MOST DUTIFUL
AND DEVOTED SERVANT,

William Caflon.

TO THE PUBLIC.

THE acknowledged Excellence of this Foundry, with its rapid Success, as well as its unexampled Productions, having gained universal Encomiums on its ingenious Improver and Perfeſter, (whoſe uncommon Genius transferred the Letter-Foundry Buſineſs from HOLLAND to ENGLAND, which, for above Sixty Years, has received, for its Beauty and Symmetry, the unbounded Praises of the Literati, and the liberal Encouragement of all the Maſter-printers and Booksellers, not only of this Country, but of all EUROPE and AMERICA,) has excited the Jealouſy of the envious, and the Deſires of the enterpriſing, to become Partakers of the Reward due to the Deſcendants of the Improver of this moſt uſeful and important Art.

They endeavour by every Method to withdraw, from this Foundry, that which they ſilently acknowledge is its indiſputable Right: Which is conſpicuous by their very Addreſs to the Public, wherein they promiſe (in Order to induce Attention and Encouragement) that they will uſe their utmoſt Endeavours to IMITATE the Productions of this Foundry: Which Aſſertion, on Inſpection, will be found to be impracticable, as the Imperfections cannot correſpond in Size.

The Proprietor of this Foundry, ever deſirous of retaining the deciſive Superiority in his Favour, and full of the ſincereſt Gratitude for the diſtinguiſhed Honour, by every Work of Reputation being printed from the elegant Types of the Chiswell-ſtreet Manuſactory, hopes, by every Improvement, to retain and merit a Continuance of their eſtabliſhed Approbation, which, in all Quarters of the Globe, has given it ſo acknowledged an Aſcendency over that of his Opponents.

(1711) The first of these was the year 1711, when the British fleet, under the command of Admiral Sir George Roderick Ormonde, defeated the French fleet, under the command of Admiral Louis de Vignerot du Ruisseau de Beaufort, in the battle of the Clouds, off the coast of Brittany. This was the first of a series of naval victories which established the British as the dominant power in the world. The second of these was the year 1713, when the Treaty of Utrecht was signed, which ended the War of the Spanish Succession. This treaty was a great triumph for the British, as it secured the British Empire, and gave them
 the right to the Spanish colonies in North America.

1. The first part of the paper is devoted to a general discussion of the problem of the existence of solutions of the system of equations (1) under the conditions (2). It is shown that the system (1) has a solution if and only if the conditions (2) are satisfied. The proof is given in the Appendix.

2. In the second part of the paper the problem of the construction of the solution of the system (1) is solved. It is shown that the solution of the system (1) can be constructed by the method of successive approximations. The first approximation is given by the formula (3). The second approximation is given by the formula (4). The third approximation is given by the formula (5). The fourth approximation is given by the formula (6). The fifth approximation is given by the formula (7). The sixth approximation is given by the formula (8). The seventh approximation is given by the formula (9). The eighth approximation is given by the formula (10). The ninth approximation is given by the formula (11). The tenth approximation is given by the formula (12). Musical score for piano and voice, featuring a key signature of one flat (B-flat) and a common time signature (C). The score is divided into two systems, each containing a piano part and a vocal part.

System 1:

- Piano Part: The first staff begins with a treble clef, a key signature of one flat, and a common time signature. It features a series of chords and arpeggios, with a final measure marked with a double bar line and a repeat sign. The second staff continues the piano part with a series of eighth and sixteenth notes, ending with a double bar line.
- Vocal Part: The third staff begins with a treble clef, a key signature of one flat, and a common time signature. It features a series of eighth and sixteenth notes, ending with a double bar line. The fourth staff continues the vocal part with a series of eighth and sixteenth notes, ending with a double bar line.

System 2:

- Piano Part: The fifth staff begins with a treble clef, a key signature of one flat, and a common time signature. It features a series of chords and arpeggios, with a final measure marked with a double bar line and a repeat sign. The sixth staff continues the piano part with a series of eighth and sixteenth notes, ending with a double bar line.
- Vocal Part: The seventh staff begins with a treble clef, a key signature of one flat, and a common time signature. It features a series of eighth and sixteenth notes, ending with a double bar line. The eighth staff continues the vocal part with a series of eighth and sixteenth notes, ending with a double bar line.

The score includes various musical notations, including notes, rests, and bar lines, indicating a complex and expressive piece of music.
