll finish her.'

giggle-stick. The penis: low: C. 20. Cf. joy-stick, 2 (Dict.).—2. A stick, a spoon, used to stir a cocktail or other mixed alcoholic drink: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942.

giggle-suit. Working dress; overalls: Australian soldiers': 1939+. Lawson Glassop, We Were the Rats, 1944. Cf. a comic appearance.—2. Hence, prison clothes: Aus.: c.: since ca. 1945. (B., 1959.) giggle-water. Champagne: since ca. 1910. Ex its effect.

gigging-pin. A variant of giggle-stick (penis): C. 20.

giggy; dirt-shoot. Anus: low Canadian: C. 20.

giggy!, up your. A low Canadian c.p. of contemptuous rejection: C. 20. Cf. preceding.

gilded ballocks, have. To be extremely lucky: Army: since ca. 1936. Cf. golden ballocks.

gilded staff, the. 'The staff on board a flag ship, the wearers of aiguillettes,' Granville: Naval officers': since ca. 1910.

gilderoy. A proud person: Newfoundland: C. 20. Cf. In Newfoundland simile (as) proud as Gilderoy or Guilderoys; both forms are recorded by L. E. F. English, Historic Newfoundland, 1955. G(u)ilderoy is here taken as the type of old, aristocratic Norman-English surname.

gill-ale. 'Physic-ale', says B.E., who, since a gill is only one-quarter of a pint, would seem to mean medicinal ale (? stout): coll.: ca. 1670–1750.

gilt, n.—6. A gilt-edged security: financial: since ca. 1915. W. B. M. Ferguson, Somewhere off Borneo, 1936.

gilt-edged (p. 328) goes back, in U.S., to ca. 1860. (The Galaxy, July 1867, on p. 278.) By 1890, Standard American English; by 1940, S.E. (Moe.)

gilt-tick is more closely defined by B. & L.: 'money as represented by gold coins'.

Gimracks, the. 'The big fir trees at the Governor's gate', esp. as a fighting ground: Sandhurst: from ca. 1826. Major A. F. Mockler-Ferryman, Annals of Sandhurst, 1900.

gimick. Variant of gimmick. gimlet.—2. A gin and lime: Naval: since ca. 1930. Granville. Elaboration of blend. gimmick. Synonym of gaff, n., 13, or gaffer, 12: Canadian carnival s.: since ca. 1920. Echoic. Adopted from U.S.—2. See fake, n., 2.—3. Hence, any device or plan or trick calculated to ensure success: since ca. 1946 in Britain, but since the middle 1930's in Canada.
gimp. A simpleton; a fool: Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1942. A corruption of American gink, 'chap, fellow'. gimp up, v.i. and v. reflexive. To dress oneself up smartly: Army: since ca. 1910. Ex North Country dial, gimp, 'to ornament with grooves, to put into scallops'. gimpy. Lame in the leg: Canadian: adopted, ca. 1930, ex U.S. The adj. of c. gimp, a lame leg, hence a lame person. (Priestley.) gin(-)and(-)fog. (Of the voice) hoarse with that peculiar quality of 'fruitiness' which spirituous indulgence causes: urban: since ca. 1930. In, e.g., Clifford Witting, Let X Be the Murderer, 1947.
Gin and Jaguar (or Stockbrokers) Belt, the. Any good—and very expensive—residential area near London, but esp. in Surrey: since ca. 1955. gin-coaster. A pink gin with soda: British West Africa: since ca. 1880. gin-jockey. A white man habitually consorting with aboriginal women (gins): Australian rural, esp. in the North: since ca. 1920. Margaret Henry, Unlucky Dip, 1960. gin ken. A gin shop: low: late C. 18–19. See the quotation at nab the bib below.
gin palace.—2. 'Armoured Command vehicle or "Dorchester"' . . . 'The nerve centre of the armoured brigades,' H. & P.: military: since 1940. Cf.: 3. 'Any impressive interior, such as that of a static A.A. Command Post,' H. & P.: since 1941. Ex the elaborateness and the apparent comfort.—4. 'Staff car. Any luxurious vehicle for the use of a superior officer' (Frank Roberts, letter of Sept. 28, 1946): Army: 1942 +. Ex 2.
Gin Palace, the. Earlier in 'Taffrail'. gin pennant. A green-and-white flag run up by a ship as an invitation to all officers to come aboard for a drink: C. 20.
gin-spinner.—2. Hence, a wine-vault: 1821, Pierce Egan, Life in London; † by 1890. gin up, v.i. 'To consume hard liquor'—esp. spirits—'before a party,' Jackson: Service officers': since ca. 1930. Cf. ginned-up (p. 329): gin up, however, means—not to get drunk but merely to induce the party-spirit.
ginch, elegance, smartness, esp. of skill or manner or clothing, or an instance of any of these exhibitions; adj., ginchy: Australian teenagers' (esp. surfboard riders'): since ca. 1960. Pix, Sept. 28, 1963, para. 1 of Dick Dennison's article, 'The Weird World of Surfers'. ginchy. See preceding.—2. Hence (?), excellent, first-class: in the lower forms of Merseyside schools: ca. 1960–4. ging. A catapult: Australian children's: C. 20. B., 1942. Echoic.
Ginge. Nickname, usually in vocative, for a ginger-haired person (mostly of men): since ca. 1880.
Ginger. Air Chief Marshall 'Bomber' Harris: R.A.F.: — 1939.

ginger, n., 5 (p. 329). Rather, since ca. 1815: sporting. Spy, 1825.—7. (Pronounced ghing-er.) A catapult: Australian juvenile: since ca. 1945. (B., 1953.) Ex shot-ging?—2. See next.
ginger, v., gingering, n. To rob; robbery: Australian c. (prostitutes): since ca. 1930. Kylie Tennant, The Joyful Condemned, 1953, "'gingering", or robbing prospective clients, was considered low taste, but after all, the man was a copper'. Hence the n., ginger, a prostitute that does this; also called a ginger girl or a gingerer: B., 1953. Hence also work a ginger. ginger, knocking down. See knocking down ginger. ginger beer.—2. Hence, the Ginger Beers, the Engineer Corps in the Australian Army: Australian soldiers': 1939 +. B., 1942.—3. A homosexual: rhyming s., since ca. 1920. On queer. ginger one. See back stick above.
Ginger Smith. See 'Nicknames'.
gingerer. See ginger, v., s.f.
Gingerless Pop. 'A name we gave to Poperinghe during the spring retreat of 1918. . . . "Pop" was completely deserted and dead, and Talbot House was completely empty. . . . It was nothing like the Poperinghe of 1917, always packed with troops and transport' and offering tea and soft drinks. (A. B. Petch, March 1966.) ginnick. A Naval variant—since ca. 1950—of gimmick. ginny. —2. Addicted to gin: coll.: C. 20. (Angus Wilson, A Bit off the Map, 1957.)
ginormous. Very large: R.A.F. and Navy: ca. 1940–5. (W/Cdr R. P. McDouall, March 27, 1945.) I.e. great + immense + enormous. Extant in R.A.F. gin's flop. Synonymous with honey-pot, 2. (B., 1943.)
Gip. Garden Island Prison: Australian Naval: since ca. 1939. (B., 1943.)
gip, give, sense 1 (p. 330), was coll. by 1900 at latest, as in G. B. Lancaster, Jim of the Ranges, 1910—an Australian usage.—2. To cause pain to (someone), esp. a sudden pain: since ca. 1905. gip artist. A confidence trickster: Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1942. By American influence. gippa. Gravy: Regular Army: C. 20. Cf. Gip, 3 and gypoo: in Dict. gippo.—4. A cook; master gippo, head cook: Army: since ca. 1918. Ex sense 3: see Gip, p. 330 and: Gippy.—3. Gravy: mostly R.A.F. regulars': since ca. 1925. Jackson. Ex Gip, 3 (p. 330), or ex gippa (above). gippy.—4. (G.) An Egyptian cigarette: since ca. 1905.
Gippy tummy. Stomach-trouble in Egypt (hence also in Libya): Army: late C. 19–20. Perhaps commoner in form Gippo tummy.
Gipsy's warning. See gypsy's warning. girl, n., 3, is also, in late C. 19–20, the white-slave term for a service of 'the Centre'. Albert Londres, The Road to Buenos Ayres, 1928. girl, v. (p. 330) is very much earlier than I had thought. 'The maid said two men were missing, and the others said, God d..n them, they are gone a-girling,' Sessions, Jan. 1787.
girl abductor. A tram conductor: Australian rhymings.: ca. 1890–1914. (The Sydney Bulletin, Jan. 18, 1902, cited by B., 1945.)

girl and boy (p. 330) fell into disuse by 1920, at latest.

girl friend, the. See boy friend.

girlie magazine. A magazine containing many pictures of female nudes or provocative semi-nudes: Australian, esp. teenagers', coll.: adopted, in late 1950's, ex U.S. (B.P.)

giro. A giraffe: big-game hunters': late C. 19-20. (Stephen Leacock, Arcadian Adventures, 1915.) After hippo.

git, n.—5. A fool; a useless fellow: mostly Cockney: since ca. 1920. A specialization of sense 2 on p. 323.

git-box. See fish-horn.

give (someone) a bowler hat. See bowler hat (p. 86).

give or have or take a cook. To take a look: rhyming s.: since ca. 1946. Ex Yiddish guck. (Franklyn, Rhyming.) The Yiddish v.i. itself derives from the coll. Ger. v.i. gucken, to look, to peep, inquisitively.

give (someone) a fair crack of the whip. To 'play fair' with: North Country miners': late C. 19-20. Hence also, since ca. 1910, Australian.

give (something) a fly. See fly, n., 9.

give (someone) a go. To give him a run for his money, to give 'something to think about': Australian coll.: since ca. 1910. (H. Drake Brockman, 1947.)

give a good chit. See have a . . .

give a monkey's fuck, not to. Not to care a damn: low: C. 20.

give (someone) a rap. To reprove or reprimand: coll.: mid-C. 19-20; by 1890, S.E. B., 1941.

give (a woman) a shot. To coit with: low: C. 19-20.

give (a girl) a thrill. To coit: coll.: since ca. 1920.

give (someone) a touch of 'em. See touch . . .

give (a person) a weight. To assist in lifting a heavy weight: streets': from ca. 1860. B. & L.

give air. See give the ball air (Dict.).

give and take, sense 1 (p. 330). The O.E.D. records it for 1769.—2. A cake: rhyming s.: from ca. 1860.

give away, v. (p. 330). Senses 1 and 2 are, in C. 20, coll.—4. To abandon: Australian: C. 20. Jon Cleary, Justin Bayard, 1955, 'When I spoke to you . . ., you didn't say you'd given the idea away.' Cf. give the game away. Recorded earlier in Tom Ronan, Vision Splendid, 1954, and earlier still in Nevil Shute, A Town Like Alice, 1949, and Lawson Glassop, Lucky Palmer, 1949.

give beans.—2. To reprimand or scold (someone): Canadian: C. 20.

give (someone) Bondi. To 'give him hell': Australian: C. 20. (Dal Stivens, 1951.) Bondi beach: a lively place.

give (someone) fits. To scold thoroughly: Canadian: C. 20. (Leechman.) give full chips. See chips, give . . .

give her twopence! 'A c.p. used on sighting a beautiful female child, i.e. Give her twopence to ring you up when she is sixteen' (B.P.): Australian: late 1945-1946-1947. The cost of a call rose to threepence, then fourpence.

give him a card! Just listen to him boasting: Naval: since ca. 1940. In the Near East, early in World War II, it was—so legend has it—customary to pass to anyone boasting of his exploits a card bearing the words 'Carry on! I'm a bit of a bull-shitter myself.'

give in best. To affect repentance: c.: from ca. 1860. B. & L.

give it a bone! A proletarian variant of give it a rest (Dict.): from ca. 1880. B. & L.

give it to, 2 (p. 331): in C. 18, coll., as, e.g., in Sessions, May 1739 (trial of Wm Kirkwood).

give me a pain . . ., you. See you give me the balls-ache.

give out. See 'Jazz Slang'.

give sky-high. To scold (a person) immoderately: proletarian: from ca. 1870; ob. B. & L.

give (someone) something for (his) corner. To make him 'sit up', to punish: North Country: C. 20. Ex boxing.

give (someone) the brush-off. To dismiss; to snub: Canadian (ex U.S.): since ca. 1925. Hence, English and Australian, since ca. 1943.

give (someone) the business. To inflict punishment, whether physical or mental, upon: Canadian: adopted, ca. 1945, ex U.S.

give (someone) the freedom of the world. To sack him: C. 20.

give the game away. 'To abandon interest in any activity or pursuit' (B., 1953): Australian: since ca. 1939. Ex give away, v., 4.

give the go. To reject (a suitor): New Zealand: late C. 19-20. (G. B. Lancaster, Sons o' Men, 1904.) For . . . go-by. Also give the mitten:—2. Also, to abandon (a country, a job): New Zealand and Australian: late C. 19-20. G. B. Lancaster 1904.

give the goo. See 'Canadian'.

give the gun (p. 331). Here, the gun = the accelerator.

give the heat. To murder with a firearm: c.: anglicised, ca. 1932, ex the American usage (see Irwin). The Pawnshop Murder.

give (someone) the length of one's tongue. To reprove severely, to 'dress down': Londoners': C. 20.

give (one) the shits. To get on a person's nerves: low, esp. Londoners': C. 20.

give the sick. See sick . . .

give the slip; either with us, etc., or absolutely. To die: coll.: since ca. 1830. Emily Brontë, Wuthering Heights, 1847. Ex fox hunting.

give the works. See works . . .

give us a touch (usually with vocative tosh). Let me light my cigarette from yours, or from your pipe: National Servicemen's: since ca. 1947.

give your face a joy-ride! A c.p., addressed cheerily to someone looking mournful: since ca. 1930.

given away with a pound of tea. 'A Cockney c.p. of jocular disparagement, as in "Mum's new hat looks as if it was given away with a pound o' tea" and "Jack says his new bike was not given away with a pound o' tea": late C. 19-20, but much less general since 1914 than before that date. Ex grocers' practice of giving away a pound of tea with a sizeable order. (Julian Franklyn.)

given the deep six (p. 331). No; but because at sea a body must not be buried in less than six fathoms of water.

giving the boys a treat. (Of girls) to show a lot of leg, whether unavoidably in a gusty wind or crossing a stile or getting out of a car: coll.: late C. 19-20. In late 1966 +, to make the best—or, if you prefer, the worst—of the numerous opportunities afforded by the mini skirt.

givo. A suit made not according to regulations: Naval (lower-deck): since ca. 1910. Granville. Perhaps ex guiver, adj.: see p. 360.

giz. 'To read a pal's letter to his girl friend,' H. & P.: Services: since ca. 1940. Either ex inquisitive or ex U.S. kibitz, to interfere, or kibitzer, busybody.

gizz, a face (p. 331). Perhaps influenced by phiz, but certainly derived from guise (a mask), of which it once formed a variant.

gizzard.—2. The solar plexus: low London: C. 20. E.g. 'Give a poke in the gizzard.'

gla. See 'Colston's'.

Glad. A Gloster Gladiator fighter aircraft R.A.F. coll.: 1939–42. James Aldridge, Signed with their Honour, 1942.

glad. A gladiolus: flower-sellers': late C. 19–20. Richard Llewellyn, None But the Lonely Heart, 1943. Cf. carn.

glad, give the. To 'give the glad eye' (p. 331) since ca. 1930. (Angus Wilson, Anglo-Saxon Attitudes, 1956.)

glad-and-sorry system, the. Hire-purchase, since ca. 1910. (George Sava, A Land Fit for Heroes, 1945.)

glad eye (p. 331) occurs in The Roussilon Gazette, Jan. 1913, on p. 20. (S. H. Ward.)

gladder (p. 332) derives either from Welsh Gypsy glathera, 'solder; pewter'—itself ex Shelta; or straight from Shelta. John Sampson, The Gypsies of Wales, 1926.

gladi, usu. in pl. gladis. A gladiolus: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B.P.)

glam. Glamour: film-world hangers-on: since ca. 1940.

glam, adj. Glamorous: mostly feminine: since ca. 1950. John Winton, All the Nice Girls, 1964, "'Her name's Maxine. She's rather glam, isn't she?'" glamour. Hair-cream: Army: ca. 1939; by 1960, ob. (P-G-R.) Ex next.

Glamour Boys, the. The R.A.F.: Army and Navy: since 1937; ob. (E.P. in The New Statesman, Aug. 30, 1942, 'Glamour Boys—R.A.F., especially flying crews'.)

glamour gown. A khaki full-dress uniform: Australian soldiers': 1939–45. (B., 1943.)

glamour-pants. An attractive girl: since the late 1930's. In, e.g., Nicholas Montsarrat, The Cruel Sea, 1951.

glarney (or -ny). A corruption of glassy (q.v. at glasser, below): Cockney: late C. 19–20.

Glasgow boat. A coat: Anglo-Irish rhyming s.: late C. 19–20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

Glasgow Rangers; often shortened to Glasgows. (I spy) strangers: rhyming s.: since ca. 1920. Not, by the way, in Parliament, but at mock-auctions and other shady gatherings.

glass. An hour: c.: from ca. 1860; ob. B. & L. By abbr. of S.E. hour-glass.

glass, v. To hit with a tumbler or a wine-glass, esp. to cut a person with one: low: since ca. 1910. Mark Benney, Low Company, 1936. In Australia, since ca. 1920, it has borne the nuance, 'to slash a person with a piece of broken glass' (B., 1942).

glass case. A face: rhyming s. (London streets'): 1857, Augustus Mayhew, Paved with Gold; app. † by 1914.

glass coach. See Cinderella's coach above. But this is coll. rather than s.

glass of beer. Ear: rhyming s.: since ca. 1880.

glass of something. An alcoholic drink: coll., orig. euphemistic: late C. 19–20. Elliptical for glass of something strong.

glasser; glassy. A glass marble with coloured centre: from ca. 1880: resp. Irish and London schoolboys'. The latter occurs also among New Zealand children: C. 20. (Ruth Park, The Witch's Thorn, 1952.) Glassy is also Australian schoolchildren's (B.P.) and usu. transparent.

glassy, n.—2. A smooth wave: Australian surfers': since ca. 1950. (Pix, Sept. 28, 1963.)

glaze, n., 1 (p. 332): still current 'on the road'. (Robert M. Dawson.)

glib-gabbed or -gabbet. 'Smooth and ready of speech': nautical: mid-C. 19–20; ob. B. & L.

gliding angle of a brick, usually preceded by it has the. It glides badly: R.A.F.: since ca. 1950. (R.A.F. officer, 1963.)

glim, v.—2. To look (for a taxicab): London taxi-drivers': since ca. 1905. Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939. Ex sense 1 (C. 20 nuance) of the n.: see p. 332.

glim, on the. (Adj. and adv.) A-begging: c., mostly tramps': C. 20. Cf. glimmer, 3, in Dict.

glim the devils. To light the coke fires: showmen's: since ca. 1870; by 1950, ob. (John o' London's, March 4, 1950.) Cf. glim, v., on p. 332.

glimmer.—4. (Prob. originating ex sense 3.) A match-seller (in the street): police s.: C. 20. Joseph F. Bradhurst, From Vine Street to Jerusalem, 1937. Cf. sense 1 (p. 333).—5. (Ex 3.) A teller of hard-luck stories: c.: since ca. 1920. Stanley Jackson, Soho, 1946.—6. (Ex 1.) A switchman's lantern: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931).

glimmie glide, usually preceded by far or other. Side (of, e.g., the dog-track or street, etc.): Anglo-Irish rhyming s.: C. 20. Franklyn, Rhyming.

glint (at), take a. To have a look (at): C. 20. on familiar S.E. take a squint at.

glitch. A malfunction in a spacecraft, a Space 'gremlin': since 1964. (B.B.C. T.V.1: Oct. 20, 1965.)

globe, miss the. See miss the globe.

gloik. A simpleton; a fool: Australian: since ca. 1910. (B., 1953.) Ex Irish gloichd, an idiot.

glooms, the. A mood, a fit, of depression; gloominess, despondency: Anglo-Irish: late C. 19–20. James Joyce, Ulysses, 1922, 'I'm not going to think myself into the glooms about that any more.'

glop. An underwater explosion: depth-charge; mine; near-miss explosion: Naval: 1939+. Echoic.

glorio. The pantry of the College servants ('scouts') at Christ Church: Oxford: ca. 1815–70. Spy, 1825. Prob. a corruption of glory-hole: cf. glory-hole, 5 (p. 333).

glorious sunset. Ham and eggs: Naval stewards': since ca. 1910. Sunday Chronicle, March 1, 1942.

glory. Death by accident; a string of empty cars: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931).

glory be! A U.S. c.p. adopted by Canadians ca. 1910. Expressing astonishment. Short for glory be to God!

glory be to Pete! A Canadian c.p., expressing mild astonishment. 'Said to be confined to the Canadian prairies and to date from some time about 1925. My informant, James A. Dulmage, was living on a farm in Saskatchewan. His mother often used the c.p.: "Glory be!" and the farm hands and neighbours often said "For the love of Pete!" A central European working girl in their service, who spoke little English, combined the two phrases into "Glory be to Pete!" This so amused all concerned that they adopted the new c.p. and it still flourishes. (I have heard it myself.—I have bothered you with all this because it is so seldom that the origin of a c.p. can be determined precisely.)' Dr Douglas Leechman, May 1959.

glory-hole.—6. 'The bar of an R.A.F. sergeants' mess at Karachi was, ca. 1928–39, known as the glory-hole' (W/Cdr A. F. Wild, letter of Aug. 4, 1945); and prob. elsewhere.

gloss off, take the; gen. as c.p., it takes . . . It lessens the profit or the value: tailors': mid-C. 19–20. B. & L.

glossies. Glossy-paper magazines: adopted, ca. 1945, ex U.S.; by 1950, coll. Cf. the Canadian slicks.

glue-pot.—4. A convivial public-house: pub-frequenter's: from ca. 1880; ob. Ex its 'fly-paper' attractiveness. (The Sunday Times, Johannesburg, May 23, 1937.)

gluttony. Willingness to take, fortitude in taking, 'punishment: pugilistic: ca. 1810–60. Boziana, 1818 (see game, n., 7).

gnaff or n'aff. A low, irritating, no-account fellow, inaverse from petty theft or from informing to the police: low Glasgow: mid-C. 19–20. Cf. Parisian s. gniaffe, a term of abuse for a man; prob. of same origin as gonnof on p. 341. (Communicated, as usage, by my friend Angus Scott, the black-and-white artist and portrait-painter.)

gnamma hole. A native (Aboriginal) well: Australian coll.: since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.) Aboriginal.

gnat. Naval s.: see foxer.

gnat's piss, have blood like. To feel (very much) afraid: low: C. 20.

go, n.—14. Coition, or rather an occasion thereof: low: mid-C. 19–20. Ex senses 5–7.—15. An iguana, via goanna: Australian rural: since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.)—16. A near go is an escape: Australian coll.: since ca. 1915. (H. Drake Brockman, 1947.) Cf. senses 5 and 6: p. 334.

go, v.—12. (Ex sense 5.) 'How do they go?'—as a character asks in Humfrey Jordan, Roundabout, 1935: How do they get along together?: upper class: late C. 19–20. Ex a pair of carriage horses.—13. To deal with; to find acceptable: English (? mostly Cockney) s., since ca. 1910; by ca. 1925, also Australian. "'I'll bet you could go a cup of tea, Sonny," I asked' (Caddie, A Sydney Barmaid, 1953).—14. To fight (v.i.) with one's fists: Australian: since ca. 1920. (Dick.) Cf. sense 11 on p. 334.

Sense 5 (p. 334) may have been current since ca. 1690, for in B.E., 1699, we find 'It won't Gee, it won't Hit, or go'.

Sense 6 (p. 334), may, after all, have orig been English, for it occurs in The Night Watch, 1828, 'At grog-time there was nothing but wives and sweethearts going, and reckoning up our pay.' (Moe.)

go, all at one. Completed without interruption: coll.: from ca. 1880.

go, give a. See give a go.

go, no (p. 334): earlier in J. H. Lewis, Lectures on the Art of Writing, 7th edn, 1816; prob. dating from ca. 1810 at latest.

go, on the, 1 (see p. 334), survived until ca. 1850 in nuance '(of a tradesman) about to abscond': The London Guide, 1818, in form upon the go.

go abroad. To be transported: ca. 1825–1900: c. >, by 1860, low. B. & L. Cf. abroaded in Dict.

go-ahead. An advance agent: circus folk's: Nov. 16, 1861, All the Year Round; † by 1920.

go all out. See all out, 7, on p. 9.

go all the way. (Of a girl) to permit intercourse as well as 'petting': Canadian coll.: since ca. 1920.

go all unnecessary. See make go . . .

go along with you! A variant (mid-C. 19–20) of get along with you! (p. 324).

go and bag your head! A c.p. invitation to 'shut up' and go away: Australian: since ca. 1920. (B.P.)

go and bust yourself! 'You be blowed!': low: from ca. 1860; ob.

go and fetch the crooked straight-edge or round square or rubber hammer or wall-stretcher. See crooked straight-edge.

go and fuck yourself! A low equivalent of 'You be blowed!': from ca. 1880.

go and get cut! Go to hell: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

go and get your brains examined! A c.p.—since ca. 1925—addressed to someone arguing foolishly.

go and get your mother to take your nappies off!; or, go and get your nappies changed! Working-class girls' reply to callow youths' does your mother know you're out?: C. 20.

go and piss up a shutter! A low semantic variant of go and jump in the lake!, Run away!: since ca. 1910.

go and piss up your kilt! Rudely synonymous with 'No!': mostly Forces': since ca. 1939.

go and ride yourself! 'Go and take a running jump at yourself!': low c.p. (? esp. Merseyside): since ca. 1940.

go and scrape yourself! A contemptuous c.p. comment or reply: low: from ca. 1880; ob. Pugh (2).

go and see a taxidermist! See taxidermist.

go and take a crawling—or creeping—jump at yourself! A c.p., 'shouted derisively or in contempt to a crawler or a "creep"' (A. B. Petch, May 1966—'only rarely heard'): since ca. 1920. Adaptation of next.

go and take a run against the wind! Go away: Anglo-Irish c.p.: C. 20.

go and take a running jump at yourself! Go away!; Don't bother me!: c.p.: since ca. 1910.

go-ashore! Current at least as early as 1834. B., 1941.

go at. To deal vigorously with (something): ? late C. 18—mid-19. 'They can "go" at the bottle, and "stick" at the table till "all's blue"'': John L. Gardner, The Military Sketch-Book (II, 28), 1831. Moe.

go away.—2. A train; a tram; a bus: Australian: since ca. 1920. Baker.

go(-)back, n. A reply; a retort: Australian: since ca. 1921. Lawson Glassop, 1944, "'You had a go-back?" I asked, "You didn't let him get away with it?" Cf. come-back.

go back and cross the T's. A c.p. ironically directed at a helmsman that has 'written his name' by steering an erratic course: Naval: since ca. 1920. Granville.

go Ballarat. To drink alone: Australian: ca. 1890-1930. (B., 1943.)

go bang is the intransitive form of bang, v., 3 (p. 31): Australian: since ca. 1920.

go beyond. To be transported as a convict: Anglo-Irish: ca. 1810-70. Wm Carleton, Rory the Rover, 1845, 'You will go beyant, and no mistake at all' (i.e. beyond the sea).

go bush. To retire to the bushes in order to relieve nature: Canadian railway workers': from before 1909.—2, 3. See bush, go, above.

go-by (p. 335). Earlier in T. Fuller, The Holy State, 1642. (O.E.D.) go by Walker's bus. To go on foot: non-aristocratic: from ca. 1870; very ob. B. & L. Cf. Walker.

go case with. To go to bed with: since ca. 1910: c. that, by 1940, had > low s. (Norman.)

go caso. To take a room or a flat and become a genteel prostitute: C. 20: c. >, by 1935, low s. 'He only married her for her money, and she got it going caso,' Gerald Kersh, Night and the City, 1938. See caso.

go chicken. See chicken out above.

go cold at. To reprove, blame, reprimand: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)

go cold on. To lose one's initial enthusiasm for (an idea, a plan, etc.): coll.: since ca. 1920.

go crawl up a hole! A dismissive c.p.: Australian, esp. Sydney: since ca. 1945.

go dog on. To fail (a person); to betray: Australian: late C. 19-20; by 1960 †. (G. B. Lancaster, Jim of the Ranges, 1910.) Cf. dingo, n., 2 and 3.

go down. To rob (someone): since ca. 1880: c. until C. 20, then low s. Sessions, June 27, 1901, 'I was along with two men, and they went down a man': i.e. down into his pockets.

go down, v.i. To give birth to a child: C. 20. It occurs, e.g., in Ada E. Jones, In Darkest London, 1926, 'The girls who were with me waiting to go down.'

go down like a lead balloon; esp., it will go, or it went, down . . ., it won't, or it didn't, go down very well with him; he won't, or didn't, like that very much: R.A.F.: since the late 1940's.

go down on one's bended. To pray (on one's knees): coll.: since ca. 1925.

go for.—3. To act as; to become: coll.: since ca. 1920. Angus Wilson, A Bit off the Map, 1957, 'I'm well made all right. I could go for a model if I wanted.' Cf. sense 1 (p. 335).

go for a Burton—a shit. See gone for . . .

go for broke. To 'try to crash through the soup' (Pix, Sept. 28, 1963): Australian surfers': since ca. 1960. Broke = broken waves.

go for it. (Of a girl) to be extremely eager for sexual intercourse: Australian: since ca. 1925.

go for one's quoits. To run, to work, at one's fastest and best: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)

go for the doctor. To ride (a horse) fast: Australian rural: since ca. 1910; by 1960, slightly ob.

(B., Australia Speaks, 1953.)—2. To bet heavily on a horse in the expectation (? hope) of winning a lot of money: Australian sporting: since ca. 1930. (Lawson Glassop, Lucky Palmer, 1949.)

go for the lick of one's coit (? quoit). To run at top speed: Australian: since ca. 1920. (Jon Cleary, The Sundowners, 1952.) Origin?

go for to (do, etc.) on p. 335, occurs earlier in Thomas J. Williams, A Cure for the Fidgets (a one-act farce), 1867, 'My husband didn't go for to do it, sir' = didn't do it. It occurs even earlier in William Maginn, Whitehall (p. 46), 1827, 'You may go for to ax my character at Mr Robins'.

(Moe.)
go for you in a big way!, I could. A between-men c.p., imputing effeminacy or softness: since ca. 1942.

go foreign. To go on an overseas commission: Naval officers': since ca. 1925. (P-G-R.)

go high. Same as decorate.

go-in.—3. A difference of opinion, a row: low Australian: since ca. 1920. (Kylie Tennant, The Joyful Condemned, 1953.)—4. An agreement, a partnership: Australian: since ca. 1930. (B., 1943.)—5. A run of bad luck, necessitating recourse to the central pool: Australian dominoes-players': C. 20. (B., 1953.)

go in a buster. See buster, go in a.

go into a flat spin.—2. Hence, go or get into . . ., to know not which way to turn, to become flustered: esp. in the Services and chiefly in the R.A.F.: since ca. 1937. The English Digest, Feb. 1941; H. & P. 'A flat-spin is very much harder to recover from than a nose-down one' (Flying-Officer Robert Hinde, letter of March 17, 1945).—3. Hence, to panic: Services': since ca. 1942.

go into cahoots with. Informally to get into touch with (someone): since ca. 1945. American influence.

go into smoke. To go into hiding: Australian c.: C. 20.

go into the kitchen. See kitchen, go, . . .

go it, 1 (p. 336): earlier, in reference to two boxers fighting vigorously, in J. H. Lewis, The Art of Writing, 7th edn., 1816.

go it blind.—2. To drink heavily: Cockney: late C. 19-20. In, e.g., A. Neil Lyons, Clara, 1912.

go it, Ned. A Naval c.p. of (?) ca. 1810-40. It occurs in W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (II, 117), 1829. Moe.

go lemony at. See lemony.

go like a bomb. See bomb, go like a, above.

go, man, go! A jazz c.p.: adopted, ca. 1948, ex U.S. 'Gone is what logically becomes when one obeys the command "Go, man, go!"' (Atkinson.) Cf. 'Go!—exhortation to dig, get with it, swing' (The Victoria Daily Colonist, April 16, 1959, 'Basic Beatnik'): Canadian, hence also English. See esp. Norman D. Hinton in The American Dialect Society, Nov. 1958.

go much on, not. Not to care much for; to dislike: New Zealand coll.: C. 20. (Jean Devanney, Lenore Divine, 1926.)

go mulga. To take to the bush; hence, to decamp, to seek solitude: Aus.: C. 20. (B., 1959.) Cf. bush, go, 2 and 3, above.

go muzzy. To bid misère in solo whist: esp. Merseyside: C. 20.

go off, v.—7. A horse either 'fixed' or confidently expected to win is said to 'go off': Australian sporting: since ca. 1910. B., 1942.—8. A hotel, a club, raided by the police for serving liquor after hours is said to 'go off': Australian urban: since ca. 1925. Baker.—9. To 'come' (sexually): coll.: C. 20.—10. To go off to prison, be sent to gaol: Australian: since ca. 1910. (Gavin Casey, It's Easier Downhill, 1945.)—11. Hence, merely to be fined, esp. for gambling, as in Lawson Glassop, Lucky Palmer, 1949.

go off at is the Australian variant (late C. 19–20) of go off on (Dict.). Baker.

go off the boil. Of a pregnant woman: to cease, temporarily, to feel the contractions and pangs of childbirth: medical students': since ca. 1910.—2. Of a woman: to lose, temporarily or momentarily, the desire for intercourse: raffish and mainly Australian: since ca. 1920.

go on about; be always on about. To complain of or about; (be . . .) to do this habitually: coll.: since ca. 1880. Cf. on at.

go on pump. To desert from the Foreign Legion: cosmopolitan: C. 20.

go on the box. See box, on the.

go on the bum. To go begging, esp. if habitually: adopted, ca. 1900, ex U.S. Cf. bum, n., 1 (p. 106).

go on the Cousin Sis. See Cousin Cis.

go on the piss. See piss, go on the.

go one's hardest. To do one's utmost: Australian coll.: C. 20. (D'Arcy Niland, The Shiralee, 1955.)

go out. To fight a duel: (? mostly Army) coll.: late C. 18—mid-19. George R. Gleig, The Subaltern's Log-Book (II, 214), 1828. Moe.

go over.—4. (Ex sense 1: p. 336.) To become a sexual pervert: Australian: since ca. 1910. B., 1942.

go over the side. To commit a first offence: police: since ca. 1918. Cf. over the side (p. 594).

go places. To travel extensively, or merely to gad about: coll.: adopted ca. 1938 from U.S. Often go places and see things.

go round the buoy is the full phrase; not—as on p. 110—round the buoy.

go round the corner. See corner, go round the.

go sideways. To engage in a criminal enterprise: c.: from ca. 1890; ob. Clarence Rook, The Hooligan Nights, 1899. 'Young Alf recounted this incident in his career, in order to illustrate his thesis that if you want to go sideways you have got to have your tale ready to pitch.'

go slumming. To mix with one's inferiors: jocular coll.: since ca. 1905. (Vernon Bartlett, No Man's Land, 1940.)

go snogging. See snogging.

go spare. To become distraught, esp. 'mad', with anger: Forces': since ca. 1935. (Atkinson.) By 1950, also fairly general civilian, as in Norman.

go steady. (Of juveniles) to be constantly together as boy-and-girl companions; to be a courtship couple or one member thereof: coll.: Canadian: since ca. 1945. (Leechman.) By 1955, fairly common expression in England. Cf. steady, n., on p. 826 and in Addenda.

go take a flying fuck at, or of, a galloping goose! Beat it!: Canadian Army: 1939–45.

go tats. To go out (for an outing): children's, mostly Cockneys': C. 20. Ex go ta-ta's (Dict.).

go the bundle on. To support strongly; plump for; be enthusiastic concerning: naval: C. 20. Lit., go the whole lot on, stake one's all on; perhaps cf. go nap on, but prob. cf. bundle, n., 1—q.v.

in Dict. An early example occurs in 'Bartimeus', A Tall Ship, 1915. (Ramsey Spencer.)

go (or last) the full distance. To last the scheduled number of rounds in a contest: boxers' coll.: from ca. 1910; by 1940, S.E. (The Times, Nov. 24, 1936.)

go the gamble. See gamble . . .

go the knock on. To steal (something): low Australian: since ca. 1910. (D'Arcy Niland, The Big Smoke, 1959.)

go the knuckle. To fight—esp. if well—with one's fists: Australian: since ca. 1920. (Jean Devanney, By Tropic Sea, 1944; D'Arcy Niland, The Shiralee, 1955.)

go the limit. In courting or love-making, to achieve or permit coition: since ca. 1916.

go the whole pile. See whole pile, go the.

go through.—3. V.i., to abscond on bail: Australian c.: C. 20.—4. (v.i.) To give up, cease, desist: Australian: since ca. 1925. (Jean Devanney, By Tropic Sea and Jungle, 1944.)—5. To desert (from the Forces): Australian: since 1939. (B., 1943; Jon Cleary, You Can't See round Corners, 1949.)

go through for. "He's going through for law": Canadian and U.S. Means he is taking a course of study in law (or medicine, or what else). Ex going through the university.' (Leechman.) Coll., not s.; since ca. 1935.

go through for the doctor. A variant of go for the doctor (sense 2) above. Lawson Glassop, Lucky Palmer, 1949.

go through on. To leave; give the slip to: see no more of (a person): Australian: since ca. 1920. Lawson Glassop, We Were the Rats, 1944. 'We'll go through on them two milk-bar sorts.'

go through the gate. To let the throttle full out, strictly in an emergency, with the use of emergency power: R.A.F.: since ca. 1937. E. P. in The New Statesman, Sept. 19, 1942; Robert Hinde, letter of March 17, 1945, 'This means literally to push the throttle through a small projection on the side of the groove in which it operates. Sometimes the gate takes the form of a breakable wire. Used only for emergency power, not synonymous with turn up the wick.'

go through the motions. To conform, whether in spirit or, esp., only in the letter, e.g. at church: since ca. 1950. (A. B. Petch, March 1966.)

go through without a water-bag. To be in a tremendous hurry: Australian: C. 20. (B., 1943.) In The Drum, 1959, B. records it as the not a, and declares it †.

go to a hundred feet. To sleep (very) deeply: submariners': since ca. 1939. (G. Hackforth-Jones, Submarine Alone, 1943.) Ex a submarine's submersion.

go to grass.—2. See grass, go to, in Dict.—3. To fall sprawling: pugilists': from ca. 1840; ob. B. & L.

go to Hell or Connaught! More precisely, 'Go where you like but don't bother me with where you're going!'

go to market. To kick up a fuss; cut a dash, let off steam: Australian coll.: C. 20. (K. S. Prichard, Working Bullocks, 1926: of a spirited stallion not yet fully trained to the saddle.)

go to see some friends. See die.

go to the movies. To go into action: R.A.F.: adopted in 1940 from American airmen. The Reader's Digest, Feb. 1941.

go to the top of the class! A c.p. remark to one who has made a quick and accurate answer: English and Canadian: since ca. 1948.

go tots. See going tots.

go up.—3. (Of a trotting horse) to change gait or pace: Australian sporting coll.: C. 20. B., 1942.

go up a gully. (Of a person) to vanish; get out of the way, make oneself scarce: Northern Territory, Australia: since ca. 1920. Ernestine Hill, The Territory, 1951.

go up a tree. See ride up a gumtree.

go up the Noo. To go on leave to Edinburgh—or to Scotland in general: Naval: C. 20. Granville.

go up the Smoke. To go on leave to London: Naval: C. 20. Granville. See smoke, n., 2.

go upon the dub. See dub . . .

Go When Ready. A railwaymen's nickname for the Great Western Railway: C. 20. (Railway, 3rd.)

go wide. See wide, go.

goalie (p. 337). Also in ice-hockey: Canadian: since ca. 1910.

goanna (Dict.). Note the following from Australian Encyclopedia (Angus & Robertson, 1927), Vol. I, p. 752: 'The Varanidae (monitor lizards) are in Australia popularly called goannas; this word is a corruption of "iguana", but—since the true iguana is not found in Australia—has been adopted as an independent name for Australian monitors.' Goanna therefore is no longer coll., as iguana is a mere misnomer. Rather a queer instance of change of status.—2. A piano: Australian rhyming s.: C. 20. B., 1942.

goanna, mad as a. Extremely stupid: Australian: since ca. 1910. Baker. Goannas are neither very spry nor very bright.

goat.—3. Sinks, 1848, s.v. 'stern', defines the goat as 'posteriors'—very much earlier than one had thought!—4. A fool: coll.: late C. 19–20. Cf. nanny-goat (p. 550).—5. Hence, a 'mug', a dupe: South African c.: C. 20. (J. B. Fisher, letter of May 22, 1946).—6. A yard engine: Canadian railroadmen's (—1931). Ex all the 'butting' it has to do.—7. A horse having no chance of winning: Australian sporting: since late 1940's. (Culotta.) Cf. crab, n., 10, above.

goat gunner. A mountain gunner: Regular Army, esp. in India: late C. 19–20; ob. by 1946.

goat-heads. See blindy-eyes.

goat's toe, be the. To be pre-eminent: Anglo-Irish: since ca. 1920. Applied, e.g., to James Stephens soon after his death in 1951. On the analogy of the cat's whiskers and with special reference to a mountain goat's sure-footedness.

gob, n.—4. An American sailor: adopted in 1940 from Canadians. H. & P. Ex sense 1?

gob, the. (Cf. the wash.) Theft from a man as he is washing at a public lavatory: c.: C. 20. Ex gob, mouth: the thief spits on the back of a man's coat, steers him to a lavatory, helps remove his coat and robs him of his wallet.

gob-shite. A fool; an easy dupe: Services: C. 20.

gob-spud. A lower-class term, dating from ca. 1870. Thus in Neil Bell, Crocus, 1936: "Not seen a gob-spud before, my boy?" went on the old man; "how d'y' think I shave with all m' grinders gone and no more suet to my chops than Welsh mutton?" He opened a cavernous mouth, popped in the potato and pointing to his now well-rounded cheek mumbled . . . "That's what a gob-spud's for, my boy."

gob(-)stick. Sense 2 is also Canadian (ex U.S.).—3. A bridle: Australian rural: late C. 19–20. B., 1942.—4. A clarinet: Australian musicians': C. 20. Baker.

gobble, n.—4. Fellatio: low: C. 19–20.

gobble, v. To work overtime—esp., excessive overtime: printers': C. 20. Hence gobbling, n., (excessive) overtime.—2. To commit fellatio or penilingism: low: C. 18–20. Cf. gobble-prick in Dict., and sense 6 of gobbler.

gobble Greek. To study and/or speak Greek: Cambridge undergraduates': from ca. 1855; ob. B. & L. Pun on gabble Greek.

gobbler.—5. An 'ER tank engine 2–4–2' (Railway, 3rd): railwaymen's: post-W.W.II.—6. A fellator or penilingist: low, and homosexual: C. 19–20. Ex gobble, v., 2.

Gobbles. Goebbels: Army: 1939–45. Michael Harrison, 1943.

gobbling, n. See gobble, v., above.

god, 3 (p. 338). Also, since ca. 1935, a 'blood' at Lancing where god-box = House Captain's room. Marples.

God-Almighty.—2. Sir Douglas Haig: Tommies': 1915–18. To the rank-and-file he often seemed to be omnipotent. (A. B. Petch, March 1966.)

God bless the Duke of Argyle!: p. 338. 'The derivation of this as I heard it as a boy is that his Grace erected posts on certain large tracts of land belonging to him where there were no trees or boulders and where sheep, in consequence of having nothing to rub against, were always getting 'cast'. The shepherds who were not uncommonly verminous used these posts to scratch their backs against and when doing so blessed the Duke.' (Andrew Haggard, Jan. 28, 1947.)

God-box. A church; a chapel: atheists': since ca. 1880. Ernest Raymond, We, the Accused, 1935.

God-forbid.—2. A Jew: rhyming s. (on Yid): late C. 19–20.—3. A hat: rhyming s. (on lid): late C. 19–20. Franklyn, Rhyming, for both (2) and (3).

God in the box. A radio set: since ca. 1939. Anthony Armstrong, Village of War, 1941. Ex authoritarian news-announcements.

goddess Diana (p. 338) was † by 1920 at latest.

godder (p. 338). For etymology, read God-forbid.

Godge. Godalming: Charterhouse: from ca. 1880 (?). The School is situated on Frith Hill overlooking Godalming in Surrey.

godma. Godmother: familiar coll.: since ca. 1825. (A. Neil Lyons, Hookey, 1902.)

godown.—2. A kitchen: Anglo-Indian: late C. 18–mid-19. (George R. Gleig, The Subaltern's Log-Book, 1828, at I, 247.) Moe.

gods of cloth. The greatest (contemporary) tailors: tailors': from ca. 1860. B. & L.

God's quantity. See any God's quantity above.

God's Wonderful Railway. The Great Western Railway: railwaymen's ironic: C. 20. (Railway, 3rd.) Cf. Go When Ready above.

goer.—2. A horse being honestly ridden to win: Australian sporting: since ca. 1910. (Lawson Glassop, 1949).—3. A member of the gang; 'one of the boys': Teddy boys': since ca. 1947. (Clancy Sigal, article 'The Punchers' Night Out', in The Observer, March 1, 1959).—4. One who enthusiastically seeks sexual satisfaction: since late 1940's. Ex sense 1 on p. 339.

goes to the (or their) tails (, it, etc.). Strong drink arouses men's sexual appetites: c.p.: since ca. 1910.

goffer, n.—3. A blow, a punch: low: ca. 1870–1910. Sessions, Feb. 11, 1886, 'Graham called out "Hop him, give him a goffer"'. . . I then received a blow on my left shoulder.' Cf. goffer, v.—p. 339.

gog-eye. A catapult: Australian children's: C. 20. B., 1942.

goggle-box. A television set: since ca. 1958. Hence, goggler, a persistent viewer, and goggling, n., persistent viewing.

goggle-eyed. See 'Epithets'.

goggled goblin; usually in pl. A British night fighter: R.A.F. (jocular): since ca. Oct. 1940. H. & P. Cf. cat's eyes.

goggler.—3. See goggle-box above.

goggling, n. See goggle-box above.

Goggo. A Goggomobil car: Australian: since ca. 1955. (B.P.)

gogh'leen. See r'ghoglin.

gogs. A motorcyclist's goggles: since ca. 1940. Ian Jeffries, Thirteen Days, 1958, but dealing with the year 1948.

Gogs, the. The (golf-course at) Gog Magog Hills, near Cambridge: Cambridge undergraduates': since ca. 1880.

going and coming. 'The two-way radio telephonic system. Thus, "Had a word with him on the going and coming,"' Jackson: R.A.F.: since ca. 1935.

going for a walk with a spade. See bending drill above.

going home. Of an elderly person 'well on the way down the hill of life': coll. (not necessarily euphemistic): since ca. 1910. (Petch.)

going recce, a. A reconnaissance made to determine 'the going' in the country ahead: Army: since ca. 1940. (P-G-R.) Cf. recce. Also, esp. in North Africa, going shufti. (Peter Sanders, 1967.)

going spare. Available and easily obtainable or even stolen, esp. of things not strictly private property and even for unattached girls: since ca. 1940. 'She is not going spare': engaged and therefore not fair game. (A. B. Petch.)

going through 'L'. A c.p., 'used of learner drivers, since they have to stand a lot from instructors and the police' (Petch): since ca. 1950. A pun on hell.

going to see a man about a dog. See see a man (p. 742 and Addenda).

going to the Smoke—to the Noo. Going on leave to London—to Scotland. Naval (lower-deck): C. 20. (P-G-R.)

going tots. Trespassing on railway sidings: London schoolchildren: 1890's. See tot, n., 5 (Dict.).

gold braid.—2. 'Lowerdeck collective noun for officers; cf. brass,' Granville: Naval coll.: C. 20.

golden ballocks. Applied to a man lucky in 'love' and at cards: Forces': since ca. 1935. Contrast grey ballocks.

golden chub. See 'Dupes'.

golden duck = king duck. A batsman so unfortunate as to get out, first ball, in both innings of a cricket match: the former, schoolboys' s.—since ca. 1960; the latter, cricket commentators'—since early 1950's. (Peter Sanders, mid-1965.)

Golden Eagle sits on Friday, the; the golden eagle lays its egg(s). Next Friday is pay-day; by itself, the g.e. = the paymaster: Army and R.A.F.: since early 1941. H. & P. Ex the eagle on the American dollar. Here, sits is prob. a euphemism, the American Army's c.p. being the eagle sits on payday. (Robert Clairborne.)

golden handshake. A large gift of money to a departing director or important employee: coll.: since ca. 1950. A richly gilded farewell handshake.

golden rivet, the. What a sky-hook is to an airman, the golden rivet is to the seaman (R.N.); the latter, however, concerns an unrepeatable piece of folk-lore. It probably goes back to ca. 1860.

—2. Hence, penis erectus: Naval: since ca. 1910. Cf. pothole duff.

goldfish.—2. "Termorrer," said Eddie, "we oughter have some goldfish." Goldfish were herrings, Lawson Glassop, We Were the Rats, 1944: Australian soldiers': 1941–2 at Tobruk.—3. Hence, tinned fish: Australian: since ca. 1943. (B., 1953.)

Goldfish Gang, the. The Fleet Air Arm: Naval: since ca. 1937.

golf widow. A wife isolated by her husband's zeal for golf: jocular coll.: from ca. 1920. On grass widow.

gollion. 'A gob of phlegm' (B., 1942): Australian: C. 20. Perhaps cf. gollop (Dict.).

goliwog. A caterpillar: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. In ref. to the numerous very hairy caterpillars found in Australia and ex their resemblance to a goliwog doll.—2. A 'fence' or receiver of stolen goods: low (verging on c.): since ca. 1930.

goliwogs (or gollywogs), the. Greyhound racing: since ca. 1910. Rhyming on the dogs.

Golly. 'For the average Tommy, black or white, any local, be he Arab, Indian, or Somali, is a "Golly"—a marginally less insulting retreat of the old-fashioned "Wog"' (John de St Jorre, 'The End of the Affair' in The Observer supplement of June 11, 1967): since ca. 1950. See wog, 1, below.

golly (gum). Chewing gum: Australian: since ca. 1944. (B., Australia Speaks, 1953.)

golly pot. A spittoon: Australian: since ca. 1945. (B., 1953.)

goluptious. See golopshus (Dict.).

gomer, 2. Usually, gomers, going-home clothes, via 'go-homers'.

gone.—3. Pregnant, as in 'She's six months gone': coll.: mid-C. 19–20.—4. Jazz-ecstatic: adopted, ca. 1948, ex U.S.—5. Hence, excellent: Merseyside teenagers': ca. 1960–5.

gone-by. One who belongs to a recently gone-by period, a 'has been': coll.: C. 20.

gone for a Burton. (Of persons) dead or presumed dead; hence, (of things) missing and, occ., (of persons) absent: R.A.F.: app. not before 1939. "He's had it" and "He's gone for a Burton" indicate that he's been killed,' Sgt-Pilot F. Rhodes, private letter of Sept. 1942; The New Statesman, Aug. 30, 1942; H. & P., 1943; C. H. Ward Jackson, It's a Piece of Cake, 1943; esp. Partridge, 1945. In popularity it belongs to the exalted group formed by bind, (he's or you've) had it, piece of cake, that shook him. Lit., for a glass of the excellent Burton ale, rather than for a suit made by Montague Burton. With the lit. sense, cf. go west (p. 337), and with the derivative (merely absent; missing) cf. up in Annie's room (p. 14).

gone for a shit (with a rug round him). An Air Force synonym (1939 +) of the preceding phrase. (R. M. Davison, letter of Sept. 26, 1942; Sgt Gerald Emanuel, letter of March 29, 1945.) Ex a 'common-form' practice in Service hospitals. Normally the longer phrase merely implies no more than a long absence, but the shorter usually implies 'missing on operations', 'dead': W/Cdr Robin McDouall, April 12, 1945.

gone for six. Missing, killed: R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. Jackson. Cf. hit for six.

gone native. A man that has gone native: coll.: from ca. 1920. Alec Waugh, Thirteen Such Years, 1932, 'He seemed equally at ease with Mexican half-castes, niggers from the Southern States, and "gone natives" from God knew where.'

gone off his dip. Crazy, mad: low: ca. 1885-1920. Arthur Binstead, Mop Fair, 1905. Cf. Dippy.

gone to lift his lying (or lying on) time. An Anglo-Irish c.p., applied to a labourer recently dead: C. 20. (In, e.g., Patrick MacGill.)

gone to Moscow. Pawned: Australian: since ca. 1918. B., 1942. With a pun on mosk or moskeneer, 'to pawn'.

gone to the pack (p. 340) is also common in Australia. (B.P.)

gone with the wind. Disappeared, e.g. money or spouse: since late 1930's. Ex the world-famous novel and film.

gong, v. To ring a bell for a waiter: late C. 19-20. H. G. Wells, Twelve Stories and a Dream, 1903, 'He had just gonged: no doubt to order another buttered teacake.'—2. (Of the mobile police) to strike a gong in order to stop a motorist: since ca. 1925.

Gong, the. Wollongong, Sydney, Australia: mainly Sydneysiders': since ca. 1925. (B.P.) gong, the Naffy. See Naffy gong.

gong girl. A girl 'picked up' by a motorist for dalliance in a lonely spot: since ca. 1930. The Evening News, Aug. 19, 1937.

gong-ridden. Heavily be-medalled: R.A.F.: 1940 +. See gong (p. 340).

gong team. 'A Fleet Air Arm Albacore with both pilot and observer D.F.C.s' (P.G.R.): Naval: ca. 1940-4.

gonga. Anus: Services: C. 20. Origin? (P.G.R.) Short for gonga-pooch. It sounds like a Regular Army perversion of some Hindustani word.

gongers, the. A police patrol in cars: since ca. 1935. Richard Llewellyn, None But the Lonely Heart, 1943, "'Gongers up," he says. "Right behind us." Cf. gongster (Dict.).

gongoozler. An idle, inquisitive person that stands staring for prolonged periods at anything unusual: canal-men's: late C. 19-20. L. T. C. Rolt, Narrow Boat, 1944. Lakeland word (see E.D.D.): arbitrary: cf. goon, 2.

gonio. A goniometer—a device used in radar: R.A.F.: World War II. 'One had to keep turning a knob which controlled it. In the depths of an uneventful night-bind, an operator would often be heard to sigh, "Gonio, gonio, wherefore art thou gonio?"' (my browned off correspondent: 1949). For those who think that Shakespeare is a racehorse or a greyhound, that lament parodies 'O Romeo, Romeo! wherefore art thou Romeo?'

gonner. Going to: a coll. so slovenly as to be a sol.: rare before C. 20. Victor Canning, Polycarp's Progress, 1935, "'Gonner be a frost before sunrise," said the stall-man.'

gons. Money: Australian: since ca. 1935. B., 1942. It's soon gone? Rather, 'gone's soon as it's got'.

goo, n.—3. Hence, any semi-liquid or viscous stuff: Canadian: adopted, ca. 1912, ex U.S. (Leechman.) Mathews, Americanisms, has suggested a derivation ex burgoo (as on p. 110). Since ca. 1930, common in Australia. (B.P.) goo, v.; also goob. 'To spit a gob of phlegm' (B., 1942): Australian: C. 20. Cf. goo, n. in Dict.

good!—2. Thank you!: Australian non-cultured: since ca. 1930. (B.P.) Ex 'That's good of you?'—3. 'Esp. used by children, its senses embrace everything from passable to excellent, e.g., "How are you?"—"Good!" "How's work?"—"Good!" "How's school?"—"Good!" "How's your family?"—"Good!": B., 1959. Not, of course, s.; a coll., dating from ca. 1930 or earlier.

good and if you can't be good, be careful,—be. See be good! in Dict.

good books.—2. As the Good Books—a pun on The Good Book, the Bible—it means '(a pack of) playing cards': The Night Watch (I, 71), 1828. Cf. books, 1, on p. 79. (Moe.)

good chit. See have a good chit.

good Christmas! A euphemistic blasphemy: since ca. 1925.

good doer. One who knows his way about; a clever arranger: Australian: since ca. 1910. B., 1942.

good eating. (Of a girl, a woman) very attractive: Australian: since ca. 1921. Baker. 'Darling I could eat you!'

good egg! See egg, 1 (Dict.).—2. Hence, that's fortunate!: C. 20.

good evening, Mrs Wood, is fourpence any good? A c.p., dating since ca. 1910; by 1947, slightly ob.

good for a giggle, often preceded by it's. It's good for a laugh: a 'c.p. rejoinder to indignant protest to third person; also a general stop-gap reply' (Laurie Atkinson, Sept. 11, 1967).

good fun (predicative). Good company; amusing, entertaining: coll.: C. 19-20.

good goods! 'A c.p. addressed to one who has donned a new suit; said with Jewish intonation and an industrious feeling of the quality of the cloth' (Leechman): Canadian: since ca. 1950.

good guts, the. The true facts: Australian: since ca. 1930. 'That just about gives you the good guts of our end of the street' (Dick).

good guy. A 'disc jockey': 1964 +. (D. F. Wharton, Oct. 24, 1964.)

good-ho is a variant of good-o(h).

good hunting! Popularised—perhaps generated—by Kipling's Jungle Book, 1894 (2nd, 1895).

good ink (p. 342) is also Australian. B., 1942.

good iron. (Of things) good; agreeable, desirable: Australian: C. 20. Baker. Not just 'any old iron'.

good—or bad—marble, have a. (Of a racehorse). To have a good, or a bad, position at the starting barrier: Australian racing: C. 20; by 1960, ob. (The Sydney Morning Herald, Aug. 8, 1964.)—2. Hence, of a person, to be (dis)advantageously placed: since ca. 1920; by 1960, ob. (B.P.)

good mixer. See mixer (Dict.).

good morning! have you used Pears' soap? (p. 342). This slogan first appeared in the late 1880's and almost immediately became a c.p.; by 1930, it was moribund; by 1950, dead, except among the aged. Devised by Thomas W. Barratt, a well-known advertising man, later the chairman of the Pears' soap company. (With thanks to Alexander McQueen: 1953.) Cf. since when (p. 771 and below).

good murder, a. A detective novel with a strong murder-plot: circulating library subscribers' coll.: since ca. 1925.

good night!—2. Since ca. 1920, however, the predominant sense has been 'That's the end' or 'That's finished it'. A significant adumbration (cf. that in sense 1 on p. 342) occurs in Shakespeare's I Henry IV, I, iii, 191–4:

Worcester. 'As full of peril and adventurous spirit
As to o'er-walk a current roaring loud
On the unsteadfast footing of a spear.
Hotspur. If he fall in, good night!'

good night, nurse! See good night! in Dict.

good-o(h)! Excellent!: Australian coll.: C. 20. Cf. whack-oh! Hence also adv.: well.

good-oh, adj. Excellent: Australian: C. 20—2. Hence, esp. in variant G.I.B., good in bed, a c.p. common in the late 1940's and the 1950's: since ca. 1910. (B.P.)

good old England and terra firma. Railway-men's ironic c.p.p., applied to 'off the railroad, at trap points' (Railway): since ca. 1920.

good on the crack or the star. See star, good on the.

good on you! Good for you; excellent!: Australian coll.: C. 20. Cf. good for him! (p. 341).

good Sams, the. The Sisters of the Good Samaritan: Australian Catholics': C. 20. (B.P.)

good shit would do you more good, a. A low c.p., addressed to one who says that he 'could do with a woman': late C. 19–20.

good show. See at show, bad.

good skin. A decent fellow: ? mainly Liverpool: C. 20.

good soldier never looks behind him, a. A c.p. reply to a critic of one's shoe-heels: since ca. 1915.

good sort.—2. A beautiful girl: low: from ca. 1920. Esp. of one not remarkably reluctant.—3. As a person attractive to the opposite sex, it is the opposite of drack sort and has the superlative extra sort: these are Australianisms current since ca. 1939 but general throughout Australia only since ca. 1945. The Australian good sort arises partly from sort, 1, but mainly from good sort, 1 (p. 342), influenced perhaps by good sort, 2. Sidney J. Baker, in his fascinating Australia Speaks, 1953 (a supplement to his valuable The Australian Language, 1945), has concentrated overmuch on the Australian senses: both sort and good sort owe something to non-Australian sources and usages. Australia, by the way, owes much to this New Zealander who in the 1930's settled in Australia; but then, so does his native land.

good thing.—2. (Of a person) easy to exploit or to swindle: Australian: since ca. 1910. Baker.

good(-)time Charley. 'A man whose sole interest in life and especially in women is to have a "good time", often at no expense to himself' (Leechman): C. 20. Cf. handsome Harry below.

good to the poor. See poor, she's (very) good to the.

good value. Worth having: Australian and New Zealand coll.: since ca. 1920. J. H. Fullarton, Troop Target, 1943, 'Wavell's pretty good value.'

good wicket. A profitable transaction or venture: Australian: since ca. 1919. Baker. The phrase reflects the Australian passion for cricket. Always in (be) on a good wicket. (B.P.)

good-willer. A person of good will: since ca. 1930. Sydney Moseley, Gold Help Americal, 1952.

good yunting! 'Employed jocularly by costermongers as a means of wishing next-stall neighbour (and some regular, understanding customers) a merry Christmas, a Happy New Year, a pleasant Easter, and so on' (Julian Franklyn, Jan. 3, 1968): c.p.: since ca. 1918. Influenced by good hunting!

goodness me, it's No. 3. One of the consecrated c.p.p. of the game of bingo: since ca. 1955.

goody!, or goody-goody! Good!: coll.: adopted. ca. 1937 from U.S. But in Australia ca. 1927. (Mills Franklin, Old Blastus, 1931.)

goodying, n. Doing good of the kind practised by a do-gooder, 2, above: since ca. 1959. (A. B. Petch, May 1966.)

gooney, n. 'A gob of phlegm' (B., 1942): Australian low: C. 20. Cf. gollion.

gooney, adj. Excessively sentimental; fatuous; infatuated: Services (esp. the Navy) by 1936 and civilians by 1944. Granville, 'He's gooney over the dame.' Ex goofy. Rather ex sense 2. Viscous or semi-viscous: since ca. 1938. Ex goo, n., 3, above.

goof, v.—2. To blunder: since ca. 1950. Ex goof, n., 1 (p. 343).—3. To watch T.V. intently: Australian: since late 1950's. (B.P.)—4. Mostly be goofing, as in 'While you're goofing . . . Watching the flying. Anyone who watches the flying is known as a goofer. Where you're standing now is a goofing position' (John Winton, We Joined the Navy, 1959): The Royal Naval College, Dartmouth: since ca. 1950.

goof balls (rare in singular). Drugs that, in pill or tablet form and whether taken alone or in a drink, produce exhilaration; some are dangerous. Canadian: adopted, ca. 1945, ex U.S. (Leechman.)

goof box. A television set: Australian: since late 1950's. (B.P.) Cf. goggle-box above.

goofa; esp. in on the goofa, 'on the boat' (for home or for overseas): R.A.F.: since ca. 1925. Jackson. I.e. go for.

goofer. A bumboat: Naval: since ca. 1925. Granville. Cf. goofa.—2. One who, in 1940–4, gaped at enemy bombers instead of taking shelter. A blend of goof, 1 (p. 343) + gaper?—3. A 'cat walk' in an aircraft carrier: Naval: 1939–45.—4. See goof, v., 4, above.

goofy, n. A surfer riding with his right (not left) foot forward: Australian surfers', esp. teenagers': since ca. 1960. Sun-Herald, Sept. 22, 1963. In full: goofy-footer. Ex goofy, adj.

goofy. Stupid; dull-witted and almost crazy; wildly crazy; excessively sentimental; (goofy about) infatuated with: since ca. 1935. Ex goof, 1 and 2 (p. 343).

goog. An egg: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.—2. A simpleton; a fool: Australian: since ca. 1943. (B., 1953.)

googly. The definition might well be amplified. A googly is 'a slow ball, pitched fairly high, which may break either way and often upsets the bats-man's conjecture' (E. V. Lucas).—2. Hence, an awkward question: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)—3. A single bomb dropped from an aircraft: Australian airmen's: 1939–45. (B., 1943.) Cf. bosie, 2.

Gook. A Japanese: Australian: since ca. 1942. (Dymphna Cusack, Say No to Death, 1951.)—2. A Korean (cf. Noggies): United Nations troops': ca. 1951–5 in Korea. Perhaps influenced by goon, but probably derived from Korean kuk (pronounced kook), 'used to convey the idea of nationality; e.g., in Popkuk, France, Chungkuk, China, etc.' (Idiwwah, July 1953.)—3. During the Korean War (1950–3), it was applied also to Formosans. Note that sense 1 is rare, † by 1960, possibly catachrestic. Note also that, orig., Gook was American s.—derived from the Gugus of the Filipino Insurrection of 1899—for a Filipino and that, during World War II, the Americans applied it also to other friendly peoples of the Pacific. (With many thanks to Barry Prentice.) gook, give or have or take a. See give a gook.

Gooly. An inevitable nickname for men named Ball: Services': since ca. 1920. Cf. gooly chit.

gooly. See goolies (p. 343).—2. A stone, a pebble: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)—3. A galah: Australian: since ca. 1910 (?). (B., 1943.)

gooly, drop a. See drop a ballock.

gooly chit is a variant of blood chit. Jackson, 1943. Ex goolies, low s. for 'testicles'. 'A common form of native torture consists in the excision of a man's testicles' (Partridge, 1945).

goomp. A pipe (tobacco): South African schoolboys': C. 20. (A. M. Brown, letter of Sept. 18, 1938.) Ex Dutch, via Afrikaans?

goon. A recruit: Services, esp. in the West of England: since 1940. (H. & P., 1943.) In Flying Training Command, R.A.F.: a pupil: 1941+. Not a dial. word; prob. ex.—2. A gaper; a very stupid fellow: since 1938 or 1939. Perhaps it blends goof and loon; American origin. From Alice the Goon in the Popeye cartoons.—3. Hence, a German: prisoner-of-war s.: 1940+. (W/Cdr Robin P. McDouall, letter of March 17, 1945.)

goon bag. A respirator case: R.A.F.: 1939–45. Ex goon, 1. Occasionally gallopers.

goon-stick. An officer's swagger cane: Australian soldiers': 1939–45. (B., 1943.)

goon suit. A flak apron: Royal Canadian Navy: 1939–45.

gooner, give—get—the. To dismiss; be dismissed: low: since ca. 1925. James Curtis, You're in the Racket Too, 1937. ? Ex go on!

goonskin. 'Observer's flying suit and parachute harness made in one piece,' Jackson: R.A.F.: since ca. 1939. Prob. ex goon (2) + skin.—2. Battledress: Army: since 1940. (Peter Sanders.)

goose, v., 1 (p. 343). Earlier in Sinks, 1848.—7. The predominant post-World War II meaning is 'to jab a finger in ano, in order to surprise or to annoy': Canadian: since ca. 1910; adopted, ca. 1944, in Britain and Australia.

goose and duck. A truck: rhyming s.: C. 20.

goose bumps. See duck bumps above.

goose girl. A Lesbian: since ca. 1918. Ex the synonymous Fr. s. gousse. Recorded by Sir Compton Mackenzie in the 1967 number of his serial autobiography.

goose hangs high . . . (p. 343). In full:

everything in the garden is lovely, and the goose hangs high.

gooseberries.—2. A gooseberry-shaped wire-entanglement: Army: 1914–18.—3. Also fruit machine: 'old freighters sunk end to end off the Normandy beaches to provide artificial shelter for small boats,' Gordon Holman, Stand By to Beach, 1944: Naval: 1944–5.

gooseberry.—6. Short for gooseberry pudding (Dict.).—7. See:

gooseberry tart. Heart: rhyming s.: from ca. 1860. Often abbr. to gooseberry. (The Daily Herald, Feb. 22, 1937.) gooser.—5. A pederast: low Canadian: C. 20.

goose's. See sausage, v. goose's neck. A cheque: rhyming s.: app. not before 1950. Franklyn 2nd.

gooze. See cruise.

goozie or gozzie. A gooseberry: Australian: late C. 19–20. B., 1942. Cf. goosgog in Dict.

gopher. Any fizzy drink: Naval: since ca. 1930. Granville. Some kind of blend: ? 'good fizzy water (or fizz-water)'. Hence gopher firm: unofficial purveyors thereof. Like goffer and the sol. Gotha, gopher is incorrect for goffa, properly Goffa, a trade-name.

Gor' damn (p. 344): † by 1960. Franklyn 2nd at Gah-damn.

gorblimey. The Dict. entry needs to be supplemented, thus: 'Colloquial for what was considered loud dress; until the late 1950's applied to men's wide cap, with big projecting peak and vivid, often check, pattern; later, from popular song, to dustmen's trousers, etc.': Laurie Atkinson, Sept. 11, 1967.

gorbling. A soft cap with 'dented' front, affected by young subalterns: Army: 1914–18. An officers' variant of gorblimey, 2 (Dict.).

Gordelpus, three ha'porth of. See three ha'porth . . . in Dict.

Gordon and Gotch. A watch: rhyming: C. 20.

Gordon Thailanders. See 'Prisoner-of-War Slang,' 15.

gorgeous wrecks. Mr F. W. Thomas has kindly corrected me: G.R. meant 'Government Recognition'; and the early form of the phrase was George's wrecks. Also Grandfather's Regiment.

gorgonzola, n. The Africa Star: Army: 1943+. Ex its yellow and blue streaks.

gorgonzola, adj. (Very) good: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. A very rich cheese.

Gorillas, the. Fitzroy footballers: Melbourne: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.)

gorm, v.—2. To stare, gape, look long (and greedily) at, e.g., second-hand books: since ca. 1910. Anthony Berkely, The Piccadilly Murder, 1929. Ex dial, gaum, to stare idly, vacantly or stupidly.

gormagon (Dict.) is more prob. a blend of gorgon + dragon.

gormless. Stupid; slow-witted and lacking in common sense: adopted, ca. 1935, ex dial., the predominant dial. form gaumless being adapted. Yet, in 1966, Cassius Clay was proclaiming himself to be precisely that.

gosher. A heavy blow or punch: Cockney: ca. 1890–1914. A. Neil Lyons, Hookey, 1902, "'On his snitch I gave him such a gosher.'" Echoic.

goss. A Cockney term, dating from ca. 1870 (? earlier) and perhaps influenced by s. goss, a hat (worn on one's top); perhaps, too, influenced by Kentish dial, goss, a rockling (esp. a sea-loach or whistle-fish: small and flat); thus in Pugh, 'All the gels stuck the winkles' gooses, as we call 'em (you know, them hard, round, brown, scaly things on top), they all stuck 'em on their chins for beauty-spots.'

gossage. A barrage balloon: R.A.F.: since 1940. The New Statesman, Aug. 30, 1941; Jackson, 1943, 'Named after Air Marshal Sir Leslie Gossage, K.C.B., C.V.O., M.C., Air Officer Commanding Balloon Command'; Partridge, 1945, 'With a pun on sausage' (ex the shape).

gossip pint-pot (p. 345). Cf. 'Peace, good pint-pot' in Shakespeare, I Henry IV, II, iv, 438.

Gossy. Gosport: Naval: late C. 18-20. (W. N. Glascock, Sketch-Book, II, 1826.) Moe.

got 'em all on. Dressed up 'to the nines': domestic servants': C. 20. (Eric Horne, What the Butler Winked At, 1923.)

got his. See get his.

got his crown up—got his warrant—he's. He has been promoted to the rank of Warrant Officer from that of Flight-Sergeant: R.A.F. coll.: since ca. 1920. Jackson.

got it off—got it all off—got it all off pat. I or you have, he or she has, learnt the lesson: a schoolchildren's c.p.: since ca. 1920.

got me, Steve? (p. 346). Recorded earlier; in, e.g., W. L. George, The Making of an Englishman, 1914.

got to swim under water to dodge it! See getting any? above.

got your eyeful? See eyeful.

got your ladder. See 'Prisoner-of-War Slang'. 14.

Goth.—2. 'A fool, an idiot' (Sinks, 1848): ca. 1825-70.

Gottfordommer; pl. in -s. See 'Prisoner-of-War Slang', 9. (Also with one t.)

gouge; gouger. To seek (for opal); an opal miner or seeker: Australian coll.: late C. 19-20. Archer Russell, Gone Nomad, 1936. Ex manner of extraction.

gove or guv. Given: illiteracy: C. 19-20. In, e.g., B. Farjeon, Grif, 1870.

Government bad bargain. A pensioner drawing his money for an inordinately long time: C. 20. Cf. bad bargain (p. 25).

government house (p. 346) is, in the N.T. of Australia, applied to the homestead of a head station: teste Ernestine Hill, The Territory, 1951.

goy (p. 347), a Gentile. 'This goes back beyond Yiddish to the Hebrew goy, meaning "nation". This "goy" is exactly analogous to "gentile", from gens' (Leonard Goldstein, April 6, 1967).

gra. See 'Colston's . . .'

grab hooks. Fingers: Naval (lower-deck): since ca. 1910. Granville. Cf. grabbing irons (p. 347).

grab leather. 'A cowboy who takes hold of the saddle horn while riding a bucking horse is said to grab leather; this disqualifies him if he is in competition' (Leechman): Canadian (? ex U.S.): since ca. 1925.

grab oneself a ball. See 'Jazz Slang'.

graben gullen pie. A scooped-out pumpkin stuffed with opossum meat and then baked as an outback delicacy: Australian: since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.) The two mysterious words are Aboriginal, perhaps folk-etymologised with grab'em and gullet.

grabber.—4. A conductor: Canadian railroad-men's (— 1931).

grabbling irons.—2. Knife, fork and spoon: Army: C. 20. (P-G-R.)

Grable-bodied seaman. 'A boat's crew Wren—after Betty Grable, the film star' (Granville): Naval: 1940 +.

grace before meat. A kiss: domestic: late C. 19-20. A preliminary.

Gracie Fields. 'Rochdale to Manchester parcels train' (Railway, 3rd): railwaymen's: since ca. 1930. Miss Fields, the famous actress and singer, was born at Rochdale.

gracious!, 'pon my. Gracious me!: mostly Cockneys': from ca. 1890. Pugh.

grad. A graduate: rare, except at University of Durham: late C. 19-20. (Marples, 2.) After undergrad (p. 925).—2. 'Among Cambridge landladies, ca. 1925, it was used (mostly in the plural) to denote undergraduates' (H. R. Spencer).

graft, n.—4. 'Food and lodging. Thus good graft—comfortable living,' H. & P.: Services: since 1939. Ironically ex sense 1 (p. 347).

graft, v.—5. As a 'grafter'—see grafter, 4, on p. 347—to sell (something): fair-grounds': C. 20. 'He had grafted the tubed stickem for years': W. Buchanan-Taylor, Shake It Again, 1943.

grafter, 4 (p. 347). Also, a man skilled in extracting money from a difficult 'audience' at a mock or rigged auction: mock-auction world: since ca. 1945. (Sunday Chronicle, June 28, 1953.) At these auctions, the 'trick' is to sell inferior goods at top prices: cf. top man.

gram. Gramophone: C. 20—2. The Gram, the local grammar school: schoolboys': late C. 19-20. Bruce Hamilton, Pro, 1946.

grammar school. See 'Tavern terms', § 3. grammarian. See 'Tavern terms', § 3, d.

gramostudio. A gramophone studio: film-land: since ca. 1910. Cameron McCabe, The Face, 1937.

gramophone. A telephone: Canadian railroad-men's (— 1931).

gramp, n. Grandfather: Cockney: mid-C. 19-20. (A. Neil Lyons, Clara, 1912.) I.e. 'grand-papa' slurred.

grampus, blow the, 1, on p. 348, occurs as early as 1818. (Moe.) The dating of both senses should read 'ca. 1790-1918'. The Port Folio, Aug. 4, 1804, p. 246. (Moe.)

grand, n.—2. 1,000 feet: R.A.F.: since 1940. Jackson. Ex American c., where it = 1,000 dollars (a grand sum to acquire).—3. £1,000: adopted, ca. 1940, from U.S. Alan Hoby in The People, April 7, 1946.

grand serientry. See 'Tavern terms', § 9.

grand strut (p. 348). Also, ca. 1840-80, either Rotten Row or Bond Street: Sinks, 1848.

Grand Walloper, the. 'King of all the gremlins—their director of operations,' H. & P.: R.A.F.: 1940 +.

grandfather; grandmother, 2. The former is a grandfather clock (watchmakers' and second-hand dealers' coll.: late C. 19-20); the latter, too, with some slight difference in the size (s.: C. 20).

Grandfathers' Regiment. See gorgeous wrecks. grandstand, v.; esp. as vbl n., grandstanding, playing to the gallery: Australian: adopted, ca. 1944, ex U.S. (B.P.) granite boulder. (One's) shoulder: rhyming s.: since ca. 1870.

Granite Jug, the. Dartmoor Prison: since ca. 1930 (Reynolds News, Aug. 16, 1953). With a pun on jug, n., 1 (p. 446).

Granny.—3. See 'Nicknames' on p. 560.—4. Also, The Old Girl: The Sydney Morning Herald: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Long established, very respectable.—5. A Granny Smith apple: mainly Australian: since ca. 1920. 'Australia's most popular apple' (B.P.). granny, n.—4. Nonsense, rubbish: Australian: ca. 1860-1914. 'Tom Collins', Such Is Life, 1903. Ex 2.—5. See grandmother (in Dict.).

grape—a toby—on, have a. To be ill, well, disposed towards: Australian: since ca. 1925. (Alan Marshall, These Are My People, 1946.) Perhaps ex sour grapes and toby-jugs full of beer. Cf. the next.

grape on the business, a. (Of a person that is) a 'wet blanket' on cheerful company; a bluestocking; a 'wallflower': Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1942. Since the grape is usually and rightly regarded as a cheerful influence, grape is perhaps a perversion of gripe: cf. 'He gives me a pain in the belly' and bellyful.

grape-vine (p. 349). Julian Franklyn doubts its authenticity. (Dict. Rhm. Sl. — 1960.)

grapevine, the. A secret means employed by the chiefs of the underworld to ensure rapid and trustworthy transmission of important news: c.: adopted ca. 1920 from U.S., where orig. in form the grapevine telegraph and not c.—2. Hence, the mysterious source of rumours: Services: 1939-45. 'I heard it on the grapevine.' (P.-G.-R.).—3. That haphazard network of rumour-mongers in the Services, in factories, in offices, which through Unit or Staff, transmits advance knowledge—often not inaccurate—of policy and of administrative decisions: since ca. 1945: s. that, by 1955, had > coll. Also, in this sense, the bush telegraph, a term that has radiated from Australia, where current since ca. 1890.

grapple. To shake hands with: Naval: ca. 1790-1850. W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (I, 138), 1829. (Moe.)

grasp and grunt. An occ. variant of grumble and grunt (below). Franklyn 2nd.

grass, n., 5, was, by 1930, taxi-drivers' s.: Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939.—7. Same as greens, 4 (p. 353): late C. 19-20.—8. 'Grass was the normal "picture" seen on certain types of radar cathode-ray tube, as distinct from the signals produced by aircraft, etc. It looked like waving grass' (correspondent): R.A.F.: World War II.

grass, v., 2 (p. 349), occurs also in sense 'to baffle completely' and much earlier: 1822. See facier, 3 and 4. (O.E.D.)

grass, burn the. 'To urinate out of doors' (B., 1942): Australian: C. 20.

grass, go to. See go to grass.

grass, on. (Of ore) waiting to be removed to a smelting factory: Australian: since ca. 1910. (Vance Palmer, Golconda, 1948.)

grass, on the.—2. (Of a criminal) free; at large: Australian c.: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)

grass, out to. (Of person) retired: Australian: late C. 19-20. Baker. Ex retired horses.

grass, send to (p. 349), originated in the old prize-fights waged in a field and was, therefore, orig. boxing s. (The Galaxy, Oct. 1868, on p. 557.) Moe.

grass, take Nebuchadnezzar out to (p. 349). Nebuchadnezzar ate grass: grass = (female) pubic hair.

grass-fighter. A slugger, a brawler, a bruiser; a fighter not a boxer: Australian: since ca. 1930. (D'Arcy Niland, Call Me . . ., 1958.) One who, in a field, fights to the finish.

grass-hopping, n. Low flying, designed to baffle and beat flak: Australian airmen's: 1940-5. (B., 1943.)

grass in the park. An informer to the police: rhyming s. (on nark): C. 20. (Franklyn 2nd.) Very prob. suggested by grass, n., 5, 6: a characteristic elaboration.

grass line. 'Coir rope which floats on the surface of the water,' Granville: Naval coll.: C. 20.

grass park. A shortening of grass in the park above: since ca. 1930. Franklyn 2nd.

grasser. An informer to the police: London's East End: since ca. 1945. (Richard Herd, Nov. 12, 1957.) Ex grass, v., 5 (p. 349).

grasshopper, 2 (p. 349). In C. 20 Australia, a waiter at a picnic. B., 1942.—4. An Italian one-man torpedo: Naval: 1940 +.—5. (Mostly in pl.) One of the 90 XX Class locomotives: railwaymen's: post-World War II. 'Tendency to slip' (Railway).

grave.—2. A cricket crease: cricketers': late C. 19-20. Cf. grave-digger, the, 2 (p. 349).

grave noddy. See 'Men'.

grave-trap; occ. abbr. to grave. 'A large oblong trap in the centre of the stage, so called because "the fair Ophelia" is supposed to be buried there. Every fugitive draught in the theatre rises from the cellar through this opening' (B. & L.): theatrical: mid-C. 19-20.

gravel(-)basher; gravel(-)bashing. (One who has to participate in) square-bashing or marching, esp. as a recruit at squad drill, on the parade ground: Services, esp. R.A.F.: since ca. 1936. H. & P. Contrast swede(-)basher.

gravel-crusher. A drill instructor; a physical training instructor. Services: since 1940. H. & P.—2. But also a recruit, drilling on the parade ground. He proudly spurns the gravel.

gravel-digger. 'A sharp-toed dancer' (Sinks, 1848): ca. 1840-80.

gravel-grinder.—2. (Usually in pl.) A gunner's mate: Naval: C. 20. Granville.

gravel-grinding. 'We crawled all round the park in bottom gear—"gravel-grinding", as we call it,' Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939: taxi-drivers': since ca. 1915.

graveyard flying. Dangerously low flying: R.A.F. coll.: 1939-45.

graveyard shift. A night shift: shipbuilders' and munition workers': since ca. 1915. (John o' London's, June 18, 1943.) Cf. the Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931) graveyard watch: 12.01 a.m. to 8 a.m.

graveyard watch. The middle watch (from midnight to 4 a.m.): Naval: C. 20. Cf. preceding entry.

gravy.—2. Petrol: R.A.F.: since ca. 1940. Partridge, 1945. The 'plane's nourishment.—3. Perquisites: adopted, ca. 1943, from U.S.—4. See 'Jive'. But older than jive.—5. Any tinned food: Australian children's, esp. in N.S.W.: since

ca. 1947. Ex the cartoons of Emile Mercier. (B., 1953, at p. 111.)

Gravy, the. The Atlantic: R.A.F. pilots', esp. of Coastal Command: since 1939. Cf. Pond (p. 647).

gray, 1. (p. 350): Ex Romany gry, a horse; gray being suggested by the synonymous pony (see pony, 5, in Dict.). B. & L. In two-up, properly a two-tailed penny. The nuance 'two-headed or -tailed penny' arose ca. 1870. It occurs in Renton Nicholson, An Autobiography, 1860, at p. 87.—4. (Or grey.) A 'middle-aged, conventionally dressed/minded person' (Peter Fryer in The Observer colour supplement, Dec. 3, 1967): hippies' (1965 or 66) and Flower People's (1967). Adopted ex U.S. Negro derogatory s. for 'a white person'.

Grays, the. (Or Greys.) The officers of the old Northwest Fur Company: Canadian coll.: ca. 1815–1900. Ex their grey uniforms; as opposed to the sky-blue of the Hudson's Bay Company. (Leechman.)

grease, n., 5. Also margarine: mostly Services: since 1939. H. & P. At Dalton Hall, Manchester, it = either butter or margarine: The Daltonian, Dec. 1946.

grease, v., 4 (p. 350) >, in the Army of 1914–18, 'to get away' (esp. by running).

grease monkey. A mechanic: (non-Civil) engineers': from ca. 1910. Common also in Australia. (B.P.)

grease one's skates. To get ready to go—and go, promptly and speedily: Aus.: since ca. 1920. Mary Durack, Keep Him My Country, 1955.

Greasepaint Avenue. Brixton, London: ca. 1880–1914. Naomi Jacob, The Lenient God, 1937, 'Because all the music-hall people had lived there.'

greaser.—7. In the Services, 1939–45, 'one who angles for time off' (H. & P.).—8. An engineering student: Australian universities': C. 20. (B.P.) Cf. sense 2 on p. 351.—9. A teenage rowdy with long, greasy hair: since ca. 1962.

greasy, n. A butcher: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.—2. A sheep-shearer: Aus.: since ca. 1920. F. B. Vickers, First Place to the Stranger, 1955, "When those five greasies get moving they'll shear a lot of sheep." Ex the greasy wool.

greasy, adj.—3. Dirty, as in 'greasy chap': Cranbrook School: C. 20.

greasy pig. 'A bet laid on tails after a long run of heads, or vice versa' (B., 1953): Australian two-up players': since ca. 1925.

greasy spoon. A railroad eating-house: Canadian (—1931). Adopted ex U.S.—2. Hence, almost immediately any small, dirty restaurant: Canadian. (Leechman.) Ex the state of the cutlery.

great, n. A great, or a (very) famous, person: coll.: since late 1940's. Elliptical for 'great man' or 'great woman'.

Great Australian Bight, the. George Street, opposite the Sydney Town Hall: Sydneyites'. Also, the busier end of Queen Street, Brisbane: Brisbaneites'. Both, C. 20. (B., 1942.) One is apt to get bitten there. The Bight itself can be very rough.

Great Bore War, the. See bore war, the.

Great Brown Bomber. A Lockheed-Hudson: Australian airmen's: ca. 1942–5. (B., 1943.)

great divide (or capitals), the. The cleavage between the female breasts as revealed by a low décolletage: Australian: since ca. 1930. Ex the great gun, 1. At Eton, ca. 1815–50, it = 'a good fellow, a knowing one' (Spy, 1825).

Great Divide, the Blue Mountains, of eastern Australia. (B.P.)

great guns. An intensive adv.: Naval: since ca. 1790; by 1940, ob. Cf. blow great guns on p. 67 and 'growling great guns' in W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (II, 51), 1829.

Great Harry, the. Any battleship not—for security reasons—mentioned by name: Naval: 1914+. Presumably suggested by Henry the Eighth's flagship (ca. 1540)—the Great Harry, so named, of course, in his honour.

Great Horatio, the. Horatio Bottomley, one-time editor of John Bull, his heyday being 1914–18.

great-horn. See fish-horn.

great Jehoshaphat! See great Cæsar (Dict.).

great pot. A tipster: turf: ca. 1870–1914. B. & L.

Great Profile, the. John Barrymore (1882–1944), the famous film-actor. The father, Maurice (d. 1905), John's brother Lionel, and sister Ethel were, ca. 1900–45, known as the Royal Family of Broadway.

Great Push, the. The sustained, wide-fronted attack, July–Aug. 1916, on the Somme: Army, whence journalistic, coll.: contemporaneous; then—mostly ironical (for it was one long blood-bath)—historical. Patrick MacGill, The Great Push, 1916. But, much more generally, the Big Push.

Great Silent, the. The Royal Navy: derisive, occasional self-name: 1939–45. Ex journalistic 'the Silent Service'. (P-G-R.)

Great White Chief, the. Lord Northcliffe: journalists': late C. 19–20.—2. A head of department: Civil Service: since ca. 1910.

greatest, the. The best; adopted, ca. 1961, ex U.S. Wallace Reyburn, in the colour section of The Sunday Times of July 8, 1965, 'The Americans snigger at the British when they use words and phrases like these: bobby-soxer, in the groove, aw shucks, jive, baloney, you can say that again, what's cooking, the greatest. To American ears they are all so dated.'

greb. A North Country schoolboys' term of abuse: since ca. 1930. (New Society, Aug. 22, 1963, 'From the Blackboard Jungle'.) Origin?

Grec is a late C. 19–20 shortening of Grecian, 3 (p. 352). Marples.

Grecian; Greek. See 'Tavern terms', § 3, c.

Greco. A Greek: Army in North Africa: 1940–3. Adopted from the Italians.

greedy but he (or you or . . .) like(s) a lot, he (etc.) is not. A c.p., imputing greediness: late C. 19–20.

greefa or grefa. A marijuana cigarette: beatniks': adopted, ca. 1958, ex U.S. drug addicts. (Anderson.) Either a rhyme on reefer (below) or a punning blend of S.E. grief and s. reefer.

green, adj., 2 (p. 352). This sense fell into disuse by 1930 at latest, green having long been the 'sign' for safety or 'Proceed'.

green, n. More prob. the greengage is simply rhyming s.—2. At Sedgley Park School, ca. 1780–1870, coll. for a green linnet.—3. See red, n., 4.—4. An inexperienced or unworldly person: coll.: ca. 1830–90. (Francis Francis, Newton Dogvane, 1859.)

green, take it. See take it green.

green-back.—3. A £1 note: C. 20.—4. A frog for re-railing rolling stock: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931).—5. A dollar bill (anglice, note): Canadian: since ca. 1905. From U.S.; the colour.

green boys. 'A new type of highly efficient armour-piercing shell that was designed in 1917 to replace the inefficient shell used at the Battle of Jutland. The vastly improved new 15" would carry their bursters through 10 to 12" plates whereas at Jutland the shell broke up on impact. The new shells were termed green boys because they were painted green. But they did not reach the fleet until April 1918' (Wilfred Granville): naval: 1918 onwards, but soon only historical.—2. 'Variant of green strippers, the officers of the Special Branch of the R.N.V.R. in W.W. II. Ex the coloured bands of green between the gold stripes of rank' (Wilfred Granville, letter of Feb. 15, 1967).

green cart, the. That mythical vehicle in which people are conveyed to a lunatic asylum: Australian juvenile: since ca. 1920. (B.P.)

green coat, wear the. 'To act the innocent—a ruse tried by new entries who plead ignorance' (Granville): Naval: since ca. 1910. Greenness = inexperience.

green fingers, have. To be a successful gardener; to succeed, as an amateur, with one's flowers and vegetables: coll.: since ca. 1925. Coined by the late Mr Middleton, B.B.C. broadcaster and newspaper writer on gardening. Less usual: a green thumb. Perhaps the phrase was merely popularised by Mr Middleton, for various trustworthy correspondents place it at ca. 1910, at latest, but probably a generation earlier. 'I think the original was "a green thumb", probably by analogy with the miller's "golden thumb" (as in Chaucer)': Professor F. E. L. Priestley, 1965.

green-grocery (p. 352). More prob. ex greens, 4.

green lizards. Civilians in the Control Commission for Germany: Army: ca. 1945–8. Ex the green epaulets they used to wear.

Green Man, the. A urinal: pub-frequenters': C. 20. Ex urinals' often being painted green and ex the Green Man as a fairly common name for a public-house.

green rats, give (a person). See rats, give . . .

green rub, (get) a. To be reprimanded for another's fault: Naval: since ca. 1910. Granville. Ex the centuries-old metaphor, 'the rub of the green'.

green-striper. An officer in the Special Branch of the R.N.V.R.: Naval coll.: 1941 +. '(He) wears emerald-green braid between the gold lacc on his sleeves.'

green suit or blouse suit. A suit of which one has no cards in a hand at bridge: Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1942. An 'ungrown' suit.

green thumb, have a. See green fingers.

green un. A green envelope: Army: 1915 +; † by 1940.—2. 'A heavy sea that lands on the deck of a ship' (P-G-R): Naval coll.: late C. 19–20.

Greenfields, Mrs; Mrs Ash-Tip or Ashtip. A 'bed' or a shelter in the open fields; one near a lime-kiln or a furnace: tramps' jocular c.: C. 20. W. A. Gape, Half a Million Tramps, 1936, '... Their lousy "kips". . . I'd sooner have "Mrs Ashtip" or "Mrs Greenfields" any day.' Cf. sleep with Mrs Green (see the Dict.).

Greenfields, sit under Dr. 'To go for a rural walk rather than attend divine worship. In use among the older Nonconformists,' J. A. Boycott, letter of Dec. 1938. Cf.:

greenhouse.—2. Synonym of conservatory. H. & P., 1943; Partridge, 1945, 'From the perspex on three sides of the pilot'. Perhaps prompted by:—3. The transparent canopy that half covered the cockpit on the S.E. (a Sopwith): R.F.C.—R.A.F.: 1915–18. (W.G.)

greenie (or -ny).—5. A doping pill for a greyhound: Australian (esp. Sydney) c., becoming low, esp. sporting, s.: since ca. 1946. (Lawson Glassop, Lucky Palmer, 1949.)—6. A smooth, unbroken wave (cf. glassy, n., 2, above): Australian surfers': since ca. 1950. (B.P.) greens.—5. Short for greengages (p. 353): C. 20.

greeny, 1 (p. 353). Strictly: Greeny or the greeny: as in Pierce Egan, Life in London, 1821.

greeze (p. 353). Better greaze, and strictly applied only to the annual pancake-fight.

grego (p. 354): rather, since ca. 1800; recorded in 1806, John Davis, The Post-Captain. (Moe.)

gremlin, despite its appearance in H. & P., (early) 1943, and Jackson, (late) 1943, is S.E. for 'a mischievous sprite that, haunting aircraft, deludes pilots'. See esp. Jackson, and Charles Graves, Seven Pilots, 1943, for good accounts of the activities of gremlins: for the word itself, which is fanciful, see in Words at War: Words at Peace, the essay on the influence of the war of 1939–45. A fanciful explanation is that a gremlin is a goblin that lives in a Fremlin beer-bottle, the second -lin reinforcing the first.—2. A surfer lacking a board and sponging on his mates: Australian surfers': since ca. 1955. (B.P.)—3. (Also gremmie.) A boy of 12 or 13 aping his elders: Australian teenage surfers': since ca. 1960.—4. (Also gremmie.) 'A young and exuberant surfer, who is learning but still shows off' (Pix, Sept. 28, 1963): Australian surfers': since ca. 1960.

gremmie. The pet-form of gremlin 3 and 4. The Sydney Bulletin, March 30, 1963, and Pix, Sept. 28, 1963.

Grenadine Guards, the. 'Grenadine, a pinky, sickly syrup supposed to be made from pomegranates' (A. B. Petch): British soldiers in France: 1914–18. A pun on that famous regiment, the Grenadier Guards.

Grens, the. The Grenadier Guards: Army, but mostly Guardsmen's: late C. 19–20.

grey, n. See gray above.

grey hallocks. Applied to a sonr-tempered or sober-sided man: Forces': since ca. 1936. Contrast golden hallocks.

Grey Funnel Line, the. The Royal Navy: mostly Naval: C. 20. By pun on 'the Blue Funnel Line'. (Granville.) Its ships are grey-funnel liners.

grey man, the. See Pinkie, 2, below.

grey matter. Intelligence: jocular coll.: from ca. 1895. Ex S.E. sense, 'the grey-coloured matter of which the active part of the brain is composed' (O.E.D.). E.g. 'Yes, a nice fellow, but quite deficient of any grey matter.'

greyback. See gray-back on p. 350.

greyhound or nipper. W. N. Glascock, Sketch-Book (I), 1825, defines the plurals as 'term applied to hammocks having a lean, or thin appearance, after having been lashed for stowage in the nettings upon deck': Naval: ca. 1790-1840. Moe.

grid, have (someone) on the. To have someone awaiting trial: police s.: since ca. 1930. (John Gosling, The Ghost Squad, 1959.)

Grid, the. The Grafton Club: clubmen's: from ca. 1870. B. & L.—2. The Central Electricity Board: commercial: since ca. 1920. Hence Grids, its stocks and shares.—3. (Also the grid.) An American Football field: Canadian: adopted, ca. 1925, ex U.S., where current since ca. 1915 and short for gridiron, itself current since ca. 1910. Ex the yard-marks. (Wentworth & Flexner.)

griddle, n. A violin: itinerant entertainers': ate C. 19-20. (Sydney Lester.) Cf. bosh, n., 3, on p. 82.

griddler.—2. A tinker: tramps' c.: from ca. 1860. B. & L.

griddling homey or polone. A violinist, male or female: partly parlary: late C. 19-20. Ex griddle, n., above.

gridiron.—4. 'The Stars and Stripes of the United States. Also called the "Stars and Bars"': nautical: from ca. 1860. Ibid.—5. A bicycle: Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1942.—6. A public-house sweetheart: Anglo-Irish: ca. 1810-60. 'A Real Paddy', Real Life in Ireland, 1822.

gridiron, the whole. The whole party: non-aristocratic: from ca. 1860. B. & L. Perhaps suggested by the whole boiling, q.v. at boiling (Dict.).

Grids. See Grid, the, 2.

griff, n.—3. In the C. 20 Navy it = news, information (the equivalent of gen): H. & P. An abbr. of, and sense-development from, griffin, 8 (Dict.).—4. In Australia, trustworthy information: since ca. 1930. (B., 1943.)

griffin, 3 (p. 354), has the variant sense 'naval cadet', as on pp. 166, 174, 238, of C. J. R. Cook, The Quarter Deck, 1844: a sense app. current ca. 1820-90. On p. 135 of that book, the naval cadets are referred to as the roaring griffins—ex their noisiness. (Moe.)

Sense 1 dates from ca. 1810 or even earlier. It occurs in, e.g., Alfred Burton's Johnny Newcome in the Navy, 1818. (Moe.)

griggery-pokery. A pronouncement by Sir James Grigg concerning repatriation for troops in Burma: Army officers': 1944-5.

grim, on the. 'On the North-west Frontier of India. I believe Rudyard Kipling used the phrase,' Jackson: R.A.F.: 1919 +. There, life is 'grim'; and there, many a good man has lost it.

grim show. A (very) exhausting ordeal: the R.A.F.: since ca. 1939. A not unnatural sense-development of grim; see show, n., 2 (p. 765).

grimmer. An unpleasant person: Shrewsbury: since mid-1930's. Marples. Ex grim by 'the Oxford -er'.

grimpeur. A good hill-climber: cyclists': since ca. 1945. Sense-adapted ex Fr.

grin, the. A quizzing: low: 1821, Pierce Egan, Life in London; † by ca. 1860.

grin on the other side of one's face, esp. in some such context as 'You'll be grinning on the other side of your face when I have finished with you': coll.: late C. 19-20. (A. B. Petch, March 1966.)

grind, n.—10. Sexual titillation of a woman; but also masturbation: since ca. 1935, esp. among teenagers. Very prob. ex sense 7 on p. 355.

grind, v.—7. To titillate a woman sexually, v.i. and v.t.: since ca. 1935, esp. among teenagers. Ex sense 5 (p. 355).—8. To masturbate: since late 1930's.

grinder. A small coin: Australian low: C. 20. Baker.—2. See scissors-grinder.

Gringo. An Englishman: used by Englishmen (and, of course, by the natives) in South America: C. 20. (Niall Alexander, letter of Oct. 22, 1939.) An American Spanish name, ex Sp. gringo, 'gibberish': to the Spaniards and to the Mexicans, the Englishman appears to speak gibberish. See esp. my Name into Word, 1949.

'May the "gibberish" derivation in fact perhaps be the other way round? In European coll. Span. "gringo" means "foreigner", and in the Argentine too the word is applied to any foreigner who is not S. American, Eur. Spanish or Portuguese, although in other parts of S. America, "gringos" are only Eng. or N. American. And I suggest that the apparent "gibberish" talked by these foreigners derives its name from the "gringos" who talk it. I have seen it stated that the Irish volunteers who flocked to support Bolivar and other liberators of the former Spanish S. American colonies after the Napoleonic wars liked marching to the song "Green grow the rushes, oh," which by Hobson-Jobson led to their becoming known as "gringos" by their S. Amer. paymasters and comrades. But I feel that the semantics may be rather strained.' (Ramsey Spencer, March 1967.)

grinning through. 'When undercoat or any previous coat is partly visible after finishing coat of paint has been applied' (master builder, Dec. 5, 1953): builders' and house-painters': late C. 19-20.

grip, v.—4. To bore (someone); hence gripper, a bore, and the big grip, one's military autobiography: Army, esp. officers': since ca. 1939. Perhaps suggested by the R.A.F.'s bind (p. 54 and Addenda).

gripe, v.—4. To complain, as in 'What are you griping about?': coll.: since ca. 1910, within my own knowledge; but probably late C. 19-20. Ex the pains of colic. Hence, although much less common, n., as in 'What's the, or your, gripe now?': since ca. 1915.

Gripes Hole. 'A hole close to the boat-house, thus called because the water there is very cold': Winchester College: mid-C. 19-20. B. & L.

grippo. A free entertainment; usually in pl. grippos: Naval: C. 20. It grips its audience—or is supposed to do so.

grips or gripps. A scene-shifter: film-land: since ca. 1920. Cameron McCabe, The Face on the Cutting-Room Floor, 1937.

Grips, the. The Hongkong Hotel, Hong-Kong: Far East: C. 20. C. S. Archer, China Servant 1946.

gristle (Dict.); gen, the, occ. one's. A much earlier record is: 1665, R. Head, The English Rogue, ch. X; ob.

grit.—3. Food; Army, esp. R.A.: since ca. 1930. H. & P. Because of what gets into it.

gritty. See dusty.—2. In difficult, 'rugged', straitened circumstances or position, characterized by hardship and sociological handicap: since the late 1950's. Anthony Lejeune in The Daily Telegraph, colour supplement. March 10, 1967,

'The Prime Minister's sheep words range from "gritty" (meaning—well, what does it mean?) to the statesmanlike exhortation "Belt up".'

grizzle, n.—2. A (fit of) weeping: Cockney: late C. 19–20. In, e.g., A. Neil Lyons, Arthur's, 1908. 'Perhaps after drizzle, a light rain' (Leechman).

grizzle-pot (p. 356): since ca. 1920, common also in Australia, where (since ca. 1944—under American influence) grizzle-puss has > even commoner. (B.P.)

groan and grunt. A variant of grumble and grunt (below). Franklyn 2nd.—2. In full, the groan and grunt game, professional wrestling: sporting: since ca. 1950. (Leechman.)

Groat, the. The John o' Groat Journal: journalists' coll.: C. 20.

grob. Coarse, nasty: South African: since ca. 1945. Perhaps cf. the N.E. English dial. grob, 'to dig in soil or mud, as children do' (E.D.D.) and the S.E. v. grub. Cf. the Ger. grob, coarse, rough, unpolished.

grocer. An Equipment Officer: R.A.F.: since ca. 1925. Jackson, 'The suggestion that he has a nasty commercial attitude towards life.' Ex: 2. A Victualling Warrant Officer, R.N.: Naval: C. 20. (P.-G.-R.)

groceries, the.—2. Bombs: R.A.F.: 1930+. Jackson. 'Thus, "We delivered the groceries."' Cf. cabbage and cookie and gardening.

grocer's hitch. 'A nondescript knot that won't come undone' (Granville): Naval: C. 20. Land-lubberly.

grog, n.—6. Beer: Australian coll.: C. 20. (Dick.) Ex sense 3 on p. 356.

grog on. To drink heavily over a long period: United Nations troops in Korea: ca. 1952–5. But this verb 'is at least ten years older than the Korean War (1950–53)' and Australian. Hence, ca. 1945, the n. grog-on, a heavy-drinking party. (B.P.)

groin.—2. A finger ring: c.: C. 20. F. D. Sharpe, 1938. (See Underworld.)—3. Hence, a diamond: c.: since ca. 1940. John Gosling, The Ghost Squad, 1959.

groise. Grease: Haileybury: C. 20. Marples. By form-perversion.—2. At Uppingham, it = one who is over-efficient, one who curries favour by showing his efficiency: since the late 1920's. Cf. the Cheltenham groise, to curry favour; hence, groiser, one who does so: since ca. 1925. Marples.—3. A 'gorge' or 'spread' of edibles, etc.: Scottish Public Schools': since ca. 1870. Ian Miller, School Tie, 1935. Hence, groisey, greedy (Miller).

groise, v.i. To work hard; hence n., a 'swot': Harrow School: late C. 19–20. Lunn.—2. See groise, 2.—3. To 'fiddle'; to cheat in a petty way: Charterhouse: since ca. 1930. (Peter Sanders.)

groiser. See groise, 2.

grommet (pronounced grummet). A girl: Australian technicians' and mechanics': since ca. 1945. A grommet is a (usually rubber) ring, pushed into a hole in sheet metal. (B.P.) groove, v. To 'make good progress, co-operate' (Peter Fryer in The Observer colour supplement, Dec. 3, 1967): jazz- and drug-addicts' and hippies': since ca. 1960. Ex the next two terms.

groove, in the, hence also groovy. Lost in jazz (swing-music) ecstasy: adopted, ca. 1940, ex

U.S. (The Observer, Sept. 16, 1956.) 'Like most jazz expressions, referred first to players, and only later to "fans". When the player suddenly hit his real stride, so that he improvised brilliantly and effortlessly, he was "in the groove".' (Priestley.) See also 'Jazz Slang'.

groovy.—2. Excellent: Australian teenage surfers': since ca. 1960; by 1966, slightly ob. (Pix, Sept. 28, 1963.) Cf. groove, in the, above.—3. Notably alert, progressive, well-informed, esp. in jazz music: beatniks': since ca. 1959. (Anderson.) By 1967, widely used by teenagers; on March 10, 1967, indicted by Anthony Lejeune in The Daily Telegraph, colour supplement.—4. Sexually attractive: jazz- and drug-addicts', and hippies': since early 1960's. Peter Fryer, as at groove, v., above.

grope. A ground operational exercise: R.A.F.: since ca. 1935. Jackson. Cf. dry swim and tewt.

Gropework, the. The Gourcock Ropework Co. Ltd.: Scottish: C. 20—but † by 1960.

Gropi gong. See Naffy medal.

Gropi's Light Horse; Short Range Desert (or Shepherd's) Group. Combatant soldiers' names for Base troops at Cairo: Army: 1940–3. Sarcastic ref. to a famous tea-shop and a famous hotel in that city; the latter refers also to the Long Range Desert Group of aircraft. Also sometimes Gropi's Hussars. (Peter Sanders in The Sunday Times magazine, Sept. 10, 1967.)

Grosvenor Highlanders, the. The Gordon Highlanders: Army (mostly officers'): C. 20. Envious.

grot.—2. A hide-out: Australian c.: C. 20. B., 1942.—3. One's home or house or other residence: Naval: since ca. 1930. (John Winton, We Saw the Sea, 1960.) Ex sense 1 on p. 357.

grote. An informer (?): low s. or perhaps c.: ca. 1880–1920. W. L. George, A Bed of Roses, 1911 (one prostitute to another) "What are you following me for?" she snarled. "If you're a grote, it's no go. You won't teach the copper anything he doesn't know."

grotty. New, or newfangled, but useless; esp. in 'dead grotty': since ca. 1961. Ex 'grotesque'.—2. (Very) inferior, bad—'crummy' or, in longer-established s., 'lousy': Liverpool s.: C. 20. Popularized by The Beatles and, by 1962, fairly gen. among teenagers. Origin presumably dialectal: ? crotty.

grouce, grouse, adj. First-class (e.g. hotel); excellent: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942; Lawson Glassop, 1944. Cf. grouse, the.

grouce (or grouse) sort is a juvenile synonym of good sort, 3: since ca. 1940. (B., 1953.)

ground(-)loop. 'Aircraft crash' (Gerald Emanuel, March 29, 1945): R.A.F.: 1940+. The last looping of the loop. 'An aircraft bursting a tyre on landing would swing (perhaps if the undercarriage collapsed) through 180°. This is referred to as a ground loop' (R.A.F. officer, late 1961).

ground-strafer; agent corresponding to next (both senses). Partridge, 1945.

ground-strafig. A low-flying attack on, e.g., transport: R.A.F.: since 1939. H. & P. See strafe (Dict.).—2. Hence, 'careless driving by servicemen', H. & P.: since 1940.

ground wallah. Synonymous with penguin, 1: R.A.F. coll.: since ca. 1918. Jackson.

Ground Walloper. That fat little gremlin who is in charge of flying: R.A.F.: 1941 +. Perhaps a perversion of Grand Walloper.

grounded. Deprived of alcoholic and amorous adventure; applied esp. to a newly married man: R.A.F.: since ca. 1940. Partridge, 1945. Ex the technical sense, '(temporarily) affected to ground duties': he can no longer be a fly-by-night.—2. 'Stranded for lack of petrol' (Peter Sanders, 1967): Army in North Africa: 1940–43.

grounder.—4. (Cf. sense 2.) 'A ship that is liable to be run aground through bad seamanship': nautical coll.: from ca. 1860. B. & L.

grounders. 'Your "oppo's" entire tot of rum given to you as a very exceptional favour' (Granville): Naval: since ca. 1910. Perhaps of grounder, 2 (p. 357).

group-happy. Unreliable as a soldier, because his release (according to age-group) is near: Army: 1945–6.

grouper. 'An Officer on a Group Headquarters Staff'; Jackson: R.A.F. coll.: since ca. 1925.

groupie or groupy. Group Captain: R.A.F. coll.: since before 1930. H. & P.

grouse, adj. See grouse. Cf.: grouse, the. (Only predicatively.) Very good: Australian c.: C. 20. Origin?

grout, n. Bread. Guards' Depot at Caterham: 1914–18, and decreasingly later. John o' London, Nov. 3, 1939.

grout-bag. One who studies hard: English schoolboys': since ca. 1880. (E. F. Benson, The Babe, B.A., 1911.) Cf. grout (p. 357).

grouter. Cf. p. 357 and see boxer.—2. Hence, one who takes an unfair advantage; the unfair advantage itself: Australian: since ca. 1918. (B., 1943.)

grovel. Sherborne Schools., from ca. 1890, as in Alec Waugh, The Loom of Youth, 1917: 'He led the "grovel" (as the scum was called at Fernhurst), and kept it together.'

groves, the. The latrines: Lancing: since ca. 1920. Marples. Cf. Marlborough's woods.

grow on trees, it doesn't; or of currency and bank notes, they don't. . . . A c.p., aimed at those who think money is easily got: late C. 19–20.

grow one's feathers. Gen. as growing one's feathers, 'letting one's hair and beard grow, a privilege accorded to convicts for some months before their discharge, that they may not be noticeable when free': prison c.: from ca. 1870. B. & L.

grow up? or why don't you grow up? Synonymous with be your age! above: c.p.: since late 1930's. (A. B. Petch, March 1966.)

growing pains. The difficulties and anxieties of getting settled down in life when one is young: coll.: C. 20. Ex the lit. growing pains.

growl. Female pudend: c.: from ca. 1890. Cf.: growl and grunt. An occ. variant of grumble and grunt (below). Franklyn 2nd.

growl-biter. A cunnilingist: c.: late C. 19–20.

growler. Sense 1 may possibly have its origin in that conveyance which is known as a sulky, as B. & L. suggest, or perhaps ex crawler, 1 (p. 189).—3. A dog: Anglo-Irish: C. 19. 'A Real Paddy', Real Life in Ireland, 1822.—4. 'A low-lying mass of ice, frequently not showing up white like an iceberg, in the night-time not distinguishable from the surrounding sea' (and usually small): mostly nautical: since ca. 1910. Gibbard Jackson, Twenty-Six Sea Yarns, 1931.

grozzle, n. and v. 'This takes place at well-conducted tea-parties,' The Daltonian, Dec. 1946: Dalton Hall, Manchester: since ca. 1920. Perhaps a blend of grub + guzzle.

grub-stake, v. (p. 358), derives from the Western Canadian (and South-Western U.S.) practice whereby someone with capital provides a gold-pro prospector with food and, if necessary, equipment. Mitford M. Mathews (Americanisms) records it for 1863; it probably goes back to 1849 in California, and it could have reached Canada by 1851 or so. It had reached Australia by 1900 at latest; the term occurs in, e.g., Alexander Macdonald, In the Land of Pearl and Gold, 1907, 'The hotel-keepers "grubstake" men to work for them.'

grub-stakes. 'Grub' (food): non-aristocratic: from ca. 1890. Richards.—2. Food-supply: coll.: from ca. 1890. Ibid. Cf. grub-stake, n. and v. in the Dict.

grubber; grubbies; grubs. A tuck-shop: resp. Tonbridge, Wellington College, Bradfield: since ca. 1880. Marples. Ex grub.

grubbery.—5. An occ. variant of grubber, 2 (Dict).

grubbing hall. The dining hall of any House: Winchester College: from ca. 1860. B. & L.

grubs. See grubber.

grue. Morbid; nervously upset or afraid; since ca. 1924; originally, Society. "'Well, I don't want to go all grue,'" said Woody, somewhat abashed' (Christianna Brand, Green for Danger, 1945). Ex S.E. gruesome.

gruesome twosome. 'Two young girls who are inseparable' (B.P.): Australian: adopted, ca. 1943, ex U.S. grumble and grunt. Female genitals: C. 20. Mark Benny, The Scapegoat Dances, 1938. Rhyming on cunt: less usual than Berkeley Hunt.—2. Hence, coition: C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

grummet (or -it). Coition: nautical and low: mid-C. 19–20. The origin lies in nautical j.: sense 1, b or sense 1, c in the O.E.D.

grunt, make (a girl). To coit with her: low: C. 20.

grunt(-)horn. See the entry at fish-horn above.

grunter.—8. An officer: Royal Navy: since ca. 1915. A pun on pig, 11. (Atkinson).—9. 'A baked suet roll to contain strips of pork or bacon' (Angus Wilson, A Bit off the Map, 1957): domestic: mid C. 19–20. Ex sense 1 (p. 359).

grunting. A pig: c.: C. 18. Captain Alex. Smith, The Life of Jonathan Wild, 1776, at p. 179. Cf. grunting cheat in the Dict.

guacho (p. 359). Properly, no suggestion of 'half-breed' is intended.

Guard, the Old and the Young. A team consisting of the masters and one consisting of younger boys; the former also = the masters, in any connexion: Rugby School: C. 20. (D. F. Wharton, 1965.)

guard-rail critic. One who tenders overmuch advice and no assistance: Naval: since ca. 1920. Granville. He leans back against the rail while you work.

'Guard-room', in Army slang of late C. 19–early 20. The Regiment for 1900 noted corner-shop, digger, mush; that for 1898 had listed cape, clink, dog's home, dust-hole, Marble Arch, net trap. In detail: cape prob. derives from L. capere, to take; for clink, see p. 159; corner-shop, because often it stands at a corner of the barracks-square; digger, see p. 220; the dog's home, for 'lost' gay dogs; dust-hole, not because of dust, for usually it is spotlessly clean, but perhaps because it's a God-forsaken place for a soldier to be; Marble Arch, because within the Marble Arch itself there existed a small lock-up, for use by the police; mush, the, see p. 544, mush, 4; the net, catching all offenders; trap, the, for the unwary—cf. trap, 2 (p. 906).

guardo(-)chaps. 'The crew of a guard ship' (W. N. Glascock's Naval Sketch Book, 2nd Series, 1834, at I, 232, footnote): Naval: prob. late C. 18-mid 19. (Moe.) guards, full to the. See full to the guards.

guard's bedroom. A brake van: railwaymen's: C. 20. (Railway 2nd.) Affording the opportunity of a quiet rest.

guardy or -ie. Earlier in Augustus Mayhew, Paved with Gold, 1857.

gubbins.—4. (Ex sense 3: p. 359.) Thin-gummy; anything one is too lazy or too forgetful to name: Services, esp. R.A.F.: since ca. 1918. Gerald Emanuel, letter of March 29, 1945. The transition from 3 is eased by the fact that in 1914-18 gubbins predominantly signified 'stores' or 'one's personal belongings'.

guddha. A metaphorical ass: Anglo-Indian: mid-C. 19-20. B. & L. Ex Hindustani gadha.

guernsey, get a. To receive due recognition; Australian (mainly in Victoria): since ca. 1930. A jersey as worn in Australian Rules football. (B.P.)

guess who's back! 'A c.p. uttered with one hand on hearer's back' (B.P.): Australian: since ca. 1950.

guff, n., 2 (p. 359)—impudence, impertinence—is also a Newfoundland usage: witness L. E. F. English, Historic Newfoundland, 1955.—3. Official, or other genuine and precise, information, esp. concerning the formal rules or the Service's regulations; mostly in give (someone), the guff on whatever the problem, etc., may be: chiefly in the Services: since ca. 1945. (Atkinson.)

guff, v. 'To romance, to humbug, to pitch yarns,' Jackson: R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. Ex guff, n., 1 (Dict.).

guffed. Summoned for infringement of 'guff rules' (guff, 2: p. 359): R.N.C. Dartmouth: since ca. 1912. Granville.

gugu (or gu-gu). See 'Prisoner-of-War Slang', 11.

guinea-dropper (p. 360) should be dated late C. 17-18; it occurs in B.E., 1699.

guinea-pig.—7. An evacuated Civil Servant: 1939+. The New Statesman, Aug. 30, 1941. Cf. senses 3, 4. This included B.B.C. personnel to whom the Government paid one guinea a week towards their board and lodging.—8. One upon whom an experiment—or anything new—is tried: since ca. 1930: coll. >, by 1945, S.E. Ex guinea-pigs used in medical experiments.

guintzer. Fellow: Australian (urban): C. 20. Yiddish? Dal Stevens, Jimmy Brockett, 1951, 'I wanted to ask the old guintzer where all his bright boys were.'

guire cove is an error, astounding in B. & L., for quiere cove, q.v. at queer cove (Dict.).

guiver, n., 2 (p. 360). 'Guyver: Make-believe, still used in Anglo-Jewish slang. It is Hebrew for pride but has now come to mean pretence and is synonymous with . . . swank,' A. Abrahams in The Observer, Sept. 25, 1938.

gull in night clothes (p. 360): also in night clothing (Granville).

gully, n., 6. 'Any geographical indentation from a fair-sized drain to a grand canyon,' B., 1942: Australian coll.: C. 20.

gulpers. A sip (?) from a friend's tot of rum on (say) one's birthday: Naval: since ca. 1910. Granville. Ex gulp by 'the Oxford -er'.

gulph. See gulf, n. and v., in Dict.

gum(-)bucket. A pipe: Naval: C. 20. 'Taff-rail', Mystery at Milford Haven, 1936, "'Can't I have even a suck at my old gum bucket?" He loved his pipe.'

gum(-)chum. An American soldier: 1942+. Ex the constant request 'Got any gum ohum?'

gum-digger. A dentist: New Zealand and Australian: since ca. 1880. B., 1941 and 1942. Cf. gum-smasher (Dict.); there is a pun on the kauri-gum diggers of New Zealand.

gum leaves growing out of (one's or the) ears, have. To be a country bumpkin: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. The eucalyptus gum tree is much the commonest tree in Australia.

gum-puncher. A dentist: Australian: C. 20. Baker. Cf. gum-digger.

gum-tickler (p. 361) was perhaps adopted from U.S., where it is attested for the year 1810.

gum up the works. To spoil or upset things: since ca. 1918, when adopted from U.S. Georgette Heyer, A Blunt Instrument, 1938, 'That North dame's story gums up the works.'

gummer. A fighting dog now old and toothless: low London: mid-C. 19-20; ob. B. & L.

gummy, n.—7. (Ex 1: p. 361.) A toothless sheep: Australian: C. 20. Baker. It shows gums, not teeth.

gump.—2. Common sense: C. 20. Gladys Mitchell, The Rising of the Moon, 1945, "'Show a bit of gump.'" Short for gumption (p. 361). 'Now current schoolchildren's slang' (Peter Sanders, 1965).

gun, n.—9. That injector on a locomotive which forces water from tank to boiler: Canadian (and U.S.) railroadmen's (—1931).—10. An expert shearer: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.) Also, since ca. 1930, N.Z. (Straight Furrow, Feb. 21, 1968.)

gun, get one's. To be promoted from lance-sergeant to full sergeant: Royal Artillery: C. 20. H. & P., 'On being promoted . . . an artilleryman wears a gun above his three stripes.'

gun, give her the. This metaphor is American and, in aviation = to accelerate.

gun, in the. (Of a person) about to be dismissed from job: Melbourne: ca. 1910-30. I.e. about to be fired.—2. Hence, in trouble: general Australian: since ca. 1920. (Dymphna Cusack, 1951.) Vance Palmer, Legend for Sanderson, 1937, has get (someone) in the gun, and earlier in his 'Rann Daly' novel, The Outpost, 1924.

gun-buster. An artificer (or tiffy) of the Royal Army Ordnance Corps: since ca. 1920. H. & P. gun-fire (p. 362) probably arose ca. 1890. Cf. S. E. Burrow, Friend or Foe, 1912—a tale of the 1890's—early 1900's.

gun(-)fodder. Shells: Artillery: since 1940. The gunners feed the shells to the guns.

gun for, esp. be gunning for, someone. To seek someone in order to cause him very serious trouble: adopted, ca. 1944, ex U.S. Ex hunting for, and shooting at, game.

gun speaker. A practised, proficient mob-orator: Australian political: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. Loud and rapid.

Gundaroo bullock. Koala meat cooked: Australian rural: C. 20. (B., 1943.)

Gunga Din. Gin (the drink): Australian rhyming s.: C. 20. Mostly in the combination Gunga Din and squatter's daughter, gin and water. Franklyn 2nd.

gunge. Grease; oily dirt, the opposite of clag, dry dirt: engineers': since ca. 1940. (D. F. Wharton, Oct. 24, 1965.)

gungineer. An engineer officer turned over to gun-mounting: Naval (ward-room): since ca. 1930.

gunk. 'Chemical compounds, especially those which provide solid fuel for space rockets' (Leechman): Canadian: 1958+. A composite word? Now has a much wider application. Perhaps—as Douglas Leechman suggests—a blend of goo + dunk. Or, as Robert Clairborne suggests, of goo + hunk.

gunna. Going to: Australian sol.: mid C. 19–20. (Jon Cleary, Just Let Me Be, 1950.)

gunroom evolutions. 'Traditional "games" carried on in the Gunrooms (Midshipmen's Messes) of the Fleet,' Granville: Naval: since ca. 1910 if not earlier. Ironical on tactical evolutions.

guns. Also as a nickname: 'Taffrail'. Virtually the vocative of Gunnery Jack. See quotation at pilot (Addenda).

guntz, the. The whole lot, the whole way, etc., esp. in go the guntz: low. C. 20. Ex Yiddish; cf. Ger. das Ganze, all of it.

gunz. A drill sergeant: Rossall School: since ca. 1880. Marples. A Prussianising of guns?

gup.—3. (Also guppy.) A fool: Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1942. Prob. ex sense 2.—4. (Ex senses 1 and 2: p. 362.) Information: Army: since ca. 1930. (P-G-R.)

guppy. See gup, 3.—2. Hence, adj., foolish, stupid, silly: since ca. 1930. Baker.

gurk.—3. In Australia, to break wind: C. 20. B., 1942. Ex sense 1.

gussie.—1 (p. 363), prob. goes back to ca. 1890: witness Miles Franklin, My Brilliant Career, 1901, 'I'm not a baby that will fall in love with every gussie I see.'—2. One of the Army's nicknames for the officers is (ex sense 1) the gussies: since ca. 1930. H. & P. By ca. 1940 also, occ., in R.A.F.: Jackson. Partridge, 1945, 'Familiar for Augustus, a "tony" name.'

Gussies. Great Universal Stores; stocks and shares thereof: commercial: since ca. 1940.—2. (Also gussies.) Women's lace panties: since ca. 1954. Ex 'Gorgeous Gussie' Moran, a picturesquely dressed American lawn tennis star.

gust-guesser. A meteorological officer of Imperial Airways: 1920's. (W/Cdr R. H. McIntosh, D.F.C., A.F.C., Autobiography, 1963.) Gusts of wind, obviously!

gut like a crane, have a. To be very thirsty: Australian rural, C. 20. (K. S. Prichard, Working Bullocks, 1926.)

gut (or guts), one is a. One is greedy or a greedy person: Cockneys': C. 20.

Gut, the. A notorious street in Malta: Services (esp. the Navy): C. 20. Granville.

gut on, put a. To put on—gain in—weight: Australian: since ca. 1920. Culotta.

gut-rot. 'Unhealthy-looking food or strong drink' (B., 1942): Australian: C. 20. Cf. rot-gut (Dict.).

gut-spiller. A Ghurka soldier: Australian servicemen's: 1939–45. (B., 1943.) For guts-spiller.

gutbash. A bellyful of food; hence, a resultant bellyache: Services, esp. Navy: since ca. 1925. (P-G-R.)

gutbucket and shipwreck chorus. That part of a piece in which, at the end, all the instrumentalists join: jazz: ca. 1948–56. Professor F. E. L. Priestley, in letter of Oct. 12, 1965, tells me that gutbucket 'is not a special part of a jazz piece: it is a special kind of playing, especially of the blues; it is the most "dirty" or "low-down" sort of playing, with deliberately distorted tonalities, "growl" effects, and so on. The term [came into use] before 1930.'

gutless. Cowardly: coll.: C. 20. Cf. guts, 5 (p. 363).—2. Of motorcars: under-powered: Australian: since ca. 1945. (B.P.)

gutless wonder. A coward: coll.: since ca. 1910. Perhaps on the famous boneless wonder.—2. An under-powered car: Australian: since ca. 1945. (B.P.) guts, n., 6 (p. 363). For a specialised Australian nuance, see boxer.

guts, v.i. and v.t. To eat; to eat greedily: Australian: since ca. 1890. Kylie Tennant, Ride on, Stranger, 1943, "'Gutsing again, Briscoe?" she reproved.' Ex the n.; cf. gutsy.

guts, drop one's. See drop . . .

guts, give the good. See good guts, the, above.

guts, spew one's. To inform the police on one's friends: c.: from ca. 1930. Cf. spill the works (Dict.).

guts, spill one's. More usual than the synonymous prec. phrase: adopted, ca. 1930, from U.S. into low British s. An interesting anticipation occurs in Sessions, July 1879, p. 442, 'Workman [accused of burglary] asked me to go to his wife . . . and tell her that he had been about Maudsley's job, and she must keep her "guts" what she knew about it.'

guts-ache. A contemptible person: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

guts for garters, have one's (p. 363). The dating should rather be 'C. 19–20'. The phrase must have 'gone underground' for a century or more: in Robert Greene's James the Fourth, III, ii, we find 'I'll make garters of thy guts, thou villain'. (With thanks to Mr E. Phillips Barker.)

guts up, v. To eat: Australian: since ca. 1840. Brian Penton, Landtakers, 1934.

gutser, n.—2. A 'greedy guts': New Zealand: since ca. 1910. (Jean Devanney, Bushman Burke, 1930).—3. Four cards retained in the hope of making a straight: Australian poker-players': since ca. 1920. (B., 1953.)

gutser, v. To come a 'gutser' (p. 363); to fail badly: Australian: C. 20. D'Arcy Niland, The Big Smoke, 1959, 'You had your chance and you gutsered.'

gutser, come a (p. 363): also, since ca. 1916, New Zealand. (Slatter.)

gutsful of, have a. To have had too much of something: New Zealand: since ca. 1920.

(Slatter.) Cf. have had a bellyful of: see belly-full on p. 46.

gutsful of grunts. A disagreeable person: Australian: since ca. 1910. B., 1942. Cf. guts-ache.

gutsy, n. A fat man: proletarian coll.: from ca. 1880.

gutsy, adj. Sense 2 should (p. 363) read: courageous.—3. Greedy; or merely very hungry: R.A.F.: since ca. 1920. Jackson. Ex guts, 1 (Dict.).

Gutta-Percha. A Victorian: Australian: ca. 1880–1920. Baker. Why? Perhaps there is a pun on gum-trees.

gutter.—3. 'Space in front of a race-course totalisator' (Baker): Australian sporting: C. 20.

—4. A football scrum: Tonbridge: late C. 19–20. Marples.

gutter-crawler (hence g-crawling, 2). One of that flower of modern youth which specialises in driving its cars slowly along by the kerb in the expectation that some girl will allow herself to be 'picked up' (there always is): since ca. 1920.

gutti.—2. One who wolfs his food: St Bees: C. 20. Marples. Cf. gutsy, 3.

guv, v. See gove.

guv, adj. Expert: Oxford undergraduates': ca. 1820–60. Cuthbert Bede, Verdant Green, 1853.

Guv'nor, the. Robert Abel, Surrey batsman of 1881–1904, then a coach; also a maker of cricket bats: cricketers': from ca. 1895. He represented England in many Test matches. Almost blind in his later years, he died on Dec. 10, 1936, at the age of 77. (The Daily Telegraph, Dec. 11, 1936.)

guy'nor, the. The head of a Teddy boys' gang: Teddy boys': since ca. 1946. (The Observer, March 1, 1959.)

guy, n., 6 was anglicised by 1903, when it appeared in Binstead's Pitcher in Paradise. On July 15, 1860, J. M. Yale wrote from Colquitz Farm, Vancouver Island, to Sir George Simpson (see blow-up above), 'Thank God, we have got rid of all those damn drunken guys at last.' (Perhaps I might here mention that I'm coming to think that this sense of guy derives from Yiddish goy, a Gentile.)—10. Something to eat; esp., bread: South Africa, among the imported 'coloured' labour, esp. the half-caste Indians: C. 20. (Cyrus A. Smith, letter of July 17, 1946.) Prob. ex Hindustani.

guy-a-whack, adj. Incompetent; hence, n., a defaulting bookmaker: Australian low: C. 20. B., 1942.

guy out, v.t. and v.i. To make (the tents) secure by tightening the guy-ropes: circusmen's coll.: late C. 19–20.

guzinters. An animal's entrails: Australian rural: since ca. 1910. Baker. I.e. guts + innards.

guzunder. A chamber pot: Australian domestic: since ca. 1925; by 1960, ob. It guzunder the bed. (B.P.) guzzump. A slovenly variant of gezumph (p. 326).

gwennie.—2. Hence, the gunner: Naval: since ca. 1918. (The Weekly Telegraph, Jan. 25, 1941.)

—3. A gun: Naval: 1939–45. Not very general. (P-G-R.) Probably suggested by gunnie, diminutive of gun.

[gyle hather; Gyles Hather. Having the appearance of a (late C. 16–early 17) c. term, it is merely the name (or its perversion) of a noted rogue.]

gym cad. A gymnasium instructor: Royal Military Academy: from ca. 1870; very ob. B. & L.

gym nasty tricks. Gymnastics: (not Public) schoolboys': C. 20.

gynae. Gynaecology; also attributively, as in 'the famous gynæ-man': medical: late C. 19–20.

gynie or gyno. Australian variants of preceding, but also for a gynaecologist: since ca. 1920 and esp. among medical students.

gyp.—3. A thief: mid-C. 19–20: c. >, by 1900, low. B. & L. Abbr. gypsy.

gyp, v. (p. 365).—2. Hence, to rob: mostly Services': C. 20. 'Common also in Australia' (B.P.).

Gypsy tummy. See Gippy tummy.

gypsy (or G.). See gipsy (Dict.).

Gypsy. A nickname of men surnamed Smith: from ca. 1905. Ex 'Gypsy' Smith, the evangelist. Cf. Darky and Shoey in the Dict.

gypsy's warning. Morning: rhyming s.: mid-C. 19–20. gyver. An occ. form (e.g. in E. Pugh, Harry the Cockney, 1912) of guiver (Dict.).

gyvo. Variant of givo.—Humbug: Australian: since ca. 1935. (B., 1953.) Ex guiver, 2 (p. 360).

H

H.B.'s. Human beings: jocular: since ca. 1930.

H.E. An 'H.E.' is a severe reprimand: Services: since late 1940. (H. & P.) Ex the abbr. of 'high explosive': cf. synonymous blowing up (p. 68).—2. A coll.—in reference only—for His Excellency (ambassador; Governor-General): late C. 19–20.

H.L.I. Richards, 'We'—The Royal Welch Fusiliers—'and the Highland Light Infantry were bitter enemies . . . Some say that it originated towards the end of last century during a final for the Army Football Championship of India when the H.L.I., having scored a lucky goal early on against our chaps, kept their advantage by delaying tactics—kicking wide intotouch whenever they had the ball. To this day, in the Battalion, these tactics are always greeted with the indignant cry of "H.L.I., H.L.I.!" and the expression has been adopted by other units and by civilians.'

H.T.W.S.S.T.K.S. Masonic initials sometimes interpreted, facetiously, as 'Hot-tailed Willie should stop tickling Katie's sex': Canadian: since ca. 1910 (?)

ha-ha. A defecation: nursery: late C. 19–20. Echoic of baby's instinctive grunting.

ha-ha pigeon. A kookaburra: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Widely known as laughing jackass.

habs-dabs, the (screaming). Better, and usually, hab-dabs, which, however, is less common than ab-dabs, q.v. above. Nervous irritation: mostly R.A.F.: since ca. 1937. (Atkinson.) Cf. heebie-jeebies on p. 385.

hachi, in never hachi, it never happened, i.e. bunkum: United Nations troops': ca. 1951–5 in Korea. Korean? Japanese?

hack, usually hack down. To shoot (out of the sky); to shoot down: R.A.F.: 1939 +. Brickhill & Norton, Escape to Danger, 1946, 'A couple of [the] 109's hacked two Hurricanes down near Montreuil on the 10th of June, 1940, and Eric jumped from his pranged kite and ran for it.' Prob. ex Rugby j. (for hearty work by the forwards): cf. hack, n. 3, on p. 365.

hack pilot; hack pusher. A taxi-driver; Australian: since ca. 1944. (B., Australia Speaks, 1953.) Suggested by and perhaps confused with the U.S. s. synonyms hackie and taxi-pusher.

hackam; hackem. See hackum (Dict.).

Hackney is the inevitable nickname, though mostly among Londoners, of men surnamed Downs: late C. 19–20. Ex Hackney Downs, an open space in the borough of Hackney in the county of London.

Hackney Marsh. Glass: Londoners' rhyming s.: C. 20. Cf. Khyber Pass.

had it. See have had it (below).

had it in a big way, he's (or I've or you've.)

There's no chance whatsoever of that hope being fulfilled: since ca. 1944. An extension of have had it, 3.

had your penn'orth or do you want a ha'penny change? A c.p. addressed to someone staring: mostly Londoners': since ca. 1920. (Laurie Atkinson, Sept. 11, 1967.)

had your time. See you've had your time.

haddie. A haddock: Cockneys', esp. costermongers', coll.: C. 19. Mayhew, I, 1851. (Prob. independent of Scottish dial.)

hag, 2 (p. 366). At Haileybury, since ca. 1918, a housemaid or any other woman. 'At Charterhouse, now refers only to a house matron' (Peter Sanders, note of mid-1965).

haggis(-)basher. A Scot: R.A.F.: since ca. 1934. (Atkinson.) See basher in Addenda; haggis, one of the toothsome national dishes of Scotland.

hags, the. The nuns: Catholic priests' jocular: C. 20. Not, of course, ex the S.E. hag (although, naturally, there's an allusion), but from Greek hagiai, holy women.

hag's bush. A frequent synonym of Sikh's beard below.

hair, get in (someone's). To annoy or irritate: since ca. 1936. 'Like grit embedded in hair' (Atkinson). Adopted ex U.S. 'To irritate as lice in one's hair would irritate.' (W. & F.)

hair, tie one's. See tie one's hair (Dict.).

hair-cut. See shave, n., 7, in the Dict.

hair-do. Having one's hair dressed in a fashionable style: feminine coll.: since ca. 1920.—2. Hence, a style of coiffure: (feminine) coll.: since ca. 1925.

hair down, let one's. To let oneself go; to speak and act freely and intimately: coll.: since ca. 1930, but not very common before ca. 1950. Ex a number of girls talking together, esp. late at night.

hair off. To lose one's temper: Scottish Public Schools': C. 20. Ian Miller, School Tie, 1935, where it is spelt hare. Ex get one's hair off.

hair-restorer (p. 366). More prob. a play upon the words fairy story.

haircut with a hole in it. 'Jocular for barbering of bald man's tonsure' (Atkinson): C. 20.

hairing, adj. Tearing; furious: Scottish Public Schools': C. 20. Ian Miller, 'It was not worth risking a hairing great row.'

hairs, get or have by the short (p. 367), seems to have originated in the U.S.; at least, it occurs there, in form get where the hair is short, in George P. Burnham, Memoirs of the United States Secret Service, 1872.—2. (Only have . . .) Hence, to know a subject, a theme, very thoroughly: Australian: since ca. 1935. (B.P.)

hairy, adj., 5 (Dict.). Lunn's use, however, makes it clear that it dates back to ca. 1900 and that, even orig., it may not have been specifically Anglo-Irish.—6. Unpleasant: rough: Army:

since ca. 1935. 'We had a hairy time on patrol last night.'—7. Hence, dangerous, exciting; since ca. 1945. 'Applied esp. to wild, reckless driving in a race—to the limits of the car and safety' (David Mann, Jan. 10, 1963). Perhaps ex sense 5 of p. 367.

hairy, the. 'She was "one of the hairy"—a hatless slum girl conscious of her station in life'; Glasgow slum girls collectively: lower-class Glasgow: late C. 19–20. MacArthur & Long, 'In Glasgow, as in Rome, the hat is a badge of feminine quality.'

hairy-arsed. No longer young: low: late C. 19–20.—2. Mature and hirsute and virile: Naval: since ca. 1947. A young servicemen's term of the 1950's for a 'type' of rugged masculinity and maturity.

hairy-bottomed tromp. A term of abuse: Cambridge undergraduates': early 1930's. I.e. tramp with a jocular 'Dutch' twist.

hairy devil. A flying fox: Australian: late C. 19–20. B., 1942.

hairy dive. A dive made into a (very) fast and dirty current and with the diver hanging on to an anchor line: skin divers': since ca. 1950. Cf. hairy, adj., 7, above.

hairy goat, run like a. (Of a horse) to perform badly in a race: Australian: C. 20. Baker.

hairy mary (or Mary). 'The prickles that cover the cane' (Jean Devaney, By Tropic Sea and Jungle, 1944): Australian cane-cutters': C. 20.

hairy wheel. The female pudend: low Australian: from ca. 1860. Cf. hairy ring in Dict.—2. But also low English s. for the male genitals: since ca. 1870.

Hal, the. The Hallé orchestra: music-lovers': since ca. 1920.

half, n.—4. A half-holiday: schools' coll.: C. 20. (S. P. B. Mais, A Schoolmaster's Diary, 1918.)—5. A child travelling half fare: coll.: C. 20.—6. Implied in anarf, ten shillings.

half a (pint, mile, hour, million, etc.), a. Half a (pint, etc.): C. 20: Canadian sol. >, by 1955, non-educated coll. (Leechman.)

half a bar (p. 367). Recorded earlier in W. L. George, A Bed of Roses, 1911.

half a borde. A variant of half borde (Dict.). Holme.

half a caser. Half a crown: Australian low: C. 20. B., 1942. See caser (Dict.).

half a couter. See half a bean (Dict.).

half a crown. See bed and breakfast.

half a cup of tea. Tea and whisky mixed: Covent Garden: C. 20. Partly rhyming s.

half a dog-watch, not. See dog-watch, 2.

half a grunter. Sixpence: low: C. 19. H., 2nd ed. Cf. grunter, 3 (Dict.), where the sense 'sixpence' is either loose or incorrect.

half a jiffy. See half a crack (Dict.).

half(-)a(-)stretch.—2. Odds of 6 to 1: racing, esp. bookmakers': C. 20. Ex sense 1 on p. 367: a prison sentence of six months.

half a surprise. A black eye: Londoners': ca. 1885–1905. B. & L. Ex a music-hall song. The chorus began, 'Two lovely black eyes, / Oh, what a surprise!'

half a tick. See half a crack (Dict.).

half a ton. See ton, 3.

half a tusheroon. See half a bull in the Dict.

half an hour. Flour: Australian rhyming s.: late C. 19–20. B., 1942.

half-arsed. (Of things) imperfect; (of persons) ineffective, indecisive: Canadian: late C. 19–20.

half-baked. An immature person: Australian: ca. 1890–1940. (G. B. Lancaster, Jim of the Ranges, 1910.) Cf. half-baked, 2., on p. 367.

half bar. Ten shillings: see bar, n., in the Dict.

half-canned. Half drunk: since ca. 1925.

half-chat. An Indian Army term dating from ca. 1880, thus in Richards: 'Half-caste, or "half-chat" as the troops in my time [ca. 1901–9] contemptuously called them.' Also, C. 20, an Australian and Pacific Islands term, as, e.g., in Sydney Parkman, Captain Bowker, 1946.

half-colonel. A lieutenant-colonel: Army officers' coll.: C. 20.

half-crown battalion (p. 368). Also, in 1915 +, half-crown brigade.

half-cut.—2. Stupid: silly; foolish: Australian: late C. 19–20. B., 1942. I.e. with half one's virility and vigour removed.

Half-Dirties. 'Willesden men on dual steam and electric duties' (Railway, 3rd): railwaymen's: since ca. 1950.

half foolish. Ca. 1855–80: 'Ridiculous: means often wholly foolish,' H., 1st ed.

half-hard or half-mast. Semi-erect; not very intelligent: C. 20. (Atkinson.)

half-laugh and purser's grin (p. 368) derives ex the much earlier half-and-half laugh and purser's grin recorded by W. N. Glascock, Sketch-Book, II, 1826: Naval: ca. 1790–1880. (Moe.)

half-nicker (p. 368). Also Australian: B., 1942. The same for half-pie and half-rinsed (both on p. 368).

half-note. A ten-shilling note; hence its value: mostly Australian: C. 20. On the other hand, half a note = the sum of ten shillings. (B.P.)

half-ounce. To cheat (v.t.): rhyming s. (on bounce): late C. 19–20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

half-past two. A Jew: rhyming s.: C. 20. Franklyn, ibid.

half-pie.—2. Worthless: Aus.: since ca. 1925. (B., 1959.)

half-pie farm. 'A small nondescript holding' (Harold Griffiths): New Zealand: since ca. 1930. (Slatter.)

half-pint, adj.; Half-Pint. (Very) short; an often complimentary nickname for a short man: since ca. 1925. (News-Chronicle, July 13, 1954.) Also 'a term of endearment applied to a very small woman. Heard in 1938' (Leechman).

half-pint hero. A boaster, a swaggerer: R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. Jackson. The implication being that a half-pint of beer or ale will make him 'shoot a line'.

half-pissed. Mildly tipsy: low: C. 20.

half-ringer. See ringer.

half-rinsed. Tipsy: Aus.: since late 1940's. (B., 1959.)

half section, one's. One's friend: military: C. 20. Also, since ca. 1925, R.A.F., which, further, uses it for 'wife'.

half-shot. Tipsy: Naval: since ca. 1925. Granville. Ex shot, adj., on p. 763.

half-soaked. Only half-awake; slow; rather stupid: Midlands: C. 20. (Dr R. L. Mackay, M.D.; 1967.)

half-squarie. A prostitute: Australian low: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. Ironic.

half-stamp. A tramp (the person): rhyming s., orig. underworld: C. 20.

half your luck! A coll. ellipsis of 'I wish I had even a half of your good luck': Australian: since ca. 1915. B., 1942.

halfie or halfy. A half-caste Aboriginal: Australian coll.: since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.)

Halibag; Hallie or Hally. A Halifax bomber aircraft: Air Force: 1941+. An analogy of Stringbag.

hall, n.—2. See 'Tavern terms', § 3.

Hall, the. Trinity Hall: Cambridge undergraduates' coll.: late C. 19–20.

hallelujah-hawking. Religious speaking; evangelism; esp., city-mission work: Australian: since ca. 1910. B., 1942.

hallelujah stew. Soup served at a Salvation Army hostel: C. 20. D. Crane, A Vicarious Vagabond, 1910.

haller. A hard biscuit—served in Hall: Marlborough College: C. 20.

Hallie (or -y). See Halibag.

halvers.—2. In Canada, an equal division of, e.g., supplies: coll.: late C. 19–20.

halves, go (p. 369). The dating should rather be 'since late C. 18'. Charles B. Burr, Life and Letters of Joel Barlow (New York, 1886, p. 294), quotes an imaginary dialogue by Joel Barlow, American poet and ambassador, familiar with Britain. (Moe.) halves, on the. Sharing 50–50; e.g., in farming: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1953.)

ham. (Gen. pl.) An amateur wireless transmitter: wireless s. adopted in late Sept. 1936 from the U.S. The Daily Herald, Sept. 19, 1936.—2. An (inferior) telegraph operator: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931). Ex 1.

ham, v.: To be an inferior actor; esp., to act badly: adopted, ca. 1939, from U.S. Campbell Dixon in The Daily Telegraph, Nov. 18, 1946, 'After a deal of hamming'. Ex the n. in ham-bone. Also adj.: 'inferior': adopted ca. 1930.

ham! A warning cry when authority threatens to 'intrude' upon an unlawful activity: Cotton College (under other names): ca. 1860–1910. The Cottonian, Autumn, 1938. Origin?

ham(-)and(-)beef. A chief warder: prison rhyming s.: C. 20. Jim Phelan, Murder by Numbers, 1941.

ham(-)and(-)egg shift, the. A shift from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.: British miners': late C. 19–20. 'Derived from former days—the ham was eaten before the shift began and the eggs in the evening at its finish' (Toronto Globe, Jan. 6, 1950).

Ham and High, The. 'The Hampstead and Highgate Express'—a weekly founded ca. 1860: London local and London journalistic. (Paraphrased by 'Peterborough' in The Daily Telegraph of Oct. 24, 1960.)

ham-bags. Female drawers: girls': ca. 1890–1914. Cf. ham-frill.

Ham-Bone. A Hampden bomber: R.A.F.: 1940+; by 1945, ob., the 'plane having become ob. in 1942. Jackson. Ex 'Hampden' + its (vague) shape-resemblance to a ham-bone.

ham-bone. A greenhorn or an amateur among itinerant musicians: showmen's: since ca. 1880. P. H. Emerson, Signor Lippo, 1893. Whence, prob., the American ham, 'inferior actor', retransported to England ca. 1925; hence, ham, n., as above.—2. A sextant: Naval: C. 20. Granville. Ex the shape.

ham-fisted. (Esp. of pilot or mechanic) clumsy: R.A.F.: 1940+. (W/Cdr R. P. McDouall, March 27, 1945.) Probably suggested by ham-handed.

ham-frill. A pair of female running shorts: (University) girls': from ca. 1925. H. H. Stanners, At the Tenth Clue, 1937.

ham-handed is the Navy's form of ham-fisted: since ca. 1925. Granville. 'Hands like hams' are usually clumsy—or look it.

ham it up. To act a part extravagantly; hence, to wreck (something) by ill-advised conduct: Canadian (ex U.S.): since ca. 1930; by 1945, English.

Ham Shank. See Hamshank below.

hammer.—4. Three Canadian terms for 'penis'—all current from before 1949 and all less vulgar than prick—are dink, dong, hammer.

hammer, v.—4. To shell heavily; to defeat severely: Army coll.: 1940–5. (P-G-R.)—5. See hammer and nail below.

hammer, at . . . (p. 369). The phrase under the hammer occurs much earlier in The Port Folio, Nov. 1, 1806, reporting, at p. 266, col. 2, a British source. Moe.

hammer, (right) on one's. (Right) on one's tail; immediately behind: Australian: since ca. 1920. Lawson, Glassop, We Were the Rats, 1944. Ex industrial j. Also flat on one's, or its, hammer: Jean Devaney, Travels in North Queensland, 1951.

hammer, under the.—2. (Of a train) 'accepted at caution' (Railway): railwaymen's: C. 20.

hammer(-)and(-)nail. To follow (someone, as a detective would): rhyming s. (on tail), orig., and still in 1966, mainly underworld: C. 20. Franklyn 2nd. Often shortened to hammer.

hammer and tack. A track, e.g. a metalled road: Australian rhyming s.: since ca. 1920. (Baker.)

hammered.—3. Married: metal workers': since ca. 1880. Ware.

hammock man (p. 370) occurs in The Night Watch, 1828. (Moe.)

hammy. A hamster: domestic: since ca. 1925.

Hamps, short for Hampsteads (p. 370): C. 20. The New Statesman, Nov. 29, 1941.

hams shrunk. 'Sides of trousers shrunk at thigh': tailors': from ca. 1820. B. & L.

Hamshank, or hyphenated. An American: rhyming s. (on Yank): since ca. 1944. (Mark McShane, The Straight and Crooked, 1960.)

han tun. One hundred: pidgin: mid-C. 19–20.

hand, 5, and handful, 2. Odds of 5 to 1: racing, esp. bookmakers': C. 20. The 2nd term comes ex sense 1 on p. 371: the number 5.

hand, bear a (p. 370): rather, since ca. 1720. It occurs in James Ralph's play, The Fashionable Lady, 1730, in Act I, scene 5, on p. 6. (Moe.)

hand, old.—2. An experienced settler (hence, farmer, drover, etc.) in the outback. Australian coll.: since ca. 1860. (B., 1943.)

hand, sign one's. See name, bite one's.

hand-Bible. A holystone: Naval: late C. 19–20. (P-G-R.)

hand gunner. A machine-gunner: Artillerymen's: ca. 1890–1920. (Gilbert Frankau, 1920.)

hand-in, give (someone) a. To help: Australian coll.: C. 20. B., 1942. As into tram or train.

hand in one's dinner pail. To die: since ca.

1920. (P. G. Wodehouse.) Suggested by kick the bucket (Dict.).

hand-jive. 'System of rhythmic hand-movements in time to music where floor is too crowded to allow people present to jive (dance), esp. as in coffee bars' (Atkinson): jazz-lovers': since ca. 1950.

hand like a foot, have a. To have a very bad hand of cards: card-players': C. 20; by 1950, ob., except in Canada. (Alan S. C. Ross in The Sunday Times, July 15, 1956.) Cf. hand like a foot in Dict.

hand-out (p. 371): but Canadian by late C. 19. (Niven.)

hand out the slack. To check a superior, be rude to a colleague: Services (esp. the Navy): since ca. 1925. H. & P. See slack, n., 3 (p. 778).

hand over fist (p. 371) goes back to very early C. 19. (W. N. Glascock, Sketch-Book (I, 23), 1825. Moe.)

hand over the baby. 'To pass on a responsibility no one particularly desires': coll.: C. 20. (The Daily Express, April 5, 1937.) Ex holding the baby (Dict.).

hand-reared. Phallically well-endowed: low: C. 20.

hand (someone) the cold and frosty. To snub; to treat coldly: since ca. 1920. Cf. frozen mitt (p. 304).

hand-to-hand. Hand-to-hand fighting: Army coll.: C. 20. Gerald Kersh, Bill Nelson, 1942, 'We done a bit of the good old hand-to-hand with the good old Wogs.' hand-warmers. Female breasts: Australian raffish: since late 1920's.

handed to (someone) on a plate, (something) was or has been. A c.p. in ref. to easy acquisition: since ca. 1910.

handful.—2. Hence, £5: c.: C. 20. See hand, 5, above.—3. Hence, also, a five-years' prison-sentence or term: c., and London's East End s.: since ca. 1930. (Richard Herd, article in The Evening News, Nov. 12, 1957.)

handful of sprats. A sexual groping: low: late C. 19–20.

handies, play. To hold hands: jocular coll.: C. 20. Cf. footy.

handle, 1 (p. 371). The dating should read 'ca. 1790–1910'. The Port Folio, Dec. 29, 1804 (p. 413), quoting a British source, '. . . the handle of his face, ycleped the nose'. Moe.

handle the ribbing. To punch (someone) in the ribs: pugilistic: ca. 1830–70. Sinks, 1848.

handlebars. Moustaches resembling bicycle handlebars: since ca. 1910.

Handley Page. A stage: rhyming s.: since ca. 1920. 'Mainly theatrical' (Franklyn 2nd).

handraulic power. See Johnny Armstrong.

hands off cocks, feet in socks! A variant—mostly R.A.F.—of rise and shine: since ca. 1947.

hands to fishing-stations. The picking-up of dead fish after a depth-charge has been dropped at a test: Naval: since ca. 1938. (P-G-R.)

hands-upper. A surrendered Boer that eventually took (esp., fought on) the British side: 1900–2, then merely historical.

handshake. A 'backhander'—a tip, or a bribe, handed surreptitiously: since ca. 1930.

Handsome Harry. A 'gay Lothario' or exponent of the love-'em-and-leave-'em technique: feminine, esp. shop-girls' and office-girls': since ca. 1930.

handsomely . . . (p. 371). The nautical handsomely! has variant handsomely, handsomely, dating since ca. 1800 and occurring in, e.g., W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints, 1829, at I, 182, and II, 19. (Moe.)

handy Bill is a variant of handy billy, q.v. in Dict. 'Taffrail'.

handy Billy (p. 371) goes right back to ca. 1800. In W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints, 1829 (at I, 182), it is defined as 'Jigger-purchase, a small tackle so designated by seamen'. Moe.

hang a monkey. To buy a suit: proletarian (? mostly Liverpool): C. 20.

hang five—hang ten; hang eleven. To hang with one foot (five toes)—with both feet—over the nose or front of the board; 'ten toes and rider over nose of board': Australian surfers', esp. teenagers': since ca. 1960. (Pix, Sept. 28, 1963.)

hang it out. The Dict. sense prob. derives ex: 2. 'To "skulk" on a job—not to do justice when on time work': printers': from ca. 1870. B. & L.

hang on (p. 372) is current in Australia as hang on!, 'Don't be so hasty', or 'Be reasonable': coll.: mid-C. 19–20.—2. To wait: coll.: C. 20. Perhaps ex telephoning.

hang on that, Dook! Shake hands!: (non-aristocratic) Londoners': from ca. 1920. With a pun on dook, 1, 2 (Dict.).

hang—or tie—one on. To get (very) drunk: Canadian: adopted, ca. 1935, ex U.S.

hang one's hat up to is the v.t. form of hang one's hat up (Dict.). The nuance is often rather: to make pronounced matrimonial advances (to).

hang-out, n.—2. 'A feasting, an entertainment': Cambridge undergraduates': ca. 1845–70. B. & L.

hang out of. To coit with (a woman): Naval lower-deck: C. 20.—2. Hence, to commit sodomy: Naval (lower-deck): since ca. 1920.

hang-up, n.—2. Delay; frustration: Canadian jazz-lovers': since ca. 1956. The Victoria Daily Colonist, April 16, 1959, 'Basic Beatnik': 'Man—Omnibus salutation extended to men, women, domestic animals—saves cool cat hangup of remembering names.'

hang up.—6. Hanging it up, cruising or dawdling near a given spot: taxi-drivers': since ca. 1910. Herbert Hodge, 1939.—7. See phone, go for the.

hang your number out to dry! A post-1920 variant of before you came up!: Services. H. & P.

hangar doors closed! A variant (Partridge, 1945) of close hangar doors!

hangashun or hangava, adv. Very: Australian children's: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. 'E.g., "hangashun good", very good, excellent. Cf. helluva.' hangers. Female breasts: Australian raffish: since ca. 1930.

hang on the slack. 'Waiting for something to happen' (Granville): Naval coll.: C. 20.

hangings. 'While the flogger was fixing me up [to the triangles] he said to me quietly, "Is there any hangings to it?" meaning had I anything to give him to lay it on lightly,' Louis Becke, Old Convict Days, 1897: prison warders' (esp. in Australia): ca. 1820–70.

hangover (one word) has, since ca. 1945, been preferred to hang-over (p. 372).

hangtelow. See hanktelo (Dict.).

hank, n.—2, 3. See no hank, 2 and 3.

hank, v. To hesitate, be diffident; also as ppl. adj., hanking: proletarian coll.: from ca. 1870. Nevinson, 1895, 'Lina's style, full of 'ankin' artful little ways'; 'Don't stand 'ankin' there; you're not the only person in the world.' Cf. S.E. hank, v.i., to hang, to hanker.

hank, on the. On the look-out (for booty): c., and low Cockney: from ca. 1890. Clarence Rook, 1899.

hankie, occ. hanky (p. 373): much used also by women.

hanky-panky (p. 373). Julian Franklyn's suggestion (letter of 1962) is much more probable: a reduplication of hanky, handkerchief—the conjuror's handkerchief used 'to assist the quickness of the hand in deceiving the audience's eye'. —2. Hence, sexual caressing or intercourse, esp. in infidelity: C. 20.

Hannah. A Wren serving with the Royal Marines: 1939+. 'From the famous Hannah Snell, who, disguised as a man, fought with the Marines on land and sea in the eighteenth century,' M.o.I.'s News-Clip, Feb. 16, 1944.

Hans Carvel's ring. Earlier in Urquhart's Rabelais, 1653.

Hans in Kelder (Dict.). For an interesting anecdote, see Thornbury's London, iii. 315.

Hansard. Messrs Hansard have for some years ceased to have the monopoly.

ha'penny.—2. The female pudend: feminine: C. 20.

Ha'penny Bumper, the. A horse-drawn tramcar that survived in Bermondsey long after the L.C.C. had electrified the rest of the system: Londoners': C. 20; now only historical.

ha'penny dip. A ship: Dockland rhyming s.: C. 20. (Franklyn 2nd.)

hap-harlot.—2. A woman's undergarments: C. 19. Also corrupted to hap-parlet. B. & L.

happen for (someone) with (something). "I hope it may happen for her with this one" (meaning "I hope this one may be a success") (Anthony Lejeune in The Daily Telegraph, colour supplement, March 10, 1967): since ca. 1965.

happening. A 'spontaneous eruption of feeling or display' (Peter Fryer in The Observer colour supplement, Dec. 3, 1967): jazz and drug addicts', and hippies': since ca. 1966. Cf. preceding entry.

Happy and Chatty (p. 374).—2. Hence, applied to any slack-disciplined, untidy ship: nautical: C. 20.

happy as a boxing kangaroo in fog time. Thoroughly discontented: Australian coll.: C. 20. B., 1942.

happy as a nun weeding the asparagus. Exceedingly happy: ? mostly Canadian: since ca. 1910. 'Uncommon but not rare' (Leechman). Erotic.

happy as Larry. See Larry, (as) happy as, on p. 470.

happy as pigs in shit, as. Completely happy: low: since ca. 1870. (Gerald Kersh, Faces in a Dusty Picture, 1944.)

happy days! A toast that has something of the quality of a c.p.: since ca. 1918. Rather since ca. 1910, for it occurs in 'Bartimeus', Naval Occasions, 1914, with the reply Salut!—either from Spanish salud! or, more probably, from the Fr. salut!

happy-ender. A story with a happy end: coll. (esp. in the book-world): late C. 19–20. Berta Ruck, 1935.

happy hours. Flowers: rhyming s., mainly theatrical: late C. 19–20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

happy in the Service? is the Navy's form of are you happy in your work? (Granville.)

Happy Valley.—2. (Cf. sense 1, p. 374.) Any city or locality, area, region, that is being (very) heavily bombed; esp. the Ruhr: R.A.F., esp. Bomber Command: 1941+. H. & P.; Jackson. —3. A valley between Taungmaw and the Mankat Pass in Burma: Army: 1942–5.—4. (Usually lower-case.) Female genitals: C. 20.

harbour light, esp. all . . . (All) right: late C. 19–20; since ca. 1920, only in all harbour. (Franklyn.)

harch off. 'To abandon or leave' (B., 1953): Australian (originally Services'): since ca. 1940.

hard a-Gilbert. Hard a-port: Naval: late C. 19–mid C. 20. Presumably a corruption of hard a-Gilbey, a pun on Messrs Gilbey, wine-merchants to the Navy and noted for their excellent port wine. (P-G-R, 1948.)

hard-arse. A wooden chair: cf. T.S.R. arse, the effect of the hard chairs in Temple Speech Room: Rugby School: resp. since ca. 1910 and since ca. 1945. (D. F. Wharton.) hard as a goat's knees. Extremely hard: Aus.: C. 20. (B., 1959.)

hard-faced. Impudent: Liverpool; half-way between coll. and dial.: late C. 19–20.

Hard-Faced Parliament, The. The one elected in 1919: coll.: ca. 1919–22, then merely historical. It contained many war-made millionaires. (Jack Lawson, 1932.)

hard-hat man. An inspector: railwaymen's: C. 20. (Railway.)

hard head. A 'hard case': Australian: since ca. 1910. (Caddie, A Sydney Barmaid, 1953.)

hard jack. Bully beef (in tins) and biscuits: Army: 1914–18, nor yet quite †. See jack, n., 21 (p. 429).

hard-lyers is the 1914–18 and 1939–45 form of hard-lying money (Dict.): 'Taffrail', The Sub, 1917; Granville, 1945.

hard neck. Impudence: Anglo-Irish: late C. 19–20. "You had the hard neck to pass the time of day with him": Brendan Behan, Borstal Boy, 1958. Cf. neck, n., on p. 554.

hard O'Brien, the. A complimentary remark: Anglo-Irish: since ca. 1925. Perhaps ex some famous Irish flatterer surnamed O'Brien.

hard put to it (p. 375) may well go back as far as to ca. 1690, for B.E., 1699, has the entry, 'Ox-house. . . . The Black Ox has not trod upon his foot, of one that has not been Pinch'd with Want, or been Hard put to it.'

hard scan! Hard luck!: Australian: mid-C. 19–20. B., 1942. Ex commiseration on hard fare. It occurs in, e.g., Norman Lindsay, Saturdee, 1933.

hard shot. A 'hard case' (p. 374): New Zealand: since ca. 1930. (Slatter.)

hard-skinned. (Of vehicles) armoured: Army: since 1940; by 1944, coll. (P-G-R.) hard thing (p. 375) is also Australian: B., 1943.

hard (or tough) titty! Hard luck!: c.p., often ironical: Canadian: since ca. 1930. Hard on the baby.

hard-up, adj., 1 (p. 375), occurs in Alfred Burton, Johnny Newcome, 1818. (Moe.)—4. Impeded; detained: Naval: ca. 1790–1850. W. N. Glascock, Sketch-Book, II, 1826. (Moe.)—5. (Of an engine) short of steam: railwaymen's: C. 20. (Railway 2nd.)

hard-up, n.—6. Tobacco from picked-up stumps of cigarettes: c., mostly vagrants': from ca. 1920. Ex sense 5.

hard wood, the. A useful 'tip' (information), a verbal warning: Anglo-Irish coll.: late (? mid) C. 19–20. 'They were planning to betray . . . me, but Ned gave me the hard wood, and I was prepared for them.' (P. W. Joyce, 1910.)

hard word on, put the (p. 375).—2. Of a man urging a woman to lie with him: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. The phrase has, in Australia, long been applied to any request or approach difficult or unpleasant to make. (B.P.)

hardened tea-drinker. A person as fond of tea as a drunkard of his liquor: jocular coll.: since ca. 1910.

harder than pulling a soldier off your sister, it's or that's. A c.p., stigmatising circumstances in which compliance goes against the grain: low (mostly Naval): since ca. 1939.

hardware.—2. The basic arithmetical unit of a computer, as opposed to software, computer programmes and peripheral equipment: adopted, ex U.S., ca. 1960. (David Wharton, letter of 6 June 1966.)

hare, v. (p. 376). Hence, in the R.A.F., since ca. 1925: to fly at full speed. Jackson.

harem, the. The living-quarters of the Waafs or the Wrens (Waffery or Wrennery): Forces', mostly R.A.F. and esp. in the Near or the Middle East: 1939–45.

hark (usually 'ark) at her! A derisive C. 20 c.p., directed at a man 'uttering supposedly well-meaning or high-sounding sentiments' (Atkinson). Evocative of back-street disputes.

[Harlots: C. 18 terms in the words of Ned Ward are these: bang-tails (1703), belfas (1703), Blowzabellas (1703), blowzes (1709), bunters (1709), does (1700; but in R. Head, Proteus Redivivus, 1675), doxies (1703), drabs (1715), fire-ships (1709), frowes (1703), jilts (1703), lady-birds (1703), lechery-layers (1703), madams (1703; prob. S.E.), market dames (1705), nymphs of delight (1703), punchable nuns (1709), punks (1703), snuffling community (1709), still sows (1709), tickle-tail function (1703), trug-moldies (1703), trulls (1703), wag-tails (1703). He calls bawds by three names: madam (1709), Mother Knab-Cony (1709) and succubus (1709: rare and prob. S.E.). With bawds he associates midwives, for whom his names are groper (1703) and Mother Midnight (1714). Matthews.]

harness.—3. Parachute straps: Air Force: since ca. 1935. Perhaps ex—certainly cf.—sense 2 (p. 376).—4. (Ex 2.) A passenger-train conductors' uniform: Canadian railroadmen's (—1931).—5. Foundation garments: feminine coll., mostly Australian: since ca. 1930.

harness bull. A uniformed policeman: low Canadian: adopted, in 1930's, ex U.S., where originally underworld.

Harold Lloyd, often shortened to Harold. Celluloid, 'an instrument of housebreaking' (cf. loid below): rhyming s., dating from ca. 1917; orig., underworld; by 1940, also police s. (John Gosling, The Ghost Squad, 1959.) Ex the deservedly famous American cinematic comedian, whose heyday was ca. 1914–35.

Harpic. Mad, crazy; bomb-shocked: R.A.F.: since early 1930's; † by 1945: superseded by round the bend.

Harriet Lane. Also Naval: 'Taffrail'.

Harriet the Chariot. In Australia, any Harriet has, since ca. 1930, tended to be thus nicknamed. The nickname is derogatory—with chariot, semantically cf. town-bike below. 'Myrtle the Turtle and Harriet the Chariot are so well known that any Australian male would veto the choice of such a name for his daughter. I have never heard of a Harriet, no matter how virtuous, who was not called Harriet the Chariot' (B.P., in a note written in June 1963).

Harry Blissington. See:

Harry Booters. See boot-faced above.

Harry Clampers. See clampers above.

Harry Crashers. Sleep; sleeping: Naval: since ca. 1940. (P-G-R.) Cf. crash one's, or the, swede.

Harry Flakers. One is 'Harry Flakers' when one is 'completely flaked out after a party' (Granville): Naval: since ca. 1918. Harry is predominant in s. phrases; cf. next two entries—also flaked out. Gilderdale, 2, concerning the smart young set, writes, on May 23, 1958, 'One verbal affectation (not new, but still in circulation) is the habit of saying "Harry" in conjunction with a host of words. Thus: Harry champers (champagne), Harry bangers (sausages), Harry redders (red wine), Harry spraggers (spaghetti), Harry blissington (absolutely wonderful).'

Harry Flatters. A calm, flat sea: Naval: C. 20. Granville.—2. Adv., 'flat out'—at full throttle: R.A.F.: since ca. 1958. (Peter Sanders.)

Harry Freeman's (or Freemans).—2. Free cigarettes: C. 20. From ca. 1925, often corrupted, mostly among Cockneys, to Yenhams.

Harry Hase. See Henry Hase.

Harry James. Nose; nostrils: low: since ca. 1940. 'There is plenty of dust floating about . . . which gets in your north and south and up your Harry James' (Norman).

Harry Jessell's gratitude, 'i.e., none at all—became a by-word' (C. Hindley, Cheap Jack, 1876): cheapjacks': ca. 1840–70.

Harry Lauder. A prison warder: rhyming s.: since ca. 1905.

Harry Roughers. See roughers.

Harry Screechers. See screechers below.

Harry Skinters. 'Skint' or penniless: since late 1950's, but 'not common' (Peter Sanders). By elaboration.

Harry Starkers. Stark-naked, or stark-mad: since late 1950's. (Sanders.) An elaboration of starkers (p. 825).

Harry Tagg. A bag: rhyming s., mostly theatrical: late C. 19–20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

Harry Tate.—4. Late: rhyming s.: ca. 1905–15. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)—5. First Officer: Merchant Navy rhyming s. (on mate): since ca. 1910. Franklyn 2nd.

Harry Tate's Light Horse. See Fred Karno's Navy.

Harry Tate's Navy (p. 377).—3. Hence, in 1939–45 (and after), the c.p. what do you think this is—Harry Tate's Navy?

Harry, Tom and Dick. Unwell: rhyming s.: C. 20. Cf. Tom, Harry and Dick.

Harry Wragg. A cigarette: rhyming s. on synonymous fag: since ca. 1930. Ex the famous ex-jockey and racehorse-trainer.

harumphrodite. A sol. form of hermaphrodite: ? from before 1880. Often for a person neither one thing nor the other. (More gen. —fr—; see harumfrodite in the Dict.) Wm McFee, North of Suez, 1930 (with debt to Kipling, The Seven Seas: 1896):

'E isn't one of the regular line
And 'e isn't one of the crew—
'E's a sort o' giddy harumphrodite Soldier and sailor too.'

Harvest Moon. A racial term used, since ca. 1945, in the London docks. The New Statesman, Dec. 31, 1965.

Harvey. Short for Harvey Nichol (Dict.).

Harvey Nichol (p. 377) is 'pickle', trouble, predicament, not 'pickle', a condiment. The pl., however, does usually denote 'pickles', condiments. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

has-beens. Greens: rhyming s., orig. and still mainly underworld: C. 20.

has everything, she. A c.p., applied to a—esp., physically—very attractive woman: since ca. 1945. Also has two of everything.

hash, n.—5. Hashish: teenage drug addicts': since early 1950's. By 1960, all addicts', as in Alan Diment, The Dolly Dolly Spy, 1963.

hash, settle one's. Thoroughly English; it occurs in Isaac Cruikshank, Olympic Games, June 16, 1803. (Thanks to Mrs M. D. George.)

hash-me-gandy. Station stew: New Zealand and Australian rural: since ca. 1920. B., 1942, suggests: ex Mahatma Gandhi's frugal meals. An elaboration of hash. 'Could the form of this word be based on S. E. salmagundi' (Ramsey Spencer)—a spiced dish of minced meat and eggs, hence a medley? It does indeed sound a plausible suggestion.

hashy. Clever: Charterhouse School: C. 20. Ex hash pro (Dict.).

hasn't had it so long, she or occasionally he; sometimes preceded by but. A c.p. reply to the frequently heard plaint, 'What has she (or he) got that I haven't got?': since late 1950's. (A. B. Petch, April 1966.)

hassle. A fuss, a disagreement, a row; a hullabaloo: Canadian: adopted, ca. 1860, ex U.S. Leechman, who proposes a blend of haggle + tussle; I, one of haggle + wrestle.

haste! 'Look out! Mainly used in criminal jargon. Whence haste it!, to cease some activity, equivalent of Stop it! Synonymous is ace it!' (B., 1959): Aus. c.: since ca. 1935.

haste, adv. Quickly; immediately: Australian: since ca. 1930. Kylie Tennant, The Joyful Condemned, 1953, 'So hand over the two quid and give it haste.' Probably ex S.E. post-haste.

hat.—7. Price: showmen's: late C. 19–20. Night and Day, July 22, 1937. Ex hat as offertory.

hat!, I'll have your. A street cry of ca. 1880–1905. B. & L.

hat, pass or send round the (p. 378). The send form is much the commoner and it goes back to ca. 1820 or even to ca. 1805. Wm Maginn, Tales of Military Life, 1829, at I, 64, 'Having "sent round the hat"' for the benefit of the poor and half-petrified host.' (Moe.)

Hat, the. Medicine Hat, Alberta: Canadian: since ca. 1920. (Leechman.) hat rack. Thin, scraggy horse or ox: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

hat trick (p. 378). Perhaps prompted by 'bowler hats': see article in The Times, Aug. 14, 1937.

hatch. A bomb hatch (a bomb-aimer's compartment): Air Force coll.: since ca. 1938.

hate against, have a. To dislike (person or thing) intensely: Australian coll.: 1918 +. B., 1942.

hate (someone's) guts. To hate someone intensely: adopted, ca. 1937, from U.S. Agatha Christie, Towards Zero, 1944.

hate oneself, as in 'You do hate yourself, don't you': ironic coll., applied to a person with a fine conceit of himself: since ca. 1938.

hatful of worms. See silly as a hatful of worms below.

hatter.—3. A pal, a mate, usually in a homosexual sense. C. 20.

Hatters, the. The Stockport Association football team: sporting: since ca. 1925. Chronicles of the Chelsea Football Club, Oct. 23, 1937.—2. Also the Luton A.F.C.: since ca. 1930. Hats are made in the town.

haul a cly. To snatch a purse: c.: C. 18. James Dalton, 1728.

haul arse. To go off or away, often quickly: Canadian: since ca. 1930. 'Come on, Jack! Let's haul arse out of here.' (Leechman.)

haul-cly. A pickpocket: c.: C. 18. James Dalton, A Narrative, 1728. Ex haul a cly above.

haul cly, the. Purse-snatching: c.: C. 18. James Dalton, A Narrative, 1728. Ex haul a cly above.

haul down promotion. See promotion.

haul one's ashes. To coit: low Canadian: late C. 19–20.

Hauliers' slang. The British Road Services have a slang of their own: and much of it—that is, many of the printable terms—has been recorded in British Road Services Magazine, Dec. 1951.

Aberdeen booster. See Scotsman's fifth.

anchor. A brake: since ca. 1930.

Billy Bunter. A shunter: rhyming s.: since ca. 1925.

Chinese dominoes. A load of bricks: since ca. 1930.

Chinese gunpowder. Cement: since ca. 1930.

dangler or pup. A trailer: since ca. 1920.

hook, on the; on the ribs. On tow; very old; since ca. 1925 and 1920.

jockey or pilot. The driver of any heavy-load vehicle: since ca. 1925 and 1945.

load of wind. A light load: since ca. 1920.

monkey. 'Two-wheeled trailer used for carrying very long loads': since ca. 1930.

Mrs Greenfield's, staying at. See below.

pilot. See jockey.

pimple. A steep hill: since ca. 1925.

pipe. A telephone: since ca. 1925.

poodler. A small vehicle: since ca. 1935.

pup. See dangler.

ribs, on the. See hook, on the.

roller skate. A small, light waggon: since ca. 1945.

round the house. (Adj. and adv.) Of or for or in or by 'multiple delivery work': coll.: C. 20. Scotsman's fifth or Aberdeen booster. Coasting (n.): since ca. 1930.

showboat. A large eight-wheeled van (Fisher Renwick type): since ca. 1946.

skull. A passenger: since ca. 1945.

smoke, up the, adj. and adv. Going to London: C. 20.

spud-basher. A lorry carrying potatoes: since ca. 1920.

staying at Mrs Greenfield's. Sleeping in the cab of one's vehicle: since ca. 1925.

track, up the, adj. and adv. Travelling along a depot's particular trunk route: since ca. 1940.

In Drive, a motorists' magazine, there appeared in 1968, at p. 113, an article that appears to 'catch up' and add to the list given above. The only new terms, including modifications, are these:— bookie. A Scottish lorry-drivers' term for the office where he books in and receives his instructions and documents.

crime-sheet. A log-sheet.

gunpowder. Short for Chinese gunpowder.

junk pile. A lorry in exceedingly poor condition: a 'pile' fit only for the 'junk heap'.

quickie up the track. A return journey made during one night and along the usual route—cf. track, up the.

stiff 'un, the. A person given a lift: he just sits there while the driver does all the work and takes all the responsibility.

hava no and hava yes. (Mostly of persons, occasionally of events) to be ineligible or unattractive or inferior; to be very eligible or attractive; hence also n. and adj.: 'United Nations troops' (in Korea): ca. 1951–5. (Iddiwah, July 1953.) As it were, the 'have-nots' and the 'haves'; ex pidgin hava, to have.

Havannah, under a canopy of. 'Sitting where there are many persons smoking tobacco,' Sinks, 1848: ca. 1840–60.

have, n.—3. A disappointment, a 'let-down': C. 20. Ex sense 2 on p. 379.

have a baby. See kittens, having.

have a ball. To have a good time: among teenagers, since ca. 1945; among beatniks, since ca. 1957.

have a beat. To try; in cricket, to bat vigorously: since ca. 1925.

have a beat on. See beat on . . .

have a bit. See bit, have a.

have a bit off. See bit off, have a.

have a cook. See give a cook.

have a crack at. See crack, n., 13.

have a go.—2. To coit: late C. 19–20. Very general.

have a go, Joe, your mother will never know! often shortened to have a go, Jo. A c.p. of encouragement to a reluctant man: Cockneys' and Forces': since ca. 1935. (Atkinson.)

have a good chit. To be well spoken, or thought, of: Army (mostly officers'): since ca. 1930. Ex chit, 1, 2 (Dict.). Cf. give (someone) a good chit: to speak well of: Army officers': since ca. 1930.

have a roll! usually preceded by go and. Go to the devil: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)

have a tickle. See tickle, have a.

have down the banks and have high-ding-dong. To have a 'row', a fight: Liverpool: late C. 19–20. 'High-ding-dong, suggests a noisy fight; the banks refers to Canal banks, where fights often took place' (Frank Shaw, 1952).

have fifty (or a hundred) up. To coit with a girl: sporting: C. 20. Ex billiards.

have fun. See fun, have.

have had it.—3. Esp. in You've had it, You won't get it, you're too late, etc.: R.A.F.: since 1938 or 1939; current in Army since late 1940 or early 1941; >, in 1944, fairly general civilian. The New Statesman, Aug. 30, 1941; Grenfell Finn-Smith, in list communicated in April 1942; H. & P.; Jackson; Partridge. Ironical—perhaps short for 'Somebody else has (or, may have) had it, but you certainly won't.' See esp. Partridge, 1945.—4. "'He's had it'" and "'He's gone for a Burton'" indicate that's he's been killed, 'F. Rhodes (letter of Sept. 1942): R.A.F.: since late 1939. I.e. 'copped' it. This sense, according to Jock Marshall & Russell Drysdale, Journey among Men, 1962 (p. 17), 'originated in the Gulf Country of northern Queensland, where one of us heard it as early as 1929. Oddly enough, the phrase was never current in the populous south before the war. It was taken to Europe by Queensland troops or airmen and there, where lots of chaps were having it, so to speak, it came into general currency. It was circuitously from Europe, and not directly from the north, that the expression reached the southern parts of Australia.'

have (someone) in. To make a fool of: Aus.: since ca. 1940. Nino Culotta, Cop This Lot, 1960. A variant of have on (p. 380).

have it away. To escape: prison c.: since ca. 1940. (Norman.)

have it away on the hurry-up. To depart, to leave, smartly or hurriedly: since ca. 1945: c. >, by ca. 1955, low s. (Robin Cook, 1962.) An extension of the preceding.

have it away together. To copulate: mostly teenagers': since ca. 1950. Perhaps influenced by the sexual sense of have it off (below).

have it away with (something). To steal: since ca. 1925. Robin Cook, 1962.

have it in. To effect intromission: low coll.: late C. 19–20. Partly euphemistic.

have it in for (someone). To bear a grudge against: coll.: since ca. 1820. Alex. Harris, The Emigrant Family, 1849. Cf. carry in one's heart.

have it off (Dict.). It is the c. equivalent of pull it off. 'It is also used by a punter who has had a successful bet or by a man that has contrived to seduce a girl' (James Curtis, in a private letter, March 1937).—2. Hence, simply to copulate: low: since ca. 1940. In, e.g., Robin Cook, The Crust on Its Uppers, 1962.

have it on one's toes. A variant of have it away: prison c.: since ca. 1940. (Norman.) Cf. the S.E. heel and toe it, to walk in a race.

have it up. To copulate: low: late C. 19–20.

have kittens. See kittens, having.

have nothing on its feet. (Of a racehorse) to be either shoeless or to wear only light plates: Australian sporting coll.: since ca. 1925. (B., 1953.)

have on.—2. To have someone on is to be prepared, or actually, to fight: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

have on the stick. To make fun of, pull someone's leg: ca. 1870–1914. (William Westall, Sons of Belial, 1895.)

have one for the worms. See worms.

have one's back teeth awash (see back teeth underground in Dict.) is extant. Granville. The word back is sometimes omitted.

have one's ballocks in the right place. An approbatory c.p., applied to a well-set-up and level-headed man: C. 20.

have one's cut. (Of a male) to coit: low: late C. 19–20.

have the bird. To be sent about one's business: non-cultured: from ca. 1910. Edgar Wallace, The Avenger, 1926, 'In the vulgar language of the masses, I have had the bird.' Ex get the bird, q.v. in Dict. at bird, give (one) the.

have the goods on (p. 380) was also, by 1935, Australian and, by 1940, s. (B., 1943.)

have the needle—intensely, dead needle—to (someone). To be (extremely) angry with: since ca. 1925; c. >, by 1940, low s.

have the painters in or have the rags (on). See rags on . . .

have (someone) well under the cosh. To have someone completely in one's power: since ca. 1935. Cf. cosh, n., 1, on p. 151.

have (object)—will (verb), as in the 'Have gun—will travel' of advertisements in, e.g., The Times or in the jocular reassurance 'Have pen—will write': half a c.p., half a vogue phrase (cf. 'came the dawn'): since ca. 1945; by 1966, slightly ob.

have you any kind thoughts in your mind? A c.p. preliminary to asking for a loan or other favour: since the 1920's.

have you any more funny stories? and now tell me the one about the three bears. Tell me another!: c.p.p. of polite scepticism or boredom, esp. in Australia: since ca. 1930. (B.P.)

have you shit the bed? A low c.p. addressed to someone rising earlier than usual in the morning: late C. 19–20.

haven't his best friends told him? A jocular c.p.—based on the advertisements of a well-known deodorant—current since the late 1950's. Not necessarily in reference to body odour.

having a baby—having kittens. See kittens, having, near end.

having a good arm. A military c.p. (C. 20) applied to a man with numerous badges on his sleeve; e.g. 'marksman', 'farrier', 'Lewis gunner'.

having an easy. See not off below.

having fun? A c.p. addressed to someone in obvious difficulties: since ca. 1950. Cf. are you happy in your work? (above).

having kittens. See kittens, having.

Haw-Haw; in full, Lord Haw-Haw. William Joyce, broadcaster of propaganda from German wireless stations: 1939–45. Executed as traitor. Ex his tired and affected voice.

hawbuck (p. 380). Cf. John Masefield's novel, The Hawbuck, 1929, about fox-hunting people.

hawk it. To be a prostitute on the streets: low: late C. 19–20. Ex hawk one's mutton (Dict.).

Hawkesbury Rivers. The shivers: Australian rhyming s.: C. 20. B., 1942. Hence, Hawkes buries.

hawks. An advantage: London: ca. 1835–60. Sinks, 1848. Ex Fr. hausé.

hawse, come across one's (p. 381): goes back to

ca. 1810 or even ca. 1800; it occurs in, e.g., W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints, 1829, at I, 82. (Moe.) The same work (I, 99) has also cross one's hawse.

hawse-holes, creep (or come) in by the (p. 381). Variant: enter by . . ., as in Fredk Marryat, Frank Mildmay, 1829 (p. 242 of the 1897 edition). Moe.

hay, n. See chaff, 3.

hay is for horses; occ.—with conversion of hey to eh—'ay is for 'orses. A c.p. used when someone says hey! or eh? for I beg your pardon: C. 18–20. This, the oldest of all c.p.p., is recorded in Swift's Polite Conversation, 1738: see esp. my Comic Alphabets, 1961, and commentary edition, 1963, of Swift's Conversation.

hay-tit or haytit. A woman (tit) given to sleeping under haystacks; hence, a tramp prostitute: c., mostly tramps': C. 20. W. L. Gibson Cowan, Loud Report, 1937.

hay-wire; gen. haywire. Beside oneself with anger; crazy, very eccentric: anglicised, ex U.S., in 1936. (Ernest Weekley, in The Observer, Feb. 21, 1937.) For origin and American usage, see Irwin.

haybag, old. See old haybag.

haywire, go. To go crazy; of mechanisms, to get (completely) out of order: anglicised in 1936. Cf. hay-wire.

hazard drum; or h.-d. A gambling den or house: c. (— 1860); ob. H., 2nd ed.

he bought it. See buy it.

he could fall into (the) shit (Canadian a shit-hole) and come up smelling of violets. A low c.p., directed at an exceptionally lucky fellow: late C. 19–20.

he-cups. Hiccoughs: mostly Cockneys': mid-C. 19–20.

he'd drink the stuff if he had to strain it through a shitty cloth. He's a hopeless drunkard: low Canadian c.p.: since ca. 1920.

He-Face. A Public Schools', esp. Harrovian, nickname for men surnamed Baker. Ex he, a cake (see the Dict.). For further details, consult my 'Inseparables' in A Covey of Partridge.—Hence, He-Face Street, Baker Street, London.

he-fo. A sky-rocket: pidgin: from ca. 1860. B. & L. In Cantonese, lit. rise-fire.

he has had it. See have had it.

he looks as if he'd pissed on a nettle. 'A c.p. evoked on seeing a doleful countenance' (Leechman): late C. 19–20. Ex nettle, to have pissed on a, on p. 556.

He, Me and You. 'Familiar German types (of aircraft) are summarised in the technical joke, "He, Me, and You", the Heinkel, Messerschmitt, Junkers', E. P., 'Air Warfare and its Slang', in The New Statesman, Sept. 19, 1942; earliest printed record, however, is a terse paragraph in The Daily Express, July 3, 1940.

he never does anything wrong! (p. 381): ex a Gaiety Theatre play wherein the 'Rajah of Bong' sings, 'In me you see the Rajah of Bong Who never, no never, did anything wrong.'

he never had no mother—he hatched out when his dad pissed against a wall one hot day. A low military c.p. of C. 20.

he thinks it's just to pee through! 'Said of an unsophisticated youth' (Leechman): c.p.: C. 20. He thinks his penis is for urination only.

he will shag anything from seventeen to seventy.

A c.p. applied to an inveterate womanizer: ate C. 19-20.

he wouldn't say 'shit' (even) if he had a, or his, mouth full of it. A low Canadian c.p., describing a man excessively mealy-mouthed: since ca. 1930.

head, n., 2, goes back to the early C. 18; it occurs, e.g., in Woodes Rogers, A Cruising Voyage round the World, 1708, and in Smollett's Roderick Random, 1748. (Moe.)—5. A racing sharp: c.: from ca. 1885-6. Hence, a professional gambler, e.g. at 'two-up': Australian c. and low: from ca. 1890.—6. A long-term prisoner: Australian c.: C. 20. B., 1942. Looked-up-to by his fellow convicts.—7. A girl, a young lady: beatniks': since ca. 1959. (Anderson.) Ex 'head of hair'?

head, wear a. See wear a head.

head boy. Senior under-officer: Royal Military Academy: from ca. 1875. B. & L.

head bummaroo, the. A chief organiser; most important person present; manager: mid-C. 19-20; virtually †. A perversion of bumper (Dict.).

head down, get one's. To go to sleep: Services: since 1925. H. & P. One lays one's head down.

head hag. Headmistress: schoolgirls': C. 20. John Brophy, Behold the Judge, 1937.

head(-)lamp. An eye; usually in pl.: pugilistic: ca. 1840-90. Augustus Mayhew, 1857.

head like a sieve, have a. To be extremely forgetful: coll.: mid-C. 19-20.

head off, v.i. To begin a journey: Australian: since ca. 1925. 'Supposing that we get everything squared away, when'll you be ready to head off?': A. M. Harris, The Tall Man, 1958. Ex cattle-droving?

head on, have a.—2. To have a headache: coll.: C. 20.

head over tip. Head over heels: 1824, Boziana, IV; ob. Cf. arse over tip.

head pin. The head brakeman: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931). Cf. English king pin.

head screwed on right (or the right way), have one's. See screw on right (p. 738).

head-shrinker. A psychiatrist, esp. if a psychoanalyst: adopted, in late 1950's, ex U.S. In Woman's Own, Oct. 31, 1964, Monica Dickens writes, 'Deliver me from the head shrinkers, I have prayed.' An allusion to the shrinking of corpses' heads practised by certain South American tribes.

head them; heads-and-tails school. To play two-up; a two-up school: Australian coll.: resp. late C. 19-20 and C. 20. B., 1942.

*head-topper. A hat; a wig: c.: mid-C. 19-20; ob. B. & L.

headache. A problem; a worry ('That's your headache!'): since ca. 1920: coll. >, by 1947, familiar S.E.

headacher. A severe punch on the head: pugilistic: ca. 1840-90. Augustus Mayhew, Paved with Gold, 1857.

headie. See tailie.

headlights. Spectacles: Australian: since ca. 1905. B., 1942.—2. Female breasts: Australian since ca. 1910. Baker.

headlines, make the. To get one's name into the headlines or on to the front page: journalistic coll.: since ca. 1925.

heads, the.—2. Seamen's latrines: Naval coll.: late C. 19-20. Granville, 'Right forward'. Hence the Captain of the Heads, the rating responsible for their cleanliness. It prob. goes back much further: W. N. Glascock, Sketch-Book, II, 1826, has the variant captain o' the head, Naval s. of ca. 1790-1850. (Moe.)

heads-and-tails school. See head them.

heads on 'em like boils is an Australian two-up players' c.p., applied to coins that have yielded a long run of heads: since ca. 1930. (Lawson Glassop, Lucky Palmer, 1948.) Cf. the Australian card-players' heads on 'em like mice, applied to a very strong hand: since ca. 1935. (B., 1945.)

heap, n.—2. A person, a section, a detachment that is very slack and slovenly: Army: 1940 +. (H. & P.) Cf. shower.—3. An old car, esp. if owned by youths: Canadian: since ca. 1939. Ex 'heap of old iron'. (Professor F. E. L. Priestley, who, 1949, writes: 'Displaces jalopy, which barely survives, though still heard.') heap, go over the. To relieve oneself: colliery surface workers': late C. 19-20. Ex using the slag heap for this purpose.

heap of coke. Much earlier in Mayhew, I, 1851.

heap of pot. A quantity—5 pounds in weight—of marijuana: drug addicts': since ca. 1960. (The Times, Feb. 19, 1964.)

hear from you!, let's. See let's . . . (p. 479).

hear (a pupil, a child) out. To test his knowledge: elementary schoolteachers' coll.: late C. 19-20.

hear (oneself) think, one cannot or can hardly. A c.p., directed at much, esp. if excessive, noise: since ca. 1916.

heard, or have you heard, the news? The squire—or the squire's daughter—has been foully—or most foully—murdered. A c.p. satirical of the old late Victorian and the Edwardian melodrama: since ca. 1905. For its use in the Army of 1914-18, see Brophy & Partridge, Songs and Slang of the British Soldier, 1930; Phillip MacDonald, Rope to Spare, 1932; 'Jokers still come on with it,' A. B. Petch, in letter of Sept. 5, 1946.

(have you) heard this one? A c.p., preliminary to a story: since ca. 1910.

hearse. An enemy submarine: Naval and R.A.F. on Western Approaches: from ca. 1941. Derogatory rather than macabre.

heart, have a. To have a weak heart: coll.: late C. 19-20.

Heart, the. A col. for the Dead Heart (of Australia), Central Australia: since ca. 1930. (B., 1959.)

heart . . . , you may have broke your mother's. See you may have . . . in the Dict.

heart bleeds for, usu. my heart bleeds for you, Although lit. 'I grieve for you', it is always ironic, often quite bitterly ironic: since the late 1950's. Probably by a wincing reaction against that gushing sympathy which is insincere and, indeed, hypocritical—and wouldn't part with a penny. A variant, c.p., more American than British, is I weep for you.

Heart-Break Corner. A store-room for postal matter wrongly or insufficiently addressed or too loosely tied: post office workers': since ca. 1935.

Heart-Break Hilda. Frau Sperling: lawn-tennis world: ca. 1931-39. (H. W. Austin, in The Evening News, June 29, 1937.) Ex her powers of retrieving and her steadiness in return: ineffectual, however, when playing against a Marble wall.

heart of oak. A variant (e.g. in Binstead's Pitcher in Paradise) of hearts of oak (Dict.).

heart throb. One's girl friend; occ. one's boy friend: Cape Town University: 1940; ob. Prof. W. S. Mackie in The Cape Argus, July 4, 1946.—2. A glamorous film-star (either sex): 1945 +.

heart-to-heart. A heart-to-heart talk: coll.: C. 20.

heart-trouble. Euphemistic for 'fear' or 'cowardliness': 1940 +.

heart up, enough to have one's (p. 383) prob. goes back to ca. 1810 or even earlier, to judge by John L. Gardner, The Military Sketch-Book (II, 34), 1831, '... The rough sea had already almost "brought his heart up".' Moe.

hearth rug. A dupe, a simpleton: rhyming s.: since ca. 1910. On mug.—2. (Usually in plural.) A bug, esp. a bed-bug: rhyming s.: C. 20. Both senses, ob. by 1960. 'Never was so popular as steam tug (p. 827)'. Franklyn 2nd.

hearts. Short for hearts of oak (p. 383): C. 20.

heartily.—4. (Slightly) tipsy: Anglo-Irish: late C. 19–20. (P. W. Joyce, 1910.) Cf. happy on p. 374.

heat. A being wanted by the police: adopted, ca. 1936, from U.S. ('"The bleeding heat's on here for me,"' James Curtis, They Ride By Night, 1938) and >, by 1946, low s. See esp. Underworld.

heat, give the. See give the heat.

heave, n.—2. An effort; display of energy: Guardsmen's: since ca. 1925. 'To tell us "to get a powerful heave" on our kits and lay them out neatly,' Roger Grinstead, 1946.—3. A thrower-out or bouncer: Sydneyites': since ca. 1943. (The Evening News, Feb. 16, 1949.)

heave, v.—3. To throw away; to discard: mostly Australian: since ca. 1920. Ex sense 2 on p. 384.—4. (V.i.) to vomit: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B.P.) heavenly collar; heavenly lapel. A collar, or a lapel, that turns the wrong way: tailors': from ca. 1860. B. & L.

heavenly plan. A man: Australian rhyming s. of ca. 1885–1914. (B., 1945, citing The Sydney Bulletin, Jan. 18, 1902.)

heavens above. Love: rhyming s.: C. 20. Franklyn 2nd.

heaver.—3. (Gen. pl.) A person in love: low: ? C. 18–19. B. & L. Ex sense 2.—4. A coin of low value; a penny: C. 20. (A. E. Coppard, Adam and Eve and Pinch Me, 1921.) Ex being used in tossing-up? More likely to be a shortened form of the synonymous coal-heaver (p. 163).

heavy. For 1, 2, see Heavies, the, on p. 384.—3. (Ex, or at least cf., the artillery sense.) A heavy bomber or a large bomb: R.A.F. coll.: 1940 +. Jackson.—4. A serious actor: filmhand's: since ca. 1915. Cameron McCabe, 1937.—5. A girl: Australian teenage surfers': since ca. 1960. (Pix, Sept. 28, 1963.)

For sense 6, note that the heavy, as in 'In recounting the incident, he made me the heavy'=he made me the villain of the piece. (Robert Clairborne, Aug. 31, 1966.)

heavy, v. To 'beat up'; to slash; to disfigure (a person): c. and low s.: since ca. 1955. James Barlow, The Burden of Proof, 1968.

heavy, the (p. 384). Slightly earlier in Boxiana, III, 1821.

heavy-handed. 'Said of one who makes his drinks, and those of others, too strong' (Leechman): Canadian coll.: since ca. 1955.

heavy line, the. Tragic or, at least, serious rôles: theatrical: ca. 1820–90. Sessions, Dec. 1840

(p. 286), 'He played various character . . . perhaps the King, in Hamlet he played what we call the "heavy line" of business.'

heavy mob, the. The prison police: prison c.: since ca. 1944. (Norman.)

heavy petting. 'Petting' that is very passionate and stopping just short of coition: mostly teenagers': adopted, in late 1940's, ex U.S.

heavy sugar, the. 'The big money': low: since ca. 1925. Gerald Kersh, Night, 1938. See sugar, n., 1 (Dict.).

heavy worker. A safe-breaker: c.: C. 20. Because most safes are heavy.

Hebrew. See 'Tavern terms', § 3, c.

hedge, n.—2. A market stall: market-men's and showmen's: C. 20. Ex the fringe of greenery displayed, by many stall-keepers, at the front and sides of the stall.—3. The people gathered around a stall or a stand: fair-grounds': C. 20. (W. Buchanan-Taylor, Shake It Again, 1943.) Ex sense 2. Cf.:

hedge and ditch. Often shortened to hedge. A 'pitch' (stall; stand): rhyming s.: late C. 19–20.—2. Hence, since ca. 1910, a football, or a cricket, pitch. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)—3. The original of hedge, 3 (above): rhyming s. (on pitch): late C. 19–20. (W. Buchanan-Taylor, ibid.) hedge-bottom attorney or solicitor. An unqualified or a disqualified attorney or solicitor doing business in the shelter of a proper solicitor's name: legal: mid-C. 19–20; ob. B. & L.

hedgehog. Veal: London streets': ca. 1840–1900. Augustus Mayhew, Paved with Gold, 1857. The two kinds of flesh, cooked, are not unlike.—2. An anti-submarine weapon: Naval coll.: since ca. 1940.

heebs, the. A post-1930 variation—and derivation—of heebie-jeebies (p. 385).

heef (p. 385). Orig., heef was military s., esp. in India, for 'beef on the hoof'. 'The word heef became a parable for camping in the military areas and all its miseries,' Rudyard Kipling, 'The Army of a Dream' in Traffics and Discoveries, 1904: the n., therefore, was current ca. 1870–90. Unless, of course, Kipling 'invented the word, to flesh out his "dream" army with appropriate slang' (Robert Clairborne, Aug. 31, 1966).

heel. 'A fellow who seeks your company for the sake of a free drink.' H. & P.: Services, esp. among officers: since 1940. Adopted from U.S. airmen, ex the U.S. sense, 'hanger-on'. 'Thus heeling, paying a heel for something,' H. & P., 1943.—2. Ex U.S., ca. 1938, the sense 'objectionable fellow'—esp., 'one who is untrustworthy or treacherous'. You can't usually see your heel.—3. Apparently it was at first a polite short form of shit-heel.

heel!, not a. See not a heel!

heel and toe. To operate the accelerator and heel brake simultaneously: Australian motorists': since late 1940's. (B.P.) A pun on heel-and-toe dancing.

heeler. A cattle dog: Australian coll., esp. in N.S.W.: late C. 19–20. 'They snap at the heels of the animals, they herd' (Dr J. W. Sutherland, letter of Jan. 21, 1940).

Heffer, the. 'A desk diary published by W. Heffer & Sons' (D. F. Wharton, Oct. 24, 1965): University of Cambridge: since ca. 1950.

hefty (p. 385), as 'big and strong', occurs in Rebecca Harding Davis's 'Waiting for the verdict' in The Galaxy (IV, 336), July 1867, 'This water's gettin' too hefty for me.' Moe.

heifer(-)dust. Airy or meaningless talk: Australian: since ca. 1930. B., 1942. It was probably adopted ex U.S.; certainly it was, at first, euphemistic for bull-shit (p. 105), also Canadian—but not common. Australia has the synonym bull-dust. (D'Arcy Niland, 1955.)

Heinz; (one of) the 57 varieties. A mongrel dog: since ca. 1925. A reference to the 57 varieties of tinned edibles and potables manufactured by Messrs Heinz, the American food-product manufacturers.—2. Heinz varieties = 57, in Bingo: since ca. 1955.

Hell.—2. The same as Lower Tartary, q.v.; see also Upper Tartary.

hell, like (p. 386) prob. goes back to late C. 18. 'Cutting them up like hell' (severely criticizing them): W. N. Glascock, 1826. (Moe.)

hell!, not a hope in. There's no hope at all: coll.: from ca. 1910. Oliver Onions, Peace in Our Time, 1923.

hell, the. 'To hell and the hell are often confused in the U.S. and Canada. Apparently the abbreviated Go t' hell has been misapprehended, resulting in the ridiculous "Get the hell out of here!"' (Leechman): coll.: since ca. 1930.

hell and tommy (p. 386) occurs in John L. Gardner, Sketch-Book (II, 68), 1831. Moe. It is very much alive as an oath (hell and Tommy!) in Australia: witness, e.g., D'Arcy Niland, Call Me . . ., 1958.

hell around. To fly furiously 'all over the place': airmen's: since ca. 1915. Guy Fowler, The Dawn Patrol, 1930, 'He's been helling around the front since the start.'

hell-box and hell-matter. Among printers, the latter is strictly 'matter' set in type rescued from the hell-box or box for old battered type.

Hell-Fire is short for Hell-Fire Pass, which is soldiers' 'Hobson-Jobson' for Halfaya Pass in North Africa: 1940-3, then merely reminiscent. (See quotation at basinful, 2.)

Hell-Fire Corner. The Dover area, subject to shelling from German guns across the Channel, 1941-4; earlier (Aug.-Sept. 1940), S.E. England, conspicuous in the Battle of Britain.

hell hath—or holds—no fury like a woman's corns. A jocular c.p. (C. 20)—punning on the famous quotation, 'Heaven has no rage like love to hatred turn'd, / Nor hell a fury like a woman scorn'd' (Wm Congreve, The Mourning Bride, 1697).

hell of a note!, that's a. A grave situation: Canadian c.p., adopted—ca. 1950—ex U.S. (Leechman.) Out of tune.

hell or Connaught!, go to. See go to hell or Connaught in Dict.

Hell over the Hill. R.M.C., Sandhurst: Wellington College boys': ca. 1850-80. Major A. F. Mockler-Ferryman, Annals of Sandhurst, 1900.

'hell!' said the Duchess (p. 387). No; the fuller form is prob. a ribald elaboration, for, as the reviewer of this book said in The Times Literary Supplement, March 20, 1937: 'The saga of the Duchess, "who had hitherto taken no part in the conversation," was on men's lips at least forty years ago.' Also 'hell!' said the Duke, pulling the Duchess on like a jack-boot: C. 20. A Canadian variant is 'hell!' cried the duchess and flung down her cigar. (Leechman.)

hellishun, adv. Very: Australian children's: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. Cf. hangashun, obviously a euphemism for adv. hellish or hellishly.

hello, baby! A teenagers' greeting to a girl: coll.: since the late 1940's. An adaptation of U.S. hi, baby!

hello, unconscious! A familiar greeting to a girl that is either 'sexy' or dumbly blonde: since ca. 1938.

hellova, helluva. Hellishly, i.e. extremely—or (no more than) very: low, esp. Glaswegian: from ca. (? earlier than) 1919. MacArthur & Long, "'They're looking hellova well too, aren't they?'" A natural development ex helluva = hell of a. Also, since ca. 1910, Australian.

hell's delight. 'She would kick up hell's delight,' Sessions, April 1835. See hell, raise: p. 386.—2. As exclamation it = hell!: since ca. 1880.

help in. To join in (a gang fight): Teddy boys' coll.: since ca. 1947. (The Observer, March 1, 1959.)

help me out?, can (or will) you. A polite request for a small loan of money: since late 1940's. In 1962, Julian Franklyn told me of a Soho café that had the notice, 'Of course I'll help you out. Which way did you come in?'

help! sharks! See too late! too late! below.

help yourself! Just as you please!; please yourself!: c.p.: from ca. 1917. Richard Blaker, Enter, a Messenger, 1926. 'Often said in reply to "Can I use your 'phone?"' (A. B. Petch, March 1967.)

helter-skelter.—2. An air-raid shelter: (mostly Londoners') rhyming s.: 1939+. The New Statesman, Aug. 30, 1941.

hemp, n.—2. Marijuana: (mostly teenage) drug addicts': since ca. 1955. This drug is extracted from a plant resembling hemp, and the term is merely an ellipsis for American s. Indian hemp.

hemp, stretch the. To be hanged: c.: mid-C. 19-20; ob.

Hempire, the. The British Commonwealth of Nations: C. 20: sometimes jocular; sometimes disparaging.

Hen. A Henschel 'plane (German): R.A.F. 1940+. Partridge, 1945.

hen, adj. Female: beatniks': since ca. 1959. (Anderson.) Ex hen, 1, on p. 388.

Hen and Chickens, the. See Queen's Arms.

hen-cackle. A mountain easy to climb: New Zealand mountaineers': C. 20. B., 1941. Difficult enough to cause a cackle among the women. Cf.:

hen cackle, a mere. A trifle: New Zealand: C. 20. B., 1941. Ex prec.?

hen-convention or -tea. See hen-party.

hen-peck (or henpeck), n. A hen-pecked husband: domestic coll.: since ca. 1920.

hen-roost. That gallery in the old chapel (1872-1927) in which the masters' wives used to sit: Charterhouse (School): from ca. 1880; ob.

hen wife. See old haybag.

hence the pyramids! A c.p., applied to a non sequitur or uttered as an ironic jocular non sequitur: late C. 19-20. Ex the very rude, very droll recitation entitled The Showman, q.v. in John Brophy & E. P., Songs and Slang of the British Soldier, 3rd ed., 1931.

Henry, look for. See look for Henry.

Henry Hase. A bank or currency note: 1820, W. J. Moncrieff, The Collegians: 'A twenty pound Henry Hase'. In Boziana, IV, 1824, it occurs in a variant form, 'When to pass on the whip-hand makes his tender in browns, or glistner, Henry Hase, or bender.' Cf. Abraham Newland and Bradbury, both in Dict.

Henry Melville. Devil: rhyming s.: since 1887. Prompted—? originated—by 'Tottie', a Dagonet ballad written by G. R. Sims and published in The Referee, Nov. 7, 1887: 'What the Henry Melville/Do you think you're doing there?' Franklyn 2nd.

Henry Nash. Cash: rhyming s.: C. 20.

hens and bitches. Bends and hitches: Naval (R.N.V.R.) rhyming s.: 1914–18. (Gordon Maxwell, The Motor Launch Patrol, 1920.) Originally a spoonerism.

hen's fruit and hog's body. Bacon and egg(s): Naval stewards': since ca. 1925. Sunday Chronicle, March 1, 1942.

hens' teeth, as scarce as. Very scarce indeed: mostly Australian: late C. 19–20. (B.P.)

hep. In the know; having good taste: British jazz-lovers', since ca. 1945; ex Canadian jazz-musicians and -lovers, who adopted it, ca. 1925, ex U.S.—cf. next. (See also hip.) Ultimately ex the ploughman's, or the driver's hep! to his team of horses ('Get up'); the horses 'get hep'—lively, alert. In American, hence Canadian, rural dialect of late C. 19–20, 'He's mighty hep' = he's very shrewd.—2. Hence, alert and progressive and well-informed: beatniks' (as in 'hep doll') and others', esp. teenagers': since ca. 1957. Anderson.

hep cat. See 'Jive'. A jazz 'fiend' (swing music): adopted in Canada ca. 1925, in Britain ca. 1935, ex U.S.: ob. by 1950. (The Observer, Sept. 16, 1956.) Superseded by hipster.

her ladyship. See his lordship and cf. (at my gentleman) my lady. This is a working-class disparagement of a 'stuck-up' female: coll.: C. 20.

Her Majesty. 'A sneering reference to prudish and stand-offish girl or woman. A parody on Her Majesty' (Petch): late C. 19–20.

herbs. Oats: Australian racing: C. 20; by 1960, ob. 'When a horse became sluggish, it was given more "herbs"' (B.P.)—2. Hence, power of engine or motor: Australian motorists': since ca. 1930.

herder. An employee that, at a station, couples and uncouples rolling-stock: Canadian railroadmen's (—1931). Ex ranching.

here and there. Hair: Australian rhyming s.: C. 20. (A. A. Martin, letter of late 1937.)

Here-before-Christ Company, the. 'The Hudson's Bay Company, ex initials and long presence in Canada' (Leechman): Canadian: since ca. 1910; by 1960, slightly ob. 'Here's an earlier quote: 1872, Johnson, R. B., Very Far West Indeed, "I calc'late 'H.B.C.' to mean 'Here before Christ'."' here comes the bride! 'A jocular catchphrase, used when an engagement is announced' (Petch): since ca. 1920.

here endeth the first lesson. A (non-Catholic) c.p., used by the bored after a long speech or lecture or gratuitous exposition: since ca. 1870.

here goes! Sense 1 (on p. 388) occurs much earlier in The Edinburgh Weekly Magazine, Oct. 16, 1783, p. 77. (Moe.)—2. Hence a toast, equivalent to here's how!: The Port Folio, Sept. 6, 1806 (p. 144) reprints an unidentified British song, with the lines, 'So here goes what the world appals,/Old England and her wooden walls' (fighting ships). Moe.

here we come, mum—dad's on the axle. A schoolboys' c.p., current since ca. 1910 and expressing delight at speed on bicycle or scooter, hence at completion of some other activity.

here we go! or, implying repetition, here we go again! A c.p.: late (? mid) C. 19–20. (A. B. Petch, March 1966: as so often, reminding me that I had omitted the familiar and the obvious—which is shockingly easy to do.) Cf. here goes! on p. 388.

here's a couple of match-sticks. A mostly workmen's c.p., addressed to someone sleepy early in the day: late C. 19–20. To prop open his eyelids.

here's a five-pound note for you. A c.p. addressed to someone receiving mail obviously consisting of bill(s) and/or circular(s): C. 20.

here's a ha'penny—don't spend it all at one shop! A jocular c.p. to children: late C. 19–20. Or a penny.

here's hair on your chest! A fairly common Canadian toast: since ca. 1920. (Leechman.)

here he comes—the man they couldn't hang. An Australian c.p., directed at a man approaching a group of people: since ca. 1920. (B.P.)

here's looking! A toast: coll.: late C. 19–20. Short for here's looking towards you! (p. 388).

here's me head. See here's my head below.

here's mud in your eye! (p. 388) prob. dates from 1915, ex the muddy trenches of Belgium and northern France. The here's has often been omitted, even since very early days. One of the earliest written references is provided by H. V. Morton, In Search of England, 1927, on p. 71.

here's my (or me) head, my (or me) arse is comin(g). A workman's c.p., dating from ca. 1895, but, owing to the lesser frequency of the female type, not much used since 1940: in ref. to a girl or woman that, wearing high heels, walks with the head and shoulders well forward and with posteriors (esp. if shapely or buxom) well behind. Originally, of any forward-sloping person. 'Oh, he's all here's me head, me arse is comin'—he walks very much head-forward: esp. the Midlands: late C. 19–20. (Richard Merry.) here's Peter the Painter! See Peter.

here's where you want it!, with one's head touched or indicated. A c.p. = you must use your brains: since ca. 1910.

Herman Finck. Ink: theatrical rhyming s.: C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

hermaphrodite brig. See schooner orgy.

hermaphy. A hermaphrodite: jocular diminutive, used in medical circles: C. 20.

herring-gutted.—2. 'Gutless' (lacking courage): coll.: mid-C. 19–20; by ca. 1960, slightly ob. Perhaps ex sense 1 on p. 389.

Herring Joker (p. 389) should be Herring Choker; the meaning, 'man or ship from New Brunswick' (Leechman).

he's a poet! and who robbed the barber? are c.pp. directed at a person whose hair is long: resp. C. 20 and from ca. 1880.

he's a prince. He's the best of good fellows: Canadian c.p.: since ca. 1930.

he's gone north about. See north about . . .

he's got it up there. See this is where you want it.

he's not so well since he fell off the organ. A jocular, communal c.p. addressed to a man present: C. 20. The reference is to the organ-grinder's monkey.

het-up; often all het-up. Excited; 'in a state': adopted (as a coll.), ca. 1935, from U.S. I.e. heated up. Contrast steamed-up (p. 827).

hetero, adj. and n. Heterosexual: coll.: since late 1940's. 'All kinds of fun and games, hetero and homo.'

hex; esp. in put a hex on, to lay a spell upon a person or, e.g., a machine: Australian: adopted, ca. 1950, ex U.S., where, orig., c., deriving, via Yiddish, ex Ger. Hexe, a witch—cf. hexen, to practise sorcery.

hey(-)diddle(-)diddle. A violin: late C. 19–20. Rhyming on fiddle.

hey, Mudder, give my brudder the udder udder! This Canadian c.p., used almost as a tongue-twister and clearly issuing from one, has been current since ca. 1930, although never—for rather obvious reasons—very general.

hey-nonny-no. Female pudend: ca. 1590–1750. E.g. in a ballad in John Aubrey's Lives.

hi! Of Canadian coll. usage, Dr Douglas Leechman, in May 1959, remarked: 'This is becoming almost the universal informal greeting. Juveniles use it, even when first introduced, and babes in arms will answer "Hi!" when spoken to.'

hi-de-hi, greeting, answered by ho-de-ho (Gerald Kersh, They Die with Their Boots Clean, 1941). Hi therel: ho (or hullo) therel hi-fi. Of a gramophone recording, tape recorders, etc.: having high fidelity in tone and pitch: since the middle 1950's: coll. <, by 1960, S.E.

hi-jack, v.t. (Of one criminal) forcibly to deprive (another criminal) of booty: c.: adopted ca. 1931 ex U.S., where orig. and mostly of one bootlegger's robbing another on the highway. The Pawnshop Murder. Whence:

hi-jacker. One who acts as in the preceding entry: c.: adopted, ca. 1932, ex U.S. The Pawnshop Murder. For American usage and suggested etymology, see esp. Irwin.

hick, 2 (p. 389): common in Australia since ca. 1890.

hickaboo (p. 389). Perhaps rather an alteration of peekaboo? (Leechman.)

hickey (or hike); often elaborated to do-hickey. A 'thingummy': New Zealand: late C. 19–20. Perhaps ex a Maori word. B., 1941. n. The form do-hickey has long been common in the mid-west U.S.—2. An unsophisticated person: Australian: since ca. 1943. (Ruth Park, 1950.) Ex hick, 2 (p. 389).—3. A long, hard, 'suction' kiss that raises a blister; hence the blister so caused: Canadian: since ca. 1930 (?). Origin?

hickey(-)hockey. A jockey: Australian sport-ing rhyming s.: since ca. 1920. Lawson Glassop, Lucky Palmer, 1949.

hickory. See clock, n. 4.

hidden treasure. A landlady's husband that, rarely seen, does much work below stairs: jocular: C. 20.

hide, n.—3. A hide-out: coll.: since ca. 1910. In 1939–45, esp. a hide-out for vehicles—against enemy aircraft. (P-G-R.)

hide, v. (389). 'I was afraid to go back to my vessel as the captain would hide me for loosing my clothes,' Sessions, 1825.

hide, all. (Of cattle) mere skin and bone: Australian coll.: since ca. 1870. B., 1942.

Hide, the. The Covered Market: Caledonian Market pitch-holders': C. 20. (Jane Brown, I Had a Pitch on the Stones, 1946.)

hide and find. That strap trick in which the gull is invited to put a pencil into the loop of a strap: c.: from ca. 1885. Anstey, The Man from Blankley's, 1901.

hide the snobbery. See snobbery (Dict.).

hide-up, n. A 'hide-out' (hiding place): Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942.

hidey (or highdy or hidy)! How are you?: Australian and elsewhere: since ca. 1935. B., 1942. Adopted from U.S., it = how d'ye do; cf. hi-de-hi.

hidey hole. A hiding-place: children's coll.: mid C. 19–20. A hole to hide in.—2. 'Also a place to hide things in' (Leechman): late C. 19–20.

high, n. A peak or record in, e.g., production or sales, the opposite being low: coll.: since 1940.

high, adj.—4. (Ex sense 1: p. 389.) Under the influence of an exhilarating drug: Canadian since ca. 1925, English since ca. 1930.—5. 'The bird'—girl—'might be high (high principled) in which case he would get no dice or merely "a bit of bazooka"'—'petting' (correspondence columns in The Sunday Times, Sept. 8, 1963): since ca. 1960.

high as (occ. higher than) a kite. Extremely drunk: since ca. 1944. (Ex U.S.?) An elaboration of high, adj. (p. 389).

high as three pennyworth of coppers, about as. A c.p. (C. 20) applied to a short person.

high-ball. A signal to go: Canadian railway-men's: since ca. 1910. Hence, in general s. (since ca. 1925), give (someone) the high-ball, to approve, to sanction; hence also high-balling, n. and adj., travelling fast, succeeding.

high boost. See boost, be in high.

high boy or H—B—. 'A High Tory and Churchman, supposed to favour Jacobitism': C. 18. B. & L.

high-brow. See highbrow (Dict.).

high cost of dying, the. A trenchant c.p. parody-ing high cost of living: since ca. 1942.

high-falutin(g). See highfalutin(g) in the Dict.

high-fly, n. High-falutin; 'side': Cockney coll.: late C. 19–20. Pugh, 'She went in for so much style—sounding her "aitches", and all that kind of high-fly.'

high-grading, n. Stealing—or dealing in stolen—processed gold ore; illegal trading in gold from a mine: Canadian miners': since ca. 1918. (F. E. L. Priestley.)

high-hat, adj. 'Superior'; supercilious: since ca. 1930. Gerald Kersh, Night and the City, 1938; Oliver Onions, Cockcrow, 1940. Cf. the v.: p. 390.

high jinks, 2 ('a frolic'): earlier in Scott's notes to Guy Mannering, 1815.

high jump, take the. To be hanged: police: late C. 19–20. (The Free-Lance Writer, April 1948.)

high kick. A thrill obtained by taking a drug: drug addicts': since ca. 1940. John Gosling & Douglas Warner, The Shame of a City, 1960.

high line, the. A method of logging with high-boom transport: Canadian lumbermen's coll. (since ca. 1920), >, by 1950, S.E. (Priestley.)

high spots, hit the (p. 391) has, at least in Canada and since ca. 1925, meant rather 'to do something superficially' (Leechman).

High Street, China. Any remote place beyond one's ken: mostly R.A.F.: since ca. 1938. 'The underlying sense is that it is too remote to be taken seriously' (Atkinson).

high-tail. To make off speedily, as 'We high-tailed out of there': Canadian: C. 20; by 1950, coll. Ex a herd of cattle or buffalo suddenly taking off. Adopted from U.S.

high-top(per). A 'swell' thief: c.: ca. 1850-1900. Burton, Vikram and the Vampire, 1870.

high-ups, the. Persons with high rank; politicians enjoying their brief authority 'on top of the world': coll.: since ca. 1937. (John Bull, Aug. 28, 1943, has higher-ups.)

'Among Bazooka's varied jobs

She once conveyed to Bongo Bay

Two high-ups, lordly ones, or nobs—

Air-Marshal Bragg and General Fray,'

Commander Justin Richardson,

The Phoney Phleet, 1946.

high, wide and handsome. Going all out—swimmingly—very successfully: Canadian coll.: C. 20. (Leechman.) Also in the London Fire Brigade, of a building well alight: C. 20.

higher than a giraffe's toupet. Very 'high' on drugs: beatniks': ca. 1959-62. (Anderson.)

Highers. Higher School (or leaving) Certificate: schools': since ca. 1920.

highflier; highflyer. See high-flyer (Dict.).

Highland bail. See high-kilted (Dict.).

Highland frisky. Whisky: rhyming s.: since ca. 1870; by 1950, ob. (Franklyn, Rhyming.) Perhaps a blend of Highland whisky and gay and frisky.

Hightalian. An occ. variant of Eyetalian (Dict.). C. Rook, The Hooligan Nights, 1899.

highway surfer. One who 'rides high ways with board on top of car but never surfs' (Pix, Sept. 28, 1963): Australian surfers': since ca. 1961.

hijack; hijacker. See hi-jack.

hike, v., 1 (p. 391): Canadian coll.: late C. 19-20. (Niven.)—3. To arrest: low London: ca. 1860-1914. B. & L.

hike off, 1 (p. 392): much earlier in James Dalton, A Narrative, 1728, 'He hyk'd off with the Cly.' hiki. See hickey.

Hill, the; the Plain. Harrow School; Eton College: Harrow School coll.: mid C. 19-20. (H. A. Vachell, The Hill, 1905.) The former comes from Harrow-on-the-Hill; hence, by contrast, the latter.—2. The Hill, among Londoners, is a coll. for the Notting Hill district: late C. 19-20. (Nicholas Blake, The Whisper in the Gloom, 1954.)

hill and dale. 'The tale' as practised by 'con men' and their like: orig., and still mainly, underworld rhyming s.: C. 20. Jim Phelan, The Underworld, 1953.

Hill (or hill) captain. A military officer that spends his summer leave in India in a Hill station in preference to spending it in some more manly way, e.g. in shooting: military, esp. Indian Army's: ca. 1890-1947. It implies undue addiction to feminine society.

Hill-parrot. (Gen. pl.) An Indian Army term, dating from ca. 1890 to ca. 1907, as in Richards: 'Some men managed to work it to be sent to the Hills every year with the first party, and to stay there the entire summer; these were sarcastically called Hill-parrots by the men who did not have the luck to go to the Hills at all. A year or two later the custom of one party relieving the other at the Hills was abolished.'

Hillite. A spectator 'barracking' from the Hill, an uncovered portion of the Sydney Cricket Ground: Australian coll.: since ca. 1920. (B.P.)

hills are closing in on him—(poor So-and-So,) the. He's becoming very odd, beginning to go mad: United Nations troops in Korea: ca. 1953-5. Ex the forbidding Korean hills and mountains. (Anon., 'Slanguage'—in Iddiwah, The New Zealanders periodical of 1953-4.)

hinchinarfer (p. 392): 'Implying that her husband has but an inch and a half, hence her bad temper' (Julian Franklyn, 1962).

hinting gear. See front up above.

hinton. See 'Mock-Auction Slang' below.

hip. 'Equipped with enough wisdom, philosophy and courage to be self-sufficient, independent of society; able to swing on any scene' ('Basic Beatnik' in The Victoria Daily Colonist, April 16, 1959): Canadian jazz-lovers and musicians': adopted, 1956, ex U.S. A boppers' alteration of hep, which, in 1958, began to regain its virtue and its potency: see Norman D. Hinton, 'Language of Jazz Musicians' in The American Dialect Society, Nov. 1958. By 1961 (Anderson), it was old-fashioned among beatniks—cf., however, hip duck below.

Hip, the. The Hippodrome: London coll.: late C. 19-20. In, e.g., A. Neil Lyons, Arthur's, 1908. Cf. Hipp, the.

hip(-)disease. The habit of carrying a hip flask: Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1942.

hip duck. A nice girl, i.e. an attractive or sympathetic one: beatniks': since ca. 1959. (Anderson.)

hip flask. A revolver: R.A.F.: 1939 +. The Reader's Digest, Feb. 1941, Michie & Waitt, 'Air Slanguage'; The New Statesman, Sept. 19, 1942, E. P., 'Air Warfare and its Slang'. Ex the position in which it is worn and its appearance in the case.

hip-hip-hurrahs. Engine-room artificers: Naval (lower-deck): since ca. 1920. Granville. Ex the initials E.R.A.

Hipp, the. The Hippodrome (anywhere): theatrical: since ca. 1880. Cf. Hippo, the (p. 392).

hipper. 'Something soft placed under the hip when sleeping on hard ground' (B., 1943): Australian tramps': C. 20.

hippy. 'The hippies, latter-day beatniks, along with the younger "teeny boppers", met in Stanley Park' (Daily Colonist, Victoria, B. C., March 28, 1967) & '... hippies, a latter-day beatnik type, some of them barefooted and waving flowers' (ibid., April 16, 1967): Canadian: since 1966 or perhaps 1965. (Leechman.) By 1967, also British. In The Observer colour supplement, Dec. 3, 1967, Peter Fryer defines a hippy as a 'product of Haight-Ashbury district of San Francisco. Anarchic successors to Beat generation. Essential beliefs: protest, legalised drugs, opting out. Not to be confused with plastic hippies/most conventional youth who like to dress up at week-end.'

hipster. A jazz 'fiend' (modern jazz): adopted, ca. 1950, ex U.S. (The Observer, Sept. 16, 1956.) A development from lep cat.

hire it done. To hire someone to do something: Canadian coll.: since ca. 1930. 'I never mow my own lawn. I hire it done.' (Leechman.)

his dibs is used concerning a wealthy man: since ca. 1925. By a pun on his nibs (cf. nibs, p. 559).

His Ex. See Ex, His in Dict.

his (or his royal) highness. My husband: feminine, either jocular or derisive: mainly lower-middle class: late C. 19-20. Cf. his lordship.

his lordship. He: derisive coll.: mid-C. 19-20. Feminine: her ladyship: same period. Cf. my gentleman.

his mother never raised a squib. See squib, his mother . . ., below.

hissy. The Tommy's 'Hobson-Jobson' for Fr. ici, 'here': 1914-18.

hit, n.—2. Also hit-up. A game of cricket or lawn tennis: Australian coll.: C. 20. B., 1942.

—3. Only hit-up. A practice game; a few preliminary exchanges at lawn tennis: gen. sporting coll.: C. 20.—4. An attempted crime, esp. robbery or theft: c.: late C. 18-mid 19. In The Rolling Blossom (active prostitute), pub. ca. 1800 and reprinted in an American magazine, The Port Folio, Aug. 8, 1807 (pp. 125-6): 'To nimming Ned I went to bed, / Who look'd but queer and glumly, / Yet every hit, he brought the bit, / And then we spent it rumly': where bit = booty, and rumly = excellently.

Hit and Miss. Hitler and Mussolini: since mid-1940; ob. by 1947.

hit (someone) for six. To rout decisively in argument or business or other battle of wits: since ca. 1920. Cf. gone for six. Ex cricket.

hit him where he'll feel it or where it hurts him most. See knee, v., below.

hit it with (someone). To get along well with: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. A variant of hit it off (p. 393).

hit or miss (p. 393). Also, loosely, hit and miss.

hit that broad. See broad.

hit the deck. To land: R.A.F.: since ca. 1925. Jackson. See deck.—2. 'Also to sleep, cf. "hit the hay"', Robert Hinde, letter of March 17, 1945.—3. (Ex 1.) To crash-land: R.A.F.: since ca. 1940.

hit the hay (p. 393): but Canadian by ca. 1900. (Niven.)

hit the kellicks. To apply the brakes: Australian motorists': since ca. 1940. Cf. the synonymous anchors; kellick is an Australian form of S.E. killick. (B.P.)

hit the taps. To open the throttle: Air Force: 1939+. Charles Graves, Seven Pilots, 1943.

hit the ties. To 'tramp the ties' or walk along the railway track: Canadian (? ex U.S.): since ca. 1905; by 1959 somewhat ob. (Leechman.) Here, ties = (transverse) railway sleepers.

hit the toe. To go: Australian rhyming s., esp. surf-board riders': since ca. 1958. (B.P.)

hit the white. To succeed: Australian sporting: C. 20. Baker. Ex games j. hit-up, n. See hit, n., 2, 3.

hit up.—2. Hence, to charge (someone) unreasonably for a purchase, etc.: Australian: C. 20. Baker.

hit where one lives comes from U.S.: Artemus Ward (1834-67) uses it.

hitch, n.—2. A term of enlistment: Canadian Services': adopted, ca. 1935, ex U.S.

hitch-hike. To obtain a free ride on a walking tour, or, esp., to obtain a series of free rides, going on, or returning from, leave: coll.: adopted, ca. 1936, from U.S. The more English phrase is to travel on thumb: s.: since ca. 1925. Both mostly as verbal nn., hitch-hiking and travelling . . .

hitherao jildi! Come here, at the double!: Regular Army phrase: from ca. 1880. (The Observer, Sept. 20, 1936.) For jildi see the Dict.; hitherao is the Hindustani idher ao influenced by S.E. hither.

Hitsville. Success, as opposed to Squaresville, failure: since ca. 1960. (B.B.C. Light Programme, June 30, 1963.) The former elaborates hit, n. (p. 393); the latter, square, n., 6, below.

hive off. To depart: Australian: since ca. 1910. B., 1942. Ex bees.

ho gya, ho-gya, hogya. In trouble: nonplussed or stumped; failed: Anglo-Indians': mid C. 19-20. B. & L.

hobbs. A fad, an eccentricity: Tonbridge: since ca. 1880. (Marples.) Prob. ex a master's surname. Perhaps, however, from S.E. hobby.

hobson-jobson (p. 394) occurs earlier in George R. Gleig, Log-Book (I, 214), 1828. (Moe.)

hock. A man that goes with 'poufs': c.: C. 20. A rhyme on cock.

hockey, the. See hoggins.

hockey stick. 'The hoist used for loading an aircraft with bombs,' Jackson: R.A.F.: since ca. 1938. Similarity of appearance.

hocus, v., 2. Earlier in Boxiana, III, 1821.

hod.—3. A bit of hod, a fast girl, a prostitute: teenagers': since late 1950's.

hodad. A 'non-surfing beach bum' (Pix, Sept. 28, 1963) or, alternatively, 'a surfer not loyal to one beach' (B.P.) or ephemerally (ca. 1962-64) 'a youth who has a surfe haircut and a rocker's clothes' (B.P.): Australian surfers', esp. if teenage: since ca. 1961. Origin obscure; possibly 'Who [is that,] dad?' Dr Leechman, however, writes (April 1967): 'More likely, I feel, from "Who's that?" In the U.S. Negroes are apt to enquire, on seeing a stranger, "Who dat?"' hoddie. A hod-carrier, one who carries bricks: Australian: since ca. 1920. (B., 1953.)

hoddie-doddie (p. 395). Sense 1, read: ca. 1530-1900. Edward Lear, 1877, spells it hoddy doddy.

hoe into (a task). To work hard and diligently at (something): Australian: since ca. 1920. Agricultural metaphor. (B.P.)

hog, n., 1. Also, ca. 1860-1910, half a crown. B. & L.—7. A locomotive; hence, hogger or hog-head, a locomotive engineer: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931). Ex U.S.—8. A hogget (a yearling sheep): Australian coll.: late C. 19-20.

hog-fat. (Of a person) a nuisance, useful-for-nothing, a parasite: Australian: C. 20. (K. S. Prichard, Hazby's Circus, 1930.)

hog-wash (p. 396) occurs earlier in B.E., 1699, thus: 'Toplash, Wretched, sorry Drink, or Hog-Wash.'—3. See ogwash.

hoggers. 'Day dreaming. (Perhaps not unconnected with the after-effects of Hogmanay ?)': H. & P., 1943: Services: since ca. 1930. Rather, I think, a sense-development ex hogya (see ho gya).

hoggin. See oggin.

hoggins or oggins. A due share, esp. in pleasure—e.g. sexual, i.e. 'hoggish', pleasures: low C. 20. 'Cf. hoggins line at darts' (Atkinson). The (h)oggins line, the line or position at which one stands to make the throw, has, since 1957 or 1958, been predominantly the (h)ockey.

hogya. See ho gya.

hoi (Rossall and Haileybury: C. 20), the lowest team, set, or game at Rugby football: oips (Haileybury: C. 20) and hoips (Christ's Hospital: C. 20), beginners at football; hoy (Bishop's Stortford: C. 20), a townsman, a 'cad'; polloi (Cheltenham: since ca. 1925), the lowest football team or set: all these terms come from the Greek hoi polloi, lit. 'the many', hence, 'the multitude, the masses, the common people'. Marples.

hoick, v., 4. Also Australian: C. 20. Baker. A corruption of 'to hawk'.

hoick off, v.i. To become airborne: R.A.F.: since ca. 1925. H. & P. An elaboration of hoick, v., 3 (Dict.).—2. Hence, to depart, to begin a journey, to be on one's 'way to somewhere' (H. & P.): since ca. 1930.

hoips. See hoi.

hoist, v.—4. To strike (someone) with one's fist: Australian low: C. 20 B., 1942. Cf. lift, n., 4 (Dict. and Addenda).—5. To discard: Australian: since ca. 1930. (B.P.)—6. To steal: Aus.: mid C. 19–20. (B., 1959.) A generalization of sense 1 on p. 396.

hoist in. To endure, tolerate; to accept: Naval: since ca. 1945. 'I explained, but he wouldn't hoist it in.'

hoist merchant. A shoplifter: c.: late C. 19–20. Ex hoist, n., 3 (Dict.).

hoister, 1 (p. 396). Since ca. 1940, restricted to female operators.

hoity-foity, 2 (see highly-tighty! p. 391). Perhaps, rather, hoity comes ex haught and toity is a simple reduplication.

hokey-pokey, penny a lump, the more you eat the more you pump. 'It is often chanted derisively at children who have some ice cream, bought on the streets, by those who have none' (Albert B. Petch, Oct. 31, 1946): working-class children's c.p.: since ca. 1902.

Hokitika swindle. 'Hotel bar game played to create a jackpot from which payment for drinks may be made,' B., 1941: New Zealand: C. 20. of topical origin.

hold a spear. 'To take a very minor non-speaking part' (B.P.): Australian theatrical: since 1950; by 1965, coll.

hold a tangi. See tangi, hold a.

hold 'er, Newt! She's a-rarin'! This Canadian (esp. prairies) c.p. was adopted, ca. 1948, ex U.S.: 'pseudo-rural, with a tinge of contempt for the rustics' (Leechman). The 'she' naturally refers to an imaginary horse.

hold everything! See hold your horses!

hold it. To feel angry or resentful; to sulk or not speak: Cotton College: C. 20. Ex hold one's backside in angry desperation.

hold the baby (Dict. at holding the baby). See sell a pup (Addenda) for a note on both phrases.

hold the bag. To be duped: c.: from ca. 1920. By 1940, at latest, it was general s., usually in the form be left holding the bag. Canadian has, since ca. 1950, used also an extended form: (be) holding the nose bag, 'left in a ridiculous position after somebody has stolen the horse' (Leechman). 'Rather, I suggest, from the "snipe hunt", a practical joke current (among hunters, cowboys, etc.) in 1900 or earlier, in which the victim (usually a "greenhorn") is literally left holding the bag. Cf. under "snipe hunt" in Bernard Botkin, A Treasury of American Folklore.' (Robert Clairborne, Aug. 31, 1966.)

hold the fort. To mind the shop for someone while he's away (e.g. urinating): coll.: C. 20.

hold your horses! 'Hold the job up until further orders. [Comes from the Artillery], H. & P.: since ca. 1890 in the R.A.; since ca. 1930, as a phrase common enough in also the R.A.F. and even the Navy. Variant (R.A.F.): hold everything!: coll. (1940) >, by 1944, j.

hold your water! Don't get impatient!: mostly Naval: C. 20.

hole, in the. (Of a compositor) that, being behindhand with his portion, is holding up compositors working on the same publication: printers': from ca. 1860. B. & L.

Hole, the. The Severn Tunnel: railwaymen's: late C. 19–20. (Railway.) A specialization of hole, n., 9 (p. 397).—2. The underground Operations Room at Fighter Command Headquarters, Bentley Priory, 1940–45: R.A.F.: after 1945, merely historical. (Ramsey Spencer.)

Hole below the Naval, the. A certain Piccadilly club: C. 20. Pun.

hole, or hole out, in one. To become pregnant as the result of one's first amour: Australian: since ca. 1910. B., 1942. Ex golf.—2. Often used at male parties just before the marriage of the guest of honour, in relation to first-night intercourse. 'A man who "does it the first night" is a "man". One who does not is a "mouse" and one who has already done it is a "rat"' (a valued correspondent): Australian: since ca. 1920.

hole-in-the-wall employer. A small employer of sweated labour: Labour coll. (almost j.): C. 20. Dorothy Sells, The British Trade Boards System, 1923.

Hole-Out-in-von Ribbentrop. Von Ribbentrop: ca. 1934–9. He was a very fair golfer, even before he acquired the von.

hole up, v.; hole-up, n. To hide; a hiding place: Australian c.: adopted, ca. 1930, from U.S. (See Underworld.) B., 1942. In North Africa, 1940–2, Australian troops used hole up for 'to lie hidden'. holiday, 1 (p. 398). Hence, especially among builders and house-painters: C. 19–20.—3. A transfer from a position to an easier one: c.: C. 20.

holla (or holler or holloa) boys holla (etc.); often shortened to holla (etc.) boys. A collar: rhyming s.: late C. 19–20.

holla, boys, holla. From an old Guy Fawkes Night chant.

hollow, n. (p. 398). Both this and its variant, bit of hollow, occur in Maginn's translation of Memoirs of Vidocq, III, 1829.

Holloway's Unfinished Symphonies. The Maunsell forts erected in the estuary of the Thames: World War II. Ex the contractor's name? (P-G-R.)

hols (q.v. in Dict.) is often treated as a singular. Thus Arnold Lunn, Loose Ends, 1919, 'Where are you going this hols?'; 'Did you have a good hols?'

holt, 1 (p. 398): by ca. 1940, no longer low, esp. in the phrase in holts with, at grips with.

Holy Boys, the. Another explanation is that the Spanish mistook the regimental crest—a figure of Britannia—for the Virgin Mary.

Holy City, the. St Albans: railwaymen's: C. 20. (Railway, 3rd.) A city with a very famous abbey.

Holy Communion. 'Rum collected by the Coxswain in a bottle and drunk quite illegally by the Chiefs' and Petty Officers' messes on Sundays, especially in small ships' (Humphry Osmond, formerly Surgeon Lieutenant, R.N., in a communication of late 1948): Naval: C. 20.

holy day. 'In well disciplined ships of war, many officers devote a certain day in the week, purposely, that the crew "may overhaul their bags", and repair their clothes—gloss, on holy-day': W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints, 1829, at I, 97. (Moe.)

Holy Ghost. Toast (bread): rhyming s. (Army): 1939–45. Franklyn: Rhyming.

Holy Joe, 2. In Australia, a narrow-minded 'goody-goody': C. 20. B., 1942.

holy lance! See holy show! in the Dict.

holy mackerel! A mild oath, imported, ca. 1944, ex U.S.

holy nail. Bail (legal): mostly c.: late C. 19–20. (Underworld, 1961.)

Holy of Holies, the. The Admiralty, Whitehall: Naval: C. 20. Granville. Cf. holy of holies on p. 399.

Holy Rollers, the. Roman Catholics: since ca. 1920.

holy water. Water 'laced' with whiskey: C. 20.

Holy Week. Menstrual period: (Catholic) girls: late C. 19–20. Abstention from intercourse.

homage, to tender. See 'Tavern terms', § 9.

home, have gone. 'When an article of clothing, etc., ceases to be of service it is said . . . to have gone home . . . from the fact that many New Zealanders go Home—visit Britain—when they are old,' B., 1941: New Zealand: C. 20.

home?, what (or who) is that when it, he, she's at. See what is that . . .

home and dried, mentioned s.v. home and fried (p. 400), is itself coll.: late C. 19–20. In Australia, it has the nuance of 'easily done'. A common C. 20 elaboration is home and dried on the pig's back, as, for instance, in Vance Palmer, The Passage, 1930.

home-bug or h.b. A home-boarder, i.e. day-boy: at certain Public Schools, e.g. Harrow: from ca. 1880. Lunn.

Home for Lost Frogs, The. London; or England or even Britain: jocular: since ca. 1930. Punning home for lost dogs.

home, James! A c.p., dating from ca. 1870—if not earlier; James being the coachman, later the chauffeur. At first usually, and still occasionally, home, James, and don't spare the horses.

home with the milk, come or get. To reach home in the early morning: coll.: since ca. 1890.

homers. A 'home from home' in a port not one's own; a homely, comfortable place: Naval: since ca. 1925. By 'the Oxford-er'.—2. Homework: Public and Grammar schoolchildren's: since ca. 1930. The Oxford-er.

homework. Girls in gen., one's girl in particular: R.A.F. since ca. 1935, Naval since ca. 1940, Army since 1940 or 1941. Jackson. Also piece of homework: Partridge, 1945. Cf. knitting.

homework, do one's. To do all the work necessary for the successful completion of any job, whether, for instance, detection or the writing of a book: since ca. 1955.

homey.—3. An Englishman: New Zealanders' and Australians': C. 20. B., 1941, 1942. Semantics as at home, have gone. For New Zealand use, cf. Jean Devaney, Old Savage and Other Stories, 1927, and John Mulgan, Man Alone, 1939.

homo, 1 (p. 400). An earlier example is: Pierce Egan, Life in London, 1821.

homo, adj. Homosexual: since ca. 1925. "Mr Arkham's thinkin' very serious abaht the 'omo stuff," Michael Harrison, Vernal Equinox, 1939. Ex sense 2 of the n. (p. 400).

homo sap. A derisive alteration, virtually a c.p., implying that man (homo) is more of a 'sap' or fool than a wise man (sapiens): since ca. 1930; by 1965, ob.

Hon. An Honourable: upper classes' coll.: late C. 19–20. Nancy Mitford, The Pursuit of Love, 1945.

hon. 'Honey' (endearment): Australian coll.: adopted, ca. 1920, ex U.S. (Jon Cleary, You Can't See round Corners, 1949.)

honest. To the Dict. entry, there must be added: honest?, do you mean it?, or, are you speaking the truth? Both honest! and honest? arose ca. 1880.

Honest John.—3. (As honest John). An honest citizen: coll.: adopted, ca. 1943, ex U.S.

honest(-)to(-)dinkum. Australian variant of honest-to-goodness (Dict.).

honest trout. See 'Women'; cf. trout in Dict.

honestly! An expression of either disgust or unpleasant surprise: C. 20. (A. B. Petch, March 1966.)

Honey. An American Stuart tank: Army: 1943–45. (P-G-R.)

honey,—3. (Ex 1.) 'A shot you are pleased with is a "honey" or a "peach" or an "eagle"', The Evening News, Nov. 7, 1939: cinema: since ca. 1920.—4. Hence (?), anything choice or excellent: Canadian: since ca. 1945. 'Have you seen Jane's new hair-do? It's a honey.' (Leechman.)

honey!, it ain't all. See it ain't all honey!

honey-bun or -bunch. An attractive girl; also an endearment to one: Australian: adopted, ca. 1943, ex U.S. servicemen.

honey-do day. A man's odd, or unexpected, day off from his work, a day his wife will seize upon to urge him to 'Please do this, honey—please do that, honey': adopted, 1966, ex U.S. The Daily Telegraph, Oct. 8, 1966. (Owed to Mr Anthony Burgess.)

honey-pot.—2. A jumping into water with hands clasped around the knees: Australian children's: C. 20. B., 1942.

honey-star. One's sexual mistress: since ca. 1925.

honey thighs. A Canadian endearment to a girl: since ca. 1945.

honey-wag(g)on. A night-cart (only in outback towns): Canadian: C. 20. In the Canadian Army, 1914–18, the corresponding truck was called the honey-cart.

honeymoon salad. Lettuce: jocular: C. 20. 'Let us alone!'

Hong-Kong dog. A tropical fever: Naval: C. 20. 'Taffrail.'

honk. A bad smell: Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1953, suggests origin in Maori haunga, ill-smelling.—2. The nose: Australian: C. 20. (D'Arcy Niland, The Big Smoke, 1959.) Echoic.—3. A wild party, with much drinking: English: since ca. 1945. (The 'William Hickey' column in The Daily Express, July 23, 1959.) Ex honking below.

honk, v. To vomit: Services', esp. R.A.F.: since ca. 1940. Echoic. (Sgt R. Farley, Feb. 16, 1967.)—2. To stink: Aus.: since ca. 1925. (B., 1959.) Ex honk, n., 1.

honk like a gaggle of geese. To stink very much indeed: Aus.: since ca. 1930. (B., 1959.) An elaboration of honk, v., 2.

honk one's ring up. To vomit violently: esp. R.A.F.: since ca. 1955. An elaboration of honk, v., 1; cf. the next. Here, ring = anus. (Sgt R. Farley.)

honk up one's tank (or No. 6 tank). To vomit after a 'beer-up': R.A.F.: since ca. 1940.

honked. Tipsy: servicemen's, esp. naval: since ca. 1950. John Winton, We Joined the Navy, 1959. Perhaps suggested by stinking, adj., 3, on p. 833, and below: cf. honk, n., 1.

honker. A (large) nose: Australian, esp. Sydney: since ca. 1910. Ruth Park, The Harp in the South, 1948. Ex the honk of a motor horn.

Honkers. Hong Kong: Naval (wardroom): C. 20. John Winton, We Saw the Sea, 1960. By the Oxford -er.

honkers, like fried, jugged, sloshed, is 'drunk' among office- and shop-girls—and presumably their companions—of ca. 1955–60, with one or two of these terms likely to last for another few years. (Michael Gilderdale's article 'Fugitives from Fowler: A Glossary for Our Times' in The News-Chronicle, May 22, 1958.) With honkers, cf. honk, 2, and honking; with jugged, cf. jug, n., 5, and v., 3; with sloshed, cf. slosh, n., 2.

Honkers was orig. and still is, R.A.F. s., in the nuance 'very drunk': since middle or early 1950's or late 1940's. (Sgt. R. Farley.) Cf. honk, v., above.

honking. 'A drinking session' (Granville): Naval: since ca. 1940. Cf. toot, v.

honkoe. A loafer; a seedy punter: Australian: since ca. 1930. (Dick.) Origin? Perhaps ex Australian s. honk, a bad smell.

honky-tonk (or one word). Jangling piano music; noisy jazz: adopted—? rather adapted—ca. 1950 ex U.S., where it predominantly means 'a low place of amusement, or a low burlesque show, esp. where strong drink is available'. Origin unknown. Perhaps either a rhyming reduplication of honk, to make a honking noise (cf. honk, n., 3, and honking, above), or related to N.W. English dial. honk, to idle about.

hoo. A fuss; perturbation: since ca. 1935. Ngaio Marsh, Overture to Death, 1939. Ex hoo-ha (p. 401).

hoo-ha. See hoo-hah.

hooch in quarters. 'Hooching in quarters. Holding a party in one's room,' H. & P.: Services: since ca. 1940. See hooch, p. 401.

hooched. Tipsy: South Africa: since ca. 1939. Professor W. S. Mackie in The Cape Argus, 1946. Ex hooch (p. 401).

hoochie or hoochy. A temporary shelter serving as living-quarters: among United Nations troops in Korea: ca. 1951–5. Ex Japanese uchi, a house. (Iddiwah, July 1953.)

hood. A hoodlum: Canadian (— 1949); adopted from U.S.

hoor. See hoor.

hooley. Nonsense; 'eyewash': adopted, ca. 1937, from U.S. Short for ballyhooley.

hoof, get the. To be dismissed or turned out: proletarian: C. 20. W. L. George, The Making of an Englishman, 1914.

hoof it, 1 (p. 401): not low in C. 20 Australia, where it is used esp. by motorists temporarily and perforce pedestrian. (B.P.)—3. To decamp: c.: from ca. 1870. B. & L.

hoof the pad. To go on tramp; be a tramp: Australian: mid-C. 19–20; by 1930, ob. (G. B. Lancaster, Jim of the Ranges, 1910.) Cf. hoof it on p. 401.

hoofers. A dancer: Canadian: since ca. 1925. Cf. hoof, v., 2 (p. 401).—2. A chorus girl: Australian: adopted, ca. 1930, ex U.S. (John Cleary, The Climate of Courage, 1954.)

hoo-hah (or hoo-ha); sometimes huh-hah. A water-closet: since ca. 1920. (Christianna Brand, Death in High Heels, 1941 (latter spelling).) Origin? 'I suggest as an origin the grunting hoo! of effort, followed by the ha! of satisfaction': Ramsey Spencer.—2. A two-tone warning horn: since ca. 1955. The Evening Echo (Bournemouth), April 21, 1966.

hook, n.—7. A shoplifter: c.: C. 20. A deviation from sense 2.—8. An anchor badge: Naval: C. 20. Also the anchor itself: nautical: since ca. 1890.—9. A chevron, usually in pl. hooks: Australian soldiers': since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.)—10. A '7': Australian poker-players': since ca. 1920. (B., 1953.)

hook, v.—6. To punch (someone): Australian: since ca. 1925. (Dick.) Ex boxing—the punch known as the hook.

hook, off the. Out of a difficult or embarrassing situation: Canadian: since ca. 1945. (Leechman.)—2. (Of a married man) 'out with the boys': Australian: since ca. 1920. (B.P.) hook, on the. See 'Hauliers' Slang'.

hook, sling one's.—3. (Ex. 1.) To die: since ca. 1860; ob.

hook it (p. 402): earlier in Sessions, Aug. 1835, 'Hobbs said, "Hook it, you b——s."' hook, line and sinker. Completely, utterly: coll.: late C. 19–20. Ex fishing. (Roget's Thesaurus, edition of 1962.)

hook off.—2. To go away: Cockneys': late C. 19–20. 'Oi—'ook orf! 'op it!' (Julian Franklyn.)

hook one's bait (or mutton). To depart; to decamp, make off: New Zealand and Australian: C. 20. Baker. Elaboration of hook it (Dict.).

hook up (a horse) is applied to a jockey that prevents it from winning, usually by strong-arm tactics: Australian sporting: since ca. 1930. (B., 1953.) Lawson Glassop uses it in Lucky Palmer, 1949. By 1940, also British, as in, 'The occasional horse will be "stopped" or "hooked up"' (John Lawrence, in The Sunday Telegraph, Aug. 13, 1961).

hook-up party. 'Men who, for some reason, avoid Divisions' (Granville): Naval: C. 20.

hook up with (p. 402). Dr Leechman thinks that Beames was perhaps confusing it with lock horns with. The predominant Canadian sense, since ca. 1910 at least, is 'to join forces with' or merely 'to encounter'.

hooked, adj. (Hopelessly) addicted to drugs: Canadian (from U.S.): since ca. 1925. Also, by 1945, English and Australian, esp. among drug addicts. (The Times, Feb. 19, 1964.)

hooked on, to be. (Of a woman) to be casually 'picked up': Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Cf.—in Dict.—hook on to and hooked up, 2.

hooker.—5. A shunter: railwaymen's: C. 20. (Railway, 3rd.)

hooks, drop . . . off the (p. 403) prob. goes back to ca. 1800. John L. Gardner, The Military Sketch-Book (II, 17), 1831, 'The French, now at our right and left, opened fire on us, which knocked many a poor fellow off the hooks, and we fell back to the main body of our troops.' Moe.

hooks, off the, adj., 4. Earlier in W. M. Thackeray, Vanity Fair, 1848.

hooks, on. See put the hooks on.

hooks into, get her. (Of a female) to have a man in tow, or engaged, or married: since ca. 1920.

hookum (p. 403).—2. Hence, true information: Army: since ca. 1918.

hooky, n. A Leading Seaman: Naval: since ca. 1900. H. & P. 'Ex the anchor he wears as badge of office' (Granville).

hooky, do. To apply fingers and thumb contemptuously to one's nose: streets': from ca. 1860. B. & L.

hooler hoop. The ringed keel of a nuclear submarine of the Dreadnought type: Naval and dockyards': since ca. 1961. (Wilfred Granville.) A pun on S.E. hula hoop.

hooley. A spree: Anglo-Irish, probably originating among the Irish Guards: C. 20. Perhaps ex Hindustani huli, a festival. (Dr H. W. Dalton.) hooligan. Too late for inclusion in the Dict. proper, I have found the following confirmation of the proper-name origin. Clarence Rook in his sociologically valuable The Hooligan Nights, 1899—portions of it had been published early in the same year in The Daily Chronicle—writes thus: 'Good Americans . . . may be seen . . . eating their dinner at the Cheshire Cheese. I was bound on an expedition to the haunts of a more recent celebrity than Dr Johnson. My destination was Irish Court and the Lamb and Flag. For in the former Patrick Hooligan lived a portion of his ill-spent life, and gave laws and a name to his followers; in the latter, the same Patrick was to be met night after night, until a higher law than his own put a period to his rule. . . . My companion was one . . . who held by the Hooligan tradition, and controlled a gang of boys who made their living by their wits, and were ready for any devilry if you assured them of even an inadequate reward. . . . The dwelling-place of Patrick Hooligan enshrines the ideal towards which the Ishmaelites of Lambeth are working; and . . . young Alf's supremacy over his comrades was sealed by his association with the memory of a Prophet.'

At the beginning of Chapter II, he expatiates thus: 'There was, but a few years ago, a man called Patrick Hooligan, who walked to and fro among his fellow-men, robbing them and occasionally bashing them. This much is certain. His existence in the flesh is a fact as well established as the existence of Buddha or of Mahomet. But with the life of Patrick Hooligan, as with the lives of Buddha and of Mahomet, legend has been at work, and probably many of the exploits associated with his name spring from the imagination of disciples. It is at least certain that . . . he lived in Irish Court, that he was employed as a chucker-out at various resorts in the neighbourhood. . . . Moreover, he could do more than his share of tea-leafing, . . . being handy with his fingers, and a good man all round. Finally, one day he had a difference with a constable, put his light out, and threw the body into a dust-cart. He was lagged, and given a lifer. But he had not been in gaol long before he had to go into hospital, where he died. . . . The man must have had a forceful personality, a picturesqueness, a fascination, which elevated him into a type. It was doubtless the combination of skill and strength, a certain exuberance of lawlessness, an utter absence of scruple in his dealings, which marked him out as a leader among men. Anyhow, though his individuality may be obscured by legend, he . . . left a great tradition. . . . He established a cult.'

hoon, whence the rhyming silver spoon. A procurer of prostitutes: Australian c.: since ca. 1935. (B., 1953.) The term occurs in Xavier Herbert's novel, Capricornia, 1939, "'You flash hoon,'" he went on, "'Kiddin' you're white, eh?'" hoop, n.—2. A jockey: Australian sporting: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. With a pun on race-course ring.

hoor; pronounced and often written hooser. An Australian and New Zealand pronunciation of fig. whore: (?) mid C. 19–20. (D'Arcy Niland, The Shiralee, 1955, 'Get out of here, you drunken hooser.') hooray, 2 (p. 403), is also Australian, as in Leonard Mann, Mountain Flat, 1939, "'Good-bye, Jim, good-bye, Lottie.'" "Hooray, George," Jim answered.'

hooroo!—2. Good-bye: Australian: since ca. 1910. B., 1942.

hoorooosh. A tremendous fuss or uproar or row, in, e.g., politics: since ca. 1930. Cf. the North Country and Midlands dial. hooroo, an uproar (E.D.D.). Echoic. Immediately ex the W.W. I military sense, 'a hard-fought, a bloody, battle', ob.—not entirely †—in W.W. II. 'Often used in my battalion in France 1916–18': Dr R. L. Mackay, M.D., note of early 1967.

hoor's get or hoorsget. See whore's get, 2 (Addenda).

hoosh.—2. 'Hoosh—corned beef prepared as a hash with potatoes' (Daily Colonist, Victoria, B.C., June 19, 1960): Canadian Navy: ca. 1900–25. Perhaps, therefore, a slangy variant of S.E. hash.

hooshing. Landing at great speed: R.A.F.: since ca. 1938. H. & P. Echoic.

hoot, 'money': B., 1942, thinks it arose in the early 1840's and proves its existence in the 1850's.

hoot, v. To stink: Australian low: since ca. 1920. B., 1942.

hoot him! A derisory and contemptuous c.p., roughly 'Look at him!' or, according to the context, 'Hark at him!': Aus. juvenile: ca. 1920–40. It often occurs in Norman Lindsay's novel about boys: Saturdee, 1933.

hooter.—2. Nose: low jocular: since ca. 1940.

hootin' Annie. A variant, partly jocular and partly folk-etymological, of the American hoote-nanny, an informal variety show held around a so-called camp fire: Australian surfers' coll., adopted ca. 1962. (Pix, Sept. 28, 1963.) Hoote-nanny is of obscure origin and, in 1963, was still mainly dialectal. At first, as in 'I don't give a hootenanny', I don't care a damn.

hoovering. 'The now famous "sweeps" by Fighter Command over Northern France. They get into all the corners!' (H. & P., 1943): R.A.F. Ex the Hoover vacuum-cleaner.—2. 'In use among Cockneys during the 1940 blitz: applied to the undulating note of the unsynchronized engines of the German Heinkel III bomber' (H. R. Spencer).

hooya! A children's derisive cry: Australian: C. 20. (B., 1943.)

hop.—3. Half: pidgin: mid-C. 19–20. B. & L.—4. (To) have: id.: id. Ibid.—5. A stage—the flying done in one day—of a long journey by air: R.A.F. coll.: since ca. 1925. Jackson.

hop, v. To get a lift on (a vehicle), as in 'I'll hop a lorry'; whence lorry-hopping. Services (originally Army): since ca. 1918; by 1946, civilian. (P-G-R.) Elliptical for hop on to.—2. Hence, simply to board, as hop a tram or a bus: coll.: since ca. 1945.

hop off.—2. To depart: coll. (? originally Cockney): late C. 19–20.

hop, skip and jump,—do with a. To do with ease: coll., mostly Cockneys': from ca. 1890.

hop Harry. A bowler hat: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. It'll just bow along.

hop into. To attack (a person), tackle (a job), with alacrity: Australian: late C. 19–20. B., 1942. Ex a sprightly boxer's footwork. Cf. hop-out and hop out on p. 404.

hop on, v.i. (Of men) to coit: low: C. 20. George Ingram, Cockney Cavalcade, 1935.

hop the Charley (or -ie). To decamp: low: from ca. 1870; ob. B. & L. Ex Charley Wag.

hop the twig. Sense 2 (p. 404) had, among Air Force (esp. Canadian) pilots and aircrews in 1939–45, the particular nuance, 'to crash fatally': Partridge, 1945.

hop time. Leisure: pidgin: mid-C. 19–20. B. & L. Lit., half-time.

hope in hell!, not a. See hell!, not a hope in.

hope it keeps fine for you! A parting-phrase c.p., which may refer to prospects other than meteorological: since ca. 1915: often derisive. An occ. variant: hope you have a fine day for it.

hope your rabbit dies (p. 404). Orig., a curse, meaning 'I hope you lose your virility!': see rabbit live, on p. 682. Compare the eroticism of pop goes the weasel.

hophead. A wild fellow; a rash, foolish one: New Zealand: since ca. 1943. (Slatter.) Adapted ex U.S. sense.

hopped up. Under the influence of an exhilarating drug: Canadian c. (ex U.S.): since ca. 1935; by 1945, s. hopper.—5. A bus inspector: Londoners': since ca. 1935. He keeps hopping on and off buses.

hopping pot, the. The lot; esp. 'That's the hopping pot', the end of the day's work: rhyming s. late C. 19–20.

hoppy Brum. A cripple: low: C. 20.

hops! (Acclamation for) a winning throw: darts players: since ca. 1930. 'A double thirteen achieves this. If you get a single, you are said to be split or cracked, with two darts left and thirteen to make.' (Wilfred Granville.)

hops, on the. On a drinking bout: c.: from ca. 1920. On on the beer.

Horace. 'A jocular form of address, often used by men to boys in offices, etc.' (Albert B. Petch, Sept. 5, 1946): coll.: C. 20.

Horace—stop it! More gen. stop it, Horace!

horizontal, adj. Topsy—very tipsy: Service officers': since ca. 1935. H. & P. horizontal champion. 'One with an infinite capacity for sleep' (Granville): Naval: since ca. 1930. Ironic. Ex boxing.

horizontal exercise. Sexual intercourse: Naval (? Australian only): since ca. 1930.

horn, 4 (p. 405). Hence, get (or give) cheap horn, to be sexually excited by smutty talk or reading-matter: late C. 19–20.—6. n. See fish-horn.

horn in on. To intrude upon; to interfere in: Australian: late C. 19–20. (B.P.) Ex cattle.

horn pills. See back-up pills and cf. horn, 4 (p. 405).

Hornet's Nest, the. Heligoland Bight: R.A.F. Bomber Command: 1939–41. Ex multitudes of German fighters based near by.

horney, n.—4. A street horn-player: proletarian: from ca. 1880. Arthur Morrison, 1896.—5. A bull, steer, cow: Australian: C. 20.

horns. Cattle: Australian coll.: late C. 19–20. Archer Russell, A Tramp Royal, 1934, 'A mob of "horns" for the markets of the south.'

horny-steerer. A bullock driver: Australian: ca. 1920–50. (B., 1943.)

horrible. A larrikin: Australian: ca. 1925–55. (B., 1943.)

horrible man. 'Sergeant's sarcastic mode of address,' H. & P.: Army: since ca. 1930.

horrid, adj.—2. Tipsy: ca. 1780. See mops and brooms (Dict.).

horroroscope. A frightening horoscope-reading: since ca. 1930.

hors d'œuvre book. An order book: Australian jocular: since ca. 1950. (B.P.)

horse, n., 2 (p. 406). More explicitly: a day's rule, i.e. leave of absence, from the Fleet Prison: debtors': ca. 1815–50. Pierce Egan, Life in London, 1821.—9. A mud-bank, esp. in estuary waters: bargees': from ca. 1880. Why?—10. A prostitute's customer: South African prostitutes': C. 20. (Communicated in May 1946.) Cf. horse, v., 1 (Dict.).—11. A vocative to a man whose name isn't known: Royal Navy: since ca. 1917. Cf. old horse, 2 (p. 584).—12. A practical joke: University of Alberta: since ca. 1930. Probably ex S.E. horse-play.—13. A prostitute: Naval lowerdeck: since late 1940's. Ex the pl. whores.—14. Hence 'a casual girl friend, as opposed to a party, who is a more steady acquaintance' (W. Granville, Nov. 22, 1962): since ca. 1950.

Sense 9 is also a yachtsmen's term and, as Julian Franklyn tells me, it arose 'because, if you get astride it on a falling tide, you must keep your seat until rescued by the next flood'.

horse, water one's. A variant of water one's nag (p. 549).

horse-and-buggy. Old-fashioned; antiquated: Canadian (? ex U.S.) coll.: since ca. 1925; by 1955, S.E.

Horse and Cart, the. The 'Wolverton to Willesden parcels train' (Railway, 3rd): railwaymen's: since ca. 1945 (?).

horse and horse. 'When shaking dice, best two out of three, if the first two throws result in a tie, the players have a horse apiece, or are horse and horse' (Leechman): Canadian: C. 20.

horse and trap. Gonorrhœa: since ca. 1870. Rhyming clap (Dict.).—2. To defecate: rhyming s.: C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.) On crap, 1 (p. 189).

horse doctor. A medical officer: Forces': 1939–45. Never common.

horse lop. A pudding—or puddings—of plumless suet: military: from ca. 1870; ob. B. & L.

horse-marine (p. 407) occurs in W. N. Glascock, Sketch-Book, II, 1826. Moe.

horse marines, the.—3. Men that contract for the horse-traction of casual vessels: canal-men's (esp. in N.E. England): late C. 19–20. In e.g., L. T. C. Rolt, Narrow Boat, 1944.

horse on one, have a. When rolling best of three, to be one down: Canadian dice-players': since ca. 1925.

horse-painting. The disguising of racehorses: racing-world coll.: C. 20. (Margaret Lane, Edgar Wallace, 1938.)

horse(-)pug. A horse-driver on a labouring job: Australian: since ca. 1910. B., 1942. Rough on the horse's mouth.

horse-shoes, ringing the. See ringing the horse-shoes.

horse to a hen, a. Long odds: sporting coll.: ca. 1810–60. Boxiana, III, 1821.

horsed. Exhilarated with heroin: drug addicts': since ca. 1950. (Robin Cook, 1962.) Ex horse, c. for heroin—a term adopted, ca. 1945, ex U.S.

horses. Short for galloping horses, q.v. at fighting cats: R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. 'He's got his horses' = he's been promoted to Warrant Officer. (Bebbington).—2. See horse's hoof.

horses, water the. See water one's pony.

horses and carts. (The game of) darts: rhyming s. mostly theatrical: C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.) horse's arse or hoss's ass is contemptuous for a person disliked and distrusted: Canadian (esp. soldiers'): C. 20. Jocular elaboration: (the) north end of a horse going south.

horse's hoof; often shortened to horses. A male pervert: rhyming s. (on poof): since ca. 1910. Cf. the commoner iron (hoof).

horse's neck. A drink of ginger ale and brandy: Public Schools' and Naval: since ca. 1925. Granville; The Daily Telegraph, August 14, 1956.—2. A polite form of horse's ass: Canadian: since ca. 1920.

horses sweat, men perspire and women glow. A c.p. directed, in mild (often jocular) reproof at a man saying he sweats, still more than a woman does: C. 20. By 1960, slightly ob.: nowadays, many women prefer to sweat or, at the worst, to perspire.

horseshoe. See horse-shoe (Dict.).

horsing around. The playing of practical jokes: Canadian Servicemen's: since not later than 1939. H. & P. Cf. S.E. horse play.

hose or hosepipe, v.i. and v.t. To spray liquid fire from a flame thrower: Army: 1941 +. (P-G-R.) hospital bum. 'A young doctor who, having completed his medical training, cannot persuade himself to leave the hospital and enter general practice. This psychological block is so well known to the profession that those afflicted by it have become known as "hospital bums". I first heard it in October 1961' (Douglas Leechman). Canadian medical: since late 1950's.

hospital grounds. A flat, easy run: coach-drivers': C. 19. (W. O. Tristram, Coaching Days . . ., 1888.)

hospital sheep. Sick sheep that are segregated: Australian rural coll.: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)

hospitals, walk the. See walk the hospitals.

hoss's ass. See horse's arse.

hostel. See 'Tavern terms', § 3.

hosteller. A 'scrounger' and/or adventurer frequenting Work Aid Homes and such places: vagrants' c.: from ca. 1920. W. A. Gape, Half a Million Tramps, 1936.

hostie. An airline hostess: Aus.: since ca. 1955. Nino Culotta, Cop This Lot, 1960, "'That hostie's a slashin' line," Dennis said.'

hostile (p. 408): earlier in sense 'inimical, esp. to hoboes': Canadian tramps': late C. 19–20. (Niven.) Ex U.S. hostile ord. An ordinary seaman enlisted for 'hostilities only': Naval: 1939 +. Granville.

Hostile Territory. Eastern Region: railway-men's: since middle 1940's. Railway, 3rd.

hot, n.—2. 'I . . . had a pot of hot, which is beer with gin in it,' Sessions, March 1847: public-houses': ca. 1830–90.—3. A penny; hots, money: Felsted School: late C. 19–20.

hot, adj., 11 (p. 408), anticipates the sense 'recent or fresh' as applied to information, a sense adopted, ca. 1943, ex U.S.—12. Stinking; (e.g. of fish) stale: Australian traders': since ca. 1930. (B., 1953.) Probably influenced by honk.—13. Stolen: Canadian (ex U.S.), since ca. 1925; English and Australian, since ca. 1935. Originally c.; by 1945, at latest, s.—14. Hence, smuggled: Australian: since late 1930's. (B.P.)—15. Very much favoured; regarded as likely to win, as a candidate in an election: since ca. 1910. Ex senses 6 and 8 on p. 408.

hot and bothered, all. See all hot and bothered.

hot and cold. Gold: rhyming s.: C. 20. Franklyn 2nd.

hot and strong, I like—or he likes—my (his) women. An Australian c.p., dating from ca. 1945 and deriving from I like my coffee—and my women—hot and strong or some variant thereof.

hot-arsed. Earlier in Anon., The Ten Pleasures of Marriage, 1682–3. (Dr Niels Haislund.)

hot as a fire-cracker. Sexually hot-blooded and promiscuous: Canadian: since ca. 1910.

hot-bot. A highly sexed or over-sexed girl; often Miss Hotbot or Lady Hotbot: non-aristocratic, non-cultured: since ca. 1920.

hot-box. An overheated axle-bearing on a railway car: Canadian railwaymen's: C. 20.

hot cack. Good; very good: Australian low: C. 20. B., 1942. With a low pun on go like hot cakes. Mr Barry Prentice doubts the pun and thinks hot cack a semi-euphemism for shit-hot below.

hot cock. See cock, hot, above.

hot coppers (p. 408) occurs in 1806 (John Davis, The Post-Captain). Moe.

hot cross bun.—2. A Red Cross ambulance:

Army: 1914-18. Ex the marking.—3. On the rnn (from the police): rhyming s.: C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

hot cup of tea, a. 'Hot stuff': ca. 1880-1914. William Westall, Sons of Belial, 1895.

hot dog. A Malibu board, i.e. a wide, not very large, board, made of 'foam' and sheathed with fibreglass: Australian surfers': adopted, ca. 1960, ex Hawaii. Hence, hot-dogging (n. and adj.), making 'fast turns and fancy stunts on waves' (Pix, Sept. 28, 1963): since ca. 1961.

hot drop, the latest. The latest fad or fashion; the latest craze of any kind: Australian: since ca. 1950. (B.P.) hot fog. Steam: Naval (engineers)': since ca. 1930.

hot foot. To hasten; walk very quickly, to run; to decamp speedily: adopted ca. 1917 from U.S. (A. P. G. Vivian in Fifty Amazing Stories of the Great War.) But mostly hot foot it.

hot gen. Up-to-the-minute information: R.A.F.: 1939 +.

hot joint. 'A [taxicab] rank is a "mark", and the first position is the "point" or "hot joint",' Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939: taxi-drivers': since ca. 1920. Cf. the Army's sweat on the top line (Dict.).

hot line. A telephone line without a switch-board: coll., orig. political: since ca. 1960.

hot money. Stolen notes of numbers known: c.: from ca. 1930. Ex U.S. Cf. hot, adj., 10 (Dict.).

hot mutton. See hot meat (Dict.).

hot pants (for someone), have. Esp. of women: to be very much in love: adopted, ca. 1938, from U.S. Peter Cheyney, passim. Cf. 'La rage de la culotte m'est passée,' Duplaix, letter of Oct. 4, 1738 (communicated by N. H. Prenter, Esq.).

hot-plater. 'A person who drives a car that is painted to look like a taxi and operates mainly at night to avoid detection' (B., Australia Speaks, 1953): Australian: since ca. 1945. Also called a flea.

hot pot. An 'engine emitting steam from safety valves' (Railway, 3rd): C. 20.

hot-potato (pronounced potater). A waiter: late C. 19-20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.) Also cold potato.—2. A political, or a sociological, problem too hot to handle comfortably: adopted, ca. 1954, ex U.S.; by 1965, coll.

hot rod. A very fast motor-car: Canadian motorists': 1948 +. Ex U.S. Cf. jet job. Also, since ca. 1950, Australian and, since ca. 1955, English.

hot roll with cream, a. Coition: low: late C. 19-20.

hot scone. 1. 2. See scone. Itself rhyming s. on synonymous John.

hot seat, hot squat, the electric chair, have been, ca. 1935, adopted from U.S.—but as allusive s. not as c. See Underworld.

hot seat—Irishman—second horse—split ace; all preceded by the. The confidence trick: c.: the 1st and 4th from ca. 1919; the others from ca. 1905; the 1st, orig. U.S. Ex first (see Dict.): hot seat mob, confidence men, as in F. D. Sharpe, 1938.

hot seat, the, esp. be in . . . (To be) in a very difficult, or even a dangerous, position; to be in grave trouble: adapted, ca. 1950, ex U.S. hot session. Coition: since ca. 1920.

hot spot; esp. be in a . . . Trouble: c.: anglicised, ca. 1928, ex U.S.; by 1945, s. hot stuff (p. 409). Senses 1 and 2 were remarkably anticipated in a song written by one of General Wolfe's officers, and sung by officers and men in 1759. It begins thus, 'Wolfe commands us, my boys; we shall give them'—the French—'Hot Stuff.' Quoted by Edith & Alan Milles in Canada's Story in Song, Toronto, 1960. (Communicated by Dr Douglas Leechman.)

hot, sweet and filthy. See 'Prisoner-of-War Slang', 11. With a pun on the prescription, 'Coffee should be as hot as hell, as sweet as love, and as black as night.'

hot that broad. See broad.

hot 'un. Also, a severe punch or blow: pugilistic: mid-C. 19-20. Augustus Mayhew, Paved with Gold, 1857.

hot under the collar, get or grow. To become annoyed or angry: since ca. 1920.

hot(-)watcher. One who, at Winchester football, plays just behind the 'hot' or scrumage: Winchester College: since ca. 1870. E. H. Lacon Watson, In the Days of His Youth, 1935.

hotel barber. A thief that lives in a hotel to rob it: Australian c.: C. 20. B., 1942. Ex hotel-barbering (p. 409).

Hotel Lockhart (p. 409). Ex the Lockhart chain of cheap eating-houses in London. By itself, Lockhart was a pejorative.

hotten up one's copper. To take warm food or a hot drink: New Zealand: C. 20. B., 1941.

hotter. A crumpet: Harrovians': from ca. 1895. Lunn. Ex hot (crumpets being only by idiots eaten other than hot) by 'the Oxford -er'.

hotters. Hot water: Naval: since ca. 1920. By 'the Oxford-er'.

hottie.—2. A very tall story: Australian: C. 20. Baker.

hotty-watty bottles (or b's). Hot-water bottles: upper-middle class domestic s.: since ca. 1945. Sometimes abbreviated to hotty.

Houdini, do a. To escape, esp. from a seemingly inextricable position: mostly Australian: since ca. 1920. Ex the feats of the late Harry Houdini. (B.P.)

hour-grunters. See 'Constables' and cf. yowlie, q.v. in Dict. The term seems to have been unknown to Grose: it had prob. > † by 1870.

house.—6. A brothel: c., and low: from ca. 1860.—7. A Naval Officer's cabin: Naval: C. 20. 'I'll drop the book in at your house when I pass.' (Wilfred Granville.)

House, game of. See esp. the entry at little Jimmy—and B. & P.

house!, make yourself at our. See make yourself at our house!

house, on the. Free, as in 'It's on the house', esp. of a drink offered by the landlord: coll.: C. 20. Cf. House, 5, on p. 410.

house dog. House tutor: several Public Schools': from ca. 1880. Ian Hay, Housemaster, 1936.

house-keeper or -piece. See house-bit (Dict.).

house lighter. A lighter (boat) fitted with a cabin: canal-men's (esp. Fenland) coll.: C. 20. In, e.g., L. T. C. Rolt, Narrow Boat, 1944. On S.E. house-boat.

House of Corruption, the. 'The Glasgow Municipal Buildings were commonly known among [the city's slummies] as the "Chamber of Horrors" or the "House of Corruption": C. 20. MacArthur & Long.

House of Lords, the. A urinal: Glasgow schoolboys': C. 20.

house that Jack built, the.—3. 'The Government Savings Bank, Sydney, opened in 1928,' B., 1942. Prompted by jack, n., 27.

house tic-tac. A 'tic-tac man' that acts for a group of small, subscribing 'bookies': race-course s.: C. 20. Robert Westerby, Wide Boys Never Work, 1937.

house to let.—2. A bet: late C. 19–20. F. D. Sharpe, The Flying Squad, 1938. Rhyming.

housekeeping. Housekeeping money: lower and lower-middle class coll.: C. 20. Gerald Kersh, Slightly Oiled, 1946.

housey, adj. (p. 410). Also Housey, Christ's Hospital: mid-C. 19–20 (W. H. Blanch, 1877).

houtkop. An aborigine: South African (C. 20) c. and low s. Afrikaans: hout, wood, and kop, head.

how! A coll. Australian salutation, adopted, ca. 1944, ex U.S. 'Often with right hand raised, palm forwards, and with an expressionless face. Ex Amerindian greeting' (B.P.)

how.—2. A patrol flight (?): R.A.F.: ca. 1939–41. James Aldridge, Signed with Their Honour, 1942, "'We're going on a how. Eleven hours," Hickey said.'

how are the troops treating you? A 1939–45, then merely allusive, finally historical, Australian c.p., used by women. (B.P.)

how are we? A jocular c.p. of greeting: C. 20.

how are you going? How are you? How do you do?: Australian coll.: since ca. 1930. (B.P.)

how come? How does that come about? or Why is that?: adopted, ca. 1943, ex U.S. servicemen.

how-d'ye-do. A shoe: rhyming s.: C. 20.—2. A fuss; mild excitement: since ca. 1910. (S. P. B. Mais, Caper Sauce, 1948.) Perhaps, as Franklyn (Rhyming) suggests, it rhymes on stew, perturbation.

how-d'ye (or do you) do. Add:—3. Hence, a source—or an instance—of trouble; a quarrel, a brawl: since ca. 1910; by ca. 1960, coll. 'A nice—or what a—how-d'you-do!' In, e.g., Eric Burgess, A Killing Frost, 1961.

how high is a Chinaman? A c.p. reply to a question either unanswerable or stupid: since ca. 1950. With a pun on a pseudo-Chinese personal name How Hi.

how long have you been in this regiment? See regiment . . .

how many times? 'I heard this on and off during the First World War. When a Tommy had got married while on leave, his chums would generally pull his leg and ask "How many times?" when he got back. They meant how many times had he made love to his bride on the first night' (A. B. Petch, May 1966): c.p.: 1914–18.

how nice and what a lot! A facetious c.p., expressive of pleasure: since ca. 1930.

how the other half lives. A c.p., dating since ca. 1930, and used as in "'Hobbes, go down to one of the section bases and see what's going on. It won't do you any harm to see how the other half lives'" (John Winton, We Saw the Sea, 1960). The original meaning is '(to see) how the poor live', and as such it was a literary allusion; but soon it came to mean little, if anything, more than 'other people' or even 'anyone else'.

how to do it and not get it; occ. with addition, by one who did it and got it. An Australian c.p.: since ca. 1950. A reference to books on marriage.

how to win friends and influence people, loosely, . . . make friends . . . Since ca. 1935 in U.S. and since ca. 1945 in Britain, a c.p.—often ironic and derisive. It is so embedded in both American and British English that it is often used allusively and flexibly, as in "'In this line of business I never tell anyone anything unless I think he can help me by having that knowledge.'"—"You must win an awful lot of friends and influence an awful lot of people," Swanson said dryly.—"It gets embarrassing": Alistair MacLean, Ice Station Zebra, 1963 (p. 189). Ex a book so titled, written by Dale Carnegie (1888–1955) and published in 1936; he had, for many years before that, run a school for public speaking, toast-making, personal relationships in business.

how we apples swim! (p. 411). The longer form is probably the original, for it occurs in Ray's English Proverbs, 1670.

howling-box. A gas chamber: Australian airmen's: 1939–45. (B., 1943.)

howling-stick. A flute: low, mostly London: ca. 1840–90. Augustus Mayhew, Paved with Gold, 1857.

how's about? How about?: Canadian coll.: adopted, ca. 1953, ex U.S. 'How's about having a drink?' (Leechman).

how's biz? How's business: Australian c.p.: since ca. 1945. (B.P.)

how's it all going to end? A jocular c.p. (ca. 1906–10) based on a comic song current ca. 1906: 'Little Winston, little friend, | . . . | How's it all going to end?'

how's the body? How are you—how do you feel?: Anglo-Irish: late C. 19–20. Brendan Behan, Borstal Boy, 1958.

how's the world treating you or . . . been treating you? A popular form of greeting, usually to someone not seen for some time: C. 20.

how's your dandruff? A jocular, vulgar, mostly lower-middle class greeting: since ca. 1950; by 1965, ob.

how's your dirty rotten form? or shortened to how's your form? 'This c.p. is not really a question, but is used when someone wins a lottery, passes an exam or gets a promotion. It is sometimes elaborated to . . . dirty, rotten, stinking form?' (B.P.): Australian: since ca. 1955.

how's your rotten form? An Australian c.p. dating from ca. 1941 in the Services and addressed to one who has shrewdly gained a personal success. (B., 1953.)

how's your sister? A pointless c.p.: since 1910. A friend writes: 'I believe this to be based on an anecdote. A punter, colliding with a barge, complained: "See what you've done? Broke one of my oars!" "Did I, lovey? Speakin' of oars, how's your sister?"'—This may be in [Robert Graves's] Lars Porsena, 1927.

howzat. How's that?, esp. in cricket: coll.: mid-C. 19–20.

hoy. See hoi.

hoy, v. To haul: Australian (? coll. rather than s.): since ca. 1920. (Jean Devanney, 1944.) Perhaps a blend of hoist and haul.—2. Hence; to take, as in 'I had to hoy myself down to Bega': Australian: since ca. 1920.—3. To discard:

Australian: since ca. 1930. (B.P.) Cf. hoist, v., 5, above.

Hoyle, according to. See according.

hubba! hubba! An Australian c.p., referring to a pretty girl: mostly teenagers': since ca. 1930. Cf. Cornish hubba, a fishing cry. (B.P.)—2. 'But also domestic and conventional when a young wife shows a new gown to her admiring husband' (B.P.): Australian: since ca. 1935.

hubshee. Applied in India to anyone, or to a pony, with woolly hair: coll.: from ca. 1850. A corruption of Arabic Habashi, Persian Habshi, an Abyssinian, an Ethiopian, a negro.

huckle. See 'Verbs'.

huddle, go into a. To go into secret or private conference; (of several people) to 'put their heads together': jocular coll.: since ca. 1930.

hue.—2. Hence, to belabour (a person) with a cudgel: c.: C. 19–20; ob. B. & L. Proleptic.

Huey. The Police Gazette, Melbourne: Australian: late C. 19–20. B., 1942. Short for hue and cry (cf. entry on p. 412).

huff-duff. See shuff-duff below.

huff of a boo, do a. To weep: Cockneys': C. 20. Pugh. A corruption of hullabaloo.

huffy, n. A Service girl that refuses one's invitation: Servicemen's: since 1940. H. & P. Cf. toffee-nose.

hug-booby. See 'Men'.

Huggers or St Huggers. St Hugh's College: Oxford undergraduates' (— 1922). Marples, 2.

huhhah. See hoochah.

hula hoop. See hooler hoop above.

hulk, n. A hulk-ship report on a convict: ca. 1810–70. Price Waring, Tales, 1897.—2. A severely damaged aircraft: R.A.F. coll.: since ca. 1925. H. & P.

hull down, or turret down, under cover, hidden, occurs esp. in get . . ., to take cover: Army: since ca. 1940; by 1960, slightly ob. Ex tank j. (P-G-R.)

hullo, beautiful! A male 'getting off' c.p. addressed to a girl: since ca. 1935.

hullo yourself (oryour own self) and see how you like it! A lower-classes' c.p. of ca. 1890–1910. W. Pett Ridge, Minor Dialogues, 1895.

hum, n.—7. A professional sponger: Australian: since ca. 1920. (Caddie, A Sydney Barmaid, 1953.) He 'stinks'.

hum, v., 3 (p. 413): also, since ca. 1918, Aus. (B., 1959.)

hum-drum. See 'Occupational names'.

hum durgeon. See humdudgeon (Dict.).

human sausage-machine. A woman having a baby every twelve months: Australian coll.: since ca. 1930. (B.P.) humble condumble. See your humble condumble.

humdinger. A fast aircraft or vehicle; a smooth-running engine: Services, but mostly R.A.F.: adopted in mid-1940 from American airmen. American s.: echoic: hum (speed) + dinger (something forceful).—2. Anything superlatively good: Australian: adopted, ca. 1945, ex U.S. (B.P.)

humid. Stupid: Naval: since ca. 1939. 'A pun on synonymous wet' (P-G-R.)

hummer.—3. A 'scrounger': Australian: since ca. 1910. B., 1942.

hummerskew. A jocular perversion of humoresque: Canadian: since ca. 1950. (Leechman.)

hummie or hummy. Bursitis (inflammation of a sac), caused by carrying weights: London dial. (See E.D.D.) >, ca. 1890, coll. Apparently an easing of humpy. Ex hump.

hump, v., 1, occurs in Sessions, 1769, Fifth Session.

hump it.—3. To depart: Cockney: late C. 19–20. (A. Neil Lyons, Arthur's, 1908.)

hump oneself (p. 415). Also, since ca. 1910, Australian, prob. influenced by hump one's bluey—see hump, v., 3, in Dict.

humped off. Noted for punishment by the Captain: Naval: C. 20.

humpey (or -y).—2. A hump-backed person: since ca. 1870. Sessions, June 30, 1885.—3. A camel: Australian: late C. 19–20. Archer Russell, A Tramp Royal in Wild Australia, 1934; B., 1942.

humpty-dumpty. A stretch of desert road that, with tarmac laid straight on to the sand, follows every ridge and hollow: Army in North Africa: ca. 1940–3.

Hun.—3. A German 'plane': R.F.C. and R.A.F. coll.: 1914 +. Partridge, 1945.

hundred-per-center. A thoroughly good fellow (or girl); one whole-heartedly devoted to a cause: coll.: since ca. 1930.

hung on. Very fond of and, to some degree, dependent on (another person): teenagers' and other young people's raffish s.: since ca. 1955. John Sherwood, The Half Hunter, 1961, defines it as 'emotionally dependent on' (Penguin edition, p. 86).

hung up, be.—2. To be (foolishly) involved or entangled; to be stalled or frustrated: Canadian jazz-lovers': since ca. 1956. (The Victoria Daily Colonist, April 16, 1959, article 'Basic Beatnik'.)—3. Hence, annoyed; irritated, irritable: British jazz lovers', drug addicts', hippies': since ca. 1960. Peter Fryer in The Observer colour supplement, Dec. 3, 1967.

hunger-knock. A synonym of bonk, the: cyclists': since ca. 1945.

hungry. Close-fisted; selfish: Australian since ca. 1920. Baker.—2. Greedy: Australian: since ca. 1925. (Leonard Mann, The Go-Getter, 1942.)

Hungry, the. The Hungarian Restaurant: London taxi-drivers': since ca. 1920. Herbert Hodge, 1939.

hungry dog will eat dirty pudding, a. A c.p.—virtually a proverb—deprecating fastidiousness: mid-C. 19–20. Atkinson compares that other virtual proverb, you don't look at the mantelpiece when you're poking the fire, which by the way, is occ. used instead of the equally sexual proverb, at night all cats are grey.

hungry enough to eat the arse out of a dead skunk. Famished: low Canadian: C. 20.

Hungry Forties, the. The years 1940–5, when food was short: since ca. 1946; by 1951, merely historical. Ex Ireland's famine years, the 1840's.

Hungry Mile, the. Sussex Street, Sydney: Sydneyites': since ca. 1925. B., 1942.

hungry rock. 'Rock carrying little or no mineral' (Leechman): Canadian miners' coll.: late C. 19–20. (Cf. hungry quartz on p. 415.)

hungry staggers, the. Faintness or staggering caused by hunger: proletarian coll.: from ca. 1860. B. & L.

hunk, n.—2. A big man: Australian: since ca. 1920. Baker. Ex hunk of beef.

hunks or hunky-dory; esp. everything's hunky-dory. Predicatively, as in 'That's hunky-dory'—fine, just the thing: adopted ca. 1938 from U.S.

hunky, adj. Good: since ca. 1945. Ex preceding.

Huns. Cricklewood men (i.e., employees): London transport men's: since ca. 1920 (?). Railway, 3rd. Why?

hunt, v.—3. 'A compass needle (or similar indicator) is said to hunt when it oscillates about the true reading without coming to rest' (Leechman): scientific coll.: since ca. 1920.

huntaway. 'A sheepdog which drives sheep forward when mustering' (B., 1959): Aus. rural coll.: C. 20. Cf. force, n., above.

hunting. In c., the pre-eminent mid-C. 19–20 sense is 'card-sharping'.

Hunts, the. The Hunt Class destroyers, named after famous packs (Pythley, Quorn, etc.): Naval coll.: World War II. (P-G-R.)

hurdy-gurdy (p. 416). No; the 'barrel-organ' sense goes back to ca. 1800. It occurs in an 'Imitation of Ode XVI. Book II. of Horace', reprinted, from an unidentified British source, in The Port Folio, June 9, 1804, on p. 183:

'In London . . .

The poor Savoyard, doom'd to roam,
In search of halfpence, sighs for home,
And spins his hurdy-gurdy.'

(With thanks to Colonel Albert F. Moe, U.S.M.C., Ret.)

hurdy-gurdy girls. 'In the Klondike gold rush of 1897–98 there were many dance hall girls, mostly German, who would dance for a fee, but stopped at that (except perhaps now and then). They were known as hurdy-gurdy girls and the references to them are numerous' (Leechman, April 1967). Ex Western American hurdy-gurdy (house), such a saloon.

hurrah, on the. With hustling and shouting: Australian Labour s.: since ca. 1930. B., 1942. 'The boss works us on the hurrah.'

hurrah for Casey! Splendid! Excellent! That's 'great': Australian: C. 20. Baker. Ex a political election.

hurriboys. Pilots and others operating Hurricanes: Air Force: 1940 +.

hurricane deck. Neck: theatrical rhyming s. C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.) A Hurricane fighter aircraft: R.A.F.: since late 1939. E. P. in The New Statesman, Sept. 19, 1942 (1st); H. & P. (2nd, 3rd); Jackson, who adds the 4th, says, 'The first expression is the commonest'.

Hurry; Hurry-back or hurryback; hurribox.

A Hurricane fighter 'plane: R.A.F.: since 1940. But never very general.

Hurry boys. Pilots of Hurricane aircraft: mostly R.A.F.: ca. 1940–5. (P-G-R.)

Hurry-buster. A Hurricane aircraft employed as a tank-buster: R.A.F. and Army: ca. 1940–5. (P-G-R.)

hurry-scurry. A hack race: Australian sporting: since ca. 1920. (K. S. Prichard, 'Dark Horse of Darran'—in Kiss on the Lips, 1932.)

hurry-up, n. A hastener, esp. a shell or two fired to make the enemy hurry: Army coll.: since ca. 1941.

hurry up and take your time! A humorous exhortation: c.p.: C. 20.

hurry-up waggon. A 'black Maria': Canadian: since ca. 1945. (Leechman.) husband. See wife, 4, below.

hush-hush. A caterpillar tank: Army: 1917–18. See Hush-Hush Crowd (p. 417).

hustler.—4. A peddler of peanuts, etc., at a fair: Canadian carnival s.: C. 20. Ex sense 2.—5. A prostitute; hence the n. hustling: Canadian: adopted, ca. 1925, ex U.S. She hustles for—briskly conducts—a living.

hut. A caboose; the cab of a locomotive: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931).

hut-keep. 'To look after a hut in the bush or outback. Whence, "hut-keeper"' (B., 1943): Australian coll.: since ca. 1910.

hutch. (A sheep's) crutch: New Zealand shearers': C. 20. B., 1941. Rhyming s.

hyæna. A Society term of ca. 1770–80. Scott, Diary, May 9, 1828, in reference to Foote's play, The Cozeners, 1774: 'She had the disposal of what was then called a hyæna, that is, an heiress.'

hydro.—2. A hydroplane: coll.: since ca. 1930.

Hydromancy. See 'Tavern terms', § 3 d.

[Hyphenation. On this difficult subject, see esp. Fowler. The C. 20 tendency—an increasing tendency—is to do away with hyphens. The example of American English is potent; so are the inculcations of logic. But, as an examination of the O.E.D. will show, the English language has always been inconsistent in the matter of hyphens. Perhaps the safest rule (not that I follow it!) is to omit the hyphen wherever it is possible to do so without a loss of clarity or a blunting of nuance. Like punctuation, hyphens can often be used to ensure accuracy, as e.g. in compound epithets; often, too, they make for easier reading. See, my Yor. Have a Point There, 1953.

hypo.—2. War-time sugar, hard and insoluble: St Bees: 1915–18. 'From its resemblance to photographic hypo,' Marples.—3. A hypochondriac; a valetudinarian; one who is both: Australian: since late 1930's. (B.P.)

I

i for ē is a minor characteristic of Cockney: dating from when? It occurs in only a few words. Above all in sim(s), seem or seems; thus C. Rook, The Hooligan Nights, 1899, "Sims to me what you start on you've got to go froo wiv." Two other common instances are bin (been) and sin (seen).

I am (or I'm) not here. I don't feel inclined to work; or, I wish to be left alone: tailors' c.p.: from ca. 1870. B. & L.

I.B.A. Ignorant bloody aircraft-hand: R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. Jackson, 'Aircraft-hands are the jacks-of-all-trades of the R.A.F. . . . Officially, they are unskilled.' On the analogy of the I.R.A. and the P.B.I. (p. 596). Cf. Ibach.

I believe you, (but) thousands wouldn't. A c.p., tactfully implying that the addressee is a liar: late C. 19-20.

I.C., the. The officer, N.C.O. or senior man in charge of a squad, a detachment, a barrack-room, a hut, etc.: Service (esp. R.A.F.) coll.: since ca. 1930. Partridge, 1945, 'I must ask the I.C. about that; he's sure to know.'

I couldn't care fewer. A short-lived variant (1960-62) of I couldn't care less, q.v. at couldn't care less above.

I couldn't care less. See couldn't care less . . .

I couldn't eat that. I couldn't tolerate that female: lower- and lower-middle class c.p.: C. 20. Also general (with variant cannot or can't), as in 'I couldn't eat the last one' (a lodger), Pamela Branch, The Wooden Overcoat, 1951.

I.D.B.—2. Ignorant Dutch bastard: Cockneys': since ca. 1920.

I.D. Herb? (Strictly I.D., Herb!) Hullo! How are you?: Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1942. I.e. hidey! (q.v.) + generic Herb.

I didn't blow it out of my nose! "I didn't do it offhand, or without trouble." Ex a French c.p., I believe. Heard in the last few years' (Leechman, April 1967): Canadian: since the late 1950's.

I didn't come . . . See last bucket . . .

I didn't come up with the last boat; or I didn't fall off a Christmas tree. I know my way about; I'm not to be fooled: c.p.: mostly, Services': since middle 1940's. (Laurie Atkinson, Sept. 11, 1967.)

I didn't get a sausage or . . . so much as a tickle. I got nothing, esp. in money: c.p.: since ca. 1945.

I don't want to be a sergeant-pilot anyway! A jocular c.p. in reference to masturbation: R.A.F.: since ca. 1935.

I don't go much on it. I dislike it: almost a c.p.: since ca. 1925.

I don't mind if I do. A c.p. (= Yes, please) that, in 1945, > fairly widespread and in 1946 almost a public nuisance. A Tommy Handley 'gag' in I.T.M.A. (E. P. in The Radio Times, Dec. 6, 1946.)

I have (or I've) a picture of Lord Roberts. 'A c.p. rejoinder to someone asking for something' (Atkinson): mostly Army and R.A.F.: since ca. 1918.

I haven't a thing to wear. The widest-spread and most popular female c.p.: late C. 19-20, and prob. very much earlier.

I haven't laughed so hard since my mother caught her (left) tit in the wringer. I haven't laughed so much for years: Canadian: C. 20. Cf. 'hell!' said the duchess (p. 387 and Addenda).

I heard the voice of Moses say. See roll on, my bloody twelve.

I hope we shall meet in Heaven. A pious ecclesiastical convention (late C. 17-20) that soon acquired a wider currency, as in Swift, Polite Conversation, 1738, first dialogue, in the opening exchange.

I know and you know, but (the thing) doesn't know, where 'the thing' is usually a machine or a mechanical device: a mostly Australian c.p.: since late 1940's. Used mostly by workmen to justify, in part at least, some malpractice. (B.P.)

I like work: I could watch it all day. A witty Australian c.p., dating from early 1950's. (B.P.)

I Love You Only, Kid. See keep off . . . below.

I.M.F.U. An M.F.U. on an imperial scale: Services, esp. Army: World War II. (P-G-R.)

I must or I'll bust. I simply must go to the w.c.: a (mainly Australian) c.p.: since ca. 1925.

I need (or want) a piss so bad my back teeth are floating (or I can taste it); or . . . a shit so bad my eyes are brown. Low Canadian c.p.p.: C. 20.

I quite agree with you! See what do you think of it?

I say! Prob. throughout C. 19. "'To the Bush Rangers?" "Yes; I say, you won't blow me?": George Godfrey, History, 1828. A means of attracting attention: late C. 19-20.

I say, what a smasher! A c.p. dating from late 1945. Ex the B.B.C. radio programme, 'Stand Easy' (a post-war version of 'Merry-Go-Round'). Cf. smashing. E. P., 'Those Radio Phrases', in The Radio Times, Dec. 6, 1946.

I say, you fellows! A schoolboys' c.p.: since ca. 1947. In Frank Richards's Greyfriars School stories, the now famous character Billy Bunter is constantly using these words.

I suppose. I suppose so: coll.: rare before C. 20 and not, even now, very widespread. E.g. "'Will you be coming to town next month?" "Yes, I suppose."

I weep for you (or him or her or . . .). An occ. variant of my heart bleeds for you.

I will work for my living. An underworld c.p., expressive of improbability, a preliminary when that happens being implied: since ca. 1950. (Communicated by Julian Franklyn, Jan. 3, 1968.)

I wish I had a man—I wouldn't half love him! Servicewomen's c.p. of amorous longing: 1939 +.

I won't wear it! See wear it!, I won't.

I won't work. A c.p. applied since ca. 1912 to a member of the Industrial Workers of the World.

I work like a horse—(so) I may as well hang my prick out to dry! A c.p. palliation of accidental or ribald exposure: late C. 19–20.

I would (or I'd) rather sleep one night with her than three weeks with you! A c.p. approval of the charms of women: Forces': 1939 +.

I wouldn't be found dead in it! I certainly sha'n't wear that!: c.p.: C. 20.

I wouldn't bet a pound to a pinch of shit. A low c.p., implying lack of confidence: late C. 19–20.

I wouldn't give you the sweat off my balls or the steam off my shit. A low Canadian c.p. (C. 20), indicating detestation.

I wouldn't have—in reference, her; in address, you—any other way. A mainly Australian c.p., used in reference or address to one's wife: since ca. 1956. Often jocular as in: 'Do you realize that I'm just an unpaid servant? I get your breakfast, look after your children, entertain your friends. . . .'—(with demonstration of affection) 'I wouldn't have you any other way.' (B.P.)

I wouldn't know. (Occasionally '(S)he wouldn't know.) This originally American c.p. for the usual British 'I couldn't say' (= I don't know) came to Britain during the 1930's, and in a British film of 1940, Pimpernel Smith, Leslie Howard remarked, 'In the deplorable argot of the modern generation, "I wouldn't know."' This phrase has been much used ever since. Dr Brian Foster (The Changing English Language, 1968) thinks that it was a translation of ich wüsste nicht, taken to America by German immigrants. Therefore cf. d'you know something?

I wouldn't stick my walking-stick where you stick your prick! A c.p. common-reportedly spoken by physicians to men going to them with V.D.: C. 20. Or vice-versa, you stick . . . where I wouldn't . . . See also put one's prick where . . ., below.

iambi. Iambic verse(s): Harrow School coll.: mid-C. 19–20. (H. A. Vachell, The Hill, 1905.)

Ibach (short i, stressed; indeterminate a = ě). Ignorant bastard aircraft hand: R.A.F.: since ca. 1939. Also fibach, when f = fucking.

ice. Diamonds; loosely, gems: c.: anglicised ca. 1925 ex U.S. The Pawnshop Murder. Ex the icy sheen of diamonds.—2. Impudence, effrontery: Society: from ca. 1927. Rebecca West, The Thinking Reed, 1936. Cf. cool, impudent.

ice-box. A solitary cell: Australian c.: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. Adopted from U.S.: see Underworld and cf. cooler, 4 (Dict.).—2. See fry, v., 2.

ice-cream, short for ice-cream freezer. A person, usu. male; a fellow: since ca. 1920; c. >, by 1960, also low s. (Robin Cook, The Crust on Its Uppers, 1962.) Rhyming on s. geezer.

ice-cream barrow. See came over . . .

ice-cream freezer; usually shortened to ice-cream. A person; one of the crowd; rhyming s.: since ca. 1946. On geezer. (Jacob Jaffe.)

ice-cream suit. Except at Port Darwin and in the York Peninsula, ironic for the white tropical clothes worn by newcomers: Australian: C. 20. Baker. Probably adopted from U.S., where it isn't ironic and where it denotes 'men's summer garb, light in weight, cream or white in color' (Alexander McQueen), as also in Canada (Leechman).

ice-cream. An Italian: since ca. 1955. A variant of—and obviously a derivative from—the preceding: 1916, 'A Post Mortem'—a University of Sydney song written in 1916 (and reprinted in The Company Song Book, 1918) and therefore presumably current from a few years earlier. (B.P.)

ice-o. An iceman: Australian: since ca. 1920. D'Arcy Niland, The Big Smoke, 1959.

iceberg. One who always goes swimming, no matter how cold the water: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)

I'd hate to cough. A c.p. spoken by one who is suffering from diarrhoea: late C. 19–20.

I'd like a pup off that. A c.p., indicative of covetous approbation: Services': since ca. 1930. (I.e. out of that bitch.)

I'd like to get you on a slow boat to China (starting from England). I'd like to have the time to gradually influence you: a nautical, usually jocular, c.p.: C. 20.

ideas about, have; get ideas into one's head. To have or get amorous ideas (about a girl): coll. mid C. 19–20.

identity, 2 (p. 419). 'It was current before [1862] . . . The anonymous writer of Otago, Its Goldfields and Resources, of 1862, declares that "the exclusive spirit of the old identity" was part of the curse of Dunedin,' Baker (1941), who indicates its prob. origin in 'the early settlers should endeavour to preserve their old identity'.—3. Hence, as adj., 'effete': New Zealand: ca. 1870–90. B., 1941.

idiot box and idiot's lantern. A television receiving set: since ca. 1955: the former (cf. goggle box above) is fairly general, the latter mostly Canadian. (Leechman.)

idle. Careless, slovenly ('an idle salute'—'Idle on parade'); dirty ('an idle cap-badge'): Guards Regiments': C. 20; hence, since ca. 1939, R.A.F. By ca. 1955, verging on jargon.—2. Hence, slow, as applied to, e.g., a batsman in a cricket match: since ca. 1960.

idlers, the. 'Officers or men who don't keep watch at sea, the Accountant Branch, for instance' (Granville): Naval: since ca. 1905. No! It goes all the way back to ca. 1790 or even 1780. The O.E.D. cites it for 1794, and it occurs in, e.g., W.N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (I, 166), 1829, where it is glossed as 'Surgeon, Purser, &c. &c.' and in his Sketch-Book (I, 15, 16), 1825. Moe.

if omitted; gen. with omission of ensuing noun or pronoun: sol.: since when? See the quotation at wipe round.—2. See ifs.

if—a big if. A c.p. comment upon a startling hypothesis: C. 20; by 1960, slightly ob.

if and and. A band (of instrumentalists): rhyming s.: since ca. 1945. Franklyn 2nd.

if God permits. White Horse whisky: public-houses': late C. 19–20. This whisky has on its label the old coaching notice, 'If God permits'.

if he had the 'flu, he wouldn't give you a sneeze. A c.p., imputing extreme meanness: since ca. 1930.

if I stick a broom up my arse I can sweep the hangar at the same time. A c.p. uttered by one who has received a string of orders that will keep him very, very busy: R.A.F.: since ca. 1925.

if it moves, salute it; if it don't, paint (or whitewash) it. The R.A.F. 'motto' of the late 1940's and the 1950's.

if so be as how. If: coll., mainly rural: (?) mid C. 18-20. An elongation of if so be, if.

If that's nonsense, I'd like some of it. A c.p. rejoinder to a charge of talking nonsense, esp. if sex be involved: since ca. 1950. (Laurie Atkinson, Sept. 11, 1967.)

if they're big enough they're old enough. A cynical male c.p., referring to the 'negotiability' of young teenage girls: since ca. 1910 (? earlier). No nonsense about 'the age of consent'.

if you ask me. An introductory c.p., a feeble conversational make-weight: since ca. 1920. (Nobody has asked.)

if you can name it (or tell what it is), you can have it. A c.p., referring to an odd-looking person or object: C. 20.

if you can't beat (Australian lick) 'em, join 'em. A cynical c.p., dating since the 1940's. Origin, perhaps political: ? applying to areas where one party is predominant. (William Safire, The New Language of Politics, 1968.)

if you looked at him sideways, you wouldn't see him. A c.p. referring to a very thin man: C. 20.

If you see anything that God didn't make, throw your hat at it! A c.p. deprecating undue modesty: since ca. 1930. (L.A., 1967.)

If you want to buy a vatch, buy a vatch, (but) if you don't want to buy a vatch, keep your snotty nose off my clean window! A semi-jocular Jew-baiting phrase, C. 20; sometimes shouted by boys outside a jeweller's shop.

if your face fits. If you're in favour with the authorities: Services: since ca. 1930. (P-G-R.)

if your head was loose, you'd lose that too. A c.p., addressed mainly to children: late C. 19-20.

if you're going to buy, buy; if not, would you kindly take the baby's bottom off the counter! A Canadian c.p., addressed by butchers to customers, or even vice versa: since ca. 1920. (Leechman.)

iffy (incorrectly iffey). Uncertain: unsound, risky: coll., esp. in Australia: since ca. 1920. (B., 1942.)—2. Addicted to excessive if's in conversation: coll.: since ca. 1925.

ifs. (Rare in singular.) Spavins, etc.: horse-dealers': C. 20. They lead to doubts and queries.

igaretsay. A cigarette: Australian (urban): adopted, ca. 1944, ex U.S. serviceman. 'Centre slang and, as far as I know, the only example in use in Australia' (Edwin Morrisby, letter of Aug. 30, 1958).

'Surely not centreslang but rather Igpay Atinlay, or Pig Latin, which as you no doubt know is one of the most venerable of children's secret languages. Ixnay (= nix) is one of the few PL terms that penetrated the adult world': Robert Clairborne, who, Aug. 31, 1966, states that even ixnay is obsolescent.

iggri or iggry, n., esp. in get an iggri on, to hurry: Army: C. 20. (P-G-R.) Ex iggri on p. 419.

Ike. General of the Army Eisenhower: Services: 1943-45: adopted ex Americans. Then civilian.

Ikey, adj. Jewish: C. 20. James Joyce, Ulysses, 1922, 'Ikey touch that'. Ex the n. on p. 420.

ikey, play the. To play a sharp trick: Cockneys: from ca. 1880. V.t. with on. Also as in C. Rook, The Hooligan Nights, 1899: 'I don't think any Lambeth boy'll play on the ikey like that wiv them girls again.' See Ikey in Dict.

ikona! No, you don't (or, won't)!: certainly not!: a c.p. current during the Boer War (1899-1901). Perhaps ex Zulu.

I'll be a monkey's uncle! A c.p. expressing astonishment: Canadian: since ca. 1945. Leechman, 'Not often heard.'

I'll be there. A chair: orig., and still mainly, underworld, esp. convicts', rhyming s.: C. 20. Franklyn 2nd.

I'll bite; I'll buy it. (See bite and buy in Dict.) 'I'll bite' is often said and understood as 'I'll buy it', which leads to the further c.p., No. I'm not selling—serious!, itself hardly before 1930.

I'll buy that. A Canadian c.p. = 'I'll agree to that plan or decision or explanation': since ca. 1930. Contrast I'll buy it in preceding entry.

I'll do (or fix) you! A c.p. threat, 'I'll settle your hash': often jocular: since ca. 1910 (do) and ca. 1920 (fix).

I'll eat my hat, head, boots, etc. See hat, eat one's (Dict.).

I'll go he! An exclamation of surprise = 'I'll be jiggered!': New Zealand c.p.: since ca. 1920. (Slatter.) Ex children's games.

I'll have your gal! 'A cry raised by street boys or roughs when they see a fond couple together': from ca. 1880; ob. B. & L.

I'll have your hat! See hat!, I'll have your.

I'll pay that one. I 'bought' that: a c.p. admission that one has been 'had': Australian: since ca. 1930. Kylie Tennant, The Honey Flow, 1956. Cf. I'll bite.—2. That's a good story or joke: Australian c.p.: since ca. 1950. (B.P.)

I'll push your face in; I'll spit in your eye and choke you. Working-class threats, often playful: c.p.p.: late C. 19-20.

I'll saw your leg off! See my word, if I catch you bending (below).

I'll say! An enthusiastic affirmative: Australian since ca. 1930; by ca. 1965, slightly ob. (B.P.) Elliptical for I'll say so!

I'll tell your mother! A c.p. addressed to a young girl (or occ., one not so young) out with a boy: late C. 19-20.

I'll try anything once. A c.p., affected by the adventurous or the experimental, sometimes jocularly: since ca. 1925. Frank Clune's very readable autobiography—published in 1933—is titled Try Anything Once.

illegit. Illegitimate, n. and adj.: schoolboys': C. 20. Lunn, "'Was he a blooming illegit?'" asked Kendal.'

*illegitimate. A free settler: convicts' (Australian): ca. 1830-70. B., 1942.

illegitimate glow-worm. A 'bright bastard' (as above): Australian pedantic: since ca. 1950. (B.P.)

illegitimis non carborundum. You mustn't let the bastards grind you down (=wear you down—get you down): Intelligence Corps (1939-45), hence (1940+) a more general Army motto, esp. among officers. Carborundum (silicon carbide), being very hard, is used in grinding and polishing—and here the word serves as a mock-Latin gerund; lit., 'There is not to be any carborundum-ing—grinding with carborundum—by the illegitimate.' I wonder which Oxford 'Classic', exacerated almost to desperation, coined this trenchant piece of exquisite Latinity? For lack of evidence illumina. An abbr. of illumination: Winchester College: mid-C. 19-20. B. & L.

I suggest that it may have been my friend Stanley Casson, who, born in 1889, became Reader in Classical Archaeology at Oxford, directed the Army Intelligence School early in World War II, and then went to Greece to lead the Resistance; he was killed in mid-April 1944, a gallant, learned, urbane and witty scholar, who has never received his due meed of praise. Had Casson lived a century earlier, Carlyle would, to Heroes, have added a chapter: The Hero as Scholar. B.P., in mid-1965, comments thus, 'This is general slang in Australia. It is by no means confined to those with a knowledge of Latin' and adduces the following Latin 'translations' or equivalents of gen. or Australian s.; tauri excretio, bullshit, and belli bustum, a 'belly-buster' (sense 2).

illywhacker. A trickster, esp. a confidence man: Australian c.: since ca. 1930. (B., 1943.) Cf. whack the illy.

Ilyssus is a frequent error for Ilissus, the stream in Athens.

I'm a. An (over)coat: C. 20. Short for I'm afloat (Dict.). Sometimes written I'm-a. Lester.

I'm all right, Jack. See Jack policy, 2nd para.

I'm going to get my head sharpened. I'm going to get a haircut: R.A.F. c.p.: since ca. 1950.

I'm inboard—bugger you, Jack! Look after yourself!: Naval: C. 20. I'm aboard, so pull the ladder up. Cf. I'm in the boat . . . (p. 420).

im koy. You shouldn't: Canton pidgin: mid-C. 19-20. B. & L., 'Used politely in accepting or asking a civility'.

I'm not here. See I am not here.

I'm not out for chocolates, just had grapes! 'No thanks!' in an intensive, rather contemptuous form: c.p. of ca. 1905-14. W. L. George, The Making of an Englishman, 1914.

I'm off in a shower (or a cloud) of shit. Good-bye!: Canadian Army c.p.: 1939-45.

I'm so. Short for I'm so frisky (p. 420). Sydney Lester, 1937, 'A tumbler of some hot I'm-so.'

I'm so hungry I could eat a shit sandwich—only I don't like bread! 'A rather repugnant self-explanatory c.p., which is not used in vice-regal circles' (B.P.): Australian: since ca. 1950.

I'm sure! Certainly; certainly it is (or was or will be, etc.): lower-class coll.: from ca. 1870. Edwin Pugh, A Street in Suburbia, 1895, "Ah, that was a funeral!" "I'm sure! Marsh Street ain't likely to see another for many a, etc."

I'm telling you. A c.p. indicative of emphasis: since ca. 1920.

I'm willing. A shilling: rhyming s.: C. 20. Sydney Lester, Vardi the Palarey, (?) 1937.

I'm willing—but Mary isn't, with emphasis upon I and Mary. A c.p. used by a dyspeptic or other stomach-sufferer when some food is offered: C. 20.

ima(d)ge. Imagination: ca. 1905-20. A. Neil Lyons, Simple Simon, 1914.

imaginitis. A tendency to imagine things: coll.: since the late 1940's.

imbars bibbib. An Army 'motto', current in 1939-45 and composed of the initial letters of I may be a rotten sod, but I don't believe in bullshit.

imbo. A simpleton; a dupe: Australian c.: since ca. 1935. (B., 1953.) Of Aboriginal origin?

imperial.—2. See rocket.

'Imperial Service College (1910 +) possessed three abbreviations of a curious type, crisch (= cricket), foosch (= football) and hoosch (= hockey), the last . . . failed to take root,' Marples. Otherwise, its two best-known terms have (since 1910) been tramp, 'a master'—ex former slovenliness?—and topes (q.v.).

impixlocated. Topsy: from ca. 1932. A perversion of intoxicated. Also cf. pixilated.

impos. See imposs (Dict.).—2. Occ. variant (from ca. 1890) of impot (Dict.).

impots. See 'Colston's'.

impudence. Penis: lower-middle and lower-class women's: ca. 1760-1900. Sessions, July 1783 (No. VI, Part V, p. 723), Margaret Shehan, raped spinster, in evidence, "He put his impudence . . ."—"What, do you mean his private parts?"—"Yes."

impudent. Impotent: this C. 16-20 catachresis is noted as early as 1612 by Dekker in O per se O.

impurence. See imperance (Dict.).

Impuritans. People anything but puritanical: since ca. 1950. Ex impurity on Puritan.

in, adj.; esp. be in, to be accepted by, and a welcome member of, a group or a place: coll.: esp. Australian: since ca. 1920. 'Always written within inverted commas' (B.P.)

in, adv.—8. In to London: tramps' c.: C. 20. W. L. Gibson Cowan, Loud Report, 1937, 'Will you give us a lift in?'

in a pig's eye. See pig's eye, 3.

in a spot. See spot, in a.

in and out.—5. Tout: rhyming s.: C. 20.—6. The nose: rhyming s. (on snout): late C. 19-20.—7. Gout: rhyming s.: C. 20. (Nos. 6, 7: Franklyn, Rhyming).—8. Copulation: raffish: late C. 19-20.—9. Continuous turns in (and out of) the trenches: Tommies' coll.: W.W.I. (A. B. Petch, April 1966.)

In-and-Out Club, the. The Naval & Military Club, London: C. 20. Granville. From the 'In' and 'Out' signs on the pillars of the forecourt. This expands the In-and-Out, q.v. at in-and-out, 3, on p. 421, a term that Julian Franklyn thinks originated among the cabbies and dating from years earlier.

in and out job. A passenger that returns to his point of departure: taxi-drivers': since ca. 1915. Herbert Hodge, 1939.

in-and-out man. An opportunist thief: London's East End: since ca. 1945. (Richard Herd, Nov. 12, 1957.) Quickly in and soon, or furtively, out.

in course (p. 422). Mayhew, I, 1851.

in dead trouble. See in stook.

in good arrow. See arrow, in good.

in it, be.—4. To be in trouble: coll.: from ca. 1880. B. & L.—5. To agree to (a suggestion); to share in (an undertaking): Australian: since ca. 1925. 'I put the hard word on him for a cut [a share, a commission], but he wouldn't be in it'; 'You've got to be in it to win it.'

in smoke. Also, since ca. 1933, Australian. B., 1942.

in stook or in dead trouble. Very short of cash; extremely embarrassed financially: London's East End: since ca. 1945. (Richard Herd, Nov. 12, 1957.) Cf. stook, 2; the 2nd, illiterate for 'in deadly trouble'.

in the bag. See bag, in the.

in the blue. See blue, n., 13. in the book . . . See book all right . . . in the cuds. See cuds, in the.
in the death. Finally: since ca. 1945; by 1960, also s. (Robin Cook, 1962.) Perhaps a blend of 'in the end' and 'at the death'. in the firing line or kept on the jump. In danger of dismissal from one's job; since ca. 1917.
in the lurch. Church: Australian rhyming s.: C. 20. 'Left in the lurch, waiting at the church.'
in the mood. Desirous of sexual intimacies: euphemistic coll., mostly feminine ('I'm not in the mood'): late C. 19-20.
in the rattle. See rattle, in the.
in the wind (p. 422) is recorded in 1818: Alfred Burton, Johnny Newcome. (Moe.) in the words of the Chinese poet. A c.p. expressive of disgust on hearing of bad luck or unpleasant instructions: Canadian: since ca. 1910. If a friend hears one say this, he is expected to ask, sympathetically, 'What Chinese poet?'—thus affording the opportunity for, 'Ah Shit, the Chinese poet.' By ca. 1919, also current in England, with the variant name Hoo (or Who) Flung Dung.
in the works. 'In preparation; being effected. "Your two weeks' leave? Oh, yes, it's in the works now. Come back for it at three."' (Leechman.) Canadian: since the middle 1940's. in tow with, be. To be courting, as in 'John is in tow with Jane Sullivan' (P. W. Joyce, English . . . in Ireland, 1910): Anglo-Irish coll.: late C. 19-20. Ex shipping. in waiting. On duty: Guards Regiments': C. 20. Ex performance of Palace guards. With a pun on lady-in-waiting? (P-G-R.) Inbel. Independent Belgian News Agency: journalists': since ca. 1935. inboard, n. See kicker, 3 (Addenda): Canadian coll.: since ca. 1935. inboard. See I'm inboard . . . incident. 'There are no occasions, occurrences, or events in an airman's life. Anything that happens to him is an "incident" . . . why, nobody knows,' H. & P.: coll.: since 1938. include me out! Leave me out: since late 1940's. Ex one of the few genuine Goldwynisms. 'Most of the zany cracks attributed to Sam Goldwyn are the work of Hollywood gagmen' (Petch). income-tax. Those periodical fines to which they are subject for soliciting: prostitutes': since ca. 1930. (The New Statesman, May 10, 1947.) increase. Another baby: bourgeois jocular: C. 20.—I.e. in (or of) the family.
Incubator, the. H.M.S. King Alfred (a shore establishment), 'where embryo R.N.V.R. officers are trained': Naval: since ca. 1939. Granville. incy; pron. insy. An incendiary bomb: Services: since 1940. H. & P. incypent. See incipience (Dict.). indentures, make (Dict.): for fuller form, see 'Tavern terms', § 8. india-rubber gun. A German high-velocity gun, e.g. the '77: Army: 1914-19.
Indian, he's a regular; he's on the Indian list A Canadian c.p., applied to habitual drunkards, esp. to one to whom it is illegal to sell liquor: since ca. 1925. It is illegal to sell liquor to Indians coming from any of the settlements or reserves. (F. E. L. Priestley.)

indigragger. Indignation: Aldenham School: C. 20. Marples. By 'the Oxford -er'. indijaggers. Indigestion: Public Schools' (and Oxford undergraduates'): C. 20. (Nancy Spain, Poison for Teacher, 1949.) Also in, e.g., Dorothy Sayers, Strong Poison, 1930.
Indispensables, the; occasionally, the Loyal Standbacks. 'Those who, although fit and of military age, were kept at home working. This is from The Fencibles, name of the old militia. Another term used was The Loyal Standbacks' (A. B. Petch, May 1966), on the analogy of several regimental names: servicemen's: 1914-18.
indite, inscribe, invite. See indict (Dict.).
Indo. Indonesia; Indonesian, adj. and n.: Australian journalistic coll.: since late 1950's. (B.P.) indorser (p. 423) goes back to ca. 1710. It occurs in James Dalton, A Narrative, 1728, at p. 34. indulge, as in 'He doesn't indulge'. To take strong drink, whether habitually or incidentally: late C. 19-20; by 1930, coll.—2. To have sexual intercourse: Australian, jocular rather than euphemistic: since ca. 1930. (B.P.) infanteer. An infantry man: Royal Artillery: C. 20. infantile. Infantile paralysis: coll.: since ca. 1910; originally, medical; only since ca. 1945 at all general.
infor. Information: C. 20: convicts' c. until ca. 1940, then gen. prison s. Jim Phelan, Jail Journey, 1940.
Ingee (p. 423) goes back to late C. 18. As n. and as adj., it occurs frequently in the works of William Nugent Glascock—e.g. The Naval Sketch-Book, 1825-26, and Sailors and Saints, 1829. ingie-bungle. See bungie.
[Inimitable, the. Charles Dickens: from ca. 1840; ob. by 1890, † (except historically) by 1915. This, however, is rather a sobriquet than a nickname except when, and in so far as, it was used jocularly by his friends.]
injection, French (or German or Dutch, etc.) by, A Londoners' c.p. dating from ca. 1925 and applied to a woman living, as wife or as mistress, with a foreigner. Punning by extraction (or birth) and copulation.
Injer. India: sol., mostly Cookneys': C. 19-20. Nevins, 1895. ink, in. Journalistically occupied: journalists': since ca. 1910.
Ink-e-li. English: pidgin: C. 19-20. B. & L. ink in one's pen is, since ca. 1910, a variant of lead in one's pencil. inked. Topsy: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. Cf.—perhaps ex—inky, 2 (p. 424). inky fingers. The Accountant staff; one of them: Naval: since ca. 1920. (P-G-R.) inland navy and waterborne were applied, by the Army, to British and Canadian troops using Ducks and Buffaloes for fighting in the flooded areas between Nijmegen and Cleve: 1944-5. (P-G-R.) inn of court. See 'Tavern terms', § 3.
Inn of the Morning Star. See at the Inn. innards.—2. The internal mechanism of any mechanical or electronic appliance: coll., esp. Australian: C. 20. (B.P.) inner, the. 'The enclosure of a racecourse' (Baker): Australian sporting coll.: since ca. 1910. inoc. An inoculation: Services coll.: since ca. 1930. Partridge, 1945.

inquest. A jocular variation, esp. among players at whist drives, of post mortem below: since ca. 1946.

inquisitive. A magistrate: white-slavers' c.: late C. 19-20. (A. Londrös, 1928.)

insects and ants; often simply insects. Trousers; knickers: C. 20. Rhyming on pants.

inside, n.—3. In the innermost circle of the underworld: c.: from ca. 1910. The Pawnshop Murder: 'A man's got to be right on the "inside" before he'll get as much as a breath over the "grapevine"'.—4. In pidgin (C. 19-20) it = 'within, in, interior; heart, mind, soul; in the country,' B. & L. Hence:

Inside, the. Central Australia: Australian coll.: late C. 19-20. Ex coll. inside, in the interior. Hence, Insider, one either born or long resident in this region. All three terms occur in the one or the other of Tom Ronan's Vision Splendid, 1954, and Moleskin Midas, 1956.

inside country; inside squatter. 'Well-populated country near or in coastal areas'; hence, a farmer or large landowner in such country: Aus. rural coll.: C. 20. (B., 1959.)

inside the mouth. 'Secretly in his mind, to himself, reserved': pidgin: C. 19-20. Ibid.

insinivating. Insinuating: Cockney: C. 19-20. Mayhew, I, 1951.

insinuendo. Usually in pl. (-oes). A coll. blend of insinuation + innuendo. Herbert Adams, The Chief Witness, 1940.

inspector of city buildings. One who, looking for work, hopes he won't find it: Australian: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.)

inspector of manholes. A sanitary inspector: since ca. 1920.—2. A 'queer': low: since ca. 1930.

instalment mixture. 'Rain is "Instalment Mixture"—at least, to owner-drivers. The owner-driver is a "mush", and when still buying his cab, a "starving mush". Rain is sometimes referred to by journeyman drivers, therefore, as "Mush's Lotion". Otherwise it is simply "Franny" (France and Spain),' Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939: taxi-drivers' terms: since ca. 1910.

instrument-basher. See basher, 6.

insult, the. One's pay: Naval (lower-deck): since ca. 1925. Granville.

insy. See incy.

intelligence department. The head: jocular: since ca. 1916.

intelligencer. See 'Tavern terms', § 6 end.

inter-uni. Inter-university: Australian coll.: C. 20. B., 1942.

intercom. Inter-communication telephonic system of an aircraft: R.A.F.: since ca. 1936. Allan A. Michie & Walter Graebner, Their Finest Hour, 1940 (p. 61): Jackson, 1943.—2. Hence, of a factory, a school, a business, a post office, etc.: coll.: since ca. 1946. Sense 1, by the way, has been common in the Navy since 1939.

interested in one thing only, men are. A cynical feminine c.p., dating from ca. 1925. Cf. one-track mind and contrast it takes two below.

interested in the opposite sex, not or not much. (Of either sex) homosexual: polite euphemism: since ca. 1925. Christopher Buckley, Rain before Seven, 1947—the longer form.

interflora. Love-making: among the Flower Boy and Girl 'hippies', esp. in London: 1967.

Intercourse between 'Flowers', with a pun on Interflora, the large firm of florists. (Communicated by Max Mack on Nov. 16, 1967.)

interrupter. An interpreter: jocular Canadian mispronunciation (Civil Service): since ca. 1910. (Leechman.)

introduce Charley (or -ie). Of the male: to coit: C. 20. The penis is frequently personified.

invalid fire. Enfilade fire: Army: 1915-18. It caused many casualties.

invisibles. Invisible exports: economic and financial circles' coll.: since ca. 1956.

invite (p. 426). Rather: coll. since ca. 1815. Spy, 1825.

Iodines, the. The Australian Army Medical Corps: Australian soldiers': 1939+. B., 1942. Cf. poultice-wallpapers (Dict.).

ipe. A rifle: Naval: C. 20. H. & P. Adaptation of hipe (Dict.).

Irian, South and West. Australia and Papua-New Guinea: Australian jocular: since ca. 1960. (B.P.)

Irish, n.—3. See 'Tavern terms', § 3, c.

Irish, three cold. See Fenian (Dict.).

Irish as Paddy's (or Patrick's or Pat's) pig; or, Irish as Paddy Murphy's pig. Very Irish indeed: coll.: from ca. 1890. Cf. straight from the bog, q.v.

Irish compliment. A back-handed, an oblique, compliment: C. 19-20; by ca. 1920, rather ob. Fredk Chamier, The Life of a Sailor, 1832, at II, 157. (Moe.)

Irish Confetti. Brickbats: C. 20. Gerald Kersh, I Got References, 1939.

Irish evidence (p. 426) should be dated 'late C. 17-mid 19': B.E., 1699, has 'Knight of the Post, c. a Mercenary common swearer, a Prostitute to every Cause, an Irish Evidence'.

Irish harp. A long-handled shovel: Canadian railway-builders: since ca. 1905. (Leechman.) Cf. banjo.

Irish Mail. Potatoes: nautical, esp. Naval: C. 20. H. & P. So many potatoes are shipped from Ireland to Britain.

Irish man-of-war. A barge: Thames-side: late C. 19-20. Jocular.

Irish mile. A mile plus: coll.: late C. 19-20.

Irish pennants (p. 426) occurs in, e.g., W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints, 1829. Moe.

Irish rose. Nose: rhyming s.: C. 20. Franklyn 2nd.

Irishman, the. See hot seat.

Irishman's coat of arms. A black eye: mid C. 18-mid 19. 'Wednesday, 13 Aug. 1806. Goedike and La Rammer had a quarrel. The latter got an Irishman's coat of arms': the Journal of the fur-trading post of the North West Company at Dunreagan, Canada. (Dr D. Leechman.)

irk. Incorrect form of erk.

iron, n.—5. (Always the iron). Also v. for both, see iron horse.—6. A bicycle: cyclists': since ca. 1925.

iron, v.—2. See preceding.—3. To kill: low: late C. 19-20. (Pamela Branch, The Wooden Overcoat, 1951.)—4. Hence, to attack or fight (someone) successfully: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1953.)

iron compass; esp. follow the . . ., to follow railway lines leading to a target area: R.F.C.—R.A.F.: since ca. 1917, but little-used during World War II. (V. M. Yeates, Winged Victory, 1934.)

Iron Duke. A lucky chance: late C. 19–20. Rhyming on fluke.

iron face. Stern, obdurate, severe, cruel: pidgin: mid-C. 19–20. B. & L.

iron-fighter. A constructional engineer: master-builders' and engineers': since ca. 1930.

iron hoof. A male prostitute: c.: C. 20. Rhyming s. and the real origin of iron, n., 4, q.v. in Dict.

iron hoop (p. 427): by 1960, †. Franklyn 2nd.

iron horse. (Of coins) a toss: late C. 19–20. 'Sometimes abbreviated to "the Iron" or "Ironing"'. ("I'll iron you for it"—"I'll toss you for it"), F. D. Sharpe, Sharpe of the Flying Squad, 1938. Rhyming: in Cockney speech, toss is usually pron. torse.—2. A race-course: rhyming s.: C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

iron lung. A Nissen hut: Barrage Balloon personnel's: since 1939. H. & P.—2. A shelter in the Tube: Londoners': 1940–5.—3. (The Iron Lung.) 'The new Underground line, running from Shoreditch to Essex, known to the criminal classes as the "iron lung"' (The New Statesman, Nov. 1950): c.: 1950 +; by 1960, rather ob.—4. A '2–8–0 ex W.D. locomotive' (Railway 2nd): railwaymen's: ? ca. 1940–50.

iron making. 'Occupying a berth or billet where money is to be put by': non-aristocratic: from ca. 1870; ob. B. & L.

iron man. A £1 note: Australian: sense-adapted, ca. 1944, ex U.S. iron man, a dollar.

iron (it) out. To put (it) right: perhaps originally Australian: since ca. 1930. Recorded by Gwen Robyns, article 'Holiday City' in The Evening News, Feb. 16, 1949. To remove the creases by ironing.

iron skull. A boiler-maker: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931).

iron tank. A bank (for money): rhyming s.: since ca. 1918. Franklyn, Rhyming.

ironmongery department, the; His or Her Majesty's School for Heavy Needlework. Prison: cultured: since ca. 1945.

irons. A coll. shortening of eating irons: since ca. 1925. H. & P.

irons, in. 'A sailing ship is said to be "in irons" when she is head to wind and cannot pay off on either tack' (Granville): nautical: C. 20. is used jocularly. See 'am and is' above.

is all. That is all: Canadian coll.: adopted, ca. 1947, ex U.S. 'I'm tired, is all.' (Leechman.)

is it cold up there? A jocular c.p., to a tall person: late C. 19–20.

is that all? 'Still heard as a sarcastic exclamation, in reference to high prices, etc.' (A. B. Petch, May 1966): c.p.: C. 20.

is there room for a small one? A c.p. addressed to occupants of crowded vehicle: C. 20.

is there a proposal . . . ? See proposition, n., 3.

is your journey really necessary, a war-time official slogan (1940 +), has, since as early as 1944, been used as a jocular c.p.; by 1960, slightly ob.

Isa, The. Mount Isa in western Queensland: Aus. coll.: C. 20. Jock Marshall & Russell Drysdale, Journey among Men, 1962.

Isabella (p. 427): † since ca. 1930.

Ish. Ismailia: British soldiers': late C. 19–20.

ish-ka-bibble! 'I should worry!': c.p.: ca. 1925–35. Ex U.S. Perhaps ex Yiddish ich geblicke. In the U.S. it had a tremendous vogue ca. 1913. (Leechman.) ishkimmisk. Drunk, tipsy: Shelta: C. 18–20. B. & L.

Island, the. Camp Hill, the prison on the Isle of Wight: police and criminal coll.: C. 20.

island, the. A battleship's, but esp. an aircraft carrier's, superstructure: Naval: since late 1930's (? earlier). John Winton, H.M.S. Leviathan, 1967, 'The flight deck and the island were scenes of continuous activity.'

island-hopping, n. The capture of one island after another: Allies in the Pacific: 1945. (P-G-R.)

Isle of Wight, adj. Right: rhyming s.: C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

issue, the (p. 427): by 1919, also civilian.

I-sup. A shortening of I suppose (p. 419), as in 'She's got . . . a terrific I-sup (She has a beautiful nose)': Lester.

it. Sense 6 was adumbrated by Rudyard Kipling when, in his story of 'Mrs Bathurst', 1904, he wrote: 'Tisn't beauty, so to speak, nor good talk necessarily. It's just It.'

it ain't all honey! It isn't wholly pleasant: c.p. of ca. 1904–14. Cf. 'It ain't all honey and it ain't all jam, | Whcelin' round the 'ouses at a three-wheeled pram' in a music-hall song of Vesta Victoria's, ca. 1905.

it ain't gonna rain no more! A humorous c.p. (since ca. 1935), elicited by a downpour or by set-in rain. Ex a popular song.

it didn't fizz on me. This affair, this action, etc., had no effect on me: Canadian c.p.: since ca. 1945. It fell flat.

it happens all the time. A c.p. = it's just one of those things: since ca. 1925.

it isn't a hanging matter. Well, after all, it's not so very serious, is it?: c.p.: late C. 19–20.

it just goes to show. A conventional stop-gap of vague comment: since the 1920's.

it just shows to go. A nonsensical variant of the preceding: Australian: ca. 1960–65. (B.P.) it only wanted a man on the job. A jocular c.p. (late C. 19–20) by a willing helper.

it shouldn't happen to a dog (let alone to a human being): c.p.: since ca. 1945: still mainly U.S., but by 1965 at latest, heard occasionally in Britain. Of Yiddish origin, according to Leo Rosten in Encounter, Sept. 1968.

it takes two to tango. Premarital coition, like the begotting of large families, requires co-operation between the sexes: a mainly feminine c.p., implying that either of these two activities is not operated only by selfish males: mostly Australian: since ca. 1935. 'Ex a popular song thus named' (B.P.).

it will all (or it'll all) be put down in evidence against you. A jocular c.p.: since ca. 1935.

Italian. See 'Tavern terms', § 3, c.

itchy back, have an. (Of women) to desire intercourse: Australian: since ca. 1920. 'Women in bed with dozing husbands reputedly ask them to scratch their backs. The resulting propinquity often has the desired effect' (a valued correspondent). Perhaps cf. the English a bitch with an itch, a lascivious woman: C. 20.

Ite. An Italian: 1940–5. Ex Eye-tic. (P-G-R.) Cf:

Ities is a variant spelling of Eyeties (p. 261). Michie & Graebner, Lights of Freedom, 1941.

it'll all be put down in evidence against you. See it will all . . . above.

it'll all be the same in a hundred years. A consolatory C. 20 c.p.; by 1940, verging on proverbial S.E.

it'll all come out in the wash. See wash, it'll . . .

it'll last my (or our or your) time, to which the cautious add I hope. A 'famous last words' c.p., dating since ca. 1945, but not in general use until ca. 1948. Nostalgic rather than cynical; and therefore not to be apprehended as synonymous with après moi le déluge.

it'll put hair on your chest! 'A c.p. urging someone to have a drink' (B.P.): mostly Australian: since ca. 1910.

it's a bastard; often . . . proper bastard or (Australian) fair bastard. A very common expression among workers and servicemen for anything difficult or exasperating: C. 20. Cf. the Australian it's a fair cow: late C. 19–20.

it's a breeze. It's easy: Australian (— 1945); almost a c.p. (B., 1945.)

it's a freak country. 'Sometimes heard in regard to the "sights" we see nowadays, like the dirty, long-haired teenagers. From the other expression, It's a free country' (A. B. Petch, March 1966): c.p.: since ca. 1960. The original free c.p. dates from late C. 19.

it's a gas—or a gasser! It's wonderful: Australian teenage surfers': since ca. 1961. (B.P.) Cf. gas and gasser above.

it's a gig! That's very nice—very nice indeed!: Australian c.p.: since ca. 1925. Cf. gig, n., 1 (p. 327).

it's a good game—(if) played slow (or slowly). 'Ironic c.p. evoked by repeated manual maladroitness, repeated inconvenience, idling, or imposed tedium of waiting, etc. (in use Services 1939–45)': Atkinson, 1959.

it's a little bit over. 'A phrase taught to every apprentice butcher in Australia. They'—butchers in general—'always sell you more meat than you ask for and excuse it with the above words' (B.P.): c.p.: late C. 19–20.

it's a piece of cake. See piece of cake.

it's a poor soldier who can't stand his comrade's breath. See poor soldier . . .

it's a sore arse that never rejoices. A c.p. uttered, when somebody breaks wind, by a member of one of those 'fraternities' of mighty wits in which public-houses abound: C. 20.

it's a way they have in the Army (p. 428) is a renewal; it has been current since ca. 1880 or even earlier. See, e.g., Kipling's Stalky & Co., 1899. It derives from a popular song that opens thus.

it's all in a lifetime. It's no use grumbling: c.p.: (?) mid-C. 19–20.

it's all money. The c.p. reply to an apology for paying with small change, or with more small change than is either necessary or sensible: since ca. 1945.

it's all over bar (the) shouting. The game is virtually won or the job almost finished: c.p.: late C. 19–20. Ex sport: applause at end of a contest. It occurs earlier in A. L. Gordon's poem, 'How We Beat the Favourite' (1869), 'The race is all over, bar shouting'; earliest as ' . . . but shouting', in C. L. Apperley, Life Sportsman, 1842. (The Oxford Dictionary of Proverbs.)

it's all right for you. A coll. shortening of S.E. it's all right for you to laugh: C. 20. Atkinson, 'Deprecating another's "sitting pretty"' it's all right if it comes off. A mostly Australian c.p., concerning an (apparent) attempt at a swindle: since ca. 1930. (B.P.)

it's always jam to-morrow . . . See jam to-morrow . . .

it's bad manners . . . See bad manners . . .

it's been known. It's not uncommon: c.p.: since the middle 1940's. Elliptical for 'It's been known to happen'.

it's Friday, so keep your nose tidy. A c.p., employed only on a Friday (a folklorishly unlucky day) and meaning either 'keep out of mischief' or 'mind your own business': non-aristocratic, non-cultured: late C. 19–20. Based upon the mispronunciation Fridee.

it's got a back to it. See back to it . . .

it's naughty but it's nice. A c.p., since ca. 1900, in ref. to copulation. Ex a popular song. In the U.S., Minnie Schult sang and popularised it in the 1890's.

it's nice to have a peg . . . See peg to hang things on.

it's not much if (or occ., when) you say it quick! A c.p. in ref. to a large sum of money or a very high price: since ca. 1910.

it's not right, it's not fair: (a certain film-star's) left tit or Jack Johnson's (or Joe Louis's) left ballock (or testicle). A mainly Forces' c.p. derisive of a complainant or his complaint: since ca. 1905.

it's not the bull they're afraid of—it's the calf. (Of girls) a c.p. implying that they fear, not the loss of virginity but pregnancy: Australian: C. 20.

it's on! A fight is starting: Australian: since ca. 1945. (B.P.)

it's only lent. 'A nonchalant acceptance of defeat, either physical or moral. It is sometimes embellished with the addition, "I'll get my own back"' (Julian Franklyn, 1962): c.p., mostly Cockney: since ca. 1920.

it's only money. 'Said to a reluctant spender or party-sharer': c.p.: orig. (? ca. 1945) Canadian; by ca. 1955, also British. (Leechman.)—2. 'A c.p. addressed to one'—including oneself—'suddenly confronted with an unexpected expenditure' (Leechman): since ca. 1945–50.

it's showery. See shower!

it's snowing down south. Your slip is showing: Australian feminine c.p.: since late 1940's. Perhaps an adaptation of English schoolchildren's it's snowing in Paris, current, since ca. 1919 and recorded by I. & P. Opie, The Lore and Language of Schoolchildren, 1959.

it's that man again! A c.p. dating from late 1939; during the bombing of Britain by the Luftwaffe, esp. in 1940–1, applied chiefly to bomb-damage, that man being Hitler. Ex Tommy Handley's scintillating B.B.C. radio-programme 'Itma' (Its That Man Again; as the traditional opening warns us).—Cf. after you, Claude and can I do you now, sir?: E. P. in The Radio Times, Dec. 6, 1946—reprinted in Words at War: Words at Peace, 1948.

it's the beer speaking. A public-house c.p. directed at one who breaks wind in public-house company: C. 20.

it's wonderful how they make guns, let alone touch-holes! 'A c.p. used by women . . . to deflate male superiority, esp. about sex' (Laurie Atkinson, Sept. 11, 1967): late C. 19-20, esp. in military and naval circles. The erotic imagery of gunnery is involved: gun, penis; touch-hole, vulva.

It's your ball. The initiative lies with you: Canadian c.p.: since ca. 1946. (Leechman.)
Ex ball-games.

I've done more sea miles . . . See sea miles.

I've something to do (that) nobody else can do for me. I must go to the 'Gents': c.p.: C. 20. (A. B. Petch, April 1966.)

ivories. For sense 3, see also fish-horn.—4.

Checks and counters: card-players': from ca. 1860. B. & L.

ivory-snatcher. A dentist: from ca. 1880; ob. (G. B. Shaw, You Never Can Tell, 1897.) Cf. ivory carpenter in Dict.

ivory-turner. A skilful dicer: fast life: ca. 1820-40. Spy, 1825. Cf. ivories, 2 (p. 428) and 4 (above).

ivy cottage. An outside privy: a late C. 19-20 euphemistic coll. Formerly, often ivy-covered.

Ixta. Mount Ixtaccihuatl: British and American coll.: late C. 19-20. So too Popo, Mt Popocatepetl, also, since ca. 1930, Popeye. Malcolm Lowry, Under the Volcano, 1947.

J

J.—3. A Jesuit: Catholic coll.: mid-C. 19–20.
—4. Jesus: Anglo-Irish: late C. 19–20.

J. Arthur Rank. A bank (financial): rhyming s.: since late 1940's. 'Evolved when Mr Rank was making both films and news' (Franklyn 2nd). Mostly shortened to Jay Arthur.

J. C.'s area representatives (or reps). Dignitaries of the Church: R.A.F., but not very general: since ca. 1950.

J.P., the. Husband: at mothers' unions and meetings: since ca. 1935. The People, Oct. 14, 1945. I.e. junior partner.

Jaapies, the. 'These are Afrikaners,/The burly Jaapies, the Saray Marays', glossed thus, "'Jaapies" was a slang name for the South Africans, also known as "Saray Marays" from the title of the Afrikaans song they sang' (Hamish Henderson's poem, Alamein, October 23, 1942, written late in that year and revised for publication in The Sunday Telegraph of Oct. 22, 1967.

jab, n.—3. An inoculation: Services: since 1914. H. & P. Ex sense 1.

jabbed, be; get a jab. To be inoculated or vaccinated: Services: 1939 +. (P-G-R.)

Jabo Club, the. 'Any airman Just About Browned Off automatically qualifies,' Jackson: R.A.F. since ca. 1934. In India, in the 1930's, often J.A.F.B.O., 'just about feeling (or fucking) browned off'. (W/Cdr A. J. Wild, letter of Aug. 4, 1945.)

jack, n. Sense 12, a privy, is also English: mid-C. 18–19. James Woodforde, Diary, Jan. 25, 1779, 'Busy this morning in cleaning my Jack, and did it completely.' This Jack or jack forms the effective origin of john, 8, a jakes.—14. The pl. Jacks is, in the Royal Navy of C. 20, generic for 'other ranks'. (Atkinson.)—15: since ca. 1689.—24. Money: low: adopted in 1937 from U.S.—25 (As Jack.) 'Familiar nickname for a kookaburra' (Baker, 1942): Australian: late C. 19–20. Ex 'laughing jackass'. Also Jacko (Baker).—26. A locomotive: Canadian railroadmen's (—1931). Personification.—27. Syphilis: low Australian: C. 20.—28. Short for black-jack. a bludgeon: Australian coll.: C. 20. (Dal Stivens, Jimmy Brockett, 1951.)—29. A double-headed penny: Australian: C. 20. (B., 1943.)—30. Methylated spirit taken as an intoxicant: low: since ca. 1930. Gavin Lyall's article, 'Prison Saves the Jack Drinkers' in The Sunday Times, Aug. 13, 1961.—31. A policeman; a detective: Aus.: C. 20. (B., 1959.) Ex John, 4, on p. 442.

jack, adj. Mentally or morally tired or sick, esp. as get jack of, occurring both in Margaret Henry, Unlucky Dip, 1960, and in 'I'm getting jack of these holidays' (Dick): Australian: since ca. 1920. Cf. jack up, 3 (p. 431).

Jack(-)and(-)Jill.—2. A bill (account): since ca.

1910: c. >, by ca. 1955, s. Rhyming. (Robin Cook, 1962.)

jack-bit. Food: Army: 1939 +. The Daily Mail, Sept. 7, 1940.

Jack Club, the. See 'Prisoner-of-War Slang', 14.

Jack doesn't care. See Jack loves a fight below.

Jack Dusty (p. 430). In the R.N., esp. a Stores Assistant: late C. 19–20.

jack in is a variant of jack up, 3, to abandon: proletarian: since ca. 1910. But jack has, since ca. 1930, been commoner than either: cf. 'Jacked me for a civvy' in Alexander Baron, From the City, from the Plough, 1948.

jack in the box.—11. Syphilis: since ca. 1870. Often abbr. to Jack. Rhyming on pox, n. (p. 655).

jack in the cellar (p. 430): prob. from late C. 17, for Wycherley in Love in a Wood, 1672, has Hans en kelder.

Jack in the dust (p. 430) occurs (as Jack-i'-the-dust) much earlier in W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (I, 83), 1829, and should prob. be backdated to ca. 1800. Moe.

jack-knife carpenter! 'A cry of derision hurled at a man, especially a carpenter, who uses a pocket knife in an emergency. Legend has it that all jack-knife carpenters end up in hell' (Leechman): Canadian c.p., dating since ca. 1910, but by 1960 ob.

Jack loves a fight and Jack doesn't care are C. 20 c.pp., mostly Naval, referring to the seaman's love of a scrap and to his insouciance. (W. Kenneth Hubbard, March 22, 1968.)

Jack Malone, on one's. Alone: rhyming: C. 20. Jackson. Often abbr. to on one's jack, which also abbreviates on one's Jack Jones.

Jack-my-hearty. 'Boisterous "Jack's the boy" type of rating who makes himself a nuisance ashore,' Granville: Naval: since ca. 1895. Cf. Jack Strop.

jack of. Weary of or bored with: Australian: since ca. 1920. Jean Devanney, By Tropic Sea and Jungle, 1944, 'Maked you jack of it.' Ex jack up, v., 3 (p. 431).

It dates since ca. 1890 and occurs in, e.g., Edward Dyson, The Gold Stalers, 1901, "'Oh, well, Twitter's jack of it, an' I don't think it's much fun.'"

Jack policy, or Jack system, the. An attitude—the habitual expression of—utter selfishness: Australian: since ca. 1945. (B., Australia Speaks, 1953.) 'Spontaneously combusted' ex fuck you, Jack, I'm all right (Naval, hence Army, hence general)—the peculiarly Naval . . . I'm inboard—and the specifically Air Force . . . I'm fire-proof: qq.v. on p. 305 and, in these Addenda, at I'm inboard and fire-proof. This attitude has, among civilians, and since ca. 1954, been widely expressed in the c.p. I'm All Right, Jack, as in the 1959 film of that title: the Dishonourable Company of the Jacquerie has, since 1945, gained an increasingly large membership, with the result the freemasonic Men of Good Will have, unnoticed by the 'Jacks', quietly intensified their Resistance to the general rot.

Jack Portuguese. A Portuguese, esp. sailor: Naval: ? ca. 1810-60. In, e.g., W. N. Glascock's Naval Sketch Book, 2nd Series, 1834, at II, 137. (Moe.)

Jack Shalloo, 2 (Dict.). 'A corruption of John Chelley, who was a Naval Officer of the bonhomous, devil-may-care type' (Granville).

Jack Smithers. A drink taken by a man alone: Australian: ca. 1900-30. (B., 1943.)—2. Hence, a man drinking alone: Aus.: since ca. 1930. (B., 1959.) Cf. Jimmy Woodser, 1, on p. 439.

Jack Sprat, 1 (p. 431), is perhaps, in its post-1850 career, rhyming s. on brat.—2. Fat (of meat): rhyming s.: late C. 19-20. Franklyn, Rhyming.

Jack Strop. 'A truculent "Jack-my-hearty"' (q.v.): Granville: since ca. 1900.

Jack Surpass. A glass (of liquor): beggars' rhyming s.: 1851. Mayhew, 1; app. † by 1910.

Jack Tar.—3. A bar (for drinks): rhyming s., mainly theatrical: C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

jack the contract. To leave a job, esp. if difficult: Australian: since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.) A specialisation of jack, v., 3 (p. 431).

Jack trap. See man-trap, 5, below.

Jack the Ripper. A kipper: late C. 19-20. Rhyming.

jack up, 3 (p. 431), is also v.i. 'to abandon a job', was orig. navvies' and apparently rhyming s. on pack up (one's belongings): D. W. Barrett, Navvies, 1880.—4. To reprimand for slackness: Canadian: since ca. 1920. 'Harry's not doing his job. He needs jacking up.' (Leechman.)—5. To arrange: New Zealand: since ca. 1930. 'I'll get an early start tomorrow—I've jacked up a lift into town': Fiona Murray, Invitation to Danger, 1965. Ex 'to jack up a car'.

jackaroo, v.: earlier in Rolf Boldrewood, Ups and Downs, 1878.

jackass. A rowing boat that plies between ships and shore: Naval: ca. 1805 (? earlier)—1880. W. N. Glascock, Naval Sketch-Book (I, 140), 1825. Moe. Cf. the derivative sense in:—

jackass frigate (p. 431) perhaps refers to its structure, not to its speed, and is unrelated to jackass, a heavy rough boat used off Newfoundland. Colonel Moe cites from 'Scenes from the Life of Edward Lascelles, Gent.' in The Dublin University Magazine of March 1834 (p. 249), '... the Hesperus, being a frigate of the class denominated Jackass frigates, had no magazine forward'; elsewhere, the Hesperus is praised for its excellent sailing qualities.

jackdaw. The jaw: rhyming s. (London streets): 1857, Augustus Mayhew, Paved with Gold; † by 1930.

jackdaw, v. 'To acquire dockyard paint or other materials with which to beautify your ship' (Granville): Naval: C. 20. Ex the jackdaw's acquisitiveness.

jackdaw and rook. A theatrical 'book of words': rhyming s. (theatrical): C. 20. Franklyn, Rhyming.

jackeen. 'A rascally boy' (L. E. F. English, Historic Newfoundland, 1955): Newfoundland coll.: late C. 19-20.

Jacker. The Hon. F. S. Jackson: cricketers': since early 1890's. Born in 1870, he played for Harrow, Cambridge, Yorkshire, England: at his best, 1894-1910, he was a magnificent all-rounder: after retiring, one of the moguls of the game.

Jacket and Vest, the. The West End of London: rhyming s.: since ca. 1910. Charles Prior, So I Wrote It, 1937—cited by Franklyn, Rhyming.

jacketing (p. 432). In nuance 'a thrashing', it occurs earlier in Sessions, March 1848.

jacketing, n. Add:—2. A policeman's (very) severe report on a prisoner in the dock: police, and legal: since ca. 1920. Fredk P. Wensley, Detective Days, 1931, 'After I left the box the prosecuting counsel beckoned to me, "That was a pretty fierce "jacketing", he said. "I don't think you should have rubbed it in so hard." Ex sense 1. jackey or jacky.—3. A male Aboriginal, esp. in address (Jacky): Australian coll.: mid-C. 19-20—4. A kookaburra: Australian: C. 20. (B., 1943; Jean Devanney, 1944.) Ex 'laughing jackass'.

Jackies. American sailors: 1942 +.—2. (Also jackies.) Aboriginals in general: Australian: since ca. 1930. (B., 1953.) Cf. jackey, 3.

Jacko.—2. See jack, n. (above). 3. A shunting engine, esp. in spoken reference: railwaymen's: C. 20. (Railway.)

jackpot, crack the. More common, in Australia, than the next. (B.P.)

jackpot, hit (sometimes strike) the. To meet with exceptionally good luck: adopted, 1943 in Britain and 1944 in Australia and New Zealand, from U.S. servicemen. Ex the game of poker.

Jack's alive, 1 (p. 432), perhaps goes back to early C. 19, to judge by its occurrence in W. N. Glascock's Naval Sketch Book, 2nd Series, 1834, at II, 38. (Moe.)—3. Hence, £5 note: low: C. 20. F. D. Sharpe, The Flying Squad, 1938. Rhyming five. Often shortened to Jack's (or Jacks), as in 'I'll bet you a Jacks' (Norman).

Jack's come home. A slap-dash hotel or boarding house: theatrical: C. 20. Ngaio Marsh, Vintage Murder, 1938.

jacksharps. Sticklebacks: Liverpool: ca. 1945-55. Perhaps ex Jack Sharp, a nimble Association footballer.

jacksie (or -y). A brothel: Australian low: C. 20. B., 1942. Ex:—2. The posteriors: Army and Navy: late C. 19-20 (H. & P.) Cf. jacksy-pardy (Dict.).—3. Hence, rear of aircraft: R.A.F.: 1939-45.

Jacky.—3. A Turk: Army: 1915 +. Ex Johnnie, 8 (Dict.).

jacky or Jacky. See jackey, 3, 4.

Jacky, sit up like. To sit up straight; to be on one's best behaviour: Australian: C. 20; s. >, by 1930, coll. B., 1942. Like a monkey on a barrel-organ, Jacky or Jacko being a common nickname for a monkey. B., 1959, however, derives it ex jackey, 3, above.

Jacky Howe. A sleeveless shirt or singlet worn by shearers: New Zealand and Australian rural: late c. 19-20. B., 1941, 'After a noted shearer of that name'; B., 1942.

Jacky Raw. A 'new chum': Australian: late C. 19-20; ob. by 1930. B., 1942. Ex Johnny Raw (Dict.).

Jacky Rue. A squatter: Australian: C. 20.

Baker. Blend of Jacky Raw and jackaroo, perhaps.

jade. A long prison-sentence: Australian c.: C. 20. B., 1942. There is probably an obscure pun on S.E. sorry jade.

Jafbo Club. See Jabo Club.

Jag. A Jaguar motor-car: coll.: since ca. 1946.

jag, n.—2. An injection: medical: adopted, ca. 1905, from U.S. Cognate with jab; indeed cf. jab, n., 3.—3. In Australia, 'a dose of a narcotic administered for purposes of addiction' and 'in any way whatsoever' and therefore having nothing to do with jab: since ca. 1945. (B.P.)—4. An 'organic solvent inhaled from a handkerchief' (B.P.): English: since ca. 1955. 'The child becomes dependent upon a regular "jag"' (New Society, June 20, 1963).

Sense 1 (p. 432): Canadian by late C. 19. (Niven.)

jag, v.—3. To depress; get on the nerves of: New Zealand: C. 19–20; by 1940, ob. (G. B. Lancaster, Sons o' Men, 1904.)

Jag, the. The Turf Club races: South Africa (mostly Cape Town): c. and low s.: C. 20. The Cape Times, June 3, 1946. In Afrikaans, jag = hunt; cf. Dutch jagen, to hunt.

jag it in. To give up: Naval: since ca. 1945. John Winton, H.M.S. Leviathan, 1967, 'The messdeck dodger got discouraged and just jagged it in.'

Jagger. A Cornish rating: Naval (lower-deck): C. 20. An -er adaptation of the common Cornish surname Jago. (P-G-R.)

jagging, go. To make social visits, esp. in order to gossip: New Zealand: C. 20. B., 1941, who recalls gad and on the jag. Also, since ca. 1920, Aus. (B., 1959.)

Jago. A victualling paymaster: Naval (lower deck): C. 20. Granville, 'After the officer who introduced improved messing and victualling conditions in R.N. barracks'.

jags. Self: itinerant entertainers': C. 20. Always in combination, as my jags, I or me: your jags, you; his or her jags, he or she, him or her. 'Mind that your jags (self) keeps this book in your skyrocket (pocket) until you have mastered the lingo': Sydney Lester, Vardi the Palarey, (?) 1937. Perhaps an imperfect blend of jills and nabs used similarly.

Jail, the. That public playground which occupies the site of the demolished Horsemonger Lane jail: local London: late C. 19–20.

jail, there are worse in. See worse in gaol (Dict.).

jail-bait. See bait, 4, and cf. gaol-bait, both above.

jaisy. An effeminate and polite man: Midlands: C. 20. The Merseyside shape is jessy. Cf. Jessy.

jake, adj. (p. 432). In Australia, we're jake = we're all right; she's jake = it's jake, all is well. (Culotta.)

jake-wallah. An addict to methylated spirits: c., esp. tramps': C. 20. W. A. Gape, Half a Million Tramps, 1936. Cf. jake-drinker in the Dict.

jakealoo. See jake, adj., on p. 432.

jaloppy. A cheap, or an old, motor-car: adopted, ca. 1950, ex U.S. (See Underworld.) The term always implies some degree of dilapidation.

jalouse. To infer; to guess: Scottish coll.: from ca. 1860.

jam, n.—10. Affectation: Australian: since ca. 1905. B., 1942. Remembered by E. P., ca. 1910–14.

jam, v.—3. To cancel: Naval: since ca. 1920. Granville, 'One's leave may be "jammed"'. Rather since ca. 1910, for 'Bartimeus'—spelling it jambled—uses it in precisely this sense in A Tall Ship, 1915. (Ramsey Spencer.) jam bosun. A victualling officer: Naval: since ca. 1920. Granville.

jam-buster. An assistant yardmaster: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1939). He disentangles the 'snarled-up' rolling-stock in a station yard.

jam clacker. See clackers above.

jam-jar.—2. Hence, an armoured car: Army and R.A.F.: since ca. 1938. Jackson.—3. An ordinary motor-car: rhyming s.: since ca. 1940.

jam on it (p. 433).—2. An (agreeable) surplus or addition: Services: since ca. 1920. 'D'you want jam on it?' = Aren't you satisfied? or Haven't you already got enough? (P-G-R.)

jam-strangling bastard. 'A man whose phenomenal luck suggests a degree of manoeuvring to ensure it, esp. R.N. sailor lucky in time and place of duties, privileges, etc.' (Laurie Atkinson, who records hearing it in 1951): Naval: since 1930's.

jam tart.—4. Heart: rhyming: C. 20.

jam to-morrow (but) never jam to-day, it's always. A c.p. synonymous with pie in the sky when you die: since ca. 1917. Its occasion was prob. the sugar shortage experienced during W.W. I, but its ultimate source is supplied by 'Jam yesterday and jam to-morrow, but never jam to-day' in Lewis Carroll's Through the Looking Glass, as Robert Clairborne reminds me.

Jamaica tea. See rummy tea below.

jamberoo. An Australian metathesis of jam-boree (p. 433): B., 1943.

jamborino. A jocular variant of S.E. jamboree: ca. 1910–40. (A. S. M. Hutchinson, If Winter Comes, 1921.)

James the First. The First Lieutenant in an H.M. ship: jocular Naval (officers'): since ca. 1920. Prompted by Jimmy the One (p. 439).

Jamie Duff. A professional mourner: mid-C. 19–20. Prob. ex the name of a firm that supplies them.

jammed like Jackson (p. 433) occurs in, e.g., W. N. Glascock, Naval Sketch-Book (II, 136), 1826, and Sailors and Saints (I, 182), 1829. Moe.

Jampans, the. The Japanese: among East African soldiers in Burma: ca. 1943–5. (P-G-R.)

Jan.—2. Frequent nickname of ratings with a Devon burr: Naval: C. 20. Hence, Janner, a West Countryman: Naval: since ca. 1910. (Wilfred Granville.)

Jane, adj. Glasgow c., from ca. 1925, as in MacArthur & Long, 'Isobel was clearly a real "Jane bit o' stuff"—a girl of quality who wore a hat, without affectation, because she was accustomed to it.' Ex jane, a girl. Contrast hairry, the, q.v.

jane, 2 (p. 433). Also, since ca. 1918, in Canada.

Jane Shaw has, since ca. 1940, displaced Jane Shore (p. 433).

Jane Shore.—2. This goes back to mid-C. 19; the example in The Ingoldsby Legends may be merely euphemistic.

jank; janky. Impudence; impudent: Oundle: since mid-1920's. Marples. Perhaps jank is a back-formation ex janky, and janky may be a perversion of jaunty.

janker(-)wallah; rarely jankers wallah. An airman undergoing punishment: R.A.F.: since ca. 1920. Jackson. See jankers (Dict.).

Janner. See Jan, 2, above.

jannock (p. 433). Current in Australia since ca. 1880; in England, s. since ca. 1820 (Sessions, 1825—as jonnock). In the Navy it has, since ca. 1925, meant 'in accordance with Service etiquette' (Granville).

janusmug. An intermediary, esp. in shady arrangements or transactions: Australian c.: since ca. 1915. B., 1942. I.e. Janus (facing two ways) + mug (not necessarily a fool: merely small-town, insignificant).

jaol; jawl! See jaw below.

Jap-happy, often contracted to Jappy. Unduly afraid of, or subservient to, the Japanese: prisoners-of-war in Far East: 1942–5. Rohan Rivett, Behind Bamboo, 1946. Jap-happies. See 'Prisoner-of-War Slang', 13.

japanned. (Of a criminal) converted by a prison chaplain: Australian c.: C. 20. B., 1942. Ex japan (p. 434).

jar, n.—2. A pint or 'handle' of beer: Australian: since ca. 1920. Baker.—3. A glass of beer: since ca. 1950.

jar of jam. A tram: Cockney rhyming: C. 20. Len Ortzen, Down Donkey Row, 1938.

jargoan, v. To show (a person) a real diamond and sell him a paste: c.: C. 20. Ex the S.E. n.

jaro, give (p. 434)—recorded first by G. B. Lancaster (1873–1945) most probably, as to jaro, derives from Maori whaurau, to scold.

jarrah-jerker. A West Australian timber-getter: Australian: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.) The jarrah is an Australian hardwood.

jarred off. Depressed (and disgusted); 'fed up': Services (mostly Army): since ca. 1930. Gerald Kersh, The Nine Lives of Bill Nelson, 1942; H. & P., 1943.

java (p. 434) was only very rarely 'tea'—and never since ca. 1920.

jaw, v., 2 (p. 434). An early record: 1826, Sessions (trial of Leakes & Gould).—3. To go: tramps' c.: from ca. 1860. B. & L. derive ex Romany java, I go, and cf. Anglo-India jao (or jaw)!, go, of mid-C. 19–20.

jaw, hold one's (p. 434) goes back to ca. 1780: it occurs in Charles Dibdin's 'Jack's Fidelity', published in The Britannic Magazine (I, No. 11, p. 345), 1793. Moe.

jaw-box, the. Journalism: C. 20. (Neil Munro, The Brave Days, 1931.)—2. The kitchen sink, with the constant chatter over the washing-up: Glasgow domestic: C. 19–early 20. 'Very common' (Dr R. L. Mackay, M.D.).

jaw-breaker (p. 434); Sense 1 occurs earlier in W. N. Glascock, Sketch-Book (II, 117), 1826. Moe.—3. (Usually pl.) A cheap, large, hard or sticky sweet: late C. 19–20.

jaw-breaking, adj. (p. 434). Earlier in Wm Maginn, Tales of Military Life, 1829, at III, 225.

jaw-mag. Talk: mostly Cockneys': from ca. 1880; ob. Pugh (2): 'He made her head ache, she declared, with his noisy jaw-mag.'

jaw-me-dead (p. 434) is extant, although, since ca. 1930, little used; an occasional late C. 19–20 pl. is jaw-me-deaths. Among Cockneys, the version is jaw-me-dad (father): late C. 19–20. (Julian Franklyn, 1962.)

jaw- or jawing-tackle (p. 434). Variant jawing-tacks in Glascock, 1826. Moe. It also has variant jawing tacks aboard, haul one's, as in W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (I, 145), 1829. Moe.

jawer. A punch to the jaw: pugilistic coll.: since ca. 1810; ob. Boxiana, III, 1821.

jay-walker and -walking (p. 435): by 1960, S.E.

Jays, the. Members of the Society of Jesus: gen. Catholic coll.: C. 19–20. The Jays merely phoneticizes 'the J's'.

jaxy and joxy. Female pudend: prostitutes' (notably Liverpool): C. 20. Cf. jacksie.

jazz. Nonsense, 'baloney'; adopted, ex U.S., in 1960, but heard occ. in Britain as early as 1957. It occurs in The Sunday Times of Nov. 26, 1961, with its (? rhyming-s.) variant razzmataz(z); and in The Sunday Telegraph of Dec. 3, 1961, in the almost consecrated phrase all that jazz (Ian Christie's article).

jazz, and all that. And all that sort of thing, esp., and all that nonsense: adopted, ca. 1960, ex U.S. See also 'Jazz Slang' at all . . .

jazz on, get a. To get a move on, esp. in imperative: mostly Army: 1939–45. (P-G-R.)

Jazz terms. An attempt has been made to include the best-known, mostly widely used British Commonwealth s. terms of jazz. Most of them come ultimately from the U.S. A sane, judicious article on the 'Language of Jazz Musicians', written by Norman D. Hinton, appeared in The American Dialect Society, Nov. 1958. For Canadian usage, I owe almost everything to Professor F. E. L. Priestley and Dr Douglas Leechman. Jazz Slang Current in May 1963:

In that month, Mr Rex Harris sent me a selected—and select—list of s. words and phrases popular and general at that time. Several, it will be noticed, were, well before that date, already used widely; and since, several others have gained a wide currency.

all that jazz. All that sort of thing: since ca. 1958, orig. jazz-lovers'.

bundle on, go a. To be wildly enthusiastic about (something): since ca. 1955, esp. among jazz-lovers.

gasser. Something quite breath-taking: adopted by jazz-lovers, in 1960, ex U.S.

gate.—6. A form of greeting, esp. in Hiya, gate!: adopted by jazz-lovers, in 1962, ex U.S.

get sent. See sent, get, below.

get the message. See message, get the, below.

get with it. See with it, get, below.

give out. To do one's utmost, esp. in playing a musical instrument: adopted, ca. 1960, ex U.S., by jazz-lovers. Elliptical for give out one's best?

grab (oneself) a ball. To have a very good time: adopted, ca. 1959 and orig. by jazz-lovers, ex U.S.

groove, in the.—2. 'Firmly established in the situation: musically integrated' (Rex Harris); adopted ex U.S., ca. 1955, by jazz-lovers.

jumping, adj. Moving, musically, in a fine, esp. an exciting, rhythm: jazz-lovers': since ca. 1959.—2. Hence, (very) successful, as in 'The joint is jumping'—the club, or the cafe, is happily excited: since ca. 1960.

message, get the. To understand the gist of an argument, the point of a warning, a hint: since ca. 1957. Cf. the Fighting Services' j. message received.

out of this world. Very beautiful; wonderful; superlative; perfect; although heard occasionally since ca. 1956, it has been common only since 1960. Applied orig.—and, of course, still—to consummate playing by an instrumentalist or to consummate singing.

sent, get. To become en rapport with, or enthusiastic about, the music (esp. jazz) that is being played, whether one is listener or performer: jazz lovers': since ca. 1950.

solid.—6. Satisfactory; (solidly) good; since ca. 1960, orig. jazz-lovers'.

trad. 'Abbreviation of traditional (jazz)': since ca. 1961. Rex Harris.

way out. Of jazz music: 'extremely advanced; complicated; esoteric' (Rex Harris): jazz-lovers': adopted, ca. 1950, ex U.S.

with it, get. (Cf. with it, be, below.) To appreciate a situation or a quality: since ca. 1957, orig. among jazz-lovers.

jazz trains. '1920 suburban stock with coloured strips over doors denoting class of compartment (GER)': railwaymen's: 1920's. (Railway 2nd.)

jazz up. 'To modernize; to add decorative touches to; (jocularly of a book) to revise and augment' (B.P.): not only Australian: since ca. 1950. To enliven; esp., to convert classical music into 'pop': since ca. 1945.

jazzier. A 'K3 N.E.R. locomotive' (Railway): railwaymen's: ? ca. 1940–50.

jazzing. 'The rapid shooting and hauling of nets in the path of the incoming salmon' (Granville): trawlermen's: since ca. 1945.

jazzy. Loud-coloured; 'flashy': since ca. 1935. Michael Harrison, Reported Safe Arrival, 1943, 'He wore a blue jumper of that inarticulate boisterousness called "jazzy".'

Jean(-)Baptiste. A French Canadian: Canadian coll.: late C. 19–20. A common Fr., esp. Fr.-Canadian, pair of given names.

Jean Crappeau is an occasional variant of John(ny) Crappo (p. 443).

Jeanie boy is the North Country's equivalent of Nancy boy (see Dict.): C. 20.

Jeep. A member of the Royal Canadian Naval Volunteer Reserve: since ca. 1938. H. & P. Why?

jeep. A utility Service van or small truck: adopted by the Canadians in 1939, by the English Army in 1941, by the R.A.F. early in 1942, from the U.S. Army. H. & P., 1943. A G.P. (general purposes) vehicle.—2. Hence, a girl friend: Services: since late 1942.—3. A junior production engineer: B.B.C.: since ca. 1944. A vocalization of j-p.

Jeep, the. See Chad.

jeepable. (Of roads or tracks) usable by jeeps: Army coll.: 1944 +. (P-G-R.)

jeepers creepers, occ. merely jeepers! An exclamation adopted, ca. 1944, ex American servicemen. Euphemistic.

jeer, 2 (p. 436). Also low Australian: mid-C 19–20. (Ruth Park, Poor Man's Orange, 1950.)

Jekyll. 'Have a Jekyll. . . Have a brandy and Coca Cola,' C. P. Wittstock, letter of May 23, 1946: South African: since ca. 1930. Ex 'Jekyll and Hyde'; the mild and the violent.—2. See:

Jekyll and Hyde. Crooked; spurious, counterfeit: since ca. 1920; orig. and still mainly underworld, but, by 1940 at latest, also police s. It rhymes on snide, adj. (p. 793), and, esp. in the underworld, is often shortened to Jekyll (John Gosling, The Ghost Squad, 1959). A neat pun on R. L. Stevenson's characters.

jel. Jealous: girls' Public Schools': since ca. 1920. (Nancy Spain, Poison for Teacher, 1949.)

jell, n. A coward: Australian: since ca. 1950. (Dick.) Cf. the S.E. 'to tremble like a jelly'. Hence, jell it, to act like a coward. (Likewise Dick.)

Jellicoe Express, the. 'The all-Service train from London to Thurso (for Scapa Flow). Predominantly Naval. This train became famous in the 1914–18 war and was put back into service in the war of 1939–45': (P-G-R.) jelly, 1, occurs also as all jelly (B. & L.)—3. Gelignite: Australian: since ca. 1918. B., 1942. By 1925, gen. British s.—4. See put a jelly . . .

jelly belly.—2. A coward: Australian: since ca. 1930. (B.P.) Hence the adj. jelly-bellied: since ca. 1935. Cf. jell above. The adj., in its lit. sense 'fat', occurs in Kipling's Stalky & Co., 1899, and may safely be presumed to date since ca. 1870.

jelly-legged. (Of a boxer) groggy: sporting coll.: C. 20. Laurie Atkinson records hearing it in 1960.

Jem Mace (p. 435) fell into disuse ca. 1940.

jemima.—3. (Usually J-.) A dressmaker's dummy: domestic: since ca. 1880.

jemmy, n., 5, occurs in Sinks, 1848, as 'the head' (human or animal).—8. A sovereign (coin): 1857, Augustus Mayhew, Paved with Gold, 'Short for Jemmy O' Goblin': that term, therefore, must be dated back to ca. 1850.

jemmy*, v. To open (a door, a window, etc.) with a jemmy (n., 1: p. 435): late C. 19–20: c. until ca. 1910, then low and police s. In, e.g., J. V. Turner, Homicide Haven, 1933.

jemmy jessamy (p. 435). Ex Eliza Haywood's The History of Jemmy and Jenny Jessamy, 1753; the term, therefore, dates prob. from 1753 or 1754.

Jenkins is the journalistic nickname, ca. 1880–1910, for that person on the staff of The Morning Post who reports the doings of Court and Society. B. & L.

Jennies. See Jenny Hills below.

Jenny.—2. See Jenny Wren.

Jenny Darbies. Policemen: ca. 1830–70.

Charles Martell, The Detectives' Note Book, 1860, 'Well, I joined the [police] force. . . There was a good deal of animosity against us for a long while and all sorts of opprobrious epithets were bestowed upon us. We were "Bobbies", "Bluebottles", "Peclers", and "Jenny Darbies" (gens d'armes).'

Jenny Hills (p. 436) prob. dates from the late 1870's, for it was in the 1870's that Jenny Hill, the music-hall performer, was at the height of her fame. It occurs in, e.g., Sydney Lester, Vardi the Palarey, (?) 1937. Often shortened to Jennies.

Jenny Lea (or Lee).—3. A key: rhyming s.: C. 20.

Jenny Scribe. A Wren with Writer rating: Naval: since ca. 1940.

Jenny Wren; occ. Jill tar (or Jiltar). A Wren: since 1939. H. & P. By ca. 1942, however, jenny (Granville) was far commoner than either; Jill tar was never much used.

jer. You; thus mindjer, mind you: sol.: mid-

C. 19–20. (Pugh.) Only when the pronoun is unemphasised.

jere.—3. A male homosexual: low: C. 20. (Ex sense 2: p. 436.) Franklyn 2nd—but I doubt its being rhyming s.

Jericho (p. 436).—2. As a privy, it dates from ca. 1750 and has long been †, except among builders and masons. Parson Woodforde, Diary, April 26, 1780.—3. Extant among conservators of old Oxford University s. (John Betjeman.)

jerk, n.—3. A chap, fellow, 'guy'; usually with pejorative tinge: adopted in 1943 from American soldiers. Duncan Webb, in Daily Express, Sept. 11, 1945.—4. Custard: Australian soldiers: 1939–45. (B., 1943.)—5. Mostly in pl. jerks, elliptical for fly-jerks, 'small pieces of cork suspended from the brim of a tramp's hat to ward off flies' (B., 1943): Australian coll.: C. 20.

jerk, v., 1 (p. 436), occurs as early as 1773, in a letter from Charles Burney to his friend Twining.

jerk off (p. 436). Another variant is jerk one's turkey. Jerk off: occ. shortened to jerk. Whence jerking(-iron, penis: mostly schoolboys': C. 20.

jerk one's mutton. See gallop one's maggot.

jerk the cat. A variant of whip the cat, q.v. at cat, whip the (senses 1, 2) on p. 132.

jerke is Randle Holme's variant (1688) of jark, a seal. Also, he has jerkt, sealed.

jerrikan. A petrol can captured from the Germans (Jerries); then any petrol can of similar type: Army in N. Africa: 1940–3. (P-G-R.) Extant and, since ca. 1945, S.E.

Jerry (p. 436). There is much to be said for derivation from jerry, n., 3 (p. 436): the German soldier's large steel helmet did, in fact, look rather like a chamber-pot.—2. Ex sense 1 (p. 436) naturally comes the sense, 'a German aircraft': since ca. 1915 and current again in 1939–45; in 1940–1, frequently used by civilians (Berrey, 1940).—3. The inevitable nickname for anyone surnamed Dawson: C. 20. (John o' London's Weekly, Dec. 12, 1936.) Why?—4. Jerry, ex and synonymous with the pot, the headmaster: Cheltenham: resp. since ca. 1919 and since ca. 1890. Marples.

jerry, n., 3 (p. 436). A variant nuance, 'water-closet': Sessions, May 1850 (Surrey cases). It has the further nuance, 'a Jeroboam' of drink, as in 'The naval officer... came into the Clarendon for a Jerry of punch': Wm Maginn, Whitehall (p. 140), 1827. Moc.

jerry, v., 1 (p. 437) occurs in New Zealand as jerry to, as in 'He hadn't jerried to it before' (Slatter): C. 20.

jerry, adj. Mostly in be full jerry to (someone), to be fully aware of his tricks or schemes or ulterior purpose: since ca. 1930. (Harold Griffiths, letter of Jan. 4, 1960.)

jerry-come-tumble. A water-closet: lower classes' (—1860); † by 1920. H., 2nd ed. Ex jerry, n., 3, influenced by jerry-go-nimble or by jerrycommumble or by both (q.v. in the Dict.).

jerry(-)diddle, or one word. 'A drink on the house' (B., 1942): Australian: C. 20. Cf. Jerry Riddle.—2. (Also Jerry Diddle.) A violin: rhyming s.: late C. 19–20. Franklyn, Rhyming.

Jerry O'Gorman. A Mormon: rhyming s.: C. 20.

Jerry Riddle (or Riddell), n. and v. Urination; to urinate: mid-C. 19–20. Rhyming in piddle. jerrybuilder; jerrybuilding. See jerry-builder in Dict.

Jerry's Backyard. The Skagerrack and Kattegat: Coastal Command (R.A.F.): 1943–5. Communicated by S/Ldr Vernon Noble in Feb. 1945.

jersey. A red-headed person: Australian: ca. 1870–1920. B., 1942.

Jerusalem artichoke. A donkey: rhyming s.: ca. 1870–1930. (Franklyn 2nd.) On moke, 1: p. 526.

Jerusalem on Sea. A C. 20 variant of Jerusalem the Golden (Dict.).

Jerusalem pony. Often abbr. to Jerusalem. B. & L.

Jes (pron. Jēz). A Jesuit: Catholics': C. 19–20.

jessie, give (someone), on p. 437. No; it almost certainly derives from Isaiah, xi, 1, 'There shall come forth a rod out of the stem of Jesse.' (Jespersen.)

Jessies. Custard: Naval (lower-deck): since ca. 1915. Semantics: custards quiver like Jessie's breasts. Cf. bathing beauty.

jessy. See jaisy.

Jesuit.—3. A member of Jesus College, Cambridge: Cambridge: late C. 19–20. Cf. sense 2 (p. 437).

jet, n. and v. A jet-propelled aircraft: R.A.F. (and aircraft engineers') coll.: mid-1944, by ca. 1960, S.E.; to travel by a jet aircraft: coll.: since ca. 1960.

jet job. An extremely fast racing car: Canadian motorists': 1948 +.

Jew chums. Jewish refugees from Germany and Central Europe: Australian: since ca. 1936, B., 1942. With a pun on new chums: cf. U.S. refujews.

Jew parade. Sunday cookhouse fatigue for those who dodge the church parade, whether they are Jews or not: Army: late C. 19–20.

jeweller's shop. A pocket of free (i.e. loose) gold in a shaft: Australian miners': since ca. 1910. It glitters so. (H. Drake Brockman, Hot Gold, 1940.)

Jewie. A Jew: Anglo-Irish coll.: late C. 19–20. James Joyce, Ulysses, 1922. Cf. Jewy below.

jewie. A jewfish; a jew lizard: Australian coll.: C. 20. (B., 1953.)

jewing. Earlier in 'Taffrail': 'To do "jewling" is to make or repair clothes.'

jewing firm. 'A tailoring concern run by one or more of the ship's company' (Granville): Naval: C. 20. See jewing (p. 438).

Jewish forest. Three threes: poker-players': C. 20. Ex the pronunciation t'ree t'rees. (Alan S. C. Ross.)

Jewish nightcap. Foreskin: low: late C. 19–20. With reference to circumcision.

Jewish pianola. A cash-register: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)

Jew's harp.—2. 'A shackle so shaped, used to join an anchor-chain to an anchor' (Granville): Naval: since ca. 1890 +.

Jew's Rolls-Royce. A Jaguar motor-car: since ca. 1938. Much chromium plating 'and all that'.

Jewtocracy. The art of hatching or developing mysteries: cultured: since ca. 1930. On pluto-craey.

Jewy or Jewey. An inseparable nickname for Jews, esp. if surnamed Moss: from ca. 1890 (Pugh). Cf. Ikey in Dict.

jewy. Variant of jewie. (Cecil Mann, 1945.) jib, n., 1 (p. 433) should be back-dated to late C. 18: it occurs in Charles Dibdin's The Five Engagements, cited by The Port Folio, Sept. 21, 1805 (p. 295). Moe.

jib, booze one's or the; booze up the jib (variant). See booze the jib (Dict.).

jib-and-staysail Jack. The seaman's name for an officer given, whether inexperienced or a martinet, to tormenting the men by constantly 'making and shortening sail' to keep the ship in station when it forms one of a fleet: Naval: late C. 18-mid-19. (W. N. Glascock, Sketch-Book, I, 1825.) Moe.

jib show. A show featuring only girls: Canadian carnival s.: since ca. 1920. Cf. jig-a-jig (p. 438).

jig is up, the.—2. 'The last line of type has been set and the forme can be locked and put on the press' (Leechman): Canadian printers': C. 20.

jigery pokery is B. & L.'s form of jiggery-pokery (Dict.).

jig(g)aree is a C. 20 variant—esp. Naval—of jiggamaree (Dict.). Granville.

jigger, n.—15. A bicycle: Army in France: 1914-18. Ex sense 12.—16. A man; esp., silly jigger: since ca. 1918. Orig. euphemistic for bugger, 2 (p. 103).—17. An entry; a passage between terrace-house backyards: Merseyside: late C. 19-20.

jiggery-pook is the Australian shape of jiggery-pokery (p. 439): since ca. 1910. B., 1942.

jiggle juice. Special fuel for racing cars: racing motorists': adopted, ca. 1955, ex U.S. (The Autocar, June 8, 1962.)

jiggy-jig. Variant (1914 +) of jig-a-jig (p. 438).

jildi. V.i., to be quick, move quickly or promptly: Regular Army: C. 20. Blaker (ex-Indian-Army sergeant loquitur): 'Come on. We'll catch 'im if we jildi.' Ex the jildi of the Dict.—3. As n., in get a jildi on, get a move on, hurry: Army, esp. in India: World War II. (P-G-R.)

jildi move, do a. To retreat hastily: Army: 1939-45.—2. Among tank men: to take evasive action: 1940-5. (P-G-R.)

Jill, hence also jill. A girl: since ca. 1945; not very common. Probably ex 'Every Jack has his Jill'.

jill (or J-) mill. Venetian shutters or blind: Anglo-Indian: mid-C. 19-20. B. & L.

Jillaroo or j-. A Land Girl: Australian war s. of 1939-45. (B., 1943.) A blend of Jill, a girl + jackaroo.

jillpots, his or her. He, she—him, her; that person: itinerant entertainers': C. 20. See quotation at vardi, 2, below. Often shortened to his, or her, jills. Sydney Lester, Vardi the Palarey, (?) 1937.

Jim. The sum of £1: Australian: since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.) Ex Jimmy o' Goblin, q.v. at Jimmy o' Goblin (pp. 435-6).

Jim Brown (p. 439): † by 1960. Franklyn 2nd.

Jim Crow.—2. A roof spotter of aircraft: civilian Services: 1939 +. H. & P.—3. Hence, one who keeps watch while, e.g., gambling is in progress: combatant Services: since 1940. H. & P.—4. A plate-layer: railwaymen's: since ca. 1945. (Railway 2nd.) He needs to keep a look-out for oncoming trains. Cf. senses 2 and 3.—5. Racial prejudice, esp. against Negroes: since ca. 1955. Cf. the song Jim Crow Blues sung by the American Negro folk-singer Huddie Ledbetter ('Leadbelly'), c. 1870?-1949.—6. A professional: itinerant entertainers': C. 20. Rhyming s. on pro, 2 (p. 661). Lester.

Jim Skinner! a C. 20 variant of Joe Skinner (Dict.). Len Ortzen, 1938.

Jiminy (or Jiminy) Crickets! A widespread Canadian (ex U.S.) expletive: since ca. 1920. W. & F. suggest that it stands for Jesu Domine; Dr Douglas Leechman and I, that it is a euphemism for Jesus Christ.

Jimmies' Union. The First Lieutenants in a flotilla of destroyers, an informal association presided over by the senior 'Jimmy': Naval officers': since the 1920's. Cf. watchkeepers' union.

Jimmy. St James's Palace, London: mostly Regular Army: late C. 19-20. This and Jimmy guard: Gerald Kersh, Boots Clean, 1941.—2. See Jimmy the One.—3. (Or jimmy.) 'Piece of metal illicitly placed in blast pipe causing [= to cause] greater draught on fire and better steaming. Used in 1890-1930 period when drivers were paid a bonus for saving coal and oil and Railway Companies bought cheap coal' (Railway): railwaymen's, esp. among drivers and their mates.—4. See Jimmy Grant (p. 439 and below).

Jimmy Britts, often shortened to Jimmies and always preceded by the. Diarrhoea: Australian rhyming s. (on the shits): C. 20.

Jimmy Bungs (Dict.): by 1945, virtually extinct, Granville.

Jimmy Grant and jimmy, n., 2 (p. 439). The longer term was originally a New Zealand usage: 1845, E. J. Wakefield, Adventure: app. † by 1900 in New Zealand. (B., 1941.)

Jimmy Green. A sail set under the bowsprit: sailing ship nautical: ? ca. 1860-1910. (L. D. M. Roberts, June 27, 1951.)

Jimmy guard. Guard duty at St James's Palace: Army: C. 20. Cf. Buck guard.

Jimmy Prescott. Waistcoat: rhyming s.: C. 20. Lester.

Jimmy Rollocks. A C. 20 variant of Tommy Rollocks (below). (Franklyn 2nd.)

Jimmy the One. An earlier reference occurs in 'Taffrail': 'The first lieutenant (a lieutenant-commander as he usually is in these days [1916]) is "Jimmy the One".' Often simply Jimmy (Granville).

Jimmy Woodser.—2. Hence, a person alone, esp. an orphan: Australian: since ca. 1935. (D'Arcy Niland, When the Cross Turns Over, 1958.) Ex the nuance 'a person drinking alone' (since ca. 1910): B., 1959.

Jimmy Woods-ing, vbl n. Solitary drinking: New Zealand, esp. miners': C. 20. (Jean Devaney, Down Below, 1928.) Ex Jimmy Woodset, 1 (p. 439).

jing (or J-), by. A variant and derivative of by jingo!: C. 20. Philip MacDonald, The Crime Conductor, 1932. Imm. ex Scottish use, q.v. at jings! in the Dict.

jingbang (p. 440). Cf. the whole shebang at shebang (p. 752).

jingle, 2, is also Australian (since ca. 1925): B., 1942.

jingled. Tipsy: ca. 1910-30. Ward Muir, Observations of an Orderly, 1917.

jingler (horse-courser) appears in early C. 17;

esp. in Dekker's Lanthorne and Candlelight, 1608-9.

Jingling Johnnie (or -y). A Turkish crescent, i.e. a noise-making instrument (a stick, with small bells depending from a crescent-shaped attachment): C. 19-20; ob. Percy Scholes, The Oxford Companion to Music. The Johnnie may be short for Johnny Turk, 'Turk'. The instrument was introduced into military bands when, late in C. 18, so-called Turkish music became popular in Europe.

jingling johnnies. 'We find shears called jingling johnnies and tongs,' B., 1942: New Zealand and Australian rural: since ca. 1870. Ex preceding term.

jings! (p. 440). The Aus. form—mostly juvenile—is by jings!, as, frequently, in Norman Lindsay, Saturday, 1933.

jink, v.; jinking; jinks. Resp., 'To turn quickly and skilfully in the air to avoid enemy action; the activity or the practice of making these turns; the turns themselves. Also jink away, noun and verb,' Partridge, 1945; 1943, H. & P., the second and third; The Reader's Digest, Feb. 1941, the first, which dates from at least as early as 1937 in the R.A.F., whose use thereof is merely an application of S.E. (mainly Scottish) jink, 'to make a quick elusive turn' (O.E.D.).—2. To swindle (someone): Australian: since ca. 1920. Kylie Tennant, Foveaux, 1939.

jinker (p. 440) dates since ca. 1875. 'Tom Collins', Such is Life, 1903.—2. A variant of junker. (B., 1943).—3. A bringer of bad luck: Newfoundland: since ca. 1920. A back-formation ex jinx (apprehended as jinks). L. E. F. English, Historic Newfoundland, 1955.

Jinties; the singular Jinty is rare. 'Class 3 0-6-0 tank engines (MR)': railwaymen's: ? ca. 1940. (Railway.)

jintoe. A girl of poor reputation; a whore: South African (low s. and c.): late C. 19-20. See Underworld.

jinx. A bringer, a causer, of bad luck: adopted, ca. 1936, from U.S. Walter Greenwood, Only Mugs Work, 1938, 'Lay off the dames, Mario, they're all jinxes.' Cognate with jink (above), the implication being that 'they are all twisters'. Hence, bad luck, as in, 'That's put a jinx on it.' More precisely: something that, midway between a devil in a thing and a curse on it, causes it to go repeatedly wrong, as in, 'This machine—this undertaking—has a jinx on it.'

jinx, v., corresponds to both senses of the n. and follows within a year or two; likewise adopted from U.S.

jip.—2. Energy: Australian: C. 20. (D'Arcy Niland, Call Me . . ., 1958.)

jirk-nod or jirknod. See yerknod (Dict.).

jitter-bug. A very nervous or jittery person: adopted in 1938 from U.S. Ex jitters (Dict.).

jitter party. A party of Japanese sneaking around a camp's perimeter and trying to cause alarm by making noises and throwing grenades: Burmese front: 1942 +.

jitterbuggery. The style of dancing known as jitterbug: Canadian adolescents' since ca. 1952.

jittery. On edge; very nervous: adopted in 1935 or 1936 from U.S. Somerset Maugham, Theatre, 1937, 'For two or three weeks she was very jittery'. Ex jitters (p. 440).

jive. To dance: Teddy boys': ca. 1955-9.

'In the palais [de danse] you don't dance. It is—care to jive, or, get terpsichorical (Terpsichore was the Greek muse of dancing)': Gilderdale, 2. Ex the n., itself probably of Negro origin (perhaps synonymous with jazz).—2. To talk: a talk: jazz fanatics: since ca. 1948. (The Observer, Sept. 16, 1956.) Ex the talking that accompanies, or ensues, upon dancing.

Jive and Swing Slang. This slang reached Britain from the U.S. in 1945; still in July 1947 was it very little known except among the hep cats or addicts of jive and swing, early called 'hot jazz'. All of it is American, most of it ephemeral. In mid-1947 Vic Filmer compiled a glossary of jive and swing. Almost the only terms that have the least importance and look at all likely to survive more than a year or two are these, culled from that glossary:

beat up one's chops. To be loquacious.

blow one's wig, to go crazy; hence, to act crazily. Prompted by that other Americanism, blow ones' top.

fin, £1 (sum or note); dash me a fin, give me one pound. See finnif, p. 277.

gravy, money. Hence, get oneself some gravy for grease, to obtain money for food.

neigho, poys!: no (or, nothing doing), pal! Ex nah!, no!

razz-ma-tazz! ordinary jazz, old-fashioned jazz, also called ricky-fick or rooty-toot.

twister, a key, esp. in twister to the slammer, a door key.

Writing on Oct. 12, 1965, Professor F. E. L. Priestley amends the foregoing paragraph thus, 'I have a record I bought ca. 1934, made by the Negro band-leader and pianist Fats Waller, with the title "Don't try your jive on me", which suggests that it did not then mean the same as jazz. May mean "tricks", whence jive as a "tricky" form of playing. When the term jive came in, it denoted the sort of music that jitter-bugs danced to. This was a different style from the traditional "hot jazz". Jive and swing are not the same thing as what was before called "hot jazz".' He adds that fin and gravy are not, of course, jive talk; that razz-ma-tazz refers esp. to Cab Calloway's singing and conducting, ca. 1925-35; and that ricky-ticky (not fick) or rooty-toot is old-fashioned New Orleans jazz.

jive!, don't give me that. Don't talk such (utter) nonsense: jazz addicts': since ca. 1950. (L. Fordyce, letter in The Observer, Sept. 23, 1956.) Ex jive, 2, above.

jizzup is a Birmingham s. variant of jossop (p. 445): late C. 19-20. (Dr C. T. Onions, postcard of April 9, 1939.)

Jo-bag. A 'French letter': mostly Servicemen's: since ca. 1943. Ex U.S.?

jo-jo (pl. jo-joes).—2. 'A small grass-seed with a double-pronged head that sticks in the feet. Like a blindy-eye, only much smaller' (Edwin Morrisby, 1958): Australian: since ca. 1925. Either Aboriginal or imitative of Aboriginal. Blindy-eye is a rare variant of bindy-eye, itself app. an elaboration of bindy or bindi—a term belonging to S.E. (B.P.)

Joan of Arcs or Joe Marks. Sharks: Australian rhyming s. (— 1945). B., 1945.

Joanna (p. 440): recorded earlier in A. Neil Lyons, Clara, 1912.

job, n.—6. A passenger: taxi-drivers': since ca.

1910. Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939.—7. An aircraft: R.A.F.: since ca. 1939. Jackson. Ex a job of work.—7. Hence, fig. as in blonde job, blue job, brown job. “‘I saw a wizard job in the village this morning.’ . . . He had seen a beautiful girl.” Hector Bolitho in The English Digest, Feb. 1941; Jackson, 1943, “Thus, ‘She’s a blonde job’”; et (how many?) alii.—9. A drunk: Australian: since ca. 1939 at least. (B., 1943.)—10. In make a job of (someone).—11. An inferior worker; a fool; ‘a bit of a mess’: Australian: since ca. 1930. Cf. senses 5 (p. 440) and 9. Gavin Casey, Downhill is Easier, 1945 (p. 52).

job, v., 4; lamp, v. ‘To lamp a bloke is to attack him with your bunch of fives (fists) or knives or razors. To job ‘im means the same thing. A street corner fight is a bundle or a tole’ (Gilderdale, 2): Teddy boys’ since ca. 1954. Whereas bundle suggests bundle up, tole perhaps represents dial, toll, a clump (of, e.g., trees). Ex sense 3 on p. 440.

job, do a.—3. To defecate: both children’s and adults’: late C. 19–20. Euphemistic.

job, just the. See just . . .

job, on the. In coitu: low coll.: C. 20. Sexually at work.

job, on the, adv., hence also adj. (Engaged) in copulation; be on the job, to be copulating; get on with the job, to lose no time in beginning to copulate: coll.: C. 20. (Anthony Burgess, Tremor of Intent, 1966.)

job of it, make a clean. To do thoroughly: coll.: from ca. 1885. Anstey, Voces Populi, II, 1892.

jobbernolling. See ‘Epithets’.

jock, 3, food; hence jock tin, a food container: railwaymen’s: C. 20. (Railway.)

Jock, 2 (p. 441). Esp. the Jocks, the Scots Guards: Army: late C. 19–20. Gerald Kersh, They Die with Their Boots Clean, 1941, cites also the Micks and the Taffs, the Irish and the Welsh Guards.

Jock columns. Highly mobile bodies of troops in the Western Desert: Army coll.: 1942–3. Ex Brigadier Jock Campbell. (P-G-R.)

jocked off, be. (Of a jockey) to be deprived of an agreed mount: racing: since ca. 1930. Dick Francis, Nerve, 1964, ‘I discovered that two of my three prospective mounts were mine no longer. I had been, in the expressive phrase, jocked off.’ Ex jock, n., 2, on p. 441.

jockey, n.—5. A top boot: boot-makers’ and repairers’: 1851, Mayhew, II.—6. See ‘Hauliers’ Slang’.—7. A policeman: c.: since ca. 1945. (John Gosling, 1959.)—8. A pilot: R.A.F., Malta: since ca. 1950. Cf. sense 4 on p. 441 (‘bus-driver’).

jockey sticks; often shortened to jockeys. ‘Two pieces of a flat stick, split lengthwise and fastened on to the two handles of a pair of shears to give a larger and softer grip,’ B., 1942: Australian shearers’: C. 20.

jockeys.—2. See jockey sticks.—3. A pole-roofing to keep bark of hut in position: Australian: C. 20. (B., 1943.) They ‘ride’ the hut.

jockey’s whip, occasionally jockeys. A bed; (a) sleep: rhyming s. (on kip): since ca. 1940; by 1959, ob. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

jocky. ‘A Man’s Yard’, Holme, 1688; whence jock, n. (see Dict.).

Joe, a marine (see joe, 3: p. 441), is recorded in Fraser’s Magazine, Aug. 1875, as a ‘household word’. (Moe.)

joe, n., 1 (p. 441), occurs in W. N. Glascock’s Naval Sketch Book, 2nd Series, 1834, at I, 144, ‘To avoid the appearance of official stiffness or dullness at dinner, relax in the recital of an occasional “joe”.’ Moe.—10. As Joe, it = an imaginary person, as in “‘Who did that?’—“Joe””: ca. 1830–70. Sinks, 1848.—11. ‘A name for anyone in the Service,’ Jackson: R.A.F.: since ca. 1920.—12. Short for Joe Soap: R.A.F.: since ca. 1935. Gerald Emanuel, letter of March 29, 1945.—13. Joe has, since ca. 1935, but esp. since June 1941, denoted Joseph Stalin; by 1960, ob.—14. Short for Joe Blake, a snake: Australian: C. 20. The full term occurs in B., 3rd ed., 1943.—15. As Joe, the inseparable nickname of all men surnamed Beckett: since ca. 1919. Ex the English boxer so named.—16. As Joe, in such phrases as ‘a good Joe’, a good fellow, and ‘an honest Joe’, an honest man, it was, ca. 1944, adopted ex U.S.

Joe, rolling. See rolling Joe.

Joe Blakes, the. Delirium tremens: Australian rhyming s. (on snakes): since ca. 1910. Ex Joe Blake, 2 (p. 442). Alan Marshall, These Are My People, 1946.

Joe boy; Joe job. One who is detailed for an unpleasant job (Joe job): Canadian soldiers’: since ca. 1940.

Joe Brown. (A) town: rhyming s., ? orig. showmen’s: 1893, P. H. Emerson, Signor Lippo.

Joe Buck. Coition: low Australian rhyming s., not very common: since ca. 1930. (B.P.)

Joe Cardboard. A synonym of Joe Erk, a softy, a constant dupe: mostly Services’: since ca. 1950.

Joe Cunt is synonymous with the next: Services: since ca. 1920.

Joe Erk. ‘A peculiar and ingenious combination of “Joe” (Canadian abbreviation of “Joe Soap”), “erk” (British) and “jerk”, American for a dull-witted fellow,’ Elgin Blair, letter of May 15, 1947: R.C.A.F.: 1939+. Perhaps rhyming s. on U.S., hence Canadian, s. jerk. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

Joe Goss. Boss: Australian rhyming s.: since ca. 1910. (Franklyn, ibid.)

Joe Gurr. Prison: c.: since ca. 1930. F. D. Sharpe, The Flying Squad, 1938. Rhyming on stir (p. 833).

Joe Hook.—2. A book: since ca. 1930.

Joe Hunt. ‘The man who gets all the dirty work to do,’ H. & P.: Services: since ca. 1920. Rhyming with (silly) cunt.—2. Hence, a fool: C. 20. Franklyn.

Joe job. See Joe boy.

Joe Marks. See Joan of Arcs.

Joe Morgan is an Australian variant (B., 1945) of Molly O’Morgan.

Joe O’Gorman. A foreman: rhyming s.: late C. 19–20.

Joe Poke. A justice of the peace: lower classes; from ca. 1875. B. & L. By elaboration of J.P.

Joe Rocks. Socks: rhyming s.: C. 20. Suggested by almond rocks (Dict.).

Joe Ronce. A ‘ponce’: rhyming s.: C. 20. James Curtis, The Gilt Kid, 1936.

Joe Rook.—2. A crook: C. 20. Rhyming. Cf.:

Joe Rooks (singular very rare). Bookmakers, esp. those who ply on the course: racing rhyming s. (on synonymous books): C. 20. Franklyn 2nd.

Joe Rourke. A thief, esp. a pickpocket: c.: mid-C. 19–20. F. D. Sharpe, 1938. Rhyming on fork, n., 1 and 2 (Dict.).

Joe Soap. An unintelligent fellow that is ‘over-willing' and therefore made a 'willing-horse': Services (esp. R.A.F.): since ca. 1930. H. & P. Rhyming on dope, n., 6 (Dict.). Also as v.: 'Thus, "Yes, I'm always Joe Soaping for somebody"' (Jackson).

Joe'd, be. To be given the dirty work: R.A.F.: since ca. 1945. Ex the Joe of Joe Soap above.

joes, the.—2. Hence, (a state of) nerves: Australian: since ca. 1925. Vance Palmer, Seedtime, 1957, 'What I saw in the sugar country gave me the joes.'

Joey. A familiar form of Joe Hunt. Franklyn, Rhyming.—2. The senior Royal Marine officer in the wardroom: Naval officers': C. 20. (P-G-R.)—3. As in 'I'm having my Joey' or menstrual period: middle and upper-middle class feminine: C. 20.

joey. Sense 2 gen. has a capital. 'Taffrail': 'A Royal marine is a "bullock", "turkey", or "Joey", while a soldier is a "grabby" or "leather neck"'.—8. A humbug: prison c.: mid-C. 19-20. Mayhew. Perhaps cf. holy Joe (Dict.).—9. Three-pence: Cockneys': C. 20. Ex sense 1.—10. A hermaphrodite: a sodomite; an effeminate or fop-pish young man neither hermaphrodite nor sodomite: Australian low: C. 20. B., 1942. Perhaps ex sense 4, third nuance (p. 442).—11. An evasion; a small lie: low Australian: C. 20. (B., 1943.) Probably ex sense 8.—12. A worthless cheque: Australian (low; police): since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.)—13. A fake: Australian servicemen's: 1939-45. (B., 1953.) Ex senses 8, 11, 12.

Joey, it's. A call at knocking-off time: Midlands collieries: C. 20. (The Manchester Guardian, Aug. 19, 1954.)

joey, wood and water. An idler that hangs about hotels: Australian: C. 20. Baker. Ex sense 4 of joey (Dict.).

jogari homey or polone(y). Any instrumentalist or singer, resp. male (homey) or female: parlary: late (? mid) C. 19-20. (Sydney Lester, 1937.) A variant of joggering ome(y) (p. 442)—cf. jogger (ibid.).

jogue (p. 442), a shilling, occurs in George Elson's The Last of the Climbing Boys, 1900, in form jug; the word, therefore, passed into chimneysweeps' s. and may have survived until very early C. 20.

John. 1. Major A. F. Mockler-Ferryman (Annals of Sandhurst, 1900) defines it as a cadet in his first two years and dates it from ca. 1860. Contrast Reg.—4. This sense may abbr. John Hop:—8. Short for John Thomas, 2 (p. 443): New Zealand: C. 20.—9. A kookaburra: Australian: C. 20. (B., 1943.)—10. See next entry.—11. An arrest: since ca. 1945: c. >, by ca. 1965, also low s. Short for John Bull, rhyming on s. pull, a or to arrest.

Sense 4 has, since ca. 1910, been common also in Canada—'I think, in this case, from John Darm (gendarme)': F. E. L. Priestley.

john, the. The water-closet: upper and middle class: C. 20. Less probably from Fr. donjon, a castle-keep, than a pun on dial. Jack's house or on jack, 12 (p. 429) or even on Ajax (p. 7).

John Bluebottle. A policeman: C. 20. Cf. blue bottle in Dict.

John Bull. See John, 11, above.

John Chinaman. A Chinese: C. 19-20; by 1940, ob.; by 1966, virtually †. John Hall, Voyage to Loo-choo, 1826 (p. 37), 'The seamen . . .

not caring whether John Chinaman, as they called him, understood them or not.' (Moe.)

John Dillon. A shilling: New Zealand rhyming s.: since ca. 1930. 'From the name of a famous racehorse' (Franklyn 2nd).

John Dunn; usually pl., John Dunns, policemen: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. For origin see johndarm.

John Hop. More prob. rhyming s. on cop: witness P. P., Rhyming Slang, 1932. Also English and South African and Australian.

John o' Groat. A coat; pl., John o' Groats, coats: rhyming s.: since ca. 1800.

John Thomas. 2. Not low but gentlemanly. In New Zealand at least as early as 1874 (A. Bathgate, Colonial Experiences): B., 1941. And in Australia as early as 1867 (Baker, letter).

John Trot. A bumpkin: upper classes': ? ca. 1710-70. (A letter, dated Dec. 17, 1733 and cited in Lord Hervey and His Friends, edited by the Earl of Ilchester, 1950.)

John Willie. A synonym of John Thomas, 2 (p. 443): since ca. 1930.

John Willie (or Willy), come on! A North Country c.p. of exhortation to a slow-witted or mentally deficient youth or man: late C. 19-20. Also, Julian Franklyn tells me, a London streets c.p. of ca. 1910: 'I believe from a song.'

johndarm (or J-). A policeman: London taxi-drivers': since ca. 1917. Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939. Ex Fr. (gens d'armes >) gendarme.

Johnnie.—10. Short for Johnnie Horner, a corner: C. 20.—11. A Chinaman: Australian: since ca. 1905. B., 1942. Ex John, 5 (Dict.).—12. As the Johnny, the water-closet: C. 20. In, e.g., C. S. Archer, China Servant, 1946. Cf. sense 2 on p. 523.—13. An Arab: Army: 1939-45. (P-G-R.)—14. Penis: mostly feminine: late C. 19-20.—15. A kookaburra: Australian: C. 20. (K. S. Prichard, Hazby's Circus, 1930.)—16. A French letter: R.A.F.: since ca. 1950. Prompted by sense 14 ?

johnny bait (or one word). See bait, 4, above, and perhaps cf. Johnnie, 15, above.

Johnnie (or -y) Gallagher. A policeman: tramps' c.: C. 20.

Johnnie Hopper. A policeman: Australian rhyming s. (on copper): since ca. 1920. (B.P.)

Johnnie in the stalls. A (vapid) young man haunting the theatre stalls on account of the actresses: from ca. 1895. Leonard Merrick, The Call from the Past, 1910.

Johnnie (or -ny) Rann. A variant of Tommy O'Rann (p. 896). Franklyn 2nd.

Johnnie (or -ny) Rollocks. A variant of Tommy Rollocks below.

Johnnie Rutter. Butter: rhyming: C. 20.

Johnnie's or Johnny's. A doss-house: Australian servicemen's: 1939-45. (B., 1943.)

Johnny Armstrong (p. 443): 'the elementary motive power known as "handraulic"' (Granville): Naval: C. 20.

Johnny-come-lately. 'A nickname for a farm hand recently arrived from England,' B., 1942: New Zealand rural: since ca. 1910. Cf. Johnny Newcome, 2 (Dict.).—2. In Australia, any newcomer: C. 20. B., 1942.

Johnny Cotton. Rotten: rhyming s.: C. 20. Franklyn, Rhyming.

Johnny Crappo—see John(ny) Crapose on p. 443—occurs in W. N. Glascock's Naval Sketch Book, 2nd Series, 1834, at II, 137. (Moe.) It also occurs as Jean Crappeau in Alfred Burton, Johnny Newcome, 1818. (Moe.)

Johnny Gurk. A Gurkha (soldier): 1915 +.

Johnny Haultaut (p. 443). Origin much more prob. in the lit. haul taut.

Johnny Newcome, 2 (p. 443), probably dates from late C. 18: cf. A. Burton, Johnny Newcome, 1818.

Johnny Randall. A candle: navvies' rhyming s.: ca. 1860-1900. (D. W. Barrett, 1880.)

Johnny Ronce. Variant of Joe Ronce (p. 442). Gerald Kersh, Night and the City, 1938.

Johnny Russell. A bustle: Australian rhyming s.: C. 20. B., 1942.

Johnny Skinner. A C. 20 variant of Joe Skinner. Franklyn, Rhyming.

Johnny Warder. An idler that hangs about public-houses in the hope of a free drink: Australian: ca. 1880-1920. B., 1942. Ex John Ward, the landlord of a low 'pub' in Sydney.—2. A lone drinker: Aus.: ca. 1910-40. (B., 1959.)

Johnny Woodser is a New Zealand and Australian variant of Jimmy Woodser (p. 439).

Johnson.—2. A prostitute's bully, esp. if a black: c., and low: from ca. 1910.—3. The penis: mid-C. 19-20; by 1950, ob. '... Neck frozen. Face ditto; thighs ditto; Johnson ditto, and sphincter vesicæ partially paralyzed': entry of Feb. 2, 1863 in Cheadle's Journal of Trip across Canada, 1862-1863 (Ottawa, 1931). Communicated by Dr Douglas Leechman.

join! join up! 'Get some Service in!': Services: since ca. 1925. H. & P.

join a brick wall. To crash into a wall: since ca. 1925. In 1939-45, young fellows thinking of volunteering for the Forces were sometimes told that they would do better to join a brick wall.

join the Army and see the world—the next world! A jocular gibe by disgruntled soldiers: since ca. 1948. Ex the poster carrying—without the last three words—that slogan.

join the back of the queue! A c.p. addressed to someone slow in the uptake: since ca. 1944. (A. B. Petch, March 1966.)

join the gang. To become a thief: low: from ca. 1860; ob. B. & L.

join? When I get out of this (lot) they won't get me to join a Christmas Club: Forces' c.p.: 1939 +.

joined the R.A.F. we all knew one another, when I. R.A.F. regular's c.p., in 1939-45, to a 'duration only' man.

joint, 4 (p. 443) is app. Anglo-Irish in origin—and very much earlier in Ireland than in U.S. 'A Real Paddy', Real Life in Ireland, 1822, 'I skips the joint' (ran away from the place—a boarding school).—8. A 'reefer'. To roll a joint is to make up a marijuana cigarette. This is the commonest synonym in current use among young people (1968).

With sense 6 of the n. (p. 443) cf. the entry at 'Mock Auction slang' below.

joke, it's no. See no joke . . .

joke over! or when do we laugh? A sarcastic c.p., directed at a feeble witticism: since the 1920's. The former is sometimes uttered by the joker himself when he sees that his wit has misfired. joker (p. 443): very common in New Zealand since ca. 1890. 'A joker oughta bash ya' (Slatter.)

key. Funny: teenagers': since ca. 1955.

Nicholas Blake, The Sad Variety, 1964. "Leake," I said, "your mind's as jokey as your clothes".

joking, of course,—you're, he is, etc. A c.p. of modified optimism: since ca. 1955.

jol. To have fun: South African: C. 20. Adoption of Afrikaans (ex Dutch jolen, to make merry).—2. See let's slaat . . .

jollo. A festive occasion; a party: Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1942. Ex jollification. Australian s. is fond of the jolly terminal -o. jollop. 'Strong liquor, especially whiskey' (B., 1942): Australian: C. 20. Ex:—2. A laxative, a purgative: Australian coll.: late C. 19-20. A corruption of julep.

jolly, n., 7 (p. 444) goes back to ca. 1910: witness, e.g. Siegfried Sassoon's Memoirs of an Infantry Officer, 1930, 'a bit of a jolly' (in quotation marks); probably, at first, Public Schools'.

Sense 2 must antedate 1829: it occurs, in 1825, in W. N. Glascock, Sketch-Book (I, 14). Moe.

jolly, v.—5. (Cf. sense 3.) 'To impose upon, to act as an accomplice or abettor': c.: from ca. 1860. B. & L.

jolly boat, take the. To break out of barracks: Naval (lower-deck): since ca. 1920. (P-G-R.)

jolly d. 'Jolly decent': Public Schoolgirls: since ca. 1910. (Angus Wilson, Hemlock and After, 1952.) 'Not unknown in Australia' (B.P., 1963).

jolly Jack. Sailors' term for the civilian conception of (and illusions about) the seaman in the Navy: Naval coll.: since ca. 1920.

jolly stick. An occasional variant of joy-stick, 1 (p. 445). Virtually extinct by 1940.

jolly tit. See 'Men'.

jolly well. An intensive adverb: middle-class coll.: apparently since the 1880's. (The O.E.D. cites Rudyard Kipling, 1898.) It occurs, always with a verb, as in "Sorry!"—"You jolly well ought to be!" and "You'll jolly well go there yourself, and not ask someone else to go."

jolt, n. A drink, esp. of brandy and whiskey: Australian: since ca. 1920. Godfrey Blunden, No More Reality, 1935, "Take another jolt, sport," said Clarrie with a grin. Adopted ex Canada, where current since ca. 1900. (Niven.)

jolt, v.—2. To strike (someone): Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942.

jolt, pass (someone) a. To strike: Australian: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.)

Jonah.—2. A frequent nickname for a man sur-named Jones: late C. 19-20. 'Lieut.-Colonel L. B. ("Jonah") Jones of the Rajputana Rifles,' Michie & Graebner, Lights of Freedom, 1941.

jonah, v. To bring bad luck to; to hinder: Australian coll.: C. 20. Baker.

Jonah Jones. See 'Nicknames' and Jonah above.

Jonah's whale. Tail: rhyming s.: 1887-ca. 1920. It first occurs in G. R. Sims's 'Tottie', a Dagonet Ballad published in The Referee, Nov. 7, 1887. (Franklyn 2nd.)

Jonas is a C. 20 coll. Naval lower-deck variant of ill-luck Jonah. Granville.—2. A kookaburra: Australian: since ca. 1910. Via Johnass ex John, 9 + laughing jackass.

jonna: jonnop. Australian variants of John, John Hop, a policeman. (Sarah Campion, Bonanza, 1942.) The latter occurs in Xavier Herbert, Capricornia, 1939.

jonnick. See jannock, 1, on pp. 433-4. In 1959, B. declares its Aus. usage †.

Jonnup is the West Australian post-War pronunciation of John Hop (Dict.).

jonto. A fellow, a chap: East End of London: since ca. 1935. The Evening News, Nov. 27, 1947. Perhaps ex jeune (homme).

Jordan Highlanders, the. See King's Own Schneiders below.

gorrie. A girl: low Glasgow: late C. 19–20. MacArthur & Long. Origin?

Jose or Malts. A Maltese rating: Naval: since ca. 1925. Granville. Cf. José (p. 444).

josh.—2. A boat belonging to Messrs Fellows, Morton & Clayton, Ltd., canal carriers: canalmen's: C. 20. L. T. C. Rolt, Narrow Boat, 1944. The late Mr Fellows's name being Joshua.—3. A depraved old woman: Australian: ca. 1880–1910. B., 1942.

joss.—3. A synonym and derivative of josser, 6 (Dict.).

joss-house man; joss-pidgin man. A priest; a missionary: pidgin: from ca. 1860. B. & L.

joss piece. A mascot: Naval: C. 20. (P-G-R.)

josser.—7. 'A synonym for a "prosser" or sponge': rather low: from ca. 1885; almost †. Ibid.

jossman. Plymouth gin: Naval (esp. on the China station): C. 20. Granville, 'From the picture of a monk on the bottle; all Holy men are "Jossmen" to the Chinese.'—2. (Also Joss man.) Police Chief Petty Officer; Master at Arms: Royal Navy and Royal Australian Navy: since ca. 1910. Ex his power. (Atkinson.)

jossop (p. 445). Also broth: Cockneys': C. 20. J. W. Horsley, I Remember, 1912.

jotter. A pad on which to take or make notes (jotting pad): secretaries' and typists' coll.: since late 1930's. (P. D. James, A Mind to Murder, 1963, 'Let's have a look at that jotter.') journey, not one's. Not a successful day: turf: from ca. 1860; ob. B. & L., 'It is not his journey.' Ex Fr. journée.

journey's end. Prison: low: from 1929.

jovah. Gaol: c.: from ca. 1870. Pugh (2): 'All I can say is, you never kept your brains clear while you was in jovah.' Perhaps a perversion of jail suggested by chokey.

jowl-sucking. Kissing, kisses: lower classes': from ca. 1865; ob. B. & L.

jowler. A lane between back-to-back houses: Liverpool: late C. 19–20. 'You pass cheek-by-jowl' (Frank Shaw).

joxy. See jaxy.

joy. Satisfaction; luck. Mostly in 'Any joy?' and 'No joy!': R.A.F. since ca. 1930; Naval since ca. 1935. Partridge, 1945; Granville; Brickhall & Norton, Escape to Danger, 1946, 'At 9.15 the workers had been down nearly forty minutes and still "no joy"'.—2. Electrical current: R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. Gerald Emanuel, March 29, 1945. Cf. "'Is the W/T giving any joy?"—"Is the wireless working?"': Robert Hinde, March 17, 1945. Ex joy stick, 1 (p. 445).

Joy, the. Mountjoy Prison, Dublin: Anglo-Irish: late C. 19–20. (Desmond O'Neill, Life Has No Price, 1959.)

joy-bag.—2. A condom: mostly R.A.F.: since ca. 1950. Cf. joy-stick, 2, in Dict.

joy boy. A homosexual: undergraduates': C. 20; ob.

joy of my life. A wife: rhyming s., mostly military: ca. 1880–1920. Richards. Prob. suggested by the much more gen. trouble and strife.

joy-prong (cf. joy-stick, 2: p. 445) is, like mutton dagger and pork sword, an adolescents' coy or facetious term for 'penis': since ca. 1920.

joy-stick, 1 (p. 445) derives immediately ex sense 2.—3. (Ex sense 2: p. 445.) Either of the two levers by which the steering of tanks and certain other tracked vehicles was controlled: Army: since ca. 1925. (P-G-R.)

Joynson Hicks. Six: theatrical rhyming s.: since ca. 1927. Ex a famous Home Secretary. Franklyn, Rhyming.

jubilee. Posterior, posteriors: sporting, and inferior society: 1887—ca. '97. B. & L.

judder. Engine noise: Air Force: since ca. 1925; by 1950, coll. Jar + shudder. (P-G-R.)

Judge Davis. Three tens: poker-players': C. 20. Ex a judge who mostly awarded 'thirty days'.

judge of a circuit. See 'Tavern terms', § 4 (end).

Judy or, as Common Noun, judy.—4. A police-woman: Naval (lower-deck): since ca. 1930. Granville.—5. A Palestine Jew: Army, both in 1914–18 and in 1939–45. Ex Arabic Yehudi, 'a Jew'.—6. A duodenal ulcer: since ca. 1930. Ex 'duodenal'. (Peter Sanders.)

Jug. A Yugoslav: since 1919 (the Peace Conference): orig., Civil Service; in 1940–5, Army. (Val Gielgud, Fall of a Sparrow, 1949.)

jug, n.—5. A can of beer: R.A.F. officers': since ca. 1930. (W/Cdr R. P. McDouall, March 17, 1945.)—6. See jogue (p. 442 and Addenda).—7. See tea-pot, 5, below.

jug, v.—3. To drink: R.A.F. since ca. 1930. Jackson. Ex the holding of a jug to one's mouth and drinking therefrom, also ex the idea of jugs of beer: cf. sense 5 of the n.

jug and pail. Prison: rhyming s. (on jail): C. 20. Franklyn 2nd.

jug(-)handle. See Wagga grip below.

jug up or scupper up. To drink liquor, esp. beer: office- and shop-girls': ca. 1955–60. (Gilderdale.)

jugged.—2. See honkers.

juggins has, in the sporting world, the nuance: 'An aspirant, usually young, and always more largely provided with money than with brains' (B. & L.).

juggler. An employee that has to find and remove part of the contents of a freight car: Canadian railroadmen's (—1931).

jugs. Female breasts: low Australian: since ca. 1920. Ex 'jugs of milk'.

juice, n., 4, in Dict. Also, dampness on, or of, a playing-field or a court: Charterhouse: C. 20.

juice, on the, adv. and adj. 'Running on electrified lines' (Railway): railwaymen's (esp. L.T.E.): since ca. 1955. Cf. juice, n., 6, on p. 446.

Juice, the. The North Sea: R.A.F. (aircrews'): since 1939. H. & P. Contrast the Gravy.

juice joint. A stand where refreshments are sold: Canadian carnival s.: C. 20.

juice money. Extra money paid for working on an electrified line: railwaymen's: since ca. 1920. Ex juice, n., 6 (p. 446).

juicy. (Of targets) either easy or profitable: artillerymen's: since ca. 1940. (P-G-R.) juicy about. Aware of: Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1942.

juke(-)box. An automatic record gramophoneplayer: adopted in 1945 from U.S.—2. See jute box. Sense 1 'applies only to coin-operated record-players' (B.P.).

Jumbo. Lieutenant-General Sir Henry Maitland Wilson: 1939 + (and before that date and rank).

jumbo, 6 (p. 447): esp. a Midland Railway locomotive, and over a longer period. (Railway.)

—7. The backside: New Zealand: since ca. 1945. Simon Kay, Sleepers Can Kill, 1968, "'Parry for the high kick, or you'll land flat on your jumbo sir.'" In many persons, the largest part.

jumbo-size, adj. Very large: commercial coll.: since ca. 1950. Notably in advertisements. (Ramsey Spencer, March 1967.)

jumbuck. See jimbugg p. 439. (By the way, jumbuck on p. 447 is a misprint.) Partially adopted in New Zealand: teste G. B. Lancaster.

jump, n.—6. A journey from one 'stand' to another: circus and fair-ground: late C. 19–20. (Eleanor Smith, Satan's Circus, 1931.)

jump, v.—9. To get a free ride on (train, lorry, etc.): Army coll.: C. 20. Short for jump on to. —10. To attack suddenly in the air: Air Force: since 1940. Short for jump on. (P-G-R.)—11. To understand, to deduce: Australian: since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.)—12. To forestall: cf. jump the gun.

jump, go for a. (Of a girl) sexually compliant or readily available: C. 20. See jump, n. and v., in the Dict.

jump-down, (p. 447) is, more precisely, Canadian.

jump down a person's throat (p. 447) dates from much earlier: 1806, John Davis, The Post-Captain. (Moe.)

jump off the dock. (Of a man) to get married: Naval: C. 20. Granville. Suicidal.

jump on (or upon) is also used as = punish severely; jump down a person's throat occ. = to snap at him: from the 1880's.

jump on the bandwagon. See bandwagon . . . above.

jump on the binders. To apply one's brakes: Canadian (and American) Services: since 1939. H. & P. Agricultural.—2. Hence, to brake hard: Air Force: since ca. 1940. (P-G-R.)

jump-out, the. The beginning: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Ex sport.

jump out (of) the window(s). To make a parachute descent from an aircraft: R.A.F.: since 1939. Allan A. Michie & Isabel Waitt in The Reader's Digest, Feb. 1941 (jump out the windows); Eric Partridge in The New Statesman, Sept. 19, 1942 (jump out of the window).

jump-rope, n. and v. A skipping-rope; to use one: Canadian coll.: adopted, ca. 1950, ex U.S. (Leechman.)

jump the gun. To be premature, act—esp., to publish 'news'—prematurely: journalistic: since ca. 1920. Ex athletics.

jump the queue. To get ahead of one's turn: coll.: since ca. 1943. Ex:—2. To cheat for a place in a queue: coll.: since 1940.

jump-up, n. 'A mixture of flour and water boiled into a paste with sugar added': Australian outback: since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.)

juniper, 7 (p. 447), is also a crude sled and, as Canadian, probably goes back to ca. 1830 or 1840; Mathews, Americanisms, records it for 1823.—8. A flea: ca. 1810–60. David Carey, Life in Paris, 1822.—9. A travelling ticket-collector: railway-men's: since ca. 1920. Railway, 3rd.

jumping, adj. See 'Jazz Slang'. But by ca. 1960, also fairly gen. s., as in Zoe Progl, Woman of the Underworld, 1964, 'By the time I arrived the place was jumping.'

jumping Jinny. A mechanical stamper used in road-repairing: workmen's: from ca. 1920. The Evening News, Dec. 7, 1936.

jumping over the fat-pot. A stipulation that all players should assist in the old-fashioned pantomime, The Man in the Moon: theatrical of ca. 1830–80. B. & L. Ex flame from burning fat in the days before gas was in gen. use for lighting.

jumps.—4. (Cf. sense 2.) Excitement; craze: ca. 1885–1900. B. & L. 'He's got the Jubilee jumps.'

junc. Junction: transport-workers': late C. 19–20. E.g. Clapham Junc. Clarence Rook, London Side-Lights, 1908.

jungle. See 'Prisoner-of-War Slang', 10.

jungle. Wild, untamed; hence, rarely, angry: Army in Burma and India: 1942–5.

jungle juice. African rum: Liverpool: since ca. 1920.—2. Hence, any cheap, strong liquor: Services: 1939–45.

jungle telegraph, the. The way in which gossip and rumours are disseminated by men and women in public-houses: disparaging and jocular: since late 1940's. Ex preceding entry. (A. B. Petch, April 1966.)

jungle-wireless. Inside information; a rumour: Army: 1940 +. Cf. latrine rumour (Dict.) and bamboo. Also jungle-telephone (P-G-R).

junior Nelson. A Lieutenant-Commander: Naval (lower-deck): C. 20. Granville.

junior wolf. See 'Canadian . . .'

junk.—3. Perique tobacco: Naval: C. 20. The Weekly Telegraph, Sept. 13, 1941.—4. Opium: Canadian drug-addicts': adopted, ca. 1925, ex U.S.; by 1930, also English.—5. Any narcotic; narcotics in general: drug addicts': adopted, ca. 1945, ex U.S.

junker. 'A low four-wheeled vehicle used for transporting logs' (B., 1942): Australian coll.: C. 20. Ex junk, unvaluable stuff.

junket around. To waste time, play the fool: Australian coll.: C. 20. Baker.

junket bosun. A ship's steward: Naval: since ca. 1910. Granville.

junky, n. A drug addict: (esp. teenage) drug addicts': adopted, ca. 1955, ex U.S.

junky, adj. Pertaining to narcotics: 'drug addicts': since ca. 1950. Ex junk, n., 5, above.

jupper. Sexually 'up her': low Australian rhyming s. (rare): since ca. 1930. Cf. skin-ner, 8.

just as I feared. A beard: theatrical rhyming s.: C. 20. Franklyn, Rhyming.

just come up. Inexperienced, stupid: C. 20. "'Don't come that old caper on me. I ain't just come up,'" James Curtis, You're in the Racket Too, 1937. Ex plants very recently come up above the ground: green. But, among Londoners, it means 'just come up from the country for the day'.

just escaped, e.g. he's. A c.p., applied to someone who is acting strangely: C. 20. (From a lunatic asylum.)

just fancy that! A c.p., inviting the other party either to admire, or to be astonished by, something or other: C. 20.

just my handwriting! A c.p.=I can do that very easily; that's 'right up my street': since ca. 1930.

just one of those things, it's or it was. A c.p., applied to something there's no explaining, or to something that, although inexplicable, simply has to happen: since the late 1930's. Nevil Shute, The Chequer Board, 1947, 'It wasn't his fault he got taken by the Japs. It was just one of those things.' This was the title of a Cole Porter song extremely popular in the 1930's.

just quietly (p. 448). In Australia, it = Just you and I. (B., 1942.)

just the job. Precisely what I need or wish: Services: since ca. 1935. H. & P.

just the job for my brother from Gozo. Try to get someone else; not for me: Naval: ca. 1860-1914. Gozo, one of the Maltese islands; many Maltese employed by Navy.

just the shiner. Precisely what was, is, needed: Australian: since ca. 1920. Baker.

just the shining. Perfect; a synonym of, and commoner than, the preceding. (B., 1943.)

just the shot. Exactly what is needed: Australian: since ca. 1918. (Jon Cleary, Back of Sunset, 1959.)

justass (p. 448) occurs earlier in Captain Alex. Smith, The Life of Jonathan Wild, 1726.

justice of the peace. See 'Tavern terms', § 4 (near end).

jute box or jukebox. A player-piano or pianola: Naval: since ca. 1916. Granville. Adopted from U.S.

juve. Juvenile; hence, a juvenile part or act: theatrical and music-halls': late C. 19-20. "'Trev's accustomed to leading child-juves'": Ngaio Marsh, Death at the Dolphin, 1967.

juvenile John. An actor of 'juvenile parts': theatrical: C. 20. (Communicated by Wilfred Granville, April 14, 1948.)

jyro. Horse-play; rough treatment: Cockneys': C. 20. Pugh, "'I'll prong yer!" she says. Then I give her a bit of jyro, till she squealed and bash'd my 'at in.' Origin? Prob. the same word (Cockney pronunciation) as jaro (Dict.) and cognate with dial, jart, to whip, or S.E. jar, a quarrel.

K

K. See entry C-K-M-D.

K.A. is a coll. shortening of H.M.S. King Alfred, Granville. See Incubator.—2. A 'know-all': Australian: since ca. 1950. (B.P.)

K Block. A building, a wing, a ward set aside for the (temporarily) insane: Naval: since ca. 1935. H. & P. I.e. for the knuts (Dict.) in the nuthouse (Addenda).

k.d. or K.D.! Say nothing about it!: printers' c.p.: from ca. 1860. B. & L. I.e. keep it dark.

K.G. Common Jew: 'used by "better-class" Jews. I first heard it ca. 1933' (Julian Franklyn). A pun on Knight of the Garter.

K.G.V. See Kay Gee Five.

K.P. King's Parade: Cambridge undergraduates' coll.: since ca. 1880.—2. A common prostitute: Australian low s.: since ca. 1945. (B., 1953.)

'k you (pron. kwev)! Thank you!: slovenly, not slangy: late (? mid) C. 19–20: not only Australian, although Mark Twain noted it while he was in the State of Victoria. (B.P.)

kadoova, off one's. Insane: New South Welsh: ca. 1870–1910. B. & L. Ex Aborigine.

kady. See cady (Dict.).

kafir derives ex Arabic kafir, an infidel.

kafir truck. 'General name for trade goods,' Archer Russell, Gone Nomad, 1936: Central and South African coll.: since ca. 1890.

kafuffle. A variant of gefuffle.

kag(g), n. and v. See cag.—2. (Only kag.) Tank crew's equipment and rations stored on the side of a tank: Army in Burma: 1943 +.

kahsi. Rectum; esp. in up your kahsi!, a gratuitous, usually humorous c.p., mostly on meeting or parting: Services': since ca. 1940.

kaifa. A girl, a woman, regarded sexually: R.A.F. in the Near and Middle East: since ca. 1930. Perhaps Hebrew via Yiddish.

kai-kai (p. 449) is also used in the simple form kai and, both, by Australian soldiers too.

Kaiser's War, the. The War of 1914–18: coll.: since ca. 1945. An avoidance of such question-begging labels as 'The Great War' and 'The First World War'.

Kal. See Cool.

kailed up, get. To become drunk: from ca. 1927. As though alcoholied. Perhaps cf. canned; note also alc, q.v.

kaloss. Finished: Australian and New Zealand troops in North Africa: 1940–2. Arabic word.

kanakas. Testicles: low Australian: C. 20. A pun on knackers, 1 (p. 459) and Kanakas, who formerly used to do the hard work on the sugar-cane fields.

kana(-)man. An artilleryman: pidgin: mid-C. 19–20. B. & L. Lit., cannon man.

kanga.—2. Short for:

kangaroo.—5. 'Harry was a Jew. In his own phrase: a "tin lid". Otherwise, a "four-by-two", a "kangaroo", or a "five-to-two"; Michael Harrison, Reported Safe Arrival, 1943: rhyming s.: since ca. 1930. The Leader, Jan. 1939.—6. A prison warder: rhyming s. (on screw), orig. and still mainly c.: since ca. 1920. Often shortened to kanga (Underworld, 2nd edn, 1961.)

kangaroo it. To have a 'kangaroo shit' (see next): Australian: since ca. 1920.—2. To make a kangaroo start in a car: Australian: since ca. 1946. 'A k.s. is caused by a faulty clutch or bad technique. The car shudders and moves off jerkily': itself Australian s.: since late 1930's. (B.P.)

kangaroo shit. A defecation from the haunch-sitting position: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.—6. A pneumatic drill: labourers': since ca. 1935. It was soon shortened to kanga, which, indeed, has been predominant since ca. 1950. It's always jumping.—7. Mostly in pl. kangaroos, wild young cattle: Australian rural: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.) They're always rushing and leaping.—8. A prison warder: Australian c.: since ca. 1925. (B., 1953.) Rhyming on screw, n., 2. Often shortened to kanga.

Kangaroo Valley. Earl's Court (London), an area popular among Australian expatriates: since ca. 1950. 'There is a Kangaroo Valley in N.S.W., but the term was probably coined by a newspaper.' (B.P.)

kangarooer; kangarooing. A kangaroo-hunter; kangaroo-hunting: Australian coll.: C. 20. (B., 1943.)

kangaroos in one's top paddock, have. To be crazy or very silly: Australian rural: since ca. 1910. Baker.

kangarooster. An eccentric—or very amusing—fellow: Australian: since ca. 1920. Baker.

kanker. A corruption of kanga (esp. in sense 2). kaput (p. 449) was, in 1945, revived among soldiers and airmen serving in Germany.

Kate and Sydney. A steak-and-kidney pudding: rhyming s.: from ca. 1880. (W. L. George, The Making of an Englishman, 1914.)

Kate Karney (p. 449). Or Carney: in the 1890's there was a very popular comedienne named Kate Carney. Three Pots a Shilling was one of her songs (F. W. Thomas). Often shortened, esp. among World War II soldiers, to Kate, as in 'He's in the Kate'. Franklyn 2nd.

kath (p. 449). Also Australian. B., 1942. Cf. Kathleen Mavourneen system (p. 449).

Kathleen Maroon. A three-years prison-sentence: Australian c.: C. 20. Baker. A corruption of sense 2 of:

Kathleen Mavourneen (often corrupted to Mavoureen). An habitual criminal: Australian c.: since ca. 1910. For origin, see Eiley Mavourneen.—2. An indeterminate gaol-sentence: Australian: since ca. 1918. (B., 1943.) Cf. kath, 1 (p. 449).—3. Morning: (imperfect) rhyming s.: C. 20. Lester.

Kay Gee Five; usually written K.G.V. H.M.S. King George the Fifth: Naval: World War II. (P-G-R.)

keb. A cab: Cockney sol.: mid-C. 19-20. (Anstey, Voces Populi, I, 1890.)

kecks is the Liverpool shape (C. 19-20) of kicks, trousers (p. 453). Hence the 'camp' punch up the kecks; C. 20.

keel the goods. 'To code consigned goods for loading' (Railway, 3rd): railwaymen's: C. 20. Ex Sc. dial. keel, to mark with ruddle (E.D.D.).

Keeley. A water-can for cooling heated bearings: Canadian railroadmen's (—1931). Ex the Keeley cure for drunkenness.

keen. Excellent; highly desirable: Canadian, esp. teenagers': adopted, ca. 1955, ex U.S. 'Seen Tom's new girl? Boy, is she ever keen!' (Leechman.)

keep a ten. To get back into college or one's rooms before 10 p.m., when fines start being levied at some colleges: Cambridge University: from ca. 1885.

keep a week than a fortnight. See week than a fortnight.

keep down. To retain, hold (a job) against difficulties: Australian coll.: C. 20. B., 1942. Variant of the S.E. hold down.

keep for a week . . . See week than a fortnight.

keep him (or it) in—he'll get pecking if let out. A low, ? mostly North Country, c.p., addressed to a man with his trousers-flap open: late C. 19-20. a pun on cock.

keep it. To pay heed: coll.: C. 20. Humfrey Jordan Sea Way Only, 1937. Ex keep it in mind.

keep it on the island! Keep the ball in play: Association Football spectators': from ca. 1895. 'That monotonous "Keep it on the island" when the ball is banged into the grand-stand to clear a dangerous position . . . I am told it was born on Whale Island, Portsmouth, back in the 90's, when teams of H.M.S. "Excellent" played on the officers' lawn. A lapse by the defenders resulted in the ball ending in the ferry, to loud yells of "Keep it on the island"' (Frank Butler, Daily Express, Jan. 17, 1944.)

keep nit (p. 450). Rather, late C. 19-20. A much earlier example occurs in Edward Dyson, The Gold Stealers, 1901.

Keep Off Young Ladies' Insides and, by reversion, I Love You Only, Kid. Punning nicknames of the King's Own Yorkshire Light Infantry: Army: since ca. 1910.

keep one's appointment, to be unable to—or cannot. To fail to come-to in time: pugilistic: ca. 1810-60. Anon., Every Night Book, 1827.

keep one's end up. To 'do one's bit': Australian coll.: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.) Ex cricket.—2. Among Londoners, esp. Cockneys, it has a double meaning when the phrase is used by a man seeing a fellow out with yet another girl; thus, 'Keeps 'is end up, don't 'e!': since ca. 1910. Able to keep rising to the occasion.

keep one's (or the) eye down. To keep one's head down; to watch oneself, take care: Guardsmen's since ca. 1915.

keep (one's) fingers crossed. To 'pray' for success or merely to avert defeat or failure: coll.: C. 20, but, to me at least, uncommon before ca.

1925. A layman's modification of the ecclesiastical sign of the Cross.

keep one's lip buttoned. To maintain silence; to tell nothing: Cockney: since ca. 1910. Gerald Kersh, Night and the City, 1938, 'Pay, and I'll keep my lip buttoned.' Cf. button your flap!

keep one's tache on. See tache on, keep one's.

keep one's (or the) tail clear. (Of a pilot or his 'plane) to stay out of the sights of an enemy aircraft: R.A.F.: since 1939. Berrey.—2. Hence (?), to prevent a rear attack: 1940 +. Partridge, 1945.

keep (one's) wig cool. To remain calm: orig. legal, but soon gen.: since ca. 1910.

keep out of the rain. To avoid, evade trouble: Australian coll.: late C. 19-20. Baker.

keep sloom. To keep quiet: stock-cutting tailors': from ca. 1870. B. & L. Here, sloom is slumber; it is now Scottish, when not Northern dial, but was once S.E.

keep strum! Keep quiet: since ca. 1950. (I.T.V., Nov. 12, 1963.)

keep tabs on. To observe (someone) long and closely, in order to see what he's up to or how he's getting on: coll.: adopted, ca. 1958, ex Canada, which adopted it, ca. 1909 (Leechman), ex U.S. The U.S. phrase originally meant to keep a (tabulated) list of, e.g., winnings and losses, cards in and out, etc. (See esp. Mitford M. Mathews, A Dict. of Americanisms.) The phrase, however, was used 'in Cambridge ca. 1925 among fellow-undergraduates from Manchester Grammar School' (H. R. Spencer).

keep that in! That's worth repeating: theatrical c.p.: since ca. 1910. Ex the producer's instruction to an actor to retain in the script a spontaneous gag uttered at rehearsal.

keep the ball rolling. To keep things going: coll.: since ca. 1910. Ex Association football.

keep the line. To behave becomingly, decently: ca. 1815-50. Pierce Egan, London, 1821.

keep the obs (or obbs) on (someone). To keep under observation: since ca. 1945: c. >, by ca. 1950, also police s.

keep the party clean! No dirty stories or loose behaviour, please!: c.p.: since ca. 1930. A correspondent sends me this gloss:— But often does not quite mean it. "Give me my hat and knickers," she said. "I thought you were going to keep the party clean."

keep up one's end or keep one's end up. To do one's duty, one's share: coll.: C. 20. Ex cricket.

keep up one's frock. To keep (information, plan, etc.) secret: mostly Services (esp. Army): since ca. 1930. (P-G-R.)

keep up with the Joneses. To hold one's own in 'the rat race' of survival at a decent level: coll.: since ca. 1950.

keep your nose clean! A c.p. addressed—usually on parting—to a person one is warning to (1) keep out of trouble and, derivatively, (2) mind his own business: since ca. 1925 (within my own knowledge), at least.

keep your pecker up! Keep your spirits up: since ca. 1840. See pecker, 2 (p. 613).

keep your shirt on! Don't lose your temper!: Australian and New Zealand c.p.: C. 20. (B.P.)

keep yow. To keep watch: low Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.) Perhaps cf. yowlie (p. 973).—2. Hence, to act as an observer: Australian airmen's: 1939-45. (B., 1943.)

keeping, be on one's. 'A man is on his keeping when he is hiding away from the police, who are on his track for some offence' (P. W. Joyce, English . . . in Ireland, 1910): late C. 19–20. Elliptical for 'keeping out of the way'.

keeping the pot boiling; winding the chain. In R. W. Vanderkiste, A Six Years' Mission among the Dens of London, 1852, these two proletarian phrases are explained thus, 'They ran up stairs, jumped out of the window, up stairs again, and so on—called by them "Winding the chain", and "Keeping the pot boiling",—hordes of ruffians—men and boys': ca. 1830–80.

keet. A parakeet: Australian coll.: since ca. 1860. Archer Russell, Gone Nomad, 1936.

Kelly. A crow: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. —2. An axe: Australian: Baker, "'On the kelly", engaged in axe work'. Ex a famous axeman. 'Kelly' is reputed to be from the name of a manufacturer of axes, rather than from that of an axeman' (B.P.).—3. A ticket inspector on the buses: Australian: since ca. 1945. Barry Prentice offers four possible origins: Ned Kelly; 'because often Irish'; Kelly, a 'crow' in its c. sense 'a spy'; and Kelly, axe: the 1st is vastly improbable; the 4th, unlikely; the 2nd, slightly more probable than the 3rd.

Kelly Gang. See Ned Kelly.

Kelly's legs. A. C. 20, esp. military, variant of legs eleven (Dict.) in the game of House.

kelp. Hard-earned money; wages: workmen's: late C. 19–20. Opp. bunce, money for overtime work. Ex kelp, large seaweed.

ken.—2. Disraeli in Venetia uses it as = bcd; this is almost certainly an error.—3. A boat: mostly Romany: C. 20. Ex sense 1 (p. 451)—perhaps via 'house-boat'.

Kennedy rot. Land scurvy: Aus. coll.: ca. 1850–1930. B., 1959.

kennetseeno. Earlier in Mayhew, I, 1851.

Kennington Lane. Pain: rhyming s.: C. 20. Franklyn 2nd.

keno. Lotto ('housey-housey'): Army: C. 20. Origin?

Kensington High (School). The University of New South Wales in the days when its name was the N.S.W. University of Technology (founded in 1949): Sydneysiders', esp. University of Sydney undergraduates'. Perhaps ex Kensington High School, London. (With thanks to Mr David Holloway.)

Kensingtons, the (p. 451). Earlier: at least as early as 1909.

Kenso. Kensington race-course, Sydney: Australian sporting: C. 20. B., 1942.

Kentish Town. An occ. variant of Camden Town (p. 122). Franklyn 2nd.

kept on the jump. See in the firing line.

kerb boy. A vendor of combs, elastic and other such things: London-street coll.: C. 20.

kerb-crawling, n. and adj. Looking out for a street prostitute: since ca. 1925.

Kerb Market, the. Very frequent for Street, the (p. 839).

kerbstone jockey. See curbstone jockey.

kerbstone mixture (or with capitals). Such tobacco for pipe or cigarettes as has been made up from fag-ends: C. 20. For sale among the very poor. Cf. O.P.B.

kerdoying or gerdoying! Crash!; wallop!; Air Force: 1939 +. 'He was cruising along, when —gerdoying!—he suddenly crashed.' (Communicated by S/Ldr H. E. Bates in Feb. 1945.) Echoic; cf. kerdumf! Sgt Gerald Emanuel, letter of March 29, 1945, notes the phonetic variant—the more exact form—kerdoink and defines the term 'interjection to indicate crash of aircraft, etc.' Cf. the Canadian boing! Often contracted to kerdoing or kerdoink.

kerdumf! Exclamation of surprise, amazement, etc.: R.A.F.: since ca. 1938. Jackson. 'Its origin is the crump of a crash-landed aircraft. Sometimes used as a verb, meaning to crash into' (Cf. prang, v.).

kerfuffle is perhaps commoner than gefuffle.

kero. Kerosene: Australian: since ca. 1920. (B.P.)—2. Beer: Australian: jocular: since ca. 1930. Xavier Herbert, Capricornia, 1939.

kerplunk, adv. Slap-bang: Australian: adopted, ca. 1944, ex U.S. (B.P.) Echoic.

kerr'b. To hit, strike, punch: Shelta: C. 19–20. B. & L.

kerridge. A carriage: Cockneys' sol.: C. 19–20. (Anstey, Voces Populi, II, 1892.)

ketchup. Beer: Australian: C. 20. Baker. Ex colour.

kettle.—4. See cloak, n., 4.—5. A locomotive: Canadian railroadmen's (—1931).—6. A wrist-watch: since ca. 1920: c. >, by 1930, fairground s. (Robin Cook, 1962.) A specialization of sense 3 on p. 452.

kettle brandy. 'Scandal water', i.e. tea: ca. 1870–1910. B. & L.

kettle on the hob; often shortened to kettle. A shilling: rhyming s. (on bob): late C. 19–20.—2. The pet-name Bob: rhyming s.: C. 20. Only very rarely the full term. Franklyn 2nd.

kettledrum (p. 452) goes back at least as far as 1850.

key, n.—3. An habitual criminal: Australian c.: C. 20. B., 1942. To the police he is a 'key' suspect.—4. Detention under the Habitual Criminals Act (1905); hence, key(-)man, a prisoner under this Act: Aus. c.: since ca. 1910. B., 1959.

key-basher. A wireless-telegraphy operator: Army: 1939 +.

key of the door. In Bingo: 21. Since ca. 1955. Ex receiving key on one's 21st birthday. See Little Jimmy, near end.

keyholing, n. A singing, and a playing of musical instruments, at public-house doors: since ca. 1950. Laurie Atkinson notes having heard it in 1961.

Khaki Marines, the. The Royal Marine Commandos: Naval: 1940–5. (P-G-R.)

khaki patch. An Indian Army term, dating from the 1880's; thus in Richards: 'From our meat rations a small steak was cut for each man's breakfast. These steaks were called khaki patches, and a man's jaws would ache for hours after he had masticated one of them.' Since ca. 1940, merely historical.

khaloss. Exhausted; finished; dead: Australian soldiers in Palestine and North Africa: 1940–2. Lawson Glassop, We Were the Rats, 1944. Arabic.

khorosho is the more correct form of the xaroshie of the Dict., for it is an adequate transliteration of the Russian word.

Khyber Pass. Glass: rhyming: since ca. 1885. Often merely Khyber.—2. Backside: late C. 19–20. Michael Harrison, Reported Safe Arrival, 1943, “‘Not knowin’ wevver they was on their ‘eads or their kybers.’” Almost invariably in shorter form. Rhyming, of course, on arse.

kibitz, v. i. Corresponding to kibitzer: adopted ca. 1962 ex U.S. ‘The Yiddish word “kibitz” is a valuable import because it has no equivalent in English’: Anthony Lejeune in The Daily Telegraph, colour supplement, March 10, 1967.

kibitzer. A watcher, esp. if inquisitive, rather than a participant: adopted, ca. 1960, ex U.S., but not very gen. even by 1966. Ex German Kibitz, the lapwing—‘the little bird very much an onlooker in life’ (Wallace Reyburn in The Sunday Times, July 8, 1962).

kibosh (p. 464). Julian Franklyn (author of The Cockney, A Dictionary of Rhyming Slang, Shield and Crest) proposes a quite different origin: the heraldic caboshed (or caboched or cabossed or cabaged or . . .)—see the O.E.D.—and Scots hunting caboche or cabage or cabbage, to cut off a deer’s head close behind the horns. This theory would also explain cabbage, n., 1, and v., 1, on p. 118. In short, a theory of considerable merit.

kibosh, n.—4. A prison sentence of 18 months: c.: C. 20. (John Gosling, The Ghost Squad, 1959.) Perhaps because it’s enough to ‘put the kibosh on’ a man’s activities.

kibosh on . . . From Yiddish, but ex Yiddish kabas, kabbasten, to suppress (B. & L.).

kick, n.—9. A thrill: coll.: since ca. 1943; adopted ex U.S. servicemen.—10. A trick; a ‘line’ or ‘stunt’: low: since ca. 1945. (Norman.)

Sense 9: perhaps ex ‘just for kicks’—see kicks, just for, below.

kick, v.—5. To dismiss (a man from a job): Aus.: since ca. 1925. (F. B. Vickers, First Place to the Stranger, 1955.)

kick, cramp in the. See cramp in the kick, have.

kick, make a. See make a kick.

kick a gong or open up a tin. To start a quarrel: Naval: since ca. 1910. (Wilfred Granville.)

kick-back. A sub rosa payment, esp. as commission on a more or less shady deal: adopted, ca. 1944, ex U.S. (B.P.)—2. That portion of a fee which, in the unethical practice of fee-splitting, is returned (or not collected): adopted, in late 1940’s, ex U.S., perhaps via Canada.

kick her into a manoeuvre. To take evasive action: R.A.F.: 1940–2. Berrey. Adopted from American airmen.

kick in the pants. (Not on as at thump on the back, p. 881.) Applied to any grave disappointment or set-back.

kick-off (p. 453). Earlier in Punch, Feb. 27, 1875. (O.E.D.)

kick off, v. To die: Aus.: C. 20. (B., 1959.)

kick out of, get a. To find that something is exciting or absorbing: coll.: since ca. 1925. Adopted from drug-addicts?

kick the arse off an emu, able to. Feeling very fit: Australian: C. 20. Baker.

kick-up.—4. A party: Aus.: mostly rural: ? mid C. 19–20; ob. by 1960. (G. B. Lancaster, Jim of the Ranges, 1910.) Ex senses 2 (p. 453).

kick up a lark. To cause a commotion or disturbance: ca. 1810–60. Pierce Egan, 1821.

kick up Bob’s-a-dying. To make the devil of a fuss (about something): since ca. 1810 (? earlier): by ca. 1910, ob.—and, by 1945, †. In, e.g., W. N.

Glascok’s Naval Sketch-Book, 2nd Series, 1834, at II, 142. (Moe.) Cf.:

kick up Meg’s devotion. To make a row, cause a disturbance: Naval: late C. 19–20. Some piece of Naval folklore; perhaps also a prompting by commotion or a pun on diversion.

kick up daisies. A variant (1914–18) of push up daisies. Graham Seton, Pelican Row, 1935. See daisy-pushing (Dict.).

kick up the backside. One jeep pushing another out of the mud: Army in Burma: 1942–5. Gerald Hanley, Monsoon Victory, 1946.

kick (someone) upstairs. To promote to a higher-sounding, but, in the fact, less important position: since ca. 1950: s. <, by 1965, coll.

kicker, 3 (p. 453). ‘Now applied to portable outboard motors for small boats. An “inboard” is . . . a motor permanently installed inside the hull’ (Leechman, 1959).—4. A small boy: Milton Junior School, Bulawayo: since ca. 1930. (A. M. Brown, letter of April 15, 1938.)—5. A triple valve that functions eccentrically: Canadian railroadmen’s (— 1931).

kicks, just for. Just for the hell of it: adopted, ca. 1955, ex U.S., esp. among office- and shop-girls. (Gilderdale.) Since ca. 1960, often shortened to for kicks.

kicks than ha’pence, more (p. 453) has the early variant more kicks than coppers: W. N. Glascok, Naval Sketch-Book (II, 134), 1826. Moe.

kid, n.—9. A pretty young harlot: white-slavers’ c.: C. 20. A. Londres, The Road to Buenos Ayres, 1928. Cf. sense 1.

Sense 7 (p. 454), in form kid, occurs in W. N. Glascok, Naval Sketch-Book, (I, 24), 1825. Moe.

kid, the. One’s younger brother or sister; hence adj., as in ‘my sister’: mostly Cockneys’: from ca. 1880.

kid brother or sister. One’s (however slightly) younger brother or sister: coll.: adopted from U.S. ca. 1925. Cf. Cockney ‘one’s kid’—‘brother’ or ‘sister’ understood.

kid the troops; esp. as vbl n., kidding . . . , leg-pulling, ‘telling the tale’: Army: 1914–18 and occ. since.

kid-walloper (p. 454). Also Australian: C. 20. (Vance Palmer, Golconda, 1948.)

kidd. A variant (not very gen.) of kid, n., esp. sense 2, with the additional sense: swindler.

Kidder. Kidderminster: natives’, inhabitants’, regionals’: mid-C. 19–20. (F. B. Brett Young, The Far Forest, 1936.)

kidder from Kidderville. An elaboration of kidder, 2 (p. 454): C. 20. (H. A. Vachell, Quinney’s Adventures, 1924.)

kidderbunk. A youth, a boy: non-cultured: since ca. 1942. Elaboration of kid, n., 1 (p. 454).

kid(d)l(e)ywink, 3 (p. 454), needs to be modified. Used for a beerhouse—any beerhouse—it occurs as a footnote to p. 58 of G. B. H., Teetotalism Unmasked, 1845, in a song sung, at early teetotalers’ meetings, to the tune of Babylon Is Fallen, Kidley-winks must fall for ever

At Teetotalers’ powerful sound;
Public-houses too must quiver,
Landlords’ signboards must come down.

(A note supplied by Mr Peter Fryer.)

—5. A loosely used, humorous word for a place, esp. a building, as in ‘a sartain kidlie wink that is called the "House of Commons": J. H. Lewis, The Art of Writing, 7th ed., 1816. (Moe.)

kiddo (p. 454) is mostly Australian and New Zealand; an example of New Zealand usage occurs in, e.g., Jean Devaney, Dawn Beloved, 1928.

kiddy, 1 (p. 454), seems to be rather older—since ca. 1810, to judge by Alfred Burton's Johnny Newcome, 1818. (Moe.) Still earlier in J. H. Lewis, The Art of Writing, 7th ed., 1816. (Moe.)

kidger. A cadger: low Australian: late C. 19–20. (Ruth Park, Poor Man's Orange, 1950.)

Kidman's joy. Treacle: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Variation of cockies' joy (Dict.). The surname of a famous and very wealthy Australian pastoralist. Also known as Kidman's blood mixture (B., 1943).

kidney-pie (p. 455). Also Australian. Baker.

kidney punch. A, to, lunch: theatrical rhyming s.: C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.) kidney-wiper. Penis: low: C. 20. Ex a ribald song. Also kidney-scraper.

kidstake. Pretence; nonsense; both, esp. in cut the kidstake!, stop beating round the bush, or stop talking nonsense: Aus.: C. 20. (B., 1959.)

kie. A variant of kye.

kiff. Tea, coffee, cocoa: Christ's Hospital: since ca. 1870. Marples. Cf. kiff, all on p. 455.

kike. A Jew: low: adopted, ca. 1935, ex U.S. (Raymond Postgate, Verdict of Twelve, 1940.)—2. A cheque: c.: since ca. 1950. Bournemouth Evening Echo, April 20, 1966. Problematically: cheque > chike > kike.

kiko. To say so: low: C. 20. R. Llewellyn, None But the Lonely Heart, 1943. "'I should bloody kiko,'" says Slush. . . . "He's the Smasher, he is." Rhyming on sy (Cockney for 'say') so. It is a Cockney alternative spelling of cocoa (p. 167). Franklyn, Rhyming.

Kildare, the. 'A major operation, with full outfit, masks, white overalls, etc. "Will it be a major op?"—"Yes, at 19.30 to-morrow; the full Kildare." Ex the T.V. programme Dr Kildare, a medical feature' (Wilfred Granville, March 17, 1967): medical: since ca. 1963.

kiley. A two-up 'kip': Australian: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.) Ex the Aboriginal kiley, a boomerang.

kill, v.—3. (Gen, as p.ppl.) To ruin (a garment): tailors': mid-C. 19–20. Whence the n.—4. (Ex 2.) To get rid of: cinema: since ca. 1930. The Evening News, Nov. 7, 1939.—5. To destroy (aircraft or tanks); hence as n.: R.A.F. and Army coll.: World War II. (P-G-R.)

kill a snake. To 'see a man about a dog': Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. With a pun on penis erectus.

kill cobbler. Gin: ca. 1715–60. Anon., The Quaker's Opera, 1728. Contrast kill grief, below.

kill-cow.—3. An arrant boaster: lowest classes': C. 19–20: ob. B. & L.

kill grief. Some kind of strong liquor, prob. rum (cf. kill-devil: p. 455), fashionable in the 1720's. Anon., The Quaker's Opera, 1728.

kill-me-quick. 'We sat down to a dinner of rice, tinned meat, "kill-me-quick" (a sort of fritter), jam, and tea' (Alex. Macdonald, In the Land of Pearl and Gold, 1907): Aus.: ca. 1880–1920.

kill the widow. 'As young journalists, we were horrified on being told to: "Kill that widow in column three." (Don't be frightened—it merely meant "Alter the spacing so that there isn't a word all by itself in one line")': Woman, Dec. 19, 1964. Journalistic s.: C. 20.

Killarney is a synonym, more gen. as n. (madman) than as adj., of lakes, q.v. in Dict., and likewise an abbr.: C. 20. Margery Allingham, Flowers for the Judge, 1936.

Killer. The Australian 'inevitable nickname' of all men named Caldwell: since ca. 1945. Ex 'Killer' Caldwell, famous war 'ace' of World War II. (B.P.)

killer. 'lady-killer', as in 'He was a killer with the sheilas' (Dick): Australian: since ca. 1925.—2. (Also whispering death.) 'A Diesel unit' (Railway): railwaymen's: since ca. 1955. Ex its stealthy approach.—3. 'The final action or argument which means the end to whatever hopes have been held' (B., 1959): Aus.: since ca. 1945.

killerdiller. A wildly good time: beatniks' and teenagers': adopted and adapted, ca. 1959, ex U.S. s. killerdiller, any remarkable or attractive or successful thing or person or occasion (Wentworth & Flexner). A reduplication of killer.

killers.—2. 'Sheep for station mutton' (B., 1942): Australian coll.: late C. 19–20.

killick.—2. Hence, a Leading Hand: Naval: since ca. 1905. H. & P.; Granville, 'All wear the anchor as a badge of rank': cf. props.

killick scribe. A Leading Writer: Naval: since ca. 1900. Ex prec.

killing, make a. To win substantially from the bookmakers: Australian sporting: since ca. 1919. Baker. Also make a kill, current in English too.

killing a snake? A jocular golfing c.p., addressed to players taking many strokes in a sand-trap: Canadian: since ca. 1930.

killing match. A fierce battle: Army: 1940–5. (P-G-R.) killings. 'The offals and heads of the animals killed for homestead use' (Jean Devaney, Travels in North Queensland, 1951): Australian cattlemen's and farmers' coll.: late C. 19–20.

kilos, 17 or 18 or 20, etc. (Girls) aged 17 or 18 or 20, etc.: white-slavers' c.: C. 20. A. Loudres, The Road to Buenos Ayres, 1928.

Kilroy was here. This c.p., which arose, early in World War II, as if by magic, was written on walls, etc., everywhere the British and American soldiers fought or were stationed. No satisfactory explanation has ever been made; hundreds have been suggested.

But the San Francisco Chronicle of Dec. 2, 1962 printed a short 'feature', Kilroy Was Here, in which a credible origin is proposed:

'Two days before the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, an unimposing, bespectacled, 39-year-old man took a job with a Bethlehem Steel Company shipyard in Quincy, Mass.

'As an inspector . . . , James J. Kilroy began making his mark on equipment to show test gangs he had checked a job. The mark: "Kilroy was here."

'Soon the words caught on at the shipyard, and Kilroy began finding the slogan written all over the installation.

'Before long, the phrase spread far beyond the bounds of the yard, and Kilroy—coupled with the sketch of a man, or at least his nose peering over a wall—became one of the most famous names of World War II.

'When the war ended, a nation-wide contest to discover the real Kilroy found him still employed at the shipyard.

'And last week, James Kilroy . . . died in Boston's Peter Bent Brigham Hospital, at the age of 60.'

(The cutting was passed to me by John Moore, author of You English Words and distinguished novelist, who had received it from an American admirer.)

kilted brickie (or -y). See whistler, 9.

kilter (p. 455) is also predominant in Canada. (Leechman.)

kilts, the. Kilted soldiers, esp. Highlanders: military coll.: C. 19. Wm Maginn, Tales of Military Life, 1829, at III, 250. Cf. kiltie on p. 455. (Moe.)

kilwack. 'A derogatory term for mixed European and Asian blood' (S. H. Ward): Royal Sussex Regiment: C. 20. The Roussillon Gazette, April 1911.

Kimberley. See puff and dart.

kinchin lay, according to the evidence of Pugh (2)—see quotation at not much frocks—was still extant in 1906.

kind. Friendly: North Country children's coll.: late C. 19–20. 'Are you kind again?'

kinder.—3. A kindergarten class in a school, but not a kindergarten itself: Australian: since ca. 1950.—2. Hence, a child in such a class: since ca. 1955. (B.P.)

kindness!, all done by. An ironical c.p.: C. 20. W. L. George, The Making of an Englishman, 1914.

kindness to, do a. To coït with (a girl): late C. 19–20: low Scottish >, ca. 1930, Society—esp. London Society.

King, 2 (p. 456). Hence, in the Services, the person in charge: e.g. jankers king: Regular Army: prob. since ca. 1910; in the R.A.F., since ca. 1920.—4. 'Someone who is good at a particular thing, e.g. Met king, Navigation king,' Robert Hinde, letter of March 17, 1945: R.A.F.: since ca. 1925.—5. Occ. a yardmaster but usually a freight-train conductor: Canadian railroadmen's (—1931). Ex sense 2?—6. The leader of a push (or gang) of larrikins: Australian urban: ca. 1890–1940. (B., 1953.) king, adj. Super-eminent or excellent: coll.: C. 20. See several phrases below.

King, The. The National Anthem: British Armed Forces' officers' coll.: C. 20. Now, of course, the Queen.

King Death. Breath: rhyming s.: mid-C. 19–20. In C. 20 only in abbr. form, king. Clarence Rook, London Side-Lights, 1908.

King Dick.—3. A leader, boss, overseer: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

King Dicky. A bricklayer: builders' rhyming s. (on brick): C. 20. Franklyn 2nd.

king duck. See golden duck above.

king hit. As for prec.—2. A knock-out-blow: Australian sporting coll.: C. 20. Baker.

king-hit, v. To knock (someone) out with a punch: Aus. coll.: since ca. 1920. Jock Marshall & Russell Drysdale, Journey among Men, 1962 (p. 34).

king-hit merchant. A brawler; a bully: Australian: C. 20. Lawson Glassop, We Were the Rats, 1944. Ex prec. Also king-hit artist: B., 1959.

king kong. A drink of methylated spirits mixed with lavender water: beatniks': since ca. 1959. (Anderson.) Deadly; ex the film King Kong.

King Lear.—2. Homosexual: rhyming s. on queer: since ca. 1940. Franklyn, Rhyming.

King Parnee is a late C. 19–20 showmen's variant of parnee, 2 (Dict.). John o' London's Weekly, March 19, 1937.

king-pin, the.—2. Airman in charge of a ground-crew gang: R.A.F.: since ca. 1940. Ex 1.

king pippin. An important, usually the most important, person; since ca. 1910. Cf. king pin (p. 456).

king-size. Very large: Australian: since ca. 1920, Canadian since ca. 1930, English since ca. 1945: by 1950, coll. (B.P.)

King Street Run, the. A tie awarded to those who successfully drink a pint of beer in each of the eight public-houses in King Street, without any form of physical relief and within two hours; a competition held twice a term and supposed to have been instituted by Ted Dexter; present record (D. F. Wharton tells me on Oct. 24, 1965), 28 minutes: Cambridge undergraduates': since early 1950's.

kingdom come. Rum (the drink): rhyming s.: C. 20. Lester.

kings (singular rare). Drivers: railwaymen's ironic: since ca. 1945. (Railway 2nd.)

King's Bench. A ship's galley: Naval: ca. 1790–1860. W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (I, 130), 1829. Cf. King's-Bencher on p. 456 and the next entry.

King's Bench debater. A 'sea lawyer': Naval: ca. 1810–60. Captain Glascock. Cf. King's Bencher (Dict.).

King's Bencher (p. 456) goes back to late C. 18. (W. N. Glascock, Sketch-Book, II, 1826). Moe.

King's English, clip the (p. 456). In The New-England Courant, Sept. 10, 1722, Benjamin Franklin uses it for being drunk. (Moe.)

King's ex! Canadian equivalent (ca. 1918–40) of E. fainits (p. 263).

King's hard bargain (p. 456) goes right back to 1818 (Alfred Burton, Johnny Newcome). Moo. Also in Fredk Marryat, Frank Mildmay, 1829 (p. 350 of the 1897 edition). Moe.

kings on the roof; kings up. A pair of kings and a lower pair: Australian poker-players': C. 20. (B., 1953.)

King's Own Schneiders, the. In Viscount Samuel's delightful memoir The Horseback Zionist (published late in 1967 or early in 1968) we read, 'In the summer of 1918 . . . Dr. Weizmann returned to England and I was due to go back to GHQ. Inspired by the patriotic Jewish spirit I had found in Tel Aviv, I volunteered instead to join the so-called "Jewish Legion": I thought it was time I did a spot of fighting myself. Now, there were three Jewish (Royal Fusilier) Battalions then in the British Army. The first was the 38th Battalion, raised in Whitechapel (and affectionately dubbed by British cockneys as the King's Own Schneiders). The second was the 39th Battalion, raised in the Bronx, which was said to have as its regimental motto: "No advance without security". These two battalions were already fighting in the Jordan Valley where they twice took part in raids across the river towards Amman and won many decorations for valor. The third Battalion (the 40th Royal Fusiliers) was raised in Palestine itself and was known, not as "the Gordon Highlanders" but as "the Jordan Highlanders".

King's parade, the (p. 456): earlier in, e.g., W. N. Glascock's Naval Sketch Book, 2nd Series, 1834, at I, 38. (Moe.)

king's peg. Champagne laced with brandy: late C. 19-20. (J. Symons, The Gigantic Shadow, 1958.) A much earlier reference is supplied by Kipling's The End of the Passage.

King's poor cousin. A synonym of King's hard bargain above: Naval: 1830, Fredk Marryat, The King's Own (p. 212 of the 1896 edition). Moe.

King's Proctor. A doctor: rhyming s.: C. 20. 'Never popular, and now obsolescent' (Franklyn 2nd).

kinifee. "Yeah," said Ritchie, "they could get three months for carrying a kinifee." This was our bodgie slang word for a knife' (Dick): since early 1950's; by 1966, ob.

kink.—3. A fig., esp. a technical, 'wrinkle'; a smart idea: Australian: since ca. 1930. (B.P.)

kinker. (Usually in plural) A contortionist: circus and variety: C. 20.

kinky. A homosexual, whether male or female: semi-medical: since ca. 1920. (Neil Bell, I Am Legion, 1950.) Ex the coll. adj. kinky, eccentric, mentally twisted; itself ex the S.E. n. kink, a mental twist.

kinky, adj. See the n.—2. Hence, homosexual: since mid-1920's.

kinsman is a corruption of kingsman (Dict.): 1893, P. H. Emerson, Signor Lippo.

kip, n.—7. A job (employment): Anglo-Irish: late C. 19-20. James Joyce, Ulysses, 1922. 'I get paid this morning, Stephen said.—The school kip? Buck Mulligan said.' Perhaps ex sense 1 on p. 457.

kip in. To 'shut up': low: late C. 19-20. Brendan Behan, Borstal Boy, 1958. Ex kip, to go to bed (and sleep).

kip-in, adj. Easy: C. 20. "It's only right that they should get the kip-in jobs when they're here longer than anyone else": Brendan Behan, Borstal Boy, 1958. Ex kip, to go to bed.

Kipper. Occasional nickname for a man habitually sleeping in doss houses: C. 20. (A. B. Petch, April 1966.) Ex kip, v., 2, on p. 457.

kipper, n.—4. A serviceman, esp. a soldier, from Britain: Australian servicemen's, esp. soldiers': 1940-5. Of obscure origin: hardly that proposed by Baker, 1953.—5. 'I evaluate its firing power as eighteen torpedoes—I think Kipper is a distressing piece of naval slang—in thirty minutes' (Geoffrey Jenkins, A Twist of Sand, 1959): since ca. 1930. Suggested by fish, 9.—6. Of an English person, usually male, visiting Australia, being very nice about everything while he is there, and then, back in England, writing 'nasty little things that he failed to mention while among the people whose hospitality he accepted. This unlovable trait has led to the application of the expression kipper to a certain type of Englishman. A kipper, by virtue of the processing, has become two-faced with no guts': Jack Marshall & Russell Drysdale, Journey among Men, 1962, at p. 190. This sense, deriving ex sense 4, arose ca. 1945.

kipper, v. To ruin the chances of (a person):

from ca. 1920. Prob. ex scupper influenced by cook one's hash.

kipper kites. 'Aircraft engaged on convoy escort duties over the North Sea and casually giving protection to the fishing vessels,' H. & P.: esp., Coastal Command R.A.F.: since 1940. See kite, n., 5 (p. 458 and below).

kipper season, the. The period from Christmas to Easter: costermongers': late C. 19-20. 'No trade—the customers are kipping' (sleeping): Julian Franklyn.

kipper trip. An anglers' special train: railwaymen's: C. 20. (Railway.)

kippers, be unable to box. To be no boxer: low coll.: from ca. 1920. James Curtis, The Gilt Kid, 1936, 'You couldn't box kippers, you couldn't, talking about right hooks.'

kipping(-)house (often pron. kippin' ahse) is a low s. variant of kip-house (p. 457): C. 20. Eustace Jervis, Twenty-Five Years, 1925.

kipps. Bed; sleep: C. 20. Michael Harrison, 1943. On kip, n., 2, 4 (Dict.).

kipsey.—2. (Also kipsie.) A cheap lodging-house: Australian: since ca. 1910. Tom Ronan, Vision Splendid, 1954, and Only a Short Walk, 1961.

kish. More usual spelling of kysh (Dict.).

kish!; keep kish. Cave!; to keep watch: Scottish Public Schools': since ca. 1870. Ian Miller, School Tie, 1935. Ex cave! + hist! or whish!

kish, in one's. Quite at home and well pleased: tailors': from ca. 1860. Perhaps cf. cushy (Dict.).

kiss me, Hardy! An occasional, jocular c.p.: late C. 19-20. Ex Nelson's famous, and prob. mythical, last words. Some historians (?) have supposed that he said Kismct, Hardy—which I doubt.

kiss me, sergeant! An Army c.p. dating from ca. 1947 and satirising the mollicoddling of recruits. Cf. the entry on p. 457.

kiss my foot! Rubbish!: Australian: late C. 19-20. Baker. Also Canadian. But much commoner, everywhere, is kiss my arse!—see p. 457.

kiss of death, the. A fatal, or at the least very dangerous, contact: c.p.: since ca. 1950. Dr Brian Foster, in The Changing English Language, 1968, defines it as 'an apparently advantageous action which in reality will bring trouble or destruction' and adds that it 'seems to be a fairly new expression, current in speech for some time before it was met with in writing. A recent instance from the Observer supplement clearly illustrates the meaning. "Allying with Churchill was regarded as the political kiss of death even in 1939" (Sep. 18, 1966).' In his The New Language of Politics, New York, 1968, William Safire defines it as 'unwelcome support from an unpopular source'.

kiss of life, the. 'Used jocularly of the usual type of kiss between lovers' (A. B. Petch, March 1966): since ca. 1964. Ex mouth-to-mouth resuscitations.

kiss one's aircraft good-bye. To bale out: R.A.F. aircrews': since 1939. H. & P.

kiss the book on that!, you can. A coll. c.p. dating from ca. 1890 and = 'it's a dead cert!'

kiss the cross (? Cross). To be knocked out; in, e.g., boxing: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)

kiss the dealer! A c.p. used 'when four players throw down cards numbered ace, two, three and four of a suit on a single trick' (Baker): Australian: C. 20.

kisser.—3. A baby: Romanies' and tramps' s.: since ca. 1920. So many women kiss it.

kissing bug. A (young) man intent on kissing: Canadian: C. 20; by 1940, ob. 'Fifty years ago,' writes Leechman in May 1959, 'Canadian girls on a picnic might cry the warning, "There's a kissing bug about!"' With a pun on the true kissing bug, a blood-sucking insect of North America.

kissing cousins. Cousins sufficiently close or familiar to allow mutual kissing; hence, loosely, friends unrelated by either blood or marriage: Canadian coll.: late C. 19–20. (Leechman.) Also, in C. 20, Australian (B.P.) By 1940, at latest, S.E. kisswosh. A thingummy: Regular Army: late C. 19–20. Ex service in the East.

kit.—4. (A special application of sense 2: p. 457.) Paint-kettle and -brushes: house-painters' coll.: late C. 19–20.

Kit has come. The monthly period is here: feminine: late C. 19–20. Cf. (the) captain is at home (p. 127 and Addenda).

kitch. Kitchen: mostly lower- and lower-middle class: since ca. 1920. (Norman.) kitchen, go into the. To drink one's tea out of the saucer': non-aristocratic: from ca. 1860. B. & L. Ex servants' tendency so to drink their tea.

kitchen, the. That part of the Monte Carlo casino which 'caters' for small-stakes habitués: C. 20. Mrs Belloc Lowndes, The House by the Sea, 1937.

kitchen range. Change (of scene or costume): theatrical rhymings s.: C. 20. Franklyn, Rhyming.

kitchen stoves (singular rare). Cloves: Australian rhyming s.: C. 20. Franklyn 2nd.

kitchin-coes is Randle Holme's variant of kinchin coes.

kitchy-koo. The noise made by adults when tickling an infant: C. 19–20. Ex Irish dial. kitchy, kitchy, kaw, 'used to a baby when tossing it in the arms' (E.D.D.).

kite, n., 5 (p. 458). Modify thus: 'In the earliest days of aviation, aeroplanes looked like, and were called, box-kites. Early in the Great War (1914–18) design changed, and "box" was dropped. But kite was not generally used by the Royal Flying Corps till 1917–18, when "crate" came to be confined to obsolescent or obsolete types, "kite" taking its place. It has since been the most generally used slang-word for "an aircraft"' (Jackson).—6. Belly: low: mid-C. 19–20; ob.—7. See bill, the.—8. A ship's sail: nautical (mostly Australian): C. 20. Sydney Parkman, Captain Bowker, 1946.—9. See barrow, 2.

kite, fly a dodgy. To issue a worthless cheque: since ca. 1945: c. >, by ca. 1950, also low s. (Robin Cook, The Crust on Its Uppers, 1962.) Cf. kite, n., 3, on p. 458.

kite-dropper. An issuer of worthless cheques: since ca. 1945. (Peter Sanders.) Cf. kite, n., 3, on p. 458.

kittens, having; very rare in any other form. Nervous, agitated; 'all hot and bothered': from ca. 1933. The Times, Feb. 15, 1937. Ex a cat's perturbation during this crisis. Since ca. 1938, also having a baby and, among R.A.F. officers of ca. 1940–5, having a set of metal jugs (perhaps cf. kitten on p. 458).

kittens (or like kittens) in a basket. (Of two girls that are) very friendly to each other: W.A.A.F.: since early 1942. H. & P.

kitty.—5. (The kitty.) The female pudend: mostly card-players': late C. 19–20. Suggested by the synonymous pussy, q.v. at puss, 1 (p. 671).

Kitty. A Kittyhawk fighter aircraft (1941–2): Air Force coll.: Brickhill & Norton, Escape to Danger, 1946.

kitz. See put on the kitz below.

Kiwi.—2. A New Zealander: Australian coll.: C. 20. B., 1942.—2. 'New Zealanders have retained their national title from World War II and are widely known to other soldiers as "Kiwis"': Iddiwah (the New Zealand periodical in Korea), July 1953: United Nations troops: ca. 1951–5.

klepto. A kleptomaniac: since ca. 1920.

klina(h). See clinah (Dict.). A rare spelling.—2. Adj. Very poor: Australian c.: C. 20. Ex Ger. klein, little.

Klondyker. A North Sea captain (or owner) that takes fish to Germany, where there was a profitable sale: North Sea fishing trade's s.: ca. 1930–9. With a pun on Klondyke mines and on 'gold-digging'.

klootch, an Indian woman of the Canadian Pacific Coast, is short for the synonymous klootchman, a Chinook jargon word ex Nootka Indian: Canadian: C. 20. (Leechman.) knacker, v.—3. To geld, emasculate: Australian: since ca. 1860. Brian Penton, Inheritors, 1936. Ex knackers (Dict.).

knackered. Thwarted; in a predicament: low: C. 20. Ex knackers (p. 459): cf. balls-up (p. 29).

knave in grain (p. 459) goes back to late C. 17: it occurs in B.E., 1699, at Pack of Knaves.

knee, v. Short for knee him in the balls: low coll.: C. 20. Euphemistic variants: hit him where he'll feel it and hit him where it hurts him most, both dating from ca. 1930.

knee-high to a(n) . . . (p. 459). 'The common and almost exclusive phrase here is knee-high to a grasshopper' (Leechman): Canadian coll.: late C. 19–20.

knee-high to a daisy is the Australian version (C. 20) of knee-high to a(n) . . . as on p. 459 and above. (B.P.) knocking on it, you're. Your hair is too long: Guards' Regiments' c.p.: C. 20.

knees, on one's. Exhausted: jocular coll.: since ca. 1920. (Atkinson.)

knees brown, get your. 'Men with Overseas service to their credit tell Home Service chaps to do this,' H. & P.: Army and R.A.F.: since ca. 1925.

knicker. Incorrect for nicker (Dict.).

knife-edge. 'A sand-dune ridge in the desert': Australian soldiers' (N. Africa): 1940–2. (B., 1943.) knight of the . . . (p. 460). Sinks, 1848, has . . . awl, a cobbler; . . . hod, bricklayer; . . . brush and moon, a drunken fellow.

knight of the cleaver (p. 460) should be back-dated to ca. 1830, to judge by Spirit of the Times, Nov. 23, 1839 (p. 446, col. 2): although an American publication, it implied a British source. (Moe.)—In the group, I should have included knight of the cloth, a tailor: ca. 1790–1860. The Port Folio, quoting a 'London paper', records it on Dec. 31, 1803 (p. 422).

knight's service. See 'Tavern terms', § 9.

knit, n. Usually in pl. knits, knitted comforts, esp. garments, for Service men and women: feminine coll.: 1939 +.

knitting. Girls generally or one girl particularly: R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. Jackson: Also piece of knitting (Partridge, 1945). It belongs to the home-work genus of metaphor.

knitting's out, often preceded by her. A Naval c.p. applied (1939-45) to a mine-sweeper with her gear over the side. (P-G-R.)

knob, n.—5. (Also nob.) A double-headed penny in the game of two-up: Australian, hence also New Zealand: late C. 19-20. Jean Devanney, 1928.—6. (Also nob.) Penis; playing with one's nob, male masturbation: low: late C. 19-20. With ref. to glans penis. Indeed, knob also = glans penis; cf. the Army c.p. at display of feminine flesh: get in, knob, it's your birthday. Sense 6 is, in both nuances, so very widespread that from it there has arisen the further c.p.: you wouldn't knob it, 'you wouldn't think, or realise, it'—with the implication that the speaker does know. Cf. you wouldn't chuckle and you wouldn't knob it below.

knob of a chair and a pump handle, a. A c.p. reply to an inquiry concerning what there is to eat; 'wait and see!': lower-middle class: from ca. 1890.

knobber-up; knobbing-up, n. A shunter operating points in a marshalling yard; the operation: railwaymen's: ca. 1910. (Railway.)

Knobby is the inseparable nickname (occ., loosely, Nobby by confusion with Nobby Clark) of men surnamed Cole: from ca. 1890. Ex the associations of the phrase 'knobby coal (or, coals)': cf. the associations in 'Happy Day', 'Dusty Rhodes', 'Smoky Holmes'.

knobby, n. A knobby opal: Australian opal-miners' coll.: C. 20. (K. S. Prichard, The Black Opal, 1921.)

knobby nose. A friar bird: Australian: late C. 19-20. Baker.

knobsticked, be. To be beaten: railwaymen's: since ca. 1920. (Railway.)

knock, n., 1 (p. 460) recurs in low Australian s. of C. 20. 'I had caused him to miss out on a knock . . . with Elaine' (Dick).—4. Occurs earlier in Vance Palmer, The Swayne Family, 1934.—5. A synonym of bonk, the: cyclists': since ca. 1945. Short for hunger-knock.—6. A promiscuous, easy girl: low Australian: since ca. 1910. (Dick.)

knock, v.—7. (Also knock back or knock over.) To consume (a drink): C. 20. B., 1942 (all three). The Eastbourne Herald (England), May 6, 1939: knockback.—8. To wound; esp. knocked, wounded: Australian soldiers': 1939 +. Lawson Glassop, 1944.—9. To kill: Australian: C. 20. (Vance Palmer, Legend for Sanderson, 1937).—10. To disparage: adopted ex U.S., ca. 1943 in Britain, and ca. 1944 in Australia.—11. To sell (a car) at a loss: secondhand-car dealers': since ca. 1950. (The Sunday Times, Oct. 24, 1965).—12. To 'date', to flirt with (a girl): Aus.: since ca. 1920. Norman Lindsay, Saturdee, 1933—see quotation at bum, v., 6, above.—13. 'To get an article or meal on credit and not pay, or pay by bad check' (Robin Cook, 1962): since ca. 1945. Cf. sense 6 on p. 461.

knock, as an intensive adv. 'Will you lend me some money?'—'No, will I knock!' North Country grammar-school s., since ca. 1955. Cf. thump! on p. 880.

knock about, 1 (p. 461): should be back-dated to ca. 1810 or even 10-20 years earlier. It occurs in W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (I, 16), 1829, 'Had you been served as I was—kept knocking about the North Seas. . . .' (Moe.)

knock along.—2. V.i., to move on: Army: C. 20; ob. by 1945.—3. To get on (with a person): coll.: since ca. 1910.

knock-back, 1 (p. 461): common also in New Zealand since ca. 1920. (Slatter).—2. A participation in a 'back-up': Australian gangsters': since ca. 1945. (Dick.)

knock back, v. To cost (a person) so-much: C. 20. 'That knocked him back a fiver.'—2. To refuse; to reject: Australian: C. 20. Kylie Tennant, Foveaux: 1939. Cf. the n. (p. 461).—3. See knock, v., 7.—4. To fine: Cockney: since ca. 1910. Ex sense 1.

knock (someone's) block off. To pnnch him on the head; esp. as a jocular threat, I'll k. your b. off: since ca. 1870.

knock cold. To render (someone) unconscious by striking him; hence, to astound, to flabbergast: Australian: C. 20. Baker. Cf. knock 'em cold.

knock commission out of, e.g., a vehicle. To damage, by either misuse or over-use: Australian: since late 1940's. (B.P.) Cf. out of commission, 2, below.

knock corners off. See knock off corners (Dict.).

knock-down, n.—4. A loan: Australian: C. 20. (Dal Stevens, Jimmy Brockett, 1951.)

knock down, v., 3. Current in New Zealand as early as 1853. (B., 1941.)

knock down ginger, n. and v. The 'game' of knocking at doors and running away; to knock on a door and run away: South London school-children's: C. 20.—2. See knocking-down ginger.

knock 'em. To 'make a hit' or achieve success: C. 20. (H. A. Vachell, Loot, 1913.) Cf.:

knock 'em cold. To amaze 'them'; to have a sensational success: since ca. 1920. Ex boxing. A famous song of the 1890's was Wotcher! or Knocked 'em in the Old Kent Road, sung by Albert Chevalier.

knock for the loop. To astound: from ca. 1918. The Pawnshop Murder: 'Something had happened which had knocked even the imperturbable Wibley for the loop.' ? Ex aviation. It is more often . . . a loop, goes back to 1910 or earlier, therefore prob. 'antedates any reference to aviation' (Leechman).

knock (someone's) hat off. To astound: mostly Cockneys': since ca. 1940. 'It would knock your hat off if I told you.' As a result of a heavy blow on the head.

knock hell out of. To damage severely; to trounce: mostly Australian: late C. 19-20. (B., 1943.)

knock in, v., 3 (p. 461). Earlier in Diprose's Book about London, 1872.

knock into. To encounter: coll.: late C. 19-20.—2. To fight with (someone): Australian: since ca. 1910. Baker.

knock it off! Stop talking!: since late 1930's.

knock it on the head! Shut up!: Australian: since ca. 1920. (Dick.) Ex killing a snake.

knock-knock (usually in pl.—knock-knocks). An acoustic mine: Naval: 1941+. Granville. Echoic.

knock! knock! A c.p., dating from the middle of Nov. 1936. Ex this phrase used effectively on the wireless (music-hall programme, Saturday night, Nov. 14, 1936. Wee Georgie Wood). Orig. ex U.S. It is used, esp. among busmen, by a person about to tell a dirty story or, esp., to make a pun, gen. in doubtful taste. Contrast thump! in the Dict.; also whack! 'It is possible that this derives from the Porter's scene in Macbeth, Act II, Scene iii? It looks uncommonly like it,' Alan Smith, letter of June 7, 1939.

knock me silly; usually shortened to knock me. A billy can: Australian rhyming s.: C. 20. (B., 1945.)

knock off.—7. As in 'I could knock off a pint': since ca. 1920. Cf. knock back, v., 3.—8. To kill: Army: 1939–45. (P.-G.-R.)—9. To seduce: low Australian: since ca. 1910. "'Remember the time old Ethel tried to knock off Terry?' they would start' (Dick).—10. To coit with (a girl): mostly Australian: since ca. 1930. (B.P.)

Sense 3 (p. 461) goes back to late C. 18. It occurs in the anon. song Brick Dust Ben, quoted by The Port Folio, Aug. 24, 1805 (p. 261, col. 2).

knock-out, n.—3 (p. 461). Rather, since ca. 1885. In 1892, Albert Chevalier, pride of the music-halls, was singing, 'Oh! 'e's a little champion, do me proud, well 'e's a knock-out'.—5. A division of spoils among illicit hangers-on at an auction: 1873, James Greenwood, In Strange Company. Ex sense 1, 2.—6. A knock-out competition (one in which a single defeat entails elimination): since ca. 1925: coll. <, by 1965, S.E.

knock-over, n. A considerable, esp. if surprising success: Australian: since ca. 1920. Baker. knock over, v.—2. See knock, v., 7.—3. To kill (man or beast): Australian: C. 20. (D'Arcy Niland, 1958.)

knock (someone) rotten. To trounce; to defeat heavily: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

knock seven kinds of shit out of you (him, etc.). I'll (he'll). A low minatory c.p.: Naval: since ca. 1920.

knock(-)shop is a post-1910 variant of knocking-shop (Dict.).

knock the shit out of. To thrash; (of a job) to exhaust or strain: low coll.: late C. 19–20.

knock them in the Old Kent Road. See knock 'em . . .

knock three times and ask for Alice. 'A jocular c.p.—used, for example, to short-circuit someone else's long-drawn-out directions as to location' (Atkinson): C. 20: orig., Cockneys'; since 1939, mostly Forces'.

knock-up, n. 'An unpleasant device by which dealers conspire to rig the bidding at antique auctions' (Evening Echo, Bournemouth, April 17, 1966): antique dealers': C. 20.

knock up, as in 'He knocked her up'. To coit with: low: adopted, ca. 1944, ex U.S. knock up a catcher.—2. Earlier is the Army sense, a more logical one; to be detected: 1914–18.

knock with, do a. To arrange a meeting with (one of the opposite sex): Aus.: since ca. 1920. Norman Lindsay, Saturdee, 1933.

knocked-knees and silly and can't hold his water. A pejorative c.p.: Public Schools': late C. 19–20.

knocked one's link out, to have. To be tipsy: ca. 1730–80. The Proceedings on the King's Commission of the Peace . . . for the year 1754 (London, 1754, p. 176). Here, link = torch.

knocked to the wide. Utterly exhausted: Army: 1940+. (P.-G.-R.)

knocker, 7 (p. 462). Earlier in the Army: 1914–18, commonly; among Regulars, since ca. 1890's—8. A man who knocks on the door to collect money for a street musician: vagrants' c.: C. 20.—9. A welshing bookmaker: Australian sporting: since ca. 1925. (B., 1953.) Cf. sense 7 on p. 462. Hence take the knock on, to welsh his clients: since ca. 1930. The phrase occurs in Lawson Glassop's Australian racing classic, Lucky Palmer, 1949.—10. One who consistently and persistently disparages or debunks: since ca. 1955. Ex knock, to criticize adversely.—11. A 'Class E freight train (M.R.)': railwaymen's: C. 20. (Railway.) Ex the noise it makes.

knocker, on the. On credit: Cockneys': from ca. 1930. The Evening News, Dec. 11, 1936. Perhaps suggested by on tick: cf. knocker, 7, in the Dict. More probably ex door-to-door salesmen.

knockers.—2. A Cockney mispronunciation of knackers, 1, q.v. in Dict.—3. Female breasts: low Australian: C. 20. By late 1950's, also English, as in James Kennaway, Some Gorgeous Surprise, 1967, 'She was slight . . . but with great little knockers—breasts being for mothers.'

knocking, the last. The late(est) fares: taxi-drivers': since ca. 1920. Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939.—2. Be on the last knockings, to be nearing the end of a job or an undertaking: since ca. 1925.

knocking company. A hire-purchase company: since late 1940's. (Robin Cook, 1962.) Perhaps ex knock, v., 12, above.

knocking-down ginger is a London street-boys' coll. (C. 20) for the game of follow-my-leader, during which boards and loose goods outside shops are thrown down. Cf. knock down ginger.

knofka. A variant of nofgur or noffgur, q.v. in Dict. B. & L. knot.—3. The swelling (or shoulder) of the glans penis: coll.: mid-C. 19–20.

knot, carry the. See carry the knot.

knots. 'The status mark of the surfer—lumps on knees and top of foot from knee paddling' (Pix, Sept. 28, 1963): Australian (teenage) surfers': since ca. 1961.

knotted!, get. See get knotted!

Knotty, the. The North Staffordshire railway: railwaymen's: ca. 1890–1940. (Railway.)

know a thing or two or six; occ. know a thing or six. To be shrewd: a Cockney coll. elaboration, from ca. 1885 and now very ob., of know a thing or two. Both occur in Edwin Pugh: the former in Harry the Cockney, 1912; the latter in The Cockney at Home, 1914.

know all the answers. Applied to a person smart in repartee or in circumventing the cunning; often ironic or exasperated: adopted ca. 1939 from U.S.

know from a crow, not to. To have no idea what a person looks like: Australian: since ca. 1870. B., 1942.

know-how. Skill; the knack of doing some.

thing: coll., adopted, ca. 1943, from U.S.; by 1955, S.E. Short for 'the know how to do it'.

know how the cards are dealt. See 'Tavern terms', § 2. Cf. with the know a great A entry on p. 463.

know one thing and that ain't (or isn't) two; gen. I know . . . To know a thing for certain or emphatically: coll., esp. Cockneys': from ca. 1880. Passim in the Cockney stories and novels of Edwin Pugh (fl. ca. 1895-1925); e.g. 'But one think I do know, and that ain't two; he used to be very dirty.'

know one's age, not to. As in 'He doesn't'—or 'you don't'—'know his, or your, age', to be either stupid or very slow in the uptake. C. 20. (A. B. Petch, March 1966.)

know one's arse from a hole in the ground, not to. To be inordinately stupid: Canadian: since ca. 1910. (Leechman.)

know one's book. To be correctly informed: coll.: from ca. 1875; ob. by 1940. B. & L.

know one's ears from one's elbows. See ears . . .

know one's eccer. To be alert, (very) shrewd: Australian: C. 20. Baker. Ex eccer, 2.

know one's onions. To be well informed or smart or very wide-awake: Anglicised, ex U.S., by late 1936. (Ernest Weekley in The Observer, Feb. 21, 1937.)

know someone who knows someone. To be able to obtain an article wholesale: commercial (English and Australian): since ca. 1945.

know the difference between shitting and tearing his arse, he doesn't (or don't). He ignores the golden mean: Canadian c.p.: since the 1920's.

know the length of one's foot. See foot, know . . . in the Dict.

know the price of old iron—or old rags. To be knowledgeable. shrewd, alert: Cockneys': late C. 19-20.

know where he lives, he doesn't. A contemptuous c.p., applied to a futile person: since ca. 1920.

know whether one's Agnes or Angus, not to. 'A c.p. used in very cold weather or after swimming in cold water, by males only. "I'm so cold I don't know whether I'm Agnes or Angus!"' (Leechman): Canadian: since ca. 1930.

know whether one's Arthur or Martha, not to. Not to know which of two things one is: Australian: since ca. 1920. (D'Arcy Niland, Call Me . . ., 1958.)

know whether one's going or coming, not to. To be in a muddle; or, flustered, agitated: coll.: since ca. 1915.

Knowit of Knowall Park. See Know-it of Knowall Park (Dict.). knowledge box (p. 463). In Miss C.Y.'s Cabinet of Curiosities, 1765.—2. Yardmaster's office: Canadian railroadmen's (—1931). Jocular.

knows all about it now, or now she knows . . . A c.p. in ref. to a bride, the first night having elapsed: C. 20.

Knubs. German soldiers: 1939 +. Perhaps ex Ger. Knabe, a youth.

knuckle, n.—3. A fight (with fists): low: since ca. 1930. (Norman.) knuckle, close to the. Slightly indecent: Aus. variant of near the knuckle on p. 463: late C. 19-20: coll. >, by 1930, standard.

knuckle-bleeders. Those spiky balls of the plane tree with which children hit one another over the knuckles: Cockneys': from ca. 1880.

knuckle(-)boy. A bare-fisted fighter: Australian: C. 20. (Dick.) knuckle down to. To settle down to a task, esp. if arduous or tedious or disagreeable: Canadian coll.: C. 20. (Leechman.)

knuckle on, go the. 'To cheat, defraud, take down' (B., 1959): Aus. low: since ca. 1920.

knuckle up sky-high! A C. 20 Australian c.p., derived ex game of marbles. (B.P.)

koala. A motorist—e.g., a diplomat—immune from being booked for parking offences: Australian: since ca. 1945. (B., 1953.) A koala is a protected creature.

koala bear. A militiaman: Australian, mostly servicemen's: 1939-45. (B., 1943.)

koboko. An elaboration of boko (q.v. at boco in Dict.): ca. 1905-14. W. L. George, The Making of an Englishman, 1914.

komate. 'A dead or wounded soldier or horse (from the Maori ka mate),' B., 1941: New Zealanders': 1915 +.

kone; hence koniacker. Counterfeit money; counterfeiter: Australian c.: C. 20. B., 1942. Adopted from U.S. See Underworld.

konk is a rare variant of conk, n. (Dict.), esp. in senses 4 and 5. E.g. Henry Holt, Murder at the Bookstall, 1934, 'A konk on the head.'

kook. A clown; a simpleton: Australian (teenage) surfers': since ca. 1961. (Pir, Sept. 28, 1963.) Ex American kook, an odd person, a simpleton, in short anyone the speaker dislikes. Ex cuckoo, as in 'you silly cuckoo!'

kooka. A kookaburra: Australian coll.: late C. 19-20. B., 1942.

Kookaburras, the. The Australian Light Horse: Australian soldiers': 1939 +. Baker.

kopper is an occ., but long †, variant of copper, a policeman.

Korean War (words of ca.) 1951-5. During this war, the British Commonwealth troops, occasionally in collusion with the Americans, evolved a slang of their own. I owe all the examples given in these Addenda to Staff Sergeant C. R. O'Day of the Royal Army Educational Corps, four from his letter (Feb. 18, 1955) and the rest from 'Slangage', an article in the New Zealand contingent's magazine, Iddiwah, issue of July 1953. These terms are: bring on, (?) Britcom, bug out, chop-chop, Gook, grog on, hachi, hava no and hava yes, hills are closing in, hoochie, moose, Noggies, number one—ten—ninety-nine, sexy (n.), slickee-slick and slickee-slickee, skoshi, swan.

Kortie. C. J. Kortright of Essex: cricketers': ca. 1890-1914. Sir Home Gordon, The Back-ground, 1939.

Kozzie. Mt Kosciusco: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

Kraut. A German, esp. a German soldier: Army, mostly in Italy in 1944-5. 'It is the only building left standing in the village. The Krauts blew up the rest'; 'The Kraut will have to fall back': J. M. Scott, The Other Side of the Moon, 1946. Ex that favourite dish of the Germans: sauerkraut.

Kremlin, the. The headquarters of British Railways: railwaymen's: since ca. 1950. (Railway.)

kriegy. 'A prisoner of war (from the German "Kriegsgefangener")'. Kriegydom: The world of kriegies, or, as the Germans put it so succinctly, “Kriegsgefangenenschaft”,’ Paul Brickhill & Conrad Norton, Escape to Danger, 1946; Aug. 31, 1944, World's Press News (only kriegy): prisoners-of-war in Germany; 1940-5.

krug. See the quotation at chaffy, 3, above.

kurl or kurl-a-mo. Excellent: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. Fanciful.—2. Hence, kurl the mo, to succeed brilliantly or far beyond expectation; to win ‘in a big way’: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)

kushy. See cushy (Dict.).

kutchā. See cutchā on p. 202.—2. A mule; hence, mulish: Army: C. 20.

kweis(s). See quis. An occ. spelling is kway-ess.

kybo. A privy; a w.c.: low: C. 20. Ex Khyber Pass, 2, above.

kye.—3. Ship's cocoa of a rich and delicious consistency served during the Middle Watch (midnight to 4 a.m.): Naval: C. 20. H. & P.; Granville. Perhaps ex kai-kai (Dict.).—4. Chocolate: Australian Naval: since ca. 1930. (B., 1943.)

kye-boy; often simply kye. That member of the watch whose turn it is to make cocoa: since ca. 1910. Ex preceding.

kyfer. A girl, as in ‘going after a bit of kyfer’: low: C. 20. Hence kyfer-mashing, n.; courting a girl: still current in 1940, but † by 1967. (Ronald K. Rogers and Julian Franklyn.)

L

L.B.W. See Leg before wicket.

l.i. The offence known as 'loitering with intent': spivs': since late 1940's. (Article on young spivs in Picture Post, Jan. 2, 1954.)

L.K., short for L. K. Clark. Mark: racing and underworld rhyming s.: C. 20. 'We get off the L.K. at nine' (o'clock): Franklyn 2nd.

l. of c. swine. Lines-of-communication troops: front-line troops': 1940-5. (P-G-R.) la. A lavatory, a public convenience: Aus.: since ca. 1945. Bernard Hesling, The Dinkumization and Depommification of an Artful English Immigrant, 1963.

la-di-da.—5. A tramcar or motor-car: rhyming s.: C. 20. Arthur Gardner, Tinker's Kitchen, 1932.

la-li-loong. A thief; thieves: pidgin: mid-C. 19-20. B. & L.

label full of dents. See tune.

Labour, the. 2. The, or a, Labour Exchange: working class coll.: since early 1920's.—3. Rhyming s., in shortened form (the original, the name of a famous entertainer, is never heard), for syph(ilis): since ca. 1930.

lac. Lacquer; lacquer work: antique-dealers': from ca. 1870. H. A. Vachell, Quinney's, 1914.

lace, n.—3. Beer: short for lace curtain, Burton beer, hence any beer; rhyming s.: since ca. 1930.

lace curtain. Foreskin: raffish; homosexual: C. 20.

lacks or lax. Lacrosse: schoolgirls': since ca. 1950. (Peter Sanders, 1965.)

lad (p. 465) a dashing fellow, is applied to also a humorous, or a saucy, girl, as in 'she's a lad'. Often as a bit of a lad.—2. 'A mischievous tricky fellow;—"There's no standing them lads."' (Gerald Griffin, quoted by P. W. Joyce, 1910). Anglo-Irish coll.: C. 19-20.

lad o' wax (p. 465) occurs in Wm. Maginn, Whitehall (p. 57), 1827. Moe.

ladder in a stocking: orig. (ca. 1830) coll.; by 1890, S.E. ladder; ladder club; ladder job. See 'Prisoner-of-War Slang', 14.

laddie, -y (p. 465). In mid-C. 19-20, a coll. term among actors. Leonard Merrick, Peggy Harper, 1911.

Ladies', the. The women's lavatories: coll.: C. 20. (Monica Dickens, The Happy Prisoner, 1946.)

ladies of Barking Creek, like the. (Of women, esp. of girls still virgin) excusing themselves from intercourse on the grounds that they are menstruating: English since ca. 1910; adopted, ca. 1920, in Australia. Ex the well-known limerick about the ladies of Barking Creek, who have periods three times a week.

lady-and-gentleman racket men. Hen-and-chicken thieves: Australian low (? orig. c.): C. 20. B., 1942.

lady-bird.—3. A W.A.A.F. officer: R.A.F.: 1941+. Jackson. Cf. bluebird.

lady-fender. It should be added that it is applied esp. to a woman giving herself airs and being too proud to assist with the housework.

Lady Godiva. A note or sum of five pounds sterling: C. 20. Rhyming on five.

Lady Hotbot. See hot-bot.

Lady in mourning. A Hottentot girl: ca. 1830-60. Sinks, 1848.

lady-in-waiting. A woman visibly pregnant: ? orig. and mainly Canadian: since early 1960's. (Leechman.) Adopted in Britain by 1965 at latest; it occurs in the Bournemouth Evening Echo of Feb. 24, 1966.

Lady Magger Hagger. Lady Margaret Hall: Oxford undergraduates' (—1922). Marples, 2.

Lady Nevershit. A 'c.p. shock reproach to woman who seeks to opt away from fact seen as contaminating' (Laurie Atkinson, Sept. 11, 1967): C. 20. Cf. they think . . . below.

lady penguins. Nuns in general: Australian Catholics': C. 20. (B.P.) Ex their black-and-white habits.

lady's ladder (p. 466). Usually ladies' ladders, as in W. N. Glascock's Naval Sketch Book, 2nd Series, 1834, at I, 8. Moe.

lady's waist. A waisted glass in which beer is served; hence, the beer itself: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942.

lag, n.—9. A prison-term of three months: Australian c.: C. 20. B., 1942. Ex second nuance of sense 5 (p. 466). A lagging is, in C. 20 Australia, a sentence of more than two years.

lage.—3. (Ex sense 1.) Weak liquor: C. 17-18. Brome, A Jovial Crew, 1652.

lagging, fetch a. See fetch a lagging (Dict.).

lagi. See 'Prisoner-of-War Slang', 6.

laid, adj. In pawn: Australian low: late C. 19-20. Baker. Ex laid on the shelf, etc.: p. 467.

laid on. See lay on.

laid on with a trowel. See lie laid on with a trowel (p. 480); but more usually applied, mid-C. 19-20, to flattery: coll. >, by 1910, S.E.

lair. 'A flashily-dressed man. "Dead Lair": one who overdoes this vulgar dressing—lair-up: To dress, esp. to don one's best clothes for a festive occasion. [Esp. all laired-up.]—lairy: Vulgar, flashily or showily dressed,' B., 1942. This lairy comes ex leary, 2 (q.v.: p. 474), and it originates the n. and the v. See also the variant lare. In Hot Gold, 1940, H. Drake Brockman has 'a regular lare' (synonymous with 'dead lair') and 'lare around' (synonymous with 'lareup').—2. Hence a larrikin or young hoodlum, esp. if flashily dressed: since ca. 1935. Hence, since ca. 1946, such compounds as mug lair, two-bob lair, ten-cent lair, all pejorative. (B., 1953.) lairize. To behave flashily; 'to act or dress as a lair' (B., 1953): Australian low: since ca. 1940. Kylie Tennant, The Joyful Condemned, 1953. Ex the preceding, sense 1.

lairy. See lair and cf. preceding entry.—2. Conceited: Teddy boys': since ca. 1954. (Gilderdale, 2.)

Lake Angels, the. South Melbourne footballers: Melbourneites': since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.) Ironic.

laking; playing or tromboning; all, both n. and adj. (The) being out of work; (2nd and 3rd) being on half- or part-time: North Country, esp. Yorkshire: since ca. 1920 and (3rd only) since ca. 1931. Ex dial. lake, to play: playing (at a thing), by a pun; tromboning, by a musical pun. (John Hillierby: May 5, 1950.)

Lal Brough. Snuff: rhyming s.: C. 20. See esp. Lally in my Underworld.

lam, on the. On the run (from justice): in Britain, adopted, ca. 1944, from U.S. servicemen; in Canada, adopted ca. 1935.

lamb-fashion. Earliest (?) in The London Guide, 1818, 'Old harridans . . . dress out lamb-fashion, wear false curls, and paint a little'.

lambing-down shop. A public-house: Australian: late C. 19–20. B., 1942. Ex lamb-down, 2, on p. 467.

Lambra, the. 'The old Alhambra Theatre, Melbourne': Australian coll.: ca. 1880–1920. B., 1942.

lame duck, 1 (p. 467). Esp. a defaulter on the Stock Exchange: Stock Exchange: ca. 1760–1870. Spy, II, 1826.—3. A stockjobber: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. Cf. sense 1.

Lamington. A Homburg hat: Australian: since ca. 1910. B., 1942.

lammy.—3. A blanket: c.: from ca. 1885. B. & L. Ex nautical S.E. sense.

lamp, v. See job, v., 4.—2. To see, to espy: Australian c. and low s.: since ca. 1944. (Kylie Tennant, The Joyful Condemned, 1953.) Cf. lamp, n., 1 (p. 468).

lamp, light the. See light the lamp.

lamp, under the. Underhand; illicit; nautical: C. 20. With reference to an arrangement for payment. Cf. under the rose (at rose in Dict.).

lamp country. 'Walking out at night without money in one's pockets': military: from ca. 1880; virtually †. B. & L. I.e. when the lights are lit.

lamp-post navigation. Going from buoy to buoy: Naval: C. 20. (John Irving, Royal Navalese, 1946.)

lamper. A lamp-post; hence, a tall, thin person: since ca. 1920. By 'the Oxford-er'.

lamplighter. A species of cicada: Aus. coll.: late C. 19–20. (B., 1959.)

Lanc or Lank. A Lancaster bomber aircraft: R.A.F. coll.: 1942 +. Partridge, 1945.—2. A Lancashire man: navvies': since ca. 1870. (D. W. Barrett, 1880.)

Lancashire lasses. Spectacles: Manchester: C. 20. Rhyming on (eye)glasses. (Jacob Jaffe, April 4, 1959.)

lance. Lance-corporal: coll. late C. 19–20.

lance-comical. Lance-corporal: Army: since ca. 1946.

Lance-Corporal Towrope. A driver mechanic: Army: since ca. 1939. 'These "driver mecs" were not usually highly trained, and the tow-rope was the tool they used most to get a broken-down truck to workshops. Not complimentary': Peter Sanders.

lance-knight (p. 468) prob. 'comes directly from S. German Landsknechte, the mercenary soldiers who looted and murdered all over Germany in C. 16–17, at a period when touring companies of English actors were popular over there' (H. R. Spencer).

lancepresado (Dict.) dates back to before 1650: see 'Tavern terms', § 6.

Lancy or Lanky. A Lancashire—hence, loosely, also a Yorkshire—employee: railwaymen's: C. 20. (Railway.)—2. A Lancaster bomber aircraft: mostly Canadian: W.W. II. Spelt Lanky, 'under the influence of a very popular radio serial entitled "L for Lanky"' (Leechman). Cf. Lanc, 1, above.

land, live off the. See live off . . .

land and sea. 'Last night, near Shepherd's Bush, I caught an airman, not from this Depot, eating "land and sea" (fish and chips)': T. E. Lawrence, The Mint, 1955, but dealing with the year 1922: airmen's: ca. 1918–40.

Land Crabs, the. See Matelots below.

Land of Hope. A variant of Cape of Good Hope (p. 126): C. 20. Franklyn 2nd.

Land of no Future. The Ruhr: Air Force: 1941–3. Cf. future at all and Happy Valley, 2. Communicated by S/Ldr John Pudney, in Feb. 1945.

landslip. A caterpillar tank: Army: 1917–18. Ex the landslides a tank may cause.

Lane, the, 5. See also Petticoat Lane.—7. East Lane, Walworth: local: late C. 19–20.—8. Horsesham Lane: local London: late C. 19–20.

Langtries (p. 469).—2. Hence, during the same period, female breasts.

Languisher and Yawner, the. The Lancashire & Yorkshire railway: railwaymen's: ca. 1890–1925. (Railway 2nd.) Contrast Lanky and York (p. 469).

Lank. See Lanc. Also occasionally Lanky.

lannet. A slotted kip: Australian two-up players': since ca. 1910 (?). B., 1943. Origin?

lantern, hold the.—To relax while someone else does the work' (B.P.): mostly Australian: C. 20. Ex the song, 'I hold the lantern while my mother chops the wood'.

lantern-jaw. 'There are no set of men so badly used as the pursers . . . They are called nip-cheeses, lantern jaws, with many other equally elegant cognomens on board': Fredk Chamier, The Life of a Sailor, 1832, at I, 174. (Moe.)

Lantun. London: pidgin: from ca. 1860. B. & L.

lap, under the. See under the lap.

lap-gunner. 'The member of a (Sherman tank) crew seated in the hull alongside the driver and firing a machine-gun' (B. A. Liddell Hart, The Tanks, 1959): Army: ca. 1943–45.

lap it up. To enjoy the fictions of novelists and film-producers: coll.: since ca. 1920. (Berta Ruck, A Story-Teller Tells the Truth, 1935.)

lap up. To flatter (a person): c.: C. 20. F. D. Sharpe, 1938. Ironically ex lap it up, to swallow flattery as a cat does cream: coll.: C. 20.

lapper.—3. A lap dog: late C. 19–20. W. N. Willis, The White Slaves of London, 1912.

lapping it up, be. To have a safe, or easy, time:

Guardsmen's: 1939 +. Roger Grinstead, They Dug a Hole, 1946.

laprogh. A goose: a duck; loosely, a bird of any kind: Shelta: C. 18-20. B. & L.

lard head. A fool; a very simple fellow: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

lardy-dardy toff. An effeminate 'swell': proletarian: from ca. 1885; ob. B. & L.

lare. A loud-voiced, flashily dressed man: c.: C. 20. Cf.:

lare up, v.i. To boast: c.: C. 20. Origin? Prob. ex:—2. To dress flashily: see entry at lair.

lare up.—2. A smart, shrewd fellow: Australian low: C. 20. Kylie Tennant, The Battlers, 1941. See also lair.

lareovers for meddlers (p. 470) has survived as lay-over for meddlers.

largey or largo (pron. larjo). 'Much, great, magnanimous, loud': pidgin: from before 1840.

lark, n., 1 (p. 470). Earlier in Sessions, April 1802 (p. 221).

larkin. A girl: Shelta: C. 18-20. B. & L.—2. 'A very strong spiced punch': Anglo-Indian: from ca. 1860. Ibid. Prob. ex concocter's name.

larking, n.—4. Theft: c., and policemen's s.: since ca. 1920. (Norman.)

larking, adj. (p. 470), prob. dates from early C. 19; it occurs in W. N. Glascock, Sketch-Book (II, 135), 1826. Moe.

larks in the night, the. A 'jocular c.p. for birds which are regarded as responsible for more births than the stork' (B.P.): Australian: since ca. 1930. A double pun: on lark, n., 1 (p. 470), and on bird, n., 8 (p. 54).

larn-pidgin. An apprentice: pidgin: mid-C. 19-20. Ibid. Lit., learn-pigeon.

larry. A familiar of larrikin (Dict.): from ca. 1875. Ibid.

larstin(g)s. Elastic-sided boots: Australian low: since ca. 1910. Baker. Sarah Campion, 1942. Blend of 'elastic' + 'things'? Or perhaps 'lastics, from lahstics and 'softened' to lahstins or larstins, as Dr Douglas Leechman has proposed.

lary. Cheeky; 'cock-a-hoop': low: C. 20. Arthur Gardner, Tinker's Kitchen. 1923. Cf. lare.

lash, n.—2. Hence (?), a trick: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942.

lash (at), have a. To try (v.i.); to attempt (v.t.): Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Cf. have a stab at and similar phrases.

lash-out. 'A sudden burst of work on the approach of an officer' (Granville): Naval: since ca. 1905. Ex a (horse's or a) boxer's lashing out; cf. lash, n., 1 (Dict.).

lash-up. Anything makeshift: Naval coll. late C. 19-20. 'Taffrail', Mystery at Milford Haven, 1936, 'The boat . . . was what a blue-jacket would have called a "lash-up", a thing of bits and pieces.' I.e. lashed together.—2. An informal social occasion, esp. an informal party: since ca. 1950. Desmond Bagley, The Vivero Letter, 1968.

lash up, v. To stand (someone) treat: Naval: since ca. 1905. Granville, "'I'll lash you up to a couple of pints when we have a run ashore", originated from lashing up a messmate's hammock.'

lash-up repairs. Rough-and-ready repairs: R.A.F. coll.: 1939 +.

lashool. Pleasant: Shelta: C. 18-20. B. & L.

last, v. "'To last", derived from lashing a boat, meant that the man who actually got the money or cheque defrauded them of some part of their share' (Bournemouth Evening Echo, April 20, 1966): c.: since ca. 1930.

last bucket, I didn't come up in the. I wasn't born yesterday: Naval: C. 20. Granville.

last card of one's (or the) pack. The back: rhyming s.: 1857, Augustus Mayhew, Paved with Gold. Since ca. 1920, †.—2. Usually last card in the pack, a snack: theatrical rhyming s.: C. 20. Franklyn, Rhyming.

last of its tribe, the. An Australian variant of the last of the Mohicans: Australian: C. 20. 'Be careful with that chisel; it's the last of its tribe.' (B.P.)

last of the Barons, the. 'A nickname given to the "Baron of Exchequer" last appointed, since afterwards the Court of Exchequer was done away with': legal: ca. 1875-1910. B. & L. Pun suggested by the title of Bulwer Lytton's historical novel.

last of the Mohicans, the. A c.p. applied to the last of anything, e.g. a cigarette in a packet: C. 20; by 1950, ob. Ex Fenimore Cooper's famous novel.

last out, lousy! Children's (esp. Australian) c.p., mostly in games: C. 20. B.P.

last the full distance. See go the full distance.

last thing. Late at night: coll.: mid-C. 19-20. Short for last thing at night. Cf. first thing.

last three, one's. The last three figures of an airman's Service number: R.A.F. j. rather than coll.; and certainly not s. The last three figures are often used instead of the full number.

laster.—2. A large piece of toffee, designed to last a long time: Lancing: ca. 1890-1935. Marples.

lastins. Variant of larstins.

latch on, usually intransitive, as in 'He didn't latch on'. To understand: since ca. 1919. Ex dial. latch, to catch, to seize, to grasp.

Late and Never Early, the. The L.N.E.R. railway: railwaymen's: ca. 1890-1950. (Railway 2nd.)

Late Arrivals Club, the. Those aircrews who had, in the desert, been forced to walk back to their lines: R.A.F. in N. Africa: World War II. (P.-G.-R.)

late on. See early on.

Latin. See 'Tavern terms', § 3, c. latrine wireless, the; a l.w. Rumour in general; a particular rumour: Australian soldiers' coll.: 1939 +. Lawson Glassop, We Were the Rats, 1944, 'Time was so short, the latrine wireless insisted that we would sail any day.' Adaptation of latrine rumour (p. 471); cf.:

latrino. A short form (1940 +) of:

latrinogram. Army officers' (1939 +) variant of latrine rumour (Dict.).

latter end (p. 471): earlier in Pierce Egan, Finish to Tom, Gerry, and Logic, 1928; perhaps rather fast life than pugilism.

laugh, n. The very common shortened form of laugh and joke, a smoke, on p. 471. Jim Phelan, Tramp at Anchor, 1954. 'A tiddley or a laugh (i.e. a drink or a smoke)'—footnoted thus, 'Rhyming slang. Tiddleywink—drink; laugh and joke—smoke. The last word is dropped for greater mystification.'

laugh, to complain. See stop laughing!

laugh and joke (p. 471). Also in Val Davis, Gentlemen of the Broad Arrows, 1939. Much earlier in D. W. Barrett, Navvies, 1880.

laugh like a Chief Stoker. To laugh a raucous 'belly laugh': Naval: C. 20. Granville, 'Ex the harsh cackle of a seagull, which is said to possess the soul of a departed Chief Stoker.'

laugh like a drain. To chuckle heartily: Naval wardrooms': C. 20. Granville. Water gurgles down a drain-pipe: babies gurgle with pleasure and a similar noise. The phrase has an intensive: laugh like a row of drains ('a jovial display of dentures, symbolized by the common iron grille over a kerbside drain, brings about this phrase': R.A.F. officer, April 10, 1962): since ca. 1950, and esp. in the R.A.F.

laugh of (someone), have the. To outdo, outwit someone: coll.: C. 20.

laughing, be (p. 471). Revived during the years 1939-45; extant.

laughing boy, the. A glum-faced man: Services' ironical: since ca. 1945.

laughing haversacks, I'll (he'll, etc.) be. A c.p. indicative of anticipated pleasure upon fulfilment of given conditions: Forces': since ca. 1930. Cf. laughing, be, in Dict. (Atkinson.)

laughing-side. An elastic-sided boot or shoe: Australian: since ca. 1920. Ruth Park, The Harp in the South, 1948. It stretches in, as it were, a grin. For sense, cf. larsting.

laughs, for. As a joke; for the fun of it: coll.: since ca. 1950.

laughy. A farce: filmland: since ca. 1925. Cameron McCabe, The Face on the Cutting Room Floor, 1937.

launching pad. A water-closet seat in a (moving) train: railwaymen's: since ca. 1962. (Railway 2nd.) Evacuation into outer space.

Lauras. Chocolates: Canadian: since ca. 1930. The Evening News, Jan. 9, 1940. The girls like them. 'Made by the firm "Laura Secord" [a name commemorating] a Canadian heroine of The War of 1812' (Leechman).

Laurence.—2. Also get Laurence (e.g. 'I've got Laurence') and Laurence has got, e.g., me.

lavatory (or lavatorial) bombing. 'The dropping of bombs from a great height. Army, World War II, generally referring to the Italian Air Force, which preferred staying out of the range of A.A. guns to accuracy. Cf. pull the plug (below) which is probably connected' (Peter Sanders).

Lavatory Lancers, the. The Westmorland and Cumberland Yeomanry: Army: C. 20.; † by 1930.

lavender, not all. Not all beer and skittles: coll. (mostly university?): ca. 1880-1914.

lavo. Lavatory: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942.

lavvy. A Scottish, esp. children's, easing of lavatory: C. 20.

law, v. 'The villainy [of posing as a policeman] became so widespread that the crooks' word for it went into their argot. They began to talk of "Law-ing" a man—robbing him in the guise of a policeman' (John Gosling, The Ghost Squad, 1959): c.: since late 1945.

Law, the. The police; a policeman: London's East End: coll.: since ca. 1945. (Richard Herd, Nov. 12, 1957; Norman, 1958.) Cf. the U.S. John Law. Also as in 'Two law came up to me and grabbed hold of me' (Norman).

[Lawd is unnecessary for Lord; moreover, it implies illiteracy where none exists.]

Lawk! (p. 472). The variant lawk-a-daisy (ibid.) is much earlier: in, e.g., Sessions, 5th session of 1734.

Lawn, the. The lawn at Ascot: sporting coll. from ca. 1860. B. & L. lawners and royallers. Lawn tennis and royal tennis: Oxford and Cambridge undergraduates': C. 20. The Oxford-er.

lax, n. See lacks above.

lay, n.—10. A girl; esp. one who is usually compliant: low Canadian: since ca. 1945. Ex U.S. lay, to coit with (a girl). By 1955, also British, as in 'an easy lay'.

lay, v.—5. To coit with, usu. of a man with a woman: low: adopted, ca. 1944, ex American servicemen. "'But a dame's only a dame, Charlie-boy, you lay 'em and leave 'em'" (Douglas Warner, Death of a Snout, 1961).

lay about.—2. A man that lives by cadging from thieves: c.: from ca. 1919.—3. (Ex sense 1 on p. 472.) 'There are always "layabouts"—out-of-works—hanging around [law] court buildings': police s. since ca. 1935; by ca. 1960, gen. s. John Gosling, The Ghost Squad, 1959.

lay an egg. To make a great fuss; esp. 'Don't lay an egg!'—stop worrying: Australian: since ca. 1920. (D'Arcy Niland, 1958.)—2. 'In show biz in Canada and U.S., to "lay an egg" is to put on a performance that fails to please the audience. This applies to a single actor or to the show as a whole' (Leechman): since ca. 1910 in Canada. The implication is that it's a bad egg.

lay-by, n. Money laid by, put aside, esp. out of housekeeping: Australian coll.: since ca. 1925. (Vince Kelly, The Greedy Ones, 1958.)

lay-down, n.—2. Hence, a (fortnight's) remand: c.: C. 20. In, e.g., F. D. Sharpe, 1938.

lay down one's ears. See 'Tavern terms', § 2.

lay eggs. 'To lay mines; not to drop bombs,' H. & P.: Naval and aerial: since 1939. See egg, 4 (p. 254). Cf. gardening.

lay of the last minstrel, the. A cultured c.p., applied to a particularly unattractive girl: Canadian: since ca. 1960. (Leechman.) An allusion to the famous poem by Sir Walter Scott, and a pun on lay, n., 10, above.

lay off with. To lie with—copulate with (women): Australian: C. 20. Lawson Glassop, We Were the Rats, 1944, "'Eddie," I said, "You like laying off with girls better than anything else in the world, don't you?"' lay on; esp. in 'It's all laid on'—planned, arranged, assured: Army, since ca. 1930. E. P., 'In Mess and Field'—The New Statesman, Aug. 1, 1942. Adopted by the R.A.F., where it tends to be restricted to availability: Jackson, 1943. Also by the Navy: Granville. Ex plumbing. Cf. the Army's synonym tee up and R.A.F.'s organise and:—2. To lay (someone) on, to put in the way of finding, as in 'He laid me on here' ('Tom Collins', Such is Life, 1903): Australian coll.: since ca. 1860; ob.

lay on air. To arrange for, obtain, provide, air support: Service: 1940+. In, e.g., J. L. Hodson, The Sea and the Land, 1945.

lay-out, n. A confidence-trickster's plan of action: Australian c.: since ea. 1925. Adopted from U.S.: see Underworld.

lay out,—2; more usually, show out. 'This is a not uncommon practice in shipyards and works where men are mainly employed. When workmen are sitting talking, generally after a meal, one of the company will suddenly shout: "Let's show him out!" The victim, who is usually a boy or a youth, or sometimes a simple male who will not cause a "rough house", is pounced upon and exposed, his privates "annointed" with spit, grease, ashes, or anything handy. Women in works are not unknown to act the same. In a big shipyard on the Tyne, where I once worked, the boys were continually being warned by the men not to show their noses in the ropeworks near by, or the women employed there would show them out and tar them. A young man, unfit for war service, once told me that he was employed clearing a wood at a colliery for pit props. The only labour available was female, and they were not long on the job before they "showed Jimmy out". In telling the tale he always added with relish that he had his revenge on them individually (communication made in 1946): coll.: mid-C. 19-20.

lay the dust. To take a drink of beer, spirits, etc.: since ca. 1910.

lazy is Navally applied to person or thing 'serving no particular purpose at the moment' (Granville): C. 20.

lazy-bed cooking. Cooking in the ashes of a camp-fire: Australian coll. C. 20. (B., 1943.) Practised by, and copied from, the Aborigines.

lazy-dazy. Lazy: Australian: since ca. 1945. Cf. the Devonshire hazy-dazy. (B.P.)

lazy man's load (p. 473): 'in Australia, by no means ob.' (B.P., 1965).

lead, strike the. To be successful: Australian coll.: C. 20. B., 1942. Ex gold-mining.

lead from the duckhouse. To lead from lowest card of suit: Australian card-players': since ca. 1910. (B., 1953.)

lead in one's arse. Laziness; torpor: Canadian, esp. labourers': since ca. 1945. 'Shake the lead out of your arse!'

lead in one's pencil. Sexual vigour: C. 20. Hence, put lead in one's pencil, to render potent. Also used, derivatively, of women.

lead off, v. (p. 473). By ca. 1930, fairly general: cf. e.g., Roy Vickers, Dead Ends, 1949.

lead on, Macduff! A c.p. (late C. 19-20) based upon a frequent misquotation of 'Lay on, Macduff' in Shakespeare's Macbeth (V. vii. 62). The c.p. occurs in, e.g., Edward Burke, Bachelor's Buttons, 1912.

lead-pipe cinch. An absolute certainty: Canada: since ca. 1945. (Leechman.) Ex the effectiveness of a short length of lead-pipe as a weapon.

leaden fever, esp. in die of l.f., to die from a bullet wound: late C. 18-mid 19. The phrase occurs in The Rolling Blossom, an anon. ballad of ca. 1800. (Moe.)

leader. A Leading Seaman: esp. in address: Naval coll.: since ca. 1934 (cf. sense 2: p. 474). In, e.g., C. S. Forester, The Ship, 1943.

leak, n.—4. A police informer: Australian: since ca. 1925. Vince Kelly, The Shadow, 1955.—5. A trick, a dodge: Australian: since ca. 1930. Alan Marshall, These Are My People, 1946, "'I use Eno's Fruit Salts instead of baking powder," he said. "I know all the leaks." A mere variant of lurk, 1, 2, on p. 500. (B.P.) leak-house; leakery. A urinal: Australian, mostly juvenile: since late 1940's. (B.P.) Cf. leak, n., 2, on p. 474.

lean and hungry. The markings on the ships' funnels of the Lampert & Holt Line: ca. 1900-40. The conditions have long since been improved.

lean over backwards. See fall over backwards.

leap-frog, v., whence the n. leap-frogging. To advance in successive waves, the second going through the first, the third through the second and so on: since 1941: Army coll. >, by 1945, S.E.

Leaping Lena. The train running between Darwin and Birdum: Australian (esp. N.T.): since ca. 1930. (B. 1953.)

leastest. Least: trivial coll.: from ca. 1890; ob. W. Pett Ridge, Minor Dialogues, 1895, 'If I have anything, it must be the leastest drop of claret-cup.'

leather, n.—4. A wallet: c.: C. 20. F. D. Sharpe, The Flying Squad, 1938, 'An inveterate pickpocket is sometimes called "A Leather Merchant".'

leather, your tongue is made of very loose. See tongue is well hung (Dict.).

leather-bottom; usu. in pl. A Civil Servant tied to his desk: C. 20. Compton Mackenzie, Thin Ice, 1956, 'It's worse than ever with these Colonial Office leather-bottoms'. Cf. arse-polishing above.

leather-head.—2. A swindler: Canadian: from ca. 1870; ob. B. & L.

Leather-Heads. Men of Stafford: London clubs': 1812-ca. 1850. (Charles Marsh, Clubs of London, 1832.) Attributed to R. B. Sheridan, who was rejected by them as their M.P. in 1812.

leather-jacket. See rocker, n., 2.

leather-neck. According to 'Taffrail', however, it is a bluejackets' name for a soldier: see quotation at joey (Addenda). Recorded first by B. & L.—1 (p. 475), seems to have, originally, been a British term, perhaps not ante-dating ca. 1880. As an American term, it is unrecorded before 1909; as a British, unrecorded before 1890. (Moe.)—2. A station 'rouseabout': Australian: since ca. 1910. Baker.

leatherhead. A friar bird: Australian: late C. 19-20. B., 1942.

leave an R in pawn (p. 475): Extant. Granville.

leave (someone) for dead. To be vastly superior to (him): Australian: since ca. 1930. Ex horse-racing. (B.P.)

Leave Nothing Loose. The Loyal North Lancashires: Army: late C. 19-20; † by 1940. Punning the initials L.N.L.

leave it for the cleaners! 'A c.p. often heard when someone drops small change on the floor' (B.P.): Australian: since late 1940's.

leave the deck to the last! An ironic shout greeting 'that hapless rating working aloft who has spilled paint onto the deck': C. 20. Wilfred Granville.

leave the lickings of a dog, not. 'Give a sound rating and leave one without a reputation. Often used in the North Country when there has been a row and one of those involved has had his past raked up,' Albert B. Petch, communication of Dec. 7, 1946: Northern England: late C. 19-20.

leave visiting cards. To bomb a locality: R.A.F. since 1939. Berrey, 1940, records leave calling cards, a variant among the Americans in the R.A.F.

leaver. A paroled convict: Australian: ca. 1840-70. B., 1942. One who is on ticket-of-leave.—2. A racehorse that won't eat enough: racing coll.: late C. 19-20. (John Winton, Never Go to Sea, 1963.) Obviously because it leaves its food.

leaves. Lettuce: beatniks': since ca. 1959. (Anderson.) Ex 'lettuce leaves'.—2. Dungarces: beatniks': since ca. 1960. (Anderson.)

lec. A lecture: Exeter undergraduates' (—1940.) Marples, 2.

leccy or lecky. An electric tram: Liverpool: C. 20.

lech. A sexual attraction towards, or urge for, someone: since ca. 1918. (T. Washington-Metcalf, Aloysius O'Callaghan, 1932.) A back formation ex lechery.

lechery-layer. See 'Harlots'.

ledger bosun or dollar bosun. A Warrant Writer in charge of pay accounts: Naval: since ca. 1925. Granville.

leeward, go to (p. 475) occurs early in W. N. Glascock's Naval Sketch Book, 2nd Series, 1834, at at II, 34. Moe.

lef.—2. As in 'the second lef', the second-lieutenant: Army: W.W. I. It occurs, e.g., in the song entitled 'The Conscientious Objector', part of the revue Round the Map, presented in 1916 or 1917. (Mr Stephen A. Burke.)

left and right. Variant of read and write, 1 (p. 690): late C. 19-20. Franklyn 2nd.

left-footer. A Catholic: Northern Ireland Protestants': C. 20. In Eire, 'they' say, farm labourers use a spade pushed into the ground with the left foot.

left forepart, it should be added, is tailors'.

left-handed spanner. See flannel hammer.

left hanging Judas. (Of a rope) left hanging over the side: Naval: late C. 19-20.—2. Hence (of a sailor) left in the lurch: Naval: C. 20. (P-G-R.)

left hook. An attack delivered from the left flank: Army coll.: 1941-5. Ex boxing. (P-G-R.)

left in the lurch. (A) church: rhyming s.: since ca. 1880.

left, right, centre. (Of bombs) dropped accurately upon the target: R.A.F.: 1939+. H. & P.—2. Hence, as an injunction, Put your cap on straight!: R.A.F.: since 1940. H. & P.—3. 'In fact, to get everything just right,' H. & P.: R.A.F.: since 1940. (Not a v., but an adj. or an adv.)

left sucking the mop, be; or, to have blown out. 'When a cabman puts on a theatre or restaurant rank, and gets first just as the lights go out and the door shuts, he has "blown out" and is "left sucking the mop",' Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939: taxi-drivers': since ca. 1920. The lights have 'blown out', the driver is like a servant-girl out of a job, left with nothing to do but 'suck the mop'.

Lefty. A socialist or a communist: coll.: from 1936. In Phoenix News-Progress, Spring, 1937, we find the caption, 'COUNTERBLAST TO LEFTIES'. Ex S.E. left wing.

Lefty Wright. See 'Nicknames'.

leg, n.—6. 'A stage between landings on a long-distance flight' (Jackson): Air Force coll.: since ca. 1925. Cf. sense 2 on p. 476; perhaps rather ex cribbage.—7. Hence, a stage—a portion—of a journey; hence, of an undertaking: coll.: since ca. 1930; by 1960, S.E.

leg, get one's. To obtain a person's confidence: tailors': from ca. 1865. B. & L.

leg, have a. (Of a horse) to have an injured leg: racing, esp. steeplechase, coll.: C. 20. The Sunday Telegraph, Aug. 13, 1961, article by John Lawrence.

leg-bail, give.—2. To hoodwink (someone) or catch unawares: Australian: since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.)

leg before wicket, occ. L.B.W. A ticket: rhyming s.: C. 20. Note esp. 'That's the l.b.w.'—That's good. Franklyn 2nd.

leg in, get a.—2. Hence (?), to win on the first horse of a 'double': Australian sporting: C. 20. B., 1942.

leg over, have got a. To be under a misapprehension: Army (esp. Artillery officers'): C. 20. Ex horses getting a leg over the traces.

leg over, throw a. See throw a leg over.

leg-pull. A good-natured, innocuous hoax or deception: coll.: C. 20. Ex pull (someone's) leg. leg-rope on, put the. To tame or master a recalcitrant person: Australian coll.: C. 20. (B., 1943.) Ex leg-roping cattle.

leg-up; esp. give someone a leg-up, to assist him: coll., esp. Australian: late C. 19-20. B. 1942.

leg-zeph. Short trousers; running shorts: St Bees: since ca. 1914. Marples, 'Apparently from the trade use of zephyr—a thin vest (through which the zephyrs blow).'

legal. A passenger that pays only the legal fare: taxi-drivers' coll.: since ca. 1910. Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939. Ex legal, the: p. 477.

legal beagle. A lawyer more than averagely keen, with a sharp nose for errors and omissions: Canadian, mostly journalistic: since ca. 1950. (Leechman.) Ex the ensuing entry.

legal eagle. A lawyer: adopted, in late 1940's, ex U.S. This sort of rhyming is very common in post World War II American s.: see esp. Wentworth & Flexner, Appendix.

leggy, n. See 'Prisoner-of-War Slang', 6. Another Far East P.O.W.—Mr R. H. Pantling—tells me (July 6, 1960) that 'its far more general use was for a second helping of our very inadequate rations. The frequent cry, towards the end of a meal, of "Any more leggies?" made pedantic scholars of Malay wince.'

Legion of the Lost, the. Those elderly or mentally infirm persons in homes or institutions who have been abandoned by relations and friends and who receive neither visits nor letters: coll.: since ca. 1925.

legit, adj. and, derivatively, adv. Legitimate(ly): low s., verging, at least orig., on c.: C. 20. "'I get my maggot [money] legit these days'" : J. F. Straker, Sin and Johnny Inch, 1968.

legit joint. A game of chance where the genuine player has a chance of winning: Canadian carnival s.: C. 20. Contrast gaff joint.

legs on, put. To cause (a person) to hurry: from ca. 1880. Graham Seton, Pelican Row, 1935, 'That'll put legs on 'im.'

legs up to her bum, she's got. A mid-C. 19-20 c.p., addressed by men to boys in order to imply a common humanity: 'She has legs too, you know; just like you, son.'

legsmen. A race-course swindler that invites one to 'find the lady': c.: late C. 19-20.

lel or lell. To take, seize, arrest: low London s. verging on c.: from ca. 1860. B. & L. Ex Romany.

lemon.—3. A Rugby football: sporting: from ca. 1895. H. G. Wells, The New Machiavelli, 1911, 'Naylor . . . negotiated the lemon safely home.'—4. A car that is hard to sell: motor trade: since ca. 1912. Ex sense 2.—5. A car that has many defects, discovered one after another: Canadian car-owners': since ca. 1945. (Leechman.)—6. See lemon and dash below.

lemon, hand (someone) a. To swindle, esp. in a business deal: commercial: since early 1920's. Ex lemon, 2 (p. 477).

lemon, the answer is a (p. 477) originated in a smutty story circulating very widely during the 1920's.

lemon and dash; often shortened to lemon. A wash-place (public lavatory): since ca. 1950: orig. and still mainly underworld. Franklyn 2nd.

Lemon Avenue. Spiritual home of 'wowsers': Australian: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.)

lemon squash, n. and v. Wash: rhyming s.: C. 20.

lemon-squeezer. A peaked hat worn by New Zealand soldiers: New Zealand soldiers' (1939-45); adopted, ca. 1940, by Australian soldiers. (B., 1953.) Ex the shape.

lemonade turn, the. The shift from 2 to 10 p.m.: railwaymen's: since ca. 1920. (Railway 2nd.) The shift on which it is easiest to obtain refreshments.

lemonade wallah. A teetotaller: Army, esp. the Regulars: late C. 19-20; by 1940, slightly ob.

lemons, adv. With a will; vigorously: Australian: ca. 1860-1910. 'Tom Collins', Such Is Life, 1903, "'Grass up over yer boots, an' the carrion goin' into it lemons," he remarked.' Cf.:

lemony. Disgruntled, irritated, angry: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942, 'go lemony at, to become angry, express anger towards someone'. A lemon is sour.

lend, n.—2. A person to whom one lends money: Australian: since ca. 1930. 'He was a safe lend all right' (Dick).

lend (or loan) of, take a. To impose on (someone); treat as a fool or a 'softy': coll.: since ca. 1910. Also have a lend of.

Lenin's tomb. That part of the Admiralty building—officially 'the Citadel'—which faces St James's Park and which, built during World War II, was regarded as impregnable: Naval officers': since ca. 1943. (Granville.) lens louse. 'Bane of the news-reel cameraman is what he calls a "lens louse". They come in male and female species, publicity-hunters who never miss a chance of getting in front of a news-reel camera and hogging the scene as long as they can. Then there are the "anglers" . . . who have learned at which angle they photograph best, and always try to present that angle to the camera,' John Hall in The Daily Mail, May 24, 1950: since ca. 1945.

Leo, The. The Red Lion Inn: Cambridge undergraduates': late C. 19-20.

leopard's crawl. An allegedly noiseless approach towards sentries to be overpowered: Army (esp. in East): coll.: 1941-5. (P-G-R.)

lep. A leprechaun: Anglo-Irish: late C. 19-20.

lepper. A dog (esp. as runner): dog-racing: since ca. 1925. Robert Westerby, Wide Boys Never Work, 1937. Ex dial. lepper, lit. 'leaper'.

leprosy. Cabbage: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

Les. A Lesbian: Society: from ca. 1930. Since ca. 1950, fairly general.

Les be friends! 'A mixture of a bad joke'—Les, Lesbian, and le's, illiterate for let's—'and a catch-phrase . . . more generally used than one would expect' (a correspondent, March 25, 1965): since ca. 1963.

Lesbian (p. 478), not in the Oxford dictionaries by 1937, reached the Shorter in the middle 1940's.

Lesbo or lesbo. A Lesbian: Australian: since ca. 1935. Cf. Lezo below.

Leslie. A Lesbian: Australian: since ca. 1945. (B., 1953.) Perhaps by euphemistic elaboration of Les.

let down one's hair or let one's hair down. To enjoy oneself thoroughly, let oneself go; to be very friendly, or intimate; to be at one's ease: since ca. 1925. B., 1942. Australian; common in England too. Also in Canada and U.S.

let George do it! A journalistic c.p., dating from ca. 1910 and applied to the calling-in of an unnamed expert and putting the writer's own words into his mouth. Perhaps ex Fr. Laissez-faire à Georges, as Alexander McQueen has proposed.

let her go Gallagher! A c.p., equivalent to 'Let's begin!': Australian: C. 20. Baker.

let it slide! Let it go!; don't trouble! coll.: C. 20. Leonard Merrick, The Position of Peggy Harper, 1911.

let it sweat! Let things now take their natural course; don't interfere any more: c.p.: since ca. 1920. Perhaps suggested by sweat on the top line (p. 853).

let me chat you! Take my advice!: New Zealanders' and Australians': 1915+. B., 1941, 1942. Cf. chat, v., 3.

Let Me Sleep, the. The L.M.S. Railway: C. 20. Railway, 3rd.

let me tell you! A c.p.: 1944+. As an emphatic tag, prob. since C. 18; but as c.p., only since the English Radio programme, 'Happidrome' popularised it: Enoch, in every instalment, says at least once, 'Let me tell you, Mr Lovejoy . . .' (every word emphasised).

let-out, n. Exoneration; alibi: coll.: since ca. 1920. Ex let out, 5 (p. 478).—2. 'A spree, an entertainment' (P. W. Joyce, English . . . in Ireland, 1910): Anglo-Irish: late C. 19-20.

let out. Sense 2, on p. 478, occurs very much earlier in Fredk Marryat, Frank Mildmay, 1829 (at p. 296 of the 1897 edition). Moe.—6. v.i. To sing heartily: coll.: C. 20. (Eric Horne, What the Butler Winked At, 1923.)

let out at. To aim a blow at: Australian coll.: C. 20. (B., 1943.)

let the dog see the rabbit! Get out of the way or the light: dog-track frequenters' c.p.: since ca. 1938.—2. See dog see the rabbit . . .

let your braces dangle (and let yourself go)! often preceded by you want to. Relax and enjoy yourself: c.p.: since ca. 1945.

letari. A variant of lettary (a lodging) on p. 479. Laura Knight, Oil Paint and Grease Paint, 1936.

letch, n. and v. (To have) an amorous feeling: since early 1920's.—2. Hence, to look, not necessarily amorously, at women: Army: ca. 1940-5. (P-G-R.)

letching-piece. A loose woman: low: C. 20. Cf. letch-water (p. 478).

lets. Bed and breakfast visitors: landladies' coll.: C. 20. Frank Vosper, Murder on the Second Floor, 1929.

let's appeal against the light! Let's object, just for the hell of it: Australian: c.p.: since ca. 1950. Ex cricket.

let's be having you! A foreman's call to start work; hence, the orig. form of let's have you below. C. 20.

let's call it eight bells! 'An excuse for drinking before noon' (Granville): Naval officers' c.p.: C. 20.

let's feel your pulse! A jocular c.p.: late C. 19-20.

let's go back to square one. Let's start again, let's go back to where we were: c.p.: since late 1940's. Ex the old B.B.C. football commentators.

let's have you! N.C.O.s' c.p., addressed to men due to turn out for a parade or a fatigue: since ca. 1910. Cf. let's hear from you! (p. 479).

let's slaat it out; let's jol. Let's 'beat it' (make off): South African c. (C. P. Wittstock, letter of May 23, 1946). Ex Afrikaans.

letters. Degree-letters after one's name: coll.: mid-C. 19-20.—2. Hence (?), service certificates: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931).

letting one's little finger laugh. Sec little finger laugh.

leuc (or leuk or even luke or Luke), as in 'He's had a leuc', a leucotomy operation: doctors' and nurses': since ca. 1935.

level, v. To speak or act honestly and frankly: Canadian coll.: adopted, ca. 1950, ex U.S. (Leechman.) level, one's. Esp. do one's level, do one's utmost: coll. esp. Cockneys': from ca. 1890. Clarence Rook, The Hooligan Nights, 1899. Ex level best (Dict.).

level money. "Level money" means the most appropriate exact multiple of £100' (Anthony Cowdy in the coloured supplement of The Sunday Times, Oct. 24, 1965): secondhand-car dealers' coll. since ca. 1945.

levels on the splonk. Evens, as betting odds: racing, esp. bookies': C. 20. The Sunday Telegraph, May 7, 1967.

leven (p. 479). Earlier in Mayhew, I, 1851.

Leviathan, The. The Bank of Australasia: Australian journalistic nickname of ca. 1900-30. B., 1942.

Levy and Frank. (An instance of) male masturbation: low rhyming s. (on whank): from ca. 1880: often shortened to Levy: C. 20.

lewd infusion. Coition: low jocular: since ca. 1925.

Lewis & Witties. Breasts or nipples: Australian rhyming s.: since ca. 1890. (B., 1945.)

Lewo. Lewisham (a suburb of Sydney): Australian, esp. Sydneysiders': since ca. 1925. (B.P.)

Lexicon Bay. The language or phraseology of the undergraduates: Oxford: ca. 1815-40. Pierce Egan, Life in London, 1821.

Lezo or lezo. A Lesbian: Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1942. Cf. the English Les and Lesbo above.

liaise. To get into touch (with someone); hence, to co-operate (with), confer (with): Army officers':

1938 +: by 1941 coll.: by mid-1943 j. E. P., 'In Mess and Field'—The New Statesman, Aug. 1, 1942. Ex liaison (as in Liaison Officer).

Lib. A Liberator aircraft: Air Force: 1943 +. (Gerald Emanuel, March 29, 1945.)

lib, n.—5. A liberty: trivial Cockney: from ca. 1895; ob. Pugh (2): "'Wust o' women." he said bitterly. "Treat 'em kind an' they take libs."

Lib Lab. Any one of the Liberal-Labour alliances (ca. 1915-22) professing Radical principles: political: 1916 +; by 1925, merely historical.—2. 'A member of the Liberal-Labour Federation, 1899' (Keith Sinclair, A History of New Zealand, 1959): New Zealand coll.: 1899, then historically. Cf. Red Fed.

libb. An early variant of lib, n., 1 and v., 1.

Libby. The pianist Liberace: 1958 +.

liberate. To gain illicitly or deviously; to steal: Army: 1944 (Italy) and 1945 (Germany). By humorous euphemism.

liberty!, on my. On my oath!: low coll.: C. 20.

liberty boat; liberty bus: boat taking leave-personnel ashore; free vehicular transport for men on leave: Canadian (1940), hence English (1941); adopted from U.S. Navy and Army: j., not coll.—much less, s.

library. A drinking school; a convivial club, meeting at a tavern: drinkers' or taverns': ca. 1640-90. Anon., The Eighth Liberal Science, 1650.—2. A book borrowed from a lending library: coll.: C. 20.

library cads. 'Two juniors who have to keep the library in order': Winchester College: mid-C. 19-20. B. & L.

lick, v., 2 (p. 479). Boxiana, II, 1818.

lick of the tar-brush (p. 480).—2. (also a touch . . .). Applied to one who has a touch of coloured blood in his make-up: coll.: mid-C. 19-20.

licker (p. 480). Cf. the mid-C. 19-20 Cockney, it's a licker to me, I don't understand it. I.e. it licks (beats) me.—2. An ice-cream cornet: mostly children's: since ca. 1910.

lickerish all sorts. Strongly sexed: since ca. 1925. 'It takes all sorts to make a world.'—'Yes; and some are lickerish' (lecherous). Ex the well-known brand of confectionary, Liquorice All Sorts.

lickety-split. At full speed; in a tearing hurry: (mostly) juvenile: adopted ca. 1918 from U.S. Cf. lick, at full (p. 480).

lickings of a dog. See leave the . . .

lie-down. A reclining and a rest: coll., mostly Australian and New Zealand: late C. 19-20.

lie down and I'll fan you! A c.p. reply to such request for service as the auditor thinks unjustifiable: R.A.F. (esp. among N.C.O. regulars): since ca. 1925. Ex the services of punkah-wallahs in India and with the implication that the requester must be distraught or feverish to make the request.

lie down on a, or the, job. To loaf: Australian: since ca. 1925. Dal Stivens, The Scholarly Mouse, 1958.

lie in state (p. 480). Recorded in A Compleat Collection of Remarkable Tryals, 1721: in vol. IV, p. 248.—2. To sleep protected by mosquito nets: Forces': 1939 +.

lie like a pig. To tell clever lies: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. life, n., 4 (p. 481). Current in Australia since ca. 1870. 'Tom Collins,' Such is Life, 1903.

life of Reilly, the; esp. live the . . ., to live a carefree and comfortable life: ? Anglo-Irish: C. 20.

Lifey water. Porter (the drink): rhyming s.: late C. 19–20. before 1914, mostly Anglo-Irish. Franklyn 2nd.

lift, v.—7. To move stock overland from one place to another far away: Australian: late C. 19–20. Archer Russell, Gone Nomad, 1936.—8. To punch or strike (someone): Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Cf. sense 4 of the n. and the S.E. raise one's hand to (a person).

lift one's little finger (p. 481) occurs, e.g., in Alfred Burton, Johnny Newcome, 1818. (Moe.)

lift your undercarriage! Get out!; Go away!: Australian airmen's: 1939–45. (B., 1943.)

lifters. Hands: since ca. 1930: c. >, by ca. 1955, low s. (Robin Cook, 1962.) Ex the c. > s, lift, to steal, on p. 481; cf. s. pickers and stealers on p. 625.

lifting lines, vbl n.; rare as v.i. 'A young man earning a fairly good weekly wage by "lifting lines"—or acting as runner—to a baker in Bridgeton', MacArthur & Long. Low Glasgow s. of C. 20.

lifty, n. A liftman: mostly Aus.: since ca. 1930. Bernard Hesling, The Dinkumization, 1963.

light, adj.; gen. very light. Rather short of money: coll.: C. 20.—2. Also light of, which it shortens. Short of (something); 'I'm light a haversack': (mostly Forces') coll.: since ca. 1925.

light!, he (she, etc.) wouldn't give you a. He (she, etc.) is exceedingly mean: Cockney c.p.: late C. 19–20. I.e. a light (or match) for one's cigarette; possibly with a pun on light, n., 1 (Dict.).

light horseman.—2. 'A large species of ant' (B., 1943): Australian: C. 20. Swift.

light house.—4. A watch-house: Londoners': ca. 1805–40. Pierce Egan, Life in London, 1821. Cf. pilot, 2.

light master. A go-between to the landlord of a house of call and the workmen using it: printers': from ca. 1840. B. & L. Ex light, n., 1.

light of. See light, adj., 2.

light out (p. 482) was originally British, not American. It occurs, e.g., in John Davis's novel, The Post-Captain, 1806, as Colonel Moe reminds me.

light stags (p. 482). 'I have never heard this and suspect that Beames was under a misapprehension. Loggers and raftmen used to "stag" their trousers, by cutting off a few inches from the bottom, so that they came about half-way down the calves, clear of the top of the boots.—Mathews records it for 1902.' (Leechman.)

light the lamp. (Of a woman) to have sexual intercourse: rather literary: late C. 19–20. Albert Londres, 1928.

light the re-heat. 'More or less synonymous with turn up the wick (below). To light the afterburner of a jet engine: a phrase which obviously started as S.E. but is now used to denote rapid acceleration of any form of mechanical transport' (Peter Sanders): R.A.F.: since ca. 1960.

light up.—3. (V.i.) To reach—to experience—an orgasm: mostly teenagers': since ca. 1945.

lighters. 'The merest wetting of the lips in your pal's tot of rum' (Granville): Naval: since ca. 1905. Ex 'light drinking'; by 'the Oxford -cr'. Cf. sippers.

lightning-conductors. Naval officers' full-dress trousers: Naval: C. 20. They have broad gold stripes down the seams.

lightning jerker (or squitter). A telegraph operator: Australian: since ca. 1910. B., 1942. Among Canadian railroadmen the term is lightning slinger.

lights of Piccadilly Circus shining out of his arse-hole, he thinks he's got the; or you think you've got . . . your . . . A low c.p., satirical of someone's self-esteem: mostly Services': since ca. 1920. An elaboration and adaptation of the older and much more widely used think the sun shines out of (someone's) arse or arse-hole, to regard almost with idolatry: low coll.: late C. 19–20, for certain; and perhaps since late C. 16.

lightsome, the. Dancing: C. 20. Prompted by S.E. the light fantastic, but never very general.

like. 'Man and like have'—in beatnik s.—'no actual meanings. They are code-signs, as in Morse or Semaphore, to show that communication has begun and ended' (Anderson): since ca. 1957. Adopted from general illiterate speech, as a tag—cf. like, adv., on p. 482.

like a . . . , like anything. It seems that like be-damned is slightly earlier than I thought. E. H. Hornung, Raffles, 1899, 'I'll show you the house when we get there, only drive like be-damned!'

like a fart in a bottle; like a pea in a colander. See pea in a . . .

like a pig, as in the common sweat like a pig, is a very frequent Australian coll. intensive: C. 20. (B.P.) Cf. lie like a pig above.

like bats out of (1) Hell or (2) a cave. In great haste, or with alacrity, esp. of departure: (1) mainly English; (2) mainly Canadian. (Leechman.) Since middle 1930's.

like beans; like billy-o; like boots; like bricks. See like a . . . in Dict.

like blazes. See blazes, like, p. 62 and above.

like Brown's cows, (we're) all together. (We're) alone: Anglo-Irish c.p.: C. 20. The anecdotal Brown possessed only one cow.

like buggery—like fuck—like hell. See fuck . . . (Add.) and buggery . . . , hell . . . (Dict.).

like Chloe (or Cloe). See drunk as Chloe.

like Christmas Day in the workhouse. Uncomfortable; niggardly; 'lousy': Army: since ca. 1910. Ex a famous soldiers' song, adapted from one of G. R. Sims's Dagonet Ballads, published in 1903.

like it or lump it. The sense of dislike comes ex 'a sort of block-acceptance, as if, not liking what was offered you, you anyhow swallowed it whole'. (Basil de Selincourt, in The Manchester Guardian, Feb. 19, 1937.)

like MacArthur I shall return. A c.p., mostly Australian, 'denoting that one's absence will be only temporary, esp. if it is suspected that one is trying to escape hard work' (B.P.): since 1942. Ex the famous promise of General Douglas MacArthur to the Filipinos. '(He promised to return and to liberate them from the Japanese)': B.P.

like mad; like shit to a shovel; like smoke; like thunder. See like a . . . in Dict.

like nobody's business. An adverbial intensive: c.p.: since ca. 1943.

like shit through a goose. Very fast: low Canadian: C. 20.

like sticks a-breaking. (Very) vigorously:

proletarian coll.: 1851, Mayhew, I: app. † by 1910.

like the man who fell out of the balloon (or life-boat or 'plane)—he wasn't in it. A c.p., orig. (ca. 1890), English, but, in C. 20, common throughout the British Dominions.

like the story of Pharaoh's daughter (who found Moses in a basket): 'a well-known Australian c.p.' (B.P.): C. 20. Cf. you'll be telling me...

like the wrath of God. See wrath of God...

like to meet (some person or animal) in the dark, I or you or he, etc., would not. A c.p., applied to any fearsome person or other creature: C. 20.

like which. The like of which: sol., esp. Cockneys': from ca. 1870. Edwin Pugh, A Street in Suburbia, 1895, 'It give me a' insight inter 'is character like which I wouldn't otherwise ha' got'.

liker. A hobble or a halter: horse-copers' c. — 1914). Pugh. Prob. ex Fr. licou.

likes, not one's. Not one's wish: Cockney coll.: from ca. 1870. Pugh (2): "'Why have you not brought him with you?' "'Tain't my likes," said the man.'

likewise. I agree; I share the sentiment. Thus: 'Mr A. "Well, we must be off. We've had a wonderful time. Thank you so much!" Mrs A. "Likewise."' Canadian: since ca. 1965. (Leechman.)

li(l).—4. Hence, any bank-note: c.: C. 20.

lilac wonder. A day-return ticket: railway-men's (M B): ? ca. 1920–50. (Railway). Ex its gay colour.

Lilian Gish. A fish: theatrical rhyming s.: since ca. 1920. Ex a famous film actress. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

lilies. Floating runways for aircraft: Fleet Air Arm: 1939–45. John Irving, Royal Navalese, 1946.

Lill. Lillywhite, the famous English professional wicket-keeper (d., in 1874, aged only 48): cricketers': from ca. 1846; now only historical. (The Observer, Aug. 30, 1936.) He was the son of that still abler father who was mostly a bowler.

Lilley and Skinner.—2. A beginner: retail-trade rhyming s.: C. 20. Franklyn 2nd.

Lily Law (and Inspector Beastly). The police; the fuller form is intensive: London barrow-boys': since ca. 1930. Prob. of 'camp' origin.

lily-pond, the; or sweet-pea ward; or male gynae ward. A ward set aside for male pelvic-organs, and prostate-gland, patients: hospital nurses': C. 20. (Cf. 'The Pitfalls of Using Nursing Slang' in Nursing Mirror, May 7, 1949.)

lily-white.—3. A young pathic: late C. 19–20; ob. by 1940; virtually † by 1960.

lily-white, adj. Cowardly: Australian (teenage) surfers': since ca. 1960. The Bulletin, 30 March 1963.

Lily Whites, the.—2. Also, since ca. 1930, the Coldstream Guards (Gerald Kersh, 1941; Michael Harrison, 1943). Ironic on coalies.

limb.—3. Elliptical for limb of the law in its Australian sense 'a policeman': Australian: since ca. 1930. 'Carefully searching among the straw, the limb found nothing': Hay, Hell and Booligal, Melbourne, 1961. (B.P.) limb, out on a. In a dangerous situation; hence, at a grave disadvantage: adopted, ca. 1945, ex U.S. Implying a precarious branch high up.

limby (p. 484). Also Australian. (B., 1942.)

lime, in the. Popular; much publicised: Australian: since ca. 1925. Baker. I.e. 'in the lime-light'.

lime-juicer, in Wm Kelly, Life in Victoria, 1859 = an Englishman; an English sailor.—2. An English sailing-vessel: Canadian (ex U.S.): since ca. 1860; ob.

lime slime. See 'Prisoner-of-War Slang', 11.

Lime Tank, the. The Royal Naval Hospital, Haslar: Naval: since ca. 1920. Granville.

limers. Limejuice: Naval: since ca. 1930. John Winton, We Joined the Navy, 1959. By the Oxford -er.

limes. Limelight: theatrical: C. 20. Cf. lime, in the (above). Electric footlights are, of course, included.

limey.—2. Hence, esp., a Canadian name for a British seaman: since ca. 1925. (H. & P.) And a South African name for a Royal Navy rating: 1939 +. (Cyrus A. Smith: letter of May 22, 1946.)

limo-limo. See 'Prisoner-of-War Slang', 11.

limpet. A 'base-wallah'; a 'Cuthbert': Army: 1914–18. He clings to his job.

limping Annie. See Annie...

Limus (pron. līm ūs). Limehouse, London: Cockneys': since ca. 1870. In, e.g., A. Neil Lyons, Arthur's, 1908.

Lincoln and Bennett (p. 484). Cf. Dunn's three-and-ninepenny for any cheap bowler hat, this make being the best of the lower-priced hats: coll.: late C. 19–early C. 20. (Alexander McQueen.)

Lincoln's Inn. A £5 note: racing rhyming s. on synonymous (orig. underworld) finn, q.v. at finnif (p. 277): late C. 19–20.—2. A hand: rhyming s. on fin, 1 (p. 276): late (? mid) C. 19–20.—3. Gin (the drink): rhyming s.: late C. 19–20. Cf. Brian O'Linn (p. 92). All three senses: Franklyn 2nd.

Lincolnshire gremlin. A sharp-toothed gremlin, fond of biting the control wires: R.A.F.: 1940–5.

line, n.—7. (Ex sense 5: p. 484.) A girl or a young woman, e.g. nice line, (not so) good line: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942; Lawson Glassop, 1944. Since ca. 1950, esp. a slashing line, a very attractive girl. (Culotta.)—8. A special verbal approach, esp. from male to female: coll.: since ca. 1920. Ex the S.E. 'line of goods (for sale)'.

line! Short for '(That's a) line-shoot': 1940 +. The Observer, Oct. 4, 1942.

line, go (for a trip up the). To go to prison: C. 20. F. Brett Young, This Little World, 1834.

line, toe the. See toe the line.

line, up the. On leave: Naval: C. 20. Granville. Up the railway line from a Service port.

line book. See lines book.

line mob. An infantry regiment: Army: since ca. 1916.

line on, get a. To obtain information about: mostly Army: since ca. 1938. (P-G-R.)

line-shoot. A tall story; a boasting: R.A.F.: since 1940. The Observer, Oct. 4, 1942. H. & P. See shoot a line.

line-shooter. He who specialises in, or is addicted to, 'line-shoots'. Jackson. See shoot a line.

line-shooting is the vbl n. corresponding to shoot a line: since 1940. Jackson (by implication).

line up.—2. To arrange: since ca. 1920. Ex setting things or persons in an orderly line.

lined up. Synonymous with sighted: Royal Sussex Regiment: C. 20. (S. H. Ward.)

lined up, be. To stand, as a defaulter, before the Commander: Naval coll.: C. 20. Granville.

linen. Short for linen-drafter (Dict.): late C. 19–20.

liner, 3 (p. 485): goes back to ca. 1810, prob. to 1800. It occurs in W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (I, 15), 1829. Moe.

lines, on. 'Used by compositors to intimate that the companionship is in full swing': printers' coll.: from ca. 1860. B. & L.

lines, on his. Engaged in work paid according to scale: printers' coll.: C. 19–20. Ibid.

lines book. A book kept in the Mess for the recording of exaggerations by its members. 'Sometimes called a "Shooting Gallery"'. From the early 1920's (Jackson). In The Observer, of Oct. 4, 1942, John Moore uses the occ. variant, line book. Cf. line-shooter and shoot a line.

ling. A stink: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. Cf. ling-grappling (p. 485).

linguist. A practitioner of cunninglingism: Australian: since ca. 1950.

linguistic exercise(s). Kissing: since ca. 1925.

link, n. A group of porters working under a foreman: railway porters': since ca. 1940. (Radio Times, Jan. 21, 1965.) A link—often somewhat tenuous—between staff and public.

link, to have knocked out one's. Sessions, 1754 (No. IV, Part iii), 'He said he supposed she had knocked out her link (meaning she was drunk)': Londoners': ca. 1730–80.

links of love. Sausages: Naval: since ca. 1925. Weekly Telegraph, Nov. 1942; Granville. Compare stick and bangers, 2 (Dict.).

lintie; gen. pl. A sprite: theatrical: from ca. 1870; ob. B. & L. Prob. ex Scottish lintie, a linnet; perhaps influenced by Fr. lutin.

lion, v. To intimidate: Australian: since ca. 1930. B., 1942.

lion's lair. A chair: since ca. 1860. Rhyming.

lip, n., 1 (p. 485), is recorded in 1818: Alfred Burton, Johnny Newcome. (Moe.)

lipey is possibly ex Ger. liebe, 'beloved': B. & L.

lipish or lippish. Impudent: ca. 1835–70. Sinks, 1848. Ex lip, n., 1 (p. 485).

lippy.—3. Lipstick: Australian: since ca. 1930. 'Not heard from women under forty' (B.P., 1963).

Lipton's orphan. A pig: ca. 1890–1914. Ex illuminated sign, advertising the bacon sold by Lipton's shops.

[Liquor named by language: see 'Tavern terms', § 3. c.]

liquorice legs! A schoolboys' cry directed at a schoolgirl wearing black stockings: Australian: 1950's. (B.P.) Obviously ex the colour.

liquorice stick. A clarinet: dance bands' (whether jazz or not): since ca. 1945. 'Obviously because (a) it is of black wood; and (b) it is sucked vertically to the lips' (Richard Merry).

lispers.—2. The lips: C. 18–mid-19. B. & L.

list, on the. In disfavour: coll.: from 1885; ob. Introduced in The Mikado, 1885. Abbr. S.E. on the black list.

listen, n. An act or period of listening: coll.: since ca. 1890. Usually have a good listen (coll.) or do a listen (s.), but also as in "'Out you'll go listener (an ear). Rather: since ca. 1805. Boxiana, II, 1818.

... and give a good listen'": Christopher Bush, The Case of the Green Felt Hat, 1939.

lit, smack the. To divide the booty: c.: ca. 1850–90. Burton, Vikram and the Vampire, 1870. (The term is suspect.)

Little Arthur. The A.R.P. Warden's pet name (1939–45), then (1941–5) used by the R.A.F., for arsenic gas: H. & P. By personification and by phonetic approximation.

Little Benjamin Our Ruler. 'The cane kept by the Sub-Lieutenant in charge of the Gunroom' (Granville): Naval: C. 20. The Gunroom is the Midshipmen's Mess.

little black book. The notebook in which bachelors are reputed to keep girls' telephone numbers: mostly Australian: since ca. 1930. (B.P.)

Little Bo-Peep. An occ. variant of bo-peep, I (p. 72). Franklyn 2nd.

little boy in the boat. A mostly Canadian variant (since ca. 1908) of little man in the boat, 2.

little boys'—little girls'—room, the. The men's—the women's—lavatory: euphemistic: adopted, ca. 1944, ex U.S. servicemen. The former occurs in, e.g. Angus Wilson, A Bit off the Map, 1957.

little brother. Membrum virile: low: mid-C. 19–20. On analogy of little sister (p. 487).

Little Brown Men. A variant of Little (Yellow) Men: B., 1943.

little bullshit goes a long way, a. It pays to flatter or to boast: Australian; c.p.: since ca. 1919. (B.P.) little devils. Three '2' cards: Australian poker-players': since ca. 1920. (B., 1953.) A reference to children of two years.

little fields have big gates. A c.p.—? rather an unrecorded rural proverb—referring to the fact that many little women bear large families: (?) C. 19–20. The true reason is that they possess an invincible vitality.

little finger laugh, letting one's. Board-school girls' term, from ca. 1890, thus in W. Pett Ridge, Mord Em'ly, 1898: 'One of the most painful jibes that a girl could offer to another in school was to point her finger, and infect it slightly—an act called "letting one's little finger laugh".'

little friend, one's. The menses: Canadian (a feminine euphemism): since ca. 1920. But also Australian; deriving mainly ex the fact that the menses are often welcome as a sign of non-pregnancy.

little green men. Mysterious beings alleged to have been seen emerging from flying saucers: Canadian c.p.: since 1957. (Leechman.)

little grey home in the west (p. 487): † by 1960. Franklyn 2nd.

Little Hell. That part of Cow Cross, London, known thus to the inhabitants and as Jack Ketch's Kitchen to others; infested, at one time, with criminals: c.: ca. 1820–1900. B. & L.

little horrors; little monsters. Young children: mothers': perhaps orig. among those women who cook and serve Primary-school dinners: since the late 1940's.

little house (p. 487) is also Australian coll., as in Leonard Mann, Mountain Flat, 1939, '... Another yard in which were the pigsty, the henhouse, the tool-shed and what they called jocosely "the little house".'

little Jimmy. At House, good callers always called the nicknames for the following numbers:

No. 1—Little Jimmy, or Kelly's Eye.

No. 11—Legs Eleven. (The number resembles a pair of legs, and was given this extra syllable to distinguish it from Seven and avoid mistakes.)

No. 28—The Old Brags [q.v.] . . .

No. 44—Open the Door.

No. 66—Clickety-Click.

No. 99—Top of the House, or, Top of the Bleeding Bungalow.

No. 13—Unlucky for some.

No. 16—Sweet sixteen and never been kissed.

No. 21—Key of the door.

Thus Richards. See also account in a novel by Michael Harrison: Reported Safe Arrival, 1943, p. 85. Cf. the entry at puff and dart, q.v.

Little Man, the. Lord Southwood (d. 1946), who did so much for the hospitals: colleagues' and journalists': since ca. 1925.

little man in a boat.—2. Clitoris: trivial: late C. 19–20. Also little boy.

Little (Yellow) Men. Japanese: coll., mostly in Army: 1942 +.

little monster. A child, especially if objectionable: Canadian c.p.: since ca. 1950. (Leechman.)

Little Moscow. Chopwell, County Durham: during the General Strike, 1926. It was the strikers' H.Q.—2. Mardy, a town in South Wales: The Daily Worker, Nov. 16, 1949.

little number, one's. What one wants: since ca. 1940. (Angus Wilson, Hemlock and After, 1952.)

little rabbits have big ears. A warning to speak more quietly or less frankly in front of children: Australian, partly c.p. and partly modification of the proverb little pitchers . . . C. 20. (B.P.)

Little Rome. Liverpool (England): coll.: C. 20. Ex the large number of Catholics there. (A. B. Petch, April 1966.)

little shillings. 'Love money' (Sinks): ca. 1830–70.

little side (also written littleside). A game between teams from one house: Rugby School: mid C. 19–20. Complementary to big side.

little something. A dash of spirits: coll.: C. 20. 'Would you like a little something in it?'

little song and dance. See song and dance.

little terror. An extremely mischievous child: domestic coll.: late C. 19–20.

little tin god, as in 'He thinks he's a . . .': coll.: late C. 19–20.

little two shoes (or T. S.). See two shoes in the Dict.

little visitor, have a. To be undergoing one's period: feminine, esp. in Suburbia, and notably in the 1920's–1930's.

Little Willie.—2. A (small) boy's penis: Primary schoolchildren's (esp. girls) and teachers': heard in 1920's, but not very common before ca. 1945. A euphemism at once playful and sensible.

little wooden hill, the. The stairs: nursery coll.: mid-C. 19–20. Esp. in 'Now we'll go up the little wooden hill to Bedfordshire'; cf. Bedfordshire on p. 42.

littleish. Rather small: coll.: since ca. 1825. Sessions, 1832.

littly, before a surname at Christ's Hospital in C. 20, as in Littly Smith, corresponds to minor elsewhere.

live and let live! A c.p. addressed to a person head- or body-scratching, with implication of nits, fleas, lice: since ca. 1918.

live in one's boxes. Lacking a fixed abode, to move from place to place: coll.: C. 20. Ian Hay, Carrying On, 1917.

live in one's chest(s). (Of midshipmen) to sleep in a hammock in the gun-room; where one's chest is kept: Naval coll.: late C. 19–20. (P-G-R.) live it up. To lead a gay extravagant life: coll.: since ca. 1960.

live off the land. To live the life of a tramp: Australian coll.: late C. 19–20. B., 1942. The tramp is non-productive.

live on the smell of an oilrag. 'To subsist on very little' (B.P.): Australian coll.: since ca. 1920. In, e.g., Cusack & James, Come in, Spinner, 1951. Adopted ex Anglo-Irish usage of late C. 19–20. 'A penurious miserable creature who starves himself to hoard up:—He could live on the smell of an oil-rag': P. W. Joyce, English . . . in Ireland, 1910.

live stock.—3. House bugs: domestic: C. 20. Orig., and still mainly, euphemistic.

live up to one's blue china. To live up to or beyond one's means: from ca. 1860; ob. Cf.:

live up to the door (or the knocker). To live up to one's means: proletarian: mid-C. 19–20; ob. B. & L.

lively kid. 'A funny fellow, a brave man,' Sinks, 1848: coll.: not entirely † even by 1948.

liver-jerker. A tricycle: ca. 1890–1914. (G. & W. Grossmith, The Diary of a Nobody, 1894.)

liver-pad. A chest-protector, usually of flannel: ca. 1850–1905.

liver-shaker. A riding hack: late C. 19–20. ('Sapper' uses it in The Lieutenant, 1915.)

Lives of the Saints. Crockford's Clerical Directory established ca. 1871: Clerical: from ca. 1880.

livestock. See live stock (Dict.).

livid. Furiously angry; very much annoyed: since ca. 1920. Short for livid with rage.

living bloody wonder, a. A c.p. of ironic appreciation: Australian: since ca. 1930. (B.P.) living doll. A very attractive girl: adopted, ca. 1945, ex U.S. Cf. doll, n., 4, above.

living end, the. The very end, 'the last straw': Australian ('not common': B.P.): since ca. 1950. Either living is ironic or it's an intensive—cf. its use in the preceding entry, where, however, it may = vital; hence, lively and attractive.—2. 'Perfection, the ultimate, the ideal. "But, Daddy, you should meet Harry! He's the living end!"' (Leechman): Canadian: since ca. 1955.

living in seduced circumstances. A jocular c.p., applied to a pregnant unmarried woman: since ca. 1920.

Liz; usually Lizzie. A Lysander aircraft: E. P., 'Air Warfare and Its Slang'—The New Statesman, Sept. 19, 1942. Partly ex Lys(ander), partly an allusion to Liz(ie), a Ford motor-car.

lizard. A sheep-musterer: New Zealand and Australian rural: since ca. 1880. B., 1941, 1942. He has to move both slowly and quietly.

Lizzie.—4. H.M.S. Queen Elizabeth. 'Tafrail. Also Big Lizzie.—5. A Lysander plane: R.A.F. World War II. (P-G-R.)—6. A Lesbian: since ca. 1928. (Angus Wilson, The Wrong Set, 1949.) Ex Lesbian: cf. Les.—7. An L.M.S. Pacific locomotive: railwaymen's: since late 1940's. Railway, 3rd.

load, n.—3. See get a load on.
load, n.—4. A 'loafer' or idler; a lazy person: coll.: C. 20. Cf. sense 1.

load bummer. A 1941-4 variant of line-shooter. Partridge, 1945. Cf. load of guff.

load of, get a. To see, to perceive; understand: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

load of guff. 'A lot of humbug or nonsense,' Jackson: R.A.F. (mostly officers'): since ca. 1937.

load of old cobblers, a, esp. in 'That's a load . . . '—that's rubbish or nonsense: since ca. 1960. Often used by people ignorant of its origin in cobbler's awls (above). A comparison with cod's wallop (above) is unavoidable.

load of rabbits. See trap.

load of rough. A bus-load of pass-holders: London busmen's: since ca. 1930.

load of wind. See 'Hauliers' Slang'.

load or weight off one's behind. A defecation: low: since ca. 1925. Parodying:

load (but usually weight) off one's mind. A haircut: mostly in working-class barber-shops: since ca. 1920. Especially if the 'crop' is heavy.

loaded. (Cf. the note on p. 488.) Topsy: adopted, ca. 1958 (and used esp. by beatniks), ex U.S.—2. Well-off; having plenty of money: since ca. 1945.

loaded with it. Over-sexed: beatniks': since ca. 1959. (Anderson.)

loafing, adj.—2. (Of gear) left lying about: Naval: C. 20. Granville.

loafing number. 'A nice easy job in depot' (Granville): Naval: C. 20. Ex prec.: cf. next.

loafing stations. Shore stations where men await drafting to ships: Naval: C. 20.

Loamshire dialect. Faulty dialect as used by ignorant writers: authors' coll.: C. 20. There being no such county, there is no such dialect.

Loamshires, the, as applied by novelists to an unspecified line regiment, has been so much used, and abused, that, though S.E., it verges on coll.: late C. 19-20.

loather. A cad: Rugby: since early 1920's. Ex loathsome by 'the Oxford -er'.

lob, n.—7. A haul of money: Australian c.: C. 20. B., 1942. Ex sense 1 (p. 488).—8. One's turn to 'lob out'—distribute or pay for—cigarettes and drinks at a convivial gathering: mostly Services': since ca. 1930. (Atkinson.)—9. As the lob it also means 'the w.c.': Londoners': C. 20.

lob, v.—crash lob—force lob. (Of pilot or aircraft) to land, crash-land, force-land: Air Force: 1939-45. All three occur in Brickhill & Norton's Escape to Danger, 1946.

lob in. To arrive; to call at a place: Australian: C. 20. H. Drake Brockman, Men without Wives, 1938. Ex sense 3 of lob, v. (p. 488).—2. Hence, to intromit (inmissio penis): low, mostly English: C. 20. Also, derivatively, lop in.

lob onto. To obtain or discover by a stroke of luck: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)

lob out. See lob, n., 8.

lob the snout. See crash the ash above.

lobscouse, as dialect, is recorded as early as Hone's Every-day Book, 1826; in 1706, Ned Ward, The Wooden World Dissected, the 'first inventor' of lobscouse was invited to go to the devil. (Ronald Hjort.)

lobster, 2 (p. 489), has also the derivative sense

'a marine', as, several times, in W. N. Glascock, Sketch-Book, I and II, 1825-26. (Moe.)

local, adj. Extremely eccentric; mad: South Africa: 1944 +. Professor W. S. Mackie in The Cape Argus, July 4, 1946. Corruption of American loco.—2. A local newspaper: coll.: since ca. 1910.

Lochinvar, (do) the. To catch, the catching of, Aboriginal women (lubras) to work cattle and perform other rough services: N.T., Australia: C. 20. Ernestine Hill, The Territory, 1951.

lock, on the. Attending to prisoners: prison warden's: mid-C. 19-20. B. & L.

lock, stock and barrel; bob, line and sinker. Whole; wholly; the whole lot or completely, entirely: Naval coll. c.p.: from ca. 1880. An elaboration of the S.E. idiom, lock, stock and barrel.

locket. A pocket: Australian rhyming s.: C. 20. Baker.

loco, adj. Insane; crazy: Canadian: adopted, ca. 1930, ex U.S. Ex the effects of the loco weed. The weed itself derives its name ex the Spanish loco, mad, which 'presumably reached N. America with the Jesuit missionaries in California, etc., in C. 17-18' (H. R. Spencer).

locus away (p. 489): Australia, 1893 (Sidney J. Baker, letter); England, 1831 (O.E.D.).

lodge and comp. Lodging-and-provision allowance granted to officers and men living ashore: Naval: C. 20. Granville. Cf. compo (p. 174). Short for 'Lodging and Compensation' Allowance.

lodger; gen. pl. Applied chiefly to head lice but also to all vermin—even rats and mice: mostly Cockneys': from ca. 1870.

lodgings. Prison: Australian: late C. 19-20. Baker.

Lofty. Nickname for any tall, thin man: mid-C. 19-20.—2. Ironically for any very short man: late C. 19-20. (P-G-R.)

log. Sense 2 (p. 490), has, since ca. 1920, been common also in Secondary Schools.—4. An energetic afternoon's exercise: R.N.C. Dartmouth: C. 20. Granville. Cf. nautical j. a day's log.—5. See cedar, 3.—6. A person without ability or brains or energy: Aus.: since early 1930's. (B., 1959.) Ex sense 5.

log, go up a. To hide: Australian: since ca. 1910. B., 1942. As snake or lizard does.

log, make up the. To note the wages: tailors': from ca. 1850. B. & L.

logger's small-pox is those markings on a man's face which are caused by a man's stamping on it with his spiked boots, an activity known as putting the caulks to (a man): Canadian loggers': C. 20. Gerald Kersh, I Got References, 1939 (p. 177).

logician. See 'Tavern terms', § 3, d.

logue. A variant of loge (p. 490).

loid. Celluloid: since ca. 1910. Hence, the loid, the art of using a piece of celluloid to slip open the latch of a door: mostly police: since ca. 1920. (Maurice Procter, Man in Ambush, 1958.)

loiner. A townsman: Leeds undergraduates' (—1940). Marples, 2. Perhaps cf. either oiner (p. 581) or dial. lointer, to loiter.

Lola Montez. 'A drink of rum, ginger, lemon and hot water,' B., 1942: Australian: ca. 1870-1910. Hot and comforting, like that famous person.

lollipop.—5. See next entry.—Note that 1 (p. 470) occurs earlier in The London Chronicle, Jan. 17-20, 1784, p. 72: ' . . . sweetmeats, called lolly-pops'. (S. H. Ward, who, by the way, was a descendant of Ned Ward's and a great authority on him.)—6. Lots of local leave in place of Python (leave due at end of overseas service): Army: 1944-5.—7. A 'sugar daddy': shopgirls' and typists': ca. 1955-60.—8. To drop (e.g., a tip): rhyming s.: C. 20. Franklyn, Rhyming.—9. A policeman: rhyming s. (on slop): C. 20. Franklyn, ibid.—10. A 'shafted tool with iron ball for testing sleepers' (Railway): railwaymen's: C. 20.—11. One's girl friend: R.A.F.: 1939-45. A pun on 'sweetheart'. (Ramsey Spencer.) lollipop men. Traffic wardens shepherding children at street crossings: since ca. 1955.

Lollos. Female breasts, esp. if impressive and shapely: Australian: since ca. 1955. 'Not common. Probably originally journalistic. Ex the famous Italian film star, Gina Lollobrigida' (B.P.).

lolly, n., 3 (p. 490). Short for lollipop, rhyming s. for 'shop': C. 20.—4. Money: Cockney: C. 20. Michael Harrison, Reported Safe Arrival, 1943, 'Touches the Guv'ment for a nice drop of lolly.'—5. Anything easy: Australian: C. 20. (Sidney J. Baker.)—6. An easy catch: cricketers': C. 20. (Hugh de Selincourt, The Cricket Match, 1924.)—7. A trickster's (easy) victim: Australian: since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.)—8. 'Soft ice beginning to form in harbours' (L. E. F. English, Historic Newfoundland, 1955): Newfoundland, C. 20.—9. A criminal either timid or half-hearted, esp. towards a coup: Aus. c.: since ca. 1920. (B., 1959.)

lolly, do one's. To get very angry: Australian: since ca. 1930. (Dick.)

lolly water; since ca. 1960, usu. written as one word. Soft drinks in general; a soft drink: Australian, esp. among those who prefer something stronger; since late 1940's. The implication is that lollies are more suitable for children than for adults.

The earliest printed record I have is Bernard Hesling, The Dinkumization, 1963, "'Ave a lolly water," said the first stranger. "—Straw?" offered the second.'

London and Yorks. Navvies' bowgangs: navvies': ca. 1860-1910. The Rev. D. W. Barrett, Life and Work among the Navvies, 1880, derives the word ex the Great North Road (London to York).

London Closet-Cleaners. London County Council: Londoners': C. 20. By pun on the initials L.C.C.

London, Smashem and Turnover, the. The London, Chatham & Dover railway: railwaymen's: C. 20; after ca. 1955, only historical. (Railway 2nd.) An adaptation of London Smash 'Em and Do for 'Em Railway on p. 491.

lone, on one's. Alone: Australian coll.: late C. 19-20. (Vance Palmer, The Passage, 1939.)

lone wolf. 'Fighter pilot who leaves formation,' W/Cdr P. McDouall (letter of April 12, 1945): R.A.F.: mid-1940 +. Ex wild-life woodlore; cf. lone wolf in Underworld.

lonesome, all on one's. Alone: coll.: since ca. 1890; by 1940, rather ob. W. L. George, The Making of an Englishman, 1914. Cf. all on one's own in Dict.

long blow, the. 'Paddy was beginning the longest cut, the "long blow", from the flank to the top of the head' (Jon Cleary, The Sundowners, 1952): Australian sheepshearers': late C. 19-20.

long-distance. 'Long service. Thus, a long-distance medal' (Jackson): R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. Esp., also, long-distance type, a long-service airman: Partridge, 1945.

long drag, the. The 'uphill run from Carlisle to Settle' (Railway): railwaymen's: C. 20.

long drink of water. Unhappy-looking man: late C. 19-20.

Long Forties, the. Part of the North Sea, East of Aberdeen: nautical coll.: C. 19-20.

long grass, the. The Provinces: professional actors': C. 20. (Laurie Atkinson, 11 Sept. 1967.) Cf. sticks, 10, below.

long-hair. An intellectual; a highbrow: Australian: adopted, ca. 1944, ex U.S. (Dymphna Cusack, 1951.)

long-handled underwear. Men's 'extra-warm winter woollen underclothes, with long legs and sleeves' (Leechman): Canadian: since ca. 1950. Also Long Johns.

long-horn (p. 492). Only the Maurice Farman plane: it had a long, up-curving front projection carrying the elevator. (R. M. Inge.)

long in the arm. Addicted to theft: ca. 1870-1920. Sessions, Sept. 1893 (Surrey cases). Of one who will reach for things.

long-jawed. (Of rope) so strained and so far untwisted that it coils both ways; (of an eye-splice) badly tucked: Naval: late C. 19-20.

Long Johns. See long-handled underwear above.

long jump, the.—2. A being hanged: c.: from ca. 1921. Also take the . . ., to be hanged.

long-legs.—2. A hare: Australian: late C. 19-20. B., 1942.

long lib. 'Long lying, last end', Randle Home, 1688. See lib (Dict.).

long neck. A camel: Australian: late C. 19-20. Archer Russell, A Tramp Royal in Wild Australia, 1934, 'He is the despised "humpie", the "filthy camel", the "stinking old long neck", that "mangy brute" of the traveller; but he is also . . . the great utility animal of the Inland.'

long-nosed chum. A horse: Army: late C. 19-20; ob. Cf. long-faced chum (Dict.).

long oats. See ash beans.

long paddock, the. The open road: New Zealand and Australian coll.: C. 20. B., 1941 (p. 40) and 1942.

long short'uns or short long'uns? A c.p. addressed to a man wearing trousers that fail to cover the ankles: Australian: since ca. 1930. (B.P.) long slab. A tall, very thin woman: Londoners': C. 20.

long soup. See short soup.

long-stopper. A look-out man: Aus. c.: C. 20. (B., 1959.) Ex cricket.

long streak of misery. A (very) tall, thin person, even if not miserable-looking: late C. 19-20.

long string of misery. A C. 20 variant of streak of misery (p. 838).

long-tail.—7. Treacle: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

Long Thinkers, the. The 7th Australian Infantry Division: 6th Division soldiers': 1941-2. Lawson Glassop, 1944. Cf. Palestine Militia.

long time dead, you'll be a. A c.p. addressed to someone failing to make the most of life: late C. 19-20.

long time no see. I haven't seen you for a long time: British and American c.p.: C. 20. In British usage, it derives ex Far East pidgin; in American, either from the British phrase or from Amerindian pidgin. Perhaps the most widely used c.p. in the world.

Wilfred Granville thinks that it came to Britain via the Navy and says that it is a 'Chinaside locution akin to such phrases as no can do, chop chop, no wanchee, etc. Naval Officers used to greet "old ships" who'd been on China Station with "Hullo, old boy, long time no see" (letter of Nov. 5, 1967). Douglas Leechman, however, supports a U.S.-Canadian origination, thus: 'It is based on an anecdote concerning an eminent citizen of some Pacific Coast city, Vancouver, Seattle, or San Francisco, who was showing the sights of Chinatown to a visiting tycoon. They were stopped by a ravishing Chinese girl, obviously of the profession, who cried in delight, "Why Hally. Wassa maller you? Long time no see!" I first heard it about 1910 and used it no later than last week. Very common out here.' (Letter written from Victoria, British Columbia, on Nov. 18, 1967.) Professor F.E.L. Priestley likewise thinks it of American origin—perhaps from the cinematic conception of Red Indian speech.

As for the printed record, the earliest I have is Harry C. Witever, Love and Learn, 1924, at p. 73. (Colonel A. F. Moe.) long togs (p. 492) goes back to ca. 1810, perhaps to late C. 18: it occurs in, e.g., The Night Watch (II, 51), 1828, and W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (II, 206), 1829. Moe.

long trot, to do the. To go home: low London: from ca. 1860; ob. B. & L.

long 'un. A tall person: coll.: mid-C. 19-20. Also as vocative.

long underwear. Highbrow music: beatniks': since ca. 1959. (Anderson.)

long 'uns. Long trousers: boys' coll.: late C. 19-20.

long-winded. Slow in doing something, not talk: coll.: late C. 19-20.

longer and linger. Finger: rhyming: C. 20.

longers. Fence-rails: Newfoundland: C. 20. (L. E. F. English, 1955.)

Lonsdale (Belt), give (someone) the. To dismiss, get rid of: low: since ca. 1940. (Norman.) An elaboration of give the belt.

loo. A lieutenant: Naval: ca. 1880-1914.

loo, the. The water closet: late C. 19-20. (Angus Wilson, The Wrong Set, 1949.) Ex Fr. l'eau. Or perhaps rather ex gardy-loo (p. 316).

loob. A cigarette: Plumtree School, Southern Rhodesia: since ca. 1920. Ex Dutch?

loobily. See 'Epithets'. It is more prob. the adv. of looby (Dict.).

look as if one has lost a pound and found (a) sixpence or occ. . . . a shilling and found a ha'penny. A coll. virtually a c.p.: C. 19-20.

look at every woman through the hole in one's prick. To regard every woman as a mere potential instrument of pleasure: low coll.: late C. 19-20.

look for Henry. (Of a confidence-trickster) to look for a victim: c.: from ca. 1920.

look for one's swag-straps. See swag-straps.

look here! do me a favour, will you? Run away!; Stop talking: c.p.: since late 1940's.

look like a wet week. See wet week below.

look like death warmed up. To look seriously indisposed or even gravely ill: mostly Australian:

since ca. 1920. (B.P.) Adapted ex feel like . . . above.

look like the wrath of God. See wrath of God.

look marlinspikes. To 'look daggers': nautical, esp. Naval: ca. 1790-1860. The Night Watch (II, 119), 1829, 'Then comes the captain with the articles of war in his hand, looking marlinspikes, and calls for Paddy.' (Moe.)

look—no hands! A c.p. often applied to something cleverly done, but not conspicuously—if, indeed, at all—useful: since ca. 1910. Ex cycling.

look out for. 'To take over a shipmate's watch for a spell. "Look out for me for ten minutes, there's a good chap,"' Granville: Naval coll.: C. 20.

look-see. Sense 1 (p. 494) is used in the R.A.F. (1918 +) for a reconnaissance: Jackson.

look-see pidgin. Hypocrisy; mere pretence: pidgin: from ca. 1880. B. & L.

look up, v., 2 (p. 494). Earlier in Sessions, Jan. 1788 (p. 159).

look up nor-west-and-by-well. To look cheerful: Naval (? gen. nautical): late C. 18—mid 19. W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (I, 210), 1829. "'Never mind that, boy," cried Cheerly, the captain's coxswain, "It can't be so bad with us either, for you see the skipper still looks up nor-west-and-by-well.'" (Moe.) Perhaps 'by-all's-well'.

look upon a hedge. To urinate or defecate (in the open air): euphemistic coll.: C. 20. (E. Arnot Robertson, Four Frightened People, 1931.) An Elizabethan relic?

look what the cat's brought in! See like something the cat has brought in (Dict.). Also see what the wind's blown in!

looker. A pretty girl: coll.: since ca. 1920. Short for good-looker. 'I say, she's a real looker—oh, boy! what a smasher!'

looker-out. A cab-rank attendant: taxi-drivers' coll.: since ca. 1905. Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939.

looking all ways for Sunday. Bewildered; stupefied; stupid: North Country: late C. 19-20.

looking for a big penny for a little ha'penny. A North of England coll., almost a c.p., applied to those who always want the best of a bargain: late C. 19-20.

looking for maidenheads. A lower-class c.p. directed at people looking for something unprocurable or, at the least, very scarce: since ca. 1890.

looking up your kilts, here's. A facetious Australian toast. Since ca. 1919. B., 1942.

looks like a wet week-end. An Australian c.p., used—since ca. 1930—by girls menstruating at week-end, and, since late 1930's, by (mostly teenage) males to a girl carrying a parcel that may well, to judge by its size, contain a box or carton of sanitary pads.

loon-flat is B. & L.'s mistake for loon-slate (or loonslatt).

loony-bin (p. 494): 'very common in Australia' (B.P., 1965).

loop. A fool; a simpleton: Australian low: since ca. 1920. B., 1942.

loop, up the. Mad: military: from ca. 1870. Richards, 'The doctors were undecided as to whether he had lost his mental balance or not. A lot of us believed that he was really up the loop from having played at it so long.' Prob. by a fusion of loopy and up the pole.

loop off. To run away: c.: C. 18. James Dalton, A Narrative, 1728, 'To loop off with the Cole'. A corruption of lope on p. 495.

loop-the-loop. Soup: mostly Australian rhyming s.: since ca. 1910.

loose, let. To 'let fly' or express one's anger freely: Australian coll. (— 1939). Dal Stivens, The Courtship of Uncle Henry, 1946.

loose, on the. Earning money by prostitution: low coll.: from ca. 1860. B. & L.—2. Out of prison: proletarian: mid-C. 19–20; ob. Ibid.—3. On a drinking bout: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.—4. On a quite innocent spree.

loose fish, 1 (p. 495) occurs earlier in an 'Anecdote of Garrick' re-told in The Port Folio of Oct. 11, 1806, at p. 219, and earlier still in the issue of Nov. 19, 1803, at p. 375. (Moe.)

loose off, v.i. and v.t. To fire a machine-gun or rounds therefrom: R.A.F.: since ca. 1938. Jackson. Of American origin.

loose (or loosen) out. To unspan a team (of, e.g., draught cattle): Australian coll.: mid-C. 19–20. In, e.g., 'Tom Collins', Such Is Life, 1903 (both forms). Cf. South African outspan.

loose screw, a. Variant of a screw loose, 1 (Dict.): 1821, Pierce Egan, Life in London.

loot, n.—3. 'Scottish slang for money received on pay day,' H. & P.: Services: since ca. 1925.—4. Wedding presents, esp. those garnered collectively: Australian jocular: since late 1940's. (B.P.)

lop. A slight choppiness of the sea: Naval: late C. 19–20. Granville. Cf. North Country lope, v.i., 'to curdle'.—2. A wave that, in a choppy sea, is 'big enough to break inboard in a rowboat or dory' (Leechman): Newfoundland coll.: late C. 19–20.

lop in, adj. See lob in, 2.

loppy, n. A station 'rouseabout': Australian rural: since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.) Louse-infested; infected: Services: since ca. 1930. H. & P. Ex Yorkshire dial. loppy, 'flea-infested'.

Lord Aggie! A variant of Gawd Aggie! (above): Australian: C. 20. (B.P.)

lord and master. Husband, as in 'My lord and master will soon be home—and hungry': feminine jocular coll.: since ca. 1910. (B.P.)

Lord Doggo. Lord Keynes: the Treasury: 1942–5. His room was opposite Lord Catto's.

Lord Haw-Haw. See Haw-Haw.

Lord Mayor. To stare (?): racecourse rhyming s.: C. 20.

Lord Nelson. 1 cwt 1 qr 1 lb, or three ones: London warehousemen's: since ca. 1870. Of the same origin as Three Ones.

Lord Russell. An occ. variant of Lord John Russell (p. 495). Franklyn 2nd.

Lord's My Shepherd, the. The L.M.S. Railway: C. 20. (Railway, 3rd.)

lorry-hopping. 'Lorry-jumping' is inadequate: lorry-hopping was obtaining a ride in a lorry when one would otherwise have had to walk; gen. by stopping the driver and asking his permission, but occ. by clambering aboard as it is in progress; practised esp. on a pleasure-jant. From 1916 also as v., either lorry-hop (v.i.) or lorry-hop it; e.g. 'I lorry-hopped (it) to Amiens.'

lorst, in the. Engaged in shoplifting: c.: ca. 1850–1900. Burton, Vikram and the Vampire, 1870. (The term is suspect.)

lose a meal. To vomit: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Jocularly euphemistic.

lose one's dash—one's punch. To lose one's energy and ability: since ca. 1880, 1900, resp.: coll. >, by 1930, S.E.

lose one's name. A post-1920 variant of lose one's number (p. 496).

losh! Lord!: C. 19–20. Cf. gosh!

loss(-)leader is the Canadian coll. equivalent, in C. 20, of draw-boy (p. 240). Leechman.

lot, n., 2 (p. 496). Or independently: 'I know the lot you mean, I was there,' Sessions, Feb. 17, 1902.—5. A taxicab: taxi-drivers': since ca. 1915. Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939. Ex the auction-room sense.—6. (With possessive pronoun—his, your, etc.) A man's genitals: feminine: late C. 19–early 20.

lot, v. To allot: lower-class coll.: 1914 +.

lot, do the. See do the lot.

lot of cock, a. See cock, hot, above.

lots. Many: coll.: late C. 18–20. Boxiana, IV, 1824, 'Hundreds were seen scampering . . . ; lots looked like drowning rats.' See also lot, a (p. 496, col. 1).

Lot's Wife (p. 496). Also, in C. 20, a Regular Army term.

Lotta Girls, the. The Finnish Auxiliary Corps: 1939–40. Punning Lotta, a Continental girl's name, and lot of, 'many'.

loud one.—4. A severe wound: Army: 1914 +. Cf. sense 3 (p. 496).

loud pedal. An accelerator: Australian: motorists': since ca. 1940. (B.P.)

louie (pron. loóee). A lieutenant: Forces: adopted ca. 1939 from U.S.

lounge. 'The prisoner's box in a criminal court,' B., 1942: Australian c.: C. 20. Ironic.

lounge(-)lice. 'Lounge lizards': Australian: since ca. 1930. Baker.

lounge Lizzie. A (usually, female) writer of gossip for a newspaper: journalistic, mainly: since ca. 1920. Sydney Horler, The Dark Journey, 1938. Ex lounge lizard.

louse, three skips of a. See three skips of a louse (Dict.).

louse-bag.—2. A term of opprobrium or deep scorn for a person: C. 20. Gerald Kersh, Bill Nelson, 1942.

louse cage. A caboose: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931).

louse-ladder.—2. A run in a woman's stocking: since ca. 1935. Ex sense 1 on p. 497: either a revival or a subterranean survival. (These words which go underground for a generation or a century or even longer provide one of the prettiest puzzles in the whole network of a language.)

louse-ladders. Side-whiskers: since ca. 1920.

Contrast louse-ladder on p. 497.

louser. An objectionable person: Anglo-Irish: since ca. 1945. (Brian Moore, The Luck of Ginger Coffey, 1960.) One who louses things up. Rather, since ca. 1920, teste Nicholas Blake, The Private Wound, 1968, ref. the year 1939.

lousie-look'd. I.e. lousy-looking. See 'Epithets'.

lousy as a bandicoot. Very lousy indeed: Australian coll.: since ca. 1916. (B., 1943.)

Lousy Brown, the. The Rose and Crown (tavern or inn): rhyming s., esp. Londoners': C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

love-bubbles. Female breasts of a pleasing contour: Army (not very common): since ca. 1930.

love 'em and leave 'em, adj. and n. Give not philandering; a philanderer: coll.: late C. 19-20.

love-in. 'A gathering associated with groovy scene' (Peter Fryer in The Observer colour supplement, Dec. 3, 1967): beatniks' and then hippies': since early 1960's. On analogy of the prototypical -in compounds sit-in and teach-in. Cf. think-in below.

love(-)truck. A 'small covered-in lorry,' The New Statesman, Aug. 30, 1941.

love-up, n. Intimate caresses; love-making: Australian low coll.: C. 20. Caddie, A Sydney Barmaid, 1953. "'Come on, what about a little bit of a love-up?" he went on.' Ex:

love up, v. To caress intimately, make love to: Australian: low coll.: C. 20. (K. S. Prichard, 'Two Men'—in Kiss on the Lips, 1932.)

lovely and . . . See beautiful and . . .

lovely bit of boy. A Servicemen's c.p. in approval of a man: 1939 +.

lovely drop of. See nice drop of.

lovely grub! Very nice indeed!: Forces' c.p.: 1939 +. Transferred from food to anything else that looks gratifying.

lovely money. Good money; esp. plenty of money: Londoners: from ca. 1931.

lover boy. 'Man of age and appearance to be disposed to love; sometimes mock-affectionate or contemptuous': Laurie Atkinson, who, Sept. 11, 1967, adds that he first heard it in 1963 and that the expression had twice been used recently in two television plays, one being Z Cars on June 19, 1963: coll. rather than s., and app. dating from ca. 1960.

lover under the lap. A Lesbian: Australian: C. 20. Not very gen.

Lovers' code-initials. Mostly lower and lower-middle class, and widely used by Servicemen: C. 20; perhaps also late C. 19. Usually at the foot, or on the envelopes, of letters. The commonest of all is S.W.A.L.K., sealed with a loving kiss; common also are B.O.L.T.O.P., better on lips than on paper (set over against X, a 'paper kiss'), and I.L.U.V.M., I love you very much. The next three occur in John Winton, We Saw the Sea, 1960, but are, of course, very much older: I.T.A.L.Y., I trust and love you; B.U.R.M.A., Be undressed ready, my angel (dating from W.W. II); N.O.R.W.I.C.H., Nickers off ready when I come home (probably since W.W. I).

With thanks to Laurie Atkinson (Sept. 11, 1967), who cautiously adds that there are doubtless others. The phonetic element is worth noting. Also note the symbol (): an embrace.

lover's leap. 'The first early-morning train from London to Portsmouth' (Granville): Naval wardrooms': C. 20.

lovey-dovey (p. 497) may have been current throughout C. 18 as well, for Sessions, 1735, has "Why; Dovee," says she . . .

lovey-dovey stuff. 'Sentimental fiction published for the servant-girl type' (Albert B. Petch, Aug. 22, 1946): book-world coll.: since ca. 1925.

low, n.—2. See high, n.

low boost. See boost, be in high or low.

Low-Country soldier. See 'Tavern terms', § 2.

low heel. A prostitute: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.—2. Hence (?), a dead-beat: Australian since ca. 1920.

Low Road, the. The 'Glasgow line via Dalry' (Railway, 3rd): C. 20. Ex a famous song.

Lower Tartary. See Upper Tartary. (Also called Botany Bay and Hell: Spy, II, 1826.)

lower than a snake's hips (or belly). An opprobrious c.p., esp. in the Armed Forces: 1939 +. (Atkinson.) Hence, since ca. 1945, the shortened form, lower than a snake and, since ca. 1947, the derivative he'd (or he could) crawl under a snake's belly with a top hat on. (Atkinson, 1959.)

lowerdeckese. The slang used by the lower-deck (non-commissioned officers and men): Naval officer's coll. (since ca. 1900) >, by 1945, S.E. (Granville.) lowest form of animal life, the. A reporter: journalistic: since ca. 1925.—2. Hence, an A.C.2: R.A.F.: since ca. 1935.

lowest form of human life, the.—3. Hence, jocular for apprentices, trainees, office boys et hoc genus omne: since ca. 1945.

lowie. A prostitute: low Australian: since ca. 1930. Cf. low-heel, 1. (Kylie Tennant, The Joyful Condemned, 1953.)

lowze (occ. written lowse). A whistle indicating the end of a shift; knocking-off time: North Country miners': late C. 19-20. Ex loose?

Loyal Standbacks, the. The Indispensables, the, above.

lozenge (p. 498) occurs very much earlier, in sense 'rifle bullet', in John L. Gardner, The Military Sketch-Book (II, 17), 1831, thus, 'The French . . . opened fire on us, which knocked many a poor fellow off the hooks, and we fell back . . .; for we were only treating the enemy with a few steel lozenges.' (Moe.)

lubber. See 'Occupational names'.

lubbers. See dabblers.

lube. Lubrication, as in 'a lube job': motorists': since ca. 1920; by 1950, coll.—2. 'A drink, esp. of beer' (B., 1959): Aus.: since late 1940's. Lubrication of the throat.

lubra.—2. (In game of bridge) a Yarborough: Australian rhyming s.: since ca. 1926. B., 1942.

lubricate.—2. (Of the male) to copulate with: raffish London; C. 18-early 19. It occurs in, e.g., Boswell's London Journey.—3. To ply (someone) with drink: v.i., to drink: since ca. 1880; by 1940, ob.; by 1960, virtually †.

*luck, fuck, and a fiver! A prostitutes' toast in first decade, C. 20. The 'fiver' is £5.

Lucky. Lieut.-General Sir Miles Dempsey: since 1944. He commanded the 2nd Army in Normandy in 1944-5.

lucky, cap one's. To decamp: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Ex lucky, cut one's (Dict.).

lucky, cut one's (p. 498). Rather, since ca. 1820: make . . . occurs in P. Egan, Finish, 1828.

lucky Charlie. See getaway man.

lucky for some. 13 in game of House: C. 20. Michael Harrison, Reported Safe Arrival, 1943.

lucky man, the. The bridegroom: coll.: late C. 19-20. Used by women, not by men.

Lucy and Mary (or vice versa). The Lusitania and the Mauretania: nautical: ca. 1912-40.

luff, 2 (p. 498), goes back to 1806 (John Davis, The Post-Captain); cf. also Alfred Burton, The Adventures of Johnny Newcome, 1818. (Moe.)

luffed in for, be. 'To be put in the way of something either pleasant or unpleasant. "We got luffed in for paint ship,"' Granville: Naval: late C. 19-20. Ex the S.E. senses—as, e.g., in luff the helm.

lufftackle. A lieutenant (? of marines): Naval lowerdeck: late C. 18-mid 19. John Davis, The Post-Captain, 1806; W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (I, 16), 1829. Moe. A lowerdeck pun.

lug, on the. 'On the borrow' or 'ear-biting' (seeking a loan): North Country: C. 20. Cf.:—

lug (someone's) ear. To ask for, to borrow, money from: Australian low: C. 20. B., 1942. Cf. bife, n., 8.

luke.—2. See leuc.

lulu. A very good show-place, where much money is made: Canadian carnival s.: since ca. 1925. Ex U.S. s. lulu, anything very attractive—or profitable. The American sense was adopted, ca. 1944, by Australians. (B.P.)—3. Always the lulu (or Lulu). A water-closet: upper classes': since ca. 1925. (Noel Coward, To Step Aside, 1939.) An elaboration of loo, the, above.

lumber, n.—3. 'Hide-out for stolen property,' F. D. Sharpe, The Flying Squad, 1938: c.: C. 20. Ex senses 1, 2 (p. 499).—4. Trouble: low: since ca. 1935. Peter Crookston, Villain, 1967, 'One night I got into a bit of lumber because I started giggling at the efforts of a fat lady who was a terrible singer.'—5. A resort of confidence tricksters, swindlers, thieves: c.: since ca. 1850; † by 1920. Renton Nicholson, An Autobiography, 1860, defines it as 'a place known to the "magsman"', generally a public-house or beershop kept by a friend of the "school". Ex sense 1 on p. 499.

lumber, v., 2 (p. 449), has survived in Australia: witness Kylie Tennant, The Joyful Condemned, 1953.—3. (As v.i.; but usually in form lumbering.) To court a girl: Teddy boys': since ca. 1954. 'Lumbering, mate. You know—courting. Going steady with a chick.' lumber, be in.—2. To be in trouble, esp. as in 'I'm in dead lumber' (great trouble): orig.—ca. 1930 — c.; by 1950, low s. lumber out. To eject (a person): Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Cf. lumber, v., 2 (p. 499).

lumbered.—3. Short of cash; financially embarrassed: London's East End: since ca. 1946. (Richard Herd, Nov. 12, 1957.)

lumbered, be or get. To get oneself 'landed' with, e.g., an unpleasant task or job: since ca. 1950.

lumberer.—6. A brothel tout; one who lures men down alleys in order that others may rob them: Australian c.: since ca. 1920. See Under-world.

lump, n.—4. Short for lump of lead (Dict.): late C. 19-20.

lump, v., 2 (p. 499) has survived in Cockney (A. Neil Lyons, Hookey, 1902), though ob. by 1940.

lump into. To do (a job) with vigour: Cockneys': late C. 19-20. Esp. as adjuration, lump into it!

lump of, a. A large quantity; much: Australian coll.: late C. 19-20. 'Still a big lump of sea on down at the bar' (Kylie Tennant, Lost Haven, 1947).

lump of lead.—2. (Loaf of) bread: Australian rhyming s.: C. 20.

lumpy, 2 (p. 500). An early instance: Sessions, Nov. 28, 1833.

lunatic hat. A (very) wide-brimmed hat: Australian: since ca. 1930. (B., 1943.)

lunatic soup. Strong drink: New Zealand: C. 20. B., 1941, 'Lack of vigour or colour could not . . . be a charge levelled against such terms for strong drink as lunatic soup, Africa speaks, plonk, steam, red Ned, or sheep wash.' In Australia it specifically = 'cheap, red wine' (B., 1942). Elsewhere (Michael Harrison, Reported Safe Arrival, 1943) we find the variant lunatic's broth.

lunch, n., 3 (p. 500), should be modified thus: 'Pace Beames, not necessarily heavy, but used in the older sense of a "lump" at almost any time of the day, especially if it is, in some way, out of the usual run of events' (Leechman: May 1959).—4. 'What you become after a wipe out' (Pix, Sept. 28, 1963): Australian surfers', esp. teenagers': since ca. 1961.

lung. A drawbar: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931).—2. The female bosom, as in 'Get a load of that doll! She's got plenty of lung' (prominent breasts): Australian low: since ca. 1955. 'Ex proximity of breasts to lungs?' (B.P.)

lung-disturber. Penis: low: C. 20. Ex the same ribald song as kidney-wiper above.

lurcher. A larrikin, a street tough: Australian low: C. 20. B., 1942.

lurid limit, the. The very limit: Australian: since ca. 1925. Baker. Cf. English the ruddy limit.

lurk, n., 1, is far from ob. in Australia in its nuance 'a racket' (Sidney J. Baker, letter in The Observer, Nov. 13, 1938).—2. (p. 500): by 1945, no longer low at all; mostly, since ca. 1920, in up to all the lurks, wide-awake, alert, and a good lurk, a smart plan, a good idea. (B.P.)—3. Direct ex Shelta: B. & L.—5. A hanger-on; an eavesdropper; a sneak: Australian low: C. 20. Baker.

lurked, be. To be chosen for a disagreeable duty one cannot avoid or evade: Services: C. 20.

lurker.—3. A petty crook: Australian low: C. 20. (B., 1953.)

lurkie (or -ky). A very wide-awake person, 'up to' all the 'lurks' or tricks: Australian: since ca. 1920. (B.P.) Cf. lurk, n., 1, on p. 500.

lurkman. A petty criminal: Australian: since ca. 1870; by 1920, †.—2. Hence, one who cheats at cards; a cardsharp: Australian: C. 20. (B., 1953).—3. A racketeer or a 'shady' schemer. Also lurk artist.

lurkmanship. The art or the practice of the lurk, 1 and 2, above. (B., 1959.)

lurn. Scrotum: since ca. 1910. Origin? Perhaps a perversion ex 'to lean'.

lush, n., 4 (p. 500), is still common in Canada and owes something of its currency to the widespread use of the term in C. 20 U.S.

lush, adj.—3. As an extension of sense 1 it also = paralytic or half-witted: c.: C. 20.—4. Dainty: Eton: from ca. 1860; ob. B. & L.—5. (Of a girl) extremely attractive; esp. sexually: Services: since ca. 1915. An early use: 'a lush bint' (W.W. I). Granville, 'Rivals "smashing" in popularity on the lower deck.' Granville derives it ex luscious and he may be right. I propose, however, an extension of lush as in S.E. 'lush grass', where it = 'fresh and juicy': cf. juicy, 1 and 6 (p. 446).—6. (Of creature comforts) rich; appetising; plentiful: Services: 1939 +. Ex 5.

lush merchant. A drunkard: Australian: late C. 19-20. Baker.

lush-roller. A pickpocket operating on drunkards, half-wits, paralytics: c.: C. 20. (The Evening News, Dec. 9, 1936, in an able essayette by Graveney Lodge.) See lush in Dict.

lush (someone) up. To stand someone a treat (of strong liquor); as v.i., lush up, to drink heavily: since ca. 1930.

lushings. Australian variant of lashings (p. 470): C. 20. Baker.

luxon, adj. De luxe: Christ's Hospital: C. 20. Marples. Ex luxury one or de luxe one?

Lyceum Charley. A (young) male entrant in, and for, the 'Mecca dancing' contests at the Lyceum Ballroom (formerly the Lyceum Theatre); or any youth in full evening dress, whether he intends to dance or not: Cockneys': since ca. 1960.

lyesken chirps. Fortune-telling; telling a fortune: Shelta: C. 18-20. B. & L.

lying in. See lie in (Dict.).

lyonch, gone to. A e.p. of ca. 1930-9 for 'gone to lunch' or anywhere else. James Street, Carbon Monoxide, 1937. (Lyons + lunch.) Ex a famous Lyons advertisement.

M

M. See entry C-K-M-O.

M.B.; suffer from M.B. Topsy; to be tipsy: Australian: since ca. 1930. Ex the well-known brand of beer, Melbourne Bitter. (B., 1953.)

M.F.U. Military 'fuck-up' or muddle: mostly Army: 1939-45. Cf. S.A.M.F.U.

M.I.K. Go ahead and eat it!: domestic c.p.: late C. 19-20. I.e. more in the kitchen: contrast F.H.B. (F. W. Thomas, private letter, 1939.)

M.Y.O.B. Mind your own business: C. 20. Also M.Y.O.B.B. (. . . bloody business).

ma.—4. One's wife: lower-middle-class term of address: mid-C. 19-20. Robert Eton, The Bus Leaves for the Village, 1936.

ma-in-law. Mother-in-law: humorous: late C. 19-20.

Ma State, the, on p. 502: † by 1959 (Baker, The Drum).

ma-ta. See mata.

maalish, adj. Indifferent; 'easy'; esp. 'I'm maalish'—I don't mind, either way; I'm agreeable: Army: since ca. 1920. Ex Arabic.

maalish or maaleesh, v. To be completely indifferent to or about; to ignore; to consign to the waste-paper basket: Army: since ca. 1925. Also an adj., as in 'He's dead maaleesh'. Both uses, ex the preceding.

Mabel. A girl friend: Australian soldiers': 1939-45. (B., 1943.)

mabsoot or mabsut. Happy: Services', esp. in World Wars I and II. Arabic.

Mac. McMaster University, Hamilton, Ontario: Canadian coll.: C. 20.—2. A non-cultured Canadian (? ex U.S.) form of address to a man of unknown surname: since ca. 1930.—3. The Rt Hon. Harold Macmillan, Prime Minister in 1957-63; also nicknamed SuperMac, on superman: mostly journalistic, esp. since 1957; the longer name, only since ca. 1960.

mac, 2 (p. 502). Nuance 'mud scraped or swept from macadamised roads': 1851, Mayhew, II.

macaroni, 3 (p. 502). Also, esp. in 1940-4, an Italian aircraft (Jackson).—5. A 'pony' (£25): C. 20. Ex sense 4.—6. Lengths of electric flex: cinematographic: since ca. 1925. Laurence Meynell, The House in the Hills, 1937.—7. Nonsense; folly: Australian: since ca. 1930. (B., 1943.)

Macaroni Boats or Liners, the. The Nord-deutscher Lloyd vessels: nautical: ca. 1890-1914. They carried many emigrants from Italy to U.S. macaroon. A new recruit: Australian Naval: 1939-45. (B., 1943.) Because he 'takes the biscuit' in awkwardness and ignorance?

macaroon, confiscate the. See confiscate the macaroon (Dict.). B. & L.: monopolise the macaroon.

MacDonald, do a. To desert one's party: Labour Leaders': since ca. 1930. Like most political gibes, this one is unfair.

mace, get stuff on the; often as vbl n., getting . . . To obtain goods by false pretences: c.: late C. 19-20. (The Yorkshire Post, latish May 1937.)

MacGimp. A pimp: low rhyming s.: adopted, ca. 1930, ex U.S. Franklyn 2nd, 'It is rarely used in Britain.'

MacGinnis (or McGinnis or Maginnis) on, put the. To render an opponent hors-de-combat: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Ex wrestling?—2. Hence, to put pressure on: since ca. 1910.

machin. A merchant: pidgin: from ca. 1830. B. & L.

Mack. A 10-ton lorry: Army: since ca. 1938. (P-G-R.)

Mackay, the real (p. 503). No; almost certainly the U.S. McCoy is a folk-etymologizing of Mackay; the real Mackay (see From Sanskrit to Brazil) dates from well before 1900, and was orig. a Scotch phrase. 'Tom Collins' Joseph Furphy's Such Is Life, 1903, contains 'There was an indescribable something . . . which made us feel that station aristocracy to be mere bourgeoisie, and ourselves the real Mackay.'

macker. A familiar form (Australian) of macaroni, a pony (horse). B., 1945.

macky. See makki.

Macready pauses! A theatrical c.p. applied to an actor that pauses too long: since ca. 1855. William Macready (1793-1873), the great mid-C. 19 actor, had a habit of pausing inordinately in any emphatic or dramatic speech. (Communicated by Wilfred Granville.) mad; esp. in this is mad, that's excellent: South African: since ca. 1920.

mad, get out (one's). To become angry: Aus.: since ca. 1920. (B., 1959.)

mad as a cut snake. Very mad; exceedingly angry: Australian: from ca. 1890. Here, cut = castrated. Other Australian similes are mad as a beetle—a Chinaman—a dingbat—a goanna—a gum-tree full of galahs—a snake: B., 1942. Also silly as a curlew—a two-bob watch—a wet hen. (B., 1959.)

mad as a maggot, with or without preceding as. Extremely eccentric: hence, egregiously foolish: New Zealand: C. 20. (Slatter.)

mad as a meat-axe. Utterly mad: Aus.: C. 20. (Nino Culotta, Cop This Lot, 1960.)

mad as a wet hen. Intensely annoyed: Canadian: since ca. 1920(?). Leechman. Ex the U.S. mad, angry.

mad dog.—2. 'An account which the debtor refuses to pay,' B., 1942: Australian: C. 20. See tie up a dog.—3. 'An unpaid score at a public-house' (Baker): Australian: C. 20.

mad ear. See ear-mad.

mad Fan. The bird Grey Fantail: Australian: late C. 19-20. (B., 1943.)

mad Greek. See 'Tavern terms', § 2.

mad haddock. A very eccentric, a crazy, or a very foolish person: Australian: C. 20. Baker.

mad house, up the, adv. and adj. 'Working trains into London (S.R.)' (Railway 2nd): railway-men's: since late 1940's.

mad Mick. A pick: Australian: since late C. 19. B., 1942.—2. Penis: Australian rhyming s. (on prick): since ca. 1910. Franklyn, Rhyming.

mad mile, the. That part of the Perth-Fremantle road which runs through Claremont: W. Australian: since ca. 1920. Baker.—2. Hence, in the Australian Navy, the round made by a man either on draft, in or out of a depot, or in being demobilised: World War II.—3. In the British Army of the same period, the term denoted any such stretch of a road as was continually being shelled by the enemy.

mad minute. Bayonet drill, esp. in its finale: Australian soldiers': 1939-45. (B., 1943.)

mad money (p. 503) has, since ca. 1918, meant money that a girl carries as a precaution against any such quarrel with her boy friend as might leave her monetarily stranded, and been widely used also in Australia and Canada.

mad nurse. 'A nurse attending on insane patients' (O.E.D.): coll.: mid-C. 18-20; ob. (The World, 1753).—2. A teacher, usu. female, in a school for mentally deficient children: mostly Primary schoolteachers': since ca. 1920.

madam, n. 1 (p. 503), has long borne also the well-known sense, 'propietress, or manageress, of a brothel': coll.: C. 18 (? late C. 17)—20. James Dalton, A Narrative, 1728, p. 46, 'A Madam pick'd him up, and he being very much in Liquor, went along with his false Guide, who soon conducted him to a Baudy-House.' Sense 4 should be 3.—4. (Ex 1.) As proper madam, it=a girl with a bad temper; a proper little madam, a girl child with one: lower-middle and lower classes': C. 19-20.

madam, v. To tell a tall story; 'pitch the tale': c.: from ca. 1930. In, e.g., F. D. Sharpe, The Flying Squad, 1938. Ex madam, n., 3.

madam, it's (or that's) all. It's all nonsense or bunkum or 'eye-wash': since ca. 1935: originally low, but by 1940 general.

madame, the. The owner or the manageress of a brothel: mid-C. 19-20. So often she is French. . . .

Madame Bishop. A drink (port, sugar, nutmeg): Australian: ca. 1880-1920. Baker. Ex a formerly well-known hotel-keeper. But 'the drink's attribution to a well-known Australian hotel-keeper may be coincidental' (Ramsey Spencer); in short, the Aus. term may be an extension of C. 18-19 S.E. bishop, 'mulled and spiced port' (O.E.D.). Note, however, that Ramsey Spencer, July 20, 1968, adds that Sir Arthur Bryant, in The Age of Elegance (1950), dates it firmly back to 1814, on the basis of contemporary menus.

Madame de Luce. Deceptive talk: rhyming s. (on spruce): late C. 19-20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.) Since ca. 1930, usually madam: cf. madam, 4, on p. 503.

madder. An unusual or eccentric boy: Harrow School: C. 20. Lunn. By 'the Oxford -er' ex madman.

made of money?, do you think I'm; or you must think I'm . . . A c.p. to a financial imfortunate: C. 20.

made up. Promoted (stages: L.A.C.-W.O.): R.A.F. coll.: since 1925. H. & P. Ex the social sense, 'painted and powdered'.

Mademoiselle from Armentiers has, from 1919 and esp. among Cockneys, been the female counterpart—occ. the companion—of Ballocky Bill the Sailor (Dict.).

madhouse! The call for three (one plus double one): darts players': since ca. 1930.

Madhouse, the. The Public Relations Office at Algiers: Army officers': 1943-4. (P-G-R.)

madman's broth. Brandy: Aus.: C. 20. Mary Durack, Keep Him My County, 1955. Cf. Nelson's blood on p. 556.

Mae West. A life-jacket worn by aircrews: R.A.F.: since 1937 or 1938. 'A pilot "goes to the movies" . . . wearing a "Mae West"—a life-jacket which bulges in the right places—in case he lands in the water,' Allan A. Michie & Isabel Waitt, 'Air Slangage' in The Reader's Digest of Feb. 1941; Jackson, 1943, 'The film actress Mae West being especially notable for her buxom bosom thereby assuring for herself a place in the dictionary. Now used officially.'—2. Hence, a lifebelt issued to troops at sea: Army: 1940-5.—3. A breast: rhyming s.: since ca. 1930; by 1959, ob. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

Mafeking is relieved! A c.p. used by shift workers on being relieved; also, vulgarly, by workmen after defecation: Australian: C. 20. (B.P.) mafoo. A horse-boy; groom: pidgin: mid-C. 19-20. B. & L. Ex cultured Chinese mah, a horse.

mag, n.—9 (pron. madge). A magistrate; policemen's: since ca. 1870. Ernest Raymond, We the Accused, 1935.—10. In C. 18 c. and low s., a sodomite. James Dalton, A Narrative, 1726. Perhaps short for Maggie.

mag, v.—3. To talk to or at: Aus.: C. 20. "'You magged the poor boy into a daze. You and your silly stories"' : H. D. Williamson, Sammy Anderson, 1959.

Magger of Bagger, the. The Master of Balliol: Oxford undergraduates' (—1920). Marples, 2.

maggie or Maggie.—5. A Miles Magister elementary training aircraft: R.A.F.: since ca. 1938. (E. P., 'Air Warfare and its Slang' in The New Statesman, Sept. 19, 1942.) I.e. 'Magister'.—6. A magnetic mine: Naval: 1939 +.—7. A machine-gun nest: Army: 1940-5. (P-G-R.) Maggie is the diminutive of Mag: here we have mag, derived thus: machine-gun nest.—8. Mostly in pl. Maggies, matrons at Borstal institutions: since ca. 1930. The Daily Telegraph, June 4, 1967, 'Bacon Bonies, Joes & Maggies'.

Maggie Miller. That method of washing clothes which consists in towing them over the stern while the ship is under way: Naval: late C. 19-20. Granville, 'The origin, like that of most naval slang terms, is lost in obscurity': true; yet perhaps it is Maggie because that is a name common among washerwomen, and as for Miller—well, see Andrew Millar (p. 13). The Navy's washerwoman?

Maggie Moores, often shortened to maggies, is Australian rhyming s. for (women's) drawers: C. 20. B., 1942.

Maggies, the. The French Maquis: Army in France: 1944-5. (P-G-R.)

magging, n. (p. 504). In C. 20 Australia, 'chaffing, gossiping' (Culotta).—2. Confidence-trickery, swindling, mostly on a small scale: c.: since ca. 1840. Renton Nicholson, An Autobiography, 1860, at p. 30.

maggot. Money: low s. and c.: C. 20. See quotation at legit above. Origin?

maggot, gallop one's. See gallop one's maggot.

maggot-brained. See 'Epithets'.

maggoty.—2, 'Angry, irritable, "snooty"' (Baker): Australian: since ca. 1920.

magic circle, the. 'The area within a quarter-mile radius of Piccadilly Circus,' Herbert Hodge, It's Draughty in Front, 1938: London taxi-drivers: since ca. 1920. Plenty of 'jobs'.

magic doctors. Ground-staff engineers: R.A.F.: ca. 1930–42, then ob. The Weekly Telegraph, Jan, 25, 1941.

Maginnis. See MacGinnis.

magnoon. A variant spelling of maghnoon (p. 504).

magpie.—7. A Magpie, a South Australian: C. 20. Baker.—8. An official that leaves State papers in a car or taxi: since ca. 1938.

Magpies, the. Collingwood footballers: Melbourneites': since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.) Ex black-and-white jerseys.

magsman.—3. A talkative person, a chatterer: Australian: since ca. 1925. (D'Arcy Niland, Call Me . . ., 1958.)

Mah Jong slang terms.

A player writes, late in 1961: We have the White Dragon referred to as 'soup' (being a completely blank—or clean—tile). There are three suits commonly referred to as (a) woods, bamboos, sticks; (b) balls, circles; (c) characters, ricks or 'icks. These are numbered 1 to 9, and some have nicknames:

- WOODS: 1. bird or shitehawk or hawk
2. Long Annie
3. tripod, hence tripe
8. garden-gate, hence gate
9. all the wood

- CIRCLES: 1. plate
2. dog's (for dog's balls)
3. 'broker (for pawnbroker's three balls)
4. taxi (four wheels or circles)
5. spare wheel
7. main crane
8. scrubber
9. all the balls.

- RICKS: 1. Eric (from 'a rick')
6. spew (from 'seasick' through 'six 'ick') mahleesh. Hence also an adj., as in 'He's mahleesh'—fatalistic or indifferent.

mahogany.—5. See cedar, 3.

mahogany slosh. Cook-shop, or coffec-stall, tea; Cockneys': ca. 1870–1914. Ex the colour and the taste.

Mahogany Top. Nickname for a red-headed man: ca. 1860–1900. (D. W. Barrett, 1880.) Cf. Copper Knob.

maid, v. To act as maid to: theatrical coll.: C. 20. Somerset Maugham, Theatre, 1937, "I'm young enough to dress 'er. And maid 'er."

Maid tends, in Australia, to be prefixed to any girl named Marion: C. 20. Ex the Maid Marion of the Robin Hood legend. (B.P.) maiden.—3. A maiden speech: Parliamentary coll.: late C. 19–20.—4. Cloves; peppermint: Australian: ca. 1870–1920. B., 1942.—5. Probationary nurse that is paid less and does more work: Norland nurses': since ca. 1920.

Maidenhead maggot. A shirker: 1914–18. ('Sapper' in The Lieutenant, 1915.) Ex 'lounge lizards' disporting themselves at Maidenhead.

maidenheads. Parentheses: Canadian printers': late C. 19–20. Cf. parentheses on p. 606.

maiden's blush. Ginger beer and raspberry cordial: Australian: C. 20. Baker.

maiden's water. Any weak drink, esp. of beer: since ca. 1880. Whence, probably, maid's water.

maid's ring. The hymen: Cockney coll.: C. 19–20.

maid's water. Any weak drink; esp. of tea: Australian: late C. 19–20. Baker.

mail, n. A liquor-carrier for an illicit grog-shop: South African c.: C. 20. The Cape Times, May 23, 1946. He carries important 'messages'.

mail run, the. Regular raids on Benghazi: R.A.F.: 1941–3.

mailhas or mailyas. Fingers: Shelta: C. 18–20. B. & L. Whence mauley (Dict.).

main-brace, splice the (p. 505). The definition should be: to give out a double ration of grog, to celebrate some special event. Also splice of the main-brace, a drink, orig. of rum, hence of any spirits, as in The Dublin University Magazine, 1835, May (p. 549). Moe.

main iron or main stem; main pin. A main track (railway line); an official: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931).

main vein, the. The female pudend: to stab in the m.v., to coit with (a woman): low, esp. among drug addicts: since ca. 1950.

maipan. A steward: (Canton) pidgin: mid-C. 19–20. B. & L. The Chinese word means 'buyer'.

Majesty's School for Heavy Needlework, Her or His. See ironmongery department.

major, the (p. 505). Usually, however, the Regimental Sergeant Major. Vocative: Major.

major domo. See 'Tavern terms', § 5.

Major Loder. Soda: rhyming slang: C. 20. 'From Major Eustace Loder (b. 1867), owner of the famous racehorse Pretty Polly' (Franklyn 2nd).

major operation. Cutting a person dead: since ca. 1935.

Major Stevens. Evens (in betting): rhyming: C. 20.

make, v.—6. Hence, to coit with (a girl): Canadian: since ca. 1918. Ex U.S. Since ca. 1944, common also in Australia. (B.P.) make, on the.—2. (Of either sex) seeking sexual adventures: Canadian: since ca. 1920. Cf. the U.S. make (a girl), to coit.—3. (Of either sex) engaged in winning affection: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)

make a big feller (occ. fellow) of oneself. 'To give the impression that one is magnanimous' (B.P.): Australian: since ca. 1945.

make a blue with a rat. To cause a dice to hit an obstruction: Australian gamblers': since ca. 1920. (B., 1953.)

make a bolt of it. To run away: decamp: coll.: from ca. 1850; slightly ob. B. & L.

make a box of. See box of . . .

make a break (p. 506): since late 1940's, ordinary s. in both New Zealand and Australia. See also break (p. 90).

make a clean job of it. See job of it . . .

make a (dead) bird of. See bird of . . .

make a go of (it). To succeed: since ca. 1920.

make a job of (someone). To thrash or trounce; to defeat severely: Australian: since ca. 1905. (B., 1943.) Cf. job, v., 3 (p. 440); 'a good job' is implied.

make a kick. To raise an objection: proletarian: from ca. 1860. B. & L. Cf. kick, n., 7 (Dict.).

make a long nose. See long nose . . . (Dict.).

make a loose. See 'Verbs'.

make a meet. See meet, make a, below.

make a monkey out of. See monkey . . .

make a noise. See noise, make a.

make a noise like a . . . See noise . . .

make a pass (at someone). See pass at, make a, below.

make a sale. To vomit: New Zealand and Australian low: C. 20. B., 1941 and 1943.

make and mend (p. 506) is recorded in 1899 (The Navy and Army Illustrated, Oct. 14). Moe.—2. Hence, off-duty hours: since ca. 1930.

make (someone) go all unnecessary; do things to (someone). To excite, esp. sexually; to arouse either passion or a mere momentary 'letch': since ca. 1930. 'She made him go all unnecessary, the hussy'; That girl does things to me, I don't know why.' The implications are functional.

make it. To succeed; to become prosperous: coll., adopted from U.S. ca. 1933. Ex make, v., 5 (Dict.).—2. Hence, to cope with anything: Canadian (hence English): adopted, ca. 1942, ex U.S.

make it a welter. See welter, make it a.

make it bad for other people. To set too good an example in one's work: Services: since ca. 1925.

make it fly. To spend money very freely; go on the spree: coll.: late C. 19–20. 'He's making it fly.'

make it, usu. be making it, together. To copulate: mostly teenagers': since late 1940's.

make like a boid. See 'Canadian' . . . "'Make like a bird'" [the true Canadian, as opposed to U.S., form] is but one of many variants. "Make like"—almost anything, in fact. I've heard "make like an oyster" meaning "make no noise", and "make like a rich guy" meaning "pretend you're rich", and many others. From the Yiddish "mach wie . . ." (Leechman, April 1967).

make mouths (p. 506). Read: late C. 16–20: S.E. >, ca. 1880, coll. (Shakespeare, Hamlet, IV, iv.).

make on. To make-believe, to 'pretend': children's: C. 20. 'Let's make on!'

make one, as in 'The Jerries are making us one', the Germans are making fools of us: Army: since ca. 1930. (P-G-R.)

make one's alley good. An Australian variant of make one's marble good (below).

make one's expenses. To gamble in the train: cardsharps' c.: late C. 19–20.

make one's marble good. To improve one's position or status: Australian: since ca. 1925. (Kylie Tennant, 1956.) Ex the game of marbles.

make one's number. To get oneself acquainted in the right quarter: Army, mostly officers': since ca. 1930. E. P., 'In Mess and Field'—The New Statesman, Aug. 1, 1942. Telephonic.

make passes at. See pass at, make a, below.

make perde. To cause trouble: South African c. (and, by 1940, also low s.): late C. 19–20. The Cape Times, June 3, 1946. Lit., perde is Afrikaans for 'horses': cf. Dutch paarde, a horse.

make rabbits. See rabbits.

make strange. (Of a child) to behave shyly: Canadian coll.: C. 20. 'See the nice lady? Don't make strange now!'

make the chimney smoke. To cause the female to experience the orgasm: low: mid-C. 19–20.

make the county. To become an accepted member of County society: since ca. 1945. (Angus Wilson, A Bit off the Map, 1957.)

make up. To promote. See made up.

make up the log. See log, make up the.

make with. To make: adopted, ca. 1959, ex U.S. "Has he tried to blackmail you?" "Well, not exactly. But he sort of makes with sinister hints, you know."': Nicholas Blake, The Sad Variety, 1964. There are other nuances, esp. 'to use', the others more or less deriving therefrom. Of Canadian usage, Dr Leechman has, in April 1967, noted that "'Now, Fritz. Make with the fiddle!" and similar expressions are often heard. "Make with the accelerator!" "Make with the beer!" From the Yiddish "mach mit der . . .".'

make yourself at our house! A jocular coll. variation, in C. 20, of S.E. make yourself at home. It is a c.p., now slightly ob.

makee. 'To make, do, cause, effect': pidgin: C. 19–20. B. & L.

makes one (esp. you) shit through the eye of a needle, to which is often added without splashing the sides. A low, mostly Cockneys' c.p. applied to any substance that causes diarrhoea: late C. 19–20.

makes you think (doesn't it)! A humorous c.p. in the Services since 1939. H. & P.

making a trundle for a goose's eye or a whim-wham for a goose. See weaving leather aprons (Dict.).

making dolls' eyes, or putting spots on dominoes. A c.p. reply to somebody asking what one does for a living: C. 20.

making one's will, be, as in 'He or she is making his or her will'. A c.p. applied to someone writing a letter or making notes or even merely filling in a form: jocular: C. 20. (A. B. Petch, March 1966.) makings.—2. Cigarette-paper(s) and tobacco: coll.: C. 20.

makki (pron. macky). A machine-gun: infantrymen's: 1914 +; ob. by 1940. Ex 'machine'.

makoo. (Predicative only.) Out of stock; gone; none: Army: 1914–18. Corruption of napoo (Dict.).

Malayan madness. 'Bloody-mindedness': Australian servicemen's: 1942–5. (B., 1943.)

Malcolm Scott. Hot: theatrical rhyming s.: C. 20. Franklyn, Rhyming.

male gynae ward. See lily pond.

male-mules; callibisters. (Human) testicles: C. 16–17. In Rabelais, callistris = the penis.

maleesh (p. 506): also much used by R.A.F. regulars since ca. 1918 (Partridge, 1945). See maalish.

mallee root. A prostitute: Australian rhyming: C. 20. B., 1942. With a pun on root, n., 3 (p. 705).

mallet, on the. 'Having goods on trust,' Sinks: low: ca. 1825-80.

malleted. Reprimanded (by an officer): Gibraltar servicemen's (since ca. 1930) >, ca. 1940 gen. servicemen's. H. & P. Forcible.

Malley's cow is an Australian c.p., applied to one who has departed traceless: C. 20. Ex Australian folklore. (B., Australia Speaks, 1953.)

mallum. 'Yes, mallum' = Yes, fair enough (or, that's good); interrogatively, mallum = Got that?; 'Use your mallum' = Use your common sense. 'A blank cheque of a word' (John Bebbington): Forces' (in the East): 1939-45.

Malt. A Maltese: mostly nautical: late C. 19-20. (John Davies, See Naples and Die, 1961.)

Malta dog; often simply dog. Diarrhoea; mild dysentery: Naval: late C. 19-20. Cf. the all-Services' Gippy tummy. John Winton, We Joined the Navy, 1959, 'There's a very awkward and unpleasant disease which people catch in the Mediterranean. It's a form of dysentery and it's known as the Malta Dog. Some people catch it because they're not used to the water . . . You can catch it from shellfish or from meat that's a bit too old . . . or from greens that have not been washed.'

Maltese lace, or Spanish pennants. Frayed edges of well-worn bell-bottomed trousers (Royal Navy); frayed shirt-cuffs, etc. (Royal and Merchant Navies): since ca. 1905. Wilfred Granville, Sea Slang of the 20th Century, 1949.

Malts. See José.

malty cove. A beer-drinker: low London: ca. 1825-80. Sinks, 1848.

mam.—3. A Lesbian: low London: since ca. 1945. John Gloag, Unlawful Justice, 1962, "'You're more than half a Lizzie, aren't you? I've met lady mams before: one of 'em kept a girl I wanted. It was easy for her: she had the lolly.'" mammoth. Huge: coll.: from ca. 1920. The reviewer of the 1st ed. in The Times Literary Supplement, March 20, 1937, 'If "demon" is an adjective, why not "mammoth"? Ex circus- and show-men's hyperbole.—2. Hence, excellent: Naval: since 1938.

man, n.—8. A pimp: white-slavers' c.: late C. 19-20. (A. Londres, The Road to Buenos Ayres, 1928.)—9. See the note at like above. Adopted by the beatniks ex jazzmen's usage, itself taken from the very numerous Negro jazzmen.

man, dead.—2, 3, 4: see dead man (p. 210).

man, go out and see a (p. 507). The out is often—and since ca. 1940 usually—omitted; in full, go (out) and see a man about a dog.

man, old.—5. The penis: late C. 19-20.

man at the duff. See duff, man at the in Dict.

man-hunters. Women, esp. spinsters and widows: jocular coll.: late C. 19-20.

man in the box, the. The announcer of weather forecasts over the radio telephone: deep-sea fishermen's: since ca. 1946. (Granville.)

man-killer.—4. 'A piece of machinery geared to run so fast as to tire the men who feed it': Canadian: since ca. 1925. (Leechman, who in 1930, heard it applied to a concrete-mixer.)

man-mad. Of a girl or a woman: extremely sexy: since the early 1920's: coll. <, by 1955, S.E.

man(-)man. Gradually: little by little: pidgin: from ca. 1860. B. & L. Ex It. mano mano in same sense.

man of straw (p. 507), referred to straw . . . but not, in fact, treated there, is ineligible; it is S.E. Consequently, in the next entry (man of the world*), 'Ibid.' should read 'B. & L.'

man of the world. A professional thief: c.: from ca. 1870; ob. Ibid.

man outside Hoyts, the. 'A mythical person alleged to create rumours' (B., 1959): Aus.: since late 1940's. Cf. furphy (on p. 308) and Tom Collins below.

man-sized job. A difficult task: since ca. 1925: coll. >, by 1945, familiar S.E.

man-trap.—4. (Ex 1: p. 508.) Any attractive man-hunting female: C. 20. Eden Philpotts, The Beacon, 1911.—5. Also Jack(-)trap. 'Catch points to prevent unauthorized entry from siding' (Railway): railwaymen's: since ca. 1920.

man who brings home the bacon, the. The breadwinner: Canadian (and U.S.) and domestic coll.: C. 20. (Leechman.)

man with no hands, like a, adj. and adv. Miserly; in a miserly manner, esp. in throw money around like a . . . : Aus.: since ca. 1945. (B., 1959.)

man with the brass knackers, the. 'The boss': Canadian railroad labourers' (—1910), hence general labourers' (—1914).

manage it. To 'get off' with a fellow; to get married: feminine coll.: C. 20.

manager. The head of one's department at a H.Q.: Army officers': since ca. 1934. Ex managing director (p. 508).

manalive. See man alive! in Dict.

Manc. A native of Manchester; a pupil at Manchester Grammar School: Manchester: late C. 19-20. Ex Mancunian.

Manchester-bred (p. 508). Only one of several pejorative jingles; for instance, Derbyshire born and bred is common.

Manchester City. A variant of Bristol City, q.v. at Bristols above; mostly in pl. and shortened to Manchesters. Franklyn 2nd.

mandrake. A bugger (in the legal sense): among folk of the road: prob. since C. 17. In Nov. 1948, an octogenarian didekei was heard, in S.W. England, to remark of a certain man: 'E's a bloody mandrake. 'E's a bugger, that's what 'e be, a bugger. Small boys and such.' (My distinguished informant wishes to be nameless.) See mandrake in the glossary of Shakespeare's Bawdy, in reference to 2 Henry IV, I, ii, 15, and esp. III, ii, 324-5 (Shakespeare Head edition). Yet, when that book appeared in 1947, several ivory-tower'd scholars accused me of seeing evil where none existed. I wonder what they'd do 'on the road'—yell for a policeman?—2. (Usually in pl.) A water-proof cape worn in the tropics: Australian soldiers': 1942-5. (B., 1943.) mangle.—3. A bicycle: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942.—4. A mangold wurzel: farm labourers': late C. 19-20. Via mangol, slovenly for mangold.—5. A manual drilling machine: railwaymen's: since ca. 1945. (Railway, 3rd.) A pun both on manual and on the effect it has on the nerves.

manhole cover. A sanitary pad: low male Australian: since ca. 1950.

manjaree. Variant of mungaree (p. 543 and Addenda).

mankie or mank(e)y. Rotten; very inferior: Cockneys': C. 20. Prob. ex Fr. manqué.

manner, all. See all manner.

manor, 1 (p. 508): by 1940, also police s. for a police Division.—2. See team, 2.—3. 'The area where one lives and is known' (Robin Cook, 1962)—whether 'Teddy boy' or not: since late 1940's.

man's a. A man-sized, esp. a large, membrum virile: low coll.: C. 19–20.

manual exercises. (Mostly male) masturbation: low: C. 20.

Maori is the original and correct form of Mary, 3.

Maori P.T. 'Taking it as easily as possible, i.e. resting when one should be undertaking physical training' (W. Colgan): New Zealand soldiers': 1939–45. Cf. Egyptian P.T.

map of England (occasionally Ireland). A stain on bed-linen: Forces', esp. R.A.F.: since ca. 1918. The latter occurs in T. E. Lawrence's The Mint, published in 1955 but dealing with 1922. Ex the outline.

marble. 'A word I have heard used in the Cape [Province], mostly from people attending Rhodes University College, Grahamstown, is marble. Examples are: "His marble is high"—he is "well in" (with such-and-such a person). "He is polishing his marble with so-and-so" = he is trying to ingratiate himself,' A. M. Brown of Bulawayo, letter of April 15, 1938.

marble, pass in one's. To die: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Variant of U.S. pass in one's checks.

Marble Arch. The Arco Philaenorum near El Agheila, N. Africa: Army: 1943.—2. See 'Guard-Room in Army Slang'.

marble orchard. A cemetery: Canadian: since ca. 1920.

marbles.—5. Money, cash; salary: mostly Londoners', esp. theatrical: since ca. 1950. 'The big marbles are not earned at the Festival Theatres or the Old Vic.'

marbles, have all one's. To be no fool; lit., 'to be all there': since ca. 1950.

marbles, have lost some of one's. To be not quite sane: Canadian (ex U.S.): since ca. 1930 (Leechman.) Contrast preceding.

marbles for old men. The game of bowls: jocular: since ca. 1930.

marbles to manslaughter, from. 'About the year 1831 or 1832, play [i.e. gambling] first became common. Harding Auckland, . . . an inveterate and spirited player at anything, "from marbles to manslaughter", as the saying is, opened the first shilling hell in the metropolis': (Renton Nicholson, An Autobiography, 1860, at p. 77): a London c.p.: ca. 1830–70.

marched, get. To make a formal complaint to the C.O.: Army coll., esp. among regulars: C. 20. One is marched in by an N.C.O.

marching money. Travelling expenses: Australian: since 1918–19. Baker. Also, since ca. 1945, English, as in Robin Cook's (1962) definition, 'small change to get from place A to B'. Influenced by the W.W. II Army.

mare, old or silly old. See moo below.

Maren or marinette. A Marine Wren: Naval: 1941+. Granville, 'Employed at a Royal Marine Barracks . . . distinguished from their sisters by the Marine badge on their caps in place of the H.M.S. ribbon'.

marg or marge (p. 309). An early example: Ada E. Jones, In Darkest London, 1926.

margariny. Of or like margarine: coll.: C. 20. In, e.g., A. Neil Lyons, Clara, 1912.

Margery Jane. Margarine: lower-classes: ca. 1900–20. Mary Higgs, Glimpses into the Abyss, 1906. Cf. marge (Dict.).

mari. A marijuana cigarette: since late 1920's: c. until ca. 1935, then s.

Maria Monk. Spunk, in all senses: rhyming s. late C. 19–20. Franklyn, Rhyming.

marine, 1 (p. 509) goes back to ca. 1810, perhaps to late C. 18. It occurs in W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (I, 149), 1829. Moe.

Mariners, the. Grimsby Town football club: sporting, esp. Association football: since ca. 1945.

marines, tell that to the (p. 509) is recorded in John Davis, The Post-Captain, 1806. (Moe.)

Marine's breakfast. Rare for '11' in the game of House: mostly Naval: C. 20. Michael Harrison, Reported Safe Arrival, 1943.

marinette. See Maren.

marionette. A minaret: Regular Army: mid-C. 19–20. By 'Hobson-Jobson'.

maritimes. Men of the Royal Artillery Marine Regiment, serving as A.A. gunners in merchant ships: Naval: 1939–45. (P-G-R.)

Marjie. Marihuana: Australian c. (since ca. 1943) >, by 1950, low s. (B., 1953.)

mark, n.—9. A taxicab rank: taxi-drivers': since ca. 1910. Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939.—10. A humourist: mid-C. 19–20; by 1950, slightly ob. Probably ex Mark Lemon (1809–70), who helped to found Punch and was its first editor (1841).

mark, v.—2. See mark it.—3. To geld (lambs): Australian rural: C. 20. B., 1942.

mark, get a. (Of a publican) to be fined for illicit practice: Australian: C. 20. Baker. Short for get a black mark.

mark, work the. See work the mark (Dict.).

mark bad or good.—2. A general term of (dis-)approval: Australian: C. 20. (B., 1943.)

mark (someone's) card. To give him the information he needs; to put him right: barrow-boys': since ca. 1945. Ex the race-course.—2. 'To tell or warn him', with wider connotation and distribution: since late 1940's. (Robin Cook.)

Mark Foy. Boy: Australian rhyming s.: since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.)

mark it. To be careful: Cockney coll.: from ca. 1880. Pugh (2): "'Let's go," said Judith. "It's nearly twelve o'clock. Must be. I'll get the key of the street if I don't mark it." I.e. 'watch one's step'. Julian Franklyn believes this to be a misprint in Pugh, for nark it; on second thoughts, so do I.

mark of the beast. Add:—Ex:—3. See M.B. in Dict.

mark time on. To wait for: Army: 1939–45.

marker.—4. A rear-end signal: Canadian railroadmen's coll. (—1931).

markers steady, be on. To be quite sober and without a tremor, esp. after a drinking-bout: Army: since ca. 1930. Ex the order 'Markers steady!' given to the N.C.O.'s (or others) acting as markers to the platoon or squads before a parade.

market, go to.—2. To become angry, complain bitterly: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

market, on the. (Of a girl) available for marriage: coll.: late C. 19–20. (Maud Diver, The Great Amulet, 1908.)

Marks. A Marks & Spencer store: coll.: since ca. 1925. Cf. Timothy's and Woolly's.

Marks and Sparks. An elaboration of preceding: since late 1940's. (The Sunday Times, April 5, 1964.) marmalade is synonymous with scrambled eggs: R.A.F.: since ca. 1938. H. & P. Ex the gold-coloured braid.

Marquess of Lorn. An erection: rhyming s. (on horn): C. 20; rare. Franklyn, Rhyming.

married.—2. See gay above.

married but not churched. A living-together unmarried: almost a c.p.: late C. 19–20.

married crocks. An Army term dating from ca. 1885. Richards, 'Men and wives married on the strength of the Regiment were called the "married crocks". One had to have five years' service and be twenty-six years of age before one could get married on the strength. A regular number of married men were allowed in each regiment.'

married man's friend, the. The war-time black-out: 1939–45. It enabled him to take out other women without fear of being seen by 'friendly' neighbours.

married man's side. 'The left-hand half of the dart board, presumably because the "doubles" are found there' (Wilfred Granville): darts players': since ca. 1950.

married patch, the. Married quarters in permanent barracks: Army: C. 20. (P-G-R.)

marrieds. Married couples: Australian coll.: since ca. 1925. (D'Arcy Niland, Call Me . . ., 1958.)

marrowbone stage (p. 510) goes back to very early C. 19. It occurs for April 28, 1820, in The British Columbia Historical Quarterly, April 1937, at p. 120. (Leechman.)

marry poor blind Nell?, and did he. 'A rhetorical question asked about anything improbable. Also as a euphemism for like fucking hell! Ex the saga of Poor Blind Nell. (Cf. Ballocky Bill the Sailor, The Bastard from the Bush, etc.) As in "And did he marry . . .?"—"He did!—(softly) Like fuckin(g) hell!" Poor blind Nell itself is used to describe any simple girl who is over-trusting where men are concerned' (B.P.): Australian: since ca. 1910 or a little earlier.

marry up.—2. An expression often used by auctioneers, it means 'to put one lot with another'; often an article of little value that would be difficult to get a bid for by itself is 'married up' with something for which there is likely to be a good demand and the two articles sold as one lot: coll.: C. 20.

Mar's production. The manufacture of armaments: since ca. 1946. A pun on Mars, the Roman god of war, and 'mass production'.

Marsel. Marseilles: Regular Army: C. 20.

marshall of the field. See 'Tavern terms', § 6.

marsingan. A machine-gun: Regular Army: C. 20.

Martin 'Enries. Reach-me-down clothes: Liverpool: late C. 19–20. Apparently ex a manufacturer's name, Martin Henry.

martins. The hands: low (and parlyaree?): ca. 1860–1914. P. H. Emerson, Signor Lippo, 1893. Ex It. mani (cf. Fr. mains)?

martyr to be smarter, a. A c.p. directed at modern women in general or at some particular heroine: since ca. 1945. Ex fashionable masochism.

marv. Marvellous: teenagers': since the late 1950's. Cf. its original marvellous, on p. 511, and the much more popular fab(ulous).

marvelious (mar-veé-ll-us). A jocular intensive of marvellous: since ca. 1925; virtually † by 1960.

Mary. Sense 1 (p. 511) not ob., Sidney Baker, letter of 1946, tells me.—2. The inseparable nickname of men surnamed Hook: C. 20. Why?—3. Air Marshal Sir Arthur Coningham: R.A.F.: 1939+. A corruption of Maori: he came from New Zealand.—4. See Balt.—5. See Lucy and Mom.—6. 'Marys . . . Post war suburban units' (Railway, 3rd): railwaymen's: since late 1940's. Why?

Mary Ann.—6. See clock, n., 4.—7. The hand: rhyming s.: C. 20. Franklyn, Rhyming.

Mary Blane. A train: underworld rhyming s.: ca. 1880–1914.—2. Rain: rhyming s.: ca. 1860–1910.

Mary Ellen. 'If you are in Liverpool, stroll in the evening up the Scotland Road, and talk to the fascinating people you meet there, such as the "Mary Ellens"—the picturesque women who wear shawls over their heads, carry babies in their arms, work in the markets all day, and always have a good "tip" for tomorrow's race' (Robert Lynd, Things One Hears, 1945): Liverpool: since ca. 1910.

Mary Lou, bet on the. See bet on the blue.

maryanning. 'Cleaning, sweeping, polishing' (Radio Times, Jan. 21, 1965): railway porters': since ca. 1930. Ex Mary Ann, a type-name for a housemaid or a charwoman.

Marylebone kick. A kick in the belly: ca. 1820–80. Sinks, 1848.

masby. A motor anti-submarine boat (with an affectionate y added for euphony): Naval: since ca. 1940. (Granville.)

mash, n.—5. Hence, sentimental nonsense: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942.

mash, v.—2. To study very hard: Australian R.M.C., Duntroon: since ca. 1920 (?). B., 1953.

mash-note. A love letter: Canadian: since ca. 1920. Cf. mash, n., 1, and v.: p. 511.

mash the tea. To stir the tea: coll.: C. 20. Stan Barstow, A Kind of Loving, 1960.

mashed. See baked.

mashed (the) potatoes for the Last Supper, he or she. 'Know him? Why, he helped me mash the potatoes for the Last Supper! Known him for years.' A Canadian 'c.p.' dating since ca. 1940. (Leechman.)

masheen. A cat: Shelta: C. 18–20. B. & L. Massey-Harris (p. 512). Hence also, by contacts made in 1915–18, Australian. (B., Australia Speaks, 1953.)

mast. A pin (in golf): trawlermen's: since ca. 1920. The Daily Mail, Aug. 16, 1939. Humorous.

master. A master-at-arms: Naval coll.: C. 20.—2. As the master, conductor of a train: Canadian railroadmen's (—1931). Humorous.

Master, the. John Corlett, editor of The Sporting Times in the 1880's and -90's: sporting and social. It complements the Mate (Dict.).

Master Controller; Master Gunner. See 'Tavern terms', § 5, § 7.

master maniac; master mind. A master mechanic; trainmaster or yardmaster or conductor or train-dispatcher: Canadian railroadmen's: C. 20.

Master of a ship. See 'Tavern terms', § 7.

Master of Art. See 'Tavern terms', § 3, b.

Master of ceremonies. That 'plane which hovers high over the target to direct a bombing raid: Air Force: 1941 +.

Master of Misrule—of the Ceremonies—of the Novelties—of the Ordnance—of the Wardrobe. See 'Tavern terms', § 5, § 5, § 5, § 6, § 5.

master's mate. See 'Tavern terms', § 7.

mat-boy. A professional wrestler: Australian: since ca. 1946. (Vince Kelly, The Greedy Ones, 1958.)

mata; occ. ma-ta. Mother: pidgin: C. 19–20. B. & L.

Matapan stew. A stew made of odds-and-ends: Australian Naval: 1942–5. (B., 1943.)

match and make a dispatch is a South African low s. variation of hatch, match and dispatch column (p. 378): C. 20. The Cape Times, June 3, 1946.

match-box. A troop-carrying glider: R.A.F. and Army: 1941–5. (P-G-R.)—2. A 57 XX locomotive: (Western) railwaymen's: ? ca. 1940–60. Ex its small pannier tank. (Railway.)

mate up. To become mates or companions: Australian coll. (? esp. West Australian): C. 20. (Tom Ronan, Only a Short Walk, 1961.)

Matelots, the. The London River Police: esp. among the other branches of the Metropolitan Police: since ca. 1945. The River Police return the compliment with the Land Crabs, all the other Metropolitan policemen. (B.B.C. T.V. service, 'No Hiding Place': Sept. 24, 1963.)

Maternity Home, the. 'The war-time nickname for the Liverpool Naval Base, whose headquarters were in the Liver Buildings, which had two storks or "livers" on the roof' (P-G-R): Naval: 1939–45. That the liver means a stork is a piece of folk-lore, because strictly liver, a back-formation ex Liverpool, represents—on the city arms—the eagle of St. John the Evangelist. (O.E.D.) 'There are no storks in the armorial bearings of Liverpool, nor (begging the O.E.D.'s pardon!) is there an eagle of St John the Evangelist': Julian Franklyn, who knows as much about heraldry as he does about Cockneys and their speech—which is saying quite a lot.

mat(e)y.—2. (Gen. in pl. and as maties.) A dockyard labourer: nautical: C. 20. 'Taffrail.'—3. A (hospital) matron, esp. in a workhouse: 1857, A. Mayhew, Paved with Gold; ob.

math. The Canadian (and American) school-boys' form of maths (p. 512). Leechman.

matha; mathemat. Mathematics; mathematician: Christ's Hospital: since ca. 1870. J. S. Farmer, Public School Word Book, 1900.

matlow, 1 (p. 512). 'Taffrail' has pl. matloes.—2. Hence, like Fleet Air Arm wallah, a member of the Fleet Air Arm: Services (esp. R.A.F.): since ca. 1918. Partridge, 1945.

matrimonial (p. 512) is, an ethnographer communicates, known among English-speaking South Sea Islanders ('noted for their ingenuity in these matters') as the missionaries' position: late C. 19–20.

matspeak. 'Sixpence from everyone for the seats in the cathedral': church s.: ca. 1870–1900. B. & L.

maturing in the wood. A jocular c.p., applied 'to men whose heads are full of ideas that never get any further than their heads' (A. B. Petch, April 1966): since ca. 1950. A pun on liquor maturing in the cask, and a sly allusion to wooden heads.

Maud. A male prostitute: prostitutes' and homosexuals': since ca. 1940.

maul. A, or to, wrestle for the ball when, in Rugby football, it is 'held' over the goal-line. London schools' coll.: ca. 1875–1914.—2. 'Since ca. 1950, a coll. increasingly used by radio and press commentators to mean a wrestle for the ball in any part of the field. One even hears of "a loose maul", and a scrum has become "a set scrum"' (H. R. Spencer, 1963).

mauld is an occ. spelling of mauled (Dict.).

mauler, 'hand, fist' (p. 513): much earlier in W. T. Moncrieff, The Collegians, 1820, and in Sessions, 1832.

mauravalins is an Australian variant of menovelings, 2 (p. 516), Jean Devaney, 1944.

maut is an occ. C. 17–18 spelling of mort, q.v. Ned Ward has it in 1709. (Matthews.)

max (p. 513) prob. goes back to ca. 1710, for it occurs in James Dalton, A Narrative, 1728, thus: 'Max, Geneva'.

maxi. A full-length skirt; reaction to the 'mini': mostly feminine: since Sept. 1967: by Jan. 1968, coll. See mini below.

May Blooms, the. The Hawthorn footballers: Melbournites': since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.)

may I pee in your cap (or hat)? A North Country working men's c.p., addressed to someone taken short: C. 20; by 1965, ob.

may your prick and (your) purse never fail you! occ. may his . . . him. Half-toast, half-c.p. of C. 18—mid 19. James Dalton, A Narrative, 1728, 'They bid the Coachman drive on, and civilly saluted the Player, wishing his—and Purse might never fail him.'

mazuma (p. 514) became, ca. 1944 (via U.S. servicemen), also Australian, esp. in sporting circles. Lawson Glassop, Lucky Palmer, 1949.

McFluffer. See Major McFluffer (Dict.).

McGinnis. See MacGinnis.

Me. A Messerschmitt fighter 'plane: 1940, Berrey. See He, Me and You and cf. Mess and Messer.

meadow mayonnaise. Airy talk: worthless assurances: Australian: since ca. 1930. B., 1942. With a pun on bull-shit (found in meadows).

meal is dough, one's. See cake is dough, one's (Dict.).

mealy-back. A cicada: Australian: late C. 19–20. Baker.

mean, adj.—3. So good as to be unfair (mean): Canadian coll.: adopted, ca. 1910, ex U.S. 'He swings a mean bat!'—in baseball. (Leechman.)

—4. Sly; crafty: Australian adopted, ca. 1944, ex American coll. senses. 'This job usually takes an hour, but I know a few mean tricks.' (B.P.)

mean as a Christian, as. Very mean: Jewish coll.: C. 19–20. Tit for tat.

mean he (or she) wouldn't give anyone a fright, he (or she) is so. A c.p. applied to a very mean, close-fisted person: C. 20. Variant: (s)he wouldn't spit in your mouth if your throat was on fire: since ca. 1915.

meanie or -y. A person reluctant to pay his share: Services: since ca. 1930. H. & P., 1943.

Diminutive of mean. Ex the more usual sense, a mean person: lower-middle class coll.: C. 20.

meant. (Of a horse) meant to win: turf: from ca. 1840; ob. B. & L. By cryptic abridgement.

measure (someone's) daylights for mourning. To give (him) a black-eye: boxing: ca. 1810-50. George Godfrey, History, 1828. Cf. measured for (Dict.).

meat and drink.—2. A cocktail in which an egg is beaten up: West Indian: from ca. 1870. B. & L.

meat and two veg. A man's sexual organs: low: C. 20. See meat, 2 (p. 514), and cf. veg., (p. 931).

meat-drink-washing-and-lodging. A spirituous liquor, prob. gin: ca. 1720-50. Anon., The Quaker's Opera, 1728 (see quot'n at bunter's tea).

meat-mincer. The mouth: pugilistic: ca. 1840-90. Augustus Mayhew, Paved with Gold, 1857. The prototype of mechanical mincers.

meat-tag. An identity disc: Services', esp. Australian: 1939-45. Cf. cold-meat ticket (p. 169).

meat wag(g)on. An ambulance (flying or other): R.A.F.: since ca. 1925. Jackson. Cf. blood wagon.—2. A 'black Maria': policemen's and warders': since ca. 1930. (Norman.)

meaters. A dissection class; dissection as part of a medical course: medical students': from ca. 1910. Ex meat by 'the Oxford -er'.—2. Hence, esp. at Cambridge, the laboratory in which it is conducted: since ca. 1910. (Ramsey Spencer.)

mech. Mechanic; esp. in the old air mech of the R.F.C. and the current flight mech of the Air Force: coll.: since ca. 1912. Cf. ack emma, q.v.

mechanic. A dishonest card-player; a card-sharp: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1953.)

Med, the. The Mediterranean: C. 20. Richard Llewellyn, None But The Lonely Heart, 1943. Hence Med as adjective.

medals, he (she, you) didn't win any (sol., no). He (etc.) profited nothing: Cockney c.p.: from late 1918.

Meddy, the. 'The Navy's alternative for Med' (P-G-R): since ca. 1910.

medical. An examination by a Medical Board: since ca. 1914: coll. >, by 1940, S.E.

medza or medzer. A halfpenny: parlary: mid-C. 19-20. Cf. madza on p. 503 and medzies on p. 515.

medzas. A variant (Sydney Lester, 1937) of medzies (p. 515).

meet has, since ca. 1919, been also English coll.—though non-aristocratic.

meet, make a. To meet the immediate seller of the drug (the connection): drug addicts': since ca. 1930, if not a decade earlier. (Hearings, 1955.) Cf. meet, 3, on p. 436.

meg. The cinematic variant of the next: since ca. 1912. Cameron McCabe, The Face, 1937.

megger. Megaphone: since ca. 1920. 'The Oxford -er.'

megsman. 'North Country term for card-sharpers,' F. D. Sharpe, The Flying Squad, 1938: c.: late C. 19-20. Phonetic variant of magsman (p. 505).

meh-meh-meh . . . 'The bleat, repeated ad nauseam, of troops queueing for breakfast, dinner, tea and supper, for clothing, supplies, inoculation; flocking here and shepherded there. A World War II contribution by the ordinary man in uniform to philosophy and language' (Atkinson): Forces': 1939-45 and after.

Mei-le-kween-kwok. American: pidgin: mid-C. 19-20. B. & L. Via 'Melican.

Melbourne Pier. Ear: Australian rhyming s.: since ca. 1930. (B., 1945.)

mell.—2. A smell: nursery: mid-C. 19-20. Ex baby-talk.

mellish (p. 516). Also, money in general: mainly pugilistic or, rather, sporting: ca. 1815-60. Boxiana, IV, 1824, 'The victor . . . handing him over a little Mellish; "Welcome sweetener of human ills"', the inner quotation suggesting that the etymology is Latin mel, 'honey.'

melon-head. A C. 20 elaboration of melon, 2 (p. 516). B., 1942.

melt, v.—6. To experience the sexual spasm: (slightly euphemistic) coll.: mid-C. 19-20.

melthog. A shirt: Shelta: C. 18-20. B. & L. Whence mill-tag or mill-tog (Dict.), q.v.

[Men. In the first quarter of C. 18, esp. in London, the following—culled by Matthews from the very representative Ned Ward—are the general s. and coll. names for men, apart from the Occupational and the Regional (qq.v.): Friends were chaps (1715) or chums (1722); a pleasant or a boon companion was a merry grig (1715), merry snob (1715), or jolly tit (1714); contemptuously, a married man was a hug-booby (1703) or smug¹ (1709); a chatterer was either a prattle-box or a tattle-basket (both in 1703); a miser, a love-penny (1703); a tell-tale, a blab (1714); an expert at games was thus early known as a dab (1715); squabs (1722) were fat people; a grumbler was a grizzle (1703) or a grumbletonian (1714); a mean, despicable or surly fellow was a cuff (1703), a scab (1715), a swab (1709), a grave noddy (1703) or a muck-worm (1703).]

menace. A person that is a bore or a general nuisance: coll.: since early 1930's.

mendic. Sick, ill: Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1942. Ex 'mendicant'? Many beggars look sick, many are ill.

mentioned in despatches. To have one's name appear in a newspaper, a parish magazine, or even on a notice-board: jocular: 1940 +.

Merchant, the. The Merchant Navy: nautical coll.: since late 1920's.

Merchant venturer. See 'Tavern terms', § 3, d.

Merchy. Merchiston: Scottish Public Schools': late C. 19-20. Ian Miller, School Tie, 1935.

mercy bucket (or buttercup)! Merci beau-coup!: Australian: C. 20. (B.P.) An instance of 'Hobson-Jobson'.

mercy launch. An air-sea rescue launch: Air Force: 1939-45.

mere. Foolish; inept; ridiculous: mostly Society: since ca. 1939. Perhaps ex 'merely ridiculous'.

Meredith! we're in! A c.p. uttered when one succeeds in entering a place (e.g. a tea-shop) just before closing-time: from ca. 1910. C. F. Gregg, Tragedy at Wembley, 1936. Ex a music-hall turn.

merely fooling about, or with capitals. A Naval term of 1915, thus in W. McFee, North of Suez, 1930. "Merchant Fleet Auxiliary . . ." ". . . They used to call them Merely Fooling About, but that's a libel. They're good men." Cf. Really Not A Sailor (Dict.).

merino, pure (p. 517).—2. Hence, adj., 'of the best quality': Australian coll.: late C. 19-20. B., 1942.

¹ Open to query: see smug (Dict.), n. 1.

merkin. An artificial vagina for lonely men: coll. (? , rather, S.E.): mid-C. 19-20. Ex the two S.E. senses, 'female pudend' and 'artificial hair for a woman's pudend'.

merp. A species of marble (as used in the game of marbles): children's: late C. 19-20. The Manchester Evening News, March 27, 1939. Ex dial mirk, 'dusky, dingy, drab'?

Merry Andrew. The Royal Navy: Naval: late C. 19-20. (P-G-R.) Cf. Andrew in both Dict. and Addenda. A pun on the archaic S.E. merry-andrew.

merry-go-round. A pound (£1): rhyming s.: late C. 19-20.

merry grig; merry snob. See 'Men'.

merry heart or merryheart. A sweetheart: C. 20. Rhyming on tart.

merry-merry. Intoxicating liquor of dubious origin, esp. in Gibraltar: Naval: C. 20.

Merry Widow, the. Champagne: since ca. 1906. Punning both the champagne 'Veuve Clicquot' and Franz Lehár's light opera The Merry Widow (1905).

merry widows. 'Broad-gauge shearing combs and cutter used by fast machine shearers' (B., 1942): Australian rural: since ca. 1910. They fairly dance over the sheep's body!

meshuga. (Tolerantly humorous in application.) Crazy: Jewish coll.: mid-C. 19-20. Ex Yiddish; cf. Hebrew meshuga, error (whence the Yiddish word and sense). James Joyce, Ulysses, 1922, 'Meshuggah. Off his chump.'—2. 'There's a further nuance. A Jew might say "I never look at the moon through glass. That's my meshuga" —my personal idiosyncrasy. I heard a Jewish comedian say it only a few weeks ago' (Leechman, April 1967).

Mespot.—2. Hence, 'letter from wife or sweetheart announcing unfaithfulness or break with husband or sweetheart serving in Forces overseas, esp. R.A.F. Iraq and Middle East' (Atkinson, 1959): since ca. 1919.—3. Hence, but usually Mespot piss-up, 'ritual of group excretion of unfaithful wife or sweetheart, at which beer was drunk. On this occasion a letter was written to the woman; of which each of the injured man's hut-mates wrote his unhampered part. The woman's offending letter, pinned to the floor, was treated to gestures of contempt. R.A.F. Habbaniya, and current throughout Iraq 1940-5 and no doubt earlier' (ibid.): app. since ca. 1925; by 1960, slightly ob., R.A.F. links with Iraq virtually ceasing in 1959.

Mess; Messer. A Messerschmitt (German fighter aircraft): R.A.F.: since 1939. Jackson, 1943 (Messers); Partridge, 1945. Cf. He, Me and You.

mess, n., 1 (p. 517). A shade earlier in Sessions, Nov. 28, 1833.—3. Applied to a person either objectionable or pitifully ineffectual: since ca. 1921. It occurs, e.g., in J. B. Priestley, They Walk in the City, 1936.

mess, v.—2. (Of a married person) to go (sexually) with someone else: low: from ca. 1915.

mess, lose the number of one's (p. 518), is much older: 1818, Alfred Burton, Johnny Newcome. (Moe.) It also occurs in The Dublin University Magazine, July 1834 (on p. 69). Moe.

mess-traps (p. 518) is far from obsolescent: it occurs in C. S. Forester, The Ship, 1943, and in Granville, 1945. The latter defines it as 'Mess utensils, pots, pans, cutlery, etc.' It has to be back-dated to very early C. 19, esp. as a Naval term. See traps, n., 4, below.

message, 1 and 2. See next two entries.—3. "'The message," he said impatiently, "you know, the news. He was passing on the news. If we had a fancied runner, he would tip off a professional backer"' (Dick Francis, Nerve, 1964): racing: since ca. 1920.

message, do a. To run an errand: North Country coll.: late (? mid) C. 19-20. 'Heard as "I want you to do a message for me"', when somebody wanted a child to get something from a shop, etc.: A. B. Petch, March 1966.

message, get the. See 'Jazz Slang' above.

message by wireless. See wireless.

messenger. A heaving-line: Naval, perhaps coll. rather than s.: late C. 19-20. (P-G-R.)

Messer. See Mess.

messer.—2. A 'ncar' prostitute; an amateur not above taking money or a present: prostitutes' c.: from ca. 1915. Low also, though little used by harlots, is whore's robber, dating from ca. 1916.—3. A man, or a woman, that does not keep to one lover: low: from ca. 1916.

Messerschmitt Alley. Any road subject to attention from German aircraft; esp. the long, straight stretch from Ghardimaou to Souk el Arba in Tunisia: Army in N. Africa: World War II. (P-G-R.)

mesty, mestee, mestez. A half-caste: Anglo-Indian coll.: mid-C. 19-20; ob. B. & L. Ex Spanish mestizo, a half-caste, itself ex L. mixtus, mixed.

met. A weather report: Air Force: 1939 +. Cf. —

Met, the. The Meteorological Office: Services: since ca. 1925. Hence, Met man or Mets, Meteorological Officer: Services: since ca. 1920. E. P., 'In Mess and Field'—The New Statesman, Aug. 1, 1942; H. & P., 1943.—5. Enemy vehicles (not tanks nor guns): Eighth Army: 1941-5. H. & P. Ex M.T., 'mechanical transport'.—6. Always the Mets, the Metropolitan Police: police-officers': C. 20. David Hume, Toast to a Corpse, 1944.—7. Mets, 'trains, usually freight, operating over Metropolitan widened lines section from King's Cross to Southern Region' (Railway): London railwaymen's: since late 1940's.

Met man. See prec.

Metaphysics. See 'Tavern terms', § 3, d.

meth. Methylated spirits: C. 20. Matt Marshall, Tramp Royal on the Toby, 1933. Cf. metho (in the Dict.).

metho.—2. A Metho is a Methodist: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942.—3. A methylated-spirits addict: Australian: since ca. 1935. (B., 1943.). Ex sense 1 on p. 518.

metho artist. Synonymous with metho, 2, above: since ca. 1930. (B., 1959.)

Methody. A Methodist: (dial. and) semi-literate coll.: mid-C. 19-20.

meths. Methylated spirits: mostly New Zealand: C. 20.

methy. Methylated spirit. C. 20. Cf. meth above and metho (p. 518).

met or Mets.—2. See Met, the, 4, 5, 6, above.

mezzo brow. Middle-brow (of taste): cultured coll.: since the late 1930's; by 1947, slightly ob.

mi. See ma, 3 (Dict.).

miaow! miaow! A cry uttered by a third party when two people are engaged in malicious gossip: since ca. 1925. Ex the fact that the gossip is catty.

mibbies. Marbles: Cockney schoolchildren's: late C. 19-20. Recorded by J. W. Horsley, I Remember, 1912. By affectionate 'thinning' of the predominant vowel-sound.

mic-a-mic. Scrub: New Zealand coll.: since ca. 1870. (G. B. Lancaster, The Tracks We Tread, 1907, Glossary.) Perhaps Hobson-Jobson for Maori ukuiki, scrub.

mice is a synonym of the pl. of widgie: Australian: ca. 1951-8. (B., 1953.)

Mick O'Dwyer. A fire: rhyming s.: late C. 19-20. Much less usual than Anna Maria.

mick.—3. Hence, a seaman's hammock: Naval lower-deck: since ca. 1920. H. & P.—4. The head of a penny: Australian two-up players': late C. 19-20. B., 1942. Cf. harp (Dict.).

mickey.—3. The penis: Anglo-Irish: late C. 19-20.—4. A pint flask of whiskey or other 'hard' liquor: Canadian (and U.S.): since ca. 1920. Leechman. Ex 'Irish whiskey'.

Sense 3 occurs, sub finem, in James Joyce's Ulysses, 1922.

mickey at, take the. A variant of take the mike out of: since ca. 1950. Also absolutely, as in 'He's taking the—or, a—mickey'.

Mick(ey) Bliss. A rare variant of Mike Bliss below: C. 20. Franklyn 2nd.

Mickey Mouse. 'The bomb-dropping mechanism on some types of bomber aircraft is so called because it strongly resembles the intricate machinery portrayed by Walt Disney's [Mickey Mouse] cartoons,' H. & P.: R.A.F.: since 1939.—2. A motor mechanic: Naval: since 1939 or 1940. Granville. He does such very odd things, and there may be influence by motor mech.—3. A house: theatrical rhyming s.: since ca. 1930. (Franklyn, Rhyming.) Walt Disney began to produce the Mickey Mouse cartoons in 1928.—4. A small, wooden, inshore minesweeper used during World War II: Naval: since ca. 1940; since late 1940's, historical only. (Wilfred Granville, Nov. 22, 1962.)

Micks, the.—2. The Teaching (or Christian) Brothers: Catholic Australian schoolchildren's: late C. 19-20. 'The Brothers formerly came from Ireland' (B.P.). In general s., the Micks = all Catholics whatsoever.

Mickser. An émigré Irishman: since ca. 1950. (Patrick Campbell's column in The Sunday Times, April 12, 1964.) Ex Mick, an Irishman.

micky (or M-), 5; mike (or M-), 5. A casual ward: tramps' c.: late C. 19-20. By rhyming s. on spike (Dict.).

micky, do a. A. C. 20 North Country equivalent of mike, do a (p. 520).

micky finn. See gee-man.

micky off. To decamp, run away: St Bees: since ca. 1910. (Marples.) At St Bees, do a mike is to break bounds (cf. entry on p. 520).

mid.—3. Middling, esp. as adv.: mostly lower-middle class: C. 20. Herbert Jenkins, passim.

mid-day, a. Bread and cheese: tramps' c.: from ca. 1920. When he leaves a casual ward in the morning, a tramp receives an issue of bread and cheese.

midday. See Sunday.

midder.—2. A midwifery case, i.e. a childbirth attended by a doctor; physicians': late C. 19-20. A. Neil Lyons, Sixpenny Pieces, 1909, 'We get about seven "midders" every day.' This sense constitutes the imm. origin of sense 1 on p. 519.—3. A midwife: since ca. 1925. Ex 'midwife' by the Oxford -er.

midzie. (Also middy.) A 10-fluid-ounce beer glass: Australian: since ca. 1930. Culotta, 1957. (B.P.) Ex middle-weight or -size?

middle, n., 2, is found in Breton, Court and Country, 1613.

middle-age spread. Paunchiness coming in middle age: coll.: late C. 19-20.

Middle East has, since the late 1940's and even among those who are supposed to know better, been an astoundingly frequent and widespread sol. for the Near East. In the old days, we had the Near East—the Middle East—the Far East; now we have stupidity and confusion. Journalists and even commentators are the worst offenders; in their wake, naturally, flounder all the ignorant.

It would be sensible, and very much safer, to restrict the Near East to the Levant, Turkey, Iraq, Iran, Arabia: apply the Middle East to Afghanistan, India, Pakistan, Ceylon, Burma: the rest (Malaya, Thailand, China, Japan, the East Indies) being the Far East.

middle for diddle. The method of deciding who shall start a darts game: darts' players': since ca. 1920. Each side throws a single 'arrow'—and the side landing the dart nearest to the centre has first throw.

middle name, (something or other) is his, my, etc. A c.p. indicating that some quality or tendency forms a marked characteristic, as 'Gossiping is her middle name': C. 20. (I first heard it in 1920, but I'm sure it's much older—perhaps going back to ca. 1870.) 'One year, when I was doing field work in the Yukon, an entomologist appeared in Whitehorse. He was a nice lad and much admired for his intimate knowledge of the "bugs" he studied. As one incredulous old-timer said, "He knows every damn bug by his middle name."' (Dr Douglas Leechman, April 1967.)

middle-page spread. 'Matter printed over the centre of pages, not uncommon since paper shortage' (Albert B. Petch, Sept. 5, 1946): journalistic: 1941 +. Punning on middle-age spread: (above).

middle pie. That stomach: non-aristocratic: ca. 1870-1910. B. & L.

middle piece (p. 519). Rather, ca. 1800-70. The Sporting Magazine, 1817, 'A terrible blow in the middle picce' (O.E.D.). Head (1), trunk (2), legs (3).—2. Sinks, 1848, defines it as the stomach or belly. Perhaps the midriff is implied both in sense 1 and in sense 2.

middle-watcher (p. 519) prob. goes back to ca. 1810; it occurs in, e.g., W.N. Glascock's Naval Sketch Book, 2nd Series, 1834, at I, 48. (Moe.)

middleman. One who, professionally, recovers property from the thief or thieves concerned: c.: ca. 1830-90. B. & L.

middling, adv., 2 (p. 519). The example is defective, for, there, middling is an adj. As an adv., it goes back to late C. 18, as in 'I did it pretty middling' (in a Charles Dibdin song written pre-1805 and quoted in The Port Folio of April, 13, 1805, p. 110, col. 2). Moe.

middling! I don't think so!; I don't believe you!: tailors': from ca. 1860. Ibid.

middy. Earlier in 'A Real Paddy'. Real Life in Ireland, 1822, and still earlier in Alfred Burton, The Adventures of Johnny Newcome, 1818. (Moe.) 'Taffrail' writes: 'We read in newspaper articles and boys' books of adventure of "middies". We sometimes even hear the term used in conversation round tea-tables ashore, but to call a present-day midshipman a "middy" to his face would make him squirm.' Granville, 'Mids = Midshipmen. Never "middies" in the Royal Navy.'—2. See middie above.

midgic derives directly ex Shelta of C. 18–20. B. & L. (Also in Australia: B., 1942.)

Midnight Horror, the. A train running between Townsville and Cairns: Queenslanders': since ca. 1920. (B., 1953.)

midshipman's nuts (p. 519) occurs earlier in The Night Watch (II, 50), 1828. Moe.

midshipman's roll (p. 519) prob. goes back to ca. 1800 or a little earlier; W. N. Glascock Sketch-Book (I, 7), 1825, has it. Moe.

midwaaf or midwaf. A 'Waaf' N.C.O. 'very officious with her girls' (H. & P.): W.A.A.F. and R.A.F.: 1940+. Punning mid-W.A.A.F. and midwife.

midwife's friend, the. Quinine contraceptive pessaries: since ca. 1925. Ex their unreliability. (The Lancet, 1935—on p. 1133.)

midzer. A half, as in midzer caroon, a half-crown: showmen's: since ca. 1860. Variant of madza (p. 503).

midzers. Money; esp., cash, coins: showmen's: late C. 19–20. (John o' London's Weekly, March 4, 1949.) Cf. medzies, p. 515.

miesli is an occ. form of mizzle (Dict.).

miffed, participial adj. Offended; annoyed: mostly Canadian: late C. 19–20. (Leechman.) Cf. miff and miffy, adj., on p. 519.

mike, n.—5. See micky, above.—6. A cup of tea: low Australian: since ca. 1925. (Ruth Park, 1950.) Perhaps ex sense 2 (p. 520).—7. See Mike Bliss.

Mike or Mike.—5. See Mike Bliss.—6. (Mike.) A 'shunting yard engine (ER)': railwaymen's: C. 20. (Railway 2nd.)

Mike (Bliss), n. and v. Piss: rhyming s.: late C. 19–20.

mike-boom; mike slinger. 'To follow the players about, the "mike" [microphone] is moved across the floor on a long arm called a "mike boom", and its operator is a "mike slinger",' The Evening News, Nov. 7, 1939.

mike fright. (Extreme) nervousness in front of television, or news-reel, camera: radio and television operators': since ca. 1934. The Daily Mail, May 24, 1950.

mike out of, take a (or the). See take a mike out of.

mil-mil, v.t. To see: Australian pidgin: from ca. 1860. B. & L. Ex Aborigine.

mile, v. To ride on the Ladies' Mile in Hyde Park: Society: ca. 1870–1905. Ibid.

mileage yard. 'Station siding yard (WR)': railwaymen's coll.: C. 20. (Railway, 3rd.)

miles and miles and (bloody) miles of sweet fuck-all. A c.p. that is a ruefully jocular description of the African desert, esp. among soldiers (1914–18 and again in 1939–45) or of the Canadian prairies (1919 onwards).

miles away, be. To be either day-dreaming or lost in thought; coll.: since ca. 1910.

Miles' (or Miles's) boy.—2. 'A very knowing lad in receipt of much information': tailors': from ca. 1860. Ibid. Ex:

Miles's boy is spotted. A printers' c.p. ('We know all about that!') addressed to anyone who, in a printing office, begins to spin a yarn: from ca. 1830. Ex Miles, a Hampstead coach-boy 'celebrated for his faculty of diverting the passengers with anecdotes and tales'. (B. & L.)

milestones. Heavy seas breaking inboard when one is homeward-bound: Naval: C. 20. (Irving, Royal Navalese, 1946.) With a pun on millstones.

milk, v.—5. Hence (?), to remove spot-lamps, extra clocks, spare plugs, from second-hand cars and, 'on the quiet', sell them as accessories: motor trade: since ca. 1920. Often as vbl n., milking.—6. To stack a pack of cards: Australian card-players': since ca. 1920. (B., 1953.) Also 'to build'. The nn. building and milking are common.—7. To steal the petrol from (a car) by syphoning: ca. 1940–50, while petrol was short.—8. Hence, to syphon petrol (from tank of car) for legitimate purposes: since late 1940's. These two senses esp. common in Australia. (B.P.) milk, come (or get) home with the. See home with... milk, the. The milkman: lower-class coll.: 1895, W. Pett Ridge, Minor Dialogues.

milk bottles. Female breasts: Australian (not very common): since ca. 1930.

milk horse. 'A horse entered at a race to make money on, and always scratched before the affair comes off': turf: ca. 1865–1910. B. & L.

milk in the coconut (p. 520). Ex the U.S. phrase derives the Canadian c.p., that accounts for the milk in the coconut, ah! that explains it: late C. 19–20. (Leechman.)

milk-jug, whence the variant milkie. A simpleton; a dupe: Australian c.: since ca. 1920. (B., 1953.) As 'dupe' it is also British and, of course, it rhymes on s. mug. (Franklyn 2nd.)

milk round. 'A run made fairly regularly by a squadron or a Force, if it returns to its station or base in the early morning.' Partridge, 1945: R.A.F.: 1940+. Cf. milk train.

milk the bushes. To haul a small boat upstream by pulling on the bushes growing along the banks: N.W. Canadian, esp. the Yukon: since ca. 1910. (Leechman.)

milk train. The early-morning reconnaissance flight(s): R.A.F.: 1940+. H. & P. Cf. prec. entry and mail run.

milkie, Australian variant (C. 20) of milky (p. 521). B., 1953.—2. See milk-jug.

milking.—2. The 'robbing' of a closely following bus of passengers: busmen's: C. 20.

milkman, go between the moon and the. See moon and the milkman...

milkman's horse. Bad-tempered; angry: rhyming s. (on cross): late C. 19–20. Franklyn 2nd.

milko has, since ca. 1955, been commoner in Australia than milkie (above). B.P.

Milky. The inevitable nickname of any man surnamed Way or Waye, Wey or Weye: late C. 19–20. Ex 'the Milky Way'.

milky, n.—2. A white marble: Australian children's: late C. 19–20. (B.P.)

mill, n.—8. A locomotive (also mill kettle); a typewriter: Canadian railroadmen's (—1931).

mill, v., 2 (p. 521). Hence, to mill a go, to bring off a theft or a robbery, as in 'We have milled a precious go' (brought off a fine coup): Fal de Ral Tit, an English ballad of ca. 1790. Moe. 'For sense 3, cf. James Dalton, A Narrative, 1728, 'To Mill, To knock down a Person.'

mill, ground and bolted.—I've been through the. I'm too experienced for that!: nautical: mid-C. 19–20; ob. B. & L. Cf. mill, go through the in the Dict.

mill, in the. (Imprisoned) in the guard-room: military: ca. 1880–1915. Ibid.

mill around. (Of tanks) to move about, either looking for targets or merely creating a dust: Army in N. Africa: 1942–3.—2. (Of aircraft) to fly in and out so as to cross paths: R.A.F.: 1943–5. Adopted ex U.S. Ex 'to mill (around)', a cowboy term for corralled cattle going round in an ever-tightening circle' (Leechman).

mill kettle. See mill, n., 8.

mill the bowling. See mill, v., 7 (Dict.).

mill the quod. See mill a quod (Dict.).

mill.—6. A housebreaker: c.: C. 17–mid-19. Ex mill, v., 1 (Dict.).—7. A cicada: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Cf. mealy back.

mill's thumb. See mill, drown the (Dict.).

Millibar Mike. A Meteorological Officer: R.A.F. (officers): ca. 1940–5. Robert Hinde, letter of March 17, 1945. By alliterative personification and by ref. to millimetric readings. Specifically to the millibar, a unit of atmospheric pressure.

milling (around). High-speed flying in and out, and across one another's path; or 'flying in a defensive circle, with the nose of one aircraft a few yards from the tail of another' (Jackson): R.A.F.: 1940 +. Adopted from American airmen.

milltag, milltog, milltug. See mill-tag (Dict.).

millwash. See mill-wash (Dict.).

miming mugger. A buffoon mimic: theatrical: mid-C. 19–20; ob. B. & L. I.e. miming (corrupted) + mugger, 3 (Dict.).

Min. of Ag., the. The Ministry of Agriculture: since ca. 1930. Monica Dickens, The Happy Prisoner, 1946. By 1960, †. It was superseded by Ag and Fish.

minces. Short for mince pies, eyes: late C. 19–20. A C. 20 variant is mincers. Franklyn 2nd.

mincing machine, the. 'The marshalling area mechanism . . . must break up units and provide mixed loads for the various forms of sea transport,' Gordon Holman, Stand By to Beach, 1944: Naval.

mind-blowing, adj. 'Ecstasy-producing' (Peter Fryer in The Observer colour supplement, Dec. 3, 1967): 'jazz and drug addicts', and hippies': since ca. 1966.

mind how you go! A c.p., common only since ca. 1942 and addressed to someone either caught in traffic or slipping on, e.g., a banana skin; hence, since ca. 1945, also metaphorically.

mind me!, don't. See way?, are you in my.

mind one's own pigeon. To mind one's own business: New Zealand: C. 20. B., 1941.

mind your back! Get out of the way!: Cockneys' s. (—1900) >, by 1920, coll. Cf. mind your eye! and mind the helm!—both in the Dict.

mind your nose, ducky! See nosey.

mind your own fish! Mind your own business!: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

mind your own interferences! A jocular 'mind your own business!': c.p.: since ca. 1910; by 1960, slightly ob.

mind your three S's! See three S's . . . in the Dict.

minder.—3. Hence, a 'con' man's assistant, who keeps the victim happy and unconscious: c.: C. 20. Cf. sense 2 (p. 522).—4. 'Occasionally he acted as "minder" to one of the top-class "stable" girls (that is, he was paid to keep an eye on the harlots to make sure that they were not molested by clients or rivals)': the world of prostitution: C. 20. (John Gosling & Douglas Warner, The Shame of a City, 1960).—5. A bouncer in a club or dance-hall or . . . low: since late 1940's. James Barlow, The Burden of Proof, 1968.

mine, down the. 'Buried' by a heavy wave that collapses suddenly and violently: Australian surfers': since middle 1950's. (Culotta.) Perhaps ex the famous song, 'Don't Go Down the Mine, Daddy.'

miners' friends (or capitals). 'Royal Scots locomotives' (Railway, 3rd): railwaymen's: since ca. 1925 (?).

mine's up! See 'Prisoner-of-War Slang', 14.

Ming. Sir Robert Menzies: Australian: since ca. 1939. (B.P.) Ex the Scottish pron. of Menzies.

minge, 2 (p. 522). Also Services, esp. Army. Probably ex dialect.

minge, v.; minger; mingy. To prowl about in order to discover misdemeanours; one who does this; addicted thereto: St Bees: C. 20. Marples. Cf. dial. minch, to move stealthily.

mingy (p. 522). Prob. current throughout C. 20; cf. the Cockney sense, 'greedy', current ca. 1890–1915 and recorded by J. W. Horsley in I Remember, 1912.

mini. A mini(-) skirt: early, although not common until late, 1967, with multitudinous references, spoken and written, throughout 1967: coll.; by 1968, S.E. Hence, since (ca. Sept.) 1967, an adj., as in 'She was wearing the miniest of minis': s. The term mini(-)skirt stands for minimum (rather than minimal) skirt, ensuring the minimum of decency: you can't see her panties until the girl sits down or offers a rear view as she bends down. One of the most revolutionary fashions ever to enhance the gaiety of nations during a period when gaiety is rarer than gold. Usually, however, mini is short for the adjectival use of miniature: see F. Stuart's excellent article ('Mini-') in Word Study, Dec. 1967.

minions of the moon. 'Our night fighters and bombers,' H. & P.: journalistic, it was jocularly taken up by the R.A.F. in 1941–3. Ex the S.E. sense, 'moonlight-utilisers'.

Ministry of Fish and Chips, the. The Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries: jocular political: since the 1930's.

Minnie. The Ministry of Information: since mid-Sept. 1939; ob. by 1946.—2. A minicar: motorists': since ca. 1960. Courtenay Edwards in The Sunday Telegraph, Sept. 24, 1961.

minnow. Usually in pl. A torpedo: Naval: since ca. 1937. Cf. mouldy (Dict.).

Minor Drugs: British slang names in 1963. Mandrake's 'Oxford: The Real Dope' in The Sunday Telegraph, Oct. 20, 1963, speaking of undergraduate 'users', says:

'The demand for the minor drugs: Pot (marijuana), Purple Hearts and Blueies (Drinamyl), Black Bombers, Prels (Preludin), Bennies and Dexies (Benzedrine and Dexedrine) is almost unlimited. On the other hand, there is very little demand for Snow or the White Stuff (heroin or cocaine).'

mins. At several Public Schools, from ca. 1870 (?), as in Arnold Lunn, Loose Ends, 1919: 'Smith mins swears he said "damn",' I.e. minor.

mintie. See without a mintie.

miracles? do you think (or does he think) I can shit; or I can't shit miracles! A c.p. addressed, not usually to the person imposing the task but to a third party: c.p.: from ca. 1920. (Mostly Londoners'.)

[Miscellanea: In the early C. 18, Ned Ward has—apart from the nn. listed here under 'Animals', 'Body', 'Burglars' tools', 'Dupes', 'Ejaculations', 'Epithets', 'Food', 'Fops', 'Harlots', 'Men', 'Occupational names', 'Personifications', 'Regional names', 'Rogues', 'Shortenings', 'Verbs', 'Weapons' and 'Women'—the following miscellaneous ones, all noted by Matthews: A bedroom, snoring kennel (1703); a privy, bog-house (1703) and jakes (1722). Talk was padding; chatter, tittle-tattles (likewise in 1703) or prittle-prattle (1703); impudence, bounce (1703); a quarrel, rattle (1703); wind music, tooting (1703), and violin music, diddle-diddle (1703). Energy was elbow-grease (1709); kissing, slip-slop (1703); a jest, flirt (1709); parchment dabs (1709) were writs, leading to Rat Castle (1700), a prison; razorridge (1703), shaving; fag-end (1703), part near the end; swag (1703), swag (n.); juggle (1714, prob. always S.E.), a duping trick; tag rag and bobtail (1703; prob. always S.E.), rabble; muckender (1703), a swab; a hat was either nab (1703) or moundeer (1703), whereas pig-tails were rat's tails (1714); an object of name forgotten was a thingum (1703) or a what-ye-call-'em (1709).] miserable. Close-fisted, stingy: Australian coll.: since ca. 1860. 'Tom Collins', Such is Life, 1903.

miserable as a shag on a rock. Very low-spirited: Aus.: since ca. 1920. (B., 1959.) Cf. miserable as a bandicoot in the Dict.

miserere seat. A seat so constructed that if the occupant fall asleep he falls off: ecclesiastical coll.: C. 19-20; ob. Cf. the slightly different Fr. miséricorde.

misery, be a. To be peevish; be a peevish person: lower classes', esp. Cockneys', coll.: from ca. 1880. Also get the miseries, to be peevish: id.: C. 20. "'I've got a misery" in Negro parlance means "I've got a pain" or an illness' (Leechman, April 1967).

mish.—3. A missionary: late C. 19-20. In, e.g., C. S. Archer, China Servant, 1946. Cf. sense 2 on p. 543.

mislain, miesli, misli. To rain: Shelta: C. 18-20.—2. To go: see mizzle (Dict). B. & L. misprint. A kiss that goes astray: book-world: C. 20.

miss (p. 523). Earlier in W. Somerset Maugham, Liza of Lambeth, 1897.—2. 'An omission to lay on a sheet [of paper] in feeding a printing machine': printers' coll.: C. 19-20. B. & L.—3. 'She being taken to be the Earle of Oxford's Misse, as at this time they began to call lewd women', John Evelyn's Diary, Jan. 9, 1662: Court and Society: ca. 1660-80.

Miss Fitch. A bitchy girl or woman: rhyming on bitch: C. 20. (Franklyn 2nd.)

Miss Hotbot. See hot-hot.

Miss Nancy, talk. To talk very politely: since ca. 1910. Wm. Riley, Netherleigh, 1916. With the implication that such politeness is effeminate.

miss not having is a Canadian (and U.S.) sol. for miss having, as in 'I miss not having a hammock' = I once had a hammock and now, in its absence, I miss it: since ca. 1920 (?). Leechman.

miss one's figure. To miss a chance; to make a mistake: non-aristocratic: from ca. 1860; ob. B. & L.

miss the globe. To miss the ball altogether: golfers': from ca. 1898. (W. B. Maxwell, We Forget because We Must, 1928.) With a pun on globe, a sphere, and on globe, the world.

missing. Courting, courtship: ca. 1830-70. Sinks, 1848.

missionary's or missionaries' downfall, the. A light rum; or—esp. Demerara—rum diluted: since ca. 1930. Trader Vic's Book of Food and Drink, 1946, p. 36, 'Don the Beachcomber of Hollywood and Chicago, the originator of such outstanding drinks as the Zombie and Missionary's Downfall': therefore perhaps of Am. origin. Cf. bane, the, above, and, on p. 535, mother's ruin.

'missioner (or without apostrophe). An agent bullying or seducing men into the Navy or, come to that, the Army: Naval coll. rather than s.: ca. 1770-1830. Short for commissioner? W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (I, 82), 1829. (Moe.) missy baba. A young lady: Anglo-Indian: mid-C. 19-20. B. & L., 'Borrowed from the natives, baba being meant for baby.'

Mister Bull. A typical Englishman: ? mostly Naval: ca. 1810-60. (W. N. Glascock's Naval Sketch Book, 2nd Series, 1834, at II, 244, and elsewhere.) Ex S.E. John Bull.

Mister Charlie. See Pinkie, 2, below.

Mister Middleton's Light Horse. 'A flotilla of flower-named corvettes. (After the late Mr Middleton, the B.B.C. gardening expert)': Naval, esp. officers': 1939+. Granville.

Mister (or Mr) Muggins. Oneself regarded, esp. by oneself, as a dupe, a simpleton: Australian: late C. 19-20. (B.P.) Cf. muggins on p. 542.

mistura A.D.T. or, in full, mistura any damn' thing. A variant of next entry: medical and pharmaceutical: C. 20. (B.P.)

mistura God help 'em. A mixture of dregs and drugs administered as a last resort: medical: from ca. 1860; ob. B. & L.

mit, v. Might: Cockneys': since when? Clarence Rook, The Hooligan Nights: 1899.

mit, preposition. See with or without? below.

mit a. With a grain of salt—i.e. sceptically—as in 'I'd take that story mit a': Australian: since ca. 1950. This is the Ger. mit, with; 'possibly due to New Australian influence' (Edwin Morrisby, letter of Aug. 30, 1958).

mitney (p. 524). Also written mitni. More prob. ex either Romany or Shelta.

mitt.—3. Hand: adopted, ca. 1918, ex U.S.

mivey or mivy. A landlady: mostly Cockneys': from ca. 1870. B. & L. Prob. a sense variant of mivvy, 1 (Dict).

mivvy.—2. An adept; a very smart person: c.: from ca. 1870. Pugh (2): “‘He’s a mivvy at makin’ things easy.” “‘For himself. No doubt o’ that.”” Perhaps ex master + skilful, but probably from S.E. marvel.—By 1900, low Cockney s., and by 1920, gen. Cockney s.

mix it.—2. Mix it for, to inform against (someone) to the police: low: C. 20. Mark Benney, The Big Wheel, 1940. Cf. mix up in Dict.

mix it; mix it up for; mix it with. See the next term, with which they are contemporaneous.

mix the red and the black, whence the synonymous play roulette. To assault an officer when brought before him on a charge: Army: since ca. 1925. (R. Wild, The Rest of the Day’s Your Own, 1943.)

mixer.—2. One who makes mischief, esp. one given to mischief-making: Cockneys’: from ca. 1912. E.g. ‘He’s a reg’lar mixer! He mixed it up for me with Joe, and he tried to mix it with Tom.’

mixing the breed! A c.p., employed either by someone using another’s brush and comb or by a person (whether owner or not) watching this: non-cultured: late C. 19–20.

mixing the breeds, mostly as n. ‘It was a joke among the Tommies that German lice had black and white stripes, and ours were a dirty grey’; ‘We sometimes got [additional] lice on us when we used German dugouts we had captured’ (A. B. Petch): Army; 1915–18, then historical.

mizzle.—2. To rain: Shelta: C. 19–20. B. & L. Blend of moan and drizzle.—3. See die, to.—4. To complain: Australian: C. 20. Baker.

mizzle one’s dick. To miss one’s passage: nautical: since ca. 1880. John Masefield, Sard Harker, 1924. Cf. mizzle, p. 525.

mizzler, needy. See needy mizzler and cf. rum mizzler, both in Dict.

mo.—4. Coll. form of Moses: C. 18–20.—5. Nickname for very popular Australian comedian, Harry Van der Sluica: since ca. 1930. B., 1942.—6. A moustache: Australian: late C. 19–20. (Dal Stevens, The Gambling Ghost, 1953.)

moa, dead as a. Quite dead: New Zealand and Australian coll.: C. 20. Baker. The New Zealand moa—a very large bird—is as dead as the dodo.

moab.—3. A receptacle (e.g. a sink, a tub) for dirty plates: Haileybury: since ca. 1870. ‘From Psalm LX. 8, “Moab is my wash-pot”,’ Marples. Cf. sense 1 (p. 525).

moan on, have a. To nurse a grudge, a ‘grouse’ esp. Services: since ca. 1915. See moan on p. 525.

moaner. A pessimist: Army coll.: C. 20, esp. 1914–18.

moaning Minnie. An occ. variant of Mona (see Clara).—2. A multi-barrelled German mortar: Army: 1941 +, Echoic.

mob, n., 5. As ‘a party of men’, it was whalers’ s. of ca. 1820–1900. E. J. Wakefield, Adventure, 1845 (recorded by B., 1941).—7. survives, however, in sense ‘a young woman’ (B. & L.); ob.

mob, v.—3. See ox up.

mob up with. To join; to form two or more separate entities into a unit or whole: Regular Army: since ca. 1917. Ex mob, n., 6 (p. 525).

mobile.—3. A trawmobile, i.e. a dinner wagon on castors or tyred wheels: Australian coll.: since late 1940’s. (B.P.) mobile, get. See get cracking.

mobs, adv. See:

mobs of. A large number, even a large quantity, of; e.g. mobs of stones—birds—water: Australian coll.: late C. 19–20. Ex mob, n., 5. This Australianism is explained by Arthur Russell, A Tramp-Royal in Wild Australia: 1928–1929 (pub. in 1936), thus: ‘So accustomed has the Inlander become to dealing in mobs—mobs of cattle, mobs of horses, mobs of sheep, mobs of camels, donkeys, mules, goats—that he has come to reckon in no other terms of measurement. . . I asked Tuck a question . . . did he think that the Finke River country . . . would give us better “going” than we had met with on the plains. “Oh, yes,” he drawled, “mobs better . . . There’ll be mobs of water on the track, we’ll get mobs of beef at the runs, the stages’ll be mobs shorter, an’ there’ll be mobs better camping grounds. And of course we’ll be able to take it mobs easier.”’ mocassin (or moccasin) telegraph, the. A frequent Canadian ‘shape’ of the bush telegraph and the grapevine (both above): since ca. 1910 at latest. (Leechman.)

mocassins. ‘The shearer’s homemade footwear, usually made in sacking or felt’ (Straight Furrow, Feb. 21, 1963): N.Z.: since 1920.

mock. A halfpenny: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. What a mockery!

Mock Auction slang. A few examples occur, scattered about the Dictionary and the Supplement; e.g. front up, gezumph (or ga-), hinting gear, nailers. But here is a passage reported, in the section headed ‘Parliament’ (dealing with the Mock Auctions Bill) in The Daily Telegraph of Feb. 25, 1961:

‘Sir Tufton [Beamish] told members that he had been to mock auctions in Britain and America. He gave an example of the jargon used:

‘The top man operates his joint by nailing the steamers among the plunder-snatchers in the pitch got by his frontman, running out the flash gear or hinton lots as N.S. lots to ricks and gees or to hinton, and gazoomphing the sarkers with swag and plunder, while the raving Noahs are silenced with bung-ons and the bogies are smitized to hinton to noise the edge. . . .

‘He gave the translation:

‘The mock auctioneer operates a stall by ensuring attendance until the end of the sale of those who are mugs rather than those who are just out for free gifts among the crowd collected by his men.

‘He pretends to sell, as bait to his victims, genuine goods, which are in fact never sold, to accomplices among the crowd or to non-existent bidders at the back and tricking those of the mugs who have enough money to buy his cheap trash.

‘Anyone who tries to warn the crowd is given a present. Dissatisfied customers who are likely to complain about previous sales are taken behind the rostrum to avoid trouble.’

The ‘translation’ is not a translation but a very free paraphrase. The following little glossary may help, even though, through my ignorance, I cannot render it either complete or ‘watertight’.

bogies: dissatisfied customers. See bogy, n., 8, on p. 75.

bung-ons: gifts. Cf. bung, v., 2, on p. 109. edge: see noise the edge below.

flash gear: showy, yet superior goods. Cf. flash, n., 6, on p. 283.

frontsman: that member of the gang who attracts the crowds.

gazoomphing: swindling. Cf. gazumph and gezumph above.

gees: auctioneer's accomplices—cf. gee, n., 2, on p. 319.

hinton-lots: goods offered as bait; usually genuine. What are also known as hinting gear.

joint: a stall; the room where the auction is held. See joint, n., 6, on p. 443.

nailing: successfully attracting—cf. nailers in this Supplement.

noise the edge: to avoid trouble: app. since ca. 1945.

pitch: the crowd around a stall or in the auction room. See pitch, n., below.

plunder-snatchers. Seekers after free gifts—and the real bargains.

raving Noahs: trouble-makers. (Noahs prophesying floods.)

ricks: accomplices. See rick on p. 696.

sarkers: ? those tending to be sarcastic, yet, for all that, 'mugs'.

smitized: ? reduced to silence. Perhaps on 'smithereens', but prob. Yiddish ex German schmitzen, to lash, to whip.

steamers: simpletons (natural victims) or 'mugs'. See steamer, 2, on p. 827.

swag and plunder: cheap goods.

topman: auctioneer. See top man, 2, below.

mock (or mocks) on, put the. To upset the plans of (someone): Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.) To 'make a mock of'. Perhaps ex Yiddish 'wish the mockers on (someone)'—to wish him very bad luck, itself ex Hebrew (one of the Ten Plagues). Julian Franklyn. Ex mock on . . . below.

mock turtle squadron. 'A fleet of dummy ships used in wartime to fox the enemy' (Granville): Naval officers': 1915 +.

mock up. To improvise; as n. (mock-up), a large- or a full-scale, although not usually a working, model: Services' coll. (1939), become, by 1942, j.

mock. 'Clothes in general' (B., 1953): low Australian: since ca. 1920.—2. Hence, a woman's dress: New Zealand: since ca. 1935. Slatter, 'Have you seen that trot in the blue mock?' Cf. mockered up.

mock, esp. in put the mock on, to lay a curse upon, to bring bad luck to: (low) Australian: since ca. 1925. (Lawson Glassop, Lucky Palmer, 1949.) The source of put the mock (or mocks) on, q.v. above at mock on.

mockered up. Dressed in one's best: low: late C. 19–20. Ironically ex mockered on molled up (both in Dict.).

mocking bird. A word: theatrical rhyming s.: C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

mocks on. . . See mock on. . .

mod. A mechanical improvement or change in an aircraft: Air Force coll.: since ca. 1920. Jackson. Short for 'modification'.—2. A teenager unable to afford a motorcycle, and doing his damndest with a scooter: 1963 (+), partly in opposition to rocker, n., 2 (below). Short for modern. But Mr David Holloway, in his review (Feb. 23, 1967) of the 6th edition of this dictionary, writes: "'Mods' ride scooters because the machines protect their clothes much better than the larger ones affected by "rockers" who wear leathers and jeans.'

mod con. (usually in pl., mod cons.) Modern convenience: jocular: since ca. 1945. Derisive of estate agents' jargon.

model, n. A working-men's hotel or lodging-house: Glasgow: from ca. 1920. MacArthur & Long.

model, v. To pose as a model: artists' and models' coll.: C. 20.

modern girl, 'from a proprietary brand of Chinese cigarette, was a common name for the particularly odorous dried fish we sometimes obtained in the rations': among Far East prisoners of war: 1942–45. (The aspersion is directed at the cigarette, not at the girl.)

modesties. Babies' pilchers: Australian euphemistic coll.: since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.)

moer! or your moer! Go to hell: South African c. and very low s.: C. 20. See Underworld for elucidation.

moey.—3. A moustache: Australian: late C. 19–20. (Ruth Park, Poor Man's Orange, 1950.)

moff or moph. A hermaphrodite: working classes': C. 20. Ex illiterate 'hermophrodite'.—2. Hence, a dual-purpose farm wagon: rural: since ca. 1946. (John Moore in the Bournemouth Daily Echo of April 21, 1956.)

mog.—3. A lie: 1848, Sinks. Hence no mogue (mogue, p. 526) = no mog. The origin of mog and mogue is prob. the Fr.(se) moquer (de), for otherwise -ue is unexplainable.

mog; moggy. For additional information, see moke.

mogador. (Of persons) confused; depressed; all at sea: Cockneys': since ca. 1910. (Julian Franklyn, communication of 1939.) Cognate with mogue (p. 526)? Also mogadored, prob. the original form and therefore perhaps a perversion of moidered. The police have, since ca. 1940, used magadored of a suspect that, at an interrogation, is 'broken' to the state of giving facts. (Communicated by Laurie Atkinson, July 1, 1948.) Julian Franklyn, however, thinks mogadored, (fig.) floored, is rhyming s.

mogger. A cat: low: C. 20. Cf. moggy (Dict.). moging is a variant of moguing, q.v. at mogue (Dict.).

mogue. See mog, 3, above.

mojo! A yell of approval or of excitement: rhythm-and-blues fans', esp. teenagers': ca. 1964–66. Ex an American Negro s. term of vague meaning (e.g. a spell, power).—But in American drug addicts' s. it = 'any narcotic': prob. a different word.

moke. The Gypsy mozio may well be an adaptation of the dial. Mock(e), a nickname for either a horse or an ass, precisely as Moggy, in several dial., is a nickname for cow, calf, or ass, and Mog is a cat. Since Mog (cf. Meg) and Moggy (cf. Meggy) and even Moke are diminutives of Margaret, perhaps via Molly (see my Name This Child), cf. with Molly the c. miler (q.v. in Dict.). We have, then, the interesting fact that both of the modern names for an ass represent diminutives: donkey of Duncan; moke of Margaret.

mokkered up. A variant of mockered up. (Cad Jie, A Sydney Barmaid, 1953.)

moko, 1, may be a humorous perversion of macaw (B. & L.).

moldy is the Canadian spelling of mouldy, n., 2 (Dict.).

moleskin squatter. 'A working man who has come to own a small sheep run': New Zealand and Australian rural coll.: C. 20. B., 1941, 1942. Ex the moleskin trousers such farmers tend to wear.

moll, v.; molling, vbl n. To go—going—about with women; act—acting—effeminately: low: from ca. 1860; ob. B. & L. Ex the n.

moll-buzzer. In C. 20, and more properly and gen. spelt moll buzzer, it has come to mean a female pickpocket. (The Evening News, Dec. 9, 1936.) Perhaps orig. influenced by moll-tooler (properly, unphoned), q.v. in Dict.

moll hook. A female pickpocket: c.: ca. 1860–1920. B. & L. Cf. the preceding.

moll-rower, -rowing. See molrower, molrowing (Dict.).

moll-slavey. A maid-servant: c. of ca. 1810–70. B. & L.

Molly! A variant of Mary!, q.v. in Dict.

molly, n.—4. A malingerer: Australian Naval: since ca. 1915. (B., 1943.) Ex S.E. mollycoddle.

molly, v.t. 'to bugger (someone)'; hence, adj. mollying, 'addicted to buggery'. The Ordinary of Newgate's Account, 1744, contains both—e.g. 'You mollying dog'. Ex sense 2 of the n.—see p. 527.

molly-dooker; whence molly-dook. A left-handed person, whence (the adj.) left-handed: Australian: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.) Ex molly, 1 (p. 527) + dook, q.v. at dukes (p. 247).

molly(-)house. A resort of sodomites; esp. a house where men prostituted themselves to men: low: C. 18–mid 19. James Dalton, A Narrative, 1728, at p. 36.

Molly O'Morgan. An organ: late C. 19–20. Rhyming.

molo man. A Moor; negro: pidgin: mid-C. 19–20. Via It. and Sp. moro.

molocher. Variant of molocker (Dict.); B. & L., wrongly (I think), define it as 'a cheap hat'.

Molotov bread-basket. 'A bunch of incendiaries which blow out in a group as they drop to the ground.' H. & P.: 1940 +. Cf.:

Molotov cocktail. An anti-tank missile consisting of a bottle containing inflammable material and fitted with a fuse: 1939–45. H. & P. Like prec., ex the name of the Russian statesman. Adopted from Finnish usage.

Mona. A nickname for a female given to complaining, unless by chance it is her Christian name: Londoners': from ca. 1919. Punning moaner.—2. See Clara and cf. wailing Winnie.

monaker. B. & L. state that the It. word is monarco, king, and give the rare variant monacher. In a letter of April 4, 1959, Mr Jacob Jaffe suggests that the word might be back-s. for ekename. This theory presupposes that a back-form emaneke becomes, by apheresis, maneke (trisyllabic), varied to moneke (trisyllabic), whence moneker, -iker, -aker, etc. The chronologies of ekename and monaker do not preclude the possibility. But I prefer the derivation from monogram.

Monday, n. A very large hammer that can be effectually used by fit men only: railwaymen's: since ca. 1920. (Railway 2nd.) Men free of a week-end hangover.

[Money. In the period 1700–25, the following terms—for most of which, see the Dict.—occur in Ned Ward; Matthews lists them: Money in gen.

was named cole (1700), mumper's brass (1709) and rhino (1700; spelt rino). A sixpence was tester (1709), sice (1715) or Copper-John's (1700; I'm not so sure about this term!); a guinea was a Jacobus or a yellow boy (both in 1700); a half-guinea, a smelt (1703); 'coppers' were megs (1703). Bribes or tips were garnish or sweetning (both in 1703); and the process of bribing was expressed in grease a palm (1703) and drop (a person so much: 1714.)] money.—3. Bubbles in a cup of tea: domestic: since ca. 1870.

money, in the. Receiving good wages or a large salary: coll.: since ca. 1934.

money(-)box. A 'Royal Mail train' (Railway, 3rd): C. 20.

money (or toffee) from a child, (as) easy as taking. See easy as taking . . .

money-maker or -spinner. See money-box, . . . (Dict.).

money to burn, have. To have plenty to spend; to be rich: col.: C. 20.

mong. A mongrel dog: Australian: since ca. 1910. B., 1942.—2. Hence, pejorative for any dog, even of the best pedigree: Australian: since ca. 1940. 'Get that bloody mong out of my yard!' (B.P.)

monish (p. 528). But also, ca. 1840–80, jocular, with a humorous imitation of Jewish pronunciation: Sinks, 1848.

monk.—5. A friar bird: Australian: late C. 19–20. Baker. A pun.

monk, da. A c.p. reference to an organ-grinder's monkey: C. 20. Ex Italian pronunciation.

monkery derives direct ex Shelta of C. 18–20: B. & L. For sense 5 (p. 528): also a district in which either tramps or beggars operate: C. 20.

monkey, n., 6. 'Not ob.', Sidney J. Baker, letter, 1946.—13. A greatcoat: Naval: ca. 1810–60. Glascock, 1838. Cf. senses 3, 9.—14. 'In English vulgar speech the monkey is often made to figure as a witty, pragmatically wise, ribald simulacrum of unrestrained mankind. Of the numerous instances, "You must draw the line somewhere, as the monkey said, peeing across the carpet" is typical. The phrase ". . . as the monkey said," is invariable in this context' (Atkinson): esp. since ca. 1870. Cf. the monkey phrases on pp. 528–9.—15. See 'Hauliers' Slang'.—16. Short for monkey strap: B., 1943.

monkey, adj. "Monkey" is diminutive in the Navy' (Granville): late C. 19–20. Cf. monkey island (Dict.) and monkey jacket.

monkey, cold enough . . . (p. 528), has, in C. 20, been very common also in Canada, where, when it is necessary, to suit a more refined company, the ears is substituted. (Leechman.)

monkey, suck the (p. 528); or tap the admiral. The origin of the latter expression is interesting but ghoulis. 'A certain admiral whose name I cannot remember died while in the West Indies and as it was desired to bury him in England his coffin was filled with rum to preserve the body as was not uncommonly done in those days (about 1830–40). A guard was mounted over the coffin during the journey and this guard was frequently found drunk. Nobody could understand where the guard got the liquor until it was found that the admiral had been tapped!'

'Incidentally it was not unknown for seamen to tap the alcohol used in certain compasses, to the great danger of the ship of course.' (Andrew Haggard, letter of Jan. 28, 1947.)

monkey(-)bite. A mark left—often on the shoulder—by amorous biting: Canadian: since ca. 1930.

monkey-cage.—2. The steel structure of a modern building: mostly Cockneys': C. 20.

monkey(-)crouch. An American 'seat in the saddle', introduced to English jockeys by a Negro jockey named Sims: racing coll.: since ca. 1925. Arthur J. Sarl, Gamblers of the Turf, 1938.

monkey-dodger. A sheep-station hand: Australian: C. 20. Baker. Ex monkey, 6 (p. 528).

monkey-farting. n. and adj. Applied to useless employment, waste of time, silly behaviour: Canadian (esp. soldiers'): C. 20.

monkey house. A caboose: Canadian railroad-men's (— 1931). Depreciative.

Monkey House, the. The Admiralty: Naval: since ca. 1890. Envious.

monkey(-)jacket. An officer's reefer coat: Naval: C. 20. Granville. Recorded by the O.E.D. as occurring in 1830, it seems rather to have dated since ca. 1810 or even earlier; it was of American origin (see esp. the D.A.E.); it appears in The Saturday Evening Post, March 16, 1822 (p. 1, col. 5). Moreover, it has been coll. since ca. 1890—and, indeed, S.E. since ca. 1920. (Moe.) An early English citation is supplied by The Dublin University Magazine, July 1834, at p. 63. Moe.

monkey oboe. A medical officer: Army: 1939-45. Ex the signals alphabet, for M.O. (P-G-R.)

monkey of, make a. To make someone look ridiculous: adopted from U.S. ca. 1930.

monkey on a gridiron. A cyclist: Cockneys': late C. 19-20. J. W. Horsley, I Remember, 1912. Hence the monkey on a gridiron, sit like a, of the Dict.

monkey on one's back, have a.—2. To be ridden by the drug habit: Canadian c.: adopted, ca. 1945, ex U.S.; by 1950, police and low s. (Leechman.)

monkey (out) of, make a; be made a monkey of. To use, be used, as a dupe, esp. as a cat's-paw: adopted, ca. 1943, ex U.S. servicemen.

monkey-parade. A lower-class Londoners' term of ca. 1895-1915. Pugh, 'A place where the elite of the beau-monde of [Cockney] suburbia meet nightly, for purposes of flirtation. It is generally a big main thoroughfare. The fellows and the girls wink and smirk as they pass, and break hearts at two yards with deadly precision.'

monkey see, monkey do! A Canadian (and U.S.) c.p. 'addressed to one who imitates the actions of another, or as warning not to do such and such because someone (usually a child) might follow suit' (Leechman): since ca. 1925.

monkey shaft. 'A small trial shaft in a mine' (B., 1943): Australian miners': since ca. 1925.

monkey strap. 'A looped strap on the offside of the saddle pommel used by inferior rough-riders in mounting and during the bucking of a horse' (Baker): Australian rural and rodeo: C. 20.

monkey suit. Uniform provided by carnival proprietor: Canadian carnival s.: C. 20.

monkey tail. A 'handle for opening doors on mineral wagons' (Railway 2nd): railwaymen's: C. 20.

monkey tie. A gaudy necktie: South African c.: C. 20. The Cape Times, June 3, 1946. Suggested by zoo tie.

monkey-traps. Female finery, to 'catch' men: since ca. 1930.

monkey(-)tricks. Sexual liberties: non-aristocratic coll.: from ca. 1890. (W. L. George, The Making of an Englishman, 1914.)

monkey up, get one's (p. 529). As have one's monkey up it occurs in Benj. Webster's The Golden Farmer, 1833.

monkey up, put one's. Much earlier in Benj. Webster's Paul Clifford, 1833.

monkey up a (or the) stick, like a. Performing queer antics: coll.: late C. 19-20. Ex the popular toy.

monkey's allowance.—2. Short rations: Naval: late C. 18-very early 20. W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (I, 166), 1829. Moe.

monkeys and parrots is perhaps more usual than parrots and monkeys (below).

monkey's fist. 'A knot at the end of a heaving-line to ensure its safe passage from a ship to jetty,' Granville: Naval coll.: late C. 19-20.

monkey's fuck, not to care a. Not to care a rap: low (esp. Naval): since ca. 1920.

monkey's tail, 1 (p. 529): earlier in The Night Watch (II, 130), 1828. Moe.

monopolise the macaroon. See macaroon, confiscate the.

mons, da. One of motor-trade s. terms for 'money' (others being, bees and honey, gelt, kite, oats for the donkey, smash): since ca. 1920. Jocular on Italian pron. of money.

Mont. A tramp or a beggar: Cockneys': late C. 19-20; ob. Origin prob. anecdotal—perhaps in a picturesque tramp named Monty.

Monte. Monte Carlo: a C. 20 coll. used mostly by those who have never been there. 'Christopher Quill' in Books of To-Day and the Books of To-Morrow, Oct. 1936.—2. Hence, the Monte Carlo Rally: motorists': since late 1940's.

month of Sundays (p. 530) occurs in Australia mostly in the form (as) dull—or as slow—as a month of Sundays. B., 1942.

month of Sundays, a, esp. in with a face like a month of Sundays, looking very glum or woebe-gone. Cf. the entry preceding this, as well as that on p. 530.

Monty. Field-Marshal Lord Montgomery: 1942 +.—2. A Naval patrol aircraft: 1939 +. B., 1942.

monty. A certainty: Australian: since ca. 1920. K. S. Prichard, Haxby's Circus, 1930; Vance Palmer, Cyclone, 1947, 'It's a monty there'll be a few skulls broken before it's settled.' Ex 'Monte Carlo'?—2. Hence, a lie: Aus.: since ca. 1935. (B., 1959.)

montygram. A signal written by Field-Marshal Montgomery: Army officers': latter part of World War II. (P-G-R.)

Monty's foxhounds. The 40th (King's) Battalion, Royal Tank Regiment: 1942 +. See Monty, 1.

Monty's Own. Mine-sweepers clearing the fair-way along the N. African coast for the 8th Army: Services: 1943. (P-G-R.) Ex Monty.

moo, old—silly—silly old; mare, old—silly—silly old. Moo, which shortens moo cow (p. 530) and is euphemistic for cow, 1, on p. 185, is virtually synonymous with mare as a mild Cockney pejorative of late C. 19–20. Whereas old mare and old moo are neutral and often affectionate, silly mare and silly moo connote silliness; more common than either of those pairs (so Julian Franklyn tells me on Aug. 11, 1967) are silly old mare and silly old moo; the last is the commonest of all and has moved out of the merely Cockney region to the social atmosphere wherein a young husband can, without fear of instant divorce, address his wife as silly (old) moo. With thanks also to Wilfred Granville, who recalls that, in the old Caledonian Market (see Stones, the, below), he often heard such admonitions as 'you silly moo, that was worth five bob more than you let him have it for', and has, then as since, heard it 'applied to kids returning from errands, "You stupid little mare, you've forgotten the tea"'. Addressed to females only, of course.

mooch.—n.—3. A dupe, esp. in respect of stocks and shares; mooch man, a good canvasser for the sale of (dud) shares; mooch manna, a (rich) business man too proud to admit that he has been victimised by share-pushers: commercial (under) world: since ca. 1925. John Bull, Jan. 21, 1939. The first, at least, has been adopted from U.S.—see Underworld.

mooch, v.—6. (Of a taxicabman) to 'coast': taxicabmen's: from ca. 1920. Ex sense 1.

moochers' mile. 'The Mecca of the suburbanites . . . along Piccadilly, through Piccadilly-circus to Leicester Square,' The Daily Express, June 12, 1944: since ca. 1930. Ex the sauntering.

moody, adj. Simulated, faked, as in 'a moody ruck' or faked quarrel: prison c.: since ca. 1945. (Norman.)

moody, the; the old moody. A psychiatrist's man-to-man, or even genial, approach to a prisoner: prison c.: since ca. 1945. (Norman.) A special application of the n. moody on p. 530.—2. Short for Moody and Sankey (now always Moody, hence moody)—rhyming s. on hanky-panky, itself perhaps an elaboration of hanky, handkerchief, that 'with which the conjurer employing the quick hand deceives an observing eye' (Franklyn 2nd).

moola or moolah. Money, esp. ready money: U.S., since early C. 20; by ca. 1910, also Canadian—teste Dr Douglas Leechman (Feb. 1, 1968). Origin unknown—? Yiddish. Both The American Thesaurus and Wentworth & Flexner record the word.

moon and the milkman, go between the. To shoot the moon': proletarian: ca. 1860–1910. B. & L.

moonlighter.—2. One who holds two paid positions at the same time; hence, moonlighting, the practice involved: Canadian: since ca. 1930. (Leechman.) As if working by moonlight as well as by daylight.

moose. 'An eligible female of Japan or Korea is known as a "moose", . . . from the Japanese word "musume"—girl' (Iddiwah, July 1953): United Nations troops' in Korea: ca. 1951–5.—2. (Also regular moose and bull-moose.) A huge, powerful fellow: Canadian coll.: C. 20. 'A moose of a man.'

moose milk. 'Any of various home brews concocted in the Yukon. One consists of Eagle Brand condensed milk laced liberally with rum': N.W. Canadian: since ca. 1920. (Dr Douglas Leechman, familiar with the Yukon territory.)

moosh.—2. Mate, companion: C. 20. Cf. mush, n., 7, on p. 544.

mooter. See 'Tavern terms', § 3, d.

mop, n.—5. (Mop.) 'A jocular form of Ma or Mum, used to rhyme with Pop' (A. B. Petch): since ca. 1955.—6. A horse whip: Aus. sporting: since ca. 1920. (B., 1959.)

mop-squeezer (p. 531): earlier in Anon., A Congratulatory Epistle from a Reformed Rake, ' . . . From mop-squeezers, were promoted to Whores'.

Mope-Eyed Ladyship, her. See 'Personifications'.

mopey as a wet hen. Glum: New Zealand and Australian coll.: C. 20. B., 1941, 1942.

moph. See moff.

moppery. The head: 1821, Pierce Egan, Life in London; † by 1870. The site of one's mop.

moppie or -y. One of a cleaning-up party: Services: since ca. 1925. Ex the mop he wields so vigorously.

mopstick. See mop-stick (Dict.).

Morality. See 'Tavern terms', § 3, d.

more beef! A c.p., uttered when a heavy load or a hard task demands the help of one or two more men: Canadian: since ca. 1910. (Leechman.)

more curtains! 'Shouted by lary Cockney girls when a person clad in an evening frock passes by,' Julian Franklyn, communication in Feb. 1939: c.p. since ca. 1920; ob.

more firma the less terra, the. 'A c.p. used by those who distrust air travel' (B.P.): mostly Australian: since ca. 1950. A pun on L. terra, land, and terror.

more hair on your chest! Good for you!: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

more hair there than anywhere. Itself a c.p., it evokes the c.p. response, on a cat's back, but the implication is 'around girl's pudend': mostly Canadian: since ca. 1950.

more kid in him than a goat in the family way. An Aus. c.p., dating from ca. 1930. B., 1959.

more points (to one) than a porcupine, have. (Usually of a man) to possess many good points: Australian: C. 20. (B.P.) Partly jocular, partly raffish.

more power to your elbow! A c.p. of encouragement: late C. 19–20. Of Anglo-Irish origin.

more R than F. A c.p. applied, ca. 1860–1910, to one who is more rogue than fool; esp. to a servant that seemed foolish.

more than that! 'A Naval expression emphasising that their party, job or pay exceeds anything that you can put forward in competition,' H. U: lower-deck c.p.: since ca. 1930. Granville, 'A fabulous amount. "Some lovely dames at the dance last night, lusher than that."' morepork (p. 532): also a simpleton. Baker, 1959, implies that, as rural s., it was, at that date, extant.

Moreton Bay (fig.). See gig, n., 10.

Morgan's orchard.—2. In the game of poker, it is 9: C. 20. Anecdotally ex Morgan, a poker-player famous at end of C. 19 as being a character and as having a speech defect; he used to say 'tree trees' for 'three threes'. Hence, 9 = three trees. (I do not guarantee the authenticity of this.)

In cribbage, orchard arises from the fact that 4 contains two 2's—two pairs—two pears. (Professor F. E. L. Priestley.)

morgue, the. Obituary press-cuttings; obituaries kept ready for notabilities likely to die shortly: journalistic: C. 20. This 'department' also contains all the necessary information about anyone likely, for any reason at all, to become news.

Morgue, the. See Pauper's Grave, the.

morish. See moreish (Dict.).

morley (p. 533). Earlier in David Carey, 1822; see slanger.

Mormons. See came over . . .

morning. See Sundays.

morning prayers. See prayers . . .

morons, came over with the. See came over . . .

morris, v.—4. See die, to; cf. senses 1, 2 (p. 533).

Morrison mousetrap. A Morrison table shelter: 1941 +. Ex the sides of wire-work. Cf.:

Morrison time. Double British Summer time: coll.: 1940-5 (Minister of Home Security: the Rt Hon. Herbert Morrison).

mort.—4. An honest, old-fashioned person: Australian: since ca. 1961. Ex Fr. mort, dead. (B.P.) mortalious. Very drunk: mostly lower classes': C. 19-20. Ex 'mortal drunk'.

mortar and trowel. A towel: rhyming: since ca. 1870.

Mos (pron. moss) or Mossey; also Moz or Mozzy. A Mosquito aircraft: R.A.F.: 1943 +. Part-ridge, 1945, the s forms; W/Cdr Robin P. McDouall, letter of March 17, 1945, the z forms.

mos; esp. show no mos. Animosity: tailors': from ca. 1860. B. & L.

Moscow. Bayswater: Londoners': ca. 1815-70. Spy, II, 1826.—2. A pawnshop: Australian: C. 20. (B., 1943.)—2. Hence as v., to pawn: B., 1943. A folk-etymological alteration of moskeener (p. 534).

Moscow, gone to. See gone . . .

Moscow, in. In pawn: Australian: C. 20. (Caddie, A Sydney Barmaid, 1953.) Cf. gone to Moscow.

Moscow mule. "'Just add two ounces of vodka to a lager, and a couple of cubes of ice. . . It should have a splash of lime juice as well'" (Andrew York, The Co-Ordinator, 1967): bar-rooms': since ca. 1950. Moscow refers to the vodka, mule to the 'kick'.

mosey off. See mosey (Dict.).

mosh game. An illegal game: low Australian: since ca. 1910. (Vince Kelley, The Bogeyman, 1956.)

mosiqui. A little girl: showmen's: since ca. 1870; ob. by 1950. (John o' London's Weekly, March 4, 1949.)

Moslem broker is a folk-etymological variant, since ca. 1930, of mozzle and brocha. Franklyn.

Moss Bross. Messrs Moss Brothers, Ltd, the firm from which so many people hire their formal (masculine) clothes: esp. Londoners': since ca. 1920.

mossie. A variant of mozzy, 2: B., 1943.

mossing, vbl n. Depositing things in pawn: mostly among Londoners: C. 20. Val Davis, Phenomena in Crime, 1941. A corruption of mosk (p. 534).

mossy.—2. (Of persons) hairy: C. 20.

most, the. The best, superlatively good, extremely attractive, as in 'He's the most': teenagers' and office- and shop-girls': since ca. 1957. (Gilderdale.) Adopted ex Canada, where current since ca. 1955. (Leechman.)

mostest, with the, adv. and adj. With—or having—every attraction: adopted, ca. 1959, ex U.S.: esp. among jazz-addicts and beat-niks.

mote, v.—2. (Of vehicle, hence of athlete) to move speedily: Australian: C. 20. H. J. Oliver, July 1937 (see Bovril); B., 1942.—3. Hence, to walk: Australian: since ca. 1935. (Ruth Park, 1950.)

mothball fleet. A Reserve Fleet: Naval coll.: since ca. 1945. Its guns are in plastic covers.

mothballs. Tracer bullets: Australian servicemen's: 1939-45. (B., 1943.)

mother. Wife, if also a mother: Cockney coll.: from ca. 1880. E.g. 'I'll ask mother about that.' Ex the familiar S.E. mother, vocative to a wife and mother of one's children.

mother and daughter.—2. A quarter post: rhyming s.: C. 20. 'Used by Thames watermen with reference to the posts along London's river frontage at which a tug, a lighter, or other craft may be tied up' (Franklyn 2nd).

Mother Bunch.—2. Water: Cockneys': ca. 1590-1640. Dekker, The Shoemaker's Holiday (performed in 1599), IV, iv, Firk, 'Am I sure that Paul's steeple is a handful higher than London Stone, or that the Pissing-Conduit leaks nothing but pure Mother Bunch? Am I sure that I am lusty Firk? God's nails, do you think I am so base to gull you?' Mother Bunch was a well-known London ale-house 'hostess', as mentioned in Pasquil's Jests, 1604.

Mother Hubbard. A cupboard: rhyming s.: late C. 19-20.

mother-in-law.—3. (Cf. sense 2: p. 534.) A mixture of stout and bitter: Australian public-house: C. 20. (B., 1953.) Since ca. 1945 also English.

Mother Knab (or Nab)-Cony. See 'Harlots'.

mother of pearl. A girl: rhyming: since ca. 1870. But this very Cockney term occurs only in my old mother of pearl, my old girl, my wife; often shortened to mother—to the confusion of non-Cockneys. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

motherer. A shepherd: Australian coll.: late C. 19-20. B., 1942.

mother's bright boy is a coll. C. 20 synonym of mother's white-haired boy (p. 535).

mother's milk, 2 (p. 535). Rather, since ca. 1840. Sinks, 1848, defines it as either strong drink or rum.

motor, n.—3. A motor car: coll.: since ca. 1920.

motor. To set going the motor (of boat or car): motorists' coll.: from ca. 1928. Peter Chamberlain, 'They'd started to motor the damn thing.'

motor mech. Motor mechanic: Naval coll.: C. 20. Granville.

motsa or motser. A large sum of money ('He made a motsa'): Australian: since ca. 1920. Yiddish. (B., 1943; Edwin Morrisby, 1958.) The Yiddish motsa is an outsize biscuit, about a foot in diameter.

mott. To look hard—or to stare—at (someone): Australian low, verging on c.: since ca. 1920. (B., Australia Speaks, 1953.) Perhaps ex sense 1 of mot (p. 534).

mouldering ruin. (Used predicatively.) Pre-historic; or merely very old: several British preparatory schools': since late 1940's.

mouldy, n., 2 was, via the old R.N.A.S., adopted by the R.A.F. in 1918. (Partridge, 1945.)

mouldy, adj., 2, is, in the Navy, 'miserable . . . "two blocks chocker"' (Granville): C. 20.

mouldy fig. A person even duller and more boring than a 'wet blanket': beatniks': since ca. 1959. (Anderson.) Ex the following sense.—2. 'Applied by the young supporters of the "new jazz", or "cool" or "progressive" jazz, to those who remained loyal to the old, "traditional", "New Orleans", or "hot" jazz. This was during the strong revival of hot jazz in the 1950's. The term, which had a limited circulation, became virtually obsolete by 1960.' (Professor F. E. L. Priestley, in letter dated Aug. 21, 1967.)

moulies. Copper coins: low Cockney: late C. 19–20. I.e. mouldies, ex the colour. Cf. mouldy one (Dict.).

mount, n.—6. 'The Mount. One's bicycle,' H. & P., Service Slang, 1943: jocular: since ca. 1930.

mount, do a. To give evidence in court: Australian c.: C. 20. B., 1942. Cf. mount, v., 4–6 (on p. 535).

Mount, the. Montreal: Canadian tramps' c., hence gen. low s.: C. 20. W. A. Gape, Half a Million Tramps, 1936. 'Because one of its most notable topographical features, right in the city, is Mount Royal, or Mont Royal, an extinct volcanic peak, one of a number in that part of Quebec Province' (Leechman).

Mount Aldrich. Logic: Oxford University: ca. 1815–50. Spy, 1825. Ex a professor's name?

Mount Euclid. Mathematics: Oxford: ca. 1810–60. Spy, 1825.

Mount Misery (p. 535). For Bowen's reference, see monkey island (p. 529). 'Last night, when the fog kept you up on Mount Misery,' Frank Shaw, Atlantic Murder, 1932.

mount the box. To give evidence in court: Australian c. (and police s.): since ca. 1930. (B., 1953.) Cf. mount, do a.

Mountain Devils. Tasmanians: Australian: C. 20. (B., 1943.) Ex the grotesque lizard so named—the thorn-devil or Moloch horridus—a native of Australia; with perhaps a reference to the Tasmanian devil.

mountain passes. Spectacles: rhyming s. (on glasses): C. 20; by 1959, ob. Franklyn, Rhyming.

Mountains, the. The Yorkshire moors: transport drivers': since ca. 1945.

Mountains of Mourne. Ash heaps: railway-men's: C. 20. (Railway, 3rd.) Ironical.

Mountbatten pink. That shade of pink paint which was used on invasion craft: Services: 1943–5. 'Suggested by Lord Louis Mountbatten when he was Chief of Combined Operations,' Granville.

mounteer. See 'Miscellanca'.

mounter.—2. A peg-top of which the peg has, by constant play, been driven in until it is shorter than one's thumb-nail and must therefore be thrown away: London schoolchildren's: from ca. 1890.

Mounties, the, 1 (p. 536). Now the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. When first organized in 1873, the Northwest Mounted Police.

mournful Mary. A warning siren at Dunkirk: 1914–18. Gordon S. Maxwell, The Motor Launch Patrol, 1926. Cf. moaning Minnie.

mourning.—4. "'Aye, there she is—all in mourning for her fate," cried Brace, evidently affected by the tottering condition of every thing aloft . . .—glossed thus, 'When a ship, or square-rigged vessel appears in mourning, the yards on each mast are alternately topped on end': W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (I, 215), 1829. A Naval phrase, dating late C. 18–19.

mourning for the cat!, you're in. You have dirty finger-nails: non-aristocratic, non-cultured c.p.: C. 20. See mourning in the Dict.

mouse, n.—7. See the quotation at hole (out) in one (sense 2) above.—8. A young lady; a girl: beatniks': since ca. 1958. (Anderson.) Cf. the quotation at canary, 12, above, and contrast mouse, n., 5, on p. 536.

mouse-trap.—4. A submarine: R.A.F.: since early 1940. The Reader's Digest, Feb. 1941, 'Air Slangue' by Allan A. Michie & Isabel Waitt. For the crew, that's what it is when caught on the surface by an aircraft.—5. Cheese: Naval (lower-deck): C. 20. Granville. Obviously because mouse-traps are baited with cheese.—6. A Morrison (i.e. an indoor) shelter: Aug. 30, 1941 The New Statesman.

mouth like a cow's cunt, (have) a. (To be) excessively talkative: low, mostly Cockney: late C. 19–20. (Communicated by J. F., Dec. 29, 1967.)

mouth like the bottom of a . . . (p. 537). A Services', esp. R.A.F., variant: . . . of a baby's pram—all shit and biscuits.

mouth-wash. A drink of liquor: since ca. 1930.

mouthful, say a (p. 537). Rather, English of ca. 1780–1880, then U.S., then again—from U.S.—English since ca. 1920. Clearly adumbrated in Sessions, Sept. 1790, 'I never said a mouth full of ill against her in my life'.

move, n.—2. A motion picture: since ca. 1935. Prob. short for movie (p. 537).

move in the blind. To 'shoot the moon' (q.v. at moon, shoot the in Dict.): low: ca. 1860–1910. B. & L. Here, blind = darkness.

move out, v.i. To expand; to bloom: New Zealand coll.: C. 20. (Jean Devaney, The Butcher Shop, 1926.)

move (or shift) your carcass! Get out of the way: Australian: since ca. 1920.

movies, go to the. See go . . .

movy. See movie (Dict.).

mowat. A woman: c.: from ca. 1910. Of North Country origin. Cf. gadgy. Perhaps ex dial.: cf. N.E. and E. Anglian mawther, a big, lumbering girl. (Ramsey Spencer.) mowing the lawn, n. and pple. Shaving with an electric razor: Australian: since ca. 1955. 'Hang on a jiffy, I'm mowing the lawn.' (B.P.)

Moz. See Mos.

moz, n. and v. See mozzle, v.

Mozart and Liszt, usu. shortened to Mozart. Tipsy: rhyming s., mostly racing: since ca. 1945. On s. pissed. (Franklyn 2nd.)

mozzle, n. Esp. as in "'My mozzle is out, Collins?" he said with an effort' ('Tom Collins', Such is Life, 1903), i.e. I've reached the end of my tether: Australian: ca. 1870–1910. Adopted from Yiddish mozzle, luck.

mozzle, v.; also the shortening, moz. To hinder, to interrupt (someone): Australian: since ca. 1920. Also n., as in put the moz on (someone), to inconvenience: B., 1942. Ex muzzle.

mozzle and brocha. (A door-to-door canvasser or salesman) 'on the knocker': rhyming s.: C. 20. Yiddish: cf. preceding.

Mozzy. See Mos.

moszy.—2. A mosquito; moszy net, mosquito net: Australian (late C. 19–20) and R.A.F. Regulars' (since ca. 1925). B., 1942; Gerald Emanuel, letter of March 29, 1945. Cf. mos.

Mr Cochran's young ladies in blue. See awful people.

Mr Dunlop. An inner bicycle-tube filled with sand and used as a 'cosh': British prison-camps for Britons: 1915–18. (Private X., War is War, 1930.)

Mr Five by Five. See five by five.

Mr Nip. See nip-cheese below.

Mr Wood. See Wood, Mr.

Mrs Ashtip; Mrs Greenfields. See Greenfields.

Mrs Duckett.—2. As an expletive, 'Fuck it!': low rhyming s.: C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

Mrs Evans. See Evans, Mrs (p. 259). For dating, read 'late C. 17–mid-19'. It occurs in the Works, 1704, of 'facetious' Tom Brown.

Mrs Gafoops. Any woman not specifically named: Australian: since ca. 1930. 'Are you going to make that dress yourself, or will you get Mrs Gafoops to run it up for you?' (B.P.)

Mrs Greenfield's, staying at. See staying at . . . in 'Hauliers' Slang'.

Mrs Kelly wouldn't let young Edward play with you! A derogatory c.p. addressed to a child either very dirty or very ill-behaved: Australian: since ca. 1925. The allusion is to Ned Kelly, the famous bushranger, who has, in Australia, become as legendary as Jesse James in the United States. (B.P.)

Mrs Murray, see. To go to the water-closet: Australian: late C. 19–20. B., 1942. With a pun on the Murray, the greatest river in Australia. The reference is esp. to a privy.

muck! Short for the ironic not muck!: Services (esp. R.A.F.) coll.: 1940+. Partridge, 1945, "'He never goes out with Waafs"—"Muck!"' (He very often does.) muchee; intensified as muchee-muchee. Very: pidgin: mid-C. 19–20. B. & L.

muck, n., 4 (p. 538) occurs in D. W. Barrett, Navvies, 1880. Anti-aircraft fire: R.A.F.: 1940, Michie & Graebner, Their Finest Hour, 'I climbed to 12,000 feet, circling along the outside of the searchlights and all the muck [gunfire] that was coming up'.—11. (Very) dirty weather: R.A.F. pilots' and Army officers': since ca. 1938. H. & P. Also shit.

muck, v., 3 and 4, can be dated back to ca. 1840: Sinks, 1848, defines the v. as 'to clean out, to win all a person's money.'

muck, as. Exceedingly; as much as is possible: coll.: from ca. 1910. Esp. sick as muck, thoroughly disgusted or disgruntled or displeased, as in J. C. Masterman, Fate Cannot Harm Me, 1935, of a cricket match: 'He would be out any ball and poor old George would be as sick as muck.' Cf. mad as mud in Dict.

muck about, pron. muck abaht.—3. Usually be mucked about, to be messed about: Army: since ca. 1910. Orig. a euphemism for fuck about.

muck-arsing about. Larking about, esp. amorously: low: C. 20.

muck-bird. 'Dirty oil waste' (Railway): railwaymen's: since ca. 1930.

muck for luck! A c.p., addressed to one getting befouled with excrement; usually applied to boots soiled with dog's excrement: late C. 19–20: by 1940, a proverb.

muck out. To clean out (the place)—to be a servant, esp. for someone: miners': C. 20. Ex cleaning out the stables down in the mines.

muck-rag. A handkerchief: low: C. 19. 'A Real Paddy', Life in Ireland, 1822.

muck-shifter. A navvy: navvies' coll.: ca. 1800–1910. (D. W. Barrett, Navvies, 1880.)

Muck, Sludge and Lightning, the. The Manchester, Sheffield and Lincolnshire railway: railwaymen's ca. 1890–1925. (Railway 2nd.)

muck(-)stick. A rifle: Naval: since ca. 1920. Granville, 'Muckstick drill, Rifle drill in Barracks'.

muck-sweat. Perspiration; orig. and properly if dust or dirt has accrued: proletarian coll.: since ca. 1830. Sessions, June 22, 1843.—2. Hence be in a muck-sweat, to be flurried or flustered; to be 'all hot and bothered': C. 20. (Atkinson.)

muck-up, v.—4. V.i., to play the fool: Australian: since ca. 1910. B., 1942.

muck-up, n. A 'mess', confusion, spoiling: late C. 19–20. Ex v., 2 (p. 539).

mucked. Short for mucked out (p. 539): 1848, Sinks; † by 1920.

muckender. See 'Miscellanea'.

mucker, n.—4. A friend, mate, pal: Army: since ca. 1917. Ex muck in (p. 539).

mucker(-)up and mucking(-)up. The agent and the action of muck-up, 4, above.

mucking-in spud. One's chief friend or companion: Army (and R.A.F.): since ca. 1930. H. & P., "'Spud" is used in camps to denote "pal".' See muck in (p. 539).

Muckle Flugga Hussars, the (p. 539). For 'the most northerly of the Orkneys.' read 'the most northerly island of the Unst group in the extreme north of the Shetland Isles'.

mucko.—2. Hence, esp. a man detailed to serve food to troops aboard ship: Naval: since ca. 1910.—3. A seaman: Australian Naval: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.)

mud.—4. Wet concrete: Australian builders and similars': since ca. 1920. (Culotta.)—5. Hence, thick, muddy coffee: Australian: since ca. 1930. (Culotta.) mud, up to. See up to mud.

mud and blood. A mild and bitter, public-houses': C. 20.

Mud Bath, the. The Battle of Passchendaele: autumn and early winter, 1917, then historical. A pun on the Blood Bath, the 1916 Battle of the Somme. (A. B. Petch, who, like myself, attended at both of these ceremonies.)

mud chicken. A surveyor: Canadian railroadmen's (—1931). He has a muddy job.

mud-fat. Exceedingly fat: Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1942. Ex the C. 20 Australianism as fat as mud.

mud-hook.—3. Hence, for the board itself: Services: since ca. 1910. H. & P.—4. A hand: New Zealand and Australian: since ca. 1915. B., 1941, 1942.—5. A foot: Australian: since ca. 1920. Baker.

mud hop, or hyphenated or one word. A yard clerk: Canadian railroadmen's (—1931). Cf. mud chicken.

mud in one's eye. A tie: rhyming s.: late

C. 19-20. The New Statesman, Nov. 29, 1941. But usually . . . the eye. (Franklyn 2nd.)

mud-lark.—12. Anyone who sings in the trenches: Army: 1914-18.

mud-pipes (p. 540). Prob. since early C. 19, for Sinks, 1848, defines the term as 'thick boots'.

mud-plunger.—2. From ca. 1860 and corresponding to mud-plunging (Dict.).

mud pup. An agricultural student, esp. if working on a farm: since ca. 1950. (Wilfred Granville.) mud spring. A doughy damper: Northern Territory, Australia: since ca. 1925. Ernestine Hill, The Territory, 1951.

mud-walloper. One who is used to, or has to work in, mud: Army in Burma: 1942-5.

mudder. A horse that goes well on a wet track: Canadian sporting coll.: since ca. 1925.

Muddle and Go Nowhere, the. 'Peterborough to Yarmouth Line' (Railway, 3rd): C. 20. Among passengers, however, it was, up to 1939 anyway, 'the old Midland and Great Northern Railway, which meandered across North Norfolk from Norwich to Peterborough' (Ramsey Spencer, 1967).

Muddle East. An all-Services' name: 1941-4: for the Middle East.

muddled. Slightly tipsy: coll.: since ca. 1780. The New Vocal Enchantress, 1791.

Muddy. See 'Nicknames'.

muddy. A mud crab: Australian: since ca. 1920. (B., Australia Speaks, 1953.)

Mudros, Chios and chaos. A 1915 Services' c.p. alluding to the fact that the Mediterranean Expeditionary Force of that time had three separate authorities, or commands, and bases. (Captain C. R. O. Burge, D.S.O., R.N., letter of July 27, 1967.)

muff, v.—3. See die, to.

muff-diver. A cunnilingist: low Canadian: C. 20.

muffin-baker (p. 541). Franklyn, Rhyming, thinks that the term is restricted to the Cockney low s. quaker, excrement long retained.

muffy. A frill-necked lizard: Australian rural: C. 20. (B., 1953.) Ex its 'muff'.

mug, n., 4 (p. 541). 'Anyone not of the Underworld,' F. D. Sharpe, The Flying Squad, 1938: i.e. from the viewpoint, the angle, the 'slant' of the underworld itself. Cf. the American-c. use of 'honest John' (see Underworld). 'There is a whole range of talk which cannot be understood by the "mug", a word which describes all members of the public who attend fairs': W. Buchanan-Taylor, Shake it Again, 1943.

mug, v.—13. (Cf. sense 4, both nuances: p. 541.) "'Are you going to 'mug' us?" . . . "What does 'mug' us' mean?" . . . "Are you going to stand me a drink?": Daily Mirror, March 14, 1939.—14. To loaf: Australian: since ca. 1930. (Vance Palmer, Seedtime, 1957.) Cf. sense 4 on p. 541.

Note that sense 5 has narrowed to 'to garotte' and, as such, is actively extant in both Canada and U.S. mug or mugged. Pleasant to look at: Winchester College: from ca. 1870. Cf. mug, v., 8 (Dict.).

mug alec(k). Australian synonym of smart alec: since ca. 1930. Lawson Glassop, We Were the Rats, 1944.

mug copper. Variant of mug John (p. 541): Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. Also mug cop: B., 1959.

mug lair. Variant of dead lair, q.v. at lair, 1, above. (B., 1959.)

mug-up, n. Lunch; a snack: 'a common expression in the [Canadian] far North, especially among fur-trade men and trappers: 1934 and earlier' (Leechman). Probably ex mug up, v., 3 (p. 541) or simply ex mug up!, bring up your mug.

mugger.—4. A punch or blow to or on the mug or face: pugilistic: ca. 1810-60. Boxiana, III, 1821.

Mugging Hall. The hall where the boys prepare their lessons: Winchester College: from ca. 1850. B. & L.

muggo. A tea break: London dockers': since ca. 1950. (B.B.C. T.V.1, July 15, 1965.) I.e. a 'mug o' tea'.

mugs, cut. The singular mug, 'a grimace': 1821. Pierce Egan, Life in London, 1821.

mugs' alley. That bar along the edge of a rink along which learner-skaters feel their way: ice and roller skaters', esp. at Wembley: since ca. 1930.

mug's game. A silly—esp., an unprofitable—thing to do: late C. 19-20.

mugwump is now gen. used in a pejorative manner, to insinuate that he is, to repeat the President of Princeton's definition, 'a man with his mug on one side of the fence and his wump on the other'. —2. Hence, an unreliable voter: English: since the late 1920's.

Muke. A College passage leading to Big and Little Muke (rooms): Eton: late C. 19-20. Marples supports the derivation ex Gr. mukhos, a nook.

mulberry; usually in pl. A prefabricated harbour: Services: 1944, then ob. Ex Operation Mulberry, the erection of the two prefabricated harbours on the coast of Normandy in June 1944.

mulga madness. 'The "queerness" sometimes developed in lone bushmen or fossickers' (B., 1943): Australian coll.: C. 20. Mulga is an Australian tree that characterizes 'the outback'. Cf. bushed, 3, above.

mullarkey is the Australian adaptation—ca. 1944—of U.S. mal(l)arkey, 'blarney'. D'Arcy Niland, The Shiralee, 1955.

Muller. A German: Guards Regiments': 1939-45. Ex the common German surname Müller. (P-G-R.)

mullet. See stunned mullet and prawn-headed mullet below.

mulliga stew. A soupy sort of stew: Australian tramps': since ca. 1925. B., 1942. Ex U.S. mulligan (see Underworld), or, perhaps, from mulligatawny soup.

mulligans. Playing cards: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Why?

mulligrubber. Synonymous with and prob. deriving from grub, n., 5 (p. 358): cricketers': C. 20.

Mullingar heifer (p. 542). The common Anglo-Irish expression is beef to the heels, like a Mullingar heifer.

mullock (p. 542): dates back to ca. 1852.—2. Hence, of an ignorant or otherwise worthless person: since ca. 1880. B., 1942, cites 'Rolf Boldrewood'.

multi (or multy) cotiva. A variant of multee kertever (p. 542). Sydney Lester.

multiples. Company shops, chain stores: commercial coll.: since ca. 1920; by 1946, S.E.

mum, n.—6. A chrysanthemum: flower growers' and sellers': C. 20.

mum, me bum's numb. A c.p., orig. (ca. 1910) North Country, but by 1920 very widely distributed; allusive to childish frankness and to dialectal pronunciation.

mum-tip. (A payment of) hush-money: ca. 1815–50. Pierce Egan, Life in London, 1821.

mumble-mumper. 'An old, sulky, inarticulate, unintelligible actor': theatrical: from ca. 1860; ob. B. & L.

mumble-peg (p. 543). In the old-fashioned wooden mole-trap still sometimes used, the mumble-peg is a peg which the mole loosens in his passage and thereby springs the trap.

mumbo-jumbo (p. 543). Read: Meaningless jargon: mid-C. 19–20; coll. >, by 1930, S.E.

mummery and millinery. 'Religious ritualism, mainly by those who do not approve of it or think that it is overdone' (A. B. Petch, April 1966): coll.: C. 20.

mump. See 'Shortenings'.

mump, on the. A-begging: vagabonds' c.: late C. 19–20. Pugh.

mumper; mumping. In C. 20 c., these terms have the specific senses: a tramp (person); tramping as a beggar. W. L. Gibson Cowan, Loud Report, 1937. Among Gypsies, it means a 'low-grade' Gypsy—one who has no van: C. 20.

mumper's brass. See 'Money'.

mun.—3. Money: C. 20. Michael Innes, Appleby at Allington, 1968.

muncher boy. A fellator: mostly Naval: since ca. 1950 (? earlier). Cf. gobbler, 6, above.

munds. See munds (Dict.).

mung. A look, a glance, a brief search: C. 20. (Percy F. Westerman, The Terror of the Seas, 1927.) Perhaps cf. mung, v. (p. 543).—2. A variant of mong.

munga. A smoke (or two) during a period of rest from work: New Zealand: C. 20. Maori? Cf. smoko (p. 789).—2. See mungas.

mungaree (p. 543) was, in form mangaree or manjaree, common among British soldiers in Sicily and Italy, 1943–5. (P-G-R.)

mungaree stuck. Penniless, esp. if temporarily: showmen's and grafters': C. 20. I.e. 'stuck for'—short of—mungaree (p. 543).

mungaria. Food: Army in N. Africa: 1940–5. The preceding word influenced by Arabic? (P-G-R.)

mungas or munja. Food; a meal, esp. lunch: New Zealand: since ca. 1919. Perhaps the Services' mungy (p. 544) given a Maori shape.—2. Also, among N.Z. soldiers of World War II, rations, as in 'the munja party' (Slatter). Cf.:—

munge.—2. A shortened form of mungaree (p. 543). Sydney Lester.

mungey. Food: mostly Army: C. 20. Ex Fr. manger. (P-G-R.)

munlee. Money: pidgin: C. 19–20. B. & L.

muogh. A pig: Shelta: C. 18–20. Ibid.

murder bag. A bag made of hide and containing all such equipment as is necessary in the investigation of a murder: Scotland Yard coll.: C. 20. The murder bags are out, 'a murder is being investigated'. Freeman Wills Crofts, Fear Comes to Chalfont, 1942.

murder on the mountain. Semolina pudding, (esp. if mound-shaped) splotted with (red) jam: schoolgirls': since ca. 1945.

murder suit. 'Get hold of a "murder suit". That's a long pair of overalls with deep pockets for carrying grenades, wire-cutters, and ammo. Nothing will shine if you wear that,' Lawson Glassop, We Were the Rats, 1944: Australian soldiers': 1940 +.

murky, n. An Aborigine: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Suggested by darky.

Murky Navy, the. The Merchant Navy: nautical: since ca. 1940. (TV, July 1, 1964; L. J. Cunliffe, Having It Away, 1965.) A pun on 'Merchant'.

Murray. See Mrs Murray.

Murrumbidgee jam. 'Brown sugar moistened with cold tea and spread on damper' (B., 1943): Australian rural: C. 20. This rural s. term was † by 1959: B., The Drum.

muscateer. An addict of (very cheap) muscat wine: Australian: since ca. 1930. (B., 1943.) A pun on musketeeer.

muscle factory. A gymnasium: mostly Army and esp. the Guards: C. 20. Gerald Kersh, 1941.

muscle in. To profit by another's advantage of good luck: Services: 1940 +. Partridge, 1945. 'From the language of the American underworld; via the cinema.' Current among civilians since ca. 1935, in the nuance 'to force oneself upon others (muscle in on them) in a criminal racket'—as in Anthony Weymouth, Tempt Me Not, 1937.

muscle merchant. A physical-training instructor: R.A.F.: since ca. 1940. Jackson.

mush, 2 (p. 544), is also Australian: C. 20. D'Arcy Niland, The Shiralee, 1955.—8. Hence, as in instalment mixture. Ex mush man.—9. Sentimentality: since ca. 1880: coll. >, by 1930, S.E. Cf. sloppy.—10. A scrum in Rugby football: mush up!, 'Push (in the scrum)!': London schools': ca. 1875–1900. Professor Arnold Wall, communication of Aug. 1939. This sense occurs also in Talbot Baines Reed, The Fifth Form at St Dominic's, 1907.—11. A man from somewhere else, e.g. a newcomer from Liverpool to Southampton: seamen's: since ca. 1910. Probably ex sense 7 ('a man').—12. A companion, a pal: Army: 1939–45. (P-G-R.) Perhaps ex sense 7 (p. 544).

mush man. 'A driver who mounts his own cab': cabmen's: ca. 1880–1910. Clarkson & Richardson, Police!, 1889. His passenger is sheltered, as it were, by a mush or umbrella.

mush-rat (p. 545). Hardly a sol.: rather an archaic form.

musher.—2. A mushroom: market-gardeners' and greengrocers': late C. 19–20. (The Bournemouth Echo, June 29, 1944.)

mush's lotion. See instalment mixture.

Music. See 'Tavern terms', § 3, d.

musical bathtub. 'A motor-car, especially a small one, looked upon with little favour by professional drivers' (Leechman): mostly Canadian: since ca. 1960.

musical chair. 'A latrine consisting of a pole set over a trench' (P-G-R): Army: 1940–5.

muskie. A maskinonge (a large pike): Canadian: mid-C. 19–20. Gregory Clark, Which We Did, 1936. Short for the variant muskellunge.

muslin, 2, on p. 545, dates rather from ca. 1820. It occurs in, e.g., W. N. Glascock's Naval Sketch Book, 2nd Series, 1834, at II, 66. (Moe.)

Musso. Benito Mussolini: since ca. 1923. Gerald Kersh, They Die with Their Boots Clean, 1941. Also the Duce, through mispronunciation (and misapprehension?) of Il Duce, which means, not 'the Duke' but 'the leader' (Führer).

must, n. Something that must be done, seen, heard, read, bought, etc., esp. if one is to keep up to date: coll.: since early 1950's, but not very gen. until late 1950's.

must have been drinking out of a damp glass or mug or pot, he, you, etc. A jocular c.p., either referring or addressed to someone who has caught a cold or who has a touch of rheumatism: C. 20.

mustard, keen as. See keen as mustard (Dict.).

musty. See mesty.

Mutt and Jeff.—2. Deaf: theatrical rhyming s.: C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.) Also, by 1945 at the latest, gen. Cockney s.

mutt(-)eyes. Corn as food: Australian: since ca. 1935. (B., Australia Speaks, 1953.)

mutt(-)house. One's former school; preparatory school: Royal Naval College, Dartmouth: C. 20. Granville.

mutter and stutter. Butter (n. and v.): rhyming s.: C. 20.

mutton.—5. See tug, n., in Addenda.

mutton, jerk one's. See gallop one's maggot.

mutton-bird eater. Variant of Mutton Bird (p. 546). B., 1942.

Mutton Chops, the. The Royal West Surreys, also called the Mutton Lancers: Army: late C. 19–20. 'From emblem of lamb and flag' (Anon., The Soldiers' War Slang Dictionary, 1939).

mutton-fisted. Heavy on the controls of a 'plane: R.F.C. and R.A.F.: 1914 +.

Mutton Flaps. 'Japs' (the Japanese): prisoners-of-war in the Far East, 1942–5; then, to a limited extent, among civilians, mostly in Australia. (B., 1953.)

muttons.—3. 'When we speak of something being our muttons or a person's muttons we mean that we regard it with particular favour, that we like it especially well,' B., 1941: New Zealand and Australian: C. 20. Ex the excellence of New Zealand mutton.

muzzling cheat. A napkin: c. (— 1688); † by 1900. Randle Holme (musseling c.).

my. I; me; mine; occ., we, us, ours: pidgin: C. 19–20. B. & L.

my arse is dragging. I can hardly walk; I'm utterly exhausted: Canadian c.p.: since ca. 1916.

my blood! My bloody oath!: Australian: since ca. 1925. (Cf. blood nose above.)

my eyes and limbs! is an elaboration of my eyes! (see my eye! on p. 547) and was current ca. 1805–50. It may, orig. at least, have been nautical, for it occurs in W. N. Glascock, The Naval Sketch-Book (II, 107), 1826, and Sailors and Saints (II, 193), 1829. Moe.

my Gawd. A sword: rhyming s.: late C. 19–20. Occasionally Oh (or O) my Gawd. (Franklyn.)

my gentleman or my lord; my lady. He or she: derisive coll.: mid-C. 19–20. Cf. synonymous his lordship.

my goodness. A drink of Guinness: since late 1940's. Ex the variously illustrated slogan, 'My goodness, my Guinness!'

my granny! Nonsense!: coll.: C. 20. (James Stephens, The Crock of Gold, 1912.) Cf. granny! on p. 348.

my heart bleeds for you. As a c.p., it is ironic:

both British and American: since the late 1940's. In Samantha, 1968 (British edition), E. V. Cunningham makes his attractive Japanese detective say to his chief, "'With all respects to my esteemed boss . . . I am aware of his financial difficulties. My heart bleeds for the poverty of those who guard the wealthiest city in the world.'"

Variant: you're breaking my heart, recorded in the same novel.

See heart bleeds for.

my hero! A c.p. 'that greets a diver who breaks surface with small green crabs or perfectly useless fish, such as wrasse' (Wilfred Granville, letter of March 11, 1964): skin divers': since ca. 1960. It prob. derives ex the ironic use of the phrase by girls satirizing the mushier films.

my king oath! An Australian variant of my oath!: since ca. 1910. Baker. Strictly, 'king', short for fucking.

my mother told me there would be days like this, but she didn't say there'd be so many. A c.p. applied to a 'tough' time, esp. in the Army: Canadian soldiers': 1939–45. An oblique reference to menstruation.

my mother's away. The other day: Australian rhyming s.: since ca. 1890. (B., 1945.)

my name is Benjamin Brown, Ben Brown. 'Bend down, a formula pleasantry [uttered] when there is no inspiration [and] meant to be outrageous, but is merely tedious' (a correspondent): c.p.: since ca. 1950 (? much earlier). Homosexual implications.

my name is (or name's) Simpson—not Samson. A workmen's c.p. apropos of work too heavy for one: C. 20. Either originated by a humorist named Simpson or ex a scabrously witty limerick.

my name is Twyford. See Twyford, both in Dict. and Addenda.

my name is 'Unt not cunt. I'm not to be put upon, I'm nobody's fool: c.p., mostly R.A.F.: since middle 1940's. (Laurie Atkinson, Sept. 11, 1967.) Ex Joe Hunt above.

my part! 'I should worry!': c.p.: from ca. 1926; ob. Perhaps 'it's my part—to look after that'.

my tulip, vocative, was still extant in early C. 20: witness H. A. Vachell, Quinney's, 1914.

my very word. Exclamatory or emphatic form of 'my word!' (affirmative 'certainly!'): Australian: since ca. 1945. "'Did he come good?"—"My very word!"' (B.P.)

my word—if I catch you bending! A semi-sexual c.p. of the London streets: ca. 1900–14; then more gen. in use and meaning. 'The answer is "I'll saw your leg off" (all from a song)' Julian Franklyn. Cf., therefore, the next.

my word, if you're not off! A c.p. of dismissal or of deterrence: ca. 1900–14. To which, during its last four or five years, was often added I'll saw your leg off!

Myall express. Natives showing the way; natives helping: N.T., Australia: since ca. 1910. Ernestine Hill, The Territory, 1951. Ironic reference to the leisureliness of the Myall tribe in these matters.

myrrh. Variant spelling of mur (p. 544).

myrtle. Sexual intercourse: Australian: C. 20. Baker. Why? It can hardly refer to that Myrtle who, in a famous limerick, failed to realize that 'the turtle was fertile', yet it's very odd that both myrtle and the synonymous nurtle (q.v.) should rhyme with fertile. Also cf. turtle, 2.

Myrtle the Turtle. The Australian nickname of any girl named Myrtle: since ca. 1910. (B.P.) Cf. both Harriet the Chariot (above) and the entry preceding this present one.

mystall crikey! Christ almighty: Australian: C. 20. (Dal Stevens, Jimmy Brockett, 1951.) Both a truncated spoonerism (become general) and a sort of back-slang, with words in reverse order and mystall (mistall) a partial form. Cf. the next.

myst all critey! An Australian euphemistic oath: since ca. 1920. Baker. A reversal of Christ Almighty.

myxo. Myxomatosis: Australian: since ca. 1945. (B., 1953.) But, since ca. 1950, also current in Great Britain.

mzuri! All right!: Army in Burma: 1943 +. (Swahili word, adopted from African native troops serving in Burma.) 'Everything mzuri, chum?': Gerald Hanley, Monsoon Victory, 1946.

N

N.A.B.U. See T.A.B.U.

N.B. Penniless; temporarily without money: C. 20. I.e. 'not a bean': with a pun on nota bene (N.B.), note well.

n.e. or N.E.—2. No earthly [chance]: ca. 1900–14.

N.I., often written N/I. Not interested: R.A.F.: 1938 +. Jackson. On the analogy of the official abbr., N.A. (or N/A), 'not available'.

na-hop. Without, lacking, deprived of: pidgin: mid-C. 19–20. Lit., no have. B. & L.

nab, v.—8. 'To take something to which one is entitled, but which is not in plentiful supply' (B.P.): mostly Australian: late C. 19–20. 'The hall is filling up; I'd better nab myself a seat.' Also jocular, as in 'Nab your partners for the barn dance'.

nab the bib (p. 548); also nab one's bib. The latter dates from late C. 18 and occurs in a ballad, The Rolling Blossom, written prob. ca. 1800 and reprinted in an American magazine, The Port Folio, Aug. 8, 1807 (p. 125):

'At the new drop I nabb'd my bib, While Will, my man, was swinging,
At the gin ken I took a swig, Reel'd home, blind drunk, a singing.'

(With thanks to Colonel A. F. Moe.)

nabu; sabu; tabu. Non-adjustable balls-up; self-adjusting balls-up; typical army balls-up: Army, esp. among New Zealanders and Australians in N. Africa: 1940–3. (J. H. Fullarton, Troop Target, 1943.) The Press, 1945 onwards, used the euphemistic box-up for balls-up.

nach. A variant of natch.

nadgers on, put the. (Of a co-worker supposed) to exercise, or to be exercising, an evil influence on equipment: R.A.F., Malta: since early 1940's. (Laurie Atkinson, who records hearing it on March 26, 1960.) Origin?

n'aff. See gnaff.

naff. Nothing: prostitutes': since ca. 1940. Origin? A shrewd and learned correspondent asks, 'Might the origin just possibly be "rien à faire"? Or perhaps "not a fuck"?' The latter is the more probable, yet far from a certainty.

Naffy, used as a pejorative adjective, connotes 'shirking': Services: since ca. 1940. Cf. the Navy's Naffy rating, a shirker. Here, the initials N.A.A.F.I. are interpreted as standing for 'No aim, ambition or fucking initiative'.

Naffy gong. The 1939–45 star: Services. Partidge, 1945, 'For the semantics, cf. rooty medal. It is also called the spam medal.' Ex the resemblance of N.A.A.F.I. shoulder-strap colours to the ribbon colours. See Naffy on p. 548 and cf. rooty gong on p. 705.

Naffy medal; Groppi gong. Both mean 'the Africa Star', but the former belongs to the 1st Army, the latter (from the famous Cairo confectioners) to the 8th Army: 1943 +.

Naffy Romeo. A ladies' man: R.A.F.: since 1940. Jackson.

Naffy rumour. A baseless report: Forces: 1939 +.

Naffy sandwich, deal a. To deal a hand of 2 cards + one card + 2 cards: Services poker-players': since ca. 1930 Ex relative thicknesses.

Naffy time (or hyphen or as one word). The morning break: R.A.F. coll.: 1939 +. H. & P.

nag, n.—4. A Diesel shunting engine of 350 h.p.: railwaymen's: since ca. 1955. (Railway 2nd.) A pun on nag, a horse.

nag off! Shut up!: Rossall School: late C. 19–20. Marples. Via 'Leave off nagging!'

nags, the. Horseracing; the races themselves: racing coll., mostly Australian: C. 20. (B.P.)

nail, n.—4. A valve: motor-cycle racers': from ca. 1927. Peter Chamberlain.

nail, v., 2 (p. 549), occurs in Boxiana, III, 1821, as v.i., 'to charge extortionately'.—10. To attract (customers) successfully: fairgrounds' and mock-auctions': late C. 19–20. See 'Mock Auction Slang'.

nail!, no. I beg your pardon; sorry, but it's true!: printers': from ca. 1870. B. & L.

nail-can. A top hat: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Shape.

nail-groper. One who sweeps or scours the streets in search of nails, old iron, etc.: Londoners': ca. 1830–70. Sinks, 1848.

nail in one's coffin (p. 549). Pierce Egan, Life in London, 1821, 'A glass of spirits is termed, among the we ones, adding "another nail to the coffin"!'

nail on the ready. To catch someone in the criminal act: police s.: ca. 1830–80. Sessions, Feb. 1839. See nail, v., 3 (p. 549).

nailers. (Very rare in the singular.) A hold on prospective buyers: grafters': C. 20. Philip Allingham, Cheappack, 1934, "'He's got his nailers out . . .'" I enquired what he meant by "nailers". . . . "Well, you see," he explained "he's got their shillings and he hasn't given them anything yet. So he's sort of nailed them down. They can't walk away. He can hold them as long as he likes."—2. See front up above.

naked, n. (p. 549) goes back to ca. 1810. It occurs in, e.g., W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (II, 134), 1829. Moe.

Nalgo. The N.A.L.G.O., or National Association of Local Government Offices (or -ers): coll.: since ca. 1935.

name, bite someone's; or sign one's hand (or name). To eat a meal paid for by another: Australian: since ca. 1925. B., 1942.

name is Simpson, not Samson,—my. See my name is Simpson.

me is Twyford, my. See Twyford (Addenda as as Dict.).

ie of, by the (p. 550). Probably elliptical for by the name of.

e on it, have one's (p. 550), was revived in World War II. (P-G-R.)

nameslop. Policeman: back s.: 1851, Mayhew, I; virtually † by 1910.

namma hole. Better gnamma hole, q.v.

nammas. A variant of namm(o)us, to depart hastily or speedily: Renton Nicholson, An Autobiography, 1860.

nammow (p. 550). Earlier in Mayhew, I, 1851.

nan, 2; nanna, 2; nanny, 5. Grandmother, both in reference and in address: lower classes' coll.: mid-C. 19–20. In nanny, 3, in the Dict., the term is more accurately to be defined as '(a) nursemaid'.

nan-nan. A man's straw hat: Australian: ca. 1880–1914. B., 1942. Ex Aborigine?

nana.—2. (Ex sense 1: p. 550. A soft fruit.) Esp. a right nana, a real softy: low: since ca. 1930.

nana (hair)-cut. A womanlike hair-cut, the back of the head being shaved clean: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. Short for banana . . . ?

Nancy Dawson.—2. An effeminate, lackadaisical youth: ca. 1887–1910. B. & L. Cf. Nancy boy (Dict.).

Nancy homey. An effeminate man, esp. a homosexual: late C. 19–20. (Sydney Lester, 1937.) See Nancy, 1 and 2, on p. 550; homey is a parlary word.

nanna, nanny. See nan (above).

nanny.—5. (Or nannie.) A nannygai (or sort of fish): Australian: since ca. 1930. (B., 1953.)—6. The tote (see nanny-goat—3.)

Sense 3 (p. 550) goes back to early C. 19. Fredk Chamier records it in 1832 in The Life of a Sailor at I, 5, 7, 8. (Moe.)

nanny-goat.—3. Usu. the nanny. Totalisator: racing s.: Rhyming on tote: since ca. 1925.—4. A boat: since ca. 1930; by 1960, slightly ob. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

Nansen passports. Passports given by the League of Nations after the War of 1914–18, to persons without nationality. Ex the name of a famous explorer.

nant; non nant. A swimmer; a non-swimmer: Eton: mid-C. 19–20. Marples. Latin nant, they swim; non nant, they do not swim.

nantee (p. 550) is, in C. 20, usu. written nanty, as in 'Nanty, my jills, I'm whacked' = No, my friend, I'm exhausted. (Lester, 1937.)

nants. A variant of nantee (p. 550), as in Cockney and theatrical nants for the dook, no money for the rent (cf. Duke of Kent, p. 247). Cited by Christopher Fry in The Sunday Times, May 28, 1950.

nantwas. Nothing: prostitutes': since ca. 1930. Perhaps a filling out of nants.

nanty, n. Nothing: parlary: mid C. 19–20. (Sydney Lester.) See nantee on p. 550.

nap, n.—10. Blankets; sleeping bag: Australian: C. 20. Archer Russell, A Tramp Royal, 1934. Ex S.E. nap, (short) sleep.

nap, v.—9. To be 'nappy' (q.v.): sporting: C. 20.

nap, take the. To pretend to have been struck, 'by slapping the hands together unseen by the audience': theatrical: from ca. 1860. B. & L.

nap (or knap) the slap. To know how to receive a blow without being hurt in rough-and-tumble clownery: showmen's: from ca. 1860. Hindley, cited by B. & L.

napper, 4 (the head). Earlier in Select Trials, from 1720 to 1724, pub. in 1734: perhaps orig. c.—7. In The News Chronicle of March 15, 1954, C. H. Rolph—article 'Give Him a Napper'—notes the following chimneysweeps' terms: (napper) "'That's the brush you screw on the doll. Oh, the doll's what we call the set of rods. . . ." . . . A chummy is an ordinary sweep.'

napper, do on one's. A Cockney variant of do on one's head. Clarence Rook, The Hooligan Nights, 1899.

nappy, n. beer (p. 551) occurs as late as J. H. Lewis, The Art of Writing, 7th ed., 1816, in the form nappy beer. (Moe.)

nappy, adj.—2. 'A horse that refuses to answer to the hand or leg, tries to go the way home instead of the way you want, or plays other tricks, is spoken of as "nappy". It is very common speech with all who own horses': sporting: since ca. 1860. Sessions, Sept. 1880. It is often applied to persons if they are recalcitrant or unamenable. Ex nab (or nap) the rust.

nar-nar. Over-smart, esp. if effeminately so: Australian: ca. 1910–40. Colin MacInnes, June in Her Spring, 1952, 'You're not going to wear those nar-nar shoes to the gymkhana, are you?' Perhaps = nah-nah = the expostulatory, genteel now, now!

narang. Small: Australian pidgin: C. 19. John Lang, The Forger's Wife, 1855.

narangy. A 'swell': Australian: ca. 1870–1910. 'Tom Collins', Such is Life, 1903. Ex Aboriginal.—2. Hence, one who puts on 'side'; a social climber: since ca. 1910. B., 1942.

nark, n., 2 (p. 551): 'no longer low slang in Australia' (B.P., 1963).—7. 'An expert; e.g. explosives nark,' W/Cdr Robin P. McDouall, letter of April 12, 1945: R.A.F.: since ca. 1937. (Cf. sense 2: at foot of p. 551.)—8. 'A visiting senior officer on a tour of inspection' (P-G-R): R.A.F.: since ca. 1939. nark it!—2. Hence (?) Stop it!: low (since ca. 1910) >, by ca. 1935, fairly gen.

narks, the; or a dose of the narks. That stupor which has been poetically described as 'the rapture of the depths' and is medically known as 'nitrogen narcosis': skin divers: since the late 1940's. (Wilfred Granville, Oct. 11, 1964.)

narky. Sarcastic: Cockney: C. 20. Michael Harrison, Reported Safe Arrival, 1943. Cf. nark, v., 4 (p. 552); but perhaps, in part at least, rhyming s. on sarky.—2. Ill-tempered: irritable: Australian: since ca. 1910. B., 1942. Ex nark, n., 2, on p. 551.

narp (p. 552) just possibly derives ex Fr. nappe.

nase nab. A red nose; a drunkard: c. (—1688); † by 1820. Randle Holme. See nase in the Dict.

nash, n. See nosh.

nasho. A National Service trainee: Australian: since ca. 1950. (B.P.) Cf. Natios, the, below.—2. (Nasho.) National Service Training: Australian: ca. 1945–60.—3. The Nasho, the National—later the Royal National—Park, near Sydney: Australian, mostly Sydneyites': since late 1940's. Hence, a pash show at Nasho, violent lovemaking at National Park. (B.P.)

Nasties, the. Germans: mid-1940 +. See Old Nasty.

nasturtiums, cast. To cast aspersions: jocular, mostly lower-middle class: C. 20; ob. By a kind of 'Hobson-Jobson' process.

nasty piece of work. An objectionable person: coll.: C. 20. Occ. nasty bit.

nat, in (all) one's. In one's life: Cockney: C. 20; ob. Pugh. Abbr. in one's natural.

natch! Of course!: Canadian: adopted, ca. 1945, ex U.S. Ex naturally! (Leechman.)

Nathans, the. The 'Jonathans', the Americans of the U.S.A.: Naval: ca. 1810-(?)40. The Night Watch, (II, 131), 1828, 'Our first trip was a regular-built poser to the Nathans. We landed on the banks of the Paxutent.' Also Nathan used collectively, as at II, 133, 'Nathan had Wellington's men to deal with.' (Moe.)

nation, adv. (p. 552): occurs, in U.S., earlier than 1788; e.g. in Anon., The Trial of Atticus (p. 26), 1771, 'He is a nation bawdy creature to talk' (Moe.)

National, the. National Assistance: coll.: since ca. 1946. 'He is doing well now—on the National.'

National Debt. A bet: theatrical rhyming s.: C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

national exhibition. 'An execution at the Old Bailey; a term of the late Douglas Jerrold's, but now usual,' H., 3rd ed., 1864; † by ca. 1880.

Nationals, the. The so-called 'National' daily newspapers: coll.: mainly journalistic: since ca. 1920.

Natios, the. National military training: Australian: since ca. 1950. (Dick.) Cf. Nasho above.

native (p. 552). Earlier in The London Guide, 1818, where it is recorded only as a plural.

native leave. Leave granted to men whose homes are in, or near, the port at which a ship is lying: Naval coll.: C. 20. (P-G-R.)

natives were hostile, the. Anti-aircraft fire was heavy: R.A.F. c.p., usually referring to air-raids over Germany: 1940-5. (P-G-R.) A jocular allusion to this common statement in books of exploration and travel.

Nats, the (p. 552). Also in Australia: ca. 1916-18. (Dal Stevens, Jimmy Brockett, 1951.)

natter. To talk aimlessly, endlessly, irritatingly; to talk when speech is forbidden. Services, esp. R.A.F.: since ca. 1938. H. & P.; Partridge, 1945, 'Perhaps a blend of nag and chatter. Hence the frequent verbal noun, nattering.'—2. Hence, to grumble in a minor way: R.A.F.: 1939 +. Jackson.

natter can. A person, esp. a 'Waaf', prone to excessive speech: R.A.F. 1941 +. Partridge, 1945. Ex prec.

natter party. 'A Conference which leads nowhere,' H. & P.: R.A.F.: since 1939. See natter.

nattum. Sexual intercourse: Australian low: C. 20. B., 1942. Arbitrary? Perhaps ex 'do the naughty'. Perhaps back-s. on mutton: cf. mutton, in her, on p. 546.

natty, adj., 2 (p. 553): cf. the quotation at twig, below.

natural, n.—6. One who has an inborn gift, whether musician or painter or writer or games-player 'or whatever'; a thing eminently suitable or adaptable (e.g. of a book: 'a natural for a film'): coll.: adopted, in early 1950's. ex U.S.—7.

Mostly in plural naturals, 'non-hip people', 'squares': beatniks, then hippies: since early 1960's. (Peter Fryer, Dec. 3, 1967, in The Observer.)

Natural Philosophy. See 'Tavern terms', § 3, d. nature of the beast, the. Eligible only when applied to things, not to animal life: coll.: since ca. 1910. 'This car tends to oversteer when cornered fast. It's the nature of the beast.' (B.P.)

nature run. A short leave ashore at night: Australian Naval: since ca. 1920.

Naughton and Gold. Cold (in the head): rhyming s.: since ca. 1945. Ex the famous music-hall pair. Franklyn 2nd.

naughty, n. A copulation: Australian: late C. 19-20. (D'Arcy Niland, The Big Smoke, 1959.)

naughty.—2. (Of an actor, actress) inferior: theatrical: late C. 19-20. Ngaio Marsh, Vintage Murder, 1938.

naughty, v. To coit with: Australian: C. 20. 'He naughties her.' Ex naughty, do the (p. 553).

naughty!, it's. It's dangerous!: c.p., c. and low: from ca. 1920.

nausea. A fuss; trouble: Royal Naval College, Dartmouth: since ca. 1950. John Winton, We Joined the Navy, 1959, 'I'd forgotten about the cap. I knew there'd be a nausea about it'; 'Keep this book up to date. It may save you a lot of nausea if you do.'

nauseate. To reprimand; to make life difficult for (someone): Navy: since ca. 1950. John Winton, We Joined the Navy, 1959, "'Have you tried the cable deck?" asked Michael. "He sometimes goes up there to nauseate the foo'sle men."'" Cf. nausea above.

nauseous. Objectionable: coll.: C. 18-early 19. E.g. nauseous toad, often used as a mild endearment (cf. filthy fellow). Article by H. C. K. Wyld in The Spectator, April 22, 1938.

Naussie. A New Australian (esp. a recent migrant from Europe): Aus.: since ca. 1950. (B., 1959.) A blend of New + Aussie.

Nautics, the. The Royal Navy: R.A.F.: World War II. Slightly derogatory. (Paul Brickhill, The Dam Busters, 1951.) But in later, non-R.A.F. use, only very slightly if, indeed, at all derogatory.

nav.—2. A navigator: Naval and R.A.F.: since ca. 1920. Commoner than navvy, 2.

Nav House, the (p. 553). The definition should rather be: 'The Navigation School situated in H.M. Dockyard, Portsmouth' (Commander John A. Poland).

naval bank holiday. A day spent in coaling the ship: Naval: since ca. 1925. (P-G-R.) An ironic pun on banking, or heaping up, coal.

naval engagement. Sexual intercourse: Canadian naval officers', hence more gen.: since ca. 1940. Navel to navel.

navigator. See 'Tavern terms', § 3, d.

Navigators' Union, the. 'A select, most unofficial body which met in pubs anywhere near a Bomber Station.' (John Bebbington): R.A.F.: ca. 1940-5.

navvy, 2. Also, derivatively, an Air Force or a Naval navigating officer: since ca. 1920. Jackson (at G.R. navvy), 1943; Partridge, 1945; Granville.

navvy's (or navvies') piano. A pneumatic drill: roadmakers' and builders': since ca. 1925.

navvy's Prayer Book, the. A shovel: navvies':

ca. 1870–1910. (D. W. Barrett, Navvies, 1880.) Ex the prayerful attitude involved in its use.

navvy's wedding-cake. Bread pudding: Services, esp. the R.A.F.: since ca. 1925. H. & P. Jackson.

Navy cake and the commoner Navy cut (ex Navy Cut tobacco), like chutney and port-hole duff, are synonymous with back-scuttle: low Naval: C. 20. Cf. golden rivet and:

Navy cake, have a bit of. To indulge in sodomy: Army and R.A.F.: since ca. 1918. An unmerited aspersion.

Navy chicken. Corned beef: Naval: since ca. 1917. In 1939–45, it also designated spam.

Navy fish, n. and adv. A Naval beard, a beard worn in the Naval fashion: since ca. 1930.

Navy House. The Sailor's Rest, Chatham: Naval: C. 20. Granville.

Navy's here, the. In The Daily Telegraph of May 29, 1968, we read: 'Adml. of the Fleet Sir Philip Louis Vian, who will always be remembered as "Vian of the Cossack", has died at his home near Newbury, Berks, aged 73.

'The famous cry "The Navy's here!" with which 299 British seamen were freed from the German supply ship Altmark in Jossing Fjord, Norway, in February, 1940, became a national catch phrase.

'Sir Philip revealed in "Action This Day", his war memoirs, that the cry was made by the then Lieut. Bradwell Turner, who was the leader of the destroyer Cossack's boarding party. . . . Resistance was overcome, and the prisoners were found under locked hatches in the holds. When these had been broken open, Lt. Bradwell Turner called: "Any British down there?" He was greeted with a shout of: "Yes, we're all British." "Come on up, then," the lieutenant said. "The Navy's here!"

This c.p., which was still extant in 1968, might well be compared with a U.S. c.p.: the Cavalry's here and the more recent the Marines have landed. Sometimes jocular, as when, for instance, addressed to or at a lone sailor entering a bar.

Nazi Goering. See 'Prisoner-of-War Slang', 6.

nazy (Dict.) derives ex Ger. nass, wet (B. & L.).

Neapolitan favour. Syphilis: euphemistic coll.: late C. 16–mid-17. Greene, Notable Discovery, 1591.

near enough. A variant of nigh enough. (Franklyn.)

near the foreman—near the door. A tailors' c.p. (mid-C. 19–20) verging on proverbial S.E. and implying that it is better to keep as far away from the foreman as possible. B. & L.

neat (p. 554). Cf. the Canadian teenagers' closely allied sense, 'very pleasing or attractive': since ca. 1956. (Leechman.)

neat but not gaudy (p. 554). A C. 20 elaboration is neat but not gaudy, chic but not bizarre.

neb.—2. A nebelwerfer (the German six-barrelled mortar): Army: 1940 (? 1939)–45. P-G-R. The German Nebelwerfer, lit. 'fog-thrower', has 'two distinct meanings: 1, a smoke-bomb mortar; 2, a cover-name (cf. "tank" as orig. used in English) for the multiple rocket-launcher (not a mortar), nicknamed "Moaning Minnie" by our Army, and similar to the Russian weapon called by them "Anooshka", and by the Germans "Stalin's organ" (H. R. Spencer).

Nebuchadnezzar (p. 554), sense 1. 'Only—I should think—it's a word-and-a-half just asking to be misused, as in "Nebuchadnezzar sold his wife for a pair of shoes"' (Julian Franklyn, 1962). This I accept, not as exclusive of, but as supplementary to, my origination.—3. Hence, a salad: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

necessaries, the or one's. The male genitals: raffish: since ca. 1940. Roderic Jefferies, Exhibit No. 13, 1962.

neck, n. Esp. have a neck, to be impudent, to make an outrageous request: Australian: C. 20. Baker.

neck, v.—4. To choke (a person): c.: mid-C. 19–20. Ex sense 1.

neck, get under (someone's). 'To outwit or anticipate a person' (B., 1959): Aus.: since ca. 1930.

neck, give one's. To give up; to become apathetic: English Midlands s.: C. 20. (F. B. Vickers, 1955.)

neck, lose or win by a (p. 554). The latter occurs in Bee, 1823, at p. 94.

neck, you give me a pain in the. See you give me the balls-ache.

neck and neck (p. 554). Also in E. Bulwer Lytton, My Novel, 1853.

neck-to-knees. A bathing costume covering the body from neck almost to knees: Australian coll.: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)

neck-warmer. The frill at the lower end of a nightdress: Australian: since the late 1940's. That's where—if still being worn at all—it tends to be found at the conclusion of conjugal love-making.

neckcloth. See neck-cloth (Dict.).

necker. A heavy fall: Australian: since ca. 1910. B., 1942.

necklace.—2. (Cf. sense 1.) A garrotter: Australian c.: C. 20. Baker.

ned.—3. Head: Australian: since ca. 1910. (Ruth Park, Poor Man's Orange, 1950.) Perhaps rhyming.

Ned Kelly. 'Any person of buccaneering business habits' (B., 1942): Australian coll.: C. 20. Ex the famous bushranger: whence also Kelly Gang, an unscrupulous firm or a tax-grabbing government: since ca. 1910. The actual Kelly Gang numbered four persons. See also game as Ned Kelly.—2. The belly: Australian rhyming s.: since ca. 1920. (Franklyn, Rhyming).—3. A story of the 'Deadwood Dick' kind: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943).—4. A poker machine: Australian: since ca. 1930. (B., 1943.)

Ned Kelly was hung—or hanged—for less. An Australian c.p. of gently jocular reproof or complaint, e.g. against taxation: since ca. 1945. The famous bushranger. (B.P.)

neddies, the. Racehorses; (almost) horse-racing in general: Australian: C. 20. (Dick.) Perhaps satirically ex neddy, 1, on p. 555.

need (something) like a hole in the head. To need it not at all: adopted, ca. 1950, ex U.S. needle, n.—5. Short for needle and pin (Dict.).—6. A hypodermic injection: Australian coll.: since ca. 1918. (Jon Cleary, Back of Sunset, 1959.) needle, v.—3. To 'winkle' or prize information from (someone); journalistic: since ca. 1940. The New Statesman, Jan. 12, 1946 (p. 1), "'Needled" from him by reporters.' Cf. sense 2 (p. 555).

needle, be on the. To be addicted to drugs requiring an injection: (esp. teenage) drug addicts': since ca. 1950. 'Implies a step from the theoretically non-addictive drugs to the more dangerous ones' (Dinah Greenwood). Cf. needle, n., 6, above—a sense that had, by ca. 1920, become fairly common in Britain.

needle, cop, get or take the.—2. (Only get the needle.) 'To lose much money at a game': card-players': from ca. 1870. B. & L.

needled. 'Inoculated before overseas service,' H. & P.: Services: since ca. 1930.

neg. A negative: photographers' coll.: C. 20.

neg driving. Negligent driving: (mostly Australian) motorists' coll.: since the late 1940's. (B.P.)

negateef! No!: R.A.F., hence other, personnel: since ca. 1955. A jocular alteration—prob. influenced by Fr. négatif—of negative. 'It's not uncommon for persons connected with flying to use "affirmative" and "negative" for "yes" and "no", this being R/T [radio telephone] procedure. Monotony is broken, and a feeling of "not on your Nellie" is implied by using "negateef": an R.A.F. officer, late in 1961.

negro head is an occasional variant of nigger-head: B., 1943.

neigho, pops! See 'jive'.

neither buff nor bum. Neither one thing nor the other: proletarian coll.: from ca. 1860; slightly ob. B. & L.

Nell!, not on your. Not on your life!: since ca. 1950. Short for not on your Nellie (below). Franklyn 2nd.

Nellie or Nelly. Sense 2 is earlier in 'Taffrail'. —3. Any cheap wine: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942.—4. (also nelly.) 'An effeminate, affected homosexual who makes public display of his homosexuality' (Lavender Lexicon, 1965): U.S.: partially adopted, ca. 1945, in Britain.

Nellie Bligh. An eye: English and Australian rhyming s.: C. 20.—2. A fly; in this sense usually Nellie Bly and mostly in plural: Aus. rhyming s.: since ca. 1910. Mary Durack, Keep Him My Country, 1955, "Thanks, Stan. I never was one for drinking with the Nelly Blys."

Nellie Duff!, not on your. Not likely!: a c.p.: 1939+. The New Statesman, Aug. 30, 1941. Nellie Duff rhymes on puff, 4 (p. 665).

Nelly. See Nellie.

Nelly's death. Cheap red wine: Australian: since ca. 1930. (Dal Stevens, The Gambling Ghost, 1953.)

Nelson. One pound, one shilling and one penny: bank cashiers': late C. 19–20. Folklore derives it ex 'Nelson's one eye, one arm and one anus'.

Nelson stock. 'Driver's window on one side and an indicator's board on the other (SR)': railwaymen's: C. 20. (Railway 2nd.) An allusion to Lord Nelson's lost eye.

Nelson's blood (p. 556) is, specifically, Navy rum: Naval lore has it that Nelson's corpse was pickled in rum in order to preserve it on its passage to England. Also, in C. 20, Aus.

neo-barrack. A jocularly disparaging adjective applied to 'the barrack-like architecture so common to-day' (A. B. Petch, March 1966): since early 1950's. To be aligned with North Oxford Gothic and Stockbrokers' Tudor below.

nerts! Nonsense!: low, though not always apprehended as low: adopted ca. 1935 ex U.S., where it is polite for nuts = balls (q.v. in Dict.).

nerve, 2, seems orig. to have been Etonian and to date from ca. 1880. B. & L.

nerve war, a. The making of constant complaints in order to get things done: Australian soldiers': 1940–5. (B., 1943.)

Nervo and Knox. Socks: rhyming s.: since ca. 1940. Ex the famous pair of entertainers. Mainly theatrical, as Franklyn 2nd reminds me.

nervous Nellies. American isolationists: 1939–41. Perhaps ex Nervous Nelly, 'Nickname of U.S. Secretary of State Kellogg, who gave his name to the 1928 Pact outlawing war' (Ramsey Spencer, 1967).

Nessie. The Loch Ness monster, often revived during 'the silly season': dwellers on Loch Ness, hence journalists': since late 1933. (It was on May 2, 1933, that the newspapers announced that a giant marine creature had been seen in Loch Ness.)

nest.—2. A 'stick' of aerial bombs: R.A.F.: since 1939. H. & P. See egg, 3 (Dict.).—3. An aerodrome: Australian airmen's: 1939–45. (B., 1943.) To which all the little aircraft fly home.

nest, be on the. To enjoy the gratification of the marriage bed: C. 20.

nesting(-)box; usually in pl. A Wren's cabin: Naval: 1939+. Granville.

net (p. 556). Sense 1 earlier in Mayhew, I, 1851, where also net-gen, 10 shillings.—3. See 'Guard-Room in Army Slang.'

net, be off. 'I'm a bit off net' = I don't quite get what you're trying to say: Army: 1941–5. The technical off net was applied to a wireless set not attuned to the collective needs of a unit. (P-G-R.)

net a load of rabbits. See trap.

neuc. '... Loading neuc boxes—which are the infant hives with one frame of brood and two stickies' (Kylie Tennant, The Honey Flow, 1956): Australian migratory bee-keepers': since ca. 1945. For 'nucleus'?

neux, n. and v. A fag; to fag; Woolwich: mid-C. 19–20; ?†. (Dr C. T. Onions, postcard of Oct. 25, 1940.) Ex new (boy, lad, chap).

never a dull moment! An ironic c.p. in time of danger or excitement: Naval: since ca. 1939, Granville.

never country or never land. 'Desert lands or remote areas in the far outback of Australia' (B., 1959): Aus. coll.: since ca. 1920. Ex never never, 1, on p. 557.

never do a. To shirk work: Naval: since ca. 1900. Granville.

never greens. Eucalyptus: Australian: late C. 19–20. B., 1942. Ironical.

never had it so good, you've or we've or they've or I've, or he's . . .; in American usage, you never had it so good. So far as Britain is concerned, the original was 'Our people have . . .' (Prime Minister Harold Macmillan): Nunquam id habuistis tam bonum, as it was jocosely rendered in Latin. But 'the Americans were using this idiom by the end of the Second World War, and possibly long before that. In German it is old-established, while in modern German it is heard a dozen times a day.' This, adds Dr Brian Foster (The Changing English Language, 1968), seems to indicate that 'we are dealing with an idiom carried over into American English by the speech-habits of German immigrants'—cf. I wouldn't know.

In The New Language of Politics, 1968, William Safire records that it was 'the Democratic party slogan in the 1952 Stevenson campaign against Eisenhower'.

never let it be said . . . ! A lower-class genteel c.p.: C. 20. W. L. George, The Making of an Englishman, 1914.

never-mention-'ems (p. 557) is perhaps elliptical for, but more prob. the basic form of, Oh-no-we-never-mention-'em, which occurs on p. 59 of C. J. R. Cook, The Quarter Deck, 1844. (Moe.)

never stand still. A variant of can't keep still.

neves (p. 557). Rather, since ca. 1845. Mayhew, I, 1851, has it in sense 'sevenpence'.—2. A seven-years' prison-sentence: c.: late C. 19–20. (Norman.) Short for neves stretch (p. 557).

nevy.—2. Hence, a schoolmaster's favourite: Tonbridge: late C. 19–20. Marples.

new boy. A new member of a ship's ward-room: Naval officers': 1939–45. (P-G-R.) Cf.:

new chum.—2. A newly arrived officer: Army officers': 1939–45. (P-G-R.)

new-chum gold. Iron pyrites: Australian: mid-C. 19–20. Baker. Very deceptive.

new hand. Synonymous with new chum (p. 557): Australian coll.: late C. 19–20. (B., 1943.) By 1959 †: B., The Drum.

new jacks. Junior players in a football club: since ca. 1925.

new one on me, it's (or that's) a. First time I've heard of, or seen, that being done: c.p.: since ca. 1910.

New River Head (or h-), the. Tears: a London c.p. of ca. 1820–30. Bee, 'A watery head hath the wife, whose nob, like Niobe's, is a tears; sometimes termed "the New River head", after an elevated back-water near Islington.'

new tick. A new boy: certain Public Schools': from ca. 1880. George Orwell, Burmese Days, 1935. Prob. suggested by new bug (Dict.).

New Year revolution. A New Year resolution: Australian jocular: since ca. 1950. (B.P.)

New York nippers. Kippers: rare rhyming s.: C. 20. Franklyn, Rhyming.

Newgate gaol (or jail). A tale: mid-C. 19–20. Rhyming.

Newk. Newcastle: Durham and Newcastle undergraduates': C. 20. (Marples, 2.)

Newland (see Abraham Newland on p. 2) occurs in W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (I, 21), 1829. Moe.

Newlicks. See Noolucks.

newly wed. A sergeant recently promoted to a lieutenantancy: Australian soldiers': 1939+. B., 1942.

news(-)hawk or news(-)hound. A reporter: journalistic: adopted, ca. 1925, from U.S.; by 1938, coll.

News of the World. A very long letter, containing nothing of note, from a woman: jocular: since ca. 1930.

newsie (or -sy), n. A newspaper seller: mostly Australian: C. 20. (B., 1953.)

newsy. Gossipy; full of news: late C. 19–20: coll. >, by 1940, familiar S.E.—2. Occ. euphemistically for nosey, inquisitive: since ca. 1930.

Newt. A Neutral vessel: Naval: 1914–18, and since.

newt, drunk as a. Very drunk indeed: mostly Forces, esp. Army's: C. 20. Perhaps more often tight as a newt, ex the newt's tight, glossy skin. Cf. tight as a drum (p. 885).

Newton got him or took him. See old Newton.

Newton Heath. Teeth: Manchester rhyming s.: C. 20. (Jacob Jaffe, 1959.) Ex the industrial suburb so named.

Newts. Newtown footballers: Sydneyites': since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.)

Newy. Newcastle (N.S.W.): Australian: since ca. 1910. (B., 1953.)

newy.—2. A new one; a newcomer: Australian coll.: C. 20. (H. Drake-Brockman, Hot Gold, 1940; Cusack & James, Come in Spinner, 1951.)—3. (Also newie.) A new trick, as in 'That's a newy on me!': Australian: since ca. 1925.—4. A new story: Australian: since ca. 1930. (B.P.)

next time you make a pie, will you give me a piece? A man's c.p. suggestion to a girl that she should co-operate: Canadian: ca. 1895–1914.

next week, on for. A c.p. applied to a clock that is very fast: since ca. 1920.

Niagara Falls.—2. Balls (physiological): rhyming: C. 20. Michael Harrison, Reported Safe Arrival, 1943.

nib-like. See niblike (Dict.).

nibbets. A Canadian synonym, late C. 19–20, of clinkers, 2 (p. 160).

nibble, have a. 'To have the best of the bargain, or an easy, well-paid job' (B. & L.): tailors': mid-C. 19–20. See also nibble, get a in Dict.—2. To coit: low: C. 20. Ex nibble, v., 3 (Dict.).

nibbling. Taking out a girl fairly regularly, fairly often; courting: Services: since ca. 1925. H. & P. Cf. nibble, 4 (Dict.).

nice, n. See piece of nice.

nice as pie. (Of persons) very polite, very sweet and agreeable: coll.: since ca. 1910.

nice (or lovely) drop of. A coll. formula, dating since ca. 1935; e.g., nice drop of work—sock—tie—jacket, etc.; 'plurals are never employed in this phrase' (Atkinson).

nice pair of eyes, she has—or she's got—a. She has a shapely figure: c.p.: since ca. 1960.

nice work! A c.p. in approval of a favourable arrangement or of a good piece of work: since ca. 1930. Since ca. 1944, often extended to nice work—if you can get it!

nicely, thank you!, used as adj. for 'mildly exhilarated with liquor', as in 'He's nicely, thank you': Society: since ca. 1930; by 1950, slightly, and by 1960 very, ob. Ngaio Marsh, Death in a White Tie, 1938.

Nick. The inseparable nickname of men surnamed Carter: since ca. 1880. Ex the pseudonym Nick Carter, author of detective novels (1870 onwards).

nick, n., 6 (p. 559) seems to be very much older than I had supposed, for it is recorded in a song 'attributed to Ben Jonson', published by an American magazine, The Port Folio, April 14, 1804, at p. 120:

'Or else, unseen, with them I go,
All in the nick
To play some trick,
And frolick it with ho, ho, ho!'

(Colonel Moe.)

—10. A winning throw at dice: gamblers':

ca. 1660–1750. Shadwell, The Sullen Lovers, 1668; Dryden, An Evening's Love, 1668; Otway, The Atheist, 1684. (Thanks to John Cannon, Esq.) Cf. sense 1 of the v.: p. 559.—11. Natal cleft at the fold of the buttock: low: late C. 19–20.

nick, v.—8. Also nick off. To depart, esp. if promptly or speedily: Australian late C. 19–20. B., 1942.

nick, do a. To decamp: Aus.: C. 20. (B., 1959.) Cf. the preceding entry.

nick, down the. (Of a locomotive) short of steam: railwaymen's: C. 20. (Railway.)

nick, in good. Physically fit: coll.: C. 20. (Very common in New Zealand.) Ex nick, n., 6, on p. 559.

nick, in the. In the nick of time: coll.: mid-C. 19–20.

nick off. See nick, v., 8.

nickels. Leaflets dropped: R.A.F.: 1939–40.

nickers, 3 (p. 560). Also Australian: B., 1942.—4. A cigarette-end: Liverpool: since ca. 1930. 'You nick it out on a wall.' (Frank Shaw, April 24, 1952; he compares the synonymous Cardiff dimmer.) Cf. nicky, 2 (p. 560).

Nicknames. To the list of 'inevitable' or inseparable nicknames on p. 560, add these (which I owe to Mr Albert B. Petch): Cock Robins, hence Robinson, ex the nursery rhyme; Dickie (or -y) Bird; Foxy Reynolds—an allusion to Reynard the fox; Ginger Smith (as well as Jones); Jonah Jones; Lefty Wright; Peeler Murphy, so many Irishmen being in the police force; Rabbit Hutchin(g)s, hence Hutchinson (a rabbit's hutch); Sandy Brown; Taffy Davies (Davis); Tubby Martin. And these, from Gerald Kersh, They Die with Their Boots Clean, 1941: Captain Kidd (from the buccaneer); Iron Duke, hence Dukes (of Wellington); Muddy Waters, hence Waterson; Spider Kelly (ex a boxer's nickname?). And Stitch Taylor: G. Kersh, Clean, Bright and Slightly Oiled, 1946.

Nicknames of British Association Football teams.

A few—e.g. Canaries, Gunners, Hammers, Magpies—occur in the Dict. proper. Here is an incomplete list of others. All are preceded by the; all are s., except the few classified as coll. (I owe most of them to Mr Albert B. Petch.)

Addicks	Charlton Athletic
Borough	Middlesbrough
Cestrians	Chester
Dons	Aberdeen
Fifers	East Fife
Filberts	Leicester
Forest	Nottingham Forest: coll.
Gills	Gillingham
Glaziers	Crystal Palace
Grecians	Exeter City
Imps	Lincoln City
Latics	Oldham
Lions	Colchester (?)
Moorites	Burnley
Orient	Leyton Orient: coll.
Owls	Sheffield Wednesday
Paraders	Bradford (?)
Pilgrims	Plymouth
Rangers	Queen's Park Rangers: coll.
Reds	Manchester United
Robins	Bristol City
Saddlers	Walsall (?)
Seasiders	Blackpool
Tangerines	Blackpool (?)

Trotters Bolton Wanderers

Villains Aston Villa

niente—usually nanty—crackling. Female pudend: low: since ca. 1910. Cf. crackling.

niff. A sniff: Cockney: late C. 19–20. A. Neil Lyons, Arthur's, 1908.—2. An unpleasant odour: C. 20. Prob. ex the v. (see the Dict.).

niff-naff; esp. in Don't niff-naff, 'stop fussing and get cracking' (Jackson): R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. A variant reduplication of niff, which seems to combine niggle and fuss.

nifty; gen. bit of nifty. Sexual intercourse: c., and low: late C. 19–20.

nig, n., 4 (p. 561), can prob. be dated back to ca. 1840. (W. H. Blanch, Bluecoat Boy, 1877.)

nig pig. A native (of a coloured, i.e. non-white, race): R.A.F.: since ca. 1925. Jackson. Ex nigger pig?

nigger.—4. A member of a clique: Dalton Hall, Manchester: since ca. 1925. Hence, niggery, cliqueness. The Daltonian, Dec. 1946.—5. A blackfish (a luderick): Aus. fishermen's: late C. 19–20. Nino Culotta, Gone Fishin', 1963.

nigger, work like a. To work extremely hard: coll.: since ca. 1830 in U.S. and since ca. 1890 in Britain, where it began, ca. 1965, to > slightly ob.

nigger-head. 'An anthill-like peak of coral showing above water' (Baker): Australian pearl-fishers' and sailors': late C. 19–20.

niggers in the snow is the usual post-1920 form of the 'prunes and rice' sense of niggers in a snow-storm (p. 561). Granville.

niggers' knackers. Prunes: R.A.F.: since ca. 1925. Cf. the preceding entry.

niggly. Bad-tempered, esp. about trifles: coll.: since ca. 1910. 'Oh, don't be so bloody niggly!'

niggly(-)gouger. A finicky, tiresome fellow: Naval: since ca. 1930. (Irving's Royal Navalese, 1946.) Ex preceding.

night(-)bind. A turn of night duty: R.A.F. (esp. N.C.O.s): since ca. 1930. Gerald Emanuel, letter of March 19, 1945. See bind.

night-fossick, n. 'To steal gold by night' (Baker): Australian: mid-C. 19–20. See fossick and night-fossicker, in Dict.

night hawk.—2. A thief; a prostitute: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

night owl. One who keeps late hours; one who works through the night: Australian coll.: since ca. 1920. (B.P.)

night starvation. Sexual deprivation, lack of sexual intimacy: since ca. 1938. By a pun on the advertisements that urge us to take a drink of this or that 'delicious beverage' before we go to bed.

night watchman. A (usually a second-rate) batsman sent into 'hold up an end' until the close of play: cricketers': 1946 +. The Daily Telegraph, May 6, 1948, in a report by E. W. Swanton.

nightshade or deadly n. 'A shameless prostitute of the very lowest class' (B. & L.): from ca. 1860; ob.

nighty night! Good night!: nursery—and jocular—coll.: since ca. 1910.

nignog. A fool: Army: late C. 19–20. Perhaps ex nigmenog (p. 562).—2. Hence, a raw recruit: Army: since ca. 1925. By 1960, fairly common general s.

nik, 'as a suffix is common in Yiddish slang.

It refers to a person of not much account and may follow a Yiddish word or its English equivalent, as in "He's a boozernik—or gamblernik—or spielernik". It is as old as all other Yiddishisms' (Julian Franklyn, letter of 1962). Cf. Beatnik above.

nine. See niner, 3, below. 'A nine-gallon keg of beer' (Culotta): Australian coll.: since ca. 1920.

nine-acre smile. A very broad grin, indicating supreme satisfaction: Canadian coll.: since ca. 1930. (Leechman.)

ninepence over the wall, 'nine days' C.C.': see over the wall and cf. sevenpence over the wall.

ninepennyworth. See sixpennyworth.

niner.—3. A woman nine months pregnant: Australian: since ca. 1920. (Dal Stevens, Jimmy Brockett, 1951.)

nineteen. In games, a score of nothing (nought): public-house: C. 20. At cribbage one cannot score 19.

nineteener. A swindler, sharper: an opportunist loafer: Australian c.: C. 20. B., 1942. A plausible talker 'nineteen to the dozen'.

ninety days' wonder. A newly commissioned Second Lieutenant: Army: since ca. 1946. Perhaps an adaptation of the U.S. ninety-day wonder (hence . . . blunder), applied during W.W. II to Second Lieutenants obtaining their position by passing a 90-days' course after being selected from 'other ranks', as Robert Clairborne thinks possible.

ninety-nine, a hundred, change hands! A scurrilous imputation of self-abuse: C. 20. (Cf. change hands: the number 50 in tombola: John Irving. Royal Navalese, 1946.)

ning-nog. See:

ning-nong. A nincompoop, a naturally foolish person: Australian: since ca. 1930; by 1963 (B.P.), ob. An assimilation of nincom(poop) and a variant of ningnog, itself a variant of nignog (above); perhaps influenced by ning-nang (p. 563).

ninon over Nanon. (Of a woman wearing) a silk nightdress with nothing under it: Australian feminine c.p.: since ca. 1925. A pun on none on.

nip, n.—5. A child: Australian: since ca. 1920. (Cusack & James, Come in Spinner, 1951.) Short for synonymous nipper.

nip, adj. Cheeky, impudent: Marlborough College: since ca. 1920. His speech nips.

nip-cheese (p. 563), a ship's purser, has the occ. variant Mr Nip, as in W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (II, 168), 1829. Moe.

nip for it, make a. To try to escape at a run; e.g. from a train: Forces', but esp. prisoner-of-war: 1940–5. (Guy Morgan, Only Ghosts Can Live, 1945.) Cf. the civilian coll. nip along, to make haste.

nip in or nip in smartly or nip smartly in. To take advantage of an opportunity: Forces' (1939–45), hence general. Ex a drill formula.

nipper.—8. A prawn: Australian: late C. 19–20. Baker. Cf. senses 2, 3: p. 563.—9. That junior member of any gang who 'fags' for the others: railwaymen's: C. 20. (Railway.) Ex sense 2 on p. 563.—10. See greyhound above.

nippers.—6. 'Sound yarn taken from condemned cordage and marled together,' Granville: Naval: C. 20. Pinched or 'nipped' together.

nippy, adj. Fairly cold: coll.: late C. 19–20.

Cf. 'It's a bit nippy', as understatement of the fact that it's damned cold. Ex English dialect.

nippy with the weight. (Of a shopkeeper) giving short weight or, grudgingly, the bare weight: since ca. 1920.

Nips. Japanese: adopted, ca. 1941, from U.S. Ex Nipponese.

nishte. Nothing: low s.: since ca. 1918. (Robin Cook, 1962.) Via Yiddish ex Ger. nichts.

nit, n.—5. A simpleton, a moron, a fool: Australian: since ca. 1925. Baker. Short for nit-wit. Also, since ca. 1945, common in Britain.—6. Usually in pl. nits, whiskers: Liverpool: C. 20. Harbourage.

nit, v. As in "Nit the jorrie (Leave the girl alone)!" he yelled. "Nark it! Nark it!" MacArthur & Long: C. 20. Prob. ex nix.—2. To decamp: Australian low: C. 20. Baker. Perhaps ex keep nit (Dict.).

nit amang 'em! 'Nothing doing!': low Scottish: from ca. 1920.

nit-keep, v. and n. To keep watch; one who does this: Aus. c.: C. 20. (B., 1959.) Also nit-keeper. (B., 1942.)

Nitchie. A Prairies Indian: Canadian: since ca. 1910.

nitto! Stop! or Be quiet!: c.: since ca. 1940. (John Gosling, The Ghost Squad, 1959.) Perhaps cf. keep nit on p. 450.

nitty (p. 564) is Naval rather than merely nautical and it prob. goes back to ca. 1810 or even to ca. 1790; W. N. Glascock, The Naval Sketch-Book (I, 22), 1825, has it. Moe.

[nitty, adj. See 'Epithets'. Prob. always S.E.]

nitty. Idiotic: since late 1950's. Patricia Moyes, Murder Fantastical, 1967, 'If the girl was nitty enough to contemplate marrying him, she was only getting what she deserved.' Ex nit, short for nit-wit.

nix fish-tins. See 'Prisoner-of-War Slang', para 1.

nix on it! Stop that!: Australian low: C. 20. B., 1942. See nix! in Dict.

nixes! Don't do that!: Milton Junior School, Bulawayo: since ca. 1925. Cf. prec. entry.

nixies. A female's drawers: from 1933. Not ex S.E. knickers but ex nix, 1, as an advance on scanties.

nn for nd is a characteristic of Cockney: C. 19–20—and prob. older still. E.g. unnerstand and wunnerful.

no-bill. See non-air.

no bottle, as in 'It's no bottle'. No good: Services': C. 20.

no chance! An emphatic negative: coll., mostly Australian: C. 20. (B.P.)

no comment! 'A jocular catchphrase in imitation of politicians and prominent people who often say this when they are being pestered by reporters and TV interviewers' (Petch): since late 1950's.

no dice; no soap. The deal's off: Canadian: since ca. 1940. The latter, fairly common elsewhere in the British Commonwealth, probably rhymes on no hope.

no, don't tell me—I'll (or let me) guess! A c.p.: since ca. 1941. Sometimes no is omitted; occ., now is substituted for no.

no flies (p. 565). In sense 1, there is an Aus. variant: (there are) no flies about So-and-So: B., 1959.

no future . . . See future at all.

no go (p. 565) occurs a little earlier in Boxiana, IV, 1824. It prob. goes back to ca. 1800; it occurs in W. N. Glascock, Sketch-Book (I, 36), 1825. Moe.

no-go, n. A failure; something unfair or obstructive: Australian: late C. 19–20. B., 1942. Ex no go . . . (Dict. and Add.).

no good, a bit of. See bit of . . .

no good, do a bit of. See bit of . . .

no good to Gundy. (Very) unsatisfactory: Australian: C. 20. (B., 1943.) Who was Gundy? Also no good to gundybluey or to gunty: B., 1959.

no good to me! Won't satisfy me by far!: coll. c.p.: from ca. 1880. (Anstey, Voces Populi, I, 1890.)

no-gooder. A selfish, or a cynical, person given to adverse criticism of the 'do-gooders' and, indeed, all good-workers: coll.: since the late 1950's.

no guts! A derisive exhortation—a 'dare'—to do something dangerous: Londoners': since ca. 1920. Hence also, since ca. 1940, Forces'. Cf. guts, without, on p. 363.

no hank! See hank, n., in Dict.—2. At the end of a speaker's discourse, it = 'I am not deceiving you!'; as a question to the speaker at the end of his discourse, it = 'I hope you're not deceiving me?': Cockneys' s. (from ca. 1870) >, by 1920, coll. Either ex hanky-panky or, much less prob., ex hank, v. (see Dict.).—3. Hence, impudence; insolence: Cockneys': C. 20. 'Nah then, go orf teh bed, you young 'Arry—no 'ank!'

no harm in looking. 'The motto of husbands and boy friends whose eyes wander' (B.P.): esp. Australian: C. 20.

no hat brigade, the. A synonym of the hatless brigade, q.v., and indeed more common.

no hide, no Christmas box. An Australian c.p., referring to some specific example of 'hide' (impudence, excessive self-assurance) and meaning 'no hope of that!' or 'I certainly won't!': since ca. 1930. (B.P.)

no-hoper. A hopeless case: Australian coll.: since ca. 1915. Lawson Glassop, We Were the Rats, 1944, "'Is he bad?" I asked.—"A no-hoper, Mick. Copped two in the guts."—2. An outsider, a horse with little, or no, chance: Australian racing s.: since ca. 1919. Lawson Glassop, Lucky Palmer, 1949.

no-hoping. Hopeless: Australian: since ca. 1920. 'Argles's youngest brother was a no-hoping ratbag. . . He was a true bludger' (Dick). Cf. no-hoper, 1.

no joke, it's. It is far from being a joking matter: coll.: C. 20.

no joy. See joy.

no kidding! Truly; honestly; I'm (you're, etc.) not fooling: Canadian c.p.: adopted, ca. 1910, ex U.S. (Leechman.)

no lets. See lets, no (Dict.).

'no' man. The opposite of a yes man (p. 970): coll.: since ca. 1940.

no matter for. No matter: sol.: from ca. 1870. Nevinson, 1895, 'Some'ow she turned 'erself out neater nor the ordinary, no matter for what she 'ad on.'

no matter for that, you shall carry the rake. 'If you tax a Girl with playing the loose [i.e. being unfaithful], she shall immediately reply, No matter . . .', Anon., Tyburn's Worthies, 1722: Essex c.p.: ca. 1715–40. A rural piece of sexual imagery:

'You shall have the raking, the harrowing' (compare the Lucretian plough the fields of woman).

no more chance than a snowball in hell, e.g. he has. (He has) no chance at all: c.p. C. 20.

no nail! See nail!, no.—no object. See object, no.—no thanks. See thanks!, no.

no rest for the wicked!, occ. preceded by there's. A c.p. uttered either by or about someone who isn't wicked at all but is being kept extremely busy: late (? mid) C. 19–20. Partly an ironic jocularly, partly ex several Biblical references.

no second prize! 'A c.p. used when someone makes an unoriginal suggestion' (B.P.): Australian: since ca. 1945.

no show without Punch, often preceded by there's. A c.p., applied to—or directed at—a ubiquitous person: mostly lower-middle class: late C. 19–20.

no soap. Not a hope: rhyming s. (on no hope): adopted, in early 1930's, ex U.S.

no tell. A frequent—indeed, a c.p.—assurance made by someone asked to keep a secret: since ca. 1945.

no wanchee. 'Pidgin English for "I don't want it, thank you"' (Granville): much used in the Navy, esp. on 'China-side': late C. 19–20.

Noah's ark.—5. A very dull, stupid, fellow: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942, 'A rhyme on "nark"'. nob, n.—10. See knob, n., 5.—11. Linking with sense 4 is that of: an expert or a champion in sport, esp. in boxing: since ca. 1810. Thus, 'Several new nobs have made their appearance in the pugilistic hemisphere since April, 1818,' Boxiana, III, 1821.—12. See knob, n., 6.

nob, scuttle a (or one's). See scuttle a nob.

nob fake. Hair-restorer: showmen's: since ca. 1885. See fake, n., 6.

nobbet; esp. n., round. To collect the money; esp. in turn: itinerant minstrels' and tavern-singers': from ca. 1860. B. & L. Ex Romany but suggested by nob, v., 2.

nobbler, 1 and 3 (p. 566): prob. since ca. 1840. Sinks, 1848, defines it as a blow or a thump.—7. Current in England by 1856 (Sessions, June 19).

nobby, n. Sense 2: earlier in 'Taffrail'.—4. Nobbie (or -by), 'used when name of colleague is not known' (The Evening News, April 27, 1954): busmen's: since ca. 1940. Ex sense 2 (p. 566).

nobes, like. 'Like nobody's business'—very well indeed: Feb. 1941, The English Digest, Hector Bolitho's article; ob. by 1947.

nobody, that devil. A c.p. applied to the person causing an accident, or responsible for an error, when no one admits culpability: C. 20.

Nocky Knight (see nocky, 2, on p. 567) perhaps, as Mr Albert Petch has suggested, derives ex 'nocturnal'.

nod the nut. See bow the crumpet above.

noddy. A '100 h.p. diesel shunter 0-4-0' (Railway, 3rd): since late 1950's.

Noggies. Koreans: United Nations troops': ca. 1951–5 in Korea. (Iddiwah, July 1953.) Fanciful? Perhaps cf. noggy (p. 567). Also Nogs: B., 1953.

noggin (p. 567), the head, is 'still heard occ. in Britain and often in Australia' (B.P., 1965).

noise, make a. To break wind audibly: euphemistic coll.: C. 19–20.—2. (Of a horse) to be broken-winded: stables': mid-C. 19–20. Cf. roar in same sense.

noise like a —, make a (p. 567), dates from ca. 1908. Baden Powell, in his Scouting for Boys, instructed scouts in danger of detection to take cover and make a noise like a (say) thrush; P. G. Wodehouse brought out, with humorous illustrations, a skit on this particular piece of scout-craft, and the phrase took the public fancy. (Communicated by W. McFarlane, Esq.)

noise the edge. See 'Mock-Auction Slang' above.

nok, n. Nose: showmen's: mid-C. 19–20. Neil Bell, Crocus, 1936. Adopted direct ex Romany.

non-air or no-bill. A non-union railroad employee: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931).

non-Aryan. See Aryan.

non compos. Not in one's right mind: coll.: mid C. 19–20. Elliptical for the legal non compos mentis.

non-flam (film). Non-inflammable: filmland: since ca. 1915. Cameron McCabe, The Face, 1937.

non-frat. Order(s) forbidding fraternization: Army: 1944–6 (? later). P-G-R. See frat, v.

non-nant. See nant.

Non-Skid. A Jew: low: C. 20. Richard Llewellyn, None But the Lonely Heart, 1943. Rhyming on Yid: cf. tea-pot lid.

nonch. Completely at one's ease; utterly relaxed: Teddy boys': ca. 1955–60. (Gilderdale, 2.) Ex nonchalant.

nong or nong-nong. A fool: Australian: since ca. 1945. 'The word nong probably Aboriginal; the reduplicated form has been influenced by Aboriginal names and such expressions as woop-woop' (Edwin Morrisby, letter of Aug. 30, 1958). Barry Prentice, however, states that nong is short for nong compos, an Australian assimilation of L. non compos and is no more an Aboriginal word than, say, the Nullarbor (L. null 'arbor, no tree, hence, 'treeless') Plain. Cf. ning-nong above.

nonsense.—4. A fiasco: since ca. 1938. In, e.g., Peter Cheyney, The Stars Are Dark, 1943.—5. A piece of nonsense; an absurdity, e.g. a charmingly outrageous toque or hat; make a nonsense, to make nonsense, to make no sense, to mean nothing sensible: since early 1950's.

nonsense, stand the. See stand . . .

nonsense I'd like some of it!, if that's. 'A c.p. retort to reproof, for talking smut' (Atkinson): since ca. 1925.

noodles. Nickname for a noodle: Society: from ca. 1840; ob. B. & L.

nooky. Sexual intercourse: middle-class and almost polite; certainly a kind of baby-talk: late C. 19–20. Perhaps ex S.E. nooky, resembling a nook, characterized by nooks, but probably related to nug, v, and nugging (p. 573).—2. Hence, a girl, a woman regarded sexually: since ca. 1920.

Noolucks or Newlicks. An imaginary person: 1848, Sinks; † by 1890. Cf. cheeks, 3, and joe, 10.

nor an 'un. Thus Blaker: "'Nor an' un'" (this phrase was his masterpiece of thoughtful emphasis), 'nor an' 'un of us knows 'is ears from 'is elbows when it comes to learning' (vbl n.). This clarifies the too brief Dict. entry.

Norfolk dumpling, the. The (practice of) sending convicts to Norfolk Island: Australian c.: ca. 1820–70. B., 1942. Conditions on Norfolk Island (800 miles east of Sydney) were appalling; Norfolk dumplings lie heavy on the stomach—fair 'settlers', as was a term on the Island. (See Underworld.)

norgies (mostly a feminine usage); norgs and rare norkers (both mostly masculine). Female breasts: Australian low: since ca. 1950. The -g- forms derive ex norkers, itself deriving ex those advertisements for Norco butter which show a copiously uddered cow. (B.P.)

norping, vbl. n. See norp (Dict.).

north about, he's gone. A nautical c.p. referring (from ca. 1860) to a sailor that has met his death by other than drowning. B. & L.

north and south (p. 569). No; prob. thirty years earlier. Augustus Mayhew, Paved With Gold, 1857.

north end of a horse going south, the. See horse's arse.

North Oxford Gothic. Bogus Gothic architecture: since late 1940's; by 1960, coll.; by 1966, almost S.E. Cf. Stockbrokers' Tudor below.

North Pole. Anus: since ca. 1870. Rhyming on hole.

North Sea Grunters. A flotilla of frigates doing patrol work in the North Sea during the Napoleonic Wars. Naval. (W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (II, 115), 1829.) Moe.

North Sea pheasant. A kipper: nautical: late C. 19–20. Cf. North Sea Rabbits (p. 569).

Northern, the. King's Cross railway station: London taxi-drivers' coll.: since ca. 1905. Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939. The most important of the lines serving the North; also, it is in North London. Cf. Western, the, Paddington station: id.: id. Ibid.

Northern tike. See Yorkshire tike (Dict.).

northwester. A drink, a glass, of potent liquor: Naval: 1830, Fredk Marryat, The King's Own (p. 141 of the 1896 edition); app. † by ca. 1900. Moe.

Norwegian Towns. 'Hobson-Jobsoned' by the Army in 1940–1: Bergen > Brummagem; Lillehammer, Littlehampton; Oslo, Oh-slow; Steinkier, Stinker.

nose, n.—4. The nose = the front of a surfing-board: Australian surfers' coll.: since ca. 1950.

nose, v.—5. To hit (someone) on the nose: low: 1885, M. Davitt, A Prison Diary; by 1920, ob.; by 1940, virtually †.

nose, get up one's. To upset, annoy, irritate, render 'touchy'; since ca. 1935. Cf. snuff, give (p. 796).

nose, make a long. See long nose, make a (Dict.).

nose, on the.—2. Objectionable; no good: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Ex have a nose on, to dislike, bear a grudge against (someone): Australian: ca. 1860–1920: 'Tom Collins', Such Is Life, 1903.—3. Smelly: Australian: since ca. 1910. Kylie Tennant, Lost Haven, 1947; B., 1953.

nose and chin.—3. A win (on, e.g., the horses): bookmakers' rhyming s.: C. 20. Franklyn, Rhyming.

nose-ender, 1. Also in nuance 'a fall on one's nose; a punch that causes one to fall thus': 1901, Jerome Caminada, Twenty-Five Years of Detective Life, vol. II.

nose is bleeding, your. See your nose is bleeding.

nose is dirty, one's. See 'Tavern terms', § 2.

nose-scratch or peek-a-boo. A very sketchy salute: Services: since ca. 1938. H. & P.

nosegent. See nose-gent. (Dict.) noser-my-knacker. As nosey-me-knacker in Mayhew, I, 1851.

nosey (or nosy), n., esp. in take a noseay around, to take a look around, as a detective does at the scene of a crime: since ca. 1950. Ex nosey, adj. (p. 571); perhaps influenced by mosey (p. 533).

nosh, n. See the next. Among beatniks, this sense arose ca. 1958. (Anderson.) Orig., in Yiddish, of food eaten between meals.

nosh, v. To acquire furtively: children's: C. 19-20. (Atkinson.) Origin? Perhaps ex Ger. naschen, to eat on the sly, to nibble secretly; cf. Ger. Nascherei, a nibbling of dainties on the sly. Also spelt nash.—Hence, nosher, one who samples food before buying; a greedy person: mid C. 19-20. If ex German, it comes via Yiddish; 'In the 1960's this verb seems to have come to mean "to eat heartily and quite openly". I have frequently heard it used in this sense by radio comedians. As a noun, it seems now to mean just "food", "a meal"' (H. R. Spencer, communication of Sept. 17, 1965).

Nosh is properly 'to sample desirable food voluptuously, surreptitiously. . . . One eats breakfast or lunch, but one noshes in between': Guy Deghy, 'Leave Me the Noshers' in The Observer, Nov. 3, 1957. He also notes the frequent noshing used as noun.

nosh down. To eat a meal: beatniks': since ca. 1959. (Anderson.) Cf. nosh, v., above.

nosh-up. A bout of eating; a banquet: since ca. 1959. Ex nosh, v., above.

nosy, n. See nosey above.

not a bone in the truck, as in 'Ten o'clock, and not a bone in the truck', expressive of time-wasting during working-hours: ? Australian and ? factories': C. 20.

not a heel! A mainly Cockney c.p. of 1880-1913. Edwin Pugh, Harry the Cockney, 1912, "'Seen anybody?" "Not a soul. And you?" "Not a 'eel." "That's odd."

not a sausage. Not a 'plane in the sky; no luck: R.A.F.: since 1940. H. & P. Ex the phrase recorded as sausage, not to have a.

not a word to the vicar! 'Mum's the word'—'Keep it quiet!': c.p.: since ca. 1925; by 1966, slightly ob. (Richard Merry.)

not barmy! let me out—I'm; also let me out—I'm barmy! A Forces' pantomimic c.p., expressing desire to be rid of service restrictions: 1939-45.

not half a one. A 'card' or 'character' ('You're not half a one!'): C. 20.

not her—him—me—you, it (just) isn't or wasn't. It doesn't—or didn't—truly suit her (etc.); it isn't or wasn't in character: c.p.: since ca. 1956. Apparently it originated in the smart fashion shops of Society.

not in these boots (or trousers)! See boots!, not in these in Dict.

not lost for it. 'Not at a disadvantage for lack of objective cheek. If Jack borrows Tony's bike without asking, he's not lost for it' (Franklyn): Cockney: since late 1940's.

not me, Chief, I'm radar (or asdic or gunnery or . . .). A c.p. 'used by a rating when given to do something not connected with his usual job, or if volunteers are asked for' (Wilfred Granville, Nov. 22, 1962): Naval: since ca. 1946.

not much frocks. Socks: rhyming s. of ca. 1880-1910. Pugh (2): 'Never doin' no honest work out o' quod from the time when they was in not much frocks an' nickin' the baby's milk to when their poor ole shakin' legs got them lagged on the kinchin lay.'

not much you wouldn't! You certainly would: c.p. (notably Canadian): since the late 1930's. (Leechman.) Cf. not half (p. 571) and much! (above).

not nominated. Unlikely to win or to succeed: Aus.: since ca. 1930. (B., 1959.) Ex horse-racing.

not of this world. 'Superlative in either direction, of both people and things. About 15 years ago [say 1947-48] it was the thing to say; now [1962] it is used with restraint' (Julian Franklyn). It forms the original of out of this world, q.v. below.

not off. ' . . . A given horse was not intended to win'—cf. not meant on p. 571—'on a given occasion. When you hear that so and so—a horse—is or was "not off", "not fancied", "on the arm", "having an easy", or simply "strong". . . ' (John Lawrence, in The Sunday Telegraph, Aug. 13, 1961): racing: prob. since ca. 1920.

not on your Nannie (or -ny) or nannie (or -y)! Not on your life!: Anglo-Irish: since ca. 1950. 'A very common expression in Dublin is "not on your Nannie!" Has this the same origin as "not on your Nellie"?' Dr Alan Bliss in letter of Dec. 8, 1961. Julian Franklyn thinks that Nannie is an arbitrary alteration of Nellie.

not on your Nellie! Not on your life: an intensive tag: since ca. 1940. (Norman.) Short for Nellie Duff! . . .

not Pygmalion likely! - Not at all likely; certainly not!: cultured c.p.: since 1912, when G. B. Shaw's Pygmalion appeared, containing that so delightfully shocking phrase, not bloody likely!

not quite. Mentally deficient: mostly Australian: since ca. 1920. For 'not quite all there'. (B.P.)

not quite quite. Not quite suitable, respectable, moral, first-class: Society: from ca. 1923.

not selling! See I'll bite.

not sixteen annas to the rupee is the Regular Army version (late C. 19-20) of the more usual not sixteen ounces to the pound, not quite right in the head; from ca. 1870. The Observer, Sept. 20, 1936.

not so much lip! Be less impudent!: mid-C. 19-20.

not the full pound is the Australian version of shillings in the pound (below): since ca. 1920.

not to be at home. See die, to.

not to go much on (something). Not to like, not to be keen on, it: coll.: since ca. 1920.

not to know if one's coming or going. To be perplexed, bemused, befuddled or ignorant of what is happening around one: C. 20: coll. >, by 1945, familiar S.E.

not to worry! Don't worry; there's nothing to worry about: Services': C. 20. Suddenly, in 1957-8, it began to be generally and widely used. The Services based it upon a Maltese analogy; Italian scholars (and others) on, e.g., Italian non tormentarsi: I suggest that it merely truncates 'You are not to worry'—You mustn't worry, or There's nothing to worry you. On Nov. 5, 1967, Wilfred Granville writes: 'It is old hat. I first heard it, ad nauseam, in Admiralty about ten or twelve years ago when I was researching the R.N.V.R. book.' Peter Sanders tells me that the phrase was current in the War Office and Ministry of Defence at the time of the Korean War (1951). Colonel A. C. T. White, V.C., suggests that it may, in form, have been influenced by such French phrases as ce n'est pas—colloquially c'est pas—à refuser; but is it not rather from Italian non tormentarsi, don't worry!, and brought to England by Army officers returning from the Italian campaign, and British occupation of Italy, 1944-45? Dr Douglas Leechman thinks it goes back to ca. 1935—which does not, of course, rule out an Italian origination.

not today, baker! A c.p., refusing an offer or a suggestion: Canadian: since ca. 1945. Connoting 'Oh, no! you don't catch me like that!' (Leechman.)

not to-night, Josephine! A c.p. used—or said to be used—by husbands, lovers, boy friends, refusing a request for sexual intercourse: late C. 19-20. Apocryphally attributed to Napoleon refusing Josephine.—2. Hence, in other circumstances, and regardless of sex; since ca. 1920. 'Care for a drink?'—'Not to-night Josephine.' (B.P.) Hence the loose variant not to-day, Josephine!, a c.p. of emphatic refusal.

not up. Inferior; bad, very poor in quality: Australian: since ca. 1930. B., 1943. 'Not up to standard.'

not worth a cracker. Worthless, valueless: Aus. coll.: C. 20. Also not worth a cupful of cold water or . . . a pinch of shit. (B., 1959.)

notch.—2. A pocket: Australian low: C. 20. B. 1942.

note, n.—2. A state of affairs; a happening: since ca. 1925. James Curtis, You're in the Racket Too, 1937, 'It would be a hell of a note if he was to be knocked off [i.e. arrested] to-night.' Ex music.—3. A £1 note; hence, the sum of £1: (esp. Australian) coll.: since ca. 1870. 'Tom Collins', Such Is Life, 1903.

nothing!, you can always pick up. See you can . . .

nothing below the waist. A c.p., referring to girls permitting breast-fondling but no other intimacies: mostly Australian: C. 20.

nothing for nothing and very little for tuppence-ha'penny, often preceded by you get. A c.p., originated by George Bernard Shaw: since ca. 1910.

nothing on the clock. Of an aircraft that is out of control: R.A.F.: since ca. 1938.

nothing startling, adj. (predicative only). Unimpressive: coll.: C. 20. 'Oh, it's nothing startling.'

notice to quit (p. 572). To receive a notice to quit, 'be destined to die shortly': 1821, Pierce Egan, Life in London.

noticing, adj. Given to noticing everything; observant (and censorious): non-cultured coll.: C. 20. (Raymond Postgate, Verdict of Twelve, 1940.)

notionable. Sensible; shrewd: coll., mostly Cockneys': from ca. 1890. Pugh, 'Not a notionable idea to his conversation from beginning to end.' Contrast the Wiltshire notionable, having an inclination for something.

Nots and Dots, or Notts and Dotts. Nottingham (Notts) and Derby regiments: Army: late C. 19-20.

nought —. (In) the year nineteen hundred and (any figure from 1 to 9 inclusive): coll.: from 1902 or perhaps 1903. 'Taffrail', 'The little 3000-ton nought feet, at. (Of flying) very low: R.A.F. coll.: 1939-45.

Britisher, built in "nought five", carried only twelve 4-inch quickfirsers.'

nous, l (p. 572): academic s. >, by 1890, S.E. nouvelle. New; stylish: smart society: ca. 1815-25. Passim in Boxiana, 1818-24; castigated by Jon Bee in 1823. An aping of the French nouveau, nouvel, nouvelle, new.

November, the. The Manchester November Handicap: racing coll.: C. 20.

now I've seen everything! An ironical, usu. good-natured c.p. of mock admiration or wonder: since the early 1950's. Cf. this I must hear (or see).

now, Mrs Rowbottom, if you please! I'm ready when you are: a Canadian c.p.: since ca. 1930. Leechman, 'Of anecdotal origin.'

now she knows. See knows all about it.

now then! Usually said sharply to a child one has just struck: Cockney coll.: since ca. 1860.

now then, me lucky lads! A workman's ironic c.p. in ref. to work: since ca. 1910. Ex the showmen's, three-card trickers', racing tipsters' invitation.

now what have you (got) to say for yourself? A c.p. of jocular greeting: since ca. 1920.

now you're asking! A variant of 'That's asking!': ca. 1900-15. Leonard Merrick, Peggy Harper, 1911.

nowler. A sheep that, its fleece covered with burrs and dirt, is hard to shear: Australian shearers': since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.) Origin? Perhaps 'n'owler = an 'owler = a howler, a sheep that complains at the unavoidable tugging. (Julian Franklyn's suggestion.)

Nozmo. 'Inevitable' nickname for men surnamed King: C. 20. Ex a public character. (Atkinson.) Ultimately from 'No Smo-king'.

nozzier; usually in pl. A new entry (i.e. a recruit) at Shotley Barracks (H.M.S. Ganges): Naval: C. 20. Granville. Ex the frequency of his 'No, Sir'?

nubbies. Female breasts: Australian low: late C. 19-20.

nucloid. 'Nucloids: Ships of the Reserve in peacetime which carry only a nucleus crew,' Granville: Naval: since ca. 1910.

nuddy, in the. Naked: Australian: since ca. 1945. (B., 1953.) Ex 'in the nude'.

nudged. '(Of a ship) slightly damaged by bomb shell or torpedo' (B., 1934): Australian Naval: 1940-5. By meiosis. 'In "The Dam Busters" (1951), Paul Brickhill quotes W/Cdr Tait (C.O. 617 Squadron) as saying, when returning from the raid that finally sank the "Tirpitz": "We gave her a hell of a nudge, anyway"' (H. R. Spencer).

nugget, n.—4. A very attractive girl, of whom it is hoped that she is not 'as good as gold': Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)

number.—2. A person: adopted, ca. 1944, from U.S. servicemen. (Ngaio Marsh, Swing, Brother Swing, 1949.) Perhaps ex sense 1 (p. 573).—3. A dress: since ca. 1955. 'She put on that little black number.'

number, have (someone's). To have someone sized up or potentially mastered: since ca. 1910. Ex telephony.

number, make one's. See make one's number.

number, opposite. See opposite number.

number-catcher. A checker of goods wagons: railwaymen's: since ca. 1920. (Railway.)

number dummy, n. grabber. A yard clerk: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931). —2. To report for duty: Services, mostly officers': 1939 +. (P-G-R.) number nine—2. (Number nines.) Prunes: since ca. 1917. Reputed to be purgative—as, indeed, they are.

number one. Sense 4 is also used as a nickname: witness 'Taffrail'. See quotation at pilot in Addenda.—9. A boat owned by the boatman that works it: canal-men's: late C. 19–20. L. T. C. Bolt, Narrow Boat, 1944. Cf. senses 4 and esp. 1.

number one—ten—ninety-nine. 'The various degrees in the state of a soldier's feelings in Korea are seldom expressed in the well-worn favourites of World War II. He is rarely "browed off", "cheesed" or "brassed". No, sir. He's just "number one" to "number ten" and occasionally he may be "number ninety-nine" or "number hava no"' (Iddiwah, July 1953): United Nations troops fighting in the Korean War of the 1950's. For hava no, see that entry above.

number one piecee, adj. First Class: pidgin English: late C. 19–20. Used by the Navy, esp. on 'China-side'. Granville. Cf. number one chow-chow (p. 574).

number ones (p. 574): coll., not s., recorded earlier in Fredk Marryat, Frank Mildmay, 1829. Moe.

number seventeens. 'Any unofficial rig [clothing] of the day, for dirty work (Patrol Service slang),' Granville: Naval: 1940 +. Ironical, in ref. to the numbers designating the various official 'rigs' for sailors.

number(-)snatcher. A 'checker of goods wagons' (Railway, 3rd): C. 20.

number three. Sexual relief, whether normal or self-induced: low: C. 20. A development ex number one, sense 2, and number two, sense 1, both on p. 574.

numbers, the. The Red Lamp district of Dunkirk: Army: 1914–18.

number's still wet. See your . . .

nunk, nothing; sunk, something: Cockney: C. 20. Gordon Harker in The Evening News, March 31, 1938, 'I was familiar with suthink and som'ink, but "sunk for nunk" was a new one on me.' Strictly n'unk and s'unk, with a glottal stop.

nunky.—3. Also, a pawnbroker, whether Jewish or not: mostly Cockneys': C. 20.

nursemaid. 'A long-distance escort for bombers,' Jackson: R.A.F.: 1939 +.

nursery.—3. A training station for flying personnel: R.A.F. coll.: since ca. 1935. H. & P. Ex cricket nurseries.

nursery slopes, 'the easy targets allotted to beginners on bombing tests' (H. & P.). Ex skiing.—2. Hence (the singular is used in both 1 and 2), any easy target: like sense 1, R.A.F.: since ca. 1939.

nursing, n. An exceptionally slow collecting of fares: London busmen's: since ca. 1920.

nursing it. (Of a pregnant woman) holding her arms folded over her belly: lower-classes' col.: C. 20.

nurtle. Sexual intercourse: Australian low: C. 20. B., 1942. Cf. myrtle.

nut, n.—11. Rent for stall or side-show or stand at a fair: Canadian carnival s.: C. 20. Adopted from U.S.—12. A horse difficult to break in: Australian rural: late C. 19–20. Ex senses 4, 5

(p. 574). For 11 (especially) and probably for 12 and 4 (p. 574), note Alexander McQueen's explanation: 'Because rent is a nut to be cracked (paid) before reaching kernel (income).'¹³ A 'nut case' (a mental case): since ca. 1944.

nut, v.—3. To butt (someone) with the head: public-house: since ca. 1920. The Evening News, Nov. 22, 1946.—4. To think, to 'use one's nut': Australian: C. 20. Dal Stivens, Jimmy Brockett, 1951, 'I did a bit of hard nutting.'

nut, give (someone) the. "'That's right, Paddy, give him the nut!" I was trying to pull his head back by the hair to hit him in the face with my head.' Anglo-Irish: C. 20. Also in Brendan Behan, Borstal Boy, 1958, is the variant give (him) the loaf of bread. Cf. nut, v., 3, above.

nut case. A mental case or patient (a 'nut'): adopted, ca. 1959, ex U.S. Xenia Field, Under Lock and Key, 1963, "'I'm not a nut case."' nut on, put the, is the purely English equivalent of nut, give the, above: since ca. 1920. (Petch.)

nut out. To devise: Australian: since late 1930's. Ex nut, n., 1 and 2 (p. 574). D'Arcy Niland, 1955. Lit., 'to think out' (Culotta).

nut(-)splitter. A machinist: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931).

nuthouse. A hospital, a wing, a ward set aside for the (temporarily) insane; an asylum for the insane: adopted, ca. 1925, from U.S. 'They're nuts.' Norman Lindsay, Saturdee, 1933, "'Whose old Aunt Beadle had to go to the nut-house?"' roared Bill.'

Nuthouse, the. The R.N. Auxiliary Hospital at Barrow Gurney: Naval: 1939–45. Ex preceding.

nutmeg-grater. A beard: 1948, Sinks; † by 1900.

nuts! Nonsense: Canadian: adopted, ca. 1940, ex U.S. Partly a euphemism for balls (p. 29).

nuts and bolts; nuts and bolts with awning. Resp., a stew; a meat pie: Naval: C. 20. Granville.

nuts on, dead (p. 575): 1890 in Australia. Sidney J. Baker (letter).

nutter. A crazy person: low: since ca. 1945. (Norman.) 'Off one's nut' or head. Since ca. 1961, no longer low, but merely an alternative to nut case (above). Moreover, the 'low' tone of the word prob. arose from the London milieu to which it filtered from the Merseyside schoolchildren and teenagers. (Sec, e.g., Woman, Aug. 28, 1965.)

nutty, n. 'Chocolate, whether or not it contains nuts,' Granville: Naval: since ca. 1930. Ex senses 4 and 5 of the adj.—see p. 575.—2. Hence, candied sweets in general, as in 'the nutty ration': Naval: since ca. 1935.

nutty as a fruitcake. Insane: Canadian (probably from U.S.): since the 1930's. Cf. nutty, 2 (p. 575). Hence, since ca. 1943, English—partly via U.S. servicemen.

nutty-nutty. See 'Prisoner-of-War Slang', 11.

nymph. A charwoman: Haileybury: since ca. 1870. Marples. Ironical.

[nymph of delight. See 'Harlots'; either coll. or, more prob., S.E.]

nymph of the pave (p. 575) appears in the 1851 Census Return for Neithrop in Banbury, 'relating to the Occupation of two ladies lodging in a Beer House'. (With thanks to Mr Noel Blakiston.) nympho. A nymphomaniac: since ca. 1910.

O

O. See entry C—K—M—O.

—O.—4. Ex sense 3 (p. 576) comes the Australian, esp. the Sydneyites', use of this ending, not only in, e.g., afro but also in such place-names as Darlo and Kenso. In June 1963 Mr Barry Prentice writes, 'We seem to have gone off "-y, -ie" except for women's terms. Wharfie, however, is very much alive.'

o or O, overseer, is recorded earlier in B. & L.

O.B. A term common, since ca. 1885, at several Public Schools. Ian Hay, Housemaster, 1936, 'The non-resident Staff—pithily described by the School as the O.B.'s, or Outside Bugs.'

O.C. Socks. A man detailed to collect the platoon's socks: Army: C. 20. Cf. O.C. Grease (p. 576).

O.D. Earlier recorded in 'Taffrail'.

O for October. A swindle worked at races and at country fairs ca. 1870. Binstead.

O.K. To the Dict. entry it is pertinent to add the fact that Alfred Glanville Vance, 'the great Vance' of the music-halls (from the middle sixties to the late eighties, C. 19), used to sing:

The Stilton, sir, the cheese, the O.K. thing to do,
On Sunday afternoon, is to toddle to the Zoo.
Week-days may do for Cads, but not for me and you;
So dress'd right down the road, we show them who is who.

The chorus ran thus:

The walking in the Zoo—Walking in the Zoo—
The O.K. thing on Sunday is the walking in the Zoo.

The expression was taken to England by Artemus Ward and was well acclimatized by 1880 at the latest. Dr Allen Walker Read, 'The Evidence on "O.K."'—in The Saturday Review of Literature, July 19, 1941, has conclusively dated it back to 1840 and to a semi-secret political society known as 'The Democratic O.K.', wherein the letters O.K. are used as a cabalistic symbol, perhaps for 'Old Kinderhook', the nickname of Martin Van Buren.

O.K. sheaf! All right!: Australian c.p.: since ca. 1930. B., 1942. 'A.N.S.W. advertising slogan that has won some currency. From Tooth's Sheaf Stout.' With a pun on O.K., chief, although, in sense, it constitutes a mere elaboration of O.K.

O my Gawd. See my Gawd.

O.P.—5. Other people's: jocular coll.: C. 20. Esp. a borrowed cigarette: B., 1959. (Cf. O.P.T. on p. 577.)

O.P.B. Choice cigarette-ends: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942, 'Old Picked Bumpers'. See bumper, 5. But also 'other people's butts' or cigarette-butts garnered from ash-trays: since ca. 1910. Cf. kerbstone mixture.

O.R.P.H.—orph! Off (you go)!; not worth considering (see off, 2, 3, in Dict.): lower-class c.p. of C. 20; slightly ob. W. L. George, The Making of an Englishman, 1914.

O.T., the. The overland telegraph, from Adelaide to Port Darwin: Australian coll.: since ca. 1930. B., 1942.

oak and ash. Cash: theatrical rhyming s.: C. 20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

oakie-doke is an occ. variant of okey-doke.

oakum-boy, when Adam was an. See when Adam . . . in Dict.

oats, have one's (p. 577), is also applied to women, as in 'Chrissie will not get her oats': George Simms, Sleep No More, 1967.

oats for the donkey. Money: motor trade: since ca. 1910. Rhyming (or almost).

oats from (a woman), get ones. To coit with: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Cf. oats, feel one's in Dict.

ob.—2. An objection: policemen's: C. 20. Grierson Dickson, Design for Treason, 1937.—3. An observation car, esp. on the Transcontinental: Australian: since ca. 1945. (Eric North, Nobody Stops Me, 1960.)

Obadiah.—2. A fire: rhyming s.: C. 20. Cf. Jeremiah (Dict.).

obie man. 'The obie man read obituaries. (The funeral will be at Wood Green on Tuesday and the house will be empty)': James Barlow, The Burden of Proof, 1968: c. and low s.: since ca. 1920.

object, no. E.g. 'distance no object' and, esp., 'price no object': catachrestic when = 'no obstacle' or 'not an objection'; mid-C. 19–20. The correct sense 'not a thing aimed at or considered important' has been vitiated by confusion with no objection.

oblige.—2. (Of a charwoman) to work for: charwomen's coll.: late C. 19–20. 'The lady I "oblige"'.—3. (Of a woman) to make herself sexually available to: coll.: C. 20. 'She soon found that she'd never get promoted unless she were willing to oblige her boss.' (B.P.)

oboe, not to know one's brass (or bass) from one's. See ears from one's elbow above.

obs and sols. See ob and sol (Dict.).

obscene. Objectionable: upper classes': from ca. 1933. Nicholas Blake, Thou Shell of Death, 1936, '[At Christmastide] the shop windows are piled with that diversity of obscene knick-knacks'—actually of impeccable respectability—'which nothing but the spirit of universal goodwill could surely tolerate.'

observatory. The astrodome of an aircraft: R.A.F.: since ca. 1938. Jackson, ' . . . Through which the navigator takes the observations of the stars'.

obstets. Obstetrics: nurses' and medical students': C. 20.

obstropulous occurs earlier in Sessions, 1736.

occabot. Earlier in Mayhew, I, 1851.

[Occupational names. Ned Ward, in 1700–24, has the following s. or coll. terms in addition to those at 'Constables', q.v.: sailors are tar or lubber (both, 1703); soldiers, red-coat (1703); fishmongers, pull-guts or strip-eel (both in 1700); parsons, hum-drum (1709), pulpit-cackler (1709) and tubster (1712), while Quakers are Aminadab (1709); scavengers are Tom-Turd-man (1703); Tower-rook (1703), a guide to the Tower; Crispin (1703), a cobbler—prob. always S.E.; a cook, lick-fingers (1703)—prob. S.E.; a butcher, sheep-biter (1703); slab-dab, a glover (1703); Essedartus (1703; rare), a coachman; a fiddler is a cat-gut scraper (1700); an astrologer, hocus-pocus (1703). Aldermen are lob-cocks (1703). Matthews.]

Occupied Territory, the. See Resistance, the.

ocean-dust. Salt: Naval: C. 20, but rare before 1914.

ocean-going grocers. 'Members of the N.A.A.F.I. staffs in H.M. Ships': Naval: 1939 +. Granville.

ocean Rambler. A herring; a sardine: proletarian: C. 20. Cf. ocean wanderers in Dict.

Ocean Swell, the. Admiral Sir Bertram Ramsay (C. in C., Allied Naval Forces, invasion of France, June 1944): Naval officers': since ca. 1914. Ex his sartorial 'smartness'.

octu. An Officer Cadet's Training Unit: Services' coll.: 1939 +. Partridge, 1945.

octy. An octopus: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1953.)

odd, n. A police detective: c.: since ca. 1935. Hence, odd(-)lot, a police car. (Both in Norman.) —2. A police station: c.: since ca. 1935. (Norman.) odd, adj. Homosexual: partly euphemistic, partly coll.: ca. 1890–1940, then increasingly obsolescent. It occurs in, e.g., Compton Mackenzie, Thin Ice, 1956.

odd-ball, n., hence also adj. (An) eccentric: adopted, ca. 1950, ex U.S. Ex certain games, ? esp. golf.—2. (Often written oddball.) A—usu. male—homosexual: since ca. 1955.

odd bods and sods. Miscellaneous persons: Australian since ca. 1945. (B.P.) Cf. odds and sods on p. 579.

odd-come-shortly (p. 579). The unit is one of these odd-come-shortlies; the definition is 'one day soon'. Semantically: one of these odd days shortly to come, where odd = unspecified or, perhaps, unexpected.

odd-trick man. A hanger-on, for profit, at auctions: auctioneers': mid-C. 19–20. James Greenwood, In Strange Company, 1873. Ex card-playing.

oddie; oddy is rare. A halfpenny: Australian: C. 20. Ex 'the odd halfpenny' in, e.g., 9½d.

odds. Odd volumes: publishers' and booksellers' coll.: late C. 19–20.

odds?, what's the (p. 579). App. earliest as what odds?: 1826, Sessions, 'I asked Jackson whose they were—he said, "What odds; they are mine."'.

odds and sods.—3. In the Navy—since ca. 1925—it means "'Hoi polloi"; the rank and file' (Granville).—4. Service personnel falling outside the main group or classification; hence esp. in religion neither C. of E. nor Catholic, i.e. Other denominations, O.D.'s, from which the phrase is said to be derived.

odds it. To avoid it: low: since ca. 1945. (Norman.) Perhaps ex 'to bet against the odds'.

odds-on, n. An odds-on favourite: Australian racecourse coll.: C. 20. B., 1942.

odour. Either a misapprehension of, or a pun on, eau-de, q.v. at eau-de-Cologne above: C. 20. (Franklyn 2nd.)

ods. Policemen; the police. Teddy boys': since ca. 1948. (The Observer, March 1 1959.) Ex odd, n.

Odtaa. As comment or exclamation, it is a cultured c.p.—one damned thing after another: since publication of John Masofield's novel, Odtaa, 1926.

of omitted. A Canadian coll., general only since ca. 1945. 'Here, it's never "a new type of engine" but "a new type engine." "He's just bought a new type lawn-mower"' (Leechman). The second example shows how the usage may have originated. 'Prob. U.S.—Jewish origin. "A nice type feller" and "A piece candy" are typical immigrant Jewish locutions, some of which . . . have passed into American speech (chiefly) through Jews in the entertainment industry' (Robert Clairborne, Aug. 31, 1966).

off, n. Start of a horse-race: sporting coll.: late C. 19–20. 'You can bet, on the course, right up to the off.' Ex the cry 'They're off'.

off-beat. Unconventional, but not unique nor unaccepted; (slightly) macabre: adopted, orig. by highbrows, ca. 1960 ex U.S. Cf. quotation at shoe-string, 2, below.

off caps! 'When naming anyone of eminence in the Navy or a departed shipmate, off caps is sometimes murmured' (P-G-R.): c.p.: C. 20.

off its feet. See feet, off its.

off of (p. 580); prob. since late C. 18 (J. Wight, Mornings at Bow Street, 1824).

off one's dot. See dot, off one's both in Dict. and in Addenda.

off one's eggs. See eggs, off one's, above.

off one's kadoova. See kadoova. In 1959, B. adduces also off one's pannikin—off one's tile—off one's top. Note also mad as a cut snake (and its synonyms) above.

off one's saucer. Off one's head: Australian: since ca. 1930. (B., 1943.)

off the back. A synonym of dropped handlebars, cyclists': since ca. 1945.

off the beam. See beam . . .

offer (someone) out. To challenge to a fight: Australian: late C. 19–20. B., 1942.

office, n., 3 (p. 580). Still in use, as, e.g., in Their Finest Hour, 1940, and Jackson, 1943, although Sgt-Pilot F. Rhodes, in letter of Sept. 20, 1942, remarks, 'This seems to be dying'.

Office, the. The Marble Arch public convenience: C. 20. A correspondent (1946) writes, 'Hyde Park orators, who are not allowed to take collections, sometimes say: "If anyone would like to speak to me after the meeting, they can see me at my office."'.

office boy. A Pay Lieutenant acting as Assistant Secretary in the Captain's office: Naval: since ca. 1947.

officiate. To intrude, butt in: Christ's Hospital: C. 20. Marples. I.e. the S.E. officiate, but with the sense of 'to be officious'.

offsider.—4. A hanger-on: Aus.: since ca. 1925. (B., 1959.) Ex sense 1 on p. 580.

often trod but never laid. (Of women) often 'mauled' but never 'slept' with: c.p.: since late 1940's. Trod for 'trodden on'; lay to copulate with.

ogg or og (p. 580). Also Australian. Baker.—2. Usually in pl.: stones of fruit; e.g., cherry-oggs: non-aristocratic: mid-C. 19–20. Origin?

oggin, the; occ., hoggin. The sea: Naval (lower-deck): C. 20. Granville. The origin is obscure: perhaps a shortening of S.E. noggin, with a prompting by (the) drink; if oggin merely = unspirited hoggin, then the semantics may be that, as hogs wallow, so do some ships.—2. Hence, a canal: spivs': since late 1940's. Cf. quotation at peep, n., below.

oggy. See tiddy-oggy.

Oggyland. Cornwall: Naval: C. 20. 'The home of the tiddy-oggy, beloved of the Janners in depot at Guzz' (Granville, Nov. 22, 1962). Cf. tiddy-oggy below and Jan, 2, above, and Guz (p. 364).

Ogopogo. 'A mythical lake-dwelling monster (cf. Loch Ness) believed (?) to inhabit Okanagan Lake in the southern interior of British Columbia' (Leechman): Canadian coll. or rather, folk-lore: late C. 19–20. The name is fanciful: cf. Cadborosaurus.

ogo-pogoing. 'Looking for unidentified aircraft,' H. & P.: R.A.F.: 1942–3, then ob. Fanciful, perhaps on 'go poking about'. 'In the early 1920's there was a toy called the pogo-stick, as popular in its day as the hula-hoop in the 1950's. It was a straight stick, with foot-rests across the bottom end, and had a ferule embodying a strong spring. On it the expert could proceed in a series of kangaroo hops for considerable distances, gripping the stick with his (or her) knees. It somewhat resembled the old aircraft joystick, and may be the basis of this word. Such a mission, going up probably to no purpose, and then coming down again, might well suggest the hopping action of this toy.' (H. R. Spencer, Sept. 17, 1965.)

ogwash, i.e. hogwash. A variant of oggin, the sea, the ocean: Naval (lower-deck): C. 20. Recorded by The Weekly Telegraph, Nov. 1942. Also—prob. via the Fleet Air Arm—R.A.F.: since ca. 1945.

oh, after you! That'll do!; stop talking!: tailors' c.p.: from ca. 1870. B. & L. Ironie.

oh, come on, be a devil! See be a devil!

oh, dummy! Nonsense!; humbug!: tailors' c.p.: from ca. 1860. Ibid.

oh, Miss Weston. A c.p., expressing disapproval of strong language: Naval: since ca. 1910. 'Dame Agnes Weston was a great stickler for propriety' (P-G-R). Cf. my oath, Miss Weston! on p. 547.

oh, mummy! buy me one of those! A c.p. that, mostly Canadian and dating since ca. 1920, recalls the much older one of those, I (really) must have (p. 589). Leechman.

oh, my dear. Beer: rhyming s.: C. 20; since ca. 1950, ob. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

oh, my Gawd. See my Gawd.

oh, oh, Antonio! A c.p. of ca. 1912–30. Ex the once famous song.

oh, swallow yourself! Hold your tongue!: don't bother!: proletarian: from ca. 1875; ob. B. & L.

oh, wouldn't it be loverlee! A teenagers' and shop- and office-girls' c.p. of 1958–9. Ex the title of one of Eliza Doolittle's songs, in My Fair Lady. (Gilderdale.)

oi for i occurs in Cockney (and illiterate American). Edwin Pugh, in A Street in Suburbia, 1895, has noight, moight, woipe, woife, etc.

oick or oik. A townie; a cad: at certain Public Schools in the North and the Midlands: late C. 19–20. See oickman and hoick, v., 4, in Dict.

oil, n., 4. By 1946, more Australian than New Zealand: Sidney J. Baker, letter.—7. Tea: Army: since ca. 1930. 'Due to the fat which often appears on top' (H. & P.).

oil, v.—2. V.i., to toady: Harrow School: late C. 19–20. In C. 20, also at Marlborough College. Lunn. Cf. oil up to, 2, and the corresponding sense of grease: qq.v. in the Dict.—3. To act in an underhand way; to obtain unfairly: Rugby School: from ca. 1880. Hence, oiler, one who does this.—4. To evade; an evasion: Winchester: late C. 19–20.—5. (Also oil in) to intrude: Oundle: 1930 +. Marples.—6. See 'Stonyhurst'.

oil, on the. On a drinking bout: Army: C. 20. Cf. oiled (p. 581).

oil out. To slip out or away: preparatory-schoolboys': from ca. 1920. Nicholas Blake, A Question of Proof, 1935.

oil-rag.—2. A fitter's mate: engineering trade's: from ca. 1910.

oil-spoiler; usually in pl. A stoker (in a turbine ship): Naval: since ca. 1925. Granville.

oil up. To advise; to 'tip off': Australian: since ca. C. 19–20. B., 1942. Ex oil, n., 4.—2. To enliven (a bullock) with blow or stroke: Australian: bullock-drivers': C. 20. (K. S. Prichard, Working Bullocks, 1926.)

oiled, oiled story, the. A c.p., referring to the drivel of the tipsy: since ca. 1950. A pun on 'the old, old story' and a reference to s. oiled, tipsy.

oiler.—4. See oil, v., 3 (Addenda).—5. A waiter in dining hall: Marlborough College: C. 20.

oily rag. A cigarette: C. 20. Rhyming on fag. Often shortened to oily.

oips. See hoi.

okay (or O.K.) by me, it's; O.K. by you? Virtual c.p.p.; certainly coll.: adopted ex U.S.: ca. 1938 in Canada; ca. 1943 in Australia and New Zealand; ca. 1945 in England.

okey. A wallet: c.: from ca. 1934. Prob. ex okey-doke, rhyming s. for poke.

okey-doke or -poke; okey-pokey. Perversions of O.K.: resp. 1934, 1935, 1936. The first occurs, e.g., in Michael Harrison, All the Trees were Green, 1936.—2. (okey-doke.) A wallet: (orig. and still mainly underworld) rhyming s.: since the late 1930's. (Franklyn 2nd.) On poke, n., 8, below.

Old. See Young.

old, n.—3. the old, the master: ca. 1860–1910. B. & L. Abbr. the old man.

Old age pension. In Bingo: 65. Since late 1950's.

old anchor. See anchor.

Old and Bolds, the. 'Naval officers brought back into the Service from the Retired List in time of war' (Granville): 1938 +. With an ironic ref. to Old and Bold on p. 582.

Old Annie. See Annie, 2.

old bag.—2. An elderly, slatternly prostitute, hence pejoratively of an unpopular younger one:

low: late C. 19-20. Franklyn 2nd proposes a rhyme on old hag, but I doubt this: cf. bag, n., 5, above.

old battle-axe. An old, or an elderly, woman that is resentful and vociferous, thoroughly unpleasant, usually arrogant, and no beauty: since the early 1920's, if not, indeed, since ca. 1910. Common to the U.S., Canada, Britain; nor unknown in Australia, New Zealand, South Africa.

old battleship or old battle-cruiser. A woman of the humorous mother-in-law type; a broad-shouldered, or stout, aggressive-looking woman: jocular coll.: since ca. 1914.

Old Ben. Newsagents' Benevolent Association Fund: journalists': since ca. 1920.

Old Bill. 'An extraordinarily profitable fare,' Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939: taxi-drivers': since ca. 1917. Ex Bruce Bairnsfather's 1914-18 cartoons of benevolent-looking Old Bill.—2, 3. "Old Bill" is either a rank outsider, or a policeman. It signifies something unknown' (The Sunday Telegraph, May 7, 1967): racing, esp. bookies': since late 1940's. In the latter sense, it occurs in Robin Cook, The Crust on Its Uppers, 1962, as fringe-of-the-underworld s., with variant Uncle Bill.

old black men. See black chums.

Old Blood and Guts. The late General George S. Patton, U.S. Army: 1944-5. A fire-eater.

old boat. 'A house, usually in an untidy state, where old people live.' (Bournemouth Evening Echo, April 20, 1966): c.: since ca. 1930.

old boiled egg. An O.B.E.: since ca. 1925. Alec Waugh, Fuel for the Flame, 1959, 'He was not grumbling at a C.M.G.; the best he'd hoped for when he started was the old boiled egg they'd given him in the Middle East.'

old boy, 3 (p. 582), occurs in John L. Gardner, The Military Sketch-Book (I, 41 and 104), 1831, and earlier in W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints, 1829. Moe.

old boy (or Old Boy) network, the. That social and, esp. business, connexion between old (former) Public School boys which, the envious assume, operates from reciprocal advantage in the professions and which is, by outsiders, regarded as social bias—as if the same sort of thing didn't operate in the trades and in all social classes! It is, at all levels, at least based upon old and trusted standards. Not, of course, s. but coll. and dating from the early 1950's. Laurie Atkinson has recorded this remark, heard by him, on Oct. 4, 1959, 'The old boy network helps in getting jobs.'

Old Brown Cow. Any 'difficult' aircraft: air-men's: since ca. 1930. Ex a popular song so entitled; cf. cow, 5 (p. 185).

Old Brown Windsor. The anus: Australian: since ca. 1920. B., 1942. Ex the soap thus named.

old buck (p. 583) should be dated 'late—? even middle—C. 19-20' and it is perhaps of American origin, to judge by its occurrence in The Saturday Evening News of Dec. 8, 1821 (p. 4, col. 2); but it does occur as early as 1829 in W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (II, 131) and therefore may, as a British naval usage, go back to ca. 1810 or 1800 or even 1790. (Moe.)—2. Impudence; back-answering: Services: since ca. 1935. H. & P.

old buffer. An old fellow: C. 19. It occurs in, e.g., W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (I, 30), 1829, '... all for that old buffer on the hill'. Moe.

old buzzard. Contemptuous for elderly or old man: coll.: since ca. 1910. Orig., euphemistic for old bastard.

Old Caustic. See caustic, old.

old chaw. 'Old Harrovian, a term of affection': Harrow School: since ca. 1870(?). Lunn.

old China hand. One who has spent many years in China in commercial or civil service or as a missionary: coll.: since ca. 1910. By 1945, few of them remained, except in Hong Kong: and the term will necessarily become less and less a matter of usage, more and more a relic of history.

old chum (p. 583): by 1959, †, B. tells us.

old clanking irons. A constant grumbler: Naval: C. 20. (P-G-R.)

old clo! A c.p. applied to anything worn out, exhausted, behind the times: proletarian: from ca. 1860; ob. B. & L. Ex the street cry.

Old Close-the-Range. 'Admiral of the Fleet Lord Cunningham. From his habit of getting to close quarters' (P-G-R.): Naval: ca. 1940-5.

old cock (p. 583), as a term of address, occurs in Anon., Parody of the Celebrated Alonzo the Brave . . . , ante 1801 (for it appears, as a borrowing from Britain, in The Port Folio, I, No. 8, p. 64), thus: '... Cried poor Roger, I pray,/Aside your great coat, my old cock, you would lay,/And deign to partake of our cheer.'

old daddy. A Cockney 'prefix', as in old daddy beer tonky—old daddy grumps—old daddy puddin'—old daddy tea-pot (examples furnished by Julian Franklyn in 1962): C. 20, certainly; prob. since ca. 1870. Moreover, old mother is used in the same way.

Old Dart, the. An early record: Bart Kennedy, A Sailor Tramp, 1902. Also a New Zealand usage: B., 1941.

Old Davy, 1 (p. 583) goes back to late C. 18, to judge by an English song quoted, May 4, 1805, in an American magazine, The Port Folio (V, No. 17, p. 135, col. 3). Moe.—2. 'Davy Jones'—the spirit of the sea, hence the sea itself, as in Charles Dibdin's song, The Five Engagements, with its 'I've been rock'd on old Davy's rough bed': ca. 1780-1830. (Moe.)

old dog, 4, was orig. prison c.: B. & L.

old enough to know better. A mostly feminine c.p. reply to 'How old are you?': late (? mid) C. 19-20. Cf. old as my tongue . . . on p. 582.

Old Faithful. See Annie, 2.—2. Field-Marshal Montgomery's car in North Africa and Italy: Army: 1943-4. (P-G-R.)

old fake. A criminal undergoing his second probation: Australian c.: ca. 1830-70. B., 1942.

old-fashioned look. A look, a glance, of quizzical disapproval: since ca. 1930.

Old Flash and a Dash, the. The Royal Welch Fusiliers: military: from ca. 1880. Rhyming s. on flash: 'They were the only regiment in the Army privileged to wear the flash . . . a smart bunch of five black ribbons sewed in a fan shape on the back of the tunic collar: it was a relic of the days when soldiers wore their hair long, and tied up the end of the queue in a bag to prevent it greasing their tunics' (Richards).

old four-by-two (p. 583). A four-by-two is not the pull-through itself but the size of the piece of flannelette attached thereto.

Old Freddies, the. (The consortium of) merchant banks: financial world: since late 1940's. The Observer, June 28, 1959, 'The Old Freddies quietly partition the City's vast business among themselves—which is why the City can put over a huge money deal in half the time it takes Wall Street—and the world is presented with a united front'. Cf. the old boy network above.

Old Frizzle. The ace of spades ('Old Mossy-face'): card players': late C. 19–20. (Country Life, Jan. 17, 1963.)

old fucky-off to Q.E. What's-his-name: Naval: since ca. 1950. The Q.E. is, of course, the Queen Elizabeth.

old girl (p. 534) prob. goes back to early C. 19, for in W. N. Glascock's The Naval Sketch-Book, 2nd Series, 1834, at I, 17, it is applied, Navally, to a ship. (Moe.)

Old Girl, the. See Granny, 3.

Old Glad-Eye. Mr Gladstone: Victorian prostitutes' nickname. Richard Deacon, The Private Life of Mr Gladstone, 1965 (p. 46).

old grabem pudden. 'Old women'—whether wife or mother: rhyming s.: since ca. 1870.

old hag, the. The matron: Preparatory Schools': late c. 19–20. Cf. hag in both Dict. and Addenda.

Old Harridan, the. See 'Personifications'.

old(-)hat.—3. Old-fashioned; out-of-date: since ca. 1945.

Sense 1 (p. 584) should be dated since late C. 17, for it occurs in B.E., 1699, at top-diver.

old haybag or old henwife. Disparaging for a woman: non-aristocratic: since ca. 1910.

Old Home Town, the. Cairo: Eighth Army: 1942–3. (P-G-R.)

old hoss. See old horse (Dict.).

old iron.—3. A bicycle; bicycles: since ca. 1925. H. & P.—4. 'Any copper coins which an airman will risk in a card game or raffle,' H. & P.: R.A.F.: since ca. 1930.

old Jamaica (p. 584):† by 1945. (Franklyn 2nd.)

old John, always on blob or ready to spit or with a wet nose. A low Naval c.p. of C. 20.

Old Kent Road. See knock 'em...—2. (The.) A long alleyway running, between decks, from bow to stern of H.M.S. Kent, the guided-missile destroyer, commissioned in 1963: Naval: 1963+. (Wilfred Granville, letter of Oct. 28, 1963.)

old King Cole. The dole: rhyming s.: since the late 1920's. (Franklyn, Rhyming.) Since ca. 1950, the old has often been displaced by Nat, in deference to Nat King Cole, the American entertainer; since ca. 1955, usu. Nat, as in 'on the Nat'. (Franklyn 2nd.) Influenced by National?

old kohai. 'One who has long been out East and knows the ropes' (Jackson): R.A.F.: since the middle 1920's. Ex qui-hi (p. 679).

old lady, 4 (p. 584), occurs in American usage as early as late C. 18, to judge by The Port Folio, March 13, 1802 (p. 73). Moe.

Old Lady Five Fingers. Masturbation: low; mostly Canadian: C. 20.

Old Lady of the Bund, the. The North China Daily News, published at Shanghai ca. 1855–1950: among Britons in the Far East.

old lug. A term of abuse or of reproach: Army: since ca. 1930. (P-G-R.) Euphemistic?

old man, 3 (p. 584), has, in nuance 'commanding officer', been R.A.F. since 1918—indeed, it was used by the R.F.C. (Jackson).—5. This sense was perhaps adumbrated in B.E., 1699. Witness the entry: 'Backt, dead, as he wishes the old Man backt, he longs to have his Father upon six men's shoulders'. But I doubt it. A genuine British example occurs in The Dublin University Magazine, Sept. 1834 (p. 271); but A Dict. of American English records it for 1792. (Moe.)—10. Recorded earlier in B. & L., 1890.—13. 'That part of a beer engine in which the surplus beer collects' (Dr H. W. Dalton, June 26, 1951): Anglo-Irish: C. 20.—14. All the 'commander' senses become crystallised and pinnacled in the very English coll. use of the old man for the head of a Service—a Ministry—a great institution—a profession, even the head of the State (e.g. the Prime Minister), the country: C. 20.—15. Owner of the circus: circusmen's: late C. 19–20.

old-man, adj. (p. 585): also 'Mature . . . extremely strong': B., 1959.

old mark, the. One's favourite taxicab rank: taxi-drivers': since ca. 1910. Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939.

Old Mick. Nauseated: rhyming s. (on sick): late C. 19–20. In an interview published in Cinema, early in Dec. 1967, Tommy Steele, 'Blimey, after you've got abaht twelve spoonsfulls down yer, on top o' Christmas dinner, yer don't half feel Old Mick.'

old moo. See moo, old, above.

old mother. See old daddy above.

Old Nasty. Adolf Hitler: mostly lower-middle and lower class: mid-1940+; by Jan. 1947, slightly ob. Ex the Rt Hon. Winston Churchill's jocular pronunciation of Nazi.

old Newton (got him, took him, etc.), often shortened to Newton, refers to a pilot crashing, esp. if fatally: R.A.F.: since ca. 1925. The Observer, Oct. 4, 1942, John Moore, 'New R.A.F. Slang'. Gravity is an aircraft's implacable foe; Isaac Newton discovered the laws of gravity.

Old One-Eye is also Ol' (or Ole) One Eye, as in 'Taffrail'.

old pelt. 'Applied to old and worn-out pressmen—referring to the old ink pelts used in olden times by these individuals for distributing the ink' (B. & L.): printers': mid-C. 19–20; ob.

old pit, the. See pit, 3.

old pod. See pod, old.

old rip.—2. An old prostitute showing signs of age: low: late C. 19–20.

Old Rock, the. The Reformatory Training Ship Cornwall: C. 20. Netley Lucas, My Selves, 1934.

old rope. See money for old rope (p. 528).—2. (Very) strong or rank tobacco: Services: since ca. 1925. H. & P.; Granville. In the Navy, it specifies perique: The Weekly Telegraph, Sept. 13, 1941.

Old Sealed Lips. Earl, esp. when he was Mr Baldwin: since 1936. The Fortnightly Review, April 1937. 'My lips are sealed.'

old ship. See ship, old (p. 757).

old shoe. Good luck: c.: C. 19. 'Prob. alluding to shoes and slippers thrown at a newly married couple' (B. & L.).

old six. 'Old ale at sixpence a quart' (ibid.): proletarian: ca. 1860–1914.

old so-and-so, that or the. A figurative bastard; jocularly euphemistic coll.: though heard ca. 1930, not gen. until ca. 1938.

old soldier.—4. See 'Tavern terms', § 6 (near end).—5. A bad-tempered sort of ant: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.

old soldiers, old cunts. A c.p. dating since before 1914; originally, Regular Army. Sometimes the exasperated sergeant or sergeant-major will add, 'You ain't even that; a cunt is useful.'

old son. My fine fellow: my dear chap: Australian coll.: from ca. 1870; ob. B. & L.

old squirt. An elderly passenger: (London) taxi-drivers': since ca. 1912. Herbert Hodge, Cab, Sir?, 1939, 'An affectionate term'.

old sticker. Army officers' s. of ca. 1810–50, as in John L. Gardner, The Military Sketch-Book, 1827, "Good-tempered Old Stagers" and "Old Stickers", meaning thereby that they can "go" at the bottle, and "stick" at the table till "all's blue". (Moe.) Cf. sticker, 3, on p. 830.

old thing.—4. Female pudend: lower classes': mid-C. 19–20 (perhaps very much earlier). Orig., euphemistic.

old-tin man. See come the old-tin man.

old tin-whiskers is the more usual C. 20 form of old whiskers (p. 586).

old Tom.—2. A variant of Tom, 6 (Dict.); in C. 20, not necessarily of a masculine appearance.

old unspeakables, the. The silent films of the cinema: cultured; not at all general: mostly or, at the least, originally Canadian: since ca. 1945; by 1960, slightly ob. (Leechman.)

old vet. 'Pensioner called back to the R.N. with the Fleet Reserve' (Granville): 1939 +. I.e. 'old veteran'.

Old Whittle. The Whitley bomber aircraft: Air Force: 1940–3. The old is affectionate: the Whitley did much good work. (From S/Ldr Vernon Noble, Feb. 1945.) old woman, 2 (p. 586). Perhaps, after all, orig. British, for it occurs in Fredk Marryat, Frank Mildmay, 1829 (on p. 47 of the 1897 edition). Moe.

Old Worser and Worser. 'The Oxford, Worcester and Wolverhampton railway before 1923 amalgamation' (Railway): ca. 1890–1923, then historical. A pun on Worcestershire.

oldie. An old trick or an old story; hence, an old film or play: coll.: since ca. 1925. (William Haggard, The Telemann Touch, 1958 (first nuance).—2. An old person: Australian: since ca. 1940. (B.P.)—3. An old song: coll.: since ca. 1945. Ex sense 1.

ole mal. (In address) old man: Australian: since ca. 1925; by 1950, ob. (Frank Arthur, The Suva Harbour Mystery, 1941.) Perhaps burlesquing pidgin English, or perhaps via ol' pal.

Oliver.—4. To put the Oliver on it is to handle or work something dishonestly: c.: since ca. 1910. F. D. Sharpe, The Flying Squad, 1938. Short for Oliver Twist, 'the Twist' (a dishonest practice).

olly, olly! An invitation to a schoolfellow to play with one or to accompany one on an errand; occ., a term of farewell: Cockney children's: ca. 1870–1920. Perhaps ex ho there! or ex Fr. aller—or ex both.—2. Hence among all Cockneys, 'a shout of greeting or recognition, usually with broad, rumbustious, freebooting lear to it' (Atkinson): C. 20.

olo piecee. Anything shabby, e.g. a cap: Naval officers': since ca. 1905. At first, genuinely China-side; since ca. 1946, either derisive or sentimental. Pidgin for old piece.

Olympic pool and passion pit. A drive-in cinema: Australian feminine: resp. since ca. 1960 and ca. 1955. Ex the petting, esp. the breast-stroking, that goes on there.

omee.—2. Hence, an inferior actor: theatrical: since ca. 1890. Ngaio Marsh, Vintage Murder, 1938.

omelette, make an. To blunder; commit a faux pas: since the late 1920's. On ne fait pas d'omelette sans casser des œufs; cf. make a mess of it.

ommi or ommy A variant of omee (p. 587). John o' London's Weekly, Feb. 4, 1949.

omnibus. An omnibus volume: since ca. 1920: book-world coll. >, by 1945, S.E.

on, adj., 4. Mayhew, I, 1851.

on, preposition, senses 5 and 6 (pp. 587–8), come under the meaning 'to the disadvantage of', as in 'It got away on me' and 'He did it on me'. Apparently esp. common in Canada.—7. 'Used for "at" in when applied to a gold-field. A miner was always "on Bendigo" or "on Ballarat", never "at" those places' (B., 1943): Australian coll.: mid C. 19–20. In short, 'on the field'. 6 (p. 588), originated, Professor Arnold Wall tells me (letter of Aug. 1939), in Erse idiom.

on phrases. See 'key-words'.

on and off, n. Lemonade on tap: Tonbridge: late C. 19–20. Marples.

on at, be. To nag (someone); reprove constantly: Australian coll.: late C. 19–20. Baker. Cf. go on about.

on boy, adj. and adv. On fag-duty: Harrow School: from ca. 1880 (?). Lunn: see the quotations at slut about and on find.

on doog. No good: 1851, Mayhew, I. Backslang.

on find. A Harrow term, now ranking rather as j. than as unconventional: from ca. 1890 (?). Lunn: 'Peter had a fortnight's grace before fagging began. These duties were by no means light. He was "on boy" once a fortnight, and "on find" one week out of three—sometimes more often. Two or three privs "found" together, that is, had breakfast and tea in their rooms. The fags attached to "the find" had to lay these meals and clear away. When "on boy" Peter had to stay in the House and answer prolonged shouts of "Boy-oy". He might be required to do anything, from lighting a fire to running a message.' See also find, n., 1, in the Dict.

on him (or her or you, etc.), be. Culotta defines as an 'exclamation, equivalent to "Just listen to him!" i.e. "He's talking nonsense"'.

on pleasure bent. A Canadian c.p., applied to a bow-legged female: since ca. 1950.

on the backs—down. Asleep: Army: since ca. 1930. On analogy of P.T. 'evolution' on the hands—down.

on the corner of the round table. See corner of . . .

on the Dilly. See Dilly above.

on the floor. Poor: rhyming s.: late C. 19–20. Franklyn, Rhyming. 2, 3. See floor, on the, above.

on the fritz; on the bum. Broken; out of order: since ca. 1934. 'Both expressions are quite widely acceptable in refined circles' (Professor F. E. L. Priestley, 1949). These Canadianisms have been adopted ex U.S. on the juice. See juice, on the, above.

on the ooze. 'On the booze': rhyming s.: since ca. 1920. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

on the sheep's back. Dependent on wool; 'a phrase often applied to the Australian economy' (B., 1959): Aus. coll.: C. 20.

on top. Bookmakers' s.: C. 20. See rick, adj., below.

on you! Hullo!: Australian: since ca. 1925. "Hiya, Curly. Hi, Ronnie," I said . . . "On yuh, Terry," said Curly' (Dick). Perhaps for good on you!

on your bike! Off you go!; Run away!: c.p.: since ca. 1960. Anthony Burgess in The Listener of March 2, 1967.

once.—2. Short for once a week (Dict.).—3. A quick, shrewd glance: since ca. 1920. Edgar Wallace, Elegant Edward, 1928, 'You rumbles me. I saw you giving me the "once".' Short for once-over (p. 588).—4. One pound sterling: c.: since ca. 1935. (Norman.) Perhaps a slovening of oncer, 2 (p. 588).

once a week.—2. A magistrate: rhyming s. (on beak): mid C. 19–20. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

once aboard the lugger and the girl is mine! A jocular c.p. late C. 19–20. Ben Landeck, My Jack and Dorothy, a melodrama produced at the Elephant and Castle theatre. Ca. 1889–90. (Julian Franklyn.)—A. S. M. Hutchinson's novel, Once Aboard the Lugger—the History of George and His Mary, 1908, merely reinforced the popularity of the phrase taken from a play that ran for many years.

once wounded, twice as windy (afraid or timorous). A Tommies' c.p. of 1915–18. On analogy of once bitten, twice shy. (A. B. Petch, April 1966.)

oncer.—3. Impudence: Cockneys': C. 20. Ex once a week, q.v. in Dict.—4. Something available, or occurring, only once: mostly Australian: since ca. 1925. (B.P.) ondleton (pron. wundletun). At bridge, a singleton: Australian: since ca. 1925. Baker.

one.—Abbr. of one and t'other (Dict.): C. 20. The (Birmingham) Evening Despatch, July 19, 1937. —9. Short for Naval Number One: since ca. 1930. (P-G-R.)

one, v. To score two heads on a throw of the two coins: Australian two-up players': since ca. 1910. 'Joe, peering through the smoke . . ., called "And he's—one'd 'em!"': Lawson Glassop, Lucky Palmer, 1949.

one, get one's. To be promoted from A.C.2 to A.C.1: R.A.F. coll.: since ca. 1925 (Gerald Emanuel, letter of March 29, 1945).

one and a half. A prison-sentence or—term of 18 months (1½ years): London's East End: since ca. 1945.

one and eight. A plate: rhyming s.: C. 20. Uncommon. (Franklyn 2nd.)

one and elevenpence three farden. Garden; pardon: rhyming s.: since ca. 1870. Michael Harrison, 1943.

one another is an occ. variant of one and t'other (p. 588). Len Ortzen, Down Donkey Row, 1938.

one-armed bandit. A fruit machine, a slot machine: adopted, in late 1950's, ex U.S. Ex the main lever, resembling an arm, and ex the odds against the user.

one-er.—5. A clay marble all of one colour: London schoolchildren's: from ca. 1880. Opp. twoer, 4 (Addenda). Cf. sense 3 of one-er (Dict.).—6. 'An amusing or eccentric person' (B. 1959): mostly Aus.: C. 20. Ex sense 1 on p. 588.

One-Eyed City, the (p. 588). In full, the o.—e.—c. of undiscovered crime: while the city was very rapidly expanding, the city's police-force was constantly inadequate.

one-eyed milkman. The penis: Naval: C. 20. one-finger exercise. Typing with one finger: jocular: since ca. 1925. Ex pianoforte lessons.—2. Digital stimulation of the clitoris: raffish: since ca. 1920.

one five. Hand: low: ca. 1860–1910. B. & L. one for his nob.—3. A shilling: street traders' rhyming s. (on bob): C. 20. Franklyn 2nd.

one for the bitumen. (Of a drink) one for the road: Australian drinkers': since ca. 1945. (B., 1953.)

one for the book!, often preceded by that's. A c.p., remarking upon 'a joke so funny or an event so extraordinary, that it deserves inclusion in "the book"'. Sc. "Joe Miller's" [Jest Book or] joke book' (Leechman): originally U.S., it was adopted in Canada ca. 1950; in Britain, ca. 1955. The phrase has, since the late 1950's in Canada and since ca. 1962 in Britain, had the variant one for the record, with reference to the record book.

But as an R.A.F. saying, it derives from lines (or line) book, q.v. above, and dates from late 1920's.

one for the gangway; one for the road. The last drink before the guest leaves the ship—before a journey (esp. by car): coll., by 1945 version on S.E. Resp., Naval and general: C. 20. Granville.

one (or and one) for the road. See prec. entry and also and one . . .

one for the shelf; also one for the old oak chest. A share that, it is assumed, will handsomely repay holding for a long time: coll.—money market, esp. stockbrokers' and financial journalists': C. 20. (Laurie Atkinson, Sept. 11, 1967.) The latter is a special application of a very old, semi-humorous phrase employed of anything put aside for use in the more or less remote future.

one hand for the King (or the Queen) and one for oneself. A Naval motto: lower-deck: C. 20.

one in the box, have. To be pregnant: lower-classes': late C. 19–20.

one in the bush is worth two in the hand. A low Australian c.p., meaning that coition is preferable to masturbation: since ca. 1920. A jocular perversion of the proverbial a bird in the hand . . . and a pun on bush, n., 3, above. Cf. push in the bush . . ., below.

one Labour gain. 'A yellow light at a colour signal' (Railway 2nd): railwaymen's: since ca. 1945.

one-man band. A person that takes rather too much on himself: coll.: C. 20; slightly ob., as is l'homme orchestre supplying the origin.

one mother too many (, have). (To be) illegitimate: mostly lower-middle class: C. 20. Implying 'the child shouldn't have been born'.

one next door, it's number four, the. A Bingo 'set phrase' or c.p. since ca. 1955.

one O. A First Officer, W.R.N.S.: Naval since 1941. Granville. I.e. 1st (Officer).

one o'clock, often preceded by it's. A c.p. of warning ('You have one fly-button undone'): Canadian: since ca. 1910. (Leechman.) Also Australian, as in D'Arcy Niland, Call Me . . ., 1958.

one (or two or three or . . .) o'clock at the waterworks. A c.p. of warning that one or more of one's fly-buttons are undone: Australian: C. 20. (B.P.) Cf. waterworks, 1, on p. 941.

one of the bones. A member of a 'skeleton staff': Canadian Civil Service: since ca. 1930. (Leechman.)

one of the mounted. A raffish c.p., dating from ca. 1945 and applied to a girl or woman successful in 'getting her man'. A punning reference to the old saying that 'the Mounties always get their man': cf. the entries at Mounties, p. 536 and above.

one of these fine mornings you'll wake up and find yourself dead. A jocular—or a derisive—Irishism: c.p.: C. 20.

one of those things, often preceded by it's just. A c.p. of resignation; used when the inexplicable and annoying or baffling occurs: since ca. 1936.

one of us, he's. He is a homosexual c.p., perhaps at first euphemistic. Cf. one of those (p. 589).

one of your team is playing a man short, often prefaced with I see (that). A jocular c.p. addressed to a youth sporting an eleven-a-side moustache: since ca. 1920. Ex Association football rather than ex cricket.

one on! 'Train! Beware!' (Railway, 3rd): railwaymen's coll.: C. 20. On the line.

one or two, have had. To be slightly drunk: coll.: late C. 19–20.

one-out fight. A fist fight between two (usu. selected) individual members of rival gangs: Australian teenage coll.: since ca. 1925. (Dick.)

one-out man. A 'lone wolf' cardsharp: Australian c.: since ca. 1920. (B., 1953.)

one over the odds is a variation of, and it arose slightly later than, one over the eight (Dict.).

one-pause-two course. An officer's initial-training course: R.A.F.: 1939+. Jackson, 'From the left and right turn instruction . . ., when the instructor times the movement by saying, "one-pause-two."' one-piece overcoat. A condom or 'French letter': since ca. 1950.

one side to his mouth, on. (Of a horse) that feels the bit on only one side of his mouth: turf coll.: from ca. 1850. B. & L.

one that got away, the. Orig. (early C. 20) a c.p. derisive of anglers boasting about the fish that escaped, a fish always remarkable for size or speed or cunning; then, since ca. 1945, applied to someone who has made a providential escape, e.g. a bachelor from a predatory female.

one them. To toss two coins that then fall head and tail: Australian two-up players': since ca. 1910. (B., 1953.)

one ton. 100: darts players': C. 20. Impressive number: impressive weight. (The Evening News, July 2, 1937.)

one toot and you're oot! Not a word from you, please: Australian c.p.: since ca. 1950. (B.P.) Australians, however, adopted it from England, where it has been a c.p. since ca. 1920, as Ramsey Spencer assures me in 1967.

one-track mind, have (or have got) a; occ. with elaboration and that's a dirt track; esp. in the c.p. you've got a one-track mind, an imputation of an excessive or, at the least, an absorbed interest in sex.

one-two; or the old one-two. Male masturbation: low, mostly Cockneys': late C. 19–20.

one up, have. To be a second lieutenant or a lance-corporal: Army coll.: late C. 19–20.

one up, put (someone). To give an advantage:

coll.: since ca. 1910. Ex golf? The extension be one up on occurs in Punch, July 11, 1933.

onedleton (pronounced wun-del-tun). In the game of bridge, a singleton: Australian: ca. 1925–50. (B., 1943.)

oner, do one's. To die; get killed: Australian since ca. 1918. Lawson Glassop, 1944. The one 'turn' one has.

onion, 3. An earlier reference occurs in 'Taffrail': '[The British cruiser] could not be relied upon to steam more than "twenty-one and an onion", as her own engineer lieutenant-commander expressed it.'—4. Occ. among civilians as pl., it = any anti-aircraft fire or shells: Berrey, 1940; ob.—5. A fool, a 'mug': Cockneys': from ca. 1920. 'I'm the onion'.

onion boat, came over with the. See came over . . .

onions, give (someone). To strike; assault, 'pitch into': Sessions, Nov. 1874; † by 1910. Ex their strong smell or ex their tendency to make one's eyes water.

onions, know one's. See know one's onions.

onker (p. 589) derives ex the interminable onk-urr onk-urr of the windmill pumps carried by these old ships, many of them due to be broken up: Frank C. Bowen, London Ship Types, 1938. By 1950, ob.; by 1960, reminiscent.

onkey. Stinking; (e.g. of fish) stale: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1953.) Cf. honk.

onkeypoo or onkus, adj. Crooked; out of order: Australian: since ca. 1925. Ex onkey above?

only a rumour! It's much worse than that!: Australian c.p.: since ca. 1919. Baker.

only another penny (needed) to make (up) the shilling! A c.p.; used, e.g., by persons collecting money: C. 20.

only birds can fornicate and fly. "Just an old saying the unromantic R.A.F. had: only birds can fornicate and fly. And birds don't booze" (Gavin Lyall, Shooting Script, 1966): W.W. II. 'Simultaneously' understood.

only eating a good soldier's rations. A c.p. applied, 1914–18, by soldiers to inferior soldiers.

only not. Except; always excepting: proletarian coll. verging on sol.: mid-C. 19–20. Nevinston, 1895, 'Mrs Simon would 'ave 'eaved at 'er 'ead whatever else she'd 'ad in 'er 'and, only not the baby.' Likewise, nothing only = nothing except; or, simply, nothing: as in Nevinston, 1895, 'But for all 'is bein' nothink only a stoker, the contractors would at whites put 'im on for boss.'

only think! See think!, only! in Dict.

oo-er, occ. written solid. A children's exclamation of either surprise or disgust, or of both: C. 20. An intensification of oo! or ooh!, itself a variant of oh! 'I remember this from 1907. It was long drawn-out and marked by an extreme affectation of femininity or foppishness' (Leechman).

oo-la-la! A c.p. exclamation of pleasant surprise: Army: 1914–18. Ex the Fr. ô la! la!

oobyjiver. A what's-it, a thingammy: North Country grammar schools': since ca. 1945. Cf. ooja-ka-piv on p. 590.

oodle. Money in general: New Zealand and Australian: C. 20. B., 1941, 1942. Ex oodles (Dict.).

oodle, v. Fig., to drip, as in 'The book oodles with blood-curdling situations': since ca. 1940. Ex oodles (p. 589); punning ooze.

oodles (p. 589) occurs, since ca. 1920, mostly in oodles of boodle, lots of money.

Oodna. Oodnadatta: Australian coll.: late C. 19–20. Archer Russell, A Tramp Royal in Wild Australia, 1934.

ooey-gooley! A rhyming reduplication of gooley above, but used as a juvenile exclamation of disgust, esp. at something viscous: Australian: since ca. 1920. (B.P.)

oof (p. 589). Also Canadian: late C. 19–20. (Niven.)

oofle dust. ‘The “secret magic powder” used on “fakes” or “gimmicks” that are not too new,’ William Hickey in Daily Express, Nov. 26, 1945: magicians’ (i.e. conjurers). C. 20. An arbitrary, fanciful word, oofle: ? ex *spoo*f. Dust in the eyes. Perhaps influenced by, or even derived ex, the now ob. U.S. Negro *goof*er dust, a magic powder alleged to be an aphrodisiac, as Robert Clairborne has suggested.

oojah. Sauce; custard: Services: since ca. 1938. H. & P. Ex ooja-ka-piv (p. 590).—2. An air-raid siren: 1939–45.

ooja(h)-pips. A woman’s breasts: Public-School-men’s: since ca. 1920.

oolala. (Of a girl; a woman) readily accessible; amorous: Services: since ca. Oct. 1939. I.e. the Fr. ô la! la! (expressive of sexual delight).

’Ooligan. An Oerlikon gun: Naval (lower deck) ca. 1941–6. By the honourable process of ‘Hobson-Jobson’.

oomph; zing. Sex-appeal: adopted in 1941 and 1943, resp., from U.S. Echoic: the former distorts the bull’s mating bellow; the latter ‘rings a bell’. Oomph had a wonderful Press on Oct. 16, 1946.

oonshick. ‘A person of low intelligence.’ (L. E. F. English, Historic Newfoundland, 1955): Newfoundland: C. 20. Of Amerindian origin?

oont. Pejorative for ‘fellow’, ‘chap’; a fool: low: since ca. 1920. Richard Llewellyn, None But the Lonely Heart, 1943, “What’s the matter with you, you big-headed oont, you?” Cf. dial. oonty (empty) and the at least cognate vont or hoont (to want, to lack); paralleled by ‘mental deficient’. —2. A camel: Australian: C. 20. Baker. Aboriginal? No; it has been adopted from Hindustani: cf. Kipling’s poem ‘Oonts’ in Barrack-Room Ballads, 1892. (Niels Haislund.)

oony. Seasick: Australian: C. 20. Baker. Arbitrary formation, vaguely echoic of sufferer’s groans.

oopizootics, the (p. 590). ‘Not specifically Australian: and much earlier than 1916. Chorus of popular song about 1890:

Father’s got ’em, Father’s got ’em, He’s got the ooperzootics on the brain,
He’s running round the houses
Without his shirt and trousers, Father’s got ’em coming on again’ (letter from F. W. Thomas).

oops! ‘An exclamation of apology when two persons collide or when one accidentally enters a room where someone is dressing’: since ca. 1930. (B.P.) Ex:

oops-a-daisy! A c.p. of consolation as one picks up a child that has fallen: late (? mid) C. 19–20.

oot. Money: Australian low: since ca. 1920. Lawson Glassop, We Were the Rats, 1944, “Smash, dough, fiddlies, coin, tin, hay, oot, skekels, spon-dulicks,” said Gordon. “Smash?” asked Clive, “What’s that?” Ex—perhaps, orig., illiterate for—hoot (p. 403).

Ooty Snooty Club, the. The Ootamacund Club (in the Nilgiri Hills), to which Naval officers serving in India were sent for recuperation or for leave: Naval: ca. 1940–5. ‘Junior officers found the “Poona” element a little over-powering’ (P-G-R); a punning rhyme on Oota—.

ooze, on the. On a drinking-bout: rhyming s. (on booze): from ca. 1930.

oozle, ouzle. In Australia also, the former has been current since ca. 1920. B., 1942.—2. ‘To search for, capture, ambush, shoot or otherwise harry (bandits, rebels or other disturbers of the peace in Palestine): British Army in Palestine [1938 +]. E.g., “D Company will send an oozling party.” Ex Arabic oozlebast (“brigand”), in brief glossary of Arabic terms issued to “the troops”. (Letter of Nov. 15, 1939, from Earl Wavell.)

oozlum bird. ‘A bird whose species you cannot recognize on sight,’ Granville: Naval: C. 20. Granville compares the R.A.F.’s concentric bird; cf. ooja-ka-piv (Dict.).

op, n., 3 (p. 590): common, since ca. 1900, for any operation surgical (the earlier use) or military.

opaque (p. 590). Several years earlier in The London Guide, 1818.

opcar. A policeman: Australian c.: since the 1920’s. (Kylie Tennant, The Joyful Condemned, 1953.) A modified centre s. on copper.

open a can of worms. ‘To introduce an unsavoury subject into the conversation’: Canadian: since ca. 1955. (Leechman: ‘rare’.) Such a tin of worms as is purchased by a week-end fisherman.

open a tin. See kick a gong above.

open-and-shut. ‘In Newfoundland, days of alternating sun and cloud are known as “open-and-shut” days’ (Leechman): C. 20.

open slather. ‘Open house’ (free for all); open access: Australian: since ca. 1935. (B.P.) Cf. slather below.

open the door. See little Jimmy.

open the door, Richard! An Australian c.p., ‘used when someone knocks on an unlocked door’ (B.P.): since ca. 1930.

open the occurrence. To make, in the police-station books, an entry for a new case: policemen’s: from ca. 1880. B. & L.

open the taps. See taps.

operate. To operate on: Canadian doctors’ and nurses’: since ca. 1930. At first a sol., it was by 1909, coll.—almost j.; but still to be deprecated. ‘They operated her twice.’ (Leechman.)

operation. ‘Note to sub-editors and others: please co-operate in killing . . . the most over-worked of current clichés—the whimsical application to a variety of topics of the military locution “Operation—”,’ T. Driberg in Reynolds, April 28, 1946: coll.: late 1945 +. Please!

Operation Park. Bondi Esplanade Park Sydney: Sydneyites’: since ca. 1925. Baker. Erotic.

operator (p. 590). Still current in 1848 (Sinks).

opperore. See uproar (Dict.).

Oppo. Senior Officers in mess: Naval (lower-deck): since ca. 1920. Ex operational.

oppo. ‘My oppo’ is my chum, pal, usual companion: Royal Navy and Royal Marines (—1939) and R.A.F. (since 1940).—2. Hence, sweetheart (H. & P.) or even one's wife (Jackson).

opposite, n. The saloon bar: public-house coll.: late C. 19–20: † by 1940. A. Neil Lyons, Clara, 1912, 'You could come in—in Opposite, along of us.' Opposite the less 'superior' bar.

opposite, adj. Obscene (esp. of language): S. African c.: C. 20. The Cape Times, May 23, 1946.

opposite number, one's. 'The opposite number to a Brigade Intelligence Officer, for instance, is the Battalion Intelligence Officer on the one hand, the Divisional Intelligence Officer on the other,' E. P., 'In Mess and Field', The New Statesman, Aug. 1, 1942: Army: since ca. 1936: by 1942, it was j. opposite tacks. Cross-purposes: nautical coll.: mid-C. 19–20. B. & L.

ops. Operations (activities): Services: since ca. 1915.—2. In R.A.F., Operations Room: Operations Officer: since ca. 1938. Partridge, 1945.

optlanding. Optional landing, there being, on a rainy day, no 'clear College': Royal Naval College, Dartmouth: C. 20. Granville.

or am I?—or are you?—or is (s) he or it? A c.p., added for effect: since ca. 1945. 'He's a great man—or is he?'

or out goes the gas! A c.p. 'threat to put an end to whatever is going on': ca. 1880–1905. B. & L.

or something. A vague, final tag, either to avoid full details or explanation or because the speaker doesn't know: coll.: late C. 19–20.

or what-have-you. A tag, indicative not of doubt but of a refusal to go into a catalogue: orig. (ca. 1942) and still (1960) a mainly cultured coll. This c.p. 'provides for any reasonable conceivable possibility appropriate to the context. . . . For want of example, or as opening the sluice-gates of possibility' (Atkinson, letter of July 1, 1948).

or would you rather be a fish? 'A c.p. quip after proposed line of action (the more at odds the better). To the response "Yes", the rejoinder is: "You haven't far to go"; rebutted by "No, it's too wet".' (Atkinson, March 1959.) This set of witticisms—cf. the 'chants' so common among servicemen in 1914–18—dates from ca. 1945 and springs from, indeed as an elaboration of, the c.p., which would you rather—or go fishing?, itself current at least as early as 1930, if my memory serves me aright. Indeed, it must date from ca. 1927: Dorothy Sayers used it in The Nine Tailors, 1929, as Ramsey Spencer reminds me.

orange. A long-distance call; esp., give me an orange, give me (put me on to) a long-distance exchange: telephone operators': since ca. 1939.

orange pip. An observation post: Artillery: 1939–45. Orange was signalese for O, pip for P. oration, n. A noisy disturbance; a clamour, a din: low: ca. 1820–60. 'She kicked up such an oration,' Sessions, 1833. By a confusion of uproar and oratorio and oration.

oration box. The head: ca. 1815–60. Spy, II, 1826.

orbit. To circle: Fighter Command: 1939–45. It became official: cf. angels and tally-ho. Ex astronomy.

orchestra, 2 (p. 591). Cf. the Fr. C. 19–20 s. violon, gaol.

orchid (p. 591). See esp. 'Rouge et Noir', The Gambling World, 1898.

orchids to you, dear! A polite form of 'balls to you!': ca. 1935–55. Based upon an etymological pun; most users of the c.p. were ignorant of the testicular origin.

ord. Recorded earlier in 'Taffrail'.

order. 'A portion or helping of a dish or article of food served in a restaurant': coll.: U.S. (— 1906) anglicised by 1920. O.E.D. (Sup.). Cf.: —2. Pl., at Eton College, from ca. 1840, as in B. Richards, Seven Years at Eton, 'While we were in early school our . . . rooms [had to be] tidied; after that the orders, i.e. rolls, butter, and milk had to be served round.'

orderly buff. See buff, n., 5.

orderly dog (p. 591). In the R.A.F., it = Orderly Sergeant. (Jackson, 'The orderly officer's dog'.)

orderly pig. Orderly Officer: mostly officers': Army (— 1914) >, by 1939, R.A.F. Partridge, 1945. Cf. orderly dog in Dict.

orderly poodle is an R.A.F. N.C.O.'s variation of orderly dog as above. (G. Emanuel, March 29, 1945.)

orderly stooge. Orderly Officer: Orderly N.C.O.: Army: 1939–45. (P-G-R.)

orders is orders! A jocular c.p. (ex Army sergeants' use), 'we must obey orders': C. 20.

ordinar'. Ordinary: lower-class coll.: mid-C. 19–20. (Nevinson, 1895.) Also in Scottish; in England, until C. 19, it was S.E. Cf. extra-ordinar' (supra).

ordinary pursuivant. See 'Tavern terms', § 4.

[orful is an unnecessary spelling of awful; cf. woi for what.]

organ, play the. To copulate: Australian: C. 20. Prompted by the euphemistic organ (of reproduction), the penis.

organ bird. A magpie: Australian: late C. 19–20. B., 1942. Ironie.

Organ-Grinders, the. The Italians: a nickname in 1914–18, though not unheard either before or after. William McFee, North of Suez, 1930.

organ pipe.—2. In pl. it was, ca. 1840–90, used among boxers for the nostrils, as in Augustus Mayhew, Paved With Gold, 1857.

organise. To 'wangle' something; to get something deviously or illicitly; to obtain or arrange something (very) cleverly but not necessarily illicitly: R.A.F.: since ca. 1938. Jackson, 'Thus, "Leave it to me to organise some beer."' Flying Officer Robert Hinde, March 17, 1945, 'Used particularly in the sense "I must get organised with a girl in Town" or "with the C.O."' Cf. Ger. military s. organisieren, 'to win something'.—2. To avoid (an unpleasant duty), as 'I organised that fatigue all right': Army: 1939–45. (P-G-R.) organise? You couldn't organise a piss-up in a brewery! Organisation certainly isn't your strong point: c.p.: since ca. 1939. Cf. organise above. Here, piss-up is a drinking bout.

organised, get. 'To arrange one's kit or the work to be done in order before starting the day,' H. & P.: R.A.F. coll.: since ca. 1930.—2. Hence, to so arrange work, or a plan, as to achieve one's purpose; he who has done this is, or has got, organised: since 1939. Partridge, 1945.

orgy. A party: mostly teenagers': since the late 1950's; by 1966, slightly ob.

orinoko, often orinoker.—2. A variant of Oronoko (p. 591), which itself may well have been influenced by Mrs Aphra Behn's Oroonoko: or, The Royal Slave. 1688: see the very interesting note on pp. 160-1 of Julian Franklyn's Rhyming Slang, 2nd edition.

orkneyitis or scapathy. That mental and moral depression which tends to ensue after one has been stationed for some time in the Orkneys: R.A.F.: since ca. 1939. H. & P. Scapathy deftly blends 'Scapa Flow' and 'apathy'.

orks. Short for orchestras, itself short for orchestra stalls, rhyming s. on balls, testicles: since ca. 1925.

ormolu. 'Wardroom adjective for anything ornate or expensive-looking' (Granville): Naval: since ca. 1917. No; since before 1914. It occurs in, e.g., 'Bartimeus', Naval Occasions, 1914. (H. R. Spencer.) Ex 'ormolu clocks'.

ornament. A station master: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931). Derisive.

ornicle. 'A policeman, magistrate, or anyone in authority' (John o' London's Weekly, March 4, 1949): showmen's: ca. 1870-1930. 'Oracle? as having the last word—final' (J. o' L.).

Orokaivas. A tribe that, in N.E. Papua, speaks the Binandali language: catachresis: late C. 19-20. Sir Hubert Murray, Papua, 1912. Ex a word frequent in that language.

'orrible 'ole, the. The gun-room, 'home' of the midshipmen: Naval officers': since ca. 1925. (P.-G.-R.) Derivative of a typical Petty Officer's characteristic scorn.

orta recens. 'One who has either slept in or has had more sleep than the speaker. (Orta recens . . . form the first two words of the motto of New South Wales): a c.p., dating from ca. 1955. (B.P.) But † by 1967, Mr Prentice tells me.

Oscar, n. A homosexual: coll. rather than s.: late C. 19-20; ob. Ex Oscar Wilde. Hence the v. —2. An annual award to the best film actor or actress of the past 12 months: cinematic: since ca. 1940. John Bull, Aug. 24, 1946. Ex the inaugurator's given-name.—3. A Japanese Army aircraft: R.A.F. in Far East: 1942+. Barry Sutton, Jungle Pilot, 1946.

Oscar (or o.), v.t. To bugger: lower class: C. 20.

Oscar-Wildeing. Active homosexuality: lower class: C. 20. Cf. prec. two entries.

Oscarise, v.i. To be (an active) homosexual: C. 20. Cf. Oscar, n. and v.

ostrich. See peninsula below.

other half, the. See swing o' the door.

other place, the. Cambridge men speaking of Oxford; Oxford men, of Cambridge: coll.: mid-C. 19-20. Cf. shop, n., 3 (Dict.).

other side, the.—2. Australia: New Zealanders': since ca. 1880. B., 1941, 'The other side of the Tasman [Sea].'

otta. Eight (8): parlary: mid C. 19-20. Cf. the quotation at dewey above. (Sydney Lester.)

ounce.—2. A pound sterling: spivs' c.: since ca. 1942. (Picture Post, Jan 2, 1954.)

our. 'In the North of England and Scotland [but also among Cockneys], mainly working-class, "our" is nearly always used in referring to a member of the family, as "Our Billy" or "Our Mary Ann", Albert B. Petch, letter of Oct. 31, 1946: coll.: C. 19-20.

our Bridge. Sydney Harbour Bridge; a Melbourne c.p.: since ca. 1925. Baker. Cf. our 'Arbour on p. 16.

Our 'Erb. The Rt Hon. Herbert Morrison: his London supporters': since ca. 1941.

our Glad. Gladys Moncrieff, an Australian musical-comedy star, whose career began in 1913: not only Australian: since ca. 1920. (B.P., 1963).

Our Marie. Marie Lloyd (1870-1922), the justly famous music-hall artist: ca. 1895-1920, then reminiscent. Cf. Naomi Jacob's biography, Our Marie, 1936.

Our Venerable Aunt. Catholic Church: Protestants': since ca. 1870.

out, n., 2. The terminal date should be 1910.—6. An omission of part of matter to be printed: printers' coll.: mid-C. 19-20.—7. A walking-out together: lower-middle and lower class: since ca. 1920. Berta Ruck, Pennies from Heaven, 1940.—8. An excuse; an alibi: adopted, ca. 1942, from U.S.

out, v., 1: much earlier in Sessions, Aug. 1857.—4. To dismiss from employment: late C. 19-20. A. Neil Lyons, Hookey, 1902, "'Yes, I shall be outed.'" I.e. to put outside.—5. Hence, to eject from a meeting. Australian: C. 20. B., 1942.—6. To suspend (a jockey or a professional games-player): Australian sporting: since late 1940's. (B.P.)

out, adj., 5 (p. 592), occurs much earlier in The Night Watch (I, 258), 1829, thus, "'What age is she?" asked Charlotte. "Twenty, or a little more; perhaps about your own age, though she has been out these two seasons; and, I am told, has had several advantageous offers in point of connexion."

out-cry. See outcry (Dict.).

out goes the gas!, or. See or out . . .

out in the blue. Isolated—esp. in the desert: R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. Jackson. See blue, into the, 2 (p. 69).

out into the cold, cold snow. Half-way between a c.p. and a chant: C. 20. Ex a sentimentally melodramatic recitation.

out like a light. Unconscious drunk; very sound asleep: since ca. 1945.

out of commission.—2. Out of order; not running: coll.: since ca. 1920. 'We can't take the car; she's out of commission.'

out of register. (Of a drunken person) walking crookedly: printers': from ca. 1860. B. & L. A page out of register is a type-area not square on page or sheet.

out of the blue. A variant of out in the blue. (Partridge, 1945.)

out of the box. See box, out of the.

out of the wool. (Of sheep) 'that have just been shorn' (B., 1959): Aus. coll.: C. 20.

out of this world. See 'Jazz Slang'.

out on a limb. See limb, out on a, above.

out on its own—like a country shit-house. Excellent; unique: New Zealand: since ca. 1910. An elaboration of the coll.: out on one's, or its, own (p. 593).

out on one's ear; Australian, . . . pink ear. An intensive of out, as in 'Thrown out on one's (pink) ear': since ca. 1920. (B.P.) out or down there (p. 593) occurs in 1818 (Alfred Burton, Johnny Newcome) as out or down here. Moe. The variant out or down occurs in W. N. Glascock, Sailors and Saints (I, 95), 1829. (Moe.)

out or in. "'Out or in" . . . is Queensland vernacular for dead or alive' (Alexander Macdonald, In the Land of Pearl and Gold, 1907): Queensland coll.: ca. 1880–1930.

out run. 'A sheep run at a considerable distance from the head station' (B., 1959): Aus. rural coll.: C. 20. But an out station is a sheep, or a cattle, station remote from the head station: coll.: C. 20.

out to it. Dead drunk: Australian: since ca. 1880. (B., 1942.)

out where the bull feeds. See where . . .

out with, 1 (p. 593). Earlier in Sessions, Dec. 1783 (p. 15): 'He out with the knife and shewed it me.'

outcast and outcaste (one who has lost caste or has no caste) have, from ca. 1880, been 'often confused', as Wyld has noted.

outdoor plumbing. An outdoor privy: (U.S. and) Canadian 'ironic, since there is no plumbing' (Priestley): C. 20.

outed. Dismissed from employment: Australian: since ca. 1925. (B., 1943.)

outer (p. 593). Hence, and much more usually '(of a racecourse) the section outside the enclosure' (B., 1942).—2. (the outer.) Outside coat pocket: c. late C. 19–20. Cf. bitch, safe, seat, all in Addenda.

outfitter. An officer 'not fond of change from home to foreign service or from regimental to staff employment, and . . . always getting an "outfit" for the purpose': Royal Artillery officers': ca. 1885–1905. B. & L.

outlawed. Applied to a crew that has worked 16 hours, the statutory limit: Canadian railroad-men's (— 1931).

outs, run of. A succession of racing losses: Australian sporting: since ca. 1920. (Lawson Glassop, 1949.) Ex sense 5 of out, n.: p. 592.

outside, adv. In civilian life: Naval coll.: C. 20. Granville, "'I don't care what you were 'outside'; you're in the Andrew now, so don't forget it, or you'll be in the rattle," Petty Officer to recalcitrant New Entry.' Cf. the very much older coll. Canadian sense, 'in, or into, civilized parts'—as opposed to the backwoods. 'Trappers will spend the winter in the bush and then come "outside" to sell their catch. My earliest example is 1827' (Leechman, May 1959).—2. In Australia, however, the outside = unsettled parts or districts: coll.: C. 20. (B., 1943.) outside bug. See O.B.

outside of (p. 594). But cf. Jane Austen, Sense and Sensibility, 1811, "'You think the little Middletons too much indulged. Perhaps they may be the outside of enough.'" outside (of), get (p. 594). Sense 1 occurs in U.S. in J. W. De Forest ('The Duchesne Estate'), writing in The Galaxy, June 1869 (p. 831), 'Don't let's get outside of more'n a bottle apiece, and that plain whiskey.' Moe.

Outside Old River. The Yangtse-Kiang: pidgin: mid-C. 19–20. B. & L.

outside tiffy; outside wrecker. A Naval artificer working 'outside': Naval: since ca. 1925. (Granville.) Strictly a submariners' term for 'an artificer working outside the hull or engine-room of a submarine' (Granville, Nov. 5, 1967). In Down the Hatch, 1961, John Winton remarks that 'Most of the machinery outside the engineroom was maintained by the man who was known by the traditional submarine title of the outside wrecker'.

outside view. A view of the target seen from the air: R.A.F. coll.: 1939 +. II. & P. outsider.—5. 'A person living in the outback' (B., 1959): Aus.: C. 20.

outy. An outing, esp. for a pet animal: domestic: C. 20. (C. H. B. Kitchin, The Cornish Fox, 1949.)

over! A variant (— 1860) of over the left shoulder!, I don't believe you! H., 2nd ed. See left, over the (Dict.).

over backs; hence overs. Leap-frog: resp. Cockney coll. (mid-C. 19–20) and Cockney s. (from ca. 1890).

over-baked. Disappointed; 'fed up': Naval: C. 20. Cf. browned off. (P-G-R.) over goes the show! A proletarian c.p. of ca. 1870–1900 referring to a disaster or to a sudden change. B. & L.

over-omer. That kind of Englishman who talks constantly of how much better things are done 'over 'ome': Canadian: C. 20. Naturally, he's much resented.

over one's time. (Of women) having passed the date on which the period should have begun: mostly feminine coll.: mid C. 19–20.

over-rate it. To overdo one's part: theatrical: from ca. 1860; ob.

over the bun-house. See bun-house (Dict.).

over the Gilbert (p. 594) is explained by hard-a-Gilbert (p. 374).

over the mark. Tipsy: coll.: ca. 1820–80. In a letter written in 1846—from what is now Winnipeg—Robert Clouston, a Scot, remarks, 'Those not accustomed to dine at these parties will get over the mark (tipsy) before they have any idea of it.' (Communicated by Dr Douglas Leechman.)

over the top. See top, over the.

over the wall. 'In the guard-room, confined to camp. Thus, "9d. over the wall" means, "Nine days C.C."': Jackson. The phrase has been adopted from American c. (see Underworld): Services: since ca. 1935.

over the water (p. 595) is extant—but concerning Wandsworth Prison.

overgots book. 'Book showing credits in hand for which official debit not available. NER usage' (Railway, 3rd): coll.: C. 20.

overland, the. The back-country; remote, wholly or almost wholly unsettled districts: Australian coll.: since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.) Cf. outside. 2. Hence, overland, to travel in those parts, esp. to drive stock over them: coll.: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.)

overlanded. Of goods 'arriving without invoice' (Railway, 3rd): C. 20.

overlander (p. 595). Morris's definition is suspect. In C. 20, at least, the sense has always been 'a drover of esp. cattle, chiefly over long distances': coll. >, by 1920 at latest, Standard Australian: so, too, the vbl n., overlanding.—2. A settler from another State: Australian: since ca. 1920. (B., 1943.)

overs. See over backs (above).—2. 'Shells and bullets that had passed their target' (P-G-R.): Army coll.: 1940–5.

overseas, adj. 'Half seas over' or half-drunk: since ca. 1930. By a reversal and a pun.

'Ow dare she? H.M.S. Audacious: Naval: since ca. 1930. Granville. By 'Hobson-Jobson'.

owe-forty. A lawn-tennis term of the late 1880's–early 90's. 'Every one with any pretensions to skill (and a good many with none) wore long, thick, white blanket-coats. These were called "owe-forty" coats—sometimes in reverence, occasionally in derision,' F. R. Burrow, The Centre Court, 1937.

Owen Nares. Chairs: theatrical rhyming s.: since ca. 1910. (Franklyn, Rhyming.) Ex a very popular actor.

owl, n.—3. A blow or a punch, esp. on the head: Christ's Hospital: since ca. 1870. Marples. Proleptic.—4. An A.T.S. wireless operator: A.T.S.: 1940–5. Ex their wireless 'headgear', which gives the wearer an owlsh appearance.

owl, v., 1. Properly, to smuggle goods out of the country.

Owl, the. The night train from Paddington to Penzance: railwaymen's: C. 20. (Railway 2nd.) A night bird for night birds.

Owlsville. Late-night London: 'with it' revellers': since ca. 1961. (Evening Standard, March 17, 1964; ? news item.)

owner, 1. Earlier authority: 'Taffrail'. 'The captain of a ship [in the Navy] is invariably "the owner", "old man" or "skipper", while . . . the second in command . . . is "the bloke".'—3. The captain of an aircraft: R.A.F.: 1918 +. Jackson. Ex sense 1.—4. The Owner is also the Commanding Officer: R.A.F.: 1918 +.

Sense 1 should rather be dated 'late C. 19–20'.

Owners, the. The British public: Navy: since ca. 1925. Granville. The B.P. owns it.

owner's scribe. The C.O.'s confidential clerk: R.A.F.: since ca. 1930. Jackson. See owner 4.—2. Hence, a Personal Assistant to an Air Marshal or an Air Chief Marshal: since ca. 1940. Partridge, 1945.

ownsone, on one's. By oneself: lower-middle class coll.: since ca. 1920. Michael Harrison, What Are We Waiting For?, 1939. Ex on one's own = lonesome.

owny-o, on one's (p. 595) or, as in James Joyce, Ulysses, 1922, ownio.

owt. Mayhew, I, 1851.

ox. 'A large person or tough, esp. a clumsy one' (Peter Bonford): Marlborough College (and upper-middle class) coll.: late C. 19–20.

Ox, the. 'The old Oxford Theatre, Melbourne' (B., 1942).

Ox-Tails, the; the Cabbage-Stalks. The Oxford crew; the Cambridge crew in the boat race: ca. 1887. Mr Compton Mackenzie, broadcasting on April 27, 1937.

ox up; knock up; mob. To promote (a pupil): Christ's Hospital: resp. ca. 1840–80, 1850–1940, 1890 +. Marples.

Ox-Wag(g)on. An Oxford aircraft: airmen's, esp. in S. Africa, where this craft was extensively used in training: World War II.

Oxbridge. Oxford and Cambridge as = the older English universities: journalistic coll.: since ca. 1955.

Oxford '-er' (see p. 596). Mr Vernon Rendall, himself an old Rugby School boy, rejects the Rugby School origin; he is supported by Fischer Williams (see 'Harrow Slang' on p. 376).

Oxford scholar.—2. Shirt collar: rhyming s.: C. 20; not very general. (Franklyn, Rhyming.)

Oxo (p. 596). Not quite correct, for it derives ex 'O × O (nought multiplied by nought) = O'—an old schoolboys' joke. For date, read: late C. 19–20.

Oxo cube. Tube (railway): rhyming: C. 20.

oxometer. An apocryphal instrument for the measurement of 'bullshit': Naval lower-deck: 1939 +. Granville.

ozzletozzle. See uppartizzle below.

P

p. or P. A ponce: mostly Londoners': C. 20. Gerald Kersh, Night and the City, 1938.

P. & E., the. 'The Pike and Eel'—an inn on the Cam, hard by the finish of the bumping races: Cambridge undergraduates': since ca. 1880.

P.D.—2. Esp. in caught P.D., 'caught with one's pants down', i.e. at a disadvantage: since ca. 1935.

P.F. man. See pig-fucker.

p.h. or P.H. See purple heart below.

p in swimming, silent—like the. A fairly common c.p., used in explaining a pronunciation. 'Her name is "Fenwick", but the "w" is silent, like the "p" in "swimming".' Since ca. 1914. (Leechman.) A pun on the pee recorded on p. 614.

P.M. A parlour maid: domestic servants' coll.: ate C. 19–20.

P.M.Y.O.B. Please mind your own business: c.p.: since ca. 1930. (Julian Symons, The Gigantic Shadow, 1958.) Also P.M.Y.O.B.B., . . . your own bloody business. (Julian Franklyn, note of 1962.)

P.O. or p.o. is the shorter and probably the original form of p.o.q. (p. 596). Compton Mackenzie, Sinister Street, 1913–14, 'You can give me dinner and then I'll P.O.'—2. A coal wagon: railwaymen's: since ca. 1920. (Railway, 3rd.)

P.O. Prune. See Prune, P.O.

p.p., sense 2. This can be carried back to ca. 1830, for it appears in Surtees's Ask Mamma and Dickens's Pickwick Papers.

p.p.i. or P.P.I. Policy proof of interest: from ca. 1903. In its lit. sense, it is merely insurance j., but in pejorative allusion to speculative insurance policies, it is a commercial c.p., now slightly ob. (F. H. Collins, Authors' and Printers' Dictionary.)

p.t. or P.T. See prick-teaser in Addenda and p.t. in Dict.

p.y.c. Pay your cash: Australian coll.: C. 20. B., 1942.

P.Zs. 'Exercises in the Fleet at sea': Naval: C. 20. 'This flag-hoist used to be run up when the exercises began' (Granville).

pack. A gang: c.: C. 17–mid-19. B. & L.

pack, v. To be ruined or spoilt; to become useless: motor-racers': from ca. 1920. Peter Chamberlain, 'Back-axles will pack before half distance anyway.' Ex pack up, q.v. in Dict.—2. To 'pack up', to desist, give up: cyclists': since ca. 1945. 'Where did you come?'—'Oh, I packed after fifty miles.'—3. To beat: to be superior to, or more enjoyable than: Aus.: since ca. 1920, Norman Lindsay, Saturday, 1963, "'Fun o' the world, goin' with girls," said Peter, "By jings, you oughter try it on. . . . By jings, it packs football easy!"' And "'Oh, I'm pretty good," he said. "It takes a bit to pack me once I get goin'."'

Sense 2 was, by 1960, fairly gen.—as, e.g., in Alan Diment, The Dolly Dolly Spy, 1967.

pack, go to the (p. 598). Also Australian: B., 1942.

pack 'em. To be either timid or frightened: Aus.: since ca. 1930. (B., 1959.) Whence the vbl n. packing 'em.

pack in, v.i., is a synonym for pack up, v., 2 (below). W/Cdr R. P. McDouall, March 17, 1945.

pack it in; pack it up. To stop talking; to cease fooling or some foolish practice: Services (from Cockneys?): since ca. 1925. H. & P. Ex pack the game in and pack up, on p. 598.—2. Since the late 1940's, commoner than pack it up, to give up one's job: mostly manual workers', as in 'I'm packing it in, too much like hard work!'

pack the trail. To go on trail, whether on horseback or afoot: Australian coll.: since ca. 1870. Archer Russell, A Tramp Royal in Wild Australia, 1934.

pack-up, n., corresponds to the next: R.A.F.: since ca. 1937. (W/Cdr R. P. McDouall, letter of March 17, 1945.)

pack up, v.—2. Hence, (of a 'plane) to cease to function: R.A.F.: since ca. 1937. Partridge, 1945.

pack up one's awls and be gone (Dict.) occurs in Eliz. Raper's Receipt Book as . . . alls . . .; there also as stuff up one's all. (David Garnett, in The New Statesman & Nation, Feb. 20, 1937.)—The earliest record happens to be in the form awls: F. Kirkman, The Unlucky Citizen, 1673.

packed up, adj. in the predicate. Killed in warfare: Army: 1914–18. Ex pack up (p. 598).

packer. A pack-horse: Australian coll.: since ca. 1870. B., 1942.—2. A plate-layer: railwaymen's jocular: C. 20. (Railway 2nd.)

packet.—5. See packet, cop a, on p. 598. Also with variant catch, to be severely reprimanded: Services, esp. Army, since ca. 1925. (P-G-R.) packet, three-op. See three-op packet (Dict.).

packet, buy a. See buy it.

packet of salts, like a. Variant of . . . dose of salts (p. 236).

packin(g) 'em. See sterky.

packet, take a. To reach the point at which effort is painful: racing cyclists': since ca. 1946. Cf. packet, cop a, on p. 598.

packs (rare in singular). Packhorses: Aus. coll.: late C. 19–20. Mary Durack, Keep him My Country, 1959.

pad, n.—9. A rough bush road or mere track: Australian coll.: late C. 19–20. (B., 1943.) Ex sense 1 (p. 599).—10. (Ex sense 6: p. 599.) 'Living quarters, often a bare room with a mattress on or near the floor' (The Victoria Daily Colonist, April 16, 1959, 'Basic Beatnik'): Canadian jazz-lovers' and musicians': adopted, in 1956 or 1957, ex U.S.—cf. The American Dialect Society, November 1958, Norman D. Hinton ('Language of Jazz Musicians'), 'pad, n. A bed. Extended to mean bedroom, or even apartment. Occ[asional].'

—11. 'A lot, "packet"' (Culotta): Australian: since late 1940's.

pad it (p. 599). Perhaps from as early as ca. 1690.

Padders. Paddington railway station: since ca. 1920. (The New Statesman, Feb. 5, 1965.) By 'the Oxford-er'.

Paddington Pollaky. See pollaky (Addenda, after Dict.).

paddle, n.—2. A semaphore signal: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931). Ex shape.

paddler, 2, and walloper, 3, are Australian c. terms for a policeman: since ca. 1945. (B., 1953.) Both are probably of sadistic origin.

paddles. Fleet: c. in C. 19 and low in C. 20. (Cf. boats in Dict.) Anon., Autobiography of Jack Ketch, 1836.

paddling. See footing like a centipede above.

Paddo. Paddington (N.S.W.): Sydneyites': since ca. 1920. (B., 1953.)

Paddy, 1 (Irishman): earlier in Sessions, 1748.—2. In Australia with variant Pat, it = a Chinese: C. 20. B., 1942, has both; Pat occurs also in Sidney J. Baker's letter in The Observer, Nov. 13, 1938.—3. A 'colliery train from mine to railhead' (Railway): railwaymen's: C. 20.

Paddy Kelly. A policeman: Liverpool dockers': late C. 19–20; by 1960, slightly ob.

Paddy Quick.—3. A kick: rhyming s.: mid C. 19–20; by 1910. Franklyn, Rhyming.

Paddy rammer (p. 600): ob. by 1960. (Franklyn 2nd.) Clearly suggested by panorama (below).

Paddy wag(g)on. A van for the conveyance of prisoners: Australian: adopted, ca. 1955, ex U.S. (B.P.) Ex the prevalence of Irishmen in the police forces of the U.S.A.? paddy-w(h)ack.—4. A smack; a smacking: Australian children's: late C. 19–20. Elaboration: paddy(-)whack the drumstick, as in 'You'll get paddy(-)whack the drumstick if your mother finds out'. The form paddy(-)whack is—obviously enough—partly echoic; it may also owe something to rhyming s. (B.P.)

Paddyland. See Paddy Land (Dict.).

Paddy's Goose (p. 600): earlier in Sessions, Dec. 1839.

Paddy's market. A market for the sale of second-hand goods, esp. clothes: coll.: mid-C. 19–20.

Paddy's pig . . . See Irish as . . .

Paddy's watch. Employed allusively, Irish ratings being (according to themselves) never off watch: Naval: since ca. 1920.

padhouse. One's bedroom or lodging: beatniks': since ca. 1958. (Anderson.) An extension of pad, n., 10 (above).

padre (p. 600) has app. been Naval since early C. 19, to judge by Fredk Marryat, The King's Own, 1830 (p. 215 of the 1896 edition). Moe.

pads, women: married pads, wives: Regular Army: late C. 19–20. Perhaps ex pad, n., 6 (Dict.).

pads, the. A padded cell, or the padded cells, in a lunatic asylum: esp. the attendants': since ca. 1925.

Paggers. St Peter's Hall: Oxford undergraduates': since ca. 1935. (Marples, 2.) After Jaggers.

paid out with spit. A c.p. applied to a small salary: U.S. theatrical >, ca. 1932, partly English theatrical.

pain in one's little finger (or toe), have a, esp. in the semi-c.p., 'He has a pain in his . . .': applied to the malingering type of serviceman or workman: C. 20. (A. B. Petch, April 1967.)

pain in the arm—arse—back—balls—neck (etc., etc.)!, you give me a. See you give me the balls-ache.

pain in the neck. A tedious or boring or irritating person: since ca. 1910. Ex give one a pain in the neck (see you give . . .). A low parody is pain in the nick: since ca. 1920.

pain in the penis, you give me a. You annoy me: a low 'educated' c.p.: since ca. 1930.

paint, v., 1 (Dict.). 'Alluding to a red nose caused by over-indulgence' (B. & L.).

paint a picture, 'vaguely to describe a situation or to outline a plan': Services: 1939–41. Rather j. than coll.: certainly not s. H. & P.

painters, have in the. See rags (on), have the.

pair of top ballocks. See top ballocks.

pair of white gloves, a. 'Safe return of all aircraft from a bombing operation': R.A.F.: 1939+. Jackson, 'From the ancient legal custom whereby a judge is presented with a pair of white gloves if his calendar is free from crime.'

pakapu ticket, look like a. To be completely indecipherable: Australian (esp. Sydney) coll.: since ca. 1940. 'Pakapu is a Chinese gambling game, not unlike housie. A pakapu ticket, when filled, is covered with strange markings' (Edwin Morrisby, Aug. 30, 1958). B., 1959, spells it pakapoo and gives the variant marked like a pakapoo ticket, which he defines as 'confusedly or incomprehensibly marked'.

pakeha. But Keith Sinclair, 1959, defines it as 'Foreigner; (pop.) white man'; for probable etymology, see my Origins. Mr Sinclair notes pakeha-Maori, 'a European living with Maoris': N.Z. coll.: since ca. 1855.

Pal Police, the. The Palestine Police: since ca. 1946. Ian Jeffries, Thirteen Days, 1958 (period concerned: 1948). The adj. is Pal Police, as 'a Pal Police type' (not in Jeffries).

palace.—5. A caboose: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931). Ironic.

Palace ends. Remnants of the candles put, on big occasions, in the chandeliers at Buckingham Palace: coll.: late C. 19–20. Removed by footmen and sold locally as perquisites.

palat, for Palatinate purple, is a Durham 'blue': C. 20. (Marples, 2.)

Palestine ache. See wog gut.

Palestine Militia, the. The 6th Australian Infantry Division: Australian soldiers': 1940–1. Lawson Glassop, We Were the Rats, 1944. Ex their long training in Palestine.

Pall Mall. A girl: rhyming s. (on gal): late C. 19–20, by 1950. Franklyn, Rhyming.

pallyard. A C. 16–17 variant of palliard (Dict.).

Palm Beach. A cove at Tobruk: Army in North Africa: 1940–3. Much bathing there in quite unluxurious circumstances. The place referred to is not American but Australian; it was Australian soldiers who so named it from a resort in New South Wales.

palm-oil ruffian. An old-time trader on the West Coast of Africa: since ca. 1860. Buying oil and drinking gin.

Palmer's twister. (Gen. pl.) A strychnine pill: medical: ca. 1870–1910. B. & L. 'The medicine employed by Palmer of Rugeley in getting rid of Cooke.'

palo. A Port Amenities Liaison Officer: Naval: 1944-5. (P-G-R.)

palone; occ. polone (p. 646). Pron. p'lonē, rarely perlone. It is, in short, the present shape of blowen (q.v.) by a common process of linguistic change. The erroneous palore or polore arises from a misreading and is very rare.

palsy-walsy. Jovially friendly: since ca. 1934. (C. Brand, Death of Jezebel, 1949.) Reduplication of palsy, itself ex pally + (to be) pals.

paltan. A platoon; loosely a battalion: ca. 1880-1913. A corruption of Fr. peloton.

pan, n.—6. Bread: Canadian Naval: C. 20. H. & P. I.e. Fr. pain.

pan, v.—2. V.t. (gen. as p.pple passive), to beg: tramps' c.: C. 20. W. L. Gibson Cowan, Loud Report, 1937.—3. To strike (someone) in the face: low (— 1943). H. & P. Ex the n., 5.—4. To criticize adversely; to disparage: Australian, adopted, ca. 1945, ex U.S. (B.P.)—5. “‘To pan’ is to punch just once, but “to ted up” or “to ted in” is to beat systematically, as in teddy boy’ (or, rather, in its shortened form Ted or ted): North Country grammar school s., since ca. 1955. New Society, Aug. 22, 1963.

pan, down the. Too far behind; done-for: motor-racers': from ca. 1922. Peter Chamberlain. Perhaps suggested by up the spout; cf. also down pin (see pin, be down).—2. A Cockney equivalent of down the drain, ruined with no chances left: since the 1930's. (Julian Franklyn.) The pan is that of a water-closet.

pan-handler. A hospital orderly: military coll.: C. 20.

pandanny. Pandanus (a palm-like tree or shrub): Australian coll.: mid C. 19-20.

pane of glass. A monocle: Regular Army: since ca. 1870.

panel-house. See panel-crib (Dict.).

panic, v. 'To pick up cigarette butts and small debris in an army camp' (B., 1943): Australian soldiers': 1939-45.

panic bowler. A steel helmet: R.A.F.: 1939 +. Jackson, 'The R.A.F. never wear it unless there's a panic on.'

panic hat. A steel helmet: Australian soldiers': 1939-45. (B., 1943.)

panic helm. 'Erratic steering by "make-learn" coxswain' (Granville): Naval: since ca. 1905. panic merchant. A person given to panicking: Australian: since early 1940's. (The Sydney Morning Herald, Aug. 5, 1963.)

panic party.—2. The Navy's synonym of flap on (see flap, n., 7): since ca. 1925. H. & P.—3. Any rash move: Australian soldiers': 1939-45. (B., 1943.)

panic stations, be at. To be prepared for the worst: Naval: since ca. 1938. Granville.

panorama (pron. panorammer). A hammer: rhyming s.: since ca. 1870; by 1960 †. D. W. Barrett, Navvies, 1880.

pansy (p. 605) dates from the mid-1920's. Hence, from late 1920's also an adj., as in Jean Devanny, Riven, 1929, ('a pansy voice')—occurring in New Zealand.

Pansy Patrol, the. Those officers who are sent by Scotland Yard to get evidence at a night club before the police raid it: mostly policemen's: from ca. 1930. They go in full evening dress and are usually chosen from the Public School members of the Force.

pansy up, v.i. and v. reflexive. (Of a man) to adorn oneself, to smarten oneself up sartorially, in an effeminate manner: since ca. 1932.

pantaloon. Knee-breeches, formerly worn as part of R.A.F. uniform: since ca. 1920; by 1940 merely historical. (Atkinson.)

pantechnicon. Sence 1 (p. 604) had > S.E. by 1920 at latest.—2. Hence, a Whitley bomber aircraft: R.A.F.: 1939-41. 'At one period it was our largest, with the biggest capacity' (Jackson).—3. A large glider: R.A.F.: 1942 +, but ob. by the end of 1945.

panther-sweat. Surgical spirit and Italian vermouth mixed to form a potent drink: beatniks': since ca. 1959. (Anderson.) Adopted and adapted from American s. panther-sweat, raw inferior whiskey.

panther's piss. Strong liquor, esp. spirits: Australian: C. 20. B., 1942. Cf. tiger's piss. The term is prob. an adaptation of the U.S. panther piss.

pantry shelves. Female breasts: domestic: since ca. 1870; ob. by 1940.

pants.—5. Only in address to a pantryman: ship's stewards': C. 20. Dave Marlowe, Coming, Sir!, 1937.

panzer beetle. A large, hard-topped black beetle found in North Africa: Army: 1941-3.

Panzer Pete. A formidable liquor made by troops in New Guinea: Australian soldiers': 1942-5. (B., 1943.)

panzy.—2. Hence a burglar: Australian c.: late C. 19-20. B., 1942.

pape. Newspaper, mostly in newboys' cries: late C. 19-20. B., 1942.

paper-chewing. (Official) correspondence: Anglo-Indian: C. 20. George Orwell, Burmese Days, 1935.

paper-collared swell. A 'white-collar worker' (esp. a clerk): New Zealand: ca. 1860-1900. A. Bathgate, Colonial Experiences, 1874—cited by B., 1941.

paper end, the. 'The report, correspondence and documentary aspect of some matter as distinct from the matter itself,' Jackson: R.A.F. coll.: since ca. 1925. Cf. paper-man (p. 605).

paper-hanger. A passer of worthless cheques: Australian c.: adopted ca. 1925, from U.S. (Baker.) See Underworld.

paper war. 'Army red tape' (B., 1943): Australian soldiers': 1939-45.

paper yabber. Mail matter—newspapers sent through the post: Australian pidgin: C. 20. Archer Russell, In Wild Australia, 1934.

Papish, n. and adj., has from ca. 1870 been adjudged sol. when not genuinely dial.

paps. See 'Colston's'.

par for the course, that's (just) about. That's pretty normal; that's what, after all, you can expect. C.p.: since ca. 1920. Ex golf. (Leechman.)

para.—2. A paraplegic (a spinal-cord paralytic): Canadian doctors and nurses': since ca. 1946. (Leechman.)—3. A member of Paratroops: Army: since ca. 1944.

paraboy, usually in pl. A member of a parachute regiment: Army: 1942-5. (P-G-R.)

paraffin. A smart appearance: lower-class Glasgow: C. 20. MacArthur & Long. In 1897—

1900, 'the word "paraphernalia" was much used by the working classes [of Glasgow] to describe anyone who was very much "got up" or overdressed. It was pronounced "paraffinely" . . . "There he was, dressed up wi' a' his paraffinely" . . . My theory is that "paraffin" is simply a contraction of "paraffinely" and is now used by a generation that knows nothing of its original meaning,' Norman T. McMurdo, in a letter of Aug. 30, 1937, and doubtless correctly.—2. Hence (?), a suit of clothes: (low) Glasgow: since ca. 1920. Kenneth Mackenzie, Living Rough, 1936.

Paraffin Pete. 'An Airfield Control Officer or N.V.O. . . . responsible . . . for ensuring that the flares are laid and lit at the right time and places; these forming the flare-path, guide . . . aircraft in darkness' (Jackson): R.A.F.: since ca. 1938.

paraffinely. See sense 1 of paraffin: app. current ca. 1880–1905.

paralysed.—2. Jocularly (or ignorantly) for analysed: C. 20. 'Paralysed by the public anarchist.' paralytic (p. 605). Rather: dead-drunk.

parapet Joe.—2. A soldier that is for ever exposing himself on the parapet: Army: 1914–18.

parcel.—4. A rolled blanket, with one's personal belongings inside: Australian tramps' coll.: since ca. 1910. (B., 1943.)

parcel, blue the. To spend all one's money; lose everything on a bet: sporting: since ca. 1910. Edgar Wallace, Educated Evans, 1924.

parchment dab. See 'Miscellanea'.

pardon me for living! 'An elaborate mock apology, used by one checked for some minor error' (Leechman): Canadian c.p.: since ca. 1945.

pardon the French! See French!, pardon the.

parish. A tin scone: Rugby schoolboys': mid-C. 19–20. B. & L.—2. A battery's position in the front-line area: artillery officers': from mid-1916; ob. Hence the rectory (or R.), battery headquarters. Both terms are to be found in Blaker, resp. at p. 364 and p. 365.

park, v.—3. To do, to effect; e.g. park or bath, a walk, take, go for . . . ; park an oil, do something (over-)smart: Oundle: since early 1920's. Marples.

park your stern here! Be scated!: since ca. 1925. Orig., nautical.

parker. 1. parker from (or with) denarly. To pay up: Parlyaree, esp. cheapjacks': from ca. 1870. Pugh, cheapjack loquitur: "I like the Birmingham people," I said. "They are nice people, sensible people, and they 'parker from denarly' without fuss." Lit., part from money; parker represents It. partire; for denarly, see the Dict.—2. To hand out (money): id.: id. Ibid., "If I'd a brighfull o'posh," she said, "I wouldn't parker no wedge to you."

Parker trouble, have. To have one's conversation listened to by an outsider: office- and shop-girls': since ca. 1945. (Gilderdale.) Ex Nosey Parker. The use of trouble in coll. phrases—e.g. to have woman trouble—was originally American.

parkering ninty. Wages: Parlyaree: since ca. 1860. (P. H. Emerson, Signor Lippo, 1893.) Cf. part, on p. 607.

parking. The use of a parked motor vehicle for love-making: Australian: since ca. 1945. (B.P.) parlamaree. A 'gee' or that companion who starts a sale, or the donations, going: C. 20; by 1950, ob. Perhaps, as Franklyn, Rhyming, proposes, ex parlyaree or parlaree (cf. Parlyaree below).

parlary. Slang: prostitutes': since ca. 1930. Ex the S.E. sense.

Parlary coinage. Sydney Lester, Vardi the Palary, (?) 1937, enumerates the coins thus: half-penny, medza; a penny, or (so many) pence, soldi; threepence, tray-bit, adopted from gen.—orig., low—s., and elaborated from tray, 2 (p. 998); sixpence, say soldi; a shilling, bionk; a florin, dewey bionk; a half-crown, medza(-)caroon; a crown (piece) or 5 shillings, caroon; 10 shillings, daiture bionk or medza(-)funt; £1, funt.

Parlary numerals. Sydney Lester cites: una, 1; dewey, 2; tray, 3; quattro, 4; chi(n)qua, 5; say, 6; setta, 7; otta, 8; nobba, 9; daiture, 10; lepta, 11; kenza, 12. For numbers over 12, see daiture above. The greatest deviation from the Italian originals are exhibited by daiture, kenza, lepta, which aren't Italian at all.

parliament.—2. Also parliament house. A privy: late C. 19–20. Because one sits there.

parlor. A caboose: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931). Ironic: cf. palace, 5. Cf.:

parlor man. Rear brakeman or flagman on a freight train: Canadian railroadmen's (— 1931).

parlour, in the. (Of a barge) 'on the hard gravel under the wharf' (Ernest Raymond, The Marsh, 1937): Thames-side nautical: late C. 19–20.

parlour pinks. Socialists not violent (red) but very moderate: political: adopted, ca. 1935, from U.S.

parly (or Parly) train. A 'daily passenger train compelled by Parliamentary Regulations' (Railway, 3rd): since ca. 1920.

Parlyaree (p. 606). In 1. 3, read 'C. 18–20 actors', for a few terms (e.g. letty) survive among troopers and traditionalists.

